Army To Ask For $1 Million And Half To Insure Defense

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(UPI)—The army is prepared to ask Congress next January for $1,000,000 as its share of a long-term $10,000,000 defense expansion program to insure the western hemisphere from Nazi authorities. Administration sources have indicated the tentative plan, which will receive the approval of the military organization leaders, calls for an initial protective force of 600,000 men—largest in this nation's peacetime history—instead of the present maximum of 200,000 in the regular army and 400,000 in the national guard. Under the plan congress would be asked for between $750,000,000 and $850,000,000 during the 1941 fiscal year. Additional funds would be asked in subsequent years.

The naval and army expansion programs are designed to procure only negligible resistance in war, but probably will touch substantial debate on government fiscal policies.

Thus far, administration feels toward lifting the $45,000,000 statutory ceiling on the national debt have been rejected by a Republican and Democratic committee.

Both committees are fighting to retain the ceiling.

With the national debt standing today at $41,160,071,400 and additional expenses of $20,000,000 loaning on a near-currency basis the debt limitation may be lifted or additional revenue created to end deficit financing in the event of most fiscal difficulties.

President Roosevelt was reported yesterday to have recently agreed to a Democratic proposal to increase the national debt limit by $100,000,000.

Other expansion proposals include $100,000,000 to be expended in machine supplies, equipment, and materials.

Several hundred million dollars more are to be spent in the construction of new airports, other military facilities, and

New Evidence Of Disaster At Sea Found

Vero Beach Residents Find Wreckage And Note From Steamship Cripple Creek

Oil Drums Found Near Titusville

6,320 Ton Freighter Sailed For Liverpool On Nov. 1

VERO BEACH. Nov. 13.—(AP)—Additional evidence of a sea disaster was reported by waterfront residents today who said they have found bits of wreckage, an oil slick and a note in a tobacco tin washed ashore on the ocean beach south of Sebastian inlet.

Nearly 1,000 gallons of oil in drums, and six 5-gallon tins of lard were discovered on the beach near Titusville yesterday. A six-mile oil slick, wreckage, and a lifeboat were washed ashore near Jupiter, and Hobe Sound about two weeks ago.

John and George Martin said they found 500 yards of the beach at Sebastian inlet had been soaked four inches deep in crude oil. Charles Gifford came upon a badly damaged chest which apparently had contained flares and other signal equipment. A short distance away, they found a tube containing the ship's distress signal outfit.

Eakin also reported that he found a metal tobacco box in which there was a note identifying the writer, a sailor named Olsen aboard the steamship Cripple Creek, sailed from England for New York City Oct. 19.

The Lloyd's register lists the Cripple Creek as a 6,320 ton freighter operated by Lykes Brothers-Plymouth Steamship Company of New Orleans, and Tampa. The Company's office in Tampa sold the Cripple Creek sailing from New Orleans for Liverpool Nov. 1.

The Coast Guard Division headquarters in Jacksonville had received no report of the oil and lard found at Titusville or of the oil, the wreckage and the note found near here.

Florida Expects Biggest Tourist Invasion In Years

MIAMI, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Certain this time it has found the corner around which prosperity has turned these 10 years, Florida's climate and optimism are causing competing preparations yesterday for what is expected to be a half-billion dollar winter tourist season.

If expectations are achieved, it will be the greatest gayest season Miami has had since the boom days.

The generally improved business picture in the nation and the interruption of travel to Europe which usually attracts 200,000 Americans at this time of year, plus a result of the way are expected to bring 2,500,000 visitors to Florida to escape the north's winter rigors.

Harold Cole, president of the state chamber of commerce, and Hotel Commissioner W. M. Taylor both have predicted a record season.

Travel into the state by plane, train and bus and automobile already is reported 25 percent above a year ago at this time. There is abundant other evidence. Increases have been noted in telephone company listings, never consumers and even in garage collections.

The prospect of record tourist through this winter has been reflected sharply in the building trades, banking, business and industrial activities.

Now comes the time to accomplish the most important task. It is equal to "the greatest fight."

Tropical sunshines and moderate winter temperatures are Florida's chief attractions, but an extensive variety of amusements, aimed at the tourist who comes by trailer as well as those who come by air, as well as those who come by car, are the chief assets of the state.

Florida's gay resort towns, the full range of its natural beauty, the great variety of outdoor sports, the unique and the many other features of the state are the chief assets of the state.

COAST DEFENSE SCORES A HIT

Earthquake Is Registered On Pacific Coast

Survey Shows Minor Damages Recorded; Quick Check Indicates None Injured

SEATTLE. Nov. 13.—(AP)—An earthquake described by University of Washington geologists as the heaviest in their seismograph's records rocked large areas of the Pacific Northwest shortly before midnight. The seismograph registered the shock at 11:08 P. M. (2:08 A. M. Monday, E. S. T.)

Officials and businessmen of Portland, Tacoma, Seattle, Vancouver, B. C. and other cities surveyed damage from the shake which lasted about a minute. The damage, however, was not expected to be serious, consisting mostly of cracked walls, broken water mains, and pavements.

A check of state and other officials indicated none was injured.

In all parts of Seattle residents rushed into the streets in night attire and many spent the remainder of the night at auto camps.

A corner of a section of the National Bank of Washington at Tacoma, weighing about 250 pounds, crashed six floors to an ally.

Some plaster damage was reported at the state capital at Olympia. N. M. Brock, Capitol watchman, said it felt as though the whole building were jumping up and down.

A high tension wire fell in the Tacoma tideflat, causing a flash over several miles despite a heavy fog. It started a fire in a lumber company shed but was quickly extinguished.

5,000 Persons Get Free Fish Armistice Day

Mrs. Washington Burns To Death In Longwood Home

Event Is Proclaimed Most Successful Event Held In Sanford

Mrs. Mabelle Roebuck Washington, about 60, and former actress of the stage a quarter of a century ago, was believed to have burned to death when a fire of undetermined origin destroyed her two-story home in Longwood Saturday night about 11:00 o'clock.

Flamer had enveloped the beautiful frame home "when the blaze was first sighted by Charles Jenkins of Sanford who aroused the care-taker, Alfred Gray, negro, and his wife.

No outcry of any kind was heard from the building after neighbors arrived at the scene and all that was found of Mrs. Washington was the heart, and portions of the lower limbs, Sheriff C. M. Hand reported.

Thousands lined both sides of the streets along one of the parades which was more than a mile in length, visited the Band Shell for the Armistice Day services and then were served free fish and coffee at the football field.

Chairman Guy Schmitz of the fish fry committee reported that there were 3,000 pounds of fish prepared and that there still wasn't enough to go around." It was the original plan to serve each guest a pound of fish but because of the large number who attended the affair the servings were reduced since there were no more fish in town to be purchased.

Both City and County officials joined in proclaiming the affair one of the most successful ever staged here, and expressed hopes that the event would be made an annual one.

A record crowd watched the horsemen vie for honor in the racing events and tournament on the lake front in front of the Amerson in the afternoon and the committee in charge of the affair, C. M. Hand and John G. Leonard, reported that Herman Long, Charles Merriweather, Jr., Ed Cameron, Jr. and Henry Wright were winners of the $50 in cash prizes which were offered.

The Armistice Day Ball, under the auspices of the American Legion Auxiliary, was also a "big success" according to reports of the auxiliary members.

William Epperson Dies At Age Of 84

WALTER H. VARN, 34, an employee of Chase and Company of Sanford died at his home in Oviedo Saturday morning.

Mr. Varn was well-known throughout Seminole and Orange counties, having been a vegetable and fruit buyer for the past seven years.

He was survived by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Varn, and one brother, Jack, and three nieces, Alice and Jean McGowen of Oviedo and J. M. McGowen of Hampton, Fla. and two sons, Mrs. G. L. Jones of Melrose, Fla. and Sarah McGowen of Brooksville.

British, French Purchases Swell American Sales

NEW YORK. Nov. 13.—(AP)—An estimated 5,000 persons were at the free fish fry on Armistice Day, officials of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce said today in proclaiming the event one of the most successful affairs of its kind ever held in Sanford.

The merchants, too, reported increased patronage during the day from the many people residing in outlying sections of the County who visited here.

Thousands lined both sides of the streets along one of the parades which was more than a mile in length, visited the Band Shell for the Armistice Day services and then were served free fish and coffee at the football field.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

A PICH LIFE EXPRESSES ITSELF ALWAYS: My heart was hot within me; while I was musing the fire burned; then spake I with my tongue.—Psalm 39:3.

* A GOOD INVESTMENT

I am bankrupt buying suet—
Neighbors say that I will rue it.
But Mrs. Blodget and her mate came from the garden—
I have a slave and we've to purchase seed
For all the birds that come to feed.

Each morning at our windowills:
They come from swamp and near-by hill
From fields of ice and forest shade,
To claim our bounty, up-a-paid.

Tree sparrows, fresh from Arctic days,
Will sing in bushes in dulcet tones;
Nestled in black-capped chickadee

Wage feathered battle, endlessly, Though I am bankrupt buying seed.

And flower seeds—I do not rue it.
For a lady, prone to roam,
Now entertains the world at home:
She sings at work and winter—
Whistles notes of woodland song.

HARRY ELMORE HURD

* THEY SHALL FEAST

I have a pocket full of nuts,
A sack of crumbled breads,
A piece of sugar, fine and white,
So many to be fed.
I have a little bag of seeds
And half a shock of grain,
No hungry eyes shall look to me,
And make their plea in vain.
The weather suddenly grows cold,
The papers warn of snow,
And that is why I take a walk Down paths the pleasure know.

A squirrel chatters on a limb,
A rabbit whisks away,—
I'm glad I have enough for all,
And they shall feast today.

What some of these little Bal-can and Balkan countries need is a fellow like Ben Turpin as their minister. Then he would be able to keep one eye on Hitler and the other on Stalin without so much trouble.

Our country has a turkey pop-

That ought to be enough for both word. What England needs is a defensive alliance with America instead.

Our patriotic citizens should have a record of "Patriotism" in anyone's book. We are up against Hitler and Russia and the neutrals should do what they can to help us. We shouldn't let our backs be against the wall. That would break up the country which some people have been trying to do to the public wealth.

The Dutch Empire

In spite of repeated denials from both the Dutch and German capitals, the next move in the European checkerboard of fate, appears to lie in the direction of Holland. If Hitler is to launch his long-anticipated "blitzkrieg" against England and break up the British blockade of German ports, he is more than likely to want air and naval bases on the North Sea Islands of the Netherlands.

Only a little larger in area than our own state of Maryland, Holland is nevertheless the ruler of one of the largest and richest colonial empires in the world. This tiny little nation of 12,582 square miles and 8,000,000 people rules over the Dutch East Indies embracing 733,612 square miles and 51,000,000 natives, as well as other islands off the coast of South America known as the Dutch West Indies and a part of South America itself called Dutch Guiana.

Always good sailors the Dutch began in the sixteenth century to establish themselves in the New World as well as the Far East. At one time they had important colonies in North America having established New Amsterdam at the present site of New York City and sent Henry Hudson into the remote recesses of Hudson Bay trading for the Dutch East Indian Company. As early as 1598 they had thoroughly established themselves in Java and in fierce fighting against the Portuguese had taken possession of Malacca.

Now their possessions in the East Indies include most of the East Indian Archipelago including Madura as well as Java, Sumatra, most of Borneo, the Celebes, the Moluccas, the western half of New Guinea, Bali, Lombok, the western end of Timor, Banda, Amboina, Banca and many smaller islands. Dutch Guiana in South America has an area of 54,291 square miles and a population of 143,000 while the Dutch West Indies include about six islands of combined area of 403 square miles and a population of about 60,000.

The Dutch East Indies are of course the source of most of the Netherlands' fabulous wealth. There vast quantities of oil, rubber, and tin, much of which is sold in the United States, are produced, as well as large amounts of sugar, coffee, tea, cocoa, indigo and many spices. Java has a virtual monopoly on quinine, used in the treatment of malaria, producing about 90 percent of the world's total supply.

For the control of this great empire the Dutch have depended for many years on the rule of law and order throughout the world as they have practically no army or navy comparable to their great wealth. To a large extent they are indebted to the British navy for the maintenance of a condition in world affairs which has enabled them to retain this empire without having to fight for it.

Now the Dutch are worried. Britain has her hands full in Europe. The Japs are on the loose and anxious to take anything in their neighborhood not easily defended. The Hollanders' problem in Europe of maintaining their neutrality and protecting their frontiers in the present crisis is hardly more difficult than their problem in the Far East. With stick-up men on every corner the task of protecting any far flung empire in the world today is indeed a difficult one.

Great Shades Of Henry Watterson!

The Florida Press Association in convention at St. Augustine Saturday adopted a resolution criticizing the University of Florida for its "lack of co-operation" with the newspapers of this state. The resolution stated that Florida newspapers for half a century "have given loyal and consistent support to the University of Florida, publishing editorial ENDORSEMENT of INDIFFERENT executives, INEFFECTUAL athletic directors and losing teams." (The caps are ours).

And for this editorial endorsement, the Florida Press Association believes it should be paid off in the form of more generous season tickets to the football games. "This year despite the fact that thousands of seats remain unsold on the morning of the game scheduled for the closing day of this convention there has been a deplorable lack of co-operation or appreciation on the part of the university athletic coach and his department's special committee."

We have no idea who introduced this resolution or what members of the Florida press voted in favor of it, as we were not present at the convention, but we believe that it reflects seriously on every newspaper in the state, and we believe that any newspaper which does not agree with this view of journalistic ethics should make its own position perfectly clear to the athletic association and apologize for the bad manners of the Florida Press Association.

Speaking only for itself, The Herald wishes to take this opportunity to state that it has never published editorial endorsement of indifferent executives, or ineffectual athletic directors, and would not even if it received passes to football games in unlimited numbers; nor would it hesitate to condemn unworthy officials or misdirected policies at the University even though the price offered for not doing so were considerably higher than football passes.

We don't know just what happened to the boys of Florida Press Association at St. Augustine, but they were considerably offside. It may have been some strange elixir they found at the Fountain of Youth, or perhaps it's the Wage and Hour Law that has got them down.

WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

By JOE HENDRICKS

SHORT OF HELP—Since my neighbors insist on a vacation to those far-off places, a little which I am sure they need badly as they have been faithful in performance of their duties.
For that reason I am short of help at the present time, and while we are endeavoring to answer all mail promptly I hope my constituents will be patient if we should fail to get replies out immediately. In addition to help short of help we have had an unusually large number of cases of the census that is to be taken in 1940 and also because of neutrality legislation. I am sure you will hear with us until we get into full swing again.

CENSUS—It is almost impossible to instruct my constituents concerning the census to be taken in 1940. I am still having many calls asking for positions as County Supervisors, there is no such position. The only appointments that I have are the Supervisor and Assistant.
These positions have already been filled.

The only other positions are those of enumerators.
The applications for these positions are being filed and will be filled until shortly before January 1st. Before they are filled I shall go over the names with the Supervisor and give them all consideration, after which the Supervisor will make the appointments. I must insist that the enumerators be competent to do the work because of the fact that we want an actual, thorough counting of the people in this district. In the 1930 State Census there were a good many errors made which we do not want to repeat.

VACATION—Upon returning to Deland one of my constituents asked me if I were going to continue my vacation. If I have had a vacation this year
I hope I never get another one.
The fact of the matter is that I have had no vacation since I have been in Congress. I started this year with the handicap of an appointment and overwork now on the泰山. And as a result I have had a very difficult year. And added to all of this is the fact that I have not been in the district for ten months and now it becomes necessary that I try to see every individual that care to see me and to settle certain difficult problems all over the District.
I assure my constituents that I am not continuing a vacation which has not begun.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS—Announcements of the following exams have been received:
Special Agent, Trade and Industrial Education, $3.00.

Superintendent, $3.00.

There's No Great Mystery about Cigarette Tobaccos

THERE ARE FOUR TYPES
of tobaccos found in the more popular cigarettes, namely... Bright, Maryland, Burley and Turkish.

ALL THESE TOBACCOS except Turkish (which is bought direct from the planters in Turkey and Greece) and Maryland (which is bought through sealed bids under government supervision) are bought at public auction, just like any other auction where you might have bought in a table or a chair.

AT THE AUCTION SALE the tobacco is piled in baskets weighing from about 100 to 500 pounds and each purchaser buys all of his tobaccos by competitive bidding for the particular piles he wants.

THE CHESTERFIELD BUYERS buy the best of these mild ripe tobaccos for the Chesterfield blend. And it is Chesterfield's Combination... the right amounts of Burley and Bright... just enough Maryland... and just enough Turkish—that makes the big difference between Chesterfield and other cigarettes.

IT IS BECAUSE of this combination that Chesterfields are COOLER, have a BETTER TASTE and are DEFINITELY MILDER. They are made of the world's best cigarette tobaccos. You can't buy a better cigarette.

Sea Warfare Resumed With Intensity As Five Ships Are Sunk

Germany Turns Down Mediation Offer Of
Dutch And Belgians
With Polite "No"

Nazis Plan Stiff
Warfare On Ocean

Ireland Complains Neutrality Act Is Injurious To Nation

The warfare at sea, where the conflict between Germany and the western Allies has been fought most intensely, today inflicted new casualties on both Britain and Germany.

Belgium and Netherlands envoys to Berlin were informed, meanwhile that Germany was replying to a polite "no" to the mediation offer of Queen Wilhelmina and King Leopold.

Britain and France already have made replies amounting to the same thing, putting peace up to Germany.

A British destroyer, freighter, trawler, and two German freighters were listed as new losses. The destroyer, unidentified in an Admiralty announcement, was said to have sunk after hitting a German mine. One was dead, six missing. The trawler Crosswell was sunk by a German submarine. The freighter Mata went down after a North Sea mission, believed caused by mines.

German crewmen scuttled the British freighter and trawlers to avoid capture, the Admiralty declared.

Germany reported a successful aerial attack on the Shetland Islands yesterday, asserting two British boats were downed, one of which scored a "probable hit" on an English cruiser. Britain contended no important damage was inflicted.

Germany hinted at a stiffer campaign against British shipping. Berlin newspaper published lists of 29 British ships and five French vessels classified as armed merchantmen. The lists (Continued on Page Three)

Evidence Shows Kuhn Used Funds For Telegrams

University Alumni To Hold Smoker At Mayfair Tomorrow

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(AP)— Evidence that Fritz Kuhn had charged up to his German-American band the cost of telegraphic "love and kisses" sent to a woman friend was submitted by the star witness in the grand jury trial, culminating in bondsman's trial for the theft of money from his own organization.

While Kuhn sat blushing and lowering his eyes, Assistant District Attorney Heiman McCarthy read to the jury three messages to Mrs. Florence Camp which the defense conceded were written by the bondsman. Each was a mixture of impersonality and sentimentality.

"Hope to have everything under control tonight," said the first which was dispatched on Sept. 12, 1938, to Mrs. Camp. "Leaving on Dec. 1st. Great news about you." Said the bondsman Oct. 26 to the Aberdeen hotel, Oklahoma City:

"Arrived safely. Lots of news. Write you tomorrow. All my thoughts of you. Love and kisses."

The third, to a Cleveland address not disclosed: "Train mistake. Called you twice. Arrive by plane 11:00 A.M. Next week. Love and kisses." Mrs. Kuhn, wife of the bondsman, (Continued on Page Two).

Clue Found In Death Of Sportsman

Letter In Pocket Of Ex-Bodyguard Says
Persons Involved
In Killing Known

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—(AP)— Police today found a letter in a pocket of a former bodyguard of Edward J. O'Hara, slain Chicago sportsman, saying "certain people know who was driving the car when they got Eddie."

The man, Russell Stoddard, 21, was stabbed superficially last night in a downtown street by one of the two men who accosted him with the greeting "Rust." He was treated for his wounds, mentioned two hours, then collied and was taken to a hospital in a cots.

He regained consciousness later, but Police said there would be no further questioning except for a request from Chicago police.

Detectives summoned midwest authorities the man Ciocco, Ill., where a man was found, scrawled in the envelope containing the letter. It said the one-time chauffeur apparently had been here the past month. O'Hara was shot Wednesday.

The missive said "Well, I guess you did the right thing in leaving when you did, but if you had stayed you probably would have been taken with Eddie. Don't blame anyone though, Russ. For it couldn't be helped. Just lay low and take it easy until we send for you but let me give you a little warning, though. Don't try to cross us in any way."

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—(AP)— Discovers in a letter relating that O'Hara, violent death of Alcatraz prison against Edward J. O'Hara, president of Sportsman's Park race track, today gave an unexpected turn in the case of the turfman's slayers.

The letter had been sent by one friend of O'Hara to another. The writer said he had been told of threats by two former inmates of Alcatraz.

The letter said: "You know O'Hara and him had many arguments and disputes over their tracks. I think it is a sore spot or something in connection with Sportsman's Park."

The Capone group was the original owner of Sportsman's at one time. O'Hara managed the Chicago dogtrack in which Capone had an interest.

Three Injured By Fragments From Anti-Plane Guns

CIVIL SUITS ARE SET FOR TRIAL BEFORE SMITH NEXT WEEK

PARIS, Nov. 14.—(AP)— Three civilians including a 3-year-old child were wounded yesterday by shell fragments from German reconnaissance planes which twice flew over Paris and the suburbs, playing hide and seek in puffy clouds with the fire of anti-aircraft batteries.

The planes finally fled toward the Belgian frontier as the French shelling became too intense.

The civilians, first casualties of German planes over Paris, were wounded during the second appearance of the Nazi scouting planes during the afternoon.

Authorities repeatedly have warned civilians to go indoors whenever they hear the clatter of anti-aircraft guns, explaining that there will be no sounding of air sirens unless the planes appear to be bombers.

Last night's war office communiqué revealed that a certain number of enemy airplanes had been active throughout last night, flying over northeastern France.

Only one air raid alarm, the signal to send Parisians screaming for shelter since the start of the war, was sounded, however.

The alarm sirens screeched at 4:20 A.M., calling civilians from their beds while salvos of anti-aircraft fire scattered a formation of Nazi planes and sent them scurrying for home by way of the North Sea. The all-clear signal came at 6:30 A.M.

At 7:30 A.M. German planes were sighted at 3:30 P.M. and the anti-aircraft alarm was sounded and people stood in the streets of the suburbs, watching the puffs of exploding anti-aircraft shells in the sky. The firing lasted for five minutes.

The Grand Jury investigation was set for Monday after Assistant State Attorney Lloyd F. Boyle was called to Orlando where he will assist in the trial of the Coston murder case.

A venire of 22 additional jurors was drawn for the trial of the civil cases which were docketed for next week.

The civil cases include the $7,000 damage suit of Clyde Bonelli and Roy Bonelli versus the United Lumber Company, Inc., for $10,000 for setting J. C. Powell, 20, east of the mouth of the Suwannee River, but failed to contact French seaport. Despite the bill, French observers expressed concern over the massing of German troops along the borders of Holland and Belgium. Both countries were believed to be in danger of invasion, despite German denial.

Last night's war office communiqué revealed that a certain number of enemy airplanes had been active throughout last night, flying over northeastern France.

Only one air raid alarm, the signal to send Parisians screaming for shelter since the start of the war, was sounded, however.

The alarm sirens screeched at 4:20 A.M., calling civilians from their beds while salvos of anti-aircraft fire scattered a formation of Nazi planes and sent them scurrying for home by way of the North Sea. The all-clear signal came at 6:30 A.M.

At 7:30 A.M. German planes were sighted at 3:30 P.M. and the anti-aircraft alarm was sounded and people stood in the streets of the suburbs, watching the puffs of exploding anti-aircraft shells in the sky. The firing lasted for five minutes.

The Grand Jury investigation was set for Monday after Assistant State Attorney Lloyd F. Boyle was called to Orlando where he will assist in the trial of the Coston murder case.

A venire of 22 additional jurors was drawn for the trial of the civil cases which were docketed for next week.

The civil cases include the $7,000 damage suit of Clyde Bonelli and Roy Bonelli versus the United Lumber Company, Inc., for $10,000 for setting J. C. Powell, 20, east of the mouth of the Suwannee River, but failed to contact French seaport. Despite the bill, French observers expressed concern over the massing of German troops along the borders of Holland and Belgium. Both countries were believed to be in danger of invasion, despite German denial.

Senator Wagner (D-N. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.— William Gibbs McAdoo, whose swing to Franklin D. Roosevelt's side in the Democratic primary election in 1932, said he returned to Washington yesterday. There was a general opinion that Roosevelt would be nominated for a third term in 1940.

McAdoo, secretary of the treasury under President Wilson, and the man who organized the American Red Cross, was a member of the board of the American Steamship Lines and chairman of the San Francisco delegation to the Democratic convention in Chicago, broke the voting deadlock when he delivered the delegation's votes to Roosevelt. The delegation had been pledged to support Roosevelt in 1932.

McAdoo, who was a member of the San Francisco delegation to the Democratic convention in 1932, said he would support the nomination of Franklin D. Roosevelt for a third term.

Among those who could count on McAdoo's support in the campaign are the members of the San Francisco delegation to the Democratic convention in 1932, said McAdoo.

McAdoo, who joined the Tourist Club, one of the most prominent social clubs in San Francisco, last year, has now become a permanent member of the San Francisco delegation to the Democratic convention in 1932.
