MILITARY POWER SUPREME IS DECISION OF JUDGE

LASKER-FARLEY MERCHANT MARINE ILLEGAL

ATTORNEY GENERAL SAYS AND GIVES HIS REASONS TO PRESIDENT COOLIDGE

Daugherty Cites Many Complications in The Plan.

SHIPPING POLICY Must Be Formulated By Government Officials To Hold Water On All Sides

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Attorney General Daugherty advised President Coolidge yesterday that the Lasker-Farley plan for solving the merchant marine problem is not legal, thus once more throwing into the lap of government officials the task of formulating a shipping policy.

Under the shipping act, the attorney said, the government vessels may be disposed of only for cash or credits and their transfer, as proposed by the Lasker-Farley plan, to corporations organized under state laws would be unlawful. The intention of congress, he declared, limits disposition of fleet to actual sales and not transfers of title. Receipt of cash, or credit extending not over fifteen years is an express limitation of law, the opinion added.

Many complications in the Lasker-Farley plan were cited by Mr. Daugherty. Among these were loss of legal title to the proposed corporations, loss of direction of the fleet by responsible federal officials, loss of the government's immunity from suits, and possible imposition of state taxes and state regulations upon government property.

"These considerations," said the attorney, "impel me to the opinion that it was not the intention of congress to authorize the executive branch to organize corporations to take title to the government's ships and in the place of responsible control by the shipping board substitute a management by directors of private corporations amenable to the laws of another sovereignty."

After declaring that the authority to transfer the ships to private corporations could not be "fairly stated" on the law, the attorney general declared that neither was there such authority by inference or implication. The opinion emphasized that congress had laid down a definite, national merchant marine policy—of government ship operation until the ships shall be sold—and that provisions giving the shipping board authority to make "rules and regulations" in carrying out this policy did not confer additional powers.

"This end should always be kept in view," Mr. Daugherty declared. "I am of the opinion that the statute authorizes a sale of the ships and not an exchange of title thereto in consideration of stock in a corporation."

STATE TREASURER BEGINS DIVISION JULY GAB TAXES

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Sept. 21.—The state comptroller today made distributions to the various counties of their share in the three cent gasoline tax received for six months of July, the first of the law's operation. A total of $194,329 was received from the tax, two thirds going to the state road department, and one third to the counties, divided into equal shares.

Each of the 63 counties in the state will receive $3,051.19 as its share of the one third, which amounts to $66,225.04.

Co-operation, the investment and charity, should begin at home.

MRS. BELMONT ON MARRIAGE SPEAKS MIND

Says It is Sort of Slavery
Would Not Recommend It.

(By The Associated Press) COLORADO SPRINGS, Sept. 21.—Chiefly because "marriage is a sort of slavery" Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, of New York City, president of the National Woman's party, declared she would recommend marriage for any girl. I would not say in so many words that marriage is a failure, but it does seem that statistics speak for themselves. Most opposition to equal rights movements comes from women of the clinging vine type, Mrs. Belmont said. Intelligent men are with us.

ORDERED LASH FOR CONVICTS WHO MUTINED

President of Board For Alabama Gives His Side of Case

(By The Associated Press) BIRMINGHAM, Sept. 21.—Jefferson county grand jury heard the story of the convict mutiny at the Banner Mines of September 19, from A. L. Boyd, president of board of convict supervisors who ordered alleged leaders in the mutiny whipped following a personal investigation of the trouble. No details concerning the testimony is available, and he declined to discuss the case with newspaper men.

Several camp officials appeared before the grand jury and gave information of startling character, has been revealed by witnesses, Solicitor Davis said, but would not reveal its nature. Inquiry is understood to have dealt particularly with convict discipline and especially flogging and punishments which have been termed by anti-lease forces as mode of crucifixion.

For worms in hogs the United States Department of Agriculture recommends 1 bushel each of charcoal and hardwood ashes, 8 pounds each of salt and air-slacked lime, 4 pounds of sulphur and 2 pounds of pulverized copperas dissolved in 1 gallon of water.

And His Views Were Changed On Trip To Europe
Where League Failed.

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—Senator Underwood of Alabama, Democratic Presidential candidate is no longer a strong advocate of the League of Nations according to an interview credited to him in the Chicago Tribune. He said his original views are well known but on a trip abroad he saw the league at work. "Developments then and subsequently have changed my attitude," he said. The failure of the league to function in the dispute between Italy and Greece had much to do with the change it is said. The Senator was once a strong advocate of the league.

Messages, addresses and greetings from 11 foreign countries and the United States were delivered during the session, each in accordance with the organization's theme, saving to the church its man and boy power. Many tributes were paid to the late James L. Houghtaling, who 40 years ago founded the order in his Bible class conducted in St. James Episcopal church. A junior conference made up of boys, in meeting simultaneously with the senior convention.

ORLANDO, Sept. 21.—The city council yesterday unanimously condemned auto camps, home of the "tin can tourists" within or without the city limits, characterizing them as a "nuisance and blot to the beauty of the city. ### INSTRUCTIONS ARE READY FOR DISTRIBUTION

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Sept. 21.—Instructions for fumigation of citrus trees are ready for distribution by the federal agricultural department, according to information received here from Washington. The instructions are based to a large extent on fumigation as practiced in California for the last thirty years, it is said.

The instructions, prepared by R. B. Woglum, entomologist of the department, describe three methods of producing the gas—hydrocyanic acid gas—and applying it to the trees. Details of these methods, for the control of scale insects, require that a tent is first to be drawn over the tree and the gas is produced or liberated within the tent. With proper dosage and under proper conditions, it is said, the scales are killed and the tree is seldom injured.

Dosage tables and some necessary cautions are given, and also information with regard to the most prevalent scale pests, it is said. The first method described in the pot method, in which the gas is produced within the tent by adding cyanid to water and sulphuric acid in a glazed earthenware jar. This method was superseded some years ago by the fumigation-machine method, in which cyanid solution is added to sulphuric acid and water in a machine mounted on wheels. The gas is conducted into the tent through a hose. The third method, introduced within the last few years and now very extensively used, is the "liquid an" method, in which liquid hydro-cyanic acid, carried in a machine is forced into the tent through a fine nozzle, forming a mist which quickly becomes gas.

Those desiring information on the fumigation methods are advised to ask the federal agricultural department for Farmers' Bulletin 1321.

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 21.—Nathan Mayo, recently appointed commissioner of agriculture to succeed Commissioner McRea, declared for state advertising, state appropriation and said he would ask the next legislature for it. Also stated he would be a candidate to succeed himself at next election.

ANTI-SALOON LEADER SAYS PAPERS WRONG

Claims Many Suppressed
News That Would Tell The Truth

(By The Associated Press) WAWARSING, N. Y., Sept. 21.—William P. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, accuses New York newspapers of the public the whole truth concerning his impending trial and alleged misuse of the league's funds. Only one morning paper he declared published damagingly explosive fact that application by dry enforcement representatives of 5,000 Protestant churches through protestant attorney, formerly governor of the state for inspection of grand jury minutes, was denied by this judge who granted similar requests to six other defendants, whose names with those of their attorneys constitute the most significant non-protestant roster.

Carson Clark, colored truck driver for the Carter Lumber Co., had the pleasure of making his second kill among the rattlesnake family this morning when he killed a six footer on the east side of Ovido. Besides measuring six feet in length the snake possessed fifteen rattles. This makes the second of the rattler species that Carson has killed inside of three weeks.

Judge Also Rules State Wide Martial Law Is Unjustified. ACTION IS LEGAL

But Consensus of Opinion
Would Seem That
Governor Goes Too Far.

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 21.—Military power is supreme in Oklahoma, Judge A. C. Hunt ruled yesterday in district court, in dismissing petitions for habeas corpus filed in behalf of three men held by military officers here for participation in Tulsa county floggings.

Notice of executions to the ruling was filed by states Attorney W. S. Hudson, counsel for the petitioners.

General Markham, the state's military commander under martial law, appeared in Judge Hunt's court in answer to a summons from a civil officer but he was permitted to retain custody of three confessed and sentenced floggers, Grover and Ben Sikes and Earl Sack, in whose behalf the petitions were filed.

Judge Hunt said there was nothing "illegal or unauthorized" in the action of Adjutant General B. H. Markham in holding the men for testimony before the Waggoner county grand jury in connection with the flogging investigation there.

The judge pronounced his decision with a lengthy explanation of his views regarding the right of the civil courts under martial law, in which he declared that "this court has functioned in the full exercise of its lawful power since the governor's proclamation and will recognize no interference by the military."

He believed the state wide martial law unjustified.

Within a few hours of the decision, word was received from Wagoner county that seven men against whom the detained trio were expected to testify had been indicted by the grand jury, thus opening the way for the release of the convicted men to the civil authorities. It was expected that the transfer would be made within 24 hours.

Assistant Attorney General King, in his statement in behalf of the military, declared that the petition was to inquire into the legal authority of the guard forces to hold three men, and Judge Hunt concurred in the view. The issue then became, he said, whether the military officers in Tulsa county were duly constituted authorities of the state, under law, which the court ruled to be the fact. It was then set forth in the decision that since the prisoners are in the custody of lawfully established agencies of the state, for a reasonable purpose, they should not be removed from such custody.

The response to the petitions did not contend that the right of habeas corpus is suspended. It set forth that the men were held "by virtue of the authority vested" in the adjutant general under the proclamation of martial law. The three men were released from military custody last night.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 21.—Notice that a special session of the Jefferson county, Alabama grand jury will not be tolerated for the purpose of investigating conditions existing in Alabama prison camp was given late yesterday afternoon by Governor Brandon in a letter to James Davis, Jefferson county solicitor.

THINGS ENOUGH.

That a man can thank his lucky stars
Whose things to keep are few,
To which the moth and rain and rust
Find little harm to do.

A faith that makes his handshake warm
And simple things more wise;
A wife to make each morning sweet
With morning-glory eyes.

A love to make him foot green roads
Which others motor on;
A garden small and kind enough
To let him watch at dawn;

A pity for the hungry ones,
The ragged and ill-shod;
A tree that's tall and straight enough
To make him think of God.

HANDS OFF REPARATIONS FOR PRESENT

The reparations issue arose before the commission on technical organizations, when Sir Henry Strakosch, the financial expert representing South Africa, alluded to the statement at the opening of this year's assembly to the effect that the league was confronted with difficulties owing to the absence of a settlement of the questions of reparations and inter-allied debts. But after consulting his French and Belgian colleagues, Sir Henry said, he was convinced of the advisability of not starting a debate on this subject, which might aggravate the situation and hinder eventual settlement.

Sir Hubert Lewellyn Smith, of England, deprecated to allow the impression to exist that the reparations question was outside the domain of this commission. He advocated that the commission make recommendations to the league council, as preferable to a general discussion which might cause unfortunate dissensions.

A second important feature of yesterday's league activities was the adoption of a resolution interpreting article X of the covenant. The commission adopted a new compromise formula replacing the Canadian amendment. It begins by emphasizing the existence of a general desire for precision of meaning of article X and recommends that the assembly adopt several clauses in the form of a resolution.

The first clause is that in case the council of the league deems it necessary to recommend the application of military measures because of an aggression or a menace of aggression the council will take into account the geographical situation and special conditions surrounding each state.

The second clause declares that it is the right of the constitutional powers of each member state to decide the nature and the extent of its obligation to maintain the independence and integrity of territory of members, and to what extent it should furnish military assistance.

This interpretative resolution now goes to the assembly. It is generally regarded, as removing many of the existing fears that article X would force states too far into possible military adventures abroad without the sanction of the home parliaments.

The question of military assistance was also treated by the disarmament commission, which achieved further progress in drafting the text of a new international treaty of mutual assistance which starts from the fundamental principle that the signatories will really help one another in the event of unjustified aggression.

Walton went to see about it himself and from his observations, changed his opinions and applied to admittance himself."

"He was refused because his wife is a Catholic. Governor Walton is getting his revenge and getting publicity which he believes will make him president of the United States."

JUDGE TAYLOR TENDERS HIS RESIGNATION

(By The Associated Press)
TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 20.—Judge Robert F. Taylor, for nearly 32 years Judge of the supreme court of Florida and during eighteen of which he served as chief justice, today tendered his resignation to become effective January 1, but subject to revocation until that date. The venerable jurist, in thus acting, took advantage of an act of the recent legislature admittedly passed especially for him under which he receives full salary for the rest of his life. Judge Taylor is the father-in-law of Associate Justice Ellis and one of the oldest jurists in point of service in the entire country. He celebrated his 71th birthday a few months ago. He went to the supreme court in 1891 by appointment at the hands of Governor Fleming. Since that time he has been re-elected at expiration of six-year terms. Fortune favored him in securing the chief justiceship, as under the Florida law that office is filled by drawing lot.

MELBOURNE ROAD BAD; FAVORABLE REPORT UNTRUE

The road to Melbourne via Kissimmee, erroneously reported as all clear, is still in a condition that makes traffic anything but satisfactory. A number of car drivers stated yesterday that, acting upon the information given, they tried to negotiate the road and failed. Much dissatisfaction exists that people who have some axe to grind along that road, create the impression that "all is clear," and it cannot be too decisively stated that no one should take the route until they are absolutely satisfied that it is all right.

The citizens of Kissimmee have been scrupulously careful to give travelers an accurate account of the road, and they ask that no report be accepted as satisfactory unless it comes from the state authorities.—Orlando Reporter Star.

Use more frozen fruit ices. A simple and delicious recipe is, for one gallon of sherbet use six lemons, 1 No. 2 can of pineapples; then add enough water to fill freezer 3-4 full; sweeten to taste; break into this the whites of three eggs, unbeaten; freeze. May be made stronger or weaker as preferred. Apricot ice is delicious. To make it mush a No. 3 can of apricots; add a very little water; sweeten to taste; add 3 whites of eggs, unbeaten; and freeze.

To stop rat holes: Where rat holes are visible pour water into them and sprinkle around a thin layer of caustic potash. The damp potash sticks to the rat's feet and produces sores. They lick the sores, but usually leave the building before death. Sheet tin tacked over holes or a piece of window glass set into the plaster and held together by plaster of paris will stop the holes. Wall paper can be easily pasted over this, and there is no danger of rats gnawing through again.

Robs Calomel of Nausea and Danger

Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected Tablet Called "Calobalm"

Bebe Daniels in the Paramount Picture "The Exciters" At The Princess Friday and Saturday

The latest triumph of modern science is a "do-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "Calobalm." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines, thus enters upon a wider field of popularity—purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.
In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often restricted on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calobalm tablet with a swallow of water—that's all. No taste, no pricking, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. But what you please. No danger.
Calobalm is sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large family package; ten cents for the small trial size. Your druggist is authorized to refund the price on a guarantee that you will be completely satisfied with Calobalm (A.B.S.)

DOLLAR DAYS TO BE FIRST STEPS TO GET BUSINESS

Palatka days are setting great store by the spirit of community friendships it is expected to develop from the establishment of dollar days on which special values will be offered purchasers because of volume buying. The first of these will be Saturday and Monday, and today and tomorrow merchants are issuing invitations to the city and surrounding country to note prices and special lines of fall goods ready for inspection.

Like any new enterprise these dollar days will grow, it is believed, with perseverance in making them really worth while. There are already a large number of visitors from the north and west here for the winter season. Permanent residents are returning on every train from their vacations and the wide-awake merchants are going after the business.

So heartily was the plan received that the News was forced to close its columns for advertising yesterday afternoon, not having had sufficient advance notice to prepare for the rush. It is believed, however, that there will be plenty of space for advertisers available for tomorrow and Saturday's issues.—Palatka News.

BOB HOLLY IS STILL BOOSTING FOR CORONADO

One of the interested and interesting visitors to New Smyrna and Coronado this week is Bob Holly of Sanford, editor of the Sanford Herald and one of the best known newspaper men in the state. Mr. Holly and his family are spending several days at the beach enjoying the cooling breezes, the bathing and the fishing. Bob Holly has always been a consistent friend of New Smyrna and Coronado and a consistent booster for this community. He likes the beach and its attractions and he has been a hard worker for a good hard surfaced road from the St. Johns river to the beach. He is much pleased over the result of the recent election in which the people of this community elected to construct a new bridge across the Indian river, connecting this city and the beach and he believes this will have the result of bringing many interior people to the beach as vacation home owners.—New Smyrna News.

A member of the St. Cloud (Osceola county) Chamber of Commerce, writes that "St. Cloud, like other progressive towns in Florida, is looking after its school children, and this week breaks ground for the $45,000 high school building." This is an indication that the people of St. Cloud not only are "looking after" the interests of their children, but that they appreciate their educational facilities and are seeing to it that they are provided. The new school buildings will be thoroughly modern and its surroundings will be in keeping with the attractiveness of the structure.

THE PERILS OF POOR HEALTH

A Forerunner of a General Breakdown That May Put You Out of the Running for Life.

Quickest Way to Get Well is Through New Treatment Containing Seventeen Ingredients That Renew Every Part of the Body.

If you feel sickly and good-for-nothing, have a sort of dizziness, dull headache, back pains, rheumatism, and are subject to indigestion or constipation, have no appetite and can't sleep, watch out! There is grave danger ahead!

Any remedy that will give temporary relief to pain and dope you up for a time simply postpones the final spell and makes it worse when it comes. This is why a complete systemic treatment is necessary to regain good health.

This complete treatment is found only in a prescription known as Re-Cu-Ma, which contains the seven best known and thoroughly tested medicines, so skillfully compounded that each one performs its function on the various parts of the body perfectly and harmoniously.

This remarkable prescription thoroughly cleanses the colon of its accumulation of poisonous refuse, discharging it through the proper channel instead of allowing it to course through your veins and empty into your body. The colon, according to Prof. Metchnikoff of the Pastur Institute, Paris, is the direct cause of all our aches and pains. In addition, Re-Cu-Ma starts the liver to work pleasantly and naturally without gripping or purging, purifies and strengthens the blood, thus building firm, healthy, rosy flesh that is free from pimples and other blemishes, relieves rheumatic and back pains, gives you a digestion that enables you to eat anything you like without fear of bad after effects and you sleep like a log. In a word, Re-Cu-Ma is a scientific prescription that revives, renews and regenerates your entire system so that you feel constantly full of pep and ambition.

Re-Cu-Ma is sold and recommended by the Union Pharmacy and other good drug stores, and if you don't feel a decided change in your condition, after taking according to directions, you get your money back.—Adv. 7-18-23

EVERY PART IN "SPIDER ROSE" PLAYED BY STARS

"The Spider and the Rose" at the Milano today, was produced by B. F. Zeldman and directed by John L. McDermott from a published story by Gerald Duffy.

Every role in this photoplay no matter how small or seemingly unimportant has been entrusted to the hands of a distinguished artist—a practice seldom used in the production of pictures. Most directors select a prominent star for the leading role in a filmplay and then cast unknown and unimportant actors for the remaining parts.

Gaston Glass, Alice Lake, Robert

McKim, Joseph J. Dowling, Noah Barry, Edwin Stevens, Alec B. Francis, Richard Hendrick, Otis Harlan, Louise Fazenda, and Harry Northrup all have important parts in "The Spider and the Rose" a tale of mission life in California during the days when that state was a province of Mexico under the reign of Maximilian. Revolution, plots, counterplots and conspiracy appear in rapid succession in a swift moving story that holds all the elements of drama, pathos, jealousy, love, heart interest and hate.

Touch of fall in the air and it is just in time.

There is nothing quite as fine as the months of October, November and December in Florida.

The summer excursionists on the Clyde Line have been enjoying Florida and they come to Sanford three times a week and take a ride over the surrounding country.

Now is the time to get back to business and make up your mind that you will boost Sanford as never before. All indications point to one of the finest seasons that Sanford has ever experienced.

The entire east coast has formed a Chamber of Commerce of their very own. We suppose they do not need any more advice or money from the people of the other parts of Florida, eh wot?

Wherever one goes in the state of Florida everybody knows about Sanford and says something nice about our new buildings and prosperity. All the home people boosted Sanford like the visitors we would have SOME city.

The State Treasurer has begun a division of the July gas taxes and we suppose the sums received by the various counties will be stupendous—it should be with the three cent tax. And we are still waiting for Governor Hardee to lower the price of gas in Florida.

A light house keeper has disappeared from the light house at Key West and cannot be found. Can't hardly blame him. After a man has tended to the light on a light house for many years he is liable to do anything as a means of relaxation. We might even find this light house keeper announcing himself as a candidate for governor.

Sanford has the busy appearance of the big cities you come in from any quarter these days. This city has an all-the-year-round trade that few cities in Florida enjoy and the City Substantial has that substantial appearance that gives the visitor confidence in the city and its future. All we need here now is five hundred more houses and twenty-five more apartment houses for the winter visitors and about one thousand more homes for the home people and those want to pay our just proportion home.

Just a word about taxes. We all who want to make Sanford their when it comes right down to business and the love for our city. But the home in which we live should not be taxed out of proportion and the factories and industries should not be taxed to death. We should encourage all the industries and factories in every way. The Herald believes that our ultimate salvation rests on factories and industries and tourists and farms and wholesale firms. A factory with a nice pay roll is one of the biggest things we can have in Sanford and they need our help and encouragement. This goes for the railroad shops as well as private industry. If all those men who are now operating industries here now would move away Sanford would feel it and feel it deeply. Keep the taxes down on factories and shops of all kinds. They help make Sanford prosperous.

The Herald is glad to see the road gang busy on First street west of the bridge. This was undoubtedly one of the worst pieces of road in the county and while it belongs to the city it gave both city and county a bad reputation. It was just one of those pieces of brick road that did not stand the wear and tear of heavy traffic because it had no good curbing to start and never did stay in place. It is now being laid with a concrete curbing and should be a thing of beauty and a joy forever when it is finally fixed for good.

TO "BOB" HOLLY

Our old friend and for a number of years our "boss" the Honorable Robert J. Holly is "laying off" during the month of September, not taking a vacation, but as he puts it "just laying off." He is spending part of his time at Coronado Beach fishing and part of his time visiting around over the state with his friends, and Bob's friends are numbered by his acquaintances. We had the pleasure of working with "Bob" for three years and know his trials and tribulations as few knew them and will say we never worked with a finer fellow than "Bob." He was one man in many that could smile and greet his employees in a friendly way regardless of how things were going. Come on over to Tavares, "Bob," as all your old friends here have inquired about you and want to see you. Good fishing around here, too. May you have a pleasant month and a good rest is our wish.—Tavares Citizen.

Thanks, awfully, for them kind words. Only those who have worked with you know you as you should be known.

AUTO CAMPS AND CAMPERS.

Many are in favor of the auto camps in Florida and many are not in favor of them. Like every other question the auto camps have two sides and they have equal pulling power. Some cities have gone at the auto camp in the right manner and have achieved success. Other cities have not organized for this proposition and have not been successful. Like every other business the auto camp is something that requires careful consideration and careful thought. Just now with the scarcity of homes in Sanford, a well organized auto camp would give many families a place to stay and they would prove an asset to the city. But the camp would have to be a regularly organized proposition and have streets and lights and sewers and water and a duly appointed officer to look after the camp. Otherwise there should be no camp. It would be well for the real estate men and the Chamber of Commerce to investigate this matter before it is too late to take it up. Auto camps are great investments in California where they make them business propositions. Read what the Orlando Sentinel says about them in this issue.

THE NEW TAVARES CITIZEN.

The first issue of the Tavares Citizen under the management of Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Gore appears this week and shows the car marks of a real printer in every line of the make-up. Mr. and Mrs. Gore have purchased the Citizen and will make their future home in the bustling little city by the lakes—the county seat of Lake county. For the past three years Ralph Gore has been one of the linotype operators on the Daily Herald and been on the job through thick and thin. He is one of the best, one of the most versatile and one of the most faithful workers that ever sat down to a machine in the Herald office and his embarkation in business for himself is just another instance of a man making good for other people and making good for himself. We hated to lose the Gores from Sanford but we rejoice in their taking the Tavares Citizen and hope for them the greatest success and prosperity that it is possible to have. Ralph will find pleasure in making up his own newspaper—a dream of his life for many years—and Mrs. Gore will handle the advertising and local end of the proposition and they should make a working team hard to beat. We commend them to the good people of Tavares. The Gores and Tavares are happily met to the mutual benefit of all.

FLORIDA LENDS ITSELF MONEY AND PAYS ITSELF INTEREST.

There may have been comparatively few who took the trouble to read the Associated Press story from Tallahassee Monday relating to the sale by the State Education Department of a block of Virginia bonds purchased several years ago and with more than half a century yet to run. It was not so much the detail of this transaction which is of importance as it is the fact that Florida is shouldered with a bonded debt of $601,667 and has almost $2,500,000 to its credit in the shape of bonds purchased and held by the education fund. The interest from these bonds, amounting now to approximately $100,000 a year, is apportioned every six months to the several counties according to school population, for the support of the public schools. So Florida could, if she cared to do so, take up that bonded debt and still have almost two million dollars left in the education department fund. And this is also to be noted that the $600,000 debt is due the education department fund so the interest on this loan is being paid out of one pocket into another. So Florida finds herself in a position occupied by no other state in the Union, that of a money lender, with herself as one of the borrowers. It is a great fix to be in to have enough money to lend to yourself and to be able to make yourself pay interest to yourself.—Lakeland Star-Telegram.

CO-OPERATIVE ORGANIZATION.

For a number of years the Herald has advocated co-operative organizations of a state-wide character. It has contended right along that associations organized for the purpose of handling commodities of like character through the state or general producing areas, was the correct principle or basis for organization. In other words, the best thinking minds of today are advocating state-wide organizations for the purpose of handling like products rather than community organizations for the purpose of handling a variety of fruits, vegetables and other products.

This is an age of concentration and effort on specialties. The mind that thinks along the line of citrus fruit growing and marketing, usually is not interested in the correct methods of growing, harvesting and marketing such products as are produced in Sanford; namely, celery, lettuce, peppers, etc.

The farmer is our local manufacturer and constitutes the producing element of our business life. He is therefore the man to whom we look to to increase our local wealth and it follows that the general prosperity of the entire business life of this community is dependent upon the prosperity of our growers.

The experience of our farmers over a long period of years has been such as to show conclusively that a large number of them producing similar crops without any understanding and with little sympathy, for each others efforts in disposing of their produce, created competitors equivalent to the total number of growers in all producing districts—unconscious competition perhaps, but competition just the same.

That the Manatee County Growers Association have unanimously agreed that their interest can better be served by the affiliation with the Sanford organization clearly convinces us that our attitude during the past several years regarding commodity organization for the purpose of better growing and distributing our products was right. This affiliation unquestionably eliminate waste in our products, stabilize our markets and enable the producers in both localities to close their respective shipping seasons with a higher average per crate than otherwise would have been possible by the past plan of individual marketing.

The citizens of Sanford, whether or not members of the Florida Vegetable Corporation, should feel complimented and even flattered that the Manatee County organization has without reservation agreed to deliver its entire tonnage to our Sanford organization for sale and distribution,—the same Sanford of Seminole County which they previously looked upon as their enemy and competitor. We therefore reiterate that a new day, filled with a new faith and a new spirit has suddenly manifested itself in our midst. Even one year ago the very thought of such cooperation, would have died aborning.

Therefore, the thoughtful people of Seminole county can not fail to be deeply interested in the recent steps taken by our truck farmers in forming their big co-operative marketing organization, The Florida Vegetable Corporation. The most significant phase of developments in this connection, is that the scope of operations of this association will not be confined to this community alone, but has already been extended to cover other than local territory. The Herald yesterday, and the day before, carried news items making public the affiliation effected between the Manatee interests and that of our local interests; the members of the former body having decided without a dissenting voice to place the distribution of their crops in the hands of our local organization. The Manatee County Growers Association produces identically the same products and essentially at the same time, as that of the main crops of Seminole county.

There are still several important links in the ideal co-operative organization yet to be developed and put into practice. The plan of co-operative buying supplies so successful in many communities may be added to the plans of the affiliated organization herein referred to. The farmers of Seminole county can save during a season's operations, by cooperative purchases of fertilizers, crate materials, seed, etc., at least $200,000.00, which at the present is distributed in profits to various dealers in these necessary supplies, only a few of which are located in our immediate community. We realize that it may not be possible or practical at this time to include all the ideals of co-operative organizations, but if the recent federation of interests between Manatee county and

Sanford for the marketing of the products works as successfully as it now seems assured, the other good things to be had by the same plan will be undertaken and worked out before another cropping season. The Herald takes this opportunity to commend the wisdom of our local growers for the steps they have taken and for the distinct compliment paid them by their competitor, the Manatee County Growers Association, and to extend to them the hearty cooperation we have always extended them and the people of this community.

Don't Lose Sight of the Food Value of Your Bakings. Plain flour has a large amount of food value but it must be combined with good baking powder in order to retain this value. Most self rising flours are not successful because they do not and cannot raise the bakings to the proper lightness. This means a certain loss of nutrition because they are heavy and hard to digest. Every time you eat food that does not properly digest you do not get the full nutritional value—you are over-taxing your stomach. Nourishing and perfect bakings are what good health demands. The one sure way is—use pure flour and good baking powder. If you want to find what thousands of housewives have learned—make some biscuits with self-rising flour—then make some with good plain flour and Calumet Baking Powder—notice the great difference. One trial will satisfy you. Your health demands that you make the experiment. Those who know—millions of housewives, domestic science teachers, big hotels, restaurants, bakeries and railroads will not use anything but Calumet, the Economy Baking Powder. Play safe—use Calumet and plain flour. It is the most economical and satisfactory, where light, wholesome and pure foods are desired. PACKED IN TIN —KEEPS STRENGTH IN 1924 Model Studebaker Light-Six Touring Car $995. The Price of This Car Is Misleading. Some buyers take it for granted that cars which sell at about the same prices are equal in value. This is distinctly not the case. To buy on this basis would be an injustice to yourself. You can pay several hundred dollars more than the Light-Six price and get a car that represents no greater, if as great, intrinsic value as the Studebaker Light-Six. Or you can pay about the same price as the Light-Six, or less, and get a car that is high-priced when compared with the Light-Six because it does not represent as much for the money invested. And in the Light-Six you enjoy all the advantages of smooth, flexible, dependable, six-cylinder performance. You get a beautiful, substantial, well-built, roomy and comfortable car. The practical absence of vibration in the Light-Six is a notable achievement. It is due largely to the fact that the Light-Six crankshaft and connecting rods are machined on all surfaces. This is an exclusive Studebaker practice on cars within hundreds of dollars of the Light-Six price. Stop in and see the 1924 Model Light-Six. Test it for yourself—drive it and make your comparisons. Driving is believing. After seventy-one years of service the name Studebaker enjoys confidence and respect more than ever. STUDEBAKER. 1924 MODELS AND PRICES—f. o. b. factory. ## MILANE NEWS

Tonight at the Milane "The Spider and the Rose."

"The Spider and the Rose"—a colorful melodrama of love, hate, diplomacy and adventure.

He trusted her because he loved her—she betrayed him because she loved him.

Hypocrisy and moonshine saved nation—it won a bride for young Merello.

Suppose you had trusted only to be betrayed; suppose you have love only to find the one you loved frustrating your plans; suppose you fought for the freedom of your father from the clutches of a power-thirsty demon only to be reproached by your father—would you do what Don Marcella did in "The Spider and the Rose"—join the revolutionists?

Also tonight Harold Lloyd in "Lumping into Broadway."

Remember tonight—Country Store Night.

PRINCESS NEWS

Bebe Daniels and Antonio Moreno a new combination of co-stars in a melodrama that flashes across the finish line miles ahead of its rivals.

Racing car, aeroplane, aquaplane, speedboat—she drives 'em all in the "The Exciters" the picture that breaks all records for speed and daring.

Most screen heroines are the unhappy victims of adventures that are thrust upon them. But the heroine in "The Exciters" invites them, seeks them—and when necessary, creates them. Like the picture itself she's different, interesting and amusing.

Also a two-part comedy, "Turchy's Nut Sunday."

"The Exciters" will be shown tonight and tomorrow night at the Princess.

And everyone with their last name beginning with "M" will be admitted free tonight.

LET US PLAY FAIR WITH OUR AUTO CAMPERS.

Automobile camps, when properly conducted, are a great asset to a city. If they are not properly conducted from the standpoint of health and morality it is a reflection upon the city and county authorities for they have the law to back them up. In observing automobile camps in and around Orlando for many years the rule has been that they are composed of law-abiding people and that they enjoy a social life to their liking, have a code of ethics which is generally adhered to, and that they attempt to be sanitary if not for the sake of the community at least for their own, individual welfare. Of late the State Board of Health has laid down certain rules which must be adhered to and which are being obeyed. This has had its effect upon the campers and the tent colonies, and the result is improvement in all camps throughout the state.

More Grip on the Road! Buick Four-wheel Brakes

Buick four-wheel brakes give all 1924 Buick cars twice the amount of grip on the road, thereby doubling their braking efficiency. It is the friction or grip of the tire on the road surface that brakes or slows down the car. Buick four-wheel brakes not only provide a greater power to stop in case of emergency but, because of this four-wheel road grip, reduce skidding dangers to a minimum. In turning, Buick four-wheel brake construction automatically releases whichever is the outside or guiding front wheel so it is instantly responsive to the steering mechanism. Buick four-wheel brake construction distributes braking friction over four drums and four wheels. This reduces wear on brake linings and tires, thereby assuring their longer life and greater efficiency with fewer adjustments. Buick four-wheel brakes (on all models) together with countless other distinctive features of the 1924 cars, further establish Buick as the Standard of Comparison.

fore they drive every automobile camper out of Greater Orlando. We think the commissioners should personally inspect the camps now within the city and see how they are conducted, and observe the class of people who live in the tent cities before acting.

Commissioner Sutherland is quoted in the evening paper as saying: "They draw, as at present conducted, an undesirable element to the city, etc." That is rather sweeping statement to make because the Commissioner must know that all automobile campers are not "undesirable." Cities proper draw an undesirable element. Cities are made up of all sorts of people, some are rich and some are poor, some are day laborers and some are bank presidents, some are learned and some are illiterate. Automobile camps which bring together fifty or 200 people are subject to the same scrutinizing test as cities proper. The per cent of undesirables in a tent colony is no greater than in the average size city.

Decapitating the camper without a word in his defense is a poor spirit and we propose to see that he gets a fair trial before condemned to the guillotine.

The campers is a new institution in the life of the United States, induced by the amazing growth of the automotive industry and the development of national highways. Those people who like to motor, lead a modern gypsy life, live in auto camps are entitled to a prerogative which is theirs. They have as much right to motor and live in a tent colony as the man who rides the Pullmans and sleeps in a ten story hotel. They have the right of state, interstate and local protection, and at the same time must conform to the laws of the territory through which they travel; they must keep the pace and maintain the health of a community. Given a chance and the auto camper becomes a valuable asset and not a menace.

You cannot always tell how wealthy a man is by his dress or his automobile. Some of these campers are wealthy, some are in moderate circumstances and others have just enough to "get by" with. This fits the residents of the average city.—Orlando Sentinel.

Guests of a motorist are really his victims

Many a car owner drives on over-inflated tires, and thinks little of it, because he does all his riding in the driver's seat.

Ride in your rear seat some time and see. If your tires are over-inflated, your car will get the full force of bumps and jolts that you miss on the front seat.

That's bad enough for comfort—but it's particularly bad for the car. The pounding and vibration may wear out the whole car prematurely.

The thing to do is to keep tires. It's no work—it's easy.

Drive in our Filling Station it will be a pleasure to check your air.

WAS NOT WELCOME VISITOR

Leopard Wanders Into Crowded Burma Town, but is Killed Before it Could Do Any Harm.

Widespread excitement was created among Mandalay (Burma) residents by the discovery of a full-grown leopard hiding under a house in one of the most crowded quarters. The beast ranged at large for a short time, but was shot by an officer of the Irrawaddy Flotilla company before doing any damage.

How this leopard found its way into the city is not definitely known. Some thought it came from the neighborhood of Amarapura where there is a large area of thick jungle. Another theory was that it boarded one of the Irrawaddy fuel steamers which tie up alongside the bank at night, and was thus carried to Mandalay.

It had been more than ten years since a leopard penetrated into Mandalay, though one was killed only eight miles from the city last summer. Leopards are still common in the thick jungle which abounds in every part of Burma, but usually confine their operations to the cattle of villagers. In 1901 a leopard appeared in Bassein, in Lower Burma, and killed and wounded several people before it was shot.

OF MUCH HISTORIC INTEREST

House to Which Duke of York Took His Bride, Long Associated With Royalty.

Many and varied are the associations which cling around White Lodge, the new home of the duke of York and his bride, standing high, as it does, between Sheen Gate and Robin Hood, and commanding a fine view forward across the Queen's ride to Richmond and backward to Beverley brook and Wimbledon common. It was formerly called Stone Lodge, and was used by King George II as a hunting box. Later, King George III put the house in order for his minister, Addington, the first Viscount Sidmouth, and here it was that Addington had his last interview with Pitt, and entertained Sheridan, Walter Scott and Nelson. Moreover, the table is still preserved on which the last-named is said to have drawn with his finger dipped in wine his plan for the battle of Trafalgar. King Edward VII, when prince of Wales, lived here for a time before his marriage, and it was later turned over as a residence to Queen Mary's parents, the duke and duchess of Teck.—Christian Science Monitor.

LIVES IN HUT IN CITY

In the heart of London is living a man who has never lived in a street.

He is a young Scottish shepherd, in charge of the sheep which he has brought to Kensington Gardens from Aberdeen. With another shepherd he lives in a little hut in the middle of Kensington Gardens, and despite the crowded life about him he leads much the same life as he does in the Highlands.

"I came from Fearn, in Ross-shire," he said. "I would rather live here than in a street. I very rarely go out at night. I have a key, but I generally spend my evenings here. We get up about three or four in the morning to look after the sheep.

"London agrees with the sheep. The dogs worry them a little, but the children are pretty good."—London Mail.

SHY AND SENSITIVE

At the sentimental age of fourteen, I imagined myself much in love. The object of my affections was none other than the devoted suitor of my older sister. Being an extremely shy and sensitive child, I poured out my troubles to no one but my trusted diary for fear of having my feelings made the joke of the family. Imagine my horror when my sister, who was anything but shy and sensitive, began quoting from this precious book in the presence of not only my fun-loving family, but the adored one himself.—Chicago Tribune.

BALL "MADE" VANDERBILTS

Magnificent Entertainment Gained Family Formal Recognition by Recognized New York "Society."

The Vanderbilts obtained their first secure foothold in New York's leading society by a great fancy-dress ball given by Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt in her beautiful Fifth avenue house on the evening of March 26, 1883. It surpassed in splendor, in beauty, in brilliancy, and in luxurious and lavish expense any scene before witnessed in New York. But two or three of the leaders of New York society, notably Mrs. William Astor, had never called upon any of the families of the Vanderbilt family.

According to the generally accepted story, soon after the announcement of the forthcoming ball, but before the formal invitations had been issued, Miss Carrie Astor, the only unmarried daughter of Mrs. William Astor, organized a fancy dress quadrille to be danced at the ball by several young ladies and gentlemen, it being taken for granted by the Astors that, as leaders of society, they would, of course, be invited. Mrs. Vanderbilt heard of this, and stated in the hearing of some friends that she could not invite Miss Astor to her ball, as her mother had never called upon her. This reached Mrs. Astor's ears, and soon after she called upon Mrs. Vanderbilt. She and her daughter were invited to the Vanderbilt ball.

Thus did the ball break the last barrier down and the Vanderbilt family was firmly established among New York's social leaders.

WEALTH IS MADE PORTABLE

East Indians Convert Savings Into Jewelry With Which Their Clothing Is Lavishly Decorated.

The city of Darjeeling, on the border between northeastern India and south Tibet, is a great market place for a wide countryside, where the westerner in the person of the English comes in contact with Tibet, Bhoctia and Nepal.

Except for some savage or semi-savage peoples, there is nowhere else, perhaps, such a lavish and widespread display of barbaric jewelry on the person as one sees in Darjeeling. As is the habit of all Indians—indeed, of most Asiatics—the bulk of the natives' wealth, converted into jewelry, is carried about. Every Sunday morning in the little stone-paved market-place of Darjeeling congregates a human medley, a clothing exhibition, an agricultural display, an outlay of second-hand desiderata, a jewelry bazaar. There is the tarboosh of the Hindu, the platted straw of the laborer on the plantations, the fur-trimmed cloth cap or the Tibetan mountain cap; face types that grade all the way from South Indian, Tamil swarthy to the Parsee and the high caste indoor Brahmin; from the "Caucasian lineaments" to the pure Chinese, says a writer in the Christian Science Monitor.

Milton Writing Lycidas

Lycidas came to Milton's imagination or at least to paper, in a very perfect form. He writes the first 14 lines, and then tries the flower passage, which was evidently haunting his thought. He sets it down once, crosses it all out, and then begins over again. Line 140 was nearer inspiration as first written: "the muske rose and the garish columbine"; but perhaps it does not express his feeling for the flower, or it did not sound appropriate to have so gaudy a flower about the dead. Ruskin calls 148 "mixed fancy and imagination"; the first verslop, "every bud that sorrows liverie wears," is also mixed, but perhaps less objectionable than the form we are familiar with. After the flower passage is to his mind, he takes a fresh sheet, and, commencing a poem once more, writes to the end with very little recasting, except at 58-62, which he thrice revises. Save for these two difficult parts, Milton seems to have written Lycidas with little premeditation, and hence with ease.—Laura E. Lockwood, in "Modern Language Notes."

First "Woman's Rights" Exponent

Saint Birgitta, the only marked personality of Roman Catholic Sweden (before the Reformation) known to the popes, is said to have been the first apostle of "woman's rights" the world has known. She pleaded for "mixed orders" and "mixed convents" to insure the frank and practical cooperation of men and women, monks and nuns, in aiding suffering humanity. Her canonization, however, was due more to the merit of her pilgrimages to Rome and Jerusalem and to her services in bringing about the return of the popes from Avignon to Rome than to her pious and charitable endeavors, or to the example of ardent faith which endeared her to her countrywomen, and by which she was better known in her own country.

Lover Disappeared

We were about fourteen years of age, and very deeply in love. As my parents would not allow me to have company, I had to go out on the sly. In the evening I usually went to church or the show, and he would accompany me on the way home. One night as we came up on the porch and he turned to say good night, my father opened the door and stepped out. I looked up at his blazing eyes and his stern face and then turned to look for my lover, but he was out of sight and never again have I seen him.—Chicago Journal.

WHY THE EGG YIELD FLUCTUATES

The Molting Period Is the Determining Factor

By SETH W. SHOEMAKER,

Director, School of Agriculture, International Correspondence Schools, Scranton, Pa.

The fluctuation of the egg yield of the best managed poultry farms is often the subject of discussion and is usually laid to the weather.

The molting period, however, is the factor which determines the variation in the yield of a flock when all other things are going well. In the northern hemisphere the yield of eggs begins to decline in July and August and usually steadily declines until November and December, when the minimum number of eggs is produced.

In January the yield begins to grow larger and increases steadily until the growing season, usually April or May.

The rise and decline of the egg yield are, of course, reversed in the southern hemisphere. The accompanying table shows the percentage yield of eggs by months in the United States as compared with Australia. As shown by the table, a daily egg yield of 73 per cent during December may be obtained from a flock of good hens, while in the United States equally good hens may give an 18 per cent yield.

In the United States the molt occurs during the months intervening between July and January. Naturally the eggs will sell for the highest price at this time.

For this reason hens should be handled so that they will lay as much as possible during these months. To accomplish this, pullets must be hatched in March or earlier and hens should not molt during August.

GEORGIA WOMAN ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

VALDOSTA, Ga., Sept. 20.—It was not until the middle of the afternoon yesterday that the trial of Mrs. Joe Copeland got under way at Statesville for the killing of John Roberts at Mayday, Echols county, on September 9. As soon as the jury had been completed the state commenced presenting its side of the case, under the direction of Solicitor General C. E. Hay. The contention of the state was that it was a case of murder and several witnesses gave testimony leading in this direction.

The main feature of the defense was the claim that Mrs. Copeland shot to protect her own life. This was largely contained in her own statement.
