'Adult Mystery' Television Series To Start Soon

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Two new "adult mystery" tele-series hit the air this fall to compete with the horde of "adult Westerns" for action, gunplay and melodrama.

The difference between an adult mystery and any other kind of whodunit is that the hero thinks the heavy instead of shooting him down.

The newcomers are "Peter Gunn" (NBC) and "77 Sunset Strip" (ABC).

A brace of handsome, elegantly tailored actors play the lead roles with intellectual diadems for rough stuff. Elyse Zimbalist of "Sunset Strip" and Craig Stevens of "Gunn" both feel the public will welcome a change from the carnage of horse operas.

"I play a character named Stuart Bailey, a sophisticated guy who uses his gun only when he can't outsmart the crooks," Zimbalist said.

"Peter Gunn is a well-educated man who behaves like a Harvard graduate," says Stevens. "He's a trouble shooter who hires out his services, mostly on the side of the law."

Both frequent strikers.

The shows have other similarities. Both heroes have out in his line and are smooth operators with the ladies.

Zimbalist and Stevens agree their characters do not resemble the traditional tough-talking, hard-drinking private eyes of the past.

"We've completely avoided cliches," Stevens said. "There are no dumb cops who blunder around while I clear up a murder. Nat-

Cancer Researcher Says Smoking 'Definite Cause'

MIAMI — (UPI) — A prominent cancer researcher said Sunday that excessive cigarette smoking has been "conclusively" proven to produce lung cancer.

Dr. E. V. Cowdry of St. Louis, Mo., held the meeting of the Pan American Cancer Cytol. Society said he based his opinion on two main factors:

—That statistics show cancer of the lung is more frequent in persons who are heavy smokers.

—That scientists have isolated carcinogenic substances in cigarette smoke that will produce cancer in experimental animals.

Cowdry, head of the Weir Cancer Research Institute at Washington University, St. Louis, said he believed the smoke from cigarettes was the biggest danger, rather than the actual ingredients

Doctor Recognized With 'Day' Sunday

More than 700 Central Florida residents witnessed ceremonies honoring Dr. George H. Starke Sunday afternoon at Crooms High School. The Negro doctor was recognized for his 31 years service to the community.

Flowers and telegrams from admirers and patients filled the auditorium. One telegram was received from the very first baby delivered by the Sanford physician.

News Briefs

Miami Has Fire
MIAMI (UPI)—A fire, fed by highly combustible paint thinner, destroyed four buildings Sunday night, interrupted electrical service to nearby homes and held up a freight train before the blaze was brought under control. Two firemen were overcome by smoke.

Williams Fined $50
CHICAGO (UPI)—Ted Williams, star Boston Red Sox outfielder, was fined $50 by American League President Will Harridge today for throwing his bat during Sunday's game with Washington.

Williams threw the bat after he was called out on strikes and it struck a woman near the Boston dugout, injuring her slightly.

U. S. Expecting Another Charge By Russia; Ike Planning Reply

Reds Attempting Propaganda Gain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — United States officials today predicted a new blast of Russian propaganda trying to identify this country with war mongering in the Far East. President Eisenhower was reported preparing a "sharp" answer to the latest Russian charges.

The Soviets were expected to attempt to capitalize on President Eisenhower's rebuff to Soviet Premier Khrushchev by making it appear America is preventing peace in the Far East.

Diplomatic observers would not speculate on what they believed would be the official Soviet reaction to Eisenhower's rejection of the Soviet premier's note.

Red Note Abuse
But they were certain it would be preceded by an all-out propaganda attack charging the United States with deliberately preventing any Far Eastern settlement. They noted the official Soviet news agency Tass already had claimed the United States was unwilling "to listen to the voice of reason."

The Tass dispatch, they said, undoubtedly would be followed by similar propaganda blasts in the Russian newspapers and over Radio Moscow. This probably would go on for a day or two before the Soviet government took any "official" action, these observers added.

The Soviet premier warned against U.S. "interference" in the Formosa Strait situation in his note to Eisenhower. The President flatly refused to accept the note and the White House branded it "abusive," "intemperate," "treacherous," "false accusations" and "containing 'inadmissible threats.'"

Prepare Policy Statement
Tass called Eisenhower's action "a new example of how little these ruling circles consider the demand of the peoples to put an end to the policy of restoring of armament, which is bringing the world to the brink of war, and to enter on the path of a peaceful settlement of unsolved international questions."

Protests Expected On Road's Paving

A large delegation from the south end of Seminole County is expected to be present Tuesday morning for the County Commission meeting.

The residents plan to protest the paving by Commissioner R. C. Dudd of a road running parallel to his property, according to reports.

Chairman of the board John Krider said that he had been besieged with phone calls from irate residents who have been promised road improvement by Dudd, but had been put off due to lack of funds.

Other business will include the awarding of a contract for replacement of all county property. Two appraisal companies are bidding on the contract: Huntcutt and Associates Inc., St. Petersburg, and the Dowling Appraisal Co.

The meeting has been called for 10 a. m. in the County Commission Room at the Seminole County Courthouse.

Too Many Sitters

NEW DELHI, India (UPI)—A government report on unemployment said today India has a surplus of baby-sitters, truck drivers and messenger boys and a shortage of draftsmen, engineers and other technical personnel.

Officer's Talents Many, Local Policeman Proves

A policeman must have a variety of talents which, in reality, have little relation to his daily job of enforcing the law.

Frequent news stories will tell of the aid given by officers, both on and off duty. Policemen aid the sick, rescue parakeet, dogs, cats and other pets; they do a variety of other chores, such as providing information to tourists and generally helping people in need.

Sanford has an expert plumber on its police force, according to Mrs. Charles P. Witt, Celery City Restaurant.

Saturday morning shortly after Mrs. Witt opened the restaurant, one of the water pipes began to leak rather badly. Customers in the restaurant were unable to help "because they didn't know anything about shutting the water off," Mrs. Witt said.

Along came Officer Herman Harriet. Soon, the problem had been solved.

"Not having anything to stop the water, I was, as most women will be, at a loss as to what to do or how to shut the water off," Mrs. Witt said. "Officer Harriet happened by and I confronted him with the situation, being the problem, he not only got the water stopped but contacted a plumber at that time of morning. The plumber came out immediately to remedy the situation."

Mrs. Witt said she owed Officer Harriet a "great deal of thanks." If the water had kept running for any length of time, it would have done a great amount of damage, she explained. "My husband and I are proud to say Herman Harriet is a member of our police force," she concluded.

This was a big problem for Mrs. Witt. For Officer Harriet, it was all in a day's work. A broken water pipe didn't excite him. He solved the problem calmly, and went on his way.

Leaders Plotting Formosa Strategy; Reds Warn U. S.

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI)—The top American command in the Pacific met today with Chinese Nationalist military leaders to plot strategy in the face of Peking warnings that war could break out at any time with the United States.

No communique was issued after the first of two days of conferences. But military quarters believed the talks dealt primarily with America's role in defending the Formosa area with jet fighters, atomic-capable missiles and the nuclear-equipped 7th Fleet.

As they conferred in secret, Radio Peking poured out a stream of warnings that the Communists still were determined to take Formosa and the offshore islands. The broadcast said:

"The United States is kindling the flames of war with the People's Republic of China which might be precipitated at any moment."

Communist Foreign Minister Chen Yi said in another broadcast Communist intentions toward Formosa and said Peking has "every right to recover their own territory by all suitable means at a suitable time."

Within hours Marshal Peng Teh-huai, Communist commander in chief and head of the "Volunteers" in North Korea, reaffirmed Communist intentions toward Formosa and said Peking has "every right to recover their own territory by all suitable means at a suitable time."

State Announces Plan To Replace St. Johns Bridge

Replacement of an existing timber bridge with a new concrete structure over the St. Johns River south of Lake Hartney at the Seminole-Volusia county line is scheduled to begin by Oct. 2, the State Road Department announced today.

State Highway Engineer Al C. Church said the existing bridge, which has a swing span for passage of river traffic, will be replaced by a medium-high level bridge. A navigation channel will be provided so river traffic may pass without interrupting bridge traffic.

The $463,047 project will include a 1,270-foot bridge of prestressed concrete and approaches to the bridge. The bridge will have a 28-foot roadway with two sidewalks.

The bridge is located on State Road 46, which runs between U. S. Highway 17 south of Sanford to U. S. Highway 1 north of Titusville. It is just north of the busy Orlando-Cape Canaveral area.

Church said Cleary Brothers Construction Company of West Palm Beach has been awarded the contract. A total of 250 calendar days will be allowed for completion of the project.

Five Now Seeking Commission Post

Three more men have filed for the City Commission election in Sanford.

Phillip T. Meel, a contractor with the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, revealed his candidacy late Friday afternoon.

Clyde H. Robertson, general manager of the Therm-O-Tone Gas and Appliance Co., Inc. and Joe B. Baker, datyman for Perfection Dairies, qualified this morning, Oct. 15 is the deadline for filing.

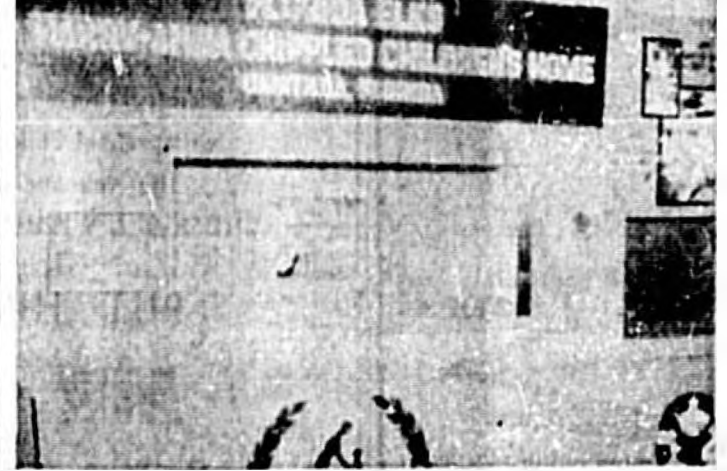

David Wayne Maltes, 25-year-old Sanford middle teacher, and Troy T. Richardson, local produce merchant previously stated their intentions of running for the seat. Another candidate who filed last week withdrew his name after "reconsidering."

Accident Injures 11-Year-Old Girl

Fairly heavy weekend traffic in Seminole County was marked by one accident at 5 p. m. Saturday, the Sheriff's Department reported.

A collision at the intersection of 20th St. and Country Club Circle Drive, injured Linda Spencer, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Spencer. She was taken to the Seminole Memorial Hospital with severe lacerations and cuts around the face. She was reported in "good" condition this morning by hospital authorities.

William D. Causey, Sanford, Fla., said the accident occurred when William D. Causey, Sanford, turned west across the path of a jeep driven by Spencer on 20th St. Deputy Vern Brewster, investigating officer, said, Damage was about $750. ### Walter Slezak Declares This Is Era Of Fat Man

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Fat man Walter Slezak patted his paunch with a pair of chubby hands today and announced this is the era of fat men. "Show business is overflowing with fat men," he said happily. "Jackie Gleason is returning to television with a fat partner, Buddy Hackett. Burl Ives and Orson Welles are being sought for dozens of movie roles. "And best of all, I have been working at a terrific pace." It wasn't always thus, according to Slezak. "Twenty years ago fat men only appeared in comedies," he said. "I started the fat cycle in 1942 when I came to Hollywood on 'Once Upon a Honeymoon.' It wasn't long before Sidney Greenstreet and Laird Craig found movie jobs. Alfred Hitchcock helped promote the idea, too."

Winn-Dixie Stores Pay Employee Fund Over $2 Million

Employees of Winn-Dixie Stores, Inc., operators of Winn-Dixie Stores in this area have shared in the company's profits to the extent of $2,382,359, according to an announcement by H. L. Avery, vice president in charge of the firm's Jacksonville Division. The distribution is being made to 3,200 employees who are eligible for participation in the Employees' Profit Earning Program by virtue of completing five years' service with the company. Under the program, the company sets aside a portion of its profits each year for eligible employees. A portion of the fund is paid to employees in cash and the balance credited to individual trust accounts or retirement benefits. The cash distribution for the fiscal year just completed amounted to over $600,000 and the total assets of the retirement fund held by the trustees are valued in excess of $12,000,000. Employees are not required to contribute any part of the cost of the program. "Our profit sharing program permits our employees to share in the profits they themselves help create," Avery said, "and through this program, along with low cost life, hospitalization, surgical and accident insurance; college scholarships for employees' children; sick pay; stock purchase plan and other benefits, we believe that we have one of the finest employee benefit programs in America today. It is through such a program that we feel we are meeting the vital responsibility of providing present and future security for Winn-Dixie people."

Princess' Love Story May End Happily

NEW YORK (UPI)—A controversial new book about the sensational Princess Margaret-Peter Townsend love affair says their story may yet have a happy ending. "The Peter Townsend Story," published in the United States today by E. P. Dutton, purports to tell "the true facts" behind the palace romance. The author, British journalist Norman Barrymaine, says Margaret, 28, and RAF Group Captain Townsend, 43, are "still deeply in love" and have not given up hope of marrying. Barrymaine, a friend of Townsend, also says that in October 1953, before her "no-marriage" announcement, Margaret told the divorced commoner who served as her late father's, household aide that she would never marry anyone else. Barrymaine says the princess still feels this way. "While biding time, he adds, Margaret and Townsend want to go on seeing each other as often as possible. "I think the princess and Townsend are only anxious that their love and friendship should be established in such a way that it is accepted by the court, the church, parliament and the public," he writes. The book stirred up a pre-publication newspaper controversy. One British paper said the book's effect will be to destroy Townsend's relationship with the princess. Barrymaine has written that while Townsend objected to the book, he read it and made no comment about the account of the romance. Barrymaine passes along US story that one night Margaret and Townsend, then a palace aide to King George V, returned from a late party and Margaret "commanded Townsend to carry her upstairs. "Fairer obeyed the command and half-way up, one of Margaret's shoes fell off. As they laughed, the King appeared on the landing. Townsend put Margaret down. Frank explanations followed. By the King was not really deceived," writes the author.

Local Man Finds East Side Preaching Is Hard Work

If you were a minister, how would you address a congregation made up of dope addicts, gang leaders, thieves and murderers? What would you say to this group to help them shed the ways of hatred and crime? How would you treat the cut-throats of every race and mixture? The answers can only be learned by experience. Robert Kenneth Armstrong, a 33-year graduate of Seminole High School and aspirant of the Episcopal ministry, learned some of the answers this summer. The young Florida State student had just finished two years in sociology when he received word that he had been accepted for the summer staff at Trinity Parish in New York City.

Trinity Parish is a lower east-side mission, composed of one of the poorest slum areas in the world. The Episcopal Church is the only parish in the area. There are two chapels, St. Augustine and St. Christopher. The challenge comes at night, school for younger children in the large recreation room beneath the church. Trips around the city with the youngsters are taken during the afternoon. This is easy. The challenge comes at night, when the teenagers use the recreation room. These young people, come from broken homes, or homes where both parents work and have little time for family life. They lack love, understanding and any feeling of security. Robert found that to exist in this area the youngsters either became drug addicts or members of street gangs. Drug addicts are not in gangs. They have no time, since every hour must be spent borrowing or stealing money for another "fix." Those in gangs find a secure relationship with other boys, which takes the place of homelife. Their female counterparts, "the debs," operate in the same manner, with wars, fights, and loitering. Teenage society of the lower east side has a peculiar code. When dances are held boys line up on one side of the room, girls on the other. When they want to dance they run over and grab a partner, gyrate madly on the floor, and leave the partner there when the dance is over. The young people never date. When they marry the girl stays home while the young husband goes out with his gang. Or often they go their separate ways. Rarely do they do anything together socially. This is what the Trinity Parish staff had to work with. The challenge has become so important to Robert that after a year of earning money for studies he will return to New York to finish at New York University, where he will be close to the east side and its problems. Is the parish making progress? Yes, definitely. Father C. Kilber Myers, vicar of the parish has written a book about the accomplishments of Trinity. "Light the Dark Streets" has become doubly interesting to Robert since he has met some of the characters who have changed their ways to a Christian life. One of the favorite occupations of gangs and drug addicts is to sit on the vicarage steps with the staff and hold discussions. Staff members strive to establish a personal relationship with the youngsters. They feel that once the feeling of friendship is a reality, nothing but good can come of it. Boys of 10 or 12 will need the security four years later when they are tempted to join gangs in pursuit of fellowship. Sunday morning sermons cannot be moral remarks about minor infractions. The congregation needs to identify itself with the sermon. Insight into the lives can be accomplished only by living with them, as members of the staff have done. Robert's roommate this summer was the Negro leader of the "Knights," one of the most vicious gangs ever spawned in the East Side. Furniture in the recreation room had to be replaced six times because the Knights kept breaking it. But because the staff at Trinity became trusted friends, the Knights have disintegrated into a social club, one that is part of the church. The leader has become a volunteer worker. Robert said that one of the hardest things to overcome was the fact that he was a Southerner.

Local Man Finds East Side Preaching Is Hard Work

Through sessions on the vicarage steps he was able to educate parishioners on the South, and convince them that he felt it was unchristian and un-American to keep people segregated because of race. The doctrine of "loving until that love is returned" constitutes the very backbone of Trinity Parish. Trust in the leaders of the church has convinced many a drug addict that he should go to the hospital for treatment, and many a gang member that he should throw away his knife. Armstrong said. "If we are successful with only one," says Armstrong, "then it is worth it. One is important to us. I have learned that a parish that does not concern itself with those outside of its group, regardless of race or creed, is no parish. Then, it is not Christian."

Oviedo News

By MARIAN R. JONES The Golden Circle Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church of Oviedo held its monthly business meeting and social gathering Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. A. H. Higgins, Mrs. Gene Gore, Mrs. Bill Usery, Mrs. Vesia Pendarvis, Mrs. Al Dawson and Mrs. Jane Metz. The population of Oviedo is increasing rapidly. At first the trend seemed to favor little girls. Today the news has come in, however, that the tide has turned. Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Jakubcin are proud of their new son, Juan. He is the former Juan Brown. The proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. George Jakubcin, Sr. Colene and Ben Ward are happy with the new addition to their family—a little daughter. Rumor has it that it is to be named Virginia Sandra. Sandra Ruth King made her appearance in the household of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald King to make them happy, as well as the doting grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvah King. Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Abell and little son, Scott, have returned to their home in Gainesville following a visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Leinhardt and Mrs. Geneva Abell. Erwin drove down for the weekend to take Ann and Scott, who had been here for several days, home. Saw Verna Mentzer today. She was glad she had the opportunity to see her little 7 months old grandson for the first time. Jeff and his little sister with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Waugh, and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Bostarky, of Pittsburgh Pa. have just returned home following a visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mentzer. Mrs. Willie Partin, who has been at the Florida Sanitarium and Hospital for some little time, has returned home. Bob Hagdale finally got home from Denver but has to return in about ten days. ### Lollipops Offered To Spur Answers

COLDWATER, Mich. (UPI)—Do lollipops have an effect on opinions? This southern Michigan city of 9,000 may be able to answer that question next week. "Operation Lollipop" started Thursday when the Parent-Teacher Association handed out questionnaires, with a kicker, to students at the Coldwater School. PTA authorities explained parents have been lax in responding to questionnaires in the past. The kicker is expected to get results. The PTA told the students if they bring back the questionnaires, properly filled in by their parents, they will be rewarded with lollipops—all flavors.

Boy Scouts Rate Dad First In Survey

NEW YORK (UPI)—This isn't Father's Day, but take a bow anyway, pop. To most adolescent American boys, according to a survey released today by the Boy Scouts of America, dad is their No. 1 hero. The reasons are a little surprising, too. It's not because dad is a big, handsome all-powerful fellow that his sons choose him as their hero. Ninety per cent of the boys questioned said they admire father for his character, judgment, personal qualities, and vocational and social skills. Feel Parental Need During the BSA-sponsored survey, a scientific sampling of the attitudes and desires of boys aged 14 to 16, the youngsters were contacted by experts from the social research institute of the University of Michigan. One finding was that boys today often feel a greater need for parental guidance than they show. Most regard decisions about "when to be in at night," money and personal problems to be in the province of their parents. It may come as a blow to girls, but the boys said they worry more about achievement, winning, school grades, vocational choice and job success than they do about girls. Girls and other friends are, however, their second most important worry, although the boys indicated that they also worry about personal pressures, family finances and problems. Want Responsibility The boys were asked what makes them feel important and useful. More than half replied that "taking responsibility" gave them this feeling. Parents may be surprised to hear what the boys say about "why parents make rules." Eight out of nine said "for the benefit of boys." The ninth boy had a notion the rules were made to suit parents only. Asked to name the leisure activities they enjoy most, the boys selected, in order, swimming, hunting, working on cars, baseball, basketball, football, fishing, camping and hunting.

Delicious Meatballs Are Economical Dish

Cereal Swedish meat balls are a nice change from the routine preparation of foods. They can be partially prepared ahead of time. They are quick and easy to mix, inexpensive, moist and flavorful, hold well over a prolonged cooking time, and full of good nutrition.

Tolled oats are ready to use as they come from the package—no further preparation is necessary. In addition to increasing the yield, adding flavor, keeping the meat balls moist and tender, rolled oats increase the protein, B vitamins, essential mineral, and food energy values of the recipe.

Cereal Swedish Meat Balls

1 pound ground beef
1/2 cup milk or regular oats
1 egg
2 tablespoons Worcestershire
1/2 teaspoon salt
dash of pepper
2 cups milk
3 tablespoons fat
1 cup boiling water
1 beef bouillon cube
3 tablespoons flour

Combine beef, quick or regular oats, egg, onion, Worcestershire, salt, pepper, and 1/2 cup milk. Mix well and shape into 24 balls. Brown meat balls in hot fat. Cover with water in which bouillon cube has been dissolved. Cover pan and allow to simmer gently until balls are done, about 30 minutes. Remove balls from pan and stir in flour. Add remaining milk and stir until gravy is smooth and thick. Add meat balls to gravy and serve. Yield: 24 balls, 4 to 5 servings.

Kids And Money, Not Men, Worry Women

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Women need more knowledge, if they're to pull the family purse strings properly, says a woman banker who heads a new project to educate us on handling our gold-digging.

"I'm not going to say that women are stupid about money," said attractive Mrs. Dorothy Noble Smith, "but they've been blocked by their husbands from learning enough."

Yet today, woman in all her blissful ignorance makes the spending decisions. She also helps to pile up a record consumer debt which Mrs. Smith called "a frightening thing."

"This," she said, "is in contrast to a century ago when a woman who was fool enough to try opening a bank account could have it canceled immediately by a male relative. In our grandfather's time, the men didn't even tell their wives how much they made. Now a man just turns his paycheck over to his wife."

Want To Learn

And the women just aren't ready for the responsibility, although they are "intelligent" enough to demand more knowledge, she said.

It's here that Mrs. Smith and the New York State Bankers Association came in. The association this week set up a women's committee "to tell the story of money and banking." It hopes the project will be copied by banking groups across the country.

Mrs. Smith, who at 42 is an executive with Chemical Bank Exchange Bank of New York, is committee chairman.

The association will send banking experts on speaking tours. They will hold seminars on saving, spending, budgets, and will work closely with women club groups.

Control The Dollar

"This is the first time the banking industry has gone directly to women—first time any industry actually has," said Mrs. Smith in an interview.

When you listen to her reel off statistics on our control of the dollar you wonder why we've been so neglected.

Women vote approximately 70 per cent of the shares of American corporations; are beneficiaries of 80 per cent of all Federal funds; are heads of more than four million families; are directly engaged in some phases of management of half a million small businesses; there are 21 million working women earning more than 42 billion dollars before taxes; and women spend at most 60 cents of each dollar of national income.

Needed: Enthusiasm For Future Of City

Needed: Enthusiasm and community spirit, such as that which characterized the all-out drive to save the Naval Air Station here.

This thought was dropped by a public official in Sanford while discussing the city's future. Said he: "If the people of Sanford could unite to fight for the future of this city like they did to keep the Naval Base, nothing could stop us."

The drive to put the school bond election "over the top" a couple of weeks ago was another example of what a united citizenry can do. The campaign to get voter-approval of the school bonds was not nearly so intense as the successful campaign to keep NAS here. Nor did the school bond campaign have as many active workers. But it serves as an example of what people, all working for the common good, can do when they make up their minds to get something done.

Sanford at one time was about the same size and type community as neighboring Orlando. In a relatively short time, Orlando has grown tremendously.

The Herald is not suggesting that Sanford try to catch up with Orlando's growth. But, when opportunity comes knocking, Sanford should be ready to open the door. It is improbable that Sanford could remain a small town, even if the people so desired it.

Florida is growing rapidly. It is The Herald's belief that the state will continue to grow. Therefore, Sanford will get a share.

Just how big a share of this growth is the question. Some who oppose trends toward "big city" status point out all of the problems that such growth brings. It is true that problems are greater. But, it is also true that most of these problems can be solved more easily.

Growth rarely brings new problems. Sanford today has all of the problems of a city many times its size. Local problems just aren't as large. But, neither is the revenue with which to solve these problems.

Needed: An optimistic outlook for the future and a blueprint for planned progress. Whether Sanford can meet the challenge is not the question. The question is whether it is willing.

Visitors Welcomed

Sanford is becoming a convention city. Ending yesterday was a gathering of state Elks, numbering some 500. Scheduled for the near future is a convention of Jehovah's Witnesses.

City Manager Warren E. Knowles said that inquiries have been submitted from three or four major organizations, each interested in the possible use of Sanford Civic Center as convention headquarters.

The main auditorium of the Civic Center can seat more than 1,000 persons. A smaller auditorium can handle about 350. In addition, the auditorium annex could be used, if needed, by another 100 persons.

Sanford, therefore, is well-equipped to take care of conventions, large and small. Food would offer no problem. Meals can be served to 2,000 persons in the Civic Center's modern kitchen, equipment for which cost about $9,000.

When conventions come to Sanford, every effort should be made to provide the visitors with the finest services the city can offer. Impressed visitors often will return. In addition, they often tell their neighbors about the hospitality.

THREE FACES EAST

Chicago's Schools Segregated, Too

By ROBERT CRAM
 United Press International
 CHICAGO (UPI) — Chicago schools head into another autumn still bearing a reputation for being among the most racially segregated in the nation outside of Dixie, an NAACP leader said Saturday.

Theodore A. Jones, president of the Chicago NAACP, said, however, that "considerable progress" has been made during the past year in meeting the problem.

"Segregation in our schools is currently among the most extreme in the North," Jones said. "But this year we are encouraged by such things as a drop of about half in the number of Negro children going to their classes on a double shift basis."

Jones said he does not believe that segregation in Chicago schools is the worst in the North. "I feel," Jones said, "there have been some very positive steps to the city's school segregation problem lately. For one thing, Chicago's educational leaders are aware of the problem."

Agency Help
 He said the recent establishment of agencies such as the mayor's Commission on Human Relations and a "new attitude" on the part of the Chicago Housing Authority and the city's Board of Education have given "much cause for optimism."

Jones said, however, that housing has created "racial population clusters" in the city that make for a real "lead weight" in school integration programs.

"This is the insidious and greater segregation all around us," he said, "the fact that no matter what housing developments go up, or where, for the most part, when the Negro moves in most of the white families move out."

"Then it's nearly all over or the other again," he said, "and on are the schools."

Problem Circumstantial
 Benjamin C. Willis, superintendent of the Chicago Board of Education viewed the city's problem as "a circumstantial thing." "We are not concerned with race when we build new schools," Willis said. "We build schools where there are students. We try to keep up with a school population today of 15,000 a year and cannot consider racial motives to doing so."

Alvin Rose, executive director of the Chicago Housing Authority, said the CHA isn't concerned with the racial factor in planning its housing projects, either.

"It is essential to plan housing units for areas where there is a need for them. We can't help it if whites move out when Negroes move in," he said.

"What can we do, since people to live in a certain place to integrate the area and the school's 'there?' Rose asked. "It's impossible."

Carter, Blanton In Verbal Battle Following Charge

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — An exchange of verbal blows between Jerry Carter and Jim Blanton followed Florida voters today there still is a red-hot statewide political battle going on for the remaining seat on the Railroad and Public Utilities Commission.

The challenger from St. Augustine charged Tuesday that commission employees are campaigning for the incumbent Carter at state expense.

Carter counter-attacked that his opponent in the Sept. 20 runoff election was just trying to attract publicity. He said there was no truth in the charges.

The Carter-Blanton race is the only statewide contest on the Sept. 30 ballot. Carter led a field of four candidates in the first primary but failed to muster a sufficient majority to escape a runoff.

Blanton asked Atty. Gen. Richard Ervin to investigate his charges against Carter.

But Ervin wired him that he cannot investigate or prosecute alleged election law violations. He said they should be reported to local law enforcement officials like any other misdemeanor.

Conning The News

By Virginia Cox, Herald Staff Writer

The fad of "hula hoops" is sweeping the nation, and Sanford is no exception. The plastic hoops are supposedly designed to amuse children and take inches off adults. The body is rotated in a circular motion against the hoop, either side-ways, or forward and backward.

Advanced skill in hula-hooping will almost guarantee the extinction of Elvis Presley. When everyone is adept in the motions, the gyrating singer will have to find some other means of attracting audiences. We doubt if he can do it.

Meanwhile, on the home front, Sanford residents from "3 to 110" are hooping it up in their yards. Demands for the plastic rings have created a price war. Friday afternoon in Sanford when I purchased mine, (finally gave in) the tag was $1.49 plus tax. An hour later a friend called to say that another store had them for 99¢.

Another stroll downtown found the going price to be $1.19 in two places. No one could compete with the 99¢ deal.

And if you want attention, try waiting through town with a hoop over your arm. Any attempt to remain inconspicuous is fruitless. The hoops are too large to hide, and too ungaily to carry gracefully. Remarks fly thick and fast. Have already committed myself to one student (Mack Cleveland Jr., Roy Holter and Karlisle Householder). Perhaps the day will come when Sanford's Saturday shoppers will improve their figures as they hula-hop down First St. Sidewalks may have to be widened instead of streets.

It is time that residents of the county took an interest in the man who allocates their tax money. It is a sad fact that residents do not take an active interest in their local government.

How many of you taxpayers, city or county, have ever attended a meeting of the Board of Commissioners? Meetings are open to the public. Yet, week after week, goes by with only the commission, the press, and parties who have special requests to make in attendance.

The press alone cannot monitor the meetings. The duties of newsmen require their presence. Needed is the presence of those who are directly involved, the taxpayers. If no one cares enough to protect his interest, why should the commissioner care?

"As one resident has said (and who is taking an active interest in administration), "County business is public business, not the business of a few elected officials."

Curtain Rods Give Him Bad Time, Yet

HALIFAX, England (UPI) — Somerset Kenneth Elsworth, 38, couldn't get the hang of the curtain rod he was supposed to be assembling at a factory here.

He was always making mistakes and every time he did he was hauled out by his boss. Finally he thought of a way out.

To cover up his mistakes he decided to smuggle the faulty products out of the factory, take them home and bury them at the bottom of his garden.

Six years ago Elsworth figured he had had enough so he quit, moved to another city and got another job.

Then along came Mrs. Jessie Fox who took over Elsworth's old house. She was digging in the garden and there she uncovered 68 of Elsworth's mistakes.

Mrs. Fox worked for Elsworth's old firm and recognized the rods. She told her foreman, who told the manager, who called home, who charged Elsworth with stealing the rods. He pleaded guilty.

"I was allowed to make a few mistakes on the assembly line, but I made many mistakes," Elsworth told police in a statement read in court Wednesday.

"I would do anything to stop the foreman shouting at me. So if I made more mistakes than I was supposed to I took the rods home and buried them."

Elsworth was freed after he promised to pay $50 to his old firm for the rods, plus court costs.

Mainland To Face Attack If Quemoy Is Endangered

Nationalists Seek Permission To Hit Shore Batteries

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and Adm. Hsiao Felt, commander of U. S. Pacific forces, met in secret for more than six hours today.

There were reports China was seeking U. S. permission to bomb Communist mainland artillery bases opposite Quemoy.

Informed sources said the two men discussed how far the United States will go to defend the besieged Quemoy and a Washington warning that America would unleash Nationalist bombers if the offshore islands were about to fall.

Nationalists thus far have retaliated against the massive four-week bombardment of the Quemoy only with artillery dug in on the island. There were unconfirmed reports the Nationalists had sent in larger artillery pieces but news from Quemoy has been blacked out.

Fear Shooting War U. S. and Nationalist military officials agree the only way to stop the shelling is to bomb the Communist artillery. But this step has not been taken, apparently in belief the Reds would send their bombers over Formosa and directly involve the United States in a shooting war.

Seriousness of the Formosa crisis was reflected in the list of those conferring Monday and today on new military moves to end the Red blockade of Quemoy and ease the Nationalist position. The conferees were:

Gen. Laurence Keiser, commander of U. S. Pacific air forces; Ambassador Everett Drumright; Vice Adm. Roland Smoot, U. S. Taiwan (Formosa) Defense commander; Nationalist Premier Chen Cheng; Defense Minister Yu T'ai-wei; Chief of Staff Gen. (Tiger) Wang Shu-min and the Nationalist army, navy, air force and marine commanders.

UN Hit By Bitter Clash On Seating Of Red China

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—The General Assembly was expected to vote today on Communist China's claim to a U. N. seat, but once again it appeared Peking had shot itself out of a membership.

Western diplomats predicted defeat for the move to seat Communist China after one of the bitterest exchanges to date between Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Gromyko injected the Formosa crisis into early debate and Lodge demanded in turn that Moscow cease its influence to get the Chinese to accept the seating of the United States.

Points To Red Slavery Gromyko accused Washington of "direct interference in the affairs of countries" and of "imposing its will" on them.

"There is no country on the face of this earth that has ever been enslaved by the United States. It will become the Soviet Union with its record of slavery to make such charges against us," Lodge replied.

Lodge repeated the "trailing circles of the United States." Here again he is confusing our situation with his in this country the people have managed to get up to the top of the slippery pole who are giving orders to execute this brutality or that."

State Will Borrow Idle Trust Funds; Ready Cash Needed TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The state will have to dip into idle trust funds for some 10 million dollars next month to replenish its dwindling treasury, according to Comptroller Jay E. Green.

The state will run out of ready cash in October, Green predicted Monday. He said borrowing from the trust accounts is authorized by law, and seems the only way to keep the state from going in the red.

An alternate would be to let the state's creditors, school teachers and welfare recipients wait a couple of months for their money.

But the state's budget officials have pledged that all such obligations be paid on time.

Green said the state is always low on income between July and January because many of the big revenue producers, such as auto license tax fees, do not come in in large amounts until February and March.

In the past, the state has had a large cash surplus to tide it over these low income periods. But record expenditures this year, along with the failure of taxes to come up to expectations, has eaten away all the reserve.

The winter's freeze and national business slump also hurt.

Green predicted another 10 million dollars probably will have to be borrowed in the other half of the year.

He said he could not grant a stay in advance of a hearing but offered to call a special session of the court late this week, if necessary.

The Norfolk board made no comment on whether it would ask for an early hearing or whether it would admit if Negro students to its six white junior and senior high schools immediately. If it admitted the Negroes, it would automatically close the schools, depriving some 10,000 children of public education in Norfolk.

U. S. Warn Reds Of Bombing Raids If Island Totters

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States has warned Communist China that if Quemoy were about to fall this country would unleash a Nationalist bombing raid on Red mainland artillery positions, if informed sources indicated.

Should the Nationalists be unable to silence the big guns alone, then American jets would join the attack.

The sources said late Monday United States was believed to have passed the warning to the Chinese Reds during the Warsaw, Poland, talks between U. S. Ambassador Jacob Beam and Communist Chinese Ambassador Wang Pingnan.

The United States apparently was trying to remove any doubt the Communists might have as to U. S. intentions regarding defense of Nationalist-held Quemoy, just a few miles off the Red mainland.

The United States was said to want to establish a definite "point-of-no-return" in the conflict, beyond which U. S. forces would enter the fight on the side of the Nationalists.

At the same time, State Department spokesman Lincoln White said he did not believe a new and exhaustive U. S. statement on Formosa would contain any basic policy changes.

The statement, expected to be released later this week, was said to be aimed at defining this country's short and long-term aims as regards Formosa.

Judge Denies Plea Of Norfolk Board

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)—A federal appeals judge today denied the Norfolk, Va., school board's last ditch attempt to prevent racial integration of its white high and junior high schools.

But Chief Judge Simon E. Sullo of the U. S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals told Norfolk School Board attorneys he would hear their plea for a stay of an integration order "in less than two weeks."

He said he could not grant a stay in advance of a hearing but offered to call a special session of the court late this week, if necessary.

The Norfolk board made no comment on whether it would ask for an early hearing or whether it would admit if Negro students to its six white junior and senior high schools immediately. If it admitted the Negroes, it would automatically close the schools, depriving some 10,000 children of public education in Norfolk.

United Fund Support Is Requested

Division leaders of the United Fund campaign last night at the Florida State Bank to learn from Howard McCarty, chairman of the drive, the plan of organization and allocation of quotas to reach the 1958 goal of $16,000, to be reached by Oct. 31.

Key presentations were made by David C. Adkins, the Children's Home Society of Florida, and Don Doyle, field representative of the American Red Cross. Both talks were made by George Touhy, immediate past president of the U. S. and by incumbent president Harold Kastner.

Adkins pointed out that "every one should realize that United Fund is a community effort and each member of the community—in this case Seminole County—should assume a responsibility for doing his best."

The Children's Home Society officer said that each person could give at least one hour's pay each month and still not be making a sacrifice for the good causes for public welfare that make up the agencies of the U. F.

"The united way of giving," said Adkins, "is the least expensive way to raise this money. Instead of the expenses of promotion and the valuable time given by business leaders in seven cash drives, should the agencies try to raise the money. In fact, the drive there is just one. In addition to the savings in promotion expense, added to the economy in solicitation time, there is the savings in time by those who contribute. United giving is surely the best."

Doyle called on the officers and other personnel of the agencies in U. F. to give liberally of their time in making this one effort for community welfare a success. Each person should give the support needed to make the campaign a success for here is the source of their operating money with which to help others for a year, he said.

More effort should be given (1) because the quota—the need—is greater than ever before; (2) population growth increases the burden on the agencies; (3) expenses—like those of all business—have increased. These points were stressed by the Red Cross representative.

McCarty expressed appreciation to those present, saying they represented but a small segment of the force needed in the drive. He added that the success of this "one shot" effort rested on "enthusiastic effort by inspired and dedicated people."

He was convinced that, with few exceptions, those who gave last year could increase their U. F. support by 30 per cent and added that "there are many people living in the county who did not give in 1957, but who undoubtedly will be glad to share now."

The campaign chairman told the group that the Navy base would give generously because Capt. A. Arthur and Capt. J. D. Ramage were endorsing the U. F. and urging both Navy and civilian personnel to donate. Through the Red Cross, the USO and the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts—all U. F. agencies that serve the Navy directly—the donations would come back multiplied, they said.

Generals appointed by McNulty are Gordon Sweeney, local business firms; R. A. Cobb, political subdivision personnel; Arthur Harris, building trades; Ralph Austin Smith, residential; Richard Packard, produce and trucking; T. E. Tucker, national firms; Dr. A. W. Epps Jr., professions; R. G. Whitmore, beverage; Melvin Deble, automotive trades; William Fuller, Navy.

The drive gets under way Oct. 1. The time between now and then will be devoted to organizational work, McNulty said.
