Sunshine Rain Ends As Near Record And Troubles Go With It

By Genie Lindberg Herald Staff Writer

Today's sunshine ended the second wettest March on record in Central Florida in more than 50 years. Rain that began Thursday continued almost unabated through Monday evening. Power outages and phone troubles began to abate.

Bill Tobin, Orlando National Weather Service official said 11.38 inches of rain fell in Central Florida from 7:07 a.m. Thursday to 3:40 a.m. today. The record rainfall during the month of March was back in 1930, when it rained 12.24 inches, Tobin said.

Considering the weather conditions over the past few days, there were no accidents involving school buses in Seminole County, Richard Wells, director of transportation for the county's schools, said. "And I think that's fantastic."

About 300 residents west of Sanford were without power for up to three hours Sunday, P&L Customer Service Manager Jim Geary said.

"It was the worst storm we've had in some time," Geary said. "But it was a typical storm that came up and we had the normal problems." Elsewhere in the county, he said some transformers blew causing temporary power outages, "but it was nothing serious."

The rain apparently decreased the number of people who may have wished to visit the Central Florida Zoo, according to Ed Posey, the zoo's curator, but those people who did come to the zoo were not deterred by the rain at all, he said, suspecting that many of the zoo's visitors yesterday may have been visiting from out of state. And considering the amount of rain there has been over the last couple days, he said, "the animals have faired satisfactorily." Some of the hoof stock such as the llamas and oryx sought higher ground to avoid the large amounts of standing ground water, he said. "I know they were looking for sunshine as much as we were."

Southern Bell reports 250 trouble reports outstanding, but now thast the weather is cleared they expected to get them taken care of in a couple days, said Larry Strickler, area manager. The firm experienced six to seven times the normal rate of outages, he said, attributed to the water and the lightning.

As Police Chief Steve Harriett, front, and other officers peer down at him, Michael A. Clayton wades to shore after failing into Lake Monroe Monday with a companion. Police were called to the sea wall at about 4:30 p.m. Clayton, a transient, reportedly refused to get out of the lake, although his companion, John Pflug, did. Walking behind Harriett is Sanford Fire Chief Tom Hickson, police officer Jim Black, Pflug, and firefighter Roy Picklesimer. Clayton, who once got up on the sea wall only to fall back in the lake, was charged with disorderly intoxication and resisting arrest without violence. Pflug was not charged.

an unprecedented yet merely "precautionary" action involving an entire embassy detachment.

The department noted there is no evidence the returning servicemen "are implicated in any wrongdoing" as part of the sex-and-spy scandal involving Sgt. Clayton Lonetree and Cpl. Arnold Bracy, but with Secretary of State George Shultz due to arrive in Moscow April 13 for talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze, the goal is to review all areas of security.

Already the embassy's communications system is largely shut down as officials search for possible Soviet electronic bugging devices, according to reports, with all but routine message traffic being carried to Frankfurt, West Germany.

Lonetree spent about five hours Monday at Bethesda Naval Hospital In suburban Washington for a psychiatric evaluation to determine his ability to stand trial at a court martial, the Marine Corps said. The 25-year-old sergeant from Chicago, now in solitary confinement at Quantico, has a hearing April 15.

Meanwhile, Lonetree's lawyer said Bracy, 21, of New York, has denied earlier statements that he acted as a lookout while Lonetree allowed Soviet agents to "peruse" the U.S. embassy for as long as four hours about a year ago.

Attorney William Kunstler of New York charged the case against his client and Bracy is "a monumental fake" intended to show the administration is tightening security at embassies worldwide.

Hernic pressonation A body found in a Southeast Seminole County apartment by firefighters early Monday has been identified as the resident of that home. Herbert Maurice Meisner, 52. But Seminole County sheriff's investigators carly today had not established a motive in the killing or a cause of death.

Sheriff's investigator Ralph Salerno said today he expected an autopsy scheduled this morning to clarify the cause of death. He said the death is definitely a homicide.

Salerno said Meisner had suffered, "severe" trauma from an un-determined source, which caused swelling, bruising and clotting of blood within his face and Meisner, who did not die immediately after being injured, also exhaled blood, Salerno said. The cause of death may be, Salerno said, carbon monoxide poisioning.

Containers of flammable liquid and spilled flammable liquid were found in the home. Fumes from that liquid led to Seminole County firefighters first entering Meisner's apartment at about 9:30 a.m. Sunday to determine the source of the fumes, of which neighbors to his home at apartment 902. A notary public charged with uttering a forgery and committing a fraudulent act in connection with a notary public has pleaded no contest to failure to require reasonable proof of identification of a person whose signature is being notorized.

Del E. Belflower, 58. of South Seminole County, entered the plea before Circuit Judge S. Joseph Davis Jr. who set senten-cings for May 14. Belflower could receive up to 60 days in jail and a $500 fine.

The state had accused Belflower of forging the signature of Miriam Ethier, 48, of Longwood. She and her husband, William, 51, employed Belflower's services to purchase a 1986 Mercedes, according to court records.

Ethier signed papers for Belflower then told him they wanted the title to say "and/or" so it would be in both of their names. At the motor vehicle office. Belflower was told a title could not have the "and/or" clause and that he also needed a signed power of attorney for Mrs. Ethler.

Belflower reportedly became very angry then left saying he had left her power of attorney in his office. He returned in about 10 minutes with one signed and dated Aug. 7. the day he was in the license office.

Mrs. Ethier told investigators, however. that she never signed it. The Ethiers were also dissatisfied with the car and Belflower has returned their money, according to court records.

Lightning Probable In Rocket Failure

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) - Salvage sound. crews are searching the scabed for the electronic brain of a destroyed Atlas-Centaur rocket to help investigators determine whether four quick lightning bursts played a role in the rocket's demise.

Jon Busse, in charge of NASA's accident investigation, said Monday a major on-board electrical disturbance, possibly triggered by lightning, was observed in data radioed to the ground from the speeding Atlas-Centaur seconds before it careened off course Thursday in a $161 million failure.

"There certainly are a lot of strong indications electromagnetic phenomenon are associated with the failure of Atlas-Centaur 67," Busse said. "It could be lightning, a vehicle-induced static charge and other things I'm not smart enough to talk about yet.'

The $78 million Atlas-Centaur was launched during a driving thunderstorm. Radio signals from the rocket stopped 52 seconds after liftoff as the 137-foot vehicle began tumbling out of control traveling faster than boxes," he said.

IN BRIEF Carter: No Immediate Hope For Release Of Hostages

HAIFA, Israel (UPI) - Former President Carter, concluding a five-nation Middle East tour, said he sees no immediate hope for the release of American hostages in Lebanon.

"I don't carry any message back that is encouraging or that would be discouraging," Carter told a news conference Monday after receiving an honorary doctorate degree in philosophy from Haifa University.

He and his wife, Rosalynn, are to return to the United States today.

Carter, who met last week in Damascus with Syrian President Hafez Assad, was asked if he saw any prospects for the release of American and other foreign hostages being held in Lebanon.

"I was assured by President Assad and I am inclined to believe him on this point, that he does not know the whereabouts of the American hostages," Carter said.

Thatcher, Gorbachev Agree

MOSCOW (UPI) - Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher and Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev presided over the signing of four agreements today, one for better direct communications between the Kremlin and Thatcher's official London residence at No. 10 Downing Street.

The documents, signed by British Foreign Secretary Geoffrey Howe and Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze, also provide for cooperation in the peaceful use of outer space. The communications agreement will upgrade an existing arrangement, an embassy official said.

Pollard Spy Case: 'Israel Isn't Off The Hook

WASHINGTON (UPI) - U.S. officials and American Jewish leaders believe Israel must do more to restore its relationship with the United States in the wake of the Jonathan Pollard spy case.

The administration has applauded the resignation of a key Israeli figure in the case, but as one U.S. Jewish leader put it: "Israel isn't off the hook."

Col. Aviem Sella, n decorated Israeli war hero accused of recruiting Pollard to spy for the Jewish state, stepped down Monday as commander of a large air base in Israel, citing concern about "deterioration in U.S.-Israeli relations" and "relations with American Jewry."

Sella has been indicted in the United States but it is unlikely he ever will face trial because espionage is not listed in the extradition treaty between the two countries.

His recent promotion, however, drew sharp U.S. criticism, and the United States imposed a ban on any American contact with the Tel Nof air base in order to bring about his removal. That action was lifted when he resigned, State Department spokeswoman Phyllis Oakley said Monday.

A spokeswoman at the U.S. Embassy in Israel called the resignation a "helpful move." But American Jewish organizations, including the powerful lobby group, the American-Israel Public Affairs Committee, said the resignation was only the first step needed to repair U.S.-Israeli relations.

"Israel isn't off the hook." said one AIPAC member who spoke on condition of anonymity. "The issue in the eyes of the U.S. Congress is, 'Has israel cleaned up its act?"

AIPAC and other American Jewish groups, according to officials, recently sent a series of messages to Israel calling on the government to:

-Remove Sella and another Israeli figure, Rafael Eltan, from his post as head of an Israel chemical company. a job he was given after it became known he was also one of Pollard's handlers.

Equador Menaced By Disasters

It took Texaco several months -- and the most massive helicopter operation outside of the Vietnam War - to build a pipeline from its oil fields in the remote, dense jungles of Ecuador to the coast during the 1960s. It took Nature a few seconds to tear it up.

A wrenching earthquake rumbled through this Latin American country March 5, leaving up to 2,000 people dead or missing and disrupting the flow of oil that was the scountry's primary source of revenue.

) This single, destructive act of Nature fillustrated in a dramatic way what has been happening all over the Western Hemisphere tat a slower, but nonetheless devastating pace. The economies of several countries from Mexico to Brazil, at the mercy of volatile world commodity prices, have declined dangerously. Repaying the huge international debts they accrued during better times is Ancreasingly difficult, if not impossible. Ecuador's ruptured oil pipeline caused its President Leon Cordero Febres to suspend 'payments on Ecuador's $8.2-billion foreign

"We are dealing with the worst disaster in the history of Ecuador," he said, noting that the quake gave his government the choice of repaying debts or letting people starve.

But Ecuador's economy already had been on the brink of disaster because of the sharp drop in oil prices, oil that provided more than 60 percent of the government's revenue. The ravages of an carthquake merely pushed it over the edge.

It is commendable that Vice President 'George Bush promised to send the U.S. National Guard to quake-ravaged northeastern Ecuador to help rebuild roads and bridges. The link between the coast and the capital city of Quito and the oil fields was always precarious. There is not much more than a rough road, only partially paved or cobbled, that descends from the eastern es of the high Andean mountains into the steamy Amazon basin and to the Napo River. ' By restoring Ecuadorean roads and communications, the United States can achieve the immediate objective of assisting the remote, quake-stricken area and helping the oil industry get back in gear.

DICK WEST It May Be The World's Smallest Caucus

ruling that "secular humanism" is a religion must have come as something of a shock to devout atheists the country over.

According to one reference work, which may be banned in Alabama, anything secular is by its nature non-regious. Even devout atherists probably would agree that humanism is a system of thought. But it might be stretching the point to argue that adding humanism makes secular religious.

Presumably, that is something known only to human beings who have spent some time on the federal bench.

Of more import to confused laymen is the quesion of whether the religion can be split. In other words, can one be secular without being a humanist, and vice versa?

I would think so, particulary when the vice is versa. At any rate, I have known humanists of all religions. Not all secular persons, however, are by definition humanists.

It takes a bit of doing to rule that someone

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A federal judge's who is secular is perforce religious. That may be along that "secular humanism" is a religion like concluding that the Congressional Footwear Caucus supports soybean farmers.

I am as concerned as the next good citizen over the proliferation of congressional caucuses. As one congressman put it, "Three people meet in a phone booth and they've got a caucus." But being in favor of something doesn't necessarily mean a congressman is against something else. First, it might be better to find out what he was doing in a telephone booth with two other lawgivers.

It seems unlikely all three would be simultaneously hit by an urge to dial a wrong number.

Since some congressmen belong to a dozen or more caucuses, it may be getting a big crowded in that phone booth. Particularly if there is a cameraman present.

A psychology profession has been quoted as opining that photography "reveals things about you that you never realized." That may be true of good photography, but how about snapshots that cut oil the subjects' head or some other extremity, or are blurred or otherwise out of focus?

Do they tell you something about yourself you never before realized, such as you only have one leg? Or do they tell more about the photographers and their equipment?

I am not aware if there is a current world's record for the most people packed into one phone booth. It may be congressmen don't go in for that sort of thing any more that collegiates still swallow goldfish.

It stands to reason, however, that if a group of congressmen caucusing in a phone booth broke broke the old recrod, they would call in a photogrpher to preserve the event for posterity.

So what if in the process the cameraman set a new record fr the most heads cut off in a single shot?

As I was saying, so what?

Maybe Congress should have a Secular Humanist Caucus. Then we would know whether the members were truly religious.

WASHINGTON WORLD Generals In White House

By Arnold Sawislak

UPI Senior Editor WASHINGTON (UPI) - Those who think Alexander Haig has little chance for the White House in 1988 perhaps should be reminded that generals have had better luck running for president than vice presidents, who are supposed to be on the inside track.

It is that true that 13 vice presidents have become president, but nine of them did it by succeeding a dead or resigned chief executive. Only four, Theodore Roosevelt, Calvin Coolidge, Harry Truman and Lyndon Johnson, won the presidency in their own right at the next election.

Only three vice presidents - John Adams, Thomas Jefferson and Martin Van Buren - have moved. directly from No. 2 to No. 1 by election. The fourth to win the office was Richard Nixon, who failed in 1960, but made it in 1968 by beating incumbent veep Hubert

SCIENCE WORLD How The Elephants Do Talk

By Jan Ziegler UPI Science Writer

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Bush pilots and hunters in Africa used to say that elephants' innards rumble like low thunder when the beasts are contented, but the noise is actually a form of conversation that may communicate everything from danger to ardor.

Elephants talk to each other by producing sounds of very low frequency, ranging from the lowest audible to the human ear to way below, wildlife specialist Katle Paine has found.

"It turns out there's quite an extensive communication system and quite a repertoire of sounds that are too low for us to hear," Paine said at a recent World Wildlife Fund seminar.

"It's not tummy rumbling." said Russell Train, head of the fund.

Paine and colleagues including Joyce Poole of the African Wildlife Foundation, who have studied ciephants in Africa, believe the lowpitched banter originating in the animals' throats and sometimes causing a throb in their forehes explains certain puzzling aspects of For instance, it explains how elephants that have been standing around in the veldt can suddenly form a cohesive herd and hotfoot it away from danger when, for instance, a Masai warrior shows up. Preliminary calculations indicate the sounds may be audible to other elephants up to 6 miles away. This may explain how elephants seem to be able to keep track of each others' locations even when separated and how different families can travel in absolutely parallel tracks, unseen by each other. "My guess is, infrasound communication enables elephants to spread out in the dry season for foraging and still know where each other is," said Paine, referring to frequencies below the range that can be heard by humans.

The Reagan administration undoubtedly hopes that the aid will also help preserve Ecuadorean democracy, which is as vulnerable to disasters - natural and political - as the nation's highway network. That is a laudable goal. To do that, Bush pledged that he would use his influence with international lending institutions to help case Ecuador's impossible debt burden.

The problem is that Ecuador is only one country teetering on the brink of bankruptcy. Mexico, which also suffered a devastating carthquake, needed help with its huge debt. And Brazil did not even require the destruction of a natural disaster to quit paying interest on its debt to foreign banks.

The World Bank and other international lending institutions should, in theory, enhance the hemisphere's political stability by enabling countries to build an infrastructure and develop their economies.

But the current international financial mess shows how shortsighted they have been.

Their lending practices ignored the ability of these countries to repay. There is no excuse for this. The history of rising and plummeting world commodity prices is long and well-documented.

The international banking system is in need of an overhaul. We hope the Reagan administration uses its influence to bring about new lending policies based on a more realistic appraisal of the borrowers' ability to repay - in the bad times as well as the good times.

Helping countries develop themselves is a worthy endeavor. But for the bankers to let these countries mire themselves in debt, then demand painful austerity measures when they're broke invites the political upheaval that development is supposed to help alleviatc.

Humphrey.

Therefore, only eight vice presidents have ever been elected president under any circumstances.

A check of presidential blographics shows that 12 of them served as generals. For what it is worth, only two of these - Andrew Johnson and Chester Arthur - also were vice presidents.

Five of the 12 were professional soldiers or became famous for their military feats, heroes who rode their fame into the White House.

George Washington, Andrew Jackson, Zachary Taylor, U.S. Grant and Dwight D. Eisenhower fit that category and only the latter three had no civilian government experience before moving into the White House.

The rest of the generals on the list - William Henry Harrison, James Garfield. Rutherford Hayes, Franklin Pierce, Benjamin Harrison, Johnson and Arthur - all were 19th century "citizen-soldiers" who had extensive political as well as military experience before seeking the presidency.

Haig is a professional soldier with an impressive service record, but his bid for the presidency is based on his record out of uniform. Although he never has run for any elective office, he has held some of the most important civilian jobs in government.

As a national security adviser and then chief of staff in the last days of the Nixon presidency. Haig kept the White House functioning during some trying days and he put the interests of the nation first by preparing Gerald Ford for the president's resignation.

Sandinista leadership put a much different face on what is happening: They call it disintegration of the contra movement.

The latest blow came when Arturo Cruz quit his leadership position in the United Nicaraguan Opposition (UNO) - the umbrelia organization formed in mid-1985 to bring together various anti-Sandinista elements.

Cruz. Nicaragua's ambassador to the United States until he had a failing out with the Sandinista leadership, represented civilian moderates within the contra movement

He had long been feuding with the more militant military leadership of the Nicaraguan Democratic Force (FDN), headed by Adolfo Calero, which contained many elements of the old Somoza National Guard.

When Cruz quit, contra supporters within the Reagan administration began to leak stories in an attempt to discredit him.

One leak revealed he was being paid a monthly salary from private funds controlled by Lt. Col. Oliver North. Another said he quit in a fit of pique when a vote within UNO went against him on the future role of the so-called contra "national assembly" — a group of 28 delegates from 14 different Nicaraguan exile groups. The assembly is dom-inated by elements more loyal to Calero and the FDN.

But according to sources close to Cruz, his unhappiness with the contra leadership is much more basic and philosophical, but he has not gone public with the true story for fear that a public fight will destroy whatever support the contra force of nine or so Sandinista soldiers, and the pre-dawn raid started with mortar rounds being lobbed into their barracks, which killed four and seriously wounded two. The remaining soldiers field into the night.

The victorious contras then roamed through the town terrorizing the inhabitants. Before they left, they burned to the ground the town's pride and joy - a district health clinic built and run by the Baptist Convention of Nicaragua with funds donated by church groups in the United States.

The Tapasle raid represented the kind of military action that Cruz and other contra moderates have long opposed as exercises in terrorism that are progressively turning the rural population of northern Nicaragua against the contras.

It was the seventh time in less than a year that a health facility had been specifically targeted and destroyed. At least 16 health workers. including one American, have reportedly been killed in these raids.

Cruz and the contra moderates he represents thought they had obtained an agreement from the FDN that it would stop using terror tactics and targeting civilian in-stallations, especially health facilities and food co-ops.

They say that Cruz sees the contras' present course, with the continued support by the Reagan administration. as self-destructive and inevitably self-defeating. He quit, they say, when it became clear he was powerless to reverse their course.

"Most important, it may enable them to find mates in spite of the fact they live at a distance from one another," she said.

For some reason, Paine said, Poole's work has shown dominant bulls who leave their living areas to find a mate always latch on to lead females who are ready for them. even though the females' period of estrus may last only 24 hours.

Low-frequency elephantine come-hithers and where-art-thous doubtless have something to do with this, said, whose work is sponsored by the WWF.

"It can't happen randomly," she said.

JACK ANDERSON

Proxmire Gives Reagan Golden Fleece

BERRY'S WORLD

By Jack Anderson And Joseph Spear WASHINGTON - Bad enough for

President Reagan that a small army of investigators is digging into the Iran/contra scandal that marks the low point of his administration. But now it turns out that congressional auditors have been combing through the files of Reagan's shining hour: his triumphant second inaugural celebration in January 1985.

The General Accounting Office report on the lavish round of parties is not released yet, but it threatens to tarnish the almost royal glow that aurrounded the second inaugural. The GAO investigation was done for Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who plans to use it as the basis for another of his famous Golden Fleece Awards publicizing extravagance by federal agencies.

The auditors concluded that at least some of the $15 million cost of Reagan's 1985 inaugural celebration was improperly borne by seven federal agencies and the District of Columbia, which provided millions of dollars' worth of services to the Republican partygoers at taxpayers' expense. Here are the most glaring problems the GAO investigators found, according to the report, which was obtained by our associate Lucette Lagnado:

- The law is hazy on the use of federal agencies to help out at inauguration time. "and whether taxpayer monies may be used to fund" the inaugural balls and parties. And the legal status of the Presidential Inaugural Committee is equally hazy.

Although the committee was supposedly a non-profit corporation, "its principal officers and employees were also key officials within the White House, coloring (the committee's) requests with substantial political and govern-mental sussion." In other words, it would be a brave bureaucrat who would raise serious objections to any requests from a committee with that kind of clout.

In fact, the congressional auditors complained that the committee was so self-important it did what it could to hamper the GAO's investigation.

- The only instance the auditors found of someone flatly refusing an inaugural committee request came from the very bottom of the bureaucratic heap: Military personnel who were asked to pour champagne for the VIP guests at one of the inaugural balls declined the honor.

Even so, the report notes that military personnel and their wives were pressed into service "to set up tables, stuff party favors, take tickets and function as security guards." Other menial chores performed by the military included "crowd control" at the inaugural parties and the erection of folding chairs to seat the elite.

- The auditors found that the Pentagon contributed by far the most of any agency in terms of manpower and other resources. Yet the applicable law restricts the Defense Department's role in inaugurations to the provision of hospital tents, ambulances, stretchers and drivers "as may be spared without detriment to the public service."

According to the report, the Pentagon incurred about $10 million in costs directly related to the inaugural celebration. The inaugural committee's reimbursement totaled just $15,696.

- The investigators questioned the use of military personnel as escorts and "transportation assis-tants" for the many celebrities attending the balls and parties. For example, 71 of these military escorts were assigned to the entertainers who came to town to celebrate with their former Hollywood associate in the White House.

In all, more than 1,000 "support personnel" were supplied by the Pentagon, at a cost of $44,063.

- The General Services Administration also provided substantial support, mainly personnel, to the inaugural committee: a total of more than $1.4 million. The committee paid the agency only about $400,000 for its trouble.

stayed home in Connecticut, Woody Allen chose to play his clarinet in a New York pub and Michael Caine was wrestling with a movic-star shark in the Bahamas.

Winners all, they did not attend the 59th annual Academy Awards Monday night, but the other major nominees showed up for the 3 ½-hour telecast punctuated with jokes. sight gags and a disappearing act.

No picture grabbed the lion's share of awards in major categories, but the evening was particularly rewarding for screenwriter-director Oliver Stone and "Platoon," his gripping film of American involvement in Vietnam that was turned down by major U.S. studios.

"Platoon" won more Academy Awards than any other entry: best picture, best director, best sound and best editing.

The other big winners were Allen's "Hannah and Her Sisters" and "Room with a View," each winning three Oscars.

Newman, reprising his role as Fast Eddie Felson from "The Hustler," won the best actor award for "The Color of Money." Newcomer Marlee Matlin was named best actress for "Children of a Lesser God." Caine and Dianne Wiest won in the best supporting categories for their roles in "Hannah.

"Room with a View," based on the story by E.M. Forster, won for best screenplay adaptation, best costumes and best art direction.

ABC said the broadcast, which has declined in viewership the last three years. was seen in 300 million homes in more than 80 countries by a total of about 1 billion people.

This year the telecast faced stiff competition from the NCAA basketball championship game on CBS.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) - Paul Newman with a speech that hinted of the humor in store, urging the winners to speed things up and remember the three Gs - "be gracious.be grateful, get off." He urged losers to add a little spice to the evening.

"Give us a few tears, storming out of the hail would be nice," he said. 'I came from the other side of the planet for this. If they read out someone else's name besides mine it's not going to be pretty. I'll probably spill blood.'

To present the first award - best screenplay adaptation - Shirley MacLaine emerged from a "Star Wars" contraption and in a reference to her highly publicized belief in reincarnation said, "To you that may seem like special effects. To me that's basic transportation."

Host Chevy Chase kept the show going with biting commentary on such topics as the religious "civil war," corporate take-overs in Hollywood and President Reagan's memory.

William Hurt, last year's best actor and nominated again this year for "Children," probably had the most anxious but rewarding assignment - reading the name of the best actress winner - his co-star and girlfriend, Matlin.

After getting a warm kiss from Hurt, the deaf actress spoke in sign language with an interpreter to thank the Academy, her family and Hurt for helping her win an Oscar in her screen debut.

"A lot of deaf people are jumping up and down, understanding there is potential and even people who aren't deaf just feel great." she said backstage.

Asked what effect an Oscar might have on her career. Wiest, who is making her fourth film for Allen, said, "Well, maybe I'll get a chance to work with somebody other than Woody.'

Caine, nominated three times as best actor but never a winner, told United Press International in a telephone interview from the Caribbean - where he is making "Jawa III '- that he was thrilled.

"I didn't think I had a chance to win because I thought the boys from 'Platoon' (Willem Dafoe or Tom Berenger) would do it." he said.

What "Platoon" did do was win a major victory for independent movie makers such as Stone. Stone. wounded and honored in both Vietnam and Hollywood, spent 10 years trying to finance and film the grim depiction of the horrors of war. "Platoon" became one of the top-grossing movies of 1986 — more than $100 million.

"Thank you for this Cinderelia ending." said Stone.

"I think that for the first time you are really acknowledging the Vietnam veteran, and for the first time that you really understand what happened over there and that it should never, ever in our lifetime happen again."

Allen has never attended an Oscar ceremony and, true to form, was 3,000 miles away, playing clarinet with his jazz combo in New York, while Caine and Wiest won for their roles in "Hannah" and he won for best original screenplay.

Newman, the sentimental favorite, elected to stay home in Connecticut where he is editing "Glass Menagerie," which he made with his wife, actress Joanne Woodward.

Academy President Robert Wise, who accepted the award on Newman's behalf. said the actor, after being nominated so many times, feared his presence would jinx his chances.

"I talked to Paul this morning, and he said after being out here seven times previously and always losing he felt that coming again would be a kind of cruel and unusual punishment and he claimed constitutional privilege and protection." Wise told report-CTS.

NATION IN BRIEF Reagan Meets With French Prime Minister Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) - President Reagan's talks today with French Prime Minister Jacques Chirac were arranged with apparent agreement about European security concerns but division on the prickly problems of trade and agriculture.

Chirac, a conservative who hopes to unseat Socialist President Francois Mitterrand next year despite his own declining public opinion polls, is on his first visit to the United States since taking office a year ago.

In New York Monday, the prime minister said European nations would firmly oppose American trade decisions that would undermine economic recovery among the 12 countries of the Economic Community.

But attention was focused on larger issues of U.S.-French. cooperation, with Chirac having expressed concern about trade and agriculture as well as about the importance of European security in any U.S.-Soviet nuclear arms agreement.

Pentagon Discounted Missiles

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Congressional investigators say the CIA-got a $2.1 million Pentagon discount on missiles sold to Iran, and a report today reveals the spy agency bought $1.2 million in smuggled weapons last year from two key figures in the Iran-Contra scandal.

Word of the Pentagon price cut came from the General Accounting Office, the investigative arm of Congress. which also held President Reagan responsible for not notifying lawmakers of the interagency arms transfers.

The report of smuggled weapons came from the Los Angeles Times, which said today that independent prosecutor Lawrence Walsh and the select Senate panel probing the scandal are questioning whether the CIA made the unusual purchase in September to reward two associates of Lt. Col. Oliver North, the White House aide fired for his role in the Iran-Contra operations.

Heiress Claims Brainwashing

WORCESTER. Mass. (UPI) - An heiress seeking the return of nearly $7 million she donated to a fundamentalist church lived under "a veil of darkness" for the three years she was associated with the sect, her attorney says.

Attorney Gordon T. Walker, who represents Elizabeth Dayton Dovydenas, told a federal judge that The Bible Speaks and its pastor and founder, Carl H. Stevens Jr., systematically manipulated his client into donating about one third of her fortune.

"Betsy began to believe in her mind that what Carl Stevens said was the word of God. He (Stevens) said as much," Walker said in his opening statement Monday before U.S. Bankruptcy Judge James F. Queenen Jr.

The Bible Speaks' attorney, Norman Roy Grutman, countered by saying Dovydenas made the donations of her own accord and not because she was brainwashed.

"No one forced her. No one dragooned her" into contributing to the 18,000-member church. Grutman told Queenen.

Pope Begins Trip

VATICAN CITY (UPI) - Pope John Paul II's two-week tour of Chile, Argentina and Uruguay is shaping up as one of the most delicate and politically difficult trips of his pontificate.

The pontiff was to leave Rome's Leonardo Da Vinci Airport today for the long flight to the Uruguayan capital of Montevideo, where he will stay overnight.

During his trip, John Paul will commemorate the Vatican's successful mediation of a dispute that almost led to war between Chile and Argentina in the late 1970s.

Although John Paul says the peaceful settlement of the border dispute over the Beagle Channel is the main reason for the three-nation tour. Chile's volatile political situation has clearly displaced the treaty as the focal point of the trip.

The difficulties John Paul will face during his six-day stay in Chile arise in part from the fact that both the right-wing military regime of Gen. Augusto Pinochet and Chile's opposition forces are hoping the papal visit will legitimize their positions.

Also complicating the visit is John Paul's own double-edged sentiments on the church and politics: although he regularly speaks out against human rights abuses and other social problems, the pope just as regularly cautions local church leaders not to meddle in partisan politics.

Because of these concerns, Vatican sources predict John Paul will walk a narrow line in Chile - forcefully attacking human rights abuses in public meetings but saving any tough. personal messages for a private meeting with Pinochet, who seized power in a military coup 13 years ago.

Local church officials describe the visit as John Paul's most difficult since he last visited his native Poland, which, like Chile, is ruled by a general at odds with the Roman Catholic Church for curbing civil liberties.

'Sunflowers' Sells For SS6.3 Million

LONDON (UPI) -- Vincent Van Gogh figured his seven paintings of sumflowers would be worth about $30 ''to one of the Seots or Americans.'' An anonymous art lover --possibly American -- decided just one was worth nearly $40 million. While the crowd at Christle's suction house million pounds -- $35,292,800. With a 10 percent commission charge thrown in on top, the bill for the 39 % by 50 inch work of art at 24,700,000 pounds --$39,291,750. That is three times the previous record for a work of art at auction the $1.7 million paid in April 1985 for old master Andrea Mantegna's "Adoration of the Magi." Christic's said only that "Sunflowers" had been bought via telephone through one of the house's untractivity on by "an apopymous

house's representatives by "an anonymous foreign buyer." It declined to name the purchaser's country, but auctioneer Noel Annealey, Christie's depu-ty director, made it clear the art work is headed for a new home abroad. "An export license in all probability will be applied for." he said.

While Christle's declined to identify the buyer, speculation at the sale centered on the Getty Museum of Malibu, Calif., which is required to spend $110 million this year alone. Van Gogb produced seven oils in the sunflower series, and on Jan. 22, 1889, wrote to his art dealer brother. Theo: "I dare swear to you that my sunflowers are worth 500 francs' (about $30) to one of the Scots or Americans.''

Of the other six, one was destroyed in a Japanese museum during World War II, one is in a private European collection and the others are in museums in London; Munich. Philadelphia and Amsterdam.

Student Aid Failing Needy Blacks

tors say cutbacks in federal student aid are causing serious difficulties for needy black students, many of whom may have to bypass college or take out large loans to try to overcome cuts in grant programs. A study released Monday by the United Negro College Fund and the National Institute of Independent Colleges and Universities found many of the 62,000 students at the nation's 57 private historically black colleges have virtually no family resources available to help pay for college.

"This study looks at the very kind of student that the federal financial aid system is most designed to help and finds that the system is failing them," said Christopher Edley. president of the United Negro College Fund.

Forty-two percent of the full-

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Educa- time students have family incomes below the poverty line and 30 percent are from families with incomes below $6,000. The students also tend to come from states that offer little or no state financial aid and attend institutions with relatively little aid to offer.

The study said 80 percent of the students needed federal grants, loans or work opportunities to meet nearly 60 percent of their costs.

The value of the Pell grants, the federal government's main educational grant program, fell 37 percent in the 1980s, while federal loans jumped from 8 percent of total aid in 1979 to 30 percent in 1984.

In that period, the percentage of needy students relying on federal loans increased from 5 percent to 46 percent, and loans now average nearly $2,000 a cut in education spending.

The average tuition at private black colleges is $4,000 a year two-thirds of the average for private four-year colleges na-tionally. The total debt burden for needy students could range from $10,000 to $12,000, depending on whether the student attends college four or five years. Richard Rosser, president of the Independent Colleges group. disputed claims by Education Secretary William Bennett that federal aid programs take care of the truly needy.

"Our study shows that these students, absolutely the truly neediest, are being badly hurt by a federal aid policy that asks many to take out college loans bigger than their families' incomes," Rosser said. The administration's budget proposal calls for a 12.5 percent

Steve Alford, the peerless All-America shooter, embraced his mother, then went to snip the net. Bob Knight, the demanding and irascible coach, seemed almost embarrassed, as said. "What's the difference?" if such jubilation were for weaker men.

All was well in the world of Indiana basketball Monday night - the Hoosiers are NCAA champlons.

They defeated Syracuse 74-73 in a stirring night of basketball that brought ample tribute to both teams.

The outcome, before a joined Adolph Rupp and John the Tournament's outstanding player. "This is a fairy tale." he said.

"Maybe I'll wake up some time next year." Alford, the Olympian who has labored under Knight for four years, closed his college career with a dash of magic. He scored 23 points, including 7 of 10 shooting from 3-point range. His outside shooting kept Indiana alive before Smart lit up the arena with acrobalic twists and flashdance moves.

"It was a lot of hard work and a lot pressure," said Alford, his eyes clouded with tears, "But look what happens." It was also a night that ended crushingly for Derrick Coleman. The Syracuse forward established himself as one of college basketball's coming players, pulling down 19 re-bounds. With 28 seconds left, however, his attempt on the front end of a 1-and-1 banged off the front of the rim.

Syracuse coach Jim Boeheim chose to station his other four players in the defensive end of the court for Coleman's free throws, and Indiana took the rebound uncontested, then set up for the winner.

Coleman sat despondent in front of his locker. He was asked if he could take any solace from Syracuse's exceptional season.

"Not really," he said. Poor foul shooting - the nemesis of the Orangemen all season — paid another visit Monday night. They were 11 of 20 for the game, missing 4 of their last 6.

"We had confidence in Derrick." Syracuse center Rony Seikaly said. "We've struggled all year with our free throws."

The Hoosiers trailed 52-44 with more than 13 minutes to go. They tied it 70-70 with 1:21 left on a reverse layup by Smart. Howard Triche put Syracuse up 73-70, making the front of a 1-and-1 and barely hitting the rim on his second shot.

Smart answered six seconds later with a jumper from the lane. Then Coleman, a 70 percent foul shooter, was fouled by Smart and failed from the line.

The Hoosiers worked carefully. running picks and cutting through the middle, searching for Alford and his jumper. Alford, whose last basket came with 4:01 left, was not the man of the moment this time.

"It was designed for Steve, but they collapsed on him." Smart said. "Daryl Thomas set a good screen for me on the baseline. ... To be honest, I didn't know if it was going in. I just tossed it up." Several seconds elapsed before

By Sam Cook Herald Sports Editor

Merchant, Letterio, Martinez, Laszaic, Reichle, Brock, Lisle and Radcliff are easily recognizable names in Seminole County baseball circles. These young men have been in the limelight since their Little League and Seminole Pony days.

All are continuing to do well this year, too. Their accomplishments have been well documented. Seminole County, which must rank among the state's elite when it comes to producing top baseball talent. has its share of silents stars, too. Younger, less-publicized players who, although they may not possess the physical skills of the name players, are shining just as brightly in their own right. Skills which some day may result in a college or olessional opportunity Here's a look at a few of them: Oviedo junior Alan Greene s three homers, 18 runs atted in and a .341 batting the area when the football season rolls around this fall, is 2.0 on the mound with 12 strikcouts in 14 innings. His homer total is tied for the county lead.

A rundown play always brings about an exciting scenario during a baseball game. The coach, Allen Tuttle (No. 17), watches helplessly while pinch-runner Mike Smith (partially cov-ered) returns to second base as Ryan Lisle (No. 9) edges off third. Oviedo second baseman Jon Cox waits for the throw as Mark Merchant (No. 7) and catcher Tony Belflower (No. 12) join the fun. Despite his predicament, Smith returned safely to second and Lisle held third. Lake Mary also won, 4-0.

Alan has done a nice job for Oviedo coach Howard Mable said. "He still has come rough edges, but he has a lot of talent.'

 Oviedo's Jon Cox, who also plays second base, is the county's top bullpen performer with four saves and a superb 1.80 carned run average. Cox. a unior, has also hiked his average to .385. "Jon is really coming on for us." Mable said. 'He's been a very valuable addition.'

 Lake Brantley sophomore Jimmy "Mongo" Morse leads the county with 26 ribbles and eight doubles. He is also hitting .345. Morse was a standout slugger the past few years in the West Seminole Pony Baseball organization.

'Mongo is really a hardworking kid," Lake Brantley coach Mike Smith said about his 220-pound first baseman. "He just lives in the batting cage and it has paid off."

 Seminole senior Gary Derr is hitting a robust .382 with seven steals in seven attempts. Derr, a shortstop-third baseman, had a fine sophomore season but slumped last year as a junior.

"Gary is more mature this year." It's his third time around in a varsity situation. He's more selective and he can hit to right field this year. He's not trying to do too much."

 Lake Howell's Vito Scutero is batting a solid .417 with four doubles and 15 runs batted in. Scutero, a left-handed hitting outfielder, moved into the Howell zone from 'Long Island, N.Y.

"Scutero has been a very pleasant surprise," Howell coach Birto Benjamin said. "He's been one of our most consistent players.'

 Lyman's Kenny Jackson is hitting .304 and among the leaders with five doubles. Coach Bob McCullough said the sophomore first sacker has made quite an impression in his first varsity campaign.

 Lake Mary's Eric Birle has been the brightest new Ram. Expected to fill a backup role at third base and on the mound, Birle's .333 average, two homers and three doubles have made the junior a fixture at designated hitter for an impressed coach Allen Tuttle.

No Breaks This Spring BASEBALL From Rams' Stingy Trio G S-A 18-19

Now that Spring Break has concluded, it is time for Seminole Athletic Conference baseball to crank up again.

All of the county teams should be on top of their games as everyone but Seminole participated in the Lyman Greater Greyhound Spring Invitational Tournament.

If the tournament proved anything, it was that the Lake Mary Rams are still the team to beat in the SAC. The Rams won the tournament, thanks to their fine pitching staff.

Lake Mary coach Allen Tuttle is fortunate to have three experienced and talented pitchers in Steve Shakar, Anthony Laszaic. and Sean "Flake" Flaherty. The stingy trio only allowed 11 hits in three games, making things that much easier for the Rams.

"Our pitching has been outstanding," Tuttle said. "I guess that you don't have much to complain about when you have three guys that pitch like Sean.

Steve, and Anthony." The SAC race is tight as Lake Mary, 14-2 overall and 4-0 in the SAC, leads Lake Howell, 11.7 overall and 4-1 in the SAC, by a half a game.

The two clubs will meet on Wednesday at Lake Howell for in the conference, but SAC the conference lead. Lake Mary defeated Lake Howell, 8-3, in the Lyman tourney. Silver Hawk ace the Lions. Oviedo is 10-5 overall Greg Hill, who didn't pitch last week, will put his 6-0 record on . "We are out of it," Oviedo the line against Anthony Laszaic's 5-0 mark.

that loss to our advantage," Lake Howell coach Birto Benjamin said. "We know that we can play with them."

Lake Mary will be taking on arch-rival Lake Brantley at Brantley on Friday night. Last time the two teams met, the Patriots were within one pitch of upsetting the Rams. But the Rams rallied and defeated Brantley, 7-6, in nine innings at home.

Lake Howell has been hitting the ball well lately as Ernest and Eric Martinez are starting to perk up. "We are hitting the ball very well," Benjamin said. "We are a team that needs to score a lot of runs."

Howell will travel to Sanford to take on the Seminoles in a SAC game on Friday. Lake Howell carlier this season.

Seminole is 6-5 overall and not out of the SAC picture with a 2-2 mark. Seminole coach Mike Ferrell said that hopes the week off will help his club. "We practiced a few days," Ferrell said. "But I think the week off will help us out. We got a chance to take a few days off, and our club needed that."

Seminole, which lost center fielder Alonzo Gaincy for the season with a broken bone in his foot, has called up freshman outfielder Jeff Bergman from the junior varsity. The Tribe will journey to Lyman on Wednesday before Lake Howell invades on Friday. The Lyman game, set for 7 p.m., was switched due to wet grounds at Seminole.

The Oviedo Lions are struggiing. Oviedo was supposed to go neck-and-neck with Lake Mary losses to Lake Mary. Lake Howell, and Seminole have hurt and 2-3 in the SAC.

coach Howard Mabie said. "We just have to go back to basics "I'm hoping that we can use and improve by the districts. We will improve a lot before the end of the year."

Oviedo is having problems at the plate as the Lions hammer the ball against some of their weaker opponenets, but have trouble making contact against county teams.

Oviedo combined for only seven hits in its losses to Lake Mary and Lake Brantley in the Lyman tourney. "We have got to start hitting the ball," Mable said. "I really don't know what the problem is."

Oviedo is also having defensive problems in the infield. The Lions have given up several uncarned runs lately. "I hate giving up free runs," Mable said. "And we have given up a lot of them."

Oviedo will have chance to already has bea'en Seminole avenge its loss against Brantley

Optimist Meet Pairs State's Track Powers

The two most powerful boys and girls teams in the state the past few years will go head to head Friday night at the Sanford Optimist Club Seminole High Invitational.

On the boys side, host Seminole is the two-time defending Class 4A state champion while Orlando Oak Ridge has won five of the last 10 titles. Oak Ridge has defeated Seminole twice in triangular meets this season and Seminole hopes to pass the Pioneers in front of the home crowd.

In the girls meet, defending state champion Seminole and runnerup Oak Ridge will compete against each other for the first time in a major invitational since early this season.

The meet, annually sponsored by the youth-supporting Optimists, begins with field events at 4 p.m. and running finals are scheduled to begin at 7:30.

In their first of two triangular meets this season, Oak Ridge nipped Seminole by just four points on the strength of its distance runners. The Pioneers don't figure to score as many points against the top-notch distance runners in Seminole County on Friday night so Seminole coach Ken Brauman is hoping his top people will come through to give the Tribe a chance at the title.

Seminole has the county leader in eight individual events and both relays led by hurdlers Arthur Hersey and Alan Seward, sprinters Earle Martin and Steve Warren, triple jumper Lewis Butler, high jumper Walter Hopson and pole vaulter Sonny Osborn.

Oak Ridge probably has more depth than the Seminoles but if the Tribe's top people all come through it will be close.

In the girls meet, coach Emory Blake's Lady Seminoles and Oak Ridge should lock up in one of the best battles of the season. Seminole has everyone returning from last year's state championship team while Oak Ridge has most of its people returning and also benefitted when heptathion champion Jovenie McDuffle transferred from Mount Dora.

Leading the way for Seminole are juniors Shownda Martin and Dorchelle Webster, both seasoned prime-time performers. Martin is the state leader in the mile and 880 run while Webster leads in the 330 low hurdles.

Seminole will also look for strength from sprinters Yolanda Baker, Tasha Wynn, LaShon Cash and Adrian Hillsman, who comprise one of the fastest 440 relay teams in the state. The Lady Seminoles will also benefit from the expected return of sophomore sprinter Ramona Jamison who was academically ineligible the first half of the SCASON.

Along with McDuffie, Oak Ridge has some superb talent in state long jump leader Michelle Spear and state 110 hurdler leader Barbara Moore.

Seminole High's time of 3:48.2 in the 1,600 meter relay in Saturday's Florida Relays converts to 3:49.4 for the mile relay (4 x 440 yards) and that ranks as the fourth best time ever in the state. Webster, Baker, Hillsman and Martin ran on Saturday's team. The top time in state history is 3:46.8 by Jacksonville Ribault in 1982. Seminole's 1985 team, which set the Class 4A State Meet record, ranks second all-time at 3:47.0.

Martin also ranks second alltime in the 880 run with a 2:09.2 which she ran as a freshman in the Golden South Classic in 1985. The top time ever is 2:08.7 by Sharon Campbell of Gainesville Oak Hall in '77. Seminole High graduate Tony Hardy rans seventh alltime in the 330 hurdles with a 43.14.

While Seminole is currently the dominant team in the county. Lyman High has had its share of talented athletes in the past and three of those are among the top performers of all time.

Schowonda Williams, currently running for LSU, has the best ever time in the 330 hurdles with a 41.84 in 1984 and she also ranks third in the 110 hurdles with a 14.24, also in '84. Former Lyman star Princess Reese has the third best long jump of all time with a 20-41/2 in 1979 and Lori Carroll ranks 10th in the high jump at 5-91/2.

Former Seminole High standout Ocky Clark has battled back from a series of nagging injuries to become one of the top half milers in the southeast. Clark, running for Florida State. ran a 1:48.16 at the FSU-Tenneco Relays for second place in the event. His time was just off the NCAA indoor qualifying time of 1:48.10.

The miserable weather that has not let up since Thursday took its toll on the county track and field facilities as both the Lake Howell and Lake Mary tracks are under water. Therefore, today's scheduled dual meet between Lake Howell and Lake Mary has been canceled. Along with host Seminole. Lake Mary. Lake Brantley and Lyman will run both their boys and girls teams in Friday's Seminole High Invitational while Lake Howell runs only its boys team.

Oviedo High returns to action Thursday in a triangular meet at Orlando Bishop Moore. St. Cloud will also be on hand.

Smart Move: Stardom

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) - On a night of saluting excellence from Hollywood to New Orleans, Keith Smart elevated himself from a supporting role to stardom.

With 64,959 fans watching gripping drama unfold at the Louisiana Superdome, Smart scored 12 of Indiana's final 15 points and hit the winning shot as the Hooslers edged Syracuse 74-73 for their fifth NCAA championship. Smart's 15-foot jumper from the left corner with four seconds remaining helped Bob Knight join Adolph Rupp and John Wooden as the only coaches to win at least three NCAA titles.

"When you come to Indiana. you've got this opportunity (NCAA championship)." said All-America guard Steve Alford. who hit seven 3-point shots and scored 23 points in his Tournament final under Knight. "That's why I came here.

"Syracuse is a great ballelub and it's a shame somebody has to lose a game like this. I hate leaving Bloomington. It's been hard, but this is why it's worth

Knight was virtually carried into the Indiana lockerroom by former baseball star and close friend Johnny Bench and NBA Hall of Famer John Havlicek. who played with Knight at Ohio State.

"I didn't feel really good walking off the floor at the half because we weren't as sharp as were were Saturday against Nevada-Las Vegas." said Knight. "Syracuse did an excellent job of changing defenses and had us standing around a little bit.

"Jim Bocheim did a great job of putting that Syracuse team together and getting them where they are. Hell, they're three or four seconds away from winning the national championship."

Smart finished with 21 points. 10 more than his average, and said the winning basket exemplified Indiana patience and balance.

"I would like to thank the entire team for the effort played together all year, and at the end, any one of the five players could have taken the shot," he said. "We worked it around for about 10 seconds and I knew time was running out so I just took the shot. Actually, the play was designed for Alford, but it broke down and the shot went to

Center Dean Garrett, who combined with Smart to give the Hoosiers two junior college transfers in the starting lincup. scored 10 points and added 10 rebounds in a fierce battle against Syracuse's Rony Scikaly.

"I had my head down and I thought maybe we were in trouble, but No. 23, Keith Smart. was the man who did it," said Garrett. "He's the reason we're celebrating right now. Seikaly's a strong guy and he pushed me backwards all night; I just tried to contain him as much as I could."

Forward Rick Calloway, who played just 13 minutes because of ineffectiveness and foul trouble, was jubilant despite being held scoreless.

"It's a great. great feeling," said Calloway, who was already wearing a championship ring on his left hand 10 minutes after the game. "I've got my ring on and I just know they're going wild back home in Bloomington. This is the best I've ever felt in my whole life. This is the way it's supposed to end."

BETS: 10 MILLION

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) - If Lou D' Amico, the oddsmaker for Caesars Palace had his way. the betting board for Monday night's NCAA final in New Orleans would have been darkened in the casino's sports book.

However, Indiana brought an end to any such scenario on Saturday with a 97-93 triumph over UNLV in the semifinals. On Monday, betting was brisk at casinos across Las Vegas with the Hoosiers a solid 3-1/2 to 4 point favorite over Syracuse.

"Honestly, I was pulling for the Rebels to go all the way." D'Amico said. "The economic benefits from UNLV becoming national champions would have outstripped the economics benefits from booking the game itself."

The Caesars oddsmaker said he thought the handle throughout the state on the final game would reach about $10 million.

Proper Caution Avoids Search, Rescue Service

Don't be guilty of this mistake. You might end up some night on the St. Johns River when the mosquitoes are singing their ugly song. Nothing can be worse than a warm night when they are swarming and you don't have any repellent left.

Whether it's a trend or not. this past month the Seminole County unit of the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary has been called out three nights to search for overdue boaters, people out of gas and lost, and those with mechanical problems to their boats.

Two of the three Search And Rescues (SAR) could have been avoided with proper caution; the improper maintenance on an older boat.

In one instance, the boater and his wife misunderstood each other; she thought he was coming home a day earlier. He was located safe and sound asleep at Hontoon Island State Park. Nevscarch.

In the second instance, just this past weekend, a young couple got lost after dark, ran out of gas and were cold and hungry. Seeing a light on one of the islands, they managed to paddle their boat (thank goodness he had a paddle) to the camp site.

Once there, they were greated by Ron Harkey of Casselberry. the skipper of the vessel "Honkey Tonk." Harkey towed third was probably involved with them close to Hidden Harbor Marina where they were given gas by the two Auxiliarists on duty.

Thousands of overjoyed Indiana basketball fans screamed, leaped and danced in the streets after the Hooslers defeated Syracuse for the NCAA basketball championship.

Police closed several streets and stationed 15 extra officers at the fountain in hopes of avoiding the overturned cars, broken windows and other vandalism that followed Indiana's 1981 NCAA championship. They could do little to stop rampant alochol consumption and exploding fireworks.

"This is a great party — the best l've ever seen," said soph-omore Larissa Steinberg, "You can't believe it until you're here. Eight o'clock tests aren't good to have tomorrow. I have one. Oh well," she added before being dragged into the mob of people along the fountain's edge.

But there was Smart - again, He intercepted and heaved the ball toward the Indiana cheering section, letting loose on the court a floodtide of Hoosier red and white.

"It's the best feeling I've had all my life," said Indiana's Rick Calloway, who averages 13 points a game but was held scoreless. "This is the way it's supposed to end."

No. 2 Indiana. 30-4, received points from only four players. Thomas had 20 while Dean Garrett provided 10 with 10 rebounds.

For No. 10 Syracuas, $1-7,

Sherman Douglas, the insectquick point guard, had 20 points and 7 assists. Scikaly had 18 points and 10 rebounds and Greg Monroe, who holsted 3pointers in the second half as if he were at a penny arcade. finished with 12 points.

"I thought our kids did everything we asked them to," said Syracuse Coach Jim Boeheim, making his first appearance in the final in his 11 years with the Orangemen. "We started out the game trying to see how our zone would react to them. I thought it was not too good tonight."

The Hoosiers enjoyed a big lift at the end of the first half. They looked for Alford for the final shot and he buried a 3-pointer with two seconds to go, giving Indiana a 34-33 lead.

"If we got knocked down by about 8 or 9 at the half then I really think we're in trouble." Knight said.

But triumph, not trouble, was ultimately the order of the night for Indiana.

"This," said Alford. "has been an unbelievable year."

Rangers Reverse Playoff Talk, Make Their Move On Islanders

United Press International

A week ago, the New York Rangers faced the prospect of missing the playoffs. Now, they're talking about the Stanley Cup championship.

George McPhee scored two goals Monday night to pace the Rangers to a 6-5 victory over the Minnesota North Stars, bringing the Rangers within one point of the third-place New York Islanders in the Patrick Division.

The North Stars, who have won only once in their last six games, remained tied with Chicago for the last playoff spot in the Norris Division, one point ahead of Toronto.

Marcel Dionne, traded to New York from the Los Angeles Kings a month ago, said his team is building confidence.

"This team talks Stanley Cup." he said. "They have the confidence and I think we're ready."

McPhee's game-winning goal 11 minutes into the third period capped the Rangers' three-goal third period. Jeff Jackson scored 16 seconds into the period to put the Rangers up 4-3. Dionne recorded his 28th goal of the season, at 10:43, to tie the score 5-5 after Brian Lawton and Larry DePalma had scored for the North Stars, putting them in front for the first time in the game.

In the only other game, Los Angeles beat Calgary 5-4.

Tyson To Fight Thomas May 30

NEW YORK (UPI) - World Boxing Association and World Boxing Council heavyweight champion Mike Tyson will defend his titles May 30 in a scheduled 15-round bout against Pinklon Thomas, promoter Don King announced Monday.

Tyson, 29-0 with 26 knockouts, will meet Thomas at the Las Vegas Hilton. Thomas, 29-1-1 with 24 knockouts, is the No. 1 contender in the WBA and WBC. He is a former WBC champion.

The bout, which will be promoted by Don King Productions, will be shown on HBO. Negotiations are also underway for an undercard fight to fill the vacant International Boxing Federation heavyweight title between James "Buster" Douglas and Tony "TNT" Tucker. Michael Spinks vacated the title reportedly in order to fight Gerry Cooncy.

Clemens Reduces Demand

United Press International WINTER HAVEN - Roger Clemens reduced his contract demands Monday and would now accept a two-year pact for $2 million, a cut of more than $400,000 from his previous stance.

The American League MVP and Cy Young Award-winner. who left training camp 25 days ago, had sought $1.2 million per year for a multi-year pact or $1 million for one year.

He is represented in the nego-tiations by agents Alan and Randy Hendricks of Houston. In a statement released by a team spokesman, Boston general manager Lou Gorman said, 'The fact that they called with a new proposal is encouraging" and "without thoroughly studying it, it still comes to about $1 million per year for two years." The contract dispute has centered on the base salary offered to the 24-year-old right-hander. The Red Sox proposed a $500,000 base plus incentives which, if all were reached, would boost Clemens' pay to $975,000. Clemens walked out of Boston's camp March 6 and is being fined $1,000 per day.

WEST PALM BEACH - Rick Mahler, scheduled to be Atlanta's opening-day pitcher. gave up seven hits over eight innings to help the Braves beat the New York Yankces 6-1.

Mahler and Yankees pitcher Charles Hudson were locked in a scoreless duel until the fifth inning, when each team scored a run, and the Braves crupted for four runs in the sixth when Mahler singled home one run and Hudson balked in another. The Braves announced Monday second baseman Damaso Garcia has been placed on the 15-day disabled list. Garcia is to undergo arthroscopic knee surgery this week in Atlanta.

SIZEUP: SAN DIEGO PADRES

YUMA, Ariz. (UPI) — During his playing days, Larry Bows was linear as a test to the the test shall be been the big area. Bows is going to have to tap those skills to handle his first major league managerial job with the San Diego Padres. The Padres are clearly a team in transition, a scant three years after they beat Bows and the Chicago Cubs to capture the National League pennant in 1964.

Gone are catcher Terry Kennedy, shipped to Baltimore; outfielder Kevin McReynolds, traded to the Metsi troubled pitcher LaMarr Hoyt, suspended for the year after his arrest on drug charges; and veteran Graig Nettles, released and now trying to catch on with the Atlanta Braves.

The flamboyant Bowa, who replaces the low-key Steve Boros, will have to show some patience with a club filled with both holes and promise.

"To me, the nucleus is there but I'm not going to kid anybody. We have our ifs," Bowe said.

Bowa, who managed the club's Las Vegas Triple A farm team last year, isn't going to be a low profile manager. He survived in the majors for 16 years making the most of his limited talents and and he plans to apply the same principle to his club

The nucleus does include aging veteran Steve Garvey at first, shortstop Garry Templeton and former batting champ Tony Gwynn. But just how well the Padres plug in the players acquired for McReynolds - Kevin Mitchell, Stanley Jefferson and Shawn Abner - may determine if San Diego makes any progress in climbing back up the NL West ladder.

STRENGTHS -- Solid offensive attack centered around Gwynn; starting corps of Eric Show, Andy Hawkins, Storm Davis and Ed Whitson better than most; Bowa's flery spirit should help mood of club.

WEAKNESSES - Not much power; unproven at several key areas, especially bullgen; lack of experienced catcher could hurt pitching

NEW FACES - Mitchell, Jefferson and Abner from the Mets all are being counted on to deliver; Davis, acquired from Baltimore, should make starting rotation; catcher Benito Santiago is one of major league's most promising rookies; second baseman Joey Cora could earn a first-string spot.

OUTLOOK - If rookies mesh with veterans, Padres could rise. Otherwise, If will be long rebuilding year.

PORT CHARLOTTE — Pirates third baseman Jim Morrison committed three errors on two plays in the second inning. setting up four uncarned runs that sparked the Texas Rangers to a fill, victory aver a split-squad Pittsburgh team.

Mike Mason, 2-1, worked eight innings, the longest outing of the spring by a Rangers starter, to get the victory. He allowed one run on seven hits.

MIAMI -- Cal Ripken Jr. collected four hits, including an RBI double with two out in the eighth inning, to lift the Baltimore Orioles a 9-7 victory over the Montreal Expos.

With the score tied 7-7 and two out in the eighth, Alan Wiggins walked for the third time in the game. Losing pitcher Bob McClure then walked Rick Burleson. Reliever Jeff Parrett replaced McClure and gave up the game-winning hit to Ripken. his third double and fifth RBI of the game. The triumph ended the Orioles' five-game losing streak.

TAMPA — The Cincinnati Reds, who had two exhibition games rained out, announced Tom Browning will be their starting pitcher in their regular-season opener April 6 against Montreal.

Lake Howell junior center fielder Corey Coljeski (three homers), junior outfielder Matt Yearick (.522 in 23 at-bats) and junior catcher Chris Norton (.294) are also enjoying fine scasons.

• Lake Brantley has the finest collection of youth hitting talent Eric Martinez, 8-6. Merchant, with freshmen Greg Thomas (.304) and Jerrey Thurston (two homers, .333). Another frosh; "Downtown Terry" Brown is a future slugger, according to coach Smith.

• Whereas Brantley has the young hitters. Oviedo has a good pair of young arms in sopho-more Jody Spelman and freshman lefty Chris Crockett. Right-hander Spelman has won four of five starts with a 1.98 carned run average while Crockett is 1-1-1.

Oviedo's Glenn Reichle slumped enough last week to allow Lyman's Chris Radcliff to take over as the county's top hitter. In abbreviated action, Radcliff went 1 for 2 to raise his average to .476. Reichle dropped from .512 to .469. Mark chant (.425). Scutero (.417).

Lyman's Chris Brock (.395) are next in line. Racliff, Merchant, Greene, Coljeski and Morse each have three round-trippers in the county's tightest battle. Morse, who hit a grand slam to beat Howell Saturday, lead with 26 RBI. Reichle (22), Brock (19) and Radcliff (19) are next.

Merchant and teammate Tony Belflower still lead with two triples each while Morse has a two-double lead over Howell's who visited South Alabama recently but may be leaning toward Oklahoma State, according to Mabie, has 23 steals in 23 attempts. Letterio is next with 18 of 19. Merchant leads in runs with 28. Letterio (22). Thurston (21)f and Howell's Ernest Martinez (20) follow.

Philip Roth, first vice president in the technical market analysis department at E.F. Hutton & Co., attributed the drop to the market's belated recognition of dangers of the weak dollar.

"The market is finally reacting to the negative aspects of the lower dollar after two years of reacting to the positive aspects - mainly higher corporate earnings," Roth said. "Now the market is afraid the dollar might go too low."

Roth said the market believes the Federal Reserve Board will be forced to defend the dollar by raising interest rates.

Continued from page 1A Raines said today the likelihood of his playing for the Montreal Expos after May 1 has become greater after a heart-to-heart talk last week with Expos owner Charles Bronfman, and unless he is offered something more at-to Montreal. Raines, a 27-year-old all-star free agent outfielder, said he felt the Expos had not treated him fairly during his 10 years in the organization because they did not offer him a long-term contract.

teams he's talking with, it's back

"We did not negotiate but we ironed out a lot of things." Raines said about last Thursday's meeting with Bronfman and agent Tom Reich in Sarasota. Raines then went to West Palm Beach Saturday, the Expos' training site, as a guest of Bronfman.

"Bronfman said he thought it was time for him to surface in the matter. He told me I was loved, wanted and admired in Montreal. We sort of got down to the nitty gritty." he said today.

After he became a free agent Jan. 8, Raines maintained he would not go back to Montreal because he felt they had not negotiated in good faith. Now, after the clearing of the air, he said, that has changed.

"I told Bronfman that if nothing worked out with the free-agency I would be willing to go back," Raines said. "And he sort of assured me that I would Meisner, who was unemployed and who had lived at that address about two years, had "a lot of people in and out of his home.'

There was at least one attempt by the murderer to set the apartment afire and a section of carpet in the livingroom was scorched, Hughey said.

Fumes that filled the apartment, and possibly caused Meisner's death, Salerno said, were probably reduced by the humid weather, the fact that the air conditioner in the apartment was on and for sometime after suffering his first injury from an undetermined source, Meisner continued to breath, inhaling the fumes. Those factors, Salerno said, probably reduced the explosion potential of the fumes.

popular player there." Raines said there is still a slim chance he could play for San Diego, but he said Atlanta, Los Angeles and Houston have not shown much interest lately. "I could still sign somewhere else," he said. "But it does not look good. I want a fair offer and no one wants to give me one."

Raines said a fair offer would be "at least" what he made last tractive by the few remaining million. "I have established myself as a ($1.5 million or more) player," he said. "I should not be punished because I am a free agent. I shouldn't have to put the numbers down and then go backwards."

Raines said San Diego and Houston each offered two-year, $2.2 million contracts which he refused.

If he did not sign and returned to the Expos after the May 1 deadline, Raines said $1.6 million would not be enough for one year. "That is just a $100,000 increase and does not justify the year I had," Raines said. "I won the batting title. That's worth more than $100,000." However, Raines said Bronfman told him if he returns to the Expos for one year, "the salary would be negotiable."

Raines did emphasize again he would be playing "somewhere" after May 1 and he would not become a martyr for the free agents and sit out the year.

"If nothing comes up by May 1, I will play in Montreal," he said. "I feel the owners are making their stand. They're not giving in. I don't want to be caught up in that.

have received reports that which he said, could have started a major fire that would have involved neighboring apartments.

Meisner moved to this area from Ft. Lauderdale. He is separated or divorced from his wife and has a mother living in Seminole County, Salerno said.

Sheriff's deputy Mike Weippert, who was the first sheriff's deputy to arrive at Meisner's apartment after firefighters found Meisner's partially clothed body, reported that apartment maintenance men had entered the apartment early Monday and found two gasoline cans, which they called the firefighters to remove. One of the can contained about a pint of what is believed to be gasoline. Weippert reported.

On this second visit to the home, within 24 hours of the first visit, a firefighter who entered Meisner's bedroom found his body, which was partially covered with a blanket. Sheriff's deputies were called to the scene.

The autopsy was scheduled today at Central Florida Regional Hospital in Sanford.

Four factors hurt the index: a smaller money supply, a smaller than average increase in the cost of price-sensitive materials, more new unemployment insurance claims and improved performance by vendors. That last factor is considered a negative because it indicates vendors do not have much demand and thus can fill their orders on time, the government said.

There was virtually no change in the inflation-adjusted value of plant and equipment contracts and orders, the government said. The final two categories changes in business and consumer borrowing and the change in inventories - were unavailable.

February's index is the first to not take into account net business formations. The Commerce Department said that factor no longer is a reliable economic indicator.

House Speaker Stumps State Promoting Martinez' Tax Plan

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) - House Speaker Jon Mills was scheduled to promote tax reform in Jacksonville and Orlando today, in the second leg of a five-day, nine-city tour

Mills was to be accompanied by Charles Zwick, chairman of the State Comprehensive Plan Commission, and Sam Bell, D-Ormond Beach, the powerful House Appropriations Committee chairman.

With the regular session due to begin April 7, the three said at a news conference Monday that the trip was meant to offset intense lobbying threatening to undermine tax reform despite strong support by House and Senate leaders and Gov. Bob Martinez.

Nassau Leads Supercollider Race

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) - Nassau County emerged as the favorite site for Florida's bid for the $4 billion dollar federal superconducting super collider project during a Monday meeting of the super collider task force.

Task force members representing a half-dozen state agencies postponed a formal vote on which of four sites under consideration they will recommend to Gov. Bob Martinez, but clearly leaned towards Nassau County. Task force spokesman Chris Harris said the group will wait until after the federal Department of Energy releases its exact specifications for the project on April 1 to finalize its recommendation.

The group will meet with Martinez and offer a final recommendation on Friday. Martinez is expected to make his decision early next week.

The superconducting super collider project will be the largest scientific instrument of its type ever built. The device, which will center around a circular pipeline 52 miles around, will be used to test the basic makeup of atomic particles.

NASA Budget Questioned

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) - If Congress slashes $1 billion from NASA's next budget as some House Budget Committee members propose, the agency will be unable to safely return the shuttle to flight, Rep. Robert Roe said Monday.

Members of the House Committee on Science, Space and Technology, chaired by Roe, D-N.J., toured the Kennedy Space Center for an update on shuttle recovery operations. The first post-Challenger shuttle flight is scheduled for early next year.

"When we go back to Washington, one of the major issues that will be before us this week will be the battle of the budget," Roc said at a news conference.

"Some people on the Budget Committee have recommended the NASA budget be cut by over a billion dollars." he said. "We're saying ... if America is to stay eminent in the space program and retain its leadership; it isn't going to be able to do that if it's decided to cut this budget by a billion dollars."

WASHINGTON (UPI) - House the president's objections. Speaker Jim Wright, D-Texas, predicted a first-round defeat today for President Reagan's veto of the $88 billion high way bill that would let states raise the speed limit to 65 mph on rural interstates.

With the House scheduled to vote on the veto this afternoon. Wright said he had more than enough votes to override it. But the real showdown was expected in the Senate, where the outcome appeared too close to call.

Two-thirds of the lawmakers voting in each chamber must agree to override a veto for legislation to become law over an intense campaign to sustain

"I feel confident we'll vote to override in the House," Wright said on the eve of today's action, noting that even House Republican leader Bob Michel of Illinois planned to oppose Reagan.

"It's obvious that the veto is purely political ... an attempt to show that the president is in command and he's macho," Wright said. "(This will show) if members are more interested in roads and bridges or in pumping up egos in the White House."

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the woman who wants to preserve her husband's tattoo after he dies rang a bell with me. It has been done!

In 1969, I visited the Kyoto National Art Museum in Japan where I was privileged to view an exhibit of Scythian, Persian and Central Asian art from the Hermitage Collection in Leningrad. One of the most impressive exhibits in that collection was the tattooed shoulder and arm of a man buried in the fourth needs in order to preserve her century. It was preserved as a work of art by tanning the skin like leather.

Instead of ridiculing the lady. as others have done for wanting to preserve her husband's tattoo. I would recommend that she arrange now, with her husband's permission, for some-one qualified to preserve this work of art that she loves. (Human skin tans beautifully like leather.) Then she must find a mortician willing to cooperate with the procedure.

To prove that I am not making this up, I am enclosing a picture of the preserved tattooed shoulder and arm as it appears in the art catalog.

phenylalanine successfully to sensitive to sweets: the basically non-functional for a week each month. I've had no symptoms for the past six months by taking just a few DLPA tablets several days before my period. Can you explain medically why this works? DEARREADER

Phenylalanine, a naturally occurring amino acid, is a common nutrient that is found in many foods. However, there is no scientific explanation for its effect on your PMS symptoms.

Phenylalanine (in both its Land DL- forms) has been quite popular in recent years: Numerous health/vitamin interests and authors have claimed that it can be used to manage pain, depression, arthritis and weight loss - but none of this has been scientifically validated.

Phenylalar.ine isn't harmful, although its benefits are unproven. However, it must not be taken by those with a rare condition called phenylketonuria; for these people, phenylalanine can have 41 Deman dangerous effects.

Regarding the management of PMS: PMS causes lethargy. bloating, fluid retention, breast soreness and irritability in many women; it is thought to be due to a hormone imbalance. A recent study showed that some women with PMS have a cyclic abnor-mality in thyroid function and may be helped by small doses of thyroid hormone given periodically.

East won the opening club East's two-club overcall was lead and continued clubs. Debased on two and a half quick clarer won the jack, discarding a spade from dummy, and played a low heart. West made the tricks and a five-card suit - an excellent example of a hand not worth a two-level overcall. Because East's suit is weak, he may be doubled and penalized heavily. His three little cards in opener's suit are a liability if he becomes the declarer in clubs. Further, if the opponents bid three no-trump, his overcall might induce his partner to lead clubs when leading his own suit would be better. Here the overcall had a different adverse effect. South fudged a little on the requirements to bid two hearts, upgrading his club holding after East's overcall. Now North, with natural play of ducking and East won the king. When the heart ace was forced out and a spade played, declarer simply rose with the ace in dummy, drew trumps and ran the diamonds to make 10 tricks. West can defeat the contract if he rises with his ace and shifts to a spade when hearts are first led.

Now the spade king will make a trick. Although this play seems unnatural. West should assume that declarer does not have the heart king or he would have led up to it from dummy. Seeing the urgency to lead through the spade A-Q. West must simply hope that he is not crashing his a minimum hand, went right to partner's singleton king on the heart ace.
