"Nude" Potatoes Offered On Market

Potatoes are offered on local markets as naked as on the day they were dug from the ground, despite the AAA and the Warren Potato Control Act and United States law enforcement agencies.

Under the Warren Act, which went into effect last Monday, it was understood that spuds were to be sold in containers, and such containers were to bear a per stamp. Persons buying unmarked potatoes would be just as guilty as persons selling tubers not so denoted, or not dressed in containers bearing such stamps.

Manager Marko Galliherath of the local Piggy Wiggle store said his understanding of the law is that the original container in which potatoes are bought by a store can be broken, and the tubers then sold in any amount.

County Agent C. R. Dawson declined the part of a fool, saying that he is acting now in a secretarial capacity, furnishing those interested with such information as he is able to obtain, and saying exemption is made application and in accordance with their allotments.

Barber Law Will Be Passed Upon By Supreme Court

Decision Will Be On Power Of Board To Fix Hair Cut Price

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 6.—(AP)—The Supreme Court soon will decide whether the Legislature has authority to delegate to a created board the power to fix and maintain prices in business. It will rule upon constitutionality of the barber control law enacted by the 1935 Legislature in an effort to give a board of five members price-fixing jurisdiction over barbershops in Florida.

The case will be the first in which a price-fixing statute has been tested in the courts in this state.

Attacks on the barber board law, which was broadening of regulations and allowed all shops to operate on whatever scale they many angles, but the first to demand renewal of his barber's license.

Fulton claimed the control board denied his license because he would not follow a price schedule set for shops in Jacksonville. The scale, he said, was higher than he had charged in many years.

Counsel for Fulton will claim, in arguments before the Supreme Court on a date yet to be set, that price-fixing by a state agency is in violation of the constitutional guarantee of free enterprise.

New Hat Styles Find Inspiration In Hot Rhythms'

PARS, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Hats inspired by American jazz are the latest fashion in advanced spring and new winter headgear from Paris.

Erik, a young Danish designer, who says he gets inspiration for hats from phonograph records, has launched a series of new models suggestive of all types of music from jazz to opera and Vienna waltzes.

Jazz inspires new spring designs of black or navy baku straw with brims which scoop out in a wide visor at side front or roll up gently all around, and crowns encircled by twisted quills swooped about in what the designer calls "hot rhythm." Felt toques for winter are swooped up to a tapering peak and pierced by a quill thrust slant through the top. Black accented by a vivid "Kelly" green is the favorite combination, though purple and dull yellow accents are also used.

A Viennese waltz inspires a dark velvet hat with a brim curling up on the sides and a ridge crown topped by a small ostrich plume curving forward. From military marches come toques accented by upstanding feather brushes, while the opera "Robin Hood" and Tyrolean tunes have given ideas for sports hats with peaked crowns pierced by long pheasant feathers.

Sports hats generally are designed of drapable felts in tones of dark green, brown and navy with soft crowns and up-rolling brims which can be pulled and draped almost any way the wearer chooses.

That same idea of changing wheel slants over the eyes or lies against the back of the head, rising above the crown like a halo. One velvet model has a square eyeshade brim which can be worn rolled up like a papyrus or rolled down as the wearer wishes. Crowns in many of the models taper to points or ridges or have a tendency to jut forward.

Sheer crisp velvets adorn many reversible models so that they may be worn falling over the eyes or cascading down the back of the neck. Stiff veils of wide mesh are arranged on other hats so that they stand forward around the face like the brim of an old fashioned sunbonnet and are tied under the chin with a little velvet bow.

MINORS CAN'T PLAY
WINTER HAVEN, Dec. 6.—The Winter Haven City Commission has passed an "emergency measure" which makes it unlawful for minors to play slot machines.

Old Party Lines Being Threatened By Townsend Plan

Movement May Prove To Be Big Factor In Next Election

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Growth of the Townsend old age pension movement stirred political talk today as strategists of both major parties sought to gauge its probable influence in the 1936 elections.

Leaders generally conceded it would not be an issue in the voting for president, but might cut across party lines in the balloting for members of Congress, possibly to the extent of bringing upsets in normally Republican or Democratic districts.

That it would not be an issue in the presidential vote was disputed by one side of Dr. E. E. Townsend, co-founder of the movement to give $200 a month pensions to all over the age of 60 years.

Asserting that the number of Townsend Clubs had increased to more than 5000, located in every state, B. G. Rankin said he could not see how either the Democratic or Republican Party could ignore the pension plan when platforms are written.

Rankin said it was impossible to estimate accurately the total membership in all the Townsend Clubs because of their rapid growth and because membership was tabulated locally.

Some estimates by other Townsend workers have placed the membership at anywhere from 4,000,000 to 8,000,000. And congressional other leaders who have been touring the country agree that the movement has attracted a following of formidable strength.

In this connection they noted the recent election in the Third Michigan District where Verner W. Main, a Battle Creek attorney, who advocated the Townsend plan, received the Republican nomination for Congress in a field of five.

Main will have the support of the Republican congressional campaign committee in a special election Dec. 17 against a Democratic opponent.

Dr. Townsend appeared on the speaking platform with Main and it was to that appearance that Rankin attributed Main's success.

Dr. Townsend has just completed a tour of New England, will speak in North Carolina Saturday and after Christmas will visit all the states in the South and Southern meeting of the Republicans national committee before they chose their date.

Meeting after the Republicans will give them the decided advantage of being able to choose the date for their national convention at their pleasure.

If Democratic tradition is followed, this date will be later than that chosen by the Republicans.

Some Democrats express the view privately that "Big Jim" Farley, who serves in the dual capacity of postmaster general and chairman of the national committee, will make the long-awaited announcement of his retirement from the President's cabinet on the occasion of the meeting of the party leaders in January.

Politicians and observers have noted during the last few weeks that Farley has been absent from Washington and the post office department more often and for longer times than has been true in the past.

While the postmaster general is very meticulous in keeping separate his expense accounts while on business for the department and the Democratic national committee, and contacts his assistants postmaster generals by long distance telephone every morning he is absent from Washington, there can be little doubt he has been getting in some good political ticks on his most recent excursions.

Politicians attach significance to the fact the Democrats waited until Chairman Fletcher had issued his formal call for the meeting of the Republican national committee before they chose their date.

Meeting after the Republicans will give them the decided advantage of being able to choose the date for their national convention at their pleasure.

Filipinos Claim Right To Voice In World Arena

By EDWARD E. ROMAR

MANILA, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Put in complete control of domestic affairs with establishment of the Philippine Commonwealth, the Filipino political leaders already have started agitation for a voice in international relations.

Pending the complete independence that is scheduled to come in 1946, foreign affairs remain in the hands of the United States, under the Tydings-McDuffie act, along with general responsibility for the defense and stability of the new republic.

But President Manuel Quezon

and others have indicated they have diplomatic ambitions in the meantime, Quezon himself said before taking office Nov. 15 he had planned putting the commonwealth

in the League of Nations. "If it doesn't crack up," in the Italian-Ethiopian crisis.

He admitted permission would have to be obtained from the United States and that there might be difficulty in assuming obligations

under the League covenant.

New Camilo Osias, former resident commissioner at Washington, claims the Filipinos have a part and a vital part in foreign affairs even under the government of the commonwealth.

Osias, a member of the new unicameral national assembly of 98,

states clause in the Tydings-Mc-Duffie act which says that "for foreign affairs shall be under the direct supervision and control of the United States."

The original draft, Osias says,

said "foreign affairs shall be exclusively under the control of the United States," and he maintains the change shows the intention of Congress to share control.

"The official of the commonwealth," Osias explains, "should be strong with the United States to have some of our men at chancery

American embassies in order to let selected Filipinos acquire the practical training and experience for diplomatic or consular service.

"The national assembly should enact a law to make it feasible for the new government to send Filipinos abroad as attaches, thus giving them opportunity to prepare to serve as, or with, our future ambassadors.

"We venture to add that it would be wise for the commonwealth to consider seriously the acquisition of sites and buildings for future legations, beginning with Washington, Tokyo, Peiping,

Madrid, London, Berlin, Paris and other capitals with which the Philippines has dealings could follow."

Nazi Army Testing Stratosphere Bomb

BERLIN, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Experiments are being made with a stratosphere rocket bomb which, if successful, might lead to a new and more terrible kind of warfare.

It is claimed that this missile could be shot from Berlin to London, Paris, Warsaw or Praga and land within three miles of its objective.

Tests are being conducted near Berlin, it is understood, but are in an elementary stage. One difficulty is that the discharge apparatus is complicated and expensive. Also the weight of explosives carried is relatively small.

Military circles say that such rockets can be perfected they could be sent into enemy territory by hundreds, demolishing the population.

Hermann Göring, a director of the German tobacco cartel, announced latterly to trip to Brazil that beginning in 1936 "50 percent of Germany's consumption of tobacco will be for Brazil's leaf product."

John McPhee, S.S. captain in the Kansas Purchase at Top Kaz, is one of the few surviving veterans who served in the Indian campaigns under General Custer.

a pound on all potatoes harvested after Dec. 1 and sold in excess of a national allotment of 225,000,000 bushels.

The AAA reported the annual sale of the 1935-36 period averaged 219,067,000 bushels, while average potato production during the six years was put at 349,655,000 bushels, leaving approximately 130,000,000 bushels unsold.

Hansen said the national sales allotment should not be confused with the production of potatoes and that there is no restriction on potato crop production.

Potato production of about 350,000,000 bushels in the year which began Dec. 1, Hansen said, "in all probability will give us an ample supply of potatoes at a reasonable price."

nal are to be grouted, thus cementing off the flow into it of fresh water or the seepage out of it of salt water.

Mr. Witmer told about mistakes engineers made in Panama Canal construction, and argued fire was caused by a defective fuse. Chief Cleveland said that there was possible mistake could be made in building the cross-state canal in Florida. He had much to say about the weight of salt and fresh water, and reminded his hearers that salt water found its way into Miraflores Lake on the Panama Canal route, some 60 feet above sea level.

Referring to the proposal to seal the bottom and sides of the Florida Canal, Mr. Witmer said that the excavation in some places will be through the Ocala limestone into quicksand below that stone, and therefore there would be danger of the limestone breaking, carrying away any protective structure that might be installed.

Mr. Anderson made the statement that building the canal would bring sea level to Palatka, where the canal is to leave the St. Johns River, thus lowering the St. Johns River level to Sanford two and one-half feet, making navigation of the stream impossible and "putting the Port of Central Florida out of commission." Turning to City Engineer Fred T. Williams, seated in the audience, he asked: "Isn't that right?"

But Mr. Williams failed to coincide in the view, stating that Lake Monroe at Sanford is now at sea level, is sometimes below sea level, and even at times the St. Johns River flows upstream. Mr. Anderson said that the engineers had recommended a lock-type canal, but that was rejected when the cost was estimated at $250,000,000, and the sea level type costing $140,000,000 was substituted. No funds are available for protective works in the canal, he said. He quoted many figures including the plans to cut into

If you enjoy keeping your dainty, delicate, expensive things looking fresh, colorful and gay—even after scores of washings—you owe it to yourself to buy Dreft.

This "Dreft" (Process and product patented U. S. Letters Patent, 1,968,793 to 7 inclusive) the most amazing washing discovery in over 2000 years! For Dreft brings an entirely new conception of how long you can wear lingerie, chiffon hose and fine fabrics, without dulling the luster of your sheer lingerie, spotting and streaking silk stockings. And this is true even though you have used what, before the discovery of Dreft, was recognized as the best, most expensive soap known for washing fine fabrics.

Amarasing as this may seem, Dreft ends all this because it can't form scum. And even more amazing, Dreft actually removes the stubborn, clinging scum particles that failed to rinse away in previous soap washings—lets "scum-dulled" colors come up to their true brilliance. You'll be thrilled to see the delicate colors and feel the silky softness of your sheerest stockings "wash back" in Dreft suds.

5 Times Greater Suds

In addition, Dreft does these three remarkable things no single soap has ever done, or can do now: Makes 5 times greater suds than any soap in the hardest water.

Cleanses thoroughly—even lipstick and so-called "impossible" smudges.

Rinses out completely—no soapy deposit left.

By comparison, Dreft makes even the purest soap you have ever known seem harsh—because Dreft suds contain no alkali. Alkali is synonymous with what fades colors. Dreft suds are the only suds you can get that do not contain alkali. You'll be astonished how, wash after wash, silk stockings actually seem like new when you use Dreft. It's economical, too. For instance, in hard water, you need only use half as much Dreft as you would the finest soap there. We don't ask you to take our word for these amazing claims. Prove them for yourself at our risk.

Takes Advantages of Its Sole Today Please take special notice that this unusual 15¢ bargain rate is limited. You can only get 15¢ Dreft while your dealer's stock lasts. Remember to get Dreft today. Your money back if you're not satisfied. Act quickly and avoid disappointment.

The World's Clearing House for Toys

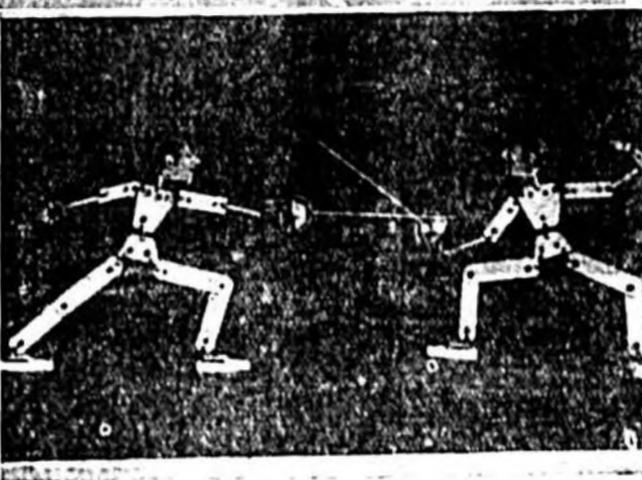

THE Christmas toys in endless variety are planned a year ahead of time. All over the world toy makers study the tastes of children large and small with intelligent sympathy. Every demand of millions of little customers is anticipated.

For over 500 years toy makers have displayed their newest wares at the Leipzig Fair. Imagine a thousand toy shops one after another filled with the most fascinating toys. It is the greatest toy show in the world and regularly attracts buyers from seventy different countries. Here one catches a glimpse of Santa Claus' workshop.

The taste in toys has often changed in the centuries. Warning Seen Delegation Is In Decline On Citrus Market

Celery Growers May Face Loss Unless Pact Is Signed, Official Declares

Orange Price Off Over Dollar A Box

Grapefruit And Tangerines Also Take Big Price Tumble

Unless celery growers sign the new marketing agreement they will soon face the same disastrous situation that now confronts producers of citrus fruits, Charles H. Pickett, of Sanford, secretary of the celery control committee, stated today. The situation as affecting citrus growers is shown in today's dispatches as being serious, but celery producers are in danger of also suffering heavy losses, Mr. Pickett believes, if they delay signing the marketing agreement, or put off such signature too late.

Market reports show that within the last three weeks the price of oranges has dropped $1.07 per box, the price of grapefruit has fallen off 65 cents per box, and the price of tangerines is 40 cents lower.

"The plight of the producers of citrus fruits should be a warning to celery growers," Mr. Pickett said, "for celery producers will face the same situation unless they get together on the control agreement."

The proposed celery control agreement for the 1935-36 season was tentatively approved by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace on November 20, but no congressional action has been taken. This effect until it has been approved by 67 percent of the growers of celery in the State of Florida. Copies of these agreements were delivered to all growers yesterday, and it is expected that unless they are signed promptly, and returned either to the office of the Celery Control Committee in Sanford, or sent direct to Washington, it will be impossible to put the agreement in force to be of beneficial effect to growers and shippers this season.

"We are well along into the month of December right now," Mr. Pickett said. "Heavy celery shipments will probably start in January. After the agreements are signed, they must again be gone over by the secretary of agriculture and definitely approved by him before they become operative. It therefore follows that time is an important factor."

Many Are Going To Orlando Confab To Insist On Consideration Of Project

Unless Congressman J. Mark Wilcox gives some definite assurance that consideration will be given to the proposed canal connecting the St. Johns River at Sanford with the intra-coastal canal, Seminole County will vote "thumbs down" on the Cape Canaveral proposed harbor improvements, H. M. Papworth, president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, declared today.

Mr. Papworth said that he is assured a "strong" delegation will be en route to Orlando next Friday to meet the congressman who has called a meeting to discuss the Canaveral project and also to discuss legislation having to do with control of bondholders' committees. Those who have agreed to attend the confab, Mr. Papworth said, include John McHugh, Sr., chairman, and Charles Dunn and C. B. Searey, members of the Seminole County Board of Commissioners; H. J. Lehman, member of the Sanford City Commission; Benj. F. Heimes of Altamonte Springs, vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce; Joe Marentette, S. D. Highmyer, Ralph Bagley, W. H. Tuncliffe and H. H. Coleman, City Engineer; Fred T. Williams said today that he also intends to go to the Orlando conference, and will take with him the environment's map of the site selected for the proposed canal.

City Attorney Fred R. Wilson said that he and a number of City officials will go to Orlando next Friday, at Congressman Wilson's invitation, and conferring with him on the proposed bond legislation.

MT. HOLLY, N. J., Dec. 7.—(AP)—E. H. It would be unethical for me to speak at this time."

ently it was thought that Talmadge would attempt to have the Georgia delegates to the

there has been some evidence of a revolt against this.

"But while shaping our na-

did not for one moment lose sight of the truth that the best guarantee against such a calamity would be the smothering of the fire itself."

adopted have served the two-fold object of keeping us out of war and of confining and short-aloof, we have, in the various steps we have taken to date, done

our share toward the restoration

The President assured Bishop Oldham that "in continuing closely to follow every development abroad, I shall have steadily before me that dual purpose I have attempted to set forth above."
