Terminal Bond Issue Fails To Win In Court

Decision Hinged On Pledging Of Parking Meter Revenue; Other Rulings Made

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The Florida Supreme Court today declined to approve a $350,000 bond issue proposed by the City of Sanford to build port terminal facilities.

The opinion, by Justice B. K. Roberts, said the City should not have pledged parking meter revenue for helping to retire the bonds because the port would have nothing to do with traffic control.

He pointed to a 1946 Sanford ordinance under which parking meters were installed in the city to control traffic. The ordinance provided income from the meters should be used to operate, supervise and replace them.

The court said it only disapproved the bond provisions pledging parking meter revenue for their retirement. It made no ruling on whether the whole bond issue was invalidated by the parking meter sections.

The decision reversed the Seminole County circuit court which was directed to reconsider the case.

The Supreme Court also overruled an injunction that was holding up a recall election to oust Mayor Olin Lancaster, Jr. from office in Daytona Beach.

The court said Lancaster had waived his right to question sufficiency of the grounds for his ouster by publicly consenting to the recall election.

The recall election was set for Oct. 1 but was held up on a temporary injunction granted by Circuit Judge Herbert B. Frederick. The order was reversed by the Supreme Court today.

Another action today the Supreme Court reversed itself to return to Edwin L. O'Hara of Orlando her license as a nurse. (Continued on Page Eight)

Ex-Capone Lawyer Cites 'Clique'

CHICAGO ATTORNEY Abraham Teitelbaum (left) tells House Tax problem in Washington that two men tried to get $500,000 from him last winter to settle his tax difficulties. Teitelbaum said the men told him they had connections with a high Government "clique" and mentioned Theron Lamar Caudle, ousted Assistant Attorney General, and Jess Larson, General Service Administrator. At right, Mrs. Beryl Benkin takes the witness stand to back up Teitelbaum's story of the tax shakedown, alleged to have taken place in her home. (International Soundphoto)

Fitts Appoints Sub-Committees To Study Port

Groups Will Seek To Obtain City Lease And Road Rights

The Port Terminal Investigating committee, under the chairmanship of Albert Fitts, took positive steps last night toward finding the possibilities of erecting a dock and warehouse in Sanford by appointing four sub-committees at a meeting at the yacht club.

Mr. Fitts was named to head a committee to ask the City Commission to obtain a 99-year lease on the 20-acre plot of land on Lake Monroe where the original 1946 terminal was to be constructed.

Volie Williams, Sr. and Harry Cooke were appointed to handle the second major obstacle confronting the project, that of obtaining the right-of-way over State route 17-92 from the State Highway Department.

Mr. Williams explained that preliminary investigation by the Road Department didn't know anything about a commitment in 1946 giving the City permission to use the right-of-way on route 17-92 for a terminal.

Mr. Williams pointed out that the 1946 agreement with the Road Department hinged on whether the City approved the project and whether such action was taken before the end of the year (1946).

Mr. Williams voiced optimism, however, in the present group's ability to obtain the right-of-way now.

H. B. Pope, Henry Simpson and W. G. Miller were next appointed to investigate the site, type and cost of erecting a warehouse and dock. This committee's action will commence work following the work of Mr. Spencer's and Mr. Williams' groups.

Mr. Pope volunteered to get an engineer's drawing of the plans if and when the terminal project reaches this stage from Arthur Simpson in Jacksonville.

The final committee was set up by Mr. Fitts following a lengthy discussion on the type of freight traffic and transportation affiliations to be made. Mr. Fitts appointed J. Malcolm Higgins and W. C. Hestelton, who first made a report on freight possibilities of citrus growers in 1949, said he would write the Willis barge line in Jacksonville to obtain a list of prospective northern firms who desire to ship into Sanford. Mr. Willis originally compiled a report on prospective northern shippers in 1944.

Mr. Fitts also designated T. E. Tucker as assistant to E. G. Kilpatrick as treasurer.

November Cold Takes Toll Of State's Crops

Agriculture Report Says Other Crops Escape Cold Wave

ORLANDO, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Some tender Florida crops fared rather badly from a five-day November cold spell while others generally escaped with minor damage, the U. S. Department of Agriculture said today.

In its report as of Dec. 1, the department said cold winds and low temperatures from Nov. 17 to 22 caused rather extensive damage to tender vegetables such as snap beans and cucumbers.

Weather conditions otherwise were generally favorable for hardy crops. Shipments have been comparatively light, the farm statisticians said, but the volume should improve materially during December.

Snap bean and tomato crop harvesting is now at its peak.

In California, vegetable crops have made excellent progress due to favorable weather, the USDA said. Weather conditions in Texas also were favorable for recovery of tender crops which escaped serious damage in early November. Hardly crops were making very good progress.

The report on Florida crops: Lima beans—reduced plantings in Pompano-Delray sections making fair to good progress. Will be mid-December before any volume develops but some harvesting in Fort Pierce section.

Snap beans—fall crop yield prospects greatly reduced by cold. Everglades peak harvest reached with volume expected to decline after middle of December. Harvesting light in Dade and Pompano sections. Manatee-Ruskin bean crop seriously damaged.

Cauliflower—crop condition generally good. Light harvesting expected start in Manatee-Ruskin section around Christmas.

Sentences Of Bradley Cage Stars Removed

Former Internal Revenue Officer Sends Word To Probers He Is Not Too Well

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Judge Saul S. Streit today gave suspended sentences to three former Bradley University basketball stars in bribery scandal and assistant David Owen, Bradley president, whom he said gave "universally" sanction to their moral debasement.

In Peoria, Owen said he had no immediate comment to make.

The former players were Gene Melchiorre, George Chianakis and William Mann.

They pleaded guilty Oct. 24 to a charge of conspiracy to fix a Mar. 19, 1949 game with Bowling Green in Madison Square Garden. They faced a maximum sentence of three years in prison.

The three were among 31 former players from seven schools involved in point-fixing scandals. Of the others, five have been sentenced to jail and nine others have received suspended sentences.

The three former players stood for more than an hour during the court proceedings. Their faces were pale and tense.

Assistant District Attorney Vincent A. G. O'Connor told the court District Attorney Frank S. Hogan recommended clemency for them so that they might return to "useful lives."

O'Connor praised Chianakis for his testimony before the grand jury.

"He honestly poured out the depths of his heart and soul to give the jurors every possible insight into his thoughts and intentions, both favorable and unfavorable to him," O'Connor said.

Prior to the sentencing John E. Cassidy, a Peoria lawyer and former Illinois Attorney General, pleaded for mercy for the trio. He said Bradley's growth had been "too fast and its athletic program too ambitious." This was a sentiment echoed later by Judge Streit.

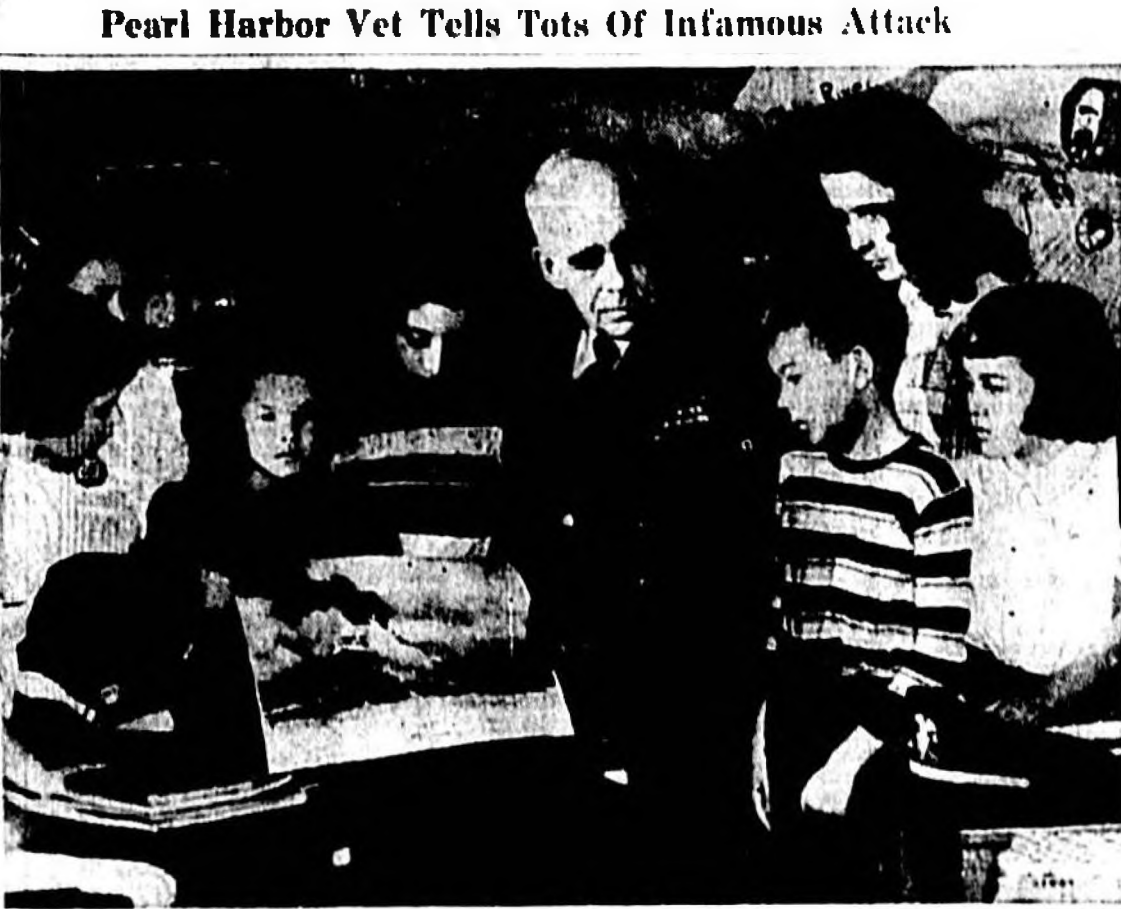

"The defendants at the bar were corrupted and demoralized by a system which set athletic success against education," Streit said.

Declaring Owen "trailed to guard the prominence of academic standards," Streit declared:

"By his acquiescence in their subordination and his extensive traveling with the team while they studied were (Continued on Page Eight)

Oliphant Fails To Appear At House Hearing On Tax Frauds

Pearl Harbor Vet Tells Tots Of Infamous Attack

CHIEF BOATSWAIN FRANCIS A. AMERBANOR tells a group of highly attentive fourth grade children at Hutchins School, Norfolk, Va., of the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, December 7, 1941. Not one of the youngsters had been when that event occurred. Amerbanor holds a photo of a burning U.S. battleship. Judge Assails President For Contributing To Lowering Of Moral Standards

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Charles Oliphant, after demanding an immediate public hearing by House tax investigators, called to appear today at a committee session called to hear him. He sent word he wished to delay his appearance "several days."

Oliphant, 42, resigned two days ago as chief legal officer of the scandal-hit Bureau of Internal Revenue. He said then he felt unable to endure any longer the "self-freedom" to which he had been subject at hearings by a House Ways and Means subcommittee. The group is looking into charges of irregularities in the tax collecting service.

Oliphant blasted particularly at the "scurrilous charges" linking his name to an alleged "clique" of Washington officials which a witness had sworn he was told was on the look out for "soft touches."

This story came from Abraham Teitelbaum, Chicago attorney, who said two men tried to shake him down for $500,000 on the assumption that they would have him from "tax troubles" through their connection with the alleged "clique."

He named the two men as Frank Nathan, Pittsburgh promoter and man about Washington, and Bert K. Naster, Hollywood, Fla. business man.

Since Oliphant was not ready to testify, the committee recessed until 1:30 P. M. Chairman King (D-Calif.) told reporters later that Naster might testify at the afternoon session.

Reporter telephoned the Oliphant home in an effort to learn why Oliphant, after first pressing for a hearing had failed to show up.

Mrs. Oliphant, reached after noon, said her husband was sleeping and she could not awaken him to answer questions. Asked if Oliphant were ill, she said she would "rather not comment at all." (Continued on Page Eight)

November's Sales At Farm Market Reach New High

November sales of fruits and vegetables at the Sanford State Farmers Market reached a new high mark of $478,764, an increase of 31,140 units, and a valuation gain of $204,520 over November, 1950, it was announced today by Sanny Anderson, market manager.

The leading commodities of Florida products sold at the market during November were beans, celery, cucumbers, grapefruit, oranges and tangerines.

Prices realized on practically all produce were considerably higher than during November, 1950, and on some commodities, such as cabbage, cucumbers, ear-corn, romaine, yellow squash and watercress were doubled, said Mr. Anderson.

He pointed out, however, that prices received for citrus were less than November, 1950. The demand for all produce has exceeded local supplies.

The first local cabbage of iceberg lettuce and eggplant are now on sale at the market, and the quality and prices received are reported to be very satisfactory.

The bean deal was very active during November, and the average price received was $4.18 per bushel; hamper, $5.07; 57,070 bushels sold, the total realized was $238,600.

Cucumbers, averaged $2.12 a bushel basket, and brought $17,408 during the month. Golden celery at $5.08 a crate, Golden Pascal celer average $3.76 to bring $3,048.

Orange prices were down to $2.25 a box and brought $28,150. Grapefruit at a $2.44 average totalled $30,369 in sales. Tangerines brought $2.80 a box for a total of $24,075.

Out of state cabbage brought $3.75 per 50 pound sack to bring $12,742, while local cabbage at $2.05 average, brought 1,850. Total sales of all state products totalled $28,594.

Dr. W. P. Brooks Is Elected Head Of Church Group

Dr. W. P. Brooks, pastor of the First Baptist Church, was elected president of the Seminole County Ministerial Association at its final meeting of the year on Thursday at the home of Mrs. A. G. McInnis as president of the group.

Other officers elected were: Rev. Frank Morgan, vice president; Rev. L. R. Houston, secretary; and Rev. B. E. Newell, assistant secretary.

In assuming his office, Dr. Brooks expressed his appreciation for the work of the retiring president during the year. He urged the active participation of Mr. McInnis in matters of community interest and in leadership of the Association in a number of special services during the year. Dr. Brooks urged a full cooperation of Sanford's pastors in continuing the work. A resolution of appreciation to Mr. McInnis and the retiring officers was unanimously adopted.

The association has urged cooperation with the Annual Christmas Concert of the Seminole High School Glee Club on Dec. 12.

Further action of the association included the election of a letter of appreciation to Mrs. Clara Ginn, and the Seminole Choral Society, of which she is president, for the rendition of "The Messiah" under the direction of Mr. Roger Harris on Dec. 2.

Plans were discussed for full cooperation of the association with the two-day convention of the Florida Chain of Missionary Societies to be held this year Jan. 28-30 in the First Presbyterian Church.

ROSS DIES

BOSTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Harold W. Ross, 60, whose name was reflected in the New Yorker magazine which he founded 30 years ago, died last night of a lung ailment.

The exact nature of the ailment was not revealed but he had just undergone a lung operation at the New England Baptist hospital where he had been receiving periodic treatments since last April.

Chinese Report Cut In No. Of U. S. Prisoners

ALLIES DROP DEMAND FOR JOINT UN-RED INSPECTION TEAMS

MUNSAI, Korea, Dec. 7.—(AP)—A Communist correspondent hinted today that no more than half of the 19,000 Americans reported missing in Korea are prisoners of war.

The report came from a Chinese newspaper at Pannunghun, where Allied troops negotiated today a major effort to reach agreement on a composite program for notifying an armistice.

The Allies dropped their demand for joint U. N.-Communist inspection teams. They also told the Reds the question of withdrawing troops from Korea could be "brought up and discussed later." But they said troops would draw early in the armistice definitely is out.

Chu Chi-Ping, a Communist negotiator covering the armistice negotiations, told Allied news-men he knew of no war in which more than half of the soldiers listed as missing were prisoners.

"I do not see why the Koreans would be different from all other wars in this respect," he said.

Chu referred to the fact that only part of those reported missing in action are taken prisoners. The others are killed in action and their bodies not recovered.

Allied correspondents did not contest his statement as confirming the report by Col. James M. Hanley, chief of the U. S. Eighth Army's judge advocate's section, that the Reds had slaughtered 40,000 prisoners.

Odham Raps Adams And McCarty In Tampa Speech

TAMPA, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Benley Odham criticized both Dan McCarty and Alvin Adams, his opponents in the governor's race, in a speech here last night.

Speaking before the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Odham said McCarty spent more money in newspaper advertising in the second primary here than Walter Warren did.

He said McCarty had referred in a speech here that he didn't know Warren, who defeated McCarty in the 1948 election.

"The question is not which of the Gold Dust twins had the money. It is plain they both had a great deal of money," he declared.

Turning to Adams, he repeated charges that the former State Court Justice had an interest in the cattle lands benefited by public drainage.

He said incorporation papers showed Adams was president of the Adams Cattle Company which bought 14,000 acres of land for $649 per acre. Adams' lands were drained through the project.

Odham said the lands were drained against recommendation of Army engineers, but the project was "pushed to completion" by the "Warren appointed flood control board."

The Sanford businessman and former legislator said he thought law enforcement and defeat of racketeers No. 1 need of the state. He vowed to remove any official who violated his trust.

Cargo Plane With Ten On Board Is Reported Missing

MARSEILLE, France, Dec. 7.—(AP)—A U. S. Air Force cargo plane with 10 persons aboard disappeared last night after sailing only 40 miles from Marseille to its destination, Marseille.

The plane, a twin-engine C-47, was believed down in the mountainous terrain along the French coast, east of here, on the Mediterranean. It was coming in from the U. S. air field at Toulon.

A C-47 normally carries a crew of four, and the other six aboard were presumed to be passengers. The plane was attached to the U. S. Third Air Force based at Bentwaters Field, England.

The French army sent ground troops to search for the plane, but limited visibility, fog and the search for the plane was hampered by the weather.

The search for the plane was hampered by the weather and limited visibility, fog and the search for the plane was hampered by the weather.

An Air Force official said they did not know how many persons aboard the missing aircraft but assumed it carried only a crew normally four men.

An Air Force official said the plane last reported by radio at 7:41 P. M. (1:31 P. M. EST) yesterday. It was due to land at Marguerite Field near Marseille 10 minutes later.

Airport officials said the plane was only 40 miles away, flying at 1,000 feet, when it gave its last location.

The plane took off at 2:47 P. M. (8:47 A. M. EST) from its base at Wiesbaden Field in Toulon.

Two other U. S. Air Force transports have been downed in Europe in the past month.

German To Prove Faithful Partner Of Free Nations

LONDON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Deputy Ambassador declared today Germany will prove herself a reliable and unflinching partner of the free nations in the pursuit of peace.

Addressing the Foreign Press Association in London, the West German Chancellor said the German people have found the path to democratic reconstruction and have firmly determined to join their fate to that of the Western democracies.

"The German people have with an ever-widening measure pronounced themselves in favor of those political parties which uphold democratic principles," he said.

Ambassador said perhaps too much attention had been paid to the activities of German veterans' organizations and New Front groups.

"The German federal republic," he said, "is determined to bring into the weight of the law to bear upon all those who act contrary to the constitution. The events which took place between 1930 and 1933 will not be repeated."

Earlier Ambassador spoke in Buckingham Palace and was received by King George VI. He was the first German leader to do so since Hitler's overthrow by the Nazis in the middle '40s.

TRUCK ACCIDENT

WILKINSON, Fla., Dec. 7.—(AP)—Gordon M. Epperson, 71-year-old resident and member of a pioneer local family, died today of injuries when he was crushed beneath the wheels of a loaded gasoline truck.

Epperson, about 40 years old, and a former major league baseball pitcher, was taken to the Alachua general hospital in Gainesville, where he died in the emergency room. It was reported that the truck apparently rolled over his chest.

RED BAN

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The city board of education has voted unanimously to disband teachers found to be members of the Communist Party or any other subversive group.

The action was taken yesterday at a session at which opponents of the ban protested angrily.

NEWSPAPER TRIAL

LAKE CHARLES, La., Dec. 7.—(AP)—The issue of whether public officials were defamed by newspaper criticism was in the hands of a Louisiana judge today following the trial of two newspaper editors charged with criminal defamation.

Judge J. Bernard Cooke had under advisement the defamation cases of Kenneth L. Dixon and James Morris, managing editor and city editor of the Lake Charles American Press.

Judge Cooke said his decision, which will be written, may not be forthcoming for at least a month. He said he would set a date for argument of the cases later.

American Public Is Blamed For Atmosphere Of Political Graft

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The entire nation must share responsibility for an atmosphere which allows political graft and corruption to flourish, William H. Ruffin, outgoing president of the National Association of Manufacturers, said today.

In a speech delivered at the widespread session of the NAM's 60th Congress Industry Ruffin said:

"It is not enough to stand aghast at revelations of mink coats on government secretaries. It is not enough to recoil at exposures of Internal Revenue scandals and corruption in RFC loans, to be reviled by nation-wide crime syndicates protected by prominent politicians, or shocked by basketball bribery.

"If we are true to our American selves, we will look behind the sensational headlines and see how far we have fallen."

Plantation Estates
By BESS PATTERSON

The last meeting of the fiscal year of the Plantation Estates Property Owners Association was held on Tuesday night at 8:00 P. M. with an attendance of 120 people. Mr. Everett Swift, president, presided at the meeting.

After the invocation by Rev. W. Poyntelle Kemper, Mr. Homer Smith of Blue Springs, Tax Assessor for Volusia County gave a talk about taxes after introducing to us his very charming wife. Under the reports of Committee Chairman, Mr. Milford Leonard reported on roads, telephone and what he had done in the past year as Deputy Sheriff in charge of the night patrol. As President of the Glee Club he also reported that the membership club had increased from 16 to 70 and that they planned a Christmas entertainment.

Mrs. George Griffin, chairman of the entertainment committee, reported a good year and said it would be brought to a close by a party on Christmas eve at the club rooms. Mrs. Gus King also reported a good year for the Saturday Nite Dance Club with an increased attendance.

It was decided that the January meeting would be held on the 2nd Tuesday, Jan. 8. The officers elected for the coming year are as follows—Dr. Harry Whitaker, president; Ralph Wierlich, vice president; Freda Froestcher, secretary; Gaston Crosby, treasurer; Lou Hofman, sergeant at arms. The members of the board of directors are: 1 year, Dr. E. Welton, Charles Wagner 2 years, Edward Healy, Nella Banks; 3 years, Rudolph Tiedemann, Carol Blackburn.

Mr. and Mrs. William Foley of Larchmont, N. Y. have been visiting Mrs. Frank Lloyd. Mrs. Foley's sister and the Guruchari family. Mr. Foley is connected with the Travelers Insurance Co. of N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover DeLay have moved into their new home on Pine Hill road. There is the first house on this new road and we feel that they have a very fine location with view of Lake Monroe and Sanford, and the wonderful breeze off the lake. We know they are very high because a bald headed eagle has built a nest in a pine tree right behind their house.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kittlesen are also new arrivals who have moved into their new home on DeLary Drive. Mr. Kittlesen was associated with the Consolidated Edison Co. of New York.

Mrs. Elsie Eriksen of DeLary Drive has been confined to the Sanford Hospital because of an accident with her dog. In a moment of excitement the dog bit her in the mouth, tearing her lip. She had had as visitors for a number of weeks, Mrs. Patricia Anderson and Mrs. D. F. McGrath's sons, Paul and Bryan are both actors known to Broadway and the movies. At present Paul is leading man for Ginger Rogers in her show on Broadway.

Men Cannot Win,
Women Now Invade
Railroad Business

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Newest field opening up to women is the railroad business, longtime all-male stronghold. Already exerting a strong influence on the nation's railroads is the National Association of Railroad Women, whose 62 members hold executive or supervisory positions with most of the country's main line rail companies.

These girls aren't female counterparts of convention Jones. They do not run the locomotives or toot the whistles. They leave that part of railroading to men. They do, however, sit in important executive jobs where the woman's viewpoint is reflected at the policy-making level. The importance of this viewpoint is being realized today by most of the big S. railroad companies.

F. H. Baird, assistant vice president of the New York Central railroad, expressed a widespread opinion in a recent speech at the NARW convention in Santa Fe, N. M., when he said: "I cannot understand how any carrier can do today's job without the experience and judgment and wisdom of trained women. On our railroad, half our patrons are women and children, and the balance frequently are influenced travelwise by women."

Perhaps you've noticed some new comforts and refinements recently when riding a crack train. Maybe the seats were more comfortable, the colors more cheerful, the decorations more like those in a home. When you've found ample supplies of cleansing tissues in the dressing rooms or cheerful colored tablecloths in the diner, you can thank the railroad women.

Recently I accompanied a group of these women executives on an inspection trip through the plant of the Budd Company, makers of railroad cars and equipment, near Philadelphia. Some 15 members of the association made the trip, coming from such widely separated spots as Minneapolis, Chicago, Baltimore, Washington, New York and Jacksonville, Fla.

All exhibited a keen awareness of the stiff competition the railroads have to face today from air and automobile travel, and all agreed that train travel must be made more and more comfortable and attractive for passengers.

The vast Budd plant, the railroads women had a preview of a series of streamlined new cars that are to be put into service soon on the Pennsylvania Railroad. They exclaimed with noticeable satisfaction over the cheerful colors, the modern seats, the etched glass panels and general federal decorative theme, all unmistakably reflecting the woman's touch.

Edith Alden, secretary and assistant treasurer of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, with headquarters in Chicago, said she got into the railroad business during the First World War, because her father was an officer of the company, and has been there ever since.

Passages from the Bible (King James Version) will include the following from Paul's Epistle to the Romans (8:10): "The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God."
Correlative citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "The foundation of moral discord is a false sense of man's origin. To begin rightly is to end rightly. Every concept which seems to begin with the brain begins falsely. Divine Mind is the only cause or Principle of existence" (p. 268).

CHEVROLET
More people buy Chevrolets than any other car!
WFLA put it up to you! There must be plenty of good reasons why more people buy Chevrolets than any other car.
Here are some things to think about.
There's the way Chevrolet looks. Nice clean, curved lines—the car in the high-price field. Chevrolet's Body by Fisher sets the pace among low-priced cars.
There's the way Chevrolet drives. The smoothness and easy control of the new Kne-Action, bigger brakes—biggest in the field—for safer, surer stops. Finest no-shift and standard driving at lowest cost with Power-glide or Synchro-Mesh transmission.
There's the way Chevrolet saves. Chevrolet is the lowest-priced line in the field and the savings go on and on with low operating costs.
There are plenty more reasons why Chevrolet is America's favorite. Come in and let us show them to you.
Chevrolet's time-proved
POWERGLIDE

FRIDAY, DEC. 7, 1934
TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

Such unity does not add, but rather multiplies strength. All the men of Israel were knit together as one man.—Ju. 20:11

"Americans are paying in taxes about all they can and still continue our free enterprise system", Rep. Bob Sikes said in Tallahassee the other day. Widespread attempts to defraud the government on taxes may stem from exorbitant taxation itself.

A news note said that a ten-year-old boy, calling by telephone, tried to make his voice sound adult so that he could be accepted as a blood donor in the current nationwide campaign.
Someday he'll be old enough meanwhile where are others who are old enough now?

Mark Hollis, assistant surgeon general of the United States, told a public health conference in Gainesville yesterday that contaminated food and drinking water are the most common cause of death in many Caribbean countries. They may be in Florida, too, if something is not done about our water supply.

Charles Oliphant, who resigned under fire the other day from his job as chief attorney in the Internal Revenue Bureau, made a mistake in his own income tax which cost him a penalty of $2.50. More important than that he paid it is the fact that if the chief attorney can't make out his own income tax correctly, how can he expect other people to do so?

When you are on a long automobile trip, break it with periodic rest periods. Don't try to drive all day and all night. On the way in Florida for the winter, a 77-year-old Minnetonka, N. D.
man died of a heart attack, brought on, doctors said, by undue fatigue, after driving more than 1,500 miles "in a comparatively short time." It is a good idea to get plenty of sleep on a long trip.

The Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools has unanimously approved a resolution to study athletic practices which might adversely affect academic purposes and the integrity of colleges in the South.
"The national attention has been called to athletic practices which raised serious doubt in the minds of the public concerning lack of moral standards and ethical principles", the resolution says. It is a time of general moral decay.
It is well for colleges to take the lead in the struggle toward revival.

A new paper mill was opened in Palatka yesterday for the manufacture of paper bags and other kraft paper products.
Governor Warren, who spoke at the dedication exercises, said that paper manufacture now accounts for nearly 15 percent of all industrial payrolls in Florida and that this state ranks third in the South in the manufacture of paper with a total output of about $24,000,000. None of this, of course, is for newsprint, which could be produced here as readily as kraft paper. Expansion in this direction might easily result in paper manufacturing becoming Florida's leading industry.

The tenth anniversary of the day that will "live in infamy" comes with the world hardly in any more peaceful mood than it was that eventful Sunday morning when 600 Japanese planes streaked in on Pearl Harbor and started a conflagration which was not to end even unofficially for nearly seven years. The remaining five years of that decade have been years of picking up the pieces and putting them back together again.
The world has been a different place since that day. It has been a world of blood and fire, of death and destruction, of sorrow and pain.

Ten Years Later

The day of December 7, 1941, was not one which Americans will ever remember with pleasure. But it behooves us to hark back to that Sunday when we were so rudely awakened from a dream of security. We learned that the oceans which separated us from aggressors were not wide enough to protect us from them. Our Navy was so badly crippled at Pearl Harbor that we stood in grave danger of total military defeat in the Pacific.

In the Philippines, at Wake Island and in the other early land and sea battles in the Pacific gallant Americans fought to gain time in which the nation could recover from the shock of attack and prepare to fight back. Our allies in Europe continued to bear the brunt until we were ready to fight there. Fortunately America could get time to recover, and to convert our tremendous war potential into a reality.

What happened in the Pearl Harbor attack should serve as a lesson to America and the world. We should have learned the tremendous cost of unpreparedness, although it seems that we promptly forgot it when the war ended. On Pearl Harbor Day it would be well for other people, also, to remember how badly fooled the aggressors were when they assumed that we could not or would not fight if need be.

Tax Blow To Gamblers

If a decision of the Bureau of Internal Revenue stands, professional gamblers are to realize their worst fears about the new gambling taxes. Those operators who comply with the federal tax law are to be given the kiss of death in states where their activities are illegal. The Bureau has decided not only to make available the names of purchasers of gambling tax stamps, as required by the law, but also to turn over the local authorities all the information from applications for the stamps, including that which discloses the location of gambling operations.

With this information in their hands, police in states and cities where gambling is prohibited will obviously be in a position to bring the gamblers and their places of operation under surveillance close enough to obtain evidence on the basis of which to move in with warrants. It will become very hard to explain failure to do so. If there was doubt before, the public in any community where gamblers have registered should soon know whether the police sincerely want to control gambling.

So much for the estimated one in three gambling operators who bought the tax stamp. What will the Bureau of Internal Revenue do about the others? Some two-thirds of the illicit gamblers, or more, have now become violators of federal law. In places where gambling has thrived illegally it has been said that the gamblers were too clever and had too many interstate connections to be caught under local law. Now we shall see whether they are too clever for federal law.

Millionth Crash Victim

It is a staggering fact that since authorities began to keep records of automobile accidents roughly a million persons have been killed on the streets and highways. But it is even more staggering that the statisticians were able to predict a year in advance the approximate time when the millionth victim would meet his death. The prediction was possible because no matter how changeable we may be about other things we are quite consistent in our murderous habits of driving.

There is no very good reason why we should not save lives, instead of destroying them, by our behavior behind the steering wheel. If we could substitute carefulness for the habit of taking chances, politeness for impatience, thoughtfulness for absent-mindedness, alertness for complacency, we could upset all the accident statistics overnight. We would become drivers who consistently avoided accidents instead of drivers who consistently got into them.

If such a change occurred, the statisticians could then reverse the prediction that the second million victims will die much faster than the first million.

Xmas Presbyterian Service On Dec. 16

The annual all-music Christmas candlelight service of the First Presbyterian church will be presented at 7:30 on the evening of Dec. 16, it was announced today by the Rev. A. G. McInnis, pastor.

Mr. McInnis said that in the past few years this service has been considered by many as one of the highlights of the Christmas celebration and he emphasized the fact that the presentation on Dec. 16 would be fully as good as its predecessors.

Mrs. George Touhy, minister of music, has arranged the service and will direct it, the minister added and said that the same atmosphere of worship would again be created that has given the program its popularity not only with Presbyterians but with everyone who enjoys music and who wishes to celebrate the Nativity in this manner.

The hour-long service will feature the choral singing of the Chancel choir, but portions of the anthems will be sung by such well-known soloists as Mrs. Clara Ginn, Mrs. Charles Wilke, Mrs. Harris Fols, Robert Brown, Stanley Bramley and Dick Aiken.

The service will be composed of nine anthems and four organ numbers.

In the past the public acceptance of this annual event has filled every seat in the church.

MELBOURNE, Australia, Dec. 7.—(AP)—America's new Davis Cup doubles combination of Ted Schroeder and Tony Trabert looked like money in the bank...

South's Schoolmen To See If Sports Have Bad Effect

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 7.—(AP)—A study was ordered today to see if scholastic sports are having a bad effect on southern high schools and colleges.

The Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, representing 11 southern states, authorized two committees to conduct the study. One five-man group will represent high schools. A similar group will come from colleges.

The school leaders' resolution told these committees—yet to be appointed—"to bring to the attention of the association any practices which tend to adversely affect the academic purpose and the integrity of the southern institutions."

Dr. Albert Geiger of Atlanta proposed the resolution which was unanimously approved. Dr. Geiger said his idea was that the committees seek to find why it is that a star high school football player can get a college education handed him on a "silver platter."

These committees, which may operate separately if they wish, are not to be considered "watchdog" groups, Geiger said. Neither will they concern themselves about the talk concerning demerit of football.

The school group also called on southern governors to provide $200,000 to the association for making a study of southern educational needs.

Kazmaier was the only Easterner named to the team, once the virtual exclusive property of that section. The sprawling South—including the area covered by the Southern, Southeastern and the Southwest conferences grabbed nine; the Midwest seven and the Far West five.

Newcomer Honored In Boxing Awards

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Heavyweight Champion Jersey Joe Walcott, former Athletic Commissioner Chairman Eddie Egan, and 21-year old Gil Turner, a sensational boxing newcomer, today were chosen for the Boxing Writers Association's three main awards of 1951.

Walcott, who won his title by knocking out Ezzard Charles in an amazing upset last July, was voted the Edward J. Neil Memorial Prize for having done the most for boxing during the year. The prize is named in honor of Neil, Associated Press sports writer who was killed in 1937 while serving as a war correspondent in Spain.

Egan, Olympic light heavyweight boxing champion in 1920, a Rhodes scholar, attorney and chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission for 8½ years, was picked for the James J. Walker Memorial Award "for long and meritorious service" to boxing. Egan resigned his commission post last September.

Turner was selected for a new prize, the rookie fighter of the year trophy. The undefeated Philadelphia Negro, who started boxing as a pro only 18 months ago, has surged to the topflight of the welterweight division.

Saddler Fighting De Marco Tonight

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(AP)—A possible lightweight title shot will be the prize tonight when Featherweight Champion Sandy Saddler and Lightweight contender Paddy De Marco met in their rubber match at Madison Square Garden.

Slashing Sandy, upset by De Marco on Aug. 27, was rated an 8 to 1 favorite to capture the non-title ten rounder.

This marks Saddler's first outing since he was suspended for his fouled brawl with Willie Pep on Sept. 20. Pep had his license revoked. Paddy is no Lord Fautiery, either, and his two scraps with Saddler have been almost as rough as the Pep-Saddler series.

When he came to Tampa in 1950, the Spartans had won only two games in two years. Slinkwich worked hard with the little material already available, rounded up more talent himself in the north and took on a schedule which was tough for any small college.

A Tampa alumnus, who refused use of his name, said if the report of the offer is correct there may well be a drive to supplement Slinkwich's salary from outside sources.

Slinkwich, an All-America back at Georgia and a pro star, has become immensely popular here after developing winning teams his first two seasons as a college coach.

When he came to Tampa in 1950, the Spartans had won only two games in two years. Slinkwich worked hard with the little material already available, rounded up more talent himself in the north and took on a schedule which was tough for any small college.

Tampa won five and lost four last year and this season has six wins, three losses and a tie, with one game left.

The possible loss of Slinkwich worried the school of 1,000 on one of its happiest days—the day it was accepted by the Southern Association of Colleges after 20 years of trying.

Poll Of Big Leagues Shows Recall To Remain Despite Minor's Vote

By JOE REICHLER

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 7.—(AP)—Although the minor leagues voted overwhelmingly to wipe out baseball's 24-hour recall rule, the statute will remain on the books, an informal poll of the big league clubs indicated today.

The rule, which President Frank Shaughnessy of the International League, described as "even a bigger threat to the structure of the minors than nationwide broadcasting and televising of major league games," has long been a sore point with the little fellows. Their constant cry has been that the rule robs them of their stars and kills off the attendance.

The rule allows the majors to recall their optioned players by giving only one day's notice. In this way, a majority of the big league clubs can shuttling their players back and forth at will.

By a 41 to seven count, the minor league voted to toss the rule out the window. This means that a player, once sent down, must remain for the entire minor league season including playoffs.

The majors, however, also must pass this amendment in order to kill the rule.

This, however, does not seem likely unless there is a change of heart between now and next Monday when the vote comes up. In this poll, a majority of the big league clubs showed that at least five clubs in the nation—Brooklyn, New York, St. Louis, Philadelphia and Boston—and four clubs in the American—New York, Detroit, Boston and Philadelphia—will vote against the amendment. That leaves only three in the National and four in the American who are likely to back the minor, far short of the needed majority.

The minors, however, won an important point when they voted unanimously to set up a new "open" classification. This was interpreted as a tremendous victory for the Pacific Coast League which has been clamoring for higher status for years.

Naturally, coast leaguers were jubilant over their victory for special recognition. With the approval of the majors, which was expected, they expect to apply "right away" for the "open" rank, one step higher than triple A. At the present time there are three triple A leagues—the International, American and PCL.

"We meet all the requirements," said Leslie O'Connor, coast league advisory. "There seems to be no question about this being passed by the majors. It's the opening wedge to becoming a major in from five to ten years."

The "open" class would permit the PCL to have first draft rights from lower classification leagues, raise its own draft fee from $10,000 to $15,000, enable its players to stay an extra year (four to five) and give its players the right of refusal to be drafted.

At present, the PCL is the only minor league to meet all the requirements. To move up from triple A to "open" classification, a league must have an aggregate population of 10,000,000 a total park capacity of 120,000, no salary limit and an average attendance of 2,500,000 over the past five years.

United Nations Blocks Move To Seat Red China

PARIS, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The United Nations General Assembly slumped today to seat Red China and not the Nationalists.

Meeting in plenary session, the 60-nation group also:

1. Discussed asking the Security Council to approve admission to the U. N. A council majority has already voted in favor of Italy three times, but action was blocked all three times by Russian vetoes.
2. Decided to disband its special On-the-Spot Commission (IINRCOB) which has been keeping an eye on the explosive Balkan situation and give the job to a stand-by group which will sit in U. N. headquarters in New York.
3. The vote on the Chinese issue came on a U. S. (white) Russian resolution denouncing a report from the U. N. Credentials Committee declaring the Nationalists represented China legally in the United Nations. The Soviet move was defeated 39 to 7 with four abstentions.

Meanwhile the Big Four were preparing their final disarmament positions for outline at a secret meeting they have scheduled for late today.

There was little optimism that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei V. Vishinsky, U. S. Ambassador Philip C. Jessup, British Minister of State Selwyn Lloyd and French Delegate Jules Moch would come to any agreement. The general expectation was that they would report next Monday that they have been unable to compromise rival disarmament plans.

Korean War

approximately 5,000 American prisoners.

Other Red correspondents at Pannion said all Allied prisoners are being held in big camps in Korea near the Manchurian border. He said none have been taken to China.

Allied troops negotiators launched their effort to obtain agreement on a program for enforcing the truce by rewriting the Communist plan to include U. N. demands.

The two-man subcommittees reached general agreement on three points, left three for further discussion, and were sharply divided on two when the four-hour session ended.

The subcommittees will meet again Saturday at 11 A. M. (9 P. M. EST Friday).

Before Friday's meeting broke up, U. N. delegates told the Reds they were "receptive to any ideas" the Communists might have for breaking the deadlock.

Meanwhile a few Allied jets hunted unsuccessfully through storm clouds for Communist MIG-15s in hopes of extending their record breaking 11 day series of victories over the Red jets.

The Reds remained safely on their bases in Manchuria.

The weather was so bad over Korea the U. S. Fifth Air Force was held to only 103 flights up to 6 P. M.

But neither rain nor cold kept Communist infantrymen from making small-scale raids at the Allies along the central front.

Magazine Reports On Cement Shortage

TAMPA, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The "most critical cement shortage in Florida's history" is reported by the "Florida Builder," construction magazine published in Tampa.

In his December issue, Editor Frank Cowley, Jr. said the shortage began to be apparent last spring and that "by September the flood of defense orders had reached the point where they were taking half the output of Florida's only cement plant located in Tampa."

The magazine said the Portland cement division at Tampa is now about four months behind in orders; that Florida builders are using "shipped-in cement at prices to stretch the local supply."

In Jacksonville, one concrete company said it hadn't heard of a shortage.

Supreme Court

State Real Estate Commission sued Mrs. O'Hara's registration Apr. 18, 1950 on charges she had failed to pay off a mortgage, an agreed-on piece of property she sold and had converted the money to her own use.

The court declined to stop prosecution of Brown R. Raines, former State Barber Board Chairman, for allegedly accepting a $600 bribe from an applicant for a barber license.

The decision apparently cleared the way for trial of Raines and V. R. Rolph, former board member who is charged with helping to arrange the bribe, in Hillsborough county criminal court of record.

FBI Investigating Miami Dynamitings

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Attorney General McGrath said today he has directed the Federal Bureau of Investigation to look into the recent series of mysterious dynamitings in Miami.

The blasts were directed against a housing project and Jewish synagogue. The FBI investigation is to determine if any violation of the Civil Rights laws or other federal statutes were involved.

Miami police two days ago announced the detention for questioning of two Negroes who they said were found in an automobile that contained dynamite. The police said the car was registered in the name of a white resident of Miami.

City authorities have offered rewards totaling about $400 for information that would lead to those responsible for the explosions.

Truman Maps Budget For January Speech

KEY WEST, Dec. 7.—(AP)—President Truman scanned diplomatic and military intelligence reports from throughout an uneasy world today on the tenth anniversary of the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor.

These reports come to him daily at the winter White House on this naval submarine base by telegraph, radio and couriers who ride planes between here and Washington.

Mr. Truman yesterday concluded the second of a series of Key West conferences with budget director Frederick J. Lawton on the money requests he will submit to Congress in January.

Review of military spending items for the fiscal year starting next July 1 will come later, probably after Mr. Truman returns to Washington the middle of the month.

KOREAN CASUALTIES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The Army today estimated total enemy military casualties in Korea through Nov. 30 at 1,483,982. This is an increase of 11,087 since the previous week.

In addition, the Army listed 33,140 civilian internees.

Total Communist battle casualties were placed at 1,995,863, non-battle losses at 251,964 and counted prisoners of war at 136,456.

Total announced U. N. battle losses are 109,450.

The announced United Nations total does not include an estimated 212,544 South Korean casualties reported last June.

Blues In The News By BOB ANTHONY

Do you know the station has a basketball team? As I sat and watched our men over Orlando Junior College Wednesday night I gazed around at the large crowd of Navy followers. The "crowd" consisted of Bill Brennan, Dottie Von Herbulis and Mrs. Jim Barnes (Jim is on the team). The team has been working hard in practices under the guidance of Lt. C. L. Sullivan and I feel the least people could do is give them a little backing. Remember, the team represents not only the Navy but also the city of Sanford and win or lose they deserve your support. Also keep in mind the fact that our base was reactivated only seven months ago and athletic miracles can not be expected. The men will more than likely have their share of losses but don't you agree they will have much more incentive knowing someone is interested in whether they do win or lose?

Harold Shepherd, ACAN reporter, aboard the station has been on duty for Olatho, Kan. On his way down he managed to stop in Montgomery, Ala., to spend a few days with his family.

Ed Hedenbaugh is a happy man again since his wife and twenty month old daughter have arrived from Columbia, S. C. Mrs. Hedenbaugh is originally from Miami so Florida isn't a new state for her.

Tomorrow will be the big day for the NROTC candidates here on the station as they will be taking their three hour aptitude test. While they are doing their best on the test, the rest of the men on the station will be looking their best as they fall into ranks for the monthly Captain's Personnel inspection.

Sunday night Hollins College is presenting a Christmas musical program and they have invited the members of their extension courses here on the station to attend.

John Hess will be returning tonight from his short four day leave with his family in Melbourne, Fla.

Chief Irving Franzblau left the station today to return to duty in Jacksonville. It was well having you with us, Chief!

It was the second broadside Judge delivered in the past month against commercialism in college athletics.

The Judge noted that all three Bradley defendants were products of "normal home environments, reared by respectable, religious and God-fearing parents."

Returning to Owen, the Judge said: "It is interesting to note that until this past year the president of the university, Dr. Owen, traveled and made all trips with the team, or met them at their point of destination, whenever their schedule required them to play away from Florida, including a trip to Honolulu."

"President Owen stated that he Owen if a point to speak in alumni whenever he went. The Bradley catalogue fails to disclose any Honolulu alumni."

Nation's Capital Begins Testing Against Attack

Washington Is Seen As Vulnerable To Raids By Airplanes

R. ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press Military Affairs Reporter

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The nation's capital, a high priority target for any enemy's bombing list, today begins testing its ability to cope with atomic attack.

Unlike such other big cities as New York, the Washington emphasis so far has been heavy on military effort to keep enemy bombers away, lighter on the civilian defense phase.

Today, defense organizations planned to start a two-day test of the command and communication machinery which would direct aerial and ground protection of Washington. It is entirely a "paper" exercise, with no planes or troops involved.

The military district of Washington announced the exercise was based on a "theoretical atomic and high explosive bombing of Washington." Involved in the command post exercise is the military district of Washington, the Air Force, the Navy, the National Guard, Coast Guard, Civil Air Patrol, Administration and Civil Defense organizations of Washington, Maryland and Virginia.

Hints To Housewives State Farmers Market

By Anna Mae Sikas

In view of the good things that come from it, the kitchen is one of the pleasant and most cheerful rooms in the house, but it is also potentially dangerous. As kitchen activities are accelerated during the Christmas season, care is especially important at this time to avoid accidents that would bring pain and suffering to the family.

The National Safety Council urges that knives and other cutting utensils be kept out of children's reach. Turning pan handles away from the front of the stove and preventing serious accidents before opening a steaming kettle or roaster, cover the hand with a cloth and lift the far side of the cover first. In carving meats, a fork with a knife guard should be used and all cutting strokes should be made away from the body.

A safe step-stool is an essential piece of equipment in any modern kitchen — avoid the use of boxes or chairs for reaching high places. Each step should be wide enough to stand upon and the surface to extend slipping. Grease and water should be mopped up from the floor immediately to avoid slips and falls.

Other kitchen tips are: Keep matches out of children's reach. Don't use gasoline or kerosene to start kitchen range fires. Keep all dry cleaning operations out of the kitchen. Check stove pipes and flues regularly. Store all medicines, insecticides and drugs away from the kitchen and out of the reach of children.

One final precaution — apply first aid immediately to any injury no matter how trivial it seems.

Quick rice dessert: Mix cold cooked rice with dried fruit and honey; fold in sweetened whipped cream and chill.

THE WORLD TODAY By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—What progress have we made as a people since the Japanese attacked us at Pearl Harbor 10 years ago today?

One thing stands out: we've reached maturity by assuming the responsibility of world leadership through a peace treaty, not through choice. We acted to save our own skins, first against Fascism, later against Communism.

It meant abandoning an isolationism which was valid only so long as the world was simpler than it is now. But the alternative was clear:

If we remained aloof our Allies would disappear under the heels of the enemy until we stood alone with 150,000,000 people against 2,000,000,000. It would be a little difficult to stand alone long.

Still, in assuming the leadership, we solved no problem. We have only begun to tackle it, for we did not take over the responsibility of a vital and vigorous non-Communist world. At least half of the world's population is exhausted. We must try not only to breathe life into it but even the desire to live. We may fail, of course, and various reasons:

The roots of the political, economic, and social — may be so deep in us that ruin is inevitable anyway; or maybe our leadership has been too little or too late or too shoddy.

Until the story is finished we must operate on the opposite assumption: that Communism is not progress but reaction, stumbling back to the Middle Ages, out of time and place and bound to die. At the end of World War I we could have accepted responsibility as a new power, which we were but didn't understand, by joining the League of Nations. With our help, it might have kept the world steady. Without us, the League became a dead letter.

Communism was only an eye-sore then. It was Fascism, not Communism, which became the aggressive menace.

This country tortured itself between two central ideas. Should we become an active force on the side of free Europe, bolstering its will to resist Fascism? Or should we retain our splendid isolation, as some, turning our faces aside from the spectacle of agony and tyranny which lay ahead for those other Europeans who were our spiritual brothers?

All Europe, except England, was gone before we really began to arm. In renouncing we insisted upon business-as-usual, an invitation to disaster which overtook us 10 years ago today at Pearl Harbor. Overnight we took leadership.

When victory came our Allies climbed back out of the cellar of history. Together with them we created the United Nations. This time we joined. Our isolation seemed over. Not quite.

We disarmed, thinking Russia would be quiet. We were wrong in disarming and wrong about Russia. And we were slow in other things.

We didn't get the big economic help for Europe, the Marshall Plan, underway until 1947. By then Communism had taken eastern Europe.

It wasn't until the shock of Czechoslovakia — when the Iron Curtain clanked down over it in 1948 — that we set up a military alliance, the Atlantic Treaty.

There were other shows who yearned to scamp back into isolationism. They opposed the Atlantic Pact and they opposed arms for Europe. It was when we planned to put American troops in Europe, to show her we stood beside her in the flesh, that isolationism made its strongest, and

O'Connell said he had advised Oliphant not to appear before the committee today because more time was needed to work up the material to "set the record straight."

He said he had explained this to the committee, and was surprised it had not passed this on when it announced Oliphant had failed to appear.

O'Connell said Oliphant is anxious to testify but needs time to prepare material. He added: "A committee member called Oliphant's home at 9:30 last night to notify him of today's hearing. However, he was not home, and did not learn of the invitation until almost midnight."

"I consider that pretty short notice for a man who has his whole future at stake."

"He will be asked to set the record straight with respect to a whole series of episodes that have developed before the committee, and in which his name in one fashion or another, has appeared."

Some of the things he must check occurred years ago.

Committee counsel De Wind said there were "a number of matters Oliphant would be questioned about."

When you're making yeast rolls shape some of them into buns. Just roll the dough to 1/4-inch thickness, cut into strips about 1/8-inch wide and 1/2-inch long; tie into single knots.

It's not necessary to add salt or vinegar to the water when you are poaching eggs. Just slip the eggs into water that is simmering in a skillet, keep the water at that temperature, and cook three to five minutes—depending on how firm you want the eggs.

perhaps it was last stand. The cry went up—it was called the Great Debate—to keep our strength at home and turn ourselves into a fortress behind those two handsome ditches, the Atlantic and Pacific. The cry was rejected.

But the shock of Korea in the summer of 1950 was needed to make this country realize time was running out and it had to arm faster.

We're still not rearming as fast as we could. We still like business-as-usual. Is this a repetition of the mistake before Pearl Harbor? Will you find out if there's another Pearl Harbor.

Arms Control Group Agreed To By Russia

Diplomat Tells Of Accord In Secret Big-4 Talks Over Disarmament Plan

PARIS, Dec. 10.—A high diplomatic source today said the Soviet government and Soviet Russia have agreed on formation of a disarmament commission which would consider rival East and West plans for arms reduction and atomic control.

This diplomat, who would not permit use of his name said that agreement was the only important concrete result of the long secret talks of the Big Four powers on disarmament.

He said it appeared that the Western plan for arms limitation and reduction plus the Soviet version of disarmament plans would be put before a disarmament commission next spring with instructions to start work on drawing up arms limitation proposals.

Informed sources insisted that the delegates of the four big powers, U. S. Ambassador Philip C. Jessup, British Minister of State Selwyn Lloyd, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinskiy and French Delegate Jules Moch, had not agreed on any plan for immediate prohibition of the atomic bomb.

It was reported also that there had been an agreement on any of the major points separating the East and West except on the disarmament commission, which may not even be called by that name, but which actually will deal with that topic.

The Big Four ended their secret talks in a session which ran through the lunch hour and caused the hungry delegates to order sandwiches and coffee taken into the smoke-filled room.

The four will report tomorrow to the U. N. political committee, which is expected in some circles to conclude the annual session before the Christmas holidays begin Dec. 31.

Luis Padilla Nervo of Mexico, president of the assembly and chairman of the Big Four session, said the report would describe the progress made.

Lincoln, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Frank A. Stanton, Hastings, Neb., publisher today was appointed U. S. Senator from Nebraska to succeed the late Republican Floor Leader, Senator Kenneth S. Wherry. The appointment was made by Republican Governor Val Peterson.

Stanton, 42, will serve until a successor is elected at the general election next November and qualify by the state canvassing board.

He is a midwest leader of the Harold E. Stassen for President forces and has served two terms as a state senator in the Nebraska one-house legislature.

Before coming to Nebraska as publisher of the Hastings Tribune and active in his home state of Kansas in the Alf Landon presidential campaign. He now has publishing interests in Nebraska, Kansas, South Dakota, Wyoming and Colorado.

Andrew Stine Installed As Head Of Shrine Club At Mayfair Dinner

Andrew Stine, local hardware merchant, was installed as president of the Sanford Shrine Club Friday night at a dinner meeting at the Mayfair Inn, and with James Gill, illustrious potentate of Morocco Temple, Jacksonville, performing the installation.

The occasion was the annual dinner given here for local Shriners and their wives by Morocco Temple, Jacksonville. The dinner and ceremony were followed by a program of entertainment with Frank Evans as toastmaster.

Mr. Stine succeeds Roy Howell, who presided at the meeting and introduced the visiting Nobles and their wives.

Ray Herron was installed as first vice-president of the Shrine Club, Ernest Southard as second vice-president, and A. F. Ramsay, as secretary, and R. W. Deane, as treasurer.

Something has gone wrong with our nation," Mr. Gill told the Shriners. "It is not like us to be on the dynamic. What we lack is dynamic faith. Our greatest need, however, is to regain confidence in our spiritual heritage."

He pointed out that in spite of the great strides in education, inventions and time saving gadgets, the nation has not found the peace and security it has been seeking since the beginning of the 20th century.

Among the visiting Shriners of Morocco Temple introduced by Mr. Gill were Spark Jones, recorder, John Register, treasurer, and Mrs. Register.

Retiring President Howell was congratulated by Mr. Gill for his efficient work in behalf of the club and presented a certificate of merit.

Frank Evans started his program of entertainment with a lively "Hi Ho, Silver" greeting, and a singing contest between groups of Shriners, each singing a different song at the same time.

During the dinner Bob Bremer played the piano and was frequently applauded.

Dr. H. W. Rucker, accompanied by Harry Kudell, got a big hand from fellow Shriners for his singing of "Bandalero" and "Shortnin Bread."

Oregon Rancher Is Saved From Well Cave-In

31-Year Old Pinned 18 Hours, Son's Work Saves Him

PENDLETON, Ore., Dec. 10.—(AP)—A 31-year-old rancher, trapped for 18 hours in a 15-foot well while heavy digging equipment churned about him, was brought to safety today.

The rancher, Norman Vines Ford, 31, was pinned to the well bottom with his feet under a plank when the walls caved in at 11:30 A.M. (PST) yesterday. At 5:30 this morning, he was lifted to the surface.

Ford's 18-year-old son, Leon, was the hero of the rescue operation. He was helping his father sink the well but was working on the surface when the walls collapsed. Leon jumped in and began digging his father out with hand tools. Neighbors who had been called lowered buckets to the youth.

Leon had his father unscathed when he was pulled from the well caved in a second time. Leon, who spent another section of the well (Continued on Page Six)

Democratic Chairman Makes $68,000 Profit On $1,000; Tax Fix Hearing Continues

Caulle Acknowledges Knowing Of Shake-down Of Teitelbaum Last Summer

New N.A.M. Prexy Takes Over

Frank McKinney Protests Herald Tribune's Handling Of Sensational Story

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—(AP)—T Lamar Caulle acknowledged today that he heard last August of an alleged attempted "tax fix" shake-down of Abraham Teitelbaum. He said he called Frank Nathan on the telephone and hauled him out for "handling" his name.

House Tax Investigators recessed for luncheon without developing whether Caulle, then an Assistant Attorney General, took any further action beyond the telephone call after he got wind nearly four months ago of the sensational story Teitelbaum told publicly last Tuesday.

Teitelbaum, a Chicago lawyer who in times past has represented Al Capone, testified that Nathan sent Bert K. Nester sought $200,000 from him last April under threat he would have "tax troubles."

And he said they told him there was a "shunt" in Washington, including Caulle, which looked for "soft touches."

All those named promptly brand Teitelbaum's story as false. Nathan under oath in the witness chair of the House Ways and Means Subcommittee investigating tax irregularities.

T Cohen an Atlanta tax attorney as its first witness.

Cohen said Teitelbaum told him of the alleged attempted extortion, and that he passed it on to Caulle, who was a friend of his on Aug. 20.

He said he gave Caulle such details as Teitelbaum's account of the alleged attempted extortion, and made clear Egypt wanted no outside help from the United States in the Anglo-Egyptian Treaty his country has repudiated.

He noted upon the British "to go back to their island" and the United States headquarter, which claimed the Egyptian government for the current crisis in relations between the two countries.

The British White Paper disclosed that Britain had once offered to move its troops out of the Suez Canal area by 1950 if Egypt would let them remain in time of war or threat of war.

The 1936 Treaty gave Britain the right to station troops in the Canal area. Egypt wants them to get out immediately.

At a news conference attended by more than 250 reporters at United Nations headquarters, Salah El Din disputed a recent United States Paper which claimed the Egyptian government for the current crisis in relations between the two countries.

British Are Told 'To Go Back To Their Island'

PARIS, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Salah El Din tonight termed the proposed Middle East defense commission "an act worse" than the 1936 Anglo-Egyptian Treaty his country has repudiated.

He noted upon the British "to go back to their island" and the United States headquarter, which claimed the Egyptian government for the current crisis in relations between the two countries.

Frank McKinney Protests Herald Tribune's Handling Of Sensational Story

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Frank E. McKinney, Democratic National Chairman, said today he and Frank M. McCall, his close political friend, each made a profit of $68,000 on investments of $1,000 apiece made in 1946.

McKinney told a news conference "political influence or impropriety were involved."

Angry he charged that newspaper headlines describing the profit were so phrased they might make his children "think their father was a damn crook."

Records of a bankruptcy proceedings in Philadelphia give McKinney's profit as $7,000 on the $1,000 invested in common stock of the Empire Tractor Corp. of Philadelphia, but McKinney said that figure is "incorrect."

He it is unlawful for a Democratic Chairman to hold business interests. McKinney demanded at the news conference.

"If some people had their way, you would have to go to some abbey and choose a monk to lead the party."

McKinney mentioned specifically an article by Jack Steble in the New York Herald Tribune reporting on the profit.

"This newspaper took unfair advantage of my situation in writing the headlines," the Democratic leader said, and told the 20 reporters in the room.

At the White House, President-elect Joseph P. Kamp said in response to questions that neither McKinney nor McCall had appointments to see President Truman.

Although McKinney rated his profit at $68,000 rather than $7,000, the latter figure was shown in records of a bankruptcy proceeding.
