Folks Urged To Arrive Early For Big Parade

BALLOONS, BALLOONS, BALLOONS for the annual Jaycee-Merchants Association Christmas parade are being blown up in readiness for the event by Christmas Shopping Tour Chairman Mason Wharton. Funds from the sale of the balloons will provide money for the orphans spending tour in Sanford. (Staff Photo)

Quiet Thanksgiving Observed In County

It was all "turkey and trimmings" for the Seminole County Sheriff's Department over Thanksgiving. However, a long Thanksgiving Holiday weekend for some, especially for those who are traveling, will keep the force of deputies on their toes over Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

There were only two minor traffic accidents marring the Thanksgiving Day celebration yesterday. Most people were around the heavily laden tables, accentuated by the golden brown turkey, cranberry sauce, pumpkin pies and other favorite additions to the menu for one of the top holidays of the year.

Hunters turned out in force to enjoy their favorite Thanksgiving Day pastime, some successful and others returning home from the fields without game but thoroughly happy over "what was missed."

Churches celebrating Thanksgiving with special services were filled to overflowing with a Community Thanksgiving Service held at the Central Baptist Church sponsored by the Seminole County Ministerial Association.

It was a quiet day in Sanford and Seminole County—with emphasis on Thanksgiving 1956 and the blessings which had been added to each life throughout the past year.

The Salvation Army furnished Thanksgiving baskets to six needy families who would not otherwise have enjoyed a holiday dinner. In addition to the six baskets furnished directly by the Salvation Army, names of two needy families were supplied to organizations which furnished baskets.

The women circles of the First Presbyterian Church have been dressing dolls for the Salvation Army. The dolls will go on display about Dec. 8 in the lobby of the Sanford Atlantic National Bank, the Officer in Charge of the local Salvation Army said today.

"We will begin taking applications for the Christmas baskets and assistance in making toys and gifts available for children on Dec. 1," Lt. Reynolds said this morning. "After the applications have been received we will investigate each application to determine the need existing," she said.

Over 300 Present At Children's Home 25th Homecoming

More than 300 alumni and children of the Methodist Children's Home at Enterprise attended the 25th Homecoming and Thanksgiving Day celebration yesterday.

Officers of the Alumni Association were elected at a meeting following a morning service and Thanksgiving Day dinner. Robert Barnett, Jacksonville, was named president. Paul Hutchins, Starke, vice president; Mrs. Betty Roper Cohen, Jacksonville, re-elected secretary; and Miss Ruth Goe, Miami, named treasurer.

Beginning the Thanksgiving Day festivities was a service held at Barnett Memorial Church where the Rev. Ben Montgomery, a former pastor and superintendent of the home, introduced alumni and delivered a brief sermon. Barbecue beef and pork, prepared by Kermit Wiggins of the Home's staff, was served at the midday dinner. All of the most used was raised at the home.

Entered in the third division are floats sponsored by: Evans Roofing and Heating, Odham and Tudor, The Abstract Corp., Sanford Elks Lodge, Salvation Army, Girl Scouts, Brownie Scouts, Womans Club, Upsala Presbyterian Church, Congregational Christian Sunday School, First Methodist Church, and Elder Springs Baptist Chapel.

The Parade, sponsored jointly by the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Sanford Merchants Association is expected to draw the biggest crowd of the year.

Civic Problems Are Discussed By CofC

By MARY FOWLER
The De Bary C of C met at Stetson cafeteria for a dinner gathering last night and gave its attention to several civic problems. To the letter of resignation by Everett L. Swifas director, an unanimous vote was made to elect him secretary treasurer emeritus. Several directors were named by the nominating committee: Curtis Reimann to Dec. 31, 1957; Henry Lasher, Dec. 31, 1958; Samuel Faron, Howard Sharp and Rudolph Tiedeman to Dec. 31, 1959.

A zoning council for De Bary was named: Harold Lynch, chairman; Raymond Higgins, Rudolph Tiedeman, John Offield, Talman Van Arsdale and Henry Wood, secretary. A group reported on their investigation of the possibility of obtaining better roads through Senate bill 499. Lynch said that in an interview with Commissioner Stone they were from De Bary by the seven mill tax from the Orange City-Enterprise road and bridge district would be spent in De Bary. Stone promised them the utmost cooperation in securing road improvement. Arthur Lambert was added to this committee. Higgins reported on the revision of the De Bary directory which he said would be ready for distribution in January.

A picture, "Wings to Mexico and Guatemala" was presented. The next meeting will not be a dinner affair but will be held in De Bary at the civic building on Dec. 10, at 7:30 p. m.

Among the amusing and instructive committee reports were two fine resumes of the recent county meetings, one given by Dr. Lois Wells and one by Mrs. Runkel.

Nagy's Arrest Feared

BELGRADE (AP)—Yugoslavia protested to Hungary today that Imre Nagy and his associates who left the Yugoslav Embassy in Budapest yesterday under guarantees of safety have not returned to their homes. The Yugoslav announcement said nothing about their fate but the protest indicates this country fears they are under arrest.

Nagy is the moderate "independent" Communist leader whose brief premiership during early stages of the Hungarian revolution was ended by Soviet guns. He and his associates took refuge in the Yugoslav Embassy in an effort to avoid arrest.

Dobricevic Vidic, Yugoslav undersecretary for foreign affairs, called in the Hungarian charge d'affaires this morning and told him the Nagy party, which left asylum in the Yugoslav Embassy in Budapest voluntarily under an agreement that none of them would be persecuted, were not in their homes.

Vidic declared if they did not return this would be "a flagrant violation of the existing relations between Yugoslavia and Hungary and a violation of international laws."

Vidic said Nagy and his party left the embassy in a bus which was put at their disposition by the Hungarian government.

Among those departing was Julia Rajk, widow of Laszlo Rajk, the Hungarian foreign minister who was executed as a traitor in October 1949. In addition, Vidic said, there were 15 women and 17 children.

Vidic asked specifically why they had not returned to their homes and stressed that the Hungarian government had given guarantees not to persecute them.

The action taken by the Yugoslavs will no doubt complicate relations between the Tito regime and the present Hungarian government, informed sources said. But they added that Yugoslavia will make every effort to see that the Hungarian government abides by its promise.

Nagy had been in the Yugoslav Embassy in Budapest for 18 days. His presence was a cause of concern for the Yugoslav government, which was sensitive to any charge that it might be interfering in internal political developments of its neighbor.

It was noted here that while the Yugoslavs had been promised by the Hungarians they would not act against Nagy, no similar pledge had been obtained from the Russians.

Pilgrims' Progress Is Community Service Message

The Central Baptist Church was comfortably filled with grateful worshippers Thursday morning for the annual community Thanksgiving service sponsored by the Seminole County Ministerial Association.

Host pastor J. W. Farham presided. Mrs. R. D. Grieme was at the organ, while Dick Aiken sang "Lord, Let Me Live Today." The congregation sang a Thanksgiving and a patriotic hymn. Parts in the service were taken by the Rev. Fred Bowers of the Free Methodist Church, the Rev. David S. Carnell of the Missionary Alliance Church, and the Rev. R. H. Spear Jr., of the Church of the Nazarene. An offering for the work of the ministerial association was received. Programs were donated by the Celery City Printing Co.

The Rev. J. Bernard Root, who has been pastor of the Congregational Church for three decades, was the speaker of the day. Treating the subject "Pilgrims' Progress" with kindled imagination and facility of phrase he described life as a pilgrimage and pointed out the new steps in life's pilgrimage taught us by great pilgrims, including Enoch, Abraham, Moses and Jesus.

How international are you? The distance to South America is becoming shorter. Your first interesting step toward meeting your Spanish neighbors is to enroll in the Conversational Spanish Class which begins next Monday night at Seminole High School.

This course will be for beginners or for those having only a little background. The course will be on a conversational basis with minimum emphasis on formal grammar.

Advanced interest in the Spanish course indicates a good turnout Monday night. Classes will be held every Monday and Tuesday night from 8 p. m. to 9 p. m. Registration and class instruction will begin the same evening. There is a $1.00 registration fee. Further information can be had by calling 665 or contacting Fred C. Murray, Director of Adult & Vocational Education in the School Administration Building.

Of Such is the Kingdom of God

Some people argue that the words of Christ imply that God's Kingdom belongs to children and not to adults. Indeed, there are some families whose worship habits suggest as much. The youngsters are bundled off to Sunday School; and the grown-ups stay home.

But Biblical scholars have long agreed that Christ's words point to the attitude, not the age, which is the mark of God's Kingdom.

The implicit faith, the humble acceptance, the eager yearning with which children approach Christ's teaching — these are the qualities which belong to God's Kingdom.

Perhaps we are foolishly infatuated with the notion that our children should follow in our footsteps. If we start them in the right direction, the direction of the Church, we may gain much more by following in theirs.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Three fabulous guys and one gorgeous gal made such music together that they thrilled a whole generation with rhythms that today are household classics. Gordon MacRae, Dan Dailey, Sheree North and Ernest Borgnine portray the leading figures in Twentieth Century-Fox's gay Cinema-Scope musical, 'The Best Things in Life Are Free.' De Silva, Brown and Henderson biography opening Sunday at the Ritz Theatre.

Musical To Open Sunday At Ritz

"The Best Things in Life Are Free." Twentieth Century-Fox's new musical which opens Sunday at the Ritz Theatre, takes you on a pleasant journey down memory lane to the days when the "Black Bottom" was the rage and jazz was the forerunner of today's rock 'n' rollers. Gordon MacRae, Dan Dailey, Ernest Borgnine and Sheree North (all in Cinema-Scope screen with lighting and the set design are gay in De Silva color. Everybody has a ball in this song-and-dance show which gives the youngsters an insight into what went on back in the 1920's and brings a nostalgic sigh to the fathers and mothers who remember how the country went wild with bathtub gin after World War I.

John O'Hara wrote the story around the career of the song-writing team of De Silva, Brown and Henderson, who dominated the tin pan alley with their tunes and were named to conjure with on Broadway and in Hollywood. Their lives were wrapped up in such songs as "Button Up Your Overcoat," "Together," "Lucky Things in Life Are Free" and a throughout the picture.

Director Michael Curtiz has kept this musical melange moving at a fast pace and Producer Henry Ephron has not stinted in giving it a lavish production. "The Best Things in Life Are Free" is definitely "Good News" for all musical comedy fans.

The film is peppered with songs by Pearl Bailey, who also functions as a Cupid and helps stir up that certain old feeling between Hope and Miss Saint with some fancy plotting. Making a guest appearance is cartoonist Al Capp, creator of "Li'l Abner." Production, direction and screenplay collaboration are by Norman Panama and Melvin Frank, who last wrote Danny Kaye's "The Court Jester."

PROPOSAL APPROVED FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla.—Voters approved a proposal to build a tunnel under New River rather than a bridge over it for the traffic on busy U.S. Highway 1. The State Road Department favors a tunnel which would cost an estimated five million dollars. A bridge would cost an estimated $4 that amount.

Bob Hope and Eva Marie Saint cavort in a canoe on the living room couch of George Sanders' penthouse—in scene from "That Certain Feeling," due Sunday at the Movieland-Ride-In Theatre. Oscar-winner Saint has her first comedy role in the Paramount VistaVision film, which features singer-comedian Pearl Bailey in the hilarious story of a cartoonist with complexes.

Comedy 'That Certain Feeling' Stars B. Hope

Bob Hope's latest picture, "That Certain Feeling," shapes up as a film with all the special qualities that make great comedies: warmth, heart, and a hilarious, amusing story. The picture is a comedy strip of her boss and fiancée, George Sanders, thus precipitating a situation that eventually involves two lovable kids, a monstrous dog, a senator and a wild burlesque of a famous TV show.

The film is peppered with songs by Pearl Bailey, who also functions as a Cupid and helps stir up that certain old feeling between Hope and Miss Saint with some fancy plotting. Making a guest appearance is cartoonist Al Capp, creator of "Li'l Abner." Production, direction and screenplay collaboration are by Norman Panama and Melvin Frank, who last wrote Danny Kaye's "The Court Jester."

PROPOSAL APPROVED FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla.—Voters approved a proposal to build a tunnel under New River rather than a bridge over it for the traffic on busy U.S. Highway 1. The State Road Department favors a tunnel which would cost an estimated five million dollars. A bridge would cost an estimated $4 that amount.

Radio-TV Highlights

NEW YORK (AP)—Nanette Fabray, who is as intelligent as she is attractive, was talking the other day about transposing entertainment from one medium to another.

"That's because television is an intimate medium and only one or two people can come on camera at a time. When you have 15 or 20 people running around a big Broadway stage, your attention shifts from one to another and you establish their identities."

"But a home audience would be confused if the camera shifted from one to another as your eyes shift on a big stage. So some characters are deleted and more emphasis placed on the others with the result that the plot is intensified."

"Doing a Broadway show for television is a problem. How are you going to maintain the scope of a big show in the warm, intimate medium of the TV camera? In 'High Button Shoes' it seems to me that this problem has been solved beautifully."

One reason she likes working in television is a reason you've probably not heard advanced by any other actress—and it's an interesting one.

"In television, except on the night show, you work through the day and lead a more normal life than in the nightclub of the stage. In television you can go home in the evening or go to the theater and watch others perform."

STOCK ISSUE PROPOSED BOSTON (AP)—Northeast Airlines has proposed a seven million dollar common stock issue to help finance an expanded route approved recently by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The CAB order gave Northeast permission to extend its route system from New England and New York to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, and Jacksonville, Tampa, St. Petersburg, Clearwater and Miami, Fla.

PLANE CRASHES Panama City, Fla.—A Florida Forest Service plane hit a power line and crashed yesterday while coming in for a landing at a private airport here.

Pilot Dee Paffos escaped with minor injuries, but a passenger, James C. DuPre, a forest service radio operator, suffered possible internal injuries.

Christmas Is Time For Giving; Celebrating Birth Of Christ

Perhaps in the spirit of old Scrooge, many of us are inclined to "bah, humbug" the Christmas holiday and complain that it's all too commercial!

But yet, "too commercial" may be an overstatement. It is wrong, once a year, to make the dominant theme one of giving, rather than of receiving?

Each year, as the lights of Christmas trees twinkle on a clear December night, do we stop to think of the millions who have gained employment through the Christmas shopping industry?

Economically, no other holiday or festivity season contributes so much to the welfare of the world. Christmas has hardly passed into the new year before thousands are at work on toys and myriads of other Christmas specialties for the next year.

Christmas, and the spirit of Christmas, has endured wars and great chaos through centuries as a time of joyousness and happiness, and giving has always been an important part of the festivities.

The picture of the family united, with presents opened, and children wrapped in the joyousness of childhood's greatest emotions is still, and will remain, the Christmas story.

But as we ponder the thought of commercialism there is a reminder of what Christmas and the Christmas season brings about. For instance, the gigantic Christmas Parade next Wednesday afternoon, has as its predominant theme, as explained by the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce, "Keep Christmas With Christ."

As bands play rhythmic melodies for marching, children ring out with cheers and laughter, parents join with the fun and merriment, remember deep in their hearts the "real Christmas story" depicted by the floats.

Each person is reminded of the doctrines of his or her faith—and the inner self compels us to look and search deeper for the message found in Luke 2.

There may be commercialism—but each bit of it brings another reminder of the "Christmas Story" with greater meaning, greater faith, and a stronger determination to live at Christmastime.

We buy at Christmas—for others—and in the spirit of true giving. Celebrating, of course, the birth of a Savior.

Allan M. Trout Is Study In Contrast

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Lanky Allen M. Trout is a study in contrasts.

He is a man who smokes a blend of his own Kentucky burley in the finest English briars.

As a political reporter for the Louisville Courier-Journal, he has rubbed elbows for years with governors, senators and the lesser ranks of politicians.

But he retires at day's end in his isolated farm of meadow and woodland near here and contemplates from a serene seat in his old-fashioned rocker—the contented grazing of two mules, a pony, one bull, and a moderate herd of cows and calves.

He subscribes to the air mail edition of the Times of London. But his hobby is a backwoods daily column in the Courier-Journal called "Greetings." It is a rustic blend of folklore, witchcraft, buffoonery and a brand of burlesqued philosophy which Trout calls barnyard science.

The column is nearing the 3 million word mark. In all those words Trout has managed to conceal from thousands of devoted readers the urbane, sophisticated side of his nature.

Through the column he dispenses such nostrums as buckeyes—a variety of chestnut—as a cure for rheumatism. He has distributed thousands of wooden shoe-pegs which had gathered dust for 50 years in a Kentucky mountain store.

It little matters that not even his most resourceful reader has figured out a use for the shoe-pegs. They went like hot cakes in a lumber camp. Trout's boldest claim was that the shoe-peg is a mighty handy gadget to tighten the hands of an old Seth Thomas clock.

Trout's crusade to put the buckeyes in the pocket of potential rheumatic sufferers has brought him requests from every state in the country. Kentucky readers swap him with the nut. One fall, he got four bushels by mail, express, and messenger.

In buccolic folklore, a buckeye carried in the pocket or purse will ward off the dread rigors of rheumatism.

"If all you say about the buckeye is true," one reader wrote, "please let me try one."

"Ma'am," Trout replied characteristically, "my buckeyes are covered by the boldest guarantee in the annals of modern journalism—so-called. They are fully warranted . . . in two important respects.

"First, we guarantee them to be absolutely genuine.

"Second, we guarantee that if you carry them in pocket or purse as directed, they will do no harm.

"No other nostrum, ma'am, can make those claims. No other columnist can stake his reputation,

Florida Said Good Place For Proposed New Fission Plant

FORT LAUDERDALE (AP)—An Atomic Energy Commission AEC official says Florida, because of its good water and rail transportation "would be a very good place" for a proposed new fission plant.

Edward F. Miller, vacationing here, said the plant, now in the planning stage, would recover fissionable matter from Atomic Reactor cores. He said the AEC will soon ask private industry to submit proposals on construction of the plant. He is production director for the AEC Operations Division.

Since Florida has good water and rail transportation and is located near Oak Ridge, Tenn., where all fissionable uranium is delivered, Miller said it might well be the site of the new plant.

Raids Continue

Press dispatches from the Middle East report a continuation of fedayeen raids and Arab infiltration into Israel. Similar raids earlier prompted the Israeli attack on Egypt. The United Nations with strong pressure has stopped Israel. But what is being said inside or out of the United Nations concerning the present raids: And what is being done to stop them?

Such raids are one of the sources of continuing friction and danger in the Middle East. They result in the killing of peaceful citizens. The labor of peaceful Israeli civilians trying to go about the work of ploughing, planting and building is partially frustrated. The situation is such that the American ambassador to Israel had to be given a military guard for a trip from his home near Tel Aviv to Jerusalem. One's life is not safe if one travels between those Israeli cities after dark.

Here is a cause for proper and serious investigation by the United Nations. It takes two to make peace. Certainly the continuation of raids into Israel is not peace-making. And while the raids continue, the government of Iraq announces that it has appealed to all nations to remove Israel from the Middle East for the sake of security and peace.

At the same time, commentators and columnists continue to point out that the Soviet Union has won a triumph in this area. It is even being conceded that now Syria will be Russia's military ally.

Soviet penetration is the real threat to peace in the Middle East, and the Arab leaders are more than flinching with this belligerent power.

New Middle East crises are being prepared before the present one is resolved.

Politics

Here we go again with politics. According to a recent report, members of the BAC (Business Advisory Council of the Commerce Department) say that business must "roll up its sleeves and go to work" if it wants to return the Republicans to power in 1960.

It was reflected in the thinking of this group which met recently for its fall meeting at Sea Island, Ga. that the President will meet even stiffer opposition in Congress to his legislative program, especially on such policies as hard money, economy, debt reduction, and withdrawal of the government from competition with business.

What these leaders deplored even more, however, was the fact that the Republican Party which has tried to identify itself with these policies couldn't muster a majority in either House or Senate despite the landslide reelection of its leader.

Today is another day for thanksgiving—thankful that we are at home safe from the ribbons of traffic that wind about the highways. The greatest day to offer thanks is today—thankful that we are not a statistic in the traffic annals of another cruel holiday travel-quest.

if any, upon so broad a guarantee."

Trout and his readers wrestle through the column—in dead earnestness—over such questions as:

Why does a hound dog trot with his hind quarters slung out of line?

Why do pig tails curl to the right north of the equator and to the left south of the equator?

Does an old hen lay an egg because she wants to, or because she has to?

Does a mule raise its tail every time it brays?

He tells them how to keep a goose nest dry on a hillside and why a raccoon climbs the north side of a tree. He tells farmers how to beat acreage allotments by planting tobacco in crooked rows and how to produce bacon with equal layers of fat and lean by stuffing and starving hogs on alternate months.

Years Mellow Fiercy Priest Of Shrine Of Little Flower

ROYAL OAK, Mich., (AP)—The years have mellowed the fiery priest of the Shrine of the Little Flower.

At 65, the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin in his pulpit at the Roman Catholic shrine speaks and looks like a philosopher. He gave up his controversial radio career 15 years ago.

No longer is he a Don Quixote tilting with political windmills. But he still has the eloquence that made his name a household word a generation ago.

Today, instead of denouncing politicians and bankers, he is centering his fire on the Devil. Except for his parish activities in this thriving suburb of Detroit, Father Coughlin leads almost a cloistered life.

The priest used to hold news conferences and voice off-the-cuff opinions about almost anything. In this campaign year he has given no interviews.

His sermons today reflect sweetness and light. But the old punch is still there when he tees off on the Devil.

He recently warned his parishioners: "Your adversary is the Devil—a roaring lion seeking whom he may devour."

The priest exhorted the people not to put their trust in material things but in "the word of truth, which is the word of God."

Father Coughlin's fame reached its peak in the depression days of the 30's as a champion of the poor.

His eclipse as a national political figure began in 1936. That was the year he backed a political loser. And with returning prosperity, radio listeners lost interest in him.

Father Coughlin supported the New Deal in its early years. He turned against Roosevelt in the 1936 election and threw his support to a third party candidate, Rep. William Lemke, North Dakota farm congressman and advocate of monetary reforms.

Roosevelt won a second term by the biggest landslide of his four terms.

Father Coughlin lost political face. He announced his retirement from radio speaking. He denied there was any compulsion from the church. In the heat of the campaign he had called Roosevelt a "liar and betrayer."

This was reported to have caused a painful impression at the Vatican. The priest apologized.

Tired of political warfare, Father Coughlin said he wanted to return to the life of "a simple parish priest."

Father Coughlin stopped broadcasting for a short while but later in 1937 he started a new series. He soon was in hot water again although his radio speeches were on the mild side. He was quoted as saying at a news conference that a good Catholic could no more be a member of the CIO than a Mohammedan. His superior, Archbishop Edward Mooney of Detroit, who later became a cardinal, said the priest was in error. The archbishop said there was no incompatibility between the CIO and the church. Father Coughlin canceled his broadcasts.

Back on the air in 1938, the priest became subject of bitter controversy again over the position of the church on labor. He also got into a row with Jewish groups over who started the revolution in Russia, but he denied antisemitism.

Father Coughlin definitely left the air in 1940. He dissociated himself from the magazine Social Justice he had founded to advocate the political and economic views of the National Union for Social Justice.

Abandoning public controversy, the priest devoted his full attention to his parish. When he founded it in 1926, he had a small shingled church and a congregation of 50.

Radio listeners, Protestant and Jewish as well as Catholic who were charmed by the priest's eloquence, poured in gifts that helped build a new church. It is an imposing octagonal stone structure with a crucifixion tower standing as a landmark on the main northern entry into Detroit.

The replacement value of the church property, including grounds, is estimated at more than 13 million dollars. More than 8,000 persons attend Sunday Masses.

DAMAGE REPORT TOLD
JACKSONVILLE BEACH (AP)—An estimated $1,171,723 damage was caused to oceanfront property in this area when high winds and strong tides broke up sections of seawall early this month, City Manager J. Floyd Gilson reported last night.

He said he has asked that the beaches be declared a major disaster area and eligible for state or federal aid.

In addition to property damage, he said, the city wants to be reimbursed for $20,410 it spent sandbagging to prevent any buildings from being washed away.

War Threat Puts Stress On Economy

NEW YORK (AP)—The threat of war is putting new pressure today on an economy that already is all but bursting its seams. This is shown in such things as:

1. The prediction that an increasing demand for heavy steel plates will prolong the present shortage for several years, especially if the Middle East strike quickens plans for building super oil tankers so that the United States can supply its allies should the crisis develop.

2. The far faster spring in the total output of goods and services this year than anyone had foreseen and the indication that the growth will be limited only by the supply of materials and manpower.

3. Increasing tightness in the money market as business looks for funds to push its expansion program and governments look for credit to push their civic construction—with the giant federal highway program yet to come.

All of this adds up to more in "billionary pressure." The Suez crisis already has sent the prices of some commodities higher. It has added a 20 per cent surcharge on shipping costs when goods must bypass the canal. It has tightened further an already tight supply of ships and tankers, threatening to limit all shipping rates.

Turmoil in Hungary and Poland already has stilled any talk of cutting back in U. S. defense spending. Now the conjecture is all the other way—that increased defense spending may put new demands on industrial production.

In its present confident mood the business gives every sign of going right along spending, limited only by its ability to get the money or the credit. Part of the spending is to increase industrial capacity, but much of it is to get more efficient plants where production costs can be cut.

Parents Problems In Young People's World Of Today

Associated Press Women's Editor—Parents are problems in the young people's world of today, says Ruth Stafford Peale, wife and partner of the famous Protestant minister, Norman Vincent Peale.

"One third of all the mail we receive," she says, "is from young people between the ages of 11 and 20, asking in various ways, 'What are we going to do about our parents?'"

Mrs. Peale, a charming, youthful-looking woman, modern to her fingertips, speaks with authority as the mother of two daughters and a son, and as co-author with her husband of a regular magazine feature inviting readers to discuss their problems.

"There's no doubt that a great many of today's young people are troubled and confused," she said. The problems of almost all who write to us boil down to one complaint—"Our parents don't understand us."

"Sometimes they feel the household is too strict, sometimes that parents are too busy or indifferent. Some say there is too stern a religious attitude in the home, others say there isn't enough attention to religion."

"From observation I have found that a great many of today's problems with the younger generation stem from the fact that parents think if they provide a good home and good schools for their children, the youngsters should feel secure. There is too much stress on material things."

"Actually children can get a feeling of security of close and understanding relationship with their parents. They want to know what their parents are thinking about. They need to feel confidence in the integrity and ultimate fairness of their parents, and they must have a safe, warm and welcoming haven in a home."

The Peales have a daughter just out of college, a son in college and a 14-year-old daughter in high school.

Your Nose Helps You To Enjoy Good Foods

By MERRILL N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

IS your nose ready for the acts of swallowing and exhaling wonderful aromas of that big turkey dinner tomorrow? I hope so. Your nose, if it's working properly, actually helps you enjoy the joy of good food.

Your sense of smell probably is even more important than your sense of taste when it comes to eating. Your taste buds simply tell you whether a substance is sour or sweet, salty or bitter. The delicious "flavor" is detected by your nose.

Make This Test
If you don't believe me, try pinching your nostrils together when you sit down to Thanksgiving dinner. I think you'll find that the turkey and all the trimmings taste pretty flat. They will taste a good deal like almost any other foods you sample in the same manner.

If you have a cold and your nose is stuffed, things will taste flat, no matter what you do. You don't have to make a conscious effort to sniff a dish while you're eating, although the aroma of a delectable meal usually is something to cherish. Warm vapors are freed by the food as you chew it. These vapors, laden with flavor, are forced toward your nose by the natural action of the acts of swallowing and exhaling. Most good cooks insist on serving turkey food, especially soups, piping hot. There's a good reason for this. Generally, the hotter the food, the more intense is the odor. Thus, a hot food gives us even more satisfying vapors than sense of taste when it comes to eating. Your taste buds simply tell you whether a substance is sour or sweet, salty or bitter. The delicious "flavor" is detected by your nose.

Women reportedly have a better sense of smell than do men. As we grow older, scientists tell us, our sense of smell becomes somewhat dulled. For this reason, older people usually tend to enjoy spicier and more highly flavored foods (such as anchovies and the like) more than do younger men and women.

Whatever foods you like, take a good deep sniff tomorrow when you sit down to eat. You'll "taste" the rich aroma even before you take the first bite.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
U. K.: I have a child four years old whose bowels tend to protrude when he moves them.

Answer: Your child is probably suffering from prolapse of the bowel. Bandaging the bowel to prevent it from protruding may be of help in certain cases. However, in many instances, an operation will be required.

Everywhere we go these days, we're reminded that Christmas is fast approaching, but now that Thanksgiving is over—and I trust yours was as pleasant as mine—it's time to really start giving some serious thought to the matter. Of course, if you feel the same as I do about Christmas you like to save some of your shopping for the last minute, so that you can go rushing around with the rest of the holiday-spirited crowd through all the stores, just before closing time, on Christmas Eve. But let me tell you, there are some "mighty purty" things to be seen in the stores around Sanford now, a Christmas shopping mood. Maybe sometime in the future we can tell you about some of these lovely articles. But do leave some of your shopping for Christmas Eve so you can join us in that mad last-minute rush. Frankly I like nothing better than to be trying to do "leventy-leven" different things at once on Christmas Eve so that everything will be just perfect for Christmas Day.

Ginny Conn wrote such a moving article for yesterday's paper and said so many nice things about the city of Sanford and its people, that I just can't let this day go by without thanking her—on behalf of my new hometown and its citizens—and telling her how much Sanford appreciates the part the navy wives take in all community activities. I never write an article on any club, church, or organization that I don't see the names of several navy wives interspersed with those of the hometown. So thank you Ginny and the rest of you navy wives.

Have you got your copy yet? I mean of course, your copy of the Enlisted Men Wives cookbook, which has been on sale for a couple of weeks now. And, before you ask me, no I don't have mine yet either but I'm sure gonna get one. There's a real wealth of fascinating and unusual recipes between those covers.

On the New Arrivals List: T. R. Walton and his wife and two children are recent tenants at 403 Colonial Way. They moved here from Miami not too long ago. Mr. Walton is ATW with the Navy. Recent arrivals from Stoughton, Wis., are Mr. and Mrs. George C. Bauger, of 407 Colonial Way. They have four children, three girls, 6, 10 and 6 mos., and a boy who is seven. Mr. Bauger is also in the navy. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Moritz, of Eustis, Neb., have brought a home at 1244 Randolph. He's another navy man.

Make A Santa Marionette As Unusual Gift For Special Child In Your Life

It's not too early to start thinking about Christmas, a fact that is confirmed by all the lovely Christmas ornaments, tinsel, wrap-pings, ribbon, cards, ect. now on display in all the stores.

Sometimes it is difficult to find the perfect gift for a child, one that is not too expensive, but still interesting and attractive.

Here's a novel idea for a child's gift that you can make yourself from newspapers. It's a Santa marionette and the children are bound to love it.

For the body place two full sheets of newspaper on top of each other. Crumple another for the head, and two, a little elongated for the body. Lay crumpled pieces on double flat sheets, a little off center.

Wrap body and head snugly in narrowest way of paper, turning outer edge in as you finish wrapping. Push body and head close together, and fold top end down so edge is below neckline; fold bottom end up so paper edge is above waistline. Attach head string to be hung over hanger. Thread long rug needle with 30-inch length of cord. Run through head. (Figure 1) Tie ends.

Cut 3/4 of a full newspaper sheet. Fold bottom up to top and then fold again. Now fold in thirds. You now should have a piece of folded paper about 2 inches wide, 23 inches long. Fold in half the long way. They bring outer ends to center point and put a rubber band around it. (Figure 2). Now make seven more like this, making eight leg and arm joints in all. For hands, use less than half sheet off paper and for feet less than full sheet. Make same as leg and arm joints.

Assembly
Cut 8 strings 14 inches long. Remove rubber band from leg or arm joint and clamp inside folds with fingers (Figure 3). Drop string through right loop. (Figure 4). Bring end of string up and over, then down through second loop until both ends of string hang downward. Grasp end folds and pull strings taut. Loosen center loop of string. Thread right string through center loop, and left string through center loop. (Figure 5). Pull string ends in opposite directions for a flat, untieable joint. Repeat for each joint. Place a double fold next to a single fold when putting the joints together. Put one string of lower joint through center of bottom of top joint. Knot well.

Lay upper arm joint flat against side of neck. Tie to neck string front and back. (Figure 6) To attach leg joints, run a 10 inch string through lower folds of body. (Figure 7) Lay body on table, putting legs in place. Tie outside strings together, one from the leg and one from the body on both sides.

Stringing and Finishing
Dress Santa before stringing. Use red crepe paper or fabric. Hang from head string on wooden coat hanger. (Figure 10) Cut a double thread a little more than length from edge of coat hanger to neck. Push up one trouser leg, attach thread end to center string at knee joint. Push needle up, not out, to 1 1/2 inches above knee and out through trouser leg. Carry up and attach to hanger. Notch wood to hold string in place.

Arms are strung from inside wrist joints and attached to hanger one inch from center. Repeat for all limbs. Finish marionette by painting hands flesh color, the face with flesh color and red and white. Makes eyes large and spaced rather far apart. Feet are black. Glue on cotton for beard and hair, and he's finished!

AN INTERESTING AND UNSUAL GIFT is this Santa Marionette that's so simple to make out of some old Newspapers, and that's about all, except for the few scraps of material needed for his clothing

Conning The News

Bill Stetson is back from a two week hunting trip in Maine. He shot a small buck that dressed out at eighty pounds, so I guess he won't need to borrow my freezer after all. More popular than the deer were the lobsters he brought back in his parachute bag, previously cooked for obvious reasons. As their guests for Thanksgiving dinner, the Stetsons had an old school mate of Jean's and her family.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes, Dusty, Paul Grunder, Wendall McGuire (W.G.), Al Deans and Bud Bramley are having dinner with Bill and Betty Lamos. Bud Bramley who used to be in VAH-9, now works for Convair in Cocoa, but spends nearly every weekend in Sanford.

Polly Brubaker and Rosemary Burbank, Polly's guest from Wayland, Mass., spent Saturday and Sunday in New Smyrna fishing. Rosie is going to Clearwater for several days next week. Fishing again is on the agenda, this time with a chartered boat.

Polly also wishes me to announce that the bridge lessons are up again from ten to twelve Wednesday mornings at her house on Mellowville.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony DiManno of White Plains, New York, are here visiting their daughter, Spook Hook. Primarily, I have a feeling they are visiting Courtney, as I doubt if there are prouder grandparents in the whole state of Florida. The DiMannos plan to take several side trips to points of interest during their stay in Sanford.

Little Patsy Bear celebrated her fifth birthday the 17th of November. Gathered around the huge cake were David and Tommy Brubaker, Susan Metzger, Buddy Hawls, Gary Hamrick, Pat Stone, Scotty and Vicky Mills, and Bryan Brownlee. Ann tells me that most of the wives in VAH-11 are planning to eat at the B. O. Q together, which I think is a wonderful idea. We are merging with Harriet and John Williams across the street. Since we have nine children between us, it should be a lot of fun.

You'll need to add 2 tablespoons of lemon juice to a quarter cup of butter for a lemon-butter sauce for fish or vegetables. The trick in preparing this, is to cream the butter and then mix in the lemon juice very slowly so the butter will gradually absorb it.

If you serve every member of your family a glass of milk at each meal you'll be sure both youngsters and older folk are getting vitamins and minerals they need.

Lyman Greyhounds Take On Highly Favored Hastings In Final Game Of Season

Dodgers Will Play 75 Spring Training Games In Florida

The Lyman Greyhounds wind up their first season as an independent tonight by taking to the road on a long trip to invade a highly favored Hastings. The Greyhounds will have to score an upset to win a singular varsity game for the season.

Head mentor Jim Payne said this morning that his team would be in top physical condition for this, the final game of the season. "We have been working out steadily, and we'll be hoping for another game like the one we played against Umalla. If we do that well, we'll be able to upset the Spudsters."

Umalla breezed through the season with 10 wins to give them a perfect season. They facked up 20 points against the Greyhounds from Longwood in the first half and then had to hang on for dear life to save the game. Umalla had been figured statistically to be more than 100 points better than Lyman.

"Of course," the conservative mentor warned, "an upset is an awfully hard thing to do against a winning team on their own home ground. We'll have to do our best playing of the season or come out on top."

Head mentor for the Hastings Spudsters is "Foots" Brumley, ex-Seminole High gridiron star. Game time is 8 p. m. tonight in Hastings.

Rumors Metts Will Play Pro Football Denied By Grid Star

Rumors circulating that Sanford's Buck Metts, ace halfback for F. S. U.'s bid to big-time football, had made commitment to the draft system of professional football were nullified this morning by the ex-Seminole High star.

Metts informed The Herald this morning that he has not signed any commitment as yet and was not sure of his future plans.

Other than the routine form questionnaire sent out by the pro football leagues to all the outstanding players of college ranks, Metts said, "Sorry to inform you (The Herald), but I haven't signed with anyone as of yet."

Junior High Football Nite Next Tuesday In Stadium

Newcombe Is Voted Most Valuable Player

NEW YORK (AP)—Pitcher Don Newcombe, whose 27 victories made him the biggest Brooklyn winner in 33 years, was voted today the Most Valuable Player in the National League for 1956 by the Baseball Writers Assn.

The big right-hander edged out his mound mate Sal Maglie by a scant 40 points. Seven players received first-place nominations by 25 voting writers. Five accumulated more than 100 points.

Not alone Hank Bauer voted out Robin Roberts and Joe Black in a three-way battle for the 1953 award has there been such a close race.

The 30-year-old Newcombe, who lost only seven games all season and but two of his last 20 decisions, topped the list with 223 points. His superb World Series performance—he was knocked out of the box in both starts—did not figure in the balloting.

Maglie, who won 13 games including a no-hitter while losing only five after joining the Dodgers in mid-May, was second with 183 points. Then came Milwaukee's Hank Aaron, 146, and Warren Spahn, 128. Junior Gilliam, another Dodger, rounded out the first five with 103 points.

In all, 32 players received recognition, 11 of them pitchers. Eight Dodgers were named, but Roy Campanella, who got his third MVP award last year, wasn't among them.

Only one rookie was honored in the voting. He is Frank Robinson the Redjags' slugging left fielder, who placed seventh with 78 points. Pee Wee Reese of the Dodgers was eighth; Stan Musial, the St. Louis Cardinals' all-time great, was ninth; and Duke Snider, also Brooklyn, was tenth.

Roy McMillan, Cincinnati shortstop, was sixth with 96 points.

Newcombe, who weighs 230 pounds 6-4, enjoyed by far his greatest season. In registering his third 20-game season, he racked up the most victories by a Dodger pitcher since Dazzy Vance won 28 in 1924. Don started 36 games and completed 18. He turned in five shutouts and finished fifth in earned runs with a 3.09 mark. His only two defeats after June 17 were a 1-0 loss to Johnny Antonelli and the Giants and a setback to Robin Roberts and the Phillies when Sandy Amoros dropped a fly ball.

Football weather has reached potential of a young mid. out and grasped Sanford with its chilly hand, and junior high football has come to fill the bill.

Tuesday night in Memorial Stadium will be Junior High Football Night as the Reds meet the Whites in a first appearance before the paying public, and the game will determine the City Champions.

Football thrills and all the goes with it will be witnessed by the fans as the Sanford Junior majorettes make their debut to the city.

Junior high football is the realization of a dream, made possible by the Seminole Chiefs Club.

Other cities have jumped on the junior high program earlier, and gradually the Sanford Seminole have been outgrown by their opposition. The Seminoles have hit on an unprecedented low this season, yet they continue to face teams that are reaping the harvest of early athletic training in rigorous competitive sports.

When junior high programs were first introduced to America, the educators, clamored with disapproval. But as time went on and the results of the program were felt, the educators reversed the decision. They found that this was an effective weapon against juvenile delinquency. They found that it built strong, healthy bodies, and helped realize the Football used to be a game of gore and brawn with intelligence an accessory not necessary to the sport. But today's football requires a sharp wit and an exploring mind. Deception and surprise take precedence over unadullated power.

Many men have given their valuable time, and some of them have gone in debt to put Sanford's academic-athletic program abreast of the times.

They have made possible the greatest stride for progression along this line in many years for Sanford, but it is entirely within the hands of the fans to make this program continued. People must be encouraged and debts must be paid.

Tickets are now on sale that can make this program a success. A beautiful nickel plated 38 Smith-Western revolver was donated to the cause by Shertez J. Luther Hobby. The gun will be given away to some lucky person holding the number that is drawn. Donation tickets of one dollar may be obtained from members of the Chiefs Club. Tickets are also now on sale for the game Tuesday night. Admission prices are 50 for adults, 25c for children and students.

Buy your tickets now and plan to attend the event. You'll be proud you did.

Avoiding Constipation A Matter Of Training

By HENRY H. BROWN, M.D.

REGULARITY is important in avoiding constipation, a fairly common ailment in this speeded-up world of today. Good functioning of the bowels, you see, actually is a matter of proper training and habit.

Specifics

While everyone doesn't have the same bowel habits, I advise that you set aside a specific time every day to answer nature's call. If you can't find time in the evening, get up a little earlier in the morning. And don't be tense. Try to relax.

The number how frequent are your movements, endeavor to establish regularly.

Regularity in eating is essential, also. If you eat all three meals at regular times each day your stomach will get to know when the food is coming. It might be well to eat about the same amount for each meal. As a rule, it isn't advisable to eat a big supper after consuming only a light breakfast and a light lunch.

To supply the necessary bulk, I suggest you eat plenty of fruits and vegetables, if you have no intestinal trouble. Eat at least two different vegetables at both lunch and supper.

Potatoes are good, too. But don't substitute them for vegetables; eat them in addition to the others.

Either fresh or cooked fruits are fine, your body needs the natural bulk of the fruit itself for regularity.

Although meat, eggs, fish and poultry are low in calories, you need them to maintain a properly balanced diet.

Fluids

Milk also is essential. Drink at least one pint a day.

Finally, remember that laxatives are artificial means of producing bowel movements. But always avoid any large doses of laxatives of any kind.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

M. B.: What causes nails to break easily?

Answer: There is a condition affecting the nails that runs in families. This causes the nails to be very fragile and easily broken. No treatment has been discovered for this condition.

Sometimes, arsenic, taken internally, is helpful, but this should be taken only under the direction of a physician.

Decorating the door of a Contemporary home calls for a more modern treatment.

Outlining the door with greens and lights follows the modern lines nicely. To do this tack a 12-inch strip of chicken wire around the door. Tuck evergreen boughs into the wire until it is completely covered and then pace rights in the greens.

Owners of Early American homes can call upon all the decorating themes of a truly old-fashioned Christmas for their holiday decor.

An oversized candy cane, a red felt stocking holiday little gift-wrapped boxes, a traditional wreath, tall make-believe candles flanking the doorway, a huge card saying "Merry Christmas" will add a gala Christmas touch to the doorway.

For every home, a spray of evergreen boughs fastened together with wire and trimmed with ornaments or pine cones and a huge red bow is an easy-to-make door decoration.

Nothing creates a bright Christmas mood outdoors like strings of lights hung in evergreen trees, outlining the front porch or festooned around windows and doorway.

Windows, too, should come in for their share of cheery Christmas decorations for they will provide two-way enjoyment—from the inside and outside!

If Nature doesn't provide a white Christmas, try making your own! It's easy with the new liquid plastic snow that can be sprayed on window panes to simulate snow piled in the corners. Or use six mills of cut-out Santas, angels, reindeer or other Christmas motifs and spray with the aerosol can of snow.

If your windows boast shutters, try decorating them with colorful Christmas cut-outs of angels and stars.

So this year plan your outdoor decorations early and add to the cheeriness of the holiday season

Collins' Second Inauguration To Be Simple, Streamline

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Gov. Collins' second inauguration Jan. 8 will have all the usual color and formalities but will be simpler and more streamlined.

Collins will be the first Florida governor to succeed himself.

The chairman of the inauguration committee, Jack W. Simmons, announced that one of the probable changes will be that Collins will take the oath of office during the morning rather than at the traditional high noon.

The Florida Supreme Court has ruled the incoming governor could take the oath any time from midnight on.

Simmons said details of inauguration plans still are to be worked out, but the probable sequence of events will be a prayer service at St. John's Episcopal Church, the inaugural ceremony, a reception at the Capitol, the parade and one large inaugural ball.

Changes from 1954 other than the time of taking the oath of office will be elimination of the evening reception at the Capitol and one large ball instead of several small ones.

During the afternoon, the new governor's mansion will be open for inspection in its unfinished state. It will not be furnished and occupied until March.

Counties, cities and resorts are being invited to enter floats in the inaugural parade, and Simmons said an effort would be made to display more of Florida products.

Joe Grogat, administrative assistant to the governor, said the trend toward simplicity was in line with wishes of Gov. Collins, but that numbers of people had expressed a desire to attend the ceremonies and all the basic features were being retained.

The fact that Collins will be the first Florida governor to succeed himself came about as a result of the death of Gov. Dan McCarty in office.

Collins was elected in 1954 to serve the last two years of McCarty's unexpired term, and the Supreme Court ruled that a part-time governor could succeed himself without violating the constitution against a four-year governor serving two successive terms.

Bob Fraill, 20-year-old Salem amateur, won the Oregon Golf Assn. medal play title for the second straight year with a 217 for 54 holes.

Skeletons Found Believed To Be Colonial Soldiers

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Archaeologists have found near Independence Hall the skeletons of four men believed to have been colonial soldiers in the American Revolution.

One will be placed in the National Memorial to the Unknown Soldiers of the American Revolution to be erected in the center of Washington Square near Independence Hall.

Pennsylvania archaeologist Duncan Campbell said the search for the skeletons was based on records which said mass burials had been made in shallow pits in the area.

Study Of Proposed Merit System Ends

JACKSONVILLE (AP) — A group of 60 state and county public health officials have completed a two-day study of a proposed merit system for 14 state agencies with a recommendation against its adoption for the State Board of Health.

The group, mostly doctors who are county health officers or department executives in the board, will submit its objections to the Merit System Council which meets in Tallahassee Nov. 30.

The State Welfare Board has approved the proposal.

While the system of job classifications and pay scales—worked out by the Public Administration Service of Chicago—offers an excellent general salary schedule, the health group said, "We must vigorously oppose those features which would be detrimental to future progress in public health."

Dr. Wilson T. Sowder, state health officer, who previously spoke out in opposition to the plan, told the study group:

"There must be something wrong with a plan which you have voted to reject although it provides, in almost every instance, a substantial salary increase for all of you."

Some objections are that the plan would take away incentive for additional training, discourage personnel from remaining in rural counties, base salaries on administrative responsibility rather than training and experience, and downgrade numerous managerial personnel, secretaries, stenographers, clerks and laboratory technicians.

The health group said the plan was devised by persons unfamiliar with the public health field.

Advisory Group Goes Back Into Session Dec. 10

OCALA — Reapportionment and the lieutenant governor plan will be the big issues when the Constitution Advisory Commission goes back into session here Dec. 10 to finish its job of writing a proposed new state Constitution.

Chairman Wallace E. Sturjis said the commission would be here about a week putting the finishing touches on the new state charter. It will submit to the 1957 Legislature.

Reapportionment was one of the jobs the group last undertook at its two-week sitting in October when it did most of the spadework.

After wrangling over the matter a day, the commission decided to shelve legislative reapportionment until the voters expressed themselves on the 87-senator amendment in the Nov. 6 general election.

The voters decided against the senator for every county proposal by a 5-1 vote and thereby handed the reapportionment job back to the Constitution drafters.

Gov. Collins said he wanted to have a look at what the commission came up with before making his next move on reapportionment. If the commission comes up with a "fair and equitable" plan, he can support, the governor said he would go along with it to the Legislature.

The 1955 Legislature met off and on over a year in an effort to redistrict the Senate under the present constitutional reapportionment formula but Collins and a Senate majority bloc never got together on an acceptable plan.

Commission members also will be allowed to reopen discussion on phases of the Constitution already tentatively approved.

Several members have served notice they would seek to reopen the lieutenant governor phase of the executive articles approved here in October.

As approved by the commission, the lieutenant governor would run on a ticket with the governor and would succeed to the governor's office in event of the death, resignation or removal of the chief executive.

Strong opposition was raised at the October meetings to the plan for the lieutenant governor running on the same ticket with the governor but two efforts to make him independent of the chief executive were beaten down.

Official Reveals Plans To Retire

TALLAHASSEE — Fred C. Elliot has announced that he will retire next year as chief engineer for trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund, a post he has held 27 years.

On Elliot's recommendation, trustees voted to name W. Turner Wallis of West Palm Beach as Elliot's assistant Jan. 1, a position that will pay him in lieu of salary until upon his retirement.

Wallis will receive $10,500 a year as an assistant. Wallis formerly was chief engineer for the Central and South Florida Flood Control District, and now is serving as engineer for the Land Use Control Commission.

Elliot, 78, advised the trustees that he plans to retire from his $12,600 a year job following the 1957 legislative session.

Passport to Happiness

CHAPTER 36

MATRON CAMERON spoke the telephone shuddered into her thoughts. She heard Matron Cameron say:

"Yes, Sister Alison is with me. She can take the call from here." She beckoned Val and handed the receiver over to her. "It's for you, Sister."

Val saw that her own hand was trembling as she took the receiver from the older woman's hand. Would it be Bruce — and how could she speak to him here in the matron's presence, especially after what she had just said? But the girl on the switchboard was speaking:

"It's a call from Kingston, Sister. The party will be right on the line." And then almost immediately she heard Dirk's voice:

"Is that you, darling? I just thought I'd phone to let you know there is no rope for yours truly."

"No rope?" she repeated stupidly.

She heard his easy laugh at the other end of the line and that laugh of his seemed suddenly to her like a breath of fresh air.

"They're not going to hang me, I thought you might be interested."

"Then—it's all right?"

"Of course it's all right." He was speaking seriously now. "Aunt May died of a heart attack as we both know. And he added when he heard her long drawn breath of relief, 'But you weren't really worried, darling?'"

"No. No, of course not," she said.

"Are you warning me, Matron?" Val asked quietly, but there was a glint of anger in her eyes.

"Only cautioning you, Sister," she said calmly. "I thought I should let you know from the start the rules of our hospital. I couldn't possibly deviate from the rules in any circumstances. You understand, Sister?"

Val wondered if Matron Cameron had heard anything about the strangely involved emotional relationship between Bruce and herself.

Scientists Are Tackling Canada's Weather Problem

OTTAWA — Development and defense of Canada's frigid North is being worked out by a group of Canadian scientist tackling problems created by subzero temperatures.

Their work ranges from the development of civilian and military equipment able to operate in arctic and subarctic regions to the design of buildings and clothing necessary to enable men to live and work in extremely low temperatures.

Most of the research is centered in three divisions here of the National Research Council—mechanical engineering, biology and building research. Experiments already have solved many problems.

One recent development is a special oil which can be used to lubricate machinery at temperatures as low as 65 degrees below zero.

The biology division is conducting an extensive research program to find a method to permit commercial production of frozen concentrated milk to be marketed like frozen soups.

This division has also discovered why some frozen turkeys and other fowl are so tough. Extensive tests show that the meat of fowl will be tender only if the bird is not frozen until it has been dead 24 hours.

The mechanical engineering division operates two cold rooms in which the temperatures can be dropped to 70 degrees below zero. Work now is in progress on methods to enable ground radar installations in the arctic to shed ice. Experiments are also being made on de-icing equipment for aircraft and helicopters and to prevent jet engines from accumulating ice.

Land vehicles are being tested to see how they act under arctic conditions. This includes the development of new brake fluids, greases and fuel systems.

NEW JERSEY'S GOVERNOR Robert B. Meyner, 48, and his fiancée Helen Day Stevenson, 38, are shown as they attended the Flamingo Ball in New York City. The gala event was for the benefit of the Soldiers', Sailors' and Airmen's Club. The Governor and Miss Stevenson plan to get married in January, 1957. The bride-to-be is a cousin of Adlai E. Stevenson, defeated Presidential nominee.

State Institutional Buildings Sought

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Almost 13 million dollars worth of new state institutional buildings are among the new budget requests for the next two years received by the budget director.

The largest amount, $2 million dollars, was asked for the North-east Florida Mental Hospital at Macclenny to house 1,250 patients.

The state hospital at Chattahoochee asked $2,362,313 and the branch at Arcadia $2,391,500. Most of the Chattahoochee appropriation would go for a new power generator; $1,370,000 of the Arcadia capital outlay funds would go for new medical and surgical buildings.

The Florida Farm Colony requested $2,432,503, a big part of which would go for mentally retarded persons in Lee County. The 1956 special session of the Legislature appropriated $200,000 in planning funds for the institution.

The Department of Public Safety requested $13,331,028, an increase would go to pay salaries and expenses of 311 persons added to the department payroll by the 1955 regular session and 1956 special session in the expanded program for highway safety.

The department's personnel now totals 878, an increase of 54.7 per cent the past two years.

Some of the extra money requested would go to operate 18 new drivers license examining offices.

The auditing department asked $1,461,264, an increase of $378,226; and the Supreme Court requested $673,580, up $69,221. No increase in the current $13,000 a year salaries for Supreme Court justices was proposed.

Fellowship Awarded

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Public Health Service yesterday awarded a five-year fellowship to Melvin Fried to study biochemistry at the University of Florida.

The fellowship is one of 44 designed to increase manpower for research in the basic medical sciences. Each recipient will get a salary not to exceed $10,000 yearly, plus up to $2,000 to defray part of the expenses of his research.

Group to Draft Recommendations

ST. AUGUSTINE (AP)—Directors of the Florida Peace Officers Assn. meet here Monday to draft recommendations for presentation to the Legislative Council's Committee on Traffic Safety. Lt. C.W. Hancock of the Florida Highway Patrol, association president, said a date also would be set for next year's convention in Key West.

Corporation Nears End of Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—Houston Texas Gas & Oil Corp., seeking authority to join in building a natural gas pipeline to Florida, today nears the end of its case before a Federal Power Commission FPC examiner.

Cross examination of Houston witnesses is scheduled to be completed by Friday. After that intervenors who oppose the line will be given an opportunity to present witnesses.

So far the intervenors, the majority of whom are fuel oil dealers have presented no witnesses.

J. Wilson Finally Makes Movies

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Julie Wilson, her remarkable figure encased in a $2,000 beaded gown, has finally made it to the movies.

The gorgeous chanteuse is filming her first Hollywood picture, "This Could Be the Night."

It's a wonder she hasn't made it before now. For over a decade, her beauty and sultry style have made her a hit on the night club circuit. But the movies strangely passed her by.

"I had just about given up hope," she remarked. "I figured maybe I wasn't right for movies."

What a silly notion. She can sing and she has a lovely face plus a figure that would have been likened to an hourglass in another era. "I'm just under 5 feet 7 and generally weigh 128 pounds," she explained. "People seem to like me this way — sort of lilled out. They think it makes me more appealing."

The padded look comes naturally to her, since she's a corn-fed gal from Omaha. She got her first professional chance at 16 — a role in "Knickerbocker Holiday." Then she took off in a touring company of Earl Carroll's Vanities.

She made a stab at modeling, applying for work with John Powers. "But when they look some pictures of me, I took one look at my hips and decided modeling wasn't for me," she said.

Next came the chorus at the Copacabana. She liked to recall that Paul Douglas was appearing there as straight man for Bert Wheeler. She and Douglas are appearing together in "This Could Be the Night."

Julie made a hit as a saloon singer and has been a big draw in clubs from here to London. To further her dramatic career, she has been a replacement for Joan Diener in "Kismet" and Janis Paige in "Pajama Game" on Broadway. These roles helped bring her film debut.

Julie is wearing her own wardrobe in the picture, and what a wardrobe it is! Tanka that black gown she was slipped into. It has thousands of tiny beads sewn on by hand at a cost of two goes. She has five of the beaded jobs and figures they're worth it.

"This kind of gown has become a trademark with me," she said. "When I come out on a night club floor, the women appreciate what this gown is."

A. Wilson Hopes To Come Home From Korea Soon

URANIA, La. (AP)—Aaron Wilson, who decided not to come home after his capture in Korea nearly six years ago, now hopes to be back by Christmas.

Mrs. Henry Wilson said her 24-year-old son had written that he had applied for permission to come back and was being aided by the Chinese Red Cross.

"I'll be with you all for Christmas," the onetime corporal with the 7th Infantry Division said in his first letter home in eight months.

Wilson was captured Nov. 28, 1950, near the Changjin Reservoir. He refused repatriation after the war ended.

He gave no reason for coming home. Previous letters indicated he was homesick.

'See It Now' Study Of Atomic Navy

NEW YORK (AP)—Just one week after the Air Force had an hour on CBS-TV to demonstrate some of its current activities and techniques along came the Navy with an equivalent hour on the same network.

Edward R. Murrow's "See It Now" study of the new atomic Navy was the most informative, stimulating television programming to stem from the armed services in many a moon.

A week previously the Air Force agreed to cast in fictional form the activities of the Strategic Air Command for the excellent new CBS-TV series, "Air Power."

The fiction was that this country actually was under enemy attack, and within this dramatic framework the activities of the Air Force in such an eventuality were unfolded. Under fictional strain the program misfired.

But "See It Now" told the story of the new nuclear-powered Navy in straight documentary form with happy results. It was excellent reporting, with exciting filmed sequences of such scenes as the launching of a radar-controlled rocket missile from the deck of a submarine and the takeoffs and landings of jet fighters from the flight deck of the carrier Saratoga.

Murrow's reputation as a reporter and interpreter of the contemporary world rests not, however, on a facile ability to put together many things and make them seem a whole. Rather, he infuses any program with an idea, a "philosophy." Thus the aptly titled "Revolution in the Navy" on Sunday did not take the breathless turn of "Look, fellows, we have an atomic navy, isn't it peachy?"

Excellent interviews between Murrow and U. S. Chief of Naval Operations Adm. Arleigh Burke and Rear Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, sometimes called the father of our atomic navy, resulted in a lucid picture of some of the political and social, as well as the strategic, implications of nuclear weapons.

The need for $300 to save an experimental TB hospital in Delaware sparked the first American Christmas Seal Sale in 1907.

BABY SITTING has finally caught up with the electronic age. Here, Terry Thomas, 15 months old, of New York, registers his approval as he tries out the latest innovation in electronic toys—a rocking duck with a built-in eyeing message motor which massages his back. Maybe this will help alleviate the baby-sitting problem at home. (International)

Dog Of Year Has Plastic Patch On Heart

BOSTON (AP)—Dog of the Year—selected by the National Society of Medical Research—is a black and white mongrel with a plastic patch on his heart.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, President Eisenhower's heart consultant, placed a silver collar on the 44-pound mutt, named Airplane, at the Children's Medical Center.

He was aided by 4-year-old Joanne McLaughlin, who only a week ago underwent a heart operation made possible by surgical research on Airplane's heart.

A defect was artificially created in Airplane's heart two years ago and then corrected surgically with a plastic patch.

The new operation technique developed by Dr. Robert E. Gross, professor of surgery at Harvard Medical School, and a Harvard Medical School student, Judah Folkman of Cincinnati.

The dog's heart and that of young Joanne were both declared to be in good shape now.

REAR ADMIRAL George Swick of Rockford, Ill., and Washington, D.C., has landed a plane at the South Pole—the first person ever to accomplish the feat. Many explorers have flown over the Pole, but Swick, leader of the U.S. expedition taking part in the International Geophysical Year program to probe the mysteries of the Antarctic, was the first man to have landed there.

FORD TRUCKS COST LESS

Most loadspace for your money! New Ford 8-ft. pickup box on 118-in. wheelbase gives up to 19 cu. ft. more capacity than any other 1/2-tonner! Regular 6 1/2-ft. box on 110-in. wheelbase offers full 45-cu. ft. capacity. Only Ford pickups offer the economy of Ford-pioneered Short Stroke design in your choice of Six or V-8 engine!

...less to own...less to run...last longer, too!

You save in every way with Ford trucks. First cost is low, operating costs are low, resale value is high, and a 10-million truck study proves Ford trucks last longer!

And you get more for your money with a Ford. For example, only Ford gives you modern Short Stroke power in every truck, every engine—V-8 or Six. And no one else can match Ford's five billion miles of Short Stroke engine experience. You get more comfort with a Driverized Cab, more safety with Ford's Lifeguard steering wheel and double-grip door latch.

From pickups to Big Jobs, for trucks that cost less, give you more for your money—see your Ford Dealer!

Christian Church Schedules Hymn Service Sunday

A Chas. Wesley Hymn Service is scheduled at the First Christian Church, 7:30 p. m. Sunday, in place of regular evening worship. The public is invited.

Instead of a sermon, a talk on "The Contribution of Chas. Wesley to Our Hymns" will be given by Pastor Perry L. Stone. Hymns by Wesley will be used exclusively, and interpretative comments will be made on the following: "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing," "I Know That My Redeemer Lives," "Love Divine, All Loves Excelling," "A Charge to Keep I Have," and "Christ the Lord Is Risen Today."

"In the spiritual awakening, led by Chas. Wesley, which saved 18th century England from moral decay, the hymns of John's brother Charles were a mighty force," Mr. Stone said today. "He wrote over 6,000 of them, in 10 current U. S. and Canadian denominational hymnals there are 78 of Chas. Wesley's hymns, the largest number of any single hymn-writer."

"In nothing are our churches closer together than in their hymn-singing," Mr. Stone added. "In this matter we have no denominational prejudice, but ask only that the writer express our religious feelings in a lyrical manner."

Ladies Service Circle Planning Summer Bazaar
The ALTAMONTE SPRINGS—The Ladies Service Circle of the Altamonte Chapel is making plans for a pot roast supper and bazaar to be held in the Community House Thursday Nov. 29 from 5:30 to 7 p. m.

Tickets are now on sale and may be purchased from any member of the Circle, or from its president, Mrs. Clifford Sands, Miss Anne Cline or Mrs. Harold K. Seaman, supper committee. Reservations must be made by Tuesday, Nov. 27. Proceeds from the supper will be used towards furnishing the new educational building of the Chapel.

Many hand-made articles will be on sale, also cookies and candy.

Bake Sale Saturday
ALTAMONTE SPRINGS—American Legion Auxiliary Old Glory Unit 183 will hold a bake sale in front of the Red and White Super Market on Hwy. 436 Saturday beginning at 9 a. m. Mrs. Harold Mayo is in charge.

The first American Christmas Seal Sale in 1957 resulted from an appeal to the Delaware Red Cross to save an experimental tuberculosis hospital. Today the Christmas Seal Sale supports TB prevention and control activities of 3,000 affiliated tuberculosis associations throughout the United States.

Support and encouragement by the American Red Cross carried the Christmas Seal Sale through its early years of efforts to raise funds to fight TB. Today the Christmas Seal Sale is conducted by 3,000 voluntary associations affiliated with the National Tuberculosis Association.

Man Loses Control Of Truck On Sharp Curve; 2 Injured

Two men were injured in a night wreck involving only one car which went out of control on a sharp curve near Lake Golden on Crippin Road.

A 1954 Ford pickup truck, owned and driven by Oscar Lee Bass, 28, of 625 Barila, Sanford turned over when it skidded at the curve.

The driver received bad lacerations and possible fractures of the face and head and possible fractured ribs.

An occupant of the truck accompanying Bass, Louis Bertles attached to the Sanford Air Station received minor lacerations of the face and shock. He was treated at the Naval Air Station dispensary and discharged.

Florida Highway Patrol Trooper T. Mark Mack investigated. He charged Bass with reckless driving.

Methodists Will Hear Tenor Sunday

Dick Aiken, well-known dramatic tenor, will be the guest soloist at the Sunday evening worship service at the First Methodist Church.

The popular vocalist will sing Herbert Johnson's "Face to Face". The service which is broadcast over WTRR starting at 7:30 o'clock is preceded by a 15 minute program of organ music played by Mrs. Albert Hickson.

4-YEAR-OLD DROWNS
SARASOTA (AP)—A Thanksgiving water accident cost the life of a 4-year-old boy who also was born on Thanksgiving.

Joe Palmer, son of Mrs. Elsie Palmer of Clyde, N. C., fell into a swimming pool and drowned while the Palmers were visiting in and Mrs. Clifton Nicholson.

The first Christmas Seals to fight tuberculosis were sold in Denmark in 1904.

Testimonies Are Heard At Christian Scientist Church

Testimonies of gratitude for blessings brought by a spiritual understanding of God and man were a feature of the Thanksgiving service held at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Sanford, on Thanksgiving morning.

Testimonies included mention of healing of physical diseases through prayer and the understanding of God as taught in Christian Science. A period devoted to voluntary statements of gratitude by members of the congregation is always included in the Thanksgiving Day services in Christian Science churches.

"Thanksgiving" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon read from the desk. Especially prepared for the day, it consisted of selections from the Bible and from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

"Laudate Dominum," by C. Nordman, was the organ prelude. The service was opened by the congregation singing Hymn No. 73 in the Christian Science Hymnal.

Robert C. Locker, the First Reader, then read the Thanksgiving Day Proclamation by the President of the United States, Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon was the Golden Text from Psalms (69:30): "I will praise the name of God with a song, and will magnify him with thanksgiving."

Scriptural passages included the following from James (1:17): "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning." Among the correlative passages read from Science and Health was the following (3:22): "Are we really grateful for the good already received? Then we shall avail ourselves of the blessings we have, and thus be fitted to receive more. Gratitude is much more than a verbal expression of thanks. Action expresses more gratitude than speech."

The postlude was "Festive Postlude," by C. Tours.

Spotlight On Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ask any reporter who is the most delightful person to interview in Hollywood and the chances are he'll answer David Niven.

Year in and year out, Niven comes up with bright and amusing dialogue. This contrasts with some stars who always appear morose and distant.

How does Niven manage to remain gay and cheerful? I put the question to him. His reply: "I guess it's the constant realization of what a lucky character I really am. I get paid very nicely for the kind of work I love. I get free trips all over the world. And I work with some of the nicest people I know—not just fellow actors, but the movie crews as well."

"This sort of realization doesn't come overnight. Before the war, I could have been a real worrier. But 6½ years in the war changed all that. When you're sitting in a trench with mortar shells flying all around you, some things seem pretty small. You realize how lucky you are just to get out of there alive."

If Niven seems even jollier than usual these days, it's not without reason. His career is bigger than ever. He's the lead in "Around the World in 80 Days," a great new hit. He just returned from abroad, where he made "The Little Hut" with Ava Gardner and Stewart Granger. And now he's with Dan Dailey and Ginger Rogers in "Oh Men, Oh Women."

Half a century ago most people believed that nothing could be done about tuberculosis. The first Christmas Seal Sale in 1907 carried a message of hope that TB could be prevented and cured.

Corporation Plans To Build Citrus Processing Plant

Foalis Corp. has disclosed plans for building a citrus processing plant near here at an estimated cost of five million dollars. Plans came to light when Kraft officials asked the Lakeland City Commission for official action on a tentative agreement to build a water and power system at the plant. The commission went on record that it would do so. William H. Wright, personnel manager and purchasing agent for Kraft, said the plant would produce citrus concentrate, fruit salad and cattle feed as a citrus by-product. He said the plant would cost about five million dollars and would mean jobs for 3,000 persons. The plant will be located in a 256-acre site recently acquired by the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad for industrial development four miles west of Lakeland. Kraft has an option on about 35 acres of that site and is the first company to announce plans for building.

TALKS RESUME

MIAMI (AP)—Talks aimed at averting a machinists' strike Friday and the subsequent shutdown of operations for Eastern Air Lines resumed today before the National Mediation Board in Washington. Eastern has offered pay raises ranging from 13 to 21 cents an hour. The union had asked about 50 cents for mechanics who now make $2.01 to 2.33. Eastern said the pay increase offer is about equal to that negotiated recently by United Airlines and Trans-world Airlines.

COMMISSION TO CONVENE

ORLANDO (AP)—The Florida Water Resources Commission will meet here Tuesday to make recommendations on the state's water problems based on information received at a recent series of public hearings. Byron E. Herlong of Leesburg, chairman, said they will be submitted to the commission's Water Law Committee and the attorney general's office for possible enactment into law by the Legislature.

FRUIT FLY REGULATIONS

LAKE ALFRED (AP)—Florida residents and tourists who ship citrus to friends or relatives out of state will be governed by fruit fly regulations this year, the State Plant Board said today. This means that every container of citrus grown in regulated area must have a certificate that it is fly free or has been fumigated. Most packing-house or gift fruit dealers handle certified fruit.

CITRUS GROWER DIES

ASHVILLE, N. C. (AP)—Earl L. Haskins, 72-year-old Winter Haven Fla., citrus grower, died of a heart attack here yesterday. He and his wife were summer residents here. Mrs. Haskins had broken her leg while here in July and had returned here for medical treatment. Haskins was visiting his wife at the hospital when he suffered the heart attack. The body will be sent to Winter Haven today.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A GANG OF ROBBERS, out to make a killing, broke into a home for old actors by mistake. The retired (supposedly decrepit) thespians put up such a battle, the robbers were happy to make their escape. Bruised and bloody, they reformed tanks at the gang hangout.

"It ain't too bad," growled one. "We got twenty-two dollars out of 'em." The leader silenced him with a scowl and snarled. "I told you lugs to steer clear of actors. We had twenty-four bucks, when we broke in!"

Jerry Lewis bought a large melancholy looking dog of an unidentifiable breed recently, but complained shortly thereafter he definitely had been gyped. "They told me he was a lap dog," he grumbled. "Fine lap dog! Every time I try to sit on his lap, he bites me."

WWI Veteran Burns In One-Room Dwelling

Cause Of Fire Unknown

A 69-year-old World War I veteran burned to death in his one-room frame home early Saturday night.

Geer Blaine Chubb, who lived alone, died when his home burned to the ground in a fire of undetermined origin.

Mrs. C. N. Woodrum, whose home is nearby, saw the flames as they erupted from the small building, but she nor her husband were able to reach the scene in time to see if Chubb was in his flaming dwelling.

Located on Red Bug Road, north of Winter Park near the turkey farm, fire apparatus was too far to call them to the scene of the blaze.

Woodrum said "When we saw the fire I thought we heard explosions. When we came over the house was melting down."

The body of Chubb was found as if he had been laying on the floor in front of the heater and gas cooking stove. His bed was on the opposite side of the one-room home covered with galvanized iron siding.

"Things were popping in there when I kicked the door down," Woodrum said, "but a wall of flame came right out on me."

Woodrum explained to Seminole County Deputy Sheriffs and Coroner Theo Aulin that he wasn't sure Chubb was even in his home until he had talked with one of his nephews.

Deputy Sheriffs Morgan McClelland and Charlie Beck were at the scene of the fire which was reported to have been first seen about 8 o'clock Saturday night. The small home was reduced to mere ashes by 7:30.

The gasoline tank of the small cooking stove had at least five gallons of gas in it. Deputy Sheriff McClelland said he was told a brother of the dead man was at the scene. Lawrence Chubb, 501 Magnolia Ave., Winter Park, a mail carrier, could not explain how the fire might have started. He said he had been at his brother's home about 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

"He served 3 years and 8 months in the Army during World War I and was overseas," the brother said Saturday night. He was also a member of the American Legion. Chubb was a former railroad man.

Other survivors include another brother, L. M. Chubb, Winter Park and a sister, Mrs. K. C. Noel of Salem, Mass.

The remains were taken to Cov. Parker Funeral Home in Winter Park.

Ankara Charges Egypt Instigating Trouble

ANKARA, Turkey, (AP)—Ankara radio charges Egypt has been instigating large-scale trouble in other Arab nations, with Communist help.

The broadcast also bitterly attacked Syria for accepting Soviet weapons, imposing a state of siege and "making troop concentrations along the Lebanese border."

The Turkish radio commentator said investigation showed that Egyptian agents had played a part in recent disturbances in Lebanon.

There have been bombing attacks in recent weeks on French and British buildings in the small Arab republic. Lebanese army and police units have made sweeping arrests.

A dispatch Friday from Beirut, where there is strict censorship, said dynamite, arms and maps containing certain instructions were found in an automobile. The dispatch, which had been drastically censored, indicated the automobile belonged to a foreign diplomat.

Ankara radio said Lebanese authorities discovered a case containing bombs and other explosives in a car belonging to a member of the Egyptian Embassy staff. It said they also seized an arms cache in the home of the car's chauffeur.

The number of bands appearing in the gigantic Christmas Parade Wednesday, said Tommy McDonald, chairman of the Jaycee Christmas Parade Committee, has increased to 11.

Bands from Oviedo High and Lyman High Schools will appear as individual units, said McDonald.

Already slated for the mile-and-a-half long parade which will step off promptly at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon are bands from Stetson University featuring their colorful drum major and majorettes, a marching unit and band from Florida Military Academy at DeLand, and Central Florida's most colorful high school bands.

Winter Park High School band will be in Sanford for the afternoon parade "with bells on". In addition, bands from Leesburg High School, DeLand High School, Boone High School of Orlando, Seminole High School Band, Junior High-Pinecrest Band and Crooms Academy will take their places along the route for their part in entertaining both children and grownups.

Floats are now being decorated in preparation for one of the most colorful presentations of the theme of this year's parade—"Keep Christmas with Christ." There will be twenty of the small floats manned by students from schools throughout Seminole County.

And, as Chairman McDonald said yesterday, there will be 15 or 20 floats in the parade sponsored by local businesses, churches, and civic organizations.

"We expect the largest crowd in the history of Sanford Christmas Parades," McDonald said as he described the activities of his committee up to the present time.

H. H. Coleman's Marriage Told

H. H. Coleman of Sanford and Mrs. Blanche C. Klingensmith of Titusville were married Saturday, Nov. 24 in Camden County, Ga.

The couple flew to New York City for a 10-day honeymoon and will be at home, 161 Mellenville Ave. after Dec. 4.

Coleman is the Division Manager for the Florida Power and Light Co.

Announcement of the marriage was made this morning.

ColC Membership Clean-up Drive Starts This Week

The final clean-up drive for Seminole County Chamber of Commerce memberships will start this week, Manager John Krider said this morning.

"We're making up a new list for this last phase of the 1958-57 membership campaign," Krider said.

New and renewed memberships are coming in slowly, the Chamber of Commerce Manager explained, "but not as fast as we would like for them to come in."

The goal for this year's membership drive was set at $11,000 and 350 members and "We hope to have both the money and the members before the drive comes to a close."

This year's efforts to bring the membership of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce to an all-time high were divided into three phases. The first phase of the campaign was directed by letters to both old and prospective members urging an early return of applications and dues. The second phase of the campaign was headed by Membership Drive Chairman Don Bales who appointed six captains and additional helpers to actively solicit memberships.

"This is the most important year in the history of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce," Krider told members of the teams at the kick-off breakfast. "We have a number of important projects ahead of us during the coming year and we need the support of every business and professional person in Seminole County," he said.

Chiefs Club Meets Thursday, 8 p. m.

This week's meeting of the Seminole Chiefs Club will be held Thursday night, 8 p. m. at Seminole High School, according to John Schirard, president of the local group.

Schirard said this morning that the meeting, originally slated for Tuesday night, is being deferred due to the Junior High School football game which will be played at Sanford Memorial Baseball stadium.

REHEARSING FOR the Sandaloo Springs fashion show to be presented at 5 p. m. Saturday are (left to right) Miss Sandy Crawford, Winter Park; Miss Jer Fibrey, Sanford; Miss Maggie Lawson, Enterprise; Miss Patsy Fillyaw and Mrs. John H. Graham, both of Orlando. In the foreground is Mrs. Robert Scott Stone of Sanford, who will direct the show. The girls are students of the Sandaloo Springs Charm College.

Jaycees To Again Sponsor Christmas Lighting Contest

A Christmas lighting contest, divided this year into four divisions, will be sponsored again by the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce, according to John Alexander, chairman of the Jaycee contest committee.

Completion will include both residential and commercial Christmas lighting, Alexander said as he made his announcement today, 7:30 and 9:30 p. m. nightly for the duration of the contest to allow judges ample time to check.

Judging will take place between all entries carefully. The contest will end at midnight, Dec. 22.

The committee, said Alexander, urges those who plan to enter the contest to get their entry blanks submitted as early as possible, but to complete decorations before making the entry.

A committee of judges will be announced in a few days, he said.

First prize for commercial Christmas lighting will be the Florida Power and Light Company's "Traveling Trophy" awarded annually to the commercial establishment displaying the best arrangement of Christmas lights.

There are four divisions in the residential lighting contest. Each division first place winner will receive a $25 U. S. Savings Bond. Each division's second place winner will receive 10 silver dollars.

City To Seek Federal Aid For Sewage Works

Municipal and county officials in over 180 Florida cities were notified today that they must have their applications for federal aid in constructing sewage treatment works in the Bureau of Sanitary Engineering of the Florida State Board of Health by Jan. 15, 1959 in order to make the first priority list.

City Manager Warren E. Knowles said "The Florida Municipal League first notified the city about the grant available."

"Every effort is being made to get information for the report and forward it before the deadline," said Knowles.

"We have already requested the application," he said, "but we must also have the fiscal agents report in order to complete it."

In his letter to city officials, David B. Lee, Director of the Bureau of Sanitary Engineering, advised that the Federal Water Pollution Act of 1956, now known as Public Law 629, carries with it grants to localities to pay part of the cost of constructing sewage treatment works.

The Board of Sanitary Engineering advised of the possibility of receiving a grant when a representative of the State Board of Health division appeared before that body relative to the construction of the local sewage treatment plant.

Florida has been allotted $910, 775 for the fiscal year 1957. The amount to any municipality or political subdivision will be 30 per cent of the cost of treatment works or $250,000, whichever is the less.

"Each of you recognize that the amount allocated to the state of Florida will not go far in the construction of much needed sewage treatment works throughout the State," points out Mr. Lee.

In his letter, Lee reminds that "It was the intent of Congress in the passage of this bill that this Federal grant-in-aid be an incentive to those communities who were really financially unable to build sewage treatment works under their present financial program."

He urges that as community with sufficient resources to construct a needed sewage treatment project without Federal aid postpone that construction simply because there is a prospect of a possible Federal grant.

In answer to requests already received, 35 Florida communities have already been sent application forms, together with instructions for completing same.

The State Board of Health is required by law to set necessary priorities. Consequently the date of January 15, 1959 was selected as the cut-off date for the first priority list to be submitted to the U. S. Public Health Service. Information will be furnished later as to the method by which priorities will be determined.

Four Are Injured

5 Wrecks Reported Over Weekend

Five automobile accidents over the weekend in scattered sections of the county claimed four injured and property damage set at $1650.

The first of the accidents occurred Saturday night at 7:15 when a Chevrolet pickup truck attempting a left turn at the Sanford Farmers Auction Market was hit by a Buick sedan trying to pass.

Neither of the drivers were injured and damage to each vehicle was estimated at $50.

Trooper T. Mark Mack, investigating officer said that Carl Albert Johnson of 301 Holly Ave. was driver of the Sanford Gas Co. truck. Richard E. Duvall, Jacksonville, was reported at the driver of the sedan.

Mrs. Durwood Day of Orlando was taken to an Orlando hospital with a possible fractured leg following an accident at the Patio, 10 miles south of Sanford on 17-92, about 2:30 a.m. Sunday.

FHP Trooper Mack said that Durwood Day and his wife Elaine came out of the patio with a group and was standing beside a car when another car driven by Joseph H. Brown of Longwood, backing out of a parking place, plowed Mrs. Day between the two cars.

Trooper Mack, assisted at the scene by Deputy Sheriff Morgan McClelland, said that the investigation of the accident is not yet complete.

Another accident not yet complete occurred at 2:30 a.m. Sunday on the first curve north of the center of Longwood.

Trooper Mack said that Donald M. French of Winter Park claimed a Cadillac sedan smashed into the rear of his Ford coach.

The story told in the FHP trooper was "French and his girl friend, not named, and the driver of the Cadillac, also not named, were at a liquor store 10 miles south of Sanford when the driver of the Cadillac left with his girl friend. French took off after the car overtaking it in Longwood where the Cadillac smashed into the rear of his car. Taking off again, the two cars going into a curve at a high rate of speed went out of control crashing into the yard of Harold Jackson doing damage estimated at $50 to shrubbery. The driver of the Cadillac took off through an orange grove and has not yet been apprehended.

The investigation is not complete, said the Trooper.

A truck, apparently out of control, sideswiped an automobile at 6:15 last night on State Road

436 2 miles west of Altamonte Springs.

The truck, driven by James Gordon Frazier, 31, of Rt. 2, Marietta, was traveling west when it smashed into a passenger car driven by Robert Jackson North, 56, a ferry employee of Casselberry. North was accompanied by his wife. Both received minor injuries and were taken to an Apopka doctor's office for treatment.

Witnesses, according to Trooper T. Mark Mack, stated "they were afraid to pass the truck." Frazier was charged with driving while intoxicated.

The truck, with a badly damaged left front wheel, fender and bumper crashed into sand along the left shoulder of the highway. The car traveling approximately 250 feet before coming to a stop about 25 feet off of the paved road.

Deputy Sheriff James Singletary assisted at the scene.

Early this morning, two cars met head-on 7 miles south of Sanford on 17-92 and were completely demolished.

M. L. Everhart, attached to the Sanford NAS dispensary suffering with lacerations of the face and knees. His car, property of another Navy man was a 1919 Nash sedan. Everhart allegedly went to sleep at the wheel and lost control of his car.

Anthony J. Kudlac, 49, of DeBary was thrown clear of his car to escape uninjured. He was driving a 1933 Chevrolet sedan.

Both cars came to a stop off the shoulders of the highway on opposite sides. Everhart was traveling south, Kudlac was headed north.

Deputy Sheriff A. E. Evans investigating the crash said that Everhart will be charged with driving on the wrong side of the road.
