'Home-Grown' Harriett Leads Chief Hopefuls

By Rick Branson
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford's search for applicants for the city's police chief post ended Friday with 60 men jockeying for the job. The 60 represent a vast cross section of experience, from department store security executives to 20-year officers with police departments in Miami, Chicago and New York City.

But the chairman of the city's Civil Service Board, which will review the applications and recommend a list of 10 finalists to the city commission, says out-of-town hopefuls will have to outshine acting chief Steve Harriett whom he called "an outstanding local home-grown candidate."

Dr. John Darby said the board had to search nationally for applicants in order to quell "flak" the city was receiving from citizens who thought the process was being rushed so Harriett could get the job.

"The Civil Service Board itself felt it had to have a national search especially since we had an outstanding local home-grown candidate," Darby said, adding that the city prefers to fill major positions with members of the city staff.

"We got some flak ... but we feel very well about the situation. Everybody now will be much more satisfied because we made a national search, regardless of who is picked."

Darby said any out-of-town candidate would have to be "significantly better" qualified than Harriett to get the job. Harriett, who is doubling as acting chief and assistant city manager, was on the Sanford police force five years, two years as a patrol officer and three years as assistant chief. He also has a bachelor's degree in criminology and a master's degree in criminal justice.

The qualifications for the job, set down by the city commission, are a bachelor's degree in criminology or police administration and "progressively responsible" police experience. In-

Overtime Rule Will Cost County

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

The U.S. Supreme Court ruling requiring city and county governments to pay all employees time-and-a-half for overtime will mean added costs for Seminole's public safety departments says the county's labor attorney David Kornreich. County commissioners expected to be told how much at a work session today.

Kornreich said the new rule goes into effect July 1, meaning the county will have to find additional money for overtime pay for some firefighters and some sheriff's deputies in this budget year.

He said regular county employees are already working a 40-hour week and paid for overtime. The only problem areas, he said, are in the fire service and the sheriff's department.

He said firefighters are now working a 56 hour week and under the new ruling this must be brought down to 53 hours weekly, computed on an average of a 28 day period.

Sheriff's Department employees must work a 43-hour week and be paid at the overtime rate thereafter. He added that compensatory time — time off for overtime — is no longer an acceptable method of compensation, Kornreich said.

County Lauds Engineer

William Bush Jr., retiring after 23 years as Seminole County's engineer, was commended by the county commission today for his "high level of integrity, dedication and professionalism" and for the longest period of service by any county engineer for a single county in Florida.

In a resolution, adopted on a motion by Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff with a second by Commissioner Sandra Glenn, the commissioners noted that Bush, who served in the post from June 1, 1962 and is slated to retire Saturday, was instrumental in the planning and development of many county roads.

The resolution also said Bush consistently promoted friendly and effective cooperation with the state Department of Transportation.

Reagan Enjoys 'Second Inaugural'

LAKE BUENA VISTA (UPI) — President Reagan clapped and smiled as hundreds of musicians paraded by his air-conditioned review booth in the sweltering heat at Walt Disney World in a star-spangled patriotic celebration Monday.

Twenty college and high school bands invited to march in a January inaugural parade in Washington that was frozen out played for Reagan and the first lady Monday at the wonderful world of Disney.

Reagan to reveal his tax reform plan in a nationally televised address at 8 p.m.

"A magnificent gift," Reagan called the celebration, "a second — and much warmer — inaugural day."

Michael Eisner, chairman of Walt Disney Productions, in turn, thanked Reagan for giving the young musicians a second chance.

"I was in Washington 105 degrees ago — it was 20 below in Washington, it's 85 today," Eisner said.

The Reagans stood inside the booth for most of the 45-minute parade, sheltered from sun and heat. The president seemed to relish the performance by the high-stepping musicians and drum majors.

In a 10-minute speech, Reagan praised the "private sector initiative" used to bring him and the bands to Disney World, lauding cartoonist and park founder Walt Disney as an example of personal enterprise.

"He became convinced that he could entertain people by telling stories about a little creature with a high voice, red trousers, yellow shoes and white gloves. Professionals in the field made fun of the idea and to produce his first cartoon, the young man had to sell or pawn virtually everything he owned," Reagan said.

"But today, 57 years later, this man and his creation have become permanently fixed in the history of our popular culture."

The 2,500 band members lined the 40-acre man-made lagoon in the park's World Showcase section, joining for the national anthem against a backdrop of miniature world capitals.

Disney officials said 25 to 50 band members were overcome by heat during the parade and program, but only about 10 had to leave the parade.

Mickey Mouse, dressed as Uncle Sam and accompanied by his own first lady, Minnie Mouse, rode past the president atop a calliope.

The president kissed Minnie and Nancy Reagan and Mickey hugged. Hugs and handshakes were exchanged.

The parade was followed by a dazzling display of red, white and blue fireworks over the lagoon. Four F-16 fighter jets flew over, then three returned in the "missing man" formation to honor America's war dead.

Following a moment of silence in remembrance of the dead, 15,000 red, white and blue balloons drifted into the sky.

Reagan ate lunch at the colonial-style American Adventure pavilion in the World Showcase section then left for Miami, where he spoke at a fund-raiser for Sen. Paula Hawkins, R-Fla.

President's Sales Pitch Set For Vast Tax Code Overhaul

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Offering a "dramatic effort" for fairness and economic growth, President Reagan embarks today on a sweeping overhaul of the tax code, hoping to succeed where others have failed and cement a place in history.

Four months and one week after taking the oath of office for a second term, Reagan stakes his political capital tonight behind a tax reform plan that could become a lasting legacy of his presidency.

The measure looms not only as the top domestic priority of his second administration but also — in the eyes of the president and his advisers — as an issue tailor-made for Republicans to use next year as they fight to retain control of the Senate and increase their numbers in the House.

In pursuit of that political objective, Reagan will portray his plan as a boost to middle- and working-class families as he

Another American Kidnapped In Beirut

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Gunmen Tuesday kidnapped David Jacobson, the American administrator of the American University Hospital in mainly Moslem west Beirut, police said.

They said Jacobson, in his late 40s, was shoved into a car at gunpoint as he walked across the street from the American University of Beirut campus to the adjacent hospital compound.

Other details were not immediately available in the kidnapping. On March 16, also in the Moslem western half of the capital, Terry A. Anderson, Beirut bureau chief for The Associated Press, was seized by gunmen.

Anderson is still missing along with at least four other Americans, four Frenchmen and a Briton.

Jacobson, whose hometown was not immediately available, is one of the few native Americans remaining in west Beirut. He has been serving as AUH administrator since late November.

Hospital officials withheld comment on the abduction, but notified militiamen of the Shiite Moslem Amal movement, which controls much of west Beirut.

Amal controls all security matters for the hospital, where hundreds of Shiite fighters and civilian casualties have been treated since an outbreak of heavy Shiite-Palestinian fighting in the city last week.

Top Educator Has 'Huggy Bear' On His Team

NEW YORK (UPI) — The PTA's Outstanding Educator of the Year is not the stereotypical school principal. He keeps a "Huggy Bear" in his office for kids to cuddle and rewards good work with rides in his Model A truck.

Gene Bedley of El Camino Real Elementary School in Irvine, Calif., recipient of the honor announced Monday, said his philosophy is simply to promote excellence and responsibility.

Named 1985 National PTA Phoebe Aperson Hearst Outstanding Educator of the Year, Bedley will receive his $2,500 prize in June in the nation's capital during the PTA convention.

The award, funded by the William Randolph Hearst Foundation, is named for Phoebe Aperson Hearst, who was a co-founder of the 5.6 million member PTA.

"Gene Bedley is uniquely innovative, always developing methods to teach children, parents and educators," said Barbara Reynolds, president of El Camino Real PTA.

"He creates a positive climate by respecting everyone and constantly offers students reinforcement for tasks well done."

Thirty-five to 50 students visit

Bedley's office daily and wrap their arms around "Huggy Bear" or take a card from his pocket that says "Huggy Bear is so proud of you for being thoughtful."

Students who get their schoolwork finished are rewarded with weekly rides around the grounds in Bedley's Model A pickup truck dubbed the "Good Workers Express."

God Made Me See A Vision, Pope's Attacker Tells Court

ROME (UPI) — The Turkish terrorist who shot Pope John Paul II — ignoring questions about the attack and again claiming to be Jesus Christ — testified today that "God made me see a vision" showing the world will end soon.

In a statement from the witness stand, Mehmet Ali Agca, 27, also said the 1981 shooting was related to the "third secret of the Madonna of Fatima," a message that some Catholics believe predicts dire consequences for humanity.

Agca urged the Vatican to reveal the third secret, which the Virgin Mary was said to have told to three shepherd children in Fatima, Portugal, in 1917, and he threatened to refuse to testify if the Vatican "denies what I have said."

"I have communicated a message from eternal God," he said. "Today I will expect a reply from the Vatican. If the Holy See remains silent, I will continue to collaborate with the court. If it denies what I have said, I can no longer speak."

Agca's comments came at the start of the second day of the trial of five Turks and three Bulgarians accused of plotting to assassinate John Paul.

"I am Jesus Christ reincarnated," Agca said.

Prize Catch, Strange Bedfellow

CHARLESTON, S.C. (UPI) — Four fishermen stranded in a swamped boat in the Atlantic had a strange bedfellow in the angry 130-pound shark they had pulled aboard earlier.

The men spent the night with the fish they considered a prize catch for a local shark club's tournament.

But after the big catch, their 19-foot fiberglass boat filled with water, its motor sputtered dead and the men drifted helplessly with the live shark 25 miles out in the Atlantic until their rescue Sunday.

"We didn't get much sleep. He was plenty alive," said Richard Kirkland III, 18, who was aboard the boat with three friends.

They said they were afraid to release the shark because it would attack them once in the water and feared killing it because the blood would attract other sharks.

IN BRIEF

Missing Mistress Returns To Testify At Von Bulow Trial

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI) — Claus von Bulow's former mistress, whose emotional testimony helped convict the Danish socialite of twice trying to kill his heiress wife, has come out of hiding to testify at his retrial.

Alexandra Isles, 39, unexpectedly flew to Boston from Europe Monday and was whisked away in an unmarked car by police and prosecutors, reportedly to a downtown Boston hotel. She was to be taken to Providence to testify, possibly today, before the Superior Court jury hearing the attempted murder case against von Bulow.

Isles, a raven-haired former soap opera actress, fled to Europe earlier this year to avoid testifying against her ex-lover of 2½ years.

Her return to the U.S. came just one day before a deadline, set by Judge Corinne Grande, for her to testify as a witness for the prosecution.

Suspected Spy To Be Arraigned

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A young sailor accused of being the shipboard mole who provided his father with classified papers to slip to the Soviets goes before a federal magistrate today to hear in detail the spying charges against him.

Michael Walker, 22, a seaman aboard the nuclear-powered aircraft carrier Nimitz, will be arraigned in U.S. District Court on the same espionage charge filed against his father, John Walker, 47, a retired Navy warrant officer.

The younger Walker was brought back Saturday to the United States from the carrier, now anchored in Haifa, Israel.

The Walkers are accused of operating a spy ring that gathered classified intelligence from the Nimitz and passed it to the Soviets.

Red Cross Tries To Evacuate Wounded From Refugee Camps

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Shiite Moslem militiamen backed by tanks renewed their fierce assault on a Palestinian refugee camp today as the Red Cross tried to arrange a truce for the evacuation of victims.

Artillery duels and heavy street fighting raged through the night between Shiite Amal gunmen and Palestinian guerrillas trapped inside the besieged Bourj Barajneh refugee camp, militia and Lebanese military sources said.

Tanks of the Lebanese army's mainly Shiite 6th Brigade pounded the sprawling camp near Beirut airport and Palestinian gunners in the hills east of the capital retaliated with long-range artillery fire, military sources and witnesses said.

As the fighting escalated, Red Cross officials said they had again contacted leaders of both sides to see if another attempt could be made to evacuate the dead and wounded from inside Bourj Barajneh.

Amal has said the camps must be controlled to prevent a resurgence of Palestinian power in southern Lebanon following the completion of the Israeli pullout.

Cyclone Death Toll Mounts

DHAKA, Bangladesh (UPI) — Hunger, confusion and fear of disease gripped coastal areas of Bangladesh today and death toll estimates in the thousands continued to grow on the islands hardest hit by a cyclone Friday.

Rescue ships continued searching for thousands believed to have been washed into the Bay of Bengal by 10-foot to 15-foot tidal waves spawned by the storm.

Government officials said about 4,000 people have been rescued from the sea.

With officials saying 2.5 million people were affected by the storm, the official death toll of 1,300 was certain to climb. But reports that up to 40,000 people may have been killed could not be confirmed.

Urutchar Island, which had an estimated population of 6,000 or 7,000, today was a flat and muddy land mass. Small earthen mounds rose out of silt-laden former paddy fields. Dead cattle and human bodies littered the island. The smashed remains of a village, with bodies tangled among the wreckage, was on the water's edge.

Authorities, fearing an outbreak of typhoid and tetanus, have begun an inoculation program and started working to restore safe water supplies.

Iran, Iraq Trade Attacks

By United Press International

Iran said Iraqi warplanes fired rockets into a prisoner-of-war camp and other areas of Tehran today, killing at least five people, and Iranian forces retaliated with a missile attack on Baghdad.

The latest fighting in the Persian Gulf war came after both countries reported a second straight day of air attacks on each other's cities and border settlements Monday that broke a seven-week lull in the conflict.

IRNA, Iran's government-run news agency, said at least five people were killed — among them an 8-month-old child — and 15 were wounded in an Iraqi air raid on the Iranian capital at 2:30 a.m. today.

The Iranian attacks were apparently launched in line with a threat by Iranian Prime Minister Hussein Musavi to deal Iraq a "crushing blow" in retaliation for an air raid Sunday on Tehran that killed 25 people and wounded 87.

Iraq said it bombed Tehran to avenge a failed assassination attempt on the ruler of Kuwait, but Iran denied it was involved. The attack was claimed by the shadowy pro-Iranian Islamic Jihad movement.

Memorial Day A Time For Tradition

United Press International

From sea to sea, the nation honored its war dead with traditional Memorial Day ceremonies on both coasts and millions flocked to cemeteries across the country to lay flowers for those who died fighting for the United States.

In New York City, a ceremonial wreath was tossed into the Hudson River from the USS Intrepid, which has been converted into a museum, and in Honolulu, a wreath was laid at Punchbowl — the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific.

Although Memorial Day was initiated in 1868 as Decoration Day to honor victims of the Civil War, those who died defending the nation — from the Revolutionary War to the Marines killed in Lebanon — were remembered Monday.

Those who died fighting at sea were honored in Depoe Bay, Ore., the world's smallest harbor, when 50 fishing boats took part in the 40th annual "Fleet of Flowers" ceremony.

The flower-laden boats sailed into the Pacific Ocean to spread their floral wreaths in the waves while about 1,000 people watched.

In Washington, thousands crowded the Vietnam War Memorial, a somber V-shaped monument bearing the names of 58,022 American victims of the Vietnam War. Many veterans walked by the black stone walls wearing war uniforms.

Across the Potomac River, President Reagan placed a red and white wreath of carnations in front of the marble Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington National Cemetery.

Sounds came from the Army band, marching troops, a helicopter hovering overhead and a 21-gun salute. Reagan stood stiffly as an Army bugler played taps, then wiped a tear from each eye.

Tourists walked the grounds at Gettysburg, Pa., the site of the bloody 1863 battle that was the turning point of the Civil War. Grave markers at the national cemetery were decorated with flowers and American flags.

A 21-gun salute was heard in Boston Harbor, where one cannon fired a shot every minute from "Old Ironsides" — the U.S.S. Constitution, the Navy's oldest commissioned ship on active duty.

An estimated 500,000 people basked in the warmth at Los Participants in Memorial Day services at Casselberry's All Faiths Memorial Park mass for a final tribute during the 10 a.m. ceremony. The program included the placing of a wreath in honor of America's war dead, lighting the flame of freedom, and an address by Richard Adamczyk, program development manager, ground combat systems, electronic systems division of Martin-Marietta Aerospace.

Angeles and Orange County beaches.

At Coney Island, N.Y., beachgoers enjoyed 80-degree temperatures.

Coney Island spokesman Milton Berger said 2 million people jammed the 2.5 mile long boardwalk and beaches for the second day in a row while the Navy's Blue Angels precision jet team entertained.

Some 15,000 people visited the Chattanooga National Military Cemetery, where nearly 28,000 veterans and their spouses are buried. Chattanooga Boy Scouts placed a small American flag beside all the grave markers.

In Rochester, N.Y., veterans and peace activists marched together in the city's Memorial Day parade. Veterans canceled the parade last year rather than follow court decisions allowing peace groups to participate.

...Overtime

When the high court ruling was issued in a Texas case earlier this year, Kornreich's associate, Clem Hyland, said it was expected that the U.S. Labor Department would formulate rules to implement the decision.

However, Kornreich said sources within the federal agency department have told him not to expect any rules in the near future. He said the Labor Department was surprised by the court ruling and was not geared up to do anything about it.

"They told me they are being deluged with questions on the meaning of the ruling by city and county governments from across the county. They (labor department officials) say they are still thinking about it and they think they will begin enforcement in July. Since many governments outside Florida have fiscal years starting in July, they came to the conclusion July is a nice time for enforcement," Kornreich said.

In Florida, however, new fiscal years begin Oct. 1.

Kornreich said he represents 70 cities, counties, hospital districts and other taxing units and all are concerned about how they will implement the new overtime pay law. He said some of his clients in north Florida are not paying for overtime at all.

Seminole County is in a better situation than most other local governments, he said, because regular employees are already being paid for overtime.

"A couple bills have been introduced in Congress to defer implementing the overtime ruling until next year and another has been introduced to abolish overtime for emergency personnel (like police and fire), but it has little chance of passing," he said.

The ultimate objective is to get everyone down to 40 hours.

Kornreich said.

The county's 93 firefighters now work a 56-hour week.

Meanwhile, regular sheriff's department personnel are paid for overtime. But that is not the case in some instances for sworn personnel.

The sheriff's department has 148 sworn personnel (with arrest powers) including Polk and Chief Deputy Duane Harrell. The deputies get compensatory time rather than overtime pay when they must go to court during their off hours. But officers who stay after their duty shift to write reports get neither comp time nor overtime pay for that, said Betty Simcoe, sheriff's department controller.

House Votes To Reform Eminent Domain Law

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Despite objections by conservatives, the House has voted to limit the price property owners can charge for their land once it has been targeted for a road project.

Rep. Steve Pajcic, D-Jacksonville, guided the bill (CS-HB 1392) through his transportation committee as one way to make up part of a projected 5-year, $618 million transportation budget shortfall without raising taxes.

Pajcic's bill seeks to make roadbuilding cheaper by decentralizing decision-making within the state Department of Transportation; ordering cost-benefit analyses of all road and reconstruction designs; and encouraging local governments to take more responsibility for road-building.

The bill would also make it easier and cheaper for the state to force property owners to sell their land — primarily through limiting the land value inflation that frequently follows announcement of intended road projects.

Pajcic said Monday the bill would save $100 million over 5 years by capping property values at their pre-announcement levels. Pajcic said the provision would allow for normal inflation.

Murderer Gets Reprieve

STARKE (UPI) — A condemned mass murderer who was scheduled to die in Florida's electric chair today for shooting six robbery victims dead has won a 24-hour stay of execution from a federal court in Atlanta.

The 11th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeal ordered the postponement Monday for Marvin Francois but did not explain its decision. A clerk said it was likely justices simply wanted more time to review the case.

Francois' death warrant expires at noon Wednesday. Unless a longer stay is granted, he could be executed when the temporary stay expires at 7 a.m. Wednesday, said Vernon Bradford, a spokesman for Florida State Prison.

Francois' lawyer filed an appeal with the Atlanta court after a federal judge in West Palm Beach denied a stay Saturday. The appeal raised several issues, including Francois' claim that he had inadequate legal representation at his trial.

Francois' attorneys have exhausted state appeals, and said they would appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court if the Atlanta court does not grant a longer stay.

Freighter Pulled From Reef

MIAMI (UPI) — Two hours before the high tide a salvage crew was waiting for rolled in, a boat yanked the 300-foot freighter Reeper Meruhant off a patch of coral reef near Key Biscayne.

The 100-foot salvage vessel Helen B. freed the ship at 1:07 p.m. Monday from Ledbury Reef. It ran aground because of navigational error during a rainstorm Saturday, the Coast Guard said.

Charged With Spouse Abuse

County Judge's Son-In-Law Jailed

The son-in-law of Seminole County Judge Fred Hitt was being held in the county jail today on a charge of spouse abuse battery after the suspect allegedly reneged on an agreement with the judge to let Hitt's daughter leave the couple's home with their 2-month-old child.

Casselberry police were called to the home of Amy McNamara, 18, at 113-C Concord Square, Casselberry, by a citizen who had heard a woman screaming at about 9:45 p.m. Monday, a police report said.

Mrs. McNamara, Hitt's daughter, told police her husband had hit her in the face. They noted her face was red and swollen. Mrs. McNamara told police she didn't want to file charges, she just wanted to leave with her baby and asked that her father be called to the scene, the report said.

Hitt arrived and persuaded the suspect to let Mrs. McNamara and the child leave and go to Hitt's home. The man also agreed to seek counseling and work toward a reconciliation, the report said.

But when Mrs. McNamara prepared to leave the suspect allegedly grabbed her by the arm and told her she wasn't going to take their keys. When he was asked to hand over the baby he refused, the report said.

Police reminded him of the agreement and told him he would be arrested if he didn't comply with it, the report said.

The suspect, according to the report, said, "Take me to jail. I'm not giving up my baby."

Ricky Karl McNamara, 20, was arrested at 10:30 p.m. He was being held in lieu of $500 bond.

FIVE POT ARRESTS

Five people were arrested and charged in separate incidents Friday for possession of under 20 grams of marijuana.

Arrested were Richard Clarence Plummer, 38, of 813 Magnolia Ave., Sanford; Charles Reneau Selsor, 28, of 308-D Cherokee Court, Altamonte Springs; Rodney Wayne Burnett, 19, of 1240 Mullet Lane, Oviedo; Joe Ernest Coleman, 21, of 3291 S. Sanford Ave., #59, Sanford; and Laura Kathian Price, 18, of 20 Elwood Court, Winter Springs.

Plummer's car was weaving across four lanes of traffic on 25th Street in Sanford around 2:20 a.m. Saturday; according to a police report. Police suspected Plummer was drunk, but found him in possession of marijuana. He was later released on $500 bond.

Selsor was arrested at 1 a.m. Saturday at Fern Park Station, Fern Park Boulevard, Fern Park, after Seminole County sheriff's deputies saw him light what they believed to be a marijuana cigarette. He was released on $500 bond.

Burnett, arrested with Selsor, was charged with resisting arrest without violence after he became unruly while police questioned him. Burnett was taken to the Seminole County jail where he challenged officers again. As officers subdued him they found marijuana in his possession, the report said.

Coleman, a passenger in a speeding car on Rhinehart Road in Lake Mary, was arrested after police stopped the car and saw part of a bag of marijuana sticking out from under the seat. Also arrested was Shane Connel, the driver of the car, who was charged with driving with a suspended license. Connel was not charged for pot possession. Both men were released on $500 bond.

In the last arrest, deputies said they smelled a strong marijuana odor coming from a yellow Toyota parked at Burger King, 295 U.S. Highway 17-92, Fern Park. A search of the vehicle revealed a rolled marijuana cigarette in the ash tray, three partially smoked marijuana cigarettes, a bag of marijuana and several marijuana seeds in a container. Ms. Price was released on $500 bond.

A man who was sleeping in his car at the Pony League Baseball Field, state Road 419, Winter Springs, has been charged with possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana and drug paraphernalia by the Seminole County sheriff's deputy who woke him up.

The deputy reported seeing several partially smoked marijuana cigarettes in the ash tray of the man's car and got permission to search the vehicle where he reportedly found pot seeds, a mirror, razor blade, plastic straw, rolling papers and a pipe.

Charles Wilson Redman, 21, of 702 Thistle Place, Winter Springs, was arrested at 3:33 a.m. Monday. He was being held in lieu of $500 bond.

CLOTHES THIEF

Police chased and caught a man Friday after he walked into a clothing store in the Altamonte Mall, Altamonte Springs, and picked out $109.96 worth of clothes then ran from the store without paying for them, a police report said.

Employees of the Merry Go Round store told police that the man ran out of the shop and into another nearby store. An Altamonte Springs police officer chased the man, who ran out of the mall, into the parking lot and then into the mall again, the report said.

Police finally caught him in front of a shoe store.

Charged with grand theft was Mark Stephen Eggestein, 20, of 620 Cranes Roost Blvd., #303, Altamonte Springs. He was being held in the Seminole County jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.

FONDLING REPORTED

A 15-year-old Winter Park girl reported to Seminole County sheriff's deputies she was fondled at about midnight Saturday by a guest in her home.

The 26-year-old man allegedly entered the girl's bedroom in search of his shoes. He lay down on her bed with her and began kissing and fondling her, a sheriff's report said. The girl did not resist and did not tell the man to stop, but left the bedroom when her sister knocked on the window, the report said.

The girl told her parents about the alleged assault and they confronted the man, who left their home. The girl's parents called the sheriff's department and deputies began investigating the allegations, the report said.

BATTERED WOMAN

Longwood police have charged a 19-year-old Longwood man with aggravated battery after he allegedly grabbed Audre Flarity by the neck and hit her head. He also reportedly threatened to hit her with a tire iron.

Arrested at his home at 1519 Oreole St., at 2:31 p.m. Saturday, was Timothy John Flarity; bond was set at $8,000 and he has been released from jail.

COKE THEFT

Thieves stole a Coke machine, desk, refrigerator, and a 55-gallon drum of solvent from an auto upholstery business.

A police report said there were no signs of forced entry at American Auto Upholstery, 1045 W. U.S. Highway 17-92 in Longwood.

DUI ARREST

The following person has been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:

—Robert Matthew Stunakis, 23, of Orlando, was arrested at 1:24 a.m. Sunday, after his car was involved in an accident on state Road 436 at Howell Branch Road, Casselberry. He was also charged with driving with a revoked driver's license and speeding too fast for conditions.

Shooting Victim A Suicide, Police Say

A 27-year-old Sorrento man found shot to death in Sanford Friday died at his own hand, police said today.

Acting Sanford Police Chief Steve Harriett said investigators reached the conclusion after "filling in some holes."

He said the death initially appeared to be suicide but investigators wanted to make sure.

The man was found in a home at 108 Bent Oak Court around 6:33 a.m. Emergency medical technicians were called to the scene but the man was dead on their arrival from a severe gunshot wound to the head.

Unsured at the time of the motive behind the shooting, police processed the scene as if it were a murder in order to preserve possible evidence.

Investigators restricted access to the scene, barring even Harriett from entering the home where the shooting occurred. —Deane Jordan

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: Thunderstorms, gusty winds and unseasonably cold temperatures that dampened many holiday celebrations lingered in the upper Midwest and in the Ohio Valley today. Some Memorial Day celebrations had to be moved inside Monday as showers and occasional thunderstorms stretched from eastern Oklahoma, southwest Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, southeastern Iowa, northeast Arkansas and lower Michigan.

Rain also reached from northern New England across northern New York state. Highs near 80 and 90 degrees that teased Midwesterners Sunday gave way to lower 50- to 60-degree readings across the region Monday. A tornado at Lawrence, Ind., blew out windows at a shopping center and more than 2½ inches of rain fell at Whitestown, near Indianapolis, in one hour. Strong winds knocked down trees near Albany, N.Y., and thundershowers and fog blanketed parts of New England.

AREA FORECAST: Today mostly sunny. High mid 80s to near 90. Light southeast wind. Tonight fair. Low mid to upper 60s. Light wind. Wednesday mostly sunny. High mid 80s to near 90. Light south wind.

BOATING FORECAST: St. Augustine to Jupiter Inlet out 50 miles — Variable mostly southeast wind 10 knots or less today then southerly tonight and Wednesday. Sea 3 feet or less. Partly cloudy.

EXTENDED FORECAST: Mostly fair at night with partly cloudy afternoons. Only a slight chance of thunderstorms. Warmer north Thursday and Friday. Highs upper 80s to lower 90s. Lows in the 60s north and 70s south.

cluding supervisory and administrative responsibilities. The job pays between $27,872 and $39,991 annually.

Civil Service Board members are scheduled to study the applications and then meet June 6 to draw up a list of 10 finalists. The final selection is expected some time in June.

The last two applicants and their backgrounds are:

●Robert Rossman of Miami. He has been with the Metro-Dade Police Department in Miami since 1958. He is general investigations commander, supervising a department which handles burglaries, assaults and fraud cases. He has also been a lieutenant in the department's vice, intelligence and narcotics squads, as well as being a homicide detective. He has a bachelor's degree in public administration and a master's degree in human resources.

●John Smaha of Cutler Ridge. Smaha has been a training instructor with Wells Fargo in Miami since last year. Before that he was with the federal Drug Enforcement Agency for three years and assistant chief and operations officer of the Miami Police Department for seven years. He has also been assistant chief of the Pensacola Police Department and U.S. Navy investigator. He has an associate's degree in law enforcement, a bachelor's in criminology and two master's degrees — one in public administration and one in criminal justice.

leave her alone as they pressed for comment about a story that her brother faces sex-abuse charges.

The Florida Republican, in a brief interview with reporters Monday, attacked The Miami Herald for the story and accused the newspaper of timing its release to spoil her appearance with the president.

"I know they held the story," she said. "I don't know how long — several months. The Miami Herald denied the charge, saying it took months to check out the facts because the senator was uncooperative.

Mrs. Hawkins later described the Disney World event as "gorgeous" and said The Miami Herald's attempts to mar it for her had failed.

In Miami two women toting peace banners were chased by a mob of anti-communist protesters who shredded the signs and shouted "Communists go home" shortly before President Reagan was driven up at a nearby hotel.

"That's the kind of people that back Ronald Reagan," said Karen Raurer, one of the two women. "All they understand is terrorism."

Waving American and Nicaraguan flags, supporters of U.S. aid to anti-government guerillas in Nicaragua chased the two members of the Coalition for Non-Intervention in South America half a block Monday.

"It just made me mad," said Cuban-born Eduardo Herrera, one of those who ripped the cloth "Brotherhood of Man" signs. "There are people in jail for trying to fight communism and kill Fidel Castro and these people are supporting the communists."

"I really got frightened," said the other woman, Zena Posever, a sculptor affiliated with the group "Artists Speak for Peace."

"I can't fight a mob. No one can," she said. "These people don't understand peace. They only understand terrorism."

sketches its broad outlines tonight in a nationally televised address at 8 p.m. and mounts an aggressive sales campaign.

Although the White House has withheld details on the plan until Reagan makes his speech, The Washington Post in today's editions provided some of the plan's provisions.

Quoting administration sources and documents, the newspaper said that if Reagan's plan is enacted, individuals would pay 5.2 percent less in federal taxes than they do now and corporations would pay 22.5 percent more.

The newspaper reported that among other details in the new proposal, taxpayers earning more than $200,000 a year would pay 18.7 percent of their income in taxes instead of the current 21 percent. Those earning less than $10,000 would pay 0.9 percent of their income in taxes instead of 1.4 percent.

Before taking to the airwaves tonight, Reagan arranged for his Cabinet and a larger group of senior political appointees to be briefed on the program so they can help him sell it.

White House spokesman Larry Speakes said the speech, expected to run about 20 minutes, would underscore the need for simplicity and fairness as well as incentives for growth and the entrepreneurial spirit.

At the heart of the Reagan plan is a deceptively simple concept: lowering individual and corporate tax rates in exchange for the elimination of many tax shelters and deductions.

However, his is an idea that has been tried a half-dozen times since the Kennedy administration — each time with limited, if any, success.

Early on, Reagan promised the housing industry he would not touch the mortgage interest deduction for principal residences. In the months since the proposal — called "Treasury I" — was presented, his lieutenants have added back preferences for gas and oil interests, investors, life insurance companies, charities, banks and other groups.

Court Ruling A Vivid Reminder

The U.S. Supreme Court recently provided yet another reminder of the pressing need for immigration reform and of the human suffering that continues as a result of congressional inaction on this crucial issue. The court ruled that under present law only the U.S. Attorney General has the authority to suspend deportation orders for aliens who have been in the country for at least seven years.

Although this narrow ruling affects only a small percentage of illegal aliens, the case illustrates vividly why existing immigration laws don't work and should be reformed.

The story of Bernardo Rios-Pineda and his wife, Estarilada Ramos de Rios, is similar to that of uncounted thousands of illegal immigrants who cross the border at San Ysidro each year. They were smuggled into the United States in 1974 and made their way to Omaha, Neb., where they have lived — and worked — for 11 years. During this period they had two children, both of whom are U.S. citizens by virtue of their birthplace.

After being discovered by the Immigration and Naturalization Service in 1978, the couple began a series of administrative and judicial appeals that permitted them to remain in the country. When the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals finally reviewed their case in 1982, they had been in the country for more than seven years — which meant the U.S. Attorney General had the authority to suspend the deportation order.

The circuit court then instructed the INS to reconsider its deportation order because of the seven-year rule. But the Supreme Court wisely ruled that the discretion to suspend the deportation orders belonged solely to the attorney general and that the lower court could not deny him this authority.

This limited ruling will have virtually no impact on the flow of illegal immigrants into the United States. Nevertheless, it is a forceful reminder to Congress of the ineffectiveness of existing immigration laws.

Mr. Rios-Pineda, like millions of his countrymen, came to the United States in search of a job. And he apparently had little trouble finding one. Indeed, as long as employers can hire illegal aliens with impunity, impoverished jobseekers from Mexico, Central America, and other depressed areas will continue streaming across the border nightly in search of work. And some unscrupulous employers are happy enough to exploit them.

This is why employer sanctions are vital to immigration reform. But employer lobbying against such measures played a key role in last year's defeat of the Simpson-Mazzoli Act, the most far-reaching immigration reform package to pass either house in decades. After the House and Senate passed differing versions of the bill, partisan politics and opposition from Hispanics and employers prevented agreement of a compromise version.

Fortunately, Sen. Alan Simpson, R-Wyo., is preparing a new immigration reform bill for this session of Congress. Like the bill he co-sponsored last year, the new legislation includes sanctions against employers who hire illegal aliens, amnesty for illegal aliens who have established permanent residence here, and a streamlined process for permitting the importation of foreign farmworkers when sufficient American workers are not available.

Majorities in both houses of Congress understand the need for immigration reform. They demonstrated that last year with the passage of Simpson-Mazzoli. In 1985, with no elections and a new version of the immigration reform bill, most observers believe Congress will finally act to regain control of America's borders.

West Germany Damaged By Reagan Visit

By Wolfgang Wagner

Editor's Note: Wagner is editor of the Hannoversche Allgemeine Zeitung, the West German daily.

HANNOVER, West Germany — It will be some time before the impact caused by President Reagan's controversial visit to West Germany can be fully evaluated. But the uproar over the trip did create a good deal of damage here.

For one thing, it served to surface considerable anti-American sentiment among West German conservatives who had formerly been sympathetic toward the United States. And, in a paradoxical way, they are beginning to sound like the left-wingers who have always been hostile to America.

More important, though, it has prompted numbers of middle-of-the-road West Germans to raise the question of whether, four decades since the end of World War II, the U.S. public has forgiven them for the sins of Adolf Hitler and the Nazi regime.

These people, who probably represent the majority here, desperately want to believe that West Germany today is respected as a true democracy and loyal member of the Atlantic alliance. They now feel, however, that America still does not trust this country.

West German Chancellor Helmut Kohl never expected that such ferment would follow his proposal to Reagan to visit the military cemetery at Bitburg. He believed that the event would resemble his meeting last year with French President Francois Mitterrand at Verdun, the World War I battlefield.

Once the protests against the Bitburg visit began in the United States, it became difficult for Kohl to back down without appearing to have buckled to pressure. Many West Germans who could not have cared less about the cemetery commemoration supported Kohl on the issue.

Rightly or wrongly, they perceived the American protests to reflect a lack of confidence in West Germany. Or as one businessman here indignantly told me: "They want our men in the Atlantic alliance, but they refuse to pay homage to our dead soldiers."

This attitude was exacerbated by debate that arose over the handful of Waffen SS soldiers buried at Bitburg. For many West Germans, that issue was irrelevant.

It is well known here that thousands of members of the Waffen SS were draftees who had nothing to do with the concentration camps. It is also a matter of evidence that young Germans who resisted conscription in the SS could be — and sometimes were — sentenced to death by the Nazis.

Dr. Michael Probst, a West German whose father belonged to an anti-Nazi resistance group, addressed a letter to the American Jewish Congress in which he cited the case of a young German who was executed in 1943 because he refused to join the SS.

Probst quoted a letter by the soldier, written on the eve of his execution, in which he explained that he and a comrade, also condemned to death for refusing to join the SS, felt that "we would rather die than stain our conscience."

There were certainly anti-semitic remarks uttered here during the Bitburg flap. But to suggest that they mirror the mood of West Germany would be a gross distortion of reality.

Not long ago, for example, the West German Parliament passed legislation making it unlawful for anyone to deny publicly that millions of Jews were exterminated in Nazi concentration camps.

ANTHONY HARRIGAN

The Big Spenders Remain

The deficit reduction program proposed by the Democratic majority in the House of Representatives fails to fill the bill — to put it mildly. It preserves all the federal programs which should be eliminated while it slashes funds for national defense. It is, therefore, the most irresponsible of legislative proposals.

When the majority on the House Budget Committee reported out the proposed budget, it bragged that it was acting responsibly in slashing the deficit. But the way the majority reduced the budget was in no way responsible. It saved the leftover Great Society programs by freezing defense spending at current levels with no allowance for inflation. As there will be inflation in the 1986 fiscal year, the House Committee in effect calls for a cut in defense spending below current levels.

President Reagan has rightly said that he can't accept such a cut, that his "first responsibility as President is the safety and security of the American people." He added that Congress can repeal essential defense expenditures but that "an act of Congress can't repeal the aggressive tendencies and intentions of our adversaries."

The majority in the House Budget Committee has the wrong priorities. It places such boondoggle programs as the Appalachian Regional Commission before the security of the American people. It downplays threats to the nation in order to ensure funding for the politically activist lawyers in the Neighborhood Legal Service. By refusing to eliminate any of these programs, the big spenders in Congress show that they haven't changed a whit.

R. Emmett Tyrrel Jr., editor of The American Spectator, offers the timely comment that "the big spenders remain in Washington's enduring force, despite the present alarm over deficits. Even in these days of budget restraints, they nip away with more money here, more money there. Now it is bilingual education that is fattened, then it is the Rural Electrification — up 579.4 percent in fiscal year 1984." The only area that doesn't receive their concern and protection is national security. There they are willing to be budget-cutters with a vengeance, to slash to the bone, exposing the American people to peril.

The country can't afford this kind of budget committee with its dangerous priorities. It can't afford a Congress that produces such an irresponsible committee.

Bureaucrats Plan Summer Getaways

By Jack Anderson and Joseph Spear

WASHINGTON — Spring fever has hit Washington. As the heat and humidity give a foretaste of another muggy Washington summer, federal officials are dreaming of a getaway to the beach or the mountains. And inevitably, some are trying to figure out a way to have the taxpayers pick up the tab.

At the Energy Department, officials chose the beach — Ocean City, Md., to be exact, a popular resort for Washington refugees. When the agency's administrative director, William S. Heffelfinger, announced that management training courses would take place there this month, another official worried about the public-relations fallout.

In a memo to acting Assistant Secretary Donna Fitzpatrick, Gary Giesick, director of the Office of Policy and Management, wrote: "I should our people be meeting for training in an ocean-front resort area when training facilities in the DOE building or at other locations here in town are excellent?"

"I could it cause the secretary or yourself problems in explaining why this is happening? ... Could we be criticized for wasteful travel?"

Fitzpatrick replied: "I agree that training programs should be located so as to minimize travel and lodging expenses and avoid the appearance of 'two weeks at the beach.' I think the issue deserves attention at higher level. In the meantime, the Ocean City site is the closest available for our employees and I do not want to deprive them of the training. At least they should get off-season rates."

In fact, the bill for the two persons that led Giesick to worry — one for one week's stay, the other for two — totaled $1,861, according to his memo. An Energy Department spokesman told our associate Donald Goldberg this was cheaper than hotel rooms in Washington. But the two employees in question both live in or near Washington, so would not need government-paid lodgings if the training course were held here.

Over at the Department of Housing and Urban Development, the officials chose the mountains — the Coolfont Hotel in Berkeley Springs, W.Va. Dr. June Koch, an assistant secretary, is taking her entire policy development and research staff — 30 persons in all — for a "retreat" there from June 10 to 13.

When contacted by our reporter Mark Woolley, Dr. Koch said heatedly: "We're not the only government agency that takes retreats. Why are you contacting us? Are you a retreat specialist? My people are

Elderly Trouble Denmark

By Eva Schulzinger

Editor's Note: Schulzinger writes on social issues in Denmark for Politiken, the Danish daily.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark — Denmark has long had the reputation for being one of the world's most advanced welfare states. But, like United States and other nations, it is increasingly having trouble coping with its old people.

The problem is going to get worse. For, by the end of this century, roughly 20 percent of Denmark's population of 5 million will be over the age of 65, and making heavy social demands on the society.

Back in the 1950s, when it began to look toward the future lot of the elderly, the government conceived the idea of constructing big suburban nursing centers in which they could benefit from constant attention.

These centers, which were built over the next three decades, seemed to be an ideal solution for the difficulties of the old. But it is now becoming more and more apparent that they are not working as well as had been anticipated.

In the first place, they are expensive to put up and maintain, and even this prosperous country cannot continue to tolerate the strain on its budget. Estimates are that keeping an elderly person in one of these centers costs the equivalent of $30,000 a year.

There is also what might be called an emotional side to the picture, which involves dealing with elderly couples whose partners do not always require the same care. The question that arises is whether only one of them ought to be admitted to a nursing center.

An option under consideration is the establishment of cooperative apartment buildings in which old people can reside in privacy and yet be close enough should they need each other.

One such project already exists here in Copenhagen. A group of 18 elderly women occupy a building in which each has her own small apartment. But they can, if they wish, get together for meals or to watch television. The public health service keeps an eye on them.

However these experiments develop, the problem of the elderly is a common concern here — for one very simple reason. Everyone in the country is going to grow old, and nobody wants to be lonely and neglected when that happens.

ROBERT WALTERS

Petroleum Ploys

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Once again, the petroleum industry appears to be manipulating the supply of gasoline to maximize its profits at the expense of consumers who ought to be — but are not — benefiting from low crude oil prices.

Those low crude costs should be reflected in proportionally cheap gasoline prices, but the industry has propped up the price of gasoline by keeping it in very short supply.

In the midst of a worldwide glut of crude oil that has driven prices to their lowest levels in more than five years, gasoline prices have risen faster than any other component of the Consumer Price Index for two consecutive months.

In the initial months of 1985, two important indicators of crude oil prices have declined to levels not recorded since 1979-80. The price refiners must pay for a barrel of crude oil, which has remained relatively constant and averaged $30.56 throughout the first half of this decade, plunged to $26.53 in February, the most recent month for which such data is available.

The average international price for a barrel of crude oil, which reached $35.49 in early 1981 and has steadily declined since, dropped to $27.69 in mid-May.

"At a time when the world is awash in oil when there is a huge excess of refining capability and when gasoline demand is virtually flat, gasoline prices should be falling, not rising," says Edwin Rothschild, assistant director of the Washington-based Citizen-Labor Energy Coalition.

The average nationwide price for a gallon of gasoline, however, climbed from less than $1.13 in February to more than $1.15 in March, then increased to almost $1.20 in April. On an annualized basis, that represents an 18 percent increase during the three months ending in April.

The explanation for the disparity between the prices of crude oil and gasoline appears to lie in the petroleum industry's manipulation of the domestic gasoline supply.

During the first four months of this year, the country's total gasoline inventory averaged 223.8 million barrels — substantially less than the 238.5 million barrels on hand during the comparable period in 1984 and the 235.9 million barrels in stock during the same period in 1983.

About 45 percent of every barrel of crude oil ends up as gasoline after the refining process is completed, but the industry has maintained tight supplies by limiting refinery runs.

Reduced refinery use has little financial impact, however, on the multinational petroleum companies because the vast majority of their profits are earned from crude oil production and exploration.

Although gasoline inventories in early May fell below 211 million barrels for the first time in 10 years, a spokesman for the American Petroleum Institute, the industry's leading trade association, says, "We don't foresee any kind of shortages" during the upcoming vacation season.

overworked, and I feel it's necessary for us to get away."

Dr. Koch said the overall cost to the government will be only $2,000. But a spokesman for the Coolfont said the HUD employees are being charged $68.75 each per day, which would make the bill for 30 persons more than $6,000 for the three nights. A Koch assistant said his boss had misspoken.

Finally, at the Agriculture Department, some officials chose the exotic Far East for a government-paid getaway this month. Four department employees are accompanying a group of 26 American farm wives on an 18-day tour of Japan, China, Hong Kong and Korea for meetings with government agriculture officials. The farm women are paying their own way; the taxpayers' bill for the four official chaperones is $14,000.

Easy Living Ends For Lakers, 148-114

BOSTON (UPI) — In only 7 1/2 minutes, the Los Angeles Lakers realized their days at the beach were over.

Like a cool Pacific breeze, the Lakers eased past Phoenix, Portland and Denver to qualify for the NBA finals against Boston. And while they were piling up flashy statistics, the Celtics were accumulating bumps and bruises from Cleveland, Detroit and Philadelphia.

On Monday, the Celtics, gunning to become the first club to capture back-to-back championships since their 1968-69 counterparts, did not take long to show the Lakers that their days of easy living were ended.

They shut down the vaunted Los Angeles fastbreak en route to a record-amazing 148-114 rout in the opener of the best-of-seven series.

Game 2 is Thursday night (9 p.m. EDT) at the Boston Garden. The series shifts to Los Angeles for Games 3, 4 and, if necessary, 5.

"We got off to one hell of a start," said Boston coach K.C. Jones. "We ran very well and shot the eyes out of the ball."

After taking a 38-24 lead after one quarter, the Celtics outscored the Lakers 41-25 in the second period to go up 79-49. They led 108-79 after three quarters and twice held 37-point leads in the final minutes.

The drubbing was enough for even actor and celebrated Laker fan Jack Nicholson to throw in the towel. Literally. Seated in the second row, Nicholson made a like a boxer's handler requesting the punishment be stopped. He flung a white towel away to the delirious delight of the crowd of 14,890.

In winning their ninth straight playoff game this year, Boston set championship marks for most points in a game; most points at the half; largest lead at halftime; best field-goal percentage (.608); and most field goals (62). The Celtics dealt the Lakers their worst title series loss since they were clobbered 129-96 by Boston in 1965.

Danny Ainge, improving with every game, scored 15 of his 19 points in the first 12 minutes to send Boston on its way. Led by the 6-foot-5 guard, the Celtics shot 59 percent in the first period but their best was to come.

How'd they do it?

— Boston stymied the Lakers' break, the main reason Los Angeles was averaging 131 points a game in the playoffs. The Celtics hit 62 percent in the opening 24 minutes, got back on defense and permitted only 3 run-and-gun baskets in the first half.

— Boston controlled the boards. The Celtics held a 48-35 rebounding advantage and did not permit an offensive rebound until 59 seconds remained in the opening period.

— The Celtics gave Los Angeles guard Byron Scott the outside shot. Scott hit 65 percent against the Nuggets. He was 2-of-8 at the half Monday.

That allowed Ainge to double-team Abdul-Jabbar and the veteran center managed 11 shots and 12 points.

— Scott Wedman hit 11-of-11 from the field — an NBA title game record for percentage — and had 26 points in 23 minutes. He made all four of his 3-pointers.

"I missed two free throws," he cracked. "I'll have to work on those."

Stoudt-Smith Duo Riddles Renegades

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — Birmingham Coach Rollie Dotsch says it's hard to win playing the "very inconsistent" football his team has demonstrated recently.

But against the limping Orlando Renegades, the Stallions proved how a relentlessly on-target offense can make it tough to lose.

Cliff Stoudt completed 15 of 21 passes for 213 yards and the Stallions never had to punt Monday night in a 41-17 rout of the Renegades that gave Birmingham sole possession of first place in the USFL's Eastern Division.

"Our offense has been very inconsistent the past couple of weeks and you can't win that way," Dotsch said afterward. "We seemed to get it all together tonight and I'm very glad with the way we played."

Stoudt and wide receiver Jim Smith hooked up for three touchdowns — on two passes and an unplanned lateral — and the Stallions scored on two Danny Miller field goals, a 50-yard bomb from Stoudt to Joey Jones and a 6-yard run by Paul Ott Curruth to boost their record to 10-4.

Orlando, 3-11, took advantage of a Stoudt fumble on Birmingham's first possession to grab a 7-0 lead, but the Stallions lashed back with 31 first-half points to seize control of the game.

Kelvin Atkins pounced on Stoudt's fumble at the Birmingham 21-yard line just six plays into the game. Four plays later, former Stallion Leon Perry gave the Renegades the lead with a 4-yard touchdown run.

Football

The Stallions responded on their next possession by driving 67 yards in 11 plays, tying the game a 13-yard pass from Stoudt to Smith. They took the lead on a 33-yard field goal by Miller, and scored on their next possession when Jones made a diving catch of Stoudt's bomb for a 17-3 margin.

Birmingham's next touchdown was set up by Mickey Sutton's interception and 37-yard return to the Orlando 23. Smith hauled in a 7-yard lob from Stoudt to make it 24-7.

Smith's third score of the half came after a broken play and a wild scramble. Stoudt zigzagged 10 yards from the Orlando 32-yard line before pitching the ball to his receiver, who was running interference. Smith headed left, reversed, broke a tackle and dashed into the end zone.

With 33 seconds left in the half, Orlando answered with a six-play, 72-yard drive that cut the lead to 31-14 on a 37-yard bomb from Reggie Collier to Joey Walters.

The Stallions' Chuck Clanton picked off his 14th interception of the season, a league record, on the first play of second half. That set up Miller's second field goal, a 23-yarder that put the home team ahead 34-14.

Orlando's only points of the second half came on a 34-yard field goal by Jeff Brockhaus late in the third quarter. Birmingham's final score, a 6-yard charge by Curruth with 13:19 left in the game, capped a 12-play, 75-yard drive.

13 Is Lucky For Majors

Don't try and tell Sun Bank or First Federal that 13 is an unlucky number. Especially when each Little Major League team sits atop its division with a perfect 13-0 record.

Sun Bank and manager D.J. Armondi have rolled to 13 straight victories in the Sanford Little American League. They have a four-game lead over defending city champion Adcock Roofing.

First Federal and manager Larry Bridle have been just as tough in the Sanford Little National League. They have 13 straight wins and a five-game bulge over Poppa Jay's.

Both have already clinched their divisions with just four games to play. There's a good chance that both will be unbeaten when they collide for the City Championship Series in two weeks.

The Sanford Junior League, meanwhile, is as closely bunched as the Little Majors are far apart. Manager Jim Lucas' Ball Motor Line leads the second-half title chase with a 5-0 mark. The Knights of Columbus, managed by Rick Taylor and Sylvester "Slick" Franklin Jr., is 5-1 and manager Bill Dube's Moose squad is 4-2.

Spend A Buck Travels Tough Road To Riches

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (UPI) — No one can accuse Spend a Buck, thoroughbred racing's newest multi-millionaire, of taking the easy road to fame and fortune by skipping the traditional test of 3-year-olds, the Triple Crown campaign.

Not after watching the gutsy way the Kentucky Derby champion shrugged off challenge after challenge Monday to win the Jersey Derby and a record $2.6 million, bonus-padded payday.

The prize vaulted him from 20th to second place, behind 10-year-old John Henry, on the all-time earnings list with nearly $4 million dollars in a mere 13 career starts.

"How can you take anything away from that horse?" said Sonny Hine, trainer of fifth-place Skip Trial. "His race was more impressive than the Kentucky Derby."

Spend a Buck, owned by Dennis Diaz of Tampa, and trained by Cam Gambolati, won the Run for the Roses wire to wire. But in the Jersey Derby,

Horse Racing

the challenges began with the starting gun.

Under Laffit Pincay Jr., the bay colt stumbled coming out of the gate and into a duel with speedy Huddle Up. Spend a Buck passed Huddle Up before he'd run two furlongs, but the D. Wayne Lukas-trained longshot dogged his footsteps for another half a mile.

Then, about the time Huddle Up started fading, two late closers put on the pressure: Creme Fraiche came up on the rail while eventual third-place finisher El Basco came up outside.

Creme Fraiche actually nosed ahead on the home turn, but three touches of the whip by Pincay were all the urging Spend a Buck needed to burst back into the lead.

Pincay hit him several more times down the stretch to hit the wire in 2:02 3/5.

Home plate is where it's at in the Sanford Little Major League. Madcap dives into home as much a part of the action as home runs and strikeouts. Above, the Railroaders' Calvin Donaldson pulls up his glove to show the umpire he still has the ball after tagging out D.A.V.'s Phillip King. At the right, D.A.V.'s Elliott Brownlee is a bit late with his tag as Railroader Richard Washington slides home with a run. Sun Bank, 13-0 in the Little American League, and First Federal, 13-0, have both wrapped up their divisions and will meet in the City Championship Series.

Rogers Continues Reign — Speedway's 1st Enduro Saturday

NEW SMYRNA BEACH — David Rogers continued to rule over New Smyrna Speedway's late model division as he drove the Wayne Denach Budweiser Firebird to victory in the 50-lap End of the Month late model championship on Saturday night.

LeRoy Porter was second, followed by the Elite Towing machine of Lee Faulk, Greg Froemming and Bill Oremovich.

Scoring back to back wins in their respective divisions were gutsy young drivers Kenny Copley and Casey Hawthorne.

Copley put his L.W. King/Phantom Racing Thunderbird in victory lane for the extra distance/extra cash event for the thundercar division. Street stocker Hawthorne did the same in his potent Mustang.

Ben Booth, Howard Bragg, Eddie Perry and the Dynamic Paving Chevy of Mark Silla completed the top five finishers.

The winner of the End of the Month Championship for the four cylinder division was Bobby Seank. Putting on another fender-banging show, the still growing field of roadrunners was led by Don Roberts whose car carries a bumper sticker saying: "Show me a good loser and I'll show you a loser. Eddie Tovet, Will Smeenk, Steve Mundet, Lenard Detloff and Mike Bowling closely followed Roberts at the finish.

Auto Racing

The speedway's first ever 100-lap Enduro is scheduled for this Saturday night along with a full program of late models, thundercars, street stocks, four-cylinders and roadrunners.

Overconfident Hawks Settle For Runner-Up

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

After storming to the West Orange Tournament title the previous weekend, the Seminole Hawks may have been a little overconfident going into the Osceola Invitational this past weekend.

The Hawks, Seminole Softball Club's 12 and under tournament team, lost their first game of the round robin tournament but won the next three to take second place.

In the opener, Semoran, which went on to win the tournament, strung together the hits in the key situations and came away with a 4-2 win over Seminole.

"After the girls went the week before, I think they just came out too relaxed," Hawks manager Larry Risse said. "They thought they were unbeatable and Semoran came up and beat us."

The Hawks vented out their frustrations in the second game by pounding Haines City, 11-3. Nicole DeLuca was 3 for 4 with two RBIs and two runs scored to lead the way. Michelle Davis was 2 for 4 and drove in on run. Heather Golden score two runs and drove in one and Christine Risse had one hit and two RBIs.

In the next game, the Hawks edged Conway, 4-1. Davis was 1 for 3 and scored two of the four runs while Golden and Missy Martinez drove in two runs each.

Pitching was the name of the game in the Hawks' final win, 7-1 over host Osceola. The Seminole duo of Risse and Renee Sanville combined on a two-hitter and struck out six. Tonya Higgins had two hits and drove in one run while Christa Schroeffel was 1 for 1 with an RBI.

The leading hitters for the tourney included Golden who was 6 for 13 (.461). Higgins 4-11 (.364), Nicole Gadoury 3-5 (.600), Davis 4-13 (.308) and DeLuca 4-14 (.286).

The Hawks also played outstanding defense and turned four double plays in the tournament. Three of the four were the shortstop (Davis), to second base (Schroeffel) to first (Higgins) combination. Risse also said the outfield play of Tonya Lewis, Connie Bonaventura, Golden and DeLuca was super.

"The outfielders did a real good job of running down all the fly balls," said Risse. "They took away several sure hits."

The Hawks' next tournament is this weekend at Rockledge.

Seminole North AAU Places 3rd

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

Playing with girls 16 and younger, the Seminole North AAU squad took third place this past weekend in the AAU 18 and Under State Tournament in Gainesville.

The tournament was Charles Steele's introduction to coaching girls basketball. Steele will be the head coach of Seminole High this coming season.

Seminole North dropped its first game of the tourney but came back to win two straight to take home the third place trophy.

Steele is now looking forward to taking his 14 and under team to the State Tournament this weekend in Coral Springs. Adrian Hillman, a 13-year-old who played on the 18 and under team, will play on that team along with 6-1 Elizabeth Long of Sanford. Steele said Long, now

Basketball

An eighth grader at Sanford's All Souls School, will be going to Seminole High as a freshman.

"She's looked good in practice," Steele said of Long. "This team should be tough. We've got a good chance of winning it."

In its opening game of the 18 and under tourney, Seminole North dropped a 58-47 decision to host Gainesville.

Sanford's Catherine "Kitty" Anderson led Seminole North in the opening game with 22 points.

In game two, Seminole North went up against a tough Riviera Beach team that had just taken powerful Team Florida down to the wire before bowing out. Riviera Beach was the favorite, but Seminole North had four players in double figures and claimed a 74-60 victory.

Lyman's Kim Forsyth poured in 23 points to lead the way while Anderson tossed in 16. Seminole's Temika Alexander popped in 15 and Sanford's Hillsman contributed 10. Lyman's Latanya Johnson had nine points, including 5 of 6 free throws in the waning moments.

Seminole North then beat Bill Moore's Seminole West team and claimed a 85-72 win in overtime.

The game was tied at 70-70 at the end of regulation but two of Seminole West's big guns, Courtney Hall and Alleen Patterson, fouled out enabling Seminole North to pull away in overtime.

Six players reached double figures for Seminole North led by Forsyth's 18 points. Anderson added 14, Johnson and Yolanda Robinson contributed 13 each.

Schu Up, Schmit To 1st Base

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Mike Schmidt, who has won nine straight gold gloves and appeared in nine consecutive All-Star games for the Philadelphia Phillies will be moving across the diamond to play first, club officials said Monday.

The Phillies have recalled Rick Schu, a promising 23-year-old third baseman, from Portland (AAA) of the Pacific Coast League. First baseman-outfielder John Russell was optioned to Portland to make room on the roster.

"I'm willing to move if it's in the team interest," said Schmidt, who had three hits, including his sixth homer of the season, in Sunday's 10-9 Philadelphia victory. "I have played practically no first base. I don't know if it will affect my concentration at bat, probably not. When you are playing first, there is not much chance to stand around and worry."

Lyons' Big Debut Drops Minnesota

United Press International
Lou Gehrig's replacement of Wally Pipp at first base was only supposed to be temporary, but the Iron Horse proceeded to play in a major-league record 2130 consecutive games. Rookie Steve Lyons has no illusions of matching Gehrig, but he has made an impressive beginning.

Lyons, making his first major-league start in place of home run king Tony Armas, had quite an auspicious debut Monday, clouting two home runs to spark the struggling Boston Red Sox to a 9-2 victory over the Minnesota Twins at Fenway Park.

"In your wildest dreams you think of hitting the ball out in your first major-league start," said Lyons, who played center field. "Hitting two homers makes it even nicer."

Lyons, who had 14 at bats prior to Monday's start, knows that once Armas, out with a sore wrist, is ready to play again, he'll take his place on the bench.

"I'm a utility player because the nine guys we have starting deserve to," said Lyons, who turns 25 Sunday. "It's rare for a rookie to step in and be handed a job."

Lyons, who had three hits and four RBI to pace a 16-hit attack, led off the third inning with a homer. He also drilled a three-run homer off Ron Davis in the eighth.

Roger Clemens, 6-4, scattered five hits in 6-2-3 innings for the win. Steve Crawford finished and earned his first save. Ken Schrom, 3-4, took the loss. Minnesota's sixth in a row.

Elsewhere, Cleveland blanked Milwaukee 8-0. Baltimore downed California 6-4. Seattle defeated Detroit 5-2. Kansas City topped Texas 4-2 and Oakland edged New York 2-1 in 10 innings. Toronto at Chicago was rained out.

In the National League, it was Philadelphia 10, San Diego 9; New York 8, Los Angeles 1; San Francisco 6, Montreal 1; Chicago 4, Cincinnati 3; and Houston 4, Pittsburgh 2.

Mariners 5, Tigers 2
At Seattle, Matt Young and Karl Best combined on an eight-hitter to end a three-game Mariner losing streak. Detroit had won four in a row. Young, 4-5, held Detroit scoreless the first six innings. Best recorded his second save. Dan Petry fell to 8-3.

A's 2, Yankees 1
At Oakland, Calif., Dwayne Murphy slugged a homer in the bottom of the 10th inning off Dave Righetti to lift the A's over the Yankees. Jay Howell, 3-2, got the triumph as Righetti slipped to 3-4.

Orioles 6, Angels 4
At Anaheim, Calif., Scott McGregor pitched a six-hitter and Rick Dempsey drove in the winning run on a seventh-inning sacrifice fly to lift Baltimore. McGregor, 3-4, struck out four and walked two in pitching his second complete game.

Tillis-Mangham Vows Spoken

Sharon Ann Tillis and Gordon F. Mangham, both of Sanford, were married May 18 in the private gardens of Sylvan Lake Park, Sanford. The Rev. F. Dan McCraw performed the double ring ceremony at 1 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon F. Mangham

Vocalists Mrs. Charles Kochanowski of Lake Wales, and Miss Staci McCraw of Winter Springs sang traditional love songs.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Parker of Franklin, N.C.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows a pale blue tea-length dress with a spray of baby's breath in her hair. She carried an Oriental fan laced with blue and white flowers.

Norma McCraw of Lake Wales attended her sister as the matron of honor. Bridesmaids were the bride's nieces, Heather McCraw, Lake Wales, and Jenny DeSear, Sanford.

The bridegroom's best man was his son, Gordon F. Mangham Jr.

The couple traveled throughout the area on their honeymoon and are making their home in Sanford.

A 'Husband' For 36 Years May Be Threat To Society

DEAR ABBY: I just found out that my husband sexually abused our daughter when she was an emotionally disturbed teen-ager on drugs. This went on for several years, but she never told me at the time, because she feared physical violence, which she knew he was capable of. When she became emotionally stronger (she's fine now), she put a stop to it.

When I became aware of this, I demanded that he see a therapist, knowing there had to be something terribly wrong with a father who would do this to his own daughter. He refused, so now we are separated.

I have two other daughters who refuse to allow their children to see their grandfather because of his abnormal behavior. (When I left him, I told our children why.)

Once before I had heard that he was having incestuous relations with his sister, but I pooh-poohed the whole thing. Now I realize it was probably true.

Abby, please let me know if there is any legal redress against this man I called "husband" for 36 years, but never really knew.

HEARTSICK

DEAR HEARTSICK: The man you called "husband" for 36 years, but you never really knew, is guilty of a crime. Your lawyer can advise you about the statutes of limitations in your state.

He should also be psychiatrically examined. If he is mentally disturbed, he could be a threat to society unless treated. Please act at once.

DEAR ABBY: As a result of your recent column, our security department has been inundated with calls from people claiming to have lost the "diamond" ring that was found in the ladies' restroom of the Ritz-Carlton Hotel in Chicago. So far, no one has been able to establish ownership.

Contrary to the finder's impression, the ring contains no real diamonds. According to the appraisal we had made, the ring is valued at approximately $200.

Dear Abby

We regret that the woman who found the ring was misinformed by the assistant manager on duty. If an article has not been claimed by its owner after one year, it becomes the property of the person who found it.

I hope you will print this to restore confidence in the fairness of our lost-and-found policy.

ANTOINETTE CORINTHIOS, GENERAL MANAGER, RITZ-CARLTON, CHICAGO

DEAR ABBY: What are the odds of a 31-year old man who had German measles at age 18 becoming a father? Please rush your answer.

THREE WEEKS LATER IN KANSAS

DEAR LATE: Never mind what he told you. Don't play the odds. He should see a urologist for a sperm count. Fatherhood is no gambling matter.

DEAR ABBY: You told "No Way Out," the married man who wants out of an affair he had going with a female employee, immediately to confess everything to his wife so the other woman cannot blackmail him.

This violates the first principle in such matters: Always lie.

The man should either suffer silently, or if it becomes truly intolerable, fire the woman. If she informs the wife of the affair, explaining that it's motivated by revenge and untrue. When she presents his wife with his sales slips for expensive gifts to her, explain that they were for prizes for an employee incentive contest. When she presents airline tickets and hotel bills, explain that they were on business trips and had to share a room because of the company's austerity program—and nothing happened. When she presents the wife with pictures of him and her in the ultimate embrace, he should assure his wife that the employee was shaking uncontrollably from malaria-induced chills, and he threw himself on her to warm her up.

Abby, your penchant to recommend confession dooms a lot of marriages. Please be more cautious.

EX—MARINE ANDEAGLE

DEAR ABBY: This is for Hurt—whose husband never gave her presents on special occasions. I had the same trouble with my husband, so for Valentine's Day I bought myself a beautiful pair of earrings and enclosed a card that read "To Miriam with all my love ... Miriam.

My husband got the bill. MIRIAM

DEAR ABBY: I would like to have your opinion on a problem that I'm sure has cropped up in many marriages. Do you think a husband should bring guests home without giving his wife some notice?

My husband does this all the time. It's usually a co-worker for dinner, or sometimes a business associate. If they've never been here before, my husband gives them a tour of the house. This really upsets me because some days I am behind in my work and the place doesn't look all that great. Yesterday I had an early morning dental appointment and a lot of errands to do. I didn't get around to making the beds, when in comes my husband and two strangers!

Abby, am I unreasonable to ask my husband to give me at least a half an hour's notice or the option of saying, "Not today, please"?

FRUSTRATED

DEAR FRUSTRATED: You are not unreasonable—your husband is inconsiderate. And unless you put your foot down firmly, where it will make a lasting impression, don't expect anything to change.

Search On For Outstanding Dad

June 16 is Father's Day. We, at The Herald, are searching for the annual "Outstanding Dad" in the community, but we need the help of readers to find this special man.

The Outstanding Dad and runners up will be selected from letters of nomination. To make sure your favorite dad gets the proper recognition, follow the simple instructions: First, write your full name, full address, including city and state, and your telephone number at the top of the page. Underneath, add the name, full address and telephone number of the dad you are nominating. Then, begin your letter telling us in your own words why this dad is so outstanding. Please type or clearly print your letter.

Submit letters of nomination to PEOPLE Editor Doris Dietrich, P.O. Box 1657 (300 N. French Ave.), Sanford 32771, no later than noon, Thursday, May 30, the deadline for judging.

Winners will be announced in The Herald on Father's Day.

South Seminole Rotary More Than Just A Club

Rotary Club of South Seminole is more than just a club. Through the years Rotary of South Seminole has sponsored schools, colleges, and many organizations throughout the Central Florida area. They have made several contributions as well as supporting these organizations in a caring way. For example, their generous contributions in the 1970's of "Save The Children Federation" and support for the March of Dimes.

The Rotary Club also sponsored several exchange students from all over the world to visit families here in Central Florida. But most of all the club began a project approximately 14 years ago. This project located on an island in Lagoonave, Haiti, is a health clinic provided for the people in protecting them from disease and providing dental care. Along with this they have provided the island with proper water facilities which was badly needed. With the support of 57 clubs in their district donating five dollars per member per week the project has been a success. Not to mention the donation of $500 a year from South Seminole Rotary Club.

According to Kent Weisner, the club's president-elect, the health clinic was a mission greatly needed for Haiti and now many doctors, dentists, and nurses contribute their time to go to the island and support the project. The Rotary Club has taken initiative in providing proper measures to health and well being for the Haiti project. Weisner said the health clinic and "waterworks" project has been an important mission that the Rotary Club has done. But there is still need for more; more help, more support, and more contributions.

Wayne and Sheila Smith, owners of Play Smart Toys, Longwood

Play Smart Toys Help Children To Develop

With many years of experience in education, Wayne and Sheila Smith, owners of Play Smart Toys, located at 851 E. state Road 434 in Park Square Plaza, Longwood, can help you find books and toys that are just right for your child's stage of development.

Before opening their store Feb. 1, Wayne, a native Floridian, was a principal of a private elementary school and Sheila had taught school for 16 years.

"As a store, education and children are what we're about," said Wayne. "It's a lot of fun working with children to determine where they are at developmentally and recommend the appropriate toys to their parents."

"We have toys to help stimulate physical, emotional/intellectual, and even spiritual growth. If the parent chooses to move into this area with the child, we have Bible books and games," he said.

Play Smart Toys has toys that will appeal to children from birth to 12 years, but some of the games go up to adult. In addition to being educational Play Smart toys are bright, colorful, safe, well-constructed, and fun.

They have toys suitable for the gifted child and the exceptional child as well as the average youngster. Play Smart Toys carefully chooses quality products from around the world—such as Sweden, Belgium, and Greece, as well American brands such as Fisher-Price and Johnson & Johnson.

"We can stand behind our toys and if the parent is not satisfied they can bring it back," said Wayne. "We are very safety conscious and concerned about non-toxic paints and dyes and whether the item is built very securely."

To encourage creativity in the child, they stock Wee Sing creative tapes and books, origami kits, diaramas, mask kits, books where the child writes the stories to match pictures, Audubon bird color books, and drama kits for ages 8-14.

If you are traveling with children this summer, be sure and pick up some travel games from Play Smart Toys before you start to keep them happily occupied.

They carry curriculum supplementary materials. For toddlers there are books to bring out creativity, Peek-a-Books, and even a Toddlers' Potty Book to make potty training easier.

For the young scientist there is a weather station, a build-it-yourself metal detector, electro quiz, electronic education materials, and science projects and experiments.

The store has the old standbys such as washable rag books, blocks, an abacus, flashcards, wooden workbenches, and wooden puzzles as well as new innovative toys.

Play Smart Toys is open Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.; Saturday, 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Nations Sign Pact On Pensions

STOCKHOLM (UPI)— The United States and Sweden Monday signed a new pension agreement that reduces the number of years citizens from the two nations must work in the other country to receive retirement pensions.

The agreement was signed by U.S. Secretary of Health and Human Services Margaret Heckler during a four-day official visit to Sweden and Sweden's Minister of Social Affairs, Sten Andersson.

U.S. Ambassador to Sweden Franklin Forsberg also was a signatory.

Under the new agreement, an American must work in Sweden for at least one instead of three years in order to receive a pension at retirement from the Swedish government for the period of work in this country.

A Swede working in the United States for at least 18 months will be able to receive an American pension based on the earnings there.

Hakan Martin Rahm, Counsel at the Ministry of Health and Social Affairs, said under the previous agreement, a Swede had to work for "an average of 10 years in order to receive any (U.S.) pension."

Rahm said the agreement also guaranteed that people moving back to their country of citizenship would continue to receive appropriate pensions from the country they had left.

Some 6,000 U.S. citizens live in Sweden. Some 600 are retirees.
The Swedish government was hosting a dinner Monday to celebrate the signing of the agreement, which Rahm said had been negotiated since 1980.

Taping Skin One Cure For Pesky Psoriasis

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am 92 and have been troubled with psoriasis for two years. I keep it under control with aloe vera gel. It nearly clears up, then breaks out again. What can I do?

I suggest that all members of the family take the one-dose treatment. Naturally, this won't prevent your child from picking up pinworms in school or at play, but it will help. You might want to alert the parents of your child's playmates so that more widespread treatment of pinworm carriers may interrupt the cycle. Obviously, hand-washing is a must. To the extent that you can, discourage your child from putting fingers or toys into her mouth.

Send your questions to Dr. Gott at P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, Ohio 44101.

DEAR READER — Psoriasis is a chronic skin disorder of unknown cause. Some experts believe that it is a form of self-allergy, in which a person becomes allergic to his own skin.

There are many treatments for psoriasis, some are harmless, some are quite dangerous. If you can control the condition with aloe skin cream, keep using it.

For those patients whose psoriasis is more severe, a dermatological consultation is in order. I recently read that the application of ordinary adhesive tape — particularly the waterproof kind — will cause the skin under the tape to clear after about a week. I've never used it, but I'm told it works.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am having trouble getting rid of pinworms in my 5-year-old daughter. My doctor told me that one dose of medicine was strong enough. However, the problem keeps recurring.

DEAR READER — The problem with pinworms is reinfection. Pinworm eggs are expelled in fecal material and can get on children's hands by inadvertent direct contact or when youngsters play in dirt that has been contaminated with the eggs.

Because most children have a tendency to put their fingers in their mouths, the tiny eggs can be swallowed. In the intestinal tract, they hatch and grow into adulthood, mate, produce eggs and pass out of the rectum. The cycle is thereby completed.

One-dose eradication is usually sufficient to rid the body of pinworms. However, the very next minute (or hour), a youngster can become reinfected by the method I described above.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

Once in a while we see a deal where declarer, blinded by too many high cards, goes set in a contract that would normally be made. South had a very strong hand, and when his partner preferred clubs, he certainly was not stopping below the game level.

In five clubs, he ruffed the second diamond and played the club ace. When the jack appeared, declarer played one high spade, then led a club to dummy's king and took the spade finesse. West won the queen and returned a diamond.

For the first time, declarer used his head. Instead of drawing the last trump, he decided to first play the third spade. If spades split, everything would be fine. But if spades were not splitting, perhaps the hand with the long spades would also have the long trumps. Declarer could then ruff the last spade with dummy's eight of clubs. Spades did not split, but West trumped the third spade with his last little trump and our careless declarer was one in the soup.

In his thirst for a paltry overtrick, South neglected the safest play for the game. After the jack of clubs has appeared, he should simply play the A-K of spades. If everyone follows, he is home no matter who holds the spade queen. He can play a third spade and ruff the fourth with dummy's high trump.

If declarer's jack of spades had been a little one, this play would have been obvious. The abundance of high cards in declarer's hand and in dummy led to South's downfall.

Major changes are ahead for Gemini in the coming year. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You will be more effective today if you guide a delicate situation from the background. Maintain a low profile.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) The more people you have around you today, the more you're apt to like it. Seek out spots where the action is and plan to be part of it.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Lady Luck will be especially attentive to your career and finances today. Devote as much time as possible to these areas.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) If you're prepared to accept life's happenings philosophically today, everything will ultimately work out to your advantage. Be hopeful.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You possess a remarkable faculty today for making the most out of the least. Associates will be aware of this and try to hop on your bandwagon.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You're now in a cycle where your popularity will be ascending. People you know casually will begin to think of you as their special friend.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

Major achievements are possible for you today because you will be endowed with both confidence and the wherewithal to get done anything you desire.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) To bring out your finer qualities, you'll require some form of stimulating challenge today. It could be a game or a business deal.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Focusing your attention on your family today will enhance your feelings of belonging and, at the same time, contribute to their sense of well-being and security.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Today you can derive considerable pleasure by being brought up to date on people you like. Ring up your favorite pals for some chitchat.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) For the next few days your earning ability will be considerably heightened. If you're prepared to produce, the compensation will be there.
