'Who's' best teachers

Sanford, Lake Mary, Longwood educators chosen by students

By VICKI BOGGERMAN
Herald Staff Writer

Students can sometimes be a teacher's harshest critic, but when it comes down to it, the students will give credit where it is due.

This week, the second edition of Who's Who Among America's Teachers was published. The book includes teachers who were named as the best by some of their former students. The students were those who have been named to the Who's Who Among American High School

Students or the National Dean's List.

According to Jackie Smith, a spokesman for Educational Communication Incorporated, the company that publishes the three books, students must maintain a grade point average of at least 3.0 on a four-point scale and be involved in school or community activity.

"These are the top five percent of students in this country," Smith said. "So when they name these teachers as the ones who were the greatest influence on them they must be very special teachers."

Paul Krouse, publisher of the books said there is no better way for a student to thank a former teacher for all he or she has done.

"There is no greater honor teachers can receive than to be recognized by former students for their excellence and dedication," he said. "In this publication we clearly have the best teachers in America selected by the best students."

The teachers were nominated because they had "made a difference in the lives of the students," Krouse said, by helping to shape the students' lives. See Teachers, Page 5A

Seminole High School Homecoming

Parade bursts through downtown; game tonight

SANFORD — Though normally silent after the shops close up at 5 p.m., First Street in Downtown Sanford bustled with activity last evening.

Escorted by five motorcycle officers from the Sanford Police Department, the Seminole High School Homecoming Parade burst through downtown along First Street from in front of the New Tribe's Mission to the Magnolia Mall.

Marching bands representing Seminole High, as well as Sanford and Lakeview middle schools and Goldsboro and Hamilton elementary schools, heralded in the parade of floats and exotic cars which carried the homecoming court.

Several local dignitaries, including Mayor Bettye Smith, Sheriff Don Ealinger, school board members Nancy Warren and Jeanne Morris, Seminole principal Gretchen Schapker and Supt. Paul Hagerty, rode in the parade as well.

Longwood opponents dispute cop protection

Lovestrand says work left to do

By GEORGE DUNCAN
Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — District 5 incumbent on the Longwood City Commission, Paul Lovestrand is running for re-election because his job isn't done yet.

"I want to go on with the police consolidation and to continue to get the city back on its financial feet. We've come a long way," he said.

A proponent of police consolidation, Lovestrand said the change will save the city up to $800,000.

"We get equal service at a better price. When it (consolidation) passes, I will be the commissioner who makes the motion to lower the price." See Lovestrand, Page 5A

Goldberg focus is on protection

By GEORGE DUNCAN
Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — To Larry Goldberg, the central issue in the campaign for the Longwood City Commission District 5 is police consolidation. And he's strongly against it.

"If people want to keep the Longwood police, they should vote for me. If they don't want the police, they should vote for my opponent," he said.

An 18-year resident of the city, Goldberg said he entered the race because "I didn't like the idea that they are going to try to get rid of our police." See Goldberg, Page 5A

Worldly charm fills grand rooms

By DEL FREEMAN
Herald Correspondent

SANFORD — Jone (yes, it's Jon with an "e"), and Paul Porter have turned the old Meisch home into their own unique living space, without sacrificing one iota of its old-world charm. Though furnished primarily in contemporary style, at least one striking period piece catches the eye in every room: such as the knee-hole desk with glass-fronted display cases on each side, which Jone received as a gift from a friend in Illinois.

"That's going in the living room" she said, in preparation for the home's appearance on the Sanford Historic Trust Tour of Homes in December.

And it will fit nicely in the living room underneath the teardrop chandelier, facing the large brick fireplace which is flanked by one of several sets of french doors throughout the house, all complete with their original brass and cut glass. See Home, Page 5A

Jone Porter relaxes by her brick fireplace, in front of original french doors.

FLORIDA BRIEFS

Guardman pleads innocent to charges

MIAMI (AP) — A National Guardsman accused of fatally stabbing three young people during the Hurricane Andrew relief effort pleaded innocent to rape and murder charges.

Steven Scott Coleman of Tampa faces three counts of first-degree murder and two counts of sexual assault with a deadly weapon in the Sept. 29 deaths on Florida International University's campus.

Coleman, who was off-duty but had his Florida National Guard uniform on during a night of bar-hopping with the victims, wore a grey suit to his arraignment on Thursday. He remained silent as Public Defender Brian McDonald entered his plea.

Circuit Judge Arthur Snyder set trial for Feb. 22 and gave prosecutors 15 days to show defense attorneys their evidence, including a large folding knife and a bloody, two-fingered gold ring engraved with the word "Steven" that were found near the victims' bodies.

Counseling ahead for spitting couples

MIAMI — With Dade County's divorce rate soaring, spitting couples will soon have to undergo mandatory counseling to learn how to ease stress on their children.

More than 7,500 Dade couples with children are expected to file for divorce in 1992. Divorce is up 15 percent from last year, while other civil suits are down.

That has helped convince Circuit Judge Richard Feder, administrator of the family court, to launch the program in December.

"Parents overcome hostility, but children don't," said Sharon Denaro, director of family operations division of Dade courts. "They may keep those feelings long after the parents have gotten over it..." Many family-law attorneys praise the four-hour classes as an innovative way to help parents channel anger against their ex-spouses without involving their children. "They use their kids as a weapon," attorney Sara Lawrence said.

Officials plan hurricane recovery weekly

CORAL GABLES — Dade County mayors, along with Gov. Lawton Chiles and other top state officials, agreed to weekly planning sessions to coordinate South Florida's recovery from Hurricane Andrew.

"It's important that your people and our people get to know each other so that things can be handled smoothly," Lt. Gov. Buddy MacKay told members of the Dade County League of Cities on Thursday. He had accompanied Chiles and state Department of Community Affairs Secretary Linda Shelley to the meeting.

"We're in it for the long haul. We'll be in it with you for as long as necessary," Chiles told the mayors.

Representatives of state, Dade and local governments will be combined in the new, permanent South Florida Recovery Office. Weekly planning meetings will begin Nov. 5.

Sheriff's deputies file federal lawsuit

Four Brevard County sheriff's deputies have filed a federal lawsuit alleging harassment by Sheriff Jake Miller and nine officers.

The deputies claim the harassment stems from their support of Miller's political opponent.

Fearing reprisals should Miller defeat George DeRise in the Nov. 3 election, the deputies are asking for damages exceeding $50,000, as well as an end to the alleged conduct, said their attorney, Gregory Eisenmenger.

The deputies — T. Dexter Rogers, Robert Aoun, Gregory Shea and Burton "Jimmy" Brown — claim in their lawsuit filed Wednesday that "harassment, threats of reprisals, demotions or discharge," began in April as an attempt to suppress their constitutional right of free speech — particularly their expressions of support for DeRise.

Miller described the lawsuit as "wild allegations." He declined comment on the specific charges made in the complaint.

Judge orders some of evidence released in Gainesville slayings

By Associated Press

GAINESVILLE — The judge in the Gainesville student murder case ruled that much of the evidence against Danny Harold Rolling can be made public.

But Alachua Circuit Judge Stan Morris did order some key items withheld, including crime scene photos, statements the 38-year-old Louisiana drifter made in custody, and some technical reports.

"It is possible that some of this material may impinge on the defendant's right to a fair trial," the judge wrote Thursday. "Nonetheless, this court is well aware that more than two years have passed... The public has a presumptive right of access to this material."

The order stems from a hearing last month in which both prosecutors and defense attorneys asked the judge to seal some evidence in the August 1990 slayings of five Gainesville-area students.

Assistant State Attorney Jim Nilon had argued that personal information about the victims be kept sealed to preserve their "good name," but the judge disagreed.

"Prior case law in this jurisdiction holds that the right of access to public records outweighs the privacy rights of the victims' families," wrote Morris.

Before Rolling was identified as a suspect, police had done extensive background checks on the victims, including their sexual histories, in an effort to find a common link.

The parents of victims Christina Powell and Sonja Larson had written to Morris pleading with him to keep their daughters' personal lives out of the media.

Miss America plugs AIDS awareness

BOSTON (AP) — Lekanza Cornett, the newly crowned 1993 Miss America, helped Gov. William Weld proclaim October "AIDS Awareness Month" in Massachusetts on Thursday.

Wearing a sequined red ribbon on her lapel to signify her solidarity with AIDS sufferers, Cornett said she plans to discuss AIDS awareness, prevention and treatment during her yearlong tenure.

"It's no big mystery that we need more funding," said Cornett of Jacksonville, Fla.

Weld lauded Cornett, 21, for her "caring enough to make AIDS awareness a cause she's going to promote during her reign."

Some of Cornett's friends are infected with the virus, and she has cared for children who have died of AIDS-related illnesses. She volunteers weekly at AIDS hospices in Florida.

Weld said the state had earmarked $25 million for AIDS testing, prevention and education in the current budget, a $6.6 million increase over the previous year.

Columbia astronauts prepare for satellite release today

By SUSAN NIGHTOWER
Associated Press

SPACE CENTER — Columbia's astronauts spent their first day in space preparing for today's release of a laser-reflecting satellite, the main event of the 1½-week shuttle flight.

The crew of five Americans and one Canadian, once settled in orbit after the Thursday afternoon launch, got set to deploy the Laser Geodynamics Satellite, or Lageos.

The aluminum and brass ball, just 2 feet in diameter but weighing 900 pounds, was to be freed from Columbia's cargo bay late this morning. The satellite is studded with 426 prisms, giving it the appearance of a golf ball.

Astronaut Tamara Jernigan, who has prime responsibility for releasing the satellite, checked Lageos and its booster rocket Thursday. Both seemed fine.

Geologists hope to track the slow drifting of continents by firing laser beams at the satellite and measuring the time it takes for the pulses to be reflected back to Earth.

Lageos is identical to a satellite launched by NASA on an unmanned rocket in 1976. It is expected to provide more accurate information on the movement of Earth's crustal plates and improve scientists' understanding of earthquakes.

Italy's space agency made Lageos as well as the attached rocket to boost the satellite into a 3,666-mile-high orbit.

The satellite cost $4 million and the satellite booster $120 million. Italian and U.S. space officials estimate the entire project will cost $160 million.

NASA repeatedly has defended the decision to launch the newest Lageos from a shuttle rather than an unmanned rocket, which would have been cheaper and not risked lives.

Shuttle manager Leonard Nicholson this week said NASA had an agreement with Italy before the Challenger disaster to fly the booster being used for Lageos. "This is a continuation of that commitment," he said.

The astronauts were awakened today with a short, swingy song that Mission Control said was composed by a resident of Peoria, Ill.:

True to life training

Members of the Sanford Fire Department practiced residential fire fighting on a vacant building at the Sanford airport. Fires have been set for training work in various rooms during the past two weeks. Yesterday afternoon, the home was totally destroyed. Battalion Chiefs Mike Hoening and Jim Poovey set up the training, which involved a total of 40 Sanford fire fighters during the two week period. At one time, the house is believed to have been home for the commanding officer of the Sanford Naval Air Station.

Lake Mary gets money to plant trees

By MIKE PFERFAU
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — Two financial grants have been awarded to Lake Mary. The money is to be used to plant trees on public land.

The City of Lake Mary will receive $8,750 for public facility planting, and Lake Mary Elementary School will receive $3,832 for what is called retention pond planting.

The retention pond is located on the northern side of the school property, just across Lake Mary Blvd. from the City Hall.

The announcement of the grants was made by Florida Agriculture Commissioner Bob Crawford. The two grants are among 82 federal allocations awarded throughout the state.

John Holland, director of parks and recreation for the city applied for the city's grant in early March of this year.

"We applied for the money to plant large oak trees near the public works and public safety facilities on Rinehart Road," he said. "The buildings are on some pretty barren land, and as the money can only be used for public property, we will be using it there."

The grant is on a reimbursement basis, and matching funds and/or services will be required.

"The reimbursement means that we will pay for the trees and installation charges first," Holland said, "then they will reimburse us."

"As for the matching funds," he added, "that will be handled by the cost of fertilizing and maintenance. It won't involve any expenditure of other money."

The other grant was requested by the elementary school itself, rather than the Seminole County School Board. The money will be used to plant trees around the recently expanded retention pond, located between the school building and Lake Mary Blvd. The boulevard is presently at a standstill in a widening project.

According to the grant agreement, Lake Mary and the school will be required "...to use the funds to purchase trees from small businesses, and contract with small businesses to plant the trees on non-federal public property."

Statewide, the grants totaled $758,623, for the U.S. Small Business Administration's 1992 National Small Business Tree Planting Program.

"The program will benefit small businesses throughout the state while enhancing Florida's aesthetic beauty and our environment," Crawford said.

Youth killed in one car accident in Lake Mary

LAKE MARY — Daniel Rodriguez of Altamonte Springs was killed Wednesday evening in a one car accident in Lake Mary, according to the Lake Mary Police.

Rodriguez, 17, of 1209 Pendleton Dr. in Altamonte Springs, was pronounced dead on the scene on North Point Boulevard and Lake Emma Road, police said.

According to police records, Rodriguez was traveling alone at a high speed along North Point Boulevard when he failed to negotiate a curve just east of Lake Emma Boulevard.

There was no indication whether or not he was wearing his seat belt, police said.

The report gave no indication whether drugs or alcohol were a part in the fatal accident.

Harden capable for county commission

The next four years for Seminole County will be critical in preparing for the next millennium now less than eight years away. Chief among those challenges are:

- completion of the road program that could satisfy the county's needs for many decades. The plan was created by a non-political process based on best-possible calculations of the future and should not be changed without care.

- control of Disney-generated growth and development which has begun to tap at the doorstep of the previously-rural northern areas. That growth needs to be directed in such a way as to produce high-paying jobs while protecting the environment and lifestyle of the residents. If not, that growth becomes a mousetrap.

- management of a fragile environmental condition with drinking-water threatened by saltwater and overuse and contamination from untreated drainage.

- District 5 needs a commissioner who is attuned to these issues through experience or a willingness to learn. The district needs a commissioner who is capable of listening to frequently vastly-distant points of view and merge them to a reasonable balance.

Democrat Fred Harden shows that capability. Harden's attention to environmental concerns is uncontested. His past presidency of the Friends of the Wekiva River and Orange County Audubon Society and his leadership of the Seminole County Natural Lands Committee demonstrates a willingness to contribute time and personal expense to these goals. His positions on the protection of the Geneva Bubble and Wekiva and Econlockhatchee Rivers reflect those concerns.

Yet for 22 years, Harden served in various positions for Walt Disney World. During that time, Harden learned to balance the needs and desires of big business with environmental protection. His responsibilities required a balancing of the impacts of road construction and drainage with the environment. His management experience both in government and private industry provides him with a balance of government and industry. His desire to work with Sanford in developing the airport and downtown-lakefront assets of the city demonstrates those balances.

Harden's opponent Daryl McLain has shown an unusual willingness to give of himself in a broad field of activities. His leadership of the Friends of the St. Johns River demonstrates he is no less concerned about the preservation of the environment. His leadership in the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce shows he is concerned about the business environment of the community. His research into the $500 million school bond proposal and subsequent school board candidacy shows a concern for proper school management.

We applaud this level of commitment and urge McLain not to falter in his community activism.

The Herald endorses Fred Harden as the stronger of the two candidates in terms of his managerial experience, technical expertise and his resulting command of the issues facing our county.

The class of '42—50 years later

HARTFORD, CONN. — I grew up strengthened by four truths that I held to be self-evident — that New England, especially Connecticut, was God's favorite creation, that the rest of America was inhabited by barbarians, that my beautiful and deeply Christian mother was responsible for my love of humanity and that the H'42S class of 1942 would always do the right thing.

A few days ago, Hartford Public High School (the nation's second oldest) did it again.

In a poll I conducted at our 50th class reunion, 52 percent of the 148 returnees supported Bill Clinton, 31 percent supported George Bush, 9 percent supported Ross Perot and 9 percent were still undecided.

The male-female split was almost identical to that in the national polls.

"Hi-y, Charie," said a grinning Rocco Paulino (whose leonine mane didn't have a single gray hair), "we always were a smart class." Rocco, now a vice-president of a national brokerage firm, was one of the smartest.

But oh, how we had changed. The boys and girls of spring had become the grandparents of winter.

Some had succumbed to certain forces of nature, carrying tires of avoirdupois around their waists. Others practically replicated their classbook pictures, still lean and still looking like sweet 16.

Lumbering Francis Heppner, tall, reddish blond and scholarly (honors in Greek and Latin), still combed his hair with a part on the left.

Our class's two high-school sweethearts, somber-minded Robert McManus and red-haired, vivacious Barbara Furey, are still married and boast three grandchildren. McManus has been one of the federal government's top executives and has been involved in developing the $4 billion federal transit system.

But career distinction goes to the once dark-haired Ruth McCrum, who holds both a JD and Ph.D. and is a world-renowned occupational therapist.

I grew up strengthened by four truths that I held to be self-evident.

Fifty years ago, we belonged to the age of innocence. Ethnicity was a badge of honor then, not a suit of armor.

Our 618 names ran the nomenclature gamut from Accarpio, Burie and Chung to Vlahopoulos and Yanchinsky.

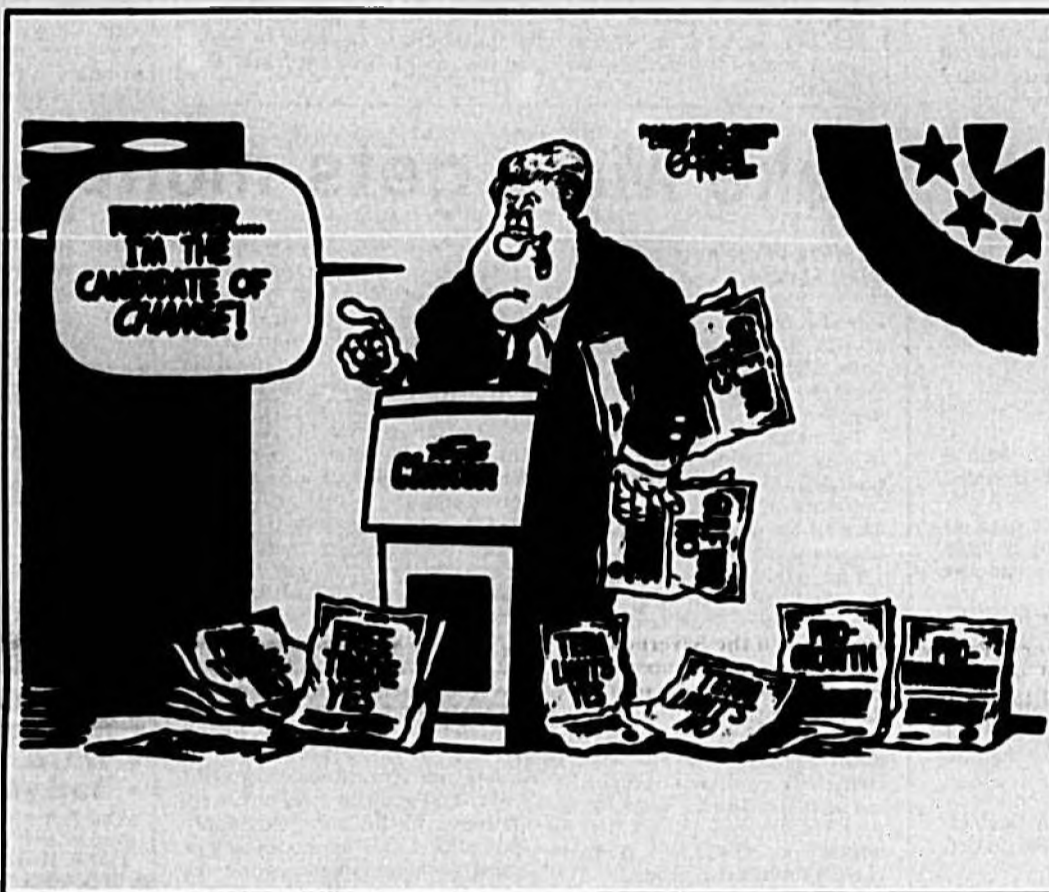

Sixteen of us were black, and the city championship 550-yard relay team included an Irishman, a black (guess who) and two Poles. (I always knew those Poles could run.)

At the reunion, we were a feast of handshaking, hugging, kissing and squeezing. It may have been 50 years later, but several of my female classmates merited some very serious squeezing. (At 68 and two serious operations later, I was depressingly harmless.)

Many of us served in World War II, and a few of our number never returned. But carnage still did not rock the vestibule of our serenity.

Now, 50 years later, we "Don't Get Around Much Anymore" ... Being together is such "A Lovely Way to Spend an Evening" then wake up in the morning with your "Dearest Beloved" and still feel rambunctiously "In the Mood."

That's not original. An even longer creative litany of song titles was included in the prayer by Karl Bloomquist, formerly a big, robust, fun-loving blond, but now a balding, skinned-down Lutheran minister in Providence, R.I.

Charge, countercharge in debate

WASHINGTON — The charges and countercharges came fast and furious during the vice presidential debate. One should examine them closely since they are likely to frame the debate during the campaign's final days. It appears both men at times skirted the facts and came close to outright falsehoods.

Perhaps the sharpest exchange occurred over Quayle's charge that Gore — in his book "Earth in the Balance: Ecology and the Human Spirit" — advocates spending $100 billion a year in environmental foreign aid.

Over and over Quayle charged, "It's in your book, senator, on page 304." But, as the popular phrase goes — not!

In and around page 304, Gore does talk about need for a massive effort by the industrialized Western nations to help the Third World clean up their environmental problems. He calls for a "Global Marshall Fund" modeled after the program that rebuilt post-World War II Europe. He notes the original Marshall Plan spent 2 percent of U.S. gross national product — an amount that would be equivalent to $100 billion today. However, he specifically says that we could not possibly afford anything close to this amount, and that all industrialized nations — especially Japan and Germany — would have to share equally in this effort.

Quayle charged that Gore and Bill Clinton were proposing $150 billion in taxes. "No, no," Gore said repeatedly. But in fact, on this one Quayle was generally correct. The Clinton economic plan calls for raising $141.5 billion in new revenues over five years through a combination of new taxes and the closing of loopholes.

But then Quayle skirted the truth by asserting — as both he and President Bush do at almost every campaign stop — that, to accomplish this, Clinton would have to raise taxes on everyone making more than $30,000 annually.

The Clinton economic plan details how $44.5 billion of the increase would come from taxing foreign corporations' profits earned in this country, and the other $97 billion would be raised from increasing taxes on those making more than $200,000 annually, closing some other loopholes, and increasing collection efforts from current tax evaders. The Clinton plan calls for middle-class tax relief.

"When are you going to stop using our tax dollars to shut down American factories and move them to foreign countries and throw Americans out of work?" Gore demanded. Quayle called this charge false and "outrageous," countering that the United States

"never subsidized any country or any company to move from the United States." On this one they were both right and wrong.

The Agency for International Development (AID) has a program of assistance in Latin America that gives large grants for economic development. Some of the countries getting these grants have used part of the money to advertise for American businesses, especially in the textile trade, to relocate and to provide incentives for such relocations.

Meanwhile Quayle accused Gore of having himself voted for the Caribbean Basin Initiative, a program the Clinton camp has singled out as giving U.S. companies financial incentives to relocate plants.

"Wrong, I voted against it," said Gore.

Yes and no. According to Congressional Quarterly, in 1982 and 1983, when the issue came before the Senate for a straight up and down vote, Gore voted no both times. But in 1990, when it had been modified and its extension had been made a part of a massive bipartisan trade bill, Gore approved it as part of a 92-0 vote.

Gore hit Bush hard on the fact that the president has not sent his health-care reform plan to Congress. Quayle said this is not true, that Congress has blocked the plan. This one is a standoff. In fact, parts of the Bush plan, particularly medical malpractice reform, have been introduced into Congress and defeated. But the central part of the plan, a voucher system to help low-income families buy insurance — has never been sent to Capitol Hill.

Quayle accused Clinton repeatedly of "waffling around" on major issues. He singled out abortion and school choice as examples.

In fact, in years past, both Clinton and Gore have said they opposed abortion. Now, however, they say their personal opposition is not inconsistent with opposing the outlawing of abortion or supporting a woman's right to choose.

It should be noted that Bush himself has reversed himself completely on both issues.

The charges came fast and furious.

Needs of HRS

When Gregory Kay sued his parents for divorce and won the suit, testimony came out implicating the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services in the child's neglect. The youngster remained in his mother's care although she neglected him and subjected him to emotional abuse throughout his lifetime.

Critics charge that HRS should have permanently removed Gregory from his mother's custody 10 years ago. The critics are right. That's what should have happened. But what should happen and what can happen are not always the same thing within an overburdened organization.

Before you criticize that investigations of abuse are not swift and complete, consider the pay scales of HRS personnel; look at the percentage of positions held vacant due to lack of funds. Before you take umbrage at HRS' intervention into family matters and action taken toward unwarranted charges of child abuse, think about the laws that give HRS duties normally resting with the courts and the police.

The Gregory Kay case isn't an issue of what can be done to halt an onslaught of similar cases as much as it's a question of what reforms can be made to HRS to ensure that no child ever need file such suit. If HRS is to be held responsible for the well-being of every child in this state, then the legislature needs to take a realistic look at the volume of work expected of the agency in relationship to its level of funding. State rules and regulations, state budgets and the chain of command within all state agencies need to be revised. The HRS Secretary should be a cabinet position. The department's organization of child abuse investigations needs to be revamped and a new evaluation of properly placed authority must be undertaken.

One of HRS' main responsibilities is to protect the children of this state and ensure that these children's basic needs are met. Until the basic needs of HRS are met, no child will be guaranteed safe harbor from abuse and neglect.

Sanford candidates

As a well seasoned taxpayer, I can assure you the political process of mud slinging and promises will continue. This is one of the reasons I can never get too excited at election time. This should be leadership at its best, or in commission candidate Jordan Beckner's case, garbage tactics on Commissioner Howell's residency.

I have known Lon for many years. The real issue here is what is best for his child. When the facts are finally pulled from the gutter, Mr. Howell's only option was to place him at his friend's home in DeBary which afforded him the opportunity of a family environment.

History is replete with instances of mediocre performances in the absence of leadership. Webster defines empathy as "the imaginative projection of one's own consciousness into another being." As commonly used, it is the ability to place one's self in the position of another, simulating that person's feelings, prejudices, and values. I believe this is a basic principle of leadership, and at times lacking in many candidates. If Mr. Beckner can feel what Lon Howell, the parent, is going through in his personal struggle with his child, then perhaps one day Jordan Beckner will be a fine leader.

...illage one to one-and-a-half mile because that is what it will amount to," he said.

Consolidation will provide the city with the same level of service and safety at a lesser cost, he said.

The second major issue in the campaign is keeping the city fiscally strong, a goal that Lovestrand said has been only partially obtained.

"I intend to keep our city fiscally strong. I inherited a mess. We were about a million in the hole in the water and sewer fund...in two years of austerity with hiring freezes and budget cuts we are going to have about $100,000 to carry forward.

Paul Lovestrand

Goldberg

Goldberg said he is not opposed to consolidation in theory, but said there is not enough information regarding the details of it to allow voters to make an intelligent choice.

"There is no contract, no set figures. You don't know how many people will be supervisory and how many people will be clerical. There's too many ifs," he said.

Having a police department in the center of the city is a viable deterrent to crime.

"We really can't afford, for our own safety and for our family and loved ones, to give up our police," he said.

Goldberg said the main reason that the proposal to consolidate police surfaced is not to save money, but as a personal vendetta against Police Chief Greg Manning.

"A faction has been trying to get rid of Greg Manning for eight to ten years. He won't give in to them. He is an outstanding police chief, and has a very good department which is rated very high around the state," Goldberg said.

"The city doesn't have to consolidate the police department to save money, he noted.

"There was no reason to repave Church Street. That was a ridiculous expense of money," he said.

The city commission has also "hired and fired numerous city administrators" which cost the city hundreds of thousands of dollars.

"They would fly them down to interview them, pay to move them down here, then buy out their contracts. It cost the city an arm and a leg," Goldberg said.

A businessman, Goldberg said he was "positively" against mandatory sewer hookups.

"The elderly and young couples, especially, cannot afford to pay a ridiculous price for sewer hookups," he said.

We're beginning to turn the city around but we're far from healthy. We should have a reserve of about $750,000. Austerity has turned things around but the job isn't done yet," he said.

A fiscal consultant, Lovestrand said his background will help him to ensure the city gets on firm fiscal ground in the next few years.

Lovestrand says he opposes mandatory sewer hookups.

"Those on the sewer system are victims of poor management in the past. I don't believe the problem is solved by adding more victims to the system," he said.

The water system is profitable but the sewer system is not, he noted.

Home

...hardware, and beveled glass.

Parquet flooring throughout, up the stairway and in the odd smok here and there, is a mosaic inlay of five different woods: oak, cherry, mahogany, ash and walnut. It had been refinished downstairs before the Porters moved in, Jones said. They have completed refinishing of the upstairs.

The home is another design of E.J. Moughton Sr., who also designed the Cultural Arts building. Construction began in 1923, and was completed at an estimated cost of $50,000 in 1926, for occupancy by the Meisch family. Meisch, a celery farmer who immigrated from Luxembourg, and his descendants occupied the home from 1926 until 1978, when the Porters bought the residence. They have done nothing to detract from the historic charm of the Spanish Colonial home, complete with widow's walk and green-barrel tiled roof.

What renovations have been done were done by Meisch descendants, who expanded the 3,000 square feet of living space by 72 feet in the breakfast area, building marvelous slide-out hanging pan racks and slotted compartments for large platters into the kitchen cabinets.

The three-stall garage stands today as it originally did, complete with an apartment on the second floor and a room with three laundry tubs and a toilet bowl, whose original use is unknown. Unique to the home is a basement, something no more than 10 Sanford homes can boast of.

The Porters have plenty of room for books, thanks to the built-in bookshelves which flank the massive fireplace in the library, and easy reading is invited by the built-in benches which foot the bookcases and serve double-duty as storage receptacles. A built-in china cabinet artfully sets off a corner of the dining area leading to enormous kitchen windows which look out on a back porch. The windows in the home still contain the original hand-pressed, (rolled), glass, and the upstairs boasts a fully cedar-lined closet.

The Porters have added pieces conducive to the historic home.

such as the solid wall of wardrobe which they purchased in Orlando and which came originally from England. The piece breaks apart in three pieces, easily the height and breadth of a grown man, and was disassembled for placement in the home.

"When we opened it to clean it, we found yellowing newspapers featuring stories about Hitler," Jones said. Moving the piece into the home proved such a chore, in fact that her husband jokes that if the couple ever move, "it" stays.

Barber

...behind the microphone included "Oh Doctor," referring to a big play. Then there was "Sitting in the catbird seat," when a club ran up a big lead. When a team got a big rally going, Red said, "They're tearing up the pea patch."

In 1978, Barber and fellow Yankee broadcaster Mel Allen were inducted into baseball's Hall of Fame.

One of Barber's peculiar attitudes was he was never a Red, Dodger or Yankee fan. He described what was happening on the field without partiality. He said, "I think listeners appreciated that." He did, however, coin a number of other expressions. When a runner tried to steal second base and was thrown out, Red would say "They shut the gate on him."

When television came along Red said he learned to shut up and let the picture tell the story. But radio remained his favorite medium. "Radio," said Red, "was a pleasure to work but television was like day labor."

He was always a stickler for detail. He would arrive at the ballpark two hours before gametime to go over stats and talk with players and managers. "For three hours during a game I was a talker," Red explained, "but two hours before the game I was a listener."

More recently, Barber had been a commentator on National Public Radio. Every Friday morning Red would talk about topics from baseball to how the azaleas were blooming in Florida. One morning Red was asked about growing up in Sanford and what was the name of the team on the baseball uniforms worn by Red and his schoolmates. Red explained that the local team was called "Celery Feds" because of Sanford growing three-fifths of the world's supply. That day Red was asked if he played baseball at the University of Florida. Red said he felt he wasn't big enough to play college and professional baseball.

Barber is survived by his wife, Lylah, and daughter Sarah.

While some raindrops fell briefly from the sky at the beginning of the event, there was none of the soaking downpour that fell elsewhere in the county in yesterday's early evening.

"Somebody did a rain dance for us," said assistant principal Bobby Lundquist, "and I want to thank them."

The nine floats, representing the school's four classes, at least one elementary school and various clubs, were festooned with black and orange ribbons and included Indians on the warpath with the Silverhawks of Lake Howell High School, Seminole's opponent in tonight's Homecoming game.

Judges watching the parade could not decide upon the best float so they gave top honors and $75 apiece to the floats made by the VICA Club and by the freshman class.

The VICA Club's station wagon and trailer being pulled behind wore fringed brown paper skirts and carried several tomahawk welding Indians. The freshmen Indians chopped cardboard hawks to the ground, and resurrected them before chopping them down again.

"They were all so good," judge Verna Jackson said, "it was so hard to pick."

Following the parade, the crowd massed around the clock

Homecoming activities continue tonight.

in the Magnolia Mall.

Cheers went up as the alma mater was played and the cheerleaders called for the Seminoles to "kill the Silverhawks" on the football field. Parents, teachers and administrators joined the students in dancing in the street which had been blocked off by police for the brief rally.

COVER STORY

Perkins' final work televised

By BRYAN WOOD

The entertainment world lost one of its most talented and fascinating actors when AIDS claimed the life of Anthony Perkins in September. His final project was "In the Deep Woods," an NBC movie airing Monday, Oct. 26.

Perkins is fondly remembered by the film's executive producer, Frederic Golshan, who recalls, "One of the things I enjoyed about (Perkins) was that he cared very much about the production, (making) sure that everything was running smoothly. He liked to participate. He cared about details a lot."

This is considerably different from the image of Perkins that most viewers have - that hint of nervous insanity, lurking just beneath his boyish surface, that characteristic so many of his film roles.

Alfred Hitchcock recognized Perkins' ability to suggest inner turmoil, and in the 1960 thriller "Psycho" he made the actor a screen legend for his portrayal of Norman Bates, the mother-dominated motel proprietor with an interest in taxidermy.

In the ensuing years, Perkins sought to shake his image as the psychotic boy next door in European art films such as Orson Welles' "The Trial" (1963). But he played the madman too well, and for the most part appeared as various deranged entities: a maniacal priest ("Crimes of Passion," 1966), a modern-day Jekyll and Hyde ("Edge of Sanity," 1969), and, once again, Norman Bates in three "Psycho" sequels.

"In the Deep Woods" again calls upon Perkins' talent for depicting odd behavior. In it, he plays Paul Miller, a mysterious stranger who conducts a personal and unauthorized investigation into a string of serial murders. Rosanna Arquette portrays Joanna Warren, the woman he attempts to question, who cannot help but wonder if he might be the killer ... and she the next victim. Yet Perkins doesn't just replay his usual type. As the movie progresses and more becomes known of the enigmatic Miller, he evolves into a character who is more well-rounded than many that Perkins has played in the past. Golshan found Perkins to be not only a master of his craft, but fully cooperative as well. "When it came to the moment of doing his role, he'd discuss things with you and then, whatever was decided, he'd just do it - just execute it very professionally."

The producer considers signing Perkins for "In the Deep Woods" a coup. "He seemed someone that, frankly, we weren't sure we could get, because he's always been an actor that's hard to commit to projects," Golshan says. "We were very lucky, because he really responded to the material right away."

The Paris-born Golshan is now involved in preproduction for a theatrical film to star Richard Gere. Entitled "Intersection," it tells of a man who re-evaluates his life after a near-fatal car accident. "It gives him a chance to realize that you have to grab life before it goes away," Golshan explains, "because the next thing you know your life can be over."

The theme of the film is an uncanny reflection of Perkins in his last days, giving interviews and continuing to act up until the very end. In fact, Perkins was so disciplined and energetic that, Golshan says, "none of us knew, or even suspected" that he was ill during the filming of "In the Deep Woods."

-Frederic Golshan

Well, we've been watching each other's home movies on "America's Funniest Home Videos" for more than two years now, and yet we still keep tuning in. Bob Saget hosts the series, which features adorable animals, cute kiddies and embarrassed adults. It airs Sunday, Oct. 26, on ABC.

Anthony Perkins (in what was to be his last film role) and Rosanna Arquette star in "In the Deep Woods," an NBC movie airing Monday, Oct. 26. He plays a mysterious detective investigating a serial-murder case, and she portrays an acquaintance of one of the victims - and possibly the next target.

A tragedy of the Westward migration is recounted in "The Donner Party," airing Wednesday, Oct. 22, on PBS's "The American Experience." (Check local listings.) Producer Ric Burns interweaves photographs (including of party leader James Reed, shown), letters and diaries to movingly re-create the spirit of pioneers who set out for a "promised land," but found a hell when they were trapped in the winter snows of the Sierra Nevada.

Orangewood rolls on GOLDENROD — The Orangewood Christian girls volleyball team won its 20th game in 27 starts by cruising to a 15-8, 15-7 victory over defending conference and district champion Trinity Prep Thursday afternoon.

Trinity Prep fell to 18-8. Lis Hubbard led the way for the Rams with 14 kills, six blocks and 10-of-10 serves for eight points. Also contributing were Amy Vanderstreek (six kills, 15-of-16 serves for 12 points) and Allison Hirsch (four kills, five digs).

Rams finish 6-1

DAYTONA BEACH — The Lake Mary junior varsity football concluded a 6-1 season Thursday night with a 9-0 victory over the home-standing Mainland Buccaneers.

Heath Ritenour led the offense for Lake Mary with 126 yards on 24 carries and quarterback Tarell Jackson carried eight times for 61 yards and also passed for 10 yards.

Defensively, Vernon James came up with a pair of interceptions, while Jeff Lane had six tackles and two assists. Brian Henry contributed three tackles and three assists and Mike Copper added three tackles.

Tribe still unbeaten

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — The Seminole junior varsity football team ran its winning streak to 13 games with a 34-6 trouncing of Lake Brantley at Tom Storey Field.

The Tribe is now 6-0 on the season and will try to duplicate last year's 7-0 record when they play DeLand next Thursday.

Facing the Seminole offense were Willie Jones (eight carries, 186 yards), Torian Foster (nine carries, 110 yards), Don Hunt (five carries, 75 yards) and Deon Daniels (four carries, 52 yards).

Defensively Ben Blake recovered two fumbles, while Cubit Malone, John Davis and Kiki Hill recovered one each. Jamion Hampton caused four fumbles with John Buram, DeAndre Jones and Terrance Moran also having big nights.

Wolves stop Magic

ORLANDO — Rookie Christian Lacitner scored 25 points (one nine of 13 shooting) and grabbed 11 rebounds and Chuck Person added 21, including three 3-pointers in the final 2:15 to lead the Minnesota Timberwolves to a 105-88 NBA exhibition victory over the Orlando Magic.

Shaquille O'Neal led the Magic with 19 points, eight rebounds and four blocked shots, while guard Anthony Bowie finished with 18 points.

Tampa suffers first home loss

TAMPA — Nikolai Borschevsky and Rob Pearson scored two goals apiece, leading the Toronto Maple Leafs past the Tampa Bay Lightning 5-2 Thursday night.

It was the Maple Leafs' fourth win in five games. Tampa Bay suffered its first home loss after defeating Chicago and Edmonton.

Smith slams to lead Braves

TORONTO — Lonnie Smith ran around the bases just fine this time, got even with Jack Morris and gave the Atlanta Braves another chance in the World Series.

Smith's grand slam capped a five-run fifth inning that finished Morris, and the Braves beat up the Toronto Blue Jays 7-2 to close their gap to 3-2 and send the Series back to Atlanta.

John Smoltz outpitched Morris in a rematch of last October's Game 7, and prevented the Blue Jays from putting up another flag at the SkyDome, the one calling them World Series champions.

Do what you have to do

Tribe, Rams make moves midway through season

By YVON BOGGS
Herald Sports Editor

SANFORD — Adapt or die. Picked to challenge for their respective district championships, the Seminole and Lake Mary High School varsity football teams have been faced recently with that very choice, both teams having struggled terribly on offense.

The situation had gotten so severe at Seminole that Coach Emory Blake switched quarterbacks the week before the Tribe's first district game of the year. The move paid off as senior Travis Perkins led Seminole to a 16-3 win over Edgewater in a 4A-District 7 game.

Tonight, the Seminoles face another stiff test as the young but improving Lake Howell Silver Hawks visit Thomas E. Whigham Stadium. As if that weren't demanding enough, Seminole will also be celebrating its homecoming tonight.

In other games tonight, Lake Mary travels to Spruce Creek. Lake Brantley plays at DeLand and Oviedo is at Daytona Beach-Seabreeze. Lyman has the week off.

"None of the games on our schedule give us the opportunity to let down at all," said Blake. "We're still the small guy in the conference, the only 4A school playing against 5A schools. And our district is so small, you can't afford to lose one game."

Blake said that making the move to replace junior Todd Braden with Perkins was one that he felt he had to make, regardless of the timing.

"Sometimes you have to do what you have to do for the whole ball club," Blake said. "We were at a standstill. We had to make the move."

The win over Edgewater lost a considerable amount of its luster when Richard Peterson, one of the leaders of Seminole's imposing defensive unit, went down with what was originally feared as a season-ending knee injury. But Blake said the injury isn't as bad as it first appeared.

"We're going to try to keep Richard out until the Leesburg game (on Nov. 13)," Blake said. "One doctor said three weeks and another said by the playoffs. But Richard works hard. We're looking to have him back in time for Leesburg."

Injuries have forced Lake Mary coach Doug Peters to make some changes he didn't want to make. Peters knew the Rams had to come up with some semblance of a running game, but losing fullback Brian Marotta and tailback Dexter Graham to leg injuries wasn't the way to go about it.

"We've made some changes offensively and defensively to try and find a running game," Peters said. "We've been working hard in practice to try and get one going."

Personnel changes will have linebacker Greg Menello taking some turns at fullback and wide receiver Mike Werner seeing some time at tailback. Peters also expects Al Holt to get some repetitions at tailback.

Whatever the Rams do, they have to do it in a hurry. After playing Spruce Creek, they play district-leading Mainland next Thursday. Lake Mary will have all the rest of its games and get some help from several other teams to have any shot at making the playoffs.

"We're hoping to come in the back door," admitted Peters. "We have to win tomorrow to have any shot. I hope we can control our destiny by winning. We need to look good tomorrow night and play good football so that we can be in a position to put a loss on the board for Mainland next week."

LM netters are SAC champions

OVIDO — It was a good team effort.

That is easily the most over-used sentence by coaches everywhere. But in the case of the Lake Mary High School girls' volleyball team, it's a very accurate description because this group wins as a team.

Tuesday night at Oviedo High School, the Rams employed the team theory to perfection and secured the Seminole Athletic Conference championship by outlasting the Lions in a great three-game match, 15-12, 14-16, 15-5.

The junior varsity match went to Oviedo by the scores of 15-12, 15-7.

All nine of the players who took the court for Lake Mary contributed in some way, and all seven girls who served scored points.

"I'm a happy camper tonight," said Lake Mary head coach Cindy Henry. "These are two such evenly matched teams. We always seem to have trouble with their blocking, but we handled it much better tonight. I was very happy with the way we came back in the second game after losing the lead. They didn't let down at all and played very smoothly in the third game."

Doing the damage for the Rams were Angie Snow (10 service points, two aces, six kills, one block, one winner), Lindy Longstaff (nine serves, one ace, one winner), Lorrie Boger (eight serves, two blocks, 20 assists), Diane Duber (seven serves, six kills, four blocks, one assist), Nikki Preece (five serves, four kills, one assist) and Jennifer Greisinger (four serves, one ace, seven kills).

Also contributing were Karen Pinckney (one serve, two assists), Sara Moore (two kills, three blocks) and Joyia Capo (one kill).

Facing the Lions' attack were Amy Harkiwicz (eight serves, two aces, one kill, one winner, one assist), Kristien Munna (seven serves, one ace, one kill, one assist), Kristine Neufeld (seven serves, one ace, one block, 16 assists), Elaine Comstock (six serves, one kill, one

Patriot harriers sweep SAC titles

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — What are polls and state rankings worth? When it comes time to compete, absolutely nothing.

The Lake Brantley Patriots drove that point home Thursday afternoon by sweeping the boys' and girls' team championships at the Seminole Athletic Conference cross country meet.

In the process, the Patriots bested the No. 1-ranked girls' team in the state, the Lyman Greyhounds, 43-45.

"They (Lyman) ran well, but we ran super," said Lake Brantley coach Charlie Harris. "The girls went after the race like they wanted to win it and that's what happened. Everyone did what they needed to do for us to win this meet. We ran our best as a team today."

Following Lake Brantley and Lyman in the girls' team standings were Lake Mary (56), Oviedo (93) and Lake Howell (116). Seminole did not have enough runners to qualify for a team score.

Oviedo's Tracey Kotseos was the individual champion, covering the two-mile course in 12:05, six seconds ahead of runner-up Kianah Breanick of Lyman (12:11).

Completing the girls' top 10 were Danielle Leaf of Lake Brantley (12:39), Seminole's Carolyn Hubbard (12:43), Heather Anderson of Lake Brantley (12:55), the Lake Mary trio of Christina Olson (12:59), Shawn Barkley, (12:59) and Angie Olson (12:59), Linda Davis of Lyman (13:02) and Lake Brantley's Carrie Di-alvatore (13:10).

The boys' competition wasn't as close as Lake Brantley's top five runners finished in the top 10, giving the Patriots a comfortable 29-46 win over runner-up Lyman. They were trailed by Lake Mary (56), Oviedo (107) and Lake Howell (133). Seminole did not qualify for a team score.

Individual champion Brian Lucyk (15:57) paced the Patriots. Completing the team score for Lake Brantley were Danny Hilley (fourth, 16:15), Hunter Kemper (sixth, 16:38), Jeff Donner (eighth, 16:44) and Shaun MacKenzie (10th, 16:57).

Lake Mary's Toby Ayers was a close second to Lucyk, finishing one second off his winning pace (15:58). Chris Taylor was fifth (16:37) for Lake Mary.

Gator's, Florida Sportswear pull away from field

From Staff Reports

SANFORD — Front-running Gator's and second-place Florida Sportswear both scored 12-run victories Thursday night at Chase Park in the Sanford Recreation Men's Class C Slowpitch Softball League.

Florida Sportswear needed only five innings to thump Monroe Harbour Marina 13-1. Gator's then used six innings to complete its 16-4 rout of Myra Tree Service. In the nightcap, Bamboo Cafe trimmed Mobil Tech 7-3.

Gator's remains undefeated at 7-0, one game ahead of Florida Sportswear (6-1). Monroe Harbour Marina (4-3) is third ahead of Myra Tree Service and Bamboo Cafe (both 2-5) and Mobil Tech (0-7).

Next week's schedule has Mobil Tech taking on Myra Tree Service at 6:30 p.m. and Monroe Harbour Marina playing Bamboo Cafe at 7:30 p.m. before Gator's and Florida Sportswear square off at 8:30 p.m.

Brantley Brumley had three singles, three runs and an RBI to lead the 21-hit effort of Florida Sportswear. Also contributing were Randy Yates (three singles, one run, two RBIs), Wes Tankaley (three singles, one run, one RBI), Steve Woodley (three singles, one run) and Steve James (double,

Algae growth on roofs

Take precautions in removing discolored spores

When light colored roofs turn green, brown or black during warm, humid weather, people seek help. What is this "stuff"? How can they get rid of it? How can they keep it away?

First, what is it? Algae spores will grow wherever they find minerals, moisture, warmth and light. It's a plant and it likes the summer climate in Florida and other southern coastal areas. It doesn't grow directly in any specific roofing material, but as soon as a light accumulation of dust and other organic materials settle on a roof long enough, heat, moisture and a little light are available, algae type spores ever present in Florida make the roof their home and start to grow.

You can fight back...chlorine bleach kills and the force of a scrub brush or a strong spray will remove the soil and stop the growth — at least for a while. But read on, there are precautions. Working on a roof can be dangerous. It is not good for your roof to walk on it. Using a brush can remove the fine granules that reflect the sun and protect the surface of asphalt and fiberglass roofing. Very high pressure sprays can do the same thing. Additionally, chlorine bleach can damage plantings, vinyl windows and other construction materials if used in a solution too strong. Some roofing warranties become invalid if you walk on them. All-in-all, the very difficult job of cleaning algae from a roof may be better to turn over to a professional.

For cleaning small areas that you can easily reach, here are some suggestions.

● Wear rubber soled shoes that are both acid resistant and secure.

● Rinse roof and plantings with clear water before and after using a cleaning solution.

● Use a mild chlorine solution (1 part chlorine to 10 parts water). Protect yourself when using chlorine by wearing plastic gloves and avoiding splatters.

● Use a safe ladder placed so it is secure at both top and bottom.

● Heavy accumulations of dirt and algae may require scrubbing with a brush but this may damage asphalt roofing.

● Yearly treatments may help keep the algae growth in check, but when the conditions are right, the algae will grow. New roofing materials that resist algae growth are now available. They will retard algae discoloration for longer periods of time.

Tall women don't intimidate real men

DEAR ABBY: My problem is I am too tall. I'm 26 years old, weigh 134 pounds and stand 6 feet tall. I am a woman.

Most people tell me it's an advantage for a woman to be tall. They don't know how many problems tall women have. It's almost impossible to find clothes that fit, and I would love to wear heels, but if I did, I'd be 6 foot 2 inches at least, so I settle for flats, which do not flatter my legs.

When I stand next to someone in a mirror or photograph, I look like a giant!

My boyfriend is two inches shorter than me, and even though it doesn't seem to bother him, it bothers me. Whenever we walk together, or have a picture taken together, I slouch so as not to dwarf him.

Are most men intimidated by tall women?

TALL IN BERGENFIELD, N.J.

DEAR TALL: Tall women will always attract attention, which can be a plus. With the proper wardrobe, makeup, hairdo and attitude, you can look like a fashion model. Throw your shoulders back, keep your chin up and let the expression on your face show that you are proud of your height. If you slouch or stand stoop-shouldered, you will not look shorter, but you will look self-conscious and insecure.

Men who are self-confident cannot be "intimidated" by a woman of any size. Masculinity (and femininity, for that matter) has nothing to do with the size of the package.

If you don't already know about it, you might be interested in joining Tall Clubs International. The toll-free number is (800) 521-2512. It offers a wide range of social opportunities to tall people, with 4,000 members in 73 chapters in the United States and Canada.

DEAR ABBY: When our son was born, he weighed 8 pounds, 13 ounces. He was 17 1/2 inches long. Now, 11 months later, he weighs 10 pounds and is 20 inches long. The problem is that almost everyone who sees him asks me why he is so "small."

Abby, I stand 5 feet tall and my husband is 5 foot 7, so I realize I can't expect our children to be any taller than either one of us. But the insensitive comments hurt just the same. Is there a polite response to all unwanted comments?

DEAR NOT TOO TALL: The only response to rude comments is a long silence accompanied by the look on your face that says, "I can't believe you asked such a (a) rude, (b) personal, (c) presumptuous, (d) inappropriate, (e) embarrassing, (f) ignorant question."

ADVICE

VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: About eight years ago, "Ted" (my fiancé at the time) was a career officer stationed in Germany with the U.S. Army. I went to Germany to be with him for a year.

Ted's mother and I had a good relationship; she treated me like one of the family — in fact, she even kept my 100-pound dog during the year I was overseas.

Things didn't work out as Ted and I had planned, and we didn't marry. It was awkward for me to see his mother when I returned to the states, so we fell out of touch.

For the last few years, I have been feeling very guilty. I never once offered to reimburse her for my dog's food and vet bills, even though I knew that she was in financial straits. Abby, she was so very kind and generous to me. Can I make it up to her at this late date? Or would it be inappropriate to send her some money now?

BERGENFIELD IN GEORGIA

DEAR BERGENFIELD: Inappropriate? Certainly not! Reward her generously for the past favors immediately. It will ease your conscience and she will welcome the windfall. Trust me.

DEAR ABBY: This is in response to the letter from "Baffled in Beaverton," who was rebuked by a woman because he held the door open for her.

I worked for an 89-year-old gentleman who held the door open for a woman who then stunned us and passersby when she screamed, "You don't have to hold the door open for me just because I'm a lady!" He tipped his hat and said, "Madam, I held the door open for you not because you are a lady, but because I am a gentleman."

DICKIE IN ST. LOUIS

DEAR DICKIE: Touche. Another reader's comment on

"Baffled's" rebuke: "The same thing happened to me when I held the door open for a woman who didn't appreciate it...I explained, 'I held the door open for you not because of your gender, but because of your age!'"

Community marks Red Ribbon Week

DEAR READERS: Please join the Seminole County Red Ribbon Week celebration during Oct. 24-Nov. 1. During Red Ribbon Week people from all walks of life join together in a comprehensive acclamation of our determination to reclaim our neighborhoods, streets and youth to a society no longer impacted by the abuse of alcohol and other drugs.

LET US REPLENISH THE SEED OF FAITH THROUGH ... Regular Church Attendance

A House or a Home?

What is your initial impression upon viewing this photograph? It appears to be autumn. Perhaps you sense sadness or emptiness, seeing merely a portion of an old abandoned house framed by dry, brittle leaves. On the other hand, maybe you sense warmth and cheer, as you picture a cozy late Saturday afternoon . . . red-nosed youngsters defrosting themselves with mugs of steaming hot chocolate at Grandma and Grandpa's after spending several hours raking late autumn leaves.

Has your impression altered? Do you see a house or a home? Is your cup half empty or half full? It's all up to you . . . and God. In the familiar twenty-first Psalm, David proclaims, "... my cup overfloweth . . . and I shall dwell in the house of the Lord forever."

Dwell in the Lord's house each Sabbath and your cup will overflow with His love. The Lord's house is always a home.

Helper Project International awarded $5,000 from Prudential

By VERA BOBROW
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - The Prudential Insurance Company has awarded $5,000 to the Helper Project International's southeastern region which is based in Sanford.

Robert Stephens of St. Augustine, who along with his wife Donna regularly travels to Sanford to volunteer time with the project, is retired from the Prudential.

The southeast region, with Dr. Bill Beck serving as a director, includes Florida, Georgia, South Carolina and Alabama.

When the opportunity arose for Stephens, as a part of the Prudential family, to apply for a grant for the service agency he took advantage of it.

"I really believe in the Helper Project and the work that Bill and the others do here," Stephens said.

Helper Project International is a program which assists hungry people around the world by providing them with livestock for breeding and for food.

Instruction in animal husbandry is given to the recipients to help them provide food for themselves and build the livestock base in the community for the future.

Dr. Beck said there are no specific plans for the money the region has received.

Dr. Bill Beck

"These are unrestricted funds," according to Beck. "We just got the money today so we haven't made any plans."

Only 159 awards were given by Prudential nationwide.

"We were very pleased with the money," Beck said. "I'm so glad that he (Stephens) works for us and was able to get this money for us."

HPI made a plea to the nation this week for $220,000 to help victims of a severe drought in southern Africa. Over 18 million people and many more millions of cattle, sheep, goats and other livestock are at risk of dying to starvation and dehydration.

The drought has affected over 20 countries and threatens a host of projects overseen by HPI.

Malnutrition and starvation are now common in a country that only two years ago was exporting corn to neighboring countries. "Daily attendance at most schools has gone down tremendously and many children faint at school," according to Robson Zimuto, HPI country representative.

The United Nations calls for more than $2 million in assistance to help the 40 million people ailing famine. HPI is making an appeal to the public to help raise funding for a relief effort designed to salvage many of its endangered projects.

For more information call Dr. Bill Beck at 323-5566.

'Grace and Grits' provides food and fellowship to the community

By SHIRLEY BAKER
Herald Correspondent

SANFORD - Each Wednesday night, the dining hall of Holy Cross Episcopal Church, 410 S. Magnolia Ave., becomes a haven for the homeless, lonely and transient. Here nourishing food and warm fellowship in the name of "Grace and Grits" are provided.

Early this year, Betty Sonnenberg, a member of Holy Cross Episcopal Church, and parishioners of First Presbyterian Church, Sanford and St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Lake Mary, recognized the need to provide some assistance to Seminole County's indigents. Their solution was "Grace and Grits." The name was suggested by Father Barge, priest of St. Peter's Episcopal Church. According to Sonnenberg, his reason was, "We will serve food for the body and soul by sharing through action and fellowship." She also stated that Holy Cross was selected as an ideal location because of its facilities and its parishioners who kindly accepted outsiders.

Additional planning included following the advice of parishioners of St. Barnabas in DeLand and using techniques and procedures observed in similar centers in Orlando. Volunteers were divided into six teams. Each team agreed to work two months a year. Youth, accepted to work on each team, also serve as a team when there is a fifth week in the month.

Fifty people were served during the first week of the program in May. This number has grown to approximately 100 each week.

Father Mann, rector of Holy Cross Episcopal Church said, "I serve in a leadership and encouragement capacity. 'Grace and Grits' is a way to reach out to the community and show the public how aware the parishioners are of the misfortunes of others." It is a way to share the gospel by example." Father Mann also stated that other churches and individuals are invited to farm teams and contribute their assistance and finances.

"Grace and Grits" is operational each Wednesday night.

A traditional Thanksgiving dinner, sponsored by "Grace and Grits" will be served Wednesday, Nov. 25. The entire community is invited to join their friends and neighbors for the evening of fellowship.
