New Resuscitation Method Shown For Bear Lake Club

By Shirley Wentworth
The new life saving method of "mouth to nose" resuscitation developed in Australia and rapidly being adopted for general use was demonstrated Tuesday night by Seminole Chapter Representatives of the American Red Cross for members of the Bear Lake Home Demonstration Club.

The program on water safety and resuscitation was given by Mrs. Edith Avenel and Mrs. Colleen Stewart who also demonstrated the step by step procedures of mouth to mouth resuscitation using the life sized dummy "Annie" and guided each club member through the life saving routine.

Red Cross as yet has not wholly approved the new mouth to nose techniques although the mouth to mouth method, developed and used first by lifesaving teams in Norway, is approved and has been in use for some time, the representatives advised.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Russell Goomis with Mrs. Raymond Jackson, club president, presiding.

Mrs. Jackson announced that arrangements have been completed for the club to tour a furniture store on the evening of May 2 beginning at 7:30 p. m. She also announced that the Bear Lake group had received an invitation to attend the May 15 all day meeting of the Geneva Club.

'Featherbedding' Ruling

Rail Tie-Up Threat Seen

BULLETIN

CHICAGO (UPI) — The nation's railroads, freed of a restraining injunction, announced today they will put anti-featherbedding work rules changes into effect April 8 which could touch off a nationwide rail strike.

Rail officials are expecting that President Kennedy will appoint an emergency board for a 60-day "cooling off" period aimed at heading off a nationwide rail-road strike as the result of the court ruling handed down today in Chicago.

Local rail officers, requesting their names not be published, said this appears to be the only alternative at this point. The emergency board would study the facts in the matter for 30 days and then offer recommendations "for a solution to the President, the railroads and the employees."

The Herald sought at noon today by telephone to obtain a statement from W. Thomas Rife, president of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, but was informed by his Jacksonville office that "he is out of the city."

CHICAGO (UPI) — A federal district judge lifted an injunction and set the stage today for the nation's railroads to order sweeping anti-featherbedding work rules changes.

The railroads were expected to announce shortly that the work rules would become effective immediately. The action could result in a nationwide strike threat.

The representatives of the railroads had been restrained since last July from placing the proposed work rules changes into effect.

In dissolving the injunction, Judge Joseph Sam Perry told 200 persons awaiting citizenship ceremonies in his chambers that they were witnessing a "phase in railroad history."

Perry praised the railroads and five on-train brotherhoods, who have fought the proposed changes, for their conduct in the case which finally was decided by the U. S. Supreme Court on March 4.

Perry said his action meant there now is nothing to bar the railroads from starting the work rules changes which are expected to eliminate at least 65,000 jobs.

One of the first effects of the work rule changes probably would be the most drastic — the elimination of jobs which the railroads consider unnecessary. These were primarily firemen's jobs on diesel engines in freight and yard service.

About 15,000 — those with less than 10 years seniority — were expected to be separated or furloughed within one year with three months to one year notice.

About 40,000 firemen would be affected over a period of five to 10 years.

Some of the work rule changes would become effective within days. Others might take weeks, months and even years to make effective, railroad spokesmen said.

Horne Warns Of Tax Boost

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — House Speaker Mallory Horne rapped the 1963 Florida Legislature into session today with a blunt warning that Legislators must be prepared to back record-breaking appropriations with new taxes.

Horne said a good case will be made for upwards of $150 million in new revenue for expansion of educational, health and other government services.

"Don't vote appropriations unless you are ready to vote the taxes to support them," he said.

An hour later, Senate President Wilson Carraway sounded a similar challenge, cautioning lawmakers not to go off on a wild spending spree that will force "discriminatory and confiscatory taxation."

Legislators, barely visible behind desks banked high with flowers, listened intently as Carraway and Horne spelled out the critical fiscal problems that must be solved in the next 60 days.

At the keynote of Gov. Farris Bryant's address to a joint session at 3:30 p. m.

"No recent session of this legislature has been confronted with fiscal problems as difficult as those we are now called upon to solve," said Carraway.

"Not since the end of World War Two have the demands for capital and administrative output pressed us so hard.

"Budget demands must be subjected to long and thoughtful hours of scrutiny. Every ounce of fat must be taken out, but at the same time, every pressing need must be met. Each request for funds must have your cold and impersonal consideration.

"Selfishness and favoritism have no place in the processes which lead to your conclusions," the Senate president added. "Whatever is done should be accomplished with an eye to the fiscal stability of the state and without disrupting the principles of sound business.

"We can be neither ingardly nor liberal."

Reds Shoot For Moon

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today launched a space rocket destined for the moon, the official news agency Tass announced.

Tass said the final stage of the rocket follows the pre-set trajectory of the flight.

It said an automatic station "moon-4," weighing 1,122 kilograms (1,130 pounds) is installed aboard the rocket. The automatic station is expected to reach the area of the moon in three and a half days.

Tass said all apparatus aboard the automatic station is functioning normally.

It was the second unmanned space launch from the Soviet Union this year. Last month, scientists sent up Cosmos 13, and unmanned sputnik which went into an earth orbit.

Moscow radio said the last stage of the rocket was put into an intermediate orbit and from there was sent toward the moon.

Tass said in a statement: "In accordance with the program for exploration of outer space and planets of the solar system, a space rocket was launched in the Soviet Union on April 2 toward the moon.

"The final stage of the rocket was preliminarily set on an intermediate orbit of the earth's manned sputnik, then was launched and emerged onto the pre-set trajectory of the flight."

Army Takes Over In Argentina
BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Retired military officers proclaimed a revolt today to block what they termed a threatened Communist takeover, but the government scoffed at the uprising.

The Defense Ministry described the political dissidents as retired army and navy officers and die-hard anti-Peronists engaged "only in psychological action."

The government claimed "absolute calm" in all commands at midday. The statement contrasted sharply with the rebel proclamation of a "national revolution."

Rebel broadcasts identified aged retired Lt. Gen. Benjamin Menendez as "commander-in-chief of the revolution." Solo casualty of the revolt up to midday was a general who was wounded by gunmen who sped past his home.

The rebellion appeared to be an attempt to block the government's plan to allow supporters of ousted former President Juan D. Peron to participate in elections scheduled for June 23. Brazilian Communists have supported Peronist candidates in past elections.

Negroes To Defy Governor's Order
GREENWOOD, Miss. (UPI) — Comedian Dick Gregory vowed to lead Negroes in a voter-registration march today in defiance of Gov. Ross Barnett's denunciation of such demonstrations.

Gregory told a crowd of 1,000 cheering Negroes Monday night that "these people will find out that America is too big for Mississippi."

Barnett said Monday in Jackson that Negro demonstrations in this delta town were like "a loaded bomb resting in a street" and that state and local authorities had the right to remove such dangers.

Kennedy Proposes $420 Million Cut Of Aid Requested

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy, faced with an economy-minded Congress, took the unusual step today of cutting $120 million from his foreign aid request.

Kennedy adopted many of the recommendations for tightening up aid made to him last month by a citizens' committee headed by retired Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

In a new proposal to spur economic development overseas through private channels, the President called for a tax credit for U. S. taxpayers who invest in developing countries.

Canal Protests Anticipated By Area Fishermen

Opposition to the proposed St. Johns-Indian River Canal Authority will be expressed officially in Tallahassee by commercial fishing interests on the upper St. Johns River, it was learned today.

The Herald reported Monday that Sen. Bernard Parrish, of Brevard County, intended introducing a bill in the State Legislature seeking formation of the Canal Authority to promote the construction of a waterway connecting the St. Johns River and the Indian River between Sanford and Maytown.

O. H. Morris, of Welaka, president of the Commercial Fishing Association, today apprised S. B. (Jim) Crowe, fishing camp operator on the St. Johns at Highway 46, that commercial fishermen in Duval and Putnam Counties will oppose any action to install a canal, feeling it will cause irreparable damage to their industry.

Anderson North Orlando Mayor

First fully elected Town Council of North Orlando in a brief initial session chose W. W. Anderson as mayor Monday evening.

Anderson, a holdover from the March 1962 election, and Arthur Ferrin, elected last month, were chosen to head the five-man Council. Anderson succeeds Frank Fasula as mayor Ferrin was named vice mayor.

Holdover with Anderson is Robert Stephenson, also elected last year.

Circuit Judge Volle A. Williams Jr. administered oath of office Monday evening to those elected to the Council last month: Mrs. Irene Van Espel, Ferrin and Arthur Rhodes. These three succeeded North Orlando Company-appointed councilmen.

Anderson called for a vote for a mayor. The Council members, themselves were crowded out of the small office by well-wishers.

Mrs. Van Espel failed the vote; Anderson, 3; Ferrin, 1; Rhodes, 1. Anderson called for a vote for a vice mayor and Ferrin won 3-2.

The new mayor then asked for a nomination for a temporary town clerk. Mrs. Van Espel nominated Mrs. Barbara Peters and she was chosen for Monday night's meeting. It was learned another nomination will be in order for a town clerk at the first regular session of the new Town Council at 8 p. m. today.

It also was learned Anderson already is proposing to raise $10,000 for the construction of a fire hall and town offices.

At the conclusion of Monday evening's session, Anderson had this to say, as North Orlando's new mayor: "As far as I am concerned the village was born tonight. Let's forget what has happened heretofore. It is dead, done and over with. Now, we are going to try to go forward."

Anderson was referring to disension which has marred North Orlando's progress from its inception.

'One Of The Most Beautiful' Around The World Prom Setting

"One of the most beautiful Junior-Senior proms ever seen" was the consensus of opinion Saturday as members of the Junior Class at Seminole High School hosted the seniors at the annual event, in an Around the World setting at the Civic Center.

The entrance was decorated with travel folders to resemble a travel agency, and stepping through the inner door, guests found themselves gazing upon scenes from many lands.

At the left was a Spanish garden, with a flower-entwined fence and archway providing entry. Girls in Spanish costumes served the dancers seated there, and statues of a caballero and a senorita solemnly watched the proceedings.

IVORA CIRCLE
By Mrs. Bob Crumley
It's time for Spring house cleaning—in our yards, that is! And this year, because of the freeze, we have more work than usual before we can sit down and wait for the long summer.

First, on the spring cleaning list, it is time to trim back hibiscus bushes, cut back hydrangeas, azaleas, and other spring blooming shrubs, immediately after they have flowered. Mulch all flower beds heavily to keep down weeds and to help hold moisture in the soil during the hot days ahead; so much, much, MUCH!

The lawn also needs attention now after its fairly dormant winter. It needs fertilizer to help it feed during the growing period of spring and summer. It is best to obtain a soil sample to determine just what your individual lawn needs are and buy a fertilizer that meets your specific requirements rather than "just fertilizing."

Azaleas need to be fertilized now too and if you haven't already fertilized your palms, now is the time. It is also safe to go ahead and trim palms and all other trees and plants that were damaged by the cold.

As you go around trimming and fertilizing watch for spider mites and tea scales on camellias, and for aphids on new flushes of all types of growths.

Now if you have done all this and still have energy left (and faith in a warmer winter next year) go ahead and start replacing any of your plants that were killed by the freeze, because some of our most beautiful, colorful plants are the ones that are always hurt by the cold.

Pinecrest School Plans Follies Of '63

Pinecrest School has announced their approaching spring program which is to be held at the school on Friday, April 6th, at 8 p.m.

The "Pinecrest Follies of '63" is being primarily planned and directed by the school's music teacher, Mrs. Javi Straley, a resident of Orlando, who has been a professional organist for twelve years.

She owns her own organ and has had it transported to Pinecrest School for the program. It is planned that several numbers will be presented by Mrs. Straley on the organ, accompanied by a bass viol and drums.

Roger Harris, the county auditor, worked closely with the faculty in selecting talent which is to be presented by the children. As Mr. Harris too is a professional musician his services were most invaluable.

The faculty is also appearing on the program by way of varied skits. The master of ceremonies is to be Herold Heckenbach, principal of Pinecrest School. Although new to Pinecrest, Mr. Heckenbach has been a principal in Seminole County for thirteen years.

The "Pine Crest Follies of '63" is a PTA sponsored event with a very small admission price. It is hoped that the proceeds will help to meet some of the important school needs in the immediate future.

Highlight of the speaker's table was a gold tree decorated with bird houses, made of egg shells, hanging from the branches. Miniature birds were perched on the golden limbs.

Three Anchor Club girls were welcomed as guests, the Misses Carolyn Turner, Pam Jones and Brenda Brown. Miss Janet Smith sang a group of songs, including "I Believe" and "Melody of Love." She was accompanied by Mrs. Jack Lambertson.

Don't Soak The Poor

A great deal of reckless talk is making the rounds among politicians just before the opening of Florida's 1963 legislature. "It is inevitable," say some of them, "that the state's three percent sales tax be extended to include groceries and medicine."

Enlargement of Florida's 1959 sales tax has the support of some citizens, who claim it will "broaden the tax base and thus enable lower income families to pay their fair share of the tax burden."

That's a pretty phrase. Roll it around a few times on your tongue, and you end up almost believing it. Almost. If you didn't know in your heart that the grocery-medicine tax is a scheme on the part of legislators too timid to go after the real, legitimate, available sources of new state revenue.

It is a disgraceful fact that no state legislature yet had the courage to buck a powerful phosphate lobby which resists the proposal made year after year to impose a fair severance tax on the depletion of Florida's mineral resources. The phosphate people continue to dig huge, ugly holes which pockmark the Florida landscape, and to exploit commercially that which can never be replaced. Yet they pay no severance tax. Nor do those who dig limestone.

Session after session, the legislature has permitted lumbermen to remove priceless and irreplaceable virgin trees from our landscape without paying one cent severance tax. Now that nearly all the virgin timber is gone, the time probably is too late for remedy. Most of the timber being cut now is farm-planted and thus not a depletion of natural wealth.

Another possible source of revenue is a one-cent per bottle tax on soft drinks. If you haven't noticed it lately, most places now charge a dime for what used to be a five-cent bottle of soda pop. With the retail price doubled, the consumer is paying the bottler his price (with a fair profit, to which he is entitled) — and somebody is getting a mighty big swig out of the bottle. Which is to say, the consumer actually is paying enough to support that one-cent tax — but the state isn't getting it. Why? For the simple reason, known to every legislator in Tallahassee, that the soft-drink lobby is extremely powerful and pulls strings during the legislative session.

Why is it that fresh-water fishermen must buy licenses, while those fishing off the coastline are exempt? The products of the sea, within Florida's twelve-mile ocean boundaries, are just as much a natural resource as the game fish in our fresh water lakes. Let's put a reasonable licensing fee on salt water fishermen, charter boat operators and so on.

Don't believe these people who spout off about "broadening the tax base." All that phrase means is that the little man, the working man who already struggles to pay rent and lights and keep food in the pantry, is going to be expected to pay a tax on the basic substances of life itself. Legislators are only kidding themselves if they think people are going to stand for such a tax. They won't. Citizens of Florida can see through the phony arguments of those who play footsie with the phosphate boys and then vote a tax on medicine for a sick child.

If you don't believe there is economic hardship today, look around you. Placing a further hardship on the working man in the wake of December's freeze would be a cynical act for any lawmaker. Let us hope that, for once, legislators have the guts to stand up to the special "Fat Cat" interest and put taxes where they belong — not on the backs of the poor and the struggling.

Helen Fuller Says

Why Presidents Get Gray

WASHINGTON — John F. Kennedy is experiencing one of the moments that explain why presidents grow gray.

To avoid the reputation of being a "big spender," President Kennedy ruled out any requests by his department heads for budget increases for social or welfare programs next year. That was in order to balance out the increased spending he recommended for defense and for space exploration.

Republicans contend that he has not cut enough — at least another $10 billion should come out of the domestic part of the 1964 budget, their leaders say. At the same time some of Ken-edy's staunchest supporters in his own party complain that by tightening the domestic budget so far, the President is already choking the economy. They are urging additional public works spending at once — on a scale that would upset the Administration's budget plans.

Without presidential approval bills have been introduced in both the House and the Senate to authorize another $1 billion or more for work projects in areas of substantial unemployment. And sponsors of the bills have the open backing of such administration stalwarts as Senate Democratic Whip Hubert Humphrey, House Majority Leader Carl Albert and Democratic Whip Hale Boggs. Pressure on the President is growing to break through the budget ceiling he imposed on his Administration and call for massive federal spending to deal with persistent unemployment.

This month more than six per cent of the work force are without jobs, more than a year ago. And a growing number of Congressmen want immediate work for their unemployed constituents — building sewers, sidewalks, drainage ditches or whatever communities need.

The President so far is resisting the pressure. Congressional leaders after private sessions with Mr. Kennedy report that he is convinced that his budget approach is the right one. For the immediate present, apparently, it is also the public one. According to the latest Gallup Poll, the President's popularity dropped another four per cent last month — making a total loss of 10 per cent in public approval since the beginning of the year. One of the two reasons most frequently given by those who disapprove of the President's policy: "excessive spending."

Kennedy's thinking may change, however, if the persistent unemployment big cities persists into the 1964 presidential election year.

Detroit, which voted 70 per cent for Kennedy in 1960, is now "deeply disenchanted with the Kennedy Administration," a visiting reporter found last week. The auto capital has been running a steady seven per cent rate of unemployment in spite of an auto boom. With new machines and equipment, fewer men produce more.

Few leaders of labor or management in Detroit believe that the tax cut the President is asking Congress to approve would have any noticeable impact on the jobless problem in their city. It's the same story in many another town the Democrats want to be happy when election time rolls around.

Worry Clinic

Lois is like many smitten lovers who feel they can never, NEVER fall in love again. Yet if they use their heads, they will see many proofs around them of happy second marriages by widows and widowers who lost their mates by death and then later remarried.

So send for the "Marriage Tests" below and do NOT marry anybody who doesn't rate "Superior" thereon! By George W. Crane, Ph.D. CASE P-102: Lois L., aged 17, is the love-sick girl mentioned yesterday.

"But, Dr. Crane," she moaned, "if I give up Ted, I just know I shall never, NEVER fall in love again!"

"Even though I realize he is already married and with two babies, I still want him!" People who love diabetes may still WANT sugary foods. But they realize they must give them up in order to stay healthy.

Gall bladder patients likewise would like to eat pork and baked beans and apple pie.

But they soon learn to avoid those rich foods if they want to avoid future painful attacks.

And so it is in marriage. Despite what Lois may WANT, she should look ahead and realize these facts:

(1) When she marries, she will cast at least four "proxy" votes. These include her own, and those of her future three children who rely on her to vote for them.

Those children will not be concerned with the fact her ego is now flattered at the attention and confidences spilled into her ear by this older, married man.

What those future babies will desire is a daddy who doesn't split his attention between children of a former wife and his present mate.

And they will want a daddy who can support them without having to divide his meager pay check every week between his former wife and children, plus his second family.

(2) At 17, the average girl is much too young to handle the varied duties of a career like marriage.

For a successful wife should not only be able to cook and budget the family funds and make out her husband's income tax forms.

But she should also be socially poised so she can participate in PTA and church societies.

How can a 17-year-old compete with other wives who went to college and held down a job and budgeted their pay checks and thus have learned how to "front" for their family more successfully?

Girls, your future children will want to be proud of their mother. But Lois would probably remain a shy, mousey type of inexperienced creature who will feel inferior and thus remain a wallflower in civic or social and church organizations.

Play ball more fairly with your future children and thus pick a man who rates at least "Superior" on the "Marriage Tests" below.

(3) Love is not a one-shot or single emotional experience. You can fall in love more than once!

So if Lois breaks off with this married man, she can still expect another love affair later, which should be far more satisfactory for the long pull that happy marriage really involves.

Grief and anger and love are all emotions, and they can all be experienced more than once in your lifetime.

Many widows and widowers will tell you they wouldn't have believed it when they lost their first mate, but they later fell in love and often enjoyed their second marriage even more than the first.

So listen to the advice of your clergyman and other advisors.

And send for the "Tests for Husband and Wives" enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20c. Use those tests to select topnotch matrimonial merchandise.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 5c stamped, addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—It now develops that the Trade Expansion Act of 1961—hailed as the major achievement of the Kennedy administration in the last Congress—cannot begin to be effective before Jan. 1, 1965. It will take that long to negotiate major tariff cuts authorized by the act.

These negotiations will be conducted under the direction of Christian A. Herter, former Massachusetts governor and congressman and President Eisenhower's last secretary of state.

Named by President Kennedy as his special assistant on international trade, Herter has made on trip to Europe. Now he's preparing for two years of difficult bargaining.

There is wide suspicion of the new U. S. trade act in Europe and among the less developed countries as well.

What they seem to fear is that the United States is trying to capture their markets. They're reluctant to lower their own trade barriers against U. S. exports.

Two major political hurdles must be crossed. First is the French veto of Britain's admission into the Common Market. This thwarts trade act authority given the President to negotiate 100 per cent tariff reductions on items in which 80 per cent of the trade is between the United States and the Common Market.

This was put in the law in anticipation that Britain would be admitted.

The second hurdle is that Russia, its satellites and some of the neutral nations are advocating a United Nations world trade conference. What the Communist countries want, of course, is removal of strategic materials trade restrictions against them.

A UN Trade Conference might cause considerable difficulty if held while another round of rate reductions under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade—GATT—was being negotiated.

The preliminaries to these negotiations are considered more important than the negotiations themselves. They'll determine what tariffs are to be cut and how the negotiations are to be conducted.

Trade experts from most of the 41 countries now in GATT have just begun meetings in Geneva to do some exploring. The idea is to negotiate on broad trade classifications rather than item by item, which is slow going.

The last round of tariff negotiations took 445 days. The present plan is to have the experts' preliminary recommendations ready for a trade ministers meeting to begin May 18. A final approval ministers meeting would be held in January 1964.

Meanwhile, here in the United States, a list of imports on which tariff reductions might be made, along with the proposed new rates, is being prepared for issuance by Kennedy in July or August.

Public hearings then would be held on what to include in the GATT negotiating package. These probably will take the full six months allowed by the new trade act.

The final list of commodities on which tariff reductions are to be negotiated must then be before Congress for 60 session days for its approval.

So the actual trade negotiations can't possibly begin before April 1964, or even later.

One of the principal American objectives is to insure that agricultural products are included in the coming negotiations along with industrial products. In the last round of tariff negotiations, agricultural items were pushed to one side because the Common Market at that time did not have an agricultural policy.

Common Market agricultural policies are still cloudy, but the United States cannot get caught in this bind again.

Matter Of Fact

Aldabaren, the alpha star of the constellation Taurus, is one of the 20 brightest stars in the heavens. It is a giant star, reddish in color and appears accompanied by a very faint companion star. Aldabaren has a diameter 50 times that of the sun, and is about 80 light years from the earth.

Giants Get Boost From Batterymates

By United Press International
Juan Marichal and Tom Haller, batterymates who played important roles in the San Francisco Giants' drive to the 1962 National League pennant, have boosted Al Dark's team back into the victory column—and it's a shame the Giant manager wasn't around to see it.

Dark was traveling to New York Monday to receive a sportsmanship award when the Giants broke a six-game losing streak with a 4-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians at Santa Barbara, Calif. The Giants scored all their runs in the fourth inning, climaxed by Haller's two-run homer.

Dark's eyes would have sparkled at the performance of the high-kicking Marichal, who turned in disappointing efforts in two previous spring training appearances. Marichal, an 18-game winner last season, allowed only two hits and one run in six innings and struck out nine Indians. The Giants collected only six hits — three of them by Willie Mays, who led off the fourth inning with a single. Then Orlando Cepeda doubled, Felipe Alou tripled and Haller homered off Joe Schaffert.

Billy Pierce came in in the seventh inning and gave up a two-run homer to rookie Bob Lipski of the Indians.

Veteran pitchers Robin Roberts and Bob Friend showed they're in mid-season form by firing four-hitters Monday. Although not going the full route, Joey Jay, Bill Stafford and Bob Shaw all turned in strong pitching performances. Roberts, who hardly threw a ball in spring training last season before being cut by the New York Yankees, pitched the Baltimore Orioles to a 6-1 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers. The Orioles rapped out 11 hits, including Brooks Robinson's two-run homer.

The Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Minnesota Twins, 3-0, as Friend scattered four singles and faced only 30 batters. Donnan Clendenen's two-run homer and Roberto Clement's steal of home provided the Pittsburgh runs.

In other games, home runs by Roger Maris and Joe Pep-home earned the Yankees a 3-2 triumph over the Detroit Tigers; the Cincinnati Reds handed the Kansas City Ath-

Strikes . . . Spares

By John A. Spolski
Well, it's all over now but the shouting! Our heartfelt congratulations to one and all for helping to make our men's and women's annual City Tournament the success they were during the month of March!

And before we go another word further, tournament-time will continue again, as per the old format, and will be running the popular Scotch Doubles this Sunday. Squads are at 5, 7 and 9 p. m.

As a bonus, we'll again run Scotch Doubles the following Sunday, too. . . . Easter Day. Come on out! First place will carry the $50.00 guarantee.

Now let's get back to saluting the KINGS in the various categories.

Coming in first in the Team Event, it was Harold's Auto with a booming 3107 series. Congratulations to Harold Johnson, John Kneeland, John Richardson, Bob Latta and Jim Altman. The honor carries trophies, donated by the Florida State Bank, and $85.00 for winning this event.

Second thru fifth places were captured by Sweeney's Bar & Grill ($42.50); The Pick Ups ($34.50); Harry's Liquors ($27.50) and the Ten Pins of NAS ($25.00).

And how do you like our new Doublets Champ? (Lucky Stiffs knocked - out two "charming fellows" from first to the second slot.)

It's the first time either one of them has ever won a trophy and the first time they've collected in tournament play like this. Congratulations to John Zueli and Jerry (the cigar) Farelia and their 1293 which won the Doublets Event. I know they'll enjoy the trophies from Florida State and the prize money which goes along with the first slot, $43.00.

Second was taken by those two nice fellows I was telling you about. . . . Bobby Borsdorf and John (Oooo, I could cry!) Spolski who collected a 1278 set and $21.50 (See, now I'm smiling already). Third, fourth and fifth went to Peto Dugan Jack Kanner — 1272 ($17.50); Valentine Combs — 1251 ($14.50); Harry Pentecost/Al DePalma — 1225 ($12.40).

The Mayfair Inn made a clean sweep against the M. & R. Bar. Nationwide Insurance won three points from Shoemaker Construction and the Mar-Lou Restaurant also won three points from Grapeville Nursery.

The 5-4 fell for Letha Ward, 5-6-10 for Kathy Gray, 5-7 Mary Tomaleski, Jean Ouden and Libbie Whitehead converted the 5-7; Nancy Vinson 3-7; Gertrude Nopper 5-10; and the 3-10 fell for Mary Tomaleski and Gertrude Nopper. Turkeys were rolled by Dot Button, Mary Tomaleski, Nancy Vinson and Libbie Whitehead. Dot Button continues to show good form with a 219 game and 382 series.

Snider Sold To Mets

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) —There's a "gentlemen's agreement" clause in the sale of Duke Snider to the New York Mets, it was learned today.

When the straight cash deal was announced Monday night, it was estimated the Mets paid the Los Angeles Dodgers $10,000 for the 36-year-old outfielder, who was known as the "Duke of Flatbush" during his salad days in Brooklyn.

However, only about $30,000 passed hands in the transaction. The Dodgers, though, have been promised additional money if Snider regains some of his past slugging form with the Mets. "If Snider is able to do any kind of a job for us, we'll give the Dodgers more money at the end of the season," said club President George Weiss.

The Mets' boss declined to estimate how much additional cash he will use to sweeten the pot, but it is assumed this figure, too, will depend on whether the Duke still has it.

Asked who will determine whether Snider's work with the Mets is up to par, Weiss said, "They (the Dodgers) will know and we will know." Under the terms of the unique sale, Snider will not let his sixth straight loss, 4-1; the Washington Senators scored twice in the 10th inning to down the Milwaukee

Braves, 4-2; the Los Angeles Angels defeated the Houston Colts, 5-1; homers by Ernie Banks and Ron Santo paced the Chicago Cubs to a 13-3 rout of the Boston Red Sox and the Philadelphia Phillies topped the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-4.

Jay permitted only five hits in seven shutout innings against the A's while Don Blasingame, Vada Pinson and Gordy Coleman led the Red attack. Stafford gave up six hits in seven innings for the Yankees, but wasn't nipped for a run until the seventh. Maris suffered a severely pulled leg muscle while grabbing a fly ball in the fourth inning.

Jim King's two-run triple off Jim Constable paced the Senators to victory. Shaw worked seven impressive innings in a losing cause for the Braves.

Leon Wagner homered and Don Lee and Julio Navarro combined on a four-hitter for the Angels. Cub pitchers Bob Bull, Cal Koonce and Jim Brewer held the Red Sox to seven hits while Chicago blasted out 15 hits.

All events was determined by scratch scores only! Harry Pentecost's average of 196-plus during the tournament had him take this top position with a 1771 series for the nine games. First place carries one of the F. S. B. trophy's and $14.00.

Not too many pins being Harry was Al DePalma—1760 ($7.00 which in turn was completed by Eddie Monroe—1763 ($5.50); John Kneeland—1751 ($4.50); Bob Combs — 1741 ($3.00) and finally (must be a mistake) Spitski roared in with a 1727 ($2.00).

Our most sincere thanks to the folks of Florida State Bank for being so generous with their participation and recognition for Gene Estridge and his staff of the men's bowling association for doing their usual good job.

And now as space permits, let's take a quick look-see at what happened in the action from league play.

11 single and series in the City League was that of Neal Maxwell's 237-6371 Not too many pins behind Neal was Big John Ehr with a 235-635 set. (Man, wouldn't that have made a doubles combination, huh?)

And before it gets too many weeks old, congratulations to "fellow colleague" — Dottie Higginbotham for getting the most improved bowler award in the Thursday Night Mixed League. (Star reporter . . . now star bowler Cheese, there won't be any living with her now!)

Games over 200 were rolled by H. Klomp, E. Ogden, H. Long, H. Conley and E. Parsons.

Klomp is in first place for the Gen. H. P. Newton trophy and if time is in the lead for the Curtis Redman trophy.

The Mets also are hopeful that Snider will be able to attract some of his old Brooklyn roots to the Polo Grounds, where the Mets seem fated to play most, if not all, of their home games this season.

ENTERPRISE'S HIDDY BASKETBALL TEAM, which took the second place Championship Trophy held by Coach Edwin Braddock, center back, was entertained by parents and friends at a Saturday evening dinner held at the Florida Power Club. ## With Masters Thursday

Palmer Moaning Over Driver

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — Kingpin Arnold Palmer bemoaned his misbehaving driver today but drew no sympathy from fellow pros who feel he can win his fourth Masters golf title even by using a brassie off the tee.

Palmer, of course, will stay with his driver when the first round shooting starts Thursday over the Masters' lush 6,989-yard layout and he'll be trying not only to become the first four-time winner here but also the first player ever to win titles back-to-back.

"I wish my driving would be a little better," he claimed after spraying a few during Monday's practice round, "I've got a couple of days to work on it, anyway."

Peeling his glove off, the porcupine Palmer then headed for the barber to get a haircut, and most of the other competitors in the probable field of 82 believe that's all he needs to win his fourth Masters in the last six years.

Art Wall, one of the two men to break Palmer's monopoly since 1958, claims Arnie has to be the "natural favorite" any time he sets foot on this course.

"I'd have to say Palmer feels as much at home on this course as he does on his own," Wall said, putting on his golf shoes before starting his own practice round.

"You have to reckon his chances as being excellent. But I'd also say keep an eye on Julius Boros. I think he has the best opportunity among the so-called outsiders."

Wall, winner of the 1959 Masters, even thinks he has an outside chance himself.

"You never can tell who'll get hot and come on to win this one although it's extremely unlikely that a first low playing here for the first time will do it," he said.

"There's a great deal to be learned about this course and it takes a while to do it," said Wall, who fired five birdies over the last six holes to beat runnerup Gary Midgloff by one stroke in 1959.

Outside of Wall, the only other player besides Palmer to win the Masters in the past six years was South African Gary Player, who became the only foreigner in history ever to take home the title in 1961.

Player wound up in a three-way playoff for the crown last year, shooting a one-under par 71 to finish second to Palmer's 68. Dow Finsterwald, the third man in the playoff, failed badly with a 77.

The oldsmakers are a pick-me Palmer.

Larry's Mart Cops All Three

Larry's Mart won all three of its games from the Fast Drug team to take a 10-2 game lead into first place in the All-Star Bowling League.

With only 12 more games to roll in the season this automatically gives Larry's Mart first place honors in the league.

Al DePalma had a huge 637 series to help his team wrap it up this week. He also has the high league average of 188.

In other league action, Meadors Marine took two games from Frailey Concrete to remain two games out of second place. George Swann was high for Meadors with a 586 total and Ken Caskey was high for Frailey with a 591.

The Handy Food Store team held onto second place although it lost two games to the Sanford Dry Cleaners trio. Bob Borsdorf was high for Handy with a 502 series, while Tommy Kipp and Harold Herbst had a 401 and 391, respectively, for the Cleaners team.

Betty Ann's hung onto third place after losing two games to the P. Zeuli and Sons team. John Zeuli was high for his team with a 565.

Eighteen games were rolled over the 200 mark. Gary Fox, 242; DePalma, 241 and 222; Howard, 207; Steele, 201; Swann, 208 and 206; Coskey, 212 and 202; Farelia, 210; Murphy, 214; Garbanino, 215; Borsdorf, 211 and 225; T. Kipp, 201 and 216; A. Kipp, 203 and Herbst, 235.

Rates Reduced On After Hours Phone Calls

Southern Bell telephone customers in Sanford will be able to call any point in Florida for 65 cents or less after 9 p.m. beginning April 1.

"The new rates for in-state long distance calls will apply to a three-minute, station-to-station calls placed between the hours of 9 p.m. and 4:30 a.m. daily," said Bob Shelden, Southern Bell Manager here.

In addition, proportionate reductions in charges for additional minutes of conversation will also be in effect.

"The reduction in charges on calls made within Florida has been approved by the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission.

Shelden said, "The new rates will make it possible for customers to realize savings on family and social type station-to-station calls made after 9 p.m. and will encourage use of the facilities during off-peak hours."

Growth Of Spiritual Stressed In Lecture

Man's unlimited possibilities and the fact that the power of spiritual enlightenment is removing barriers of greed, lack of communication and gross materialism in life today were stressed in a lecture sponsored by First Church of Christ, Scientist, at the Civic Center Monday night.

Speaker was Wilson M. Riley, member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship who withdrew from the publishing business in 1940 to devote his full time to public practice of Christian Science.

Citing the exceedingly swift progress being made today through material inventions, Riley called attention to the fact that human thought, enlightened through spiritual understanding, brings about comparable advances in the demonstration of love, peace, universal brotherhood, freedom and purposeful living.

"It is only through this spiritual enlightenment that the deep yearning of mankind can ever be really satisfied," he commented, citing that the Biblical record shows that those who had a deep spiritual sense of God's presence were always able to meet the challenges of materialism.

"In this kingdom of God, Soul, there is no ignorance, no poor vision, no lack of proper action. . . mankind is not cut off from this kingdom," he concluded.

Notice we always put those pretty girls right next to my column.

Those 65 teachers that were termed "top" in their field will get $100 extra per year and Supt. of Schools, R. T. Milwee today still refuses to make public the list.

Over 12,000 have filed for homestead exemption this year. That's several hundred more than last year.

City tax collections better percentage wise than the county. City had 95 percent of the tax roll collected while the county had 92 percent.

Geo. A. Sprer will probably be named the next president of the Sportsmen's Assn.

Congratulations are in order for the new North Orlando Council which really made some advancement Tuesday night towards getting the village in operation on an efficient, businesslike basis. . . . biggest step was the meeting itself which clicked along like a well-oiled clock instead of a stop-watch.

One thing we do wonder about, though, is why no lawyer or Seminole County attorney wants the job as legal counsel for the village. Too bad they might have to go out of Seminole to get a lawyer.

Incidentally, Mayor W. W. Anderson made no bones about it. . . . ALL messages involving the council will be open to the public AND the press.

Just been informed that I've been invited to join with the "Outing Stars" for the Semi-Centennial Day. . . . No parachute will be issued. . . . Good day to leave for New York.

Central Florida, passing through a "soft market," is showing signs of a definite economic lag although Sanford and Seminole County are "coming through in fairly good shape."

Krider explained that by "soft market" he meant that "business has been dormant, as is evidenced in the drop in home building and allied construction."

However, he was optimistic about Sanford and Seminole County. He pointed to the county's barometer for last year: A 9.97 per cent increase in bank deposits; a 11.48 per cent increase in bank resources; a 2.2 per cent increase in postal receipts; a 13.83 per cent drop in building permits for the county and a 32.12 per cent drop for the city; a 1.6 per cent increase in electric meters; a 6.25 per cent increase in the number of telephones; an 0.48 per cent increase in water metered services; a 5.09 per cent increase in motor vehicle licenses sold; a 5.57 per cent decrease in deeds recorded, and a 12.3 per cent increase in electric output in kilowatt hour sales in the Sanford area by the Florida Power and Light Company.

The bank figures above include a 10.68 per cent increase in deposits at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association and a 10.92 per cent increase in resources.

Krider's optimistic enthusiasm stemmed from a depressing report in the "Business Barometer" of the Greater Orlando Chamber of Commerce.

Orlando's cumulative figures for January and February of this year show: Air express pounds, down 51.2 per cent; air freight pounds, down 32.6 per cent; construction total, up 54.8 per cent; total number of building permits, up 11.6 per cent; new electricity consumers, down 67.4 per cent; government-military expenditures, up 13.9 per cent; kilowatt hours consumed, up 11.8 per cent; MCF gas consumed, up 34.3 per cent; postal receipts, up 22 per cent; Railway Ex-

14-Year-Old Shot To Death

A 14-year-old Negro boy of Altamonte Springs was fatally wounded late Tuesday in what apparently was meant to be a "friendly skirmish," Sheriff J. L. Hobby reported today. A 22-year-old Altamonte Springs Negro is being held in county jail on open charges.

James Curtis Lee, who would have been 15 years old on April 29, was walking near his home on Leonard Street, Altamonte Springs, at about 11 p. m. Tuesday with three other Negro youths.

An automobile approached and veered toward the boys, running them off the road. The driver stopped, got out and reached under the seat, coming up with a gun. The boys ran; the driver shot once and Lee told his companions he was hurt.

The companions helped Lee to his home, where his stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Lane, discovered the boy had been shot in the head. The parents took him to Orange Memorial Hospital, where he died at 12:20 this morning.

Deputies Ted Lewis, Donald Witt and J. Q. Galloway were dispatched to the scene, along with other officers.

Sheriff Hobby said that at 4 a.m. today there was a telephone call from Fred Stevens, 22-year-old, Negro, of Pine Street, Altamonte Springs, advising he had fired the shot. and a key to the future of this county."

Bryant had anticipated some $20 million in new revenue for new school construction including a possible new four-year university in the Central Florida area.

Bryant proposed the state's most ambitious spending program since World War II Tuesday to use up every penny of the $125 million he is seeking in taxes.

The Legislature, as one, voiced approval of the tax plan with a few minor reservations, but many said they didn't like his much-publicized proposal to finance university construction with a $125 million bond program over a 20-year period.

The university construction would be financed mostly with revenue bonds and some supplementation from taxes.

Although the staggering total of the governor's tax program came as a complete surprise, most of the House and Senate members lined up behind it.

Rep. Jack Matthews of Duval County, generally summed up the feeling of the legislators over the spending and tax proposals:

"It's painful, but needed."

Senate President Wilson Carraway and House Speaker Mallory Horne both agreed that it is an ambitious program and that the governor "stated the needs of the state well."

Horne said, however, that the bond program would require a close look Carraway said, in any case, he preferred "taxes to borrowing."

He proposed that the bulk of the new revenue come from the state's three percent sales tax by extending its limits to all items except groceries and medicine. He also asked that the cigarette tax be hiked from five to eight cents a pack.

Winter Park Drive County Orders Road Study

An engineering study possibly leading to a joint effort for a 24-foot paving of two miles of Winter Park Drive in Casselberry was ordered Tuesday evening at the conclusion of a meeting between the County Commission and the Casselberry Town Council.

Casselberry, in previous requests and again Tuesday evening, argued although Winter Park Drive is within the confines of the Town, it is a "connecting link" between Seminole Boulevard and Highway 406 and used primarily by 1,700 students and the faculty of South Seminole Junior High School and South Seminole Elementary School, both outside of Casselberry.

County Commission has held it cannot participate in an improvement of the street since it is within Casselberry and, therefore, the Town's responsibility. It also has held it can participate in any such improvements only where the street in question is a "connecting link" between two county-maintained thoroughfares.

Road Supt. J. C. Lavender estimated Tuesday evening the two-mile paving improvement of Winter Park Drive would cost between $70,000 and $80,000.

Chairman J. C. Hatchison, of the Commission, advised Casselberry Councilmen the County cannot participate because of lack of funds during this fiscal year, ending Sept. 30.

At the suggestion of Commissioner Lav Gary, Casselberry agreed to a matching fund operation for improving the street when County Engineer William Bush completes his survey and presents actual figures of estimate of cost.

Commissioner James Avery also mentioned need for improving Concord Road, in Casselberry, another "connecting link." This road lays in sections in the county and the town. Commissioner John Alexander pointed out the county in all of this fiscal year only has $160,000 budgeted for road materials.

Helmly was authorized to get photostatic copies of all plats on record for the village complete with restrictive covenants and all descriptive data.

In closing the first official meeting of the new council, Anderson repeated his statement made at the organizational meeting the night before, asking that "all past incidents and disagreements be stricken from the record and forgotten."

He also asked that in the future the people come to their elected officials before "running to the papers or other outside sources with their problems" and promised that members of the council would make every effort to run the village "efficiently, in agreement and order."
