OH YEAH?

By PETER SCHAAL

Coch Leonard McLucas and his 34 Seminole High School gridders will get their first real test as experienced football players when they tackle the veteran Daytona Beach eleven on City Island in that city tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. For the past five days, Coach McLucas has been straining his brain, passing, and punting, and with the introduction of several new plays designed to offset even the strong Daytona defense, the boys feel confident that they will make an unusually good showing.

So far this season they have disposed of three of their four opponents without much trouble. Only the Ocala game proved to be a hard one, and victory might have been corralled in that contest but for fumbles at inopportune moments. They boys have met three different styles of play in their games against Winter Garden, Deland, Ocala, and Ocoee, and have been drilled in the fundamentals of each so that if they ever run across another team using the same systems, there will be no excuse for carrier mistakes.

Unless the unforeseen happens, Coach McLucas will start his strongest players in tomorrow's contest, for he realizes that an early score will be to a huge advantage, especially with his boys feeling the way they do about Daytona. At ends, he will probably start Smith and Preston, boys who have opposite tempers and dispositions, but whose courage and consistency in the face of any opposition is remarkable. At line, Woodrow Riser and Melton Ware will undoubtedly get the call, although "Judge" Sharon and Bryan Riser showed enough stuff last week to warrant their appearance as first stringers. The guard positions will probably be in the hands of Ford Harrison and Levi Brannan, both inexperienced, but both anxious to prove their worth over Biggers, Coleman, Kennedy, and Dighton, who have been trying hard to shove them to the background.

There is only one center liable to get the call, and he is that dynamic "Usher" Kanner. His understudy, Higgins and Varner, will probably have another afternoon's rest, watching this big boy go, and if they assimilate only half of what they see, they'll be hard to stop next year. Courier at quarterback, Lyles and Hester at halves, and Katschinger at full, the first-string backfield, ought to equal the best that Daytona can offer, even if Daytona has Peillett, said to be one of the fastest halves in the conference.

That there will be a large crowd of Sanford fans on hand is almost a surety, for football interest this year is stronger than ever. Cars will be leaving here every few minutes starting at noon tomorrow, and the cheering section will be in the first of them. We predict one of the best games of the season, and advise all fans to go to Daytona to see the boys in action. Whatever they learn will come in handy next week when they go to Jacksonville to take on Andrew Jackson, one of the major teams of the state.

Oh Yeah, undaunted because he selected only eight winners last week, and mixed out so completely on the Syracuse-Florida game, jumps into the kicking contest again this week with another list of "queer" selections. Taking the Pick-Thomas list, he begins his predictions by declaring that Yale will play inspired football to win the Army! Albie Booth and Company will find their football team despite Army's viciousness. It will be another close game. Brown will have no trouble at all with Lehigh, it being a matter for a long game last week. Minnesota has too much power and speed for even the Iowa team has to be fully routed from their quarters to California. The team ought to take love by storm with two touchdown scores. Michigan doesn't do the things others will go in favor of. Rutgers will play a constant part in that game, and will be thoroughly exposed. Cornell will get a stirring game. At that comeback on Saturday, it is in the hands of the product. That will be the result after today's game.

BACHMAN HOLDS SCRIMMAGE FOR 2ND, THIRD TEAMS

First Varsity Is Given Rest in Preparation For Auburn Battle

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 22.—Contrary to his statement made Monday that he would not scrimmage his squad any more this season, Coach Charley Bachman gave his second and third teams more than an hour of scrimmage against the Omelets yesterday afternoon in preparation for the battle with the highly touted Auburn Tigers Saturday in Jacksonville. This form of workout was abandoned by the Omelet mentor because of the fall in injured players that it exacted from the Florida squad but the Gators have reverted back to it in order to develop their offensive play. The first varsity eleven was given none of this tough work, however, as their daily drill consisted of a prolonged signal practice which was followed by a shadow scrimmage against the scrub outfit.

Coach Bachman announced that the Gators probably would abandon the huddle system against Auburn, and that the quarterback would call signals from his regular position. The huddle slows up the game too much, Bachman believes. His 1920 team also dropped the huddles after the first two games.

Homey Seay still maintained a slight lead in the quarterback race as he directed the first team throughout yesterday's maneuvers while Robby Trendgold, Jerry Litherland and Johnny Cullen, alternate signal-calling aspirants, vied for the second and third string against the Omelets. Trendgold, a promising sophomore, was slightly injured in the scrimmage but will be back in harness today.

Dilling on signals with the first team line were Rogor, Davis, Fountain, halfbacks; Sibley, and Hughes, fullbacks, and Seay, quarterback. In the line Drayton Barnhard, soph guard, replaced Don Forsyth, varsity guard, who took part in the scrimmages.

The scrimmaging teams worked under the tutelage of backfield mentor Joe Holsinger and took the offensive throughout the session. The line was composed of second and third string forwards with Kelly, Ches McCrellan, Beck, Cullen and Trendgold in the ball-carrying department.

Florida Field, the year-old Gator stadium, was the scene of yesterday's activities, and the practice was closed to the public. It seems that old Fleming Field, the waiting ground of Gator teams for two decades, is being abandoned as a practice field as Coach Bachman's charges are seeking the greater privacy of the stadium.

He also put the Tar-heeb through a stiff offensive drill yesterday.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 22.—South Carolina and Clemson completed preparations yesterday for their game at noon today. Both aggregations had light workouts yesterday afternoon, just enough to keep muscles from becoming stiff from disuse. They ran signals, punted and passed. The South Carolina camp was the more hectic of the two. Its heavier line and its fleet backs were generally conceded to have the edge on the Clemson players.

DUPONT, S. C., Oct. 22.—The Duke football team could get nowhere using Wake Forest, plays against the varsity yesterday afternoon. So Coach Wallace W. was called off the hard work and began preparing the heads of for the game with the Duncans here on Friday.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 22.—Milton Frank, Tennessee's brilliant sophomore guard, injured his knee in a scrimmage with yesterday, but he hoped that he will be able to take his place in the lineup before the North Carolina game. Harvey Robinson, the best passer on the Vol squad, may start at quarterback.

LOWER WAGES MAY FOLLOW L. C. C. DECISION

The surcharge plan, with its various pools, was hit upon as the most beneficial method of increasing rail revenue.

The proposed plan was considered by the commission said, "it would impose a burden on industry which cannot reasonably be borne under present conditions, to limit the change of diversion of traffic to other forms of transportation and to other business conditions as little as possible by proceeding very gradually, existing rate regulations.

The plan of pooling any increase as well as the surcharge plan, was advanced by shippers as being the most equitable. It was strenuously opposed by railroad representatives.

The railroad executives have until Dec. 1 to accept the plan by proposing a method of handling the pooled fund. It is possible some agreement will come after the Atlantic City meeting.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—(A. P.)—Railroad executives met in New York today to discuss the conference at Atlantic City, presided over by the freight traffic of the most important decisions of the Interstate Commerce Commission in at least a decade.

While official comment was almost entirely lacking from individual executives in advance of the conference which will convene in days, committee disagreement was manifested in various quarters. The committee's proposal that the carriers pool the proceeds of a temporary and limited increase in freight rates, so that the increased revenue might be used in other ways.

The increase in rates on certain commodities, which was suggested in the decision announced last Tuesday, was regarded in some circles as about as satisfactory as could have been expected, although the general tenor of informal comment was one of disappointment. It was intimated in some quarters that the carriers might be fairly well pleased were it not that approval of the increase was much conditional on the pooling arrangement.

Reports of committees, the report of the secretary-treasurer and President J. M. Elliott's official address were next in order of business, all received with applause.

Special business preceded the balloting on new members, following which a round-table discussion on new and old methods of funeral procedure was held. Just before adjournment for luncheon.

While the men members of the association spent the afternoon in selecting a meeting place for the next convention, electing officers and holding a general discussion, their wives were again being entertained by local women, this time at a Orange 12 noon at the Minnevanika Coffee Shop. Yesterday they were given an automobile ride about the city, and taken to the Milano Theater for the matinee.

The Florida Funeral Directors and Embalmers Association is composed of the leading morticians of this state. It has been in existence for many years, and its members have steadily mounted until now it has a representative in practically every city. This is the first time that Sanford has been named as the convention city, but that it will not be the last is indicated by comments from a majority of the visitors who have expressed their interest and delight with the city and its hospitable people.

Local arrangements for the convention have been in charge of W. C. Erickson, Frank L. Miller,

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 22.—(A. P.)—The scolding face of depression was turned into a broad smile yesterday as cotton stabilizers estimated that fifty million dollars had been added to the value of cotton in the last 10 days.

The upward trend dated from the Oct. 12 New Orleans conference at which southern bank agreements to cooperate in the buying off of the market of 7,000,000 bales until next July.

Yesterday's increase of one cent per bale made a total increase of $150 a bale since the conference. On the basis of an estimated supply of 12,000,000 bales, stabilizers estimated the increased valuation of cotton at fifty million dollars in equal figures.

Cotton men figured that one half of the cotton supply still was in the hands of the farmers and they would directly benefit on the basis of yesterday's raising to $25,000,000.

Experts to traders from over the cotton belt indicated a more optimistic feeling among planters, bankers and traders and better times were predicted for the South, where cotton touches about every class of business from the banker to the blacksmith.

Talking Seminole

The Florida Times-Union pays a glowing tribute to Karl Lehmann, in commenting on his retention as secretary of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

When Dr. Lehmann was being considered for the office he now holds by election, the question was not, 'What can he do?' but, 'What has he done?'

And here, in the co-operative support of its secretary will be the success or failure of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

What most of all is needed by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce is co-operation by the entire membership.

Increasing Cost Of Growing Celery Is Stressed In Speech

Harry M. Papworth, president of the county trade body, summarized the dark picture which Mr. Dornier had painted, and predicted that within 20 years 20,000 cars of celery would be shipped from this section instead of 5,700 as is now the case.

Much of Mr. Dornier's talk was directed toward the railroad interests, declaring that "I want to try to show them the true condition we are in and how costly it is to make a crop of celery because I believe that if they are made acquainted with our problem, that they will lend us the aid we are seeking."

He pointed out that the farmer in this section does not make enough money in any one year over a period of 10 years to warrant the $350,000 a year freight increase which has been authorized.

Referring to the railroads again, Mr. Dornier, declaring that he had no intention of casting any reflections but was merely trying to set forth some of the growers' grievances.

He commented on the condition of spur tracks and roads leading to them; on the variance in demurrage charges here and in Washington on the food conditions which, really, lay a heavy toll of property values partly because of building the railroad bridge at Lake Center.

He deplored the stories which are circulated in the press and in the street concerning the fact that "Seminole County makes $1,000,000 a year on celery."

Former Maker Of Mumm's Extra Dry Lying Near Death

NEW YORK, Oct. 22. (A. P.)—The sponsor of Mumm's extra dry awaits on a hospital cot a dreary end to his romantic life.

He is the champagne baron, Walter von Mumm, who shot himself above the heart Wednesday in the Long Island estate of a wealthy friend.

"I am doing this because I no longer wish to live," said a note he penned. Physicians said there was little chance he would recover.

His recent years were marked by misfortune. He had been living in a rooming house and working in Wall Street as an obscure customer's man.

The baron left his home in Germany when he was 20, changed his name to Walter de Mumm and began the manufacture of champagne that made him internationally famous.

When the war began he went to Germany to fight for his native land and was asked to go to the Russian front so he would not face the German people of the country.

CITY'S BUDGET FOR 1931-32 IS DECIDED UPON

city attorney. His duties will be to assist Mr. Wilson in connection with the bond suits and foreclosure sales. The attorneys will be required to render any other services the city might request.

Before its passage the budget set aside $248,770.40 for debt service. This amount was decided upon when it was estimated that $180,000 would be realized from delinquent taxes, all of which would be set aside for the payment of principle and interest on city bonds. However, before the Commissioners finally decided to lower the anticipated amount from taxes due in 1929 and previous years, considerable discussion took place.

Mr. Leffler said that the city would collect taxes from the majority of the people unless the Commissioners first show them that definite arrangements or plans have been made in connection with the settlement of the bond situation.

"You must show the people that they will be free from further debt on property bought for tax-the department of general government. Last year $118,000.00 was placed at the disposal of this department. Additional expenses made in connection with the Chase National suit are said to have brought about the increase. For the department of debt service a total of $193,770.50 has been appropriated. Last year $165,600.00 was given to this department.

An appropriation of $18,954.40 for the water department to be paid from operating expenses was included in the budget.

The estimated miscellaneous revenues are given as follows: delinquent taxes for 1929 and previous years, $50,000; last year, $5,950; privileges and franchises, $4,050; last year $4,800; state road and bridge fund, $4,000; last year $5,000; pound fees and dog taxes, $100; last year, $50; inspection fees, $50; last year, $50; fines and costs, $6,000; last year $6,000; interest and costs, $1,000; last year $250; sale of cemetery lots, $700; last year $700; sundry miscellaneous income, $500; last year $1,000. Total estimated revenues exclusive of water department, $70,000, last year $25,000.

The estimated revenue from the water department is $42,500, last year, $39,400. The estimated revenue expected from 1930 taxes is $242,732.50.

For the department of general government the following amounts have been set aside: City commission—$1,525; municipal court—$510; city attorney's office—$425; municipal elections—$200; division of streets, bridges and sewers, including the cleaning of streets and garbage collections—$18,436.50; division of public buildings—$1,825; division of engineering—$1,200; division of inspection—$1,200; division of street lighting—$11,000; department of insurance—$1,724; department of police protection—$11,047.50.

And division of fire protection—$6,040; division of parks—$2,485; division of golf course—$2,500; division of public health and sanitation—$4,310; Fernald Laughlin Hospital—$1,200; Library—$1,410; charity—$1,500; and finance, records and taxation—$8,810.

The contingent fund—$10,000; special litigation and financing account—$30,000. Total $118,953.00.

Mr. Leffler continued. Mayor T. L. Dumas wanted to know what would take place if more than the anticipated amount in delinquent taxes were collected. He asked the City Attorney whether or not the excess amount would be accessible to holders of San ford bonds not included in the Bondholders Protective Committee. Mr. Wilson explained that any bondholder could enter suit at any time and that this excess amount if collected would naturally be accessible by them.

Commissioner Speer agreed with Mr. Leffler that the people would require some definite arrangement with the bond people before they would buy foreclosed property. "For instance," he explained, "if the City took over a certain piece of property and offered it for sale at a price which would cover the costs of foreclosure suits and back taxes no one would buy it because he would not know whether a high millage would be charged for the property within the next year or two."

Mr. Dumas agreed with Mr. Speer's contention but added that in his mind such action is the only way the City might show the bondholders that there is a desire to clear up the situation.

In the budget adopted last night $118,953.00 was set aside for

Bigger Railways Agree To Assist Little Brothers

That while weaker roads will be granted, funds from the pool the funds will be loans, not gifts.

That railroads accepting such loans will not pay dividends.

That the association cease consideration of the plan until their appointed committee has conferred with the commission and reported.

The important issue was determined at the distribution of the funds shall be loaned, not given, and that the railroad administration, the funds, not the government.

While the executives were said to be satisfied with the commission's plan, to give them only a portion of the rate increases sought it was understood they felt there was no other way.

Wages were given little notice. One executive, addressing the body, said that until the commission's plan for rates had been fully explored and found wanting no wage cuts should be sought. Labor leaders, he said, would be correct in stating if wage cuts were sought now, that the chiefs have not exhausted all other avenues of relief.

In a formal statement, the association said, concerning the pool: "The Association of Railway Executives interprets the decision of a call by the commission on the railroads to help stabilize, railroad credit by a co-operative and united effort, the means for which the order proposes to provide by an increase of specified rates. The method suggested by the commission contemplates the formulation by the executives of a plan, to be submitted to it for its approval, to carry into effect this co-operative effort.

"In considering the plan, the executives will examine the opportunity of organizing their own agency to administer the proceeds of the increase in rates announced by the commission in such a manner as to accomplish the helpful purposes of the commission and with its approval.

"A committee was appointed to confer with the commission with the purpose of securing a more definite understanding of its views and to suggest certain modifications of some of the proposals made by it."

British Troops Are Sent To Put Down Riots Upon Island

CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 23.—(A.P.)—British troops were rushed by sea and air last night to the island of Cyprus to suppress riots and to put down a well advanced movement to link the Cyprian government to Greece.

Two cruisers, the London and the Shropshire, and two destroyers, the Achilles and Acasta, with 1400 men and officers, were dispatched from the Mediterranean fleet base on the Isle of Crete after riots at Nicosia, capital of Cyprus, in the course of which the government house was burned.

Fifty rifles were landed by airplane on the island. Six transport planes went from Ramleh to near Alexandria, prepared to take off at dawn today with additional troops. No machine guns were being taken as there are plenty of Lewis guns on the island.

A company of the King's rifles was sent to Port Said to proceed by trawler to the island—a place once dedicated to Venus and one of the first regions outside Palestine to receive the Christian gospel.

The Nicosia rioting started between the Canton and Nanking factional leaders probably will last several days. Then the delegates will move to Nanking, for the formal peace conference.

Wednesday night a large crowd, led by three members of the Cyprian council, gathered outside the government house, and kept the police at bay by throwing stones. Finally they burned the building.

After several warnings, the police opened fire and dispersed the crowd. Several policemen and civilians were wounded during the clash.

Mobs also formed in Famagusta and Larnaka, where cable employees were armed to defend the only communication office left open.

Chinese Plan Of Jap Evacuation Refused Flatly

The Jiji Shimpu, Tokyo evening newspaper, printed a special dispatch from Mukden saying emissaries of Chang Hsueh-Liang, deposed Manchurian governor, had approached the Russian Soviet government in the hope of securing some measure of protection for his interests in Manchuria.

The Japanese military has made known marked opposition to any proposal to return Chang to power at Mukden, his former capital.

The Jiji Shimpu said Chang repeatedly had offered certain economic concessions in north Manchuria to the Russians in return for support.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 23.—(A.P.)—The unified, democratic China for which Sun Yat-sen, its first president, planned and fought seemed nearer yesterday as President Chiang Kai-shek conferred here with political advisers who, until Japan's military invasion of Manchuria last month, were in active revolt against his government.

Simultaneously at Nanking, the capital, the national government made public its reply to the American note invoking the Kellogg pact. The reply promised to uphold the pact, expressing deep appreciation of "America's concern over Manchurian developments" and gratification that the United States should have cooperated with the League of Nations to promote a peaceful solution.

The pact, the Chinese have been
