Hundreds Planning To Attend Banquet Set For March 9

Hundreds of Sanford and Seminole County citizens are planning to attend the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce French Avenue Dedication banquet on the evening of March 9th. It was reported this morning by the chairman of the event, James A. Wright.

"Even though we have already exceeded the number of tickets that should be sold for the gigantic banquet destined to be one of the greatest events ever staged here," Wright said, "we would like for those interested in attending the affair to call the Chamber of Commerce office for reservations."

He said, "every attempt will be made to provide additional facilities to take care of the hundreds who want to attend and show their appreciation for the first major highway construction in Seminole County in the past 50 years."

Plans for the event, said James A. Wright, are continuing and we will soon be able to announce the names of dignitaries from all over Florida who will be here in Sanford for the dedication of French Ave. which will take place on March 9.

The dedication is divided into two events. The actual dedication of the brand new highway through Sanford will be held at 4 o'clock, Friday afternoon, March 9th, in front of Seminole High School. It is expected that the ribbon cutting event which will officially open and signify the completion of French Avenue, will draw hundreds of road-minded people from all over Central Florida and from over the entire State.

The Chamber of Commerce French Avenue Dedication Banquet will be held at the Mayfair Inn beginning at 7 o'clock the same evening where Sanford and Seminole County citizens will get together to show their distinct appreciation for the move toward progress starting with the widening, four-laning, and paving of French Ave.

Juvenile Judge Reports 22 Cases Heard Last Month

Revealing the activities of his office for the month of January, Judge Ernest Housholder, of the Seminole County Juvenile Court, reported yesterday that 22 hearings were conducted in his chambers during the first month of 1956.

Two traffic cases were handled, said Judge Housholder, and as an outcome one license was suspended for three months and the other for six months.

As a result of the hearings conducted for juvenile offenders, Judge Housholder said, two white boys involved in the breaking and entering of a sporting goods store were sent to the reform school at Marianna.

One girl, he said, was committed to the industrial school at Ocala due to the fact that she was incorrigible and refused to comply with rules and regulations required by the court and her parents.

The Office of the Juvenile Judge made 13 investigations, said Judge Housholder, covering numerous children involved in the damage of property, shooting of BB guns and 22 rifles on highways, and private property, and the shooting of cats and dogs, as well as the damaging of greens at the Mayfair Country Club and the neglect of children by their parents.

During the month of January, 1956, the Judge said, the Juvenile Court had in place nine children in the county jail to be restrained pending a trial.

Judge Housholder said that he had 23 conferences and consultations involving various juvenile procedure which were handled and disposed of without hearings.

In addition to the heavy schedule of the Juvenile Court, the Chamber made 20 investigations for schools relative to absentee students involving 37 children both white and colored.

On three hearings before Juvenile Judge Ernest Housholder conducted yesterday in the Judge's Chamber, two boys were committed to the Industrial School at Marianna and two were placed on probation under the jurisdiction of the Juvenile Court, providing they adhered to a strenuous schedule.

A 15-year-old negro boy, charged with taking an automobile, wrecking it, and then taking a second car and using it without authority, was committed to the school at Marianna. The youth had been before the Juvenile Judge on previous occasions for minor infractions.

In another hearing, a 15-year-old negro youth was charged with improper and immoral conduct. He had been previously committed to the reform school at Marianna and as a result of the hearing was re-committed.

A hearing for two 16-year-old Oviedo white boys, charged with having taken gasoline, revealed that evidence presented at the hearing had shown that gasoline was taken from a filling station.

The two boys admitted taking 16 gallons of gasoline and a coil from the repair shop of another station. However, it developed in the hearing, that the filling station operator did not know who had been taking the gasoline at various times and stated that he "did not want to press or file charges against anyone."

The court, said Judge Ernest Housholder, judged the two 16-year-old youths to be delinquent and placed them under probation under the following conditions: The boys were committed to their parents under the jurisdiction of the Counselor for an indefinite period and restricted to their homes after 10 p.m.; requiring them to attend school and make passing grades; required the two boys to attend Sunday School; and required not to associate with each other at any time.

One of the boys, whose parents had moved into Orange County, was prohibited from coming into Oviedo at any time and required to report to the Juvenile Court once every two weeks.

The program includes courtesy Motorboat Examinations for required and recommended safety devices; public instruction courses on good seamanship, navigation, and maintenance; and rescue operations as a supplement to limited Coast Guard units stationed along the thousands of miles of coast line and navigable waters of the United States, Puerto Rico, Alaska, and the Hawaiian Islands.

Supervision of boat regattas and races is one of the many Coast Guard functions and the Miami-Nassau Race is particularly noteworthy in these Southern waters. The traditionally warm welcome extended by the people of Nassau is as well known.

Sales Barometer Still Going Up

The barometer indicating the trend of sales in Seminole County continues to rise, according to the latest release from the office of Ray E. Green, State Comptroller.

Based on sales tax reports to the office of the State Comptroller for the month of December 1955, the Christmas-New Year season was the biggest in Florida history.

The report pointed to the sales tax collections in Seminole County which increased nearly 25% over the same month of the previous year. January sales tax collections in Seminole County totaled $7,085.28, an increase of $9,753.72 over December 1955.

Green's report states that "sales tax collections during January on December sales hit a new high for this year all time and exceed last year's January collections on December sales by $1,462,806."

"For the first time," Green said, "sales tax collections exceeded gasoline tax collections, previously considered the state's largest single revenue source."

He said, "It should be evident, from this report, that Florida's economy is sounder than ever and that, based on the December reports, this year's tourist season may well break all previous records. The big tourist months are still ahead, and retail sales during those months will undoubtedly exceed even December's high total."

Proposal Authorized For Board

Laurel Request Brought Up Again

Getting in readiness for a national major food chain to construct a 20-thousand square foot super market in Sanford, the Zoning and Planning Commission of the City of Sanford last night compiled with a request to recommend the rezoning of an area on Oak Ave., just off South Park Ave., in order to create an area large enough to meet the demand of the builder.

Wellborn Phillips Jr., submitted the request to the Zoning and Planning Commission, which in turn, authorized the recommendation to the Board of Sanford City Commissioners for the rezoning.

Phillips said the Zoning and Planning Board that the national food chain would construct a building of 20-thousand square feet on the 12-acre tract and provide other buildings for possibly a modern shopping center.

The recommendation will now go to the Board of City Commissioners for approval.

Chairman Robert Brown of the Zoning and Planning Commission brought the question of Laurel Ave. rezoning before the group again for discussion and possible action.

A heated discussion grew out of the question when A. L. Collins stated that the rezoning of the 20-acre area would benefit one person and one lot.

However, reverting itself on a previous action at a special meeting, and substituting a broader rezoning recommendation, the Zoning and Planning Commission, on a motion by Clifford McKibbin, the Laurel Ave., from 6th to 10th St., and on both sides to the alley between Laurel Ave. and French and Myrtle Ave. be rezoned from existing R-1 Areas to C-1.

French Ave. is zoned C-2 which allows industrial development while the C-1 Zone allows only commercial development.

The recommendation, if approved by the Sanford City Commissioners, would allow U. H. Robinson of the Therm-O-Tone Gas and Appliance Company to purchase the property and building at 9th and Laurel, originally proposed for a Youth Center and purchased by the Seminole Youth Council.

The original request for rezoning the area was made by Rupert Strickland and Homer Osborne at a previous meeting when the action on the east side of Laurel Ave. from 6th to 10th St., was proposed for the change from R-1 to C-1.

Additional rezoning was discussed by the Zoning and Planning Commission when the matter of French Ave. came before the group, Katlyie Housholder said, "Our first step should be French Ave. There are lot of people riding up and down the thoroughfare looking for a place to establish a business."

The regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Seminole County Farm Bureau was held Tuesday night at Fawcett's farm near Lake Jessup.

Bob Cox, a representative of the Farm Bureau Federation, attended the local meeting and told the board that "the bureau is responsible for getting the bill through the legislature for the tax refund to the farmers."

Cox brought with him a supply of the forms necessary for the applying for the refund for tax on gasoline used in tractors and farm equipment not operated on the highway.

Ike Approaching Personal D-Day

By NELMAN MORIN
WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower is rapidly approaching his personal "D-day." And for this political capital, it will end a guessing game of unparalleled magnitude.

Eisenhower's decision on whether he can and will run for a second term presumably awaits only one thing now—the findings in his next physical checkup. For a particular reason, this will be an unusually important examination.

Its purpose is to determine, as accurately as possible, how Eisenhower has stood up under the massive weight of the presidency after a full month of work. Next Thursday marks the end of this month.

The President's personal physician, Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder, told reporters, "No man who is just 4 1/2 months past a heart attack is in a position yet to determine his own physical fitness. He should have more time—all the time he needs."

Snyder said, however, that he hopes to complete preliminary tests Feb. 13 with the rest of the examination the next day.

Then the President plans to take a brief rest, probably in a secluded forest lodge near Thomasville, Ga. Eisenhower may work out his decision there—and quickly. "I hope I am not going to dilly dally too long about it," he said.

Some observers in Washington believe he already knows what he is going to do, but others who are close to him are convinced that he has made no decision. The President himself says he has not, and that he will "make the announcement as quickly as a decision is firmly reached in my mind."

Meanwhile, the atmosphere in the capital is electric with speculation and debate, gossip, wishful thinking, rumor and undercurrents of anxiety and expectation. It is very much like the feeling in a courtroom when the jury is about to come in with the verdict.

If there is a majority guess, it is that Eisenhower will not run. But the people who feel that way today usually add, "Last week, I thought just the opposite." So do those who now believe he will run.

When you ask what brought the change of mind, people usually answer, "Well, when he said the other day that—"

Eisenhower has discussed the subject in many ways. "I have to guess as to the next five years... My mind is not fixed to such an extent that it can't be changed... Where does the sense of duty point?... My future life must be regulated."

The remarkable fact is that his political friends and foes both find comfort and reassurance in these remarks.

The Republican interpretation: "In effect, he's saying to the people, 'Here's my condition. Now if you want to vote for me, I'm available.' He's being perfectly honest about the situation."

The Democratic view: "He's made up his mind not to run, and this is paving the way for the announcement."

Never in the history of the presidency has there been a situation quite like this one. It is normal for a president to play cat-and-mouse with his decision. But in this case, the uncertainties that arise from a heart attack have added the X-factor.

From Washington, the hopes and anxieties spread across the whole of America.

There are the Republicans who hope to get the nomination if Eisenhower does not run. There are the 17 GOP senators, the 16 governors, and the 203 Republican congressmen who come up for reelection this year and would hope to benefit from the President's popularity.

All the way to the courthouse level are thousands of office holders, and future - be office holders, whose future may very well hinge on Eisenhower's decision.

The political arena is not the only affected area. In Wall Street and in business circles generally you hear the same word repeated over and over—"uncertainty." As one analyst puts it:

"We've been running this country by cardiograph for the last four months!"

The uncertainty will be dispelled after the President's checkup.

Usually, such examinations consist of the cardiograph which charts the heart action electrically, measurements of the pulse, blood pressure, and dimensions of the heart, and an X-ray examination of the heart. This data, along with fluid analysis, is then compared with comparable data from previous examinations.

But a supremely important phase of the check is what he tells his doctors of his feelings and reactions. Does he tire readily? Does he have any echoes of pain? Does he have feelings of breathlessness?

Hence, the President's doctors can only give him a report on their findings and their best judgment as to his condition.

Eisenhower is 63. If he serves a second term, he would be 70 at the end, the first man in history to reach that age in the presidency. Life insurance company statistics indicate that 47 per cent of the men in his age bracket live 10 years or more after a heart attack.

However, some cardiologists have little faith in statistics. They cite several reasons.

Among them are the mysterious effects of worry, strain and emotion on the human machine. Doctors can protect the President pretty well from fatigue and the mechanical effects of his job. But they can't keep him from worrying about the tremendous responsibilities that go with it.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, Boston specialist who has been attending Eisenhower, recently minimized this factor. "I personally don't think stress and strain is as important as diet," he said, "and I feel in full what the hazards are."

As to the second term, Dr. White said Eisenhower would have to make that decision himself "know-

1 Little, 2 Little, 3 Little Indians!

By ROB HOLTON
LEMONT, Pa.—A young and unmarried woman chiropractor, already the foster of two children orphaned nine years ago, heads for Idaho soon to collect seven little Indians whom she intends to adopt.

The whole happy brood will be turned loose in Dr. Imogene Barker's five-bedroom house which, she says, "we can fix up here and there to accommodate all nine children and a married couple now living with me."

"We all agree it will be a lot of fun," she said. "They need help, and I can give it to them. That's all there is to it."

"If there is one thing that troubles me, it is that the Indian children will all have to have their names changed from their tribal ones. I frankly admit it's going to be some task to find suitable names for these four girls and three boys."

Nine years ago Dr. Barker, 27, took on the children whose mother died in a hospital where she had been training. The children, both boys, are now 11 and 13.

"So far," she said, "I haven't told my parents about adopting all seven. I haven't the nerve. But I'm sure they'll be glad to hear the news anyway."

Her parents live in White Plains, Md., where Dr. Barker was born.

Dr. Barker said she expects to go to Fort Hall next month. She will bring the children home in a stationwagon which a car dealer in this town of about 1,000 population supplied at special bargain terms. Other business and professional men in Lemont also have offered to lend a hand with donations of money, clothing, food and household goods.

Why should a young, unmarried woman undertake such great responsibilities?

"They need help, and I can give it to them. They need religious and other training; I can give it to them. Their people need religious training, and I intend to send the children to Bible schools that they might return someday and give that training to their people."

Veterans Corner

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to four questions of interest to former servicemen and their families:

Q. My daughter is receiving VA compensation payments, based on the death of my husband, a World War I veteran. She is over 18 years old, but she is attending school. Will the payments continue during her vacation periods, or will they be stopped when she is not actually in school?

A. The payments will be continued during vacations, so long as evidence is submitted to VA showing that she was attending school at the end of one term, and plans to resume her studies at the next regular term.

Q. I want to change the beneficiaries of my GI insurance policy. Must I use a VA form for this purpose, in order for the change to be accepted by VA?

A. It is not necessary to make the change on a VA form, although it is advisable to do so. You can change beneficiaries by writing VA a letter. Be sure to give your insurance number, full name, address and branch of service. And don't forget to sign your request.

Q. I want to make an advance payment on my GI home loan. Is there any minimum amount I must pay?

A. Your advance payment must be at least the amount of one monthly installment, or $100—whichever is less.

Q. Must a veteran's blindness be service-connected, in order for him to be eligible for special VA aids for the blind?

A. Not necessarily. To be eligible, the veteran must have a compensable service-connected disability.

Biggers Family Make Success Of Home Cooking At Motors Inn

Back in 1951 Mrs. E. W. (Birtha) Biggers and her daughter, Evelyn, decided to go into the restaurant business. From their first day as managers of the Motor's Inn Restaurant, the Biggers set a policy of serving "good home cooking in generous quantity, and their business has grown steadily ever since."

"Operating a 24-hour restaurant presents many problems," says Mrs. Biggers. "Every eight hours the staff of cooks and waitresses have to be changed, and the menu must be continuous, with even breakfast being served 24 hours a day."

In the same building with Motor's Inn is the Bell Standard Service, operated by William T. Bell and R. J. Sreaffer, also 24-hour, day-and-night operation.

Brunette Actress Found Hysterical After Taking Pills

NEW YORK (AP)—A transcontinental telephone call to police here early today — saying that an apparently hysterical woman had called Beverly Hills — sent officers to the apartment of a young brunette who had taken sleeping pills.

The New York Daily News said the call from Beverly Hills was made by producer Fred Finkelhoffe, former husband of singer Ella Logan.

The attractive brunette, Cynthia Sargent, 23, of 3 E. 63rd St., Manhattan, was identified by the News as a Broadway actress, Mrs. Cynthia Douglas Sargent, divorced from television writer Herbert Sargent.

The woman, quoted by police as saying she had taken two sleeping pills and had had "a couple of drinks," was taken to a hospital. Doctors applied what they described as a "partial stomach pump."

Police said the woman — whom they listed only as Cynthia Sargent — was hysterical when they arrived at her apartment. Some neighbors were with her.

Police said the California caller — whose name they understood as Ed Finkelhoffe and on whom they had no further identification — told them that the woman had taken an "overdose of pills." The man, whose call was received at 1:40 a. m., was quoted as saying the woman had just told him in a phone conversation she had taken the pills.

1st Kindergarten Begun Decade Ago

WATERTOWN, Wis. (AP)—One hundred years ago a pretty young immigrant mother sat with her 3-year-old daughter and four other small girls along the Rock River in the southeastern Wisconsin community and began the first kindergarten in America.

For Mrs. Carl Schurz, then about 30, it was a chance to practice theories of education she had learned back in Hamburg, Germany, from Friedrich Froebel, founder of the kindergarten movement.

Her husband, destined to carve a distinguished career as a soldier, journalist and political leader, already was busy in the affairs of the newly formed Republican party.

The little group conversed in German as the children learned colors through use of yarn balls, formed geometric figures with wooden blocks and sang "Mutter-Lied" (songs of mother).

Relatives and friends noted the group's frequent meetings and asked that their preschool children be allowed to join the sessions. Mrs. Schurz then opened a kindergarten in her home.

All through this centennial year various Wisconsin educational groups will pay tribute to the woman who brought to this country the idea that little children can learn through play.

Kindergartens — the German name for "children's garden"—are now accepted as a vital part of education.

Shortly after organizing her school Mrs. Schurz visited friends in Boston, where she met Miss Elizabeth Peabody, an educator is credited with popularizing the kindergarten.

In 1860 Miss Peabody founded the country's first English-speaking kindergarten.

The Schurz family left here in 1858 for Milwaukee. From then until her death in 1878 Mrs. Schurz followed her brilliant husband's many places of residence. Though in frail health, she carried the story of the kindergarten to teachers and mothers.

The seed planted by Mrs. Schurz took root fast. Soon private kindergartens were set up in New York, San Francisco, Chicago and Milwaukee and, by the 1890s, in most large cities.

The first kindergarten to be incorporated into a public school system was at St. Louis in 1873.

Fay Leaves Prison After Eight Years

DANNEMORA, N. Y.—Ex-tortionist Joey Fay, former labor leader who became the center of a political scandal while behind bars, left Clinton Prison swiftly and silently early today.

After eight years in prison, the aging Fay hurried through the cold dark into a limousine where his wife awaited him in front of the grim, gray walls of the state's "Siberia."

However, reporters and photographers trailed the car to a garage about eight miles down the highway toward Plattsburgh, and there Fay talked a little.

Asked whether he had lost weight he replied:

"Yes, I've lost a little, but I feel good."

In Time Of Need Community Chest Would Be Valuable To Sanford

Several discussions have originated in various and sundry places concerning the possibilities of conducting a Community Chest in Sanford.

A committee was at one time created to look into the pros and cons of establishing such a one-time-a-year fund raising campaign but nothing of material value came from the findings of this committee even though many hours of hard work were utilized in gathering the data, calling and attending meetings, inviting organizations to share the discussions, and planning a possible organization.

Plenty of work has been put into the examining the feasibility of a community chest for Sanford but the results have not been forthcoming, probably because of the lack of interest of organizations that could participate in the benefits of such an united effort.

The plan of creating a community chest would put into one lump effort the numerous fundraising organizations which derive their funds from public solicitation. There would be one budget setup and one gigantic drive substituting for the numerous drives that we now have.

At the conclusion of such a gigantic effort, funds derived from the one-time-a-year campaign would be allocated to the various individual causes and organizations dependent upon public support.

If some emergency existed and additional funds were needed, a special drive or appeal for funds could be projected to take care of the existing unexpected difficulties.

Under the present system of calling on the business firms and individuals of Sanford for funds — it's every organization every cause for itself. Each one has its own individual fund-raising organizations and drives, appeals, all out campaigns, and sales. And every one of them needs the funds, they are beneficial to the welfare of our community, they serve those who otherwise would not receive help.

We're for the organizations, everyone of them.

But what we can't seem to understand is the numerous floods of campaigns with hardly a single day of the year going by.

Reds Treating U.S. Like Animal

By JAMES HANLOW
WASHINGTON — The Reds have been treating the United States like a donkey, beating it over the head with the stick of war, trying to lead it along with the carrot of soft talk.

Since the 1933 death of Joseph Stalin, with his perpetual grovel, the Russians have switched from party to nice and back again, with assistance from the Red Chinese. The Chinese were in the act this week.

The Russians have blown up these hopes, and deflated them like a balloon. They have switched to much they seem to play by ear. It might be fatal to assume so.

George Malinberg, who succeeded Stalin as premier, took a softer line than the old dictator. He played straight man to Khrushchev's tough guy. Pretty shrewd arrangement. Whenever the Russians wanted to switch back to being nice, Bulganin, who avoided name-calling, could open up a smile.

The Russians lost some ground anyway—when Eisenhower offered at Geneva his serial inspection plan and the Soviets turned it down. It was almost certain they would when he made the offer.

They tried to offset this last week with Bulganin's offer to Eisenhower of a 30-year friendship treaty, which the President turned down, as the Russians no doubt knew he would.

But on the day Bulganin made his treaty offer Khrushchev, as if without some kind of an appeal, fund-raising effort, or solicitation.

Many times there are several campaigns underway at the same time.

Merchants, businessmen, professional men and individuals are virtually "solicited to death" for cash subscriptions, merchandise, prizes, advertising, and what have you, most times with varying degrees of pressure.

How these businessmen, merchants, professional people and others manage to contribute so liberally and in practically every instance is beyond believing and isn't understood.

Undoubtedly, all of these good folks would prefer to make their contributions in one lump sum, at one time, and for a combined budget of all of the organizations that depend upon public support.

No one, we are sure, will dispute the fact that each one of the causes calling on Sanford people for contributions is worthy, deserving, and all of the activities very necessary and desirable for the economic benefit of the community as a whole, and certainly beneficial to the special group that it serves.

The community chest idea is merely an effort to put business and common sense into the fund-raising part of the programs of the various organizations calling for support of the community.

We realize that there are some organizations who don't like the community chest idea and they won't have anything to do with any setup that even resembles the community chest. They like to play the field their own way, with their own program, their own committees, and their own campaign. Yes, they like to use their own plans and methods, shout from the housetops about their own program being more vital than the other, do their own soliciting, and keep the entire proceeds from the all out effort.

Why Sanford and the Sanford area doesn't join hands, as far as beneficial organizations are concerned, and make one huge campaign for funds each year to serve every charitable and beneficial organization, we just can't understand.

Such an effort will allow our leading citizens who are called on time and time again to head these campaigns to devote more of their time to their business or profession which in turn allows them to make more money and share with those who are in need.

Why organizations are not willing to accept their share—the same amount that would be raised in an individual campaign, through the efforts of a community chest is beyond us.

The feasibility of creating a community chest campaign for Sanford would naturally be investigated, planned, and explored by members of a committee appointed for just that purpose.

We are happy to see such a move being attempted. Naturally, we believe that the Sanford businessmen and merchants, as well as professional people and citizens, would welcome an opportunity to cooperate with such a plan.

My New York

NEW YORK — I don't want to embarrass anyone, but quick now, when was the last time you opened your Bible?

I am Holy Scripture-conscious today because I have been poking around in the affairs of the American Bible Society, which has a building in Fourth Avenue and a huge warehouse up in the Bronx where, the last time people looked, there were more than 100,000 Bibles, 200,000 Testaments and more than 25,000 Biblical records for the blind.

Those figures, however, represent quantity; the quality is contained in the society's library at Park Avenue, where there are more than 20,000 different Bibles in a thousand languages, ranging from Eskimo dialects to Pictian-Jatjars, which is not a new parlor game but rather a tongue spoken by certain Australians.

According to Margaret T. Hills the tall, slender, animated librarian of the society, it's a collection which in size probably is rivaled only by the British and Foreign Bible Society, in London.

"There are a number of libraries in America that have more collectors' firsts than we do," Miss Hills says a little ruefully, "—for instance, we have only two leaves of a Gutenberg Bible—but we're very proud of our 'American firsts', such as the 'Indian Bible', first printed in all of the Americas."

If you wander around Miss Hills' prized collection, you will find such items as this: 1475 Bible printed in Venice in Latin by Franciscus Renner de Halibur and Nicolaus de Frankfortia; the first Gospel printed in Tahitian (in 1818, with the help of the king of Tahiti), the first Bible printed in the Gilbert Islands (in 1963, with a little press sent down from Hawaii to Apalang) and the Nes Perce Matthew edition printed in 1848 in Clearwater, Ore., on a press sent up from Hawaii.

The collection was started 140 years ago, when the American Bible Society was organized, and it's not just a collector's item. Its purpose is to make available for many Bible texts and translations as possible.

"It also serves as a memorial," Miss Hills adds, "to the thousands of men and women who have struggled to learn strange and usually hitherto-unwritten languages, in order that they may give to others the words of the Bible in a language they can understand."

For 83 years the society and its library were housed in a 10-story, six-story building in downtown Manhattan—which only recently was sold to Cooper Union Institute. Its atmosphere has been described thusly by Mark Twain: "In the fifth story I found all sorts of compositors setting type in all manner of barbarous languages. Among them the Reverend Father Agapius, a Cossack by birth and a priest of the Greek church, was setting up the Gospels in translated of his work looks like ever so many elegant fishing worms out on a spree."

"They have 1,100 matrices for the Arabic characters; our alphabet and accompanying points require only about 20. Fancy an Arabic printer prowling through a case with 1,100 boxes in it and hoping to live the allotted years of man!"

The society was begun in 1805 to get Bibles into American homes whose British supply had been cut off by the Revolution and the War of 1812. It had its work cut

Have You Made Survival Kit?

By HAL BOTE
NEW YORK (A-Curtis) comments of a pavement flake: Have you made a survival kit to protect you against the hydrogen bomb?

Probably not.

People who live on the edge of a night in time come to fear the falling dark. So it is with us. We have dwelt so many years now under the pall of potential atomic death that we have become accustomed to its shadow.

It had to be that way. No human being can remain frightened forever; He cannot endure a permanent panic.

So it is we have come to look for the silver lining in the mortal mushroom that first threatened in terror over Hiroshima. Today we are fewer nightmares over what atomic power will do to mankind. We prefer to dream what it can do for mankind.

Therefore it comes as a rude shock when an atomic expert suggests it would be a good idea for every American to stock his automobile with a week's supply of groceries and water against the possibility of atomic attack.

The expert, Dr. Stafford L. Warren, director of atomic energy projects at the University of California at Los Angeles, revealed he has done so the last two years.

"In addition to canned goods," he said during an interview in Detroit, "I have bottles of water, a can opener, a hatchet, blankets, pliers, a tow rope and a 6-by-8-foot sheet of canvas in the trunk."

Obtaining, Dr. Warren believes is being prepared, and every man, of course, has a right to his own safety measures.

But one can only hope that an impressionable populace will refrain from learning to follow his example. Canned groceries are high enough already, and if 100 million Americans tried to stock a week's supply all at once, shortages might cost more than a dollar.

There would be a terrible shortage of can openers, too, for most houses usually have only one — and it rarely works.

But the biggest objection to everyone building a survival kit and turning his automobile into a portable bomb shelter is that it is a step back toward fear, a step away from hope.

Only a few days ago another expert told a congressional subcommittee that a single H-bomb could destroy a metropolitan area and contaminate 100,000 square miles with radioactive fall out.

In the face of such utter devastation of what real value are automobiles stocked with groceries? Of what avail are mountain hideaways of concrete caverns in the back yard?

The true peril of the awesome destructive potential of atomic lack rises above the problem of individual safety measures.

It is a collective problem: The fate of civilized mankind, not the fate of the civilized individual, is the all-important stake. The answer must be a world answer for if we have learned anything in this generation, we have learned that there can be no final individual security in an insecure world.

The best survival kit is the troubled atomic age can be carried about easily by anyone in his pocket, it doesn't require a car opener, and it will sustain you longer than a basement full of groceries.

As a matter of fact, it fits readily into the heart, and has for 2,000 years. It is the "Sermon on the Mount."

Chicken Pox Victim Should Be Isolated

By HENRY H. SAUNDERS, M.D.
WHILE EVERYONE gets chicken pox, even very young infants.

While not generally a serious disease — it sometimes goes completely unnoticed — the itching rash can be extremely annoying.

With a few precautions, you can make your youngster, or other patient, a little more comfortable, and protect him from possible secondary infections.

Isolation
Chicken pox may occur at any age, but in large towns and cities most victims are between 5 and 15 years old. It is caused by a virus closely related to that causing herpes zoster, or shingles.

The disease is highly infectious, and the victim must be isolated. It is spread by coming in contact with a person who has the disease, or with articles recently soiled by discharges from the nose, throat or skin of an infected person.

Your child may feel ill and have a slight fever a day or two before the familiar skin rash appears. There is no sore throat with chicken pox.

The incubation period ranges between 14 and 21 days, usually about 17 days. In some cases, the rash covers the entire body, even the scalp and the inside of the mouth. In others, the spots escape notice.

Put Him to Bed
In the majority of cases, all you have to do is put the patient to bed for a few days. Daily bathing in lukewarm water with a mild antiseptic is all times advised by your physician if the rash is profuse.

Scratching increases the chances of scarring, and might lead to secondary infection. To prevent this, keep the child's nails trimmed short with some disinfectant. It is advisable to keep the hands entirely covered.

Keep his clothing and bedding clean.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
A Reader: Is it possible for a girl to become malignant? There is a great tendency for some spots to become cancerous, depending on their location.

Answer: It is possible for a girl to become malignant. There is a great tendency for some spots to become cancerous, depending on their location.

You should have an examination made by your physician to determine whether or not the spot should be removed.

Home State Opposition Faces 1956 Candidates
California Alone Lists Three Potential Choices
Special to Central Press-Association

WASHINGTON — One of the more serious problems facing many of the potential candidates for the presidency this year is opposition in their home states. Politicians feel that solid home state support at a national convention is virtually a necessity for getting the nomination. Lack of it has knocked more than one candidate out of the running before. And most of the major campaigners are in trouble on this score.

Take the Republicans, for instance. If President Eisenhower decides to step down, the three most-discussed candidates all come from California — Vice President Richard Nixon, Chief Justice Earl Warren, and Senator William Knowland. If Warren were to give the word, the stated delegates would probably line up behind him. However, if he remains adamant against running, the other two Californians would probably fight it out with a divided delegation not at all unlikely.

The problem is much the same in the Democratic camp. In Tennessee, Gov. Frank G. Clement will try to get the delegation pledged to him rather than support presidential aspirant Senator Estes Kefauver.

A New York Gov. Averell Harriman has rounded up good support from county chairman in the state, but he has to buck a group of Democrats headed by former Secretary of the Air Force Thomas E. Dewey who favor Adlai Stevenson. This group, including Mrs. Anna Rosenberg and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, will command wide support.

Stevenson himself won't have a walkover in Illinois although the opposition to him there is much less pronounced. Downstate Democratic leaders are not at all happy with the way the Cook county (Chicago) party chiefs are handling affairs. And the main Stevenson drive comes from the Cook county group.

CALIFORNIA FOR IKE? — Don't be surprised if the White House announces in the near future that President Eisenhower will take a spring vacation at Palm Springs, Calif.

Insiders predict that the announcement will come shortly after Ike's mid-winter medical checkup, which is expected to give the Chief Executive an O.K. to resume playing full rounds of golf.

Those who are predicting that Ike will journey to Palm Springs base their reasoning on these points: Mr. Eisenhower thoroughly enjoyed his visit to the famed California desert resort two years ago, when he went there at the behest of his friend, Paul C. Hoffman.

The Palm Springs climate in early spring is more salubrious than that of Augusta, Ga., some of our holidaying for the President. The desert air is sufficiently secluded to assure him complete privacy.

ANOTHER TRY? — You can expect the Pentagon to renew its request this year for congressional permission to draft youths into its new reserve program. But, especially since this is a national election year, you can expect Congress to reject the request once more.

In 1955, Congress insisted that the armed forces would have to depend on volunteers as recruits in its program of giving young men six months of active military training, following which they would stay in the reserve for seven and one-half years. Members of the House and Senate argued that to make the program compulsory in any way would amount to Universal Military Training, which they oppose.

However, under the voluntary system, the armed forces have been having a tough time getting recruits—fewer than 1,000 in the Army and less than a thousand in the Marine. The Army's quota is 100,000 for the first year of the program and the Marines were supposed to have obtained 1,200 men in the last few months of 1955.

Therefore, the Pentagon will ask Congress once more for permission to draft youths into the reserve program—which is designed to give the United States a reserve force of about three million men by 1960. Congress still opposed to Universal Military Training and convinced the voters agree with it, will say no.

A Basic Cereal Breakfast Starts The Day Right

Start the day right with a basic cereal breakfast—and have a good morning! You'll short-change yourself in health and morale if you skip the day's most important meal.

You have starved yourself for at least 12 hours. So stick to a plan of three balanced meals a day; nutritionists recommend it as the only way to get all of the important foods you need—the vitamins, minerals, protein, and energy giving foods.

Get 1/2 in 1/2 of your day's food—and calories—at breakfast time, and you'll have a happier morning. You'll be able to turn out more work, you'll be more alert, you won't tire as easily.

What is a basic breakfast? Leading doctors and dietitians recommend a basic breakfast of fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter.

Here is an easy-to-prepare basic breakfast:

- Chilled Orange Juice
- Oatmeal with Milk
- Raisin Bran Muffins or Raisin Toast
- Butter

Milk Coffee
For variety and additional nutritional value substitute milk for one-half the water when cooking oatmeal.

Florida Symphony Orchestra At Halfway Mark, Still Busy

ORLANDO — The two-week period from Feb. 3 to Feb. 17 marks not only the halfway mark in the Florida Symphony Orchestra's 1956 season but just about as busy a concentrated schedule any major orchestra ever had.

By midnight, Feb. 7, the orchestra one of the nation's newest major orchestras, now in only its sixth season, will have played a total of 13 concerts in 14 days, four with a top-ranking guest artist sharing the spotlight with Conductor Frank Miller.

The busy fortnight began Friday with two concerts in Daytona Beach, one an afternoon youth concert for more than 2,000 school children. Cellist Leonard Rose, considered one of the country's most outstanding virtuosos, drew an ovation both Friday in Daytona and Saturday night in Orlando with his performance of the brilliant Saint-Saens Cello Concerto No. 1.

On Tuesday, Feb. 7, Tupperware Home Parties, Inc., national plastic containers distributing corporation, sponsors the orchestra in a special youth concert for school children of Osceola County in the auditorium of the Tupperware headquarters on Orange Blossom Trail north of Kissimmee.

Friday, Feb. 10, a third youth concert is scheduled for Mount Dora in Lake County at 1:45 p. m. followed by another major concert that night at 8 in the Mount Dora Community Bldg. featuring Brahms' majestic Symphony No. 1 and the fiery Spindard Manuel de Falla's glowing ballet score, "El Amor Brujo."

Hardly resting, the orchestra gives its fourth concert in the Orlando subscription Monday night Feb. 13, with Jorge Bolet, the dynamic Cuban-born pianist making his Florida debut in a performance of Prokofiev's Concerto No. 2 described by one critic as "the most exhaustingly virtuosic piano work of our century."

This program, which also includes Stravinsky's exciting Fire Bird Suit and the Ray Blas Overture by Mendelssohn, will be repeated for the Daytona Beach Symphony Society's subscription series in Peabody Auditorium Wednesday night, Feb. 15, at 8:30.

Tuesday, Feb. 14, two youth concerts are scheduled, one for Negro school children at Jones High School at 9:15 a. m. and the other for high school students at Howard Junior High at 1:45 p. m., both in Orlando.

Wednesday at 3:30 p. m. a special educational concert featuring Beethoven's First Symphony and the Fire Bird Suit will be presented at Stetson University in DeLand under the auspices of the School of Music.

The twelfth and thirteenth concerts of the 14-day period are two more youth concerts on Friday, Feb. 17, in Winter Park and Orlando.

You'll find there are about 36 large prunes in a pound.

IN THE INTEREST OF HIGHWAY SAFETY, FURTHER QUESTIONS ON THIS SUBJECT WILL BE FORTHCOMING REGULARLY FOR THE NEXT FEW WEEKS.)

Q. What is the purpose of the 1953 Financial Responsibility Law?

A. It is an act of the Legislature designed to protect the motoring public from the financially irresponsible driver who is either unwilling or unable to settle damage claims arising out of the use of a motor vehicle.

Q. To what extent is an automobile owner or operator liable under Florida's new Financial Responsibility Law?

A. The law requires that motor vehicle owners or operators involved in accidents resulting in death or injury to one or more persons or property damage amounting to $50 or more, to be liable for $10,000 for injury to one person - $20,000 to two or more persons and $5,000 for property damage.

Q. If I should become involved in an accident and have bodily injury and property damage inurance with minimum limits of $10,000 for injury to one person, $20,000 for two or more persons and $5,000 for property damage, what should I do to protect my driving privileges?

A. Request your insurance agent or company to file a special form he has for this purpose, known as SR-21, certifying that you have in all respects complied with Florida's Financial Responsibility Law.

Q. Does the Financial Responsibility Law apply to both the driver and owner of the vehicle involved in an accident resulting in injury to one or more persons or $50 in property damage?

A. Yes.

Q. What happens when a car owned by one person and driven by another is involved in an accident and neither the driver nor owner can or will comply with the Financial Responsibility Law?

A. The driver loses his privilege to drive and the owner loses the automobile tags and registration of all vehicles registered in his name.

Youth Takes Spotlight In 1955 Fashion Parade With Originality

Youth takes the spotlight in 1955 fashion honors. Three young designers who turn out the smart, thrifflily priced junior clothes that Young America likes to wear, receive fashion's "Winnie" award, the symbol of the American Fashion Critics Award. They are: Anne Klein of Junior Sophisticates, Jeanne Campbell of Sportswirl and Kasper of Arnold and Fox.

Presentations of the gold stilettes and the citations were made at a gala showing in New York's Costume Art Institute, in the Metropolitan Museum, at which each of the designers showed outstanding numbers from his current collection.

Anne Klein, who looks like a college girl but is a veteran designer, is known for her skill at creating the casual look in styles for all occasions, formal and informal. She does things like using a man's glen plaid for a feminine cocktail dress, putting white collar and cuffs on a chiffon dinner dress, and using sweaters for any hour of the day or night. Says she: "I design what I like to wear myself. I never like to look consciously dressed up, and apparently a lot of girls all over the country feel the same way."

Anne, who is the wife of Ben Klein, one of the partners who own her firm, is a slim size seven, has a black crew cut and a smile that charms everybody who comes within sight of it.

Jeanne Campbell is a young woman who also looks like a teenager but has been a recognized designer for 10 years and is the wife of a writer, Edward A. Campbell. She makes the kind of gay and inexpensive sportswear that college girls and their career girl sisters buy by the dozen. She has definite ideas about keeping things simple and a knack of anticipating what smart young women are going to want to wear next year.

"I've had fun with necktie stripes this year," she says. "I've done them in dresses and jackets and skirts and shirts—all kinds of things. They're fun."

Kasper, the designer for Arnold and Fox, is an artistic looking young man of 26 who studied in Paris, worked for a while as a

Teenagers, Here's New Party Idea

Why not an Oriental party? It'll be attuned to the Eastern ideas, fashionable now, and give you new opportunity for party ideas.

Invitations might be fan-shaped. Cut a large pie-wedge out of mat paper and scallop the edge to give a fan effect. Green or red mat paper and gold writing would be pretty. A fancy touch might be created by writing the invitation in liquid cement that takes to glitter dust. Several different colors might be used.

Dot the invitation with Japanese words . . .

Ocha-no-kai (Tea Party)
Jikan: 4 p. m.
Hashoi Susuy Smith's living-garden.

No interpreters will be needed. Convert your living room into an outdoor garden with Japanese or Chinese lanterns, large wall cutouts of colored paper painted or crayoned. Motifs could be fan, dragon, rickshaw boy, rice bowl, trees. Other ideas will come to talented young moderns.

Make up in the Eastern manner for fun. Pencil your eyebrows straight across with a slight tilt at the end, give your upper-outer eyelids a winged lift with an eyebrow pencil, darken lower lashes with eye pencil. Use mascara heavily on upper lashes to give more of a slant-eye look.

Make your mouth up straighter than usual wearing a ruby red lipstick, omitting the upper curve. The flawless skin look of the Oriental may be achieved with a good ivory powder and a ruby red lipstick. Use a deep red nail fisherman or nobleman outfits, depolish.

Girls might wear kimono, boys pending on whether you have a costume party or not. (And, yes girls, do not forget to bow to the worthy gentlemen.)

Chinese, Japanese or Burmese food may be served or you could stick to the tea party theme and serve tea and rice cakes. If guests put themselves to the trouble of dressing in costumes though, it should be worth a good meal.

You can find canned Chinese foods in grocery stores—chop suey, etc. But it is easy to make your own dishes with cooked leftover meat or fresh ingredients.

These recipes do not have to be exact. Work with the basic ingredients and they'll taste Oriental anyway. Serve any of these foods on rice.

Combine onions, celery, peppers. Fry. Add cubed ham (or canned ham loaf) and canned pineapple cut up in little pieces. Add pineapple juice, enough to moisten the rice.

Pork may be diced and cooked with onions, celery peppers, chop-free-lance designer and then found his niche in New York's Seventh Avenue. He shares the enthusiasm of his co-winners for the casual look, and does things like putting a black sweater top on a dance dress with a white satin skirt. His boeseblanck coat with leather tab fastening is a success in his current collection.

The citation given the three designers reads as follows: "Because of the increasing excellence of the young market and of the young designers making for their own age group, the committee wishes to recognize this development. It is proposed to give awards to three outstanding young designers as a special recognition to the whole young market. These three young designers were chosen not only for excellence of current collection but for backgrounds of several years' successful work."

In addition a special award was given to Adolf, military designer for the house of Emme, for his originality of design and fresh sense of color.

Although eagles are too small to carry off calves, they have been reported as making successful attacks on cattle in rare instances.

Colored News

Through the efforts of Mr. T. Aubrey Morse, Executive Secretary of the Florida District YMCA and Mr. J. Marion Harman Sr., Editor of The Sanford Herald, the Tri-Hi-Y club was organized in February, 1954, at Croona Academy.

Upon organizing, the club participated in its first State conference which was held at Jones High School of Orlando. There were only five delegates and their sponsor Mrs. D. Thomas from Croona High. The small group was greatly inspired and an all-out campaign was launched to increase its members. These interested young people nurtured their interest by sponsoring many worthwhile activities during their growth on the campus. Such activities as assembly programs, initiation week and a gala Halloween Carnival helped the club gain recognition as being one of the outstanding clubs on the campus.

Funds raised from the Halloween Carnival helped to make it possible for delegates to be sent to the 17th annual State conference in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida. This meeting was under the auspices of the local branch of the YMCA of that city. Twelve delegates were sent to the Ft. Lauderdale Conference. This was a happy time for the Tri-Hi-Y and Croona High returned triumphantly with two new officers. They are: Joyce Dean, State First Vice President and Betty Anderson, State Assistant Secretary. Both of these students are Juniors at Croona.

Progressing rapidly with high interest, the club decided on undertaking the big job of being host to the conference this year. Thus, the invitation was extended for the 17th annual State Conference to be held at Croona for the year 1958. Plans are now underway for the meeting which will convene on February 17, 18, and 19.

Youthful representatives will pour into Sanford from all points of Florida and the entertaining club here is soliciting the hospitality of the citizens of Sanford for these young folk who are pledging themselves to high ideals of finer manhood and womanhood.

The public is invited to attend the program on Friday night Feb. 17, at 8:00, the discussion group meeting on Saturday morning from 9:30 to 10:30, and on Sunday morning, Dr. Richard V. Moore, President of Bethune Cookman College will be the keynote speaker on Friday night. Everyone is urged to attend and hear Dr. Moore.

The group speakers are: Mrs. W. R. Croona, Retired Teacher of Sanford, will speak on "Proper Family Relations"; Mrs. E. W. Sherry, Supervisor of Volusia County Schools, will speak on "Preparing for the Future"; Rev. R. M. Hodges, Pastor of Saint Paul Missionary Baptist Church, will speak on "Unity with Christ"; H. O. Lang of Miami, will speak on "Forward Together in Integration".

The officers of local school clubs are: Betty Anderson, President of Tri-Hi-Y Juniors; Sylvester Harrington, president of Hi-Y Senior; and advisors, Mrs. D. A. Thomas and W. A. Ashly.

GIVE NEW GLAMOUR TO OLD LENT FAVORITE

Put up an old Lenten favorite, Macaroni and Cheese, by giving it new glamor with a new and better cheese sauce and fresh chopped tomatoes. Use plenty of cheese in the sauce to make your casserole really good.

A delicious cheese sauce can be made easily, too. By using better evaporated milk you don't have the fuss and bother of making a cream sauce. Camaroni Company has given us a recipe for cheese sauce that takes but three minutes to prepare. Grated cheese and milk are added to undiluted evaporated milk . . . when the cheese melts you have a perfect cheese sauce!

Chopped fresh tomatoes and green pepper add new flavor to Macaroni and Cheese casserole and a few slices of tomato and ripe olives put on top before it goes into the oven make it attractive enough for company dinner.

A fresh salad of clementines and pineapple topped with a whipped fruit dressing, a green vegetable, if you like, and dessert will make this Lenten dinner one your family will enjoy.

The recipe for nutritious and economical Tomato-Cheese-Macaroni Casserole includes directions for Three-Minute Cheese Sauce.

TOMATO-CHEESE-MACARONI CASSEROLE
(Serves 4-6 persons)

1 cup dried macaroni
1 cup dried green pepper
1 cup dried tomato
1 cup dried onion
1 cup dried mushroom

1/2 cup dried green pepper
1/2 cup dried tomato
1/2 cup dried onion
1/2 cup dried mushroom

Simmer evaporated milk and salt in saucepan over low heat to just below the boiling point (2 minutes). Add cheese and stir until thickened and smooth (2 minutes). Stir in macaroni and Worcestershire sauce. Combine remaining ingredients in a large mixing bowl. Add cheese sauce. Combine thoroughly. Place in buttered 1 1/2 quart casserole. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 30 to 40 minutes.

Smith Designated Forest Service Woodland Manager

Joseph R. Smith of Punta Gorda has been tabbed by the Florida Forest Service as for-ester for a new woodland management project covering Seminole, Orange, and Lake counties. Smith's function will be to provide free woodland management assistance to any timberland owner in the three-county area who requests it. He'll be available to each landowner for up to three days a year to assist him in marking and marketing his timber, setting up an integrated long-range forest management plan, planting and providing for natural reseedling, protecting woodland from fire, guarding against and treating for insects and diseases, killing off undesirable wood trees, and other forest management practices.

The new project is jointly financed by the three counties and the Florida Board of Forestry, which directs the activities of the Florida Forest Service. It's the first time a farm forester has been available to landowners in Orange and Seminole counties; Lake County landowners have enjoyed a farm forester's services under another arrangement for some time.

Grand Jury Begins Deliberations Today

An 18-man Seminole County Grand Jury began its deliberations this morning shortly after 10 o'clock.

Only two investigations are believed to be on the docket for the group of jurors headed by James Carl Bennett as foreman and Howard Faville as vice-foreman.

Other members of the Grand Jury are: J. Martin Stinecoper, Jake T. Newberry, Edson Golt, William Bradley, Colombo A. Farina, John D. Callahan, Samuel B. Crowe, Bill E. Glenn, Leonard W. Hodges Jr., Homer M. Gleason, W. Frank Garner, Daniel A. Harris, William D. Harden, H. Gregory McIntosh, Benjamin F. Whittier Jr., and Wilbur N. Goodall.

Investigators Find VA System Abuse

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Olin E. Teague D-Tex said today federal investigators have found "some very flagrant" abuse of the system of free Veterans Administration medical care for penniless veterans.

Teague, chairman of the House Veterans Affairs Committee, received the report from the General Accounting Office. He said he is so concerned that he may make public the names of some of the veterans involved, as a means of detecting the abuse.

A 30-year-old housewife was brutally beaten Wednesday night shortly before 1 o'clock and left unconscious in the kitchen of her three room frame dwelling.

Her husband is charged with aggravated assault awaiting the outcome of the woman's condition. She is confined at the Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Deputy Sheriff Ed Pratt said this morning that he found Jack Lanier, a 35-year-old farmer, hiding in his Ford pickup truck, when he arrived at the scene of the beating on South Sanford avenue, near Lake Jessup.

Pratt said the husband was armed with a .32 calibre pistol hidden in his trousers pocket. Three shells that were snapped on were found in the pistol.

The deputy sheriff said that he found Mrs. Kitty Lanier lying on the kitchen floor of the dwelling, unconscious. Her upper front teeth had been knocked out, she had bruises on her face, left arm and shoulder, and later complained of internal injuries.

When the deputy sheriff found the 30-year-old woman lying on the floor at her clothes from the waist up had been torn off.

After sending the injured woman to the local hospital, Pratt said, a shotgun fully loaded and a 22 automatic rifle loaded with 15 rounds of ammunition were found hidden under the front corner of the three room home.

Lanier admitted, Pratt said, shooting into the ceiling of the front room of the home. However, the Deputy Sheriff revealed that there were five possible bullet holes in the ceiling.

The 33-year-old man also admitted, said Deputy Sheriff Pratt, to the brutal beating of his wife and leaving her on the floor of the kitchen. Pratt said that the two of them were apparently under the influence of alcoholic beverages.

Lanier is being held in the Seminole County Jail. In default of a $2,000 bond, charged with "aggravated assault," awaiting the outcome of his wife's condition.

Rotarians To Hear Highly Discussed Question At Meet

Rotarians and their guests at the meeting this coming Monday noon at the Yacht club will hear discussed a question that many have asked when Carl Distelhorst, Executive Vice President of the Florida Savings and Loan League, talks on the topic Where Does Money Come From?

The speaker is the author of many articles on financial and economic subjects and has made an extensive study of the government bond field.

Prior to coming to Florida he served as Executive Vice President of the American Savings and Loan Institute, a leader in the finance schooling field and one that each year holds a graduate study course at Indiana University. Mr. Distelhorst has been widely commended by economists, educators and financial men for the thorough coverage of subject matter related to their fields as it is presented in this extensive teaching program.

The recent tactics of the U. S. Treasury department in its efforts to curb a trend that many thought bordered on inflation and their effects on the financial markets make Mr. Distelhorst's topic one of absorbing interest at this time, it was said by Charlie Morrison, program chairman.

RUSSELL DALLAS, HEAD of the City of Sanford's Utility Department tries out the new Electronic Pipe & Valve Locator and Leak Detector. Quintus Ray, Water Distribution Foreman looks on.

Electronic Device Will Locate Pipes

A small device, no larger than an overnite case or portable typewriter when folded and packed for carrying, has saved the City of Sanford thousands of dollars in the locating of pipes, valves, leaks and other water facilities sometimes hidden from the eyes of those searching for them in order to complete repairs.

Russell Dallas, head of Sanford's Utility Department, demonstrated the use of the "Electronic Pipe and Valve Locator and Leak Detector", yesterday as he planned to make the radio-type equipment a part of the permanent equipment of the city.

The battery-operated gadget with a small transmitter on one end of a metal rod and a receiver on the other end, will locate a plugged sewer, determine where a valve is located, determine the depth of a pipe, locate manholes, the exact location of a pipe, locate leaks, and the length or direction of a pipe.

"The gadget has many uses," said Dallas as he demonstrated how each of the operations is completed and how the location by tone is done.

The operator of the electronic device, which is manufactured by Lory Manufacturing Company of California, wears a head phone through which he receives the tone signals denoting the location of a pipe, leak, valve or clogged sewer.

"It is very simple to operate," Dallas said, "and at the same time will save the City thousands of dollars in man hours and in labor costs."

"With the use of the Electronic Pipe and Valve Locator and Leak Detector we can determine the exact location of a pipe, valve, leak, or whatever we are looking for and dig only the necessary trench to repair or replace pipes or valves," Dallas commented.

Already on French Ave. in trying out the device, Dallas revealed, "We have been able to save an unestimated expense in locating pipe that has been in the ground for years."

"It is a wonderful thing and a very valuable addition to the equipment of the City," Dallas concluded.

Shirley Is Wanted By FBI Officials, Telegram Reveals

John Riley Shirley, 33-year-old white man, who rented a room at 803 West First St., is wanted by the FBI, according to local police authorities, who were notified by telegram this morning from the office of J. Edgar Hoover.

Shirley was tracked to his rented room by Sanford Police Department officers and Constable J. Q. Galloway and taken into custody when charged in a warrant for breaking and entering to commit a misdemeanor.

The telegram, directed to Police Chief Roy Williams, stated that Shirley is wanted by authorities of the State Board of Corrections in Atlanta, Ga., as an escapee from the Jefferson Prison Farm at Louisville, Ga. on August 9, 1955.

Chief Williams said this morning that the FBI authorities are asking that Shirley be held following prosecution and disposition of his case here.

It was also revealed this morning that Shirley had made away with a pair of expensive binoculars taken from the car of his foreman for whom he worked in a pole crew for the Florida Power Corp.

A large crowd of over 1,300 fans turned out to the Sanford-Orlando Women's Club last night to make the first annual charity night a smashing success. Jerry Collins, new operator of the track who originated the charity night said that in excess of $5,000 would be given to Orange and Seminole County charities as the result of the benefit program.

"Our mutual handle last night was $19,322.00 and that represents by far the best Thursday night track history," said Collins. "We won't have the final figures as yet but I can promise the participating groups that it will run over $5,000. That's the largest sum ever given to charity by a Florida dog track on a single night."

John Dallas easily picked up his fifth win in the featured charity handicap.

3 Stores Damaged In Fire Yesterday

LIVE OAK (AP)—A $100,000 fire here yesterday badly damaged three stores in the downtown business section.

The blaze swept through the two-story building housing Eagle Department Store, McLeod's and 10-cent store, Harry DuPre Cash Store and upstairs apartment. Two adjoining buildings had some water damage.

Fire Chief Luke Hadden, who made the damage estimate, said the fire was believed to have started in the rear of the McLeod store but that the cause was undetermined.

Funds Are Needed For Sanford Mfg. Co. To Remain In City

Sanford Merchants Association members yesterday reached a stalemate in efforts to provide funds with which to erect a proposed building for Sanford Manufacturing Company.

However, a renewed campaign will get underway immediately, according to Forest Breckenridge, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, and Don Bales chairman of the Chamber's Industrial Committee, to secure the necessary loans to complete the building plans necessary for the Sanford Manufacturing Company's needs for expansion.

Merchants attending the meeting were told that should the funds not be provided, the already growing firm will find it necessary to move to another city, several of which are bidding for the industry.

Sanford Manufacturing Company, merchants were told, employs over 60 workers with a weekly payroll exceeding $2,500. According to expansion plans to meet the growing demand for the firm's products, the number of employees will be doubled, as a minimum, with a weekly payroll possibly exceeding $7,500.

T. E. Tucker, president of the Florida State Bank, told the Merchants Association that the Small Business Administration has indicated an interest in providing a portion of the necessary construction funds, with the Florida State Bank also interested in providing a loan for a portion of the funds.

Breckenridge reported to the merchants, meeting to consider the matter, that the building cost has been determined and estimated at $45,000. A loan of $5 per cent of the building cost would come to $2,250 with Sanford Manufacturing Company providing an additional $3,000.

"Local capital required to assure the construction would come from the merchants," said Breckenridge.

A first mortgage would be extended the lending organizations with local investors holding a second mortgage on buildings plus a first mortgage on an estimated $25,000 worth of new equipment.

The present facilities are bulging," Breckenridge said, and the firm is turning down orders every day because of the lack of space for additional employees and much needed equipment.

"Unless the local capital is provided," said Breckenridge, "Sanford Manufacturing Company will be forced to move to another city taking a valuable payroll with it."

School, Community Intimation Urged By Pro. Merriam

Prof. Harold C. Merriam, State University, in his talk before the P-T-A County Council, Thursday night at Pinecrest School urged the use of every possible means of communication between the schools and the community.

"This," he stated, "is a must for the survival of both."

Heading the list of means of communication, Mr. Merriam named the attitude of the student concerning his schooling, and he urged both parents and teachers to pay special attention to this situation. Other methods mentioned were radio, TV, newspapers, and conversations either by telephone or personal contact.

The speaker declared that both the schools and the community should use the aforementioned mediums, and that school students be informed of the civic activities going on about them. "Tele-vision," he vowed, "can offer more to a student than an actual field trip to some place in the community or state. The entire world can be brought to the eyes of the student through the medium of communication," he stated.

Mrs. Roy Mann spoke earlier in the evening before the members of the P-T-A. Among the accomplishments of P-T-A, as named by Mrs. Mann were the extension of the probation system for juveniles, the promotion of the Pure Food Bill, censorship of motion pictures, parent education, the raising of the minimum salary of the school teacher, rehabilitation of children, and the passage of laws for the benefit and general welfare of children.

Mrs. Mann further stated that in recent years many dangerous symptoms have appeared in P-T-A. She named these as boredom, dissatisfaction among its members, the urging that the individual P-T-A's meet these problems by improving their meetings and by having more participating members.

Mrs. J. B. St. John, County Council president, presided over the Founders' Day meeting and introduced the distinguished guests, included among these were members of the board of instruction, the board of trustees, former county school principals and P-T-A presidents. On hand for this was Mrs. Pearl Hansell, the first county council president.

Mrs. St. John announced that the birthday cake was being sent to Mrs. Emma Cokson of Lake Monroe, who was a member of the first National P-T-A, which was then called the Mother's Club.

Harry Weir president of Pinecrest P-T-A greeted the assembly, Mrs. Grady Herman gave the devotional and Mrs. W. E. Giles introduced the speaker, Mrs. J. P. Wilson was in charge of arrangements.

Special Service Is Slated Sunday To Honor Scouts

The First Methodist Church will hold a special service Sunday honoring the Boy Scout Troop 34, and the Cub Scout Troops 34 and 10. All of the Troop Leaders and the parents of the Scouts will attend this service. There will be a special sermon by the Rev. Milton H. Wyatt on the Boy Scout Movement and the responsive reading will be built around the Scout Oath.

The special emphasis of the Boy Scouts during the next year will be "God and Country." The badge for "God and Country" is one of the most cherished of the honor badges that may be received.

'Velvet-Voiced' Slayer Captured

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Indiana officers were bringing to San Francisco today to return Leslie (Mad Dog) Irvin, velvet-voiced slayer of six who was captured quietly in a pawn shop on Market Street yesterday.

Irvin, 31-year-old Evansville pipe insulator sought throughout the nation, was picked up when he tried to unload two diamond rings he admittedly took from a home at Redondo Beach, near Los Angeles.

"I wasn't too surprised," he said in an interview, "I've been expecting to get picked up for quite a while."

His arrest was coincidental. Inspectors John O'Keefe and Leo Ferragiaro dropped in on the Market at Third Street pawnshop routinely. Said O'Keefe: "He acted suspiciously, as if he didn't belong to the diamond."

Irvin, who was unarmed, produced identification of Victor Davis of Los Angeles, pianist with Tex Williams' Western orchestra. He spent one night, Jan. 28, at Davis' apartment after thumbing a ride with the pianist.

Irvin had hitchhiked from Princeton, Ind., where he escaped Jan. 13 from the Gibson County Jail.

Irvin was convicted Dec. 29 of fatally shooting W. Wasley Kerr, Evansville filling station attendant. He was charged also with slaying five others: Mrs. Mary Holland; Mrs. Wilhelmina Baller, in her country home near Solitude, Ind.; and three members of the Goebel Duncan farm family, near Henderson, Ky.

He was awaiting transfer to Michigan City, Ind., for execution June 12.

Arrested here, Irvin was taken to the Hall of Justice and booked simply "on route to Los Angeles," a holding charge.

"After we told him we had talked to Victor Davis, he said, 'You want to know who I really am?' Then he said he was Leslie Irvin and wanted to Indiana for killing six people," O'Keefe said.

"I wouldn't hurt anybody," Irvin said. "All the way out here I got along fine with people and they were very nice. I was recognized twice that I'm sure of, once by a motorist outside Springfield, Mo. and by a truck driver at Cozad—that's in Nebraska. But I knew he was calling police so I left in a hurry."
