Pope Gives Mayor Walker Blessings

ROME, Sept. 9 (INS)—Mayor James J. Walker, of New York City, was received in audience today by Pope Pius XI and Premier Mussolini. The Mussolini interview took place late this afternoon several hours after Mayor and Mrs. Walker and their party had been received by the pontiff who bestowed his blessings and medals to his visitors.

LOCAL SHIPPING HOUSES PROTEST ON RATE CHANGE

Proposed Cancellation Of The Trans-Continental Freight Rates Would Cause Sanford To Lose $20,000 Each Year

In an effort to defeat the proposed cancellation of trans-continental freight rates into peninsula Florida, Sanford wholesale houses and the local Chamber of Commerce today joined with other cities over the state in a fast minute protest filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission against what has been described as "unjust discrimination."

The final date for filing protests has been set for September 15 and the existing rates under the proposed arrangement would terminate on September 25. The Florida Railroad Commission taking the lead in the fight against passage of the measure by the federal trade organization and its efforts within the next few days are to be supplemented by individual and collective protests of shipping organizations and trade bodies throughout the state.

If Florida efforts are unsuccessful, the state will lose hundreds of thousands of dollars, according to C. W. Stoudenmire, general manager of the Seminole Grocery Company, who is taking an active part in the local discussion of the matter. According to Mr. Stoudenmire, Sanford, which will be one of the least affected cities in the state, would lose something like $20,000 annually. The proposed changes would increase the freight rates to Sanford by approximately 20 per cent. It was revealed.

As pointed out by Mr. Stoudenmire, the cancellation of the existing blanket rate to Sanford will compel local shipping organizations receiving products from the western section to pay a blanket rate to Jacksonville plus a Jacksonville-Sanford rate that exceeds the normal local rate. This fact has been cited by Florida shippers as one of their best arguments against the proposed changes.

Although Sanford with 20 per cent increase would be one of the least affected cities, the scale of proposed changes shows that several cities will be compelled to meet boosted rates to the extent of 60.8 per cent of the present rates. Miami will receive the heaviest blow under the proposed arrangement, it was disclosed, the Miami City having scheduled a $2.84 1-2 rate on apples whereas the existing 1-2 rate on apples $1.73.

Another objection to the cancellation of the cross-continent rate is found in a protest filed by the Florida Railroad Commission which says in part:

"As a general proposition, rates to and from Pacific coast points are blanketed over the entire country. The trans-continental lines are now marketing rates to points as far distant as the northern boundary of Maine and even beyond into the Dominion of Canada, and to all Florida. It is now proposed by the supplements and tariff above designated to make an exception to peninsula Florida, although the most southern point on the mainland of the peninsula is 270 miles nearer San Francisco, a representative Pacific coast market, than the most distant point in the state of Maine.

Mrs. Willis Will Aid State Finding Slayer Of Husband

GREENVILLE, S. C., Sept. 9.—(INS)—Acquittal of Mrs. Sam D. Willis and Deputy Henry Townsend and charged with the slaying of the former's husband, Sheriff Sam D. Willis, will spur on the hunt for the slayer of the Greenville county official.

Members of the Willis family, who aided in the defense of the accused, said that they would make every possible effort to apprehend the real slayer of the sheriff in the Willis garage the night of June 1.

"I will remain in Greenville, and devote my life to my wife and daughter," Mrs. Willis said. I will do all there is possible to find the real slayer of my husband."

Following a 16-day trial, a jury acquitted Mrs. Willis and Townsend, the Sheriff's wartime comrade, in less than an hour after taking the case in their hands.

The young woman is said to have told police that she acted as a "fall" attracting the attention of arm salesman, while a confederate was making substitution of parts for the real gun.

The first person arrested was Harry Anderson, who has been charged with grand larceny. Mrs. Harms Armstrong is the second of the trio of women now held by police. So far about $2,500 in gems have been recovered.

LEADERS GIVE VETS TO PARIS POLICY POINTS

Pamphlet Is Issued Presenting Rules For Conduct And Good Manners For Legionaires In French Capital

Urge Ex-Soldiers To Avoid Trouble

Four Thousand Additional Veterans Set Sail Today On Second Expedition To France

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The fifteen thousand or so Legionnaires that comprise "The Second A. E. F." and who have joined in one of the greatest peace time pilgrimages ever made to a foreign country, are going to be well-behaved and decorous army men if the leaders can humbly make it so.

"Watch your step, and don't get into trouble," is the parting admonition given every ex-soldier, vocally and in printed form, as he shoves off to celebrate the tenth anniversary of the great adventure of 1917.

Four thousand more Legionnaires, in half a dozen vessels, swung out in the Atlantic today on the heels of the thousand who had already departed. And each of them carried a little yellow booklet that might be termed a department guide for the second A. E. F.

Among other things it said: "The greatest help that can come to the Legion will be if those participating will constantly bear in mind the fact that they are not off on an individual trip, but are rather representative members of an official pilgrimage to the land where millions of men shed blood and died a few years back where hundreds of thousands of Americans received wounds and disabilities which will end only with death; where thirty thousand of our own American comrades are buried, resting forever in foreign soil hundreds of miles from home.

"The ignorant fool who loves to parade his ignorance and display his foolishness as ostentatiously as possible—the bigoted ass who is addicted to loudly comparing the differences between France and the United States (ways and the means)—the thoughtless individual who is so prone to publicly display their derision for the slaying, speech, money and customs of the French—all of these objectionable types will be for once submerged and repressed into a wonderful silence if the legionnaires will constantly remember the real nature of this pilgrimage and will never forget the fact that everything done by the legionnaires on this trip will reflect credit or discredit, the legion and their country, but also upon the memory of their comrades dead who sleep beneath the crosses over here and over there."

This sane bit of admonition is accompanied by more detailed instructions of procedure. It is being impressed upon the Paris-bound veterans that, while they may be very certain in their own minds as to "who won the war," it will be extremely bad taste to propound the query publicly over there.

Effort Is Made To Get Rail And Hotel Rates Cut In 1928

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Sept. 9.—(INS)—Seeking to prolong the tourist season by offering lower hotel and traffic rates for six prior and six weeks after the regular season, Dec. 1 to Mar. 15, a committee representing the Florida State Travel Bureau appeared before the southeastern passenger association today in an effort to have railroad rates to Florida cut in all parts of the country.

The committee consisted of Jerry W. Carter, state hotel commissioner of Florida, Mayor John T. Aiso, Jr., of Jacksonville, E. P. Owen, Jr., manager Jacksonville chamber of commerce and C. R. Christenberry, public relations director of the State Hotel Commission. The committee was accompanied by R. B. Pegram, vice president of the Southern Railway.

Hotels, bus lines and boat lines have already agreed to the lower rates and it is believed that the railway will accept the proposed plan to lengthen the tourist season.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—(INS)—Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Raymond Loman, who made an attack on Gov. Al Smith, of New York, in a labor day speech at Buffalo, has been told politely by the superior to avoid personal references in address of the future.

15 Survivors Are Picked From 74 Bathing Beauties In Atlantic City Contest

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 9.—(INS)—The 74 bathing beauties who were pitted against today in the choice of America's loveliest girl for 1927 will be announced. Through the day, the judges knotted their brows and tape measures wrestled with the delicate evidence in the way of curves and lines and alabaster skin and dimples and shades of eyes and silkiness of hair.

No beauty contest would be complete without a tang of disputation. The tang was supplied in the matter of Miss Norma Smallwood, of Tulsa, Okla., "Miss America" of 1926, who quit the pageant at the result of reported financial disagreement with the pageant committee. Miss Smallwood was enroute today to Walnut Cove, N. C., near Greensborough, where she will judge a southern beauties' contest.

The 15 lucky surviving pretties today were thrice lucky as the final contestants previously have only totaled five. The winner from each of the five geographical divisions. But pulchritude was so striking this year that the judges broke all rules and picked three from each division.

MELLON FAVORS LIFTING OF BAN ON FRENCH LOANS

Treasury Department Believes France Should Be Given Opportunity Of Refunding To Get A Lower Interest Rate

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—(INS)—Partial lifting of the ban on French loans to give rates through refunding operations virtually has been approved by the treasury department, it was learned today.

Mellon, officials indicated, is in agreement with Secretary of State Kellogg; that France should have the opportunity to refund its eight percent loans at lower rates. The government's loan policy lies with the treasury state department and White House since the expiration of the World War Debt Funding Commission.

Mellon was said to feel that anything which will improve French finances, placing that nation in a position to consider ratification of the Mellon-Berenger Debt Agreement, should have the support of this government.

The move also would go far in improving the relationship between the two nations and might have the effect of stimulating sentiment that would bring about ratification of the debt pact.

Bond House Organized To Stabilize Florida Securities And Bonds

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 9.—(INS)—Under the guidance of men well known in the municipal bond market, the Florida Bond & Stock Exchange Inc., has been organized here and will begin functioning as soon as possible.

According to President Gerald Fitzgerald, trading on the exchange will be confined to the membership, but a united effort will be made to stabilize Florida securities, especially municipal bonds.

All bankers and brokers in Florida will be asked to become members of the exchange. Executive offices have been opened in the Congress Building here.

GIRLS BURNED

LONDON, Sept. 9.—(INS)—At least four girl workers were burned to death and many more were injured, when 46 employees were trapped by fire in a motion picture film waste works, in the Regent Park district of London today.

Scores Of Women Aid Identification Of Chicago's Dapper Salesman Bandit

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—(INS)—William E. Mitchell, dapper salesman by day and confessed "cat" bandit by night, today faced identification by additional scores of women and girls many of whom he is accused of having robbed and attacked during a 18 months career of terrorism in fashionable North Side neighborhoods.

Among those called to the police station today were Northwestern University co-eds, robbed in their Evanston dormitories several months ago.

The bandit's attorney, former Assistant State's Attorney Louis Piquett, announced that he would make no effort to secure Mitchell's release on a habeas corpus writ, but would give the police plenty of time in which to make a thorough investigation before having his client booked.

WORLD FLIERS ARRIVE SAFELY AT HONGKONG

Slight Engine Trouble Delayed "Pride of Detroit" And Caused Concern Last It Had Met With Accident

All Hope Abandoned For "Sir Carling"

"Old Glory" Is Also Given Up When Hunt Proves Failure; Ruth Elder Is Off For Tampa

MANILA, Sept. 9.—(INS)—The "Pride of Detroit," carrying Edward T. Seebles, Detroit business man, and William Brock, pilot arrived at the Naltack aerodrome, Hongkong, at 3:40 this afternoon, according to advices received here from British post-office wireless station at Hongkong. The plane made a perfect landing.

The round the world fliers expected to leave Hongkong for Shanghai tomorrow morning. During the flight from Hanoi, where they left at 8 o'clock this morning, the plane developed minor engine trouble. When this is repaired, the airman will be prepared to make their next jump.

When the fliers hopped off from Rangoon, British India, they were undecided whether they would stop at Bangkok, Siam. Once in the air they apparently decided to continue on to Hanoi 700 miles from Rangoon.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—(INS)—Hope was virtually abandoned today for Captain Terry Tully and Lieut. Metcalf, pilot, and navigator of the Canadian monoplane "Sir John Carling" which left Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, Wednesday on an attempt to fly across the Atlantic ocean to London.

With the plane 24 hours overdue, and its supply of gasoline exhausted, the possibility that the fliers might have escaped the tragic fate which has befallen many other daring aviators who pitted their skill and the power of an airplane motor against the inexorable force of the elements, became increasingly remote.

CONTRACTS LET BY COUNTY TOTAL NEARLY $300,000

Contracts aggregating almost $300,000 were awarded today by the Seminole County Commissioners meeting in special session at the court house. The contracts represented four road projects totaling $255,879.70 and four additional projects for the construction of bridges and conduits, concrete bridges and county stockade. The last four items represented an outlay of $43,889.35.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—(INS)—A faint ray of hope—that a flimsy rubber life-raft could withstand the pounding of the mid-ocean waves flickered today as three ocean liners continued a futile search of the sea 600 miles east of New Foundland for some trace of the monoplane "Old Glory," which left Old Orchard, Maine, shortly after noon Tuesday on an attempt to fly to Rome.

With no trace of the plane reported, hope was almost abandoned that Lloyd Bertaud, James DeWitt Hill and Philip A. Payne, occupants of "Old Glory" on her ill-fated flight, could possibly be found alive. Even the most optimistic conceded that "Old Glory" herself could no longer be afloat on the turbulent waves on which she is believed to have crashed a few minutes after sending out a frantic S.O.S. call. The one hope remaining was that the fliers had safely taken to their rubber raft, and are still floating or have been picked up by some merchant vessel equipped with wireless.

Ford Hires 65,000 More Men In Plant

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 9.—(INS)—With the "change-over" process for production of a new Ford Motor Company to automobile practically completed, is employing approximately 65,000 men in its Highland Park and River Rouge plants, according to an official of the company. The company's plants have been operating on a five day schedule since last spring," he added. "This does not mean that all employees have been working full time. Some are employed five or six days a week, while others are on a shorter schedule."

WALL STREET IS IN MIDST OF AN ORGY OF BETTING

Millions Are Being Waged On Baseball, Fight, Election, Polo And What Have You; Long Shots Are Also Found

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Wall Street is in the throes of a betting orgy.

A million dollars or more will be wagered on the forthcoming Dempsey-Tunney fight; a half a million at least on the spectacular four-cornered National League pennant race: $25,000 to $50,000 on tomorrow's polo match between the British and American teams; close to $1,500,000 on the World Series and from 1,000,000 to $1,000,000 on the next presidential campaign.

These figures were supplied to International News Service today by Frank Slinnaky, betting commissioner of W. L. Darnell & Co., one of the average big brokerage houses that deal in wagers.

Important money is being laid this way:

Seven to five Pittsburgh does not win the pennant; 9 to 5—the Giants won't; 3-2 to 1 St. Louis will not and 5 to 1 the Cubs won't run again.

Even money Mr. Coolidge won't win the election; 5 to 1 the British will win.

Thirteen to ten the New York Yankees win the American League pennant and the World Series. Ten to one the Yankees win the National League pennant; 5 to 1 the Yankees win the World Series.

Discussing the betting on the National League race, Slinnaky said: "I will lay 9 to 5 the Giants won't win the flag and will take 1 to 1 the Giants do win; we will lay 7 to 5 the Pirates won't win and take 9 to 5 that they will win; we will lay 3-2 to 1 the Cardinals won't win and take 3 to 1 that they will win; we'll lay 5 to 1 that the Cubs won't land on top and we'll take 7 to 1 that they will win."

He said more than $100,000 already had been wagered on the National League race in Wall Street.

Twenty thousand dollars has been put up and Slinnaky has $13,000 more to bet against $10,000 that the Yankees win both the World Series, no matter what the club they meet.

Cubs were quoted at even money to win the National League pennant and the odds were 10 to 1 that the Giants would not; there has not been much variation in the odds as regards Pittsburgh and St. Louis.

Harry Hill Laughs As He Begins Trip To Murder Trial

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 9.—(INS)—Harry Hill today was unafraid to begin his journey to the murder of the man who had been charged with the slaying of his mother.

Laughing and apparently care-free young Hill and his captors started the 78-hour journey last night after Hill had waived all extradition proceedings. Accompanying the boy and his three guards, was the prisoner's father, Dr. H. C. Hill of Stretator, who had rushed here as soon as he learned his son was under arrest.

Never did the grim facts of a capital accusation seem to rest more lightly than on this youth of 22, as he boarded the Oriental limited for the long journey home. He might have been a college student on his way back to his alma mater at Paris.

Accompanied by her navigator and co-pilot, George W. Feldman, Miss Elder started aloft in her "American Girl," a Stinson-Detroit monoplane, carrying 220 gallons of gasoline and headed southward in the early morning fog.

The original destination for the trial flight was Labeled, Pa., but it was learned that the field at Labeled was in a sorry condition and was decided to fly to Tampa.

OPINION TURNS AGAINST OCEAN DISTANT HOPS

Air Secretary Comes Out Against Further Atlantic Flights Until Planes Improved

Wood Insists On Making His Flight

Levine Says He Waits Only Fair Weather Before Hopping Off

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—(INS)—Lives sacrificed on the altar of aeronautical progress in trans-oceanic flying have not been in vain, William P. MacCracken, air secretary of the Commerce Department, declared today. Nothing can be accomplished by further sacrifice nor will long distance flights away the ocean contribute materially to scientific knowledge of aeronautics. MacCracken continued.

The air secretary declared that Congressional legislation to give the government strict supervision of aviation is advisable. He pointed to the facility of aerial deaths on trans-oceanic flights where by reason of inferior equipment, that might be detected in advance, the fliers are pre-doomed to failure.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 9.—(INS)—Supporting the request of the Windsor flight committee, Louis B. Wood today expressed the hope that his brother, Phil Wood, would definitely abandon the contemplated flight from Harbor Grace, N. F., to Windsor, N. F.

"I am thoroughly in accord with the message sent to my brother by the committee," Mr. Wood said today at his office in an industrial plant. "The hazards are too great. This is shown by the fact that eight aviators have disappeared, undoubtedly into the depths of the ocean, during brave attempts to span the Atlantic."

LONDON, Sept. 9.—(INS)—A forty mile an hour wind today caused Charles D. Levine again to postpone his contemplated flight to America in the monoplane "Columbia." Reports of weather over the Atlantic also were unfavorable.

Levine told International News Service that, if the weather is still unfavorable by Sept. 15, he would fly the ocean from east to west in 1928.

Despite the warnings of T. Harold ("Doc") Kincaid and other experts against trans-Atlantic attempts so late in the year, Levine declared he is determined to try it if possible.

He has received hundreds of letters protesting not only against his own flight, but trans-oceanic flights in general. Levine said people say it is not worth while and serves no useful purpose. I am emphatically in it with you, my weather gives us half a chance of success, if my heart is not upset on the trip, but of course we cannot do the impossible. If the weather does not change we may have to abandon the flight but I am prepared to walk another week."

The daily sketch sketch Levine's proposal "one of fully" adding "in the face of almost universal condemnation Levine persists in his plan to make the flight with Capt. W. G. Broadcliffe a pilot—a list of most keen and experienced men in the history of British aviation, he also said detached from venturing his own skin and a desperate chance."

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—(INS)—Possibility that the "Pride of Detroit," the Midway Islands, would be abandoned, loomed today when it came known the backers of the flight were negotiating with the Dollar Steamship Line for purchase of the plane and the flight to Honolulu.

Persons here familiar with the Midway Islands do not believe the flight from Japan to the Islands is feasible. The Islands, they say, are mere specks on the ocean and would be extremely difficult for the fliers to locate.

Army private stationed here have also pointed out the danger of such an undertaking. One of them declared that the fliers would be fortunate to come within 150 miles of the coast when they try to land.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 9.—(INS)—The Canadian government today ordered that passengers be taken to the end of Canada, but the fliers would be allowed to continue their journey.

COOLIDGE RETURNS EAST

RAPID CITY, S. D., Sept. 9.—(INS)—President Coolidge came to the end of his Black Hills trail today and returned eastward to Washington. This evening he and Mrs. Coolidge will again be in the White House and John will remain at the field and working in the hills before it was decided to fly to Tampa.

SPORTS

TENNIS SINGLES WILL BE PLAYED THIS AFTERNOON

William Johnston Will Meet Rene LaCosta And Tilden Is To Play Henry Cochet; Meeting Will Draw Large Gallery

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—The great absorbing problem as to whether France will take over the Davis cup this year, or postpone the inevitable, will be settled in part this afternoon at the Germantown Cricket Club when the singles matches will get under way. In the first match, William Johnston, America, will meet Rene LaCoste of France, the present American champion. The second match will couple the names of William P. Tilden, greatest of all modern players, and Henri Cochet, of France, the man who has taken a fall out of Tilden twice in succession and has made him like it, if any man can do so far.

That is the line up this afternoon, and a fine time will be had by all. They can't match up a couple of top rankers like Johnston and LaCosta without having excitement at Wimbledon without having a riot. The Tilden-Cochet match will bring down the house even though the latter happens to include a 15,000 gallery, the greatest that ever has witnessed a Davis cup round. Why not?

Here we have Tilden, the aging but still the player of the century, faced with Cochet, the man who has beaten him every time out. That match alone is enough to harden the artery. But it is only fifty percent of the program, the schedule calling for Johnston, the hard hitter, to meet LaCoste, the conservative player. No, there are thrills and thrills to be had at the Germantown Cricket Club today, the first real threat upon the Davis cup which we have seen since Tilden and Johnston carried it back from Australia late in 1919.

It is the pair that we look upon today to defend it. They held it for six years and according to the popular American version they are good enough to hold it. At least, that was the consensus vote of the Davis cup committee which nominated Johnston to play the singles with Tilden in spite of the fact that the little Bantam has had a minimum of tournaments this season. They picked him slight unseen, which is a perfectly right way to pick Johnston. His tennis sneaks for itself.

Still, the approach of the challenge round finds many Americans filled with fear and forebodings. They recognize the fact that Tilden's tour of foreign courts resulted in only one victory over LaCoste to two defeats. They recognize that Tilden and Cochet virtually defeated in three straight sets at Wimbledon and yet lost in five. They recognize that American supremacy no longer can be accepted verbatim.

TUNNEY RESTS

TUNNEY CAMP, LAKE VILLA Ill. Sept. 8. (INS)—Gene Tunney rested again today, giving the wound over his right eye a chance to heal. The cut, which Chuck Higgins opened in the third round of his sparring exhibition with the champ Tuesday, is coming along nicely.

JOCKEYS HURT

CHICAGO, Sept. 8. (INS)—No. 10 Walters and George Hughes, jockeys, were in a critical condition today from injuries sustained during a race of horses, fighting for the rail position in the sixth race at Washington Park late yesterday.

Fordham Ushers Football in Early

Gene Tunney Feels Quite At Home In Chicago's Society

CHICAGO, Sept. 8. (INS)—Gene Tunney, the handsome heavyweight boxing champion, has been taken up by Chicago's exclusive North Shore society colony, it was learned today.

Last Sunday evening, the belated news reveals, Tunney was a dinner guest at the Lake Forrest home of Mr. and Mrs. William V. Kelley, leaders in Gold Coast society. Gene was right at home and appeared to enjoy himself immensely. He left early, however, pleading that the rigors of training for his Sept. 22 battle with Jack Dempsey demanded that he be in camp by 9 o'clock.

Tagging All Bases

As far as the Pittsburgh Pirates are concerned, the sizzling National league race is getting too close for comfort. The Pirates were cut down from an unexpected quarter yesterday when they lost to Cincinnati, 4 to 6. The Bugs are only half a game in front of the Giants who were idle yesterday.

Charley Dressen, Chicago third baseman, eluded two timely doubles which put the skids under Carmen Hill, Smoketown crack twirler. The Pirates made three errors, while the Reds were equally timely—1-1 the Reds.

Meanwhile the Cardinals and the Cubs were getting nowhere with great velocity by splitting a double bill. In the opener, Frank House, a rookie pitcher, won a 6 to 2 decision over Hal Carlson of the Cubs with the aid of four hits by Orsatti, another St. Louis rookie.

Two home runs by Hack Wilson gave the Cubs the nightcap by an 8 to 4 score. Wilson now has 25 circuit smacks and is only one behind Cy Williams, the league leader.

Babe Herman of Brooklyn also hit two homers. The Robins beat the Phillies, 9 to 1, after the Phils had won the opener, 3 to 2, by a ninth inning rally.

After having wallowed three homers, the day before, Babe Ruth broke close with two more, tying the world's record of five homers in two successive days. He now has 49 for the season and is four ahead of Buster Gehrig. With the aid of these hits and wallows by other inquirers of Murderer's Row, the Yankees took a 12 to 10 slugfest run from the Red Sox after having staked the Beaneaters to a seven run lead.

Other teams were idle. The western clubs of the American league begin their final invasion of the east today and the Yanks probably will clinch the pennant in short order at the expense of the St. Louis Browns, who have not beaten New York all season.

ASPIRANTS FIGHT

NEW YORK, Sept. 8. (INS)—Paulino, the hardy Basque heavyweight, with the iron jaw, and Tom meet here tonight in a 115 round bout that may make or break either fighter. Both are candidates for the coming heavyweight elimination tournament to provide an opponent for the winner of the Tunney-Dempsey bout.

BOSTON SHOWING BIG INTEREST IN AVIATION CIRCLES

Fund Is Being Raised To Promote Westward Non-Stop Hop Across Atlantic; Airport Board Has Been Formed

By International News Service
BOSTON, Sept. 7.—With the raising of a purse for a westward non-stop trans-Atlantic flight and with the opening of a second airport, Boston is making rapid strides forward in aviation.

T. G. Holcombe, president of the Boston Chapter of the National Aeronautic Association, has volunteered to act as secretary of the newly organized Boston Airport Trans-Atlantic Purse Trustees and will be actively in charge of the purse.

An appeal for contributions is being sent out by Mr. Holcombe. The purse, it is stated, is not only designed to advance the cause of aviation, but also is aimed to spread the fame of Boston, and its opportunities throughout the world. Mayor Malcolm Nichols and the Boston Chamber of Commerce have already approved the purse.

W. Irving Bullard, member of the trustees, declared:

"The westward non-stop trans-Atlantic flight in the next logical development in the progress of aviation. Whatever we do cannot be construed as precipitating a race or encouraging recklessness. The Boston Airport Trans-Atlantic Purse is designed to reward brave and capable men for their achievement. It will in part serve to defray the costs of the undertaking. It will serve to attract to Boston the pioneer flight which undoubtedly will soon be made."

FLORIDA IS FAST ABANDONING LOW TARIFF PRINCIPLE

Peninsula State Comes To Look With Disfavor Upon One Of Chief Democratic Beliefs; Growers May Ask High Duty

By The International News Service
Florida, always one of "The Solid South," is steadily abandoning the principal plank in the platform of the Democratic party—low tariff.

A concerted effort is on foot throughout the state today to have Florida fruit and vegetable growers appeal to the United States Congress for a high protective tariff against the importation of foreign food products raised in Mexico, Cuba and the Bahamas, especially in competition with domestic produce.

Florida stores are selling American tomatoes at 20 cents a pound this week while Cuban and Mexican tomatoes are selling for exactly half. Onions imported via the Jacksonville port are selling at 5 cents per pound while Florida onions are being marketed at 15 cents.

Cheap labor, according to farmers, is something not to be found in the United States while inland plantations and Mexico exporters can get native labor for something to eat and a straw hat upon which to sleep, marketing organizations here say.

Several meetings of the Florida Growers Association have been held to discuss their plans for obtaining passage of a high tariff—one of the Republican party's political platform and far from Democratic planks. Chambers of commerce throughout the state have joined in the fight and the Florida Legislature in April passed a Memorial to Congress pleading for high tariff.

The importation of low-priced fruits and vegetables is NOT charged to foreigners by Florida growers. Experts allege that it is American plantation owners in Cuba, and the Bahamas Islands of Florida, and in Mexico who are flooding the markets with cheaply produced fruits and vegetables in competition with Florida products. A fortune had been granted by a number of these.

OHIO MAY STAGE REFERENDUM ON LIQUOR QUESTION

Proposed Election To Indicate Swing Of Sentiment For First Time In Five Years In Ohio; State Law To Serve As Test

COLUMBUS, O. Sept. 7.—Wet and dry leaders throughout the nation are looking to a referendum election in Ohio, which probably will be held this autumn, as a barometer which may indicate the swing of the sentiment of Buckeye voters on the wet-and-dry issue for the first time in five years.

Added importance is given the contest because Ohio, one of the strongest dry communities of the Union heretofore, was the birthplace of the dry movement, and still is the national headquarters of the Anti-Saloon League, and the World League Against Alcoholism, the two leading dry organizations.

The referendum, which probably will be ordered as soon as official checking of some thousands of signatures is completed and certified, is upon a state law, passed by the last legislature, known as the Marshall Bill. It is designed to cure the fatal legal defects of the "fee" courts of village mayors and justices of the peace, which were outlawed by a recent decision of the United States Supreme Court.

These petty courts formerly reaped a rich harvest for judges, constables, clerks and other attaches, by "splitting" enormous sums of money collected as fines for liquor law violations, the "split" being designated as "fees." The Supreme Court held that no judge could give defendants a fair trial, when his compensation depended entirely on the fees he obtained from fines assessed when he defended the defendants guilty.

The Marshall Bill plans to meet this decision by what its opponents assert is a mere subterfuge, limiting the salaries of the judges to fixed sums, but making the "salary money" come from the fines.

"Wet" opponents of the bill assert that there has been a strong reversal of opinion by many voters on the prohibition question since it became the national law, and that the election returns will reflect this. But the Marshall Bill numbers not only the wets, but many "dry" among its opponents, including Senator J. H. Bender, of Cleveland a prohibition leader who has broken with the Anti-Saloon League because of what he alleges are its "corrupt political methods."

Clear Cut Issue
The Anti-Saloon League, however, has declared the Marshall bill referendum is a clear-cut wet and dry issue, has taken active sponsorship of the fight to enact the bill, and in a sweeping public statement, has stigmatized supporters of the referendum as "bootleggers and their friends," and called upon all church members to oppose the referendum.

The issue is further beclouded by the fact that many automobile clubs, mindful of the fact that motorists, too were preyed upon by the country squires, have actively taken up the fight against enactment of the Marshall bill.

But leaders on both sides of the fight agree that the election will be some sort of an index of the sentiment of the state on prohibition, and should reveal whether Buckeye voters are as heartily in favor of it now as they were ten years ago.

Tulsa In Midst Building Era

Breaks All Records

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 8. (INS)—An era of business building passing by fast any previous in the state of Oklahoma, and probably unequalled in the history of the United States, is predicted for Tulsa, during the next few months.

Tentative plans for four scrapers, all of which will have twenty floors, or more, are discussed by Tulsa financiers. A small army of architects has started preliminary sketches of the proposed structures.

Several super-structures recently been completed are now in various stages of being built.

In addition to the larger scores of contracts have been awarded and permits granted for business buildings.

The new skyscrapers, as tentatively planned will be: A twenty-four story building to be built and operated by Dr. J. B. Kennedy; a twenty-seven story office building, which it is estimated will be financed by Daniel Daniel, Tulsa capitalist, will ground, and will be the combined interest of two large companies, and the other, a building over twenty stories high which is being considered by Alexander, Tulsa builder.

Removing A Motor Menace

The Dearborn Independent in a recent issue presents an interesting phase of the movement to check reckless driving. The discussion hinges upon the elimination of sharp curves and other similar menaces to safe driving.

This instance, the Detroit magazine thinks, presents a lesson worthy of serious consideration. It points out that city and county authorities have gone to considerable lengths to set up regulations and signal systems when a little more thought to improvement of highways would greatly reduce motor casualties and incidentally cut the expenses of enforcement of motor traffic laws.

Discussing the subject further the Dearborn publication points out: "In many instances one good whack at a horse and buggy curve still doing duty in a motor age would add years to the expectation of life of members of the community."

"No sane person holds a brief for reckless speeding; but the most experienced drivers will tell you that fast driving is not the only menace on the highway today. There is the very 'safe' driver who turns suddenly without signaling to the car behind. Then there is the meandering individual who signals a turn to the left, swings the car to the left, then turns to the right. Also the timid soul who has never yet driven faster than twenty miles an hour and who eases around curves at fifteen—on the wrong side of the road. If these could be taught that the road is there to move traffic and that nowadays the driver need think like a railroad!"

Disastrous Flights

With the names of Tully and Metcalf, Bertaud, Hill and Payne added to the list of those who have gone down at sea in the interest of the advancement of aviation, a strong sentiment is rapidly growing against undertaking any more of these ultra-dangerous and ill advised long distant flights until such time as planes and accessories have been so perfected as to insure at least a moderate degree of safety.

Since Colonel Lindbergh startled the whole world and earned the adulation of hundreds of millions by his expertly managed and more than daring conquest of the elements above the Atlantic, sixteen lives have been lost in attempts to emulate his achievement, with Nungesser and Coli failing only a few days before. Eighteen lives since the flurry started.

Undoubtedly pioneer flights have to be made if aviation is to be advanced, but it would seem that by this time the sacrifice has been sufficient to show that what aviation needs now is stronger and better planes, not additional loss of life. Unfortunately with all the wrecked planes, not a single one has been found, nor a single clue discovered which might lead some light as to the cause of the accidents.

In England the press is almost unanimous in condemning any further attempts to span the Atlantic for the time being. The Junkers Airplane Company in Berlin, which recently dispatched two planes, forced to turn back by the inclement weather has ordered the abandonment of further ocean flights this year. Even in this country, which has been more successful than the rest, and which is inclined to express a certain bravado even in the face of disaster, a distinct wave of anti-ocean flight sentiment is evident.

Even William P. MacCracken, air secretary of the Commerce Department, while opposed to any national prohibition of long ocean flights, admits that nothing can be gained by further attempts for the present. "The ever increasing list of the 'Lost at sea' has a deterrent effect upon aviation development," he maintains. "Aeronautical engineers must work for increasing safety and reliability of planes and accessories. Planes must be perfected that will perform under all weather conditions." He also encouraged the development of land planes that will float in case of a forced landing at sea.

While Brock and Schlee will undoubtedly continue their world flight until its successful climax or they too have been overtaken by disaster, it is to be hoped that Miss Elder, Phil Wood, "Duke" Schiller, Levine and the others awaiting only favorable weather to hop off, may be induced to abandon their plans at least temporarily.

MAN'S ORIGIN MIAMI HERALD

Sir Arthur Keith, a noted British scientist, has reported the findings of "a jury impaneled from men who have devoted a lifetime to weighing the evidence," and says the decision is that all the evidence available indicates that man has descended from an anthropoid ape. The scientists estimate that the ape family split near the beginning of the Miocene period about one million years ago.

Progress and Sacrifice. Persistent Levine. Block Buys the Bears. The Hoptoads Eye. BY ARTHUR BRISBANE Copyright 1927 by Star Co.

THERE IS DEEP anxiety concerning the fate of Payne, Bertaud and Hill, who began on Tuesday a flight to Rome. Hope has not been abandoned, however, and, whatever may happen, the country will be proud of the fact that it possesses so many men of daring, willing to risk life in a good cause.

NO GREAT THING is achieved without sacrifice. Those distressed by loss of life in flying may remember that the total number of deaths in trans-Atlantic flying is smaller than the number killed automobiling on any fine Sunday. The thing is to keep on and conquer.

DETROIT'S AROUND THE world fliers, Brock and Schlee, landed at Rangoon, Burma, yesterday afternoon, flying from Calcutta, India, part of the way through a dangerous monsoon. Kipling would write a poem about that, and a good one, if he were 20 years younger, and the fliers were British.

LEVINE, AGAIN compelled to postpone his flight westward because of bad weather, is determined to make the flight, apparently because he said he would do so. THE BRITISH WERE amazed when Levine, who is not a pilot, suddenly landed at Crocyden from Paris, nearly killing himself as he came down. Lord Beaverbrook, who owns the London Express, told this writer in London last week that Levine, leaving Paris alone and landing in England without breaking his neck, had, in the opinion of British fliers, accomplished a most extraordinary feat of daring.

PAUL BLOCK, WHO owns newspapers in many cities including Pittsburgh, Toledo and Newark, has bought for $500,000 New York's baseball club, called "the Bears." Under Block's ownership those "Bears" will be real bears, Block being a conspicuous member of the "Bear" family. Paul Block's theory is that baseball club profits are really a by-product of the newspaper business, and would drop if the newspapers dropped baseball. "Therefore," says practical Mr. Block, "since newspapers owners must create baseball profits, they should also be baseball club owners."

SIR OLIVER LODGE made solemn members of the British scientific association "gasp" by describing the universe as a "space filled with a substantial entity, in a violent state of spinning, the seat of an immensity of energy such as never has been imagined."

LONG AGO ONE scientist said: "I have swept the skies with my telescope and found no sign of a divine ruler." A hoptoad might sweep an express train with its inquiring eye and find no sign of an engineer—to say nothing of a chairman of the board of directors, far away.

only three. The cultural balance of trade seems swinging in our favor and New York audiences, which have sat endlessly through the Russians, the Czechs, the Hungarians, the French, the British, the Italians, the Scandinavians and every one else while awaiting the arrival of the American drama, can look up to find us culturally an exporting power.

Not is the export wholly of the baser staples of quantity production. The girl-and-music-sonnage from our machine factories is balanced by such items as "The Silver Cord," from the art shops of the Theater Guild. In the meantime a visiting English actor, Mr. Fred Wright, assure us that there is sound reason, "for the American excels in teamwork, in co-ordination of effort and in working together for the good of all." These are the qualities which are innumerable tourists in the past have admired in the British theater, returning to curse our own "star system." And now behold! we are told that we can give lessons to the British in the escape from the stars.

Much credit for compliments such as these should probably go to "Broadway," which has been making the British gasp with the accuracy of its execution. True, its art may have been founded in standardized traditions which we have developed for musical comedy; if so, that shows that our special genius is not a barren one. America, it seems, has her own contribution to make and if foreign audiences sometimes attend only in order to find out what grotesque people we are, the audiences cannot deny the vigor and reality of much of the art they see, not only in play writing but in the more sophisticated studies of production, direction, and even acting.

"ShadyRest" Once Retreat For Gangsters Of Illinois, Is Now A Dumping Ground

BENTON, Ill., Sept. 8. (INS)—Tumbled weeds and a few desultory sunflower stalks bloom today upon the grave of southern Illinois gangster terrorism—mute symbols of a reign that is no more.

"Shady Rest," whose walls, blackened with bloodshed, have heard the piteous of a hundred death mysteries, is a mass of ruins. The once gun-proof retreat of the gangster lords, Art Newman, Charlie Birger, Carl Earl and Bernard Shelton, Connie Ritter and other fighting luminaries in "Bloody Williamson" County, is now a dumping ground.

In the rear of the roadhouse one may find remnants of machine guns of an armored car, of the arsenal which defied county and state authorities.

Alone In Cell

Charlie Birger sits alone in his cell here at Benton, awaiting the summons of death, decreed by a jury for his part in the murder of Joe Adams of West City. Art Newman, his scheming lieutenant, "squawker" of the outfit, is in Chester state prison, serving a life sentence with Ray "Izzy" Hyland for the same slaying. Carl Earl and Bernard Shelton are free on bonds awaiting a new trial for robbery of the United States mail. Ritter is at large, it is true, but hunted like a rat through the swamps of Louisiana to answer a charge of murder.

Tombstones mark the passing of others.

Williamson County for the first time in more than ten years goes about its daily work without fear that the barking of machine guns will send innocent women and children to premature grave.

Caravans of merchandise drone down the state highways, replacing the rambling of heavily guarded liquor trucks. Beggars running no longer is a problem confronting authorities. Home brew kettles may sizzle in isolated basements but the saloon, roadhouse, vice-dens and white slavery, prevalent under the regime of the Birgers and Sheltons, has been thrust into limbo.

Hot Dog Stand

The American institution of a hot-dog stand now occupies the site of a famous roadhouse near here. What few gangsters remain are drinking soda pop and looking for honest work.

The metamorphosis occurred in little less than a year. It was just Christmas that Birger was hurled threats at the head of Carl Shelton. Shelton replied in staccato. Then the federal government backed by the supposed ally, testimony of Birger and Newman, enemies of the Sheltons, swooped down on the three brothers and charged them with a mail robbery.

MANY COSMETICS ARE REALLY NOT AIDS TO BEAUTY

English Chemist Makes Many Important Discoveries When Investigating Beauty Hints Of American English Women

LONDON, Sept. 8, (INS)—Many girls pay excessive prices for beauty preparations which are not really aids to beauty at all, according to John F. Liversage, analyst to the City of Birmingham, who has been investigating beauty parlor secrets.

Liversage found in the case of one face powder that the chief constituents were talc and zinc oxide, or carbonate, with alum, magnesia and chalk also included. One sample of a paste which cost 30c for half an ounce differed little from zinc ointment.

Another paste, about twice the strength of zinc ointment, was priced at 60c for about one ounce. A cream for which the charge was 30c an ounce contained five per cent. of oxide of zinc with moisture wax, and rich starch.

"In most cases," declares Liversage in summing up his investigations, "the articles were perfumed and faintly packed, but the prices were excessive, and in some cases, at any rate, their value for the purposes indicated was problematical."

Liversage declares the modern craze for dancing to be responsible for the large increases in the production of "powder and paint" from which many manufacturers are making huge fortunes.

"One of my inspectors," he says, "spent $5 in purchasing ten samples of powder and paste which, except for the perfume and packing, could have been bought for less than a dollar."

Prominent London beauty specialists deny that huge fortunes are being made from the game. They declare that Liversage must have conducted his investigations into the cheaper products only, which are put up by small manufacturers to satiate the working-girls taste for cosmetics.

The prices charged in the more up-to-date and expensive parlors, they assert are reasonable when the cost of the various preparations used are taken into consideration with the expense of training highly skilled assistants.

Doc Kincade Warns Levine Not To Try Atlantic This Year

LONDON, Sept. 9, (INS)—Emphatic warning not to attempt to fly the airplane "Columbia" across the Atlantic this year, was given today to Charles A. Levine, owner of the plane, by T. Harold "Doc" Kincade, American aeronautical expert.

The warning provided a dramatic incident on the platform at Water-Station immediately before Kincade's departure for Southampton where he was to embark for the United States.

Levine and others, including a number of newspaper reporters, were at the station to bid Kincade goodbye.

"I am undismayed by anything that has happened on the Atlantic," Levine told Kincade, "and I tell you I shall make this flight the minute word comes from Capt. Hincheliffe."

"Then you will go without my O. K.," Kincade shot back, emphatically. "I have given you no certificate of air-worthiness for the

Dole Air Race Winners Return

Another famous "We" has just returned to America—Art Goebel, Lieut. W. V. Davis, U. S. N. and the monoplane "Woolaroo," in which they won the $25,000 California-to-Hawaii race prize. Goebel (left) and Davis, back in San Francisco, are shown singing some of the airs they learned in Hawaii.

Rapid City Is Agog With Excitement Over Party Given For Mrs. Coolidge

RAPID CITY, S. D., Sept. 7.—It's no bed of roses, folks, this entertaining the wife of a president.

Main Street did it, but heads are aching and tempers are seething along that well known thoroughfare today as a direct result thereof. Frontier aristocracy has reverted—plus some finesse—to the tactics of its hardy progenitors and a number of throats were being politely cut this morning in over-the-back-fence conversations.

President and Mrs. Coolidge may leave the Black Hills day after tomorrow for good, but echoes of that one and only affair tendered in honor of the first lady will stir the country club set for many moons. West Boulevard and Quincy Street will be armed social camps for the coming winter, at least.

But the story is best in chronological order—

In Rapid City are, among others, two women's clubs. First there is the Current Events Club, an ultra-ultra organization absolutely limited to 30 members. Second, there is the Fortnightly Club, membership at present, one hundred, including most of the Current Events ladies.

When the Coolidges announced their intention of coming to the Black Hills, the White House let it be known tactically that social invitation for the President and his wife would not be regarded with favor. The retiring president of the Fortnightly Club—also a C-E member accepted this and told her friends that in her opinion, the most gracious courtesy that could be paid Mrs. Coolidge would be to let her alone.

Then came the election and a non-member of the Current Events was designated president, effective Sept. 1. The new Fortnightly leader had entirely different ideas, but

"Columbia." She isn't fit to face what I tell you is coming to her if you start out so late in the season."

Turning then to the reporters, Kincade said: "I want it clearly understood that I refuse to have the lives of these two men on my hands."

Levine and Kincade then shook hands and as the train pulled out of the station, Kincade repeated his warning.

"Don't take the 'Columbia' across the water this year" were his parting words.

Extension Of Immigration Quota Restrictions To Be Sought By Secretary Davis

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Extension of the immigration quota restrictions to include all countries in the western hemisphere will be sought in a renewed drive to be made in the next Congress. This campaign, aimed particularly at Mexico, will be led by Secretary of Labor Davis and Immigration Commissioner Hull.

The immigration authorities take the stand that the 1924 quota law effectively closed the doors to "undesirable" aliens from Europe, but at the same time left plenty of side doors open along the Mexican border through which other "undesirables" could enter and are entering without restraint. This leakage, the officials say, is upsetting the equilibrium which it had been hoped the 1924 law would establish and is bringing into the country great quantities of cheap labor, thus defeating the primary purposes of the quota act by keeping down the standard of living.

In Central States this situation, according to Assistant Commissioner Husband, is especially true with regard to the North Central States such as Missouri, Iowa, North and South Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and Pennsylvania. In that section the Mexican immigrants have found their way into the steel, mine and sugar beet industries and into railroad work to the economic detriment of the laborers already on hand.

As evidence of the "undesirable ability" of this class of immigration figures for the fiscal year 1925-26 are cited. In that year more than 42,000 Mexicans entered the country, of which only 408 were of the professional classes and 2,785 were skilled laborers. Of the remainder, 840 followed miscellaneous (including women and children) ad no occupation, 26,199 were listed as common laborers, and 564 as servants.

While immigration from Europe has been cut down from more than a million in 1914 to approximately 155,000 in 1926, immigration from Mexico has been gaining at a proportionate rate, 399,993 in 1926, persons having entered in this country from Mexico in the last eight years. In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1920, Mexican immigrants numbered 52,361; in 1921, 30,758;

1922, 10,561; 1923, 63,758; 1924, 89,336; 1925, 32,964; 1926, 43,316 and 1927, 67,939. Besides these at least a quarter of a million others, if not a great many more, slipped over the long Mexican border without being registered.

Only members, it was arranged, should be admitted, each with one guest. A committee was appointed to look over the guests and another difference had to be straightened out.

Mrs. Coolidge came. Bright smiles and polite small talk hid burning hearts. Mrs. Coolidge entered the club house. The wind blew over a flower vase and spilled the water all over her new, hand-painted chiffon. The receiving line formed. A lady fainted, because she said:

"The excitement of meeting the First Lady of the land was too much." Mrs. Coolidge drank a cup of tea. Eight ladies had been appointed to pour, but it was obvious that eight cups of tea would be an over dose and seven withdrew.

Everyone had "a perfectly lovely time" but the conversation is fast and furious today.

TUNNEY RESTS
LAKE VILLA, Ill., Sept. 9.—(INS)—Gene Tunney, who is speedily acquiring the reputation for being the "great champion" entered on the third day of his "holiday" today. He announced this morning, after his four miles of road work, that there would be no sparring exhibition until Saturday.

Doc Kincade Warns Levine Not To Try Atlantic This Year

LONDON, Sept. 9, (INS)—Emphatic warning not to attempt to fly the airplane "Columbia" across the Atlantic this year, was given today to Charles A. Levine, owner of the plane, by T. Harold "Doc" Kincade, American aeronautical expert.

The warning provided a dramatic incident on the platform at Water-Station immediately before Kincade's departure for Southampton where he was to embark for the United States.

Levine and others, including a number of newspaper reporters, were at the station to bid Kincade goodbye.

"I am undismayed by anything that has happened on the Atlantic," Levine told Kincade, "and I tell you I shall make this flight the minute word comes from Capt. Hincheliffe."

"Then you will go without my O. K.," Kincade shot back, emphatically. "I have given you no certificate of air-worthiness for the

Bite yourself an Alphabet

And they're both ardent pretzeleers

Back in '73 Grandpa was the pretzel biting champion of Kokono County—and he's still good. He can bite/straight through the alphabet without spoiling a single pretzel. Bobby can already make a "B" in a single bite, but he's apt to leave rough edges on his "Q's."

In a statement recently bitten for the press, Grandpa said: "Uneceda Bakers' pretzels are

"Pretzels today are better than ever. Crispier than the kind we had when Grant was president. Crunchier and more brittle than even those of the Garfield-Arthur period. And the salty taste is what I call salty."

The Golden Age of pretzels is here. People are eating O-So-Gud Pretzels every chance they get. Before you go to bed—great. With ginger ale—fine. With soup, salad or dessert—nothing smackier. For children in between meals.

Easy to digest? Yes. And remember—O-So-Gud is the name. Why so good? Because they're made by the Uneceda Bakers.

O-SO-GUD PRETZELS

Buy them by the pound. There's a lot of goodness tied up in each and every one.

SLIM JIM PRETZEL STICKS

Straight as a string, but much more interesting. Good and salty. In handy packages at your grocer.

Boxing Commission Will Decide Purses In Stribling Case

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 9.—(INS)—A hearing in the office of State Boxing Commissioner Ira Moorhead at Lincoln today will decide the disposition of the purses claimed by "Young" Stribling of Macon, Ga., and Leo Diebel of Chicago, Ill., following a questionable boxing exhibition here Tuesday night.

JONES WALKS RUTH

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—(INS)—Sad Sam Jones of the St. Louis Browns used to pitch for the Yankees and so he knows the weakness of Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, New York's big sluggers. The weakness is a base on balls. Jones walked Ruth three times yesterday and Gehrig twice, preventing them from hitting any honor. Ruth, with 49, is still four ahead of Gehrig.

JACK LOOKS GOOD

LINCOLN FIELDS, Ill., Sept. 9.—(INS)—Rain today threatens to mar the open-air part of Jack Dempsey's strenuous training program. The Manassa Mauler had planned a duplication of yesterday's five rounds of boxing, his first ring work in three days. Jack looked great after the layoff and cuffed five parring mates around in lively fashion.

Tommy Hitchcock In Poor Condition For Polo Tourney

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—(INS)—On the none too broad shoulders of young Tommy Hitchcock, rated as one of the best polo players the game has ever produced, rest the fortunes of the American "Big Four" in the international championship matches for the Westchester Cup which begin tomorrow at the Meadow Brook Club at Westbury, N. Y. If—and it is a great big if—Hitchcock is in anything like good condition, the prospects are that the historic trophy which has been shuttling back and forth across the Atlantic for more than 40 years will remain safely in the United States for at least another three years.
