Many Egyptians Today Carry Names Of Ancestors Of 5,000 Years Ago

CAIRO (U-P)—Cheops was the man who built the Great Pyramid. He is also a Cairo lawyer who drives a 1956 automobile.

Many Egyptians today carry over the names of their ancestors of 5,000 years ago. Neferuti, Amenophis and Tut Ankh Amen are just as common names as Tom, Dick or Harry in the West.

A retired Egyptian general calls his sons, Hutmos, Benerpho, Amehotep and Ahmes.

Ancient Customs however, survive most strongly today among the Egyptian peasants, especially when it comes to medicine and burial.

Sauls Re-Elected To Head Local Polio Chapter

John Sauls, chairman of the Seminole County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis was re-elected to head the local organization for 1956-57. Sauls has been chairman of the organization for seven years and has been named to serve as its head for the eighth consecutive year.

Climaxing the year's activities, Sauls was awarded a certificate for participation in chapter work for more than five years and presented a pin by Marion Jeffries, Southern Florida representative of the National Foundation.

Jeffries also presented a certificate for ten years of service and a pin representing the decade of work to Robert L. Deane, treasurer of the Seminole County Chapter. Each of the certificates was signed by Basil O'Connor, head of the nationwide National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Other officers of the Seminole County Chapter named at the annual meeting last Friday, held in the Educational Building were: Wight Kirtley, vice chairman; Robert L. Deane, treasurer; and Mrs. Ruth Gallagher, secretary.

Prior to the election of officers by the Executive Board named by acclamation at the meeting, John Sauls gave his annual report on the activities of the chapter for the 1955-56 season. The treasurer, Robert L. Deane reviewed money spent on polio victims and outlined the financial position of the chapter. Marion Jeffries, National Foundation representative, paid tribute to the local chairman for his "great enthusiasm effort and energy put into the campaign for last year." Jeffries said, "He's done a great job."

A film "Unconditional Surrender" showing the story of the beginning of Salk Polio Vaccine and the battle to develop the widely used injection into the preventative for crippling paralytic polio was shown as a feature of the annual meeting.

Car Is Delivered
To Mrs. Nichols
Contest Winner

"That's the most beautiful car I've ever seen," said Mrs. Elda Nichols, local portrait studio operator and resident of Longwood as she saw for the first time the Mercury automobile she had won in the current Ed Sullivan's contest.

The four-door Monterey Phaeton Mercury, complete with tag attached and "shining like diamonds" was delivered to Mrs. Nichols last Friday morning and the keys turned over to her by Willie Hunt of the Hunt-McRoberts Mercury dealer here. "It's so beautiful I hardly know how to describe it," as she saw the car driven around to the front of the building to be delivered. It was a colorful occasion with Gregg Nichols, the winner's three-year-old son looking on, and fairly up in the air over the prospect of being the first "rider" to accompany Mrs. Nichols. Color predominates with shining chrome trim backgrounded by classic white and coral flow-tone colors with matching coral colored upholstery. The Mercury 4-door Monterey Phaeton is fully equipped, said Willie Hunt, as he presented the keys and dealers certificate to Mrs. Nichols.

Group Will Support SHS Athletic Program

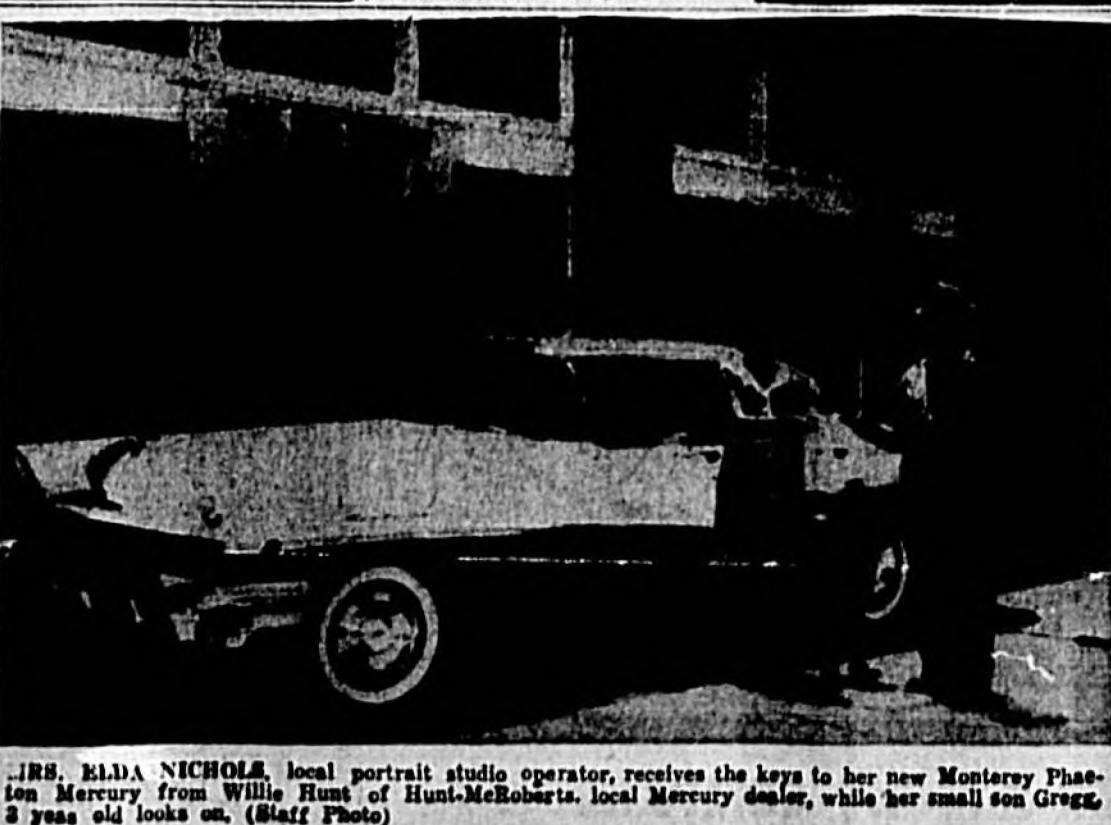

Sports fans and others who are interested in activities of the students at Seminole High School will meet Friday night at the City Hall at 8 p. m. to form a club which will be interested in fostering support of the athletic program of the local secondary school. While a great deal is being done by the students themselves to generate enthusiasm, a group of local businessmen feel that more encouragement should be given by the adults of the city and its surrounding area.

The athletes at Seminole High School will be competing this year for the first time in a different conference and indications are that they will be in much faster company than in past seasons. Every effort should be made by everyone interested to see that the Sanford school gets on top of the heap as soon as possible, one man said. This can best be done, he went on, if the coaches, the athletes and the student body feel that they have the backing of a large group of town folks who are interested in the success of the school. It was pointed out that actually the high school athletes program is about the only sports locally available to fans and that for this reason alone, sports enthusiasts should support the activity. It will provide a brand of football, basketball, baseball and track that will be up-grade in direct proportion to the support given by businessmen and other parents, it was said.

In view of the civic nature of the endeavor, it is expected that the Board of City Commissioners and the civic clubs will join in the movement for "bigger and better sports at the high school." Principal Andrew Bracken and Athletic Director Fred Ganas have said that they will "welcome with open arms" the cooperation of a group of loyal supporters.

House Passes Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House today passed the hard-fought civil rights bill, sending it to almost certain death in the Senate. The roll call vote on passage was 278-136. Both Republican and Northern Democratic supporters of the bill, which would strengthen the government's arm in dealing with violation of voting and other rights, have said they expect political advantage from today's vote.

Pilot President Installed

Mrs. Sue S. Stevenson, president of the Sanford Pilot Club, said today on her return from the 35th convention of Pilot International held at the Hotel Fontainebleau in Miami Beach, that Jean Conacher of Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, was installed Saturday as president of Pilot International and is the first Pilot residing outside the United States to hold this office.

Others from the Sanford Pilot Club attending the convention were: Mrs. Harvey Swanson, Mrs. B. E. Chapman, and Mrs. V. C. Messenger. All are active members of the local club.

Mrs. Conacher had charge of the Governor's Council which was held during the convention and also presided at the meeting of the Board of Directors of Pilot International held July 22. As President of Pilot International, a woman's classified service club composed of nearly 11,000 executive women in eight countries, Mrs. Conacher brings to the organization a wealth of experience in community, church, and civic service.

Having been appointed School Assessment Revising Officer for the Board of Education three years ago, Mrs. Conacher has the distinction of being the only woman School Assessment Revising Officer in cities having a population of 100,000 and over in the Province of Ontario, Canada. Having been employed by the Hamilton Board of Education for 25 years, she also holds the position of executive secretary to the secretary-treasurer and business administrator.

A native of Hamilton, Mrs. Conacher attended the elementary schools there. She also attended Central Collegiate Institute, Standard College of Business, and the University of Toronto. Mrs. Conacher has been most active in church work, being a member of the First United Church of Hamilton and of Division Seven of the Women's Association of that church. She is a past president of the Young Women's Class and of the Young People's Association and has sung in the choir and taught in the Sunday School for a number of years.

President Conacher takes an active part in civic affairs, being a member of the Victoria Order of Nurses' Association, Crippled Children's Association, Women's Club, Local Council of Women (being chairman for professionals for women and serving on the Executive Board), and also a member of the Board of Directors of Lynwood Hall Children's Centre.

In Pilot, she is a charter member and past president of the Hamilton club and a past district governor of District 17 which is made up of all the clubs in Canada. She has served the international organization as a director, as second vice president, first vice president, and president-elect.

The theme for her administration will be "Service and Understanding—A Bridge to Peace." Jean's sincerity of purpose, her friendly understanding, and her capability as a leader will surely do much to promote rewarding returns from Pilot's efforts to use service and understanding as a real bridge to peace. Mrs. Conacher will be the presiding officer at the 1957 International Convention in Toronto, Ontario, Canada.

Legislature Urged To Adopt Collins' Segregation Program

Check For 25 Pints Of Blood Presented Dr. Bird By Elks

A check for 25 pints of blood to be used exclusively by Dr. Terry Bird for indigent patients was delivered to him by Ralph Wight, Chairman of the Elks Club Blood Bank Committee last Friday afternoon. Wight, in presenting the check for the blood which will be drawn from the Central Florida Blood Bank, said that the Elks Club felt that in so presenting the 25 pints to Dr. Bird "We are doing a very valuable service to those who cannot furnish blood in emergency for indigent patients."

Roy Green, Exalted Ruler of the Sanford Elks Lodge said "This will, in no way, reduce our responsibility for furnishing blood to those who call on us in cases of emergency for the members of our organization."

Dr. Bird, receiving the check said "This will certainly be appreciated, not only by our staff, but by those indigent patients who need blood in emergency and by those who cannot otherwise furnish it." Myron Reck, a member of the Elks Blood Bank Committee stated, "We now have 136 pints of our credit in the Central Florida Blood Bank." There were 161 pints in the Elks Blood Bank prior to this contribution, he said. This is the first time that such a gesture has been made, Dr. Bird told the Elks Club committee and "you are to be congratulated for the wonderful effort that you are making."

D. Rountree Named Honor Boy Camper

Dickie Rountree, a 14-year-old player in the Seminole High School Band, was awarded the highest award given an individual at the University of Miami Summer Band Camp at the award banquet held July 15. Dickie was awarded the Honor Boy Camper trophy which is presented to the individual who has been most outstanding in all phases of the camp work. The trophy winner is chosen by the staff, the counsellor and the campers themselves which totaled 150 this summer.

Other awards presented to Seminole High School Band students who have attended the camp are: Dickie Rountree, certificates for Outstanding Service, progress, and athletics; Wally Pope, certificates for Outstanding Service and Progress; Barry St. John, certificates for Outstanding Service; and Irma Jean Corley, certificates for Outstanding Service and Progress. Dickie Rountree, Wally Pope and Barry St. John were members of the cabin which was awarded the Honor Cabin Award for the summer.

Ernest Cowley, Seminole High School Bandmaster, who is an instructor at the University of Miami Summer Band Camp stated "I am certainly proud of our Sanford girl and boys for the fine showing they made here at camp. They made a fine record." The quartet of Seminole High School band members returned from Miami and the summer band camp last Saturday morning.

Board To Attend Talk On Promotion Of Canal

Members of the Board of San-year. Leaders in the often delayed Sanford-Titusville Canal expect a large number of citizens to attend tomorrow night's meeting in an effort to get additional promotion for the project underway.

The Board of Seminole County Commissioners was notified by letter at its last week's meeting requesting that its members attend the session in an attempt to create new plans and other approaches to get the project underway.

Attending the meeting tomorrow night at 8 p. m. in the City Commissioners Room at the Sanford City Hall will be Earl Brown, president of the St. Johns-Indian River Improvement Association and Col. Herbert Gee, Consulting Engineer for the organization. The two visitors will be on hand to explain the program for the promotion of the canal.

Also invited to the meeting are various boat and ski clubs as well as all citizens interested in promoting the program for the project. The Coast Guard Auxiliary received an invitation from the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce sponsored meeting.

It is expected that the commission, boat club members and other interested citizens will be given a rundown of the investigations conducted by the Corps of Engineers relative to the Sanford-Titusville canal. Many citizens have expressed an interest in the canal project because of its ultimate effect on the use of the St. Johns River and other outlets for barge and freight traffic on the proposed inland waterway.

It is understood that studies of the upper St. Johns River relative to the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control Project are yet incomplete. These studies, it is said, will fully evaluate all flood control and flood control related benefits which can be attributed to the Sanford-Titusville Canal. It is estimated that such studies will be completed by December 31 of this year.

S. Lowry Opposes Collin's Proposed Legislative Plan

Sumter L. Lowry, a candidate for Governor in the spring primaries, opposed Governor LeRoy Collins' legislative program proposed for the special session of the Legislature now meeting in Tallahassee. In a letter addressed to Gov. Collins Lowry said "I call on you to do your duty to the people of Florida to use every possible means, including direct defiance of the Supreme Court of the United States, to preserve their constitutional rights and liberties."

In his lengthy letter to the Governor, Lowry wrote "I have studied the report of your Special Committee on integration dated July 16. This report contains a most severe indictment of the United States Supreme Court. I commend the committee for that part of the report."

Lowry continued his letter, "Your committee condemns the court in strong language for its decision forcing integration on the people. If this is allowed to stand it will destroy our American system of Constitutional Government."

Governor Appeals To Group

Senator Douglas Stenstrom, and Representatives Mack N. Cleveland Jr., and Gordon V. Frederick are in Tallahassee today where the Legislature convened in special session today to cope with the segregation problem and deal with a dozen other emergency measures laid before it by Governor LeRoy Collins.

Gov. Collins told the newly convened special session of the Legislature today that adoption of a five-phase segregation program he recommends would give Florida "the best plan of any state to cope with the problems confronting us."

In a carefully worded message, Collins appealed to the lawmakers not to resort to legislation or proposed constitutional reform in the segregation field outside the scope of the program offered. To do so, he said, might weaken the program legally.

The program he recommended was drawn up by a committee of legal experts headed by retired Circuit Judge L. L. Fabianaki of Pensacola.

The Fabianaki committee recommendations are geared to preserving the state's public school system. They call for four bills to revise the 1955 pupil assignment law, enact a similar law dealing with teachers, increase the governor's powers to deal with disorder and use of public facilities and a proposed amendment to the U.S. Constitution to clarify states' rights.

"If this program is enacted, I shall, as governor, use the full measure of my abilities to see that it is administered to preserve the sovereignty of our state, to maintain our public school system and to assure peace and order so that our people of all races and creeds can live and progress in peace and harmony," the governor pledged.

He said committee members felt that additional action outside the scope of his call might weaken the legal efficiency of their program. "I share this feeling and hope to see the committee's program given the test of supplying our needs pending the regular session of the Legislature next spring," he said.

"At that time, there will have been an opportunity to appraise the committee's program in operation and also to evaluate studies your interim committees will have made."

Rep. Prentice Pruitt of Jefferson County has announced he will seek to introduce an emergency amendment to allow residents of any county to abolish their public schools rather than integrate and to provide public funds for the education of pupils in private schools.

In addition to the segregation program, Collins called upon the legislators to enact emergency legislation in four other fields—improvements to the penal system and other state institutions, traffic safety, funds for the fight on the Mediterranean fruit fly and to curb wildcat real estate promotions.

Verne Wheelless' Mother Observes 95th Birthday
Mrs. Nellie Wheelless celebrated her 95th birthday Thursday, July 19. She has made her home in Manchester, Iowa, the past year, though she spends some time visiting friends in Hopkinton, Iowa, where she has lived her entire life, and at the home of her son, A. R. Wheelless at Delhi.
She is still able to crochet edgings and small bits of lace, reads the papers and keeps up on local and civic affairs.
The former Nellie Reed was the only girl in a family of six children. She was born July 19, 1861, the daughter of William and Adeline Martin Reed. She was married to U. T. Wheelless in 1885 and they were the parents of three sons. They farmed in Iowa until 1916. Mr. Wheelless died in 1944.
Her son, Verne Wheelless of Longwood, published a book "Where the Meadow Lark Calls." In it he recalls his happy childhood. All through the book you can feel the patient and understanding counsel of his mother, to whom he dedicated the book. She still maintains that genteel manner.
Mrs. Wheelless arrived in Sanford today by train, accompanied by Mrs. Verne Wheelless and daughter Verma, who have been spending several weeks in Iowa and North Dakota. She will make her home here in Sanford indefinitely. Though 95, Mrs. Wheelless is mentally alert, possessed of an unusual memory and recollects tales of early childhood when the soldiers were retreating from the War between the States, and of roving bands of Indians who frequently stopped by their house asking for food.

Old, New Matters To Confront City Commission Tonight
Old matters and new ones will confront the Board of Sanford City Commissioners tonight when discussions begin on the six-item agenda to be considered along with miscellaneous business from the floor and commissioners.
Sid Berkowitz of the State Board of Health will probably start talks relative to the agreement between the City and the State Board of Health that a sewage disposal plant would be started within three years following the completion of the City's million dollar sewage system.
Two members will be appointed to the Zoning and Planning Commission at tonight's meeting to fill vacancies caused by resignations.
An acting City Manager is slated to be appointed to fill the City's top administrative post for a vacation period.
Discussions will also start on the setting of an annual license fee for "automobile rentals" with the possibility of a maximum fee for such an agency.
A drainage agreement with the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad in regards to a storm sewer on Glenway Drive will come before the commissioners for consideration.
The second reading of two rezoning ordinances will be heard this evening. The first, for the rezoning of Block Seven, Tiers 14, 15, and 16 from R1-X to R2 and the second for the rezoning of

Verne Wheelless' Mother Observes 95th Birthday

Mrs. Nellie Wheelless celebrated her 95th birthday Thursday, July 19. She has made her home in Manchester, Iowa, the past year, though she spends some time visiting friends in Hopkinton, Iowa, where she has lived her entire life, and at the home of her son, A. R. Wheelless at Delhi.
She is still able to crochet edgings and small bits of lace, reads the papers and keeps up on local and civic affairs.
The former Nellie Reed was the only girl in a family of six children. She was born July 19, 1861, the daughter of William and Adeline Martin Reed. She was married to U. T. Wheelless in 1885 and they were the parents of three sons. They farmed in Iowa until 1916. Mr. Wheelless died in 1944.
Her son, Verne Wheelless of Longwood, published a book "Where the Meadow Lark Calls." In it he recalls his happy childhood. All through the book you can feel the patient and understanding counsel of his mother, to whom he dedicated the book. She still maintains that genteel manner.
Mrs. Wheelless arrived in Sanford today by train, accompanied by Mrs. Verne Wheelless and daughter Verma, who have been spending several weeks in Iowa and North Dakota. She will make her home here in Sanford indefinitely. Though 95, Mrs. Wheelless is mentally alert, possessed of an unusual memory and recollects tales of early childhood when the soldiers were retreating from the War between the States, and of roving bands of Indians who frequently stopped by their house asking for food.

250,000th Kiwanian Formally Disclosed At Recent Confab

A. L. Wilson, president of the Sanford Kiwanis Club, said today that the 250,000th Kiwanian was formally recognized at a special ceremony climaxing the 41st annual convention of the service organization in San Francisco late in June. The quarter-millionth member is a Californian, Claude E. Taggart, said Wilson. He is a charter member of the newly-formed Kiwanis Club of Rialto. Taggart is employed by the Rialto office of the Federal Social Security Administration.
Formal recognition of the 250,000th Kiwanian represents the achievement of a primary goal of Kiwanis International. The organization, founded in Detroit, Mich. in 1915, now includes over 4200 U. S. and Canadian clubs on its official roster.
International President J. A. Raney, Indianapolis school executive, presented a plaque to the 250,000th Kiwanian at a "Recognition Breakfast" held in the Whitecomb Hotel, San Francisco. Also in attendance were 800 club presidents, and district officers who were honored for achieving membership goals for 1955-56.
Raney also announced that Kiwanis International has completed negotiations for the purchase of a piece of downtown Chicago real estate upon which a million dollar home office building for the organization will be constructed. Work on the new building is expected to begin within two years.

Chief Johnson Retires After 20 Years Of Service

A new voice will soon be answering "Hatron Nine Duty Office, ASDO speaking, sir". Until recently Chief Petty Officer Roy E. Johnson has been the voice answering all calls coming into the VAH-9 duty office during working hours. Now he's retiring after twenty years' faithful service.
Chief Johnson began his Navy career at eighteen, first enlisting at St. Louis, Missouri, where he was born in 1913. He reported to Hatron Nine from NAAS Saufley Field, Florida. He and Mrs. Johnson, the former Miss Genevieve Elizabeth Garland of St. Louis, live at 312 Holly Avenue, Sanford, with their two children, Yvette, 15, and Aleric, 12. Johnson isn't going to follow the alleged custom of retiring Navy men by walking inland with a pair of oars over his shoulder until someone asks, "What are those?"; he likes the East coast and plans to remain near it. He's going to remain in Sanford for the present, but hopes to put his writing experience to use by getting into newspaper work somewhere in New England—New England editors, the line forms to the right.

Disease Outbreak Is Not Imminent

There is no reason to fear that any outbreak of meningitis is imminent, Seminole County Health Officer Dr. Terry Bird said Friday.
There has been only one case of meningitis in the Oviedo area and one in Sanford, Dr. Bird said, and neither one of them has been pinpointed to a specific type of meningitis.
Dr. Bird said that there are many types of meningitis and that people are in contact with the germ every day. Even those with a sore throat are possible carriers of the meningitis germ.
The Seminole County Health Officer pointed out that the Oviedo youngster reported to be suffering from spinal meningitis is now back home and well.
The only other case reported was in Sanford when Lieutenant Jack Hickson of the Sanford Police Department was confined to the isolation ward of the local hospital reportedly suffering from one of the types of meningitis.

Steel Strike Now Underway Is Costing Whole Nation

There is still nothing new about the one big question involved in the steel strike, but the question is still important—still challenges labor, management, government and the people for an answer. The question is: why should the general public, the party of the third part in all of these contract debates, be made to suffer while the minority—management and labor—wage destructive industrial war to the point where they are willing to sign a new contract?

Of course, strikes and lockouts are legal, if conducted in the lawful manner described by the statutes. But what of the cost in its snowballing forms that a prolonged steel strike means for the whole nation? Consider the items in such a bill of costs. Labor will lose millions in wages. The industry will lose other millions. Industries dependent upon steel in one way or another will suffer in lost revenues, and their employees, too, will be temporarily out of jobs.

The steel-carrying roads are already reducing employment. Because of overproduction last year, the automobile companies have enough steel for temporary use and needs.

Then, suppose we reflect also upon the practically certain boost to inflation in the general cost of living that can in all reason be expected to follow the new steel contracts, if and when they are signed. For it is generally agreed that this strike is now in process of producing a new wage-price spiral that will increase the cost of just about everything bought and sold in the United States.

It will lift wages for steel and many

Investigation Called

Every day there is stalling in getting a full-scale congressional investigation into labor racketeering started, Victor Riesel's sightless eyes are a rebuke to the legislative body.

Representative Victor L. Anfuso (D., N. Y.) has introduced a resolution which would set up a special house committee for that purpose and to recommend such laws as may be needed to curb criminal exploitation of unions in the future. The resolution should be adopted unanimously and the committee provided with funds in amount commensurate with the scope of its task. It should be able to employ a full staff of qualified investigators of unchallengeable integrity.

The Congress has no internal matter of greater importance before it than the delving into what Mr. Riesel has aptly termed "a super second government run by an army of thugs operating under the laws of the underworld."

In presenting his resolution, Representative Anfuso declared that "millions of men and women of organized labor are pleading with us that we drive the crooks and hoods out of their unions." All it will take is a little congressional fortitude in an election year and the determination which the cause deserves.

The investigation called for now should have been gotten underway within hours after the heinous attack on a columnist whose only offense has been to speak out courageously on the side of decency and justice.

Family Vacations

It's not true that you can't turn the clock back.

According to the hotel industry, there is a swinging back of the pendulum in American vacation habits to the standards of the more relaxed and better living of the Gay 90s.

Speaking at a recent mid-year business forecast symposium of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, Charles A. Horowitz, executive vice president of the American Hotel Association, recalled that at the turn of the century people spent their entire summer vacations at one place.

Then, as automobiles and good roads came into the picture, people got the urge to see how many places they could crowd into one vacation period.

Today, the resort hotels report that once again families are spending their vacation at one chosen place. There is a great demand for a slowing down and relaxation from the increasing tensions of the business world. Further, families are travelling together again. They take the kids with them.

The swing toward family vacations is just another sign of fair business weather as more and more American families enter the middle and upper income brackets.

Hosiery Industry 'Feels Fall'

By SAM DAWSON
CHARLOTTE, N. C. (U)—There's a "feeling of a good fall in the air" today for the hosiery industry.

Speakers say the makers of stockings and socks, sailing for some 15 months or more, should finish their convalescence this summer.

Higher prices may crush the cure this fall—but at the moment that is only an expectation. A help is that stretch here and there in stockings have caught the public fancy. And the industry works hard at making the idea more style-conscious with the idea of selling both men and women more hosiery to match clothing and other accessories.

Overproduction, the hike of the Federal minimum wage to $1 an hour, slow sales and widespread price cutting have led to a number of mill closings and have spurred a number of consolidations of mills.

"It feels like a turn now," says Reuben C. Bell, vice president of the trade group. "At least there are fewer sour comments on the situation by mill owners. Fall and winter production and sales should be better."

Ball traces the industry's present miseries back to the nylon shortage in World War II and the booming sales of nylon stockings—at fat profits in the early post-war years. That brought a rush of new capital into the industry, then obviously a money-maker.

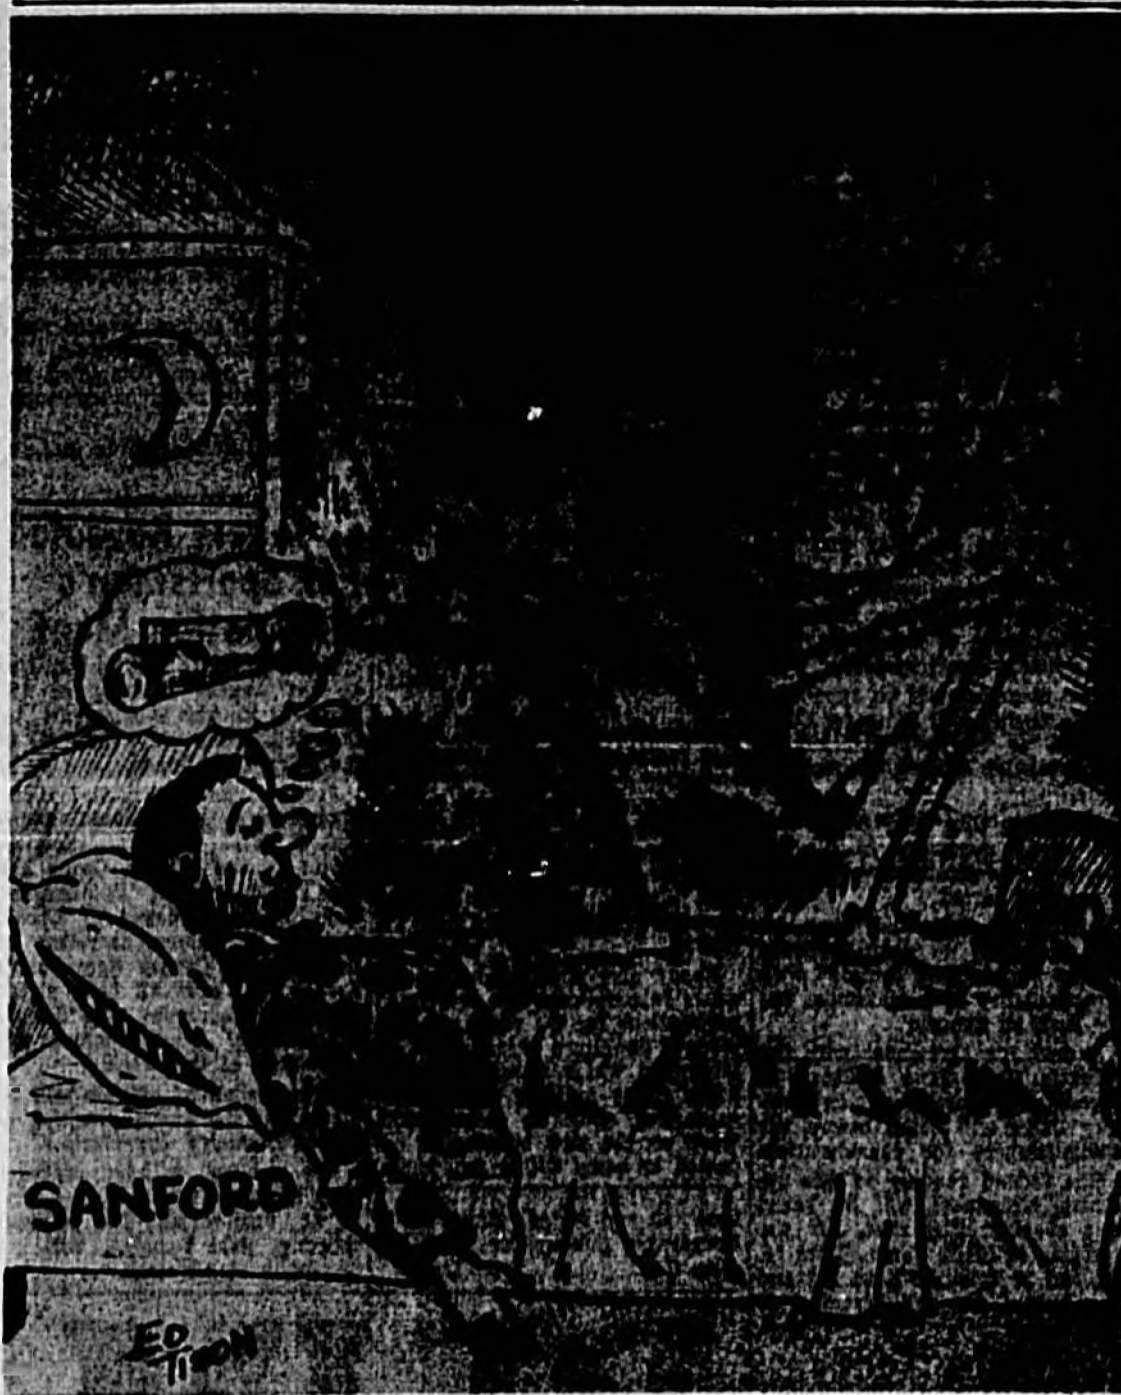

Some 250 new mills were started in the first three postwar years. First indications of a slump were felt in 1948, but the Korean War the following year started a new rush to buy nylon. The number of hosiery plants reached a peak of 1,370 in 1950. Last year the glut of production hit the market hard.

Price cutting, production cutbacks and mill closings followed.

Employment rolls, which reached a peak of 135,530 in 1950, are now around 112,000—slightly lower than a year ago—and also below the number employed right after the war. But hosiery makers point out that the new machinery installed since the war enables fewer workers to turn out more hosiery today.

The vast size and mobility of the modern traveling circus is strictly an American invention, undisputed even by the Russians.

Circus Die? Never Will Happen

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (U)—The circus die? Never.

"The tented circus," said John Ringling North, on fading the "Greatest Show on Earth," is "a thing of the past."

He may well be right in saying time and change have rung the death knell for the great Emboyan three-ring circuses that operated under canvas and traveled the length and breadth of America in 100-car railroad trains.

But sentimentalists who think this may be the end of the circus as a form of entertainment underestimate the hardihood of an institution that has endured more than 1,500 years.

Like vaudeville, the principle of the circus never really dies. It merely incubates and rises, Phoenix-like, in a new form. It goes back in known history to the 6th Century before Christ when Lucius Tarquinus Priscus, the fifth legendary King of Rome, laid out the Circus Maximus. It featured chariot and equestrian races, and horses have been a part of circuses ever since.

Later, in modern Europe, small touring family circuses became common, but they were usually one-ring affairs. They popularized the talking clown.

It remained for the United States to restore the circus to the colossal spectacle it had once been in ancient Rome.

The vast size and mobility of the modern traveling circus is strictly an American invention, undisputed even by the Russians.

Featuring hundreds of animals, scores of freaks, Wild West shows, and dozens of acts, its great size made the wisecracking clown out-of-date. It led to the rise of the pantomime clowns, exemplified today by Emmett Kelly, whose sad face made millions laugh without quite knowing why.

The extreme efficiency with which the huge American circuses could set up and bring down their tents, then travel hundreds of miles overnight and be ready for a new show in another town the next afternoon is said to have inspired Prussian leaders in speeding up the mobility of German armies.

But this same gigantism is probably the real cause of the death of the big tent shows. Some circus fans say John Ringling North is to blame—that he strayed too far from the old-fashioned idea of the circus and made it too much like a musical extravaganza.

Others say the spread of television is the real reason, and there may be some truth in this, although there is a tendency now to blame television for everything from heat waves to a fall in the stock market.

But it is more likely that the real reason for the decline of "the big show" is that it simply got too big in a crowded time, and became too costly to operate at a profit.

North promises for next year an "almost completely mechanized controlled exhibition." This promise comes with an air of mystery. Nobody knows for sure just what a push-button circus will be like.

But it's safe to say that nobody can really kill the circus unless

Drugs For Allergies

By HERMAN H. SCHUBERT, M.D.
TWO new drugs give promise of bringing relief to many of the 10,000,000 Americans suffering from hay fever, asthma, eczema, hives, poison ivy and other allergic disorders.

At a recent meeting of the American Academy of Allergy in St. Louis, the drugs Meticorten and Meticortone were cited as among the newest and best weapons in the treatment of allergic diseases that had failed to respond to other methods.

The drugs were first made available to the medical profession a little over a year ago.

Their initial success came in the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis. In fact, more than 1,000,000 persons suffering rheumatoid arthritis and other disease conditions are under treatment with these Meticorten-type drugs today.

The new steroids reportedly are four to five times more active and more potent than either cortisone or hydrocortisone. And they do not cause weight gain from retention of sodium and water, as did the older drugs.

Where cortisone, hydrocortisone and ACTH have failed in certain hay fever cases, the Meticorten drugs have succeeded.

Good Results
During the year-long evaluation, doctors say the drugs have prolonged life for the "critical list" asthmatics; provided clear breathing for the hay fever victims through the worst ragweed season in five years; dramatically cleared up the hives of girls who were allergic to nail polish.

Allergists report other conditions also have been relieved. These include certain types of bronchial asthma, rhinitis, dermatitis and dangerous pulmonary emphysema.

Nasal Polyps
One doctor told the Allergy Academy that the new drugs "dramatically shrink nasal polyps." Polyps are the hard-tissue protruberances which often develop in the noses of victims of hay fever and acute sinusitis.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
A. T.: Both my parents are allergic. Does this mean that I will have allergies also?

Answer: Children who have two allergic parents are much more likely to have an allergy than those who do not or who have only one allergic parent.

There is a greater tendency also for the allergy to appear at an earlier age.

Marineland said yesterday. "She has developed a fixation," observed David Brown, a squarist. "She's treating the shark much like she would her own young, taking him up to teach him to breathe. Sometimes dolphins will nudge a 75-pound turtle to the surface, apparently in the belief they need fresh air too."

Spray evidently thought the shark was a bit pale around the gills when she began this performance. Three divers at a time have tried to take the shark away from her in the 25-foot-deep tank, but Spray has eluded them.

Whatever purpose the porpoise had in mind, the shark is long past caring. It's dead.

they kill its smell. More than anything else, more than the death-defying acts, the snarling tigers, the pink lemonsade, and the spun cotta candy, it is its strange intoxicating smell that makes a circus.

There is no smell on earth quite like it and so far they haven't found a way to put the circus smell on a television screen.

ENJOY A SUNDAE—AT HOME!

By the way, did you know that it was in Evanston, Illinois where "sundaes" were discovered? Way back in the days of Sunday blue laws the town fathers, in order to keep youngsters from hanging around soda fountains, forbade the sale of "soda" on Sunday. Immediately, fountain owners substituted a luring mixture of ice cream and sauce—without soda—which came to be known as a "sundae". Soon even adults found it pleasant to spend some part of a Sunday eating these delightful concoctions!

For a fine home-made sundae, keep this heavenly mousse in the freezer all the time, and keep handy plenty of Log Cabin Syrup for the final delicious touch!

MAPLE-WALNUT MOUSSE

4 egg yolks, slightly beaten 1/2 cup maple-blended syrup 1/2 cup cream, whipped 1/2 cup white, whipped 1/2 cup walnut meats, finely chopped

Combine egg yolks and maple-blended syrup in saucepan. Cook and stir over low heat until mixture thickens and ceases to sizzle. Cool about 3 minutes. Beat egg whites with salt until stiff. Fold egg yolk mixture into egg whites. Then fold in whipped cream and vanilla. Blend well. Place in 8 freezing trays of refrigerator or in individual souffle cups. Set control for coldest freezing temperature and freeze until firm. Freezing time, 3 to 3 1/2 hours. Makes 15 servings. Top with generous quantities of maple-blended syrup and chopped walnuts.

The GOLDEN WITCH

By ZOLA ROSS

SYNOPSIS
In 1907, Seattle was a bustling, booming gateway to the Klondike gold fields. The city, with the help of its good friend Michael Dink, a headstrong young lawyer, was in the midst of a boom. Michael Dink, a headstrong young lawyer, was in the midst of a boom. Michael Dink, a headstrong young lawyer, was in the midst of a boom.

CHAPTER NINE
MICHAEL HAD other news from the north, by letter and by word of mouth. People sensed his withdrawal from competition and rewarded him with friendly confidence. No other man in Seattle held so many secrets.

Now and then tag ends worried him. Ryerson's prosperity was one of them. Two weeks after he became hotel clerk, Ryerson was hotel owner. Most people believed he had cashed in on Eastern property; Michael felt a backer was more likely. When Ryerson acquired a prosperous saloon below the Deadline, this conviction strengthened. He was annoyed because he could not guess the backer.

Reflecting on this petty ego prickler, he ran into Ryerson at an early lunch. Ryerson drifted into the notes dining room just as a rumor from Issaquah was concluding an argument with Michael. Michael was heading north in the spring; he wanted Michael for a partner.

When Michael had convinced him he wasn't interested, he left disgruntled and Ryerson came over to Michael's table. "Don't want to go to Alaska. Don't grub-stake either?"

"Not on a percentage basis," Michael was curt.

"Why not?" Ryerson's clear green eyes, with their restless gambler's light, were curious.

Michael had fended the question often. Now he wanted to find an answer, not for Ryerson but for himself. "Maybe I feel the real future is in Seattle."

"Like the Ten Eyck," Ryerson lighted a cigar and regarded Michael thoughtfully. "Ten Eyck will cut out when the Klondike's an old fairy tale. That's what you think?"

Nathan smiled and said nothing.

Braves Learn Formula

By JOE REICHLER
The Associated Press

It took Milwaukee Braves nearly four years to learn the formula that has won so many pennants for the Brooklyn Dodgers but now they appear to have solved it. They're going to be tougher than ever to knock out of first place.

The formula? It's the ability to pound the daylight out of the opposition on home ground.

Yesterday the Braves climaxed their most successful home stand since they moved to Milwaukee by sweeping a doubleheader from Philadelphia 8-7 and 16-5. That boosted their National League lead to three games over Cincinnati and gave them a record of 15 triumphs in a 20-game home stand for a .630 percentage this year at County Stadium.

Not in any of their three previous seasons did they reach the .600 level at home.

When the Dodgers won the flag in 1955, they played .778 ball at home. Last year they played .727 ball at Ebbets Field.

The Dodgers took two from St. Louis 5-3 and 5-3 and moved to within three lengths of the Redlegs, who were held to a split by Pittsburgh. The Redlegs pounded three home runs to defeat the Pirates 9-2 in the nightcap after Pittsburgh had won the opener 8-6.

Chicago's Cubs climbed into sixth place, past the Phillies, by downing the New York Giants twice 4-1 and 2-1.

The New York Yankees first-place American League margin was reduced to 9½ games when they divided a doubleheader with Kansas City while the Indians were defeating Baltimore 8-0 in a single game. After Kansas City had won the opener 7-4 the Yankees came back to win the second game 13-4.

In single affairs, Boston out-slugged Detroit 8-6 and the Chicago White Sox subdued Washington 6-1.

The Braves amassed 25 hits, 15 for extra bases. After struggling to eke out a 9-8 first-game victory over Robin Roberts, they ran up their highest scoring total in the nightcap, including an eight-run fifth inning. Led by Joe Adcock, Eddie Mathews and Bobby Thomson, who had two homers apiece, they clubbed seven four-base blows off Philly pitching.

Home runs also decided the Pirate-Redleg twin bill. Bill Virdon, Lee Walls and Dale Long furnished the big blows for the Pirates in the opener although it was a bases-loaded single by Jack Shepard in the ninth that snapped a 6-6 tie. Gus Bell and Bon Thurman belted two-run homers for the Reds in the nightcap to help Joe Nuxhall gain his seventh success. Nuxhall aided his cause with a four-bagger, his second of the year.

The Dodgers got effective pitching from Carl Erskine and Sandy Kousser. Erskine hurled a seven-hitter in the opener. Catcher Rube Walker drove in three runs with a home run and double against loser Bob Blaylock. Successive two-out singles in the ninth by Duke Snider, Carl Furillo and Gil Hodges produced what proved to be the winning run in the nightcap.

WAG TED KLUSZEWSKI, CINCINNATI 3rd BASEMAN, SEEMS TO HAVE SHAKEN OFF COMPLETELY HIS EARLY SEASON MISERIES.

BIG KLU, WHO FOUND HIMSELF IN THE STRANGE POSITION OF RIDING THE SEASON'S HALF WAY MARK BACK IN THE LEAGUE HOMER AND R.B.I. RACE, THANKS TO A JULY SPURT WHICH BROUGHT HIM 8 HOMERS AND 16 R.B.I.'S IN 8 GAMES.

Barrel-chested John Jaremy, inching ahead against strong currents in his last few miles, set out at 5:45 a. m. yesterday and ended the grind at approximately 3 a. m. today—a total of 21 hours and 13 minutes.

Toronto's Marilyn Bell, then only 16, first conquered the lake Sept. 9, 1954, in 20 hours and 53 minutes. Since then 32 attempts to duplicate her feat have ended in failure, one resulting in a drowning last year.

Dick Williams, now with Montreal, has been with the Brooklyn Dodgers five different seasons yet never played in more than 36 games a season in the National League.

Man Conquers Lake Ontario

TORONTO (AP)—A 36-year-old Toronto steamfitter, fighting off fatigue after more than 21 hours in Lake Ontario, summoned enough strength to climb ashore on the Toronto waterfront early today to become the second person in history—and the first man—to conquer the 22 miles between here and Niagara-on-the-Lake.

Tennis Tournament Moves Into Finals

CHICAGO (AP)—"Man, that's doing it the hard way," smiled Ed Moylan after coming from behind yesterday to defeat Bernard Bartzan and move into today's finals in the National Clay Courts tennis tournament.

Moylan dropped the first two sets to second-seeded Bartzan 6-3, 6-4, then came back to win the next three sets and the match, 6-3, 6-2, 6-2.

Seeded third, Moylan, who hails from Trenton, N. J., goes against Herb Flam, Beverly Hills, Calif., in the finals this afternoon. Flam, seeded fourth, had an easy time in beating Sam Giammalva, Houston, Tex., 6-1, 6-2, 6-3, in a quick 33-minute match.

Bill Lillard and Stan Gifford of Chicago rolled 1,331 in taking the 1956 American Bowling Congress doubles title. No other team went above 1,300.

The Thistle Class Assn. boasts a membership of more than 900 of the 17-foot racing sloops throughout the United States.

Burke Trying For Another Big One

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
CANTON, Mass. (AP)—When Jackie Burke won the Masters Golf Tournament last spring, he figured it might be the breakthrough that would end his career as all-American runner-up.

Until then the 33-year-old Texan had never come closer than second in any major tournament.

Today, going into the semifinals of the 38th Professional Golfers Assn. Championship, Burke had a chance to win another big one.

"It ought to be a little better at 36 holes," he said after yesterday's and 2 quarter-final victory over Freddie Hawkins, "but I feel as if I've had it. It's rough out there in those 18-hole matches."

Burke faced Ed Furgol, the 1954 National Open champion, in one 36-hole semifinal. Furgol, whose determination to become a golfer overcame the handicap of a withered left arm, is a rugged opponent in any match.

House Adjourns Until Tomorrow

Spokesmen Reveal Need For Addition To Sanford Library

The General Sanford Memorial Library and Museum Association spokesmen were urged by the Board of Sanford City Commissioners last night to "obtain plans to determine the amount of money you need and then have a joint meeting with the Board of City Commissioners and the Board of Seminole County Commissioners to determine what is needed and pledge, if they see fit, the amount of money required to complete the building."

Randall Chase and Gen. Joseph C. Hutchison appeared before the Board of Sanford City Commissioners last night to review the portion of the project already nearing completion and to set forth the needs for the addition of two wings.

Chase told the Board of Commissioners that the association is about one thousand dollars short of the money needed to complete the present structure. However, the two wings, which are proposed to be added will cost between 30 and 40 thousand dollars.

Gen. Hutchison explained to the commissioners, "The sentiment on the part of our membership is to complete the building now," and added that the element of expensive shelving and other items could be eliminated from the additional two wings and reduce the cost. "Since we've started on the building to house the library," said Gen. Hutchison, "we would like to go ahead and complete the project."

Asked the purpose of the two wings, Gen. Hutchison told Mayor F. D. Scott "There are a number of valuable old paintings from General Sanford's library and there are a number of valuable pieces around Sanford that would be given to us."

A bill to permit county school boards to assign pupils to the schools for which they feel them best suited cleared the Legislature today with 83-1 House passage.

The sole vote against the measure, designed to maintain racial segregation in Florida's school system, was cast by Rep. Jack Orr of Dade County.

There was almost no discussion of the bill. It is part of the five-phase program offered by a committee of legal experts which studied the segregation problem for several months before the special session.

After passing the bill, the House adjourned until 10 a. m. tomorrow. Orr told a reporter he felt it "was an attempt to circumvent the Supreme Court of the United States, which I believe is improper and will be determined to be ineffective."

Four bills in the program recommended by Gov. Collins were given quick passage by the Senate yesterday on the opening day of the special session.

Three other bills have been referred to a subcommittee of the House.

The fifth phase of the program proposed amendment to the federal Constitution clarifying state rights, hasn't been introduced.

At a meeting prior to convening of the House, the subcommittee decided to rewrite the teacher assignment bill and to put it in as a committee bill.

Rep. A. Max Brewer of Brevard County said changes will be made to set up appeals to the state Board of Education paralleling those in the pupil assignment law and to permit replacement teachers to be drawn from outside the immediate school district.

The subcommittee was to meet later in the day to take up the two other bills broadening the powers of the governor to deal with emergencies.

The Senate delayed going back into session until 3 p. m., but its appropriations committee met to discuss various money bills.

Rep. Kenneth Ballinger of Leon County asked the House Rules Committee to consider the possibility of introducing segregation bills not specifically included in Collins' call.

Ballinger said he plans to introduce a bill under which unlicensed carpools would be illegal during transportation boycotts, and that the measure might be considered as pertaining to highway safety.

Several highway safety measures were listed in the governor's call.

A subcommittee was appointed by Rep. Okell of Dade County, chairman of the Rules Committee to confer with the Senate on procedure for introducing bills outside the governor's call or not specifically listed in it.

Committee Okays Bill To Eradicate Med Fruit Fly

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The House Citrus Committee today gave unanimous approval to the bill to eradicate the Mediterranean fruit fly but committee members served notice they wanted questions answered about administration of the med-fly program.

Rep. E. E. Shaffer of Pinellas County complained that workers employed in the fight on the fly were pulling green citrus and thereby destroying some of the new crop.

Shaffer said nurserymen in his area were complaining and that he had lost some of his own fruit in this manner.

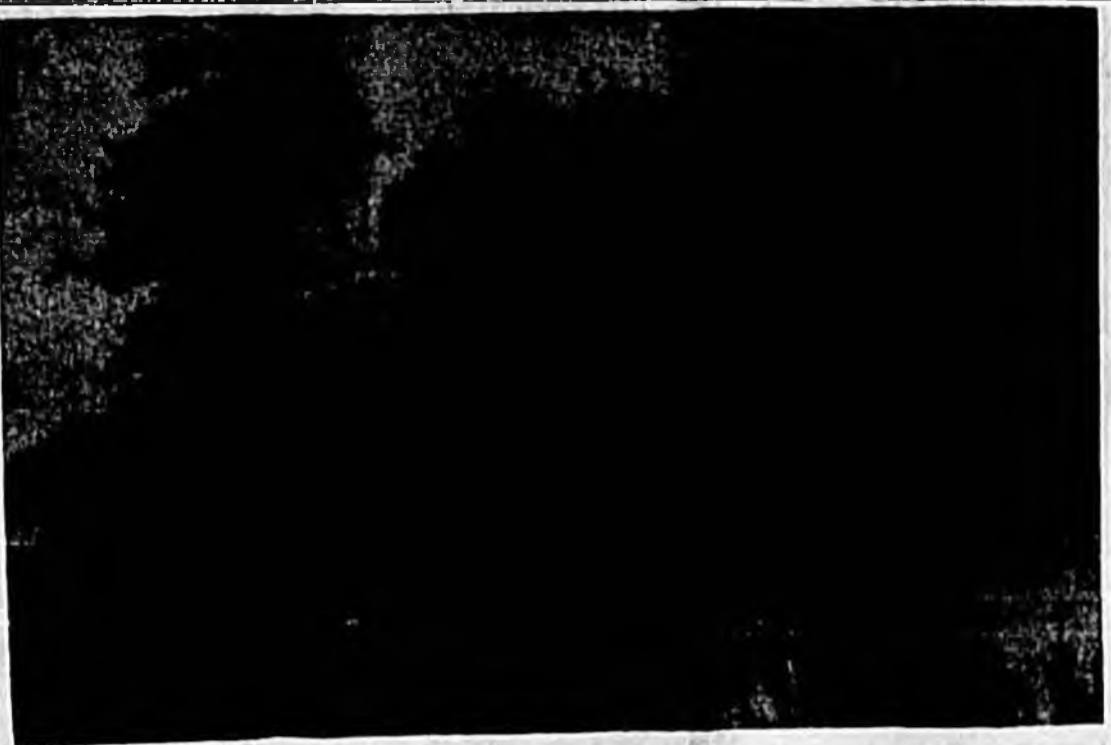

Other members said they received complaints about operation of the road blocks, but Rep. E. C. Smith of De Soto County said he had been told by plant commissioner Ed Ayers that road blocks will be taken down by October.

CIRCUS PERFORMERS WANT TO LEAVE

TAMPA (AP)—Foreign performers with Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus are inquiring how to leave this country.

A group of 30 actors sent six representatives to the immigration office yesterday to find out from Immigration Officer A. J. Mison.

Some 30 performers with the circus, which cancelled its summer tour last week, are faced with the problem of working with another circus or leaving the country, Mison said.

THE MALCOLM E. COOK CAR resting in the ditch, now repaired, on Onora Road which caused an accident last Saturday morning resulting in the injury to Mrs. Cook. The picture was made the day following the accident.

Onora Road Is Fixed After Auto Strikes Bad Ditch

A bad ditch across a Seminole County Road has been repaired but not until a former Navy man struck the ditch and injured his wife.

According to Malcolm R. Cook, of 1903 Maple Ave., he was traveling east on Onora Road about 2 o'clock in the morning, accompanied by his wife, when his car struck a ditch across the road.

Cook described the ditch as being as deep as 24 inches in some parts but no shallower than 12 inches.

"The impact," he said, "threw my wife into the windshield bruising and cutting her eye, injured her nose, cut her lip, her teeth were loosened and at least one was cracked."

"Injuries were responsible for my wife not working," said the former Navy man. He also said that his windshield was cracked and the front end of his car was thrown out of line.

Neighbors in the vicinity of the damaged highway reported to Cook, according to his statement, that they were in constant fear of a serious accident and had helped numerous people out of the ditch.

Constable J. Q. "Slim" Gilroy was contacted, said Cook, and he had the road blocked, signs erected and night lights placed.

Onora Road, as now being repaired and is passable, according to the latest reports from travelers over the highway leading from the Naval Air Station entrance to the Sanford-Orlando Highway.

Board Continues Manufacturing Company's Option

Possibilities that a $50,000 building to house the Sanford Manufacturing Company will be constructed here came to life last night when the Board of Sanford City Commissioners continued its option to the local industry on a location on West First St. for 120 days.

William H. Stemper, local insurance and real estate man, appeared before the Board of Sanford City Commissioners last night to request the endorsement of the board on the option.

Stemper explained that in so endorsing the option he may be able to retain a $50,000 a year payroll in Sanford as well as secure a permanent industry for the city.

The original option was given on the property in July of last year.

Mark, representative of Narcotics Education, Inc., brought his message home forcefully to his Rotary Club audience at its weekly meeting yesterday noon.

He displayed many headlines showing the spread of juvenile delinquency brought about by the use of narcotics and alcohol and also showed a sound film showing how a teenage youth became an addict simply by accepting the date of another youth who had started on the road to destruction for "kicks."

Mark's talk and film held the attention of his audience until the end. He was introduced by Myron Reck, program chairman for the day, Dr. Charles L. Persons presided and read a card from Mrs. Roberta Gatchel, regular club caterer, who was enjoying a fine vacation in North Carolina.

Engineer Requests Plans

Top item on the agenda before the Board of Sanford City Commissioners last night was the discussion with Sid Berkowitz, sanitary engineer for the State Board of Health relative to the resolution adopted by the Board of Commissioners on March 23, 1954 that a sewage disposal plant would be constructed or under construction within three years.

"We accepted the resolution in good faith," Berkowitz told the Board of Commissioners, "knowing that the city would meet its obligations."

"How do we stand now and what are your plans," he asked.

"The cost of the sewer project exceeds the program by 25 per cent," explained Commissioner John Krider, "and the revenue has never come up to expectations."

The entire Board entered into the discussion with Berkowitz explaining the additional $275,000 was necessary to complete the project and had to be borrowed on top of the amount that was considered to be the limit of the city's borrowing power at that time.

However, the discussion waned into the amount of contamination present in Lake Monroe as the time 13 sewage outlets were flowing into the lake and at the present time when only one outfall is used.

Berkowitz explained "We are concerned with bacteriological contamination."

The Methodist Church's year Home has asked whether or not it would be safe for the children of the home to use the lake for bathing, said Berkowitz, confronted with the fact that only a primary treatment plant was required by the State Board of Health Berkowitz contended "I feel that the treatment should be complete — I'm one that feels that only the best is good enough for Central Florida."

Commissioner Earl Higginbotham asked "Why should the City of Jacksonville be allowed to dump sewage into the river and then come down and jump on Sanford which is not able to afford a plant?"

Berkowitz replied "The City of Jacksonville has been told, in their new sewer program that a treatment plant must be added and they have accepted it."

City Manager Warren Knowles asked Berkowitz if "you will make a statement for the newspapers that a sewage treatment plant would remove the turbidity of the water and make it suitable for bathing?"

Berkowitz answered "This lake could be a very beautiful lake suitable for bathing but I don't say the Jay the treatment goes into operation it would be."

Knowles quoted from the report made by Dr. Abel Wolman, consulting engineer and admitted "father of sanitary engineering" — "Even if the lake were not an undesirable place to swim, it would be exceedingly difficult to maintain a purity desirable for swimming." (Continued On Page Eight)

The Commission also started plans for the opening of Fulton Street across the Atlantic Coast LEO tracks.

Mayor F. D. Scott called on the City Manager to improve the condition around Lake Carola. City Manager Knowles said that "the lake would be skimmed so that its appearance would be improved."

Naval Wife Praises Sanford Policeman For Courtesy, Help

News about good deeds travels far.

The wife of a Navy Officer has heaped praise upon one of the members of the Sanford Police Department who helped her out when it seemed as if everything would go wrong, all at one time.

The young lady told The Sanford Herald that she was moving to Sanford from a motel apartment when her car seemingly went out of commission and started smoking.

Calling one of the local automobile repair shops, she was told that nothing could be done to her car unless it was brought into the shop.

And that she started to do until she reached the center of the city and the whole motor was enveloped in smoke.

It was then that the local police came to her rescue and help.

Patrolman Leo Rock, at first offered to follow her car on into the city but when the motor began smoking to such an extent that she was afraid to drive, Patrolman Rock pushed her car on into the local automobile shop and then helped repair the portion of the motor giving trouble.

"I have never been in a city where policemen are so courteous and helpful," she said.

Such courtesy help would our visitors into permanent citizens as was the case in this instance when a newcomer received courteous and invaluable attention.
