Weimer To Present A. Lee At Concert In Birmingham

CASSELLBERRY — Joseph H. Weimer left yesterday for Birmingham, where he will present pianist Allison Lee, formerly of Sanford, in a concert before the Birmingham Lions Club. Allison made many public appearances in Central Florida before numerous service clubs and other organizations. The twelve-year-old pianist also appeared on TV and many radio broadcasts. Weimer presented Allison in her first public concert at a Ladies' Night party of the Casselberry Lions Club more than two years ago. Her artistry at the keyboard won immediate public acclaim, and the popularity of the little pianist can be credited to Weimer. When Allison's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Lee, moved from Sanford to Birmingham a few months ago, Weimer immediately began making arrangements with the Birmingham Lions for her appearance there. The chairman, William R. Swope, Vice-Pres. of The Stringfellow Lumber Co., advised him the club would be glad to allot a portion of its program by Weimer that Allison could perform 80 concert numbers from memory, play her own arrangements of popular hit tunes and several original compositions, the chairman said that the club would extend Allison their full program time. Weimer, nationally known stamp dealer, will go from Birmingham to LaSalle, Ill. to attend the 11th Int'l Precinct Club Spring Round-up from April 3 to 7.

Longest Message

In the longest message ever delivered to a Florida Legislature—10,350 words—Collins urged a new state Constitution, a 17 million-dollar state fund for purchase of highway right-of-way, 23 million for school construction, abolition of the State Milk Commission, a new state university near Tampa, six new junior colleges, and a 10 per cent increase in maximum benefits to the aged, blind, dependent children and the permanently disabled.

He asked 10 million dollars for prison building, a new institution for retarded children, a South Florida branch of the boys' industrial school, funds to plan a new institution in Marion County consolidated white and Negro girls' industrial schools, and a state program of slum clearance.

Sales Tax Plans

His program for sales tax revisions calls specially for imposing the flat 3 per cent rate on all clothing, now exempt up to $10 alcoholic beverages which are not now subject to the sales tax and items that would be taxed but are exempt if purchased for farm and institutional purposes, etc.

He recommended a flat one per cent sales tax on all industrial machinery and business equipment, now taxable at 3 per cent up to $10,000, and a 2 per cent rate on automobile, not now covered. The tax on auto sales would be earmarked for purchase of highway right-of-way.

Mansion Audience Reveals Secrets

Over 200 members and guests crowded the De Bary mansion Friday night for the local showing of "I Have a Secret," sponsored by the POA. Howard Sharp was moderator and introduced the panel of "Bill Gullen" Williams, "Faye Emerson" Johnston, "Henry Morgan" Johnston and "Jayne Meadows" Erickson. Contestants' answers to pointed queries filled the audience with glee for in a town where almost everyone knows everyone else, the program became a battle of wits. Stately matrons were questioned about their "Past life" and dignified gentlemen were gazed at with narrow eyes when they reacted with innocence to innuendoes, and so the evening was spent in hilarity.

Contestants were Mrs. Wallace Gabel (whose secret was that she had appeared on radio), Mrs. David Runkel who had plinked at Robin Hood's oak tree in Nottingham; Emil Lindenber who had been a magician; Mrs. Sidney Swallow who had been a cover girl for Parents' magazine as a featured young mother; Oliver Hassemer who had divested himself of his pride and joy—had shaved off his mustache that very day and finally Everett L. Swift who with his wife and child had built a sod hut when homesteading in the middle West.

After gay commiserals for the POA, the glee club, dance club and Plantation Estates woman's club, Mrs. James Genoy invited everyone into the mansion parlors where a beautiful repast was served by Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Crosby, Mr. and Mrs. James Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Milford Leonard and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Lindenber.

Army Considering Establishing Army Reserve Unit Here

Brigadier General Loyal C. McHenry, commanding general of all Army activities in the State of Florida and Lieutenant Colonel Peter M. Grubb Jr., commanding officer of all Army reserve activities for Seminole, Volusia, Brevard, Orange, Lake, Sumter, Indian River and Ocala counties, have expressed their interest in establishing an Army reserve unit in Sanford.

Lee Moore, telephone FA 2-1820, has been appointed chairman of a committee to conduct a survey of the manpower potential to determine what size unit this City could support and also the possible facilities that could be utilized as a place of assembly. A meeting will be held at City Hall, 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, Apr. 16, and it is requested that all reserve officers and non-commissioned officers interested in forming a cadre for the unit be present at this meeting.

Personnel who are interested in this program may contact W. E. Knowles by telephone FA 2-8511 or writing to the following address: City Manager, City Hall, Sanford, and also by telephoning Col. W. A. Wasson, FA 2-4535 and E. C. Harper, FA 2-1582.

Engineer Claims Contract With City For Terminal Study

W. Austin Smith, a member of the engineering firm of Smith and Gillespie attempted to revive a report on a proposed Docks and Terminals project proposed in 1947.

Smith contended that the city signed a contract with his firm in 1947 on the completion of the study that would require the city to use the services of his firm when a Docks and Terminals project is built.

City Attorney William C. Hutchison, however, said that the statute of limitations has been exceeded and there is no legal contract with the city other than for the original plans and travel expense involved in the study. "Legally, it is not binding," he said.

Mayor Gatchel made it plain at last night's session that the city has no commitment with an engineer for the study or feasibility of the Docks and Terminals project.

Commissioner Earl Higginbotham urged the commissioners to "pick out one project and work on it. We can't take care of two projects at one meeting," he said.

Builder To Start New Subdivision, Sunland Estates

"We will begin construction of over five miles of streets and roads next week in Sunland Estates," J. Bradley Othman told the Board of Seminole County Commissioners this morning as a new plan to the 200-acre subdivision were presented this morning for approval.

The new subdivision will be located just off Highway 17-92 about three miles south of Sanford, he said, and will contain approximately 410 lots.

The Othman and Tudor, Inc. subdivision will have three entrances or access roads from Highway 17-92 and one from the Old Orlando Highway.

Homes to be constructed in the area will be in the $10 to $15 thousand class and are being built, he said, to attract retirement families.

Plans were approved by the Board of Seminole County Commissioners this morning.

Young Mayfair Guests Tour Herald Plant

A group of sun-tanned youngsters, guests with their parents at the New York Giants' Mayfair Inn, visited the plant of the Sanford Herald this morning and expressed their delight in seeing how a paper was put together.

Conducted on the tour of the business office, composing room, ad alley, stereotyping department and press room by Charlie Morrison, member of the advertising staff, were Bobby Dolgin, Helene Hollander, Susan Handler, Ronnie Sokol, Gail Sokol, Linda Provus, Allison Lanter, Susan Spero, Ronnie North, Daniel Dolgin and their chaperones, Evelyn Worden and Jim King.

In showing the group how the composing room crew read the type backwards, Morrison was reading yesterday's headlines when little Ronnie North asked, "What's today's headlines?" So the children gathered around the United Press teletype for a view of the up-to-the-minute news and features as the printer disgorged the long strip of paper.

Each child was presented with a metal slug of his or her name and had a time trying to read the backward printed type. After saying thank you to their host, they visited the Sanford Zoo.

Crandall Appointed Manager Of NAS Branch Of Bank

"The one thing that has impressed me most about Sanford is the cooperative spirit of the Navy people and local citizens," said Erwin P. Crandall, newly appointed manager of the Florida State Bank's baby facility, the Naval Air Station branch.

"It seems to me as if the community has accepted the Navy as good citizens and the Navy is trying to live up to it," said Crandall.

The announcement of Crandall's appointment as the new manager for the Naval Air Station Branch of the Florida State Bank was made yesterday by T. E. "Gene" Tucker, president.

Crandall came to Sanford from Eau Gallie where he was associated with the First National Bank. Prior to that time he was connected with the Marion County Bank in Marion, Ohio.

"The foundation for the new bank facility at the Sanford Naval Air Station was poured yesterday," said Crandall, "and we expect to have the bank underway in about (Continued On Page 10)

Legislature Studies Proposed Tax Increase

Over-All Approval Heard

TALLAHASSEE — Florida legislators were to consider raising their own expense allowances today before taking up Gov. LeRoy Collins' expensive and generally well-accepted program.

The House met at 10 a. m. this morning to adopt rules for the 1957 session and set expense allowances for members. In 1955, members received $15 a day but there was talk of hiking the allowance to $20 or more this session.

The representatives also were to elect Tom Beasley of Walton County speaker-designate for the 1959 session and choose between Reps. Elbert Stewart, Hendry, and James N. Beck, Putnam, for speaker pro tem in 1959. Beasley is unopposed.

The upper chamber was to meet at 11 a. m. to adopt rules and discuss expenses for members and attaches.

This afternoon, the appropriations committees of both houses met to tackle the big general appropriations bill. The House Insurance and Water Resources (Continued on Page 10)

Demos Retain Control Of U. S. Senate As Yarborough Wins Race

DALLAS, Tex. — The Democrats retained control of the U. S. Senate today on the hard-fought victory of liberal Ralph Yarborough in a Texas special election.

Yarborough torpedoes his Democratic opposition and Republican hopes in his first success in five tries for high office. He previously had lost three bids for the governorship and one for state attorney general.

His election meant that the Democrats will continue to hold a 49-47 edge in the U. S. Senate. The Republican Party went all out in an effort to get a GOP candidate elected and win a 48-18 tie in the Senate.

With Vice President Richard M. Nixon's tie-breaking vote, this would have given the Republicans control of the Senate. But that Hutcheson of Houston, upon whom the Republicans had pinned their hopes, never was in the running.

All told, there were 20 men in the race—18 Democrats and two Republicans. The Republicans, concentrating on Hutcheson, had hoped that the Democratic ma-

Common Methods Of Propagation Told By Speaker

Sylvester A. Rose, Assistant Ornamental Horticulturist, University of Florida Agricultural Extension Service, returned to Sanford for the second time last night to instruct the sixth class of the Sanford Garden Club's Landscape and Gardening School.

Rose first spoke to the Sanford audience on Mar. 19 when his subject was "Maintenance of the Landscape Planting."

Last night a capacity audience heard the agricultural specialist speak on "Propagation of Ornamental Plants."

The speaker outlined the common methods of propagation; by seed, cuttings, layering, division, and grafting.

He explained, in detail, the reasons for using the various methods of propagation. The use of seeds, he said, may not produce the desired variety and may be slow to obtain the specific plants wanted. In the use of cuttings the same variety of plant is produced as the parent plant and a larger plant is secured in a shorter length of time.

In outlining the other methods of propagation, Rose said that the use of layering produces the same effect as in the use of cuttings.

In the use of division, only perennials and clumpy plants are affected when the plant is divided into segments. Grafting is used a great deal, he said, when changing the plant from one variety to another.

Rose then instructed his audience in the procedure in the various methods of propagation and then divided the cuttings into classes.

His fifth division of last night's instruction was to explain the methods used in common grafts of plants.

The seventh in the series of the Landscape and Gardening School will bring James E. Brogdon, Extension Entomologist who will instruct on the subject "Common Insect Pests of Ornamental Plants."

The final class of the school will be held on Tuesday night, Apr. 16.

Legislature's 1957 Session Is Expected To Be Harmonious One

During a 90-day session of the Legislature in the neighborhood of 3,000 bills are introduced. All must be given consideration in a gigantic task and the limit of time prevents many bills from being given the serious and careful consideration they should receive. This is no reflection on legislators, but rather the fault of the system.

A big play will be made for the "home rule system" and if successful, much of the legislation will be placed in the hands of local officials and taken out of the political hounding of the "enabling bill" and the controversy between local and state delegations.

Among many bills that may be looked for this session will be those dealing with such problems as revision of the state sales tax. A strong effort will be made to broaden it with the Florida State Retailers Association strongly backing such a move.

Milk price controls will again be a major issue. The controversial subject has been simmering since the last session and dairy interests are not a bit satisfied with the situation which they claim is putting them out of business.

Reapportionment will of course bob up, but considering the legislature's experience with this problem last session it is doubtful if any action will be taken. Small county blocs still dominate and any attempt to give metropolitan areas greater representation will result in a fight that would probably end in another stalemate.

Merchants Associations are out to give the axe to trading stamps. This has been done in several states and several legislators have promised to introduce legislation at this session that will outlaw all trading stamps.

Unions will again make an effort to get rid of Florida's "Right To Work" amendment, but at this writing it appears they have little chance of success. Legislators familiar with the situation know that the amendment is sound and in the interest of the public and the laboring man. Its opponents are the labor bosses and labor bosses aren't faring too well right now; some of them are more concerned with the "Fifth Amendment" than anything else.

An attempt will probably be made to abolish the fee system but opposition on the part of fee officers is strong. They have won out in the past when similar efforts to do away with the fee system have been considered.

All in all, the 1957 session of the Florida Legislature should be a harmonious one with the pleas from the leaders at its beginning "leave petty jealousies and personality clashes at the doors" of the law making chambers.

Technological Revolution

The old reason for the gathering of huge numbers of human beings in big cities are now being rendered obsolete by the rapid changes brought by the technological revolution. Masses of men are not needed in a compressed area in order to supply labor power for factories. The automobile has eliminated that, and today a worker can live some miles from the factory where he works.

The big city is not needed as a place to shop to the same degree as it used to be. Shopping centers have been built in rural, suburban and near-suburban areas. In a huge city, the big department stores have established branches in outlying shopping centers, and as time goes on more such branches will be set up all over the nation.

In city after city, we are witnessing the deterioration of neighborhoods, with buildings rotting into disuse. The American big city was a product of an earlier period, but developing technology and changing business methods have lessened some of the city advantages.

Some decentralization is not only necessary, but inescapable. If decentralization can be carried on with some planning, and if the regeneration of our big cities can be done with foresight and intelligence, the nation will be saved much effort and expenditure. This is one of the challenges America faces as it meets the problems of a new technological revolution.

Pressures Of Modern Life

To be relaxed, to be at ease, to have peace of mind and no tension at all—these are the pleasant goals for one beset by the pressures of modern life. Whether they are admirable, or even realistic goals, is another matter.

The real key to the matter is the way in which peace of mind, calmness, relaxation are achieved. A philosophy or attitude that teaches us to roll with the punches of life and come back smiling is one thing. But to achieve calm and soothe one's nerves by the repeated and periodic taking of drugs is another thing entirely. The so-called tranquilizers are making this possible.

A doctor's prescription is necessary to obtain some of these drugs. Others can be obtained without prescription. These relaxing drugs have become tremendously popular in the United States. Under certain circumstances, they can be helpful. But when they are taken without the direction of a physician their long run benefits are open to serious question.

A certain amount of tension and concern—worry, if one wishes to call it that—is a normal part of most of our lives. No one sensitive to the troubles and imperfections of the world can be always placid and calm. Nor is that desirable. Tension may be a symptom of deep concern, and it may lead to worthwhile action.

A drug-induced feeling of relaxed calm, and perhaps unconcern, is doubtless pleasant. So, it is said, are opium dreams. This is not to compare the tranquilizers with opium. Nevertheless, it can fairly be said that intemperate use of the tranquilizer drugs may also tend to bring at least a partial withdrawal from reality. And withdrawal from reality is, except in the most extreme circumstances, a hard thing to justify.

Diabetes Isn't Result Of Too Many Sweets

By HERMAN H. DUBINSKY, M.D.

SWEETS don't cause diabetes. Eating a lot of candy, cake and other foods filled with sugar might add pounds to your weight, and it won't be a direct cause of diabetes.

It might, however, be a contributing factor. Too much weight isn't good for anybody. For those of you who are middle-aged, it is an especially dangerous burden.

Avoid Overeating

Those overeating any foods—especially those containing large amounts of starches or sweets—should be avoided. But sweets or sugars as such won't bring on diabetes.

The disease is caused by certain abnormalities of the pancreas, an organ in which the body cannot use sugar.

All foods contain some sugar. When the body digests this sugar, it is changed into a form which is carried in the blood stream to the body tissues where it is used as food.

Supplies Insulin

Before the body cells can use this sugar, the pancreas must secrete a substance called insulin into the blood.

When insulin is lacking, you have diabetes. In such a case, the body cells cannot use the sugar and it accumulates in the blood and the urine.

The type of food a diabetic eats is extremely important. Sugars, of course, are virtually banned. And since starchy foods like cereals, potatoes and macaroni are converted by digestion almost entirely into sugar, they also are limited in any diabetic diet.

By carefully following a prescribed diet and using injections of prepared insulin, many diabetics can lead normal lives.

While most patients will have to continue watching their diets and taking insulin for the rest of their lives, many elderly victims require only temporary doses of insulin.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

P. O.: What are the symptoms of diverticulitis and what can be done for it?

A. Answer: Diverticulitis of the intestine means that there are little pouches which have formed in the intestine. When these pouches become inflamed, the condition is called diverticulitis. The exact cause is not known. Usually a bland diet and rest may prove helpful.

WHAT THE JACKPOT MEANS!

Veterans Corner

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to questions of current interest to former servicemen and their families:

Q. I am planning to take a four-year night course in law under the Korean GI Bill. Will the VA consider this as full time training in paying me my monthly GI allowance?

A. No. An accredited four-year night law course may not be considered as more than three-quarters time training for purposes of computing your GI allowance.

Q. Is it possible for a veteran to name the beneficiaries of his GI insurance policy in his last will and testament, rather than by providing the VA with a list of beneficiaries?

A. Yes. Beneficiaries may be designated by a duly probated last will and testament. But you cannot change beneficiaries in this manner. A change must be placed on record with the VA.

Q. If a veteran wants to appeal a VA decision involving some benefit, is there any time limit for filing his appeal?

A. Yes. A veteran must file his appeal within one year from the date of the VA decision of his case.

Q. I am drawing compensation payments based on the service-connected death of my husband. If I get a job to supplement my income, will my compensation payments be stopped?

A. No. Service-connected death compensation payments are not affected by your income. The income "ceiling" apply only to non-service-connected death pensions.

The higher payments were authorized by the Survivor Benefits Act, which became effective Jan. 1, 1957. Vernon S. Parker, Manager of the Pass-a-Grille VA Regional Office, explained.

Provisions of the new law are optional for children whose fathers died of a service-connected cause before Jan. 1. However, it usually is to their advantage to receive the new benefit, Parker said.

An exception to the general rule are children who are receiving Servicemen's Indemnity, the so-called "free insurance" for certain deaths occurring between June 27, 1950 and Dec. 31, 1953, inclusive. Such children may concurrently receive both the old form of death compensation and the Servicemen's Indemnity payments, Parker pointed out.

If there is no eligible widow, the new rate of payment are: one child, $70 monthly; two children, $100; three children, $130; each additional child, $35. The total payable is equally divided. The old rates are $57, $67, $77 and $23, respectively.

Parker said that guardians of minor children must make application if the children are to receive the new benefit, even though the children already are on Veterans Administration rolls.

Information about application for the new benefit is available at any Veterans Administration office.

Foreign News Commentary

McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Soviet Russia seems to be seriously alarmed over the guided missile situation.

It is now clear that Russia's warnings to Norway and Denmark against establishing atomic weapons bases on their territory are part of a pattern.

It is quite probable that a similar warning may be sent soon to West Germany. Warnings may also be sent to Great Britain and France.

President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan announced on March 24, at the end of their conference in Bermuda, that the United States would make certain guided missiles available to Britain.

But even before that, it had been reported authoritatively that United States troops in Germany were now equipped with atomic warheads.

Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin sent a letter to Norwegian Premier Einar Gerhardsen on March 21 warning him that Norway would face a catastrophic attack by H-bombs if it continued to let its territory be utilized by certain big power aggressive circles to set up military bases against the Soviet Union.

Bulganin sent a similar warning to Premier H. C. Hansen of Denmark last Friday.

It will be noted that Bulganin's warning to Norway was sent three days before the Bermuda announcement that guided missiles would be made available to Britain.

"Predict" NATO Plan
Bulganin, however, mentioned that American troops equipped with atomic weapons were to be stationed in "a number" of countries and that the new West German army and other North Atlantic Treaty forces were to be supplied with atomic weapons.

This statement apparently was the result in part of a news leak which NATO authorities tried to cover up.

On March 14, Air Marshal the Earl of Bandon, commanding the 2nd Allied Tactical Air Force in Germany, announced that his bomb ers would be equipped with tactical atomic weapons soon.

West German spokesmen followed next day with a statement that American troops in Germany were equipped with atomic warheads. This really was no secret, but the fact never had been announced officially.

Both United States and Britain headquarters in Germany were openly displeased at the statements of Lord Bandon and the West German spokesmen, and tried to shut off discussion of them.

Forecast Atomic Storehouse
The Russians seem to foresee a time, however far in the future, when guided missiles and other atomic weapons will be stored nearby for use not only in West Germany and Britain but in Norway, Denmark and other countries which belong to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Certainly, the Russians have some reason to worry. But there is no need for them to worry seriously unless they foresee the possibility that Russia itself might start World War III. Such a war might be started deliberately, as a matter of Communist aggressive policy. Or it might be started by the sort of tragic blunders that involved Adolf Hitler in a world war which he did not plan.

Hitler just overstepped a clearly marked line. He might expect to be shot.

Ellis's Beauty Salon staged a most appreciated program for the DeBary Home Demonstration club recently. Mrs. "Sandy" Hook and Mrs. Vera Meeker demonstrated the latest in hair-do effects and facials for relaxation and base in daytime and evening makeup. Mrs. Ray Peck, Mrs. Henry Morrison and Mrs. Russell Botsford were models in these demonstrations and gave every evidence of enjoying their beauty treatments.

Mrs. Ruth Magnuson showed her new hand done etched glass dishes. Many members reported bringing home blue, red and white ribbons from the county fair.

The Crucifixion will be offered at the following churches: at the DeBary Baptist church on Sunday at 4 p. m., at All Saints Episcopal church in Enterprise on the 11th at 7:30 p. m. and at the Pilgrim Community church of Orange City on the 14th at 4 p. m. Soloists will be Henry Ebeling, tenor, Sam Wood, baritone and Ernest Hensley, bass. Directors are Henry Ebeling and Mrs. Laura Platt Brown. Organists are Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Shirley Crouse.

"Hobo Night" was observed at the civic auditorium on Friday night in the drive for funds in the building of a new church for the DeBary Methodists. The Rev. Wilfred Akridge emceed a panel contest of Mrs. Sidney Swallow, Paul Mirsch, Mrs. Harry Krug and Edward McCarthy. A spelling bee and contest for the most delightful "hobo" costume (won by Mrs. Rupert Boyd) amused the large audience. Refreshments were served and Mrs. Krug played the piano for singing of old time songs.

DeBary was represented at the DeLand and West Volusia association for Retired People, a new group of civic import which met Monday to formulate plans for future social, cultural and hobby gains in this vicinity. Over 100 were present and signed up for membership which will be for a non-profit organization and will call for groups that enjoy various hobbies, such as writing, painting, woodcraft and music. ## Collegiate Echoes

By GRACE M. STINECIPHER

ROSEMARY GARNER was home this past weekend visiting with her parents Dr. and Mrs. Wade H. Garner. Rosemary is in nurse's training at Jackson Memorial Hospital in Miami where at present she is in obstetrics and is thrilled to pieces with her work.

Unfortunately, Rosemary had a touch of the flu while home—but she didn't lack for company. Saturday night NANCY ROUNDTREE, FSU student who is interning at Pinecrest; BEVERLY COOPER, student at Alabama College who is home for spring holidays; GRACE MARIE STINECIPHER, Stetson student home for the weekend; JONI SAUNDERS; and JEANNETTE KINLAW all descended upon her and as a result a regular party was in progress.

Also home this weekend was MARTHA OWEN, visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Owen. She had with her as a guest, James B. Davis, Jr., to whom she is pinned. Congratulations, Martha!

MARY LOU COPELAND and JIM HAWKINS made their usual trek home to Sanford from Stetson this past weekend. I think the world would come to an end if either one of them stayed in DeLand for an entire weekend. Home's a great place, though, huh? They visited with their parents Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Copeland and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hawkins.

Seen at the Navy Day fish fry was BOBBY MORRIS with his parents Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Morris. He was home for the weekend from UoF as was his brother ERNIE MORRIS who is saw riding all over in that flashy red truck.

We are as proud as punch of AL PHILLIPS, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Phillips; MARGARET MORRISON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Morrison; and Robert Baker son of Mr. and Mrs. Baker who were the only three from Sanford to make the Honor Roll. A B average—at Stetson last semester, Al is a pre-med student, Margaret is in elementary education, and Robert's major is Business Administration. Named to the Dean's List from Duke University was ROSA COKE BOYLE, daughter of Mrs. L. F. Boyle of Sanford. Congratulations to all of you!

We hear that JUNIOR METTS is one of the very few from FSU who is interning in Georgia—Calte, Georgia to be exact. Since Junior's major is physical education, he is interning in that field.

Reception Held In New York Honors Couple

Mrs. J. L. Baggett, of Cross City, Ga. announces the marriage of her daughter, June Ann to Robert Markovits, SN, son of Mrs. Joseph Setlock of Buffalo, N. Y.

The rites were held in Quitman, Ga. March 16. Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for Buffalo where a reception was held in their honor. Approximately fifty guests enjoyed an evening of dinner and dancing, during which the newly-weds cut the beautifully decorated tiered wedding cake.

Several beautiful numbers will be rendered by the band and included in these are "North Sea Overture", "Tocata", "Selections from Pajama Game", and "Fare and Allegro". I hope to see several of you there as I peep out into the audience from my seat in the clarinet section—Mr. Cowley, you ought to bring over some of your SIS band members so they'll know you aren't fooling when you brag about what a great band your alma mater has!

Conring The News

BY VIRGINIA ORSON

Mallie and John Barlow entertained weekend guests from Jacksonville with a '48'71 reunion Friday night. June and Bill Simpson were stationed with the Barlows in Panama, besides Bill being a classmate of John's, so old friendships were renewed amidst much laughter. Attending were Rosemary and Cliff Duncan, Anita and Bob Hadden, Camille and Bob Metzger, Mike and Bob Stone, Alice and Mildred Loper, Virginia and John Johnston, Ernie and Jean Fritz, and Howie and Sally Weigle. Lou Millsaps had the duty, so they were unable to come, but it occurs to me that this is the first time that one of the group has not been gone to the Med on deployment.

Mac Edwards, ably assisted by Sonja Blackwood, gave a coffee in her garden Saturday morning for Kitty Walker, formerly of VAH-S. Don and Kitty are down for ten days from Norfolk, while Don goes to ASD school. Bright hibiscus from Mac's garden furnished the flowers, and goodies from the local bakery (or should I mention that?) were served with tea and coffee. It must have been a welcome change for Kitty to bask in the warm breezes of Lawe Mary after a winter in Norfolk. Welcoming her back were Jean Dooley, Louise Parker, Betts Liniker, Mike Stone, Jean Tegfeldt, Marge Hill, Erle Williams, Helen Griffin, Trista Michel, Lorraine Lankford, Sonja Blackwood, Ellie Morrow, Sandy Ortmann, Marge Martin, Barbara Jacobson, and Ruth Tully.

In Loch Arbor we have watched with interest the persistent efforts of the Lake Mary Volunteer Fire Department, and with good reason, too, since we are dependent on them for their equipment and help. At last the dreams of these energetic people are realized. The truck is equipped and ready to go, not that it has not been ready, equipped or not, since these helpful neighbors would form a bucket brigade if nothing else were available. At Christmas time they sold cards, and now a chicken barbecue dinner is planned for Saturday night. Expected are between five and six hundred people, and proceeds will pay off the Fire Department's

This has been a truly magnificent day following the storm. The lakes are all the more beautiful for the extra water, and today lie peacefully in the sun, reflecting the new growth of spring. Naturally, the day called for golf, so Marge Hill and I upped to the Country Club, where the crowd has thinned and teeing off has again become simple. Playing around were Shirley Parkins and Mildred Smith (Mildred brooks fifty on nine holes the other day). Another group was composed of Erle Williams, Mike Stone, and Hazel Rowell. Fanchon Mellette was taking a lesson, preparing no doubt, for the onslaught next week in Naples, when fourteen of our girls meet those from all over Florida in the annual State Tournament.

Have you written your letter to your senator, congressman or Secretary of the Navy? If not, please sit down and say "I want to stay at the Sanford Naval Air Station"—sign it, and send it off. This kind of message in bulk will do more good than any arguments your representatives can present. Don't count on someone else to write the letter. YOU do it, and that way you may be sure it has been done. And never think that your letter is not read. ALL of them are read, and flooding Washington with pleas to keep the navy here will reach the right sources, and do the job, we earnestly pray.

Glennon Betting On Combination Of Pesky, Tigers

By KENNETH BRENE
United Press Sports Writer
MEMPHIS, Tenn. — General Manager Eddie Glennon, the new-say-day veteran of Southern Association baseball, is betting his pennant-chasing Birmingham Barons come up with a winning formula in the new combination of Johnny Pesky and the Detroit Tigers.

Pesky and the Tigers moved into Piedmont Field last fall after disgruntled Barons owners and fans decided they had been let down by the New York Yankees. Glennon began to fall when the Barons started a fast nose-diver from atop the league in the middle of the season.

When the Yanks moved out so did virtually all of the Barons players. Pesky arrived at a training camp faced largely with a team he knew little about.

Pesky May Play
But Pesky is a hustler and it appears he may get into the scrap himself as a pinch-hitter this season. No poor batter, he racked out an average of .309 in 10 seasons with the major leaguers.

While awaiting the sure-to-come help from the Tiger system, Pesky has worked with a nucleus of six to eight seasoned baseball players.

Joe Tipton, 35, who earned a name in Cleveland, Philadelphia, Washington and Chicago, is out of retirement and probably will be the Barons' regular catcher. He played with Memphis until mid-1955.

Pesky also has the team's old reliable, catcher — coach Danny Ryan. At shortstop Andy Frasier, who hit .379 with Little Rock last year, appears to fit the bill. Steve DeMeyer, a sensation in the International League in 1955, is at third base.

DeMeyer at 20 years old batted .368 and hit 18 homers for Buffalo, At Charleston last year, he earned a .377 mark.

Dick Camilli, 34, is at second base, Larry Osborne, son of former big leaguer Tiny Osborne, will hold down first base. In left field, Pesky has another seasoned player, Tommy Wright. He was with the Barons last season and slammed out for .344.

Few Pitchers Ahead
The pitching staff is still fluid. In exhibition games he used Jim Atkins, 36-year-old former Nashville and San Antonio hurler. Atkins had a 4-5 record with the Vols last season and pitched for 11-12 at San Antonio.

John Weiss 5-12 and Bill Miller 5-7, with Buffalo and Shreveport respectively, round out the staff. Still to be tested is Leverett Spencer, who won 24 and lost nine at Port Arthur in B ball last season.

As for the other, Pesky says "they're a little young and I am afraid need more experience before going against Southern League teams. But hard work may be the answer."

Seminoles Beat Bulldogs; Tie For 2nd In OBC

The Sanford Seminoles made 11 errors in the first two innings last night and then settled down to a good solid defensive game to score a vital win over the Melbourne Bulldogs 11-10. They are now tied with Cocoa for second place in the Orange Belt Conference.

Originally planning to start Eddie Barbour for the game, coach Dave Laude learned that the Bulldog team had run to an 18-1 victory over Leesburg in the afternoon and shifted Barbour to third and gave the starting mound nod to Ken McMurray in an effort to strengthen the left side of the field defensively.

But 11 errors, two innings, and seven runs later, Laude substituted the team, sending McMurray into left field, David Bramlett to third, and Barbour to the mound.

In the first inning the visiting Bulldogs, fourth place in the conference with 24 record, moved to a 4-3 lead and lengthened it to 7-4 in the second. In the third inning the heavy bats of the Seminoles leveled the score to 7-7.

In the fifth the Bulldogs moved out ahead with a three run rally and the Seminoles settled for only one run, making the score 10-6. In the sixth the Seminoles narrowed the margin to 10-9, and in the bottom of the seventh won the ball game to give them the go-ahead sign for stiff competition in OBC competition.

Johnny Yeackle, Doyle Corley, Eddie Barbour, Cecil Dandridge, and Ken McMurray all rapped out hits for the Seminoles. No player on either team got more than one hit.

Barbour was the winning pitcher for Sanford, Morrison was

Senators Most Forlorn Looking Club In Florida

EDITORS: This is the 14th in a series on the 1957 prospects of the major league clubs.

By LEO R. PETERSON
United Press Sports Editor
ORLANDO, Fla. — The Washington Senators are the most forlorn looking major league club in Florida and the way they stack up now is not often an act of congress could keep them out of the American League cellar.

No one is more conscious of the shortcomings of the club than its manager, Chuck Dressen. Last year the Senators finished seventh, 35 games behind the Yankees, but seven games in front of the Kansas City Athletics. Dressen won't say so, but he would be happy to finish seventh again.

He tabs his catching as the "strongest department we have." One of his receivers, Clint Courtney, is being sought by the White Sox. The other two are Ed Fitzgerald and Lou Berberet. Fitzgerald batted .304 last season, Courtney an even .300 and Berberet, who could win the No. 1 job, .281.

Wants Better Pitching
He is hoping for improvement in his pitching staff which numbers Chuck Stobbs, 15-15, Pedro Ramos 12-10, Camillo Pascual 8-16 and Ted Abernathy, who was sent down to Louisville last season after winning only one game while losing three with Washington.

"Pascual should be a lot better and I think Abernathy is really going to help," Dressen said. "And Ramos can beat the Red Sox." Ramos beat them six times last season while losing to them only once.

Behind those four, he is banking on two rookies to come through. They are Dick Hyde, a 15-game winner with Chattanooga, and Garland Shifflett, who won 11 at Charlotte.

Then there are Bob Chakales, a Cleveland cast-off whose record was 4-4 with Washington last season; southpaw Bob Wiesler, the ex-Yankee who had a 3-12 record with the Senators in 1956; and

Minneapolis Tops Chattanooga 4-2

The Minneapolis Millers topped Chattanooga of the Southern Association 4-2 yesterday afternoon in Memorial Stadium. The Millers avenged a prior defeat at the hands of the Lookouts.

"Al Corwin, Minneapolis starter and winning pitcher, fanned six Lookouts in the first three innings and allowed only five hits for the seven innings he saw duty on the mound.

Boles also showed new power for Minneapolis today as he hit a home run with one on in the fourth and Jim Davesport walked a heavy bat in the second with none on as he powered across the fence for a single effort tally. Harmon Kilbrev hit a homer with one on in the sixth inning for the only Chattanooga run.

Minneapolis is rapidly erasing the deleterious effects of coming to spring training late and losing three in a row for their tardiness. They now have nine victories, four defeats, and two ties.

Today's Sport

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
HALLANDALE, Fla. — Keeping up with the Joneses shaped up once again today as the toughest job in racing.

Back a few years ago, "White Hat Ben" Jones was the scourge of the turf's training ranks. Backed by the baking powder dollars of Calumet, he sent the stable's devil's red and blue silks to so many victories that they figured he could saddle a billy goat and win most races.

Then came a brief period of less luck productively—until this year. But when the ones—Ben and son, Jimmy—sent General Duke out to victory in Saturday's $100,000 Florida Derby they served notice that they were back in business with a vengeance.

"Duke" Tim Record
Bold Ruler, with always-able Eddie Arcaro up, was the solid favorite to win the mile and one-eighth gallop. But General Duke barreled through in the stretch to win with comparative ease in world record-tying time. And, what else? Why Calumet's Iron Legs was no worse than a menacing third.

Whether General Duke goes on to take three-year-old honors in the major stakes ahead, such as the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont, remains to be seen. But from what he showed Saturday at Gulfstream Park, he's going to be a rough colt to handle.

One thing seems certain, that he and Bold Ruler are establishing another of those classic duels which frequently bewilder the sport of kings.

The last was that between Nashua and Swaps. Before that, who has such rampant rivalries as those between Seabiscuit and War Admiral and Discovery against Cavalcade.

Latest Series Tied
General Duke and Bold Ruler each now holds a pair of victories over the other this year. Bold Ruler still will be the Wood Memorial choice, with Calumet planning to ship straight to Kentucky. So their next clash probably will be in the rose run.

Old Ben has won the Kentucky classic a fantastic six times with Lavrin, White Wind, Favorite, Ponder, Citation, and Hill Gail. And, to give you an idea of the Jones' abilities, he also sent to the races such memorable mounts as Bull Lea, Coltfoot, and Twilight Tear, to name just a few.

Atlanta Depending On E. Mann, Rookie

By BILL FERGUSON
United Press Sports Writer
ATLANTA, Ga. — Atlanta's chances of winning a second straight Southern Association pennant hinge on the ability of a rookie to produce hits and Earl Mann's ability to produce talent.

Cracker fans are confident of Mann, the sharp-trading Atlanta front-office chief with a knack of getting the most for his money and the most out of his players.

However, the big question mark is a muscular rookie with a bulging batting average but an unfamiliar face.

Catcher Sammy Taylor brings an impressive .348 swing mark from Topoka and he's being counted on to handle most of the receiving.

The young hitter, however, is untested in AA baseball and has yet to prove that he can help the Crackers to their third flag in three seasons.

Rookies and Veterans
Manager Buddy Bates, himself a rookie AA headman, is counting on Taylor, and hoping he can find another good hitter to help veterans Bob Monagan and Billy Reynolds in the outfield.

Another rookie might have to carry the load at third base, but officials are confident that Dick Phillips, a .288 hitter at Jacksonville last year, can do the job.

Another Jacksonville youngster, Bill Thompson, is currently the No. 1 man at first base. Thompson, a 6-foot-5 former Seton Hall basketball star, hit a respectable .278 for Jax.

Atlanta is looking for a little help at second base and shortstop and the fans are expecting Mann when the parent Milwaukee is standing with hat in hand.

Saturday night, they were saying that he had another great one in the late-charging General Duke. Ben wasn't saying much of anything. He was just getting ready to pull another one out of the barn like a magician pulls rabbits out of a hat.

Modern diesel powered submarines are equipped with a breathing device, known as a snorkel, which permits the vessel to draw fresh air from the surface while running submerged.

Records for enemy shipping sunk by U. S. submarines are held by the USS Finback which sank 100,231 tons of Japanese shipping, while the USS Tautog holds the record for the most ships—36.

More decorations for valor have been awarded, per man, to the submarine service than any other Navy branch.

The most popular frozen food is concentrated orange juice.

Now Hear This!

JACKY FENWICK

Monday night, April 1, the Enlisted Men's Wives Club held their first semi-monthly meeting for the month of April, at the U. S. O. Considering what the weather was like, quite a crowd turned out in spite of it!

Mrs. Gladys Carter gave a report on last week's meeting of the club's Advisory Board, at which a new arrangement for serving refreshments was decided on. Mrs. Alice Drake, the new program chairman, gave a report on the future programs in store for the club. At the next regular meeting, Monday, April 15, there will be a talk by Mr. Palmer on the subject of Survivors Benefits. This is a subject, however we would like to ignore it, that is important to everyone, so try and get there for this meeting. It was also definitely voted on to have another "bake sale" at the Air Station, next pay-day, which will be April 15, a week from next Monday. The chairman for the "sale" will be Mrs. Delores Gast. As for the new arrangement in regard to the refreshments, it was decided to appoint four girls at each meeting, in alphabetical order, to handle the refreshments for the following meeting. The speaker for last night's program was Mrs. Randall Chase, Neighborhood Chairman of the Citrus County Girl Scouts of America. She spoke about the leadership classes available to those who are interested in that type of work. Also at Monday's meeting, Mrs. Betty Place was appointed to the Advisory Board to represent V. A. M. 11. Following the business part of the meeting, sandwiches and punch were served.

Again this year, as in the past, the Veterans of Foreign Wars will serve an Easter Breakfast at the U. S. O. for all servicemen who wish to partake of it. This is free to all servicemen in the area, and what a wonderful way to show the Easter spirit! This is an event that has been voted on by the V. F. W. in the past, to be an annual affair sponsored by the men in the organization, in cooperation with the Women's Auxiliary, under its present president, Mrs. Melvin Smith. They will start serving a breakfast of ham, eggs, coffee, etc., at 8:00 A. M., and will continue to serve until 11:00 A. M. So all you enlisted men be sure and take advantage of this wonderful service that's being offered to you!

Mrs. Peggy Kuhn, who heads the local U. S. O., would like to extend her thanks to the very thoughtful men who volunteered to wash, wax, and polish the floors at the U. S. O. building. Without full-time janitor service, this sometimes gets to be a big problem, and the fact that the boys themselves have shown this interest in keeping their building looking nice, is very gratifying to Mrs. Kuhn. So to those involved, her sincerest thanks.

Been meaning to mention of the noteworthy feat of Mrs. Jeanne Faulk. To those who don't know, Jeanne and her husband BILL, (an ex-ordnance chief in V. A. M. 2.) have long been ardent golfers. And now Jeanne, in addition to being a tournament medalist, is the Gelling Queen of Sanford! She worked hard to attain the crown, and to Jeanne go our sincerest congratulations.

Back on my "soap-box" again, and urging everyone to make their plans to attend the next dance to be held at the E. M. Club. It will take place on Friday night, April 19, and don't use baby-sitters, as an excuse when I'm giving you over two weeks notice! The drapes at the club are in the process of being hung, so it will look even cozier than ever. Sidney Vahlin and his orchestra will be on hand to play for the dancing, and it's hoped that the turnout will be as big as it was for the St. Patrick's Day Dance. If you're not sure, call me, a terrific crowd for that one, and we can make this one just as big a success! I'll be up to each and every one of you!

If you can remember way back about a month ago, I did a lot of talking, (should say writing,) about a contest to be held to find a couple of good, appropriate names for the E. M. Club, and the "couple's room"! Well, the reason I shut up so suddenly was because it was decided to "let it ride" for a month or so, which it has, and now it's on again! We hope that the boxes, and forms to be filled out, will be in place, by this Friday, April 5, at the E. M. Club, and also one at the Navy Exchange. There will be two separate prizes awarded, one for each name. So, you'll have two chances to win! I'll have more about this contest as soon as the final details are arranged. So keep watching for it!

By HUD JENNINGS & JIM BURKETT

We don't know if you folks have had an opportunity to enjoy Bishop Fulton J. Sheen's TV and radio series, but here is a performer, if we may use the expression, who goes about preparing his programs in a highly effective if unorthodox manner.

For his "Life Is Worth Living" program, the Bishop ignores script, rehearsal, cue cards, camera run-through and other "crutches" so familiar to regulars in the business. Once he decides on the subject of a dramatic narrative, the Bishop outlines the program with a few notes and polishes the narrative by delivering it in Italian and again in French. This is done to keep him on his toes, so to speak, for he not only has to think of what to say, but he has to translate into another tongue at the same time.

Another amazing ability of the Bishop's is the split-second timing which allows him to talk to finish exactly on time. In radio and TV work he has never finished more than two seconds early or late.

BENNETT'S TV SALES & SERVICE may not have the Bishop's split-second timing, but when it comes to coaxing sparkling new life from weary old TV sets, we don't take a back seat to anyone. If your set is giving trouble and you want it repaired as quickly and economically as possible, call on BENNETT'S TV SALES & SERVICE, 409 West First St. Phone FA 2-2921.

After the demonstration a variety show was given in the school auditorium. Participants were, Connie Griffin, June Williams, Mary Jean Good, Norman Sparks and Bruce Williams.

Lucy's Barnyard Banter

With the Mertzes taking care of the Ricardos' chickens, Lucy and Ethel have their social problems. At a party, Lucy says: "Of course, we're in the egg business together — half those eggs are Ethel's." Says Ethel, in a fine plique: "Yeah. The shells."

Even in the country, Fred Mertzes watches his potty cash. When Ethel says: "We don't have a decent lamp in the whole room we can read by," Fred replies, "We never read — we always watch television." Says Ethel, "Well, then we need a decent lamp so we can read the TV log." Fred replies that "Okay," he says, "I'll buy you a flashlight."

When Ethel, born in Albuquerque, gets too friendly with a girl she discovers was born in the same town. Lucy complains: "What's so hot about being born in Albuquerque? I could have been born there, too, if my parents hadn't lived in Jamestown."

The Ricardos and the Mertzes decide to do some country entertaining and it's suggested that Ethel play the piano. Says Fred, "Ethel plays by ear." Lucy is dubious, but not so much as Fred. He adds, "The trouble is, we gotta listen by ear."

One of the recently reconstructed ships that landed on the Virginia shores 350 years ago.

Jamestown, Va. Observes 350th Anniversary

One spring morning 350 years ago, three little sailing ships about the size of PT boats were driven ashore off Virginia by a roaring gale. They dropped anchor; their captains and passengers went ashore, made a hasty survey, and then the group promptly settled down to start the first permanent English colony in America.

They were full of a spirit of adventure and their hopes were high. It's just as well they didn't know what was in store. In the first place, they could hardly have chosen a more unpropitious site. Jamestown was a low island, boggy and malarial, and wide open to Indian attack. It's agricultural possibilities were pathetic. In 1609 there was a "starving time" when the struggling colony was reduced from 500 members to 60. An Indian massacre in 1622 killed one-fourth of the colony's replenished population of 1,240. Pledges struck. Fires leveled the humble dwellings from time to time. But with English grit, the stout colonists stuck it out. Nearly a century passed before they picked up and moved the capital of the territory of Virginia to a more healthy and profitable location at Williamsburg.

American Express will escort groups to the festival from April 14 through October 27 on a series of 6 day tours leaving from Washington. The "Historic Virginia Tours" make a circuit through the state that includes Yorktown, Williamsburg, Appomattox, Natural Bridge, Swannanoa, Charlottesville and the home of Jefferson, and the Luray Caverns. There are weekly departures by motorcoach throughout most of spring and summer. The price of the trip including transportation, hotel accommodations, meals, sightseeing, tips, and escort service is $139.50.

Labor Union Is Asked To Demand 'Housecleaning'

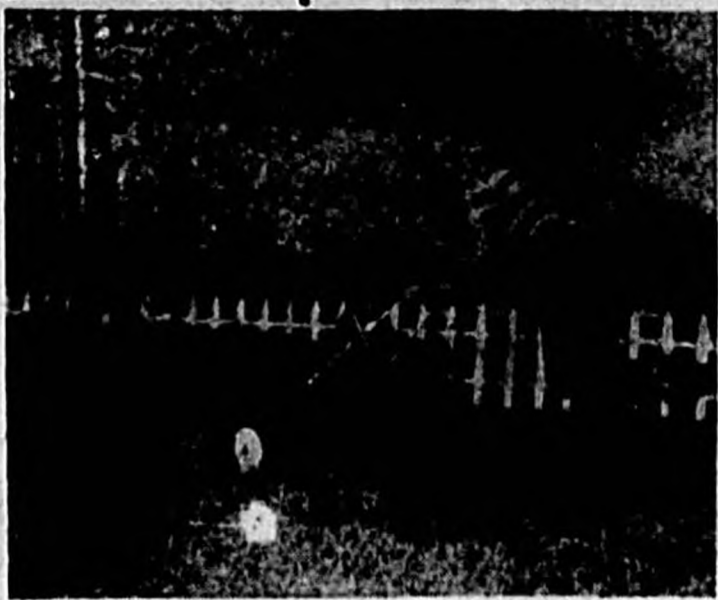

RALPH, N. C. (C)—Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) has called on labor union members to demand "housecleaning." Morse called for the "full protection of the law" in cases involving misuse of union funds, much as a bank president or other bank officials might be prosecuted for embezzlements.

Without mentioning President Day's Pack by name but referring to the Tammany Union scandals, Morse said the "rank and file of the great unions should rise up and demand a housecleaning."

He said evidence brought out in racket investigation hearings indicates that unions are "operating with a wide interest and the unscrupulous official has put his hand into the pockets of thousands of people and stolen money in the form of interest."

"I defend the rights of labor," Morse said, "but I will never defend illegitimate practices by unions."

the Snapshot Guild

Springtime activities, whether it is a happy gardening scene like this, or the first sandlot baseball game of the year, offer excellent picture opportunities.

Spring Activities Call for Camera Action

According to the rhyme we chanted as children, "Thirty days hath September, April, June and November..." But, now in addition to having 30 days, we find April is now a month composed of National Arts and Crafts Week, National Model Building Week, National Coin Week, National Garden Week, National Photography Week and National Do-It-Yourself Week!

This just goes to prove that spring is a season humming with all kinds of activities which make fine subjects for the family snapshot. It's really "open season" for shooting and you can't afford to let your camera be idle much of the time.

Spring brings longer days—days that may boast a chill in the shade but a sudden soft warmth in the sun—which means more activities out-of-doors and more outdoor shooting. And sure as the solstice itself, it's a time for putting the family's best foot forward in bright spring finery—a time for painting and polishing everything in sight around the house—a time when every housewife assaults her home from basement to attic and feels compelled to move every piece of furniture in the place.

Everywhere, lawns and parks and woods explode in a surf of green. And the home gardener, too, knows it's time to "bend his back and dig" if he wants the "results and roses" Edgar A. Guest used to write verses about.

Sports loom large on the spring horizon, too—everything from the informal launching of the model season to the formal debut of big-league baseball. And speaking of baseball, we're sure there are more than a few fathers umpiring some fine sandlot games right now!

As you can see, all the activities we've mentioned are part of the spring picture—an important segment of family living that deserves to be recorded as it happens.

"Spring adds a precious seeing to the eye," Shakespeare said—and there's much to see around us amid the light-hearted harlequin moods of people and the weather. Even if you can't predict exactly what man or the elements will do, you can be sure they'll be doing something.

Fishpond Tips

"The proof of the pudding is in the eating." This is a time-worn truism that applies in full measure to fishponds. The proof of a good fish-pond is the good fishing you get out of it according to Howard R. Bissland, Biologist with the U. S. Conservation Service.

If you have followed our recipe for a good fishpond carefully, as we told you in the first article of this series, and if you have used good judgment in applying fertilizer the first year as we told you in the second article of the series, your pond should be ready to fish one year after stocking with large-mouth Black Bass.

Within one year the Black Bass you planted should average one pound in size and the Bluegill Bream should average one-half pound in size. Within one year the pond should have produced the greatest number of pounds in fish it is capable of producing according to the fertilizer you have applied. In Florida, a properly fertilized farm pond will grow 600 pounds of fish in one year.

Fish are an annual crop in farm ponds. They should be harvested as a crop using hook and line methods. After your crop is grown you cannot hurt it by fishing. However, remember this—if weather conditions and other factors are just right and fish are biting, it is possible to harvest your entire annual crop within one or two days.

The number of pounds of fish you can harvest by fishing depends on the total number of pounds of fish produced in your pond. For example, if your pond has produced a total of 400 pounds of fish in one year you should be able to harvest 200 pounds of fish in one year. If your pond has produced 600 pounds of fish in one year you should be able to harvest 300 pounds of fish, and so on.

Remove all the fish you can catch. Don't throw the little ones back in. They probably never will grow up to be big fish anyway. If your pond has too many small fish your fishing won't be good. One way to reduce the numbers of small fish is to "catch 'em and eat 'em."

Always be on the lookout for weeds begin to appear in your pond. If weeds begin to appear in your pond or if your fishing gets poor consult your local Soil Conservation Service technician. He has had a great deal of experience with pond weeds and fish problems. There is comfort in knowing that if you do have problems with your pond, there is someone around who can help you.

New Aids In Medicine

By HERMAN H. BUNDESEN, M.D.

A NEW hormone for treating arthritis and a new extra-powerful hearing aid are among the advances which I would like to discuss today in our monthly review of medicine.

The new hormone is known as triamcinolone. A synthetic hormone of the cortisone family, it was tested recently on 18 patients in preliminary clinical trials with good results.

All patients, treated for periods varying from five months to a few weeks, responded favorably. Apparently, there were no serious side effects.

The doctors who conducted the investigations report that the compound is at least as effective as, or better than, currently available material in controlling the inflammatory manifestations of rheumatoid arthritis such as swollen and painful joints, stiffness and fever.

Softest Sounds
The extra-power hearing aid is said to bring the softest sounds to persons with extreme hearing loss. The new fire-transistor instrument, according to reports, enables a severely handicapped person to hear the softest music and speech.

The high-powered output of the device, the manufacturers claim, covers a wide range of high and low tones, many of them sounds which users have been unable to hear in the past.

Another development in the medical field is the increased use of chloramphenicol. Although not a new drug, it is becoming increasingly valuable in treating bacterial diseases.

Indiscriminate use of some other broad spectrum antibiotics, however, has made many persons resistant to them. Chloramphenicol, on the other hand, still is effective.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
N. R.: Can putting vitamins in the icebox destroy their potency?

Answer: No, freezing usually preserves rather than harms them. Excessive heat can be detrimental to vitamins.

Crossed eyes cannot be outgrown. The condition should be corrected before a child is four to avoid possible loss of sight.

About one child in four has defective vision, says the Florida Council for the Blind. Eye examinations should be given before a child starts to school.

$2½ Million Fire Destroys Market

Farmers Market To Be Immediately Rebuilt; Cabinet Meets Today

Immediate steps will be taken to rebuild the Sanford State Farmers Market, according to a telephone call to The Sanford Herald this morning from Senator Douglas Stenstrom who is in Tallahassee for the current session of the State Legislature. Senator Stenstrom said "upon receipt of the terrible news of the fire at our market this morning, I immediately contacted Commissioner of Agriculture Nathan Mayo. "Mr. Mayo brought the matter before the Cabinet in its meeting this morning. He stated that the market would be immediately rebuilt," said Senator Stenstrom. The Senator said that Mayo stated to Gov. Collins that "our market was one of the most successful in the State and always operated profitably." "I stated to the Governor and Commissioner Mayo," said Senator Stenstrom. "that immediate steps should be taken to make the market as useful as possible for our farmers for the remainder of the season." "The Governor suggested that emergency funds be used to try to accomplish this purpose as quickly as possible," he said. Both Mr. Mayo and Gov. LeRoy Collins expressed their deep regret about the fire and offered their full cooperation, said the Senator. "Representatives Cleveland, Frederick and myself will follow this matter through and do everything possible to relieve the terrible hardships caused by this disaster," said Senator Stenstrom in his conversation this morning with The Sanford Herald. Lee Thompson, Administrative Assistant to Commissioner Mayo, in Senator Stenstrom's office this morning in the State Capitol building stated "C. R. Phillips director of the State Fire Fund which is a function of the State Treasurer's office headed by Honorable J. Edwin Larson, will meet with L. H. Lewis, Director of the State Farmers Markets, in Sanford at 9 o'clock Friday morning, Apr. 4." This meeting, it was stated, will be for the purpose of estimating the amount of loss incurred from the disastrous fire, further verifying the Commissioner of Agriculture's statement; that immediate steps will be taken to replace the market facilities. Representatives Mack N. Cleveland Jr. and Gordon V. Frederick told The Sanford Herald this morning by telephone that "We are going to do everything possible to relieve the hardships being suffered by our farmers, dealers, brokers and others because of the fire." "We regret profoundly this terrible disaster," they said, "and we will do everything within our power to get immediate relief down there." Commissioner Nathan Mayo is primarily interested in the Sanford State Farmer's Market because it is the first market in the State and one of the most successful. L. H. Lewis, the State Market Director, is expected immediately in Sanford to survey the damage caused by this morning's inferno at the market. Chief Mack N. #### Individual Letters To Navy Are Urged

Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Manager John Krider appeared at the Junior Chamber of Commerce luncheon today to appeal for letters from individuals who would like to see the Sanford Naval Air Station remain in Seminole County. Krider, in a statement before the Jaycee group said "Several weeks ago we asked the people of Sanford and Seminole County to cooperate in writing letters to the Secretary of the Navy. "Response has been good," said Krider, "but we haven't had sufficient letters to be impressive. "Now we're asking everybody that is interested in keeping the Navy in Sanford and Seminole County to write the Secretary of the Navy and to express their views regarding their wishes that the Navy remain with us," he said. Krider outlined the method by which the letter should be addressed. He pointed out that the letters should be addressed to "The Secretary of the Navy, Navy Department, Washington 25, D.C." Letters should be addressed "My Dear Mr. Secretary," he said. The Chamber of Commerce Executive stressed the importance of letters from local individuals who want the Navy to stay where it is. "Every letter is read," he said, "and all of them are answered." "We can do our community a tremendous favor by writing these letters in our own handwriting and using our own expressions," he said. Sanford and Seminole County citizens, as well as civic and fraternal clubs have done a wonder-

Explosions Rock City; Flames Visible 6 Miles

Fire of undetermined origin ripped through the Sanford State Farmers Market early this morning, leaving behind a total loss of 2,500,000 feet of rubble and ruin. Discovered shortly before 10 o'clock this morning in the southwest end of the Farmers Market, wind whipped under the frame building to feed the flames that were seen as far away as six miles. Explosions rocked the entire Sanford area as refrigerator units, tires on trucks that were caught in the inferno, and powerful transformers exploded. The heat was intense as sparks flew out of the wind-fed flames to cover the entire area. For a while it was thought that the fire would be confined to the one southerly building but by 1:30 the flames had jumped to the market area along 13th street and again went out of control. Estimates of the loss were as high as 2½ million dollars and expected to go higher as the fifteen dealers, brokers and shippers count up the total. The Sanford State Farmers Market was built originally in the early 1930s as a guinea pig for the now widespread State Farmers Market system. Market platforms were stacked high with produce ready for shipment and coolers throughout the two platform buildings were stacked high with a heavy stock at the height of the season. #### Two Youths Show Heroism At Fire

By HUGH ANSLEY If I ever need a hero for something, I'll look up Mike Tamny and Brantley Schirard. The money they saved the Farmers Market and Sanford Fruit Company last night would fill six figures. They got singed hair, ruined clothes, a sincere "Thank You" and they went home happy. At 12:40 a.m. I left the Sanford Herald office and went to Seminole High School to make the results of the Melbourne-Sanford-Cocoa track meet official. At approximately 12:45 I passed the Farmers Market and all was quiet and dark. Less than two minutes later I was in the office of the athletic department of the school and Mike Tamny, a junior student who had participated in the track meet, yelled, "Fire out back!" I called the operator, made the report, jumped in my little 1937 Chevy cutdown pickup and six or seven of the students piled on. We went to the fire. When we got there we were the first. Fire blazed some 15 feet high from the rafters at the rear of the building and before we could get out of the old Chevy the flames had spread like a jet taking off across the top of the building at the top rafter and covered the enormous building from the back end to the back end of the front office. What looked like three dozen trucks, tractors, trailers, and cars lined the paved pavilion near the building. I broke into a run to try to save some of the trucks with Brantley Schirard and Mike behind me. The management had been wise—the keys were in the vehicles. The boys were gigantic in their effort. Together we moved every vehicle that would crank—sems,
