

Lookouts Shake Jinx By Defeating Azaleas 7 To 3

Many Spectacular Plays Pulled By The Sanford Nine

Gainesville Now Only One Step Above Sanford In The Standings Column

Opponents Retired Twice With Bases Loaded On Walks

Pulling many spectacular plays and getting out of several tight places, the Lookouts finally beat the Azaleas 7 to 3, on Sunday afternoon. The game was witnessed by a large crowd and was one of the most interesting seen on the local field.

Overstreet, pitching for the Lookouts, walked the last two Azaleas who came to bat in the second and third innings, filling the bases in both cases. But each time he succeeded in striking out the last man, and the fans who had been fearing a flock of runs from those filled bases breathed easier.

Sanford's big inning, however, was the fifth when it scored four runs on two hits, to now for Palatka. One of those runs was made by catcher Emerson on a sacrifice fly. Emerson engaged in one of his repeated arguments with the umpire, but was ejected for his argument. It was in this inning that Stuff McCrone caught a fly ball, and the manager, who had put out the man running for base, and Barnes brought the fans to their feet again when he ran the bases with a home run. McCrone got two hits, one a two-run homer, and the other a single, and Clary, new shortstop, batted in one run and scored one.

Overstreet pitched the first seven innings, pulling out of several tight situations, especially in the second and third innings, but when the Azaleas were filled again in the eighth he was taken out and tied Swensen, new pitcher, sent in to finish the game.

Sanford's first inning was a walk, Zimmerville singles, Emerson and Mesole all strike out.

Five-Run Rally In Last Frame Fails To Defeat Saints

St. Augustine Outhit Saturday, But Not At The Right Time

Stuffy McCrone's Lookouts made a valiant last minute effort to save the day Saturday for Sanford, but they got the jump on the jinx one day ahead of the Lookouts and won both Saturday and Sunday, thereby putting the Gainesville club one step above Sanford in the standings.

The G-Men defeated the Azaleas (the club downed by Sanford yesterday), 4 to 2, in a game in Palatka on Saturday, and playing at home yesterday they defeated the Deland Reds, 19 to 6, Saturday's game was the first the Gainesville club had won in eight days.

Lefty Larson, Palatka pitcher, was credited with his second loss of the season in Saturday's game, although he allowed only two hits, the same number as in his previous outing. He was out of the game in the sixth when he walked and came home on Clary's long fly to left.

Clary Dean (above) won his fifth victory for Sanford yesterday in the Cardinals defeated the Phillies in Philadelphia, 10 to 5. He held the Phils to six hits and struck out two men.

Palatka Wins 19-6

ERE COCKCROW

How many a tawdry bargain have I struck . . . O Dear God, how many a sordid compromise has borne my seal, who had not will to pluck the bright plum from the shabby leaf. I have brought tribute to so cheap an art, and hung that purer image of Thy grace, which was most truly set upon the heart, with shoddy tinsel of the market place. Thinking thereof, I weep, for that which led the cock-crow, the one-willing flesh, and loss unswayed on a sleepless bed, and in the bitter darkness green as fresh, and gray, ere cockerow and the lighted pane, the Christ will turn and look on me again. Sanford Chamber of Commerce has been very successful in its efforts to secure the passage of the new tax bill. It has been very successful in its efforts to secure the passage of the new tax bill.

The great thing to be remembered is that the new tax bill is a very good one. It will help to pay for the war and will help to build up the country.

What Taxes Mean

We often hear people ask why certain things cost so much. They also seem to think that because they have to pay so much for what they buy, somebody must be making a mighty big profit. Yet nobody seems to be making very much money and everybody is complaining about hard times. Few of us can understand why it is that farmers, business men, and others (or any group to which we do not happen to belong personally) are not getting rich. There are many reasons, of course. But one of the main reasons is the high taxes which all businesses, farmers, and everybody else have to pay. We heard a man say the other day that if his taxes were no higher than they used to be twenty years ago, he would be making a nice profit on his own business. We believe almost anyone could say that. Most people find that they are working two or three days out of six for the government.

A recent bulletin from the American Iron and Steel Institute reveals that during the year of 1933, approximately $73,000,000 was paid in taxes by the steel industry of this country. Just what that means was further disclosed by the statement that if it had not been for these taxes the steel industry could have given employment to some 87,360 additional men. Or, it could have increased the pay of its present 547,112 employes by an average amount of $135 a year.

Further figures show just how the tax bill of the steel companies compare with their earnings. While paying out $73,000,000 in taxes, the steel industry was able to earn only $62,961,961, while actual dividends to 551,832 stockholders were only $88,936,401. In other words, if there had been no taxes the average dividend per stockholder might have been increased from $71 to $203. This was in 1933.

The discouraging part about high taxation is that it is not being reduced but is constantly getting higher. The figures on the steel industry indicate that its tax bill for 1934 was approximately 16 per cent greater than it was in 1933. And the prospects for next year and other years to come are that taxes will become ever and ever higher.

What is said here with respect to the steel industry is, unfortunately, true of every other industry to a greater or less extent. The railroads are not losing money solely because of bus and truck competition, but largely because so big a portion of their income has to be paid out for taxes. The same thing is true of many a small business venture, of the farming industry, and of practically every other line of work in which men engage.

The question which is puzzling most thinking people today is just how much longer the cost of government can continue to rise without bringing about a revolt against taxation on the part of the people.

Too Much Sitting

Conditions of life in the present day mechanized civilization have favored the development of diabetes to such an extent that, since the beginning of the century, this disease has risen from a minor cause of death in the United States to ninth place among the major diseases, according to statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. Simultaneously, tuberculosis, which at the turn of the century was the leading cause of death, has fallen until it now ranks seventh in the list of major diseases.

This trend of these two diseases will continue, the statisticians predict, and by the next decade diabetes may be expected to outrank tuberculosis as a cause of death. Already in the cities of this country, more white women die from diabetes than from tuberculosis. This is true also for 14 states, and in several other states the figures for the two diseases among white women are nearly alike.

The statisticians point out that, with older persons forming an ever increasing proportion of the population, further increases in the diabetes death rate may be expected. Combined with this circumstance is the fact that greater skill in diagnosing this disease tends to increase its recorded incidence. Future decreases in tuberculosis, on the other hand, are confidently expected to follow.

"Diabetes and other chronic diseases are certain to demand more and more attention from public health officials, as the average age of our population increases and the incidence of the acute diseases and of tuberculosis decreases," the statisticians comment. "The organizations which have been built up to combat tuberculosis may well extend their work to the study and control of other chronic diseases. Although these present their own peculiar problems, they have, from the point of view of control, many aspects in common with tuberculosis. It should be fairly easy to adapt the work of tuberculosis organizations to other fields."

"This idea has already taken hold in several parts of the country and should be encouraged everywhere. It is much better to use agencies which are well organized and efficiently manned than to create new ones, each working in a special small field, many of them with overlapping functions."

FLORIDA HIGHLIGHTS

The length of a WORKER BEE'S life is measured by wear and tear, rather than by the number of its days. So delicate in construction is its wonderful framework, that after six or seven weeks of strenuous toil, the little creature's labor is ended by a natural death. Favorable climatic conditions in Florida permit the worker bee to sustain a strong colony during the winter months, a feat quite impossible in colder climates. The crumbling walls of old BRADEN CASTLE near Bradenton, represent grim reminders of those anxious days following the great Seminole war, when the settlers were driven out of their Indian outbreaks. While not built for the purpose of a stockade, Braden Castle was designed to withstand Indian attacks and was impregnable to such rifle defenses. Here it was that the citizens gathered for protection when the outbreak demanded. The old building remained in fairly good condition until 1908, at which time it was badly damaged by fire.

Political Field Marshals' Troubles Grow As They Seek Party Harmony

By ALEXANDER S. GEORGE. WASHINGTON, May 19.—(AP)—Field Marshals Henry F. Fletcher and James A. Farley are rallying their forces in an effort to bring about party harmony during the Republican and Democratic national conventions in June and the campaign to follow. Farley, the Democratic national chairman, criticized the leadership of the political situation in every county in the nation, is willing to run up counterbalancing delegates support for President Hoover's re-election at the Philadelphia convention. He hopes thousands of party workers by their first names. Republican Chairman Fletcher, who took over the shattered Republican from two years ago and now leads a formidable G. O. P. platform, is working strenuously to win all elements of the party into a harmonious unit. One of Mr. Fletcher's big worries concerns a possible split in the Cleveland convention. This might lead to a serious split in Republican ranks. The backbone of Senator Borah and some of his lieutenants that the old leadership be turned out and "more liberal leaders" be installed to present a definite challenge to the chairman's platform. "Gaining the" always crowded by opponents, has his greatest foe. Besides the threat of Alfred E. Smith to "take a walk" and the defection of John W. Club Will Present "Comedy Of Errors"

The Literature Department of the Women's Club will present Shakespeare's "Comedy of Errors" Thursday evening at 8:00 o'clock at the club house on Oak Avenue with Mrs. W. E. Kirchhoff, creator of dramatics, in charge. The public is cordially invited to attend. No admission will be charged.
"The Comedy of Errors," which is an adaptation of its same titles, was written by Shakespeare in 1594 during the Elizabethan period. It is a five acts but only two will be given here Thursday evening.
In the first act the scene opens in a hall in the Duke's Palace where the Duke, Aegeon, and his wife are present. Solinus is the Duke of Ephesus who seeks to procure the fall of Aegeon, a merchant of Syracuse. The end of the scene shows the father obeying orders at the demand of the Duke to take Aegeon in his custody.

The second scene is laid in the street with Antipholus of Syracuse, Dromio of Syracuse, a son of Aegeon, and the first merchant in attendance. The conversation of the first merchant and Antipholus ends at the handing over of the bag of gold by the Merchant of Antipholus. Another Dromio, brother of Dromio who is mistaken by Antipholus for Dromio of Syracuse. Here the puzzle and the fun start over the money between Antipholus and the wrong Dromio.

The third scene is set in the Duke's Palace and a resumption of Act Two will be given in a later edition of The Herald.

MEXICO CITY, May 19.—(AP)—The strike of 48,000 employees of the Great Mexican National Railways collapsed today under resolute counteraction from President Lazaro Cardena's administration. Strike leaders ordered workers who walked out yesterday back at their posts at noon today after the government declared the strike unjustified.
Employees hired by the month had demanded extra pay for days off such as is given workers paid by the day. This would have meant a 16 percent pay increase.

Grand Jury Will Probe Visit Of Karpis To Miami

MIAMI, May 19.—(AP)—Alvin Karpis' visit to Miami last February was expected to be reviewed before a federal grand jury impaneled here for the purpose of learning whether the captured gangster had accomplices during his stay.
Information on his South Florida activities probably will be submitted by federal agents who have been investigating to determine whether persons who assisted the kidnap gang leader in Miami knew his identity.
Two Miamians, Joseph H. Adams, hotel manager, and Henry Stern, dog track employee, were indicted on charges of concealing and harboring Karpis following his previous visit to Miami. A date has not been set for their trial.

A negro, John Rhome of Pompano, was one of the 23 persons selected for the grand jury. It was believed to be the first time a negro had ever been chosen as a federal juror in the Miami division.

W. L. Harris of West Palm Beach was named chairman of the jury which was qualified by Federal Judge Alexander Akerman of Tampa to consider cases from the Tampa, Jacksonville, Orlando and Miami divisions.

The cases will be presented by the jury by John W. Holland, federal district attorney of Jacksonville, and Joseph S. Gillen, assistant district attorney of Tampa.

A Business Man Wanted

You can't fool J. J. Cates when it comes to business. He is the man we need for County Commissioner from District 2.
(Paid Political Advertisement)

BULLETINS FOR BRIDES

Unless this year is very different from other years, grocers' sales of rice will pick up during the next six weeks. Church organists will suffer occupational fatigue. Tin cans will rattle behind dignified automobiles. And a great many young couples, emerging starry-eyed from the middle aisle, will face Life together and find it full of New Problems.

They have so many things to buy, so much shopping to do, so many choices to make. Furniture, silverware, rugs and blankets... towels and toasters... soap and soup and cereals.

Fortunately, for them, they go forth, budget in hand, into a world of standard values, recognized trade-marks, dependable merchandise. Familiar names, advertised names, will pass their lips naturally as they buy. They will read the advertisements more than ever now—selecting, rejecting, budgeting, buying with a minimum of wasted effort and a definite assurance of value received.

The pages of this paper are full of bulletins for brides, news of the world of goods and services, short cuts to efficient housekeeping. Whether you're a 1936 bride or a 1906 bride, make it a habit to read the advertisements regularly. For the sake of time, economy and convenience, be familiar with standard values when you start out to shop.

By Ex-Judge Ritter

MIAMI, May 19--(AP)—Halsted L. Ritter, ousted but defiant federal district judge, today said "actions speak louder than words—the next step will be action."
His statement came during his now routine morning call to the judicial suits which he has refused to vacate in the Miami federal building. Ritter said he had "nothing" to add to his promise of "action."
Ritter, who claims his conviction by the Senate on a House impeachment charge was unconstitutional, was expected to bring this week in the federal court of claims a petition for back salary.
Through the salary claim he would attack the Senate's action. Ritter exchanged friendly greetings yesterday with Judge Alexander Akerman, here from Tampa to conduct trials in the Miami court.

Baseball Case Goes To Judge Branham's Court

Lookouts Refuse Payment Of $200 For Pitcher Lake

Correspondence File Sent Clear Who Will Decide Whole Issue

The Buddy Lake case goes to the baseball court. Albany, N. Y., demands payment; Sanford, Fla., refuses to pay. Judge Branham, of Durham, N. C., who holds the same position in the minor leagues as is held in the major leagues by Judge Konesaw Mountain Landis, will decide the whole issue.

Directors of the Sanford Baseball Association claim that Lake's pitching arm was not in shape when he was sold to the Lookouts by Albany, and that the president of the Albany club knew it and had known it ever since early in the training season when the pitcher strained it by over-work on the field. They claim that Albany tried to sell Lake to other clubs in the Florida State League and indeed Sanford is buying him when advised by Albany that Lake wanted to come home to Sanford. This was denied by Lake, the directors assert.

A mass of correspondence, both letters and telegrams, have been forwarded to Judge Branham by G. W. Spencer, who is handling the case for the Baseball Association.

Sanford agreed to buy Lake and trade First Baseman McNally for Lake. McNally was released, but no money was paid for the pitcher. Lake was last week released by the Lookouts back to the Albany club of the International League.

First Run-Off In Lions League Is A Pirate Victory

Seminoles Defeated By 12 To 7 Score Monday Afternoon

The Pirates last evening won the first "world series" preliminary in the Lions League, when they defeated the Seminolas, 12 to 7. As a result of their victory, the Pirates will play the Yankees in the second preliminary at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Glenn Cochran was the winning pitcher and lured a good brand of ball through the seven innings. Jack Willis caught for the Pirates.

The Seminolas used two pitchers, Bernard Collins for the first four innings and then Billy Brannan the last three.

Brannan caught while Collins was pitching, and then while Billy was put in the box Roland Floyd caught.

Score by innings:
Pirates 1 4 2 2 0 1 2-12

Luck Is Said To Have Been Brought Stuff By Rubbing Ki-ty Head Of Small Darky

Hall players for years have labored under the belief that the rubbing of a darky's kinky head brings them luck in the form of base hits. Manager Stuffy McCrory of Sanford was converted to the idea several years ago, so if the Lookout skipper adopts himself one of those ebony black "midnight kids" this season, fans can charge it up to baseball superstition and let it go at that.

It all happened when Stuffy was playing with Wilmington of the Piedmont League. He was in the throes of a pitiful slump. Fielders were rubbing him of base hits and everything he did was wrong. Spying a pickaninny perched up in a pine tree outside the park one day, Stuffy decided to try the old remedy. After some persuasion he succeeded in getting the boy off his perch and into the ball park.

"What position do you play?" he asked the black Sambo.

"Fur' base," was the reply.

That settled the matter with First Baseman McCrory, and right then and there began a beautiful friendship.

Stuffy shook hands with the pickaninny, rubbed his woolly

Cherokees' Losing Streak Continues As Bulldogs Win

13 Men On Each Side Fan, Winning Club Makes 3 Errors

Errors cost the Cherokees another Legion Junior League game Monday afternoon and the Bulldogs won, 9 to 2. The Cherokees made three bingles to none for the winning team.

Robert Stoinoff, third baseman for the Bulldogs, drove in four of the nine scores when he hit two-baggers two times at bat.

Red Williams pitched for the Bulldogs and struck out 13 men. The same number of Bulldogs fanned the air, but they were struck out by two Cherokee pitchers—Lance Hayes and Earl Higgins. Arthur Beckwith caught the entire game for the Cherokees, while the Bulldogs used both Webber Welborn and Harry Grimbald behind the bat.

The Reds and the Panthers play at 5 o'clock this afternoon, and the Cardinals and Senators will play tomorrow afternoon. The games are played on the

Gators Agree To 2-Year Contract With Temple U

Intersectional Game In East Scheduled For Fall Of 1937

GAINESVILLE, May 19.—The first official announcement of Josh Cody Flori's new athletic director, came last night in the form of a two-year football contract with Temple University. Cody said that the first game was to be played in Philadelphia Oct. 8, 1937, with a return game in Gainesville Dec. 3, 1938.

The agreement with Temple gives Florida a prominent intersectional game in the East for its 1937 schedule. This is the first time Temple has ever been scheduled and it will be the first appearance of the University of Florida football team in Philadelphia.

Since Pop Warner, one of the game's most celebrated coaches, left Stanford to direct the gridiron team at Temple, the Philadelphia institution, has assumed top ranking in football.

This will be Flori's first football trip out of the South since 1931, when the Gators traveled to Los Angeles to meet U. C. L. A.

And it will be the second invasion of the East for the Gators since 1929, when they went to Boston to drop a heart-breaking 14 to 0 decision to Harvard. They also played at Syracuse in 1931.

Their only intersectional win on foreign ground came in 1930, when they trounced Chicago, 19 to 0, with Red Bethea leading the way.

Honorary Captain Of Tennis Team Chosen

GAINESVILLE, May 19.—Jan P. Sim, West Palm Beach, is the honorary captain of the 1936 University of Florida tennis team. One of the most consistent players on the varsity for the past three years, Sim was the choice of his teammates at a dinner given in his honor.

The Gator tennis team lost only one match during the 1936 season and that to Georgia Tech in the last encounter on the schedule.

Extra Bleachers To Be Built For Thursday's Game

Tremendous Crowd Is Expected When Car Is Given Away

Arrangements have been made to transport the bleachers from the DeLand baseball field to Sanford Field for the big Thursday half-holiday game between the Sanford Lookouts and the Gainesville G-Men. As the new Ford car bought by the Red Star merchants is to be given away at that game a tremendous crowd is expected. Directors of the Baseball Association state that seats will be provided for about 3,000 fans.

Thursday's game will be called at 3 o'clock, and the reading of the 160,000 coupons will probably begin at that hour, as it may take an hour or two, the directors said, to read them.

Persons desiring to see the game are advised to go early. There will be only one price for tickets—40 cents for adults, children and negroes.

King Corn May Be Helped By Test Tubes In Keeping Title

By DILLARD STOKES
UTICA, Ind., May 19.—(AP)—The world's "corn king" who won't eat corn on the cob and likes cornbread only in moderation, is endeavoring to retain the title he won last year at the Chicago Livestock Exposition.

William Carr Lentz, the 35-year-old "King," has established a two-acre "laboratory" on his 303-acre farm. The rich land has been planted with his own strain of white corn, two varieties of yellow maize, and twelve hybrid strains obtained from the laboratories of Purdue University. The two-acre experimental plot is in addition to 60 acres of land dedicated to growing Lentz's regular crop, which he hopes will total 2,000,000 ears. This harvest will be combed for the ten best ears which will be entered in the Chicago exhibition next fall. The "corn king" is pushing his experiments in test tubes as well as furrows. Since January he has been testing his soil with his own equipment designed for the job. Lentz's only child, Thomas Carr, 6 years old, whose ambition is to become "a corn king just like my daddy," is an ardent assistant soil tester.

Lentz made it clear that he is not an amateur farmer, tilling the soil for pastime, but a business man, who works his own land, with the assistance of hired men. While not college trained, he keeps closely in touch with agricultural experiment work at Purdue and is an exponent of modern methods. Tractors drag his plows, harrows and his grass cutter. Most of his agricultural machinery is motor driven.

Before his corn is planted Lentz tests for germinative quality. Kernels are wrapped in wet paper and kept warm for about a week. If the corn is good the kernels sprout. If not, they rot. Lentz rotates his crops, tends a score of dairy cattle, 100 hogs, 75 sheep, several hundred chickens and believes in purebred stock. Although his chief business success has been with corn—he won the Indiana state championship back in 1929—Lentz doesn't care for it as food. "I don't like it," he said. "I like cornbread once in a while but not often. And I won't eat corn on the cob."

Lentz plans to exhibit the ten ears which won him his championship once or twice a year. Next year he expects to test it and plant it.

Revamping Of Aim Of The League Of Nations Possible

Ethiopian Conquest Has Brought Court To The Crossroads

By JOSEPH E. SHARKEY
GENEVA, May 19.—(AP)—"Stock taking" days are upon the League of Nations and the calling of strong points against weaknesses of past successes against present failures, admitted by reveal needs for revisions of policy, for substitutions in the line of goals offered over the international counter.

Here at the seat of the organization which Woodrow Wilson evolved as a means of accomplishing his ideals of "self-determination of peoples" and the perpetuation of international peace, there is no thought of abandonment of the field.

Fortified by Anthony Eden's pronouncement in the British house of commons that "the League must go on," advocates of the Geneva organization feel that out of the present muddle there will emerge a modified "modus vivendi" which in the end will strengthen the position of the organization as an essential foundation for the maintenance of world peace.

These advocates of the League, who are scattered by the winds of politics in all lands, admit that it is an imperfect organization, but maintain that its failures in some of the major political problems of the world have been permitted to overshadow the fact that it has brought something new and valuable into international relations.

It has, they say, established the idea of international collaboration, something which scarcely existed in pre-League days, and has created practical organisms for the working out of this collaboration. These include the annual assembly, the quarterly meetings of the council, a permanent League secretariat and a labyrinth of standing committees which concern themselves with virtually every field of international moment.

The sessions at Geneva give opportunity for frank interchange of political ideas through personal contacts. The committee activities attract experts on every field of human endeavor from all sections of the civilized world.

These aspects of the League, it is argued, should not be lost sight in the fogs that rise from strictly political problems, for in achieved results that have contributed materially to human welfare. It has fought against narcotics, especially opium. It has improved public health, especially of backward peoples. It has found homes for unhappy refugees.

It has furnished technical and financial aid to countries like Austria, Hungary, Bulgaria, Greece and China and has floated $100,000,000 of reconstruction loans.

The League, says its advocates, has made detached national movements of amelioration bigger by giving them the scope and strength which come from international collaboration.

Sweden Devises Buoy Telephone For Submarine

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, May 19.—(AP)—A submarine buoy telephone, by which a sunken craft can communicate with rescuers, has been devised by the Swedish navy.

An ordinary telephone instrument is released in a buoy that can be released to rise to the surface when a submarine is sunk by accident. The buoy, carrying telephone wires from the submarine, is equipped with a flashlight to attract attention on the water.

Another communications novelty is the "laryngophone," which receives sound impulses from the larynx of the speaker, and hence is not affected by nearby noises.

It is designed for use in such places and engine rooms and airplanes where there is so much noise that the speaker's voice would be drowned in an ordinary telephone.

Democrats Seek Vainly For Texas Donkey Mascots

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., May 19.—(AP)—This border country, once so well populated with donkeys that certain sections were named for the animals, finds itself donkeyless in a line of need.

A. Porter, representative of the Women's Press Association of Washington, D. C., left here recently in disgust after searching the prairies for a dozen donkeys for the Democratic convention at Philadelphia this summer.

One section near Brownsville was termed "donkey prairie," because donkeys roamed wild over the lands.

Many of the animals were shot and cowboys drove others across the Rio Grande for sale in Mexico.

Big Top Pole Falls And Girl Is Killed

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Betty Lee Handbusch, 13, Shenandoah, Va., was killed yesterday when a pole in the "big tent" of Ringling Brothers-Barnum & Bailey circus toppled on her during a furious wind and electrical storm.

At least two others in the matinee crowd of 15,000 were hurt in the panic that resulted when the big tent began swaying in a 40-mile per hour wind.

Ten thousand, mostly women and children, raced for exits as the storm ripped a hole in the big tent's top. Dozens of roustabouts rushed to steady secondary tent poles. The circus band moved into the tent's center and began playing peppy music which soon calmed the crowd.

While the band was calming the circus patrons, animal trainers rushed 42 elephants, made nervous by the constant blasts of thunder, out into the rain. They were then quieted.

County Board Votes Pension For The Aged

Payment Contingent On Each County In State Appropriating Required Fund

$12 A Month To Persons Over 70

Money Taken Out Of Race Track Funds. Tax Not Increased

County Commissioners meeting in special session today voted to appropriate funds for paying Seminole County's share of pensions to persons residing in this section who are above the age of 70 years and are on relief rolls.

Members of the board, however, said they wished it made plain that the voting of the appropriation does not guarantee that pension payments will, as made, beginning next July, as under federal provisions every county in the state must appropriate funds, and if one county fails to do so, then the whole plan will fail.

The old age pension plan contemplates the payment of $12 per month to persons over the age of 70 years and who are on relief rolls.

The pensions will be dispensed by the State Welfare Board. All the commissioners of the various counties do it to appropriate the funds.

Kiwanians Told By Rev. Fr. Kellaghan Of Life In Europe

Kellaghan, pastor of the All Soul's Catholic Church, in a short talk before the Kiwanis Club today when he was asked by the program committee to discuss conditions in various European countries while he lived there.

"I am sure," the Rev. Kellaghan continued, "that after living in Italy, France, Germany or other nations of Europe one will gladly assert that America is the best country in the world."

Dr. E. D. Caswell discussed plans for the inter-city entertainment to take place at Sand Lake Springs on the first Thursday following the election.

Congressional Candidates Differ On Proposed Canal And Townsend Pension Plan

Majority Favor Both The Big Ditch And Aid To Aged People

The Cross-State Canal and the Townsend Pension Plan were put forth as leading issues in the present campaign by most of the six congressional candidates who addressed a large audience in the Court House last night.

Most of the speakers said they favored both the canal and old age pensions, though two were doubtful as to whether the Townsend Plan will bring about the benefits promised for it.

With only two exceptions, every speaker went beyond his time limit and it was 10:30 before the last congressional candidate spoke.

J. J. Dickinson of Orlando was the first congressional candidate to speak. He said it is conceded by all that something must be done for the aged, but he was not committed to any plan.

Royal C. Dunn of Astatula declared that he is a "strong supporter of the Townsend Plan" because it would put a large amount of money in circulation and place the aged instead of younger persons on the lists of unemployed.

Mr. Dunn declared that while the government was not originally intended to be a Santa Claus, "many people now feel that the government owes them a living, that it gets money from the trees and that it is the duty of the congressmen to get it from the government."

New Faces Are To Be Seen In Next Assembly

48 Not Seeking Re-election And Most Of The Others Are Having Opposition

TALLAHASSEE, May 20.—(AP)—The new governor of Florida will find a lot of new faces in the Legislature when he goes before the Senate and House in joint session next April to report the condition of the state.

Forty-eight members of the 1935 House of Representatives are not seeking re-election and most of the other 47 who hope to come back are facing opposition in the election.

The "turn-over" is not unusual. Generally, there are about 55 new men in the House membership of 98, and about 10 new senators. Senators are elected for four-year terms and only half the membership's terms expire this year.

Half a dozen members of the last Legislature are seeking election to the Senate this year, while some other representatives and senators are seeking other offices.

Missing in the 1937 Legislature will be the "clean" of the House in point of service, I. N. Kennedy, of Lake county, who served in six consecutive sessions.

The veteran A. O. (Abe) Kanter of Stuart, only representative Martin county has had since it was created in 1925, also will be missing from the House.

The House's silver-tongued orator, S. P. (Pet) Robinson of Dade, who served in four sessions, also is among those not seeking re-election.

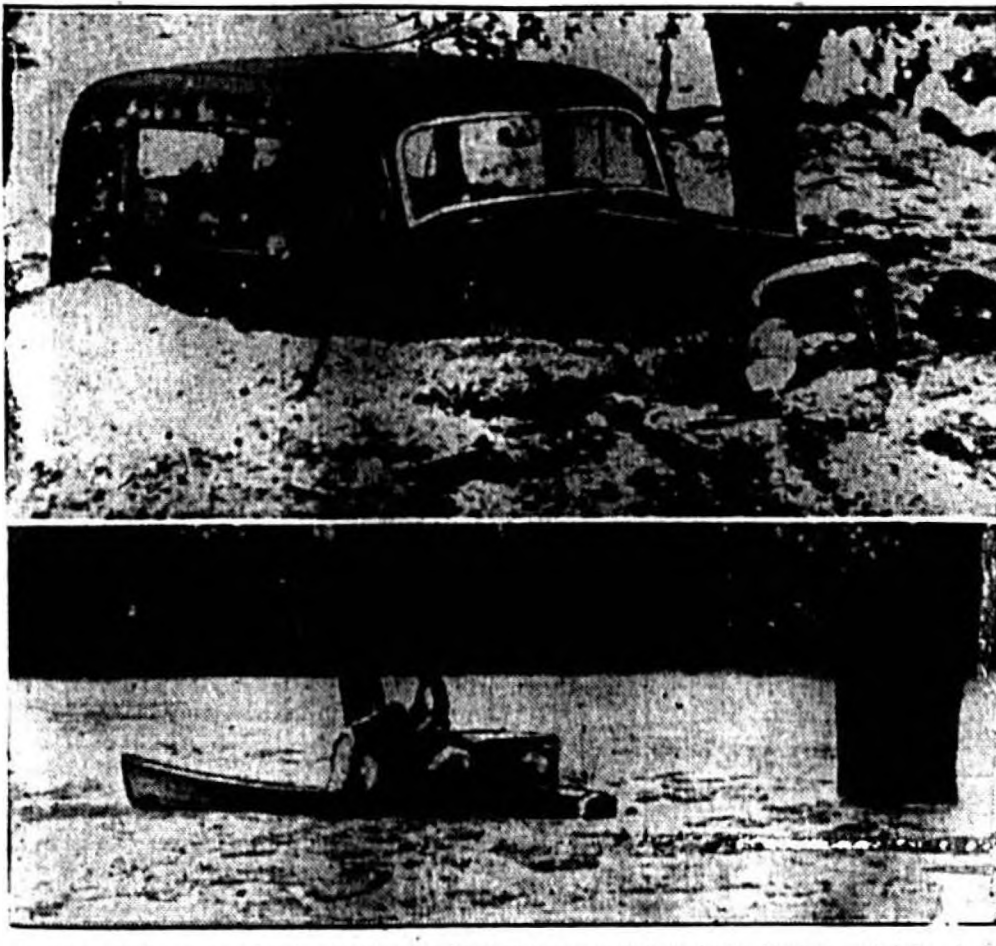

Entirely new delegates will come from three of the five counties which have three representatives each. They are Dade, Hillsborough and Pinellas, whose 1935 delegations are not asking re-election.

Right Of Cities To Borrow Funds Argued In Court

Both Sides Of Question Presented By Corps Of Lawyers

TALLAHASSEE, May 20.—(AP)—Two dozen lawyers appeared before the Supreme Court today to discuss whether Florida cities may borrow money from the Public Works Administration without first getting an approving vote of property owners.

The major question presented is whether municipalities and other political subdivisions may issue "revenue certificates" pledging collection from operation of utilities without first submitting the proposal to the freeholders in a bond election.

Each case is an appeal from the lower courts which held revenue certificates could be issued without approval by freeholders.

In each instance, the city proposes to construct some type of public service project. It would make charges for the service rendered to users, and these collections would be allocated to repaying the money borrowed from the WPA to construct the projects.

Donnell Wants Early Primary To Nominate Candidates To Succeed Trammell

Proposes Meeting For Next Monday

Wilkinson Receives Wires From Hodges And Vice Chairman

(By The Associated Press) Led by Vice-Chairman E. B. Donnell of the State Democratic Executive Committee, proponents of an early vote for a successor to the late Senator Park Trammell today began a movement to have the committee meet in Jacksonville next Monday to discuss holding the primary on June 23.

Donnell at West Palm Beach said he had polled 67 committee members, and at noon today had received 30 replies showing the ratio so far four to one in favor of holding a primary earlier than the September date suggested by Chairman J. B. Hodges.

Some observers questioned whether Donnell has authority to call a meeting of the State Committee. Hodges could not be immediately reached for comment.

Followers of the Townsend movement entered the picture today by suggesting the appointment and election of Nathan J. Roberts, of Jacksonville, district Townsend manager, as senator. Roberts said he had been urged to get in the race, but was undecided as yet.
