Apportionment Apathy Scored

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Minority factions in the Florida Senate formed a coalition Tuesday strong enough to challenge the long-running "Pork Chop Gang" majority bloc and stymie passage of any reapportionment plan it doesn't agree to.

by a House-Senate committee. The plan the committee had in mind involved around 48 senators and an increase in House membership from 85 to something over 140. Gov. Farris Bryant had agreed to recall the Legislature only if the committee got verbal agreement by the necessary three-fourths majority of both houses on some plan.

Pope said after the Orlando meeting that the group was "dedicated to a fight for a 38-senator plan within the present Constitution which fairly apportions the Senate."

Sen. Bernard Parrish said today that the minority factions which got together Tuesday are not trying to block "fair reapportionment."

Parrish explained the action of the group at Orlando Tuesday as being a move to try and prevent "stop-gap apportionment that does no good."

Carlson, Reams Reelected To Longwood Posts

Longwood Councilman R. C. Carlson and John Reams were re-elected hands down in Monday's municipal election for another two years on the council, with Carlson getting 220 votes and Reams 173.

Other votes cast in the race were 99 for E. E. Williamson, 66 for Mark Bullock and 53 for Vernon Finch. Receiving the highest number of votes cast for any candidate in the election was Mrs. Onnie Rockett Shomale, unopposed for clerk, who polled a total of 257.

Mayor A. R. Lormann, also unopposed, got 244 votes and Roy Shomale, running for tax collector without opposition, got 227.

A total of 323 voters of the estimated 800 registered turned out in Longwood, but voting was extremely light in Altamonte Springs and Oviedo where council candidates ran without opposition. Records show that 50 of the estimated 450 registered in Altamonte voted and 96 of the 458 registered in Oviedo turned out.

Altamonte counts were 48 for Stuart D. Fritch of Ward Four and 46 for Gene R. Stephenson of Ward Three. Oviedo tallied 97 for W.H. Martin, 96 for Ben Jones and 93 for W. R. Clonts.

New officials will be sworn in at the January council meetings.

Storm Carries 55-Mile Winds

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An Atlantic storm carrying winds as high as 55 miles an hour moved up the East Coast today toward the Middle Atlantic and New England States.

Gale warnings were displayed from Cape May, N. J., to Provincetown, Mass. Small craft warnings were flying south of Cape May to Cape Hatteras, N. C. and north of Provincetown to Eastport, Maine.

The Weather Bureau here said the lingering storm—which has caused nearly $1 million damage in the past week, mostly in Florida and North Carolina—was centered about 250 miles east of Norfolk, Va.

A special weather bulletin said winds of 45 to 55 miles an hour were noted near the center. As far north as 350 miles of the center, which would include New England waters, 35 to 45 mile an hour winds and rough seas were expected. Slightly weaker winds were present within a semicircle 200 miles south of the center.

The bureau said the storm was expected to move in a north-northeast direction at about 15 miles an hour.

Price Controls On Milk Rejected By Commission

WINTER PARK (UPI)—The Florida Milk Commission has rejected a proposal to re-establish price controls on milk sold to consumers in the state.

The commission voted down the proposal offered by Commission Chairman Charles O. Andrews Jr. here Tuesday.

But the commission went along with a recommendation by Andrews and voted to hire a Memphis, Tenn., firm of milk marketing experts to study the costs incurred by milk distributors operating in Florida.

Andrews had proposed the price controls after the commission rescinded a price control order passed last August in Sarasota. The rescinding of the order was the first thing on the agenda of the commission's meeting Tuesday.

The order was rescinded on the basis of an opinion from the state attorney general that the order was illegal because hearings had not been conducted.

In calling for re-establishment of price controls, Andrews said Florida had "half-way" controls at the producer level because 35 per cent of the industry was not under commission control.

"It is an intolerable situation when the law permits a segment of the milk industry to compete unfairly with that part of the industry which is regulated by the present price control order," Andrews said.

Tuesday's meeting touched off a sharp exchange between Andrews and former Commission Chairman J. Bralley Odham. Odham accused the commission of "political dealing" in trying to set the price controls.

Andrews answered that he had asked for the controls after a year of "conscientious study."

Somebody Gunning For Adlai?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The word in the political jungle today is that someone is gunning for Adlai Stevenson.

The word "gunning" means a shower of denials. There were denials of a story in the current Saturday Evening Post accusing Stevenson of proposing during the recent Cuban crisis that the United States trade Turkish, Greek and British military bases for the base established by the Soviet Union in Cuba.

An official unidentified, is quoted in the story as having said "Adlai wanted a Munich" and then in a column below the article trade proposals. Then accused of being an appeaser in the deadly tradition of the British, Neville Chamberlain.

Stevenson instantly replied that the story was inaccurate and untrue. Some hours later the White House issued a statement on the story.

From secretary Pierre Salinger said Stevenson strongly had supported President Kennedy's hard line on Cuba policy. In any event, these denials were predictable. Stevenson scarcely could have remained long as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations if the president had failed forcefully to deny that his ambassador had wanted to appease the Communists.

To permit such an indictment to stand against Stevenson unchallenged would have invited a powerful campaign to drive him out of public life. There would be no place in any U.S. administration for a man successfully tagged as an appeaser.

Special Stamp Available For Christmas Mail

A special new Christmas stamp is now on sale for the going rate of four cents. Postmaster Guy Allen said today.

The postmaster also issued an urgent appeal to the public to "mail early" as the National Post Office has many additional responsibilities as well as numerous extra services to offer the public during the 1953 Christmas season.

"We really need public cooperation at this time," Allen said.

To insure speedy service this year, he suggested the new Christmas stamp for greeting cards.

This four-cent stamp permits the card to be forwarded to the addressee and returned to the sender if undeliverable, provided of course that the return address is on the envelope.

"I don't know where the idea got started that it is not correct to put your return address on a Christmas card," Allen said. "It certainly is socially correct and the post office urges that you do so as a convenience to us, to yourself and to your friends."

Beginning Jan. 7, Allen explained, the new postal rates will be in effect with first class mail, surface letters at five cents an ounce; postal and post cards, four cents and airmail letters, eight cents. Airmail postcards will be six cents.

Included in the "first class" category is the so-called "drop-letter" and this rate will go from three cents to four cents an ounce.

Postal regulations designate this type of mail as letters "dropped" at a post office by the sender and picked up by the addressee at the same post office.

It is used mostly by patrons in rural areas where mail delivery service is not available and mail is picked up at the post office.

The current rate of third class mail for greeting cards will still apply in the current 1953 Christmas season, Allen said.

Agriculture Underestimated, Grower Says

"We've had a real battle the last few years with the trend of thinking in the county that agriculture was on its way out," Jack Symes, Goldenrod grower, told Civitans at their weekly meeting.

"This is false thinking and will never come to be in the lifetime of any of us here. Particularly has this given us trouble in the past among our elected officials," he added.

Symes said that "present and future officials know and will know that agriculture in Seminole County is strong and will remain so for many years."

He noted that last year agriculture in Seminole County amounted to over $50 million and added, "this is no small amount in the economy of this county."

Nationally, agriculture employs over seven million persons directly, with 16 million others in related agricultural jobs "taking home a paycheck every payday."

In addition to the salary earned by agri-workers, farmers add to the economy by spending $25 to $28 billion a year for farm equipment, $15 billion for family needs, $3.5 million for fuel. Farm real estate taxes run about $1.3 billion, taxes paid on motor fuels amount to $375 million and vehicle license fees and taxes $174 million.

Pointing to the constantly improving efficiency of farmers, Symes said that a three pound broiler chicken is now produced in nine weeks while 30 years ago a broiler of only half that weight could be produced in nine weeks.

Americans only spend 20 percent of their take-home pay for food, while outside the United States, most people of the world spend at least half their income for food, the grower said.

Capital Funds Boost Recorded

NEW YORK (UPI)—Business commitments for capital spending increased 16 percent during the third quarter of 1952, a study showed Tuesday. This reversed a sharp setback in the second quarter following the steel price dispute.

The study, made for Newsweek by the National Industrial Conference Board, said 602 of the country's leading manufacturers had total capital outlay commitments of $2.3 billion during the third quarter, a 16 per cent over the April-June quarter.

Robbery Victim Bites Evidence

MIAMI (UPI)—A Negro robber left some damaging evidence behind when he tried to rob dry-cleaning store operator Martin Nemeroff.

Nemeroff had a tussle with the robber Saturday night. Cleaning up his store Monday, Nemeroff discovered the robber's finger-tip, which he had bitten off during the fight. He turned it over to police for fingerprinting.

Nemeroff said he has false teeth.

Wife of Intern Is Dismembered

NEW YORK (UPI)—The dismembered body of the teen-aged wife of an Indian intern was found Sunday night, stuffed in a refrigerator.

The victim's husband, Ramish Jain, 25, was arrested after intensive questioning confessed that he cut up his wife's body and crammed the remains into the refrigerator in their apartment.

At first, Jain contended the body was that of an auto crash victim he had brought home for research purposes.

Man, 76 Trombones Ain't Nothing!

Have you ever heard the National Anthem played by 2,000 musicians all at the same time?

Such an opportunity will be the privilege of Seminole County residents Saturday night at Memorial Stadium, when the bands of 25 Central Florida schools climax a marching drill contest with five popular march numbers in a massed band concert.

Directing the groups of high school students in five numbers will be the five judges, who are:

Logan Turrentine, president of the Florida Bandmaster's Assn.; Oliver Hobbs of Leon High School in Tallahassee; Bill Swor, Dupont High School, Jacksonville; Tom Blabop, Lake Wales, and Manley Whitcomb, director of the Florida State University Band.

Ernest Cowley, bandmaster of the Marching Seminoles and chairman of the district contest to be held here, and Pete Bukur, Sanford Junior High bandmaster and secretary of District Five of the Florida Bandmaster's Assn., said that this year's contest is an unprecedented "first" for Central Florida.

"Never before has a marching contest been held in the fall of the year," Bukur explained.

"Sanford is the first city to have this new contest and when the first whistle of the first drum major of the first band is heard, a new precedent will be set that will establish fall marching contests throughout the state."

Twenty-five bands from six counties in Central Florida will enter the contest, which will begin with the marching drill contest at 7 p. m. Saturday in the stadium and is open to the public, with tickets available at the gate.

Some of the bands participating will include Edgewater, Boone, Oak Ridge, Evans and Colonial from Orlando; Melbourne, Titusville, Osceola (Kissimmee), St. Cloud, Leesburg, Eustis, New Smyrna Beach, Seabreeze and Mainland from Daytona Beach; Lyman of Longwood and the Marching Seminoles.

J. L. TANNER, CDR. SETTE

Tanner Wins VAH-5 Award

Heavy Attack Squadron Five's "Savage of the Month" award went to Jeffrey L. Tanner, ATNAN, USN, for overall excellence in the performance of his duties during the month of October, 1952. Each month one of the 300 men of VAH-5 is chosen for this award. Competition is keen, for only the most outstanding sailors receive their division officer's recommendations for this coveted award.

Formal presentation of the award, which consists of a letter of commendation, an engraved plaque, and authorization for special liberty, took place on the flight deck of Attack Carrier Forrestal, currently operating with the 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean. The commendation from the commanding officer of VAH-5, Cdr. L. H. Sette, reads in part as follows:

"The manner in which you have continually applied a professional approach to the solution of problems encountered in the maintenance of the various electronic systems of the AAD aircraft; your enthusiasm, diligence, perseverance, and technical proficiency, have enabled you to make substantial contribution to this command."

Loneliest Isle Residents Prefer Volcano To England

LONDON (UPI)—Thirteen months ago, all 260 inhabitants of Tristan da Cunha, "the loneliest island in the world," plunged suddenly into the mainstream of 20th century life.

For the first time, they were exposed to television and telephones, neon lights and nylon stockings, buses and barrooms, juke boxes and traffic jams.

Today they said they've had enough. The people of Tristan da Cunha have voted to go home.

Home is a tiny British-owned island in the South Atlantic, midway between Africa and South America and a thousand miles from anywhere.

A few hardy settlers, joined by shipwrecked sailors, made Tristan da Cunha their home 150 years ago. Their descendants grew up knowing nothing but the rugged life of fishermen, shepherds and potato farmers.

That life, religious and extremely simple, was brought to a halt when the island's volcano erupted last year. The British government brought the people to England to live.

They were housed in an unused Royal Air Force camp and began to learn the ways of modern England. Most of the men took jobs as laborers. Three of the islanders died of pneumonia during the first English winter.

Back home, the volcano gradually subsided. Two days ago, the British government passed out ballots to all adult Tristanians. One choice said, "I want to stay in England." The other said, "I want to return to Tristan."

It wasn't even close. By secret ballot they voted 148-5 to go home.

Willie Repetto, 50, the island's leader, told why. "Everything here is so bleak, desolate and meaningless," he said. "Everything here freezes a man's soul."

"Back home, sir, we don't know none of this constant fight to get your bread and butter. It is like living in heaven permanently out there."

"Television? We won't miss it."

An advance party of 50 men will return to Tristan da Cunha next February to repair damage done by the volcano and prepare for the return of the others late next year.

Harold Appleby To Retire Dec. 9

Harold Appleby, a veteran of 36 years with the U. S. Post Office will officially retire from the service Dec. 9.

He began his postal service pushing a parcel post cart in Orlando in 1926 and also worked as a laborer.

His long career in the post-office went from sub-clerk, city carrier, back to clerk until his appointment as superintendent of mails in July, 1946.

Appointed to the post of assistant postmaster in July, 1953, he served with five postmasters, including J. P. Hall, R. J. Holly, Mrs. Mae Holly, Joel Field and Guy Allen.

Appleby said he intends to assist Mrs. Appleby in the local restaurant, work with his flowers and hybrid crotons, get in some fishing and help prepare income tax reports.

Water, Water!

The water supply problem in the Sanford area has long been a matter of local concern. It is a fact that in the Sanford area, water is being pumped from the Orange River, which is 30 miles from Sanford, to the city of Sanford. This is done by the Sanford Water System, which is a part of the Seminole County Water System.

The Sanford Water System is a public utility which is owned and operated by the Seminole County Board of Commissioners. It is a fact that the Sanford Water System is one of the best in the state. It is a fact that the Sanford Water System is one of the best in the state. It is a fact that the Sanford Water System is one of the best in the state.

A recent study conducted by this office indicates 10,188 dwellings in the unincorporated area of our county now using septic tanks, cess pools, outdoor privies or other even less desirable means of sewerage disposal. These, along with untold others within the limits of our smaller towns, directly contributing to the contamination and pollution of the same area where there are 7,890 dwellings, an estimated 25,400 people, depending upon private wells for their drinking water. In addition, there are many drainage wells in this area which are literally draining our gutters, yes, and our cow pastures, directly into our subterranean supply.

In a paper published September, 1962, by the Division of Water Resources and Conservation, Florida State Board of Conservation, it is predicted that by the year 2000 water users will automatically drop from a present 1500 to 100 gallons per capita per day because water will become increasingly difficult to obtain and treat, therefore more expensive.

This situation is not irremediable yet, however, Seminole County should take action now to insure our citizens of an adequate supply of safe, good water. Fortunately the social behavior of humans is such that, for the most part, we live in communities. We found in excess of 4,400 dwelling units so situated in communities of sufficient size and population density as to make feasible a central water system and approximately 80% of these could now be conveniently served by a sanitary sewerage system. It is with this thought in mind we offer the following solution to this problem.

Seminole County should proceed immediately with plans for an centralized system of a Sewer and Water System in the aforementioned more densely populated communities. By so doing, we eliminate the addition of new septic tanks and wells and gradually discontinue the use of hundreds of others now in existence by making available a more economical means of meeting these needs. In other words, no one would replace or repair an existing well or septic tank if it were cheaper to connect to a Central Utility. And when this nuclei is constructed, it will make sewer and water available on many building sites now vacant. The value of these same sites will increase, the cost of building a home thereon is reduced and mortgage monies are available on a much more liberal basis, thereby making it possible for even more families to own their own homes. This, in turn, strengthens our economy and makes for an increasingly better standard of living for all our people.

This can all be accomplished on a self-liquidating basis, whereby the systems are paid for out of the revenue derived from the operation of the systems themselves.

How? Well, to begin with, we have, in addition to the 4,400 previously mentioned dwellings now in need of these utilities, our share of approximately 600 new families which will move into the area within the next few months to fill jobs now being created by new industries just setting up operations here or existing businesses expanding, as well as a new squadron of Navy Flyers expected to move into Sanford NAS. It has been noted that for every 100 new jobs created in an area, an average of 15 other jobs are thereby created. So considering, with this influx we would plan on an estimated 4,400 water and 2,700 sewer connections before we can get started. Notice this does not include the untold thousands NOVA is expected to bring into our area.

Let's project our population ahead 5 years at 15 per cent per year (our own building permit records indicate this to be low—we had an increase of 22.75 per cent in 1960), and assume 80 per cent of this increase will be in areas where water and sewers are available. We will then, in 1965, have 17,320 sewer and/or water customers. Using rates lower than those prevailing in the area, this will produce an estimated gross annual revenue of $671,600—and by the same projection, we can anticipate a gross annual revenue of $5,095,740 in 1977, only 15 years hence.

While all the foregoing calculations are based on good solidly conservative estimates of population growths and the anticipated revenues are based on rates less than those now prevailing within the area, the Board of County Commissioners has the authority to establish such rates and charges and to adjust same as it is deemed necessary and expedient from time to time, therefore, this program is economically feasible as well as vitally necessary and, properly administered will, in addition to solving our problem of water control and conservation, provide these utilities to our citizens at their actual net cost. Any excess revenues derived therefrom would be placed into the County General Fund, thereby reducing the needs for tax dollars; also, these systems, which will pay for themselves, become assets of our county, making available additional monies for such non-income producing facilities as fire protection, more and better roads and schools, badly needed drainage and land reclamation projects, recreation areas, Senior Citizens Housing.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Teenagers, consider the wise advice of Horace Mann? He is called the "father" of our public schools. And you high school teachers might well assign your English classes a theme on that subject "What I Plan To Do As a Victory For Humanity." Or let them analyze the sheeplike behavior of millions of Americans.

Case 0-403: Dr. Woodrow Goddard is the dynamic president of Marion College. "Dr. Crane," he began, "we'd like to have you deliver our Commencement Address so would you please tell us the title of your talk?"

Usually I speak at such occasions on the topic "Be A Shepherd Instead Of A Sheep." Then I outline the responsibilities of educated people to take the lead in all constructive action, instead of being sheep who meekly accept the fads and fashions of advertising copy writers.

Some years ago while I was riding on a train from Chicago to New York, I sat beside a visitor from Australia.

He represented a large group of sheep ranchers over there and had come to America to negotiate for the sale of their wool.

In discussing the sheep industry, he told me that the ranchers must often make the sheep plunge into a stinking vat of sheep dip, to kill the ticks and other parasites that afflict them.

"But the sheep don't like to get wet," he began, "so they refuse to jump into that big vat of smelly sheep dip.

"We have found an easy solution, however, for we just lassoo the lead sheep and actually drag him through the sheep dip.

"Without a moment's hesitation, then the entire flock will plunge in after him, for sheep simply follow the leader."

With this illustration I then warn students that society has invested a large amount of money in them for 16 years to make them independent thinkers or "shepherds" of the less educated folks in America. Thus, they have a serious responsibility not to meekly accept bad habits.

For they are pace-setters and the masses of sheeplike younger folks will tend to follow their example, blindly.

This matter of free public education, for instance, also needs to be re-analyzed. For it has been only in about the past 150 years that our country has offered free schooling to its children.

Remember, the first high school in America was started in Boston (and for boys, only) in the year 1821.

And it wasn't till 1850 that elementary schools began to schedule classes through the 8th grade.

In fact, not till 1872 did the courts O. K. tax support for public high schools!

So free education is a recent luxury in the entire history of mankind!

You pupils should thus take full advantage of it while it is still free!

For many Americans are challenging the financial capacity of our country to maintain free school much longer, at least after the 8th grade.

Horace Mann, of Massachusetts, is really regarded as the "father" of the public school movement.

"Schoolhouses," he said about 1840, "are the republican line of fortifications."

He referred to the defense of this unique Republic as a Golden Rule form of government in contrast to the jungle

"might makes right" doctrine of democracies.

"Be ashamed to die," he also advised teenagers, "until you have won some victory for mankind," and I concluded my Commencement Address at Marion College with that inspiring precept.

Peter Edson Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The strong likelihood is that Billie Sol Estes never will be called to testify before Senate and House committees probing his tangled dealings in cotton allotments, grain storage and fertilizer tanks.

The prospect is affirmed by sources on Capitol Hill in the face of recent assurances by Chairman John McClellan of the Senate investigating Committee that Estes still would be called as originally promised.

The reasons his appearance here is considered improbable:

1. With one state conviction on a revolving charge already hanging over him and nearly three dozen other state federal and state convictions pending, Billie Sol's involvement in court action is expected to go on for many months.

2. He answered no questions for Senate investigators when they tapped him in Texas. His lawyers have hinted that this performance would be repeated if he were summoned to Washington.

Since the central figure in the case is thus under wraps, no further excitement is looked for except the committee reports.

From June 27 to Sept. 14, the McClellan committee exhaustively canvassed Estes' alleged illegal cotton allotment transactions and related charges that some Agriculture Department officials assisted in these maneuvers in return for favors from him.

Though Senate probes also dipped into Estes' grain storage activities, House hearings before the Fountain committee this spring centered on this field. Hence Senate action is not expected, and the McClellan hearings, for all practical purposes, are ended.

Not until after Congress reconvenes in January will the Senate group's report be ready for issuance. The six members of the subcommittee—four Democrats and two Republicans—must get a crack at the draft report now being chiseled up. Then it has to be run past the three other members of the full Government Operations Committee.

A Republican minority dissent is a good bet, and there might be others. During the summer-long hearings, observers often detected something less than unamiability among the few Democrats—McClellan, Henry Jackson of Washington, Sam J. Ervin of North Carolina, Edmund Muskie of Maine.

Whatever the divergence of view that creeps into print, knowledgeable sources suggest that none of the reports likely to charge interference on Estes' behalf by political figures outside the Agriculture department.

If this preliminary appraisal proves correct, it will be of interest to Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Texas Sen. Ralph Yarborough, among others. Yarborough acknowledged receipt of a campaign contribution from Estes. Repeated efforts were made to link Johnson to the case.

It is argued now that the Senate inquiry produced no plausible evidence to prove such interference.

Main stress in the committee report probably will fall on assertions of incompetence, mismanagement and misjudgment on the part of a wide range of Agriculture Department officials—from field operatives in individuals high up the ladder in Washington.

A few blips may fall on Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman. More news likely to fall on Undersecretary Charles S. Murphy though, evidently he made some dent on the committee with his testimony that he was as busy with other department affairs as he did not have time to grasp the Estes case fully.

One net effect of the Senate inquiry, it is suggested, will be to make a chief culprit out of what investigators call "the monster"—the huge Agriculture Department itself, with its sprawling organization, crisscrossed regulatory regulations, unreliable internal communications.

The Foundation committee's report coming along a good deal later in 1963, is expected to put similar emphasis on department chaos and inefficiency. The House group still plans more hearings in January and beyond, but no striking disclosures are anticipated.

New York Mets Talk At Adding Older Players

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Mets need "everybody" to stick out of the National League cellar, but they're not interested in acquiring more hitting stars as Duke Snider and Earl Wynn.

"We had a lot of big names last year and we didn't win," club President George Weiss said Tuesday at a news conference. "We have to get thinking in that direction."

Snider, the 35-year-old Los Angeles Dodgers' outfielder, was one of New York's most popular players last season. The team had been looking for a pitcher to lead the way for the club.

Weiss, though, insisted that Snider "never has been adjusted to us in a club and we added that with the hope that we'd be in our new ball park next season. I don't think he (Snider) would have as much value to us as in the New Orleans."

As for the 41-year-old Wynn, Weiss said he was offered to the Mets by General Manager Ed Hart of the Chicago White Sox with the suggestion that "he'd be worth a lot of publicity value to you when he wins his sixth game."

However, Weiss explained that Manager Casey Stengel isn't interested in Wynn, who closed out the 1955 season with 200 major league victories and has been given permission by the White Sox to make a deal for himself.

Asked what the Mets, who lost a record 120 games last season, needed most, Weiss emphatically replied, "Everything."

Turning serious, the veteran baseball executive said the team still is seeking a couple of left-handed hitting outfielders, pitchers "you never have enough of them" and a regular shortstop.

"We still have hopes of swinging a deal," Weiss added. "There are nine days left to the interleague trading period. We have a couple of things on the fire."

Nebraska Seeks First Victory In Gotham Bowl

NEW YORK (UPI) — Nebraska, mauled the last time it met a Southern team in a bowl game, hopes to present the university with its first post-season college football winner in the Dec. 15 Gotham Bowl against Miami (Fla.) at Yankee Stadium.

Nebraska has appeared in two previous bowl games, losing to Duke in the Orange Bowl in 1953, 34-7, and to a Frankie Albert-led Stanford team in the 1941 Rose Bowl, 21-13.

The Cornhuskers took 15 seconds to decide on the Gotham trip Tuesday after receiving a firm invite from bowl director Bob Curran.

Miami got the nod by beating Florida last Saturday night. Hurricane Coach Andy Gustafson was elated over the bid because it gave his players a chance to play in New York and cut down the practice period required for a late December bowl game.

The March of Dimes will be the principle beneficiary of the game, with the competing schools receiving mutually acceptable fees as contracted between the Gotham officials and the NCAA.

Curran said the game will be nationally televised by the American Broadcasting Co., which has a two-year contract for the Gotham Bowl and an option clause for further agreements.

The Cornhuskers will enter the Gotham Bowl with an 8-3 record, losing only to Big Eight conference rivals Oklahoma and Missouri. Miami's 7-3 mark includes losses to Alabama, Louisiana State and Northwestern. The Hurricanes have played in five major bowl games, winning two and losing three.

White, Southern Cal Honored At Football Foundation Fete

NEW YORK (UPI) — Supreme Court Justice Byron R. (Whizzer) White and the University of Southern California football team received the major awards Tuesday night at the annual dinner of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

White, a former All-American halfback at Colorado and later a pro star in the National Football League, was awarded the foundation's Gold Medal for his contributions to the sport.

Previous recipients of the Gold Medal were three presidents — Dwight Eisenhower, Herbert Hoover and John F. Kennedy — and General of the Army Douglas MacArthur.

Southern California received the MacArthur Bowl as the nation's top college football team of 1962. It was accepted by Jess Hill, Southern Cal's athletic director.

Twelve men were inducted into the Hall of Fame and eight scholar-athletes, including Heisman Trophy winner Terry Baker of Oregon State, were awarded the Earl Blaik Fellowships for Graduate Study.

The 1962 electees to the football Hall of Fame: Ben Lee Boynton, Williams; Guy Chamberlain, Nebraska; Dan Hill Jr., Duke; Cal Hubbard, Centenary; Philip King, Princeton; John McEwan, Army; John Mims, Penn.; Pat O'Des, Wisconsin; Joseph Routt, Texas A&M; William Spears, Vanderbilt; Andrew Wyal, Bucknell; and Tuss McLaughry, coach at Westminster, Brown, Amherst and Dartmouth.

The Earl Blaik Fellowship winners in addition to Baker were Al Snyder, Holy Cross; Tim Callard, Princeton; Gary Cooney, Virginia; Bob Heckman, Dayton; Rex Russell, Oklahoma State; Pat Culpepper, Texas; and Ron Manne, Utah.

More than 1,500 of football's past and present stars and guests attended the $50 a plate dinner.

New Steel Grandstand Takes Shape At Seminole Raceway

Three hundred tons of steel is reaching skyward at Seminole Park Raceway at Casselberry as the first unit of the new grandstand begins to take shape between the clubhouse and the track general offices.

According to Rex England, supervising engineer for the C. L. Mahoney Co., Orlando and Kalamazoo, Mich., who is erecting the structure, the grandstand will be ready for use by Jan. 16. The previous date was four days earlier but inclement weather has set the schedule back.

Also under construction directly across the track from the grandstand is a new totalizer, which will automatically flash the odds and payoffs to the customers at the completion of each race.

Beginning Wednesday the construction crews will go on a 24 hour tour with three shifts of men working night and day to complete the new stands, England said.

One of the features of the structure will be seven bays for box seats which will hold two sections each and will have individual moveable chairs. The regular grandstand seats will be built and installed by the Arlington Seating Co., and will be the highest quality grandstand seat available.

Installation of the lights for night racing will start as soon as the track surface is complete and meets the specifications of American Trotting Assn., governing body of the sport in this country.

A new track restaurant and additional barns are also under construction at the Seminole County track. All told, says track president Clyde Hart, the construction program at the raceway will total over $250,000.

Two Cage Fixers Face Sentences On 32 Counts

RALEIGH, N. C. (UPI) — Two convicted St. Louis basketball game "fixers" were to be sentenced today after their conviction on a total of 32 counts of conspiracy and bribery to rig college scores.

Superior Court Judge Herman R. Clark was to hand down judgments in the case of Dave Goldberg, found guilty of 18 counts, and Steve Lohmetz, convicted of 14 counts.

The two defendants faced a maximum penalty of five years imprisonment on each count.

Five other defendants who have entered either no contest or guilty pleas will be sentenced in Wake County Superior Court Thursday.

An all-male jury deliberated two hours late Tuesday evening after hearing four and one-half hours of instructions from Clark.

Following a count-by-count poll of the panel, Clark dismissed two defense motions—to set aside the verdict as "contrary to the evidence"—and for a new trial on the grounds of "errors committed" during the 12-day trial.

If appeals are to be filed in the case, they would come after Clark handed down his judgment.

Prosecutor Lester V. Chalmers paraded four former N. C. State basketball players to the stand but the major portion of his case revolved around the testimony of two admitted "payoff" men in games involving State College from Dec. 5, 1958 through Jan. 7, 1959.

Joseph Greene and Aaron (The Bigman) Wagner testified as state witnesses and told of their participation with Goldberg and Lohmetz in an alleged nationwide conspiracy to rig college basketball scores by bribing players to "shave points."

Petit Nets 21 To Lead Hawks

United Press International Bob Petit, one of the best shots in the West, is keeping the St. Louis Hawks within pop-gun range of the Los Angeles Lakers.

Held scoreless in the opening period, Petit scored 11 of his 21 points in the final quarter—including the game-winning basket—as the Hawks downed the Chicago Zephyrs 104-102, Tuesday night at Chicago.

The victory left the Hawks one game back of the Lakers in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association.

Los Angeles, led by Elgin Baylor's 43 points, whipped the New York Knickerbockers, 132-112, in the feature game of a doubleheader at Madison Square Garden. The Detroit Pistons edged the Syracuse Nationals, 130-129, in the opener.

Baylor hit on 18 of 25 field shots and Rudy LaRusso, who contributed 22 points, connected on 18 of 11 as the Lakers shot better than 50 per cent as a team.

On Waiver List

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Howard Montgomery and Dave Fedor have been placed on the waiver list by the San Francisco Warriors of the National Basketball Association. Montgomery formerly played at Pan American College, Houston, and Fedor starred at Florida State.

Taseff Quitting

Car Record Set

DETROIT (UPI) — The auto industry built about 680,000 cars in November, best for the month since the record year of 1955. The trade paper Automotive News said fourth-quarter production probably will set an all-time high of more than two million cars for the October-December period.

three sections. One is a collection of pennies, with one from the administration of every American President; another is a collection of coins from over 100 countries mounted on a huge map of the world, and the third is a collection of one each of all the different types of American paper money printed by the United States Government, including a $5 bill printed by the State of Florida.

This week has been proclaimed by President Kennedy to be American Numismatic Week, and the association is holding its annual convention in Miami Beach. The award was made to the fronton general manager for promoting the hobby with the displays.

The three displays, made up by Birr, won national prizes at the last convention of the society. The collection will continue on display at the fronton for the remainder of the week.

Aldaz, Augustin Win Feature

Aldaz and Augustin took four straight points to clinch the all start eleventh game Tuesday night at the Orlando-Seminole Jai Alai Fronton. The duo had to come from behind after Astiga and Echanis took an early lead.

Augustin repeated his performance of Saturday night with an excellent shot in the backcourt picking the pelota high off the wall and the screen and returning carom shots from the backcourt.

Aldaz and Augustin have won four of their six games as partners in the eleventh for the season. Aldaz had been a consistent winner in the evening finale, winning five games last week.

The featured eighth game singles was won by Jacis Tuesday night for his second consecutive win in as many nights in the singles competition.

Santa Helps Make Bazaar Big Success

Members of the Sanford Garden Club has concluded a very successful bazaar at the Civic Center. Chairman of the various booths and departments announced that every member of the 13 circles cooperated to make the event such a success that plans are already underway for next year. It will probably be an annual event from now on.

A variety of plants, Christmas decorations, silk gardens, pianos and other interesting articles, as only garden members can make, were sold. Many door prizes were awarded during the two days.

One of the most popular features of the event was the appearance of Santa Claus for about two hours each day. He entertained the children while their mothers looked over the displays.

The sidewalk cafe was another popular place, featuring pianos and other delicacies for the shoppers.

ROSE CIRCLE

By Mrs. James Train
If the hardening process was not started in October, begin now to harden your plants for the winter. An application of 5-10-10 fertilizer each month will enable your plants to better withstand the colder weather. Mulching with leaves or pine needles will protect them against the cold too. If frost threatens, cover tender young plants with generous handfuls of Spanish moss. This fluffy material can be left on for two or three days until the cold threat passes.

Attacks of red web-worms may come as late as November. Apply dust at the first sign. At this season, too, it is well to dust all ant hills carefully to kill the colonies. These little pests will carry away your seed. Thrips and mites may be troublesome in chrysanthemums unless one resorts to frequent spraying. Summer-blooming deciduous shrubs such as erase myrtle should be pruned now.

Chilled tulip bulbs can be ordered, or buy bulbs to chill in the home refrigerator. Fancy plants are available now. When setting out these tender plants it is wise to protect your investment with cutworm bait during the first two or three nights.

You can start cuttings where you want them permanently located by using little "greenhouses" made of wadded cottage cheese containers, or something similar. Just cut slotted windows, and place upside down over the cutting. A wire coat hanger cut in three pieces and bent double makes stakes to hook over the box at the base of each window to hold the container in place.

Seeds to plant: Sweet alysum, arctotis, baccharis-but-ton, bellis, brachycome, bro-walla, calendula, California poppy, calliopalis, candyluft, carantion, clerica, chrysan-themum, cleome, delphinium, dianthus, dimorphotheca, gall-lardia, glia, godetia, gypsoph-ilia, hollyhock, hummaman-nia, larkspur, linaria, lunam-hobella, pansy, lupine, mignon-ette, nicotiana, asterbergia, petunia, phlox, salpiglossis, scabiosa, snap dragon, statice, a t u s h, sweetpea, verbena, viola.

Bulbs to plant: Agapanthus, amaryllis, calla, crinum, fre-sia, gladiolus, gloriosa, hyacinth, hyacinthella, Dutch iris, leucocoma, Easter Lily, lycoris, moenchia, narcissus, ornatissimum, ranunculus, spre-hella, trigloida, watsonia.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

When you hold two five-card suits and your partner raises one of them your hand becomes much stronger than its actual high card holding indicates. But if you don't know how to handle your two-suiters in the play you won't get even full value out of it.

The general rule is not to play trumps until after you have ruffed out losers in your side suit.

South failed to follow this principle in a rubber bridge game in North Worth and the result was a lost game.

He followed suit on the first two diamond leads and Ruffed the ace and king of hearts, ruffed a heart and made a grimace when East failed to follow. He went into a huddle, useless because it was too late to do anything about making the hand. Finally he led a club from dummy.

West won the trick, led his last trump whereupon South had to lose a heart trick.

If South had done his thinking after ruffing the diamond he would have seen that he could not afford the luxury of drawing trumps but could have made the hand by going right after the heart suit.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

Professional women see themselves as "bossy, hard and unfeminine," says an anthropologist who has made a study of the professional woman.

The really interesting thing the study revealed is that while this is the picture professional women and those preparing themselves for professions have of themselves, it isn't a true picture.

As a group, professional women aren't bossy, hard and unfeminine. Why then do they think they are? Because "the professional woman has a stereotype as an image." She has always seen the professional woman portrayed as bossy, hard and unfeminine, so she accepts the picture, even for herself.

As a matter of fact, we women often do accept such fixed images of ourselves, no matter what kind of life we lead.

mother of small children can be as free as anyone else to get what she wants out of life. The woman whose family is grown and gone from home can lead a rich and rewarding and useful life and an unmarried woman can be as happy as her married sisters. We aren't stereotypes. We women are individuals. And let's not forget it.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I had a date with a sailor, and he was a doll. He is my girl friend's steady shipmate and it was a fixed-up date. I had a marvelous time. When he took me home he asked for a good-night kiss. I told him I didn't believe in kissing a boy on the first date, and that a kiss was meant to show "love" and I didn't know him that well. He said a kiss was meant to show appreciation and I was "old-fashioned." Was I wrong, Abby? Do girls really kiss boys to show their "appreciation"? My girl friend said he liked me a lot and would call me again. If he does, should I go? I am 16 and he is 19.
DIMPLE IN MY CHIN

DEAR DIMPLE: If he calls you again, go. It might indicate that he respects your "old-fashioned" ideas. But if he insists that "affection gestures" mean "thank you," kiss him "goodbye — forever."

DEAR ABBY: In the interest of one's health, do you think it is wise to bathe during the winter months?
A. L.

DEAR A. L.: Out of consideration for one's FRIENDS, I would recommend it.

DEAR ABBY: We are a family of eight adults. Our father passed away years ago and our mother is 80. She is senile and has been in a sanitarium for six years. Only one of my sisters and I visit her regularly and attend to her needs. Mother will not be with us much longer, and I am wondering if my sister and I should waste the time and money to notify our brothers and sisters when mother dies. They live near enough so they could have visited her once a year (they all take vacations elsewhere) and not one of them has ever sent her a card or a cent. They never write to us, or call to ask how she is. She was a wonderful mother and doesn't deserve to be forgotten this way.

DEAR DAUGHTER: Yes, notify them when your mother dies. And don't be surprised to see the ones who did the least for her when she was living cry the loudest at her funeral.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3865, Beverly Hills, Calif.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 60 cents to Abby, Box 3865, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Highlights

TV Time Previews

7:30-8 p. m. (CBS) Pearl Harbor: Unforgotten. (Rerun) You may remember this sensitive, almost poetic telecast which was seen last September on "Accent." A highlight on tonight's schedule, the program visits the famed harbor 21 years after it was the scene of America's most tragic hour. Today it stands in quiet simplicity, a shrine to the men who died there. This show is a beautiful example of what television really can do. John Ciardi is host.

7:30-9 p. m. (NBC) The Virginian. "The Devil's Children." Only a good character study by guest star Charles Bickford makes this episode worth while. The story moves ponderously and almost uneventfully toward its predictable climax. Bickford plays a rancher with a son and daughter (Carl Reindel and Joan Freeman) who are delinquents, but Bickford doesn't believe it until she touches off a destructive fire and he becomes involved in homicide. Bickford's is the most interesting role, although he gets competition from James Drury, as the Virginian, and Russell Thorson as the sheriff.

9-9:30 p. m. (CBS) The Beverly Hillbillies. A watery plot that nevertheless is good for rich laughs, thanks particularly to Louis Nye's antics in his Sonny Drysdale role. The Clampetts hurry to get Sonny to propose to Elly May when they hear Cousin Pearl (Bea Benaderet) is getting her daughter hitched. Among hill folk, it seems, one gal beating another gal to the altar is considered to be a victory for one family, and a shame to the other. Sonny, however, won't be pushed and neither will the other swain, played humorously by Phil Gordon. Starring as the Clampetts are Buddy Ebsen, Irene Ryan, Donna Douglas and Max Baer.

9-10 p. m. (NBC) Perry Como Show. (Color) This one is almost 99.44/100 song and almost all good. Reasons for the quality includes guests Johnny Mercer, as mellow a musical millionaire as you can meet, and Carol Lawrence, as talented a singer and dancer as we have in America today.

Dirty Jokes Proves to Be Handicap

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The dirty jokes that a woman told her husband about her own affairs were a handicap to her success in business, according to a study by a group of psychologists who analyzed the lives of 100 successful business women.

As to what you could call "average American," he said, "I have been married 18 years, I own 2.5 automobiles, I have 2.7 children and carry 4.5 credit cards."

"In short, I have everything it takes to be a success, and yet for years I was a dismal failure. I either couldn't hold a job or else was always passed over for promotion."

"Can you guess what my deficiency was?" "You weren't using the right underwear sprays and creams!" he asked.

"No, it was something far more serious than that," Prim said. "I didn't like dirty jokes."

"It wasn't that I necessarily objected to them," Prim continued. "Dirty jokes didn't offend me. I just didn't care for them. I didn't think they were very amusing."

"A fellow would stop by my desk and tell me the latest story making the rounds and in the time it took to walk to the water cooler I would forget the punch line."

"In other words, I was the missing link in the circulation of smutty yarns. You can't imagine what a handicap that was."

"After I had been on the job a few days, my co-workers would begin asking each other 'What's the matter with Clyde? Is he some kind of anti-social nut or something?'"

"The next thing I knew the boss would call me in and tell me that I didn't seem to be fitting in very well and that I might be better off if I found a new job. It was very discouraging."

"You appear to be doing all right now," I observed. "How did you conquer your problem?"

"Naturally I went to an analyst," Prim said. "I spent hours on the couch while he rummaged around in my subconscious. Finally he tracked down the trouble. When I was a baby my brother hit me on the head with a copy of 'Lady Chatterley's Lover.'"

"Did that discovery remove your mental block?" I inquired.

"Completely," Prim said. "Have you heard the one about...?"

Revenue Service To Ease Rulings

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin Tuesday bowed to business protests and announced some "liberalizing" changes in the government's new proposals for preventing expense account tax abuses.

The new rules, drafted under the 1962 tax law, take effect Jan. 1. Caplin revealed the modifications in opening a two-day public hearing on the rules.

As a result of objections, Caplin said, the rules will require less detail on expenses claimed as deductions on tax returns. For example, a salesman will not have to list separately such miscellaneous outlays as taxi fares, local telephone calls, gasoline for his car and parking fees.

Similarly, a person traveling on business will not have to make the restaurants where he eats, provided the cost of his meals does not include entertainment of others.

The service also reversed its original proposal that each tip be listed as a separate outlay. Caplin said a tip could be included as part of the basic expense, such as the cost of a meal.

WEATHER: Fair, much colder, with frost. Low tonight, 22-42.

VOL. 53 United Press Leased Wire Established 1908 THURS., DECEMBER 6, 1962 SANFORD, FLORIDA NO. 569

It'll Be Frosty Tonight

Frost, frost, frost, the first of the year for this part of the state is predicted by the weatherman for tonight and Friday morning, with clear skies and light northerly winds with periods of calm.

Temperatures will be lowest about sunrise. The forecast: "Orlando, Brooksville, Bartow, Kissimmee Valley, Seminole County, 23 to 32 with 25 to 32 in pockets and mucklands. Frost."

The future outlook is for fair and cold Friday and continued cold with frost and freezing temperatures over most of the farming areas again Saturday morning.

The frost warnings from the Lakeland Weather Bureau predict frost for the entire state, down through the Everglades and lower east coast.

Redistribution Of Legislature Urged By Kelly

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—If reapportionment is to be accomplished, it should be done within the bounds of the present makeup of 33 Senators and 96 House members, Sen. Scott Kelly said here today.

"True reapportionment is redistribution of what we have," the Lakeland senator told the annual convention of the Florida Society of Association Executives.

"The numbers game is over. The majority of the two houses don't quite have enough votes to put any majority proposal into effect and the minority has enough votes to block action."

"We are at a legislative stalemate on reapportionment," he said. "The majority has to have a plan. What's Ahead in the Legislative Session," but he said no one could predict events in the 1963 session until the seat-shuffling problem has been solved.

"During the special session tempers got short — people said things they really didn't mean—and I'm fearful that some of those scars will not be healed by the spring of 1963, so it's impossible to predict what will happen," Kelly said.

Kelly called for fair apportionment by placing the Senate on population and leaving the House constituted as it is now with 95 members. He introduced a plan in the November special session, but it was killed in Senate committee.

The men of the barracks in cooperation with the local Salvation Army, will distribute these toys to the unfortunate children of the Sanford area during the holiday season, Wires said.

He expressed the appreciation of the officers and men of the Marines and the Naval Air Station to the USO, the Salvation Army and all individuals who gave money, toys and time to the support of the program.

"It is a drastic measure to search people entering the courtroom but it will be done," Miller said.

Defense attorneys objected to the tightened security measures, saying it would prejudice their case. Miller said he had to think not only of the safety of Hoffa but of everyone in the courtroom.

A 43-year-old Forest City man was arrested Wednesday on a morals charge and is being held under $2,000 bond at the county jail. The man was identified as Morris Colson, Rt. 2, Forest City.

Mrs. Longmore and four of their children, Nancy, 9, Ralph, 7, Charles Jr., 3, and Charles, 1, fled through the front door of the house. They did not require hospitalization. Longmore's body was found at the foot of crippled Keith's crib.

Fire Chief Louis Wharf said it appeared that the father had just started to pick up the six-year-old boy when he collapsed and died.

Sidney, 10 months, burned over 70 per cent of his body, died shortly after arriving at a hospital in nearby Biddeford.

Residents of Longwood, Longdale and along Hwy. 17-82 report that a pellet is being circulated in the air against showing stock entrances to take place at the Checker-Cart raceway. Pettis will be turned over to County Commissioners at their next meeting.

Jim Barnett, former pastor of the First Christian Church here suffered a heart attack in Winter Haven... He's getting along okay now.

Did you know that Seminole County is rated 26th in wealth in the state?... Duval is 13th and the funny thing is that Seminole spends more per child on education than our neighbors up north.

City almost wrapping up all utility lines to the proposed Hunt Co. plant... As of Dec. 1... cost $40,021... $18,000 additional contemplated.

Well, we got a nice new post office. People finally getting the hang of the combination locks... All we need now are some street lights in front.

Pipeline Work Up For Approval By City Officials
The City Commission will meet in special session at 10 a. m. Friday to approve a proposal of the Sanford Pipeline Company to utilize street rights-of-way to install a pipeline to the Naval Air Station from the lake front.

City Manager W.E. Knowles said this morning that all property, abutting laws and shrubs will be safeguarded during construction of the project.

The pipeline will stretch some two and a half miles starting somewhere around by French and Myrtle Aves. by the lakefront, east along Seminole Blvd, up Melonville and south on Melonville to the air station.

The company, Southern Standard Corp. of Houston also plans to build a quarter of a million dollar jet fuel storage facility on the lakefront, with construction to start as soon as city commission approval becomes official.

Mayor J. H. (Jimmy) Crapps said today the city would probably get only $100 per year from the agreement with the company and further details will be worked out during the morning session Friday.

Soviet Flights Over U.S. Denied
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The White House said flatly today that no Soviet planes have flown over the Southeastern United States.

"No such flights have ever taken place," press secretary Pierre Salinger told newsmen. Salinger's comment was prompted by reports in the Scripps - Howard newspapers that Soviet reconnaissance planes were spotted over Georgia and South Carolina during the Cuban crisis. The reports previously were denied by the Defense Department.

"This type of journalism is destructive," Salinger said. The Washington Daily News, a Scripps - Howard newspaper, carried a statement today by Walker Stone, Scripps - Howard editor in chief.

"What we published is true," he said.

"It really does not matter how monotonously the Defense Department denies the story," Stone said. "All that matters is whether it is true."

Cubans Arrested With Smuggled Cocaine Cache
NEW YORK (UPI)—Two Cubans, alleged wholesalers of cocaine smuggled into the United States from Havana, were arrested early today by New York police.

About two pounds, two ounces of pure cocaine—worth $300,000 in the illegal market—was seized as detectives raided a room in the Markwell Hotel in Manhattan's theater district.

Deputy chief inspector Edward F. Carey said the two Cubans had been carrying their cocaine supplies from Miami to New York for the past 10 months.

Their customers were mainly pushers operating in the theater area, police said. The narcotics squad has noted a steady increase in the flow of cocaine to the mid-Manhattan area in recent months according to Lt. Pasquale Intrieri.

The prisoners were identified as Jorgelina Garcia, 28, an attractive redhead who was a photographer's model and beauty queen in Cuba and her companion Santiago Garcia, 28.

Intrieri said detectives entered their hotel room just as the Garcias were in the process of "cutting" the cocaine or reducing it from its pure state to the marketed variety. The cocaine was in a dresser.

The detectives said Garcia offered them $12,000 to let them go—$2,000 in cash held in his hand and $10,000 more to be paid later.

The payoff attempt resulted only in a charge of bribery added to felonious narcotics possession charges, police said.

According to Intrieri, the Garcias—who are not related—talked vaguely about their operations and mentioned "something about a boat" used to bring the drugs from Cuba to Florida.

He said that police believe the cocaine's original source may be Red China or South America.

London Fog Kills 66
LONDON (UPI)—The grey killer smog claimed victims by the score today and officials grimly predicted the blinding mixture of fog and pollution would choke the nation for two more days.

At least 66 persons—most of them over 60 years old—had collapsed and died in the London area alone since the worst fog in a decade stole over the nation Monday night.

Auto and hospital officials said the smog was every bit as bad as the "killer fog" of 1952 which claimed 4,000 lives in four days.

The death rate was expected to shoot up sharply today. Officials said smog usually takes 24 to 48 hours to affect the lungs and bring on fatal bronchial conditions.

Health authorities warned old people, children and persons with weak lungs to stay indoors until the smog lifts.

Air samples taken Wednesday showed air pollution 13 times normal and twice as bad as at the height of the 1952 disaster.

The grey killer was a deadly amalgam of moisture, smoke, dirt and carbon fumes spewing from the nation's exhaust pipes and factory chimneys.

London hospitals went on "red alert"—the order to admit only emergency patients and keep all beds ready for smog victims.

The air ministry said the poisonous pall over London was 600 feet thick.

"It seems this weather will persist for another 48 hours," a ministry spokesman predicted gloomily.

Freezing temperatures added to the misery. The fog froze on streets and pavements, causing a rash of multiple-car accidents. But highway deaths were few because traffic moved so slowly.

The fog early today was not as bad as the opaque mass that halted the nation in its tracks Tuesday night. But visibility in a few areas was still down to zero and drivers nearly everywhere could see only a few hundred feet at best.

The smog was expected to thicken again tonight. Hardest-hit were the great industrial areas of London and the midland cities, where factories smoke mixed with the fog to produce a slimy atmosphere that coated mouths and lungs. Buses and trains ran hours behind. Many motorists left their cars home.

No airliners had left London airport for 60 hours.

Stars In Eyes Of Youth Blot Out Holdup Plan
ELIZABETH, N. J. (UPI)—The bank robbery might have been a pushover except for Robert Diechler, a young man with stars in his eyes who saw red when the heist threatened his wedding.

He became furious when he saw the $1,600 he had saved for a nest egg dumped into the bandit's bag Wednesday along with $30,000 of the bank's money... before he had his deposit slip.

ELIZABETH, N. J. (UPI)—The bank robbery might have been a pushover except for Robert Diechler, a young man with stars in his eyes who saw red when the heist threatened his wedding.

He became furious when he saw the $1,600 he had saved for a nest egg dumped into the bandit's bag Wednesday along with $30,000 of the bank's money... before he had his deposit slip.

"It was just thinking about my $1,600," Diechler, 24, a service station attendant, said. "I can't get married without money, can you? I wanted to get my money back."

Besides, he wanted some of the money to buy an engagement ring Christmas present for his fiancée, Loreta Herman, 21.

Diechler became so angry he grabbed the .38 caliber pistol one of the bandits carried, shot him in the stomach, fought a gun battle with the other bandit, and when all of the bullets were used up, buried the empty revolver with all his might at the fleeing robbers.

Then he charged them with his bare hands and chased them from the bank, one of them clutching his stomach where he had been shot.

Diechler was not nicked in the flurry of bullets that followed his bold move. But bank guard William Patsusky, 65, a former policeman, was wounded trying to help.

London Fog Kills 66
LONDON (UPI)—The grey killer smog claimed victims by the score today and officials grimly predicted the blinding mixture of fog and pollution would choke the nation for two more days.

At least 66 persons—most of them over 60 years old—had collapsed and died in the London area alone since the worst fog in a decade stole over the nation Monday night.

Auto and hospital officials said the smog was every bit as bad as the "killer fog" of 1952 which claimed 4,000 lives in four days.

The death rate was expected to shoot up sharply today. Officials said smog usually takes 24 to 48 hours to affect the lungs and bring on fatal bronchial conditions.

Health authorities warned old people, children and persons with weak lungs to stay indoors until the smog lifts.

Air samples taken Wednesday showed air pollution 13 times normal and twice as bad as at the height of the 1952 disaster.

The grey killer was a deadly amalgam of moisture, smoke, dirt and carbon fumes spewing from the nation's exhaust pipes and factory chimneys.

London hospitals went on "red alert"—the order to admit only emergency patients and keep all beds ready for smog victims.

The air ministry said the poisonous pall over London was 600 feet thick.

"It seems this weather will persist for another 48 hours," a ministry spokesman predicted gloomily.

Freezing temperatures added to the misery. The fog froze on streets and pavements, causing a rash of multiple-car accidents. But highway deaths were few because traffic moved so slowly.

The fog early today was not as bad as the opaque mass that halted the nation in its tracks Tuesday night. But visibility in a few areas was still down to zero and drivers nearly everywhere could see only a few hundred feet at best.

The smog was expected to thicken again tonight. Hardest-hit were the great industrial areas of London and the midland cities, where factories smoke mixed with the fog to produce a slimy atmosphere that coated mouths and lungs. Buses and trains ran hours behind. Many motorists left their cars home.

No airliners had left London airport for 60 hours.

Stars In Eyes Of Youth Blot Out Holdup Plan
ELIZABETH, N. J. (UPI)—The bank robbery might have been a pushover except for Robert Diechler, a young man with stars in his eyes who saw red when the heist threatened his wedding.

He became furious when he saw the $1,600 he had saved for a nest egg dumped into the bandit's bag Wednesday along with $30,000 of the bank's money... before he had his deposit slip.

He became furious when he saw the $1,600 he had saved for a nest egg dumped into the bandit's bag Wednesday along with $30,000 of the bank's money... before he had his deposit slip.

"It was just thinking about my $1,600," Diechler, 24, a service station attendant, said. "I can't get married without money, can you? I wanted to get my money back."

Besides, he wanted some of the money to buy an engagement ring Christmas present for his fiancée, Loreta Herman, 21.

Diechler became so angry he grabbed the .38 caliber pistol one of the bandits carried, shot him in the stomach, fought a gun battle with the other bandit, and when all of the bullets were used up, buried the empty revolver with all his might at the fleeing robbers.

Then he charged them with his bare hands and chased them from the bank, one of them clutching his stomach where he had been shot.

Diechler was not nicked in the flurry of bullets that followed his bold move. But bank guard William Patsusky, 65, a former policeman, was wounded trying to help.
