Mankind constantly faces the question as to whether spiritual things or material things shall be accepted as real. The Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches next Sunday is on the subject "Un-reality," and the unreality of matter is contrasted with the reality, presence and power of Spirit, God.
The Golden Rule is from Ec-clesiastes (5:7): "In the multitude of dreams and many words there are also divers vanities; but fear thee, O Lord."
Bible selections include this from John (1:3): "All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made."
The following passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is also in the Lesson:
"Everything good or worthy, God made. Whatever is valueless or harmful, He did not make,—hence its unreality" (p. 525).

THE FIVE DAYS

The Palms and the Cross were but five days apart!
On Sunday, down a road strewn with palms, Christ rode triumphantly into Jerusalem . . . and men hailed Him as their King.
On Friday He climbed the rugged slope of Calvary . . . and they nailed Him to a Cross.
How suddenly good turns to evil! How quickly we sometimes lose our vision of God!
The paradox of those five days is history's striking lesson in the importance of a constant faith. The faltering, hot and cold sort of religion made possible the Crucifixion!
Palm Sunday you'll be going to Church. In a quiet moment in the sanctuary remember those five days . . . resolve to worship EVERY Sunday, and to live your faith EVERY day.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest power on earth the building of character and good conduct.
It is a storehouse of spiritual values, and strong Church, neither democracy nor can survive. There are four sound reasons every person should attend services and support the Church. They are: (1) For the own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs the and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Taft and Eisenhower Supporters Fight For Delegates In Mid-West

By The Associated Press
Supporters of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower maneuvered busily today for delegates in two important Midwest Republican state conventions—Ohio and Michigan.
The odds appeared about evenly divided for both "regular" aspirants in each state. Backers of other candidates were not so active.
Michigan's GOP convention doesn't open until Saturday in Detroit but the backstage was abuzz with cautious horse-trading.
Ohio Republicans' meeting in Des Moines today appeared to be dividing their 20 National Convention delegates evenly between Taft and Eisenhower.
District caucuses elected eight Eisenhower delegates, seven Taft delegates, and an officially neutral—but the neutral delegate is regarded as a Taft supporter. The state convention ran through the night and closed at 11:30 p.m. and then adjourned for the election this afternoon of 10 delegates at large.
The 3,000 Republicans also will be asked to endorse a proposed Republican national platform.
In Michigan Republicans appeared agreed to compromise on dividing the state's 46 votes delegates rather than risk a showdown fight.
The convention will choose 10 delegates-at-large and districts will select the other 36 in pre-convention sessions.
Leaders of both the Taft and Eisenhower forces issued statements claiming an edge, but each said they would oppose a resolution favoring convention endorsement of any candidate. He said there was general agreement that Michigan would have an uncommitted delegate.
Eisenhower picked up three more National Convention delegates in Kansas Thursday. This resulted when Taft backers at a First District GOP convention offered no delegate candidates of their own.
The general's backers pushed their campaign in Illinois for a write-in victory over Taft in next Tuesday's preference primary. The Ohio senator is on the ballot.
In Michigan, Eisenhower faced a technical hurdle. Election officials said his name didn't have to be spelled correctly but voters would have to draw in a square beside the written name and write in an X.
Behind Taft, the names of Harold E. Stassen and Riley A. Bender, a Chicago hotelman, are on the ballot. Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee is alone on the Democratic side.
Taft told Illinois newsmen Thursday he would win next Tuesday by a "much larger margin" than in Wisconsin. Stassen called for

McGrath Fired

connection with a multi-million dollar deal in wartime surplus tanks.
McGrath said in a broadcast interview (Mutual) Thursday night: "I found no interest in any department of the federal government or any real desire to follow the President's order" that government officials co-operate in the cleanup effort.
He said he had not talked with the President or been invited to since his dismissal.
Mr. Truman said and repeated that McGrath resigned voluntarily. But this turned out to be just a polite gesture toward a longtime political ally.
McGrath himself made in plain he'd been forced out of disagreeing with the boss—Mr. Truman—over the conduct of Morris' cleanup campaign.
Republicans hooted at the whole performance.
It came 24 hours after Mr. Truman, McGrath and Presidential Press Secretary Joseph Short held a heated, sometimes flat-pounding huddle in plain view but out of hearing of top officials and department heads at airport welcoming ceremonies for Queen Juliana of the Netherlands.
Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, running for the Republican nomination in Washington is a complete change of administration," Taft said at Urbana, Ill., where he was campaigning.
Morris, a self-styled "Abraham Lincoln Republican" who was president of the New York City Council under the late Mayor F. H. La Guardia, seemed to share Taft's sentiments in part at least.
Although crediting Mr. Truman with "enthusiasm" for a real cleanup, Morris blasted McGrath to a fare-thee-well. He said he'd leave behind a bunch of suggestions for keeping the government honest, but declared:
"I have no illusions that these will become law during the life of this administration."
Then the 6-foot 3 New Yorker let go with both barrels:
"If my associates and I haven't done anything else," he told reporters, "we have got rid of Howard McGrath from the federal government—and it only took two months."
"Given six months we'd have got rid of some more."
Morris said he had no idea why McGrath fired him—in a brusque, 2-paragraph letter that didn't reach Morris until after he'd read it on an associated Press news ticker.
But he said his ouster "does not disillusion me, for I never had any illusions about Howard McGrath."
Morris said "Somebody must have sold the attorney general the idea that I was an easy-going individual" who would sit around and thumb reports and finally "emerge with a statement that I had found nothing wrong in any of the federal agencies."
"As soon as he saw I meant business," Morris said, "his whole attitude changed."
The Morris-McGrath rift—which swiftly widened into an unbridgeable chasm—came into the open when McGrath told House investigators last Monday that he didn't know

The continued provision of foodstuffs, clothing and medical, vocational and rehabilitative care to scores of thousands of recent arrivals in Israel.
4. The transfer of at least 150,000 Jewish men, women and children from "danger areas" to Israel.
5. The extension of relief and medical care to 250,000 Jews in need in Europe and Moslem countries.
6. The provision of extensive reception, resettlement and adjustment aid to 8,500 Jewish displaced persons expected to arrive in the United States this year.
"It is my hope," Mr. Sandler stated, "that these needs will find a heartening response and that every member of our community will measure up to the increased responsibilities that confront us all in 1952."
The United Jewish Appeal's $15,500,000 goal is based on urgent Jewish needs in Israel, Europe, Moslem countries and the United States. The UJA national drive campaign—conducted in more than 5,000 communities throughout the country—finances the life-saving programs of these constituent agencies: the United Israel Appeal, Joint Distribution Committee and United Service for New Americans.

Tornadoes

wife, Annie Mae, suffered undetermined injuries when their home in the Tanner-Williams community west of the airport was damaged. They were hit by falling bricks. They were given emergency treatment at Mobile City Hospital.
The blow, which struck about 6:30 a. m. CST, apparently did heaviest damage in the Municipal Airport area, about eight miles west of the city.
Two persons were reported hurt at the Tanner Williams community west of the airport, but their names were not learned immediately.
One building at the Baker Elementary and High School apparently was destroyed. Principal Thomas Cullton said. No one was inside the building at the time. Cullton said the blow swept toward the school in a northeast direction. Athletic field bleachers with a capacity of several hundred were blown down and light poles were bent.
Hoses and waterline installations in the Point Clear area east of here also were damaged.
After hitting the Baker School, the winds continued in their northeasterly path through about 500 yards of woods, uprooting and snapping trees.
Equipment at the main high school at Baker was strewn over a wide area.

India, Russia Join In Plea For Peace Try

Move Is Seen As One Of Series To Raise Hope For Peaceful End To Differences

MOSCOW (AP)—A half-hour conversation between Prime Minister Stalin and India's ambassador to Moscow has produced a new call for the world's "top people" to meet in an attempt to settle major international problems.

"There is no outstanding problem now dividing the world which could not be settled with discussion and negotiation. . . . Every effort should be made to get the top people together," said the Indian ambassador, Sir Sarvapalli Radhakrishnan, after his conversation Saturday night with Stalin.

Stalin's interview with the Indian diplomat was viewed here as another in a series of important Soviet moves apparently aimed at fostering the hope that the divided world can settle its differences peacefully.

The Communist moves in this direction include:

1. Stalin's statement last week to a group of American newspaper editors and radio men that a third world war is no nearer than it was in 1949 or 1950 and that a meeting of the big power chiefs of state would be useful.
2. The International Economic Conference now underway here at which M. V. Nestorov, president of Russia's Chamber of Commerce, said Saturday that the Soviet Union is ready for a vast expansion of trade with all countries.
3. The Russian proposal nearly a month ago that the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union get together to negotiate a peace treaty with a united Germany.
4. The Indian ambassador talked with Stalin during a farewell call before leaving April 6 for India to become his country's vice president.

Through these and other international official moves in the West, the world to this latest suggestion for a top level conference, the Communist observers generally have considered the other recent Soviet moves as a part of a broad effort to arouse fear of a possible Communist intention in the West and to undermine the Western rearmament program.

These Soviet actions have been coupled with a violent series of

4 Auto Accidents Reported In City During Weekend

There were four automobile accidents in Sanford over the weekend with only one person being injured, it was reported by Police Chief Ray Tillis today.

A Negro, Clarence Wilmer Park, 38, of 204 West Twelfth Street, ran into a parked car going east on Twelfth Street near the Cedar Avenue intersection last night at 8:58 p.m., causing an estimated $200 damage to his car and $500 to the other automobile.

Burk, cut and bruised was taken to the hospital and negligently driving by Patrolman Max Beas, Burk was sent to the hospital. The parked car was owned by Wilfred J. Diamond, 87 of 204 West Twelfth Street.

Rufus McClain, 18-year-old colored youth of 1208 Railroad Avenue, and Negro Julius Hampton, 1006 Olive Avenue, were both charged with negligent driving and negligently driving when Hampton's car, going east, hit McClain's auto turning east at Twelfth Street and Olive Avenue. The accident caused $100 damage to McClain's vehicle. Patrolman Beas made the arrest.

Sunday morning two vehicles attempted to turn east off Twelfth Street on to Holly Avenue at the same time, resulting in a minor collision. The car driven by John Brown, 37-year-old Negro, attempted the auto and Negro Matthew Hagins, 35, caused $50 damage to Brown's automobile. Patrolman E. S. Barnes made the charge.

David M. Howard, 36 of Route 2, moved into park in front of Howard Park Drive, Brody Road, West of Park Avenue, and negligently drove his car on Park Avenue near the second Street intersection last Saturday afternoon, causing a collision. Patrolman Joe J. Howard charged Mr. Howard with negligent driving. The case was tried in the City Court this afternoon.

Lower Prices At Farmers Market Reduce Receipts

Unit Volume Remains High With 44,000 More Units Sold

Lower prices received for fruits and vegetables this March, as compared with March, 1951, are reflected in the report of Manager Sandy Anderson of the Sanford State Farmers Market.

In spite of the fact that 44,712 more units were sold last month than in March, 1951, the $225,523 total was $218,318 below the last year's figure of $1,243,862, which at that time hit a new high for March. More than 500,000 units were sold, compared with 518,803 in March, 1951.

Mr. Anderson attributed this mainly to low values on celery, cabbage, lettuce and citrus fruits which are the leading commodities for the month of March.

Cabbage, for example, which last year brought $2.32 a 30 pound sack, averaged but 87 cents last month. Cucumbers, which in 1951 brought $2.52 were down to $2.05 recently. Peppers brought $4.37 a bushel last year, and this March were $3.72.

Mild weather on the eastern shore of Georgia, North and South Carolina and Virginia, cut the demand for Florida spinach, cabbage, beets, collards, mustard, radishes and turnips.

Present indications, said Mr. Anderson, point to an increased volume of corn, cukes, celery, beans, tomatoes, peppers, eggplant and squash.

Cabbage led in sales last month at the market with 234,128 sacks bringing $203,991 in gross farm sales were $63,174. Oranges at $2.05 per bushel.

Merrit Farrar Talks To Rotary On Conservation

Advance Of Civilization Called Threat To U. S. Wildlife

The importance of the conservation of wildlife and the part which the Florida Audubon Society is playing in protecting birds and animals in this state was explained to the Rotary Club at its regular weekly luncheon today by Merrit Farrar of Winter Park, executive secretary of the Florida Audubon Society.

Declaring that many of the social and international problems of the world today have their origin in the inability of peoples in various parts of the world to secure sufficient food from the fields and streams to sustain themselves and their children, Mr. Farrar said that in our own country the drainage and cultivation of forest and swamp lands are inevitably destroying the breeding grounds of fish and wildlife while at the same time exhausting the fertility of the soil.

President Jack Rutigan introduced Mr. Farrar, who described the work which he has done for the club in a quiet and unobtrusive way throughout the years. Mr. Farrar thanked the club for its support and said that if he would make as good a president as Mr. Rutigan he would be happy.

Mr. Rutigan also announced that a directors' meeting originally scheduled for this week has been postponed until next week.

Mr. Farrar pointed out that until 200 years ago America was governed by natural laws and that there was a natural struggle for survival among all living things on this continent resulting in the survival of the fittest. With the arrival of the white man and the removal of the forests, the planting of fields, and the destruction of fish and game, conservation became a necessity if the country was to be preserved.

Conservation is everybody's business, he said. Some may think that it is only something which applies to the other fellow, or something for the Audubon Society, but whether or not the farms in this country are to be permanent, and the various communities surrounding them are to be permanent, depends upon the efforts of every citizen to conserve the products of the forests and the fertility of the soil.

Pointing out that those who like to hunt ducks are the ones most likely to want to conserve ducks, he said that the Audubon Society is not opposed to hunting, but rather favors "controlled conservation," and opposes only "uncontrolled" hunting.

Competing for the County Clerk's office were O. P. Harston, the present clerk, and W. H. Hemper, mayor of Sanford. Speaking on his record as County Prosecutor was George A. Speer, Jr. Opposing him was Karlville Householder.

Supl. T. W. Lawton spoke for re-election, superintendent of schools, and R. T. Milver, principal of the Lyman School, outlined his qualifications for this office.

Speaking as candidates for the City of L. Hobbs, Sheriff P. A. Mero, J. Clay Williams, Police Chief Roy G. Williams, and C. W. Charles Beck.

Many of the candidates were among the 200 persons present Saturday night at the chicken barbecue at the Kiss Club. This was given by the ladies of the Anna Miller Circle for the benefit of the Harry Ann Spang for crippled children in Umatilla.

Hearings Are Begun In Senate On Bitter Civil Rights Issue

New Jersey Firm Reported Caught On Defense Steal

Government Cheated Out Of $103,000 In $500,000 Deal

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House investigating committee reported today a Paterson, N. J. firm "has been caught 'red-handed' cheating on specifications" in supplying slippers for government hospitals.

The special House armed services procurement subcommittee recommended that "prompt action should be taken to cancel all existing contracts" and that the case be turned over to the Justice Department for further action.

The subcommittee report, made public by Chairman Herbert (D-La.), was based on an investigation into how the Fashion Sport Shoe Company was fulfilling its contract, Rep. Dates (R-Mass.) reported.

The report said the New Jersey concern has delivered 27,254 pair of slippers to the government, and holds contracts for an additional 293,021 pairs. The overall approximate value was estimated at $500,000.

"We cannot escape the conclusion," the report said, "that the officials who approved the contract, and with the design to cheat, submitted unconscionably low bids with the full knowledge of the procedures followed by the Quartermaster's Office. They knew that being on government property they could try to substitute cheap material in the manufacture of hospital slippers without being detected."

The committee said it has been estimated by experienced people in the trade "that the difference in costs of the substituted materials and the deviations from the specifications amounted to a total of $103,000.

The Quartermaster Inspection Office told the committee that only spot checks had been made on a three-way contract with the company, but later a full-time inspector was assigned to check all shipments.

Despite this, "the contractor deliberately slipped the net and had been rejected (by the inspector) plus additional lots which had not been inspected."

Hope Flickers As Deadline Nears On Steel Strike

Two-Pronged Communications Strike Crosses Country

NEW YORK (AP)—Hopes that the government can settle the steel wage dispute flickered today, like fires in the industry's blast furnaces already being cooled before the strike deadline Tuesday night.

Wage Stabilization Board Chairman Nathan Feinsinger met with CIO United Steel Worker leaders this morning and probably will confer with steel's "Big Six" officials later.

Meanwhile, a union spokesman announced United President Philip Murray would make a 15-minute radio address over Station WNBC tonight at 8 p.m. (EST) with "an answer" to the radio talk made by U. S. Steel Corp. President Benjamin Fairless.

Fairless asked the union to call off the strike, saying it would benefit "nobody but the side of the Iron Curtain." Murray commented briefly then that it was industry, not the union, which was "forcing the strike."

Feinsinger's conferences today followed weekend meetings with both sides which had prompted Feinsinger to speak cautiously of "gradual progress" towards a "better understanding" of each other's problems.

NEW YORK (AP)—A two-pronged communications strike flared across the country today, but an American Telephone and Telegraph spokesman said "most service is normal."

The CIO walkouts hit the Western Electric Company, installation and maintenance subsidiary of the Bell system in 43 states, and the telephone system staff in five states.

Coupled with a continuing AFL strike against the Western Union Telegraph system, the new walkouts made the communications snarl a three-way affair.

About 87,000 workers—16,000 of them employees of Western Electric and 51,000 of them telephone employees in Ohio, New Jersey, Michigan, Northern California and Nevada—quit their jobs.

They are all members of the CIO Communications Workers of America. All-night mediation efforts have failed to bring agreement on wage disputes.

Although picket lines of the 43 state western electric crews would threaten telephone service generally, picketing was only sporadic so far.

In the Western Union strike, now in its fifth day, the company claimed today that service has been restored in 82 major cities of the some 2,000 cities and towns where it has offices.

The union, the AFL Commercial Telegraphers, said this claim was company propaganda, and that "we are the country sewed up except for New York City."

The A. T. & T. spokesman said that "all long distance calls throughout the country are going through" and that the work of operators and others at Bell systems in the five states.

Dial service, which takes care of a bulk of urban calls, is not threatened, barring equipment breakdowns.

The twin-engine C-46 crashed as it roared away from Idlewild Airport after missing in an attempt of landing in a morning rain and murky overcast.

Saturday said the pilot, Capt. William B. Crockett Jr., 27, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., was apparently staying under the overcast to come around for a landing when he crashed.

The pilot had been instructed to climb before making a second landing approach, investigators said.

Six of the scores of persons injured in the crash remained in hospitals today.

The crash was the fifth such accident in the metropolitan area in less than four months.
