

Issuance Of More Club Licenses In Dade Is Enjoined

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 17.—(AP) State Beverage Director Lewis Short today was ordered to stop issuing club licenses in Dade county for the present.

Leon County Circuit Judge W. May Walker said it was his "impression" a special liquor license law applying to the city of Miami did not allow issuance of an unlimited number of club permits claimed by the State Beverage department.

A statewide law enacted by the 1947 Legislature limits club licenses in any county to no more than three over the number held at the time the statute became effective.

Franklin Parson of Miami, representing the South Florida Liquor Board and Fred Moskopp, a Miami restaurant owner, claimed unlimited issuance of club licenses would reduce tax revenue and constitute unfair competition. The Liquor Board is an association of retail liquor dealers.

Parson said the clubs paid only $250 a year for licenses while other liquor dealers pay $1,500 annually for licenses permitting beverage consumption on their premises and $1,250.25 for package store licenses.

Club sales are limited to members of the organizations and their non-resident friends.

L. W. Renfro, appearing on behalf of the Beverage Department, said the suit should have been brought by a public official and that Moskopp had not proved his interests would be affected by continued issuance of club licenses.

Moskopp was identified as a citizen and taxpayer with "no interest in the beverage business except to see that the beverage laws of the state are executed."

Renfro added the Liquor Board was trying to "stifle competition" and had not established that its members were being damaged by issuance of the club licenses. He said the clubs had often held citizens could be parties to suits for no other reason than their interest in law enforcement.

The Liquor Board was required to post a $1,000 bond to reimburse anyone who suffered loss through the temporary injunction in case the prohibition against issuance of club licenses later is withdrawn.

Attorneys for the Beverage Department said some club license applications were pending and the applicants may already have made investments in expectation of receiving the permits.

Ruhr Rebuilding

In their talk, at least, Ruhr industrialists are today the most pacifist and internationally-minded of Germans. They foresee no hope of restoring West Germany to economic health without Western European cooperation.

But they are tough, stubborn men on certain issues. They are lighting with a strategy verging on passive resistance against the further dismantling of their plants for reparations.

They are bitter about British and French fears of a revived German competition in exports. They say West Germany must export to live, and if markets are blocked off, then nothing can prevent the unemployed masses from turning to Communism.

Kelly said that for loan guarantee purposes, estimated value hereafter will be identical with present replacement cost.

About 100 builders and mortgage bankers who heard Kelly's remarks at a meeting here yesterday applauded. In the past much home financing has been refused approval by FIA on the ground that construction costs were higher than long range value would warrant.

Take the Post Office Department out of politics, the Hoover Commission advanced Congress.

The bipartisan group headed by former President Herbert Hoover recommended that the Postmaster General be barred from heading a national political committee, and that postmasters be career men, chosen for merit and not subject to Senate confirmation.

The report was the committee's fourth in a series of recommendations on streamlining the executive branch of government.

Meanwhile the lawmakers studied such matters as the business school, labor legislation and the "peace" program.

My New York

By MEL HEIMER

NEW YORK I am shilling for an old friend of mine this morning. In years past he has furnished me with a great deal of entertainment and pleasure, as well as the perfect hiding place when playing hooky from school, but now he finds himself edging perilously close to financial disaster and he has the old out-stretched palm in front of our noses.

The references to "he" are coyly nauseating on my part, since "he" is the American Museum of Natural History, but that is a kind of poetic license that all writers have employed since Edgar A. Guest and the general belief is that it tends to humanize any discussion of inanimate objects.

It has been only a couple of weeks now since officials of the museum started carnival chalking up a deficit of more than $200,000 last year.

In view of the seeming fact that the wealthy ones among us forever are dropping one or two millions into the museum's endowment funds, this does not appear to be serious—but the truth is, the seeming fact is not what it is cracked up to be.

For one reason or another, having something to do with politics, which is far from my own province, there do not seem to be so many wealthy ones among us any more. And those that do exist are apparently clinging grimly and shamefully to their last 10 or 20 millions.

It evidently has been a long time since somebody kicked the bucket and left a couple of million to the museum, although officials are forever hopeful and reportedly have a nice high stack of "Form of Bequest" blanks on their desks for anyone who may care to take one.

THE AMERICAN MUSEUM HAS BEEN IN EXISTENCE for 70 years but I have been on speaking terms with it for only about a quarter of that time. It is a big, gloomy-looking cathedral on Central Park West at 81st street, but the truth of the matter is that, inside, it is one of the best shows in the city.

I am not a museum expert, although there's them that is, and perhaps all museums are as full of strange and wonderful things as this one. All I know about is this one, and I can admit candidly that it gives me almost, if not quite, as much fun as the 10-cent store.

Today I paid a hurried visit to it, to make sure I wasn't living in the past, and was reassured. Coming up into the museum from the Eighth avenue subway station in its bowels, the first thing to greet me was an exhibit of New York state butterflies—but from there on, things picked up and I spent a happy morning poking around giant Indian elephants, lions, tigers, big game fish and other stuffed fauna.

Although the boys in charge of these things do not like you to say "stuffed," they have a technical name that is much more dignified. I remember that in my youth I lived near the celebrated Jonas brothers' taxidermy studio (succeeding (?) form of the Australian racehorse Phar Lap for many weeks may have had a definite influence on my habits of the future) and the fiercely-misaligned Jonasses were ready to cut off my head every time I asked them if I could please see the stuffed tiger again.

THERE IS A CERTAIN AUSTERITY about the American Museum that I suppose must go with every museum, but its officials really do seem to keep abreast of the times.

Most of the stu—big pardon, prepared—animals are shown in their native habitats; thus, deer are cavorting in the snow, ostriches are eyeing a set of wart hogs with surly grace amid the pampas or whatever they call grasslands in Africa, and one spectacular and beautiful exhibit shows flamingoes and egrets on the wing at evening across a sun-streaked sky.

The museum even caters to the name-dropper, who, if he mutters sullenly that the two elephants in the center of Akeley Hall could not have been much because he never heard of them before, can get upstairs to the fourth floor and see the skeleton of Jumbo, P. T. Barnum's famous pachyderm.

TWO Spanish refugees passed the home of John D. Rockefeller, Jr. "If I only had that man's millions," sighed one of them, "I'd be richer than he is." "That doesn't make sense," the other reminded him. "If you had Mr. Rockefeller's millions, you'd be just as rich as he is—not richer."

"You're wrong," the first assured him. "Don't forget that I could give Spanish lessons on the side!"

When Heywood Brown was employed by the New York Tribune, he tried in vain to persuade Ogden Reid, the publisher, to raise the salaries of the entire staff. A few weeks later, Brown was invited to spend a weekend at the Reid estate in Purchase. As he drove into the private roadway, he noticed that a beautiful new house was being built around the entire place. "Enough," mused Brown. "Millions for de Reid, but not a word for Tribune!"

Israel President

In the long procession of cars were members of a parliamentary delegation, including an Arab member from Nazareth who wore flowing white keffiyeh headgear. The delegation had driven to Weizmann's home at Rehovot to inform him of his election by parliament and to escort him back to Jerusalem. The escort included police motorcycle, an armored car with gun turret and a squad of combat jeeps with still-helmeted soldiers mounting machineguns.

Dr. Weizmann received 84 votes to 15 the only other candidate Prof. Yosef Klausner, 73, a retired professor of Hebrew literature when the assembly voted on a president. Klausner was the candidate of the Herut (Freedom) Party, headed by Menachem Begin, former leader of the Extreme Right Irgun Zvai Leumi.

Fifteen delegates returned empty envelopes in the secret balloting, indicating opposition to both candidates. Six were absent and one vote was declared invalid.

An uproar arose when the Herut Party nominated Klausner. The Herut spokesman who put Klausner's name before the assembly ended his speech with "we won't argue with collaborator."

This was followed immediately by cries of "Shame! Shame!" from members of the Mapai, a left-wing labor group. They hounded insults at the Herut group, sitting directly behind them in the assembly. This continued for several minutes before the speaker could restore order.

The new constitution requires a majority of 61 votes for election of president on the first ballot. This was achieved by intense lobbying before the actual voting took place.

Ben-Gurion was not present at Dr. Weizmann's election. He was at his home.

Dr. Weizmann was immediately notified of the result by telephone. He elected a debate to the matter, partly as a salute to the majority he has received in the establishment of Israel. He has devoted most of his life to the Zionist cause.

He is a past president of the World Zionist Organization. He was born Nov. 27, 1874, in Miryly, near Pinsk, then in Czarist Russia and now a part of Eastern Poland.

He went to England in 1904 as a lecturer in biological chemistry, his services as a chemist to help win the First World War were said to have been the basis for the Balfour declaration of 1917. In that famous statement the British pledged to provide a national home for the Jews in Palestine.

Dr. Weizmann's autobiography, "The Arena," which tells of his long fight for Zionism, was published only last month.

For the second time in a week the mining town of Burke in Northern Idaho was isolated by a white heat its only road to the outside.

A landslide in Port Angeles, Wash., killed a woman last night. Flood waters spilled over 20 blocks in the community of 10,800. Planes from the Port Angeles Coast Guard Base observed the slide and sent it to some of the isolated Washington towns. The four feet of water in some places.

Generally, weather over most of the Western States, was fair yesterday but new falls of snow and strong winds appeared headed for storm-battered Wyoming, the Dakotas and Nebraska. Temperatures moderated yesterday and there were no heavy snowfalls. But strong winds whipped across the isolated sections of Wyoming for the 13th straight day.

All highways in southwestern Wyoming were blocked by drifts. The Union Pacific's transcontinental railroad line through southern Wyoming was closed and trains were rerouted by way of Denver and Salt Lake City. Food and fuel supplies dwindled at Casper, Wyoming's second largest city. The city of 30,000 population has been without regular transportation for four days.

Between 150 and 175 interstate trucks were held up in Wyoming because of a gnawing shortage of valuable shipments. Two truckloads of turkeys, valued at more than $40,000 were stranded where all roads except U. S. Route 30 north to Kansas were blocked.

Business Bill

"What we need right now is a building up of confidence in the future. That may call more for a policy of drifting than of action at the present time."

The economist suggested that a readjustment is in order in some sections of the economy.

Another opportunity offered Rotarians, the speaker said, is to further the good will and understanding through international service. BIBLE VERSE TODAY

Were it not for gatherings to gether of congregations all vision and inspiration would be lost. Men would live like beasts. It is in congregations that our aspirations, and faith are stimulated and confirmed.

Secretary Snyder reveals that it now costs five and one-half billion dollars just to pay the interest on the federal debt. This is one billion and a half more than it cost to run the entire federal government.

The United States and Canada, like Western Europe are pushing plans for building a radar fence around this continent as a guard against surprise air attacks.

It is interesting to note that in all these preliminary skirmishes to bring State expenditures down to within reasonable speaking distance of anticipated revenues, the cuts are being made to educational institutions, correctional institutions and cultural institutions.

How much does it cost to go in to business for yourself nowadays. It all depends on the type of business, and how big it is.

Tammy realtors are mad at Claude Pepper for saying that one-third of the people down there live in slums. The difference undoubtedly arises over just what is a slum and what isn't.

Rehabilitating Burr

Many a shady character has found defenders. The Roman emperor Tiberius was long ago cleared of the charges of tyranny and vice brought against him, and established as one of the ablest of his line.

Burr had all the brilliancy of his illustrious ancestor, the great preacher, Jonathan Edwards. He lacked Edwards' stability of character, however, and left a trail of suspicion wherever he went.

Burr's political skill won him 30 electoral votes for the presidency in 1796, and the nomination for vice-president with Jefferson in 1800.

This was the last of his successes or near-successes. He was beaten for governor of New York, lost his remaining popularity when he killed Alexander Hamilton in a duel, became involved in dubious projects for separating the Western states from the Union.

Surprised Russians

The State of Virginia had as its guests recently two Russian aviators who, after landing their plane in the American zone of Austria last fall, refused to return to their own country.

Virginia's Chamber of Commerce started negotiations to give the flyers a glimpse of life in the Old Dominion. As a result, the two bewildered Russians spent their first day as guests of the state in viewing the State Capitol, Richmond department stores, and newspaper offices.

Pay Of Ball Players

Joe Di Maggio, who has signed with the New York Yankees for a reported $80,000 salary, becomes the highest-paid player in baseball history, surpassing Babe Ruth's top figure of $80,000.

Part of this feat is credited to Joe's glamor and part to the fact that he works for the wealthy Yankees. The same day's news brought the announcement that Ralph Kiner, the slugger of the Pittsburgh Pirates, has just signed for $30,000.

Apparently the next baseball distinction, in terms of pay, is to be the first hundred thousand dollar player. Who will he be?

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

General Omar N. Bradley, United States Army chief of staff and one of the outstanding commanders in World War II, preaches a powerful sermon on the dangers of "delinquent citizenship" today in an article in Collier's weekly.

As a matter of fact, this ordinarily quiet-spoken soldier rolls up his sleeves and administers a sound drubbing to shirkers. The burden of his rebuke is that we Americans can lose the battle against statism if we fail to make our contributions to the welfare of the home, the school, the church and the community.

The General is dealing with such a vital truth, in such a forceful manner, that this column welcomes the opportunity to report his views. He imparts the feeling that it's high time for us to take stock. He points out that our struggle against the forces of evil may be long and that "ideas are as important as the atom bomb."

General Bradley assesses the faults of the younger generation against the elders. The failure of the elders to meet the demands of citizenship is responsible, he believes, for "political immaturity, economic ignorance, philosophical indifference and spiritual ineffectiveness" of many American youth.

Small wonder Bradley reports that psychologists tell him the postwar generation is undisciplined, selfishly aware of rights but not of responsibilities, mercenary and antagonistic to authority.

My personal observation is that the younger generation is actively trying to find its feet. I have two young folk of my own who are placing their problems before me.

General Bradley shows his optimism as a Mission farm boy when he uses the homely expression that what this country needs is some old-fashioned willingness "to do the chores"—a sense of responsibility. He further says: "At a time when peoples throughout the world are being courted by an aggressive statism that would have them abdicate their personal share in government and entrust their welfare to rule by cliques, the American people must put their faith in not less—but more—personal responsibility in the affairs of their community and nation."

Fine 3-Year-Olds Enter Santa Anita Derby In California

ARCADIA, Calif., Feb. 18.—(AP)—The lure of a fat stack of money tomorrow draws some of the finest three-year-olds in the country to the post in the 12th running of the $100,000 Santa Anita Derby.

Listed as probable starters when entries close today are: Fred W. Hooper's Olympia and Ocean Drive; Bert Barum's Hayseed; Alfred G. Vanderbill's Stone Age; Mrs. Alan Rice's Admiral Len; Mrs. John Herz's Count Victor; and So La Ci, W. Arnold Hauger's Bolero; J. H. Seely's Duplicator; Clifford Moore's Old Rockport; Harry N. Landau's Audacious Man; and the King Ranch's Swap Out.

All are colts, all are weighed at 118 pounds and the distance is at a mile and one-eighth. Track officials predicted a fast track and bright skies, and perhaps, optimistically, a turnout to match last year's record derby throng of 61,000.

Officials also will be happy if the 1948 betting pool on the derby equals the $739,600 reported last year, and jubilant if it passes the high peak of $881,300 set in 1947.

The winner, based on a field of 12 starters, will collect $50,000 and a gross purse of $137,000. Both amounts would be new records for the Santa Anita Derby.

In other games Arizona beat Texas Mines, 63-48; Georgetown of Washington edged Maryland, 56-52; and Hardin-Simmons trimmed New Mexico, 55-48.

TUBELESS TIRE "TAKES IT" This picture demonstrates how the new puncture-sealing tubeless tire, now on sale in this area for the first time, can "take it"—and still breathe a sigh. In this destructive spike-board test one spike, under normal conditions, completely pierces the tire and another, right in about half way through. But air does not leak out of the tire. A gummy inner layer of special rubber which "surrounds" the piercing objects, then flows the hole when they are withdrawn, gives the new tire its self-sealing ability.

around the pool, and the attraction value of the pool to tourists when Seminole Boulevard is connected to Highway No. 16.

Plans and specifications for the pool are being prepared by Architect Donovan Dean of Orlando, said H. N. Sayer, city clerk, this morning.

Visitors to the pool in the Municipal Airport area will be disappointed if they expect to see the pool in its present location.

Mayor Andrew Carraway and Chamber of Commerce Manager Edward Higgins were authorized to go to Washington, D. C. in the near future and confer with RFC officials regarding the proposed loan for erection of docks and wharves on the lakefront.

Sale to the Fellowship Foundation an all acre tract of land between Locust, Bay, Fourth and Sixth Streets, for $3,000 was approved. The land was under consideration last year as the site for a negro recreation center. It has an R-1 residential zone status and erection there of homes with minimum of 800 square feet of floor space is permitted, said Mr. Sayer.

A recommendation to the State Department that Highway No. 16 be constructed as close as possible to the lake bulkhead on the east side, was made. The bulkhead extends for about a mile east of the Mayfair Inn.

City Manager C. F. McKibbin and Commissioners W. H. Steumer and Fred Dixon were named as a committee to obtain bids for purchase of an automobile for use by Mr. McKibbin.

Manager McKibbin was directed to start a program to notify property owners to repair unweakened sidewalks adjoining their property. The request of the PTA for funds to help finance the city boys' Friday of high school band musicians for the Band Festival was referred to the Chamber of Commerce.

At the request of the Charter Revision Committee headed by H. James Gut, publication during a 90-day period of the notice for the bill of Revision was authorized. Closing of an alley near West Fifteenth Street between Oak Avenue and Elm Avenue was approved, following the request for the closing by M. M. Hogg and Fred Hall.

For the second time in the week, said Mr. Sayer, the Commission closed its meeting at midnight.

The tune "Yankee Doodle" is of unknown origin, but appeared in the 18th century as an instrumental air and was a favorite march tune of Revolutionary troops.

PTC Wage Offer Is Rejected By CIO

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 12 (AP)—The CIO transport workers union today flatly refused to set the Philadelphia's transit strike for a fourth round wage increase of seven cents an hour.

The strike of 11,000 subway, trolley and bus drivers has been in its eighth day since the union and the Philadelphia Transportation Company six cents apart on wages.

Some relief came to Philadelphia's millions, however, with the end of a three-day walkout by AFL Yellow Cab drivers. Scattered fist fighting punctuated resumption of cab operations.

the Taft-Hartley Labor Law. When Pepper made his statement, Mosher said:

"Just a minute, I'm losing my temper."

Pepper yelled: "Well, lose it!"

Mosher said: "I lost three in my family during the war."

Pepper said: "I still say, it's always been true in wars that a few people stay home and make money and the masses of people go out and get slaughtered on the battlefield."

Pepper said the NAM is "a greater enemy of democracy in America than labor will ever be."

Mosher hit into the administration measure. He told the committee:

"You cannot fail to see that under such a law, employers, lose the protection against abusive union practices that they have enjoyed for the last 40 months."

As for the present law, Mosher said: "Where is the evidence of hardship or unfairness? I have looked for it. I have asked my friends in labor. I have not been able to learn how the Taft-Hartley Law has hurt labor."

Mosher suggested a change in the Taft-Hartley law, provision which lets the government get 80-day injunctions against strikes which imperil the national health or safety.

"Its weakness may be largely by the fact that the injunction is for a definite period, that permitting the parties to gauge the 'profit and loss' involved if agreement is not reached within the 80-day period," he said.

Mosher also called on the committee to keep the Taft-Hartley Law's ban on the closed shop, under which employers can hire only union members.

While the exact origin of mechanical clocks is not known, it is said that Pope Sylvester II invented one in about 990 A. D.

THERE'S ALWAYS SOMETHING going on in Washington, but when the mercury decides to climb to 77 degrees a few days before Washington's Birthday, it's about time to take something off. Berlin Blockade

Western sector. The other victim was a man who tried to run a truckload of wood through the blockade. Such border controls now have been bolstered by roadblocks built of paving stones and iron stanchions.

The new victim was described as an intoxicated motorist seeking to escape from the Communist-controlled police by speeding from the Soviet sector into the American zone. He was shot twice in the back, and his car was wrecked against a lamp post.

The American-licensed newspaper Tagesspiegel denounced the shooting as murder, and Charles C. Bond, American public safety official said "it comes close to being murder."

"It was at least irresponsible police work," Bond said. "The motorist unquestionably was drunk, but the shooting was unwarranted. It was a direct result of the Russian blockade, for without the blockade we should have the free intercourse between all occupation sectors as provided by Four Power agreement."

The Russian-controlled news agency APN claimed the civilian was shot because he had tried to seize a policeman's gun. Western sector police said there was no evidence of this.

The Soviet-sponsored east mark fell from 5 to one West Mark to 15 for one, in the official exchange offices in West Berlin. On the black market the East Mark tumbled even more, to six for one, boosted their East Mark prices in this two-currency city.

Ervin Proposes State Construction Fund

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 12 (AP)—A special state construction is suggested by Attorney General Dick Ervin.

He believes Florida should have a guaranteed income to meet building needs as they arise and finance big once-in-lifetime projects like the South and Central Florida water control system.

He suggested it could be used for down payments to reduce loans and interest rates on self-liquidating projects, and also for construction of buildings which must be outright purchases because they can't earn revenue.

The Attorney General said such a fund would stabilize the state construction program and prevent a repetition of past experience, which shows the state has failed to put on needed buildings during long periods of lean years, then spent abnormal amounts at high prices during good years.

GATOR TANK CAPTAIN

GAINESVILLE, Feb. 12 (AP)—William Pepper, 11, 20-year-old junior of this city, was elected captain of the University of Florida swimming team at Athens, Ga., last night where the Gators are scheduled to meet the University of Georgia in the opening splash clash of the season tonight.

Word received here today from Gator Coach Frank Genovese was that the eight lettermen voted Pepper into the honor spot at a meeting after arriving in Athens from Gainesville.

most desirable features" of each—whether introduced by Democrats or Republicans.

He said he hoped that Sparkman's committee would take a similarly "non-partisan approach."

And the possibility of dispatching U. S. troops to Greece was also a hearing on the new $5,500,000,000 Marshall Plan authorization.

Sen. Labor of New Jersey, ranking Republican on the House Foreign Affairs Committee which is considering the aid program, said bluntly:

"Why don't we send our soldiers into Greece and clean up the germs?"

He said he was not actually recommending this, but added:

"Sooner or later we're going to have to do something. The way it is now, we're just building up the economy so the guerrillas will have something to take over."

Richard M. Bissell, Jr., deputy director of the Economic Cooperation Administration, to whom Ervin addressed his question, disagreed with the Congressman's conclusion that the United States was "treating the real trouble in Greece, but only the symptoms."

Bissell said that U. S. officials on the ground feel that military measures alone won't get Greece back on her feet; the Greek people must be given some hope for economic recovery, too.

Meanwhile Secretary of State Acheson made a date with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to seek prompt and substantial agreement on the final critical issues of the North Atlantic Security Treaty.

Diplomatic authorities said Acheson had ready for the afternoon session a proposal that amounts to a tentative treaty text.

This means a showdown over the wording of the defense clause of the treaty.

NEW CLUE

CORAL GABLES, Feb. 12 (AP)—A charter plane that disappeared Dec. 28 with 32 persons aboard had trouble landing at San Juan, Puerto Rico, a few hours earlier, investigators were told today.

R. W. Collier, an safety investigator for the Civil Aeronautics Board, said the pilot of the plane which later was lost, made four passes at the field in San Juan before landing safely. The trouble was attributed to the landing gear.

20,000 People Expected Here For 'Soil' Day

Conservation Service To Turn 350 Acres Of Land At Airbase Into A Model Farm

At least twenty thousand persons from all over Central Florida are expected to come here on Apr. 7 for "Miracle Soil Conservation Day" when 350 acres of raw land at the Municipal Airport will be turned into a model farm in one day under the direction of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service.

Plans were made for this stupendous undertaking at a meeting of prominent Sanford and Orlando civic leaders at the Mayfair Inn Friday night. Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce of Orlando and Seminole County, the newspapers of the two cities, the Fellowship Biblical College and the Seminole Soil Conservation District, the meeting was presided over by Edward Higgins, who was elected chairman of the steering committee.

R. E. Wetherell, of Orlando district supervisor of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, said that with the help of the local committee which had been named they would accomplish in one day what it would take the average farmer at least six years to do.

"I sounds impossible," he said but it has been done before. The last time we did it in a little Georgia town, 50,000 people came from every part of the state to see what could be accomplished by the latest and best in modern farm machinery and the most up-to-date methods. I know we can do it here."

The Sanford Electric Co. bid of $4,000 for installation of fluorescent lighting equipment in the Lyman School at Longwood, was approved.

Barr Made Member Of B And P W Club

Umpire George Barr, who has already been welcomed as an honorary member by Sanford Kiwanis and Jaycees, and who was recently presented with a "game for the blind" by the Lions Club, received his most unique honor Friday night when he was made an honorary member of the Sanford Business and Professional Women's Club.

A trophy in the form of a brass golfball mounted on an alabaster was given to Mr. Barr after the honorary membership had been conferred upon him by Mrs. Sally Mero Williams, president of the club. Miss Mildred Williams represented the trophy to Mr. Barr at the conclusion of the play, "The Light Eternal" at the Glens Restoration Center Auditorium, in recognition of his co-operation in furnishing several male members for the cast from among his umpire students.

HONORS RHAPIRO BROOKLINE, Mass., Feb. 21—

More than 3,000 persons gathered at Temple Kehillath Israel yesterday to pay final tribute to Abraham Rhapsiro, 64, noted philanthropist and co-founder of Brandeis University who died Friday while vacationing in Hollywood Fla.

Some 1,500 persons, unable to get into the Temple, stood outside on the street and listened to the services over loud speakers.

Rhapsiro, an immigrant to this country who became a leading Boston industrialist, was eulogized by Rabbi Judah Nadich as a "great spirit and soul who made living a responsibility to bring happiness to others."

Herlong Tells CAB Of Value Of Florida Airways

Representative Asks For Extension On Feeder Line Service

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Rep. Herlong (D-Fla.) told the Civil Aeronautics Board today that Florida Airways would have a "valuable" service during the coming session of the Florida Legislature if permitted to continue operation.

A Board examines recently re-commenced that the airline be denied permission to operate after Mar. 28, when its three-year certificate expires.

The airline is asking a 10-month extension on the grounds that because of financial difficulties it was late in starting operation.

Herlong said Tallahassee, Florida state capital, would be able to offer accommodations for legislators this spring but that businessmen traveling to the Capital from Central Florida would find dining facilities difficult.

He declared Florida Airways offers the only air travel to the Capital from the central portion of the state and many going to Tallahassee on business would be able (Continued on Page Two)

British Navy Asks For More Money

LONDON, Feb. 21—(AP)—The Royal Navy asked for more money today to "maintain and improve the state of readiness of the fleet." Viscount Hill, First Lord of the Admiralty, requested Parliament to appropriate 100,250,000 pounds ($375,000,000) to cover estimated naval costs during the 1949-1950 fiscal year. The amount is 30,250,000 pounds ($145,000,000) above the sum voted last year.

Hill said a large amount of the appropriation would be used to refit ships now being held in reserves. The government, spending more than $1 billion on the fleet last year, last September ordered 100 warships refitted for service.

Hill also asked for a supplementary appropriation of 15,500,000 pounds ($62,000,000) for 1949-50, mostly for the replacement of worn out and outdated equipment and replenishment of essential stocks.

CORRECTION

The Herald regrets an error in Thursday afternoon's paper in which it was stated that a horse died at the blacksmith shop of S. H. Earnest on South Sanford Avenue. The horse, belonging to M. W. Finch of Tampa, was being taken to Indian River City, and was brought here to be shod while on the way. It did not die, however, until the next day, Mr. Earnest said, and the shoeing had nothing to do with its death.

Norway Okays Atlantic Pact, Lange Asserts

Informants Say Soviet Non-Aggression Offer Will Be Rejected By Country

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—(AP)—The proposed North Atlantic Pact will give its membership strong assurance that the United States will not stand idly by in case of attack, it was learned today. An official source whose name may not be used said the military clause of the pact will not commit this country automatically to war. But, he said, it will carry assurance as strong that none will mistake this nation's intention to resist aggression.

OSLO, Norway, Feb. 21 (AP)—Norwegian Foreign Minister Halvard Lange announced today Norway has decided to join the pact to the Atlantic Pact.

Informants say Soviet's three weeks old offer of a non-aggression treaty will be rejected. Lange told a news conference his country lost faith in neutrality in 1940 when the Nazi army overran it.

He now believes the best hope of staying out of a war is to pursue a policy that will prevent or reduce the possibilities of war, Lange said.

Norway reached her decision despite Soviet warning. The dominant Soviet Party has approved the pro-Western foreign policy of Lange.

Army, Navy, And Air Force Asks Congress To Extend Rent Controls

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—(AP)—The Army, Navy and Air Force asked Congress today for continued rent controls to keep rents on a "reasonable basis" in areas of defense activity.

The military establishment's services "have an interest in certain industrial areas." A statement added:

"Mobilization, or a change in production requirements, might very well hamper industrial activity unless rental housing is available on a reasonable basis." Housing Expediter Elmer Wood previously had told the committee that expanding defense activity requires the extension of rent ceilings to additional areas.

The military establishment's statement was prepared by Eugene M. Zuckert, assistant secretary of the Air Force. It said the biggest factor in the low rate at which services men are re-enlisting "is inadequate living accommodations, or inadequate accommodations at excessive rentals."

He gave this picture: "At Mather Field, Calif., for example, the commanding general was allowed enlisted men and their families to recondition old barracks-type buildings, where it is necessary for entire families to use common cooking, and other facilities. The reason? Principally because the military income will not stand a $60-$80 per month room in a town 12 miles from the base."

Jews Riot To Block Berlin Theater Show

Fire Hoses, Clubs Are Used To Halt Demonstrators By British Policemen

BERLIN, Feb. 21—(AP)—Lashed Polish Jews rioted before a British sector movie theater today and for the second time blocked a showing of the film "Three Weeks," which they charge is anti-Semitic.

Police used clubs and fire hoses to hold back a charging crowd of demonstrators, but without much success, when the theater tried to open for the afternoon showing of the film based on the "Three Weeks" novel.

A number of flying fists and clubs struck up and down the Koenigsstrasse from the street which is the center of Berlin's ethnic life. German police of the British sector had to call in all available reserves and British public safety officers on duty decided to suspend the showing once again.

Demonstrators halted the first showing of the film in the evening. The film was shown last night. Today the British police demanded by high police officials that the film be shown in the afternoon.

The police officers, about 100, were in the street in front of the theater, with a line of British soldiers in front of the theater. The British stepped in and ordered the afternoon performance called off.

The theater, with a capacity of 1,000, was full of British soldiers who were ordered to clear the theater as soon as the film was shown.

In the morning crowd outside, a British officer was beaten. The demonstrators hurled rocks and other objects at the officer. The British police, however, did not intervene.
