DANGER: Eloise Pounds Panhandle

PANAMA CITY (AP) - Hurricane Eloise, spawning tornadoes along its path, slammed into the central panhandle of Florida today with 130 mile-an-hour winds, raging surf and lashing rains. Only 24 hours after being reclassified a hurricane deep in the Gulf of Mexico, the storm thundered ashore between Fort Walton Beach and Panama City, wreaking havoc in both cities and in a 40 mile stretch between.

Evening Billing Billin

Trees, power lines and billboards toppled before the onslaught, and the area was plunged into darkness in the grey dawn as power transformers exploded in brilliant showers of blue-green sparks. Thousands of people along a 100-mile stretch of shoreline had fled in a last-minute rush to escape the oncoming fury of the storm in the darkness of early morning.

In Panama City, a truss manufacturing plant caught fire, from what officials said was either a leaking gas line or a downed electrical circuit. Firemen tried to fight the blaze in screaming winds and rain.

Three tornadoes were reported in the Fort Walton area. One destroyed a house and ripped the roofs off half a dozen others, but no injuries were reported. Surf riding the abnormally high tides crashed across the unprotected sand dunes of the summer resort area, ripping up roads and highways and undermining the foundations of homes, condominiums and motels built dangerously close to the sea. U.S. 89, running along the coast for nearly 200 miles from Apalachicola Bay to Pensacola on the far western edge of the Panhandle, was reported breaking up under the waves in many places. No storm-related injuries were reported immediately, but communications were down in many areas and an accounting of the safety of residents would have to wait the hurricane's passage Given only a few brief hours of warning, residents of lov-lying areas jammed highways leading inland, many of them fleeing in sleepwear covered by raincoats.

After crossing the coastline, Eloise plunged into the rolling pincy woods of the panhandle, spreading heavy thunderstorms before it on a course toward southeastern Alabama and Georgia.

Forecaster, warned of 5 to 16-inch rains and possible flash flooding in the dozens of streams and rivers lacing the area. Winds were expected to diminish rapidly as the storm moved inland, but the threat of tornadoes persisted. "We've got a lot of damage," said Bob Smith

Salary Hikes Opposed

Some 18 citizens carryin "care packages" paraded into the county commission chambers today to protest pay raises granted Seminole County officials by the 1973 Legislature.

Commissioners sat stunned as citizens stacked 40 to 50 "care packages" in front of the commission room, saying items in the packages are so commissioners will be able to "survive" the tight economy.

"We can't live on our salaries, and they (public officials) are putting more money in the budget for their salaries," said Jan Hobby.

Commission Chairman Sid Vihlen Jr. ordered the packages removed and told protestors, "we're doing our best to hold a county commission meeting. We'll let you do your thing, but you let us do ours."

> Extra police were ordered to the courthouse to handle the flow of traffic which brought protestors to the meeting. Packages were addressed to Vihlen, Sheriff John Polk and Commissioners Mike Hattaway, John Kimbrough, Dick Williams and Harry Kwiatkowski.

The County Officials Salary Act provides about $40,000 worth of raises this year to the school board, the county commission and other top ranking county officials.

Patty Hearst's Own Words May Haunt Her Defense

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Patty Hearst's own words may haunt her if defense attorneys try to contend the newspaper heiress remained an unwilling hostage during her 19-month odyssey with the terrorist Symbionese Liberation Army. A bail hearing was scheduled in U.S. District Court here today, and Miss Hearst's attorneys say she will testify or submit an affadavit in a bid for freedom on bail. Miss Hearst has been held without bail since last Friday, when it was revoked by a judge who cited her taped statements and revolutionary rhetoric. At that time, U.S. Attorney James L. Browning revealed the government planned to use Miss Hearst's own words to prosecute bank robbery and weapons charges here. He also pointed out that a pistol was found in her purse and two carbines were found in the closet of the apartment where she was arrested Thursday with another federal fugitive.

Spurns Subpoenas

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Ford administration fighting a dual battle with Congress over secrecy, is defying congressional subpoenas for documents on U.S. intelligence operations and the Arab boycott against Israel House Intelligence Committee Chairman Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y., said Monday "all my indications are" that Ford will not turn over subpoenaed documents to the committee. Ford cut off both documents and witnesses to the committee two weeks ago after it disclosed that U.S. intelligence monitored Egyptian communications before the 1973 Mideast war.

Spying Tactics Investigated

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate intelligence committee is seeking to determine whether U.S. intelligence agencies ever used break-ins, wiretapping and mail surveillance to spy on American citizens. Such tactics, envisioned by the so-called Huston plan during the Nixon administration, will be the focal point as the committee pens a second week of public hearings. Former White House aide Tom Charles Huston, who acknowledged in a much publicized memo that some of the proposed tactics were "clearly illegal," is scheduled to be the lead-off witness at today's hearing.

Silence May Prove Hurdle

WASHINGTON (AP) - Thomas Kleppe's past silence on conservation and environmental issues may prove to te the main hurdle facing the North Dakota millionaire as he seeks confirmation as interior secretary. Those opposed to Kleppe's nomination have asked whether his experience as a wax manufacturer, a politician and as head of the Small Business Administration qualify him to take over the Interior Department. The Senate begins confirmation hearings today on his nomination.

Road Repairs Okayed

Seminole county's public works department soon will repair county-approved roads on an emergency basis without approval by the board -- before such roads become impassable.

Monday, a consensus of county commissioners was to allow the road department to make repairs as needed on a weekly basis and then submit a list of repairs to the commission each Tuesday.

Commissioner Harry Kwaitkowski said people he talked to were "pretty frustrated" after talking to half the members of the county road department before reaching a commissioner who would okay emergency repairs. Commissioner Dick Williams agreed the decision to repair should be made "at the lowest possible level."

B'nai B'rith Charges Eckerd With Religious Prejudice

MIAMI (AP) - The Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith charges that Clearwater businessman Jack Eckerd is not fit to head the General Services Administration because of religious prejudice.

George Bernstein, ADL Florida regional chairman, said Monday that the league sent a letter to President Ford urging him not to appoint Eckerd to the post.

Eckerd, millionare owner of a drugstore chain, has been mentioned in Washington as a possible appointee for the job.

The league claims Eckerd displayed "an obvious appeal to religious prejudice" by using ads listing himself as Protestant and his opponent as Jewish during an unsuccessful 1974 bid for the Senate. The prejudice charges were vehemently denied by Eckerd during his campaign.

Fee System Attacked

WEST PALM BEACH (AP) - Attorneys for six Florida cities say it isn't fair that only residents of cities that levy franchise fees on power companies should be charged for the fees.

Attorneys for the cities of Daytona Beach, Apopka, Miami, St. Petersburg, Fort Myers and Palmetto told the Public Service Commission Monday that it should return to the old system.

The old PSC ruling treated such fees as operating expenses to be borne by all rate-payers regardless of whether they live in the area levying the franchise fee. But in recent rate cases involving four major electric companies, the PSC reversed that policy.

For Florida Power & Light Co., the state's largest utility serving 1.8 million customers, the franchise fee averages about 4 or 5 per cent of a customer's monthly

Turner Jurors Hear Pitch

ORLANDO (AP) - Glenn W. Turner's gift of gab attracted three women jurors to his lavish lakeside boathouse for a sales pitch on his new motivational business.

"I invited all the jurors to come over here," Turner said. "I made some real good friends on the jury and I think it's great that they're interested in motivation." Turner's federal mail fraud trial in Tampa ended suddenly when he pleaded no contest to lesser charges involving Dare to Be Great and the parent organization. Glenn Turner Enterprises.

Turner claims his new venture, "Welcome to our World," is "super clean." Supporters say he's an adviser for the motivational course that uses cassettes and tapes like its controversial predecessor, "Dare to Be Great."

Drug Charges Dropped

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) - Drug charges against Charles Negron, lead singer for the Three Dog Night rock group, have been dropped, but the court official in the case suggested Negron not return to Kentucky.

"There's no doubt that there was cocaine found in his room, and since such a large portion of his audience is young people, I don't feel it would be in the interest of the community if he were to return," said Joseph Golden, a trial commissioner in Jefferson County Quarterly Court.

Golden said a warrant to search Negron's hotel room July 3, when the group was appearing here, was based on "stale information" - a year-old report from police in California that members of the Three Dog Night group had used drugs.

Veteran's Day To Revert

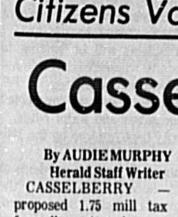

LOS ANGELES (AP) - President Ford has signed legislation returning Veterans Day to Nov. 11 beginning in 1978.

The new law, which a White House spokesman said Ford signed last weekend, ends the practice established by Congress of celebrating the holiday on the last Monday of October. The holiday honors the nation's military veterans.

Third World Owes A Better Effort

When the "non-aligned" nations met recently at Lima, Peru, they called again for a new world economic order to close the gaps between the "have" and "have not" nations. They carried that theme to the special session of the United Nations General Assembly in New York to discuss the impact of inflation, recession and the energy crisis on the relations between the advanced nations and the developing Third World.

Fortunately, when the same countries sent delegations to the meeting of the International Monetary Fund in Washington, the rhetoric cooled down. There, the delegates were more willing to acknowledge that their problems will ease when the industrial nations recover from recession.

This does not really ease the tension, however. The developing countries, as well as some industrial nations that rely heavily on export trade, are urging that the United States "reflate" its economy in order to stimulate demand for their products. In other words, the United States should risk a new breakout of inflation with fiscal and monetary policies that would pour more adrenalin into recovery from recession.

. The big flaw in that proposal is the Finflation is the arch-enemy that could set back the recovery we have already achieved. President Ford rejected that course in his speech to the IMF, and declared: "No country can expect the actions of others to resolve its problems and no country should follow economic policies designed to solve its problems at the expense of others.

That could serve as a credo for the idea of economic interdependence which Mr. Ford and Secretary of State Kissinger have been trying to get across. It applies to the United States, which can best serve its trading partners by keeping its own inflation problem in check. It applies to Third World countries which are flirting with the idea of setting up cartels to engineer price increases for their exports. And it applies to the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, which is threatening to deal the world economy another blow with a further increase in the price of oil.

The United States is not turning a deaf ear to the appeals from the Third World. Secretary Kissinger, in his message to the U.N., had proposed a new world food reserve system, new aid programs to increase farm production, tariff and credit arrangements to promote industrialization and special monetary facilities to help countries deal with deficits in their trade balances.

Mr. Ford and Mr. Kissinger have offered the Third World nations a calm and reasoned appraisal of what the United States can be expected to do for them - and what they must do for themselves. If the developing nations do not approach the subject in the same spirit, then the responsibility for prolonging their economic crisis will be theirs.

Soviets Tip Hand

Capt. James E. Moore, late of the British navy, can view the navies of the world from a lofty conning tower - the editorship of the prestigious publication Jane's Fighting Ships. With the seven seas spread out below like a massive chessboard, Captain Moore sizes up how the contending pieces lay in his introduction to each annual edition of Jane's.

This year, sorting out the tonage, hulls and weaponry of naval forces has led him to a stark conclusion. As he put it, "The ever-growing Soviet navy has outrun the legitimate requirements of national defense and has no logical merchant defense role in time of war." If the Western powers heed the lesson of history, he says, they can only conclude that these "unnecessarily large forces are intended for aggressive action."

The U.S. government, of course, does not have to read Jane's to know that the Soviet Union has been spending 50 per cent more on naval ship building in the last 10 years than the United States of America, and that the fruits of that effort are turning up on all the strategic sea lanes of the world. Our defense officials have described this burst of naval ship building to Congress time and again.

Cleaver Becoming Patriot?

Travel, it's said, is broadening, and the latest proof of the truth of that adage comes from a most unlikely source.

Since he fled the United States in 1969 in the face of charges of parole violation, Eldridge Cleaver, once a leader in the Black Panther party, has been traveling in self-imposed exile first in Cuba, then Algeria, China, North Vietnam and North Korea. What he has seen in those countries, and the thinking he has done in the past six years, has changed his mind about a lot

Indeed, some of the former leftist radical's remarks in an interview recently published in Rolling Stone magazine could have been taken from a speech by a Ronald Reagan.

For example, "after all my travels and seeing the socialists' world up very close, really seeing how the Soviet Union and China function, well, J now think that the United States should be second to none militarily, that we have to strengthen, not demise (sic) our military, and that really causes a lot of people's mouths to drop open.

It is hardly a case that Cleaver now believes that everything is just fine in this best of all possible countries: "Wherever there seem to be forces of fascism and repression, the United States always seems to side with them. That has to change,

"But these days socialism is always shown representing the future. However, experience has shown Socialists - Communists strap onto people the most oppressive regimes in the history of the world. Regimes that are dictatorships, dictatorships in the name of the proletariat, not by the proletariat."

The reason these regimes are very hard to get rid of - and here many will consider Cleaver to Commission Rapped be on shaky ground - is "because they give people something everyone longs for, and that's economic security, if you will, economic active in the community, I depend very heavily democracy." Few, however, will argue with his on your paper to keep me informed on local statement that "political democracy, which I issues and the workings of our local government. think is the more important of the two, doesn't I am becoming increasingly concerned with exist in Communist countries."

Soviet Union, the United States should be pollution problems have not been solved in resolutely opposed to the present regime, says Seminole County nor are they likely to disappear Cleaver, putting it in terms perhaps less delicate just because they saw fit not to budget any than a Ronald Reagan might: "Because the money to the department. This frustration, though still largly private, has since assumed formal dimensions; Rep. Morris Udall, as example, now says gingerly that if the Democrats force a Kennedy candidacy they will be running a man for the presidency who breaks his word; backers of other candidates focus their condemnations on the idea that a party of 60 million people has only one man worth courting.

The resentments are natural enough. It's a bit off-putting, says Udall assistant Bob Neuman, "to work your rear for months and then find out in a California poll that Kennedy is still ahead of everybody by three times." What's more, there are the financial considerations; new laws which limit campaign contributions have minimized the effects of contributors who are holding their money until the Kennedy question is final, but as Carter aide Jody Powell says: "Even if we can Larry R. Sinclair get a Kennedy man to give us some money, we can't yet get his full support, we can't for in-University of Florida stance get him to go out among his neighbors and Gainesville, Fla. raise the money he otherwise might."

WORLD IN BRIEF Egypt, Israel Agree

On Withdrawal Plans

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) - Egyptian and Israeli military negotiators completed an agreement early today setting forth the procedures to be followed in Israel's second troop withdrawal in the Sinai desert. In a 15minute ceremony following a final session of almost 18 hours, the Egyptian delegation signed the bulky document and the Israelis initialed it. The Israeli government announced previously that it would not sign until the U.S. Congress approved the stationing of American civilian electronic experts in the buffer zone between Israeli and Egyptian forces. U.S. officials expect this approval next

Secrecy Surrounds French

PARIS (AP) - Official secrecy surrounded the efforts of the French government to save a woman archeologist threatened with execution today by a rebel African chief. A French military plane was reported on patrol over the area in northern Chad where Chief Hissen Habre of the Toubou tribe has been holding Francoise Claustre, 38, in the Tibesti desert for 17 months. A French spokesman said "an active phase of the negotiations" had begun, which was taken to mean that the plane was in radio contact with Habre.

Syria Agreement Seen

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) - Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger thinks Syria may agree next week to negotiations with Israel for another Israeli withdrawal on the Golan Heights, a senior American official said today. The talks could be held at the informal Middle East conference Kissinger proposed Monday as an alternative to the dormant Geneva peace conference.

Forum Features Women 'Petticoat Potential' To Be Explored

"Petticoat Potential," a forum for women, will be presented Oct. 9, from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Orlando Municipal auditorium sponsored by the First Sun National Bank of Orlando in cooperation with Orlando Central Business District. The purpose of the program is to promote professional and successful women. Such nationally prominent individuals as

Mrs. Marvella Bayh, Mrs. Harriett Manley, Mrs. Marabel Morgan and Mrs. Julia Walsh will be featured on the forum.

Mrs. Bayh is the wife of Indiana Senator Birch Bayh. She will add the political flavor to our program besides addressing herself to the importance of health care, relating her personal experiences regarding her battle with breast cancer. In 1973, Mrs. Bayh led the American Cancer Society Crusade in Indiana and now is national co-chairman for this organization.

Mrs. Manley is well qualified to speak on opportunities for women in business since her business career dates back 18 years when she paired with Westinghouse Electric Corp., in public relations. She then moved on to become manager of public relations and sales promotion for PAGE Communication Engineers Inc. She has occupied a number of executive positions in the National Trade Associations and was appointed to the Federal Engergy Administration in 1974. Mrs. Manley is a.so active in the Chamber of Commerce and the Red Cross.

Representing the homemaker, Mrs. Morgan is the author of the number one best seller in 1974, "The Total Woman," which her experiences.

A professional business woman, Mrs. Walsh joins the "Petticoat Potential" program as a broker with Ferris and Inc. Starting her business career in the early '50s, she has risen to vice chairman of the board of Ferris and Co., besides being an exchange official of the American Stock Exchange. Julia Walsh's dedication to education has earned her an Honorary Doctorate of Law from Regis College in Frederick, Md. She is now serving as a member of the national board of the Medical College of Pennsylvania and chairman of the advisory board of Simmons Graduate Program for Women in Management.

By LOUIS SAPSIS Herald Boxing Writer

ORLANDO - Sanford's Victor Perez returns tonight to the scene of his greatest triumph, the Orlando Sports Stadium, to defend his Southern junior middleweight championship against Cisco Oliver in a scheduled 10 rounder. Perez won his crown six weeks ago at the sports stadium when he outbrawled

Orlando's Joey Vincent. In stopping Vincent in four rounds, Perez displayed more punching power than he had shown in his 51 pervious pro outings, for the flamboyant Vincent was on the floor for more than five minutes after he was counted out. All that power may have to be used to turn back the challenge of Oliver for the invader comes to Florida with the reputation of being a puncher himself Oliver's record is only 15-8 but more than half of his wins have come via the K.O. route. If Perez is successful tonight he may be breught back on Oct. 28, to face either Bobby Crawford or Killer Ellis and then he may have one more ring appearance before retiring from boxing. Both Crawford and Ellis backed out of tonight's date against Perez but they both hope to be ready in a month.

It's Not Sudden Death, But Ties Are Unlikely

Sister kissing is out in Florida's high school football circles this year as the tie becomes a thing of the past. With the advent of a new playoff system, requiring each team to play opponents within its district, came the distinct possibility of multiple ties. And Floyd Lay, executive secretary of the Florida High School Activities Association, was instrumental in developing the tie-breaker system by which one Seminole County team has lost a game.

Seminole High might have been faced with overtime Saturday night except for a last ditch touchdown pass. Basically, overtime consists of teams starting from the 50yard line and alternating plays with the winner decided on the and teammates soul-slapped each other. Believing himself a basis of which side of the field the ball ends up on. Trinity Prep lost Saturday, 1-0, when Jacksonville Episcopal gained 17 yards in its four plays and the Saints got only two in one Oak Ridge simply took advantage of an uninformed Jones team. rush and zero in three pass attempts.

The penetration system does bring about a few questions? What happens when a team scores? When both score?

Simple - it's not sudden death, but if at the end of eight plays one team has more points than the other, it wins. Otherwise, a tie is still decided by which side of the field the ball is on. There may be no kicks, except on a point after situation. So the punt is no weapon.

"There is only one situation I don't like," said Seminole coach Jerry Posey, "And that's on the last play. You might have the other team stopped at their 45, if my linebacker puts a jarring tackle on their fullback and he coughs up a fumble - forward with the ball trickling onto the other side of the 50. I've lost the game no matter who recovers the ball." The rule of thumb seems to be on the coin toss to elect to be on defense first so you have the last offensive play. In the other team's territory, all the quarterback has to do is drop to the ground. Many coaches didn't know how to react to the new tie-breaker system. Orlando Oak Ridge opened a few eyes in the Metro Conference jamboree three weekends ago. The Pioneers played Jones to a scoreless tie. Oak Ridge felt its defense could hold, and being unable to punt, threw a rainmaker pass which a Jones defensive back hauled in. The problem was twofold. He was deep in his own territory, and he should have called for a fair catch, because he had 11 gold and green jerseys on him right away.

bout while Ellis found he was unable to prepare himself properly. Killer claimed he "wasn't given enough notice "but he could be ready by Oct. 28.

Preliminary action will feature three of the area's most popular fighters, Edgar "Mad Dog" Ross, Savage Turner and Clarence Henderson.

Ross is just coming back from a threeweek vacation but he figures to be at his best for an over-matched Billy Brockell of Melbourne.

Turner could also have an easy time of it when he faces Hollywood's Roger Pinkney in a light heavyweight tussle. The one who figures to be in the drawn George "Babe" Clark of Jacksonville and on paper Clark has too much of everything for Henderson, the middleweight who turned pro two weeks ago and has already rung up a couple of knockouts

Clark has appeared in more than 100 amateur fights and stopped powerpunching Virgil Gibson in his pro debut last year.

Since then Clark has been giving away a great deal of weight and size to men like Turner and has not been able t overcome the handicap.

Against Henderson, Clark will be aller, heavier, faster, stronger and more experienced.

The amateur portion of the card is o great importance for Casselberry's Scott Clark. He is scheduled to meet Homestead's Sammy Masias in a threerounder that will decide who will meet Georgia's Terry "Rootin" Tuten next

Clark and Masias both hope to use a Tuten match as a springboard to a pro

Masias was twice Golden Gloves champion and has amassed a record of 45-6 while performing mostly in the Miami area

Hunches By JIM HAYNES

The Jones defender jumped up and danced to the sidelines hero, he actually permitted Oak Ridge the equavilant of a punt. It was obvious the move was intentional. It was also legal. Oak Ridge did hold, and won, 1-0. Each down is treated as a fourth down, only a first down is out

Fans can expect to see the tie-breaker, sooner or later. First will come the coin toss, then teams alternate running offensive plays (four each) and while touchdowns are an object, all control will generally decide the outcome. The guy who said a tie is like kissing your sister is going to have to come up with a new line.

SHORT STUFF: Lyman was faced with an unusual situation last Friday night against Boone. Thinking the half was over, most of the team trudged to the locker room. However, no half may end on a penalty, if accepted, so Lyman went on defense with just four players standing on the sidelines. Guys in the locker room were shocked to learn they had missed a play.

Games have been won in the same manner, many players seeing the game end and hurry off the field, only to hear the crowd roar and miss the gamesaving play.

Things are set for the Golden Age Olympics in Sanford th week of Nov. 10-15 with senior citizens 55 and over eligible for 20 events. Entry forms will be available Oct. 15. Wes Rinker's fall college baseball tournament will be held in Sanford Stadium Oct. 22-26 with Rollins, FTU, Stetson and Seminole CC competing in a double elimination round robin.

The total fell only 7,318 short of the runnerup top-10 record total - the 715,715 who turned out Nov. 23, 1974. The all-time high was 741,638 on Sept. 29, 1973.

Wilkins Out Of Action

CINCINNATI (AP) - Linebacker Dwight Wilkens, a key performer in Cincinnati's 13-3 upset of Memphis State, is suffering from a shoulder separation and will be out of the lineup indefinitely.

Coach Tony Mason said Wilkens will definitely miss Saturday's road game at Louisville Saturday and "could be out three weeks."

Wilkens, 5-foot-11, 220 pounds, is a two-year starter for the Bearcats, transferring from Ohio State after playing in the Rose Bowl as a sophomore.

'Care Packages' Spice Commission Meeting By ED PRICKETT Herald Staff Writer

The first glimpse of a mini people's-power movement Tuesday caught Seminole County Commissioners unawares - and their reactions ranged from glee to glum, depending on individual philosophies

For instance, Bob Ellis, the commission's administrative assistant, shook his head and "just couldn't believe it" when some 20 protestors danced teen. into the courthouse Tuesday to distribute 40 to 50 'care packages" among commissioners. Protestors claimed the commission ignored the neonle and presed out raises in this year's budget that were 'nequitable with the faltering economy.
