Landscape
Study Course
Set In April

A Landscape Design Study Course Series has been scheduled by the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs, Inc., in cooperation with the National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc., at Miami U. April 16 to 18.

The program is open to all, but only Garden Club members may take the examination and receive an Appraiser's Certificate. This study course will be Course I in Series II.

It is required that those taking the course read, "The Book of Landscape Design" by Orlin and Raymore; "Art Out-of-Doors" by Van Rensselaer; and "Art and Nature Appreciation" by Optyke. The Landscape Design Study Courses project has been called "the most dynamic program underway in America at the present time for improving man's environment."

Other commentators said, "Outdoor beauty in the USA, including such important matters as billboard regulation, subdivision control, green spaces in our towns and cities, intelligent zoning regulations, etc., seems doomed to an inert status until a large group of representative citizens can become informed as to what should be done and how effective controls and cures can be obtained."

Bliss Road Report

County Engineer Carlton Bliss today painted a bleak picture of road building for Seminole County...

There was an interesting note in my typewriter this morning. "Keep working on the access road to Seminole High"...

I wonder how many people realized that the Seminole High Boosters Club almost folded up last year because of lack of interest?

Although the city turned down the Seminole High swim team's request to use the Ft. Mellon Park Pool...

Lee Gary tells us he has been "approached" about running for the district 4 County Commission post.

The word is that Mason Wharton is thinking of running for one of the school board posts.

On Jan. 19 of this year the County Commission asked the board of medical examiners to set up some ground rules regarding the issuance of death certificates in the county.

Regarding recent criticism of the civil service board, Maj. W. E. Bristol has done a real outstanding job.

By the way Bristol and A. B. Peterson Sr. (CI director) are among the few public officials that work unnoticed doing their best without any proper financial rewards.

Interesting to note that Zoning Director Bob Brown was called for jury duty from Federal Court in Orlando...

Hold the phone Horncense—A carrier pigeon from South Seminole just blew in with a note saying: Ford Cavanaugh will definitely NOT be a candidate for anything in the forthcoming Primary.

Woman from Paula called telling us we should commend the Lake Mary Volunteer Fire Dept. and NAS fire crews for the work done at Paula the other day.

Altamonte Asks 2 Paving Projects

A resolution calling for the four-laning and widening of SR 436 from the intersection of Longwood Avenue (SR 427) in Altamonte Springs to the intersection with Hwy. 17-92 was one of two paving resolutions adopted Wednesday night at the semi-monthly meeting of the Altamonte Springs Town Council.

The other resolution called for the widening and resurfacing of SR 427 from its intersection with SR 536 in Altamonte Springs to its intersection with SR 434 in the town of Longwood.

The resolutions request that these projects be included in the 1962-63 SRB budget, the district hearing for which will be held on March 8 at Deland.

The resolutions pointed out that the greatly increased traffic on these roads made it imperative that they be improved.

A nine-foot strip of land extending one block on Maitland Avenue.

This strip originally was dedicated to public use and was not needed in the widening of Maitland Ave.

The strip is now being released as the property owners in the block can make use of the strip so that their lots will conform to the frontage of other lots along the Avenue.

Authorized the city attorney to advertise for bids on a new garbage truck of the Dempster Dumpster type or a similar type, giving specifications for the equipment.

At the mayor's request the Council authorized the attorney to prepare petition forms for the annexation of certain properties adjoining the town.

Two Seek Seat In Legislature

Longwood Mayor Allen R. Lormann today qualified for the Group Two Legislative post now occupied by Gordon Frederick on the Democratic party ticket.

Frederick has indicated he would not seek re-election. Lormann, a resident of the area since 1935 is a graduate of Miami University with a degree in Economics.

He is currently serving his second term as mayor of Longwood and is a realtor in Fern Park.

In a prepared statement, Lormann said: "We are now about to enter an era of tremendous expansion which will bring with it many problems. If elected to the State Legislature, I will attempt to give proper guidance and direction to this growth, and do my best to help solve the problems to the satisfaction of the people. I will make every effort to add additional strength, stability and aggressiveness to our legislative delegation. I will represent all of Seminole County and work for the best interests of the State in general."

S. J. DAVIS

Joe Davis, Sanford Attorney, announced today he will qualify as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the House of Representatives, Seminole County, Group II.

"I am fully aware of the political, economic and social problems which we now face and which will arise because of the anticipated population growth of Seminole County and the state of Florida. It is of the utmost importance that continued attention be applied to the improvement of our educational system including higher education, and to the state road system and other programs of our state and local government. We must strive for economic stability throughout the State and Seminole County.

Fire Coverage For Bear Lake Explained At Club Meeting

By Shirley Wentworth
Chief Robert Kelly of the Lockhart Volunteer Fire Dept. was guest speaker for last Thursday's monthly meeting of the Bear Lake Community Club at the Florida Power Employees Club on Big Bear Lake.
Kelly outlined the service available to all those living in South Seminole areas covered by the department and touched briefly on the possibility of installing a fire hydrant in the Bear Lake vicinity. Concluding his informal address with a question and answer period, Kelly advised that the volunteer department would welcome new members from the area if any of the men are interested in joining the group.
Following Kelly's talk, Mrs. J. N. Anrum, club member, displayed before the group a beautiful and outstanding pink Amaryllis bloom and gave a short talk on the culture and care of the plant.
She explained that the plants come in a wide variety of colors ranging from white, pink and salmon to the darkest of reds and that their blooms are large often measuring a startling eight inches across.
New membership cards were distributed and club members were asked to encourage all residents of voting Precinct 18 to join the civic organization which has as its purpose the working for a better community and government according to Miss W. Neel, president and Miss Helen Cuckley, membership chairman.
A five member nominating committee will be appointed at the next monthly meeting for elections to be held in May for new officers of the club.
Mrs. Neel and Mrs. G. C. Aldrich served homemade cookies, doughnuts and coffee during the social hour following adjournment of the business meeting.

Weaver Next Boss Of Housing Finance Agency?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Both Republican and Democratic lawmakers today speculated that President Kennedy may still name a Negro to his cabinet.
They said it was still possible despite the House's defeat of the President's proposal to create a cabinet department of urban affairs and name Negro Robert C. Weaver to fill it.
Some members thought Kennedy might name Weaver, now head of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, or some other Negro to replace Abraham A. Ribicoff as secretary of health, education and welfare.

Ribicoff has indicated he might resign soon to run for the Senate from Connecticut.
The speculation that Kennedy may name a Negro to Ribicoff's job was based on the theory that such a move would assure whatever political gain Kennedy may have scored in the nearly-solid Republican vote against his urban department plan.
Other congressional news: Highway: Members of the House Highway Investigating subcommittee challenged Massachusetts Commissioner of Public Works Jack Ricciardi to back up his claim that he has found no "concrete" evidence of wrongdoing in the state's highway program. Members said the subcommittee's hearings had uncovered a pattern of "collusive practices among appraisers" in the state.

Unprecedented Inquiry On Powers Still On

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Somewhere—the place is a secret—an unprecedented, formal inquiry is going on today into the story of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers.
The panel is headed by an eminent judge — E. Harrett Prettyman—and includes "outsiders" and "insiders" not yet named.
The choice of the panel appeared to reflect an administration effort to give the official U. S. report on Powers the highest stamp of impartiality and judicial credibility.
The Powers case has raised issues ranging from the reputation of a man and what his back pay should be, to the security of a nation, the extent of Soviet weapons development and the degree to which U. S. intelligence systems may have been compromised.
The panel was apparently chosen to report on these issues in a way which would reduce as much as possible lingering doubts among the American public and subsequent rumors and recriminations.

All signs so far indicate that Powers himself will be cleared of any failure to fulfill his contract or carry out his instructions.
The form of the inquiry was revealed by President Kennedy at his news conference Wednesday in what seemed a slip of the tongue.
"There is, as you know," Kennedy said, "a board of inquiry which is examining whether Mr. Powers completed his contract. That board... is under the leadership of Judge Prettyman and represents outstanding citizens."
Reporters had not known that Elijah Harrett Prettyman, 70, recently retired from the U. S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia and a jurist of national reputation, was in the case, and had not known much more, on the record, than the fact that an inquiry was going on.
Pumped for information on what was meant by completing "his contract," U. S. officials replied, "The contract is classified."
But they indicated that on this question hinges a subsidiary legal issue of which of two possible accountings should determine Powers' back pay for the 18 months since his ill-starred flight.

Kennedy told newsmen Powers "has been cooperating fully" with the U. S. investigation. The inquiry, he said, will be completed by the middle of next week, and Powers then will be available to Congress and to the press.
Kennedy added: "I must say that there is so far no evidence that he did not comply with his contract."

More Power For 'Fact-Finders'

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — President Kennedy's Labor-Management Advisory Committee will propose legislation soon to give neutral fact-finders the power to make settlement recommendations in national emergency strikes, labor sources said today.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, and five other members of the federation's executive council on the White House panel, were reported to favor the step as an improvement over present procedures.
The presidential committee, headed by Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg, includes 21 members equally divided among organized labor, management, and the public.
Its recommendations to Kennedy could be expected to carry great weight in the drafting of proposed legislation to deal with critical disputes. Goldberg has said that a bill on this subject will be sent to Congress this year.
Under the present laws, a fact-finding board named by the President when he invokes the Taft-Hartley Act, is barred from making any suggestions to halt a strike that threatens the nation's health or safety.
Goldberg, who was a chief negotiator for the Steelworkers union during the historic 116-day steel strike in 1959, believes this is a weakness in the law that should be corrected.

Existing statutes also do not forbid a strike, but only delay it for 80 days, industrial relations experts observe.

J. W. C. Helms Dies At Home

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at Brissou Funeral Home with Rev. Lloyd Anderson of the Baptist Church of New Smyrna Beach officiating. Burial will be in Hillcrest Memorial Gardens in Leesburg.
Brissou Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Lake Monroe Jottings . . .

Mrs. H. L. Johnson
Wonderful spring weather to you. Isn't it wonderful? Sure hope it stays . . . The J. I. Lakes have had their niece and nephew visiting them for a while. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Tanner of Easton, Pa., are now in Miami. The Lakes also have with them now for a lengthy visit Miss Ethel Jennings of Union, N. J. They all have been taking in the Florida attractions. So glad that they had good weather. Wonder if we could make Florida crackers out of them. It's worth a try . . . Went up to the hospital to see one of our school bus drivers, Grace Edwards. There she was sitting up in a chair talking to Eva Wynn, just as if there were not a thing wrong with her. I was very glad to see her looking so good and she has got to get well real quick because we have to accompany the High School Band to Daytona early next month. So hurry up Grace and get well . . . Mrs. John Lauer has been called to Knoxville, Tenn., because of the illness of her mother . . . I know that Carol Boston got some nice little things at the shower given for her today by Ola Cain at Ola's home on Orange Blvd. Was really sorry that I could not attend . . . Talking of showers, there is another one coming up Monday evening. This will be for the new Mrs. Johnny Woody who was until last Sunday Ann Lee. Ann's aunt Margie Stripling and cousin Lucille Morgan are having one for her. And again I will be unable to attend because that is the night that Lucille Fitzgerald and I will be in the Seminole County booth at the Central Florida

Fair in Orlando. Speaking of Fair, how did you like the one here last week? There were very nice community exhibits, also individuals too. In the home demonstration group Elder Springs won first prize. Sanford second and Lake Monroe third. Still talking about fairs, Lotena Tindel and I along with several adults accompanied Cecil Tucker and Miss Myrtle Wilson and the 4-H boys and girls to the Tampa Fair. We all had a most wonderful time. The weather was perfect and the exhibits were all very good . . . Naomi Sapp and the Walter Barrett family spent the past week-end in Valdosta, Ga. They reported a very wonderful time. It rained on their coming home . . . Don't forget the Family Night Supper tomorrow night at the Upsala Community Presbyterian Church. Bring a covered dish and friends. The church will furnish a baked ham. The Dorcas circle will have an old fashioned cakewalk. The supper will start at 6:30. So come out and have an enjoyable time with all of us . . . And ladies of the church, don't forget the Circle Meeting tonight at White Hall. This will start at 7:30 p.m. . . . Urban and Gertrude Lee had as their guests last week, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Woody and son Randy, and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Atchley and sons of Cleveland, Tenn. They were here to attend the wedding of their son Johnny to Ann Lee which was held Sunday afternoon at the Central Baptist Church. Ann's cousin Rev. Leonard Jones performed the ceremony. The best of everything to you in your life together, Ann and Johnny. . . Mrs. H. L. Howe of Chicago and son, Keith, of Alberta,

Ma, have been visiting Marilyn Keppar for a few days. . . Our heartfelt sympathy goes out to Rena and Claude Hawks in the passing of Rena's father, Mr. Will Reddick at Niceville last Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Reddick have visited here many times. . . I saw John Lommerse who owns the Dutch Mill Nursery on Upsala Road working hard doing some landscape work in the yard of the Bill Stemper Tuesday. Then I came by his nursery and there was the most beautiful pansies in bloom also petunias. So now I am getting the flower garden spring fever. And out at Nettie English's County Club Nursery there are the cutest little wheelbarrows painted white that will certainly be in anybody's garden. I see she has parakeets too. . . There was a lot of watching and praying Tuesday morning for our astronaut, John Glenn. I got tickled at some of the children on the bus. Some of the teachers had radios in their rooms and some didn't. You can imagine the conversations that went on between them. It's certainly surprising how many children are "gone" on the space age. . . Thanks, Eva Wynn for nice compliment. . . Glad to hear that Monroe School Principal Morris Hubby is doing okay after being ill in the hospital. . . The Red Cross First Aid Class held their final tests at the Monroe School Tuesday evening. . . Our thought for this week concerns ourselves. It goes like this: THERE IS ONLY ONE THING UPON WHICH YOU CAN BE CERTAIN OF IMPROVING AND THAT IS YOUR OWN SELF. Ah! that is so right!

SHUFFLEBOARD TOURNAMENT winners, Mr. and Mrs. Erich Dallman who took the tournament sponsored this winter by the Altamonte Springs Garden Club, received a trophy at this month's meeting of the club. North Orlando Girl Scouts Mapping Out Busy Schedule

By Mona Grinstead
North Orlando Girl Scout Troops 594 and 233, who today are celebrating "Girl Scout Thinking Day" in conjunction with this month's World Friendship observation, also are mapping out a busy schedule for the next few months and already are working on plans for their summer reunion program. Troop 594, "The Growing Oaks," have organized two patrols with Mrs. Walter Pike, troop leader and Mrs. Robert Davis, assistant leader, each instructing a patrol. Girls in Patrol One have chosen the name "Girls in Green" and those in Patrol Two, "Bobwhites of the Glen." During the month the scouts have studied different countries and have taken charge of the weekly programs based on their studies. Individually, they are working on child care, horsemanship, skating, mammals and magic carpet. Today they will devote their thinking to girls in foreign lands and how they can help further the organization in countries where it has not yet been established. In addition to setting up their summer program, the girls also are planning their celebration to mark the Girl Scout Golden Anniversary on March 12 when each will invite an adult friend or her mother to a special program. Troop 233, led by Mrs. Myra Stodden with Mrs. Lydia Johnson of Longwood as co-leader, meets after school each Tuesday at the Longwood Baptist Church. These girls, who donated gifts to the Salvation Army for use at Christmas time in addition to providing a box for a needy family, presently are working on "Backyard Camping Skill" badges learning to tie knots and to build campfires and studying the rules of camping safety. As an extra, they are covering clothes hangers with yarn which keeps the hangers from rusting on their clothing. Seven of the 10 girls in this troop which forms two patrols of five members each, flew up last year from Brownies and all are working on their second class rank.

Upsala Church Sets Supper

Members of the Upsala Presbyterian Church have extended an open invitation to interested persons to join them at 6:30 p.m. Friday in White Hall of the church for an old fashioned Family Night Supper. The church will provide baked ham and families and friends planning to attend have been asked to bring a covered dish. Following the supper a program of entertainment has been planned including the ever popular "cakewalk." A free will offering will be accepted to go towards payment of the church mortgage. New Series Of Satellites Planned

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—America's space agency plans to launch within a few days the first in a series of satellites designed to take science's first direct look at the sun. The key purpose of the orbiting solar observatory, or OSO, is to learn more about "storms" of radiation pouring from the sun that would at their worst kill an astronaut who ventured into space without impossibly heavy shielding.

The 410-pound moonlet will be sent aloft, possibly as early as next Tuesday, atop a three-stage, Thor-Delta rocket. Plans were announced Wednesday by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA). The OSO program is a particularly long one. It is expected to last about 11 years, the period of time covering one full sunspot cycle. Sunspots is a term given gigantic eruptions on the face of the sun that send deadly showers of radiation into space.

Registration, Voting And Good Government

This past week Secretary of State Tom Adams called a special meeting of all county supervisors of registration in an effort to find ways and means to get eligible citizens to register and vote.

It was brought out at this meeting that over 1.5 million Floridians who are eligible to vote haven't taken the time to register so they might exercise this privilege.

Gov. Bryant told the supervisors that "although it is true to say it, Democracy depends on you. If you fall in your function, Democracy falls."

This brings to mind the question as to whether it is the responsibility of county supervisors or we citizens to register to vote.

In Seminole County there are more than one thousand eligible voters who have not yet registered. Add to this figure thousands in the county who are eligible to vote but have not bothered to register the first time.

Perhaps our approach is all wrong. Maybe we should give away green stamps and door prizes at the registrar's office.

Many G.I.'s fought and died for this right we call the VOTE. Their lives were given in an effort to maintain a democratic republic in the U. S.

If the attitudes of Americans in other states is as poor as it is here in Florida then their sons, brothers, cousins, uncles and friends indeed died in vain. FOR OUR OWN SAKE let us hope not.

THE SOLUTION IS SIMPLE: REGISTER AND VOTE.

Room For Improvement

Sanford Jaycees, with others in Florida, are making plans to help get more voters registered for the May primary election. The Junior Chamber of Commerce has a rich field of service here, because in Florida there are 1,600,000 persons of eligible voting age who aren't registered. The state, in fact, ranks 42nd among the 50 states percentage wise.

Although we see no good in dragging to the polls people who haven't any interest in the candidates or issues, and who wouldn't otherwise vote, it goes without saying that our republican form of government works better when the maximum number of citizens takes an interest in politics. The simple act of registering and becoming an eligible voter, it is hoped, will stimulate such interest.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—

All you have to do is read a transcript of one day's broadcast by Radio Moscow. They show clearly that anything else that international tensions have NOT been relaxed.

This was the day before the exchange of American U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers for the convicted Communist spy, Col. Rudolf Abel, although this had already been agreed to after weeks of negotiation.

Not so incidentally, Abel's existence was not mentioned in Radio Moscow broadcasts.

Russian listeners were told that the Soviet government had released Powers on the request of his parents and just to reduce international tensions.

Here are a few quotations of what the Russians are putting out to distort the image of what is going on in the United States and around the world: Radio Moscow in English to the United Kingdom:

"Numerous facts show that the United States is not interested in the success of talks outlawing nuclear tests. It has deliberately torpedoed the Geneva conference, having decided to resume nuclear tests in the atmosphere long ago."

(This overlooks completely the fact that the Soviet has twice in the last year broken up the Geneva talks so that Russia could resume nuclear tests in the atmosphere.)

Moscow in Greek to Greece:

"Indignation is being expressed in UN diplomatic circles against Washington's continuous efforts to compel small countries, through threats and blackmail, to abandon support of the just Cuban appeal against U. S. actions."

The opinion has spread among Afro-Asian delegates that the United Nations must take concrete measures to prevent a new American aggression against Cuba."

Moscow in Persian to Iran:

"The American monopolists and their representatives openly interfere in Iran's internal affairs. . . . The U. S. colonists try to completely control the armed forces and organizations for suppression of the Iranian people and to turn them into tools for implementing U. S. policy in Iran."

Prices have gone up 30 to 100 times in the last few months. The record-breaking suicide cases show how critical the situation is on Taiwan. The suicides are due chiefly to hunger, poverty and despair."

(This is an obvious cover-up for the mainland China famine, which the Communist radio of course never mentions.)

Moscow in English to North America:

"News comes from the United States that the American ultras (conservatives) are becoming more active."

"The American ultras are now resorting to bombs. They are beginning to terrorize the population. They already feel their strength and have little to be afraid of. Although Washington talks of being concerned about them, actually they encourage them with their anti-Communist policy."

Moscow in Arabic to the Arab World:

"Americans are not driven to export their agricultural produce just because it is surplus. Millions of people in America go hungry. It is obvious that the monopolists cannot make any profits from them. But U. S. businessmen want to make profits. This is what drives them to search for profits outside the United States, particularly in Asia, Africa and Latin America."

Worry Clinic

CASE L-446: Timmy R. aged 10, was in a crowd of boys on a sandlot.

"Let's play baseball," one of the group decided, so the two ringleaders served as captains of rival teams.

One by one they took turns picking players from the group.

Timmy stood up straight and thrust out his chest. He smiled ingratiatingly.

But each time a choice was made, Timmy was omitted.

And when the full roster of both teams was completed, Timmy was still unchosen.

My car was parked within eavesdropping distance, so I had witnessed the entire scene.

And I had observed his excessive eagerness to be included on one or the other baseball aggregation.

But now that eager light went out of his eyes. His posture drooped.

He kicked at a tuft of grass with the toe of his shoe to keep his eyes down, for they glistened with unshed tears.

Timmy had been socially rejected.

Since children are my major interest, I knew what was going on in Timmy's mind, so I casually got out of my car and stroled over.

"How come you aren't on one of the teams?" I asked.

"Oh, I can't play very well," he finally replied. "They call me 'butterfingers' 'cause I drop the ball. And I strike out too much."

A pause intervened, and then he replied with a little more spunk:

"But how can I ever learn to play when nobody helps me? My Daddy always says, 'Go, run along, I'm too busy,' whenever I ask him to play catch with me."

"And nobody will pitch the ball to me so I can learn how to bat. So how can I ever be any good at baseball?"

He looked pleadingly at me and I knew his lifelong ambition showed in his eyes.

With my professional background, I visualized Timmy as a symbol of millions of other rejected youngsters, thousands of whom will enter mental sanitariums because of these episodes that make life intolerable.

You parents don't need to go to college to learn how to be expert child psychologists.

In fact, it is often the college graduate parents who have the problem children!

What children need is more of your time to show them how to be reasonably skillful in a few standard children's games.

Dads, it is more important to win your child than to land tomorrow's big sales contract!

For children need love and parental camaraderie more than lush living quarters.

A devoted family, even in a hillbilly cabin, is far more productive of self-reliant children than a frenzied existence in a pent house with governesses and tutors trying to handle your neglected parental duties.

So teach your children the games and sports of their age. Take them to Sunday School, too, and train them to Phil Newsom Says . . .

DeGaulle Looks Ahead

(UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle's surprise proposal for a four-power nuclear conference at the summit indicates that he now considers France a full member of the atomic club.

It also suggests a degree of international cooperation not yet achieved in any previous conference and one which De Gaulle himself probably does not expect soon.

Although it appears that De Gaulle did not consult his Western allies before making his proposal, there appeared nothing in it with which either Washington or London could quarrel.

Disarmament without nuclear agreement obviously is no disarmament at all. Equally, disarmament to be effective first must have inspection and controls. And, finally, there is little point in discussing nuclear disarmament with nations who do not possess nuclear arms.

It would, perhaps, be unfair to De Gaulle to suggest that his proposal primarily was designed to throw up a smoke-screen against Nikita Khrushchev's latest proposal for co-operation in the space field.

Therefore, when De Gaulle framed his message to Khrushchev suggesting a nuclear conference, it would seem he had other things in mind.

Uppermost in De Gaulle's mind, as it is in Khrushchev's, is the future of Western Europe.

peaceful exploration of outer space, they have refused to disclose many of their findings.

De Gaulle's plan extends considerably beyond the destruction of nuclear weapons and their means of delivery.

For the same pad from which is launched an inter-continental ballistic missile also may be the launching site for peaceful exploration of space.

This in turn would imply a vast joint effort under some kind of international supervision.

The history of Soviet cooperation in the international field suggests no such willingness, notwithstanding Khrushchev's latest proposal for co-operation in the space field.

Therefore, when De Gaulle framed his message to Khrushchev suggesting a nuclear conference, it would seem he had other things in mind.

Uppermost in De Gaulle's mind, as it is in Khrushchev's, is the future of Western Europe.

ope as it is aligned against the forces of Communism.

It is to Khrushchev's advantage to deal piecemeal with a Western Europe divided economically and militarily. It is to De Gaulle's advantage to maintain Western strength, to prevent the creeping neutrality which Khrushchev seeks and to checkmate Soviet attempts to undermine West European security.

FRED TIRRELL

Moose Club Plans Top Treat Monday

Although many talented and noted personalities slip in and out of Sanford on vacation without recognition, Magician Fred Tirrell, the only remaining charter member of the exclusive 200-member American Magicians Club, has been spotted by Sanford Moose Lodge 1851.

Tirrell, vacationing in Sunland Estates with the C. F. Cantrells (son-in-law and daughter) and himself a long-time Moose, has agreed to appear in an absolutely free performance for the Sanford Lodge Monday at 8 p. m. in the Lake Mary Headquarters above the I.G.A. Foodmart.

Unlimited in talent in many other fields and an accomplished artist, Tirrell says he has been fascinated with magic since "beyond remembering." He learned his first impressive sleight of hand trick, that of passing a pin through his head, as a lad of 14 back in his native England.

At the age of 16, he left his bride of a few months to come to America until he could arrange for her to come over. He worked his way in to show business and he and his wife reared 10 children. "We had five of each," he said, "and all of them helped with the act at one time or another."

Accustomed first to Vaudeville and later to first class night clubs in the East, Tirrell scorns TV as being "too easy." If he is not working in his entirely sleeveless show vest, he works in shirt sleeves rolled well above the elbows. Paid as much as $300 to $500 for a single performance, he also has worked with manufacturers of his acts and to develop new props. In addition, his career has included innumerable benefit shows for charitable organizations.

Although most of the larger show pieces, registered exclusively as his own, are in storage up north, men of the Sanford Lodge who had a sneak preview at last Wednesday's meeting, warn that Tirrell will leave you "shaking your head in wonder."

Lodge members, opening the entertainment to the public, reminded that "this is an evening the whole family can enjoy and will give many of our children their first chance to see an old-fashioned, top-flight Magician."

Plans Mapped By Hospital Auxiliary

Robert Besser, new Seminole Memorial Hospital administrator, demonstrated to the Women's Auxiliary the plans for the enlargement of the Hospitality Shop at a recent auxiliary board meeting. Approximately twice as much room will be available to provide better public service.

Details for the quarterly meeting of the auxiliary to be held March 17th are under the direction of Mrs. Richard Robinson, first vice president.

Chairmen discussed problems of their section with an aim toward smoother functioning of the auxiliary toward the patients and the public.

It was noted that Mrs. Theodore Broome's name was inadvertently omitted from the Year Book for finishing over 1,000 hours of service.

JENO PAULUCCI
Paulucci Family Likes Sanford 'Best Of All'

The leading figures in the fabulous story of Jeno Paulucci are all residents of the city of Sanford, because they like it here better than any other place.

Jeno, as he likes to be called, his wife Lois and their daughter and son live in Sanford in a recently-built new home on Washington Ave., complete with swimming pool and exquisitely decorated with Mrs. Paulucci's special touch.

Jeno's sister, "Liz," now Mrs. Robert d'Aversa, is the wife of the general manager of Riksha Inn and of other Paulucci enterprises. The d'Aversas make their home here on Summerlin Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Trepanier live on Madera Ave. Leo is the brother of Mrs. Paulucci and directs operations for the processing of foods used by Chun King products.

Shoemaker Firm Built Exotic New Pagoda

The new, exotic-looking structure on Hwy. 17-92 near Fern Park, known as Riksha Inn is strikingly different in appearance.

It was built by a Sanford builder with a penchant for doing things differently.

A. K. "Kay" Shoemaker, president of Shoemaker Construction Co. is young in the construction business, having been active in large scale building only since 1925, but he has always liked to try out new ideas, utilize new materials and build things that bring someone's dream to life.

"This has been a most interesting job," said Shoemaker, "and the most unusual structure we have ever built."

"Much of the credit for the successful completion of the building and its furnishings go to the fine people with whom it was my privilege to work in building Riksha Inn."

"All the people involved worked as a team," Shoemaker said, "with a maximum of cooperation."

Riksha Inn was a dream of Jeno Paulucci, the fabulous young man who rose from growing bean sprouts in Minnesota to build a far-flung enterprise that is well on its way to spreading all over the world.

Architect C. Everett Thorson of Duluth, drew a "picture" of Paulucci's dream and builder Kay Shoemaker has made it a reality. Many ingenious ideas were utilized to blend all phases of the construction of Riksha Inn into a Seminole County is the chosen site of the first of an international chain of pagoda-styled drive-in restaurants which serve only American-Oriental food.

The Riksha Inn in Fern Park has scheduled its official world premiere grand opening Friday.

The dramatic Far East architecture of the new restaurant is further dramatized by the Oriental garden, visible from the highway, with its statue of Kwan Yeu, goddess of good fortune, surrounded by an exotic garden, complete with a tiny waterfall, high-lighted with a dancing blue flame.

Genuine rikshas also catch the eye of the passer-by, imparting a touch of Oriental splendor and tickling the fancy of diners.

Spacious driveways lead right into the paved parking lot and under the wide canopy that stretches out front of the restaurant to the Chinese garden, and an outdoor patio allows customers to dine either outside or in, as the mood and the weather dictate.

Visitors and diners at Riksha Inn's world premiere opening Friday will be greeted by a charming and lovely Oriental beauty, Josephine Burgess, hostess at the exotic new restaurant.

The entire appearance and decor of the new inn, combined with the unusual atmosphere of the Riksha, make the visitor feel as if he had stepped into another world, the world of the Far East.

Holding the reins to keep this influence flowing smoothly at all times is general manager Robert "Bob" d'Aversa, an experienced manager, who formerly had charge of the Old Chinatown Restaurant at Freedomland Park.

Daytime are the province of day manager, Jane Stevenson, who will be easily spotted in her Chinese red jacket with Chun King figures on the pocket.

Night-time business will run smoothly under the management of Bill Parke, who will also be wearing the distinctive red coat.

FLORIDA'S LARGEST SELLING BRAND OF ECONOMY GASOLINE GULFTANE

In just two short months, Gulf's new lower priced quality gasoline for one out of two cars is a proven success. Millions of motorists everywhere have already proven, in over a billion driving miles, that Gulftane is lowering their cost of driving.

Gulf research developed Gulftane to meet the needs of the 50% of cars on the road that don't need—in fact, can't use—extra octanes. All extra octanes can do for these cars (that includes older cars as well as many of the newer compacts) is increase gasoline costs. Yet, for all its economy, Gulftane is a quality gasoline. It lubricates intake valves and upper parts of the piston. It is a specially blended gasoline to give you easy starting in all seasons.

To find out if Gulftane was made for your car, try a few tankfuls and see. If you are presently driving a car that doesn't need extra octanes, Gulftane will give you all the performance that was built into your engine—but at a lower cost.

Your Gulf dealer has always taken pride in offering you superior values. And now he's done it again...with Gulftane. Now No-Nox² • Good Gulf[®] • Gulftane.

BPO Does Adopt Retarded Child

The most important item on the business agenda at the recent meeting of Sanford BPO Does, was the selection of a project. It was decided to adopt a child from the Sunland Training Center in Gainesville. In adopting a retarded child from the Center the Drove will receive a picture and history of the child and will be allowed to do small favors for him, such as sending cards and gifts on birthdays, Christmas, Easter and many other small things that will help to make his life a little more enjoyable.

Plans were made to attend the state convention in Hollywood, March 9 and 10. This will be a school of instruction and Mrs. Richard Mages, president, urges all members to attend if possible. Mrs. John Sauls reported that the march of dimes, headed by the Does was a huge success. It was also reported that the Drove was well represented at the covered dish supper and fashion show, sponsored by the Theta Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi for the benefit of the Retarded School. Other members attending were Meses. Pele Bukur, Robert Caruthers, Wesley Barber, Robert Hillimer, Pat Bowersox, Ed Pratt, Brad Foley, Fred Roettger, Evelyn DeMatteo, Bill LaBree, John McCloskey and H. C. Diabrow.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What do you do when dinner guests leap up from the table as soon as the last bite is swallowed, start carrying dishes to the kitchen and even wash them? I know they are trying to be helpful but they irritate me. I live alone and would prefer to wash the dishes at my leisure when my guests have departed. After the strain of having prepared a company dinner, I want to turn my back on the dishes, enjoy my guests and relax. When my guests INSIST on "helping" me, it means three or four women in my tiny kitchenette "working" while I stand and direct the operation. It is a mess. What's the answer? IRRITATED

DEAR IRRITATED: When your guests offer to do your dishes, talk louder than they. Say, "THANK YOU VERY MUCH BUT THE KITCHEN IS 'OFF LIMITS.'" And say it as if you really mean it.

DEAR ABBY: Can a couple get married by proxy? With him overseas and me in the States? UNSIGNED

DEAR UNSIGNED: "Proxy" marriages have been performed, but only under very unusual circumstances. Talk to your clergyman.

DEAR ABBY: Just lately, four teen-agers beside myself saw a hit-and-run accident. We chased the car and got the license number. We went back to the scene of the accident and gave it to the policeman who had just arrived. They caught the man and gave all the credit to the police. We aren't looking for any medals, Abby, but this is just another example of how the teen-agers are smeared all over the front page when they do something bad. But when they do something good, somebody else gets the credit! TYPICAL TEEN-AGER

CONFIDENTIAL TO "CANT UNDERSTAND": It isn't "fair" for one child to wind up with the entire responsibility of caring for an elderly parent, but that's the way it usually works out.

How is the world treating you? Unload your problems on Abby, care of this paper.

Jacoby On Bridge

South looked at dummy and wished that he had restrained his enthusiasm and either passed at two spades or bid only three. However, he was in four and had to make the best of it.

West held the first club trick and continued the suit. South ruffed the third lead and saw that if he were going to make the hand, he would have to avoid the loss of a diamond trick.

No play was likely to work, but the two best chances were to try to pick up a doubleton queen or to play East for both the queen and ten. Both plays were about equal from a mathematical standpoint but the play for the queen-ten in the East hand had an extra chance for success.

Accordingly, South took a high trump, led to dummy's ten and played the jack of diamonds from dummy. East covered with the queen.

South won, then he led a trump to dummy's queen, finessed the eight of diamonds, returned to dummy with the ace of hearts; led another diamond and conceded a heart trick.

What was the extra chance for success? Actually there were two. West might have a singleton ten-spot or if East held the queen and West the ten, East might make a mistake and not cover the jack.

We The Women

By Ruth Millet

She added a postscript to her letter saying it was "not for publication"—so it won't be published. I won't even mention the section of the country it came from—only that the return address was a rest home for the aged.

She had no complaint for herself. Her stay, she hoped, would only be temporary, and besides her children lived close by and did not neglect her.

But that, she had discovered, was not the case of many of the old folks sent to rest homes by their grown children.

"I am saddened," she said, "by the ease with which our young folks today commit their elderly people to these homes—and how quickly the young folks forget them once they are established in a home."

A lot of other people are saddened, too, by this trend of the times. But who is doing anything to buck the trend? Politicians are preaching that the old are the responsibility of the government—where once Americans were taught that the old were the responsibility of the family.

Young people are told constantly that three generations cannot live under one roof—that it is unfair to young children to have a third generation living in their homes, and that the marriage of the "young couple" is apt to suffer if a grandmother or grandfather is taken into the home.

And yet our divorce rate is higher, and juvenile delinquency is a greater problem today than in the days when the accepted thing was for the old folks to move in with the young folks when they could no longer look after themselves.

Isn't today's attitude toward the older generation backed by excuses rather than by reason? Isn't the real reason why the younger generation feels no real responsibility for the older is because they don't want to be bothered, and that out of sight is out of mind?

TV Time Previews

7:30-8 p. m. (ABC) Adventure of Ozzie and Harriet. "Making Wally Study." When Dan Cupid threatens to lower the scholastic standing of Rick's fraternity by raising Wally's temperature over his girl friend, Ginger, the frat brothers decide on a definite course of action. Wally must be forced back to his books while Rick takes up the slack in Ginger's social life. A good plan as plans go, and this one goes up in smoke—with an assist from the not so easily conquered Dan Cupid. Ric Nelson stars with Skip Young as Wally and Charlene Salerno as Ginger.

8-9 p. m. (CBS) Frontier Circus. "Stopover in Paradise." The town of Paradise seems like anything but to Ben (John Derek), who is hard put to find beef to feed his circus troupe and resorts to buttering up an innocent country lass (Carolyn Jones) to gain his end. Miss Jones is very good in her wide-eyed role, gaining sympathy when she falls in love with Ben, the last thing he wanted her to do. Also good is Adam Kennedy, as a ranch lad who is sincerely in love with the gal and patiently waits for her to come to her senses.

8:30-9:30 p. m. (NBC) Dr. Kildare. "The Stepping Stones." Joseph Schildkraut and Eduardo Ciannelli are two journeymen actors who usually manage to add a little something extra to any production that bears their names. That is what they do tonight, in the story of a down-and-out medical researcher whose brilliance and curiosity keep him active, even though his own health is very much in danger. Kildare's initial attempts to help the old man, after he collapses, are rebuffed. Richard Chamberlain and Raymond Massey are starred as Doctors Kildare and Gillespie.

Spring Brings Out Yen For Adventure

By Carol Jepson
It appears that Spring has brought out the yen for adventure in the hearts of several folks in Chuluota.

It all started a few days ago when Harold Martin and Lester Calhoun, of Third St., decided to satisfy a long-time ambition of Harold's to ride the swift and rough Econohachee River from Oviedo to Chuluota, a distance of approximately six miles.

It was to be a full day of fishing, relaxation and fun... or so they thought. With full regalia and a borrowed aluminum canoe, they started out at the break of day; spent a few hours lastly fishing, and, having no luck, finally started on the hazardous trip downriver.

The current was swift and it took the combined efforts of both men to keep the canoe on an even keel. Suddenly there was a sharp jolt, a rending of metal, and a limb from a sunken log appeared through the bottom of the canoe. The two men leaped from the craft, struggled to drag it to shore, and after what seemed like an eternity, finally crawled, exhausted, to dry land.

What to do next!! It was either makeshift a patch, or start hoofing home through swamp and muck land. After rummaging through all their gear, Harold finally came up with a lone can of applesauce, of all things. He cut both ends out, placed them on either side of the gash and sewed them in place with a fish hook and line. To seal the patch he fashioned two plastic worms on either side as gaskets. Testing the patch and finding only a slight trickle, these two once again headed for home. The entire trip took 12 hours and worst of all, NO FISHL to show for their trouble.

After all this, Harold, still undaunted, soon persuaded Ben West, pastor of the Chuluota Community Church, and Fred Stumpf of First Street to attempt a similar trip. This time with the same canoe they started just North of Chuluota, planning a short trip down a comparatively tranquil stretch of the Econ and back. Lady Fortune apparently still frowned on such a trip however, as it wasn't long before they too ran onto a hidden stump and despite all efforts they could not break themselves loose.

Rev. West, being the huskiest of the three, clambered out into the cold, knee-deep water, harnessed a stout rope around himself and after much straining and pulling finally towed the canoe and its passengers over the obstruction.

Well, to make a long story short, a third trip was undertaken soon afterwards by Harold and I. M. Barnes of First Street. This time, using the same canoe, the tackle box on which Barnes was sitting, suddenly just dropped through the bottom of the canoe, leaving a foot-square gaping hole and a very surprised occupant. After patching again with the bottom cut from a bait bucket, I guess Harold finally gave up.

Both he and the canoe had had it!!

Forest City To Hear Stenstrom

Meeting at the Forest City Baptist Church at 8 p. m., residents of the area and members of the association will hear Stenstrom tell of the impact Nova will have on South Seminole areas and in particular to the Forest City-Bear Lake communities.

Association leaders say that it is their hope that all interested persons in Voting Precincts 12 and 16 will "turn out en masse to hear what this informed speaker has to add to this most prominent subject of today."

Also slated on the evening's agenda will be further organization of the proposed Forest City Volunteer Fire Dept. for the protection of the area.

Lions Appoint Committees

By Jane Casselberry
Nominating and convention committees were appointed by the Lions Club of Casselberry at last Thursday's meeting held at Bill's Diner on Hwy. 17-92.

With President Milton Freeman presiding, the club appointed Arvid Herdahl chairman of the committee to present a slate of officers for the 1962-1963 year. Working with him will be C. K. Fisher, Raymond Morris, Thomas Houston, Ben Evans and Joseph Murasko.

Clyde Kerce was named chairman of the convention committee to nominate four delegates and four alternates to attend the Lions Convention in Jacksonville May 17 through May 20. Other committee members are Darwin Shea, Victor Vimer and Morris.

In other business the group voted to renew its sponsorship of Casselberry Boy Scout Troop 341 for another year and made tentative plans for jointly sponsoring Harness Horse Races at the Seminole Park Raceway in Casselberry. Dates and times of the races will be announced.

Guest speaker of the evening meeting was Pastor Ronald E. Miller of the Messiah Lutheran Church who spoke on "The Value of Time."

Oviedo Royalty Crowned At Ball

By Jean Lyles
Miss Linda Harris and Johnny Courier were crowned Queen and King of the Annual Oviedo High Valentine Coronation Ball Saturday night in the school auditorium.

In the presence of a large crowd of parents and friends, Miss Sandy Mays and Tommy Estes, honor attendants, crowned the couple "Mr. and Miss OHS of 1962" after which the new royalty danced the first dance of the evening on stage.

Departure from the stage was made by the escorts and attendants forming a double columned honor guard through which the king and queen marched, leading the way to the castrorium in a grand march to open the ball.

Maid and her escorts included Ann Slavik and Stewart Ithra, Suzanne Parlin and Mike Telesky, Rhoda Haynes and Cyrus Thompson, Ann Eldenour and Wesley Swenson, Marilyn Parlin and Rex Brooks and Jan Beasley and Bill Silver.

Mrs. Young Harris, Mrs. John Courier and Mrs. George Means, in charge of stage decorations for the coronation, carried out a theme of pink and white beginning with a white throne backed by a large pink heart with silver ruffle trim. A mass of pink roses surrounded the throne and smaller hearts and cupid, strung with silver, flanked the setting amidst a grouping of palms. Music for the coronation was played by Mrs. Max Coberly, school music teacher.

In the castrorium, refreshments of red punch and red cakes decorated with hearts were served with nuts and candies. Miss Lois Ruddell presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. James Parlin and Mrs. W. B. Swenson acted as chaperones.

Decorations for the ball, in the Valentine motif, were done by Mrs. Parlin and Mrs. Swenson with the help of a student committee.

The punch table, overlaid with white, was centered with a large red heart formed of camellias. Red candles in crystal flanked the arrangement while overhead an extra large heart held red and white streamers attached to each chandelier decorated with smaller hearts and cupid forming garlands of red, white and silver all adding their gaiety and color to transform the room into a wonderland of beauty.

Men's Club Plans Second Azalea Sale

By Jane Casselberry
The Men's Club of the Casselberry Methodist Church has reported that $200 was made on its recent azalea sale but that there still are many of the large and beautiful Rhodalea plants which must be moved from their present location on the lot adjacent to the church.

In an effort to clear the property, to be used in the expansion of the church, the Men's Club will sponsor a plant sale beginning at 9 a. m. on Saturday and members advise that many bargain and specimen bushes will be offered at bargain prices.

A Healthy Step

The Herald has watched with interest the almost phenomenal organization of the South Seminole County Young Republican Club from a group of four persons meeting for the first time on Feb. 3 to its present status of a state affiliated group with 31 paid memberships.

The new political organization, seeking to firmly establish two-party politics in the county and to aid the State Federation in its efforts, we believe, is another healthy step in the right direction towards better government for and by the people.

Competition brings out the best... in people and in politics. A two-party system in operation could result in bringing out some of the best qualified candidates in history for our county and state offices.

Young Republicans Receive Charter

By Jane Casselberry
The newly formed South Seminole County Young Republican Club was chartered at a meeting of the State Federation of Young Republican Clubs held last Saturday at the University Inn in Gainesville.

The meeting began at 10:30 a. m. and was followed by a luncheon at which time the guest speaker was George Peterson, former GOP candidate for the governor of Florida.

During the afternoon session, the new club, formed only 14 days prior to the state meeting, was presented to the Federation with a paid membership of 31 persons and was accepted for membership in the state organization.

The local club was represented by Patrick McKinley Jr., president and L. E. Woodhams, secretary, who received much helpful information regarding the operation of the new political group.

Membership in the club is open to anyone within a 50 mile radius of Sanford and people of all ages are welcome to join and participate in Republican activity. Those interested in becoming members may contact McKinley or Woodhams, both of Casselberry.

The next meeting of the Young Republicans has been scheduled at the Winter Park Yacht Club building next to the American Legion Home on Prazio Lake for March 5 at 7:30 p. m.

... As Modern As 'The Twist!'

By Jane Casselberry
The Lyman High School "Choralaires" entertained a capacity audience Saturday night in the school auditorium as they romped through the lighthearted musical comedy, "Mr. Crane of Sleepy Hollow."

Though the story's plot was suggested by Washington Irving's "Legend of Sleepy Hollow," it was as modern as the "Twist."

Ike Crane, the shy dancing instructor at the "Sleepy Hollow School for Young Ladies," was played by George Lewis who received many laughs for his comic characterization. His rival for the hand of Kathy Van Tassel, played by lovely blonde Gloria Lovell, was the boastful physical education instructor, Tom Bones, played by Lemmie Hoover.

Laurie Cheatham turned in a splendid performance as Dean Roberts, dean of the girls' school. Eugene Reams took the part of Dean Alton of the boys' school. Dawn Haines was hilarious as Dottie, a girl student with a southern accent and she sparkled when she sang in numbers such as "Our School" and "Gibraltar Rock" (which turned out to be musical rather than geographic).

Commendable performances were turned in also by Grace Hulbert, Elizabeth Lunn and Honnie and Larry Dill who played students and Dennis Hearn who played the wisecracking kid.

Other girl students were Pat Merrit, Mickey Lundy, Virginia Babbitt, Mary Murray, Dallas Cassel, Jill Forsyth, Delona Christianson, Cathy Eicker, Lona Beck, Linda Martin, Margaret Blanton, Carolyn May, Sandra Yates, Linda Pinnoch, Margaret Durnell, Edy Christenson, Pat Halsey, Brenda Womack, Barbara Foreano, Sharyn Dudley, Linda Ramsey, Sandy Adams and Pat Pearson.

Boy students were Richard Winkelmann, Eugene Winkelmann, Jack Jessup, Chuck Shudis, Marvin Jewell, Larry Miller, and David Cannon.

The production was enhanced by 12 show tunes ranging from the robust "A Mile Around the School" featuring the girls decked out in sweat shirts and sneakers for their exercise, to the romantic "In Your Own Quiet Way," sung by Gloria Lovell.

The stage hand, under the direction of Handmaster Michael Fisher, gave the performance an additional professional polish. Musicians were Mrs. Lois Lockyer, piano; Wayne Murphy, Terry Harmon, Paul McGhee, trumpet; John Wagner, Carol Highsmith, Jim Walker, Glen Mitchell, and James Veitch, saxophone; Larry Barnes and Austin Saville, trombone; Ronald Leach, baritone; Richard Jordan, drums; and Eugene Mitchell, string bass.

Stage manager was Darlene Shea. Mrs. Willis O. Benson, of Lyman music department directed the production and was assisted by Ramon Delgado, dramatics instructor.

Making Of Valentine Corsages Highlights Bear Lake Meeting

By Shirley Wentworth
Mrs. Albert Jacobs, hostess of the Bear Lake Garden Circle led the group in a step by step workshop on making corsages following the monthly business meeting.

Due to her extensive knowledge and experience in the work, members were able to pick up a few professional hints for making a finished product.

For instance, they learned that flowers such as carnations are easily handled and that mums perhaps are the most difficult to manipulate.

They were shown how to break apart carnations, use floral tape and to cut and assemble net used by so many professionals as backing and also to create and make ribbon bows to enhance the corsage.

After giving and demonstrating these pointers, Mrs. Jacobs assisted each member to make her own Valentine corsage which proved a rewarding and delightful experience for all beginners in this particular phase of floral work.

During the opening business meeting, the Circle voted to have a Spring Silver Tea with details to be announced at a later date. January and February prizes for a gift certificate donated each month by the Azalea Park Nursery were awarded to Mrs. Richard Scott and Mrs. Robert Kowalski.

To close the evening, the hostess served a tangy cherry

Village Appeals For Help

By Mona Grinstead
Mayor Frank Fasula, representing the North Orlando Co., has mailed a letter to all residents of the Village asking their cooperation in keeping the community "one of pride."

He asked that the people remove all trash of any sort from their lawns and to help the village workers keep the curbs free of weeds and debris that might collect there.

In the third point of his letter, Fasula asked the residents to join in a voluntary overall "beautification project" on their lawns and home surroundings.

"You may be certain that our city is lending every possible effort to give you all of the facilities that will make this a happy community."

FDC To Survey Seminole

Economic, Population Check Set

The Florida Development Commission today ordered a complete economic and population survey of Seminole County to tie in with the Nova impact project, Douglas Stenstrom, a member of the Regional Planning Council reported.

Stenstrom, along with his colleague C. S. Lee, and ex-officio member Carlton Bliss attended the first meeting of the Regional Planning Council representing six counties in Brevard Thursday.

Stenstrom said the FDC will make complete up-to-date aerial photos and land-use surveys of the county with the first phase expected to be completed in five months.

The second phase of the study will be planning for roads, schools and increased population.

Counties represented on the planning council are Seminole, Orange, Brevard, Indian River, Volusia and Osceola.

There's no doubt that the commission will also ask for a preliminary survey of SR 46, Max Brewer's Nova impact committee laid it on the line recently that this road will be four-laned and this county must be ready with rights of way.

At the first meeting of the Chamber's road committee there were over 60 present. Thursday night less than half and not one representative from the Sanford City Commission . . . Four were present at the first meeting.

What was it Churchill said about "Never have we owed so much for so few" . . . It looks like the burden of trying to accomplish a long range planning program for county roads will fall on the shoulders of the few.

Someone at the Chamber meeting Thursday should have expressed appreciation for the fine job Mack Cleveland Jr., Gordon Frederick and Carlton Bliss did on that comprehensive analysis of our secondary road funds.

You remember the old Abbott and Costello routine about "Who On First?" Well, the City Commission is playing the same old game but it's called, "Who made the motion?" Monday night two of the commissioners voted to add two buildings on W. Ninth St. for public buildings. Two said no and one abstained. If they followed Robert's Rules of Order, the motion passed, but if they don't it's a stalemate. Anyway, the minutes will read two for, two against one abstaining . . . "No declaration of outcome."

If the City Commission doesn't take any action Monday night on floating the $200,000 bond issue for sewage treatment plant it might just as well forget about it for a couple of years. The State Health Department has given the city a 30-day extension of time to get that $150,000 federal grant but it would take 30 days to set up a bond ordinance.
