

Worry Clinic

Husbands, read Myrtle's column. Then take stock of yourselves. For many wives husbands to maintain this system, insurance companies have been the spark plugs of our luxurious American standard of living. Yet they are often avoided. And few husbands of their hospital salesmen ever think to read them a "Thank you" letter.

By GEORGE W. CRANE,
Ph. D., M. D.

CASE C — 48: Myrtle A., aged 34, is the mother of three children.

"Dr. Crane, I am disturbed," you confessed, "for my husband refuses to carry any life insurance at all.

"He insists he comes of long lived ancestors, so he claims nothing will happen to him.

"And I hesitate to nag him about this matter, for it sounds as if I am unduly mercenary.

"But just suppose he should be involved in an auto accident? That can happen even to the safest driver.

"And his long lived ancestors could not help him then. So how could I keep my youngsters together?

"I'd probably be forced to get a job and hire somebody for a baby sitter. Can't you urge husbands to wake up to reality and show proper concern for their families, as proved by adequate insurance protection?"

BRIDGEBOOMS, NOT BENE
Bridgemoons, one of the most appreciated gifts you can offer your young wife, is a "family income" insurance policy.

And older husbands, like Myrtle's, should also quit gambling with the future happiness and security of their children.

"When I first married, I took out a $10,000 "family income" policy. And when our first youngsters arrived, I added two more of those $10,000 policies.

"They don't cost much more than straight life insurance but they protect your wife and children till the letter are grown.

"For example, suppose I had been hit by a drunken driver and killed. Mrs. Crane would then have drawn $300 per month on my family income policies up to 20 years, and then she'd have received the $30,000, besides!

If Myrtle's husband now takes out $10,000 Myrtle and the children would be entitled to 1% of the face value per month ($100) up to a total of 20 years, and then she'd get the full $10,000 extra.

Young husbands, your wives are doubly grateful for your thoughtfulness when you show it via a family income life insurance policy.

Many litery, frigid wives, also get over their tension when they realize you husbands have adequately safeguarded their future.

For a wife naturally feels hesitant about bearing several babies if she has no certainty of an income on which to rear them, if the husband should be snatched from this earth.

Insurance thus relieves a lot of marital tension. And you husbands must take the initiative, for wives hesitate to prod you on this score, lest their in-laws hear about it and imagine the wife is unduly mercenary.

BRAVO, INSURANCE SALESMEN
Don't grow so concerned about a college insurance policy for your child 13 years hence that you forget the broader needs of your whole family now.

College insurance is excellent, but a luxury. Family income insurance is a necessity for every intelligent husband.

In fact, employers now frown upon applicants who lack insurance. They regard them as either unable to pass a medical examination, or thoughtless and imprudent, neither of which categories is a good endorsement for an employee.

"And you widows should write a "Thank you" letter to the faithful insurance salesman who prodded your departed husbands into reaching out from the Great Beyond with their protective arms via your monthly insurance checks.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long ic stamped, addressed envelope and 2c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Alfalfa Mystery Is Being Sought

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI)—Scientists at Louisiana State University's agri-chemical and biochemical laboratories are looking for an elusive "something" in alfalfa that isn't exactly hay.

They call it a "growth factor"—something they've known about for years, but have never isolated. It may eventually turn out to be a vitamin since experiments with alfalfa extracts have stimulated growth in livestock and poultry.

Dr. Joseph A. Luiza and Arthur Novak, biochemists, began trying to isolate it in 1952, when they discovered a species of mold grew as much as 200 per cent more when given vitamins in an alfalfa base. The vitamins alone did not affect the mold.

The results interested Dr. Alva B. Watts, head of Louisiana State's poultry department, who fed a concentrated alfalfa extract to chicks. Three test lots showed these chicks gained half a pound more than those not receiving the extract.

Then Dr. Sam L. Harnard tried the extract on cows and found it increased cellulose digestion.

The researchers are now trying to isolate the "something" and define it in chemical terms. They plan further tests with commercial feeds before placing it on the market.

British Knight Rules TV Screen For One Night

BY FRED DANZIG
NEW YORK (UPI)—A knight of the British Empire, Alec Guinness, dominated a night of American television Tuesday.

Guinness made his TV dramatic debut here in an hour play called, "The Wicked Scheme of Jabel Deeks," part of NBC-TV's Star-line series.

Because the part was tailored for Guinness' uncanny ability to utilize a scheming, foxy-grandpa facial expression—including that superb wee smile that unfolds as he surveys the chaos he has created—the play wasn't much of a challenge for him. He's been unbeatable in this sort of movie, but it was still a great treat to have him do his stuff for mere TV viewers.

Jabel Deeks, for 75 years, worked in a bank and was conspicuously underpaid and unappreciated. He thirsted for revenge. He wanted his revenge to be complete. And he wanted to be around to savor it.

He hit upon a better idea. He begins putting his own money into the tellers' receipts. Chaos results. The bank's antiseptic efficiency becomes infected with tension and near-panic.

Next, Deeks mixes up the paychecks. A bank guard gets $375 and the bank vice president gets

Without Faith U.S. Could Lose Cold War, Club Told

Unless we pledge ourselves to promote the ideas of faith in God, honor, and service to the community we will lose the cold war not with bombs or bullets, but with ideas, Sanford Naval Air Station chaplain William M. Hearn told Sanford Kiwanians yesterday.

Speaking at a Civic Center luncheon on Veterans' Day the recently appointed Protestant chaplain said that the best way to honor American war veterans is to promote the ideas they fought for, faith in God, justice in human relationships, brotherhood, knowledge for service rather than for domination and sanctity of the home.

Americans can best fight communist ideology not only by proving the Reds wrong but by showing our ideas to be better, Chaplain Hearn emphasized.

Before communism and Hitler's fascism, warring nations frequently had similar ideologies, the chaplain said. He cited how only the language barrier made the German "Stille Nacht" different from the English "Silent Night" in World War I.

But the communists promote an ideology entirely different from the Judeo-Christian tradition, Chaplain Hearn explained. The communists reject God and an inherent moral law; they check with Moscow to determine what is right. If you reject God you reject the basis for a moral law and you are liable to make a treaty today and break it tomorrow, he said.

The majority of United States veterans who gave their time, limbs and lives in our wars knew something of the ideology they fought for, the chaplain said. He pointed out that when we live selfishly we aid the enemy by giving a bad example to other nations. We must live honorably if we are to give a good example, the chaplain emphasized.

Three ideas regarding property ownership are current in the world today he said; the communist, that everything belongs to the state; the private ownership idea that everything a person has belongs to himself and the American idea that what we have belongs to God. Chaplain Hearn said he thinks that most of us have the idea that property is given us as a trust to promote good.

Professor Gives Up On Human Race

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI)—A zoology professor at UCLA thinks it is already too late for man to avert disaster—not from bombs, but from overpopulation.

Raymond B. Cowles, author of "Zulu Journal," recently published by the University of California Press, draws his conclusions from studies of South Africa, where he was reared as the son of missionaries.

He contends that all his life is indissolubly linked to its surroundings and that all forms of life are interdependent.

Cowles points out that men multiply at a geometric rate while food production can only be increased at an arithmetic rate.

"As a naturalist I can come to only one conclusion," he writes, "which is that no rational solution can be achieved in time to avert disaster to both wildlife and man himself."

4 Of Their Sons Serve As Priests

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—For the first time in 20 years, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Dentinger have no son studying for the priesthood.

"It's going to seem funny not to be sending Christmas packages off to the seminary," says Mrs. Dentinger.

Father Gerald Dentinger, 26, the youngest of four sons to become priests, recently celebrated his first solemn high mass in St. Francis of Assisi church, the family parish.

Arthritis Sufferers Need Never Again Fear Severe Crippling

CHICAGO (UPI)—Currently available drugs mean arthritis sufferers need "never again" fear severe crippling from the disease, a clinical specialist told Illinois family doctors today.

Dr. Abraham Cohen, of Philadelphia, said "treatment with hormones such as cortisone have substantially reduced hospitalization due to arthritis even though no cure has yet been found.

Cohen, arthritis clinic chief at the Philadelphia General Hospital Blockley Division, was a closing session speaker at a three-day meeting of the Illinois Academy of General Practice.

Severe crippling, he said, "need never again be the ultimate result of rheumatoid arthritis" if the patient has access to "interested medical management" and "intelligent" use of various treatment methods.

Most patients, he said, can look forward to leading useful lives. Cohen indicated patient attitude had partially overcome even some possible side effects such as osteoporosis, or gradual bone degeneration, from long-term use of synthetic hormones.

"All the patients who have osteoporosis are under control," Cohen said, "and I sincerely believe that each and every one of them feels that osteoporosis even with fracture is preferable to permanent invalidism."

I WANT TO THANK MY FRIENDS and express my appreciation for the support given me in my efforts to secure the appointment as Clerk of the Circuit Court of Seminole County.

I wish I could thank each of you personally for the letters and telegrams sent to the office of Governor LeRoy Collins in my behalf.

Many have asked me why I contacted the local Legislative Delegation and Mr. Brailey Odham. I would like to have it clearly known by everyone in Seminole County that these contacts were made as a matter of courtesy to these gentlemen. The members of the Legislative Delegation were elected by the people of our county and represent us in Tallahassee. I felt they should know of my desires and intentions.

Mr. Odham, as everyone knows, is the Seminole County advisor to Governor Collins. I felt that it was a matter of courtesy to call him, too, and advise him of the steps, which I had already taken.

Mr. Odham advised me that he was recommending Mr. David Gatchel to Governor Collins for the appointment.

I appreciate, however, Sen. Douglas Stenstrom's recommending me to the Governor.

I feel that I am qualified to perform the duties of the office of Clerk of Circuit Court, and I again say that I would like the opportunity of serving the people of our county in that position.

Tax Rolls Open To Public Monday

County property owners can check the assessment rolls starting Monday at the Tax Assessor's office. The rolls will be open to the public until Nov. 30 when the board of county commissioners will hold their regular meeting. The tax bills are expected to be mailed out by Dec. 15 and the normal discounts will be allowed on payment of bills. Discounts include four per cent within 30 days after the bill is issued; three per cent after the second 30 days; two per cent after the third 30 days and one per cent after the following 30 days. The tentative millage rate has been set at 11 mills.

Concert Series Ticket Sale Within 250 Of Goal

The Sanford-DeBary Entertainment Assn. concert ticket sale which ends officially tomorrow is 250 tickets short of the 1,000 needed to insure scheduling for the series, Chairman Chester Rearick said today. This number includes many who pledged earlier to buy tickets but who have not picked them up. The association urged today that

Congress May Aid Cranberry Growers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress may be asked to come to the aid of harassed cranberry growers who fear they will be turned away from the nation's Thanksgiving dinner table this year. Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) announced he was preparing legislation to help producers who may be stuck with most of their crop because of a cancer scare. The action came Thursday as the Agriculture Department hinted it could not buy the cranberries on a large-scale basis as part of the farm surplus purchase program. Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare, set off the furor Monday by warning housewives that part of the Washington and Oregon crops were tainted with a chemical weed killer which caused cancer in rats. Neuberger said he might propose in a bill that the government be given special authorization to purchase a any uncontaminated cranberries not sold. "If government testing fails to rapidly remove present public doubts concerning the advisability of eating cranberries," he said, "simple equity demands that the government assist innocent persons who were injured by the initial blanket warning." Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr. (D-N.J.) also was among those urging "full indemnification" to farmers who face economic setbacks.

Don Royer Gets Jaycee Award

Don Royer has been named Sanford "Jaycee of the Month" by a special Jaycee nominating committee today. Area's Worst Blizzard Kills 17 Across Midwest

Board To Reduce School Millage To Five Mills

The Seminole County School Board yesterday decided that Seminole County's school millage could be reduced to five mills for the 1959-60 school year. The 10 mills approved by county voters Nov. 3 will not be necessary because the increase in assessed property valuation this year over 1958 will bring in more money, School Administrative Assistant Walter Teague said today. "The five mills tax is estimated to produce $769,500 to be used for the support and maintenance of schools for the next year and to pay the bonded indebtedness of the board on school bonds sold a few months ago," Supt. R. T. Milwee said yesterday. Two mills will be used for county current taxes, two mills for district taxes, and one mill for the district building and bus taxes. The revised school budget will be advertised next week and a public hearing will be held on it the following week. The budget will then be sent to the State Dept. of Education for approval. The tentative budget of $981,000 based on the 1958 tax rolls was returned by the Department for revision after the value of 1959 tax exempt property was certified by Tax Assessor Richard McCanna. Plans to remodel the classrooms left standing at the old junior high school site also were authorized by the board. The Seminole County Vocational School will be moved to this Palmetto Ave. and North St. site after the classrooms are remodeled.

SANFORD ELKS' BEAUTY representative in the Elks beauty contest at Cypress Gardens Nov. 22 will be Miss Martha Ann Cameron of 124 Myrtle Ave. The 22-year-old FSU senior will also be in the Queen's Court at the Tangerine Bowl football game in January. Miss Cameron was chosen by the Youth Activity Committee of the Sanford Elks' Lodge.

Hunters, Cattle Trapped

HELENA, Mont. (UPI)—The season's biggest snow storm roared out of the Rockies into the Great Plains and Midwest today, leaving Montana paralyzed under its worst blizzard in history. At least 17 deaths were blamed on the storm. Helena, Montana's capital city, was crushed by a 21.5-inch snowfall, the heaviest 24-hour storm since the Weather Bureau began keeping records here in 1900. Col. Hank Sloan, abridged in 25-below-zero cold and the Weather Bureau said the lee-laden air would extend over Wyoming, Colorado and the middle plains states and drop temperatures near zero through the Midwest. Montana ranchers, caught with a 15 per cent surplus due to slow livestock markets, began a desperate battle to reach 10,000 to 15,000 head of cattle and sheep trapped in giant drifts. The ranchers said the "fatality rate for strays would probably be severe," but said past experience had taught them to be prepared by laying in plenty of feed. Rescue parties spent the day bringing stranded hunters out of the mountains. By nightfall, the only hunters unaccounted for were two Montana State University students, Bob Amick Jr., of Billings and Richard Maxwell of Warm Springs. Eight were killed on snow-slicked Illinois highways, six died in Montana, two were killed in Iowa, and one fatality was reported in Michigan. The storm was expected to deliver up to eight inches of snow to the Texas-Oklahoma panhandle, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri and Iowa. The Weather Bureau said snows from two to five inches deep would rage through the Ohio Valley into Pennsylvania and turn all highways from the Rockies to the Appalachians into potential death traps. The cold wave was expected to cause local frosts in central California.

Castro Charges U. S. Aiding War Criminals

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro today accused the United States of harboring "war criminals" and carrying on economic and press attacks against his nation. But he appeared fired and the speech lacked the usual fire of past orations. Castro, in a three-hour, 10-minute television appearance that lasted well past midnight, did not make his expected reply to American protests that his anti-American statements are malicious and are hurting Cuban-American relations. He said he considers inoffensive a pamphlet that the United States has found to be objectionable. The pamphlet shows victims of last month's air battle over Cuba. Castro has charged the United States with permitting the raid—from its airfields. He conceded that the United States has taken some steps to halt such raids, but counterbalanced this admission with a long series of accusations. They include these charges: —The United States is following a "policy of open arms to war criminals exiled from Cuba." —The United States is carrying on "a purposeful campaign of economic aggression" as part of conspiracy against his regime. —The American press is not giving his regime fair reporting. He singled out the Miami News, the New York Journal American, Life Magazine, and the two American wire services for criticism.

Golfers To Hold 'Las Vegas Night'

The Sanford Men and Women's Golf Association will hold a joint "Las Vegas Night" party, Saturday at the Mayfair Country Club for members and their guests. Uniform of the evening will be "Western Attire." Several prizes will be awarded. Price of admission is $1.50 per couple. Free hors d'oeuvres will be served at 7 p. m. and a charcoal fire will be ready at 8 p. m. for guests to cook their own steaks.

Parade Float Deadline Nears

Sanford organizations were reminded today that the deadline for entering floats in this year's Jaycee sponsored Christmas parade is noon tomorrow. Program chairman Jack Wilber said all entries must be made at the Jaycee Information Building at French Ave. The parade is scheduled Dec. 4. All church, business, civic and school groups are welcome to participate in the parade.

Phone Building Request Denied

A request to build a new distribution telephone center east of Altamonte Springs has been turned down by the County Zoning Board. Robert Brown, zoning director, today said the request was turned down after residents of the area complained to the board that the proposed new building would be in a residential zone. The request had been made by the Winter Park Telephone Co.

16-Year-Old Girl Struck By Auto

Sixteen year old Florence Wilson of Sanford received a bruise on the back of her head and a broken ankle when she was struck by a car on Omara Rd. this morning according to the Sheriff's office. Florence was riding a bicycle toward the Naval Air Station between the base and Sanford Ave. when she cut in front of a car driven by Benjamin V. Oliver, U.S.N., said Deputy Robert Grant. Oliver, who was traveling in the same direction, swerved to avoid the girl, but struck her after skidding 12 feet. The Lake Mary Navy man was charged with failure to have his vehicle under control. Florence Wilson lives at the Countryside Trailer Park on Omara Rd.

Free Net Lessons Slated Tomorrow

Sanford youngsters will be given free tennis lessons tomorrow at Fort Mellon Park. The lessons are scheduled to start at 9 a. m. and will be given by former net pro Park Deane.

Club To Welcome District Leader

Sanford's Pilot Club will be host to the Pilot governor for Florida Dec. 1. Mrs. Mildred Patterson will pay her official visit to the Sanford group as head of Florida Pilot International district four. Mrs. Patterson will return to Sanford in January to plan for the statewide Pilot International convention to be held here April 8-10 at the Mayfair Inn. Sanford Pilot members heard F. J. Davis of the Seminole Toastmasters' Club speak on Tuberculosis at the group's meeting this week. Tuberculosis prevention and how TB patients in Seminole County are helped was explained by the Sanford attorney.

Rev. Theodore S. Darrah

Darrah To Keynote Church Week

The Rev. Theodore S. Darrah will be guest speaker for the Religious Emphasis Week at the U. C. Naval Air Station Chapel. Rev. Mr. Darrah is Dean of Knowles Memorial Chapel of Rollins College, Winter Park. Beginning Tuesday, November 17th at 7:30 p. m. the Religious Emphasis services will be held each evening except Saturday, through Sunday November 22nd. The public is invited to attend along with the personnel of the Air Station. Chapel passes will be available upon request at the gate for all who desire to attend. Although he is a college "Prof", Dean Darrah is well known for his work with young people. He is much respected as a "down to earth" minister, teacher, friend and counselor. During the week at the Naval base he will conduct informal discussion periods following each service. Such discussion hours are a campus highlight at Rollins and they are planned as a very important part of the ministry during the week of services here. Dean Darrah is a minister of the Congregational Church. A native of Boston, he is a graduate of Harvard University and Harvard Divinity School. Since 1947 he has served as Dean of the Chapel and Professor of Religion at Rollins. He is President of the National Association of College and University Chaplains for the current year. Special music is planned each evening. There will be a "coffee break" between inspirational services and the informal discussion period each night.

Two-Week Revival

Rev. J. H. Messer of the Church of God of Prophecy has announced a two-week revival beginning Monday night at 7:30. Services will be conducted by the Rev. Joseph Ricker of the Daytona Church and there will be special music and singing each evening.

Dedication Ceremony

Various members of the Enterprise All Saints Episcopal Church will attend a special dedication ceremony of the new wing at Bishop Grey's Inn Chapel in Davenport on Wednesday Nov. 18.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

From the dawn of human history, man has gazed with awe and fascination across the horizon. What secrets are buried in the sea's vast bosom and what strange lands and peoples and adventures are out there beyond the sunset?

The unknown has always presented a mystery and a challenge to mankind. Many have faced it with fear and shrinking. Others have accepted its challenge and have opened up new vistas of human knowledge.

Those who live and search in the Everlasting Light, His Holy Word, need have no fear of what lies beyond the oceans of water, the oceans of human experience, or the oceans of human thought. For the land and the sea are God's, and He rules in the kingdom of men.

Bake Sale Planned By LAFRA

Plans were discussed for a Christmas dinner at the November meeting of LAFRA unit 147. Dec. 8 was set as the date, and it will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Holcomb. Husbands of the members are invited.

Each person is requested to bring two comic gifts, one each for a man and woman. A bake sale is scheduled for Nov. 17 from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. at the Navy Exchange.

Members voted to have a copy of their preamble printed, to be hung on the wall at each meeting. It was announced that the unit donated $75 to the United Fund drive.

Following the business session, members and their husbands enjoyed a social and served refreshments of boiled hot dogs, potato chips and coffee.

Sorority Chapter Plans Benefits

Mrs. Betty McKee was hostess to the Gamma Lambda chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Tuesday night. It was announced that a toy bazaar will be held today at the home of Mrs. Pat Largen, in Pinecrest. A schedule will also be prepared for members to sell tickets on the doll project for Christmas.

Tables will be set up this week end at Cowan's department store for the Food Fair. Tickets may be obtained from members attending the tables.

Mrs. Largen announced that plans are being formulated by the service committee to sponsor a dance, for the benefit of the American Cancer Society, some time in February. A name band will provide music for dancing.

Mrs. Ann Cowan told the group that the second birthday party for county home will be celebrated this weekend, with the chapter as hostess.

An informative program was presented by Mrs. McKee, who chose the topic, "Poetry." She read selections from different poets, depicting the divisions of poetry and illustrating the epic, lyric and ellips.

Others attending were, Meses, Barbara Green, Faye Stetson, Arlene Cook, Gloria Little, Carol Dennison, Joyce Covington, Virginia Robertson, Peggy Lawrence, Paulette White, Sylvia Howe and Darlene Tye.

Mrs. Richard Bauer Entertains With Two Going-Away Parties

Mrs. Richard Bauer has been busy entertaining wives of military personnel who are being transferred to other areas. Early in the week she entertained with a coffee at her home, 168 Pinecrest Dr., honoring Mrs. E. C. Rossi.

Mrs. Rossi, and her family have moved to Whidby Island, Wash., where Ledr. Rossi has been transferred.

The centerpiece was an unusual arrangement of earmuffs, mittens, canned heat, and other items of use in the area northwest. Amusing good-bye gifts were presented the honoree.

Friends of Mrs. Rossi, who gathered to honor her, were: Mrs. D. C. Hamilton, Mrs. N. K. McInnis, Mrs. L. D. Tennison, Mrs. G. H. Robertson, Mrs. W. Jalicowski, Mrs. S. Oliver, Mrs. R. C. Andrus and Mrs. W. Colvin.

Beauticians Meet Monday

The November meeting of the National Hairdresser's and Cosmetologists Assn. will meet at Mrs. Bauer's Beauty Salon, Monday at 8 p. m. All members are urged to attend.

Lake Mary Personals

Children of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer kindergarten had a halloween masquerade party. Students from Lake Mary attending were Vikki Nicolaisson, Linda Wilbur, Betsy Rugenstein, Cindy Peoples, Georgia Lankford and Billy Mixon.

Miss Maggie Lawson Honored At Luncheon

Mrs. George A. Speer Jr. honored Miss Maggie Jane Lawson, bride-elect of William H. Huckle with a bridal luncheon Wednesday at her home on Park Ave.

She was assisted by Mrs. John Ivy and Mrs. Harry Woodruff. Arrangements of flowers in a green and white color scheme were arranged throughout the house.

The bride's table was overlaid with an Italian cut-work tablecloth and centered with a graduated arrangement of white chrysanthemums and greenery. Silver and crystal appointments and place cards completed the table decorations.

Other small tables were arranged similar to the bride's table in every detail.

Guests included, Miss Lawson, the honoree; Mrs. Samuel Lawson, her mother; Mrs. Haldane Huckle, Orlando; mother of the groom-elect; Mrs. John Poimere, Mrs. Carl Dann II, Mrs. Dave Ragan, Mrs. Carl Dann III, Mrs. Sadie Beardall Grech, Mrs. James Milligan and Mrs. Richard Twichell, all of Orlando.

Mrs. Gamble Rogers, of Winter Park; Miss Harriett Redding, Mrs. Sidney Chase, Mrs. Merle Husted, Miss Mary Ann Wright, Miss Sonja Monforton, Miss Mary Ann Strickland, Mrs. Jack Schirard, Mrs. George Hardin, Mrs. John Higgins, and Mrs. Harvey Wilkinson of Sanford.

Club Presents School Of Design

The Christmas school of design and arrangements, sponsored by the Lake Monroe Home Demonstration Club and held at the Home Demonstration Center on 25th St. was termed a big success.

William Grow, assisted by Mrs. A. C. Frank, both of DeLand, made various arrangements of Christmas decorations and designs. Each one present was given a kit of material to make their own designs later.

Miss Myrtle Wilson, county agent, Miss Hattie Kirk and Mrs. George Otto, county president, were given corsages. Door prizes were won by Mrs. H. Goers, Mrs. Perry Wheatland and Mrs. Ann Cenville.

Strep Music Co. of Orlando, furnished soft background organ music during the evening. Organists were Mrs. Dorothy Furrows, and Dave Cousins from the music company and Miss Linda Hittell, Claude Hittell and Donald Canup.

Models have been named for the "Fashion Potpourri" to be presented by the C. P. O. Wives Club, Thursday, Nov. 19 at 8 p. m. in the N. A. S. ballroom.

The various fashions from Cowan's will be modeled by Mary Haney, Barbara Drayton, Marie Lewis, Marie Sundvall, Darlene Golloher, Jo Cartier, Neil Oxford, Marge Stone, Verna Bolton, Edna Murray, Alvera Kelly, Mary Smith and Ernie Rankin.

Mrs. June Linginfeller is director and fashion co-ordinator of the show. Some male clothing will also be shown.

Couple Holds Cook-Out

Joe and Libby Smathers entertained a group of friends at a cook-out, featuring a pit-roasted pig with all the trimmings, last week end.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Riley and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Beebe and son, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Moore, and son, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Schwiebert, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rugenstein and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Schwiebert.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Esterbrook, and Mrs. Walker Ward of Orlando, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Lunn and children of Caselberry, Sam Cochran and Doran Mesch.

Church Activities

Ten ladies of the Congregational Church's Friendship League attended a District Missionary Meeting in Tavares today.

New officers have recently been elected for the Friendship League. They are: Mrs. Merrill Robinson, president; Mrs. Bernice Stinson, vice president; and Mrs. Lucille Spencer, secretary and treasurer.

The Ethel Root Circle will meet Monday evening at 8:00 at the home of Mrs. Mary Simpson - Silver Lake.

Miss Lucy Nowlin To Give Program

The American home department of the Sanford Women's Club will meet for the November business and program meeting, Monday at 8 p. m. at the clubhouse.

Miss Lucy Nowlin will present the program on "Creative Christmas Lighting." She will demonstrate ways of using electricity in Christmas decorating.

Hostesses will be, Mrs. George Dabbe, Mrs. H. S. Duggar, Mrs. George Pittard, Mrs. H. C. Echelberger and Mrs. Roger Harris.

Does Conduct First Initiation Ceremony

An initiation ceremony was conducted for Elizabeth Wolford and Jenny Marie Karraker by the Sanford Drove 100, Benevolent, Patriotic Order of Doves at the meeting this week.

It was the first initiation for the newly organized organization. Mrs. Jackie Caruthers, president, officiated at the ceremony, assisted by 28 officers.

Eleanor Wolford reminded the members that Mrs. Sylvia Hume who will speak next week on cerebral palsy is in dire need of toys which will help the children in the use and coordination of their hands. Peggy Hardin, first counselor and chairman of ways and means committee told the group that arrangements have been completed for the three organizations, -Sanford Elks, Anna Miller Circle and the Doves to combine their efforts in sponsoring a Thanksgiving dance and party to be held Saturday, Nov. 21. Each will participate in an all out effort to make a huge success of this event to which all Elks and their wives are invited.

Viola Kastner, whose enthusiasm has fired the interest of the drove in a project to raise money for an air-conditioning system for the lodge, has already realized a considerable sum from her sale of recipe books. Each member has agreed to inaugurate a project of her own and donate the proceeds to this fund.

Plans were completed for a Christmas party in which husbands of the Doves and their children will be included. Each member will bring gifts equivalent to the number in their respective family. Does having no children will also bring a toy to be raffled off later. The organization was unanimously in favor of entering in state-wide competitive ritualistic work.

Esther LeFever and Elvira Coe, both from the Orlando Drove, attended the meeting. Members attending were, Virginia Bowersox, Jackie Caruthers, Evelyn Barber, Agnes Walker, Esther Barber, Mary Roettger, Pearl Hope, Mae Babin, Mrs. George Carver, June Foley, Conda Miller, Frances Pratt, Anna Bukur, Duane Dagerly, H. Hoffman, M. Hickson, Eleanor Wolford, Mary Smith, Florence Lyon, Nancy Foster, Thelma Snyder, Ruth Billhimer, Peggy Hardin, Florence Mapes, Agnes Androsko, Jenny Karraker and Elizabeth Wolford.

Oil Shares Rated Good Investment

By GORDON J. TOLL
Manager, Security Associates, Inc.

Oil shares have a two-fold appeal: good income plus price appreciation potential. They also are an inflation hedge. Over the years, oil shares have ranked high in popularity among investors—and for good reason. Few segments of our economy can equal the industry's impressive growth. Recently, however, the oils have lost a bit of their popularity as earnings have lagged because of excess domestic product inventories and exaggerated fears of a world crude over-load from major new discoveries in North Africa and the Middle East. With oil shares well under recent highs, Sincere & Company, members of the New York Stock Exchange, states "advantages should be taken of further price concessions resulting from tax selling to add to one's oil holdings." They have chosen one especially interesting equity—Pure Oil—priced at approximately $38 and yielding over 4½ per cent on its well covered dividend—for long term growth.

Originally a small gas utility, Pure today ranks as one of the nation's 15 largest oil companies. It is engaged in all phases—exploration and development, production, refining, transportation, and marketing. The bulk of its domestic production comes from 356,000 acres (in Texas, Illinois, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Colorado) which contain 5,444 producing wells and reserves estimated at one half million barrels of crude and 3.5 trillion cubic feet of natural gas. These reserves are all located in the U. S. and thus are immune from political upheavals. In Sincere's report, it was disclosed that "Pure's domestic reserves alone are worth over $75 a share. In addition the company holds under lease or in fee over 4,800,000 acres of undeveloped properties. It owns four large refineries capable of handling over 184,000 barrels of crude daily, operates five natural gasoline plants, and has extensive pipeline and terminal facilities for transporting and storing its products. These products are marketed through a network of nearly 16,000 service stations located in 24 mid-western and southern states."

Last year Pure earned $3.35 a share, down from $4.18 on each of its 8.5 million shares in 1957. "Net income this year may be off a bit from 1958 due to weak gasoline prices in the last half. It's believed, however, that refinery runs will be brought into line with demand, perhaps by year-end. This should set the stage for better prices in 1959 and recovery in earnings."

Investors Intelligence, Inc., reports the best buys "emerging from the consensus of over 70 services in the last two weeks are: Best All-around Buy—Martin Co.; Best-Ret. Buy—General Electric; Best Speculation: ABC-Paramount."

Reports Florida Growth Fund: Florida is one of the fastest growing consumer markets in the United States. Since 1929 the annual increase in personal income in the state is 12.4 per cent—higher than any other state and well above the national average of 3.8 per cent. Total income in Florida reached $8,334,000,000 in 1958, a gain of 74.9 per cent from 1940 and 129 per cent from 1950, while the national income rose 36.4 per cent from 1940 and 58 per cent from 1950. "The whole state's economy naturally benefits from this swift climb in buying power—especially retail outlets. Among them are Winn-Dixie, Stevens Markets, Food Fair, Woolworth, McCrory's and many others."

If you're interested in Florida politics—you might enjoy reading "The Finished Man." It's a fiction based on fact. Sanford is mentioned twice in the novel and there are many scenes that I'm sure would be familiar to many of our residents. The book can be found in our public library.

SHACKLETON'S HUT, Antarctica.—This is a place in history. Preserved history. It's the wooden shack of the explorer who in 1906 came within 97 miles of becoming the first man to reach the South Pole. And today the hut of Lt. Ernest Shackleton, daring young British naval officer, stands as he left it.

Would Lift Limit On Crash Claims

NEW YORK (UPI) — If you are killed in an auto accident, your heirs might collect as much as $200,000 or even more in damages. "But if you lose your life in almost any international airplane crash, the most your survivors could claim from the airline is $5,000."

Lee Kriender, a New York lawyer, specializing in airplane damage cases, pointed to this disparity in urging that the ceiling be removed from the liability of airlines operating on international routes.

The United States subscribes to the Warsaw Convention, a treaty which puts a $5,000 limit on how much an airline can be forced to pay in a damage suit stemming from an international accident.

"Many experienced lawyers," Kriender said, "feel that the principle of limiting damages for personal injury and death... is a totally abhorrent principle and should be abolished from our law." Kriender said the Warsaw convention has created a maze of complications. Cuba does not subscribe to it, so if you are injured or killed on a flight from New York to Havana, the liability limitation does not apply. Canada does subscribe, so if an accident occurs between New York and Toronto the limitation is in force.

It is one of the strangest museums of the world. Two smoked hams hang from the passageway just inside the door. They've been here since 1908. Experts say they are still edible. Canned food and boxes of dried groceries cram the wooden shelves—cherries, Irish brown, stewed kidneys, currants, dehydrated potatoes and cabbages. Just like Shackleton and his men left it—as fresh as if it had arrived yesterday.

Temperatures on this hillside, which slopes into Cape Royds, have transformed the hut into a perfect polar food freezer. It gets to 70 degrees below here—rarely above zero.

When I stepped through the creaky front door I was startled by the shadow of a stout, bearded man. He spoke. The accent was British. He introduced himself. Eric Wedgwood was the name, from New Zealand. He had come here to study the habits of the

Hospital 'Stay' Fixes This Fish

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI) — A bonefish got in a fight with a barracuda at the Miami Seaquarium and had to go to the "hospital." Divers hand-fed the bonefish for a month. Its food contained vitamins and antibiotics. Today, the fish is back in perfect health.

The unique hospital at the Seaquarium is credited with saving thousands of fish in the past five years. Handlers doubling as nurses are ready for anything.

When a big fish bit off the tail of a pompano, the victim was hospitalized until it grew a new tail. A snake eel with a big chunk bitten out of its back hid under rocks where no one could reach it. Liquid medication was added to the water, and in a few weeks the eel emerged hale and hearty.

Treating diseased or injured fish is a routine job at the Seaquarium. It has the largest collection of tropical fish in captivity—over 10,000—in its tanks.

Adelle penguin now moving in from the ice floes into their cookery on a hillside beyond. I remarked about the preserved state of the food.

"Ah, yes," he said. "Yesterday I baked bread from some of Shackleton's flour. The bread was delicious."

Some of the cans were rusted. I wondered how come.

Almost indignantly the explorer protested. "They must have gotten that way on the ship on the way down."

Wedgwood was a chef on the liner Queen Mary for 18 months until last year.

There's plenty to learn about those penguins. I went over to mingle with them. About 200 were standing around like a bunch of men with hands in the pockets of their tuxedos.

It has been said that penguins are harmless, but I found out differently. Most were docile, some were barking like dogs, others pointed their beaks skyward as if looking for airplanes. These, I learned from an expert, were making love.

But one character took after me like an angry goose. I outran him, and turned to take a few feet of film of another. I outran him, too, and later I was bending over getting a closeup of two others flapping their flippers—another sign of love-making. I heard the squawk behind me too late. The mad character nipped me.

Adelle penguins come up to the height of your hips, and that nip went through five layers of clothing. I retreated to Shackleton's hut to learn from penguin expert Wedgwood the cause of this unusual behavior. But he was downhill to meet a dog sled coming in with supplies.

Washington Calling

By MARQUE CHILDS
WASHINGTON—In Senator Lyndon Johnson a serious candidate for the Democratic nomination for President? A great many members of his party would like to know the answer to that question.

From Texas come reports of the furious campaign that he is waging. He is rushing from one side of the state to the other talking at fish fries, college convocations, testimonial dinners and at any crossroads where the admiring and the faithful have gathered together.

So far as his re-election to the Senate next year is concerned, this is about as necessary as it was for Winston Churchill to campaign to retain his seat in Parliament. Johnson will have scarcely more than token opposition. Therefore, many observers are saying, his strenuous efforts must be aimed at the Presidency.

Northern Democrats view the possibility of a Johnson candidacy with alarm. Senator Paul Douglas of Illinois is the latest to say publicly that because of his tie to oil and gas and the Southern viewpoint on civil rights he could not carry Northern states. This view is widely held in the North and it was not countered by the presence of the most reactionary Northern Democrat, Senator Thomas J. Dodd of Connecticut, as cheer leader at Johnson rally in Texas.

But friends close to Johnson, while the Presidential balloon was going up, discount the noisier he makes. They say the Senate majority leader is too shrewd and knowing to deceive himself into believing that he could get the nomination, or, if he got the nomination, that he could be elected President. What he is doing, they explain, is maneuvering for a position where-by he can help to name the candidate.

It is not only oil and gas and the Southern approach to civil rights that cast a doubtful light on Johnson as a Presidential candidate in the North. As majority leader he seemed determined to out-economize the Eisenhower economists. He followed this course despite his own "state of the union" speech at the beginning of the session in which he promised to challenge the Administration on a whole range of issues covering national security and the growth of the country.

But the challenge was not forthcoming. When it came to labor legislation virtually the whole Texas delegation in the House voted against the moderate bill sponsored in the Senate by Senator John F. Kennedy. They helped to supply the margin for the so-called tough Landrum-Griffin bill which is another measure to organize labor.

It is the "me, too" nature of the leadership of Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn, chief spark for the Johnson-for-President boom, that causes the greatest unhappiness in Democratic ranks. Opposition has been expressed openly by some critics, such as Senator William Fulbright. But beneath the surface is a deeper discontent reflected in increasing pessimism over Democratic chances next year.

The growing belief is that the Democrats, having failed to draw

Never A Bride

PINNER, England (UPI) — None of the bridesmaids caught the bride's bouquet at a wedding here Sunday. A horse ate it. Air hostess Sallie Alden, 22, brought her pet horse Chico to her wedding to Bryan Murphy, 22. After the wedding they pinned a rose on Chico and then fed him the rest of the bouquet.

a line between the two parties on major issues, will have a tough time electing any candidate they choose. Trampling "peace and prosperity" as they did in 1952 and '56, the Republicans will win the Presidency although they will fail to carry Congress.

This pessimism is especially black at the thought that the GOP nominee may be Governor Nelson Rockefeller. If this reporter has heard one prominent Democrat he has heard 50 say that against Rockefeller the party wouldn't have a chance.

Even with Vice-President Richard Nixon as the opponent many Democrats are beginning to be doubtful. It is evident, with the remarkable reversal of the Soviet stand on a nuclear test ban and with Premier Khrushchev's moderate speech to the Supreme Soviet, that President Eisenhower's bold move in inviting Khrushchev to this country may be much more than a gesture of goodwill. Nixon is directly associated with this initiative and that he greatly benefited by it has been shown in the polls.

Even Johnson's severest critics acknowledge his remarkable qualities. As majority leader he has shown great drive and skill. With his tireless energy and his inordinate ambition he has rare political intuition. Yet, as with ambitious men, he may not be immune from that subtlest of all viruses—the Presidential bug. He can run next year, thanks to a change made by the Texas legislature under the Johnsonian influence, both for re-election to the Senate and for President of Vice-President, and that is an advantage few candidates have.

Seminoles Host Bishop Moore In Homecoming Tilt Tonight

Game Time Set 8 p.m.

By JERRY COVINGTON
The Sanford Seminoles have finished a good week of practice and seem to be at their peak for the big homecoming game against Bishop Moore here tonight. This will be the final home game of the season and a capacity crowd will be on hand for the big homecoming event. Game time is set for 8.

Tonight's game will mark the first time that the Seminoles have played the Hornets in a regularly scheduled game. These two teams met in the Brahman Bowl three years ago with the Seminoles coming out on top by a score of 14-7.

The Hornets are sporting a neat 4-1 record and have one of the best offensive backs in the area in the person of Russell Pierson. Pierson is the leading scorer in Orange county and he crossed the stripe 14 times. They have a big line and their offensive plays are more or less power plays up the middle. They hit hard and have a very outstanding defense.

Although the Seminoles lost a couple of thrillers by one point in the first of the season and now only have a 3-4 record, they have "found" themselves and should be able to play on equal terms with just about anybody. The defense enjoyed its best night against Leesburg last week and they should be able to follow up with the same kind of play stopping ball.

The defense will be centered around Bibby Barbour, Johnny Wheelchel, Alex McKibbin and Neely Ross at the linebackers and Rusty Simas, Glenn Holize, and Charles Fox up front. Wheelchel and Fox were especially outstanding last week against Leesburg.

The Seminoles will pit two of the outstanding halfbacks in the conference against the Hornets' Pierson in the persons of John Lovelace and Ray Lundquist. The "Double L's" have shown their ability in every game this season and both should be in top form.

John Mann will be set to go at the fullback spot and though he didn't get much of a chance at running the ball last week he is very capable and should be a big help. He runs hard and is capable of picking up plenty of yardage up the middle of the line. He will be spared at times by sophomore Bill Phagan. Phagan was brought up from the JV's earlier this fall and has been a big help in the defensive backfield.

Billy Rowles and Bubba Davis will also be sharing some of the offensive duties at the halfback posts. Davis was the outstanding player of the JV's and has been brought up to strengthen the team. McKibbin and Barbour could also get a shot at some of the offensive work if the occasion calls for it.

Sandspur Kegler Lead 'Bunched Up'

Five of the six teams in the Sandspur Bowling League are bunched in the first three spots after this weeks play, with Pryor's State Farm Insurance team leading the way with 29 wins and 13 losses.

Tied in second place is The Pig N' Whistle and Robson Sporting Goods, both with 18-15. Wilson-Maier and The Foodmart are tied in the third spot with 16-17, and Roumillat's holds fourth with 11-12.

Wilson-Maier set a new record for scratch series as they turned in a 2-0-18, beating their own high score of 2022. This series won the two games for the furniture people as they played against Roumillat and Anderson Drugs.

Pryor's managed to get one game away from The Pig, but lost the next two, just as Foodmart lost to Robson, after the grocers took one from the sportsters.

Wilson-Maier holds the scratch series high, while The Pig holds the handicap series record. Roumillat's has both the scratch game and handicap game high to be in the money circle. On the individual side, Margie Wood leads with high average honors. Mary Satre has scratch series sewed up. Sue Jackson holds the high game spot. Lil Ozden has high handicap series, and both Lu Hosenpian and MaryLou Danyluk have high handicap game honors.

Lucrative Bowl Berths In Offering Saturday

United Press International
Syracuse, Texas and Southern California are expected to continue their march toward unbeaten and untied seasons while Louisiana State, Northwestern and Penn State try to rebound Saturday on a college football card filled with important conference and traditional contests.

Several of the lucrative Jan. 1 bowl berths could be decided but it's considered more likely that such close races as the Big 10, Pacific Coast Conference and Southeastern Conference battles will continue down to the final week of the campaign.

Syracuse, the new national leader, is rated a whopping 36-point choice over Colgate. Texas is rated six points over Texas Christian and Southern California is 14 points over Baylor. Indications now are that Syracuse and second-ranked Texas will go on to a cotton bowl showdown that would be one of the most attractive bowl pairings of all time.

Colgate has won only one of seven games while Syracuse has rolled past Kansas, Maryland, Navy, Holy Cross, West Virginia, Pittsburgh and Penn State.

Texas Christian has been coming fast since early season losses to LSU and Arkansas but Texas is given the edge because of a more potent offense. Southern California, apparently enroute to a perfect season, is competing only for the national championship since it is ineligible to play in the Rose Bowl.

LSU, beaten last Saturday after 19 straight victories, is a 22-point favorite over Mississippi State Saturday night. Northwestern is six over Michigan State and Penn State is 18 points over Holy Cross. LSU still has a strong chance to play in the Sugar Bowl. Northwestern is battling Wisconsin for the Big Ten title and the visitor's Rose Bowl bid and Penn State is expected to go to either the Liberty or Gator bowls.

Wisconsin, which tied Northwestern for the Big Ten lead last Saturday, is favored by 10 points over Illinois.

Washington, which still has the inside track for the West Coast's berth in the Rose Bowl is favored by six points over California but Oregon is rated no better than even money against Washington State Washington and Oregon are in a two-team battle for the lucrative bid because of Southern California's ineligibility.

Colorado, which seized the inside track for the Big Eight's Orange Bowl bid last Saturday is a surprise underdog to a Nebraska eleven that has lost to Texas, Kansas, Indiana, Missouri and Iowa State. The Buffaloes (1-4) would be the Big Eight's bowl choice if they wished second in the race because Oklahoma is ineligible to go for a second straight time.

Clemson, which rules the Atlantic Coast Conference with seeming ease and almost certainly will receive a major post-season bowl bid, is rated 11 points over Maryland.

Covers Sports

By JERRY COVINGTON
Well, tonight is Homecoming. Hundreds of former SHS students will be pouring into Memorial Stadium for what promises to be one of the outstanding prep football games in the state. The powerful Bishop Moore Hornets will be seeking their seventh victory against one defeat, while the Seminoles will be seeking to even their record at 4-4.

The "New Look" Seminoles discovered a great passing game three weeks ago and, although they had their troubles at the start of the season, they are all set to play the Hornets on even terms. The local defense has finally jelled and I feel that the Hornets are going to be in for a great surprise.

The Seminoles will match halfback stars John Lovelace and Ray Lundquist against high-scoring Russell Pierson in what is expected to be a great running contest. However, quarterback Mike Roberts is a cinch to hit ball hawking ends Terry Christensen and Jim Gracey with great efficiency which I feel will be the difference in the ball game. My prediction—an upset—Sanford 21, Bishop Moore 14.

In my three years of writing about the Seminoles, I think the most memorable game I have witnessed was the battle between Sanford and Bishop Moore in the Brahman Bowl. Highly touted Johnny Ellis, who was the leading prep scorer in the state, was supposed to personally run all over Sanford, according to the Orlando papers. However, coaches Pigott and Laude had other plans. They played Mike Tammy man to man all evening on Ellis and, between Tammy and Bubba Hittell, Ellis was stopped cold. The Seminoles picked up a 7-0 lead and it looked as though it were going to hold up. However, the Hornets finally got a score. Late in the game, little Cecil Dandridge broke up the middle of the field and crossed the stripe for the winning TD. You who saw the contest will surely agree with me that it was a great ball game.

Knowing the type ball that the Hornets play, this should turn out to be another game just like that one. They are the type ball club that will do anything for a victory and the fireworks could begin to go off when these two teams meet again.

In the last two ball games the Seminoles have thrown 36 passes and have completed 22 of them. The strong arm of junior quarterback Mike Roberts and the great receiving of Jim Gracey and Terry Christensen have accounted for 276 yards through the airways in the last two ball games. The Seminoles have a great combination in these three and you can look forward to their putting on quite a show tonight. Christensen and Gracey have become the finest receivers that SHS has seen in some time.

This is the first year that Gracey has ever played in a football game but you would never know it by the way he has been playing. Both of the ends have great hands which accounts for the outstanding pass receiving they have done all season.

Baseball Opens 'Hot' Controversy

NEW YORK (UPI) — Baseball's cold war today erupted into a hot controversy between the major leagues and the new Continental circuit.

William A. Shea, founder of the Continental League, opened the shooting battle by charging that the withdrawal of the Dallas-Fort Worth application for a franchise from the newly-organized loop is "part of the program of the American League and baseball to harass us."

Shea further alleged that millionaire contractor J. W. Bateson took the Texas franchise application out of the area because Bateson "has been sold by someone on the idea that he has a chance of getting into the American League."

"We are sorry he has been so gullible," Shea said. "Dallas has no more chance of getting into the American League than Sioux City has." Bateson had been a real enthusiastic backer of the Continental League in the past.

Coaches Needed

The Sanford Recreation Department is looking for six interested coaches for the 1959-60 Biddy Basketball season. The basketball league is designed for boys under 13 years of age. There are six sponsors who have provided uniforms, but each team needs an adult coach. Anyone who can assist the Recreation Department in this capacity should contact Ronald Perry, City Recreation Director. All league games will be played on Saturday mornings beginning December 12. Practice sessions are arranged by the coach. Over 80 boys participated in the league's first season last year.

Trash Survey To Begin Of All Sanford Stores

Sanford refuse superintendent Eddie Griffin said yesterday that he hopes to start next week totaling the cost of collecting garbage and trash from Sanford stores.

"The refuse department is making a detailed and itemized survey of each and every commercial refuse account in Sanford, to determine the quantity of refuse handled in the time required for collection and to find the cost to Sanford," City Manager Warren Edwards said yesterday.

The city wants to determine whether the three dollar per month fee for commercial establishments actually covers the cost of collection, Edwards said.

A card system is being drawn up to show the type business and what each is now paying. The time necessary to collect from each store and the quantity of each collection will be figured. Completion of the survey is expected to be within 30 days, Kneives said. The city manager pointed out at a recent city commission meeting that collecting garbage and trash from seven large Sanford food stores costs $84.53 per month, while the stores pay only $64 per month.

7 Gridders Injured In Train-Bus Crash

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—A Southern Pacific freight train struck a bus carrying a football team Thursday night, injuring seven, one of them critically.

More than 30 students from St. Anthony Junior Catholic Seminary were aboard the bus when it stalled at a railroad crossing at the top of a short, steep grade.

"I was the first to see the train coming," said the Rev. Paul Murray, the coach accompanying the players in a game with another school. "I opened the front door and told the boys to get out and take it easy," he said.

The diesel locomotive knocked the bus into a spin that whirled it 90 feet down the right-of-way. Some boys in the process of leaving the bus were scattered by the impact.

Guest Minister Slated For Church

The pulpit of the Alliance Church of Sanford will be filled by a supply minister in the absence of the pastor, Rev. David Caracci, who will be preaching in the Sandusky Alliance Church near Birmingham, Alabama.

The guest minister will be Rev. William Benson who now lives in Casselberry. Mr. Benson has served as an Alliance pastor in several churches in the north. He is now awaiting placement in a new charge. He will deliver the sermons in both the morning and evening services. Mr. Leo Watson, Sunday School Superintendent will be chairman for the morning service and Mr. Fay Lee, one of the elders of the church will be in charge of the evening service.

Pinecrest Church To Hold Special Dedication Service

The Pinecrest Baptist Church of Sanford will hold a special Dedication Service, Sunday afternoon, November 13.

Following the regular morning worship at Sunday School at 9:00 and the morning worship service at 11, dinner on the grounds will be served.

At 1:30 p. m. the Dedication Program will begin. The Rev. Jack Bryant, past of the First Baptist Church of Oviedo will deliver the Dedication Sermon. Others participating in the service will be Pastor Donald Gray, pastor of the Pinecrest Church; Harold Sherwood, chairman of the building committee and William Keder, chairman of the Board of Deacons.

During the service, besides reviewing the past progress that has made possible this happy occasion for the dedication of the church building, the church's seals for 1960 will be announced. This service will be open to the public.

Newspaper Says Louie Armstrong Is Israeli Spy

CAIRO (UPI)—The newspaper Al Ahran said today Lebanese authorities had uncovered an Israeli spy ring whose leaders included Louie (Satchmo) Armstrong.

Al Ahran said the "Israeli spy ring" operated in Arab countries in "the guise of dancing and singing troupes which include world famous artists."

Armstrong, who recently made a 22-week tour of Europe and the Middle East, visited Beirut, Lebanon, on the trip. He also performed in Czechoslovakia.

Happiness Through Health

(By DR. F. LEO KERWIN)

Is Backache Kidney Trouble?

Many people have the idea that backache is caused by a kidney ailment and then take something to purge the kidney, but many times the backache is persistent even after such measures have been taken. In reality very few backaches are caused by the kidneys, for only in rare kidney diseases is there any pain whatever in the back.

Pain or backache between the hips and lower part of the back is caused by pressure on the spinal nerves caused by a misplaced spinal joint, and to be permanently rid of the persistent, nagging backache, the cause of the weakness must be dealt with. A man age 30, consulted a scientific Chiropractor recently about a backache he had experienced four years. Through FAirfax 2-7442.

Chiropractic examination revealed curvature of the spine, pinching vital nerves in the lower back, which was the basic cause of pain. The spine was straightened by painless Chiropractic adjustments. Patient noticed relief the second day and at the end of 8 weeks patient was dismissed with all backache gone. Remember that few backaches are caused by kidney, but are basically caused by misplaced spinal joints and your Chiropractor specializes in corrections of these conditions. Are you a Chiropractor case? One of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of scientific Chiropractic, written by Dr. F. Leo Kerwin whose office is located at 201 S. French Ave. and his telephone number is FAirfax 2-7442.

Oviedo Baptists Sponsor Revival

The First Baptist Church of Oviedo will sponsor a series of revival services Sunday through Nov. 20. The evangelist will be the Rev. Ben Borders. There will be Sunday services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. in the Baptist Church.

Sunday afternoon services will be held in the Bonnevile Housing Development on Highway 50E at 2:30 p. m. The meeting each night during the week will begin at 7:30.

Mr. Larry Todd, minister of music and education of the Second Baptist Church of Union City, Tenn., will be the song leader for the series of meetings. He will also sing solos and direct the choir in special music.

Evangelist Borders has preached in outstanding Southern Baptist pulpits. He is the pastor of the First Magnolia Baptist Church of Bradford. A converted Roman Catholic, he has become known as an author and lecturer. He is also an accountant, columnist, and publisher.

The public is invited to hear these sermons. The Rev. Jack T. Bryant, pastor of the Oviedo church, in extending the invitation said "We encourage men of heart and peace of mind all church and unchurched people alike are urged to attend these Christ-honoring, Church-centered services."

Teamsters Go Into Politics With Splash

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Jimmy Hoffa's latest swan dive into politics is a reminder of the Teamsters' first big splash in political waters.

That was in 1944 when FDR was campaigning to pile a fourth term on top of a third. Hoffa and Dave Beck were not yet top dogs over the Teamsters in 1944. Old Dan Tobin was the boss. The union's method of operating, however, was not much different then from now. It couldn't have been because Beck and Hoffa, under Tobin, were deputy prime ministers and archdukes, at least, in the union hierarchy. And it never was said of old Dan that he was a prude.

The occasion of the big splash in 1944 was the kickoff of FDR's fourth term campaign, a star-spangled affair in the rich precincts of the Statler Hotel's Presidential banquet room. The President of the United States and the assembled teamsters sat down to a noble meal laced with fine wines.

It was said afterward that some of the boys may have had a jug or two of something else because the enthusiastic uproar indicated that a sort of Roman holiday was almost had by all. Some of the assembled knights and barons of the teamsters realm were, of course, the same bully boys who showed up so badly when confronted with their thuggery and other faults in the recent Senate investigation.

All of that was in the future, however, and even FDR's dedicated enemies were willing to concede that the president probably had made the best campaign speech of his life. It was the speech in which he accused the Republicans of picking on his little dog, Fala. How the teamsters—and the nation—went for that. FDR was in rare form. FDR said that "the Republic's Old Guard is trying to pass itself off as the New Deal." Of Republican Presidential candidate Thomas E. Dewey, FDR said he was telling callous and brazen falsehoods. Of Republican campaigners, generally, he said they were peddling the most obvious kind of fraud.

All of this plus, maybe, the wine, simply set the teamsters on fire and they pounded the tables, whooping it up for more. On second thought, the following day, the teamsters still were happy and they dipped into the union treasury for about $100,000 to help FDR's presidential campaign. FDR ducked home about midnight but the melody lingered on. It had been a big night for Tobin, Beck, Hoffa and company and they could not let it go easily.

The files relate that as the well lined and dined teamsters broke up and began straggling through the Statler lobby, two naval officers happened to be there. Union members allegedly collared the pair and in the interests, no doubt, of democracy and the free electoral process, demanded to know for whom they would vote.

There was a fist fight and a lot of publicity and Daniel J. Tobin felt need to say he was not involved. The Senate wound up to investigate the incident but decided not to. And that was that.

Florida Grapefruit May Get New Use

TAMPA (UPI)—A new and strictly uncommercial use for grapefruit has been reported by the Florida Citrus Exchange.

It said one of its brokers, the Suffolk Fruit and Produce Co. of Suffolk, Va., reported it could not sell seedless grapefruit to a Negro customer.

It explained that the Negro woman was handing out the grapefruit to each member of her church as they met for worship. And on returning to church the next Sunday, they gave the church one cent for each seed found in their grapefruit.

Final Baptist Session Hears Mission Report

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Reports on foreign missions and Evangelism highlighted the final session Thursday of the Florida Baptist Convention's 98th annual meeting here.

The 1,500 delegates went on record in agreeing to step up the fight against alcoholism, gambling and indecent literature.

The Rev. Jack Epps said that residents and tourists drank more than 19 gallons of alcoholic beverages last year for each man, woman and child in Florida.

He broke it down into more than 59 million gallons of beer, four million gallons of wine and more than 23 million gallons of liquor.

New York Police Hunting For New Mad Bomber In Slaying Of Woman

NEW YORK (UPI) — A normally quiet neighborhood on Staten Island was clutched by fear today. Housewives were afraid to go outdoors. Car owners approached garage doors with terror.

The death of Mrs. Concetta Giaretta, 41, by a grenade booby trap under a garage door and the warning to another housewife that "you will be next" spread panic in the Fort Richmond district of the island.

Was another "mad bomber" on the loose?

New York City had been plagued for 17 years by George Metesky, the original mad bomber, who set off 32 homemade bombs which injured 18 persons during his career. He was captured in 1957 and sent to a home for the criminal insane.

When Mrs. Giaretta got out of her husband's car in front of their garage Tuesday night with the offer to open the door, the neighborhood had been a modest, quiet one where most residents had owned their own homes for more than 10 years.

The blast from a planted hand grenade, triggered by the raised overhead door, tore off her legs and slashed at her body. She received more than 30 wounds.

Mrs. Giaretta died Thursday.

Police reported Thursday they had assigned a guard to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tracht because a rough voice on the telephone had said: "Your garage is next."

Mrs. Tracht was nearly hysterical. More than 50 residents asked police to search their garages. Others were afraid to put their cars away and autos stood at the curbs throughout the area.

Detectives found no motive for the Giaretta bombing or for the Tracht threat. Efforts to trace the grenade fragment found by the Giaretta garage have been fruitless. Institutions were being checked for the escape or release of a possible mad bomber.

Police said the call to the Tracht home could have been a cruel hoax. But coroner's verdict on Mrs. Giaretta was starkly real.

"Death due to an explosion," it read.

American men are now spending about two billion dollars a year on shoes, approximately 600 million dollars more than a decade ago.

Teaching young people, and adults, about other countries, their people and ways, is called one of the most difficult problems facing the schools.

The book says:

"Our schools are promoting better understanding of the world in many ways. Their regular current events and world affairs courses for young people and adults are well known. Special projects of all kinds, from talks by foreign visitors, to panel discussions of world problems, to art exchanges with other countries, help give our young people a broader outlook on the world in which they live."

More than 300,000 elementary pupils in 3,000 schools are being taught a foreign language. High schools are using new teaching methods — tape recorders, films and recordings — to attract students to languages.

Schools take part in the International Art Exchange, through which paintings and drawings by American students are sent abroad and similar ones from other nations are sent here.

Classes study the United Nations and other worldwide organizations and are asked to write plays dramatizing United Nations Day, Human Rights Day and others.

The foreign student exchange plan invites youngsters from other countries to live and study in the U. S. and our students do the same overseas.

The schools go to great lengths to emphasize the importance of working out common problems. Teachers and school officials ask parents to participate in programs which promote understanding.

Air Force Plans Security Crackdown On Technical Data

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Air Force, in a security crackdown, has warned industry against sending any kind of technical data to Iron Curtain countries without government approval.

Air Force contractors have been told it is "prejudicial to national security" for them to answer inquiries from "Eastern bloc" representatives or private persons without first getting clearance.

In reply to a newsmen's question, the Air Force said today contractors "occasionally" had sent unclassified or non-secret data to the proscribed areas in the form of sales bulletins and sales promoting manuals.

The Air Force warning was sounded in a letter dated Nov. 6 and sent to the Air Materiel Command, Air Research and Development Command, Air Force procurement districts, Air Force representatives in industrial plants, and Air Force contractors.

The letter said Eastern bloc countries have been writing to Air Force contractors asking for information or brochures.

Contractors were told that they should send any such inquiries to the Air Force intelligence staff's foreign liaison branch to determine whether answers could be given. If contractors want to answer the inquiries, the material must be cleared first with the Air Force.

Stories Conflict On Life In Russia

EDITOR'S NOTE: Russian exchange students on a 20-day tour of the United States are spending this week end in Philadelphia. A UPI reporter tells in the following dispatch about his experience with one of their leaders.

By HARRY E. SELINGER
PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — In seeking out Soviet youth leader Elvira Astafyeva one expected to find a husky lass wearing combat boots who would tell about life in the communes.

Instead, I found myself staring into the pretty green eyes of a shapely blonde wearing a snug fitting black sweater, gray skirt and black patent leather, spike heels—all products of the U.S.S.R.

Since my Russian is confined to yes da—which sounds like baby talk and no nyet — which I pronounce as if I started to say something and forgot what it was, I was looking for someone among the 24 touring Soviet youth leaders who spoke English.

Elvira speaks English — the clear, cultured kind. In a soft, perfectly modulated voice she told me she was a 22-year-old philology (science of linguistics) student at the University of Leningrad.

She said she was thoroughly enjoying her first visit to America and was greatly "impressed with the hospitality" and . . .

A photographer interrupted. Would we mind facing the other way so the light would be better on Elvira's clear skin.

We turned to the north, the light was better. And Elvira continued.

Elvira said in the two weeks she has been in America she found furnishings here similar to those in Russian homes because the Soviets also have TV's, refrigerators and other appliances. And she also found the traffic situation similar in the large cities in both America and Russia.

Elvira was about to continue but she had to leave with four or five other members of her group to visit the Sidney Hillman Medical Center.

I picked another subject. This time she was definitely the Russian type: Flat shoes, loose fitting sweater, full skirt, blonde hair pulled straight back, then braided in pig tails which were pinned up.

"Do you speak English?"

"Of course. Everybody who was born and raised in Philadelphia usually does."

This subject explained she was Margaret Rhoads, 22, accompanying the group as an interpreter, guide, and had toured Russia last summer on the same exchange program after graduating from Reed College, Portland, Ore.

Miss Rhoads said the American group was given a great deal of freedom while on its Russian tour although it didn't stay with any families. She said she did visit some flats in Moscow and found the furnishings much different—massive and dark.

She also said she found an abundance of TV's, few refrigerators and other appliances and the traffic problem practically nonexistent because of the relatively few number of automobiles. All of which left me scratching my head.

U.S. Tourists Asked To Mind Manners Abroad

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Americans should mind their manners when they go abroad. Unruly tourists are giving the United States a bad name.

That's what Miss Beth Egan, Hudson, N. Y., an international farm youth exchange student who spent the last six months on French farms, said here Thursday.

Her opinion was seconded by Richard W. Tenney, Fredericktown, Ohio. He said he was constantly embarrassed by American tourists.

Miss Egan and Tenney represented the United States in France as outstanding 4-H students. They were selected from 2,300,000 other 4-H'ers to accompany an American party of 34 to Europe.

Eight-Year-Old Boy Saves Sister

DUNN, N. C. (UPI) — An 8-year-old boy darted into a flaming house Thursday and carried his one-year-old sister to safety.

The infant, Shirley Lane Smith, was hospitalized with burns but her brother Johnny escaped with singed eyebrows and lashes.

Their mother left them at home with two other children while she went to the Welfare Department of Lillington.

Firemen saved the house, but most of its contents were destroyed.

Johnny said "the baby was in a chair and she was trying to get out the window. So I picked her up and ran."

"I didn't have any trouble getting into the fire. It was back somewhere else. But when I ran out, I couldn't see, so I just ran out anyway I could."

Florida To Get Six New Airport Projects

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Florida will get six airport construction projects totalling $1,332,417 in the next two years.

The Federal Aviation Agency said Thursday the funds will be matched on a 50-50 basis by the state.

The money is part of more than 37 million dollars allotted for airport construction across the nation under the Federal Airport Act.

Tampa International Airport got the biggest allocation, $453,390, for a new runway and other construction.

Other projects included: Broward County International Airport, Fort Lauderdale, $38,000; Drane Field, Lakeland, $40,700; St. Johns Municipal, $198,500; Miami International Airport, $201,000; Clearwater International Airport, St. Petersburg, $78,837.

Who Said Lumber Will Not Stand The Test of Time In Florida?

This frame building was old back when Grandma polished the old brass

Until it was torn down only last month, to make room for a more modern structure, this had been the original home of Hill Lumber and Hardware. Shown in the picture are W. C. Hill, President and J. H. Crapps, Vice-President and Manager of the firm examining the hard firmness of the lumber framework that withstood the ravages of Florida climate, and wear and tear of four generations of shoppers.

The picture is proof that after 86 busy years the lumber in this old frame structure was nearly as hard and sound as the day it was built. But progress demands newer, better ways of doing business. So the old fashion landmark had to go. A few more finishing touches here and there and a brand new salesroom and office will be ready for the fifth generation of Hill Lumber customers.

Life Of Child Actor Can Lead To Tragedy

By VERNON SCOTT
 HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The costars and small tragedies of child actors are clearly mirrored in Robert Blake who is undergoing psychotherapy to straighten out his tangled life.

Blake, who never attained stardom, was acting steadily at the age of 8. By the time he was 14, Bob had worked in hundreds of movies, including 35 co-starring roles as Little Beaver in the "Red Ryder" series and some 50 "Our Gang" comedies.

"He's now back in the acting business, but admittedly in need of a skill mechanic."

"I was like most child performers," he said bitterly. "I acted only because I was told to, and you can hardly consider what I did acting."

"I didn't like it. It was no kind of a life. I had nothing going for me at school or at the studios—except at home. So when I was 14 I packed up and left home."

From pampered child actor, Bob drifted from job to job, mostly manual labor with construction outfits. At one point he hid off to New York to work as a box boy in a grocery store.

Then Bob put in a two-year hitch in the Army—in Alaska yet—where he switched from the infantry to special services.

After his stretch in the service, Bob discovered there was no money coming to him from his childhood earnings. It had all been spent.

"All that stuff about the so-called 'Jackie Coogan law' protecting earnings of kid stars is just baloney," he said. "My money—and there were plenty of it—just disappeared. It went to support the family."

"Someday I'll write a story about the Hollywood children—the Scotty Becketts, Alfalfa Switters and Spunky McParlands. Forcing a kid to become a performer is one of the worst things that can happen to a child. It's turning them into adults while they're still youngsters."

"Even now when I see a kid working on a set it depresses me."

"I was never a child star," he concluded. "I was a child worker. And it's something I would never do to any children I may have."

Impressive Monuments Contrast With Poverty

(Editor's Note: This is the 18th of a series of articles by A. M. and R. M. Haskell who are now in Europe.)

Avila . . . Spain needs better housing, better roads, better schools, and better industrial equipment. Therefore the enormous and costly monument, ostensibly to those who died on both sides during the Civil War, but actually in France, seems foolish and unnecessary, impressive though it is.

Probably because it is carved out of the living rock of one of the highest mountains near Madrid, it is called "The Valley of the Fallen." The huge echoing basilica, decorated with modern statuary, baroque altars and medieval tapestries, is 353 feet long. Behind it a 192 foot case concrete, stone faced, cross with an elevator surmounts the peak. Situated in wild country about 30 miles from Madrid, the location was obviously picked for its beauty which was apparent even in a driving rain storm. On a clear day it must be breathtaking.

Another monument to a man seen in the Monastery of San Lorenzo del Estorial, Philip the second of Spain had a famous and powerful father, the Emperor Charles V. History has shown the emperor to be lacking in judgment and that his was almost bankrupt Spain, but Philip lived under his shadow, knowing he was not the man his father was. He had a tragic personal and public life. His four wives predeceased him and his attempts to marry Elizabeth of England came to nothing. The defeat of the Spanish Armada was a great blow. To fulfill a vow made before the battle of St. Quentin, which he did win and to make good his father's promise to build a suitable resting place for the Spanish kings, Philip built El Estorial, an enormous building, 680 by 330 feet which is a royal palace, a cathedral, a monastery, and a tomb.

In reaction to the ornate style of the reign of Charles V, Philip instructed his architects to build an unornamented building as a prison on the outside. Subsequent monarchs embellished the inside, so except for the rather grim apartments to which Philip retired before he died, many of the rooms are lavish.

Those hung with the tapestries made from Ugoa cartoons, executed by his brother-in-law Bayas, head of the Royal Tapestry Factory, are spectacular.

Under the vast church's which is inevitable in Spain, gilded and polychrome altar piece, are the tombs of the kings and members of the royal family, which are in no way austere. A vast round marble room holds the bones of the kings and their queens in elaborate and identical gold and marble caskets. A somewhat grisly sidelight is that, on either side of the entrance are two rooms in which royal bodies stayed for some 25 years until they were reduced to bones.

There was a certain protocol which governed Spanish royalty even in death. The kings lie on one side, the queens on the other. But only those queens who were the mothers of kings are here. Any other wives the kings had were buried in less state in another part of the Pantheon.

Isabella II, who reigned as a queen is on the king's side. Her consort was put with the queens.

In building El Estorial, Philip gained some of the immortality he craved, for it draws visitors from all over the world, as it should. It is one of the most interesting royal residences in Europe.

Ex-GI Changes Sex, Marries Man In Miami

MIAMI (UPI)—A 34-year-old ex-GI who changed sex through a series of operations and treatments in Denmark, became a bride here a month ago, the Miami Herald reported today.

Ex-GI Changes Sex, Marries Man In Miami

The former Charles Ernest McLeod of Dyersburg, Tenn., is now Mrs. Ralph H. Heidal, the Herald said in a copyrighted story.

The Herald said neither the pastor who performed the wedding ceremony nor the circle of friends Mrs. Heidal has made in Miami knew of her former identity.

"Well, I'll be a monkey's pa," the Herald quoted neighbor Helen Blackford. "She's beautiful, statuesque—you know, like a Ziegfeld girl."

The Rev. Dr. A. H. Stainback, who married the couple said "I wonder what the deacons will say."

Mrs. Heidal told the Herald "all I have done is to merely correct a mistake. It is a tragic social problem."

"My psyche has always been female. I always thought, felt and reacted like a woman."

The Herald quoted a Miami Beach bartender who dated the woman as Charlotte McLeod as saying when he learned of her past identity:

"That's not true. She's a real girl."

Old Fire Bell Now Tolls Curfew

WATKINS GLEN, N. Y. (UPI)—A new use has been found for the old fire bell atop the municipal building in Watkins Glen.

Its original purpose was to summon volunteer firemen. When a siren was installed, the bell was rung only for fire department meetings. Now, it tolls the curfew for village children 16 and under.

In a move to keep the youngsters closer to home, the trustees of Watkins Glen recently decided to reestablish a curfew ordinance that had been in effect years ago.

Owens Top Athlete

NEW YORK (UPI)—Jesse Owens, track star of the 1930's topped the polling Thursday that selected the best living athletes of the age to be honored at the first Bill Corum Memorial Dinner on Jan. 24, 1960. He drew 815 points. Heading the list in other sports were: Jack Dempsey, boxing; Ty Cobb, baseball; Bob Cousy, basketball; Don Budge, tennis; Bobby Jones, golf; Red Grange, football; Maurice Richard, hockey, and Eddie Arcaro, racing.

Singer Out-Wiggles Abbe Lane On Special

BY FRED DANZIG
Louis Jourdan, a Frenchman who has seen fit to discard most of his accent, presided over a lackluster NBC-TV special that originated from a hotel in Miami Beach Wednesday night.

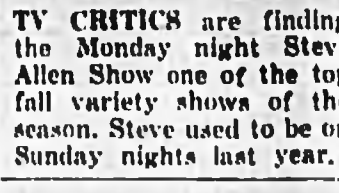

Confined to a badly-lit stage, fighting poor acoustics, the performers rushed through an hour that offered a bare minimum of freshness, style or entertainment. Robby Darin, a boy who has transposed Mussolini's balcony style to the pop singing field, wiggled through "Mack the Knife" for the umpteenth time and Abbe Lane also wiggled through her songs.

I think Darin out-wiggled her. Abbe was in good form, dressed-wise, but not voice-wise. Jane Morgan also sang. Jerry Lewis had an off-night as a comedian but was entertaining when dancing. Jourdan managed to smile and be pleasant through it all. Stout fellow.

The Channel Swim: Marlene Dietrich, besieged with TV offers through the years, has made up her mind. She'll start filming a one-hour color special, "Dietrich in Paris," Nov. 27. Orson Welles will produce the show in Paris for Bartell TV Productions. Negotiations now are in progress for a sponsor, network and air date.

NBC-TV plans to repeat Ingrid Bergman's "The Turn of the Screw" next spring. Bob Denver, who played "beatnik" Maynard Krebs on CBS-TV's "Dobie Gillis" series until drafted in real life, has been released from service and rejoins the Gillis crew any episode now. Jack Benny will be a special guest on George Gobel's Sunday, Dec. 20 CBS-TV half-hour. . . . Walter Slezak stars in "The Borrowed Christmas" by Ludwig Bemelmans, one of four parts in NBC-TV's Hallmark Hall of Fame special on Sunday, Dec. 13.

TV CRITICS are finding the Monday night Steve Allen Show one of the top fall variety shows of the season. Steve used to be on Sunday nights last year.

Army Navy Meet In TV Quiz Show

West Point cadets meet Annapolis midshipmen on the College Bowl Sunday, Nov. 22, the last of CBS-TV's quiz shows. This clash comes one day after their traditional gridiron game at Philadelphia.

NBC-TV's Project 20 takes over the Sunday Showcase hour on Jan. 31 for "Not So Long Ago," a film recreation of America at work and play during the years from 1945 to 1950. CBS Radio presents the fifth annual "Christmas Sing With Bing" on Dec. 21. Ethel Merman reports that 21 minutes of her one-hour NBC-TV special on Tuesday, Nov. 24, will be taken up by her 34 songs from Broadway shows. Frank Sinatra's guest roster for his ABC-TV special on Sunday, Dec. 13 now includes Ella Fitzgerald, Red Norvo and the III-Low. Dave King returns to his old summertime spot on NBC-TV Wednesday, Nov. 25 as a guest on the Perry Como Music Hall.

TV Important In Politics

RADNOR, Pa.—Nothing compares with television's impact on politics, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D., Mass.) believes. "The searching eye of the television camera scrutinizes the candidates—and the way they are picked," Kennedy explains in TV Guide. "Honesty, compassion, intelligence—the presence or lack of these and other qualities make up what is known as the candidate's 'image.' While this may be based only on a candidate's TV impression, my own conviction is that these images or impressions are likely to be uncannily correct. Thus it is within the power of the viewing public to perceive deception, to shut off gimmickry, to reward honesty. Without your approval, no politician can exist. That is the way it always has been—and should be."

Como Says TV Pace Is Murder

Amid the disquieting influences of TV-land, even Perry Como sometimes finds relaxing difficult. "It's murder," Como told TV magazine. "To survive, you got to be on the move all the time." Perry explained it this way: "We're working a six-day week in this barber shop, and we have all the chairs filled all the time. We work on three scripts at once. I was hoping to cut down a little after a while, but we can't do it. We're already worrying about what we're going to give them next summer." The whole idea seemed to lure TV's relaxed crooner and he slumped into a chair, putting his feet on his rather formidable desk. "But so what?" he said smilingly. "It's better than cutting hair, isn't it?"

Benny Says He's No Businessman

RADNOR, Pa.—Jack Benny is best known to TV viewers as a man who is a shrewd businessman and excessively sparing in his use of money. Off-camera, things just don't work that way, Benny told TV GUIDE magazine. "I'm a lousy businessman," Jack admitted. "I don't even know what they're talking about. If I can't trust my lawyer, I can't trust anybody." Benny also confessed that his TV character is an asset. "It costs me money to live down myself," he explained. "I have to tip double practically everywhere I go."

Goodman Ace, former writer for "The Perry Como Show," comments on Como: "Perry is really a fine little gentleman. He wouldn't do an insult joke if you tied him down and tortured him with feathers. And we never tried that."

'Get Even' Sunday Set For Pro Grid Squads

United Press International
This is "get even" Sunday in the National Football League. All six games match teams which have met before this season. Sweeping the home-and-home series with a rival during the season is one of the league's toughest tasks.

That means six coaches are "running scared" Sunday and five of them have teams in the thick of the division races.

Coach Red Hickey's San Francisco Forty-Niners, two games in front in the Western Division, provide a typical example of Sunday's setup in their clash with the Bears at Chicago. The Bears (3-4) seek revenge for a 20-17 defeat suffered last month at San Francisco. The oddsmakers figure they'll get it, tabbing the Forty-Niners (6-1) two-point underdogs.

Coach Weeb Ewbank's Baltimore Colts, defending league and Western Division champions, are close to San Francisco. The Colts (4-3) are 9 1/2 point favorites to down the Green Bay Packers (3-4) at Milwaukee. The Packers lost recently at Baltimore, 38-21.

Coach Jim Lee Howell's New York Giants (6-1) must whip the Pittsburgh Steelers (2-4-1) to assure themselves of maintaining their one-game lead over the Cleveland Browns (3-2) in the Eastern race. The Giants are 7 1/2 point choices to defeat the team they had to sweat to edge at Pittsburgh, 21-18.

Paul Brown's Cleveland club visits Washington and is favored over the Redskins (3-4) by 7 1/2 points. The Browns whipped the Redskins at Cleveland, 34-7, but Washington upset the Colts last week and may be tougher to handle this time.

Coach Turk Shaw's Eagles (4-3) are two games behind the Giants and entertain the Chicago Cardinals (2-5) at Philadelphia. The Eagles rallied for a 28-21 triumph over the Cardinals at Minneapolis and are four-point choices to down the Chicago club again.

It's the same story in the other game. The Los Angeles Rams (2-5) visit the Lions (1-5-1) and are 2 1/2 point choices to revenge the 17-7 defeat Detroit handed them in California.

Setting Fast Pace

United Press International
Wilt Chamberlain, averaging 40 points a game, may become the first point-a-minute player in National Basketball Association history.

The Philadelphia rookie, who has ripped apart the best defenses in the circuit, climber to a personal high of 55 points Thursday night as the Warriors defeated the Cincinnati Royals, 124-116.

Minozo Hurt

HAVANA (UPI) - Outfielder Minnie Minozo, a .302 hitter for the second-place Cleveland Indians last season, suffered a small fracture of the left wrist Thursday while playing in the Cuban Winter League.

Gatchel Is Appointed Clerk

County Commissioner David Gatchel is the new clerk of the Circuit Court and is expected to be on the job Tuesday.

Gatchel was appointed Saturday by Gov. LeRoy Collins to complete the term of retiring clerk O. P. Herndon. The commission met early today to approve Gatchel's bond and he flew to Tallahassee to receive his commission from the governor.

Appointment of Gatchel to the $10,000 a year clerk's post leaves a vacant seat on the county commission which also will have to be filled through an appointment by the governor.

Among the first duties of Gatchel in the clerk's office will be to appoint a chief deputy to replace E. L. Burdick, who also retired Nov. 6 at the same time Herndon announced that he would leave the office due to ill health.

Gatchel also has served on the Sanford City Commission and as mayor. He gave up the city commission seat to campaign for the county commission and was elected unopposed in the general election last November.

ST. MARYS, Ga. (UPI)—A skin diver recovered the body of G. S. Barnett Jr., of Orlando, Sunday from a roadside canal where his car crashed Saturday night. Barnett apparently died of drowning, authorities said.

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. LeRoy Collins worked at home today, following his discharge from a hospital Friday where he underwent treatment for an intestinal inflammation. Collins told newsmen he plans to return to the Capitol Tuesday for the weekly Cabinet meeting.

HILO, Hawaii (UPI)—A spectacular volcanic eruption in Kilauea Iki crater provided Hawaii today with its biggest tourist attraction in recent years. Lava was still flowing freely from the wall of Kilauea crater on the mountain of Maunaloa, forming a lake of red, glowing molten rock inside the crater.

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—The battle of the budget shifted today to the Augusta National Golf Club where President Eisenhower hoped to draw a virtually complete picture of military spending in the next fiscal year. The military budget conference with the high command of the Defense Department brought together Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy, Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, budget director Maurice H. Stans and advisors.

Playhouse Navy rehearsals for their forthcoming production "Hell, Book and Candle" are now in progress. The theater group will present this British comedy on Dec. 11 and 12 with tickets to go on sale next week.

All proceeds of the production will go to a local charity.

The Seminole County Council of Schools will meet Wednesday at 2:30 a. m. at the Geneva School.

Mrs. Sidney Ives III, will show a film on the Mental Health program. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Health Center Bids Coming Soon

The county has received final approval of the working drawings for the new health center at Ninth St. and French, and bids should be asked within 30 days. Commission Chairman John Krifer said today.

6 Area Clubs Face License Suspension

Six Central Florida Veterans and fraternal clubs including American Legion Post 53 of Sanford pleaded guilty Friday afternoon to possession of gambling equipment at an administration hearing conducted by the State Beverage Department.

Decisions on whether beverage licenses of the defendants will be suspended or revoked will be made after the proceedings are reviewed by Grant Peoples, beverage director.

Agents in the raid on the clubs in August confiscated slot machines, punch boards, bingo paraphernalia and other items.

The raids were part of a statewide investigation involving hundreds of clubs, agents said.

Entering guilty pleas were Elks Lodge 1072, Azalea Park Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4297 and Moose Lodge 766, all of Orlando; Legion Post 33 at Sanford; Legion Post 22 at Cocoa; and Elks Lodge 1873 at Kissimmee.

Applications for the position of postmaster at Casselberry are being accepted until Dec. 8, the U. S. Civil Service Commission in Washington has announced.

Casselberry Postal Official Job Open

Applications must take a written test for the $4,920 post. Donald Willson is acting postmaster.

Applications forms can be secured from the commission, care of U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, 25, D. C.

Space Officials To Check Bases

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Space Committee, headed by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, has started a series of on-the-spot surveys at military and civilian space installations.

Johnson ordered the committee staff last month to analyze President Eisenhower's plan for transferring the Army's team of experts at Huntsville, Ala., to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Four Are Identified As Orlando Residents

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A National Air Lines DC-7B carrying 42 persons on a midnight flight across the Gulf of Mexico crashed into the open waters early today, apparently killing all aboard.

Search planes reported a number of bodies, many clad in life preservers, floating in the area—about 120 miles east-southeast of New Orleans.

Debris and pathetically empty life rafts bobbed in the turbulent water.

Coast Guard and National Air Lines search planes reported not a sign of life.

The passenger list includes four identified as Orlando residents.

They were listed as R. Alexander, F. M. Page, J. H. Bickstaff and Renfro (no first name given).

The wreckage was found in an altitude of 14,000 feet. Then it suddenly dropped off the screen. Whether it plunged suddenly into the Gulf was not known.

The plane last was sighted on an Air Force radar screen at an altitude of 14,000 feet. Then it suddenly dropped off the screen.

Whether it plunged suddenly into the Gulf was not known.

Another burning question was why, if the passengers had time to don life jackets, the crew did not radio a distress signal.

If they had issued such a signal "we would have received it," an Air Force officer said.

The Coast Guard said there were "plenty of bodies, life preservers and life rafts" floating in the debris, scattered over about a half-mile radius of the windswept Gulf.

The plane was on the Tampa-New Orleans leg of a Miami-Los Angeles flight when it disappeared without a word of warning. It carried 36 passengers, five crew members and a man believed to be with the Federal Aeronautics Administration.

The plane crashed near the area where National Air Lines' last fatal accident early in 1953 killed 45 persons.

Fog enveloped much of the area at the time of the crash. For a time early today the fog seriously hampered search operations.

Planes took off "on gust alone," one Coast Guard spokesman said and surface vessels had to rely on radar.

'Old Reb' Is 117

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — Old Rebel Walter G. Williams celebrated his 117th birthday a day late Sunday by eating sparrows and cake while a band played "Dixie" and "Old Soldiers Never Die."

But Williams was so weak he could not get out of bed to greet the many friends and relatives who came to see him.

His daughter, Mrs. Willie Mae Bowles, with whom he lives, said he was excited by the celebration. He wore a new red flannel shirt and nibbled on a barbecued sparrow and a piece of cake.

On his 116th birthday last year, Williams told Ira Cox, manager of a band that serenaded him: "Come back next year. I'll be there."

Cox was there with his band Sunday, but Williams did not tell him that again.

He is barely able to talk. He is almost deaf and blind and has had pneumonia three times since June. Less than three weeks ago, he was thought to be dying, but his physician said he had completely recovered from the recent pneumonia attack.

Williams, the last surviving veteran of the Civil War, received separate telegrams from President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

New Blizzard Rages Across Western States

HELENA, Mont. (UPI) — The second raging blizzard in a week roared eastward today, leaving weather-battered Montana shivering under another blast of arctic air.

Cold wave warnings were issued for a band of states in the country's midsection, from the Dakotas to north Texas and New Mexico.

Hard-hit Montana, cleaning up after a fresh onslaught of snow, received the full force of the bitterly cold winds as readings of more than 35 degrees below zero were recorded.

The Weather Bureau said the mercury plunged to minus 26 degrees at Helena this morning, while it was 35 at Butte, 28 at Lewistown and 21 at Cut Bank.

High winds, clocked at gusts to 40 miles an hour, whipped snow into giant drifts that closed many rural roads in Montana and isolated several communities when the second blizzard howled out of Canada Sunday.

The new storm piled up more than eight inches of snow in this capital city, immobilized by a record 2 1/2 inch snowfall last week. Just as last week, stalled cars jammed the main street and pedestrians fought their way through waist high drifts.

High winds and freezing temperatures accompanied the blizzard as it moved into the Dakotas, Wyoming and Nebraska today.

Western Nebraska was buffeted by icy north winds gusting to 50 miles an hour.

The frigid air drove the thermometer from a high of 64 to zero in nine hours at Scottsbluff, Neb.
