2 Girls Missing; Sanford Robbery

By BILL SCOTT
 Seminole County authorities are searching for two teen age girls reported by parents to have disappeared Sunday from their Bear Lake homes.

Sheriff John E. Polk said Katherine Mae Tucker, 15, and Patricia Langley, 14, were last seen at the Langley girl's home at 3509 Anna Drive.

A search was undertaken last night in a wooded area off SR 436 near Grace Boulevard after a report that the girls had been seen in the area.

Dean Langley, father of one of the girls, and Deputy William Chandler spent two hours searching the area before giving up the night.

Details surrounding the girls' disappearance remain cloudy, but it is believed that the two left home after a family disagreement.

Sanford police today reported the armed robbery last night of Jackson's Minute Market on Park Drive. Chief Ben Butler said Warren Hicks, clerk, told police that four colored males were involved in the robbery and that three came into the store at 10:34 p.m. and ordered him to hand over the cash.

Two carried guns, revolver and rifle, and reportedly left with approximately $70 in cash.

The getaway car is reported to be a 1956 Buick with pink top and bottom.

One of the robbers reportedly wore a goatee, Hicks reported.

Jeno Purchases 1st Sierra Fund

Jeno F. Paulucci, Chairman of the Board of Jeno's Inc., today announced his resignation as a Director of the Northern City National Bank, Duluth, Minnesota and The Sanford Atlantic National Bank, Sanford, Florida. The resignation was made necessary by his recent purchase of the First Sierra Corporation, a company that manages the investments of the First Sierra Fund. First Sierra headquarters in San Francisco and has assets in excess of 16 million dollars.

In addition to owning the management company, Paulucci serves as a member of the eight man board of directors of the Federal Reserve System, serving as an officer or director of any member bank of the Federal Reserve System.

Paulucci said, "I sincerely regret I must reluctantly resign from the Board of Directors of these two fine banks in order to comply with the Federal Reserve regulations. My keen interest and close association with both the First Sierra Corporation and the First Sierra Fund must necessarily come first in the best interests of personal and family investment portfolios."

Forbes Magazine for August 15 rated the First Sierra Fund among the U.S. top four performers for 1969.

County Boom Pictured

By FRED VAN PELT
 In requesting a comprehensive land management policy be adopted by the Seminole County Commission, George Huffman, planner, predicted this morning that population growth will increase 100 per cent in Seminole, Orange, and Osceola Counties by 1990.

Huffman, a planner with the Orange - Seminole - Osceola Joint Planning Committee, said that anticipated population will be 1,000,000 by 1990.

He added that if 32 building proposals are added to the already anticipated growth, the population will be 2,183,000 in the three counties by 1990.

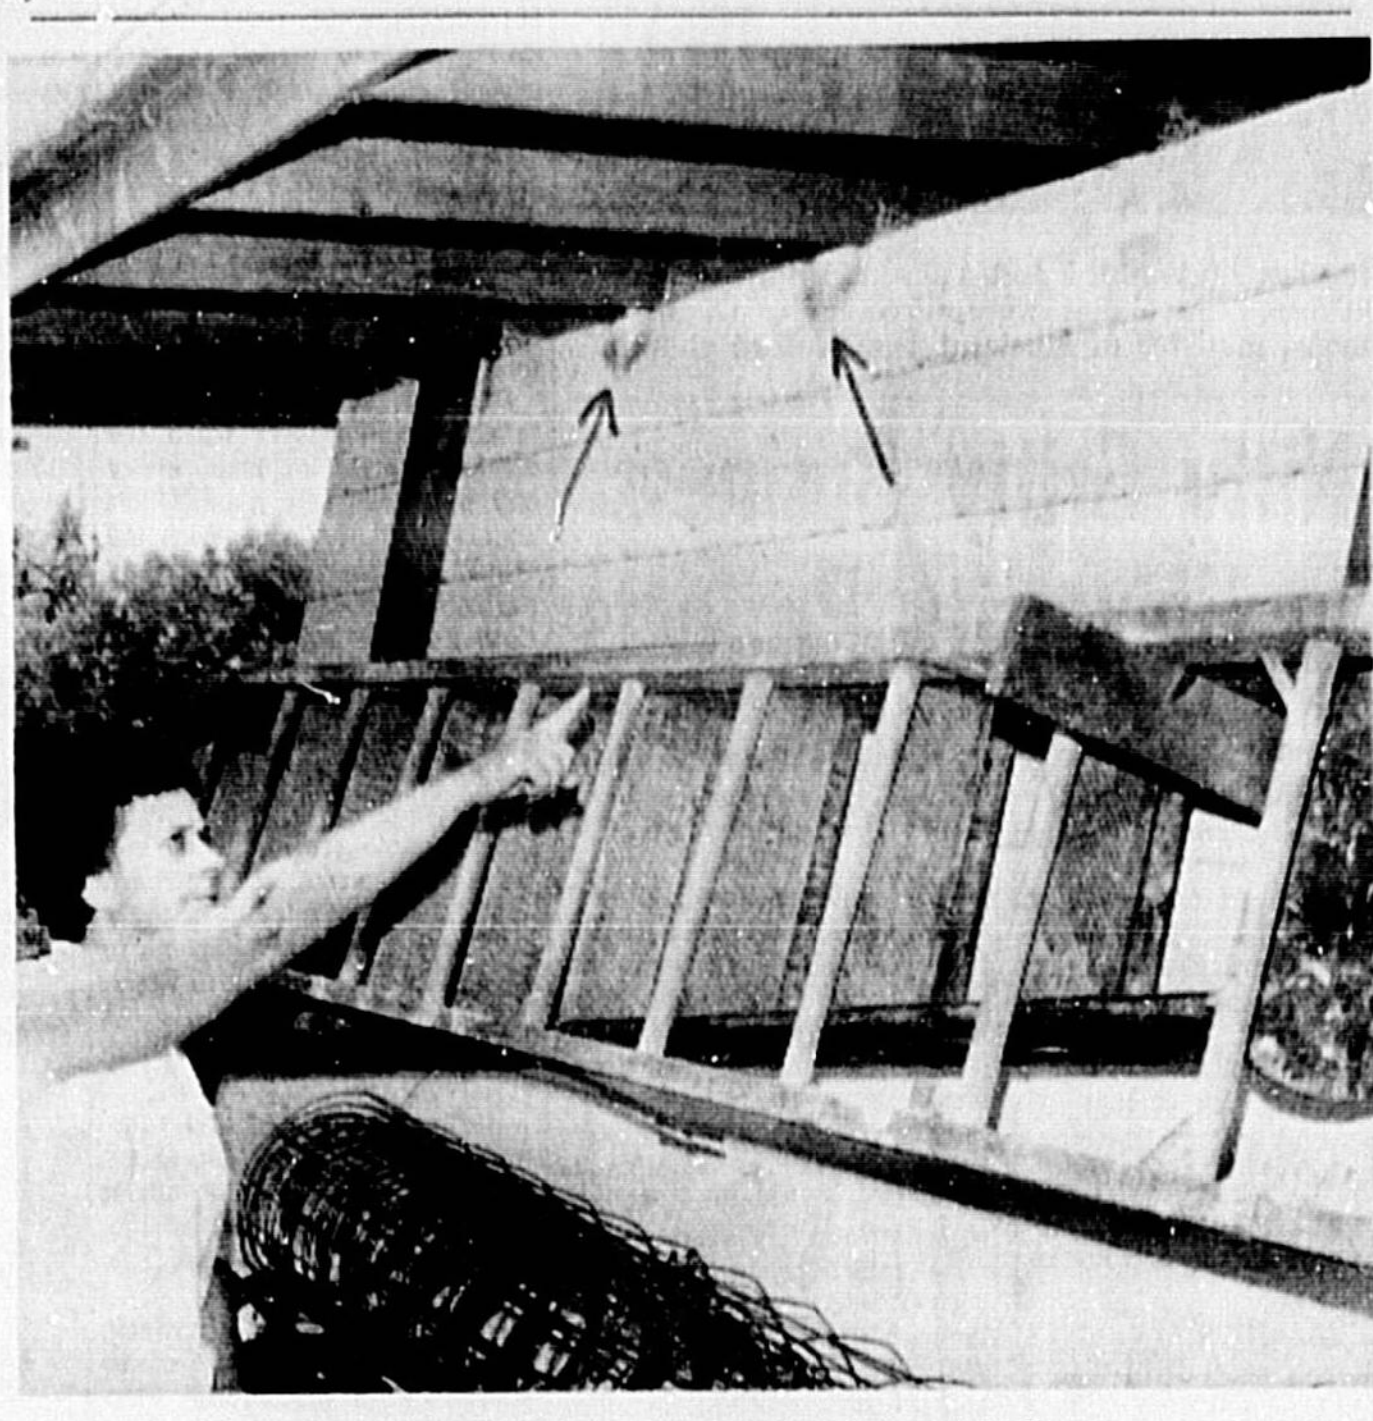

However, he surmised not all 32 of these building proposals will develop.

The planner estimated that with the 100 per cent increase, new highways will cost $1 billion; new water lines, $50 million; and new sewer lines, $100 million.

He pointed out that financing all these capital improvements will be difficult for the local governments.

John Alexander, board chairman, pointed out that much of Huffman's program has already been adopted by Seminole County and that the commission will study the request for the land management policy and give its reply before the next meeting of the planning commission later this month.

County Commission gave further study to proposed directives for sanitary landfill regulations and dredging regulations.

LONGWOOD HARBOR FOR RATS? RATS from an adjoining vacant lot have invaded the garage of Mrs. G. E. Strickland, of 339 East Orange Avenue, Longwood. The dark stains on the wall just under the roof were caused by the rats, according to Mrs. Strickland, who charges the Longwood City Council refuses to act in clearing the vacant lot.

Difficulty Seen In Ryan's Succession

By BILL SCOTT
 It now appears that James Ryan, appointed new Seminole County administrator in an August action of the authority's Board of Directors, may not be able to assume his new duties effective Oct. 1 as had been thought.

Problem is wording of the bill creating the authority which states that a member may resign, but must remain until his resignation has been accepted and a successor appointed by the governor.

The matter was discussed during regular monthly authority meeting last night and resulted in the amending of an original motion by Harold Kestner, board member, to specify Ryan succeeding Francis Roumillat III, resigning post administrator, as soon as possible after Sept. 15, contingent upon Ryan's availability.

Elizabeth Bassett, port chairman, stated this would be the best way to handle the situation until a clarification is forthcoming.

Roumillat, Sanford business man, has indicated his willingness to remain on as administrator until the situation is resolved.

Responding to Ryan, the chairman asked Roumillat and Ryan to get together and appraise furnishings now being used in the port office located in the Roumillat Building and belonging to the administrator.

The two men will arrive at some figure on the worth of the furniture and Roumillat will be remunerated accordingly.

Reporting on the port construction now underway and expected to be completed by May 3, 1970, Roumillat said a section of the port had been driven by the engineer at 60 foot depth to determine foundation and "it looked good, but must wait for the report."

A second partial payment of $29,000 was made to the contractor by the administrator.

At meeting conclusion, Henry Schumacher, new authority member, questioned the feasibility of a railroad spur to the port at authority's expense.

Schumacher stated the railroad company would neither build nor maintain the spur, which, according to him, was not needed to begin with.

The member questioned whether railroad was included simply because free money was available and stated cost of railroad could be better used.

Chairman Bassett affirmed Schumacher's ideas, but stated since the project was approved by governmental agencies for grants and loans to build the facility, the railroad would have to be included in the plans unless some problem developed.

Roumillat stated a feasibility study had determined the need for the railroad before the plans were submitted to U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and Economic Development Administration (EDA).

County Commission gave further study to proposed directives for sanitary landfill regulations and dredging regulations.

County Reviews Financing

County Commission will decide at its next meeting on Sept. 23 which course of action it will follow in financing proposed $2.154 million improvements. The county is considering construction of a branch courthouse, a mental health center, a juvenile detention center, and an agriculture center.

Chairman John Alexander said the commission will decide this week whether it can issue bonds without a referendum or if a referendum is necessary.

The commission designated Alexander and County Attorney Harold Johnson to confer with a fiscal agent, Kirk Gundy. They will also decide whether a public hearing is necessary next Tuesday.

If it is decided the bond issue must go to a vote the referendum will be on the Nov. 2 ballot.

Casselberry Dispute

By MARION BETHEA
 In Indian Hills vebemently opposed proposed zoning changes from residential to commercial and apartments at a capacity meeting of Casselberry City Council last night.

Purpose of the change is to allow construction of an ultra modern shopping center and apartment complex on an 4.13 acre tract located at the southeast corner of Kewanee Trail and Semoran Boulevard. The apartments will be situated in an area between the shopping center and Indian Hills subdivision, a community comprised of slightly over 100 homes.

Although the zoning change has been recommended by the planning and zoning board, council voted to continue the meeting until October, provided a contract being negotiated with developer Paul H. Broynhill is executed.

Broynhill has agreed to purchase the property when it is zoned C-1.

Secret Meeting?

The Herald has learned that a special meeting has been called for Wednesday noon by a group of city and county leaders to discuss, among other things, the moving of the Sanford Zoo to Lake Monroe Park outside the city limits.

The meeting is to be held at the Luj Club and, according to informants, news media will not be allowed.

Sanford Must Come Up With $1,770,000

Sanford Mayor Lee P. Moore, in reference to agreements made yesterday to State Air and Water Pollution Control Board hearing at Tallahassee, said the city's agreements with the state agency were predicated on funds being available to build the $1,770,000 secondary sewage treatment plant, which the pollution board said was necessary.

Moore with W. E. Knowles, city manager, and W. C. Hutchison, city attorney, attended a Monday hearing before T. T. Turnbull, assistant attorney general.

Moore said city would submit a report on past efforts in regards to preventing pollution of Lake Monroe within 90 days.

In a news release from Tallahassee pollution board's office, it was established that Sanford agreed to submit a plan for sewage treatment within the specified time.

The agreement came at the conclusion of a formal hearing, which was called by the state after Sanford was cited as one of the 35 municipal and industrial waste depositories along the St. Johns River.

The city was cited by the pollution board earlier in the year for improper waste treatment.

Included in the plan agreed to by the city will be an engineering report, a timetable for acquiring construction funds and a construction schedule to meet the state's treatment deadlines of Jan. 1, 1973.

The agreement was part of the state's plan to upgrade the water quality of the St. Johns River.

'New Season' No Matter Where You Look!

Unless someone doesn't read, listen or look, there is no escaping the fact that this is, indeed, a new season.

It makes no difference whether one's interest is in government, sports, fashions, education, politics or cultural affairs.

Baseball is marching out with the World's Series drums a-beating. Football is plunging in with headline sport figures carrying or throwing the pigskin (which it is not).

TV, with its great possibilities to do good and harm, is putting its judgment to the test of ratings.

But there is one continuing phase of human activity which never does much in the way of a rest, before renewed activity.

We refer to politics. And we do not limit this broad conclusion to any single arena. Pick whichever attracts the attention.

International has its credits and debits. It allows punditting without the risk of contradiction. Yet there is the death of Ho, the meeting of the Soviet and Chinese leaders, the vicious conflict in the Mideast and our own embroilment in Vietnam which are intellectual hooly traps.

On the national scene, partisan points of view distort balanced judgment. Yet here there is, truly, a new season. Liveliness should be its character.

President Nixon has come to the end of a time when "... on the other hand ..." is an acceptable device to avoid the hard commitment.

But it really took the young and ambitious Lieut. Gov. Ray C. Osborne, (T) to send up a flare on Sept. 12th, announcing his candidacy for the United States Senate and seeking the Republican nomination to cause eyes to blink from Florida to Washington.

In the first place his timing was odd if not questionable if woven in the fabric of overall Republican strategy. For the national GOP leadership was in Orlando, talking with Duke Crittenden, state chairman, about the 1970 campaign when Osborne made his announcement in Tallahassee.

It surprised them. It also must have surprised U.S. Representative William C. Cramer of St. Petersburg, Republican strong man, who is expected to announce his candidacy for the GOP senatorial nomination tomorrow. An Osborne-Cramer race is the kind of political happening that most wise politicians would avoid.

So we endorse the characterization of these September and October weeks as a "new season" and one which we all can endure or enjoy, depending on our approach. How about taking part by reading, viewing and listening?

involved and how knowledgeable the governor. But that this makes a new season for the Republican can be accepted.

There must be a smile on the face of the 77-year-old incumbent. For here is a seasoned and respected United States senator — Spessard Holland — awaiting only the OK from his doctors before deciding what to do about seeking a return to the seat on the Democratic side he has occupied since 1946.

As for our local scene, there is even more evidence that the 1969 race for mayor and commission will give local politicians a chance to show their stuff.

So we endorse the characterization of these September and October weeks as a "new season" and one which we all can endure or enjoy, depending on our approach. How about taking part by reading, viewing and listening?

"Thieves Market"

How long since there was some definite careful, persistent housecleaning (not dusting) in your house?

Of course, we are pointing no fingers. We are casting no aspersions on the cleaning of any house, its floors or its windows or its rugs.

But we are baiting a hook to catch your attention.

What we would like to see in motion is a movement in every house in Seminole County which would take the family — man, woman and child — into the closets, the spare rooms, the storage areas, the cabinets etc., etc., — looking for anything which others could use and are not in use now.

Gather them together! Take them to the vacant store on First Street where the Hollywood Shop used to be and let the City-Wood Club "Thieves Market" dispose of them.

Or, if that can't be done telephone 322-7029 or 322-6390 and a pick-up will be made by the Civitan folk.

The "market" will take place on Sept. 15, 19 and 20. The proceeds will go to the worthy project of putting a new roof on the Little Red Schoolhouse, a facility for mentally retarded children.

But the sale itself is, happily enough, only part of the fun which such a project of "search and dispose" can provide.

How about the articles which you have squirreled away? What dust-covered objects which once were so essential and now not needed at all that can be put to good uses by someone else?

Then there are those clothes which would be needed sometime and never worn? Here is an opportunity which all can take advantage of with pleasure for themselves and profit for the Little Red Schoolhouse.

And for all this goes our thanks to the Sanford Civitan Club!

Crane's Worry Clinic:

Saving And Salvaging Time

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph.D., M.D. CASE 1-308: Insurance D., aged 55, is an insurance manager. "The Crane," he began, "you are aware of advice to motorists which warns us against maddly trying to save a minute at the expense of losing a life! "Well, the faster we travel, the more irritating become brief delays. "Isn't this like Einstein's theory of relativity?" "Horace is quite right when he mentions Einstein's theory. The faster we travel, the more irritating becomes any interruption. In the horse-and-buggy days, a 60-second wait at an intersection meant little. "Indeed, it gave the horses a chance to rest and catch their breath. "But with the advent of the automobile, if we miss the green light, many executives snort and fume! "Cavett Robert beautifully illustrated this when he said that if our grandparent missed a train, they merely waited till the next day. "And when our parents failed to catch their airplane, they straggled it off and calmly took the next one a couple of hours later. "But now," said Cavett, "even if I just miss my section of a revolving door, my whole day is shot to heck! "Alas, we place such great emphasis on saving a few minutes, then don't know what to do with that salvaged time! "So the smoker immediately shakes out a cigarette or the drinker mixes a cocktail, merely as a means of using up those few minutes that were gained. "But when my children occasionally drop in to see me, they act as if they can't even spare enough time to remove their coats. "And they sit on the edge of the chair as if they are about to jump up and run. "How I wish sometimes they just stay for an hour or even the entire afternoon. "It would be no nice to have them 'holl' around, with no thought about time. Maybe they could even wait and eat with me! Collect What?

NEW YORK (AP) — What do you collect? Stamps? Coins? Old silver? Memories? Memories are the best of all things to collect. They have several advantages over other possessions that people prize and save. They never decrease in interest, they can be shared with other people without diminishing their value, and you don't have to put them away in a costly safe-deposit box, as you do diamonds, to protect them from thieves. Many folks might envy your precious store of memories; none would be so heartless as to wish to steal them from you. And your album of memories is pretty extensive if you can look back and remember when

Interpretive Report:

Housing And Prefabrication!

By RICHARD WILSON, WASHINGTON, D. C. — Among the things that will not get into this country under the Nixon administration gets its priorities right is putting a roof over everybody's head. The requirements for housing in the next decade are fantastic. Unless the right beginning is made now the needed housing simply will not be built. Consider the requirements. Twenty-six million new housing units, $46 billion in mortgage money by 1975. Wide-scale revision of local building codes. Broad revision of restrictive labor practices. Creation of an entire new bill for mass-produced housing. Family formation by the immediate post-World War II years creates the coming demand for housing. But it is more than that. Much housing needs to be replaced. A more mobile population requires vast units to accommodate shifts due to employment, retirement, climate, and just plain restlessness. The problem is squarely before the Nixon administration now as it lays out its budget and priorities for the 1971 fiscal year. Something will have to give somewhere if housing needs are to be met. Housing is going to Mars? Housing is new weapons systems? An urgent need is continuation of government budget surpluses so that the government will not have to borrow so much on its own account and funds can be freed for housing projects. Perhaps an even more urgent need is the revision of labor practices and restrictions in the building auto drive. And older people, as read under the more placid tempo of the past, often get confused by our modern executive competition with clocks. "Why," added Cavett I Robert, "met an old farmer on a here in Arizona recently. "He was standing there with a coil of rope in his hand, looking bewildered. "For he didn't know who else he had found a rope or for a cow!" "If you have elderly folks in Nursing Homes, please do it right to visit them as if you were allied with them merely as a 15-minute appointment. "Dr. Crane," a cultured grandmothers in Chicago recently protested, "this is a wonderful Nursing Home. "I have color TV and the attendants are very gracious. "But when my children occasionally drop in to see me, they act as if they can't even spare enough time to remove their coats. "And they sit on the edge of the chair as if they are about to jump up and run. "How I wish sometimes they just stay for an hour or even the entire afternoon. "It would be no nice to have them 'holl' around, with no thought about time. Maybe they could even wait and eat with me! Helen Fuller Says:

Seniority And/Or Senility?

WASHINGTON — Of the 60 members of Congress at the large office of Cabinet and White House officers who flew to Palm, Illinois, in Air Force 1 for Everett Dirksen's funeral, many were flying in tribute to a man they genuinely liked. Many others were paying tribute to the cardinal principle by which Congress governs itself—seniority. Some outsiders say that seniority has come to be synonymous with senility. It is true that to get to the top of the heap in seniority—one's ranking in terms of years served in Congress—a man must have eaten many a birthday cake. When Pennsylvania Senator Joseph Clark took a census of committee chairmen in the Senate a few years ago, only two of these powerful men were under 45. Since the real business of Congress takes place in the committees and the chairman determines to a large extent what the committee shall recommend, length of service really has special ability near only seems the prime requisite for those jobs. Yet that is how things work. Everett Dirksen is a clear case in point on the question of seniority. He is the unusual example of a man who grew with his job. When first elected to the 81st out of Representatives in 1908—the year of Franklin Roosevelt's first victory—Dirksen was a narrow, isolationist, hard-shin, ill Midwestern Republican. It is hard to believe he came to have

Dates Are Set For WGA Tourneys

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Staff

The dates have been set. The courses have been tried and selected. The entries are pouring in from all over the United States and even from Canada. What is all the excitement about? The World Golf Association is preparing for their initial tournament.

The WGA, which came into existence on July 2, 1969, plans to hold a tournament every month. The first four sites have already been announced. The Lone Palm Golf Club in Lakeland will be the site of the first WGA tournament. The sites for the event will be September 26-28. The second tournament will be staged at the Mayfair Country Club in Sanford.

The sites of the third and fourth tournaments have just been announced. The third tournament will be held at the DeSoto Lakes and Lodge Golf Club in Brandenton-Sarasota area. The site of the fourth tournament will be the site of a tournament set for November 14-16. The Pasadena Golf Club in St. Petersburg will host the final tournament of 1969. December 12-14.

The Sanford tournament is scheduled for October 14-16. It will be a $25,000 tournament with a $25,000 Hole-In-One hole featured on one of the par 3 holes.

October 10 will be a Pro-Am tournament. The WGA plans to feature friendly tournaments. Spectators are invited to bring their cameras to the Pro-Am tournament. The larger tournaments do not permit this. The WGA also asks their pros to stop and talk with the spectators during this tournament and answer any questions the fans may have.

The top ten amateurs from Friday's event will be invited to play in the big tournament Saturday and Sunday. The ten amateurs will receive $100.00 in prizes for playing in the big tournament.

The tournament will feature a $5,000 top prize. Second place will be worth $2,000, while third place will net $2,000. A golfer finishing as low as 40th will still receive $125, which is more than the entry fee paid.

Applications for the tournament and for membership in the WGA are available from Mike Whelchel at the Mayfair Country Club, or from the WGA.

For information write World Golfer's Association, Inc., 800 Central Avenue, St. Petersburg, Fla., or telephone (813) 894-0108.

The WGA is designed to benefit the small pro. The WGA will accept, but doesn't try to lure the big names in golf. The PGA has decided to allow their golfers to play in WGA tournaments if they wish to do so.

There will be a slight admission charge to the WGA tournament at the Mayfair Country Club. For ticket information, contact the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees.

Speck fishing is hitting real good with the catches running about thirty-eight fish per boat, while fishing with Missouri Minnows in Lake Monroe and the St. Johns River, the sizes seem to be running small and medium.

The salt water fishing was doing real well last Sunday night while fishing off the New Smyrna Beach bridge. Sea Bass and Flounder were biting good for a while and then the bass started biting. Both types of fish were biting and on all Sunday night.

There have been some real reliable reports of ducks being spotted north of the Osteen Bridge and some nice size Mallards, so it looks a little different this year than it did last, with more duck spottings in the local area.

An estimated 5,000 bow hunters were on hand for the opening weekend of the archery deer hunt in the Ocala National Forest, according to Major J. W. Bickersstaff, Central Regional Manager for the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

Six deer and six bucks with antlers over five inches in length were checked at the hunt headquarters.

Men, women and children participated in the hunt. The archery hunt will close state-wide and in the Ocala Forest October 3, 1969.

Some management areas will have special archery hunts after the close of the state-wide hunt.

Oviedo Is Ready For Seminole 11

The Oviedo Lions will start their 1969 football season this Thursday night as they travel to Sanford to compete with the tough Sanford Seminoles at the Sanford Memorial Stadium.

The Oviedo squad, under head coach Herman Loftin and his assistants Ralph Stumpf and Steve Stevens, have made remarkable improvements the last two weeks in practice. Stumpf was head coach at Seminole last season as they posted a 6-4 record. As a coach at Oviedo, he would like nothing better than to see the Lions topple the Seminoles in their encounter.

Loftin commented, "The team has a lot of pep and is hustling all the time. The Lions' defense has ironed out many of its problems, and Loftin feels that the handlers will strengthen their shaky offense after the first couple of games."

The head coach reported to The Herald that his line is

County Battle

Prep football 1969 begins this Thursday night and continues for 16 weeks, during which time thousands of area fans will take time out on a Friday or Saturday night to see their favorite pigskin teams perform.

Yes, grid time is fast becoming one of the largest spectator sports and each year more and more fans turn out to watch peewee to pro action either by being on hand or sitting in front of the old "boob" tube.

Thursday night two county rivals, who have never met on the gridiron before, clash in the Sanford Memorial Stadium before an expected capacity crowd. It will be the hard working fast moving Oviedo team against the Sanford Seminoles who will unveil the Tom Perrin "Look". Perrin took over the reins of the Seminoles this year and is expected to have a

Prep Forecast

Howdy folks, it's football time once again and your favorite old pigskin prognosticator is ready to take aim at some of your favorite prep games, coming up this weekend.

Now we are not bragging, but last year your favorite pigskin picker picked 23 right, four wrong, and four ties. How do you like that percentage? Pretty good, if I have to say so myself. Well, anyhow we are back to try our luck this year and that's just what it will be, this, the first week of the season. But we are brave which means that we couldn't have much sense.

Taking a look at this week's battles, the old crystal ball got turned up by telling us that folks will see a very interesting match at the Sanford Memorial Stadium Thursday night between the Oviedo Lions and the Sanford Seminoles. Oviedo might give the Seminoles a good fright, but that's just about all that will happen as we see Sanford blasting off with a win.

SANFORD SEMINOLES 25 - OVIEDO LIONS ?

Big, powerful, bruising Lyman will be off running where they left off last year as they meet an always tough and scrappy Winter Garden Lakeview team in Winter Garden. Lakeview promises to be a tough squad, but Lyman will be one of the toughest for anyone this year and the Greyhounds will be off and running but it won't be after a rabbit but a Red Devil. This tilt is set for Friday night.

LYMAN 25 - LAKEVIEW 14

On Saturday the scrappy Bill Klein Sanford Naval Academy 11 will meet a tough opponent for anyone, Lake Placid. This Lake Placid team has to be one of the toughest teams in B Class competition and the Middleys will probably have their hands full, although Sanford Naval promises to have their best pigskin team. I have to stick with Lake Placid, but this is a hard one to call.

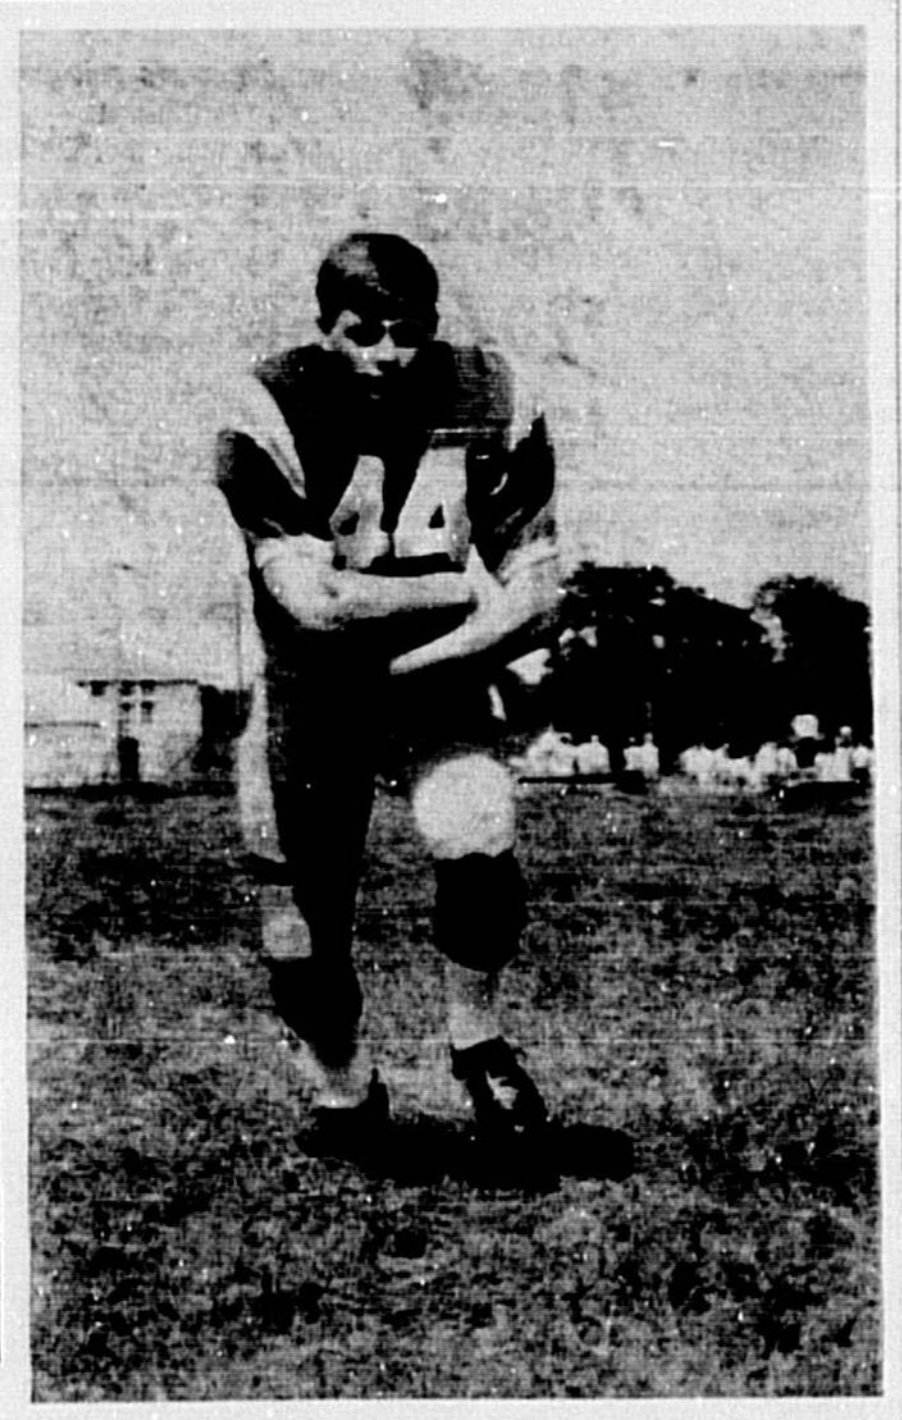

LAKE PLACID 21 - SANFORD NAVAL 11

When loading a boat, the operator should distribute the weight or load evenly. Keep the load low. Do not permit anyone to stand up in a small boat. Small craft are prone to be unstable when even one person is moving about. A passenger must change position, slow down or stop the craft until the change is made. Keep low and toward the vessel's center line when changing position.

An overcrowded boat will easily swamp or capsize in a fairly heavy sea. It cannot respond properly to wave motion when heavily laden. Boat owners should avail of the Coast Guard Auxiliary, Washington, D. C. 20521, or see your local Coast Guard Auxiliary office.

Mets Overcome Carlton's 19 Strike Outs

By MIKE BRYSN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Steve Carlton felt lousy. He was running a slight temperature, his back hurt and he ached all over. He was out of the St. Louis ball park about an hour before Monday night's game with the New York Mets.

The big left-hander had his sore back rubbed down, took a couple of pain killers, and went out and struck out 19 batters, the most strikeouts recorded by a pitcher in modern major league history.

Only there was no little problem.

"The Amazing Mets Super Star got me," said Carlton, referring to Ron Swoboda, whose two homers produced all of New York's runs in a 4-3 victory that spoiled Carlton's masterpiece.

Swoboda, fanned twice by Carlton, boosted the Mets from behind with each of his shots—and both came when Carlton had two strikes on him.

The triumph increased to 41 in the Mets' National League East lead over Chicago, which lost 8-2 at Montreal, and reduced to 11 New York's margin over Philadelphia for clinching the division.

Meanwhile, Willie Mays hit the 39th homer of his career in leading San Francisco's past West Division leader Atlanta 4-3, drawing that lead-off home run.

The Giants trail the Braves by only one-half game and .003 percentage points. Cincinnati hooks Carlton, who struck out 18 in a losing effort to Philadelphia two years ago, said he wasn't aware of how many strikeouts he had until it was flashed on the score board after he tied his old team record of 16 in the eighth inning.

Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians set the old record of 18 strikeouts on Oct. 2, 1938 and Sandy Kousser of the Los Angeles Dodgers matched it twice, while Don Wilson had 18 for Houston last year.

Staubach Runs For Dallas

By SHEILA MORAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals likely will face the same dilemma in the National Football League opener Sunday that confounded Baltimore last weekend—how to cope with Roger Staubach, the sensational, scrambling Dallas Cowboys rookie quarterback.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry said Monday that regular quarterback Craig Morton, sidelined with a dislocated right index finger, would be a doubtful starter against the Cards at the Cotton Bowl.

Baltimore stopped Dallas 27-7 in the preseason finale last weekend but Staubach, who isn't called "The Dodger" for nothing, kept the rugged Baltimore defense on the run.

"I never ran so much in all my life," said a weary Duhba Smith, the Colts' menacing defensive end after chasing Staubach around the Cotton Bowl Sunday. "I've never seen anyone, including Fran Tarkenton, who can scramble like Staubach. The only times we caught him was when he was standing still."

Which wasn't often.

U.S. COAST GUARD AUXILIARY

By BILL JACOBS
Division Public Relations Officer

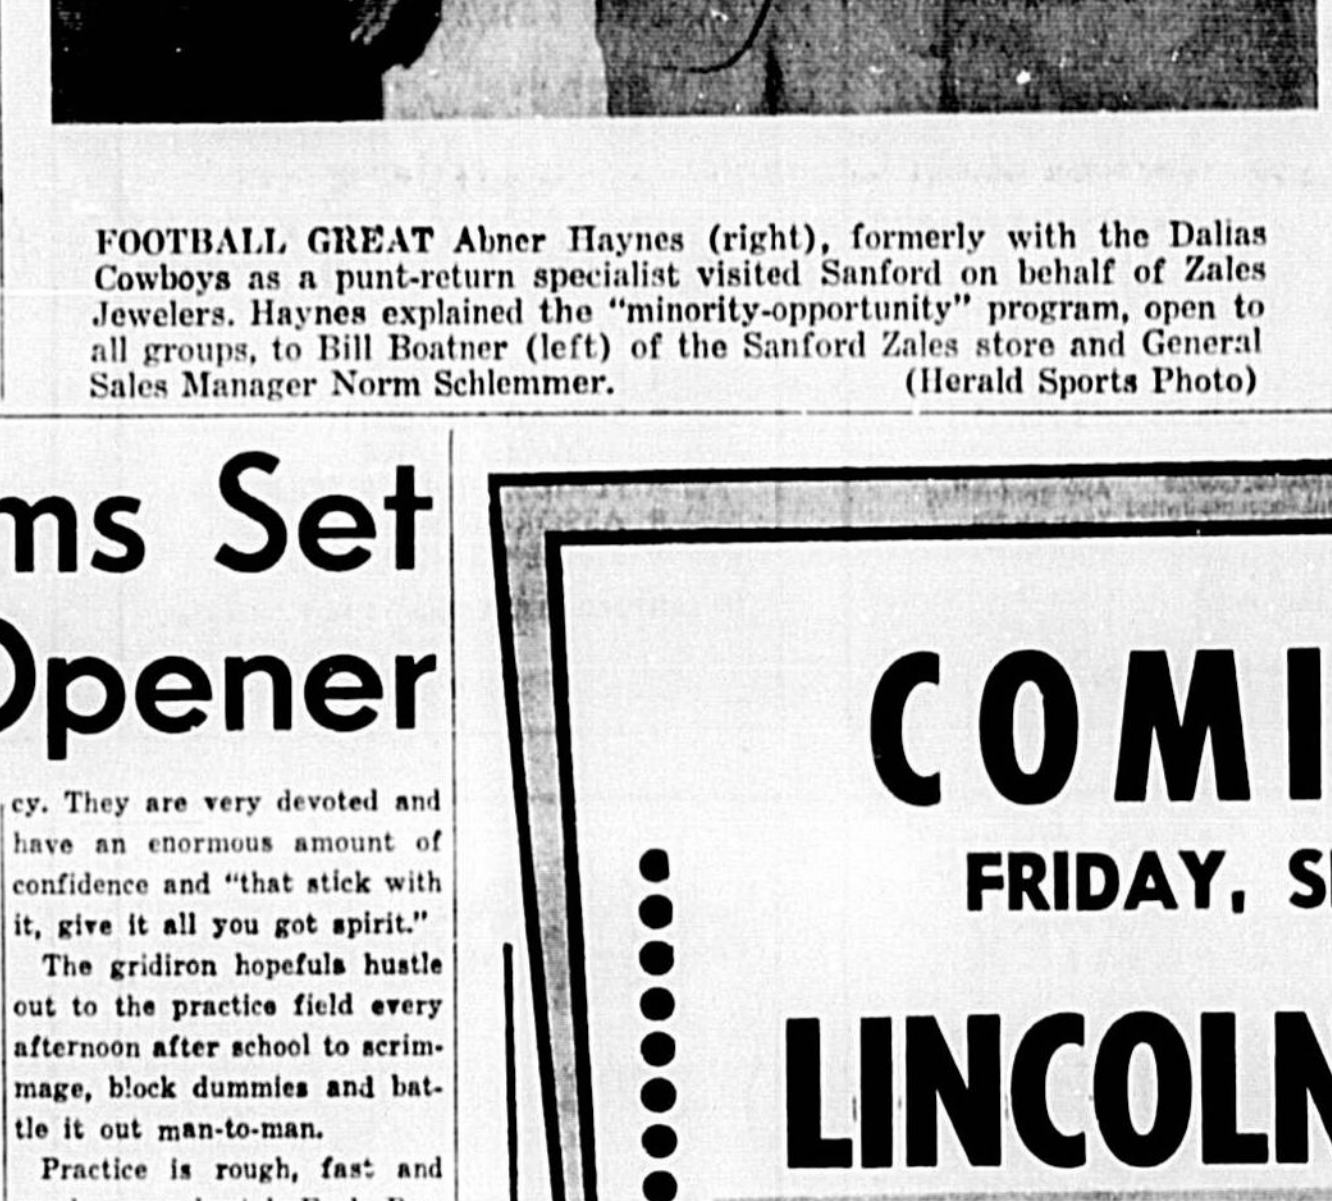

Coast Guard statistics disclose that the primary single cause of boating accidents is negligence attributable to the operator of the craft. The most common operator fault is overloading and improper loading of the boat. The majority of fatal accidents among pleasure boats involve craft of less than 20 feet in length, of which one-half are boats without engines or those powered by motors of less than 10 h.p.

The number of seats in a boat is not indicative of the number of passengers the craft can safely accommodate. A safe load capacity depends on the individual boat's construction and characteristics. Weather and sea conditions are a factor in determining the safety factor of the vessel.

When loading a boat, the operator should distribute the weight or load evenly. Keep the load low. Do not permit anyone to stand up in a small boat. Small craft are prone to be unstable when even one person is moving about. A passenger must change position, slow down or stop the craft until the change is made. An overcrowded boat will easily swamp or capsize in a fairly heavy sea. It cannot respond properly to wave motion when heavily laden. Boat owners should avail of the Coast Guard Auxiliary, Washington, D. C. 20521, or see your local Coast Guard Auxiliary office.

Nixon Orders 35,000 Troops Back Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon announced plans today to withdraw an additional 35,000 U.S. troops from South Vietnam by Dec. 15.

Nixon counted his announcement with a review of what he termed the administration's "major efforts to bring an end to the war."

Reporting his past proposals for a peaceful settlement, Nixon added: "The time for meaningful negotiations has therefore arrived."

"I realize that it is difficult to communicate across the gulf of five years of war. But the time has come to end this war," he said.

Nixon said his latest troop withdrawal order, coupled with the earlier pullout of 23,000 combat men, would mean that 60,000 troops will have left Vietnam by Dec. 15.

By that date, he said, the authorized troop ceiling in Vietnam will stand at 484,000 compared with 548,500 when he took office last Jan. 20.

The cut in the ceiling is somewhat larger than the actual number of troops to be withdrawn, Nixon said, since ceilings taken into account authorized strength of military units whereas "in actual practice most units are slightly below full strength."

In citing his administration's Vietnam moves, Nixon said he has renounced an imposed military solution, proposed free elections under international supervision, offered the withdrawal of U.S. and allied forces over a 12-month period, declared the United States will retain no military bases there and has offered to speed mutual withdrawal under a negotiated, supervised cease-fire.

In addition, he said he has made it clear the United States would settle for de facto removal of North Vietnamese troops as long as there were assurances against their return and that "we and the government of South Vietnam have announced that we are prepared to accept any political outcome which is arrived at through free elections."

The chief executive added the United States is prepared to discuss enemy proposals.

"In short, the only item which is not negotiable is the right of the people of South Vietnam to determine their own future free of outside interference," he said.

Regarding the latest planned withdrawal, Nixon said he acted after careful consideration with his senior civilian and military advisers and in full consultation with the government of Vietnam in Saigon.

N. Viet's Raid Kills 24 Civilians

Saigon (AP) — Two hundred North Vietnamese troops raided a village in the population coastal lowlands south of Da Nang, killed 24 persons, wounded six others and destroyed 120 houses, South Vietnamese spokesmen reported today.

Sharp fighting was reported in various parts of South Vietnam as U.S. and allied forces which units would be included in new U.S. troop withdrawals. Allied forces killed 22 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese in a dozen clashes from the Mekong Delta to the demilitarized zone, military spokesmen said.

Allied casualties were five Americans and two South Vietnamese.

Headquarters said another American was killed and 23 others wounded in 29 rocket and mortar attacks between 8 a.m. and 11 p.m. Monday.

The North Vietnamese attacked the village of Mai Linh, in the northern part of the county 12 miles southwest of Quang Nai, shortly before midnight Monday with rockets, mortars, grenades and rifle fire.

The village of 288 persons was defended by militiamen, and three were killed. All of the other victims were civilians. Enemy losses were not known.

'Royal' Hippies

London with no money and few possessions.

"Homeless families are well-known to join us," said a spokesman. "You can't tramp or nutha drinkers. They would give us a bad name."

Between 30 and 40 young girls are among the squatters. One said her name was Gloria, she was 18 and was a strip-tease dancer out of work.

"Times are hard, and I'll stay here until I get work again," she said.

The police can't shift the squatters because under laws of 1981 and 1991 it is an offense for anyone to use force to break into private property, even to evict trespassers, without a court order.

"This is entirely a civil matter for the owners," said Scotland Yard.

The development company which owns the property and wants to build a hotel on it, said: "Until we know what is going on, we cannot decide what action to take."

The squatters armed themselves with fire extinguishers, and a spokesman declared: "We shall fight any attempt at eviction."

Mrs. Alligeva, 41, also held a news conference here Monday, introducing her second book "Only One Year."

She told reporters she now is at home in America and would like to be a student again "but not a teacher."

She would like to become an American citizen but "it would do no good to apply now," she said.

"I once was a member of the Communist party and that would be against me," she explained. "Perhaps some day when everyone understands that I am not a Communist it will be possible."

"Only One Year" starts on Dec. 15, 1966 when Mrs. Alligeva left Moscow to take the ashes of her husband Brajesh Singh to India, having no plan to defect at that time. It describes her decision a few months later to stay in the Communist world and the aid she received from the U.S. Embassy in India.

Moon Explorers Go Before Congress

The belated congressional honor comes 57 days after Armstrong and Aldrin set foot on the moon. President Nixon paid tribute to the astronauts with a state dinner more than a month ago in Los Angeles, and there were huge parades for them in New York and Chicago.

Congress, on vacation from Aug. 13 until Sept. 3, had planned a joint session for the astronauts last week but postponed it because of the death of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen.

As Congress was preparing for today's big occasion, the White House announced Nixon was extending the U.S. space goal well past the moon.

He accepted a special task force report calling for a landing on Mars by 1975, and an expedition to Venus by 1990.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, asked whether the acceptance of the report meant the President was committing himself to a man on Mars, said: "Yes, I think so."

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew headed the task force which suggested three options, all including a manned landing on Mars and two of them setting for achieving it. No details were disclosed but the report is to be made public eventually.

Agnew touched off a flurry of controversy in July at the launching of the Apollo 11 mission when he suggested that Mars should be the next U.S. space goal, with a landing by the end of this century.

It was reported the club has over 700 paid up members for the current year.

Earl Merrill spoke on the unannounced petition campaign and petitions were available as well as the Orange County Executive Committee of the Republican Party. He said although the State Executive Committee as well as the Orange County Executive Committee of the Republican Party had not yet met, he felt the people should have an opportunity to express their views and hoped enough signatures could be obtained statewide to have a referendum on the matter in the next election.

Referendums were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Belfast Barricades Scheduled To Fall

London (AP) — A Roman Catholic citizens' committee indicated today that it was accepting the British offer to assist in the removal of barricades thrown up by the Catholics in Belfast.

The Central Citizens' Defense Committee issued a statement saying the government had given adequate assurance that persons inside the barricades will not be arrested under the Special Powers Act, which allows suspects to be jailed without trial.

"The committee feels that negotiations on the provision of adequate protection and the removal of the barricades can now commence," the statement said.

The committee also said the list of demands it issued Monday had been misinterpreted.

The organization had said earlier that it would defend the barricades unless the demands were met.

The demands included removal of the Special Powers Act, disbandment of the Protestant police reserves, disarming of the regular police, and British legislation if the Ulster government fails to deliver a package of promised pro-Catholic reforms.

The statement today apparently paves the way for removal of the barricades under an agreement reached in London last week. Under the agreement, British officers will reach separate agreements with the residents of each barricaded neighborhood on the protection the residents feel they need following removal of the barricades.

Svetlana Calls Father 'Ruthless'

NEW YORK (AP) — Svetlana Alligeva says her father, Joseph Stalin, "knew exactly what he was doing" when he carried out the bloody purges which shook the Soviet Union before World War II.

"My father was not mad, at least not in the 1930's," Mrs. Alligeva said in an interview Monday. "He was just ruthless."

"He knew that the party was filled with opposition to him that people would move against him if they could. He simply destroyed all of the opposition with complete ruthlessness."

She said the purges Stalin ordered after World War II "had a different quality."

"Certainly in his last years he was a sick man," she said. "Was he mad? I don't know. How does she view Soviet leaders other than Stalin?"

She said former Premier Nikita Khrushchev "was a good man. Very ignorant. He tried so hard but in the end they pushed him out."

Commenting on Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, she said: "When you see that face you know he just can't succeed."

She described Leonid I. Brezhnev, general secretary of the Communist party, as "just a rude party bourgeois. A nothing."

Crittenden Speaks At DeBary

A larger than usual group of DeBary Republican Club members and friends heard Duke Crittenden, Orlando, Chairman of the Republican State Executive Committee, outline party plans for forthcoming elections, from the precinct level, through county and state up to the national strategy.

He has been traveling the state "from Pensacola to Key West and from Jacksonville to Miami." Everywhere the Republican party is well organized, well financed and active, he stated.

After the pledge of allegiance and Star Spangled Banner and the invocation, Charles Cottrell gave a stirring tribute to DeBary's most distinguished citizen, the late Senator Everett McKinley Dirksen.

It was reported the club has over 700 paid up members for the current year.

Earl Merrill spoke on the unannounced petition campaign and petitions were available as well as the Orange County Executive Committee of the Republican Party. He said although the State Executive Committee as well as the Orange County Executive Committee of the Republican Party had not yet met, he felt the people should have an opportunity to express their views and hoped enough signatures could be obtained statewide to have a referendum on the matter in the next election.

Meyer Explains Stand In Commission Race

Sanford's only qualified candidate for city commission, subject to the Dec. 2 election, today outlined his reasons for entering the race for the lone city commission seat becoming vacant in December.

Gordon Meyer, stating his convictions about the coming city political battles which are beginning to start, said: "The City of Sanford is now on the verge of real solid growth. With this growth of the 1970's now upon us, Sanford needs progressive, day to day leadership to reflect the desires of all the people now more than ever before."

"Now, we have the title to the Sanford Airport and its industrial complex, and with construction of the Port of Sanford underway, our most urgent need is acquisition of good solid land that goals, which will benefit all of Sanford."

Other city political race is for mayor's post being selected for the first time this year by a referendum.

Earl Higginbotham, city commissioner whose term expires this year, is the only majority candidate to qualify, but at least two other persons are expected to seek the post before the Nov. 12 deadline for qualifying.

City election is Dec. 2.

Miss Sara Thigpen, Robert Cummings Married In Double Ring Ceremony

Miss Sara L. Thigpen and Robert D. Cummings were united in Holy Matrimony, Sept. 6, 1966, at 8 p. m., at Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, Sanford.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Thigpen of Sanford and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Cummings of Butler, Ala.

Bishop Julius Blackwell was the officiating clergyman at the double ring ceremony before the altar which was accented with a profusion of red and white flowers and two standing baskets of white gladioli and pom-poms. White satin ribbons and jewelry identified the family pews.

Crucifix, Arthur Pitts Jr., presented a program of nuptial selections and accompanied soloist, Stanley Bramley, who sang "The Lord's Prayer." Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her gown a fitted gown, white of Jacksonville, cut and sewed by the bride's mother, Mrs. Sara Thigpen, and hand-sewn pearls and tear drop crystals adorning the skirt and bodice. Her heart-shaped train, highlighted with lace, pearls and crystals trim, terminated in a ruffled cascade.

Reading Program Highlights S. Seminole Club Meeting

By JANE CASSELLBERRY

The death knell has rung for the remedial reading program in Seminole County Schools. On Aug. 6 the 27,000 worth of materials and equipment was packed up and moved to the Sanford school building.

The program will begin its second grade. Mrs. Dunn revealed that the national average shows that 25 per cent of the children cannot learn to read by the usual methods, but are not necessarily stupid, as many have a high I.Q. and there are other contributing factors.

Things looked bleak for the remedial reading program. The program will be held at 216 Main Ave., Sanford, and will include a speech and hearing therapist, and personnel and facilities for testing and aiding the educable mentally retarded emotionally disturbed, perceptual testing, in addition to a psychologist.

On the agenda was the election of a nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Pat Millitt, chairman; Mrs. Louise Alessi, Mrs. Jean Crouse, Mrs. Nat Oakley and Mrs. Jane Casselberry. A double slate will be presented at the October meeting.

The club will have a banquet held at the Winter Park Mall on Friday, Oct. 3. Mrs. Jean Crouse is chairman.

Hostesses Mrs. Dixie Miller, Mrs. Wilma Morris, and Mrs. Fay Moore served a special cake with pink and white icing in honor of the club's fifth birthday.

DEAR POLLY: — I was someone would tell me how to remove tea and coffee stains from a plastic tablecloth.

DEAR POLLY: — I iron and sew to make a living and have discovered some helpers for speed and neatness that may benefit a bride or anyone interested. The top of an old dress with a center kneehole was covered with light contact paper on one of the wood finish raised off my fabric and inches marked off across the front edge. Then the dress was covered with translucent gummed tape so ink does not rub off on fabric being worked on. I use plastic tomato containers for this and each side four or five pieces of various shades of one color. Plastic dividers that come in boxes of colors black, red, yellow and white are also useful. Little plastic containers hold smaller bottles of various kinds. — MARYLENE

DEAR POLLY: — I have a problem. I have a problem. I have a problem. I have a problem. I have a problem.

Friends of Ed L. Richard L. Barneau, former Sanford resident, will be interested to learn that he has been selected to receive his country's honor in a few weeks. Lt. Barneau is a 1955 graduate of Seminole High School, enlisting in the Marine Corps immediately thereafter. He is presently serving in Da Nang, Viet Nam.

Mrs. E. H. Myers II, attended her state as mother of honor wearing a floor length gown of pale blue crepe trimmed in blue daisies and seed pearls. A cluster of daisies and pearls held her short blue illusion veil.

2nd Child Neglect Charge Impending

Assistant State Attorney Tommy Speer said today he anticipated no additional charges would be placed against the 38-year-old mother of three-year-old Mabel Callaway, whose dead body was found Aug. 20 by Seminole County Constable Chester Boyd in her vermin-infested Oviedo home.

Elizabeth Callaway was arrested after the discovery of the body and charged with child neglect.

She is still in the county jail in lieu of $4,000 bond.

A coroner's jury at Oviedo Monday ruled the child died as the result of being struck on the head with a blunt instrument, after hearing Dr. Arthur Schwartz, Volusia County medical examiner, explain his autopsy findings.

Speer said, "There is no evidence of who actually beat the child and we have no witnesses that the child was beaten."

The assistant state attorney indicated he would possibly file a second child neglect charge against the woman in view of the woman leaving a few months old baby at the house under the care of another child.

Speer said upon conviction, Mrs. Callaway could receive as much as two years on each neglect count.

Prediction: It's Right Here!

By FRED VAN PELT

Sanford is the permanent seat of Seminole County. This will be the finding in the very near future of the Florida Supreme Court, in the opinion of a number of governmental officials close to the situation.

These informed parties stated to The Herald this morning that the high court's decision will be that the City of Sanford is the permanent county seat. The Seminole County seat will be moved to Sanford. This will be the finding in the very near future of the Florida Supreme Court, in the opinion of a number of governmental officials close to the situation.

By construction of a branch court house, a mental health center, juvenile detention center, agriculture center and county jail addition.

Clerk of the Florida Supreme Court this morning informed The Herald by telephone that the decision also will determine the manner of issuance of bonds for construction of a $3.2 million court house and a split-off from Orange County more than a half-century ago. (Volusia, Orange and Seminole Counties at one time comprised Mosquito County, with Enterprise as the county seat.)

A PROD was given to the State Department of Transportation this morning to move up on its priority list the improvement of SR 426 between Oviedo and Geneva. The road has been improved between Goldenrod and Oviedo, Greater Oviedo.

Javees also sent a letter to Gov. Claude Kirk asking a "hurry-up" in improving the "barge canal hi-way." From the left: John Jones, James DeShazo and President Charles Walls.

Sanford Manor To Close

Sanford Manor, a 105-bed nursing home, will close this week after only one year of operating.

Sanford Manor, a 105-bed nursing home, will close this week after only one year of operating. The facility today announced intention to close after losing between $5,000 to $6,000 monthly or $63,000 total loss since opening.

In a prepared news release, John W. Jenkins, administrator, cited increasingly rigid Medicare requirements for the facility to close the facility.

Jenkins said Medicare regulations and qualifications have become stricter and are more rigidly enforced since last October and now only 20 per cent of the patients here are Medicare patients.

Jenkins advised that all nursing homes are experiencing the same difficulties and receiving denials of claims submitted to the federal agency. "Many of these elderly citizens receiving only very small pensions would not have come to the nursing home without Medicare benefits and when these benefits are denied they have no money to pay."

He continued, "The nursing home has not been able to collect payments for services rendered to these patients."

Jenkins informed that the home's board of directors had experienced losses in excess of $100,000 and because of the mentioned problems have decided that Sanford Manor has shouldered more than its share of the community's burden.

Jenkins disclosed that most of the facility's 66 patients are being moved to other area institutions, mainly DeBarry Manor, which is also operated by the same board of directors.

Jenkins forecast a greater use here of the local hospital for housing nursing home cases and expressed the belief that this situation would overburden the hospital's facilities.

Jenkins said he did not know what use would be made of the property after this weekend's closing, and could not comment to a report that the county might be interested in the facility for conversion into a mental health treatment center.

Remember that sign which was used so effectively by the Oviedo JC's in calling attention to a dip in the road? Got it fixed the very next day.

Understand that there's been a great demand on that particular sign, not only by the JC's in that area, but from other groups elsewhere, as well.

Here's a fellow to feel sorry for . . . he's inherited Bill Vincent's old telephone number. Says in the last two weeks he's received more "phone calls" than in all his life before . . . people wanting to ask The Herald photographer-fishing editor about where is the fire? where are the bass biting? where was the accident? will you take a picture of my little darling? That's why Bill has an unlisted number.

Hey . . . didja hear about "Broadway Joe" coming to our area? Well, not in person, but rather, one of his restaurants down around the Seminole Plaza.

Road Designation Changes Bid

Legislation designating Wekiva Springs and Red Bug Roads as primary state highways has been requested by County Commissioner Greg N. Drummond.

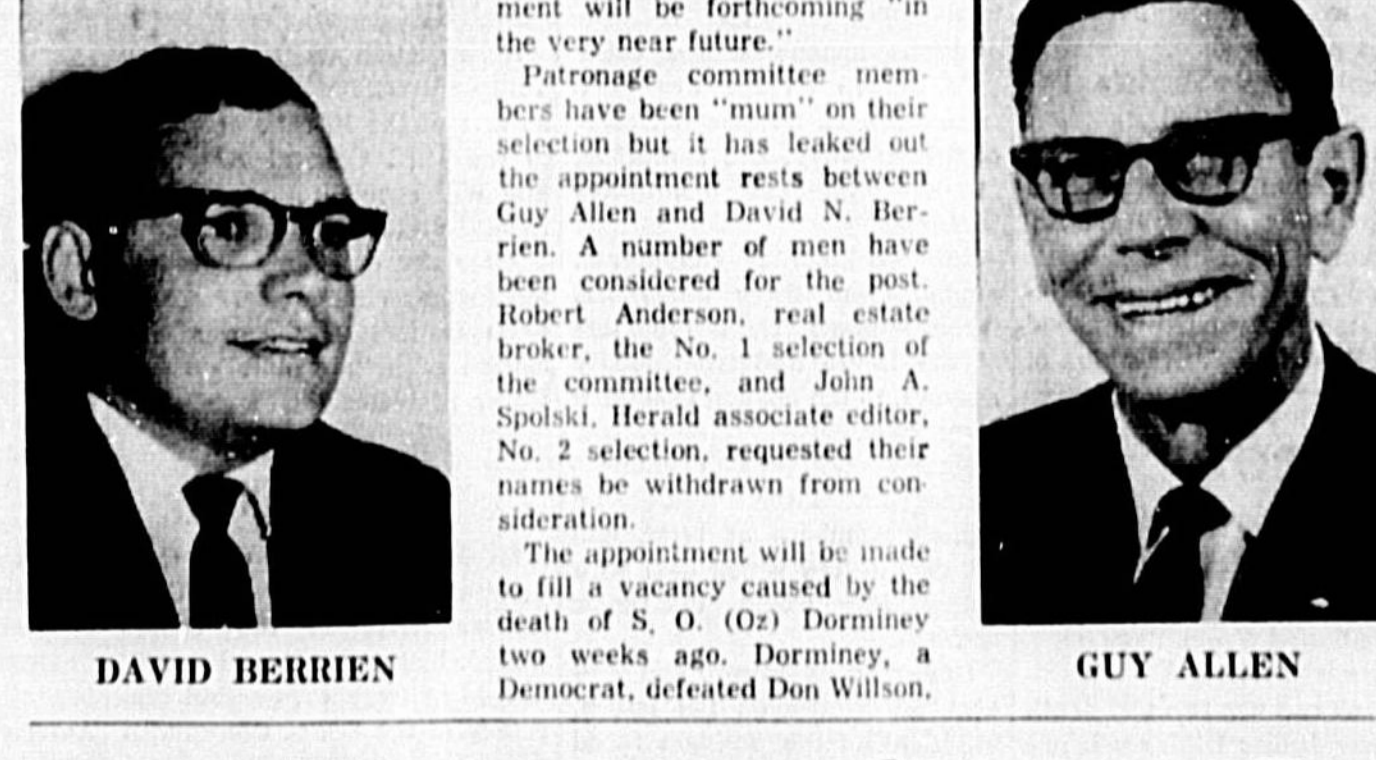

Drummond, in presenting his request to the Seminole-Orange legislative delegation last night at Orlando, pointed out that Wekiva Springs Road, also known as SR 434, extends from U.S. Hwy. 17-92 to SR 106 and, as SR 431, on into Orange County.

"This road," the county commissioner said, "will be carrying out of county and out-of-state tourists to the proposed Wekiva State Park. This it would be serving a state facility and, therefore, should be a Seminole County expense."

Red Bug Road, Drummond stated, was "at one time a state road. It will now transport students to Florida Technological University from 436 to SR 436. He also proposed another new road be constructed and continue from the west part of the county on a direct line to FTU.

State road officials are considering widening of SR 320, on which FTU fronts, three miles south of Oviedo, and of constructing a causeway across Lake Jessup to expedite traffic from Sanford via Sanford Avenue to Tusawilla Road and on to the state school.

The State Department of Transportation has scheduled a public hearing on Oct. 23 for the improvement of SR 46 between the Wekiva River and Interstate 4. Construction is slated to be completed within this fiscal year.
