Japanese Attack Christmas Island In Indian Ocean

Brisk Patrol Action Is Reported Along Fronts In Burma; British Lines Hold

(By Associated Press) The Japanese launched their first attack on Christmas Island in the Indian Ocean, it was reported today.

The British reported brisk patrol activity along the Sittang River front in Burma, today indicating the decided lines are holding firm. In some sections of the 100-mile battle zone,

The All-India radio broadcast: "Rangoon army and air communiques announcing intensified enemy activity along the tottering front west of the Sittang River, indicating that the shattering blows struck by American volunteer and Imperial airmen had sharply reduced Japanese aerial bombardment."

On every hand in London the flight of the British Empire defenders of Rangoon was reported. Many officers, even it appeared unlikely that most of the men waging the last stand would be able to escape from southern Burma.

Latest reports to London reflect a massive hull downing the western areas as the Japanese rushed up reinforcements and the Imperialists dug in behind the Sittang River for staunch defense of the capital.

A dispatch said the Japanese had mustered a powerful fifth column in Burma, some of the armed Burmese forces even marching in with the Japanese, multiplying the difficulties of the imperial defense forces.

An American-Philippines guerrilla force, operating from a mountain station in northern Laos, has joined and driven Japanese out of a section of the War Department and Bradley Bridge, while another column descended the military value of the mountains as of little consequence, they did participate that day in the invasion, carrying on by natives and troops outside Bataan peninsula where General MacArthur's main army is making its stand.

The same communiques announced this action carried a pronouncement of President Manuel L. Quezon to his people assuring them "we are still qualified" remained unanswered.

This spirit, manifested in the northern Luzon action and in Quezon's proclamation, had been noted in previous Philippine communiques. In one, Gen. MacArthur, who had established resistance to the invaders, was growing in intensity, reported the formation of a secret society of fighters for freedom and said that many native informants for the enemy had disappeared in mysterious fashion.

Brilliant reports of the guerrilla operations in the mountains in the Abra valley, extending from the towns of Corcuera to Banquet, a distance of more than 100 miles. This is about 150 miles north of the Bataan front and not far from where the Japanese made one of their initial landings.

The Bataan front itself continued quiet, as much as the War Department commented: "A period of positional warfare seems indicated." Gen. MacArthur's troops held in the advanced positions they attained last week, to the north of Corcuera, had not moved the entire month.

Japanese patrols attacked Port Moresby, New Guinea, yesterday afternoon, causing some damage. The Australian air ministry issued a statement today, the latest news of the Japanese invasion.

Japanese fighter planes, intruding to the Australian airfield, a naval unit not engaged the heavy anti-aircraft, and prevented them from driving home the attack, a commanding officer said.

Reds Keep Ring Of Steel Around Trapped Germans

Russians Continue Attempts To Lift Leningrad Siege

(By Associated Press) The Russians maintained a ring of steel around the trapped German 18th army and continued their attempts to lift the siege of Leningrad.

A German general said all avenue of escape had been cut by the encircling Red troops and that food was running low in the Nazi garrison at Staraya.

Soviet officers quoted this prisoner, Karl Horst, as saying German morale had cracked in the last few days.

Dr. Horst, an elderly frostbite is almost universal, he said.

Further to the north the Russians reported slaying 600 Germans in a continuing Red drive to break Leningrad's siege lines while other Soviet columns surged on toward Stalingrad on the central front and toward the Donets region in the south.

The southern fighting exploded violently with both sides hurling planes, tanks and artillery at each other as signs of Spring appeared. Operations were hampered, however, by rain and melting snow which caused the muddy fields into vast quagmires.

Soviet advisors said the Germans had brought up the 287th and 30th Infantry divisions to help stem the Soviet tide, but that Soviet airmen killed many of the Nazis before they even got near the front lines.

"I'll tell you," said the honorable "Cas," repeated, "It is the best field I've seen in the state, and it is much better than our training field last year at San Antonio. I took the word of the Chamber

City Employees Receive Safety Driving Awards

Only $11.25 Is Paid By Company On 2 Claims Last Year

Comments on the safe driving of city employees, R. E. Place, safety engineer of the Glen Falls Indemnity Company, announced Saturday that only two claims resulted from accidents by City vehicles, and the total amount of damage was $11.25.

This was well below the $11.25 paid in 1940, when four accidents resulted in about $100 in damage against the City. I wish many other cities could equal Stanford's record. It is an outstanding achievement,"

Mr. Place gave drivers of City vehicles awards. Safety awards were given to the following, which is shown at the Commission room at the City Hall. Sterling awards were given to three year men, while first and second year winners were presented bronze awards.

Receiving sterling awards were: James Moughton, G. L. Duncan, D. G. Williams, Charles H. Johnson, T. W. Kelland, Paul Smith, Willis R. Dixon, Phil King, H. W. Precht, E. Vickers, Brainerd awards were given to S. M. Richard, Charles Dunn, Jr., Lester Matthews, L. A. Barberi, Davis Bradley, W. A. Bailey, W. E. Bradbury, L. E. Dickey, Mack G. Gill, Overton, Joe Bush, G. S. Teston, Robert Zanders, Leo Moore, Robert Sanders.

Dixie Flyer Leaves Rail In Tennessee

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Mar. 2.—(AP)—One trainman was killed and two others injured yesterday when the engine and six baggage cars on the N. E. & St. L. Railway had a switchback passing in, Dixie Flyer, derailed near Chattanooga.

L. W. Arnold of Nashville, fireman, was killed when trapped beneath the overturned engine.

Ed Bahlert, engineer of Nashville, was thrown clear of the car and sustained numerous lacerations and bruises. O. H. Clegg, brakeman, too of Nashville, suffered an injured back.

The engine plowed down 500 feet of track before coming to rest side-ways on the road bed. Two baggage cars plunged down a 150-foot embankment and four others remained upright on the track after derailment.

Graduates In Home Economics Needed

A call to all college Home Economics students to apply for positions in the Army was issued by Major B. C. Kirby, State Co-ordinator of Training for the State Defense Council. These women, whether professionals or amateurs, are ready—eagerly—needed to teach Cross courses in Nutrition, Mr. Kirby said.

Women who have completed their studies will be held in many places in the state to enable them to qualify as instructors. The teaching work will be volunteers service and will enable every qualified person to make an important contribution to the Army's war effort.

Home Economics graduates are requested to write today direct to Major B. C. Kirby, General Extension Division, University of Florida, Gainesville.

Casey Stengel Arrives, Says Ball Park Is Best In State

Casey Stengel, the man who hit home runs in two successive World Series games, the man who is a legend in the baseball world, the man who won you with his humor, the man from New England with the Brooklyn crew, the man who has forgotten his music base ball as the ordinary player knows, has arrived in Sanford preparatory to leading his Boston Braves to the forthcoming National League struggle.

Coming from California and whether that froze any spare winter that happened to be lying around, the grizzled veteran of hundreds of baseball wars reached here Saturday, made an inspection of the Municipal Ball Park and pronounced it the "best field" he'd ever seen in the state, and it is much better than our training

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY
DO NOT BE MISLED BY GIANTS AND TINSEL. Wherefore do you spend money for that which does not bread?—Heb. 5:2.

The Little Creatures
(From Traitor)
The little creatures are a wood, are hopping water from the creek. The doe and have broken red tender foliage, green and wood.

Desire still remains unfed, and to the little creatures seek.

The whole deep woodland is their board;
and have live for today,
and take the choicest bits they find.

And bushy neighbors start to board, for blessed with a quick and various mind of thrift, they know nothing in their way.

Oh, let the birds come light here!

Oh, winter, let a bit of fall linger longer than it should go when our soft friends come to call.

There will be a sprout of this daily through the snowy wood.
JOSEPH JOEL KETTLER

Well, March came in like a lion, regardless of what it may go out as.

What this country needs is a good Bicycle Club to stimulate interest in cycling.

All the Japs wanted on Batavia was a breathing spell and General MacArthur counter attacked.

Including men's garters with the ban on garters was an empty victory for the women. Most men haven't worn pants since they put on long pants.

Brevard county is pretty close to having a heroine in the war if not a hero, namely it is Mrs. Mrs. Douglas MacArthur used to live in Eau Gallie. Tierville Star Advocate. Hooray for Eau Gallie!

We see where the Chrysler corporation is now making small fire fighting units composed of truck with two pumps and 50 gallons per minute capacity and carrying 500 feet of 2½ inch hose. The outfit is especially designed for use in combating small fires in connection with air raids.

The Florida Citrus Commission has decided to dispense with the services of Granville Rutledge. His $18,000 a year advertising and publicity exert. Rutledge was a big shot in the advertising world and undoubtedly was worth every cent that was paid to him, but $18,000 in this day and age is a lot of dough in somebody's money. At least it ain't hay!..

Speaking of March, we are reminded that it is about time for the Spring offensives to begin: the Germans to launch a new drive against Russia and the British to attack Norway and possibly North Africa; the British to attack Norway and possibly open up a new front in France; the Japs to invade India and attack Russia; and the Americans, well, General MacArthur is still holding out.

Congressman Hendricks, Green and myself all appeared before the claims committee of the House this week to try to get favorable amendment for McMillan's bill to combat the "so-called fruits and a more liberal measure of damages on the item of damage. The committee gave a very favorable hearing and we expect, in a very short time, to act on it. It has been a hard fight but we are getting close to all the Florida Advocate.

Florida, that is talking about these future sources for rubber, is probably right. The Japs are moving to the Melbourne area, a Spanish moss area, grows wild in the south and even before the new type of growing, there is a great demand for it.

Some of these days letters in Miami's blood bank will bring the first emergency blood transfusions. After a series of experiments the War Department will spend $25 million in equipping 24 Army camps with this new type of housing instead of conventional tents. It is believed that this will be the answer to the many

The Battle Of Java

The Battle of Java has commenced. Early Saturday night the Japs succeeded in landing and on Sunday established three strong bridgeheads. Without waiting for reinforcement which are now pouring in and utterly disregarding terrific losses, the Japs pushed inward until near the center of the island there is already great danger of splitting the Dutch armies in two.

It is the same old story. We have had the Battle of Poland, the Battle of Norway, the Battle of France, the Battle of Greece, the Battle of Crete, the Battle of Malaya, and now the Battle of Java. Only the Battle of Russia and the Battle of Batavia have had a different sequence. The Russians have completely turned the tables on the Germans, and MacArthur is still holding out.

There seems to be little doubt as to how the Battle of Java will go, and with it the entire Dutch East Indies. If Java falls, we lose a strong ally in the Far East, just as the British so quickly lost their Dutch ally in Europe. The Japanese will be in complete control of all the rubber, tin and oil producing areas in the Far East, and virtually in control of all the territory north of Australia.

Will the Battle of Australia be next? There are many who seem to think so, including Australian Prime Minister Curtin. The Japs have already occupied New Guinea and Timor, scarcely a stone's throw away. Darwin has been bombed, and a landing there would scarcely seem to present any greater difficulties than those the Japs have previously overcome. Of course Australia is a large country and to overrun it entirely would take time.

But if Australia should fall the last Allied base west of Hawaii would be gone. There would be no way for the United States or Britain to get aid to India except by way of the Atlantic and western Indian Ocean and here ships would be open to attack by Japanese sea raiders. There would be no way to get aid to China except through Russia and the North Atlantic. There would be no way to get to Japan, except through China, or the long hard Alaskan route.

Undoubtedly the Axis powers are staking everything on the hope of a victory this year. They must win before American factories get into full armament production, before young Americans can be trained into first class fighting men. If the Japs and the Germans can do that, their total forces, no matter what they may be in the next few months, will be small for the whole war. If they cannot, their losses now won't make much difference because they cannot win anyway.

Don'ts For Parents

Mother has a list of Don'ts for Parents, one of which reads: Don't "take your child for a walk—go" with her.

Mother's other Don'ts are:

Don't discuss children in front of them on the assumption that they won't listen or understand.

Don't show your love by constantly caressing the child, do it by providing for his interests.

Don't tease or use sarcasm—laugh with your child, not at him.

Don't make your child show off before visitors and don't make him a plaything.

Don't make a display of your concern when the child falls down, won't eat, etc. Do what is needed instead of fussing and worrying.

Don't call a thing "naughty" when you merely mean "it's a nuisance to me."

"Don't say 'You mustn't do that,' unless you can add "But you may do this."

Don't promise you cannot keep.

Don't assume that the child understands what you are saying to him just because you do.

Don't, if you say or do something in anger, pretend you did it "for the child's good"; humbug does more harm than honest ill-temper.

These Don'ts were suggested by Susan Isaacs in her book, The Nursery Years—Parade.

Gracie Allen Talks On Women Defense Workers

By GRACIE ALLEN

I think it's wonderful the way women are volunteering for defense work but, on second thought, haven't they always been famous for it? Look at Pocahontas, who laid her head on John Smith's shoulder and said, "I'll marry you with a 'mbleh.' Look at Josephine, who made Napoleon keep his right hand inside his shirt, so he wouldn't get his trigger-finger frostbitten.

Why shouldn't women make good in defense work? There's nothing any man can do that a woman can't do, however when it's something a man can do better. In fact, about the only place women can't replace men is in beauty shops, women's dress department and in plain and fancy tailoring. On the other hand, the way the girls are stepping into men's shoes in factories, munition plants and other defense activities shows that, for the first time, women are here to stay.

All the women in our family have gone in for defense work, too, including me. I'm studying to be a nurse, which can be an American Nurse. She practices by reading her own lips in the mirror, and this takes terrific concentration as she has to say all the words backwards, so that you know in the looking glass.

My sister Connie became a riveter in an airplane factory. The first day she came home with sections of a fuselage riveted to her eyebrows and the second day, she had been added to the riveting crew, working two shifts, and a riveter. Since they started the number to Canada, we haven't seen them since.

Then there was sister Hazel. She worked two years to become a typist in a defense office. Now she is working in a defense plant in Winter Haven, where she entered the service. She has raised $1,000 for the war effort. She is now a member of the Seminole County Defense Council.

There were many more stories in the paper, but I don't have time to tell them all.

So, if you're a woman, get involved in defense work.

Special Night Will Be Held for Children's Home

LONGWOOD, Mar. 2. (Special) — A special night for the crippled children's fund of the Harry-Anne Foundation will be held Saturday night at the Sanford-Oriente Club.

Toppling the events for the night will be the Orange City Hotel Pancake, sponsored by Ralph Hankinson, well-known auto racing promoter and operator of the hotel.

Hankinson has donated a beautiful trophy—one of the finest ever presented—at one of the greyhound tracks—to be presented to the winning owner.

Bernard E. M. Meeks has promised that all the church's top men will be entered for the event which will climax a brilliant year.

Proceeds of the night's racing will go to the Umatilla home, which is supported by the Elks of Florida. One of the most famous homes of its kind in the country, it does immeasurable good in aiding crippled and disabled children.

Many Laxatives, but few are Leaders!

Year in and year out, spicy, herbal BLACK-DRAUGHT has been best-seller among laxatives in the South. It is safe, agreeable and easy to take. When taken as directed, its action is usually punctual, thorough and gentle. The tonic laxative element which helps tone key intestinal muscles is probably its most important asset. At time, try BLACK-DRAUGHT! —Adv.

Enemy Sub Sinks U. S. Destroyer Off Jersey Coast

Quiet Is Reported
In Bataan, Burma
As Japanese Raid
Australian Ports

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2.—(AP)—The Navy announced today the destroyer, Jacob Jones was sunk by an enemy submarine off Cape May, N. J., before dawn Feb. 28, and that only 11 men of the destroyer's crew survived.

The commanding commander, Lt. Commander H. D. Black of Ordell, N.J.

(By Associated Press)

British motorized patrols

mopped up between Rangoon and Mandalay today and the Japanese Burma offensive was declared at a standstill.

Meanwhile, Japanese

planes attacked Australian air facilities at Wyndham and Broome, 700 miles west of Darwin and the nearest

Australian towns to the East

Indies war zone.

In Washington the War Department reported Japanese naval units are shelling several ports on three islands of the Philippines and are landing troops from a convoy of four at Zamboanga on the southwest tip of Mindanao.

General Douglas MacArthur

said there is virtually no ground or air activity in the Bataan peninsula.

Communications from the British defenses reported that two Japanese planes had been shot down and killed or captured to the last man and that the remainder of the 100-mile front was quiet. There is a roll-around movement in the peninsula to China.

"Undoubtedly the Japanese advised some in attacking the east bank of the Hittang," said a respirable British source here.
