You can't go wrong
With Syd Herlong!

Throughout the Fifth District people will be hearing that chat a lot . . . The "Send - Syd - Back - To - Washington" workers yesterday at the City Hall meeting of the popular Congressman are a part of the big chorus that will be singing it . . .

Quite a bevy of the candidates for the postmaster job here were "busting the ear" of the influential veteran of the political wars . . . And he was courteously attentive . . . But his purpose here was to work on keeping his OWN job—not worrying too much for the time being about somebody else's . . .

Overheard one of the Herlong fans ask Mack Cleveland when they could start working for him for a NEW job . . . The speaker of the afternoon thanked this Seminole legislator for keeping staunch Seminole in the Fifth District . . .

Much rejoicing at NAS as well as "downtown" because of the announcement of the approved expansion of our greatest "industry" . . . Thoughtful consideration of the people in Sanford who have worked so well with the Navy authorities prompted the programming of the extended north-south runway . . . MORE safety . . . LESS noise over town . . . So MORE cooperation from the grateful citizenry . . .

Greater training facilities for expanding schooling that will include squadrons from the west coast . . . Looks like V&H Three will be REAL busy . . .

BIG barracks . . . Brand new, too . . . New Bachelor Officer Quarters . . . Control tower . . .

United Fund directors have been called into session by their new president, Loring Burgess, Thursday, 4:30 p.m. First Federal Caucus Room . . . Important! What to do about getting the October campaign under a full head of steam . . .

You'd better NOT believe that the Oviedo fans are disheartened by their Lions' loss to their more experienced adversaries from Ocoee . . . The same drive that built that new stadium over there will also build a fine football club . . . Jim Palmer isn't impatient as he brings his charges along . . . The mistakes that were made were mostly those that come from lack of experience, not from any lack of effort . . .

Speaking of athletics, haven't heard a peep out of Athletic Director Fred Ganas at Seminole about the Family Plan ticket sale . . . How's it going, Fred? . . . Looks like a bargain to me . . . Twenty dollars for the family for the season's home games . . . And anything else in the regular schedule of athletics for which you might have to pay . . . Whatever that is . . . It DOES include the Jay-vee home battles . . .

Look for some big news out of Orlando Junior College concerning North Orlando's Seminole College. Pres. Morris Hahn tells us there will be a series of big meetings today and tomorrow, with the news for release Thursday. With things busting out all over the area, like they are, the sooner the better for our college.

No Funds For Tito

Foreign Aid Slashed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Appropriations Committee today ordered a 30 per cent cut in President's Kennedy's $4.7 billion foreign aid money bill and voted to ban the use of funds for Communist Yugoslavia and Poland.

The $1.4 billion slash in aid funds was the heaviest ever imposed by the committee in the program's 15-year history.

The surprise provision to prohibit U.S. aid to any country with a government based on Communist "theory" would apply to Yugoslavia, which gets arms aid, and Poland, which receives surplus farm commodities.

Only a few months ago, the House reluctantly agreed to let President Kennedy extend aid to such nations when it was clearly in the U.S. interest. The committee action, if sustained by Congress, would reverse that decision.

However, an effort undoubtedly will be made to bill the proviso on the House floor on grounds it violates a rule against putting legislation in a money bill.

Administration officials warned last week that any cut over a billion dollars would have grave foreign policy and defense repercussions.

The action was taken on the recommendation of a subcommittee led by Rep. Otto E. Passman, (D-La.), a long-time critic of aid spending.

The biggest slash was made in military aid. These funds were cut by one-third from $1.5 billion to $1 billion. Losses to other countries for economic development were reduced 20 per cent—from $1.23 billion to $975 million.

Alliance for Progress aid for Latin America was trimmed $200 million to $325 million. In addition, an 18 per cent cut was imposed on the Peace Corps. This would mean reduction in the number of volunteers.

The real shocker, as far as the administration was concerned, was the big cut in arms aid for allies and friendly nations overseas. It was a surprise even to Passman. He had sought a cut only half as large.

Reds Attack UN Structure

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Communists unleashed a new attack on the structure of the United Nations today in an article laying down the party line for the U.N. General Assembly session in New York, which convenes today.

Writing in the Communist organ Pravda, commentator Viktor Mezevay outlined the Russian position on most of the issues the General Assembly will discuss and a few it may not.

These included the marathon Geneva disarmament negotiations, U2 flights, colonialism, the Congo, world trade, the question of a UN seat for Communist China, and Cuba.

Tass news agency reported Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko has formally asked the United Nations to discuss the possibility of calling an international conference on trade. It did not mention the European Common Market that has caused concern to Communist leaders.

Lee Enters Guilty Plea

Charles F. Lee, 23, hit and run driver, entered pleas of guilty Monday afternoon in County Judge Vernon Mize's court, to charges of leaving the scene of an accident and reckless driving. Lee was driver of the car that struck four boys on bicycles on South Sanford Ave., Friday night.

Both charges were lodged against Lee by Trooper Bill Stringfield, who covered the accident.

Ronnie Howard, Ginderville, was seriously injured when he was tossed onto the hood of Lee's car and his head went through the windshield, resulting in serious and multiple lacerations around his head and face and several fractured ribs.

At the hearing Lee declared the boys were not riding single file, but were occupying about half the southbound lane, and he also said there were no lights on the bicycles. Lee said he didn't see the boys until he "was on top of them." He admitted to a speed of between 40 and 45 miles per hour.

Judge Mize deferred sentencing until this afternoon when Stringfield will be available.

Hospital authorities reported this morning that young Howard's condition had improved during the night.

Cuba Resolution Action Nearing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Foreign Affairs Committee made another attempt today to agree on the wording of a congressional resolution backing President Kennedy in the Cuban crisis.

The group met briefly Monday but took no action for lack of a quorum. It was considering a resolution proposed by Chairman Thomas E. Moran, (D-Pa.), and Chairman Carl Vinson, (D-Ga.), of the House Armed Services Committee.

Two Senate committees hoped to complete action Wednesday on a similar resolution aimed at strengthening the President's hand in dealing with the Soviet arms buildup in Cuba.

Informed senators predicted the language finally approved by the foreign relations and armed services committee would be along the lines of a resolution introduced by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont. But one of two changes were regarded as likely.

Tanks Move Up By Berlin Border

BERLIN (UPI) — Western tanks and troops occupied strategic posts in West Berlin today in an exercise designed to test their ability to defend this isolated city.

The Allied "operational readiness test" involved American, British and French tanks, armored personnel carriers and other military vehicles. It was called less than an hour after a Soviet statement Monday night said Berlin's four-power status no longer existed.

UN Delegates Gather For Meet

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — Delegates from 104 nations gathered for the opening of the 17th annual General Assembly today confronted with a workload of political and economic problems that may carry it into next year.

Africa, Berlin and Cuba are expected to dominate the debates even though the latter two items, like the perennial demand to seat Red China, are not on the 80-point proposed agenda.

The Soviet Union indicated it would make another frontal attack to change the composition of the UN secretariat more to its own tastes.

Grand Jury Reverses Move

DELAND (UPI) — The Volusia County grand jury reversed its sharp criticism of July Monday and said the county school board "has not been negligent in the performance of its duties."

The jury issued its criticism of the board after the construction of DeLand Senior High, Euclid and Taylor Junior-Senior High schools was delayed in July.

The jury criticized the board for allowing the several months delay in the schools' opening and suggested an investigation be made to see if any action should be taken against the contractor, J. Hilbert Sapp of Orlando.

Final OK Nears

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Tax relief for self-employed persons headed for final congressional passage today with the 14th annual Grand National Eskoff.

Milwee Stresses Needs

Year round use of Seminole County schools is on the way, said Supt. of Schools R. T. Milwee, today, and this county can look forward to the twelve-month school year in the near future, with complete utilization of the facilities.

Milwee also said a program of gradual air-conditioning of present facilities of the school system is currently under study and if proved feasible will be undertaken.

"The time has come when we can no longer afford to waste schools with only part time utilization," declared Milwee, in discussing the new air conditioned school program that is now sweeping the state of Florida.

Milwee pointed out that the installation of air conditioning in a new school not only increases the efficiency of the building as a teaching tool, but also vastly increases its availability as an educational adjunct.

Looking into the future, the superintendent said that in the rapidly growing sections of the state, such as Seminole County, increased utilization is a must, and the 12 months school year is coming.

In pointing up the subject, he asked a rhetorical question, "How many industries build a half million dollar plant and then use it only nine months of the year?"

The immediate added uses of the school building at English Estates, the first Seminole County air conditioned school, will be for holding pre-school conferences for teachers and administrative personnel, inservice training programs for teachers in curriculum planning, library work-shops, grade group meetings and, "importantly, the summer school program will be of much more effectiveness than at present," said Milwee.

A very important point, brought out by the school superintendent, was the fact that nationwide, the reports have stressed increased teacher effectiveness and efficiency, and greatly increased pupil response, indicated by a greater willingness to study and do in-class work.

It is estimated that 170 days in an air-conditioned school is equal to over 180 days in a non-climate-controlled building.

One of the reasons for the lower construction cost of the new air-conditioned units is the fact that the building is much more compact and the heating unit and air-conditioning unit are all tied into one package. This means a lower maintenance cost, as well, because it requires fewer custodial personnel to keep a smaller building clean and in repair.

It was pointed out by Milwee, that the trend to air-conditioning of school buildings has received wide spread acceptance all over the nation by parents, pupils, teachers and tax-payer groups who have realized that with lower costs and increased efficiency the new type schools are a tremendous asset to the community.

Herlong Hits GOP Smears; Calls Cuba Blockade Silly

It read like a "Who's Who" in Seminole County Monday afternoon as Congressman A. S. Herlong Jr. kicked off his political campaign for reelection at City Hall. Hundreds jammed into the tiny commission chambers to hear Herlong take a few verbal shots at his Republican opponent and offered a plan to "rid Cuba of the yoke of Communism."

Speaking of his opponent Hubert Hevey (without mentioning his name) Herlong called him a "miserable failure using smear tactics to challenge my record of 14 years in Washington."

"This man, who couldn't even win a city commission race has resorted to half truths and name calling to win this election," Herlong declared.

Herlong asked an end to Democratic party complacency and urged his supporters to "put me over the top in this county."

On Cuba, Herlong said, that "action is indicated" and called any blockade "silly."

He proposed evacuation of families of servicemen at America's Guantanamo Naval Base, reinvoication of the Monroe Doctrine, full scale air and surface military exercises in the Caribbean; alert the armed forces including the air defense command and the taking of diplomatic steps to halt further transport of Soviet military goods to Cuba.

Fouls Called By Chairman At Council Meet

Casselberry Board Chairman Paul Bates had to call fouls for use of profanity upon occasion Monday night as board members of the board played a near two-hour game of verbal ping pong with the water rate raise issue.

Permission to raise the rates was requested at last week's regular board meeting by Casselberry Utilities which said it needed the money to pay for plant improvements required by the State Board of Health.

At that time a one week delay was approved to give Hubbard Casselberry, owner of the company, time to decide whether or not he would allow the city to have an audit made of his books.

This week the board completely reversed its decision concerning the audit and voted instead to give the company until next month's meeting to provide satisfactory evidence that it is loaning money and cannot afford the improvement costs.

Navy Wife Dies In Car Crash

A young Navy wife was killed Monday night, about 10:30 p. m. when her small European car skidded and rolled over twice on a Lake Howell Lane curve.

Trooper J. L. Sikes estimated that Mrs. Margaret Moore, 17, was traveling between 60 and 70 miles per hour on the sand road when the accident happened. She was caught between the door and the door post and the car rolled over on her causing her death by internal injuries.

Her husband, AT2 James A. Moore, SNAS, is on overseas duty with the aircraft carrier Enterprise. Mrs. Moore was living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Heath, of 719 Morocco Ave., Orlando.

The body was taken to Gramkow Funeral Home.

Mass. Voters Stream To Polls

BOSTON (UPI) — Massachusetts Democrats were voting in apparent record numbers today on the issue of whether 30-year-old Edward M. Kennedy is too young and inexperienced to sit in the United States Senate.

The President's youngest brother is a slight favorite to defeat Edward J. McCormack, 39-year-old nephew of House Speaker John McCormack for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator.

Free Steaks

The Elks Club will give steaks for blood at the monthly Blood Donor Day. The steak dinners will be served from 1:30 to 6:30 p. m. after blood is drawn at the Blood Bank on East Second St., Ralph Wight said today.

Dog Ordinance Okayed By Casselberry

A new dog ordinance for the town of Casselberry, in the making since early this year, was unanimously approved Monday night by the Casselberry Board of Aldermen.

The ordinance sets April 1, 1963, as the deadline for all dogs in town to be vaccinated against rabies and licensed and registered with the town clerk.

Customary rules, regulations and fees are set up for the impounding of any dog found in violation of the new law which sets fines up to $30 or 30 days, or both.

The board also posted its intent to annex nine lots located in Casselberry Heights along Hwy. 17-92 and verified the fact that although a voter is presently registered in the town books he must re-register before Nov. 3 if he is to be considered eligible to vote in upcoming elections.

Mrs. Camilla Bruce, county registrar reminded voters today that there are only 19 days left to register for the November 6th elections. The office at First St. and Sanford Ave. is open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily and from 9 a. m. to 12 on Saturday.

The same books are now used to register both city and county voters, Mrs. Bruce said. Persons eligible to register include those who have reached their 21st birthday, have been a resident of the state for one year and of the county for six months.

Caramel Plus Cheese: Apple Pie

NEW YORK (UPI) — A South Bend, Ind., housewife added caramel and cheese to apple pie today and came up with the $25,000 first prize in the 14th annual Grand National Eskoff.

Mrs. Erwin J. Smogor, wife of a truck dispatcher, became the new first lady of cookery for her efforts in the contest sponsored by Pillsbury and General Electric. The nation's former first lady, Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, presented Mrs. Smogor the first prize check at an awards lunch at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Mrs. Smogor, mother of two, combined apples, caramel and cheese in a modern desert she called "apple pie '63" to top 99 other finalists from 40 states.

Two Alabama homemakers were big winners in the bake-off.

Mrs. Bessie L. Gentry of Alexandria, Ala., took second prize of $5,000 for "smokay barbecue buns" — a French bun topped with sesame seeds and brushed lightly with barbecue sauce to produce an outdoor flavor.

Mrs. Rena G. Propst of Tuscaloosa, Ala., won $3,000 first prize in the senior division with "tato flake cheese buns," an easy yeast bun flavored with cheese and potato flakes and baked in a muffin tin. A moist, delicate texture is produced by the potato flakes.

Richard W. Klecka, 12, of Tinley Park, Ill., was the big junior winner. He picked up $2,000 for a "cheeseburger casserole" and said he learned how to cook in the Boy Scouts.

In the junior division, $1,000 runner-up prizes went to Frances S. Spooner of Junction City, Ark., and Peggy A. Maher of Haysville, Ga.

Local Growers Active At Convention

Local growers, J. Dan Wright, E. O. Chase Jr. and Harold Kestner will all take an active part in the schedule of events at the 19th Annual Convention of the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Assn. meeting at the Americana Hotel in Miami Beach, this week.

Boosters Open Membership For All Sports

The Seminole Boosters Club has begun its drive for membership to support of the Seminole High School athletic program.

All funds raised by the club will be used in support of each sport and the main purpose of the club is to create interest and provide assistance in the program.

The first general meeting of the 1958-59 season will be held Monday at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium, where a film of the Sanford-Edgewater football game to be played Friday will be seen.

Officers of the club for this year are president, D. H. MacGillis; vice president, Lee Semuels; secretary, Mrs. Mary Carman; and treasurer, Mrs. E. L. McFarlin.

Membership in the organization is available from the following members: Mrs. D. E. MacGillis, 168 Forest Dr.; Mrs. W. K. Lovelace, 116 Assala Dr. and Mrs. Charles Weeks, 117 N. Summerlin Ave.

Mrs. Padgett Honored

The congregation of the Sacred Memorial Methodist Church of Enterprise recently honored Mrs. Ida Padgett, nursery superintendent, on the occasion of her last day spent in that capacity there.

She was presented a handsome bound Methodist hymnal with her name engraved in gold on the front cover.

New VFW Post Organized In Casselberry

By Jane Casselberry
The first meeting of a new VFW Post which has been organized in Casselberry was held last Thursday night with some 40 persons in attendance.

Charter application bearing 10 names was taken by a delegation from the new group to Ocala for approval this weekend.

Temporary officers, elected at the first meeting, are George Howard, commander; Hollis Johnson, senior vice commander; Cliff Overman, junior vice commander; Ray Chappel, chaplain; Ralph Tilton, quartermaster and George F. Meeseck, adjutant.

Directors are Hibbard Casselberry, three years; Mesick, two years and Dencil Long, one year.

Business Briefs

Another quality women's wear store made its appearance on the Seminole County scene with the opening of Carol's Dress Shop in Longwood Plaza recently.

Owner of the new store is Joseph DiLucian, who together with his wife has operated the Carol Jo store on Aloma Avenue in Winter Park for several years. Mrs. DiLucian continues as manager of the Winter Park store.

The new store will feature quality women's and misses dresses and accessories, including such famous names as Carol King, Gibson, Hollywood Premier, Queen's Casuals and Alix of Miami original dresses. Their lingerie line carries such well known names as Fernalfit bras and Kayser hosiery.

The store is open every day but Sunday from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.

A sales increase of 7.99 percent was recorded by Winn-Dixie Stores, Inc., during the four-week period ended Aug. 25 compared with the corresponding period a year ago.

The volume was $61,458,033 compared with $57,069,332 last year, an increase of 44,388,701.

For the eight-week period ended Aug. 25, sales were $119,697,485 compared with $112,701,910, an increase of $6,995,575, or 6.21 percent over 1961.

An increase also was registered for the 52-week period ended Aug. 25, when sales totaled $769,020,209 compared with $754,332,994, an increase of $14,687,215 or 1.91 percent.

Winn-Dixie, which operates a number of supermarkets in the local area, now has 595 retail stores throughout the South compared with 536 units a year ago.

4-H Meeting Set At Unsal
Miss Myrtle Wilson, home demonstration agent, and 4-H club leaders will meet with mothers and girls of the Unsal-Lake Monroe club at 7 p. m. Wednesday in the Educational Building of the Unsal Community Presbyterian Church.

HD County Council To Hold All-Day Program

The Seminole County Home Demonstration Council will hold its first all day program and business meeting of the season Thursday at the Home Demonstration Center, 601 E. 26th St. in Sanford.

The program, under the supervision of Miss Myrtle Wilson, home demonstration agent, will get underway promptly at 10 a. m. Short Course delegates will give a round up of information received during the week they spent at the University of Florida in July.

The day is open to the public and those planning to attend are requested to bring a covered dish for lunch, their dishes and silver.

Displays prepared by delegates representing local groups will be on exhibit. The delegates also will give short talks highlighting the interesting courses taught them by the University educators and by instructors who were brought to Gainesville to conduct the specialized classes.

Color slides will be shown first on the program. Color pictures, taken by Mrs. C. E. Hunter while in Gainesville, will depict leaders learning to develop skills to be brought back into communities all over the state. Short talks will be given by the delegates following the showing of the color slides.

Cues for Consumers, the course chosen by experienced Mrs. T. A. Stiles, will give the shoppers in the audience worthwhile tips on how to shop for quality and how to obtain the most for their money.

Health and Safety Measures for Mothers and Children will be covered by Mrs. Julius C. Blackwelder, the mother of a growing family. She will warn of the dangers that lurk in every home and give advice on how to avoid some of the tragedies that often mar the lives of people who have been "just a little too careless."

International Relations will be discussed by Mrs. Arthur Richter. Personal conversations with students from foreign countries who are attending the University of Florida gave her an even greater understanding and also gave her an opportunity to exchange views concerning customs which are unfamiliar to us and to explain to the foreign women some of our customs.

Lighting in the Home was the fascinating course taken by Mrs. Hal Harris and Mrs. Hazel Gardner. Mrs. Harris will demonstrate different types of lighting, discuss the use of color in lighting, touch upon types of bulbs available and stress that eye-saving lighting is most essential in a home especially for reading, sewing, studying and TV viewing. Available will be a supply of booklets showing proper positions and heights for portable lamps.

Publicity and Writing are especially interesting to Mrs. W. W. Heinbeck and Mrs. H. L. Johnson. Together they will discuss the five "W's" that they were told are considered essential in good newspaper writing: "Who, Where, When, Why and What."

Reading Appreciation and You and Your Money will be touched upon by Mrs. C. E. Hunter who is anxious to share all of the valuable information she received from the Gainesville experts.

Your Clothes by Mrs. Richter will tell what the well-dressed woman will wear in the way of accessories with some "what to do and what not to do" advice interspersed. If you are tall, do you carry a small purse and wear short gloves?

Anyone wishing further information on Thursday's meeting or on the Home Demonstration program in general may call Miss Wilson.

PTA To Aid Library At Altamonte School

The Altamonte Springs Elementary PTA at its first meeting of the new term last Tuesday, voted to have refreshments of the school library as its prime goal of the year.

The library, which now has somewhere near 500 books, must have a total of 2,000, if it is to receive accreditation.

A carnival to be held on Oct. 27, was approved by the membership at the first step in the library campaign with all proceeds to be used to purchase books.

A magazine subscription sale also was planned from Nov. 19 to Dec. 9 and Mrs. Lawrence Swoford, PTA president, announced that subscription renewals may be made at this time and will aid the drive.

In other business it was decided to conduct a membership drive and to offer a $5 prize to the teacher of each room which reaches a 100 per cent total. Teachers will use the prize money as they desire for their pupils.

It was announced that the overcrowded school bus situation has been somewhat alleviated by recent reshuffling and transfer of some students to other schools.

Children from the English Estates area have been transferred to South Seminole Elementary at Casselberry, those from Rolling Hills to Bear Lake and a group from Bear Lake to Altamonte which also helped relieve congestion at the new Bear Lake School.

Principal Frank Gore reported that a 12.5 per cent increase of school children in South Seminole County has been registered since last year and that all schools are operating at near capacity.

Gore closed the meeting with a brief and informative talk on school curriculum and schedules and introduced the teaching staff.

Room count at the meeting was won by Mrs. Nadine Collins' third grade.

Refreshments of doughnuts, punch and coffee were served during the following social hour with members of the executive board as hostesses.

Catholic Circle Plans Projects

By Donna Stoebe
Longwood's St. Catherine of Siena Circle of the Church of Nativity Women's Club held its regular monthly meeting last Tuesday night at home of Mrs. E. Anzalone with Mrs. Lus Anzalone as co-hostess. Thirteen members attended.

A bake sale and two other projects were planned to raise funds to equip the kitchen at the new church's social hall. Mrs. Gerald Sasser, chairman of the circle, announced that the month of October will be St. Catherine Circle's turn to staff the nursery for the 10 a. m. and noon Masses.

At the close of the business meeting the ladies were served punch, doughnuts and cup cakes.

The next meeting will be held on Oct. 9 at the home of Mrs. George Gazza in Longdale.

South Seminole Elementary CTP To Beautify Grounds

By Jane Casselberry
The need of beautifying the grounds at South Seminole Elementary School at Casselberry and plans for undertaking the project were the main topics of business at last Tuesday's meeting of the Council of Teachers and Parents.

The president, Maj. Joseph Laird, presided at the meeting held in the school auditorium which opened with devotional by Principal Christy Harp.

Howard Babbitt, chairman of the grounds committee, called for fathers to volunteer their time towards beautifying the grounds and read an itemized list of needed plants and shrubs submitted by a landscaper with an estimate of costs involved set at $87.20.

It is hoped by the CTP that many of the plants will be donated from among the membership and that other needed items will be available at cost.

The group voted to purchase a badly needed lawn mower for the school with funds originally set aside for a piano but not used since the piano was provided by the school board.

Mrs. James Sheppard and Mrs. Francis L. Culbreth, Clinic Mothers, invited all chairmen of the Volunteer mothers who could give one day a month in the clinic to attend a coffee scheduled for this morning in the teacher's lounge.

The essential clinic service is provided by the mother's group from 9 a. m. until 2:30 p. m. each day and is of benefit to all children enrolled at South Seminole Elementary.

Mrs. Willey Moncrief, membership chairman, urged all parents to join the Council and announced that membership cards now are available.

Mrs. Frank Svanear was elected treasurer to replace Mrs. John McManus who resigned because her child was transferred to another school.

Mrs. Richard Kaiser was appointed to serve as historian.

Principal Harp announced that tee shirts and sweaters lettered with the school name will be sold for $1 and $3 and held a brief question and answer session with the faculty.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria by the executive board. Room visitation followed.

Childrens Home Directors Meet In Enterprise

By Helen Snodgrass
A board of directors meeting of the Florida Methodist Children's Home at Enterprise was held last Tuesday in the Home's conference room.

Members present were Rev. Jesse Waller of Clearwater, chairman; Rev. Lewis N. Head of West Palm Beach, Rupert Strickland of Sanford, Leroy Northrup of Ormond Beach, Rev. Luther Laite of New Smyrna Beach; Ernest Sikes of Jacksonville, Rev. Cobb of Largo, Rev. John Frank Talton of New Port Richey, Mrs. Gurdy Swopes of St. Petersburg, Mrs. Raymond White of Tampa, Attorney Richard Pearce of DeLand and Morton McDonald of DeLand.

Rev. and Mrs. F. W. Glenister, former assistant superintendent at the Home, are now making their home in West Palm Beach.

at the meeting were Mrs. Raymond Jackson and Mrs. Stan LaCorte and guests were Mrs. Anthony Regis, Mrs. Caroline Powell and Mrs. Marge Guy.

Refreshments were served by the hostess at the conclusion of the business.

Next month's meeting of the Bear Lake Circle will be held at the home of the president on Shirley Drive in Bear Lake Manor.

School Council To Meet In Casselberry

The Seminole County Council of Schools will meet at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday at the South Seminole Elementary School in Casselberry.

Mrs. Carmita B. Ray, state welfare director, will speak on child welfare.

Mrs. Ned Julian, council president, urges all delegates and executive board members to be present. Interested parents also are invited to attend.

What is a stock broker really like?

Fact vs. fiction

Are you planning to invest in stocks or bonds? Then you may be thinking about your first trip to a broker's office.

Many people don't know what to expect. And a good deal of what they do expect often turns out to be fiction.

Check yourself on these key points:

Fiction: Brokers aren't interested unless you've got lots of money.

Fact: A great number of investors, especially beginners, are small investors. So don't let that bother you.

Fiction: Brokers want you to plunge for all you've got.

Fact: Not so. A good broker does not want you to get in over your head. The best way he can help you as a customer is to put your interest first. Before you invest, allow for living expenses and emergencies, then tell him how much you can consider to start your program.

Perhaps you'll prefer to invest systematically on a budget. The Monthly Investment Plan of Member Firms of the New York Stock Exchange permits you to invest with as little as $40 every three months.

Fiction: Brokers have a few pet stocks they want you to buy.

Fact: A good broker will be glad to suggest stocks he thinks will fit your personal goals.

Some people seek extra income through dividends. Others set a goal of long-range growth in the value of their stock.

Still others aim for some combination of the two. And some prefer the greater safety of principal and stability of income which some bonds offer.

Fiction: Brokers just play their hunches.

Fact: Facts, not hunches, should be the basis of a sensible recommendation.

Nobody can know all the facts, and no one can tell how a company will fare. There are always risks in investment. Prices go up and down. But your broker expects you to want to know about a company's past performance—sales, profits, dividend record. And, after considering many factors, you can decide what the company's prospects appear to be.

Fiction: All brokers are alike.

Fact: Far from it. Registered Representatives in Member Firms, for instance, have had to meet the requirements of the New York Stock Exchange for knowledge of investing.

Understanding your broker, knowing what's fact and what's fiction, can help you proceed in a practical and sound way when you're ready to invest. You're always welcome in a local Member Firm office.

Tiros Satellite Rocketed Into Orbit

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — America's sixth Tiros satellite was rocketed into orbit today to look for hurricanes and to photograph the world's weather for the upcoming space flight of astronaut Walter M. Schirra.

The 281-pound Tiros VI was blasted into space aboard a three-stage Delta rocket at 4:33 a.m. Within minutes, it was soaring around the globe at a speed of 17,000 miles per hour.

The new "weather-eye" satellite, originally set for a November launching, was rushed to the firing pad two months ahead of schedule so it could help its crippled "brother," Tiros V, in two key missions.

During the next month, Tiros V and VI will search for late season tropical storms in the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, "hurricane belt" around earth's middle.

Also, America's Project

Mercury will depend upon the weather at one click of the shutter, and radio equipment to relay the pictures to tracking stations on earth.

Scientists said the television cameras would be "cocked" as Tiros VI completed its first orbit. The satellite was scheduled to relay its first weather photograph at the end of its second orbit, about three hours after launch.

Tiros VI, shaped like a drum, was stripped of some of its equipment for the rushed-up launching. The items left behind included infra-red measuring equipment, which meant the satellite's work would be limited to daylight hours when there was enough sunlight on its subject, earth's cloudcover, for its cameras.

The 51-foot Delta rocket, racking up its 11th straight success in satellite launchings, blasted smoothly from its launching pad before dawn. All three stages worked to perfection.

Tiros VI was directed on a path designed to put it in a circular orbit 482 miles above earth. However, experts said, it would take several hours to determine the exact orbital path.

Kennedy Anguish Disclosed

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mrs. Eunice Kennedy Shriver, sister of the President, has publicly disclosed the anguish the Kennedy family faced when one of its members had to be placed in a mental institution.

Mrs. Shriver, wife of Peace Corps Director R. Sargent Shriver, told the story of the President's mentally retarded sister, Rosemary, in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post.

Rosemary Kennedy, now 43, has been in the institution since 1942 after the family returned to the United States from London, where Joseph P. Kennedy, father of the family, had served as U. S. ambassador.

Mrs. Shriver, fifth of nine Kennedy children, wrote: "For a long time my family believed that all of us working together could provide my sister with a happy life in our midst. Rosemary was not making progress but seemed instead to be going backward. At 22 she was becoming increasingly irritable and difficult. Her memory and concentration and judgment were declining.

"My mother took Rosemary to psychologists and to dozens of doctors. All of them said her condition would not get better and that she would be far happier in an institution. . . . My mother found an excellent Catholic institution that specialized in the care of retarded children and adults. Rosemary is there now, living with others of her capacity."

In 1946 the Kennedy family set up a foundation devoted to helping the mentally retarded. It was the first of its kind in the United States.

Mrs. Shriver urged that community programs be formed to deal with the problems of mental retardation. "The public and the governments they support are slowly awakening to the needs of the retarded," she said. "Yet even today less is being done for them at the community level than for any other afflicted group."

Freshmen Learning How To Study

The third annual "How To Study Week" will be held for 106 new Rollins College freshmen this week on the campus. "How To Study Week" was originally formed in 1959 when Rollins President Hugh F. McKean noted that college academic tools are not taught in secondary schools, making it difficult for even some of the top students to use properly the skills of study.

Under the direction of Dr. Dudley DeGroot, assistant professor of Sociology, the week has developed into a program which gives Rollins students the privilege of practical instruction.

Students will first take the language placement tests and diagnostic reading tests, then begin a rigorous schedule aimed at helping them adjust to the demands of college professors.

Men's Club Sponsors Socials

By Donna Estes
The Men's Club of the Church of Nativity will sponsor a social hour every Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the social hall of the new church.

Parishioners are invited to come and bring their friends and participate in an enjoyable evening. Coffee, soft drinks and doughnuts are available.

Among the courses of instruction will be note-taking, library usage, rapid reading, oral and written English, study techniques, budgeting of time and report writing.

As far as is known, Rollins is the only college in the U. S. to offer a program of this kind.

Med Techs Meet

The Central Florida Branch of the Florida Society of Medical Technologists will meet Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the dining room of Morrison's Cafeteria, 8 W. Central Ave., Orlando.

Tough new '63 Chevrolet Trucks are here!

...THE ONES THAT WHIPPED THE BAJA RUN...TOUGHEST UNDER THE SUN... TO SHOW THE WORTH OF NEW ENGINES, FRAMES AND SUSPENSIONS!

Millions of years ago nature fashioned a proving ground for trucks that man can never duplicate. Today it is known as the Baja (bah' bah) California Peninsula, Mexico.

These pictures give you only a bare idea of the place. The road bears no resemblance to the modern highways on the Mexican mainland. It's fine for 140 miles below the U.S. border. Then the beating begins. Rocks and hard-baked ruts bang, punch, jab and jerk the trucks from stem to stern. Loose sand makes them struggle and strain. Dust chokes them. Heat roasts them. Rivers drench them.

The Baja Run took this Chevrolet caravan 17 days to go the 1,066 miles.

All the trucks performed magnificently. Not one was forced to drop out because of mechanical difficulty.

Trucks that can take this kind of beating can take on your toughest truck jobs. Come in now and see tough quality-built '63 Chevrolet trucks with all their new improvements.

CHEVROLET
QUALITY TRUCKS COST LESS

Sometimes the caravan crept along for hours in low gear. This is the road south of Loreto, narrow, twisty, rocky.

When you came to a river, you got wet. This Baja river bottom was covered with rocks the size of melons.

Tight squeeze for the conventional medium- and heavy-duty units. Their new narrower front ends certainly paid off here (7 inches slimmer).

The new ladder-type frames on all models took severe punishment from terrain such as this.

Temperatures as high as 122 degrees F. burned the land in the desert area around Dry Lake.

Our Amazing Constitution

The new Constitution is the most remarkable document in the history of the world. It is the only one that has been drafted by the people themselves. It is the only one that has been approved by the people themselves. It is the only one that has been in effect for over 150 years.

There is an important lesson here for aspiring peoples elsewhere who are trying to set themselves on an ambitious course. We offer them a document which is a model in this regard: it permits energetic, forward-looking men to move in a changing society, free of binding rigidities imposed by a dead past.

But this still is perhaps not the real core of our constitutional treasure. Many students of government think its heart is its system of checks and balances which places powerful curbs on each of the three branches of government—executive, legislative, judicial.

To some of our bright young friends aboard, the Constitution might seem maddeningly vague as to the power limits of each branch. That vagueness, say many constitutional experts, is the key. It allows a certain amount of advance and retreat across the fuzzy frontiers, without ever precipitating destructive collision.

No government on earth has ever devised a system of countervailing power more protective of human freedom. It is at once simple and sophisticated.

The Constitution is a document we can be proud to live by. And we should be continuously busy exporting its matchless precepts of liberty. No nation has anything better.

Nearly three times as many delegates recently spent more time drafting a tentative new constitution for the state of Michigan alone. And their work is threatened by political controversy.

If you set aside the 10 original Bill of Rights amendments, the U. S. Constitution has been formally changed only 18 times in 175 years since its signing.

Thus the work those 55 men performed for some four million people is today serving the basic public needs of 185 million living in an industrial-scientific world the drafters could not have imagined.

Of the 13 real changes, six have to do with voting or other human rights. Right now another voting amendment, abolishing the poll tax as a voting requirement, is about to go to the rounds of the several states.

The focus on the area of human rights suggests, for one thing, that the Constitution's drafters were perhaps not so specific here as they might have been. The changes also reflect altering attitudes toward the rights and status of women and Negroes.

Yet constitutional historians seem to agree that at root the founders' frequent use of broadly general language is the key to our Constitution's durability.

Border Dispute 'Bubbling'

The Indian-Red Chinese border dispute has been bubbling along now for about three years.

Most of the action has been confined to occasional hot words exchanged between the two antagonists, and here and there a patrol clash.

Involved is an area of some 81,000 square miles along the Himalaya spine separating India and China. It is an inhospitable area of towering mountains, deep gorges, murderous winters and of communications such that months may go by before either side may know of a border violation. Most Westerners were hard put to locate Kashmir on the western end of the Indo-Chinese border or to describe the habits of the Monba, Aka, Dafia or Apa Taranga tribes (who live along the border in the north-east).

Occasionally it bobs back into the news, as it did a few days ago when it was announced that Indian Defense Minister Krishna Menon's departure for the United Nations General Assembly had been delayed by new Red Chinese incursions.

The forces involved were 45 men of an Indian outpost and an undetermined number of Red troops at that point 'several hundred yards away.'

On the basis of the foregoing, the dispute would seem to be isolated and not one at the moment to intrude itself upon other world problems. Such is not the case. For example:

President Mohammad Ayub Khan of Pakistan and Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India seldom see eye-to-eye.

In London during the last week, at the meeting of commonwealth prime ministers, they have been in rare agreement in opposition to Britain's entering the European Common Market.

Their areas of disagreement is wide, but especially they disagree on Kashmir which presently is held jointly along a cease-fire line. Ayub has elected to reach tentative agreement with Red China on a border delineation over that part of Kashmir he holds and which India claims.

This has brought from Nehru an expression of surprise that a member of the SEATO and CENTO treaties suddenly should elect to chum up with China.

In London, Nehru has been protesting the effect on India's five-year plan if Britain should join the commonwealth economic preferences. On their side the British have asked why Nehru is negotiating to buy MIG jets from Russia rather than take his business to the hard-pressed British aircraft industry.

As for Peiping, there is no doubt concern as to why a supposed Red ally is selling aircraft to a country which someday might use them against Red China.

It's a small world.

"We're Just Bolstering Our Defenses!"

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Lola changed from a "D" student to a "B" student before the end of the term, just by using the proper study methods outlined below. And that self-quiz over each chapter also relieved her of the terrific strain and anxiety which most students suffer just before final exams.

Case N-432: Lola G., aged 18, is the college freshman who feared she would flunk out of school. "Dr. Crane," she protested, "how can I absorb me's of the facts from my textbooks while I am reading them?"

"For I can read the chapter twice, and still be lucky to rate a 'C' grade next day when the professor gives us a quiz over that very same material! What's the answer to my problem?"

The secret of efficient studying consists of developing a self-quiz on your textbook assignment, even as you read. It is better, however, to do a swift reading of the entire chapter first, to get a wider perspective.

To prod yourself in doing this, get a watch with a second hand and lay it on one page while you read the other. Enter into a race with that second hand. Allot just one minute per page.

Even if you aren't through with the page, move on at the end of that one minute and repeat the process till you finish the chapter.

This racing with time will help speed up your reading rate—and also keep you awake and alert while you do read.

Then, after completing this speed reading of the chapter, go back and focus on the "streaks of lean in the bacon."

For most books, including textbooks, may have half a page of more that is "fat" or just words that don't contain specific facts suitable for inclusion in an exam.

On this second reading of the chapter, keep pencil and paper at hand and compile a true-false quiz.

Suppose you are assigned Chapter III in my college textbook "Psychology Applied." It deals with "Efficiency Engineering." Make your own quiz like this:

T F (a) Dr. Hoke showed that the left hand carries more load than the right on the present typewriter (P. 84).

T F (b) The depth of sleep is greatest at the end of the 3rd hour. (P. 117).

By making your own true-false quiz, you become an "active" reader instead of a "passive" one.

And the very act of searching diligently for factual statements helps keep you awake. That is doubly true when you take your pencil and try to make a simple statement can be answered with a "True" or "False."

By also listing the exact page in your textbook where the answer is located, you can quickly doublecheck on yourself later, in case you forget.

Incidentally, underline those "streaks of lean" with colored pen or pencil so they stand out from the page, for this also helps speed up your review later on.

And be sure to keep on file your own quiz over each chapter! If your professor routinely asks 25 true-false questions, try to expand your own quiz to 30 or 40. Then watch to see how well you outguess the professor.

When you are through with the daily class, add any of his different true-false items that you can recall to expand your own 30 or 40. Then you will have an ideal quick exam over that chapter.

Peter Edson Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The 17th session of the United Nations General Assembly opens in New York Sept. 19 should begin a year of consolidation for the world forum, says Harlan Cleveland, U. S. assistant secretary of state for international organization affairs.

Last year the General Assembly got talks started on peaceful uses of outer space, disarmament, economic development and trade. This year the emphasis is to be on keeping the peace.

The original idea that the UN would be the answer to all the world's problems has of course long since been abandoned. It is fully recognized that the UN is no Holy Grail.

But there is no inclination on the part of President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk to downgrade the UN. They believe there is an increasing role for the UN to play in the peaceful settlement of disputes—particularly where the presence of a third party can help mediate them.

Soviet Russia and its Communist satellite delegates have not yet revealed their hand for this session. But in the past they have tried and been fairly successful at keeping the world organization as nothing more than a diplomatic debating society.

The previous 16 General Assemblies have passed many large, inspirational resolutions. Most of them have lacked substance. The General Assembly of course has no power. It can't decide issues like a world court or carry them out like a world power.

But the broad resolutions the Assembly has passed in recent years have tended to weaken its influence. The American plan now—supported by other free nations—is to make sure that every issue is looked at and handled more responsibly.

One recent example of good UN action is cited in a mid-night battle between Syria and Israel. By 3 a. m., UN peace force officers were on the ground. By 7 a. m., they had it settled. This is "technological improvement in peace-keeping."

Other examples cited include UN mediation of the Thai-Cambodian dispute over a Buddhist temple on the border, agreement between The Netherlands and Indonesia over the future of western New Guinea and a new procedure for settlement of differences between Israel and the Arab countries.

To mediate the handling of the Arab-Israeli refugee problem the General Assembly revived the 10-year-old Palestine Conciliation Commission whose members are Turkey, France and the U. S.

They appointed Dr. Joseph E. Johnson of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace to mediate. He has been to the Middle East twice this year and worked out an agreement.

It was essential this step be taken as the authority of the UN Relief Agency expires in early 1963. One thing this agency has done is to give some education to a million Arabs. So when any of the Arab countries now want technicians for their development programs, they come to the refugee camps for recruits. Camp population is still growing, but eventually this disgrace may be liquidated.

Chances are now considered fair that the Congo dispute with Katanga may also be settled by next spring. If it isn't settled by then, the UN may run out of money to finance its peace force in Africa. But if it is settled, a beginning may be made on withdrawal of those forces.

This prospect of peaceful settlement in the Congo is alarming to the Soviet Union and to some Americans also. But the point is now made that no half-dozen nations could have settled the Congo-Katanga dispute acting alone. It took approved action by the UN majority to effect the settlement.

More action of this kind, it is now felt, may get the running score off the UN General Assembly agenda, enabling it to do more of the work it was originally intended to do.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor: People have been interviewed, ridiculed, criticized. People have expressed themselves, some sincerely, some politically. Some have voted in one instance, one way for roll call vote, the other way for standing vote.

A reporter would scarcely think to look in one of our ugliest downtown alleys for a man to interview but if they had they might have encountered a tall distinguished-looking gentleman aged 73, picking up litter and pulling some ugly weeds.

If they had asked him why his answer would be "I like things tidy." This gentleman has no political ambition, nothing to sell—but he sells himself to you.

He blushes when one notices tattoos on arms, "I was young and foolish when I got those."

For no matter what we do in way of beautification it will be wasted if we allow litter and weeds to go unnoticed. We don't need to wait till we're in our seventies to start. I'm sure our gentleman didn't. If we do we might find our backs won't bend.

Let's some of us gay blades in our sixties and fifties, some of us sophisticated forties and thirties and even youngsters in our twenties and teens join in our "liking things tidy," effort.

Even the ugly alleys will look better. Our lives, gall bladders, even waist lines will benefit. We'll prove to all who are working so hard for our "downtown" we do care. If we're faithful in this little effort we the general public may be entrusted with "jobs" to show our love and interest in dear old Sanford Town.

Yours sincerely, Name Withheld By Request.

Ineita Thompson, Larry Morrison Married In Candlelight Ceremony

Miss Ineita Mae Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Thompson, Sanford, and Larry A. Morrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Morrison, also of Sanford, were married Sept. 1 at 9:30 p.m. at the First Christian Church.

Rev. Wayne Johnston officiated at the candlelight ceremony. The church was decorated with beautiful arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums, potted palms and candles.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal length gown of white silk tulle. The slightly elongated waistline featured a yoke of re-embroidered Alencon lace, traced with sequins and they wore pearls, forming a scalloped Sabrina neckline. Self-covered buttons closed the bodice back and the same motifs were repeated on the full skirt which terminated in a Chapel train. A crown of pearls held her fingertip veil of pure silk illusion, she carried a lace covered satin prayer book, topped with a yellow threaded orchid.

Maid of honor, Miss Martha Cook, wore a gown of light blue chiffon over tulle with matching gloves, satin embroidered shoes, hat and veil and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Best man was William Evans and serving as ushers were Billy Tule and Bobby Thompson, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Thompson wore a blue and white silk jersey dress with white accessories and Mrs. Morrison wore an aqua sheath with white accessories. Both mothers wore white carnation corsages.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, 558 Valencia Drive, Sanford. The home was decorated with arrangements of pink and white gladioli and yellow and white mums. A three tiered wedding cake, topped with white cherubs, was served with punch to those attending. For her going-away outfit, the bride chose a two piece sheath of tangerine and floral design with white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Present address of the couple is 208 North Canal St., Daytona Beach, Fla.

Out of town guests included the groom's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Wirt Bragg, of Clearwater.

Station Wives Enjoy Luncheon

The Station Officers Wives held their September luncheon meeting at the Ribaba Inn in Fern Park.

The buffet lunch was served in the oriental styled banquet room and Chinese hats, name tags (done in Chinese motifs) and very soft oriental music in the background created an oriental atmosphere.

Mrs. Warren Feldmeyer and Mrs. Elmer Haupt were co-hostesses for the affair. They selected a handsome hibachi grill for the door prize, which was won by Mrs. Gene Rogers.

Mrs. Ernest Bowen, club president, conducted a business meeting and Mrs. David Olmstead gave the secretary and treasurer's report.

Mrs. Stanley Stanul, board representative, announced that there will be a benefit bridge in November for the Navy-Marine Widows Home in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Charles Morosini will also over the duties of publicity chairman from Mrs. William Simmons, who will be leaving Sanford later this month. Her husband's new tour of duty will be at NAS Barbers Point, Hawaii. She was presented with a beautiful engraved silver reverse bowl as a farewell gift from the Station Wives.

Mrs. Earl Unger was welcomed by the group as a new member. Other members enjoying the day were Mrs. Robert Ware, Mrs. Billie Hamilton, Mrs. Robert Deal, Mrs. Thomas Padden, Mrs. Edward Christiansen, Mrs. Bill Sharp, Mrs. Carmen Jordan and Mrs. Everett Jones.

Officers Wives Club Presents Gala Fashion Show In Mayfair Ballroom

As promised by general chairman, Mrs. Ken Sharp, members of the Naval Officers Wives Club attending the luncheon and fashion show at the Mayfair Inn last Thursday enjoyed an afternoon of "fashionable festivities."

Chic in an apricot velvet tunic and black silk crepe ensemble petite Mrs. Sharp received many well-deserved compliments and a round of applause for her handling of this first major social event of the Club's fall season.

Mrs. Richard L. Wright and her decorating committee created an atmosphere of gaiety with table decorations of dolls dressed in yards of frothy many-hued tulle. An unusual display of doll clothes donated by Miss Audrey Decker was the center of attention.

During the luncheon, club president, Mrs. Edward Decker, welcomed the honored guests. They were Mrs. Duval Hunter, Mrs. John Ivey, Mrs. John Galloway, Mrs. Earl Higginbotham and Mrs. A. B. Peterson, all of Sanford, and Mrs. Charles Langton of Winter Park.

Drawing for doorprizes was conducted by sponsoring hostess, Mrs. Hugh O'Hara. Cdr. O'Hara is the Commanding Officer of VAH-3. Prizes came from McVicar's and Powell's of Sanford, The Chimes of Winter Park, and Rutland's and Dickson-Ives of Orlando. Favors from Merle Norman Studios of Orlando and Frances Brewster of Winter Park graced each member's place.

Attention then centered on the showing of fall fashions from the popular Sanford shop of Mary Esther's. Mrs. Ken Sandon, fashion coordinator, stunning in a black wool sheath and bold plaid three-quarter length cape, topped by an elegant beige velvet turban, commented on the styles being modeled.

Seven VAH-3 models displayed the collection to the soft piano music provided by Mrs. Patrick O'Gara. The classic bright plaids so well loved for casual costumes were very popular. The dramatic cocktail-hour dresses featured a striking simplicity of cut, while the daytime ensembles won admiration for their vivid colors and easy wearability.

Smart shoes in the new fall styles from Ivey's completed the outfits. Each model had a new hair style created for her by Richard's and her own natural beauty enhanced by the make-up magic of John Fotto of the Merle Norman Studios.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: In the winter of '58 you had something in your column about children from broken homes, "thrown to the winds to grow like weeds," but who managed to do more with their lives than some children of today who have all the advantages. There was so much truth in it that our minister read it from the pulpit and built his sermon around it. Would you please do your readers a favor and repeat it? FAITHFUL ABBY FAN

DEAR FAN: Here it is:
DEAR ABBY: In my lifetime I have seen children from broken homes thrown to the winds to grow like weeds, with no supervision, no upbringing and none of the advantages. Still they managed to make something of themselves. My husband was a man like that. Our son was given all the advantages his father never had. Given all the love and attention and material things a child could ask for, yet he turned out so bad that I am ashamed to claim him as our son. Why, Abby, why?
BROKEN-HEARTED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Your son was denied the very things that make a man out of a boy. Hard work, self-discipline, and the satisfaction of making it on his own. The biggest favor parents can do their children is let them struggle a little. Sorry.

DEAR ABBY: Don't people realize that if a man wanted a wife he'd find himself one? I am a bachelor (age 46) for the simple reason that I want to be. All my friends and relatives pester me with "girls" I ought to meet. Every time I am invited to someone's home for dinner they have a "girl" there for me to look over. This is getting tiresome. Please print this. Some of my friends might take the hint.

SINGLE AND HAPPY

DEAR SINGLE: Your friends mean well. Don't be a schnook. It doesn't cost anything to look.

DEAR ABBY: Can you tell me what a REAL mother is? I married a divorced man with three children. Their "real" mother had run off with another man when the oldest child was 6. They are in their teens now and I am sick of hearing how sad it is that their "real" mother can't enjoy seeing them accept the honors and awards they earned.
STEPMOTHER

DEAR STEPMOTHER: A REAL mother is one who marries a man with children and raises them. Or one who will hound the adoption agencies until a child is placed in her home. In my opinion, she is more of a "real" mother than the one who raises a child solely because she reluctantly (or accidentally) had one.

Unload your problem on Abby. For a personal reply, send a self-addressed stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

The bidding in the box occurred when America held the East-West cards during the World Championship match. West's pass of his partner's strong, but nonforcing three diamond bid was done thoughtfully. He did not want to bid three no-trump with nothing in hearts and he suspected five diamonds would go down one.

South opened the ten of clubs and all East had to do to make his contract was to call for the jack of clubs, but he played dummy's ace. Then he played the king and another club in the hope that the queen would drop.

He was right on the latter count and also would have been right about three no-trump except that since North held both ace and king of hearts, three no-trump was unbeatable. Anyway, East played three diamonds and made four odd.

When that failed he led a spade toward dummy. South held back his ace and once dummy's queen held that a spade trick it was all over. East went after the heart suit and eventually trumped one of his three hearts.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

Sometimes you only get one chance—
One chance to put aside your pride and say, humbly, "I was wrong" or "It was all my fault," or even "We were both foolish."
One chance to do a real kindness for someone when it would mean the most.
One chance to explain a misunderstanding that, if ignored, would sour a friendship.

One chance to hear what a child or adolescent needs to tell you.
One chance to give another person the break he needs when he is trying to make a start in the world.
One chance to defend a friend when slighting remarks are being made

Highlights

TV Time Previews

8-9 p. m. (CBS) The Lloyd Bridges Show. "El Medico." This show's gimmick, which puts Bridges in a different role each week, via his imagination, is still a bit too different an idea for easy audience consumption. Tonight he becomes an American mercenary in Latin America. He is captured and accused of being a revolutionist, although he swears he is only there for the money. John Cassavetes provides able support.
8:30-9 p. m. (CBS) Dobie Gillis. (A rerun) Dobie moves out of this slot after tonight, starting his new series on Wednesday of next week, while Red Skelton will return here next Tuesday. This is a good slapstick show with Dobie, Maynard and Mr. Gillis, all donning football uniforms to help out a star who is missing on the day of the big game. They take turns playing for him. Dwayne Hickman, Frank Faylan and Bob Denver star.

8:30-9 p. m. (NBC) Alfred Hitchcock Presents. "The Old Pro." (Rerun) Hitchcock vacates this spot for the new "Empire" series debuting next week. The rerun producer moves to an hour show this Thursday, at 10 p. m. This one stars Richard Conte as a retired killer who has to use his wits when a blackmailer comes with another killer and a threat to disfigure his wife.

HITCHCOCK
By GEORGE E. PAPCUN
Here are a few simple—very simple—checks which TV owners might make when their sets appear inoperative, and before a frantic call is made to the repairman.
Check off this basic list: Is the set turned on? Is it plugged in? Are house fuses okay? Are the front panel controls in proper adjustment? Are you tuned to a station which is actually broadcasting?
As we said, these are simple checks. But it's surprising how many people have fallen red-faced prey to all of them.
And, if you really want to forget all troubles for a long spell, then latch on to a new WESTINGHOUSE AT-TOWN and COUNTRY TV SERVICE. This is the brand designed for long, faithful service. You can step up to a new WESTINGHOUSE TV for as little as $149.95 at TOWN and COUNTRY TV SERVICE, 2553 1/2 Park Drive, FA 2-8362.

DeBary Civic Group Thanks Volunteers

By Mrs. Adam Muller
Volunteer workers and members of the DeBary Civic Assn. who have contributed towards completion of the new addition to the Community Center building received a vote of commendation at last Tuesday's regular monthly meeting of the association. Services and contributions were outlined by Kress Walter and Chester Reaick and James Duffy, president, extended words of appreciation on behalf of the entire group. During the business meeting it was voted to install a soft drink machine at the center. Guest speaker was Dr. William Daniel who spoke on the pros and cons of Medicare.

Enterprise PTC To Meet Today

The opening meeting of the Enterprise Parent-Teacher Council will be held today at 7:30 p. m. in the school cafeteria. It was decided at last week's executive board meeting to award a prize to the grade having the largest percentage of parents present for the regular meeting.

Adams Raps Those Who Soft Pedal Water Woes

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Secretary of State Tom Adams charged today that some Floridians are trying to soft pedal talk of a future water crisis by fear it will chase away new residents and new industries.

Adams called this attitude "fally."

He told the State Association of County Commissioners that "we need to talk, to get out to do it now," adding that apathy and neglect of water resources in other states has caused many industries to relocate in Florida.

"Unless we ourselves eliminate apathy and quickly develop a positive program, these industries may well leave Florida," Adams said for some time been warning that many areas of the state face a water crisis in the near future, including South Florida, the Tampa-St. Petersburg area and Broward County, site of the missile test center at Cape Canaveral.

Utility and other officials in these areas have denied there is cause for alarm and maintain Florida has plenty of water and is no danger of ever running out.

In his talk to the county commissioners, Adams was not quite as strong in his talk of crisis and when it might come. In past speeches, he has pin-pointed the situation as catching up with us in a matter of a few years.

Today, he said "water is plentiful now. Most people do not worry about flood control when the land is dry, or about a drought when it is raining. But wise leadership prepares for flooding even in the driest months." Urging the commissioners to get behind a campaign for stronger, more adequate water conservation measures, he called for a close working partnership at all levels of government.

"We have been dragging our heels," he said. "Appropriating meaningless state matching funds or no-o-er projects forward."

Intrusion of salt water into the fresh water is a big problem, he said, and measures must also be taken to conserve the wasteful discharge of billions of gallons of water a day into the sea.

O. K. Tire Started By 'An Accident'

An accident landed Mr. and Mrs. Harry Boone in the O. K. Tire business 15 years ago.

Owner of the O. K. Tire store in Sanford, the Boone family business is a combination of a friend.

Boone had been using O.K. tires and was so well satisfied with them that a friend of his in the business suggested that Boone get into the business.

For 15 years the Boone's operated an O.K. Tire store in Tusculum, Alabama. Two years ago they decided to come to Florida.

The Boone's throughout the state for a long time to find a place to locate. After examining several locations in Sanford, they decided that Sanford offered the right combination of site and location. The Boone's were also impressed with the people and the climate.

O. K. Tire stores are located throughout the United States. They specialize in high quality recapping and retreading. All of their work carries a one year written and bonded guarantee, similar to the one usually given with new tires.

Customers can have their own tires recapped or they can exchange them for recapped tires in stock.

Besides carrying a complete line of Mohawk new tires, O. K. Tire has a complete passenger service, including front and balancing, wheel alignment and brake service.

The Boone's have been extremely satisfied with their two years in Sanford. They have a daughter, Judy, who is in the fifth grade at Pinecrest School.

Ability, Service Is Southern Air

A chemical engineer who has been in the heat transfer field for 27 years, is the owner of Southern Air, Sanford's exclusive air-conditioning, heating and refrigerating center, at 2502 South Oak Avenue.

Owner George Mills came to Sanford in 1958 as a partner in another local plumbing and heating firm, then opened his own business in April of 1961, as the franchised dealer-contractor for such well known names as Chrysler Airtemp, Mueller Climatrol and American Standard.

Mills' first experience in heating and air-conditioning was as a consulting engineer with a Chicago firm in 1936. From there he moved to Pittsburgh, Pa., and subsequently to Sanford. His wife, Shirley is secretary and bookkeeper of the firm. Active in civic and church affairs, the Mills family with their four children live at 2404 Oak Avenue.

"In this age of specialization, Southern Air is a specialist in air-conditioning (hot or cold)," says owner George Mills. "Whether it is a job of air-conditioning a department store or servicing a home refrigerator unit, Southern Air can do it quickly and thoroughly."

Signs With Phils PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — John Briggs, an 18-year-old American Legion star from Paterson, N. J., has been signed by the Philadelphia Phillies. He will report to the Twin Falls team of the Pioneer League next season.

Soviet Berlin Protest Defied

BERLIN (UPI) — The United States defied a Russian protest and sent an Army helicopter over East Berlin today.

Earlier the American Army again asserted Western access rights to the city by sending a troop convoy across East Germany. The Berlin-bound convoy was held up by the Russians for more than three hours, but arrived here without further incident.

Tuesday night a mysterious explosion had rocked the area around the Brandenburg Gate on the East Berlin side of the Berlin wall. There was no indication of what caused the blast, but West Berlin police said five Russian soldiers searched the area afterwards.

The Americans sent the helicopter flying over the wall into the Soviet sector of the city, although the Russian representative at Berlin's four-power air safety center denounced the flight as illegal.

It was the first announced American flight over East Berlin since Aug. 1 when a flight was made despite a Russian threat to shoot such helicopters down.

A convoy of 1993 soldiers in 26 trucks and jeeps was refused immediate passage at Russia's Marienborn checkpoint at the western end of the 110-mile highway to Berlin.

The convoy arrived at the checkpoint at 8:23 a. m. and did not clear until 11:42 a. m., the Army announced.

The spokesman said only there had been "a misunderstanding of matters of procedure on both sides."

The convoy was the second in a week-long movement of 3,000 soldiers in 500 vehicles along the highway through East Germany which began today.

The new paved parking area is now under construction and a specially designed lighting system will be installed for the 1/4 mile harness track and also for the 630 yard straightaway of the mile oval to be used by the quarter horses, which will share the season with the harness horses.

Drab Affair

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market was a drab affair early today with the popular averages down just a shade on light turnover.

Vote Slated

ALGIERS (UPI) — An estimated 6.5 million Algerians will vote Thursday for a constituent assembly to write Algeria's first Constitution and rule the country for a year.

Blast At Gate

BERLIN (UPI) — An explosion of unknown origin rocked the vicinity of the Brandenburg Gate on the East Berlin side of the Berlin wall Tuesday night.

Control Funds

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Florida's top expert on mosquito control said Tuesday the current outbreak of encephalitis in Pinellas County might arouse legislators to boost state mosquito control funds by $1.2 million.

'Impossible'

NEW YORK (UPI) — Federal mediators trying to head off a threatened Oct. 1 longshoremen's strike which would affect shipping from Maine to Texas said Tuesday night bargaining had "become impossible" and withdrew from the negotiations.

Firmer Action

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Sen. Spessard Holland, D-Fla., favors firmer U. S. action in the Cuban situation—but not an armed invasion. An invasion, Holland said at the State Association of County Commissioners meeting Tuesday, "would mean military action with all of its serious international implications."

Battle Stepped Up

CHICAGO (UPI) — The National Farmers Organization, fresh from apparent victories in the marketplace and political arena, today stepped up its battle for higher livestock prices. NFO President Oren Lee Staley called on members of the 16-state, militant farm group to "work harder, our goal is in sight."

Air Defense Buildup Urged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An immediate buildup of air defenses in the southeastern United States was strongly recommended today by a congressional group as protection against an attack from Cuba or by long-range Soviet bombers.

That no significant effort has been made to provide a degree of protection which is comparable in any degree to that previously provided for similar areas in the northern half of the nation. Hebert and Rivers said the situation was accentuated by the establishment of a Communist government in Cuba—80 miles from Florida—and the political ferment in parts of Central and South America and Africa. They said the Soviet build-up in Cuba was continuing and added, "there can be no assurance that this buildup does not forecast the establishment of a missile capacity in Cuba as a hostile threat to the continental United States."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees gave unanimous approval today to a Cuban resolution declaring this country's determination to use all means, including troops, to resist the spread of communism in the Western Hemisphere.

A two-member House Armed Services subcommittee said the Defense Department should quickly place improved fighter interceptor and ground-to-air missile protection in strategic areas in the Southeast.

The subcommittee said "a marked improvement in radar intercept and communications capability" was essential.

Reps. L. Mendel Rivers, (D-S.C.), and F. Edward Hebert, (D-La.), wrote the report Aug. 23. They said the entire nation was equally vulnerable to intercontinental ballistic missiles.

But they said that the threat from enemy planes or from airbreathing missiles launched from ships, subs or hostile territory "remains a continuing concern to the Southeastern United States."

"While the vastly increased importance of this area to the overall national effort is clear," the congressman said, "it is equally clear

Argentina Army Tanks Move On La Plata; Revolt Brewing

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Argentine army dissidents seeking a purge of the high command sent a column of tanks advancing on La Plata today. The war secretariat called it an "unauthorized" military movement.

Other rebellious officers who seized command of the big Campo de Mayo garrison outside Buenos Aires called for public support of their campaign "to avoid bloodshed."

The call for public support was broadcast over Radio Belgrano in what was styled "Communique No. 1. It was assumed the army dissidents had seized the Belgrano plant on Buenos Aires' outskirts. The government summoned frontier troops to occupy the long distance and international telephone exchange in the capital. A war secretariat order forbade radio stations to broadcast news from the rebel-held Campo de Mayo "or any other rebel unit."

County Ranks Fourth In State For Wild Fires

County Forest Ranger Albert Harris reported today that latest statistics compiled in state headquarters show Seminole County as ranking fourth in the state in the number of wild fires per hundred thousand acres of forest land in 1961 when 128 such fires occurred here.

According to the ranger this is somewhat better than in the past but still is nothing to be proud of since as of July 1, this year, there already had been 148 fires burning some 4,909 acres.

Harris said that his report shows that in 1961 pulp wood production in Seminole County was 6,509 cords bringing an economic return of approximately $97,635.

Counties leading the state in fires, percentage wise, in 1961 were Duval with 528, Pinellas with 190 and Bradford with 138.

Remodeling Program Set At Raceway

A remodeling and rebuilding program calling for the expenditure of over a quarter of a million dollars has been started at Seminole Park Raceway, Casselberry according to track president Clyde Hart in a statement today.

Included in the project is the construction of a new grandstand, designed by Stewart and Skinner, Miami architects specializing in such construction, who have designed similar structures for a number of race tracks around the nation.

Eight more barns will be built this fall which will increase the total capacity of the track to 1,034 horses, making the local installation the largest harness horse track in the South.

A new paved parking area is now under construction and a specially designed lighting system will be installed for the 1/4 mile harness track and also for the 630 yard straightaway of the mile oval to be used by the quarter horses, which will share the season with the harness horses.

Race Mix Showdown Nears At 'Ole Miss'

OXFORD, Miss. (UPI) — More than 5,000 students report today for registration at the University of Mississippi, quietly girding itself for a possible showdown on racial integration.

An atmosphere of outward calm prevailed on the tree-shaded campus and in downtown Oxford despite the possibility the 100-year-old institution might be closed to prevent the federal court-ordered admission of James H. Meredith, a 29-year-old Negro.

Meredith, who attended Jackson State College for Negroes last year, would register as a transfer student. Registration for transfer students is Thursday, the day the state College Board is scheduled to meet again in Jackson to act on Meredith's application.

The 13-man board, which has final jurisdiction over university admission, has been debating since Monday whether to comply with Gov. Ross Barnett's directive for state officials to go to jail rather than obey federal desegregation orders. Two previous meetings of the board have produced no decision, despite a personal plea by Barnett on Tuesday.

Dr. Vernon Holmes, a board member, said he would be willing to be jailed "if something could be accomplished by doing so."

State To Air Request

The newly reorganized Seminole County Sportsmen's Association is going to officially protest closing of the area bounded by South Sanford Ave., and Cameron Road, Cornwall Road and SR 46 to dove hunting, to the State Fresh Water Fish and Game Commission at their meeting at Cedar Key, according to W. A. Adams, a director of the organization.

The County Commission at the instigation of a number of property owners in the area, sent a resolution asking for the establishment of a bird sanctuary in the designated area last May 23.

It was charged at that time, by the property owners, that bird hunters had discharged their firearms too close to the houses and had violated the laws covering hunting in other ways.

According to Adams, the law requires that hunters refrain from shooting within 300 yards of an occupied residence, from hunting on posted property without permission, and also that they not shoot from a public way or in the direction of a public road.

It is Adams' contention, and that of the club members, that outsiders came in from other parts of the state and disregarded the regulations covering the sport, and that none of the local hunters were responsible for the commission ruling.

Adams said the local group was deeply concerned with game conservation, and had no intention of decimating the bird population of the area, but there is excellent hunting in the section around Cameron City and Moore's Crossing, and he was sure that opening the section to regulated hunting would be the best course for state agency to follow.

Local association members are in accord with the aims of the commission in setting up a bird sanctuary, but they said they would cooperate by voluntarily patrolling the area to see to it that none of the commissions regulations were violated.

The general feeling of the group, said Adams, is that "local hunters shouldn't be penalized because outsiders come in and damage premises and violate the hunting laws."

Sanfordite In Mishap

A Sanford resident was charged with driving while intoxicated and failure to yield the right of way after a two car collision Tuesday night, police said.

James Parsons, 111 Sunset Dr., faces the two charges after his car collided with a vehicle operated by Plumlee Lee Thomas of Orlando. Damage to both cars was estimated at $273.
