Info From White House Unsatisfactory

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee has been advised by its top lawyers that it can't rely on White House-edited transcripts in its impeachment inquiry.

Errors, omissions and deletions in the 46 conversations released April 30 by President Nixon make them unsatisfactory as evidence, say chief counsel John Doar and Albert Jenner, the chief minority counsel.

They told the committee Thursday there was "an absolute need" to get the tapes of the conversations if the impeachment verdict is to be based on the best evidence.

Nixon spurned a committee subpoena for 11 Watergate tapes Wednesday and said he would not respond to any other subpoenas it may issue for Watergate material. He turned over the transcripts in response to an earlier subpoena for tapes.

In another Watergate arena, today is the deadline for White House response to subpoenas for papers left behind by two former Nixon aides when they still were working for the President. U.S. District Court Judge Gerhard Gesell has said he might have to throw out charges against the five defendants in the Ellsberg break-in case if all relevant material is not provided. The U.S. Court of Appeals ruled Thursday that the Senate Watergate committee had not shown sufficient need for five White House tape recordings it had sought in a 10-month legal battle.

In other Watergate developments, —Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe told the Senate Judiciary Committee that special prosecutor Leon Jaworski will not be fired. Saxbe told committee Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., that he will continue to guarantee Jaworski's freedom in the Watergate investigation.

—An Internal Revenue Service spokesman said IRS has declined to supply the House Judiciary Committee with information on Nixon's tax returns.

The spokesman said Treasury Secretary William E. Simon has referred to Saxbe the question of whether it would be proper to supply the information that the committee requested.

To be resolved is whether the committee's constitutional authority over impeachment is superior to specific statutory prohibition in the Internal Revenue code against giving out tax return information, the spokesman said. After the House committee's session, Doar repeated the criticism of the White House tapes he had delivered to the members.

"I am concerned about their accuracy and about the differences between the transcripts of the President and his counsel on matters of relevance," he said.

Doar's assessment of the White House transcripts is based on comparisons with transcripts produced by the committee from tapes of the same conversations it got from the special prosecutor.

Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr. said the comparisons disclosed numerous misstatements, omissions, misattributions and deletions that distorted the meaning of some conversations in the White House transcripts, though neither cited specific examples.

But Doar said he was especially concerned about the differences between the committee and White House transcripts of the March 21, 1973, conversation between Nixon and his former counsel, John W. Dean III, that has become a focal point of the inquiry.

Jenner, saying he and Doar had agonized over having to use the transcripts in the presenting of evidence to the committee, agreed with Doar's criticism of them. "There is an absolute need in this case to get the best evidence," he said.

Rodino has scheduled a meeting for next Thursday or Friday to deal with Nixon's refusal to comply with the subpoena. He said he would oppose efforts to seek court enforcement of the subpoena, which some members are proposing.

The Constitution gives the House the sole power of impeachment, Rodino said, and the courts have no role to play in the process.

Kidnap Duo's Fate In Hands Of Jury

TAMPA—A circuit court jury began deliberations shortly after lunch today on the fate of two Sanford men accused in the Feb. 28 kidnaping of Southern Shortening owner George Jackson Jr.

Defense attorneys Newman Brock and Gerald Jones wrapped up the two-week trial with final arguments, attempting to overcome Thursday's testimony by confessed kidnaper Ernest Jerome Davis, 20, also of Sanford.

Davis, who pleaded guilty to one kidnap charge in return for dropped conspiracy charges, said he and his colleagues discussed killing Jackson once the $30,000 ransom was paid, but decided the murder would get them in "real trouble."

The former Southern Shortening employee said he and his friends were in a "dream world" of marijuana during the discussions, and he could not remember who suggested killing Jackson.

Davis' four hours of testimony came Thursday during the seventh and final day of testimony in the kidnap-extortion trial of Jesse James Jones Jr., 23, and Franklin Wheeler, 24. All three are from Sanford.

Davis had a difficult time recalling specific details but said he and Wheeler were the masked men who kidnaped Jackson from his office at Southern Shortening Inc. in Sanford.

Jones came into the drama later and provided the men with a car to pick up the ransom money, Davis testified.

"We never even thought about whether we needed a car before we took Jackson," Davis said.

The three men decided not to shoot Jackson because "I said we'd get in real trouble then," Davis recalled.

The House passed the Senate omnibus bill (CS-SB215) in an 85-21 vote Thursday after adding a number of amendments.

The measure appears ready to accept the amendments which already have approval of the bill's sponsor, Sen. Kenneth Myers, D-Miami.

The measure emerged from a two-year fight over prison reform.

It could have turned out to be a huge embarrassment to Lyman High School, two of its students, State Representative Vince Fecthel, and others.

Fortunately, Fecthel's aide Cal Zethmayer put a call through to The Herald inquiring of our knowledge of a Southeast Athletic Association, which supposedly had offices in Tampa.

We hadn't ever heard of the organization.

This outfit was supposedly selecting a brother and sister for special athletic awards, and wanted Fecthel on hand Saturday at Lyman High for personal presentations.

The Governor was asked to write letters of commendation to the two youngsters, which he did.

The State's Attorney's office was called in to investigate and determined the name and mailing box of the organization was a hoax. There is no such organization.

The regularly scheduled sports banquet at Lyman will take place . . . without any of the phony-baloney some local look tried to cook-up.

The only possible motive is suspicion of creating embarrassment.

It'll be considered a success, if and when the culprit is found. Then they'll have all the embarrassment they can handle (and the investigators do have an idea of the ones involved...)

Watch for it . . . an announcement of the Florida Blazers of the World Football League (Orlando) are considering holding their practice sessions at Sanford's Memorial Stadium.

WEATHER

Yesterday's high 87 low this morning 69. There was 1.16 of an inch of rain yesterday. Partly cloudy days and mostly fair nights through Saturday with some morning fog and slight chance of afternoon showers and thunderstorms.

Highs near 90 and lows tonight in low 70s. Rain probability 20 per cent today and Saturday.

Daytona Beach tides for Saturday—high 11:30 a.m., 11:55 p.m.; low 5:13 a.m., 5:21 p.m.; Port Canaveral—high 10:56 a.m., 11:36 p.m.; low 4:53 a.m., 5:12 p.m.

Extended forecast Sunday through Tuesday—partly cloudy with highs in the 80s and lows in the 70s. Light showers and fair skies formed a checkerboard pattern across the nation today, while scattered thunderstorms swept parts of Oklahoma and Ohio.

More than 80 planes, including this P-51 Mustang formerly owned by Johnny Bolton, will "fly-in" Sunday to Sanford's Airport for the regular meeting of Florida Sport Aviation. Sunday's meeting is not open to the public.

Memorial Services Monday

Joint Memorial Day Services will be conducted at 10:30 a.m. Monday at the Veterans Memorial Park, located directly across the street from the present Sanford Zoo.

All local veterans organizations are scheduled to participate in the ceremonies which will start with an invocation by Rev. Fred Neal of the Sanford Christian Congregational Church. Sanford City Commissioner A. A. McClanahan, LCDR, USN (Ret.) will be the speaker.

The laying of the wreath will be performed by members of VFW Post 10108 in conjunction with the Fleet Reserve Association Memorial Services.

The firing squad, color guard, and bugler will be provided by the Sanford Naval Academy.

The public is invited to attend.

Hospital Site OK'd

A southeast Seminole site has received zoning board approval as a 50-bed women's hospital to be owned and operated by a Titusville obstetrician and gynecologist who runs a Winter Park birth control clinic.

If the proposal by Dr. Samuel Barr survives expected public opposition and an appeal to the county commission, it will result in 88 the number of beds for obstetric patients in the county.

Barr's representative at this week's zoning board meeting said the doctor plans to handle all facets of reproductive medicine, from pre-natal post-delivery care, including family planning and abortions.

The hospital will also offer cancer screening and prevention programs, and crisis intervention programs directed by clinical psychologists.

The spokesman said no further plans will be announced for the Dike and Tuskawilla Road site until the 30-day appeal period expires.

104 Teachers Jobless; County Growth Slows

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

The slowdown in Seminole County's growth rate coupled with a complicated method of state funding and changes in school boundary lines have cost 104 local teachers their jobs, according to school officials.

In the process Seminole County property owners may get a reduced school tax bill while teachers will be contending with more students in each classroom.

In another school development, the deadlock between the school board and the Seminole Education on the starting time for negotiations on teacher salaries and other fringe benefits appeared broken today.

Dr. Owen Arnold, Seminole Education Association executive director, said he has sent a letter to the school board suggesting negotiations begin 4 p.m. June 4.

"We hope the (school) board will not come up with any further delays," Arnold said. The school funding program began last year when the state using a new method of granting money to school districts called a "full time equivalent student" (FTE), set the allotment per student at $79.

The school system with the state money, local taxes for school operation and a "fairly nice carryover balance" from the previous year got by.

"The handwriting is on the wall this year," said Roger Harris, the school system's director of purchasing.

Arnold said teachers have complained to him that principals with openings are not interviewing the laid-off teachers for the jobs.

Teachers cannot get beyond Dick Evans's secretary to talk with Evans," Arnold said. Evans was appointed principal of the new Lake Howell High School that will be holding

The Legislature is expected to pass new law, Harris said, that will increase the FTE money from $79 to $745. This appears to be a windfall.

"But," Harris added, "the bill mandate that the school board levy no more than eight mills." The current maximum is 10.

"Since we do not expect any large carryover this year we are faced with probably having less money for teachers rather than more," Harris said.

School Supt. W. P. (Bud) Laver said growth in Seminole has slowed down considerably from last year and the school system is concerned whether the county will meet projected growth and enrollment figures.

Most of the teachers will be reappointed if jobs and funds are available next year, Laver said, and if vacancies exist that classes in the afternoons at the Oviedo High School plant while the new school is under construction.

"Our problem was that in opening Lake Howell School our enrollment was reduced by 400 students."

Principals are being very conservative in projecting school enrollment in the new year as well, Laver added.

There will be more rape convictions in Florida if a Senate-approved bill to provide uniform penalties for sex crimes becomes law, says Sen. Leri Wilson, I-Merritt Island.

The bill, approved 28-4 Thursday by the Senate, would put rape, sodomy and child molestation into one classification— involuntary sexual battery. It would also establish degrees of punishment according to the amount of force used on the victim.

The House Criminal Justice Committee has also approved a bill to provide degrees of punishment but does separate the sex crimes.

The Senate bill (CS-SB959) defines the sex act of sexual battery as "the oral, anal, or vaginal penetration by or union with the sexual organ of another or the anal or vaginal penetration of another by any other object."

Sen. Wilson, who sponsored the measure, said it would give law enforcement agencies and juries more ways to deal with persons accused of sex crimes.

She said juries are now reluctant to convict rapists because the only sentences they can choose between are death or life in prison.

"This law should give the prosecutor, jury and judge better tools with which to work," she said.

WM. (BUD) LAVER

"The problem appears to be just a bureaucratic foul-up below the superintendent level," Arnold said.

Evans said he encountered a problem of timing. Appointed principal on March 25, Evans said he began interviewing and hiring teachers. He said some teachers from Oviedo High, Milwee Middle School, Crooms, and Seminole High immediately filed transfer requests for appointment to the new school.

"This was all done before I received the memo April 30 from the school office concerning personnel reduction," Evans said.

By the time teachers were notified of the layoffs Evans had his skeleton staff selection completed. All the Lake Howell school teachers are transfers from other schools in the system with the lone exception of a new football coach, he said.

"I know of no applicant that I did not talk with at least one time," he said, adding there seemed no point continuing conversations if the position sought was filled.

John Angel, principal of Teague Middle School, who had to cut 17 of his teachers from his roster due to changes in boundary lines with the new Tuskawilla Middle School, said, "I had a very fine group of teachers that had to leave this school." He said the decision on who would go and who would stay was a tough one.

Keith Stone, Oviedo High principal had to lay off 15 teachers while a few more are transferring to other schools.

"Our problem was that in opening Lake Howell School our enrollment was reduced by 400 students."

Principals are being very conservative in projecting school enrollment in the new year as well, Laver added.

More Rape Convictions Proposed

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) —

Hearsts infuriated With Police Calling Patty Dangerous

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The parents of Patricia Hearst are said to be outraged by the comments of law officers who in the past week have said the young heiress is an armed and dangerous fugitive.

She was a young girl who was kidnapped, said Poole of Patricia. "Something happened to her and now they are calling her a fugitive on the run."

Meanwhile, police and FBI agents continued without success their massive search for Miss Hearst and two Symbionese Liberation Army companions. Pleas for her to surrender increased.

"Throw away those guns!" urged the Hearst-owned San Francisco Examiner. "If you just let yourself be killed it is going to be a waste, your whole life is going to be a waste," said a taped plea issued by Patricia's two younger sisters, Anne, 18, and Vicki, 17.

Referring to last Friday's fiery shooting in Los Angeles in which six SLA members died, Vicki said: "I just don't want that to happen to you." But she added: "I'm telling you right now the police and the FBI aren't all that sympathetic anymore. And they've taken a lot of trash from these guys (the SLA). And I just don't think they are going to sit around and take much more of it."

The search for Miss Hearst and William and Emily Harris is centered in southern California. But the rapid series of raids on suspected SLA hideouts which characterized last weekend's developments have subsided, indicating authorities may have lost the immediate trail of the three fugitives, all of whom face possible life in prison.

Felony charges including assault, robbery and kidnaping were filed Wednesday against Miss Hearst and the Harrises, a white couple the FBI has said are the last SLA members it seeks.

Meanwhile, one of Miss Hearst's alleged victims testified for an hour Thursday as a federal grand jury opened its investigation of an April 15 SLA bank robbery in San Francisco. Police said Thomas Matthews, 38, was held captive for 12 hours last week by Miss Hearst and the Harrises when the three became involved in an alleged shopping attempt at a suburban Los Angeles sporting goods store.

A source close to the investigation said Matthews was a "good witness." Authorities say he told them that Miss Hearst declared she was a voluntary participant in the bank robbery in which two persons were wounded.

Pool, a U.S. attorney for Northern California from 1959 to 1970, was sharply critical of Los Angeles Dist. Atty. Joseph Busch, who said when he filed the charges against her that he believed Miss Hearst was the first kidnap victim ever to become a kidnap suspect.

Jazz Great Ellington Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Jazz bandleader and composer Duke Ellington died early today in Columbia Presbyterian Hospital after undergoing treatment for pneumonia. He was 75.

Ellington, who had been hospitalized for several months for a respiratory infection that developed into pneumonia, died at 3:10 a.m., according to a hospital spokesman.

Duke Ellington and his band appeared in concert at the Sanford Civic Center on Feb. 6, 1969 under the auspices of the Sanford Downtown Merchants Association. Ellington had been unable to attend celebrations for his 75th birthday in New York last month. The celebration brought together 35 jazz groups and soloists in a tribute to the jazz master. In February, Ellington had returned to Washington, where he grew up, and performed for several hundred inner city school children and Julie Nixon Eisenhower.

The President's daughter hailed Ellington as "one of my heroes" and brought a letter from her father addressed to "his excellency the Duke of Ellington." The letter from President Nixon proclaimed that "there'll never be another you."

Born Edward Kennedy Ellington, the "Duke" was known the world over and was the first jazz musician to receive the French Legion of Honor, a movie, television and ballet scores and even an opera two awards he was presented in July of 1973.

NATION TODAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the many Watergate court cases to date, the name of a single federal judge has gained national recognition. Now, U.S. District Court Judge Gerhard A. Gesell is beginning to share Judge John J. Sirica's spotlight.

Two days ago, he ordered President Nixon to release the personal White House files of former aides John D. Ehrlichman and Charles W. Colson for their defense in the Ellsberg burglary case. He set today as a deadline and said: "I will allow no continuances."

Relief from high food prices promised by the administration translated into a 1.1 per cent decline in retail prices of farmproduced food from March to April, the USDA said Thursday. It said that meant a $20 drop in a year's supply of groceries for what was called a typical 3.2-member household, or a savings of 38 cents a week.

The decline is the first since October.

Food Prices Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumers saved 38 cents a week on food in April from March prices the Agriculture Department says, but two congressmen say the savings could have been higher if meat packers stopped hoarding beef.

Reps. Frank Benham, D-S.D., and Lester Wolff, D-N.Y., said Thursday there is a record stockpile of 476 million pounds of meat in cold storage, 37 per cent higher than in 1973.

Governor Turns Songwriter

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Milton Shapp in the role of songwriter—not governor—will appear on the television program "What's My Line" to try to stump the panelists, his office says.

Shapp will be identified as Pennsylvania's governor and the panelists will try to guess his avocation—songwriting.

Shapp wrote "The Ballad of Rose Mary," a spoof of Watergate, which has been recorded.

The program was taped Thursday. No date was set for its showing.

Florida Man Convicted

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — James W. Hall, son of a Jacksonville, Fla. couple, has been found guilty of second degree murder in the death of Sarah Ann Ottens, a 22-year-old Iowa nursing student.

Defense attorney William Tucker said the verdict was "completely contrary to evidence" and said it will be appealed.

The Johnson County District Court jury of six men and six women returned the verdict Thursday night after deliberating about four and one-half hours. The jury had heard nine days of testimony ending Thursday.

Earlier Thursday, a witness in the trial changed her testimony and identified Hall as the man she saw at the door of a room where Miss Ottens' body was found.

Naval Academy Cheating

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — The superintendent of the U.S. Naval Academy, faced with what could be the school's greatest cheating scandal, blames the problem on what he calls antiestablishment youth. Vice Adm. William P. Mack appeared at a news conference Thursday after confirming reports of possible cheating by as many as 150 midshipmen on a final exam in a sophomore course in celestial navigation. Mack said he and academy officials have not concluded that cheating occurred on Tuesday's exam taken by about 900 of the 4,000 midshipmen at the academy. But they did confirm reports from student sources that a large number of midshipmen apparently knew test questions in advance and came to the exam armed with answers and problem computations.

Watergate The Movie?

BOSTON (AP) — "If you liked the book, you'll love the movie."

So say two Boston men who are preparing a videotaped dramatization of the edited White House transcripts of Watergate conversations.

Webster Latham and Thomas McCann of The Transcripts Film Co. say they will offer the 40-hour dramatization, using professional actors to portray the roles of the President and his aides, to the television networks or for syndication to independent TV stations.

Execlives deleted in the printed version of the transcripts will be represented by "blanks" in the spoken, conversation, and inaudible or unintelligible references will be treated with appropriate sounds, Latham said.

"Great pains are being taken to represent the events with objectivity and fairness," he added.

'Other' Watergate Judge In Limelight

House OKs National Debt Bill, Tax Reforms Wait In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — A national debt ceiling bill that scraped through the House by the narrowest possible margin may be turned into a vehicle for massive tax cuts and reforms in the Senate.

The bill to increase the Treasury's borrowing authority by $19.3 billion to $495 billion, won on a House roll call Thursday, 191 to 150. Speaker Carl Albert, who votes only when the House is deadlocked, cast the deciding ballot.

It was the first time since 1957 a speaker had cast, from his presiding chair, a straight tie-breaking vote. Twice since then speakers have voted in special situations requiring two-thirds.

Votes on the debt ceiling often are taken as referendum on the incumbent administration's economic policies, and Democrats were quick to point out that Republicans Thursday voted 95 to 75 against the increase, while Democrats voted 116 to 97 for it.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the Ways and Means Committee that handled the bill, said the close vote showed widespread unhappiness with Nixon's handling of the economy.

He had argued that the House had no choice but to pass the bill, reduced by his committee from a $65 billion administration proposal. Unless it is finally enacted by June 30, the debt ceiling will drop about $75 billion below the actual debt.

Senate advocates of tax cuts and tax reform have been awaiting an opportunity to attach their proposals to a House-passed bill, since the Senate is barred constitutionally from originating tax legislation.

Likely amendments are a proposal to slash taxes by raising the personal exemption from $700 to $825, or, alternatively, allowing taxpayers a $100 credit; to make special payments up to $400 a year to the working poor, and to close a variety of alleged loopholes.

The House committee is not bound to accept any of these. In a related development, Treasury officials said the department soon will begin pressing banks for interest payments on government funds temporarily in deposit. For 37 years, commercial banks have been able to keep in noninterest-paying accounts for periods of a week to 10 days payments made by persons who write checks to the government for their taxes or other sums due.

The Underwood company, which produces B&M baked beans at Portland, is closing down that facility and has offered to take on some of the Malden plant employees at its new Portland factory.

When the Pilgrims settled in New England, baked beans became a popular dish for Sunday suppers. Because cooking was not permitted on the Sabbath, the bean pot was put on the fire Saturday night and kept warm until Sunday.

Pilgrim Hester Fried's recipe traveled the generations of her family until Leslie, Victor and Robert Fried decided to open their factory in the Boston area, Spaulding said.

By the 1930s, there were five Fried bean factories in downtown and suburban locations. In the early 1960s, however, the family business was sold, and all but the Malden factory were closed as the firm changed hands several times.

"Years ago, there used to be Homemakers Beans and Fried's," Spaulding said. "Of course, Homemakers was never as big an operation as Fried's."

"Then Homemakers was purchased by an outside outfit, and they stopped making beans here. Now Fried's is leaving, too.

Placed on the federal bench by President Lyndon B. Johnson in 1968, Gesell quickly developed a reputation as one of the most scholarly judges in the courthouse. He is one of the few who write their own opinions in total.

In 1970 he ordered the House Internal Security Committee not to publish a report listing 66 persons as radical campus leaders. In 1968 he broadened the District of Columbia's law to permit abortions virtually at a physician's discretion. The ruling was reversed by the Supreme Court. And in 1971 he ruled that the Washington Post could publish the Pentagon Papers study on the origins of the Vietnam war, saying: "There is no proof that there will be a definite break in diplomatic relations, that there will be an armed attack on the United States ... or on an ally, that there will be a war ..."

Students Take Boss To Lunch

Wayne E. Leroy of Oviedo, executive secretary of Florida Vocational Association, was the guest speaker at Seminole High School Cooperative Business Education (CBE) Class's first employer-employee banquet held at Cavalier Restaurant.

Introduced by Virginia Ferguson, Leroy spoke on "The Role of the Secretary in Today's Business World."

Class President Judith Hill gave the welcoming speech. Employees were presented with certificates of appreciation by their employer. Other awards presented by the coordinator Mrs. K. J. Alexander, were: most cooperative student, Judith Hill; most amiable student, Virginia Ferguson; most improved, Charlotte Smith; superior performance in FBI-A-CBE Club, Deirdre Wright and Mary Lou Baldrice.

The CBE class is composed of seniors, who attend school in the morning and work in the afternoon in an office occupation. This program enables students to gain training and experience, while earning a salary. Many of the students presently enrolled in the class will remain in their present positions as full-time employees following graduation.

Mrs. Alexander is interested in placements in offices for CBE students in summer and fall terms. Interested firms should contact her at Seminole High School.

New Job Available In Schools

The Seminole County School Office is seeking applicants for an administrative assistant and public information officer according to Supt. William P. Lauer.

The job information part of the job description will include dissemination of information to the media, the public and to provide charts, slides and data for all school office presentations.

Salary for the new post for the first year will be $17,563.

The new position was created to fill the vacancy left when Andrew Boren was promoted from Director of Administrative Services to Director of Secondary Education. The board decided a need existed for an information officer and wanted to add those responsibilities to the vacant post.

Lauer's recommendation to put Roger Harris, director of purchasing into the post was met with strong opposition several times by the board.

That left the nomination of an applicant up to the board, but Board Chairman Dave Sims said he wanted Lauer to make another choice since the two would have to work closely together.

Lauer declined saying the best man was Harris; the board stood firm and now applications are being sought through area advertisements.

Editorial Dumb Planning Over T-Bowl

Planning, or the lack of it, is what makes the world go 'round. Obviously, there are some people involved in the recent capture by Orlando of a World Football League franchise who could stand some lessons in planning—or hold classes in miracle working.

Either Rommie Loudd and his partners are going to have to work their collective wits over the Tangerine Bowl and come up with a decent stadium, or they and their anticipated fans are going to be among the most disappointed and frustrated in the world.

We've met and talked to Mr. Loudd, and we're sure he isn't a magician. However, we're equally sure he isn't a planner. Obviously, he had a contingency plan around in the event he lost his NFL franchise bid (which went to Tampa) that would net him a WFL team, which he got.

But what puzzles us is why so many people have been dragging their feet on the Tangerine Bowl, or stranger still, why some of these people insist on even trying to do anything with the place.

We're just as dedicated to pro football as the next group of loyal Sunday afternoon fans, but for the life of us we can't see why the Tangerine Bowl isn't abandoned and a suitable site found elsewhere.

The Tangerine Bowl is ugly, too small, and located in a horrible neighborhood.

There is no rational reason for asking potential customers to be asked to suffer in the T-Bowl. And economically it couldn't cost that much more to start all over and do the job right especially when one considers the defects of the existing stadium. Besides, the great population centers aren't there in "bedroom communities" dotting Orange County.

Therefore, it seems to us that good planning would have put a new stadium in the area of Orlando, which with its congested, confusing and infuriating traffic, its inadequate parking and its inadequate public transportation facilities is a far cry from the Gerald Warren I admired in the 1950-1968 period.

It is also making him look sadder, more frustrated and sometimes rather pathetic. This is a far cry from the Gerald Warren I admired in the 1950-1968 period.

Every day Warren gets belted by the most antagonistic of the White House press corps and this is making him look much older than his handsome 44 years, come Aug. 17.

He is also making him look sadder, more frustrated and sometimes rather pathetic. This is a far cry from the Gerald Warren I admired in the 1950-1968 period.

For the life of us we just can't understand how the Loudd faction could delude themselves into thinking people from this area will flock to that T-Bowl monstrosity.

We would offer one suggestion: Forget the T-Bowl, and increase your chances of having a successful franchise.

From The Mailbag

Dear Sir:

power corrupts; absolute power corrupts absolutely. Employees of the news media succeeded in corrupting a state-wide conference in Orlando, held for professional tourism leaders on May 20-21.

Tourism, our state's largest single industry, convened a conference of its leaders, including many prominent citizens, to examine at their own expense, from all corners of the state, to examine the problems felt by Florida during last winter's national energy crisis.

By their presence, these leaders expressed a hope that through their collective talents, plans could be formulated to avoid the hardships to all and to minimize the rudeness which to our northern visitors seemed and sometimes appeared during the gasoline shortage last winter.

Our state was fortunate that the conference was attended and addressed by John Sawhill, our nation's new Energy Administrator, whose office through more realistic gasoline allocations, can best help avoid a repetition of last winter's gasoline indignities. Also in attendance was a working member of the conference was Florida Sen. Ed Gurney, who was the prime moving force in organizing the conference.

The goals of the conference were largely destroyed by a rude and thoughtless corps of media personnel. When the registered participants of the conference arrived, they found that employees of the news media had arrived earlier in order to selfishly preempt the first five rows of seats in the meeting hall. This selfish "grab" of the best seats in the house would have been justified if the media had responsibly reported the proceedings, but freedom of the press was prostituted by the selfish motives of media employees.

Given no choice, the registered delegates seated themselves behind a barrage of seven or eight TV and news cameras on enormous tripods and an accompanying forest of free-standing television lights. The delegates were thereby relegated to an undignified view of the backsides of the young men assigned by their editors to "cover" the meeting.

After Mr. Sawhill addressed the delegates, these young men of the media attempted to turn the assembly into their own private press conference. However, they were chided by the Chair for their rudeness to the delegates who, by polite but enthusiastic applause, expressed their disapproval of the discourtesy shown the meeting by the media people.

At the end of the day when the thoughtful and constructive recommendations of this statewide tourism conference were published, the press gallery was virtually deserted. The media failed in its responsibility to get the story which it was ostensibly dispatched.

As eye witnesses, we assure you that the jostling of reporters so widely reported locally was actually done by the reporters themselves. The reporters got their story through at the price of cheating the reading public of a more valuable but less sensational story, and robbing the tourist industry of its chance to inform the public of Florida and our valued northern visitors that responsible state leadership is working on problems more important than skinmines your reporters choose to make with political leaders they wish to disparage.

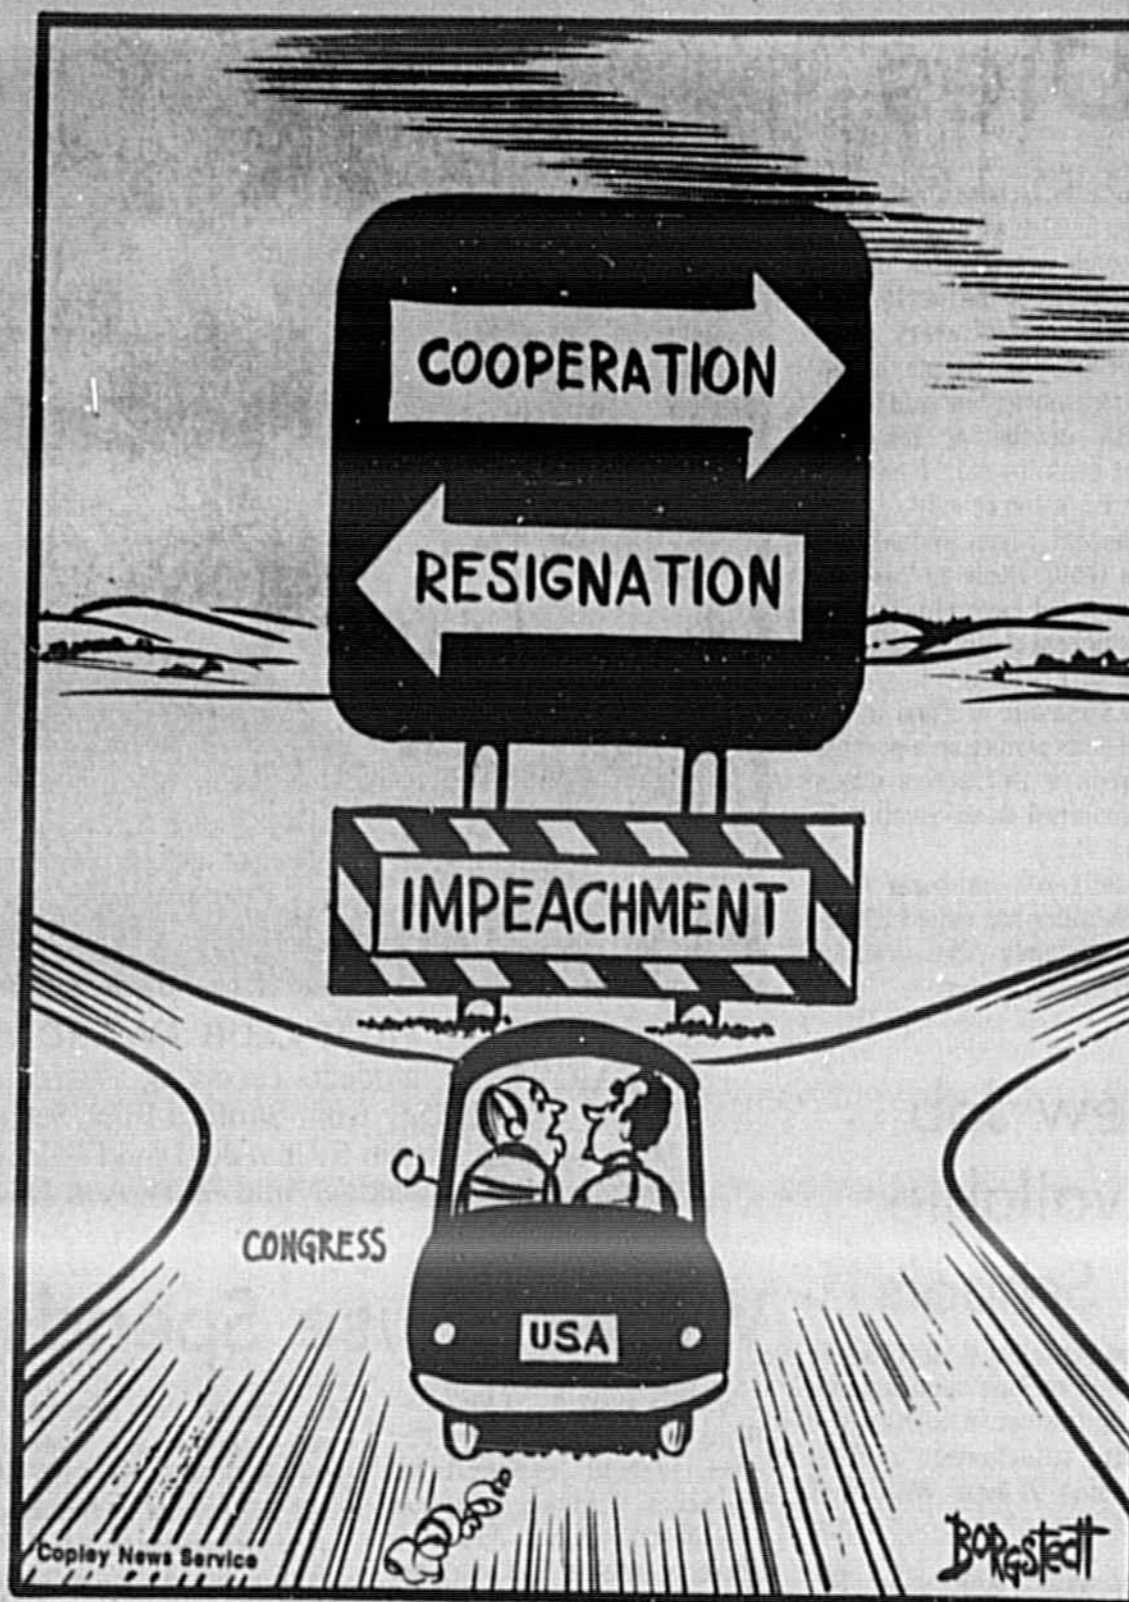

Let us hope that the power to corrupt which the press so demonstrably has will soon become a thing of the past. Let us hope too that the passing of this abuse of power will be hastened by responsible media editors who thoughtfully balance and preserve the power to expose corruption against the sometimes rude and thoughtless conduct of reporters who wish to report only the sensational.

Can Political Morality Really Be A Possibility?

At each election," he wrote, "we vote in a new set of politicians, insensitively assuming they are better than the set turned out." Mencken also reminded us that the Founding Fathers of the American Republic "were under no illusions as to the nature of the government."

NEW YORK — "Hall the sorrows of the world," observed H.L. Mencken, "are caused by making false assumptions."

A host of false assumptions is being made with the release of those transcripts of tape-recorded presidential conversations. One false assumption is that the transcript of the moral outrage at the tone of the transcripts reveals much about the moralists. For every fact is that there should be, or can be, a high-minded morality in the White House. Clearly the transcripts reveal the naked truth of how men in power really conduct themselves in times of crisis.

H.L. Mencken tried to tell his readers when he was at his height of popularity and influence in the '20s and '30s about the true nature of politics and government.

New Left Began In Berkeley, Died With McGovern Defeat

By RALPH BENNETT

The New Left era in American politics has come to an end.

At one point, demonstrators offered themselves as victims of violence, which they provoked. Later they began to advocate and use violence on others.

The kidnapping of Patricia Hearst represents the most recent and radical perversion of this tendency. The fact that it arouses such general revulsion seems to prove the bankruptcy of the New Left.

The fruits of the New Left have been many. Among the most interesting is what's left of the New Left attitudes in the minds of those who participate.

One of them, Suzannah Lessard, writing in the Washington Monthly, gives a personal testimonial.

Not surprisingly, her own participation in the strikes at Columbia University has left her with a legacy of reactions that are the reverse of those of the New Left. It amounts to a total rejection of the revolutionary style.

First, she says, she now holds "an almost doctrinaire belief in free speech," resulting from her repugnance at having Gerald Lee Warren is one of the finest gentlemen ever to grace the profession we boastfully often list as the Fourth Estate. But, Warren also has shown himself to be a fool, and it's too bad.

Warren, for the benefit of those who don't follow the White House press relations cat and mouse game, is deputy press secretary to President Nixon. He is the punching bag for the Washington press, assigned to that job by his boss, the less glibly and less believable but more arrogant and more powerful Ronald Ziegler, Nixon's No. 1 mouthpiece.

Every day Warren gets belted by the most antagonistic of the White House press corps and this is making him look much older than his handsome 44 years, come Aug. 17.

Two unrelated studies disclose that the United States is now paying 86 per cent of the cost of maintaining the Saigon regime and that it may be dependent upon American aid for the rest of this century.

President Nixon is asking for $2.4 billion in military and economic aid for Saigon for the coming year. This amounts to 32 per cent of the total U.S. aid for the entire world. Counting Laos and Cambodia, the embattled peninsula will get close to half of all U.S. aid.

The studies were conducted by the Indochina Resource Center, a private research group which keeps a close watch on Southeast Asian affairs, and by NARMIC, a project of The American Friends Service Committee.

South Vietnam's economy, when the studies, "in the manner of a heroin user, is addicted to American aid." They quote a confidential World Bank study, which concludes Saigon will still require $770 million a year in 1980 and $300 million to $450 million in 1990. Looking beyond 1990, the World Bank claims, "Saigon will continue to remain highly dependent on foreign aid."

In short, the studies contend that the Saigon government is an "artificial state," kept afloat mainly by the generosity of the American taxpayers.

The biggest drain on the South Vietnamese economy, charge the studies, is corruption. "Certainly more than a few (Saigon) subjects are millionaires or nearly so," the documents state, and "there are probably several hundred" who together could pay the government's bills "each year for a decade hence."

These South Vietnamese profiteers are able to escape heavy taxation. Consequently, state the reports, "indigenous Vietnamese tax revenues have not at any time in the last decade produced more than 15 per cent of the total resources spent to sustain" the government.

CLOSING COSTS: Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., has been trying to lower real estate closing costs, a racket that costs the homebuyers $1.1 billion a year.

But he has been outmaneuvered in the backrooms by Sen. Bill Brock, R-Tenn., the handsome banker's son who seems to take his signals from the counting houses.

As private correspondence between the two antagonists show, Proxmire thought he could bring his subcommittee around to forcing the Housing and Urban Development Department to crack down on closing costs.

But Brock wanted to take this power away from the government, leaving homeowners to the tender mercies of title companies, title searchers and insurers, real estate lawyers and others who profit from high closing costs.

Brock offered some reforms in a double play that would also strip the government of its authority to regulate closing costs.

Enticed by the reforms, even such consumer men as Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., Adlai Stevenson, D-Ill., and Bob Packwood, R-Ore., supported Brock's maneuver.

Meanwhile, in the House, Rep. Leonor Sullivan, D-Mo., was so upset over a parallel move by Rep. Robert Stephens, D-Ga., to amend the House Banking Committee. "It would be extremely unwise," she pleaded with them, to accept the Stephens measure.

FOOTNOTE: Brock insisted to us that he has the best interests of homebuyers, not banks, at heart. Consumer men who voted with Brock said they were getting the best bill possible, under the circumstances.

Refuse Plant Explodes

PORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — An unexplained explosion may cause the city of Fort Lauderdale to rely on Broward County waste disposal facilities for the next few days.

The city's only disposal plant was shut down Thursday after a crusher and grinder blades struck "an explosive material," causing a blast comparable to that of a case of dynamite, police spokesmen said.

Engineers will survey the $10 million plant today for a damage estimate. Slightly injured in the afternoon blast, which contained behind steel doors, were three plant employees, Arthur Greenberg, 54; Austin Jones, 32; and Willie Roberts, 36.

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Two state agriculture department employees were burned to death in the wreckage of a helicopter which crashed as they were surveying palm trees.

Pilot Walter Knight and Jim Knowles of the department's Miami office died after the leased helicopter burst into flames after crashing near a mobile home park Thursday on Big Coppitt Key near Key West, police said.

A third man, John Kryzaleski, was pulled from the wreckage by witnesses. He was reported hospitalized in serious condition.

Rapist Gets Life Term

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A young man who confessed two rapes and an attempted rape has been sentenced to life in prison, beginning at a state mental hospital.

Circuit Judge John S. Cox sentenced Thomas Eugene Henery, 31, Thursday after determining he had a mentally disordered sex offender. Two psychiatrists recommended treatment at the Chathamcoche Mental Hospital.

If rehabilitated to the point where he no longer is considered a threat to society, the judge said Henery would be transferred to the state prison system to finish his term.

Duo Robs Tampa Bank

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Two armed persons, one of whom may have been a woman disguised as a man, have robbed the Carrollwood State Bank of an undetermined amount of cash, authorities say.

FBI agents said a tall man about 45 armed with a pistol and a short person about 35 with a sawed-off shotgun escaped from the Thursday robbery in at least two cars.

There was no immediate estimate on the amount of money taken.

Shields On Probation

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Reubin Askew has met with Natural Resources Director Harmon Shields to assure him he won't try to oust him in July, says Askew's press secretary.

"He wanted to assure him that he would not oust right when he gets the next Cabinet appointment," Don Priddy said Thursday.

College 'Padding' Costs Florida $12 Million

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Enrollment padding in graduate schools is costing Florida $12 million a year or more, says Rep. William C. Nelson, D-Melbourne.

Nelson told Gannett News Service Thursday that a staff study of information from the Board of Regents showed that padding increased full-time enrollment figures by 15 per cent.

School funding is based on full-time equivalent (FTE) enrollment figures. The more classes students enroll for, the more money a university receives.

Florida State University President Stanley Marshall decried Wednesday that padding exists at FSU.

The controversy arose in March when the House appropriations subcommittee found a memorandum from an FSU student supervisor encouraging students to sign up for extra courses in the English graduate program.

Nelson said he had found memos at other schools which "indicate clearly that there was an intent to pad because they realized they could get more money."

One was written to other faculty members by Dr. John McFerrin, associate dean of the College of Business at the University of Florida. Gannett said it read in part: "The FTE population is the

Glenn Turner Awaits Jax Jury Decision

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Glenn W. Turner and seven business associates who rode his contagious enthusiasm to a six-year fling among millions of dollars awaited a federal court jury's decision today on whether the fling will end in prison.

After nearly nine months in the courtroom, the jury got the mail fraud case at 4:20 p.m. Thursday.

The seven women and five men recessed for the night little over 30 minutes later.

U.S. District Judge Gerald B. Tjoflat recommended that the jurors work from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily until they reach a unanimous decision. He said they could add night sessions if they wished.

The eight were indicted on 26 counts of mail fraud, conspiracy, and other offenses. The jury took more than two hours to explain the indictment and how to apply the law after government attorneys finished 11 days of final arguments.

If jurors want to look at accumulated evidence, there are three filing cabinets and innumerable cardboard boxes full of more than 1,000 exhibits. Included are films and tapes, some of which they saw months ago.

To convict a defendant of mail fraud, the judge told the jurors, "you must agree that the government proved specific intent to defraud persons, to deceive persons."

On the conspiracy count, the judge said they must believe that the government proved that two or more conspired and must consider whether each defendant knowingly and willfully took part.

The government charged that the defendants organized Kosco Interplanetary Inc., a cosmetics firm, in 1967 and two years later added Dare To Be Great Inc., a company to sell motivational courses based on Turner's philosophy of optimism and self-confidence; then using the companies to defraud numerous investors in distributorships by failing to supply sufficient retail products.

In his closing argument, special prosecutor Michael Kinney said tax returns of the companies had a gross income

Water Bill Sparks Bitter Fight In House

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — A Senate bill to allow big counties to cross boundaries to obtain water from smaller neighbors has sparked a bitter rural vs. urban fight in the House.

The bill, CS-SB504, must first clear the Finance and Taxation Committee before it can go to the full House for action today.

In the Senate, a bill by President pro tempore Louis de la Parte to reorganize the massive Health and Rehabilitative Services Department is up for reconsideration.

The Senate approved the bill, SB518, Thursday with an amendment tacked on that would delay implementation for at least a year.

The Senate also is scheduled to hear a bill to permit the state Transportation Department to lease space over highways for buildings.

De la Parte's concept would do away with such HRS divisions as corrections, mental health, and youth services. Instead, the bill would create 11 regional directors to administer the agency's services to the blind, retarded and disabled.

House opponents of the water management bill successfully forced the issue into committee after raising a point of order that the measure had tax consequences not yet considered.

The bill would let a county use its condemnation power to obtain water from another county, providing that the county giving up the water has ample supplies for its needs.

The House sponsor, Rep. Guy Spicola, D-Tampa, labored to strike a compromise which provides that the five existing water management districts would have to approve any transfer of water from one county to another. But the compromise appeared on shaky ground.

"There are ample safeguards for the water-rich counties," Spicola said. "You still have to get a permit from the water management district before you can transfer water from one county to another."

Rep. Ralph Haben, D-Milmette, contended that such approval was no guarantee a county's interest in protecting its water would be protected.

"If you're a little teeny county and you're in a water management district with four or five big counties who do you think will determine if you've got excess water?" he asked.

Joint Panel Mulls State Budget Bill

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — With scheduled adjournment only a week away, the 16 members of the House-Senate conference committee appointed to iron out differences in the state's $4.5 billion spending bill soon set to work.

Soon after members of the committee were named Thursday, they held an organizational meeting and quickly approved a working proposal for $4.1 billion in state employee benefits.

Rep. Marshall Harris, D-Miami and chairman of the pay raise proposal committee, said only tentative, with final figures depending on how much money was cut from other areas.

Harris predicted that the final spending bill would be "substantially lower" than either the $4.5 billion appropriated by the Senate or the $4.4 billion in the House measure.

"The economic outlook is such that we would prefer budgeting well below anticipated revenue," Harris said.

Fern Park Man Drowns

A 21-year-old Fern Park man drowned late Thursday after his canoe overturned in Prairie Lake and falls by his brother to save him effort, Seminole County Sheriff's spokesman said today.

William Mack Runyan, 600 Prairie Lake Drive, was pulled from the lake by Forest City Fire Department divers and pronounced dead at the scene.

Runyan's brother, Kenneth, told police they were taking turns paddling the one-man canoe when his brother cried for help about 35 feet offshore.

Insulation. Believe it or not, you need it as much down here as they do up there.

People who live up North know the value of good home insulation. How it keeps the cold out, the warm in and the heating bills down.

But, what many people who live down here don't realize, is that the reverse holds true as well. Good home insulation can help keep the heat out, the cool in and the air conditioning bills down.

Six inches of ceiling insulation alone can make a substantial difference in your electric bill. Enough to cover the cost of the insulation in a season or two. And any local insulation contractor will be happy to tell you how and how much.

Install your home insulation soon. And this summer the temperature won't be the only thing you keep down.

Ex-President Sought In Hospital Probe

MIAMI (AP) — Sanford Brownstein, who was head of Cedar's of Lebanon Hospital when a wing was demolished by President Nixon four months ago, is reportedly wanted on more than 60 charges involving $67,000 paid to a non-existent firm.

The Miami News said Thursday that the Dade County state attorney's office was investigating the possibility that some of the money went to make payments in return for favorable action from the Federal Housing Authority on a $75-million hospital expansion.

Four Brownstein associates and two Brownstein-related companies have been charged in connection with the hospital's financial troubles.

Cedar's has filed in federal bankruptcy court for reorganization. Court records show Cedar's owes $12 million to more than 600 creditors and has defaulted on FHA-insured mortgages for $13.8 million.

Investigators said they have enlisted FBI and Interpol aid in the search for Brownstein.

"One thing is certain," State Atty. Richard E. Gerstein said. "He can run but he can't hide. Sooner or later we're going to locate him and we're going to extradite him to stand trial, if that is necessary."

The charges against Brownstein, 48, include grand larceny, forging or directing another to forge checks, and cashing forged checks. Gerstein said the charges claim Brownstein faked endorsements on $67,000 worth of checks written to a non-existent Jamaican architectural firm, he said.

Pastor's Corner

By REV. E.A. REUSCHER
Redeemer Lutheran Church

After a very dry four months, the past few weeks have seen the return of the spring rains in Florida. And with the showers there comes a reminder of a precious promise made long ago by our Lord: "I do set my bow in the clouds and it shall be a token of a covenant between Me and the earth."
The next time you look at the rainbow, remember God's unchangeableness and His unity. He has set limits on His actions toward you by the definite promises He has made to you. He cannot deny Himself. He is both just and merciful. He is both holy and gracious.
Look at the rainbow and remember His faithfulness. It's as if God's eye meets yours at the rainbow. As we on earth look up at the rainbow, it nourishes our trust. As God looks at the rainbow, it moves Him to love and mercy. Even in the widest sweep of His most stormy judgments, there are those people whom He remembers in mercy, for He

State Lutherans Hold Convention

Ministers and delegates from 120 congregations of the Florida Synod, Lutheran Church in America meet for their annual convention today through Sunday at DuPont Plaza Hotel in Miami.
A service of celebration will open the weekend event in which there will be a procession with banners and other symbols of thanksgiving, along with a thanksgiving to be given to eight new mission congregations under development.
Among major considerations covering the life and work of the church is one that will lead either to re-locating the office headquarters in Tampa, or enlarging the present facility located on Cypress St. in Tampa. A revision of the constitution is also scheduled to conform with a recent restructuring plan which

Integration Mood Changes In South

By MARIAN FOX
Associated Press Writer
On Sunday mornings in Memphis, a 66-year-old white realtor drives his mother-in-law to her church. Then, he picks up a white-haired black grandmother and they drive to their church. He is the only white member.
"Neither woman knows about the other," he said, asking not to be identified. "My mother-in-law doesn't know my church is black. My cousins don't know it either and none of my friends do. My wife knows. She doesn't understand, but she loves me and tries to accept it."
Four years ago, the Methodist church he attends had more than 700 members, all white. The pews were full and the collection plates were heavy. But the racial complexion of the north Memphis neighborhood was changing, and the congregation voted 700-14 to move to the white suburbs, leaving the old church to blacks.
"The last Sunday there was a big crowd, like Easter," the realtor said. "Even a pipe organ. One woman was crying. I told her she didn't have to leave. The new black pastor and 14 black members came in and it was quiet as death. Then the new pastor spent 15 minutes making a beautiful talk, asking the whites to stay."
Some whites did stay, for awhile, but eventually all but the realtor were gone, "not because there weren't people to serve, but because there weren't white people there," he said.
White churches throughout the South have faced similar decisions.
In most instances, when a neighborhood has gone from white to black, the church has undergone the same color change.
But while white Southern churches are fleeing changing neighborhoods and "skirting the issue of racial integration, there is also a kind of new openness" toward blacks, said the Rev. John Trantham, a

Unity Eludes Protestants

By CLAIRE COX
The Herald Services
NEW YORK — Hopes were high when the leader of one of the nation's major denominations stood in a San Francisco pulpit 14 years ago and appealed for unification of the mainstream of American Protestantism.
Today that goal is still eluding denominational leaders seeking union, and the man who conceived the idea has broadened and deepened his view of ecumenism.
The Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake was state clerk of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. in 1960 when he set forth his dream of one major Protestant church body in America. He went from that post to become general secretary of the World Council of Churches, the nearest thing to a truly ecumenical body in the world.
Now, in retirement, Blake is taking a new look at the subject of reunion. He outlined his views in "Four Roads to Unity," an article he wrote for A.D., a magazine jointly published by his denomination and the United Church of Christ.
Today Blake sees a need for pursuing four major styles of unity, which he regards as "not alternatives, one better than another."
"Rather," he said, "all are required of us."
He arrived at his conclusions after seeing years of negotiations by the Consultation on Church Union fail to achieve a common organization. As a matter of fact, his own denomination, the United

World Vision Appeals For Cambodian Peace

LOS ANGELES — The representing the Christian humanitarian agency in the United States, Canada, Australia and New Zealand, have appealed to all parties involved in Cambodia to let the Khmer people work out their problems without outside interference.
Dr. W. Stanley Mooneyham, president, emphasized that "this is not to be interpreted as a call for unilateral withdrawal by any single power, but rather a plea for all external forces to help the Khmer people find a peaceful solution to what is really an internal problem."
"So senseless is the slaughter of human beings and so absurd is the ravaging of the land that all nations involved and interested should immediately exert every diplomatic effort to stop it in the name of God and humanity," said Mooneyham.

After a very dry four months, the past few weeks have seen the return of the spring rains in Florida. And with the showers there comes a reminder of a precious promise made long ago by Our Lord: "I do set my bow in the clouds and it shall be for a token of a covenant between Me and the earth."

The next time you look at the rainbow, remember God's unchangeableness and His unity. He has set limits on His actions toward you by the definite promises He has made to you. He cannot deny Himself. He is both just and merciful. He is both holy and gracious.

Look at the rainbow and remember His faithfulness. It's as if God's eye meets yours at the rainbow. As we on earth look up at the rainbow, it nourishes our trust. As God looks at the rainbow, it moves Him to love and mercy. Even in the widest sweep of His most stormy judgments, there are those people whom He remembers in mercy, for He has said: "There is now therefore no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus." Are you one of them?

Look at the rainbow and let it be for you a symbol of God's mercy blending with His judgment. As it arches from earth to heaven to earth again, it tells us of His all-embracing care for us. It unites earth to heaven and heaven to earth.

Look at the rainbow and see it as a symbol of your Savior. He is "the same yesterday, today, and forever." He is the fullest expression of God's faithfulness. He is the only Advocate for every man who sins, who by virtue of His Cross can plead with His Father and our Father to remember us in mercy when we anger Him by our transgressions. He is the God incarnate, God in human flesh, Who unites God with men and men with God.

With the coming of the spring rains, be sure to take a good look into the rainbow!

State Lutherans Hold Convention

Ministers and delegates from 120 congregations of the Florida Synod, Lutheran Church in America meet for their annual convention today through Sunday at DuPont Plaza Hotel in Miami. A service of celebration will open the weekend event in which there will be a procession with banners and other symbols of thanksgiving, along with a thankoffering to be given to eight new mission congregations under development.

Among major considerations covering the life and work of the church is one that will lead either to re-locating the office headquarters in Tampa, or enlarging the present facility located on Cypress St. in Tampa. A revision of the constitution is also scheduled to conform with a recent restructuring plan which makes mission primary, and function adjusted accordingly.

President Royall A. Yount of Tampa will preside.

A Youth Convo for sixty-two persons will meet with the convention under the leadership of youth staffer Dwight DuBois of Clearwater. It will be a learning experience for them as well as direct involvement in the work of the church.

Theological presentations will be made by Dr. Frank H. Seihamer, president of Hamma Seminary in Springfield, Ohio. The national body will be represented by the Rev. Ralph E. Eckard of New York, Assistant to the President of the Church.

The convention will close Sunday morning with the service of Holy Communion in St. Peter Lutheran Church.

Florida membership of 46,382 showed a gain of nearly 1,800 in 1973.

Integration Mood Changes In South

By MARIAN FOX
Associated Press Writer

On Sunday mornings in Memphis, a 66-year-old white realtor drives his mother-in-law to her church. Then, he picks up a white-haired black grandmother and they drive to their church. He is the only white member.

"Neither woman knows about the other," he said, asking not to be identified. "My mother-in-law doesn't know my church is black. My cousins don't know it either and none of my friends do. My wife knows. She doesn't understand, but she loves me and tries to accept it."

Four years ago, the Methodist church he attends had more than 700 members, all white. The pews were full and the collection plates were heavy. But the racial complexion of the north Memphis neighborhood was changing, and the congregation voted 700-14 to move to the white suburbs, leaving the old church to blacks.

"The last Sunday there was a big crowd, like Easter," the realtor said. "Even a pipe organ. One woman was crying. I told her she didn't have to leave. The new black pastor and 14 black members came in and it was quiet as death. Then the new pastor spent 15 minutes making a beautiful talk, asking the whites to stay."

Some whites did stay, for awhile, but eventually all but the realtor were gone, "not because there weren't people to serve, but because there weren't white people there," he said.

White churches throughout the South have faced similar decisions.

In most instances, when a neighborhood has gone from white to black, the church has undergone the same color change.

But while white Southern churches are fleeing changing neighborhoods and "skirting the issue of racial integration, there is also a kind of new openness" toward blacks, said the Rev. John Trantman, a white Baptist minister in Memphis.

Many Southern churches profess "open visitation" for blacks.

Blacks who visit McLaurin Heights Methodist Church in Pearl, Miss., are met with a "warm and receptive" welcome, said the Rev. Clifton Whitlock, pastor. The church has no black members.

In Mobile, Ala., members of Bay View Heights Baptist Church have "never made an issue of integration," said the Rev. Samuel Phillips. "We don't go out and put on a campaign of welcome, but they are welcome."

Adventists Meet At Forest City

The Florida Conference of Seventh-day Adventists opens its annual eight-day camp meeting tonight on the campus of Forest Lake Academy, SR 436, in Forest City with 6,000 Adventists expected to attend. Members attending will stay in tents, campers, trailers and dormitories.

Henry J. Caruba of Forest City, new conference president will be presiding for the first time. Glen Cavenaugh, of Forest City, will be among the ministers ordained at tonight's opening session.

Speaker Saturday at the 8:15 and 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. services will be Neal C. Wilson of Washington, D.C., vice president of the North American Division of Seventh-day Adventist Church.

H.M.S. Richards of the "Voice of Prophecy" radio program, who will be featured at the 7:30 p.m. service Sunday, will be among the outstanding speakers scheduled.

The church's ministers, Rev. William Pickett and Rev. Ken Miller will be attending the annual conference of Florida United Methodist churches in Lakeland Monday through Friday. Rev. Miller will be ordained Tuesday night as an elder.

Holy Cross Episcopal

William MacGowan, organist and choirmaster of Bethesda-by-the-Sea Church, Palm Beach, will present a recital June 2 at 7:30 p.m. on the Casavant pipe organ at Holy Cross Episcopal Church. There is no charge for the event which is open to the public.

Unity Eludes Protestants

By CLAIRE COX
The Herald Services

NEW YORK — Hopes were high when the leader of one of the nation's major denominations stood in a San Francisco pulpit 14 years ago and appealed for unification of the mainstream of American Protestantism.

Today that goal is still eluding denominational leaders seeking union, and the man who conceived the idea has broadened and deepened his view of ecumenism.

The Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake was state clerk of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. in 1960 when he set forth his dream of one major Protestant church body in America. He went from that post to become general secretary of the World Council of Churches, the nearest thing to a truly ecumenical body in the world.

Now, in retirement, Blake is taking a new look at the subject of reunion. He outlined his views in "Four Roads to Unity," an article he wrote for A.D., a magazine jointly published by his denomination and the United Church of Christ.

Today Blake sees a need for pursuing four major styles of unity, which he regards as "not alternatives, one better than another."

"Rather," he said, "all are required of us."

He arrived at his conclusions after seeing years of negotiations by the Consultation on Church Union fail to achieve a common organization. As a matter of fact, his own denomination, the United Presbyterians, dropped out of the talks several years ago.

Here are the four roads to true ecumenism now being mapped by Blake:

1. The formation of councils, conferences or federations of churches at various levels, from local to global. He observed that "given the shocking division of the one church, the least we can do as local separated churches and denominations is to establish and support serious such groupings as have grown up all over the world in this century."
2. Consortia of various groupings of churches and their agencies to serve and act together to provide programs that either cannot be carried out separately or that can be carried out more effectively as a joint effort.
3. Anti-establishment movements—rebel religious groups, house churches and the like. These are "movements of impatient ecumenists" unwilling to wait for the "glacier-like" slowness of official "ecumenical decision or approval," Blake said.
4. "I am prejudiced in favor of legality. . . But I have come to the conviction that church history illustrates too often that truth and goodness turn out to have been on the side of the church rebel."

World Vision Appeals For Cambodian Peace

LOS ANGELES — The combined Board of Directors of World Vision International, representing the Christian humanitarian agency in the United States, Canada, Australia and New Zealand, have appealed to all parties involved in Cambodia to let the Khmer people work out their problems without outside interference.

Dr. W. Stanley Mooneyham, president, emphasized that "this is not to be interpreted as a call for unilateral withdrawal by any single power, but rather a plea for all external forces to help the Khmer people find a peaceful solution to what is really an internal problem."

"So senseless is the slaughter of human beings and so absurd is the ravaging of the land that all nations involved and interested should immediately exert every diplomatic effort to stop it in the name of God and humanity," said Mooneyham.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

SATURDAY, MAY 25, 1974 SUNDAY, MAY 26, 1974

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The day starts out in a very adverse manner. Early, it is advisable to use special care not to say or do anything that could upset anyone. Later, you see ways to improve your operative skill at home, or where property interests with others are concerned.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Discuss with family best ways of having more accord and prosperity. Some ambition can be spent in a most efficient way.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Talk over with associates in a.m. how to have greater mutual success. Confer with accountant to learn what your financial position is.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Your monetary affairs are confusing in a.m., but by being practical you can straighten them out. Your husband isn't good during day, but later are excellent.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): You feel discontented in a.m., but keep busy and conditions change for the better. Let others who have the practical know-how for such.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): You have excellent ideas that will gain cooperation and create better understanding. Enjoy social pleasure later. TV viewing is good in p.m.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Although a pal can be disappointing in a.m., this person is planning how to assist you. Advance socially in p.m., which is fine for group meetings.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Endeavor to get your talents before the right people and commercialize on them and make a big impression on the public in general. A social p.m.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Get all information possible about some new project before you get into it, to avoid problems. Plan now for that trip you want to take later.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Keep promises and handle government matters well. Then go out to dinner with mate and have a fine time. Watch your wallet.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Learn what partners desire of you and try to please them. Have more harmony and profits. Avoid a troublemaker. Be wise.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Do work that is hardly pleasurable, but important. You then make time for more interesting outlets, and for more profitable ones. Keep health high.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Get dull work out of the way and later you can enjoy recreational activities. But don't spend too much. Be kind and devoted.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will find it difficult to get along with certain persons or conditions early in life, and will want a myriad of little things to do in solitude since the nerves are very sensitive here, and will require more rest and good food than others. Then later your child can compete with anyone and come out the winner. The field of business is fine here, or any artistic pursuit as well, or in conjunction thereof.

Sorority Member

Sandra Sprigg, Casselberry, was hostess for a recent meeting of Pi Rho Chapter, of Beta Sigma Phi. Upon entering the door, guests were given name tags of famous persons which were placed on their backs. Later, the names were identified by the questions asked, which could only be answered by a 'yes' or 'no'.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Candle Pointer Sparks Sellout. DEAR POLLY—Your "Use vanilla candles to kill cigarette odor" sold nearly every vanilla candle in our town. I am blessed with an apartment that has a storage space of an inset balcony but its door never fit tightly at the bottom so this space stunk musty when we moved here—not damp musty, but dust musty. Well, there may be a bit of dampness, too. I had no choice but to store my balcony furniture, Christmas decorations and so on in there. The door has been fixed and the damp smell I can prevent by using a commercial product. But how do I get rid of that musty dust smell? I do not have any place to sun these items and even wonder if there is some sort of incense that could be safely burned and would hopefully permeate and overpower the smell. Somehow I just know you will come up with an answer. Thanks for just being you.

Fashion Tips

QUACK QUACK There's a new kind of shoe around. It makes you waddle like a duck because the heel is lower than the toe. Walking takes practice. Once mastered, many wearers claim the shoes reverse tilt, relieve backache. Certainly worth the waddle. (No comment from doctors yet.)

Voight Loves The Stage, But He Wants Comedy Role

EDITOR'S NOTE - Movie actor Jon Voight's star is rising. But he says he needs to appear on stage from time to time to keep in training as an actor. He's just filmed "The Odessa File," a suspense thriller, and he wouldn't mind a role in a comedy for his next film.

TONIGHT'S TV

8-8:30 CBS DIRTY SALLY "Too Long to Wait" (REBUN) Veteran actress Beulah Bondi plays an old blind woman who lives in the wilderness, and she is waiting for her grandson to return home so she can die in peace. Sally and Pike try to get her to move out of the broken-down shack, but she won't budge. In town, they hear news of the grandson and Michael Burns, is the other feature. It concerns a young married couple whose overall marriage plan has been upset by signs the wife may become a mother sooner than expected. This nearly breaks up the happy home.

9-11 CBS THE CBS FRIDAY NIGHT MOVIE Double-feature tonight. "Coffee, Team or Me" is the first film, and it stars Karen Valentine as an airline stewardess who balances two marriages, one to a medical student in Los Angeles and the other to a struggling artist in London. "Young Love," starring Meredith Baxter and Michael Burns, is the other feature. It concerns a young married couple whose overall marriage plan has been upset by signs the wife may become a mother sooner than expected. This nearly breaks up the happy home.

Unusual Diet Works

NOTTINGHAM, England (AP) — "I'll never eat bread and potatoes again in my life."

So vowed Jeremy Turner, the British housewife who had her jaws clenched together for six months to lose weight. It worked. Mrs. Turner lost 100 pounds, dropping from 247 pounds to 146. She survived the drastic diet by sipping liquid foods.

Mrs. Turner, 36, had her jaws unclenched after they began to ache.

"The pain was red hot, my face felt swollen, I couldn't sleep," she said. Her doctors said they thought she had diabetes.

"I feel beautiful. I'll never slip back to being fat," she said. "I'm glad I did it, but I wouldn't recommend it to anyone else."

Communist Cuba Voting

MIAMI (AP) — Some half million Cubans are taking part in an election for the first time since Fidel Castro came to power in 1959, according to Havana Radio.

The Communist Party newspaper Granma and radio broadcasts monitored in Miami call the project "a democratic, secret ballot election."

In Matanzas Province, east of Havana Province, all residents over the age of 16 are casting ballots for delegates to municipal, regional and provincial governing councils.

Party officials describe it as a pilot project to determine whether the scheme will work on a nationwide basis.

Palestinian Tells Of Death Raids

TIBERIAS, Israel (AP) — A captured Palestinian terrorist who said his squad was interested in a Russian rifle and hand grenades was killed in the heavy scorch of hills south of the Lebanese border.

The English-speaking Palestinian captive told newsmen his band had been sent to Israel to seize hostages and demand the release of 30 guerrillas held in Israel.

Then, if the demands were not met, they were to "blow up the houses we had captured with the hostages and ourselves as well," he said. "There would be a massacre."

The guerrillas crossed from Syria armed with automatic rifles, 30 grenades, 22 pounds of high explosives and bulletproof vests. The English-speaking Palestinian command announced their targets reportedly were the fishing settlements of Haon and Ein-Gev.

The squad carried messages to the ambassadors of Japan, France, Austria and Romania to negotiate the exchange of prisoners, the command said.

Israel said the commandos were trained for a month in Syria before they were sent into the Golan. "After fierce clashes, the remaining squads managed to break through the Israeli ring and reach their base safely," a communique said.

Israelis mentioned no high explosives and bulletproof vests.

Israel And Syria Closer To Disengagement Pact

JERUSALEM (AP) — With new life pumped into its peace negotiations by talks in Damascus and Jerusalem, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger met with Israeli leaders today, two days before he plans to leave the Middle East for Washington.

A senior U.S. official said Kissinger would return to the Saturday, hoping to wrap up an agreement separating the two countries' hostile armies in the Golan Heights.

Either way, the official said, Kissinger will go home on Sunday—the 28th day of his marathon shuttle diplomatic mission.

The official said Thursday night that Israel and Syria were "considerably closer" to agreement on thinning their forces than he had been 24 hours earlier.

He said the progress came after Kissinger offered suggestions privately to Israeli Premier Golda Meir and later to President Hafez Assad of Syria in 41 hours of talks.

Kissinger also reportedly made progress on determining the size of the United Nations force that will patrol the thinned-out regions and a buffer zone between the armies. A 15-kilometer mine field reportedly is to be used.

It is his judgment that we

The Church... OUR NATION! ...THE HOPE OF OUR COMMUNITY, THE HOPE OF OUR NATION!

How DOES your garden grow? The mystery of life and growth was one our daughter took for granted...

So my wife took over the answering department. God makes things grow! That made much more sense to Mary.

At graduation time, we fully realize that our sons and daughters need a spiritual foundation for all other knowledge. They will find it in the Church.
