They Agree It's Political Decision

Seminole Officials Not Fighting Lab Move

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

The decision has been made. The new Central Florida Crime Laboratory will be built at the state's service center in downtown Orlando.

And Seminole County officials won't fight the Orlando site designation.

"The decision was a political one," both Sheriff John Polk and state Rep. Bobby Brantley, R-Longwood, believe.

"We would have a good chance of winning if we fought," Polk said. "But I'm afraid we would hurt law enforcement and maybe lose a new crime lab all together."

Brantley said with state revenues coming in at less than expected levels, there might be some sentiment to hold off building a new lab or moving the current lab out of its Sanford headquarters.

"Any efforts at this point to try and have the new lab built in Seminole County are futile," the legislator said.

The most that could be done would be to stop construction of the new facility, Brantley said. Polk added he doesn't want to see that.

Lake Mary Mayor Walter Sorenson said Lake Mary offered a site for the new $3.2 million facility on a long-term, 99-year lease arrangement and the state obviously didn't wish to take advantage of the offer.

"We did that and it's done," he said. "The decision is made and it's time to stop kicking a dead horse."

Lake Mary City Manager Phil Kulbes said the councilmen lost interest and none has expressed a desire to fight or appeal the decision.

During the 18 months since then-state Rep. Robert Hattaway, D-Altamonte Springs, pushed through legislation in the Florida House to have a new crime lab included in the appropriations budget, Florida Department of Law Enforcement officials have said while they favored an Orlando site, no site had been definitely selected. They insisted the Lake Mary site remained in the running.

Law enforcement agencies from all of Central Florida, with the exception of the Orlando Police Department and the Orange County Sheriff's Department, endorsed the Lake Mary site.

Hattaway had the Lake Mary site included in the appropriations bill, but the designation was removed in the legislation in the state Senate. Hattaway continued to say, however, he had a gentlemen's agreement that the Lake Mary site would be chosen. Less than a week after he was defeated in a state Senate bid by Toni Jennings of Orlando, however, the Orlando site was designated.

FDLE Commissioner Bill Dempsey said in a press conference at the Sanford Crime Lab last week that Orlando was chosen because a large percentage of the laboratory's work is for Orange County law enforcement.

One day before the announcement, Polk and Maitland Police Chief John Erwin went to Tallahassee for a conference with Dempsey and showed him statistics that immediately adjacent counties, including Seminole, Brevard, Osceola, Volusia and some others, submitted the bulk of the lab's work.

Polk pointed out that all the law enforcement agencies in those counties and the majority of agencies in Orange preferred the Lake Mary site.

Polk said today that Orlando Mayor Bill Frederick on a radio talk show last week admitted the decision was political — that Orlando had been competing with Seminole County for the lab and won.

Polk said state Sen. George Stuart, D-Orlando, used his political influence in Tallahassee to get the lab in Orlando.

Dan Miller, assistant director for the state crime laboratory services, said the announcement of the Orlando site designation was agreed to by Gov. Bob Graham's office prior to last week's Sanford press conference.

The issue does not have to go before the Cabinet, Miller said.

While the state is looking to cut funding for various projects, the new crime laboratory for Central Florida doesn't appear to be one of them, Miller said.

Polk said during the past year Seminole County has had 3,014 cases including $75 from the county's seven cities that could have gone to the lab. But only 160 of those cases were sent to the crime lab.

"The crime lab is under staffed and needs space, so we handled most of our own cases," Polk said. "All of our people are expert witnesses in given fields."

"The site was decided long before the announcement was made. A member of the FDLE let it slip to me. I just hope now it is built as soon as possible," Polk said.

You're Not Too Old For Games

Despite threatening skies, 94 men — including a 98-year-old from North Shore Park — and 17 women participated in track and field events Saturday to conclude the 1982 Golden Age Games in Sanford.

The 12 events at Seminole High School ranged from a 50-yard dash, a 100-yard dash, 220-yard and 440-yard dashes and a 1-mile run to the discus throw, football throw, running long jump, shot put, softball hit, softball throw and high jump.

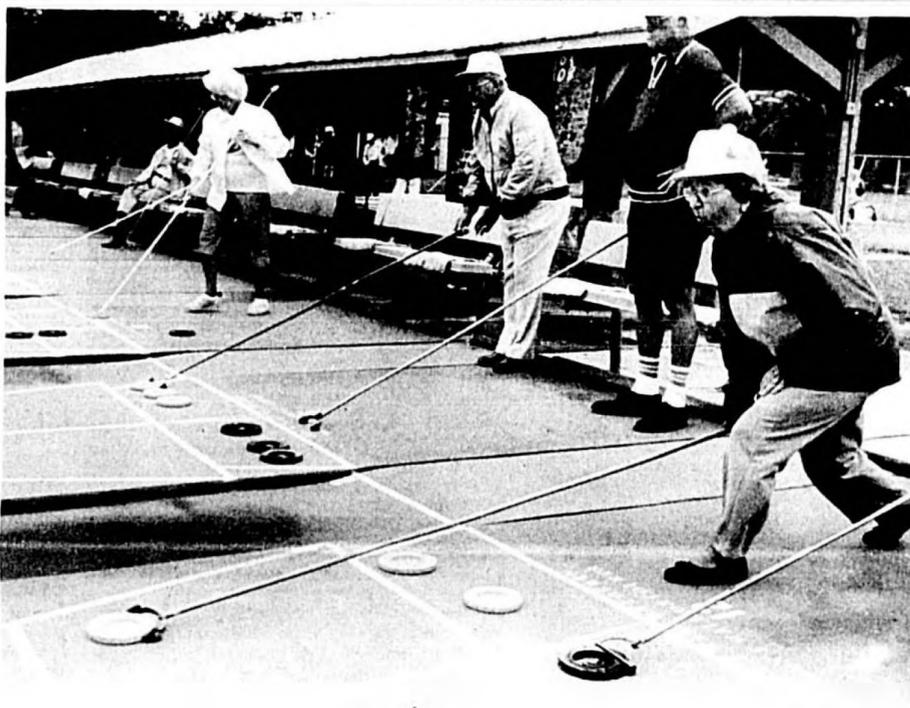

And some of the participants had been in training for the entire year in preparation for the competitions at the eighth annual event. Others had traveled across the nation participating in other senior athletic events.

Frank Broadwell, 98, a member of the North Shore Kiwanis Club, had come to the games specifically to take part in the football throw, the softball hit and the softball throw.

Goldie Kosac, 67, along with 30 seniors from Ellenton all whom live in the Colony Cove retirement community in Ellenton had been practicing and training since last year's events.

Bill Ott, a gold medal winner in various activities, was at his third Golden Age Games and had encouraged his friends and neighbors to get in shape for the events, said Mrs. Kosac.

Games Contestants And Merchants Happy

As the dust settles on the Eighth Annual Post Fun 'N Fitness Golden Age Games in Sanford, officials are pronouncing this year's senior citizens event as "the biggest and best yet" and looking forward to next year's competition.

Games General Chairman Jim Jernigan said the best part of this year's event was the response from participants and how pleased they were with the overall operation and their reception from the community.

"Everything went good and we had no complaints," he said. "The whole community is now involved. The local people realize it is a national event and is bringing national recognition to the community," Jernigan said, adding that "the Games bring an estimated $200,000 boost to the local economy."

The last event — horseshoes — didn't end until 5:30 p.m. Saturday because there were so many entries. There were close to 100 entered in horseshoes. There were about 120 entries in the track and field events Saturday morning as compared to 70-80 last year. Even the small events attracted more entries. Archery, which has about three entries when it began last year, had 25-30 this year. Two new events, the racewalk and leisure walk also were a success.

There were approximately 3,000 men and women 55 and over entered in this year's games and most were as enthusiastic and optimistic as 98-year-old Fred Broadwell of St. Petersburg.

Broadwell, was entered in the football and softball throws and softball hitting.

"When I get too old to play baseball, he said, "I'm going to umpire." And when he's not playing ball, he has a 92-year-old girlfriend to occupy his time. "I'm just 98 from the neck up," he said.

"I'm extremely pleased with Dorothy Langkop," said Jack Horner, president of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, which co-sponsored the Games.

"She was an outstanding honorary chairperson. She visited all the events and her personality and attitude were an inspiration to the contestants.

"The General Foods executives who were here for the first two days were extremely pleased with the conduct of the Games and indicated they will take that message back to those who will make the decision on renewing their sponsorship next year," Horner said.

"I contacted local merchants and they said they had definitely noticed an increase in shoppers during the Games," said Horner, adding that motel occupancy was also up.

"We had extensive new coverage. The British Broadcasting Corporation, taped the dancing and decathlon, Cablevision is preparing a special, Nautilus is making a 30-minute special and there will be coverage on the national sports cable network, as well as the three local channels," Horner said. "And the newspapers did a great job."

GE To Locate Robot Plant In Plymouth

The worldwide headquarters for General Electric's automation systems department will locate in a 220,000-square-foot facility in Plymouth, which is about 15 miles southwest of Sanford.

William Werfelman of General Electric made the announcement of the new department location at a press conference in Orlando this morning.

He said the department markets industrial robots. The robots are designed for assembly, arc and spot welding and process applications, such as grinding, polishing and deburring at the Plymouth facility.

Until last July, GE manufactured miniature lamps and flash cubes for the company's lighting business group on the 60-acre site.

One hundred, mostly professional and technical persons, will be employed at the plant, Werfelman said.

Automation Systems Department includes the Intelligent visions systems operations based in Syracuse, N.Y., and the robot application consulting group in Schenectady, N.Y. Each operation will remain in its respective location.

The Plymouth plant will be the world-wide headquarters. Werfelman said the company's robotics department in 1982 will earn about $170 million. GE entered the robot market just over a year ago.

The Industrial Development Commission of Mid-Florida has been working closely with GE. — DONNA ESTES.

Seminole Schools Seek Budget Cuts

By MICHAEL BEHA
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County school administrators are looking at the district's $113.5 million budget with an eye toward cutting $1.37 million.

Superintendent Robert Hughes said the latest round of budget cuts by the state will reduce the contributions to local school districts by 2.5 percent.

This reduction and an earlier 2 percent cut will reduce Seminole County's funding by $2.47 million.

The cuts are necessary because of a short-fall in revenues from the state's 1-cent increase in the sales tax. Half of the sales tax increase is designated for use by the schools.

Hughes said the areas being examined by local administrators are replacement of school buses, furniture, equipment and furnishings and travel by school personnel.

The district already eliminated 50 percent of its planned bus replacement in the first round of budget cutting. This time, Hughes said, that budget item may be eliminated entirely.

"We really need those things," he said. "They will all cost us more next year."

A reduction in personnel will not result from the budget cuts, he said.

"Layoffs are out of the question," Hughes said.

One area where significant cuts can be made is the district's funds to individual schools.

"We currently give them $12.50 per pupil," Hughes said. "We're looking at a cut of $5.50 per student."

Hughes said the state School Superintendents Association has asked the state to give local districts more flexibility in using funds given to the counties by the state.

He cited as an example the state's primary education program. Funds for the program are given by the state. Funds for the general school program also are given by the state but the money in the specific categories cannot be used to compensate for the reduction in the general funding.

Hughes said the 2.5 percent reduction may not be the last one to hit the schools. In the latest round of cuts, state officials were discussing a possible 5 percent reduction.

But he said the chances of another cut are slim because the state's revenue projections are improving.

The $402.5 million deficit already projected is because "the projections were based on the recession bottoming out in July," Hughes said.

State officials now say it will be March before the recession ends.

NATION IN BRIEF

Saving Social Security: A $200 Billion Patchwork

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Top lawmakers say an answer to the $200 billion question of how to rescue Social Security likely will be a patchwork combination of many options proposed by a presidential commission.

Those options include:
— Accelerating payroll tax hikes scheduled to take effect in 1986 and 1990, and allowing workers to deduct the additional levy from their income tax. The payroll tax, now 6.7 percent, is to rise to 7.65 percent in 1990.
— Delaying the annual cost-of-living adjustment, now paid each July, by three months, either gradually or all at once. A three-month delay could save $30 billion or more by 1983.
— Extending Social Security to include new federal workers and employees of non-profit organizations, which would raise $21 billion by 1990.

Ex-CIA Agent On Trial

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (UPI) — Fire months ago, ex-CIA agent Edwin Wilson was living in a posh hideaway in Tripoli, a fugitive from U.S. charges of smuggling arms to Libya and training Libyan terrorists.

Today, the multi-millionaire businessman — having been brought back to the United States — stands trial in a case that could serve as the basis for a genuine spy thriller.

Wilson, 54, is charged with illegally supplying a Libyan intelligence officer in Europe with four revolvers and an automatic rifle. One of those weapons is said to have been used in the slaying of a Libyan dissident in Bonn.

Charges in the other pending trials, two in Washington and one in Houston, include conspiracy to commit murder, illegal export of high explosives, and recruitment of ex-Green Berets to train Libyan "hit men."

Mayors To Discuss Economy

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mayors of 17 major cities, many of them Democrats facing growing unemployment from the recession, said they do not intend to challenge the Reagan administration at their conference today but will try to produce a national economic recovery plan.

Economists and labor leaders were scheduled to meet with the municipal executives. The mayors' agenda includes a discussion of the impact of the recession, including issues such as high-interest rates, which have made it difficult for some cities to enter the bond market, housing and employment programs.

Biker Rivalry Developing For '83 Golden Games

By MICHAEL BEHA
Herald Staff Writer

Beware Bill Duckworth! John Sinibaldi is after your titles. Duckworth, 70, of Orlando, was the winner of the quarter-mile and half-mile bicycling events at this year's Golden Age Games.

But next year, he'll have to go against St. Petersburg's John Sinibaldi, who won the same events plus the 5-mile race in the 65-69 age group.

Sinibaldi will be 70 by next year's games but don't expect him to be much slower. He's nearly as fast now as he was 50 years ago when he represented the United States in the 1932 Olympics in cycling.

"I train about 200 miles a week," he said. "And then there's training for the sprints. You can't train for the long distances the same way you do for the sprints."

Sinibaldi didn't place in the 1932 Olympics or the 1936 Olympics in Berlin. "But I was proud just to get into the competition."

A series of elimination races was held to pick the teams, he said. From about 6,000 competitors, the U.S. team of four cyclists was chosen.

Sinibaldi's best performance came in 1935. "I set a record in a 100-kilometer race. But they said the course was a little short so they gave me the same title for a 60-mile course instead. I still hold that record," Sinibaldi said.

In those Olympic years Sinibaldi was competing in everything from 100-meter sprints to 100-mile races. "We ran in everything, it didn't matter what," he said.

"The years have not dulled his competitive spirit. 'I've been riding with the U.S. Senior team,'" he said. "They really tire you out."

Sinibaldi tired out the competition in the cycling events. He recorded a time of 41.62 seconds in the quarter-mile, 1 minute 27.7 seconds in the half-mile and 14 minutes 34 seconds in the 5-mile race.

By comparison, Duckworth recorded a time of 42:65 seconds in the quarter-mile race, and 1:26:08 in the half-mile.

William Wiseman, 57, of Eustis, was the only competitor to best Sinibaldi in the quarter-mile, with a time of 40:87 seconds.

In the five-mile race, Francis Underwood, 59, of Orlando, recorded a 14:44 time, 10 seconds off Sinibaldi's time.

Sinibaldi was seconds faster than any competitors in the half-mile.

John Sinibaldi, 69, of St. Petersburg, pedals across the finish line first in the half-mile bicycle race Friday in the Golden Age Games.

"I'll be back," Sinibaldi said.

One competitor, 70-year-old H.W. Williams of Auburndale, who won the 5-mile race and placed second in the quarter-mile, was setting a blistering pace in the half-mile when a tire on his bicycle came loose from the rim, sending Williams sprawling across the track. He was uninjured in the accident and repaired his bike within minutes.

Oviedo Man, 24, Charged In Fatal Shooting

A 24-year-old Oviedo man has been charged with the February shooting death of another Oviedo man and is being held in the Seminole County jail today without bond.

Charles William Francis, of 540 First St., who is also known as Charles Williams and "Bullet," was arrested at 9:10 a.m. Sunday in connection with the shooting death of Dennis Roger Golden, 23, of 622 Aulin Ave., Oviedo police said. Francis is charged with second-degree murder in connection with the shooting and was transported to Seminole County from the Delaware Correctional Facility where he had turned himself in.

According to police, Golden was shot at about 9 p.m. Feb. 8 after he and another man were arguing at Browdy's Store on E. Broadway St. in Oviedo.

Mrs. Kosac won four gold medals in competition and participated in the football and baseball throws and the softball hit and 50-yard dash Saturday.

Mary Schanzle, 58, of Palatka was attending her fifth annual games. "I love it and the people," she said. "We all get good companionship."

She has won 20 gold medals over the years and her husband, in the 70-year-old class, was also taking part in track and field events.

"This is what keeps me from going off my rocker," said Marie Louise Holbert of Kirkwood, Mo. A widow for two years, she said she has been participating in various golden age games across the country.

"This is my first year here," she said, explaining she attended similar games elsewhere last year. Her major interest is biking, where she won a gold medal. But she also signed up for four track and field events.

"There's no rocking chair for me," said Charles Bland of Sorrento, who has participated in all eight annual games. "It's the challenge I like," he said. "I like to see what I can do and how long I can do it as I get older. The important thing is not to stop."

He said during his high school years he couldn't participate in sports. "I was too short and too fat," said the trim and tan 65-year-old Bland.

Blank took part in four track and field events and earlier in the week won a gold medal.

Frank Furniss, 75, of Marion, Ohio, says the games provide him with exercise and give him something to look forward to all year.

But he doesn't stop with the Sanford games where he has won 17 medals. He holds one U.S. record in senior competition and 22 state records. — DONNA ESTES.

Cleaning Up In Politics

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The going price was a quarter for large posters from the last election and a dime for small ones, but the money meant more than small change for a police officer, a father with children in school and a retired man.

All took to the streets to collect the tattered campaign posters and redeem them at the Philadelphia offices of Sun Oil Co., which offered the money as part of its "Responsible Citizenship Program."

"Last year, people did it as a kind of a civic thing," said Gloria Schwartz, who helped coordinate the program. "Children came in with their parents and the children would bring in four or five posters, sometimes a couple dozen."

No children took part this year and the smallest number of posters redeemed was about 300, she said.

"It was just a totally different thing this year. People did it for the money rather than a lark or just to do something to help clean up," she said. "They were very serious about this."

Among the scavengers was a retired man who redeemed nearly 2,000 posters, a police officer and a man who said he needed money for his children's tuition, Ms. Schwartz said.

Legislature Back In Town

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — The Legislature organizes this week with Senate President Curtis Peterson and House Speaker Lee Moffitt appointing committee chairmen and telling rank-and-file members what to expect for the next two years.

The newly-reappointed Legislature coming to town Tuesday for a one-day organizational session will have a far different look than previous legislatures.

There are more newcomers than in 10 years, the last time the Legislature was reapportioned. The Senate has 13 freshmen and the House 44.

There are blacks in the Senate — two of them — for the first time since Reconstruction. There are nine black House members, an increase of four.

There are more women in the Legislature than ever before — nine in the Senate and 19 in the House.

There are fewer Republicans than at any time in years. The GOP lost five Senate seats and four House seats.

Scrubs 2-Man Spacewalk

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The shuttle Columbia's first spacewalk was canceled today because of trouble with the $2 million spacesuits two astronauts were to wear outside the rocket ship.

It was the first major disappointment in the five-day mission that achieved its primary goal Thursday and Friday by launching two communications satellites to prove the shuttle can serve as a space freighter.

Everything started out smoothly today until astronauts Joseph Allen and William Lenoir put on their brand new spacesuits and started pressurizing them in the ship's sealed airlock.

First a ventilation fan failed in the spacesuit worn by Allen and then a pressure regulator went on the blink in the spacesuit worn by Lenoir.

The Peruvian Connection

MIAMI (UPI) — The mystery of Dade County's measles outbreak, currently the nation's largest, has apparently been solved by health investigators who say the disease was imported from South America.

Dr. Richard Morgan, director of Dade's health department, says the source of the county's measles epidemic was "very likely" a junior high school student who carried the infection back with him after visiting Peru.

And just over half of Dade's 142 reported cases of measles occurred at the student's school, McMillan Junior High School, where the countywide "measles emergency," officially started Oct. 6.

Israel Mourns Dead;

Begin's Wife Buried

JERUSALEM (UPI) — A grief-stricken Prime Minister Menachem Begin arrived home to bury his wife, Aliza, in a private funeral today with the nation also mourning 75 Israelis killed in the collapse of an army building in Lebanon.

Radio stations began playing somber music at sundown Sunday as a day of official mourning began for the 75 soldiers, police and security personnel who died Thursday in the building disaster in coastal Tyre, in southern Lebanon. Fifteen Arabs also died in the explosion.

Begin, on learning during a visit to Los Angeles of the death of his wife of 43 years, cut short his U.S. tour five days before he was scheduled to meet with President Reagan at the White House. Mrs. Begin died Sunday at the age of 62.

Leonid Brezhnev Buried

MOSCOW (UPI) — President Leonid Brezhnev was buried today in a solemn Red Square funeral that drew presidents, premiers and princes to honor the man who ruled the world's most powerful communist nation for 18 years.

Brezhnev's successor, Communist Party chief Yuri Andropov, eulogized him as a "true son of the party" who built up the nation's economy and military might.

Brezhnev's black coffin was lowered into a grave in a tiny cemetery behind the Lenin Mausoleum reserved for the most revered Soviet statesmen.

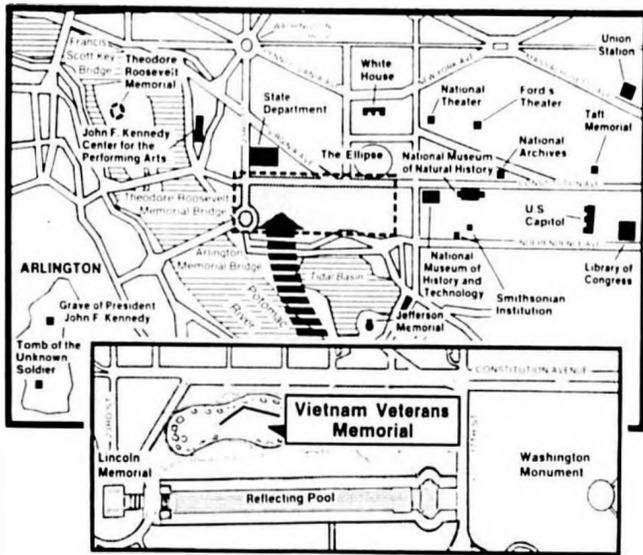

Work stopped around the country for five minutes as bells pealed and factory whistles blared followed by a moment of silence.

Lech. Walesa Home At Last

GDANSK, Poland (UPI) — Former Solidarity chief Lech Walesa vowed "We shall win" to jubilant supporters welcoming him home after 11 months of martial law internment, and then insisted on being alone with his wife and family.

"We will need strength," Walesa said Sunday in a speech from his apartment window to a crowd of thousands of Poles chanting his name. "We won't be down on our knees and we will have to operate with courage and thoughtfulness."

But Walesa did not mention Solidarity, the trade union he led until it was banned by Parliament Oct. 8, despite shouts from the crowd of "There is no freedom without Solidarity."

The memorial to Americans who fought in Vietnam continues to stir controversy. Opponents object to the design — two low black granite walls inscribed with the names of 57,692 known war dead — as reflecting dissension over the war rather than honoring those who served. Groundbreaking on a national parkland site donated by Congress has been scheduled for March. Construction, estimated at $7 million, is being privately financed through the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund.

Arson Suspected In Three

Investigators Probing Rash Of Weekend Fires

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County fire investigators are continuing their probes of several fires that broke out over the weekend, three of which have been ruled arson.

About $3,000 worth of damage was caused to a garage and storage unit at a Longwood man's home at about 3:30 p.m. Sunday after someone set fire to the structure, according to Ray Pippin, county fire investigator.

Sheriff's deputy G.D. Handley discovered the blaze after noticing a cloud of smoke billowing from the garage of the home of Ted Dittmer, 47, of 225 Crown Oaks Way. Dittmer was in the home at the time of the blaze but escaped uninjured, Pippin said.

Meanwhile, Pippin said his department is also investigating a fire which caused about $3,000 damage to a home in the Midway section near Sanford at about 6:42 p.m. Saturday.

Someone set fire to the home of George Gordon, 32, of 2221 Sipes Ave., while the house was unoccupied, causing extensive damage, Pippin said adding that the fire started in one of the bedrooms.

Also, about $500 damage was caused to the clubhouse at the Sorrento Apartments in Winter Park after someone set several fires inside the structure between noon and 4:05 p.m. Saturday, Pippin said.

Witnesses told deputies that two men were seen inside the clubhouse just prior to the fires breaking out.

Investigators are also continuing their probe of what they call a suspicious fire which destroyed a 30-foot camper at 9:14 p.m. Saturday.

About $3,500 damage was caused to the trailer, owned by George Brown of Sun Drive, Lake Mary, while it was parked at 3400 Celery Ave., Sanford. No one was injured in the blaze, Pippin said.

A fire caused by a faulty gas refrigerator, resulting in about $5,000 damage to a Pennsylvania woman's travel trailer, has been ruled accidental.

Pippin said the fire broke out at about 3 a.m. Sunday in a trailer owned by Effie Sanderson while the trailer was parked at the Twelve Oaks Campground west of Sanford. No one was injured in the blaze, Pippin said.

In the case of the two-year-old Altamonte Springs girl who was doused with kerosene and burned Friday, deputies said a witness to the incident told the girl's mother that the injuries occurred while neighborhood children were "playing house."

Healing With Tears

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Nearly 15 years after returning from Vietnam, Cornelius Robinson stood in ankle-deep mud and helped mourners find the names of comrades who never came home.

"I've must have directed 100 people — mothers, fathers, brothers, wives," said Robinson, 35, holding a thick directory of the dead. "I found the names of 22 of my own buddies on that wall."

"That wall" is the new Vietnam Veterans Memorial, huge blocks of polished black granite inscribed with the names of the 57,939 Americans killed or missing in the jungles of Southeast Asia.

The memorial was dedicated Saturday after a parade down Constitution Avenue by tens of thousands of Vietnam veterans, many dressed in old battle fatigues.

An estimated 150,000 flagwaving Americans attended the day-long affair, which amounted to a belated embrace for the long shunned vets of the nation's longest and most unpopular war.

John Wheeler, a veteran who is chairman of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund which raised $7 million in contributions to build the memorial, told the dedication crowd:

"Upon returning home, I — like many others — found that being known as a Vietnam vet was a dubious distinction. But today the situation has changed. All who served can now say, 'I am proud to be a Vietnam veteran'."

The parade and dedication culminated the five-day National Salute to Vietnam Veterans that ended Sunday with religious services nationwide and a steady funeral-type procession past the memorial.

Veterans, parents and friends, many choking back tears, stared at the names and reflected on memories. Flowers and wreaths were placed against the wall, along with old snap shots and sympathy cards.

"Spec. 4 Peter Lopez, A True American," read one tribute signed by "Eddie, Dannie, Rosie, Mom and Dad."

Robinson was a member of the 101st Army Airborne in Vietnam in 1967-68 and was among the several dozen yellow-capped volunteers helping people find names on the wall Sunday.

"I've cried more than once during the past few days," said Robinson, a Washington native.

Recalling the silence he was greeted with upon returning home from the war, Robinson said, "I never thought it would happen, but during the past few days, for the first time ever, people came up to me and said, 'Welcome home.'"

Deputies said the undisclosed witness told Johnnie Mae Washington, of 516 Amanda St., that Sallie Washington and some of her friends were playing house and that they decided to build a fire in the fireplace of their "home" in the front yard at the home of Grace Lewis, 104 Leonard St. When the children added fuel to the fire, "Sallie got in the way," and fuel spilled on her, the witness said. When the fuel was lit, the wind reportedly carried the flame in Sallie's direction igniting the kerosene which has been spilled on her, resulting in second-degree burns to her forehead and right hand, deputies said.

The young girl is being treated as an out-patient at Florida Hospital-Altamonte Springs and an investigation of the incident is continuing, deputies said.

WINDOW SMASHED AT HEALTH DEPARTMENT

Someone threw a metal garbage can through a window at the Seminole County Health Department, 90 S. French Ave., Sanford, at about 3:25 p.m. Thursday, shattering the glass.

Police said no one was injured in the incident and no arrests have been made.

TEEN JAILED BY TROOPERS

David Kenton Albershardt, 18, of Winter Park, was being held in the Seminole County jail today under $100 bond following his arrest at 11:50 p.m. Thursday by the Florida Highway Patrol.

Troopers said they stopped Albershardt concerning a traffic violation and discovered the underage youth in possession of beer.

JURY FINDS MAN GUILTY

After about an hour of deliberation, a Seminole Circuit Court jury found 50-year-old Levi Chandler of Sanford guilty of criminal mischief, although he was originally charged with first-degree arson.

Chandler, of 1801 Jerry Ave., now faces a maximum penalty of 60 days in the county jail following his conviction in connection with a small fire set at the home of his friend, Roger Lee Jackson of Sanford. He could have faced up to 30 years in prison if convicted of the original charge of first-degree arson, prosecutors said.

A charge of carrying a concealed weapon against Chandler was dropped by prosecutors after they determined that the knife he was carrying at the time of the offense was not prohibited by law.

Ms. Jackson testified that Chandler was stumbling outside her home after the two had been arguing about his drinking. The state charged that Chandler then threw gasoline from a plastic container at a bedroom window and lit it, but Jackson and neighbors quickly doused the flames.

The damage to the home as a result of the fire was estimated about $100, investigators said.

Circuit Judge Dominick J. Salli adjudicated Chandler guilty of criminal mischief, which means that after he serves his sentence, Chandler's criminal records will reflect the arrest and conviction.

Sanford Mayor Lee Moore (right) has designated this as Farm-City Week. Receiving the proclamation is W. W. Tyre, chairman of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce's Agribusiness Committee.

It's Farm-City Week

This year's Farm-City program, sponsored by the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce Agribusiness Committee, will feature a multi-image presentation, "Stewards of the Soil," and Florida Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner.

The Tuesday, 8 p.m. presentation will be free to the public at the Sanford Civic Center following an invitation only barbecue dinner at 6:30 p.m. at which Conner will be guest speaker.

Using five screens, the production provided by the Stauffer Chemical Company, will tell the story of the nation's agriculture.

The annual Farm-City Week is a national observance designed to create a better understanding and appreciation of the interdependence of farm and urban lifestyles and the contribution of agri-business to the area's economy.

Approximately 200 Sanford community leaders and representatives of agribusiness are expected to attend the informal chicken barbecue.

Israelis Ponder War In Lebanon

All of Israel's wars were horrible for its people, but why was the invasion of Lebanon different than all others?

This question, based on the traditional question asked in Jewish homes on Passover to commemorate the Israelites' deliverance from bondage in Egypt, is now being asked by Israeli writers about the war in Lebanon.

First announced as a brief border raid, this has become Israel's longest and most controversial military campaign. Israeli troops remain in Lebanon, facing Syrian missiles, and the prospect of a withdrawal depends on difficult negotiations conducted by the United States.

In Israel, the special inquiry into the massacre in Beirut goes on, while in Beirut the government of Amin Gemayel, whose Christian Phalangists were implicated in committing the slaughter while Israeli troops stood by, is not investigating itself.

The fear of a fierce internal debate within Israel, while its enemies sharpen their knives, is shared by many friends of Israel in the United States. But if the war in Lebanon proved anything, it showed Israel's military superiority in the region.

The strongest criticism by an Israeli of the Lebanese invasion comes in a two-part series in The New Yorker magazine. Jacobo Timerman, who survived anti-Semitic torture in Argentina to become an Israeli citizen three years ago, writes: "In the Lebanon war, for the first time, the Israelis were thinking about what they had done to another people. They were feeling guilt, even shame. Never before had these reactions been seen among the average men and women."

Timerman asks: "How is it possible that this country — with its kibbutzim, its political parties, its pluralistic press, its active and distinguished academic life, its parliamentary democracy — could not stop a war when the preparations for it were known to all, when the need for it was never demonstrated, and when the reasons for it were made up outside the context of reality?"

Yossi Klein, responding to Timerman in an article in the Village Voice, said that events had convinced many Israelis that world hostility to Israel was unchangeable, no matter what Israel did. He addresses Prime Minister Menachem Begin: "You were right all along. The Holocaust was no aberration, Israel no dream, only refuge. . . . You who once tried to save the Diaspora . . . teach us how to turn the ghetto into a fortress."

But Abba Eban, former Israeli foreign minister, had other words for Begin: "Not one word of humility, compassion or restraint has come from the Israeli government in many weeks. . . . These six weeks (of the invasion) have been a dark age in the moral history of the Jewish people."

Begin, during the siege of Beirut, answered criticism by saying: "Nobody should preach to us." In a letter to President Reagan, Begin wrote: "Now, I tell you, dear Mr. President, how I feel these days when I turn to the creator of my soul in deep gratitude: I feel as a prime minister empowered to instruct a valiant army facing 'Berlin' (Beirut) where, amongst innocent civilians, Hitler and his henchmen hide in a bunker deep beneath the surface."

Amos Kenan, an Israeli novelist and columnist challenged Begin's invocation of the Hitler analogy in an article in The Nation: "What Hitler did to Jews was not a crime against Jews; it was a crime against humanity. Had Jews not confiscated this horrible crime for themselves, had the state of Israel not taken for its petty immediate interest something that belongs to all humanity, the Holocaust would remain a lesson for everyone. . . . Then, writing in The New York Times, Kenan makes a plea: "The Jewish community of America, like all good Jewish mothers, loves her only child, Israel, very much. What she doesn't know, and doesn't want to know or even hear about, is that she is smothering that child with her love, drowning him in her tears of joy and pity, killing him at her maternal breast. . . . Israel should, long ago, have separated from father and mother. Israel should be an orphan — like any normal, independent country."

"Ya know, I guess THIS is what I really LOVE about being an auditor!"

Analyses of the Nov. 2 election results in Seminole County continues.

What caused the losses suffered by Democratic candidates here? Party officials are asking too.

Marvin Meltzer, local party chairman, thinks he has some of the answers. "Some of the Democratic candidates were so busy courting Republicans, they neglected Democrats," Meltzer says.

And Meltzer adds, "Democrats will never win here until they run as a cohesive group under the party label."

Meltzer also promises Democrats will fare much better two years from now. The party will be even better organized then, he claims.

He also notes Gov. Bob Graham, Agriculture Secretary Doyle Conner and State Sen. John Vogt did remarkably well here.

But the sting of State Rep. Bobby Hattaway's loss in his first Senate bid will be felt for some time. A good example is the loss of the Central Florida Crime Lab to Orlando. He had a commitment from Democratic colleagues that it would be built in Lake Mary.

Hattaway, however, said after his loss that he's not done with politics or seeking elective office. He said he will be back in 1984 at least considering running.

The 1984 election year will be a big test for the local Democrats. Up for election then will be the only constitutional officers the Democrats have left in Seminole County—Sheriff John Polk, Elections Supervisor Camilla Bruce, Clerk of the Circuit Court Arthur H. Beckwith Jr. and Tax Collector G. Troy Ray Jr.

Meanwhile, the "Democratic Express", put out by the state Democratic Party, is touting "the good news" the election brought elsewhere in the state.

"The margins of victory in the statewide races indicate Florida is still hostile territory to the GOP," it says. The Graham-Mixon ticket received 65 percent of the total vote; Sen. Lawton Chiles got 62 percent; Doyle Conner got 61 percent while George Firestone gathered 57 percent of the vote for secretary of state.

In Seminole, Chiles and Firestone both lost

Seminole County to their GOP opposition.

In Congress all of Florida's Democratic incumbents won and with the addition of two new Democrats, there will be 13 Democrats of the 19-member Florida delegation in the U.S. House.

Florida Democrats made their biggest gains in the Legislature. Five more Democrats will be added to the already heavy Democratic majority in the state Senate, which now stands at 32 Democrats and eight Republicans.

In the Florida House, four more Democrats means there are now 84 Democrats and 36 Republicans.

The Democratic Express notes where previously there were no Democrats in Pinellas County's legislative delegation, there are now a Democratic state senator and three Democratic state representatives.

Both Houses of the Legislature will convene Tuesday for their organizational sessions. The election of Lee Moffitt as house speaker and Curtis Peterson as senate president will take place and committee assignment for the next session will be made.

Warming Up To A Freeze

It was, as critics all along had argued, like asking people to take sides on cancer.

On such a life-threatening issue, who wouldn't line up with the nays?

Well, in this case enough voters in Arizona and a couple of counties in Arkansas and Colorado to defeat resolutions on their ballots. But everywhere else it was an issue Nov. 2, support for a nuclear freeze was warm to overwhelming.

True, the resolutions millions of voters endorsed are non-binding expressions of sentiment. They have no legal effect on government policy. And true, they were variously worded, so that the proposition Montanans strongly favored was not precisely the question put to Californians, who approved by a narrower margin.

But the freeze in one form or another was on the ballots of about a fourth of the nation's voters, which makes it the largest referendum on a public issue ever undertaken. Further, the dozen new pro-freeze congressmen the voters sent to the House, where a freeze resolution lost by only two votes last spring, are in a position to affect policy.

And finally, the pro-freeze vote, if nothing more, was a powerful public rejection of administration arguments against an immediate halt to the nuclear buildup. It is not the first time those arguments have been scrutinized and found wanting. What follows summarizes the main points of a recent expert and detailed analysis by the Washington-based Center for Defense Information.

To start with, the center refutes the contention that this country must increase its nuclear capabilities before entering into negotiations: "Logic dictates that the first step in reducing weapons is to stop producing more."

A freeze at existing levels would not lock the United States into a position of military disadvantage. Both sides already possess more than enough nuclear warheads to destroy the other many times over — the United States some 30,000 strategic and tactical nuclear weapons and the Soviets 20,000. It does not matter which might be the aggressor. Both would be destroyed.

The center agrees with the administration that a freeze by itself is not an adequate answer to the threat of nuclear Armageddon, but it would be "an extremely significant first step, undoubtedly the most important action ever taken to control nuclear arms."

While perfect verification of a freeze may not be achievable, neither may it be necessary, the center concludes, citing the opinion of former CIA Deputy Director Herbert Scoville, that a total freeze on nuclear weapons activities would actually simplify verification since detection of violation: "This simplifies the verification over that required for monitoring a ceiling. . . . Verification can no longer be legitimately used as an excuse for not proceeding with a freeze and reductions agreement."

CIA Report Predicted Israel's Invasion

WASHINGTON — The Central Intelligence Agency began secretly supporting the Christian militias in Lebanon last year to keep them from falling completely under Israeli influence. The evidence is contained in a startling top-secret memo dated March 8, 1981.

This document correctly forewarned fully 15 months in advance that Israel would invade Lebanon, that the Palestinians would be routed, that the Christian Phalangists would emerge as the dominant Lebanese faction and, therefore, that the United States would "forfeit all influence" in Lebanon unless "military and financial assistance" was funneled to the Phalangists.

Up to that time, it had been U.S. policy to bolster the Lebanese government. But the government was held together by a delicate political and religious balance, which had "disintegrated," the memo declared.

"Since the establishment of a PLO state within a state in the 1970-73 period and the subsequently massive inflow of arms to both Christian and Moslem communities," reported the memo, "the Government of Lebanon has been unable to exercise its authority throughout the country."

The CIA not only saw "no prospect of improvement," but anticipated that the Israelis would lose patience with the Palestinians and

Social Security Politics

In a bit of unconscious comedy, the New York Times remarked editorially recently that "for the moment at least, the campaign is over and so is the time for demagoguery."

The Times was commenting in retrospect on the Democrats' handling of the Social Security issue during the recent campaign.

The Democrats had a good deal of success during the campaign frightening people about the plans of that Scrooge in the White House to axe Social Security, but nothing the Times said during the campaign indicated that such rhetoric was demagoguery. The admission comes, I suppose, better late than never.

The Times has also discovered heretofore undetected virtues in Senator Robert Dole, the discovery traceable to Dole's support last summer for a $98 billion tax increase, but reinforced recently by Dole's quickie remarks to the effect that the Democratic pickup of 26 House seats and one Senate seat means that the Republicans will have to "compromise" on remaining measures in the Reagan program.

But Dole was certainly right when he threw down a challenge to the Democratic leadership on the Social Security issue: "Tip O'Neill's solution (for Social Security) during the campaign was eliminate Republicans. . . . Well, eliminating Republicans isn't a solution."

Now, let's get one thing straight before proceeding. Seen from the perspective of the Reagan White House, the recent elections were hardly a political disaster.

I've had frank talks with some of Reagan's top aides and they, while regretting some losses more than others, view the overall results with a sense of relief. They regard the losses as relatively modest, given the fact of a persisting rate of more than 10 percent unemployment.

They also point to major victories in the California senate and gubernatorial races and the unexpected capture of the New Hampshire governorship. And they point to the fact that in heavily Democratic New York state, supply-side Republican Lewis Lehrman came from out of nowhere to run an almost successful race for the governorship against orthodox liberal Mario Cuomo.

But, as Senator Dole says, though the Democrats drew blood on the Social Security system, they and everyone else knows that something has to be done about it.

The Social Security retirement fund runs out of money this month. The plain fact is that some $15 billion in either new revenue or decreased benefits will have to be found over the next eight years to keep the system from going bankrupt. Early in the next century, retirement claims from the baby-boom segment of the population will produce a revenue gap in excess of $10 billion per year, a fiscal time bomb ticking away for my children and yours and their grandchildren.

As the Social Security system moves to the brink of disaster, Congress will have to peer over the brink and find the courage to do something about it.

Now Social Security was invented by the Franklin Roosevelt administration during the Great Depression, but it operates today in an entirely different economic climate.

Yet reasonable discussion about it remains politically impossible.

Many people today have retirement plans that simply did not exist during the 1930s. As a college professor, for example, I have an excellent retirement plan, and this is not a rarity. I do not expect to need a monthly Social Security check.

Many other Americans are in the same circumstances. And, of course, there are many people who have investments or other forms of continuing income. Does Robert Redford seem likely to need Social Security? Bill Buckley? To ask the question is to answer it.

Some relatively painless reforms would go far toward solving the problem. The old retirement age of 65 is a medical anachronism, since we are now living longer and healthier.

Merely A GOP Disaster

WASHINGTON (NEA) — For the Republican Party, the only solace provided by the results of this year's elections is that the GOP performance can be classified as merely a serious disaster rather than a major catastrophe.

Describing the change in the composition of the House of Representatives as a shift of 25 seats from Republican to Democratic control fails to fully reflect the magnitude of the political calamity visited upon the GOP.

The dimensions of the Republican setback become more apparent when viewed with respect to a number of especially revealing political indicators:

— Not since 1922, during the tenure of President Warren G. Harding, a Republican, has the political party in control of the White House lost as many House seats in the middle of its president's first term.

— The House battleground consisted of approximately 100 of the country's 435 congressional districts — and the Democrats won slightly more than two-thirds of the fiercely contested races in those marginal districts.

— Of the 29 incumbent representatives defeated in this year's general election, only three were Democrats while 26 were Republicans.

— In the 32 congressional districts where political control switched from one party to another, the Democrats scored 27 victories while the Republicans won only five races.

— The Republican Party assigned its highest priority to protecting the GOP freshmen seeking re-election — 50 new House members elected with President Reagan in 1980 and two others who won special elections in 1981. Notwithstanding the vast infusion of money and talent into those campaigns on the part of national Republican committees and sympathetic political action committees, one-quarter of those freshmen, derisively characterized by the Democrats "Reagan robots," failed in their bids for re-election.

— The Republicans were expected to be the principal beneficiaries of the redistricting required by the 1980 census because they possessed the money and technical expertise to dominate that process and because most of the newly created districts are in the Sun Belt states of the West and South where the GOP enjoys substantial influence.

But in the 21 new congressional districts, Democratic candidates won 12 contests while Republican nominees were victorious in only nine.

Most of the Democratic victories in that category were registered in the three most populous Sun Belt states. The party's candidates won four of five races in California, all three in Texas and two of four in Florida.

The political division of the Senate — 54 Republicans and 46 Democrats — remains unchanged by the Nov. 2 elections.

KICKING CRIPPLES: When a shortage of space developed at the Agriculture Department's parking lot in downtown Washington last summer, none of the agency's 130 bigshots lost his spot. But 11 handicapped employees did.

One of those who got kicked out of the street was Warren Tughman, a 44-year-old special-projects officer. He has severe back problems — two discs removed and a third ruptured. In May, his condition was aggravated when he slipped and fell in an Agriculture building; since then he has been able to work only half-days.

Tughman appealed the ruling that deprived him of the reserved-parking privilege he has had since he joined the department in 1979. In July, a Veterans Administration doctor certified that Tughman is a "40 percent service-connected disabled veteran," and recommended that he be allowed to keep his parking place.

An Agriculture spokesman told my reporter Allan Langel that a department doctor had reviewed all the handicapped cases and concluded that Tughman and 10 other employees no longer deserved special treatment. The spokesman declined further comment on grounds that Tughman's appeal is pending.

Meanwhile, Tughman has to get to work at 5:30 a.m. — half an hour before his shift starts — in hopes of finding a place to park on the street near his office.

UNDER THE DOME: Library of Congress guards search the parcels and briefcases of departing patrons to make sure they aren't stealing anything. Capitol policemen conduct a similar search of people entering House and Senate office buildings to make sure they're not smuggling in weapons. Fair enough.

But until recently, this led to an absurd situation for anyone walking through the underground tunnel from the library's James Madison annex to the Cannon House Office Building across the street. They were subjected to search at both ends of the tunnel, even though it seemed unlikely a weapon could be fashioned out of anything found en route from one guardpost to the next. The cost of manning both stations was $140,000, and the House Legislative Branch Appropriations Committee finally ordered the security forces to get their acts together. There is now only one search.

— Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., dutifully stumped his state for Gov. Jerry Brown's ill-starred senatorial campaign. But Cranston wasn't exactly heartbroken when Brown lost. The senator has presidential ambitions, and, as an insider explained: "If Brown put one foot in the Capitol, he becomes the senator from California running for president."

Sam Weir: At The Head Of The Class

Sam Weir comes and goes with a touch of class.

The sweat-stained brow of the University of Central Florida football coach was furrowed in defeat after the 26-14 setback to Eastern Kentucky Saturday night, but it didn't take long for the creases to upturn as admiring players drifted in and out of his office.

"I'd like to thank you for putting up with me," said giant defensive tackle Mike Sommerfield through misting eyes. "I've been kinda of a jerk while I was here."

"We worked it out though, didn't we?" said Weir smiling. "You had a good year Mike. I enjoyed coaching you."

It's not easy to smile when you've lost 10 straight games. It's not easy to smile when you have to prepare a team for another Saturday Knight's bruises.

It only took a couple games this fall for Weir to realize his Knights were very horribly over-scheduled. Five 1-AA opponents dotted the UCF schedule in the Knights first year of Division II.

But he didn't complain. Even off-the-record. He took his lumps every Saturday. Every Saturday without an open date against schools far superior in talent, depth and size.

But he took it like Alexis Arguello and kept coming back. He took it even after he resigned with two games remaining. A lot of coaches might have soft-pedaled a few duties or practices at that point, but not Sam Weir.

He still worked the extra hours and did the extra duties. That's the only way this man knows how to work. It didn't pay off in a victory. The Knights lost No. 10 Saturday to Eastern Kentucky. But they gave the nation's No. 1-ranked Division 1-AA school all they could handle for three quarters.

"We didn't lose tonight," he emphasized to a group of people surrounding him. "We lost it on the scoreboard, but we won in the hearts of the community. We were out-manned all year in speed and size."

"The way we played has outshined the disappointments of the season. It was one of the best football games UCF has ever played."

"I don't think we come away from this situation as losers because that's a class bunch of guys we have out there," he added.

And Sam Weir is at the head of the class.

— SAM COOK

WEIRABOUTS — It's not every day that a 0-10 football coach is besieged with offers. But Sam Weir is. They range from business propositions outside of football to coaching offers.

Well, what are you going to do?

"I'm going to take a three or four weeks off first of all and get away," said Weir last week. "Then I'll come back and investigate and interview the offers."

Would you consider returning to the high school coaching level?

"It would have to be a good situation," the former Lake Brantley and Lake Howell coach said.

GIDINGS ON — Weir wasn't the only Knight to say good-bye. Billy Giovanetti, who anchored the Knight defense from his linebacker spot for four years, gave his last hit for UCF.

The Casselberry resident played at Lake Howell High for his first three prep years before transferring to Lyman for his senior year.

"Glo" was an honorable mention choice on last year's Associated Press All-America team and should rate that honor or better this year.

He went out in style with five solo tackles, 12 assists, one broken up pass and two tackles for losses.

"It was my last game and I had to have a good game," he said about the effort. "I started off the season well, then hit a little slump and ended well."

Nina Aspinwall, Lake Howell swimmer, splashes to a sixth place finish in the 100 fly at the district meet Saturday at Lyman High School. Aspinwall was timed in 1:03.07. She also picked up a third place finish in the 100 back. The Silver Hawks finished in third place behind West Orange and champion Winter Park. The State Meet will be Friday in Gainesville.

Winter Park Splashes Away With Twin Titles

The Winter Park Wildcats showed why the Orange County school has a state powerhouse in swimming Saturday by coasting to the 4A, District 5 Championships in both the boys and girls competitions at Lyman High.

In the boys competition, Winter Park got first place finishes in six individual events and both relays in romping to 389 points and the district title. Lyman was a distant second with 131 points, Lake Howell was eighth with 50 points and Seminole finished 12th with 19 points.

Lyman managed to finish second in the meet after coming in third in the 200 medley relay at 1:48.43 and second in the 400 free relay with a time of 3:27.35. The top three individuals in each event and the top three teams in the relays all go to the state meet this Friday in Gainesville.

Seminole High's Chuck Burgess qualified for the state meet with a third place finish in the 100 backstroke with a season best time of 59.06. Burgess also finished in seventh place in the 100 fly with a season best time of 57.8. "He should do well at state," Seminole coach Donalyn Knight said. "I'm real glad for him to have that opportunity."

Two Lyman swimmers, Chris McClelland and Brian Thayer, qualified for the state meet. McClelland qualified with a third place finish in the 50 free at 23.51 and Thayer placed second in the 100 fly at 54.41.

The Winter Park girls also cruised to the district title with 280 points compared to 164 for runner-up West Orange and 149 for third place Lake Howell.

Winter Park won three individual events and led first place by winning both relays. Lake Howell placed two swimmers in the state meet while Lyman had one swimmer qualify for state.

Karen Acre represented Lake Howell in fine form as she finished second in both the 200 free (1:57.44) and the 500 free (5:11.10). Nina Aspinwall will also make the trip to Gainesville for Lake Howell as she qualified with a third place finish in the 100 back at 1:06.57.

Lyman's Jennifer Gage qualified for state in the 100 fly as her time of 1:01.07 was good for third place.

Although the Seminole girls did not score in the meet, it was a good end to an outstanding season for the Lady 'Noles.

"The girls did real well," Knight said. "They just were not strong enough to place." — CHRIS FISTER

Tangeman Qualifies For State; Trinity's Politowicz Wins Again

By SAM COOK
Herald Sports Editor

TITUSVILLE — Lake Mary's Derek Tangeman qualified for the State 3A Cross Country Meet here Saturday by running a 15:33 three-mile in the Region 3A-2 Meet at Dunn Park.

Despite Tangeman's superb effort, the Rams fell six points of qualifying for the state meet as a team by finishing in fifth place. Rockledge, Bishop Moore, Titusville Astronaut and Cocoa Beach ran 1-2-3-4.

"The whole team ran super, we just came up a little short," said boys' coach Mark McGee, a 1978 Lyman High and 1981 Florida State graduate.

Tangeman, in particular, was super. He hung with the pack until the final half mile, then broke away for a fourth place spot, just a few steps from third. The top five go to Saturday's meet at DeLand. Tangeman will run at 10:30 a.m.

The 15:33 clocking was 50 seconds better than his time last week on the same course. "The conditions were about the same," said McGee. "Derek knew what he had to do, finish in the top five, and he did it."

Behind Tangeman for the Rams was Mark Blythe who finished 24th and turned in a season's best 16:47. Jim Schnell (34, 17:23), Matt Palumbo (45th, 17:52), Kit Johnson (51st, 17:59), John Amrhein (57th, 18:09) and Brian LaVigne (68th, 18:33) were next for Lake Mary.

Elsewhere on the cross country scene, Lake Brantley's girls and Lyman's boys were the only Seminole County teams to qualify in the Region 4A-3.

Coach Jim Marshall's Lady Patriots ran third behind Winter Park and champion Lake Worth John I. Leonard at Boca Raton. Brantley, which tied Winter Park for the district title last week, finished with 93 points. Winter Park had 88, just one behind John I. Leonard.

The top four teams and the top five individuals qualify for the state meet. The girls' meet will start at 11 a.m. Colonial was fourth in 110 points, edging Lyman (118) for the final spot.

Lake Brantley's 1-2 punch of Kathryn Hayward and Ellen Stern paced the Patriots. Hayward finished seventh with a time of 12:32 while Stern was eighth in 12:34. Joanne Hayward was 17th in 13:07.

Lyman's top performance came from Cindy Gaskell who was 21st in 13:18. Lake Howell's Kerry Ryter nipped Gaskell by a second for 20th. Sophomore Lyn Lucas was 23rd in 13:20 for the seventh-place Silver Hawks.

In the boys 4A, coach David Huggins' Greyhounds got a strong showing from junior Brian Hunter to finish second behind Edgewater. The Eagles out-distanced Lyman, 58-90.

Hunter came in on the heels of teammate Doug McBroom for a seventh-place finish in 18:28. McBroom, also a junior, recorded a 16:20 clocking.

Winter Park's Brian Jaeger who nipped Lake Howell's Ken Cheeseman by just 3.2 seconds in the district, expanded his lead over the Silver Hawk junior in winning this time.

Jaeger's time for three miles was 15:16. Cheeseman was clocked in 15:31.

In the District-Region 2A-4 at Trinity Prep, freshman Adrienne Politowicz ran away from the field in 12:13 for two miles to lead the Saints to a second-place finish behind powerful Daytona Beach Father Lopez. Katie Sams was seventh in 13:10 for the Preppers.

"I'll guarantee you we'll run a heckuva lot better in the state meet," said Trinity Prep coach George Austin.

Politowicz will have to if she hopes to grab another title. Jacksonville Episcopal's Donna Combs has an 11:26 clocking to her credit. "Adrienne will have to run the race of her life to beat her," said Austin. "Our eighth grade girls will have to come through for us to do well."

Along with Sams, eighth graders Danielle McCloud (16th, 14:30) and Stephanie Stans (21st, 14:55) turned in solid times for Trinity. Tenth-grader Beth Sheffy was 12th in 14:02 and senior Sandy Mowery was 20th in 14:47.

For the boys, sophomore Tommy Matthews turned in a season's best 18:07 three mile to lead the Saint boys to a third place finish and a berth at the state meet.

Behind Matthews were Scott Urrichio (6th, 18:33), Jamie Vierling (10th, 17:10), Brandon Peters (18th, 17:30), David Green (22nd, 17:40), Mike Golwyn (32nd, 18:14) and David Golberg (43rd, 18:49).

The Lady Saints kick off Saturday's meet at 8 a.m. with the boys following at 8:45 a.m.

THE EASY WAY

Rudy Kuiper, Seminole Community College center, makes it look easy. Of course when you're 6-10, stuffing a basketball may come a little easier. Kuiper and his Raider teammates are gearing up for the season-opening tournament this weekend, dubbed the SCC Raider Tournament. First-year SCC coach Bill Payne calls the two-day affair the "best basketball tournament in the state." Miami Dade North, which finished second in the nation last year, Edison and Palm Bay join the Raiders in the elite field. Tipoff is 6:30 p.m. Friday night. See Wednesday's Evening Herald for a complete rundown on the '82-83 Raiders.

Season-Ending Setback Can't Dim UCF Show

By SAM COOK
Herald Sports Editor

Forget the 0-10 record. Forget the humiliating defeats to over-scheduled opponents. Forget, even, that No. 1-ranked Eastern Kentucky University may have taken the University of Central Florida Knights lightly.

For three hours Saturday night at the Tangerine Bowl, the Knights were alive. Like a Frankenstein monster juiced with electricity, UCF played the Colonels on even terms for three quarters before discharging in the final 15 minutes to the best team ever to take a space on the Knights' schedule.

The final was, 26-14. But it was 14-14 when the third quarter ended. What was different Saturday night? Was it coach Sam Weir's final game? Was it the final effort of UCF's four-year senior football class? Or was it just the fact the Knights were tired of getting kicked around?

"Everybody did their job for a change," said ex-Lake Howell-Lyman linebacker Billy Giovanetti, who led the defense with 17 tackles.

"This is the first time all year that we (defense and offense) played together." And what about Weir? Were there any out of the ordinary words of encouragement before his final game?

"We talked about a couple of things. Personal things," said Weir. "We just played a great football game. They gave every ounce of energy. We lost only on the scoreboard."

The game started in usual fashion. ECU put together a nine-play, 63-yard drive capped by fullback Nicky Yeast's three-yard touchdown run. Jamie Lovett's kick made it 7-0 with 4:05 to play in the first quarter.

The Knights bounced right back with a masterful 12-play, 92-yard drive. Dana Thyssen, subbing for injured quarterback Raymond Agee, was razor-sharp with his aerials. The 6-4 DeLand High graduate hit Jeff Froehlich for 39 yards on one play and then culminated the effort with a 26-yarder to Jeff Rountree for the score.

Scott Ryerson's PAT tied the score at 7-7 with 3:45 to go in the second quarter. Somewhat ruffled, Eastern Kentucky put together a clinic-like drive in the final three minutes to move ahead, 14-7. QB Tuck Woolum hit Steve Bird for two big gains, the biggest an 11-yarder to the UCF 3. Three plays later, Yeast muscled in for the TD with just 23 seconds left in the half.

Despite the late score, the Knights were anything but subdued. "That's probably the best halftime I've ever been associated with," said Weir. "Everybody was enthusiastic because we knew we outplayed them."

The electricity carried over. Midway through the third quarter, Thyssen took the Knights marching again. It was a long march with a short step, however. Fading to throw, Thyssen unloaded a bomb from his own 36 in the direction of a streaking Jim Taylor.

Taylor, a senior wide receiver, made a superb over-the-shoulder catch, knocked away the defender with a jerk and sprinted into the end zone to complete the 64-yard touchdown.

Ryerson again split the uprights to give the Knights a 14-14 deadlock before 4:22 unbelieving fans with 7:56 remaining in the third quarter.

EKU immediately marched to the UCF 15 on the next series. At that juncture, though, Jeff Sacco and Giovanetti held Terence Thompson to two yards on a couple of carries and Woolum fired incomplete as UCF cornerback Doug Gatewood made a nice play. Lovett trotted out and kicked a 30-yard field goal to put the Colonels on top, 17-14, with 4:12 to go in the quarter.

Undaunted, Thyssen had UCF moving again, aided by a roughing of the passer penalty and the running of Raul Perez. At the UCF 46, however, reserve halfback Don Browne fumbled the ball and lost 12 yards before he could find the handle.

Three plays later, Thyssen, punting with an 18 mile an hour wind at his back, shanked it off the side of his foot. The ball traveled just 11 yards and went out of bounds at the ECU 40.

Using muscle and guile, the Colonels went to work. After three plays gained just seven yards, Eastern Kentucky executed a beautiful fake punt against the surprised Knights. Short man Yeast took the snap from center and rambled around the right side for 12 yards and a first down at the UCF 40.

After Yeast lacked on six more, Woolum fired a screen pass to Bird who deftly cut behind his three blockers down the sideline to the UCF 7. On the next play, Thompson followed a trap block into the end zone untouched. Lovett's kick missed, but ECU led 23-14 with 12:17 to play.

The Knights wouldn't threaten again, but their point had been made. Lovett boomed a 40-yard field goal to close out the scoring with 7:38 to play in the game. The Colonels walked off impressed. Their ninth victory against no defeats had been hard-earned. Much harder earned than the last time they played in the Tangerine Bowl, a 30-7 victory over Lehigh for the 1979 Division I-AA title.

"You see they're 0-9 and there's a tendency to take them for granted," said ECU middle guard Mike McShane. "But we were impressed, especially with the way they hit."

Despite the frustrating 0-10 season drawing to a close, there were a few moist eyes in the locker room. The only four-year seniors the UCF program had ever known were saying their goodbyes, as well as the interim coach. Weir's resignation took effect after the game Saturday.

"We made the personal sacrifices to play this well," said Weir, a former prep coach at Lake Howell and Lake Brantley. "Thyssen had a superb game and so did Giovanetti. (Defensive tackle) David Rudd had an exceptional game. He's very quick and he's going to be a great player in the future."

Somewhat it seems kind of sad Sam Weir won't be a part of that future.

Lyman Just 1 Win Away

By BRENT SMARTH
Herald Sports Writer

DAYTONA BEACH — Mismatch. Rout. Thrashing. All are good words for what took place Saturday night at chilly Welch Memorial Stadium.

Lyman's Greyhounds laid it on Spruce Creek, 44-7, and moved within one victory of the school's first Five Star Conference and District 4A-9 championships. Lyman, 6-3 and 5-1, can clinch the title with a victory over Lake Brantley Friday in Altamonte Springs. A loss gives the crown to Apopka.

Lyman ran up 510 yards in total offense of which 341 yards came on the ground. Phil Germano led all ball carriers with 91 yards in 10 carries.

"The key has been team unity and pride," said an exuberant Lyman coach Bill Scott. "Our six to eight backs are totally unselfish."

While the backfield has been unselfish, the Greyhounds as a team were pretty stingy with the football. Running back Vince Presley capped a time-consuming drive in the first period at the 7:34 mark with a two-yard TD run.

On the next possession, the drive consisted of nine running efforts, six of them traps, which covered 64 yards as the 'Hounds offensive line blew out the Hawks at will. Germano called the last 12 yards for a touchdown and a 12-0 lead.

In the meantime, Spruce Creek's two possessions consisted of an interception and a fumble.

Signal caller Jerry Axley continued his pin-point passing on the next drive, taking the Greyhounds into the end zone with a 27-yard scoring toss to wideout Todd Marriot. The conversion, like the previous two, failed which was the only problem Lyman had all night.

On the final drive of the half, Lyman marched another 65 yards, fueled by two Axley to Robert "Tootie" Quisenberry completions. With 32 seconds remaining, Presley took it in from three yards out for his second of three touchdowns. Once again the extra point went wild, but the Greyhounds held an insurmountable 24-0 halftime bulge.

After intermission, Scott's 'Hounds cruised 85 yards in 12 running plays, milking the clock as Theo Jones finally rambled over from three yards at 2:39 in the third stanza. Senior Chris Tschieder finally found the middle of the uprights for a 31-0 lead.

On the first play of the final quarter, Presley tallied his third TD, again from three yards out to punctuate a 60-yard march. Tschieder booted the PAT for a 38-0 advantage.

Spruce Creek saved a little respect with a 45-yard Sean Hamilton to Stacy Mobley bomb behind the Lyman junior varsity secondary.

The young 'Hounds, however, redeemed themselves behind the running of Mike Henley and the Merweather twins — Avery and Anthony. The undefeated JV group rolled to the final when Avery took it over from the one to finalize the 44-7 rout.

"I feel this team has the most talent of any Lyman team since the '68 team of (All-American) Rick Browne," said Scott. "We have had more talented backs, receivers and passers, but not all at the same time."

Gators, FSU Roll To Easy Victories; 'Dogs Drop Auburn

College Football

United Press International
Florida State and Florida both romped to easy wins Saturday, but it looks like it's the Seminoles who'll take home the prize.

While scouts from the Orange, Gator and Tangerine Bowls watched eighth ranked Florida State paste Louisville, bowl representatives were notable for their absence at Lexington, Ky., as the Gators upped their record to 6-3 with a 39-13 rout of Kentucky.

If the Seminoles (8-1) can get by Louisiana State Saturday night, not an easy task by any means, they appear to be the favorite to play the Big Eight winner in the Orange Bowl.

The LSU game is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. at Baton Rouge, and bowl bids are allowed after 6 p.m., a timing that led to a revelation of how the Orange Bowl Committee is leaning.

"It's 90 percent certain that we won't commit at 6 p.m.," said Stanley Marks, chairman of the selection committee. "It's 95 percent certain we will commit Saturday night."

In other words, a Florida State victory should bring the Seminoles to Miami New Year's night. But Marks kept a couple of hole cards by mentioning Pittsburgh, ranked seventh, and the Southwest Conference runnerup.

"It has been our policy in the past to try to get the highest ranking team available," he said.

Florida State Coach Bobby Bowden wasn't entirely pleased with the Seminoles' performance Saturday night at Tallahassee, telling them at halftime, favorites in their two remaining games — at home against North Carolina State Saturday and Cincinnati the following week.

Alumni officials have been lobbying the Independence, Hall of Fame and Peach Bowls for an invitation. In other games Saturday, Florida A&M dropped to 5-5 for the year with a 24-21 loss at Southern and Central Florida wound up its first season as a Division II entrant at 0-10 with a surprisingly close 26-14 loss to Division I-AA power Eastern Kentucky.

Bethune-Cookman (5-4) was idle, and will wind up its season Saturday in the annual shootout with Florida A&M in Tampa Stadium.

Top-ranked Georgia doesn't play next Saturday, but it's still a big day for the unbeaten Bulldogs because that's when they find out who they'll be paired

"This victory was more of a confidence thing right now than anything else," said senior offensive tackle Danny Fike. "This was an outstanding way for us to bounce back after the way we played last week," agreed Coach Charley Pell. "It really took a lot for our youngsters to get up and bow their backs for this one. We did not scatter, we did not get concerned, even when it was close."

The only bowl representative at the Florida game was John Shelton of the Tangerine Bowl, but he reportedly was in town to see Kentucky Coach Jerry Claiborne, an old friend, and didn't even stop by the Gator locker room after the game.

If Florida keeps winning this week at Tulane, however, the Gators are sure of consideration at least by someone despite their tough season-ender at Florida State Dec. 4.

The Miami Hurricanes were idle Saturday, and despite their 5-4 record they are hopeful. They figure to be against in the Sugar Bowl. The Bulldogs won their third straight Southeastern Conference championship and their third straight Sugar Bowl berth this past Saturday when they came from behind with an 80-yard fourth-quarter drive to nip Auburn, 19-14.

Kim Near Death

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — South Korean boxer Duk-Koo Kim, who was knocked out by Ray Mancini in their World Boxing Association lightweight championship fight, hovered near death today, being kept alive only by life support systems.

Doctors at Desert Springs Hospital said Kim, 23, suffered massive brain damage when he was hit with a right hand in the 14th round and his chances of survival were small.

Murphy Beats The Heat, Signs With Jacksonville

Ronnie Murphy wants to beat the heat. The heat of high-pressure recruiting. Oviedo's superb 6-4 basketball forward will sign a scholarship tonight to play basketball for Jacksonville University.

Murphy narrowed his choices to Jacksonville and Western Kentucky. "It was a close decision," said Oviedo spokesman Larry Tyson. "But Ronnie liked the people, coaches and players he will be with next year. That made the difference." Coach Bobby Wenzel and assistant coach Rich Haddad recruited the versatile Lion who is planning a career in computer programming.

Raiders' Rally Falls Short, Broward Holds On For Victory

JC Basketball

The Seminole Community College women's basketball team mounted a gallant comeback attempt but found a 23-point halftime deficit to be too much to make up as the Lady Raiders dropped an 87-55 decision to Broward Community College Saturday in the SCC Pre-Season tourney.

Brevard CC, who beat SCC in the opening round, beat Gulf Coast, 80-79 in the championship game.

"Our team is young and inexperienced," SCC coach Sol Batoon said. "We have one sophomore and four freshmen starting and we made some small mental mistakes that Broward capitalized on."

Cathy Jones poured in 22 points to lead SCC against Broward while Katrina Anderson added 18, Valerie Roessler had 13 points and 18 rebounds and Mindy Patrick chipped in with 10 points.

"Going into the second half, we were 23 points behind," Batoon said. "But when they (SCC players) realized they can play, they came back and were behind by only three points with a minute to play."

SCC got no closer than three points as Broward did what it has to do to preserve the victory. "We found that, as time goes on, we'll improve," Batoon said.

Both Jones and Roessler were selected to the All-Tournament team by the coaches and Patrick was named for outstanding sportsmanship. The rest of the All-Tournament team included, Darleen Gilbert (Broward), Tracey Taylor (Gulf Coast) and Gloria Simmons of Brevard.

"I felt that Cathy Jones and Valerie Roessler really did a good job," Batoon said. "Overall, we need to work a little more on fundamentals."

The Lady Raider pre-season schedule continues with a matchup against St. Leo Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at SCC.

READY FOR NEXT YEAR

Even a broken left arm can't erase the smile from Forest City's Richie Tibbets. The 10-year-old youngster was injured in a Seminole Youth Sports Association game two weeks ago, but reports he'll be back on the gridiron next season. Tibbets plays for the Teague Red Junior Peeewees.

WHO AM I?

Blood, tears, toil and sweat. That's my game. Plus tickets, arenas and fans. They say I'm one of the best at my job in the modern era. You've got to be honest. It's a sport — not just a financial racket.

Answer: Tommy Brown, the long-time boxing promoter, the former official of Madison Square Garden, he works for Bob Arum's Top Rank.

Geothermal energy literally means "earth-heat" energy. It is found in areas where the underground heat is close to the surface. The heat must be located in permeable rocks that contain enough water to transfer it to the surface.

Car Wash Benefits Band

The Oviedo High School Marching Lions Band and Dance Corps. will hold a car-wash-a-thon on Dec. 4. The members will be collecting pledges for a penny a car. The car wash will be free. One of the locations will be at the Sun Bank on Red Bug and Tusawilla Roads. Other locations will be announced later. Band members hope to earn enough money to buy new uniforms. If the weather is too cold or if it rains, the date will be changed to Dec. 11.

The band will participate in the Florida Band Masters Association District VII Marching Festival on Nov. 20. The event this year will include the 16 high school bands from both Orange and Seminole counties. Oviedo High School is the host this year and will hold the event in the Tangerine Bowl facility in Orlando.

A special added feature this year will be an exhibition performance by the Marching Knights of the University of Central Florida.

Tickets for the event can be purchased at any Keller Music Company outlet and will be $3 for general admission. They will also be available at the event.

The Brownies and Girl Scouts are now selling wall and pocket calendars for 1983. The cost will be $1. If you have no Scouts in your neighborhood, but would like to purchase a calendar, call Meta Porter at 831-8527, or Debbie Gaultlet, 327-1794.

Priest Against Corpse's Grudge

DEAR ABBY: No, no, ten-thousand times NO! Your advice to "Seeing Red," who wrote that a relative had extracted a deathbed promise that if "H" showed up at his funeral, he'd throw her out, was desperately off the mark. "Seeing" asked for suggestions on how to keep his promise, and you actually helped him!

Abby, except for public figures, church funerals are not private invitation-only affairs. They are opportunities for individuals to lay aside the divisions that may have separated them in life in order that they can pray for the repose of the soul of the dead. If a reconciliation was impossible while one of the aggrieved parties was living, at least at the funeral the survivor can make some sort of peace.

The church does not bar its doors to people merely because they quarrel. In my opinion, the person who should be bounced from this funeral is not the one the dying man finds so odious, it is the corpse who, even facing Judgment, cannot relax his embrace on a grudge.

PRIEST IN CHICAGOSUBURBS
DEAR PRIEST: Sorry, Father, I cannot go along with "bouncing" a corpse from his own funeral.
If "H," who was specifically asked to stay away, wants to "make some sort of peace and pray for the repose of the soul of the dead," let her do so privately, at another time, instead of crashing the funeral.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I am a senior citizen in fairly good health. I lost my wife many years ago and have some living relatives, but when I die I do not want to leave anything to my relatives. Some I haven't spoken to in 30 years. I want to leave everything I have to a couple who befriended me. (I have a nice savings and some time certificates, furniture, etc.)

I talked to a man at my bank and he told me that whatever I leave will automatically go to my nearest kin. Is this correct?—SACRAMENTO, CALIF., READER

DEAR READER: No. Only if you leave no will does everything automatically go to the nearest of kin. Now, talk to a lawyer.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I disagree on something and want you to settle it.

He appreciates fine wine and most of our friends are aware of it, so occasionally when we invite guests for dinner they bring a bottle of wine.

My husband thanks them for it, puts it away, and then he serves a wine of his own choice with our dinner.

We were recently criticized for not serving the wine a guest had brought that evening.

My husband insists that when someone brings wine, it is a gift for us, and we are under no obligation to serve it. I say that if a guest brings a bottle of wine, no matter what wine we had intended to serve we should serve the wine the guest brought. Maybe I'm wrong, but I am not having another dinner party until I find out.

ON THE FENCE

DEAR ON: Get off the fence — on your husband's side. He's right. (P.S. If it is understood in advance that a dinner guest is providing the wine, then that wine should be served.)

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Tuesday, November 16, 1982

YOUR BIRTHDAY
November 16, 1982
Improvements are likely this coming year where your material needs are concerned. Sudden shifts in conditions could spring you into the profit column.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
Conditions with an influence on your security or material well-being could take some unusual twists in your favor today. Be alert for strange signals. Order now: the NEW Astro-Graph Matchmaker wheel and booklet which reveals romantic combinations, compatibilities for all signs, tells how to get along with others, finds rising signs, hidden qualities and more. Mail $2 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
You could be quite successful today if you involve yourself in projects giving you the opportunity to express your originality or inventiveness.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
Get an early start today. The types of results you're looking for could come quickly. Stalling tends to lessen your possibilities.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
Today, try to mingle with persons who are progressive and forward-looking. There's a chance they might be putting something together in which you'll neatly fit.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
Don't let challenging developments disturb you today. When under the gun you can be extremely resourceful and ingenious at surmounting obstacles.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
Just because bright ideas may come easily to you today, don't discount their merit. Your flashes of brilliance could be worthwhile.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
Be prepared for unusual conditions or sudden shifts in your commercial dealings today. There's a chance something beneficial might unexpectedly develop.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
Make an effort today to get to know better someone you met recently. You may have more in common than you realize. A good relationship could result.

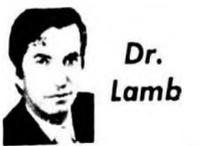

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
Don't be bogged down with unworkable procedures. Use your ingenuity today to come up with better ways for doing things. Your concepts will be good.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
You're likely to be bored and restless today unless you involve yourself in activities which are fun and challenging. Make a game out of all that you do.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
Where family matters are concerned today, try to keep your schedule flexible. Something "fun" may unexpectedly pop up. You'll want to be free to participate.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Don't waste your time today. By the same token, don't be so structured that you lack freedom of mobility. Fun developments may present themselves.

Depression: There Is A Wide Spectrum

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB—I am a manic-depressive. I know plenty of others in the same boat, some better some worse. One of the biggest injustices to us is the overemphasis given to will power. Will power is fine. It is important in patients with heart problems, diabetes or any other chronic physical problem.

My psychiatrist and internist agree that chronic depression is a physical disease caused by a chemical imbalance. Many news stories and even medical columns seem to say our problem is mostly weakness, that we "don't strive to help ourselves." What a put-down. No one should be told that will power will heal. We don't need a guilt trip added to our other problems.

depressive. There is another danger. It is not always easy to recognize depression. A man may be impatient because he is depressed, not because he hates women. Another person may have chronic constipation as a symptom but it may be caused from depression.

You will appreciate reading The Health Letter 10-10, Depression: The Ups and Downs of Life, which I am sending you.

By taking medicine faithfully and trying to diversify my activities I function normally. Twelve years and a long fight back from a complete mental breakdown have given me insight into this disease. Please urge anyone in a depression that lasts beyond a few days to seek help. If I had found help I would not have had such a long fight back.

DEAR READER—Thank you for sharing your thoughts. You are mostly right in your remarks. You can add to "will power" the frequent comment that a friend you can talk to will solve the problem. It won't, and that is dangerous meddling.

Depressions are dangerous disorders and can be life threatening. The only proper cause is to get professional help, and the sooner the better.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I am a 25-year-old female. A couple of years ago I had a tubal ligation done for health purposes. I would like to know if there is any chance of getting pregnant. Is this a sure method of birth control? I have never been sexually active but I would like to know what to expect should I decide to do so. Can I do it without worry? I read that a sterile womb is a seat for cancer later in life. Is that true?

DEAR READER—If you have had BOTH tubes ligated there should be no way that an ovum can enter the tubes and be fertilized. Tubal ligation done for the purposes of birth control is one of the most effective and sure methods available. Rarely the tubes reunite or overcome the injury of ligation. You should check with your doctor to be sure what kind of operation you had and that it involved both tubes.

If the tubes are ligated and the ovaries are healthy and left alone your uterus should function normally. In that case you should not have any more problems than other women who never becomes pregnant. I know of no evidence that lack of having children predisposes a woman to cancer of the uterus.

Part of the confusion stems from the broad spectrum of depression. Everyone has mood swings. The degree and duration is the important point. In fact, those disappointments in life and mild depression or mood swings are part of developing a mature personality—growing up. But these are vastly different from the more severe and longer disorder of the manic-ly changes losers into winners.

Jim "One principle of defense is not to be afraid to take partner's trick. Don't do it much of the time, but don't refuse to do it when it appears necessary."

Oswald "South ducks East's jack of diamonds at trick one and East's queen at trick two. He takes the third diamond and loses the club finesse. But East can do nothing to beat three no-trump. A normal result, but look what West could have done to beat declarer."

Jim "At trick two West should overtake his partner's queen of diamonds and shift to the 10 of spades. He would be lucky to find his partner with four to the king-queen, but he would have made the luck by his brilliant use of his diamond king to overtake his partner's queen."

Oswald "You could really fry an egg on South's forehead after that exhibition. He would wind up going down two tricks instead of the one he would be down by taking the first or second diamond."

Jim "Or the game and rubber he would score against normal defense."
