SCC To Open Branch In South Seminole

By Kathy Tyrity
Herald Staff Writer

To serve a growing population of urban professionals, adult learners and business people, Seminole Community College will create its first off-campus instruction center near Apopka with classes beginning in January. The Board of Trustees unanimously approved the long-studied concept Tuesday night after only a hint of argument that the project might be too expensive.

The South Seminole Center for SCC will be located in a new section of the Hunt Club Shopping Center at 436 and Hunt Club Boulevard. Board member Garnett White said the rental escalation rate of 8 percent per year "may be a little excessive in today's market."

Officials negotiated a price of $9.65 per square foot, or $70,252 per year. The school will take a one-year lease with an option of four additional one-year leases at 8 percent more each year. Utilities and capital improvements will be extra.

The center will have about 7,200 square feet, five or six classrooms, a computer lab, conference room, student lounge, office space and reception area. Officials pointed out that it will have "plenty of parking" because there will be as many as 150 students there at a time, particularly in the evening.

The center is expected to serve Wekiiva, Sweetwater, Sabal Point, Forest City, Altamonte

Evictions Of Elderly Ordered

Four elderly women living in a Sanford single-family home will be forced to find someplace else to live after actions by the Sanford city commission Monday and the city's code enforcement board Tuesday.

The code enforcement board also assessed a daily fine of $250, the maximum they can levy, against property owner Charles Cameron and his tenants, R.J. and Constance Jack, who care for the women. The fee will add up daily until the women are moved elsewhere.

One city commissioner, Milton Smith, said the responsibility for the women's plight is not the city's, but lies with Cameron and the Jacks for moving them into the home. He said that type of care facility is a commercial intrusion into a residential area.

Martha Yancey, city commission candidate and wife of code enforcement board member Ned Yancey, who made the motion for the fine, said "it was not a mean thing my husband did. He (and the board) are just enforcing the codes. He is doing what he was appointed to do."

Mrs. Yancey, 64, said she and husband, Ned, 69, are "almost senior citizens ourselves" and that they "love elderly people."

Ned Yancey said the board's action was not against the four women, but against the Jacks and Cameron, because city code dictates that "no business belongs in a residential area."

"Operating a business where they are operating is illegal," he said.

The home, at 2005 South Oak Ave. is in an area zoned for single family homes. A home for the elderly is not a permitted use in areas so zoned, and thus it is operating illegally, city officials say.

The four women living in the home include Gennie King, 94, Alice Riely, 73, Della Summers, 77, and Arie Mann, 84. The Jacks moved into the home, leased from Cameron, in April, as has Ms. Summers.

The city officials who are forcing the women to move will "get old too someday," Ms. Summers said.

At his new home in Hartwell, Ga., Sanford resident of 67 years, "Uncle Tom" Vernon, reads a mail-subscription copy of the Evening Herald.

67-Year Resident 'Uncle Tom' Keeps In Touch

Long-time Floridian "Uncle Tom" Vernon is settled in his new home in Hartwell, Ga., but keeping in touch with news from Sanford, his home for 67 years, through a subscription to the Evening Herald and contact with friends.

The 90-year-old recently moved back "home" to Georgia with his sister Vicky Donnelly because he could no longer manage independently. He lived for many years in an apartment above Manuel Jacobson's Department Store on East First Street downtown.

His favorite pastime was "sitting on the bench, talking to my friends passing by."

Vernon worked on the Sanford Fire Department, the Railway Express and the city Parks Department.

After an Oct. 1 story on Uncle Tom appeared in the Herald, many old friends requested his new address. His sister said it's 202 Kay St., Hartwell, Ga. 30643.

When the Hartwell Sun received a copy of the Herald's feature story about Vernon it decided to do one of its own to welcome him.

"He is ensconced here in his sister's lovely home and she said he's doing fine and is happy. I think Hartwell will take good care of him for Sanford," said Sun reporter Edith Gaines.

County May Grant Land Use Changes

By Paul C. Schaefer
Herald Staff Writer

The hopes of 17 Maitland Avenue property owners who want to redesignate potential uses of their property advanced Tuesday night. Seminole County commissioners gave tentative approval to their requests for amendments to the county's Comprehensive Land Use Plan. The "comp plan" designates land use, and is the county's growth blueprint.

The requests will get a second hearing Nov. 11, when official approval for the requests could be given. The requests would then go to the state Department of Community Affairs for review.

Commissioners called the movement of the requests to the November meeting as "the first step", and "preliminary" after the public hearing.

The property owners along Maitland Ave. in south Seminole, near the Orange County line, told commissioners that with area growth, traffic counts of 20,000 cars a day, noise, and air pollution associated with the traffic, have diminished the value of their homes as residences. They are seeking eventual residential office zoning potential, so the homes could be sold for conversion to offices.

By a unanimous 3-0 vote, the commission approved the advancement of the requests to the November meeting. Commissioners Bob Sturm, Fred Streetman, and Sandra Glenn voted for the action. Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff is out of town on vacation, and commissioner Barbara Christensen was ill, Sturm reported.

Technically, the residents request is for a change in land use designation from low density residential to low intensity commercial. However, commissioners stipulated that the commercial designation would be limited to specific possible uses under residential professional classification. Those uses include general office, insurance, real estate, medical, dental, book keeping, and auditing, and similar office uses. Commercial or retail use of any kind will not be considered, commissioners pointed out.

"We've looked at this long and hard over the last five years, and always denied requests for changes in that area until something was done to Maitland Ave.," Ms. Glenn said. "Well,

Man Found Dead After Hit-Run

A Sanford man apparently lying on a roadway was killed early today when he was run over by an unknown vehicle.

Dead at the scene on Sipes Avenue was Lester Bobb Jr., 40, of 3021 E. 21st St.

Bobb was lying in the southbound lane when he was run over by a northbound vehicle that left the scene, according to a Florida Highway Patrol report. The incident occurred at 12:30 a.m.

Family member's today questioned the circumstances surrounding the incident and the preliminary assessment by police.

"I can't believe there aren't any witnesses," said Bobb's sister, Ella J. Gilmore, of Sanford. She said there are usually people about on that roadway that time of night. Bobb's elderly parents live on the same road.

She suggested that instead of Bobb lying on the road, he could have been shoved.

Ms. Gilmore said her brother had attended a football game earlier that evening to watch his son play and win and was in good spirits. She said he did have some personal problems

Hot Pursuit No Dead Heat

A 15-year-old Lake Mary boy compounded his mistakes Tuesday in trying to outrun the long leg of the law — a marathon-winning state trooper.

The unusual pursuit began routinely on Interstate 4 around 8:30 a.m. when two Florida Highway Patrol troopers heading towards DeLand to inspect school buses saw a Dodge van traveling erratically.

Mistake number one for the teen. They stopped the van on the highway just south of Lake Mary but when the troopers approached it on foot, the Dodge sped off.

Mistake number two. The troopers scrambled to their cruiser and gave chase to Lake Mary Boulevard then east to Lake Emma Road where the van struck three cars but didn't stop.

Mistake three and counting. The van headed south on Lake Emma Road for about four miles until it ran into a fence and trees in a yard at the intersection with Longwood Hills Road.

With his wheels out of commission, the teenager opted to pace it out with the laws — a big-time mistake because one of the troopers in

Deadline Today For 'Hotel' To Fix Parking Area

The owner of Sanford's Florida Hotel must mulch an off-street parking area and bring the structure's wiring up to city standard by today or she will be fined $250-a-day until the work is complete.

The city's code enforcement board set the compliance deadline during a meeting earlier this month in order to give the hotel's owner, Peggy Nestor, an opportunity to request a paving waiver from city commissioners at their Monday meeting.

Commissioners on Monday voted 3-2 to grant Mrs. Nestor a waiver to mulch the 500 Oak Ave. hotel's 11-car lot after she cited a concern that paving the lot would possibly kill nearby trees. The waiver was requested because the city has an ordinance requiring paving of off-street parking lots containing more than 10 spaces.

According to actions commissioners took Monday, in addition to the mulching, Mrs. Nestor must also install a wooden fence and concrete curbing to separate the lot from nearby residences. The curb and fence do not, however, have to be installed by today, said Commissioner John Mercer, who called for the additional requirements when he moved for the mulching request

Lake Mary city commissioners would rather see the Groveview Villas Apartments' wall on the north side of Lake Mary Blvd. moved, than the widened road moved into the front yards of residents on the other side.

Lake Mary Objects To Boulevard Curve

Lake Mary city commissioners don't like a segment of Seminole County's planned alignment for the widening of Lake Mary Blvd.

The boulevard is a county road, and plans call for widening to begin in 1988. Commissioners recently discovered the county's planned alignment curves to the south between U.S. 17-92 and Country Club Rd. The curve, Lake Mary commissioners say, is designed because of a concrete wall built several years ago on the north side of the boulevard by the Groveview Villa Apartments.

About a dozen Lake Mary property owners with land fronting on the boulevard may see their front yards cut short by the path of the widened road, if the proposed alignment is not moved.

Those property owners homes are between the road and Big Lake Mary. The Groveview apartments on the north side of the boulevard lie within the city of Sanford.

Three of Lake Mary's city commissioners, Charlie Webster, Paul Tremel, and Buzz Petoas, and several Lake Mary residents attended Tuesday night's Seminole County Commission meeting to make county officials aware of Lake Mary's official objection to the curve.

Webster read a letter to the county leaders from the city, but drew little response, although county commission chairman Bob Sturm, a Lake Mary resident, passed the blame to the city of Sanford for allowing the Groveview wall

RAPE REPORTED

Sanford police investigated a rape at the lakefront reported by a 36-year-old Winter Park woman. The woman said she left a church on Pennsylvania Avenue late Sunday night and was offered a ride home by two males. She said she got in the car and they drove her past her home, on to the area of Fort Mellon Park. She said they gagged her and blindfolded her, took her into the park and both of them raped her.

BURGLARIES & THEFTS

Sheriff's deputies have the name of a suspect who may have stolen a $3,500 Camaro, a $140 jacket, $40 and $12 worth of cologne from the home of Wilson Hughes and Richard Emerson, of 1928 Blossom Lane, Maitland, Monday.

Some strong burglars made off with a stove and freezer from an apartment at Ridgewood Arms. Joyce Anderson, 45, of 2580 Ridgewood Arms, told police the burglars made unknown entry and took the appliances, worth $900.

Tim Mulholland, 31, of 831 Huckleberry Lane, Casselberry, reported to sheriff's deputies that a cassette stereo valued at $350 was stolen from his home Sunday or Monday.

Sheriff's deputies have the name of a suspect who may have stolen four video taped movies from Video 2000, 180 Oxford Road, Fern Park, Monday. The tapes have a reported combined value of $320.

A $1,000 rug, a $200 amplifier, a $100 turntable and a $500 television were stolen from the home of David Patton, 36, of 478 Raymond Ave., Longwood, Monday, a sheriff's report said.

A burglary in Sanford Friday resulted in a loss of more than $1,770 worth of items. Justin Hunt, 25, of 2645 Eims Ave., said the burglars entered through his home's rear door and took several pieces of stereo equipment, a TV, VCR, and tapes.

Sanford police investigated a burglary at the home of Adolphus Owens, 29, of 1016 W. 6th St. Sunday night. Police said burglars entered through a bedroom window and took two watches and a microwave oven, totaling $850.

Burglars got away with jewelry and a bicycle totaling $750 at the home of Philip Holmes, 34, 305 W. 9th St. In Sanford Saturday. Police said entry was made through the bedroom window.

Lester H. Lloyd, 42, of 1501 Jay St. in Longwood told police he was parked at Monroe Harbor, 531 N. Palmetto Drive, Sunday afternoon when someone slit the convertible top to his 1985 Toyota Celica and took a $300 radar detector. Damage to the car was estimated at several hundred dollars.

Thirty-one-year-old Loretta F. Collins of Sanford told police she was at Bahama Joe's, 2508 S. Orlando Drive, Friday and left her purse for a few minutes. When she returned, she said, the purse, with $760, was gone.

Candidates Raise Money And Issues

Republican gubernatorial nominee Bob Martinez raised about $200,000 in campaign funds Sunday.

At the fundraiser, held at Altamonte Springs Hilton Hotel, Martinez was joined by former U.S. Congressman Lou Frey, Winter Park, who Martinez defeated to capture the Republican gubernatorial nomination Sept. 30. Martinez's running mate is former State Rep. Bobby Brantley, Longwood. Martinez has sought to unify the Republican party across the state behind his candidacy since winning the run-off against Frey.

A spokesman for Democratic governor nominee, Steve Pajdic, predicted that Pajdic's support in central Florida is stronger than those in the Martinez camp may think.

He said his strong stand on environmental and ecological issues contrasts with Martinez and will attract central Florida voters.

Connie S. Cain, 18, of 618 Laurel Ave. in Sanford told police burglars broke in over the weekend through a bedroom window and took a clock radio, coin collection, stamps, and $250 in cash for a total value of $980.

Oviedo Girl, 16, Charged In Attempted Murder Of Dad

An Oviedo girl has been released on bond from the Seminole County jail where she was being held on an attempted first-degree murder in the July stabbing of her father.

Kimberly Michele Reel, 16, was released Monday on $3,000 bond. She, and a 21-year-old boyfriend, Kelly Dean Wilson, of Orlando, are accused of assaulting Kenneth H. Reel Sr., 39, of 347 Timberwood Trail, Oviedo, Wilson, arrested in August, has also been released on $3,000 bail.

According to court records, Reel said he left work as an Orlando firefighter early July 1 because he thought something was wrong at home. He had called twice and talked with Kimberly.

When he arrived home he heard a man's and girl's voice and laughter. Opening the door to her bedroom, he said he found his daughter and Wilson on her bed.

Reel said he grabbed Wilson by the hair and dragged him off the bed but they fell and began to fight on the floor. During the fight, Reel said his daughter got a butcher knife and stabbed him twice, once on the right side of the neck, and in the back.

He said he began to bleed heavily and fearing an artery had been cut, left the house and drove to the Oviedo Police Department. Reel was treated at Winter Park Memorial Hospital in Winter Park. One of his wounds was almost 2 1/2 inches deep.

Kimberly was initially arrested in Orange County but was transferred to the Seminole County Correction Facility Friday.

Although 16, she is charged as an adult in the case. She is scheduled to appear in court Oct. 27 at 9 a.m. to have a trial date set.

Ms. Reel is reportedly not living at her parents home.

Pizza Parlor Employee Charged

An employee of Dinos Pizza, Fox Valley Drive, Longwood, who was found lurking outside his workplace at about 6:30 a.m. Monday was arrested on a prowling and resisting arrest charges by Seminole County sheriff's deputy Brent Davison.

Davison reported the man gave him someone else's driver's license when asked for identification. The man reportedly said he was outside the restaurant because he had forgotten to lock the front door. When Davison checked the door the man became violent and struggled with three sheriff's deputies before being subdued. The suspect had $2,167 in his possession, Davison reported.

At the scene in a nearby trash can two wallets were found. The owners of the wallets, Mark T. Fukuhara, 37, and Patricia D. Roemer, 26, both of 645 Sabal Lake Drive #205, Longwood, were contacted at their home by sheriff's Sgt. Terry Huffman.

Fukuhara and Ms. Roemer determined their wallets had been stolen from Ms. Roemer's purse in their kitchen between 12:30 and 5:30 a.m. Monday. Fukuhara told Huffman his wallet had contained over $2,100.

Charges of burglary to an occupied dwelling and grand theft were added against the suspect.

Anthony Pratt, 21, of 625 Sabal Lake Drive #101, Longwood, has been charged in the case.

Also on Monday, Pratt had additional burglary and theft charges added after he reportedly told sheriff's deputies he had stolen another wallet, which could be found under a chair in his home. That wallet reportedly had contained $250 when stolen, sheriff's deputy Eric Bryant reported.

Pratt was being held in lieu of a total of $13,000 bond.

Public Inspects New Court House Renovations

Renovations to the Seminole County court house, which cost $2.6 million and took 16 months to complete, were inspected Monday afternoon during a public open house.

The renovation program began on May 10, 1985, and was completed Sept. 21, according to county construction program manager Robin LillibrIDGE.

The renovation created 8 new court rooms bringing the total up to 11. Also added were a new computer room, a new holding cell, security system, sound systems, plus paint, carpeting, and general renovation.

According to LillibrIDGE, the construction program was done in six phases, so the court house could remain open during the program.

He said the Mark Arnold Construction Company of Maitland was the general contractor for the job, and the architect was Helman, Hurley, Charvat and Peacock, Maitland.

Thousands Jailed For Political Views, Amnesty Reports

LONDON (UPI) — Thousands of people worldwide were jailed and tortured for their political beliefs last year and many were killed in court-ordered executions or by death squads, Amnesty International said Wednesday.

"Prisoners have been tortured or cruelly treated in one out of every three countries in the 1980s," the London-based group said in a report reviewing the human rights records of 128 countries in 1985.

The group — winner of the 1977 Nobel Peace Prize — said international organizations, including the United Nations, were paying increasing attention to "protecting the rights of prisoners."

to intimidate the local population."

The group noted that some 40 governments have signed an international convention against torture but "the work of Amnesty International frequently exposes a gulf between these international commitments and reality."

The group said it reported to the United Nations reports of torture in 33 countries, information on disappearances in 19 nations and details of reported extrajudicial deaths and deaths in detentions in 17 nations.

The group said a still-large "documentation of government killings, disappearances, torture, detention without trial, imprisonment of people for expressing their opinions and other abuses shows the amount of work to be done."

Amnesty said that during 1985, 1,125 criminal prisoners were known to have been executed in 44 nations, including 18 in the United States, at least 470 in Iran, 27 in the Soviet Union and 137 in South Africa.

The group, which opposes the death penalty in all circumstances, also said nearly 1,500 people were sentenced to die last year.

"These figures include only cases known to Amnesty International," the report said. "The true figures are certainly higher."

"Torture and the death penalty are widespread," the group said. "In many countries, men, women and children have disappeared after being taken into official custody."

"Still others have been put to death without any pretense of legality: selected and killed by governments and their agents."

Amnesty said thousands of people were detained without trial in Africa last year, "political imprisonment, torture and killings remained a focus of major concern" in Latin America, and such abuses "were widespread in Asia."

"Executions were reported from most countries in the region," it said about Asia. Amnesty said torture and executions were also widely reported last year in the Middle East and thousands were detained without charge in Syria.

Amnesty said it knew of more than 600 "prisoners of conscience" in the Soviet Union in 1985 and "believed the total number to be much higher."

The group said it received reports of executions by Soviet troops in Afghanistan, including many civilians "apparently suspected only of sympathizing with (Moslem) rebels, or allegedly killed in reprisal for attacks on government forces or

Queen Plays Tourist

PEKING (UPI) — Britain's Queen Elizabeth II, on the first visit to Peking by a British monarch, met China's top leaders Tuesday and later turned tourist, climbing the serpentine Great Wall of China and strolling through the burial ground of 13 Ming Dynasty emperors.

"Thank you for coming to see an old man like me," said 82-year-old senior leader Deng Xiaoping during a meeting with the queen and her husband, Prince Philip, in western Peking.

A British spokesman, describing the meetings as "very jolly," said he doubted "anything very much of substance" was discussed.

The diminutive Chinese leader, without his usual white spitoon at his side, told how as a young man in Paris he twice climbed the Eiffel Tower because someone told him he could see England from the top.

"But on both occasions the weather was very bad so I couldn't see England," Deng said.

"The Eiffel Tower is a very long way from England and I don't think you would see it," replied the 60-year-old queen, dressed in a lilac jacket with matching mid-length skirt and a diamond brooch.

At the Great Wall, a 2,100-year-old rampart built to protect China from Mongol invaders from the north, the royal couple were applauded by throngs of Chinese and foreigners.

The Queen stopped several times to take photos and at the end of her jaunt, was presented with a certificate reading "I climbed the Great Wall."

Supreme Court Rejects Bundy Appeal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Theodore Bundy, sentenced to death for strangling two Florida sorority sisters and murdering a 12-year-old girl, Tuesday lost a second Supreme Court appeal alleging his conviction was based on improper evidence.

The justices rejected Bundy's bid to escape the electric chair for the murder of Kimberly Leach, who was abducted on Feb. 9, 1978, from the lawn of her Lake City, Fla., junior high school.

Bundy's appeal had argued that testimony from Charles Anderson, a key eyewitness, was unreliable. Anderson identified Bundy as the man he saw outside the school building with Leach the day she disappeared after seeing a television broadcast of Bundy following his indictment.

Justices Thurgood Marshall and William Brennan voted to grant the appeal, with Marshall voicing concerns about the challenged testimony.

Marshall said "the tainted testimony significantly bolstered the state's case against him, for the untainted testimony was far from overwhelming."

It was Bundy's second unsuccessful appeal to the justices in six months. Last May, the high court denied his appeal of two other death sentences he received for the 1978 clubbing murders of Chi Omega sorority sisters Margaret Bowman and Lisa Levy at Florida State University.

In that appeal, Bundy challenged testimony from an eyewitness who had been hypnotized eight days after the murders.

Bundy, a law school dropout, is suspected in the deaths of up to 36 other women between 1974 and 1978, most of them in Washington and Utah.

In other actions the court agreed to decide if Illinois can impose a 24-hour waiting period on minors wanting abortions in a case that should fuel speculation the Rehnquist court is poised to rewrite abortion law.

The court will hear arguments this term in the case brought by the state of Illinois challenging a ruling that found unconstitutional portions of the Illinois Parental Notice Abortion Act of 1983.

The case is the third abortion case the court has dealt with in the past year.

In April, the justices ruled that anti-abortion activists had no right to sue to reinstate another Illinois law placing restrictions on doctors who perform abortions. In a major ruling in June, the court, on a 5-4 vote, said a Pennsylvania law restricting abortions was unconstitutional.

The significance of the new case is uncertain.

The court, now headed by Chief Justice William Rehnquist, who has opposed abortion, has taken a number of abortion cases in the 13 years since deciding the historic Roe vs. Wade that gave women the right to an abortion in 1973. In all those cases they have upheld a woman's right to abortion.

Justice Harry Blackmun, who authored Roe vs. Wade, reduced the significance of the court accepting abortion cases in a speech a year ago when he remarked there are always four votes to hear such cases.

In other action, the court:

—Closed the books on Chief Justice William Rehnquist's confirmation hearings, deciding not to reopen a 1972 case in which Rehnquist cast the key vote to uphold surveillance of Vietnam war protesters. Rehnquist had been criticized for taking part in the case because he was involved in the matter while working for the Nixon Justice Department.

—Agreed to decide if New Jersey prison regulations that prevented two inmates from attending weekly religious services violated their right to freely exercise religion. The inmates are members of the Islamic faith.

The 1983 Illinois law imposed a variety of regulations on minors seeking abortions, including a 24-hour waiting period and a requirement that parents must be notified if their daughters were seeking an abortion unless the daughter could get a court waiver of that provision.

The law was challenged in January 1984 in federal court by doctors who perform abortions and minors who might seek abortions. It was declared unconstitutional in May.

However, the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in May 1985 held only the 24-hour waiting period unconstitutional, enjoined the law from taking effect, and sent the matter back to lower courts for further proceedings.

Appealing to the high court, Illinois argued the Supreme Court, while approving of state laws on parental consent, "has not ruled upon the constitutionality of requiring a short waiting period applicable only to minors, designed to provide an opportunity for meaningful consultation."

Arguing against review, the doctors point out the Supreme Court, in 1983, found 24-hour waiting periods unconstitutional. In that case, the waiting period applied to both minors and adults.

Court Upholds Retiree's COLA Budget Elimination

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court affirmed Tuesday a ruling rescinding a cost of living allowance due federal retirees that was cut under provisions of the Gramm-Rudman Balanced Budget Act.

The court dismissed a challenge brought by the National Association of Retired Federal Employees seeking review of a federal court ruling that allowed the government to take away the 1986 3.1 percent cost of living adjustment for federal employees.

The reduction was part of Gramm-Rudman provisions designed to end the federal deficit. The act suspended such payments and allows the president to cancel them, which President Reagan did in December, 1985.

The NARFE filed suit charging that rescinding the payment violated constitutional rights. A federal court agreed in April 1986.

In seeking high court review, the association said the lower court "has sanctioned a diminution in annuity payments for federal retirees and their survivors that cumulates to $58 million each month."

Arguing against review, the government said Congress had the right to rescind the COLA.

"This argument is without merit, because the relevant statutory provisions did not vest in civil service retirees a contractual or property right to receive even the underlying retirement benefits, much less the COLA increase in those benefits," the government said.

The court has dealt with the Gramm-Rudman act before. In July, the court held unconstitutional a key portion of the act that triggered automatic budget cuts.

SAT Said Sexist

NEW YORK (UPI) — Possible sex bias on the Scholastic Aptitude Tests may be why boys outscored girls on the college entrance examinations taken by more than 1 million high school seniors in 1986, a magazine report said Tuesday.

Boys' national averages were ahead of girls' by 59 points, continuing a trend of superior scores by males that has persisted since the early 1970s, and Grace Hechinger brings up the possibility of SAT sex bias in her education column published in November's Glamour magazine.

Hechinger notes that lower scores for females persist even though girls' high school and college grades are higher than those of boys and girls outperform boys on many standardized tests in reading, grammar and style.

"No one wants to discuss it," Hechinger says in the column headlined, "Are the SATs Unfair to Women?"

"But the trend is clear: women's scores on the SATs have been going down. Although women earn higher grades in high school and college, their average SAT scores are 59 points lower than men's, out of a total score of 1,600. And the long-established male superiority in math does not account for all of the gap."

Gregory Anrig, Educational Testing Service president, said no evidence of sex bias ever surfaced during sensitivity screenings for cultural, gender or racial bias.

He said ETS is committed to keep looking for the causes of women's lower scores. "What is not clear is the cause or causes," he said.

Following the pattern of years, males in 1986 outscored females on the SATs, as well as on the tests given by American College Testing — the nation's other large testing agency that measures college-bound students.

The SAT is used by colleges to predict how applicants will perform in their freshman year.

Professor Testifies

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI) — A New York University professor who testified that Alabama textbooks play down the importance of religions in history said Tuesday he overlooked some religious references during his study.

But Dr. Paul Vitz said the oversights do not alter his view that religion is underrepresented in most public school textbooks.

Vitz testified on behalf of more than 600 parents, teachers and students — some of them fundamentalists — who are seeking the removal of 48 textbooks they say promote secular humanism as a godless religion.

The suit, which names the state Board of Education as defendant, is a reexamination of a 1981 school prayer case that ended with the Supreme Court striking down Alabama's moment of silence laws.

The plaintiffs claim social studies textbooks give short shrift to the historic role of Judeo-Christianity while home economics textbooks advance secular humanism. They want the books purged because the courts have ruled specific religions cannot be endorsed in schools.

Vitz said he studied 30 textbooks that he considered weak in religious references and found few religious references. As an example, Vitz said that of 300 important dates listed in one textbook, only three had any religious significance.

Sanford Considers Additional Effluent Disposal Site

By Karen Talley
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford commissioners may end up adding several million dollars to the price tag of the city's wastewater management program by purchasing an additional effluent disposal site. The 2,200 acre parcel would compensate for possible loss of a lake disposal permit the city has conditionally received from the state.

Although the site's owners are asking $5,317,000 from Sanford, the city wants to pare the purchase price by having its own appraisals done, said Engineering and Planning Director Bill Simmons.

Commissioners on Monday authorized a $6,000 expenditure for two appraisals of the site as part of the $142,000 they approved in payments related to the wastewater management program.

The appraisals are required by the state as a prelude to the city's beginning purchase negotiations with the parcel's owners. Before moving on possible purchase, commissioners are also required by the state to hold a public hearing. This was confirmed by Simmons, who said the hearing is scheduled for Oct. 28.

Simmons also said in addition to the parcel's purchase price, Sanford would be looking at another $4 to 5 million to ready the land for disposal and run transmission lines to it.

The parcel lies just east of Lake Jessup, off State Road 46 in unincorporated Seminole County.

The city's wastewater program has already been estimated to come in around $36.5 million, of which $8.5 is expected to be offset by state and federal grants. The multi-million dollar venture has been undertaken to comply with a state order requiring Sanford to cease disposing all its treated wastewater in Lake Monroe.

While the city is confident it can handle disposal of average daily effluent flows through systems based at properties it already owns, the Lake Jessup parcel is being "seriously considered" due to an uncertainty about the state's continuing to allow Sanford to dispose wet weather season effluent overflows in the lake, Simmons said.

Sanford originally eyed the Lake Jessup tract last winter, when surveys of potential disposal sites were conducted following the city's inability to acquire the 2,867 acre Yankee Lake parcel, which lies west of Sanford.

The city subsequently turned to several self-owned sites to receive its treated wastewater, but also twice extended purchase options on the Lake Jessup parcel to maintain its availability.

Yankee Lake, meanwhile, went to Seminole County, for its own wastewater program. The county has worked up project designs for its Yankee Lake program and will begin applying for necessary state permits this week, according to County Administrator Ken Hooper.

In regard to the Sanford program, the state's conditional permitting for continued lake disposal is for 1 million gallons a day during the June to November wet weather season.

This is in addition to the average 4 million daily gallons slated to be disposed year round on the city owned properties. Because the city-owned parcels will be used to maximum capacity, the state agreed to conditional permitting for lake disposal of the excess wet weather season wastewater, Simmons said.

The key word, however, is "conditional" in regard to the lake disposal permit, according to Simmons. The designation means the permit will be re-evaluated in about two years, after the state has completed studies of wastewater impact in the area Sanford will be disposing during the wet weather season.

This could equate to the city's losing the permitted lake allocation and not being able to line up a land disposal site unless it moves on the Lake Jessup parcel now, Simmons said.

The site was targeted after city staff "beat the bushes" for prospective disposal parcels in the greater Sanford area, Simmons said. The surveys showed this parcel to be the most practical from an economic and disposal capacity standpoint, he said.

And, although loss of the lake permit would involve the need for land to dispose the 1 million gallon overflow, preliminary studies at the Lake Jessup site show it could handle up to 3.5 million gallons of wastewater a day, according to Simmons.

This may ultimately lead the city to consider contracting the 2.5 million disposal capacity balance to other interests, although right now, Sanford is concentrating on the site to cover possible loss of the lake permit, Simmons said.

He also said as far as Sanford's successfully handling its disposal needs, the possible loss of the 1 million wet weather permit stands as its only potential stumbling block. This is because planning is underway for new commercial and residential developments to dispose their effluent on site through a "take back system," Simmons said.

The city's movement in regard to its wastewater disposal program also prompted commissioners on Monday to agree to a $541,000 contract amendment with the engineering firm of Conklin Porter and Holmes.

Tri-County To Observe Crack Awareness Week

By Kathy Tyrity
Herald Staff Writer

Did you know that 90 percent of Sanford's drug arrests in the past year have been for crack cocaine possession and sale?

That's one of the facts that Police Chief Steve Harriett wants to get out to the public during the tri-county Crack Awareness Week Oct. 19 - 25. Anyone who wants to have a police presentation on crack and drugs in Sanford can call the station at 323-3030.

"We want to point up the seriousness and impact that crack is having on our quality of life in Sanford," Harriett said.

The city and county are joining with Osceola and Orange counties and the Crime Commission to advertise the impact crack has had in the last 12 months on Central Florida.

"We want to get everybody thinking about this problem. Ultimately, our goal is to turn this problem around and bring it full circle," he said. "We want to reverse the peer pressure on our youth and make it cool to be straight."

The crack awareness week begins Sunday with all pastors in the area asked to preach a sermon on crack and drug abuse. Then throughout the week, schools will have speakers and programs on crack, and the police will be busy making presentations around town. Children will be getting 2,000 T-shirts from the police saying, "Attack Crack. Be part of the solution."

Culminating Saturday, Oct. 25, the week wraps up with the entire town invited to watch a parade in downtown Sanford and participate in festivities in the park.

"This will be a protest march against crack," the chief said. "We are asking for people from all walks of life to turn out and stage a massive demonstration against this crack menace."

There will be bands, schools, city officials, speakers and all on a live radio show.

The parade starts at 10 a.m. Saturday Oct. 25 at 4th Street and Park Avenue. It will go north, then east on 1st Street to Fort Mellon Park where there will be a rally.

"We aim to show people that while the problem does seem large, there are enough people against it that we can conquer it," Harriett said.

The solution, he said, is in education, enforcement and rehabilitation. "Education will be most important, but there also needs to be swift, sure punishment. And we must remember there are no quick fixes," Harriett said.

Crack cocaine, he said, is replacing most other street drugs because of its steep high and low cost. Those using it in Sanford, he said, are anywhere from 18 to 40, and all ages really. At least 20 people a month are arrested for it just in the city limits alone.

And its dangers which have been reshaped over and over, he said, include the fact that it can kill due to impurities such as "Drano and strychnine." It is also extremely addictive.

"The most serious thing is its addictiveness because of the high potency," Harriett said. "One or two uses renders you addicted."

The addict needs the drug more often, because a depression is experienced shortly after use that only another hit of crack can alleviate.

If there is a positive side to the crack epidemic, Harriett said, it is the fact that it has gotten law enforcement together like never before. "Agencies are working together like they've never done before," Harriett said. "There is a spirit of cooperation. Everybody's working hand in hand."

"Our new heat pump saves more than enough money to run the VCR and TV. Do you think FPL knew that when they helped us buy it?"

Sure we did. FPL is encouraging everybody to manage their energy efficiently because lowering peak energy demand delays the need for new power plants - an expense everyone must share.

Installing a high-efficiency central heat pump can cut your heating costs up to 40% because it's more efficient than a conventional electric heating system. In the winter, the heat pump extracts heat from the outside air (yes, there's always heat in the air) and transfers it indoors. And in the summer, it cools by removing heat and humidity from inside.

You might also want to install a heat-recovery water heating system with your new heat pump to save even more money.

'Jill Kills' Propel Oviedo By Rams

LAKE MARY — Oviedo's Lady Lions put down 10 spikes that either scored a point or gave them a side out in Tuesday night's match. And a good number of those weren't just ordinary hits — they were "Jill Kills."

Winter Park before returning to league play Thursday at home against Lake Brantley.

"I felt we didn't attack enough tonight," Lake Mary coach Cindy Henry said. "We were close in the second game but we just didn't have that extra little confidence to win it. But, Oviedo has a really strong team. They're the best we've played this season."

In the first game, Oviedo ran its potent offense to perfection, excelling at all phases of the attack. Lake Mary had the serve to open the match, but a Barbara Malone spike gave Oviedo a quick side out and Kelly Davidson served four points for a 4-0 lead. Blocks by Knutson and Jodie Switzer ignited the rally.

A Marcie Dalziel spike temporarily interrupted the Oviedo momentum and Lake Mary scored one point, but the Lady Lions quickly got the serve back on a sizzling spike by Knutson off Davidson's set. Malone then served two points for Oviedo with the second coming on another "Jill Kill." Sharon Bonaventure then got into the act for Lake Mary as her spike returned the serve to the Lady Rams.

Lora Splatt then served Lake Mary within 6-3 but Oviedo would then build a 9-3 lead on Trudy Ferguson's serve. Malone's spike got through the

Carter's Hit Nips Astros

NEW YORK (UPI) — Keith Hernandez, an artist with a bat, turned poet-philosopher Tuesday.

"You can't look past today. Tomorrow is the biggest game we play," Hernandez said.

After Gary Carter's 12th-inning single gave the Mets a 2-1 victory over the Houston Astros in Game 5 of the National League Championship Series, Hernandez warned his teammates not to get too carried away.

Despite a 3-2 lead in the best-of-seven series, the Mets must play today, and possibly tomorrow, in Houston, where they have won three of eight games this year.

"It won't be easy," Mets Manager Davey Johnson said of his club's chances of winning one of two games at the Astrodome. "The Astros are a team that fight tooth and nail. They have two fine pitchers going against us. We'll have to play well to beat them."

Bob Knepper is scheduled to pitch for Houston today (3:05 p.m. EDT start) against New York left-hander Bob Ojeda, who won Game 2. Mike Scott, who has garnered both Astros victories in the series, would start Game 7.

"They have to come into our building and beat Knepper, and he's one of the toughest lefties in the game," Houston third baseman Denny Walling said. "He's especially tough to beat in the Dome. There won't be any letdown on our part — I can promise you that. Anyone who's seen us play this year knows we don't quit. Then they have the distinction of facing Mike Scott in Game 7."

Carter, whose lack of clutch hitting had hurt the Mets in the series, broke a 1 for 21 streak with his game-winning hit off

N.L. Baseball

Charlie Kerfeld in the 12th. Wally Backman ignited the inning with a one-out single off Walling's glove. Kerfeld's wild pickoff throw enabled Backman to take second and Hernandez was walked intentionally.

Carter fouled off three payoff pitches before smacking a single up the middle to score Backman.

"I guess there is justice in the world," Carter said. "It was just a matter of time. I'm not an .050 hitter. I was hoping for the opportunity to win the game in the 12th."

The Astros contend they accomplished what they set out to do in New York, winning one of the three games.

"We can't complain," Astros center fielder Billy Hatcher said. "We came in here and played three great ballgames — in New York, in front of their fans and their media pressure — and we gave them a battle."

"Now we're going back to Houston and we're going to win Wednesday, and then we've got Mike Scott going in the clincher. I still believe we're going to win this thing."

The Mets, who collected only four hits against Nolan Ryan and Kerfeld Tuesday, believed they had to win Game 5.

"With the series tied at two games each and with this being our last game at home, I knew it was very important for us to win," said New York starter Dwight Gooden, who pitched a career-high 10 innings. "I figured we'd have a better chance if we went back to Houston with two games to play only needing a split. This was the biggest game of my career."

Insurance? King's Leg Has Pigskins Crying For Mercy

By Sam Cook

If Gordon King's powerful left leg gets much stronger, footballs around Seminole County are going to start looking for insurance policies. Houston pitcher Mike Scott has nothing on King when it comes to scuff marks.

The Oviedo High senior has several moonshots this year which have readjusted the daily idea. King doesn't punt a ball, he blunts it. His left foot should be a registered weapon.

Pigskins from Oviedo to New Smyrna Beach are crying for mercy.

"He's definitely a weapon," Oviedo coach Jack Blanton said about his versatile senior who also place kicks and plays center. "I don't know where we'd be without Gordon this year."

"He's been very consistent and come through under pressure when we've needed him."

Without King's howitzer boots and clutch field goals, Oviedo could probably kiss its 3-1 start goodbye. Gordon has already had several King-sized accomplishments and has been a key ingredient in each Oviedo victory.

Idle Glenn Takes Tackle Lead

Inactivity pays off sometimes. Take Lyman's Benny Glenn, for example. While the Greyhounds had a week off, Glenn sat on his 16 tackles per game and took over the county lead with the best average.

Seminole's Earnie "Sackman" Lewis, who led Glenn with a 16.5 average, collected 12 tackles in a win over Lake Brantley and his average dropped to 15.6 per game. Lewis, a junior, has 78 in five games and Glenn, a senior linebacker, has 64 in four games. Seminole's Steve Warren, who earned Burger King Defensive Player of the Week honors with 15 tackles, is third with 88 stops and a 13.6 average.

Oviedo's Jeff Joyce picked up eight solos and nine assists in Oviedo's victory over Cocoa to move into fourth place. Joyce has 53 total in four games for a 13.3 average. Seminole's Rick Kelley (62/12.4) and Howell's consistent Jeff Harris (80/12.0) are next in line. Seminole defensive end Ardine Daniels maintained his quarterback sack lead with three. Lewis, Seminole's John Starkey, Keith Denton and Warren along with Oviedo's Emery Sneed and Joyce each have two sacks.

Lake Brantley's Matt Thornton took over the lead in fumble recoveries when he grabbed his third against the Tribe. Seminole's Ron Blake, Bernard Burke, Lewis, Lyman's David Calliguri and Vahan Noukchajian and Brantley's John Young have two apiece.

Lake Howell's Terry Gammons picked off two passes against Lake Mary to pull into a tie with Lyman's Johnny Luce with three interceptions each. Seminole's Nick Casatiello, Mary's Sheldon Richards and Lyman's Scott Radcliff have two apiece. Mary's Scott Keller and Joyce each have a safety. — Sam Cook

BOSTON (UPI) — Something about the final game of a series brings out the gambler in a manager.

Normally, Boston Manager John McNamara would not be taking much of a risk in starting Roger Clemens in tonight's decisive seventh game of the American League Championship Series (8:20 p.m. EDT), created when the Red Sox staved off elimination Tuesday night with a 10-4 victory over California.

After all, Clemens went 24-4 during the regular season and is a shoo-in for the Cy Young Award.

But the ace right-hander has thrown a wearying 277 pitches in his two playoff losses and is pitching on three days' rest, the same rest period he had for California's 4-3, 11-inning victory in Game 4 last Saturday.

In addition, Boston's bid for its first World Series appearance in 11 years is underlined by its reputation for collapsing in key games.

"That should be dispelled by now," McNamara said. "This team has won in clutch situations all year. We don't expect California to be intimidated because we've won two straight.

"As far as Roger, the man has been coming through for us the whole summer. He's a major reason we're here and that's why I'm pitching him again. I expect a tough, competitive game."

California Manager Gene Mauch, bidding for his first pennant in a quarter-century of managing and the Angels' first World Series appearance in the 26-year history of the franchise, also is bucking the odds.

He has named John Candelaria to face Clemens. Candelaria, who had elbow surgery earlier this year, can't throw many more than 100 pitches, although he provided a victory in Game 3, and the California bullpen has done little to inspire confidence in the last two playoff games.

Finally, the "Candyman" is a left-hander, and starting a southpaw in Fenway Park could be disastrous with hitters aiming for the inviting "Green Monster" — the left-field wall.

"You'll see Candelaria, and (Mike) Witt, (Don) Sutton and (Donnie) Moore will also be ready," Mauch said. "Both teams know how to play — we'll find out who knows how to win."

"The only people who feel pressure are those who don't know what they're doing. I'm not nervous. My frustrating and worrying days are behind me."

California will be without rookie Wally Joyner, who was expected to accompany the team to Boston but remained in California with a leg infection.

The Angels' pitching, particularly starter and loser Kirk McCaskill, 0-2, and its defense were ineffective in Tuesday night's loss.

Red Sox starter Dennis "Oil Can" Boyd recovered from a shaky start to pitch seven strong innings. Spike Owen was the unlikely hitting star, going 4 for 4 with two RBI.

"I overthrew a bit in the first, but I knew what had to be done and settled down," said Boyd, 1-1 in the playoffs. "As far as (tonight), I have to believe my man Roger can do it. Big Tex will be ready."

California seemed prepared initially, jumping out to a 2-0 lead on consecutive first-inning RBI doubles by Reggie Jackson and Doug DeCinces, as Boyd threw 44 pitches.

McCaskill walked the first two batters he faced, Wade Boggs and Marty Barrett, and they scored, respectively, on a passed ball and Jim Rice's groundout.

Boston scored five runs in the third inning. Owen and Boggs singled and Barrett lined an RBI double to left-center. Bill Buckner singled home Boggs and Rice hit into a fielder's choice, with Barrett being thrown out in a rundown.

Baylor then singled to center and Bobby Grich, playing first base in Joyner's absence, threw the relay past first and Buckner and Rice scored. Dwight Evans then singled home Baylor from third for a 7-2 lead.

Reggie Turns To Yogi To Revive Angel Halo

BOSTON (UPI) — While the Boston Red Sox were riding the crest of momentum after victories in Games 5 and 6, California's Reggie Jackson quoted Yogi Berra.

After Tuesday night's 10-4 Boston rout, which evened the American League Championship Series at three games apiece, Jackson said, "We ain't dead yet; it ain't over. Thank God for Yogi Berra."

"They're not there yet," teammate Brian Downing said, "and that gives us some hope."

California Manager Gene Mauch noted the teams have had comeback victories in the dramatic series, which will end with tonight's seventh game.

"Both teams have shown they know how to play, both have shown they know how to win, and now they can show they know how to win when they have to win," Mauch said.

California, in its 26th year, is seeking its first-ever World Series and Mauch is looking for the first league pennant in his 25-year managerial career.

"I like the position that I'm in right now and not theirs," Boston's Don Baylor said. "If you talk to them, they'll tell you they were one pitch away from popping the champagne cork, and I'm sure a lot of them didn't expect to be back in Boston."

Right fielder Dwight Evans agreed.

"They've got to take it away from us," he said. "We're right where we want to be."

Boston's Roger Clemens, 24-4 in the regular season, will face

A.L. Baseball

California's John Candelaria, 10-2, in the decisive game.

The Red Sox are confident their bats and their power pitcher will combine to put them back in the World Series.

"We'll score at least six runs," reliever Bob Stanley said. "And Roger will be awesome."

"He's the man of the hour," Game 6 winner Dennis "Oil Can" Boyd said of Clemens, a University of Texas product. "I'd bet my bottom dollar that Big Tex can go out there and win it."

"We've got the best pitcher in the league going for us," first baseman Bill Buckner said.

Candelaria, though, has also proven himself.

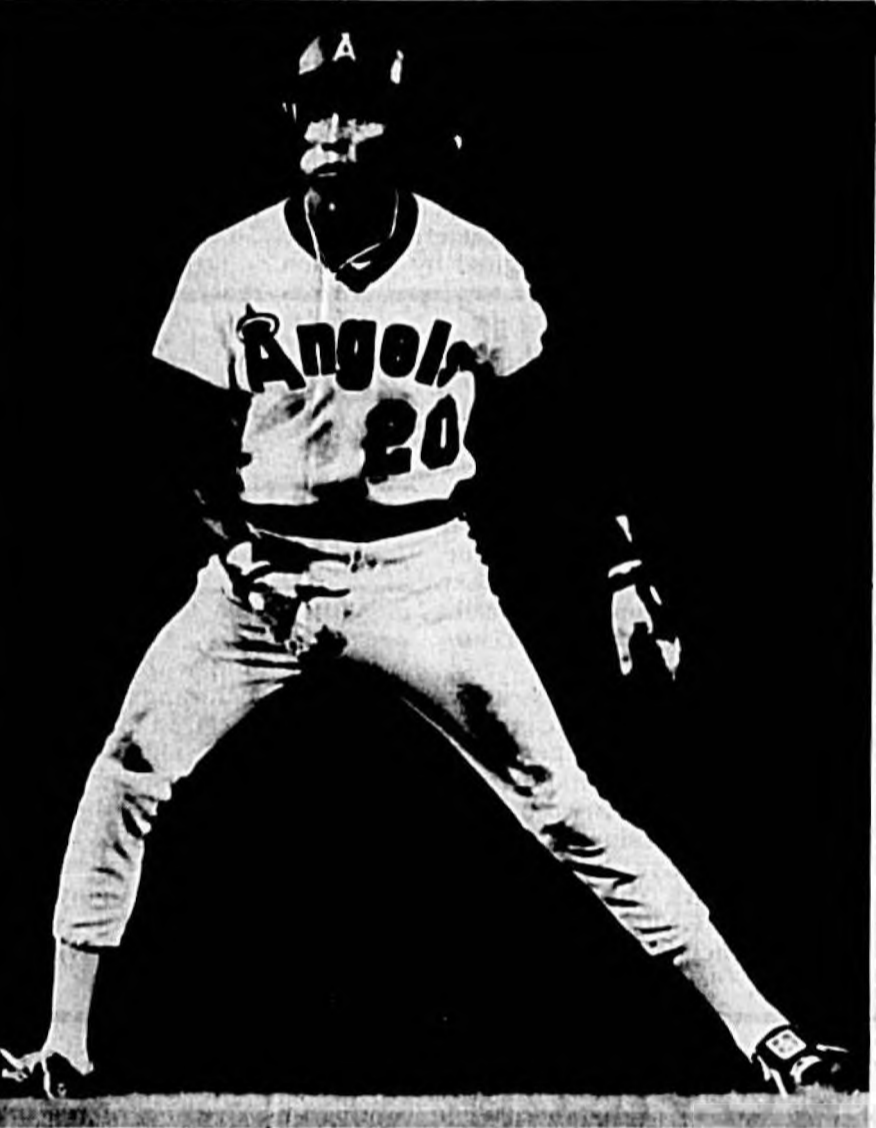

"John Candelaria is a good pitcher. He's proven that time and time again," California center fielder Gary Pettis said. "Pressure doesn't bother him. We'll be all right."

California, which won three of the first four games of the series, must win Wednesday night to avoid its second collapse in five years.

The Angels lost a best-of-five championship series to the Milwaukee Brewers in 1982, after winning the first two games.

"One day, I think baseball's the greatest thing in the world and the next day I hate it," Angels infielder Bobby Grich said.

Mauch, manager of the 1964

Gary Pettis takes a lead. The California center fielder says pressure won't bother Angel lefty John Candelaria in tonight's American League Championship Playoffs final against Boston 24-game winner Roger Clemens.

Philadelphia team that collapsed in September and also the 1982 Angels, said the concluding seventh game isn't putting any more pressure on him.

"The only people who feel pressure are those who don't know how to handle it," Mauch said.

Seminole Frosh Bop Lyman To Stay Unbeaten

By Mark Blythe
Herald Sports Writer

Unbeaten Seminole used a potent offense and a tenacious defense in a 20-6 thrashing of Lyman Tuesday night in freshman football at Seminole High School.

In other freshman action Tuesday night, Oviedo topped Lake Mary, 13-6, and Lake Howell upended Lake Brantley, 14-6.

The Tribe took control early, scoring twice in the first quarter. Julius Bennett started things up for Seminole with a seven-yard touchdown run with 8:02 remaining in the opening stanza. The point after attempt was no good and Seminole hung on to a 6-0 lead.

Seminole wasted no time putting more points on the board as Ralph Anderson zipped in for a 27-yard TD later in the first quarter. Seminole again missed the PAT and took a 12-0 lead which held up at halftime.

Seminole scored again in the third, marching 77 yards and scoring with 4:03 left in the period. James Cox took the ball in from seven yards out, and also ran in the two-point conversion.

Seminole did allow one TD to Lyman with 7:02 remaining in the game. Ken Morse scored the Greyhound touchdown.

Leading the way for the Seminole offensive attack was Bennett who finished with 60 yards on the night on six carries. Anderson racked up 50 more yards on five carries, and Cox chipped in 37 yards on five attempts.

The win ups Seminole to 4-0 and the Tribe will have next week off before facing Lake Brantley. Lyman dropped to 1-4 on the season and will play Oviedo next week.

At Lake Mary, neither the host Rams or Oviedo could score a point until the fourth quarter when the Lions were able to supply more firepower.

Oviedo went up when quarterback Brian MacInness hit Frank Diaz for a 50-yard TD pass. Mark Madigan then came on and kicked the PAT and the Lions led 7-0 with 11:15 remaining.

Oviedo came right back and scored with 6:07 remaining. After Rodney "Roderick" Hodges jumped on a Ram fumble, the Lions drove inside the Lake Mary 10 and Diaz scored on a five-yard run to give Oviedo a 13-0 lead.

Lake Mary managed to score with 2:04 remaining when quarterback Dusty McDougald hit Mark Hughes on a 51-yard pass play.

Oviedo improved its record to 3-2 overall while Lake Mary dropped to 3-2 for the season.

Lake Howell pulled off an upset Tuesday, downing Lake Brantley, 14-6, at Lake Brantley.

After the Silver Hawks fell behind 6-0 in the first half, they stormed back in the fourth quarter for two touchdowns to defeat the Patriots. Quarterback John Burckch connected with George Wisniewski on a 40-yard pass for the first Lake Howell TD. Jason Logan kicked the extra point and the Silver Hawks went up, 7-6.

Lake Howell quickly put up another TD as Burckch scored from a yard out and Logan came in and booted the PAT to give the Silver Hawks a comfortable 14-6 lead.

The win is the first of the year for Gee Knight's freshmen as they improved to 1-4. Lake Brantley dropped to 3-2.

McGee Has Knee Surgery, Expected To Heal For 1987

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Outfielder Willie McGee, the National League's Most Valuable Player in 1985, has undergone knee surgery but is expected to be ready for the start of spring training. The St. Louis Cardinals said Tuesday.

The Cardinals said McGee underwent arthroscopic surgery late Monday to repair torn cartilage on the outside part of his left knee. McGee suffered the injury Oct. 2 in the next to last game of the season at Chicago.

McGee hurt his knee while trying for a shoestring catch but stayed in the game. He then aggravated the problem sliding into second base.

The club said the operation was performed by a knee specialist in East Lansing,

N.L. Baseball

Mich., but declined to identify the doctor.

"When I got home, they took X-rays and shot dye in there," McGee said of the arthrogram procedure. "They suspected a tear to my cartilage. They sent me to a specialist and he looked at it and said it was a partial tear."

"It's all taken care of now. I can regain my strength 100 percent. When I get the cast off, I'll call the doctor and he will in turn what I'll have to do. It's a step-by-step thing. I can't rush it. He said I might think I can work hard and be back in three months."

Miami's Brown, Bratton To Miss Saturday Tilt Against Cincinnati

MIAMI (UPI) — The top-ranked Miami Hurricanes added more players to an already crowded injury list after their 58-14 rout of West Virginia last Saturday.

Defensive tackle Jerome Brown, an Outland Trophy candidate, and halfback Melvin Bratton, the team's leading rusher and scorer, will miss Saturday's game at Cincinnati.

Bratton's sprained ankle is expected to be ready in time for the Nov. 1 game with Florida State. Brown, who has a turf toe, may not be back for the Seminoles game. The Hurricanes are off next week.

"We are in as bad a shape physically as any team I've ever been around," Miami Coach Jimmy Johnson said Tuesday. "This is not the same football team we had on the field a month ago. We are really concerned about our team right now."

"We had quite a few starters out for the Northern Illinois game (a 34-0 victory Oct. 4), I think we held out six, and we had four starters out for the West Virginia game, and the list seems to keep growing."

Also out of the Cincinnati game are safeties Selwyn Brown and Kevin McCutcheon, tight end Charles Henry, offensive tackle John O'Neill, and defensive tackle Derwin Jones, who is out for the rest of the regular season.

Wide receiver Brian Blades and cornerback Donnie Ellis are doubtful for the Cincinnati game.

America II Earns Slim Victory

FREMANTLE, Australia — The New York Yacht Club's America II earned a slim 33-second victory over French Kiss, and unbeaten New Zealand earned its ninth straight triumph with an easy 4:41 decision over California's Eagle Wednesday in America's Cup challenger competition.

In a match filled with mishaps, Dennis Conner sailed Stars & Stripes over the starting line too early and compounded the error by crossing Canada II on a port tack, forcing the Canadians to veer away on the first leg.

After the San Diego Yacht Club skipper finished 2:19 ahead, Canadian helmsman Terry Neilson protested, leaving the outcome to be decided by the international jury overseeing the matches.

In other results in the 10-knot winds on the 10th day of the first round-robin series, San Francisco's U.S.A., 5-4, trounced Italia, 5-4, by 3:52. Chicago's Heart of America, 3-7, defeated winless Courageous, 0-9, by 4:43 and Challenge France, 2-7, sailed around the course alone when Italy's Azzurra, 1-9, withdrew for the second day with steering problems.

Mandlikova, Shriver Advance

FILDERSTADT, West Germany (UPI) — Second seed Hana Mandlikova of Czechoslovakia and No. 3 Pam Shriver advanced Tuesday with victories at the $175,000 Porsche Grand Prix.

On Wednesday, Martina Navratilova will be shooting for her 1,000th career singles victory when she plays Natalie Tauziat of France.

Mandlikova, the 1985 U.S. Open winner, defeated Rosalyn Fairbank of South Africa 6-7 (5-7), 6-4, 6-2, while Shriver had an easy time in beating Andrea Temesvari of Hungary 6-2, 6-2.

Fifth seed Zina Garrison defeated Laura Gildemeister of Peru 6-0, 6-1, and No. 8 Robin White was a winner against Laura Garrone of Italy 6-4, 6-1.

The only seeded player to lose was No. 6 Stephanie Rehe, who was drubbed by Catherine Tanvier of France 2-6, 6-3, 6-1.

Lady Patriots Splash By Howell

Lake Brantley's Lady Patriots swept both relays and won six individual events en route to a 91-69 dual meet victory over Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks in prep swimming Tuesday at Lake Howell High School.

Christy Bridgewater, Kristen Pauley, Manda Davis and Lisa Moon combined to win the 200-yard medley relay in 1:58.6.

Davis (200 free/2:04.1), Moon (200-IM/2:24.0), Bridgewater (50 free/25.6), Gillian Spiller (100 fly/1:07.0), Jennifer Derrick (100 free/1:04.2) and Danielle Ohnsman (100 back/1:09.25) each took individual honors.

Ohnsman, Jo Dee Lake, Gillian Spiller and Katherine Spiller combined for the 400-free relay victory in 4:05.6.

In prep swimming today, Seminole hosts Oviedo and Lake Mary travels to Trinity Prep.

Hampton's Long TDs Spark Bucs

Freddie Hampton ran for two long touchdown runs as the Bucs jumped out to a 12-0 lead and they went on to claim an 18-13 victory over Steelers in Sanford Recreation Flag Football Midget League action Tuesday.

Hampton broke loose from 65 yards out for the game's first score, then added a 55-yard TD jaunt as the Bucs built a 12-0 halftime lead. Both extra points failed.

The Steelers got within 12-6 in the second half when Ansel Davis ran for a 35-yard touchdown but the Bucs increased their lead to 18-6 on a 35-yard run by Cyrus Bradley.

The Steelers closed within 18-12 on Joshua Watson's 20-yard run and made it 18-13 on the extra point. But time ran out before the Steelers could get any closer.

Oviedo Boys Win Luther Invite

Brad Bolton, Derrick Bates, Frank Aviles and Mark McDonald all finished in the top 10 as Oviedo's boys won the Luther High School Invitational cross country title Tuesday with 38 points at Orlando. Luther was second with 52.

Oviedo's girls finished second to Winter Garden West Orange, 36-53.

Bolton was fourth with in 18:08 on the three-mile course. Bates was fifth in 18:27 while Aviles (sixth/18:32) and McDonald (10th/19:12) completed the top four for coach Ed Bolton's team.

For the girls, Cathy Champ finished fifth in 16:10 over two miles and Lyn Yost was eighth in 17:15.

Foot Injury Sidelines Barkley

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A foot injury suffered in the locker room has sidelined Philadelphia 76ers forward Charles Barkley for the rest of preseason.

Barkley, who averaged 20 points and 12.8 rebounds a game last season, suffered a cut to the rear of his right heel Sunday afternoon when he was pushed into a locker by Peter Moss, brother of Philadelphia guard Perry Moss.

"I was all dressed, except that I had no shoes on," Barkley said. "I got pushed, good-naturedly, but my heel caught a locker door. I didn't think I hit it that hard, but it kind of sliced it at an angle."

Chicago Acquires Flutie For Backup

BOSTON (UPI) — Doug Flutie, the 1984 Heisman Trophy winner who has been inactive for more than two years, was acquired by the Chicago Bears Tuesday minutes before the NFL's trade deadline.

The Los Angeles Rams, who picked Flutie in the 11th-round of the 1985 college draft, traded the 5-foot-9 quarterback for an undisclosed draft pick. The Rams made no attempt to sign the former Boston College star.

"I'm looking forward to coming to Chicago and I'm honored to be a part of the Chicago Bears family," said Flutie, who played one season for the USFL's New Jersey Generals.

The trade was completed at the NFL's owners meeting in Chicago. Bears General Manager Jerry Vainisi sprinted out of the meeting at 3:54 p.m. EDT and ran up an escalator to reach the temporary NFL office to report the trade by the 4 p.m. deadline.

"Everything went down to the wire, but we are absolutely delighted with the result," said Flutie's Boston-based agent, Bob Woolf.

Flutie had been given a tryout by the Green Bay Packers, who decided to sign Chuck Fusina instead.

Woolf said he will begin contract talks with the Bears Wednesday, though he does not know if Chicago is looking for Flutie to join the team this season or next. Bears starting quarterback Jim McMahon has been plagued by shoulder problems, which might require surgery during the season.

The Bears apparently plan to sign Flutie to a 1987 contract.

"We prefer not to make any roster changes," Vainisi said. "If we have a problem at quarterback, then there may be a change and we would have to sign him to a 1986 contract at that time."

"We are not looking to disrupt anything," Woolf said. "I don't think we will have any trouble reaching an agreement with them. Doug will try and come to an agreement with them as quickly as possible."

Flutie was under a personal services contract to Generals owner Donald Trump.

Fridge Eats Himself Out Of Fullback Job

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (UPI) — William "The Refrigerator" Perry may have eaten himself out of his part-time running back role.

Bears Coach Mike Ditka isn't ruling out a return of the defensive lineman to the backfield, but for now plans to return to a conventional fullback on goal-line situations.

The reasons are two-fold: there's too much Perry to please Ditka and other teams are getting wise to his deceptions on the goal-line.

"He's got to get his weight down so he can get that quickness back," Ditka said.

No one is saying exactly how much Perry weighs but it certainly is above the 310-pound limit the Bears have set for their second-year player.

"How much does he weigh? 320? He weighs 320 on the left side," Ditka said.

Perry earned a national reputation for being inserted — and scoring — on goal-line situations last year. His contract calls for incentives if he makes weight, something he has had trouble doing this season.

"I think other teams are keying on him when he's in there," Ditka said. "They did when we used him in Houston on Sunday."

Perry fumbled in an exhibition game. He hasn't carried this season in a goal-line situation and instead has been used as a decoy or blocker for Walter Payton.

Rozelle: Replay May Not Return

ROSEMONT, Ill. (UPI) — The NFL's new instant-replay rule, a controversial topic among league owners, may not be used next year, Commissioner Pete Rozelle told team representatives Tuesday.

Owners, general managers and legal aides met with Rozelle at the O'Hare Hyatt Regency to open their midseason meeting, which was cut from two days to one by lack of business. The use of instant replays, instituted for the first time this season to correct or verify questionable on-field officials' calls, was the most-discussed topic during the session.

After dealing with some legal issues — including arbitration on Rozelle's desired drug plan — and suspected abuses of the injured-reserve system, Rozelle presented a review of the use of the new replay system.

Rozelle told the owners that, after six weeks of play and approximately 12,000 plays, only 18 officials' calls have been reversed.

"There was a lot of discussion, but no effort to kill it," Rozelle said afterward. "We didn't take a vote or poll. It is still uncertain for next year. We will vote on it again in March."

Dallas Cowboys president-general manager Tex Schramm, who spearheaded the drive to utilize instant replay, said the discussion was more informational than confrontational.

"It was not a pro-con type of discussion," Schramm said. "It was an update for people. Those who expressed reservations (in March), I don't know if they think the bugs will be worked out."

Schramm said the time element was a major concern of owners, who worried momentum in the game might be affected by a three-minute pause to check the replay — the longest time a game has been stopped so far this season.

Schramm said the owners were assured time would come down as the mechanics are improved."

...Oviedo

Lake Mary took for the first point of the rally.

Oviedo went on to take a 10-3 lead before Lake Mary scored twice to make it 10-5. With Davidson serving, a Knutson spike upped the lead to 11-5 and the teams then traded points to make it 12-6.

Lake Mary cut the lead to 12-7 on Frey's serve but a Switzer spike gave the Lions a side out and Switzer then served the last three points of the game, the final two of which were not returned.

Oviedo jumped out to a 4-0 lead again in game two with Malone serving three points, one an ace.

Lake Mary came back strong though with four straight points, two each on the serves of Val Smith and Frey. Bonaventure had a spike and a tip for a winner to lead the way.

Lake Mary took its first lead of the match at 6-5 on the serve of Bonaventure. Lake Mary made it 7-5 on Smith's serve with Bonaventure showing a spike through the Oviedo block for the point. Knutson's spike gave Oviedo the serve and the Lady Lions ran off four points on Switzer's serve for a 9-7 lead. Knutson's block provided the seventh point.

The teams then fought to a 10-10 tie before Oviedo assumed command. Davidson served one point to break the tie and Malone came back to serve two more to make it 13-10. On the 13th point, Lake Mary dug up two vicious spikes by Knutson only to lose the point on a dink by Switzer.

The only missed spike of the night by Knutson returned the serve to Lake Mary, but she redeemed herself in a hurry as she floated a dink over the Lady Rams' block and into an open area to give Oviedo a side out.

"After I missed that spike, my confidence went down a little," Knutson said. "So I wanted to do something easy to get it back up."

Knutson closed out her spectacular effort by providing the final two points of the match on Switzer's serve. Knutson put up a tremendous block of a Bonaventure spike for the 14th point and it was only fitting that the match would end on another "Jill Kill."

"Jill (Knutson) had one of her best matches ever," Carlson said. "She has been a little worried about her hitting but she did a super job tonight. And the passing and setting was excellent."

Lake Mary's junior varsity rallied to a three-game victory over Oviedo's JV Thursday night. It was the sixth consecutive victory for the JV Lady Rams.

sistent over the past few games."

Lake Howell used the serves of Tammy Lewis to overpower Seminole in the opening game. Lewis ran off 10 straight points to give the Lady Silver Hawks a one-game edge.

Lewis was backed by strong performances from Susan Hayden and Monica Schneider. Both Hayden and Schneider came through on the offense to help prevent a Seminole rally.

In the second game, both Seminole and Lake Howell showed power in their offenses, but another Lake Howell service string broke the the Lady Tribe's momentum.

This time it was Debbie McDonough sending the last seven serves over the net to give the Lady Silver Hawks their third consecutive victory.

Hayden and Schneider came through again providing a potent one-two punch on the front line. Seminole's Sheri Peterson turned in a strong effort for the Lady 'Noles. Peterson had four blocks and two dinks.

Seminole coach Beth Corso went along with Luciano's statement that the missed serves hurt Seminole's chances. "We gave the first game to them," Corso said. "The games were closer than the score indicates.

there was a lot of intensity out there. We just had some miscommunication errors that really hurt us."

BRANTLEY TOPS LYMAN

Lake Brantley broke a 10-10 tie with five straight points in the first game, then cruised through the second game in a 15-10, 15-3 victory over Lyman in SAC action Tuesday night at Lake Brantley High.

Lake Brantley improved to 2-3 in the SAC and 3-11 overall while Lyman dropped to 0-5 in the league and 0-7 overall. Lake Brantley has a nonconference game tonight at home against Orlando Boone before returning to SAC play Thursday at Lake Mary. Lyman returns to league play Thursday at Lake Howell.

"We did some good things at the net tonight and everyone served consistently," Brantley coach Stephanie Glance said.

"And our intensity level was much better. We still have to pick up our movement on the court."

Glance said Pam Wittig and Gretchen Mull led the way on the front row while Dawn Gebhart and Julie DeRusso served well. Shelly Wittig and Maryann Rodriguez did a good job setting and Jeanne Siedel turned in a strong all-around performance.

In junior varsity play Tuesday, Tina Graue served 10 straight points to open the third game as the JV Lady Patriots outlasted Lyman, 15-12, 6-15, 15-4.

9 Tips To Improve Your Tennis Moves

Larry Castle TENNIS ANYONE?

Editor's note: In Tuesday's action reports Caselberry police reported that an Altamonte Springs man used Evening Herald Tennis Columnist Larry Castle's name to try and obtain a fake prescription for a painkiller at Super-X Drugs in Caselberry Square...

There is no doubt that one of the key ingredients that goes into the making of a good tennis player is good movement. In fact, some tennis experts say that good footwork, agility and the ability to cover the court are probably the most important aspects of playing the game well.

With this in mind, I have compiled a group of tips and drills that could help you improve your movement. Of course it takes time and lots and lots of work, but it can be done.

Five Tips to Move Better:

- 1. Take little hops after every shot and keep your heels off the ground. You can get a much quicker start if you are not flat-footed, so lightly bounce in place.
2. Balance, as always, is important. Keep your head and upper body in line with your feet. Don't lean out over your feet with your head and upper body.
3. Drill to improve footwork. Practice on-court drills as well as skipping rope, doing sprints, etc.
4. Move into position immediately after you have hit your shot. Do not wait until your shot bounces on the other side of the net. One shot should flow into another so don't start, stop and start again. Keep moving.
5. Work on quickness — with just a modest amount of diligent work you can get quicker. Make a concentrated effort to move better.
Four Tips to Improve Quickness:
Along with these bits of advice in mind, the following are some on-the-court drills that you can do to help you become quicker on the tennis court:
1. Tap The Net. Stand at the net and have your practice partner stand at the baseline with a basket of balls. Assume your volley position and have your partner start hitting balls at you in rapid succession. After each volley, you must tap the net and then get right back in your volley position. This drill is great to develop quickness around the net.

2. Two On One. This is the old Australian Davis Cup drill. It's probably the single best quickness and endurance drill in tennis. You are at the baseline and two partners are at the net with a basket of balls. They hit balls to you and you must move to cover every ball and try to hit it back with a forehand or backhand groundstroke. You cover everything in the court, even the doubles court. Try to increase the amount of time you can keep going every time you do this drill. Try going five minutes to start and increase to 20 minutes after a couple of months.

3. Shadow Drill. You can do this one by yourself. Start on the baseline with your racket. Move first to the forehand side about five or six short steps. Practice a forehand groundstroke, then move across to your backhand side about 10 steps and practice a backhand groundstroke, then go to mid-court and practice a backhand approach shot. Next, move across the court and practice a forehand approach shot. From there you go to the net and practice a forehand volley, then across the net to practice a backhand volley. From there you move backwards down the middle of the court to practice an overhead smash. Try to do at least two of these before you rest. It's a great drill for your footwork.

4. This last drill is an old baseball drill. You have your partner face you with two tennis balls in his hands. You set about 10 feet from him. He will roll the first ball to your right. You move quickly to pick it up. As soon as he sees you pick up the first ball he throws another to your left and back and forth this way for a designated period of time. Most people do well to start out with only 1 minute on this drill and increase the time as they get fitter.

Lendl: Becker Crazy To Dive For Shots

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI) — Second-seeded Boris Becker of West Germany needed just one hour Tuesday to score a straight-set victory over South African Denys Maasdrop in the first round of the $350,000 Australian indoor tennis championship.
Becker, using the power game that has helped him to the last before his departure. Earlier, top-seeded Ivan Lendl told a packed news conference he considered Becker "crazy" for diving for shots on hard courts.
" I don't want to dive on the court and I think he is crazy to do it because of the dangers involved," said Lendl.

Tennis. Two Wimbledon titles, fired 12 aces in an impressive 6-1, 6-3 triumph over Maasdrop. The tournament received a jolt on Tuesday when Jimmy Connors pulled out after becoming ill at a Los Angeles airport just Senior tailback Willie Gainey rushed for a career-high 192 yards on 18 carries for an average of 10.6 yards per carry. Gainey scored a touchdown and caught a pass for 22 more yards.

Gainey, who jumped to fourth in the county with his effort, broke loose for a 58-yard scoring run and also accumulated over half of his yardage in the second half when the Lions were eating away the clock toward the 10-point win.
Gainey, who also picked up Burger King Offensive Player of the Week honors, has played one less game than Lake Howell's Nate Hoskins (480) and Cornel Rigby (384) and Seminole's Curtis Rudolph (376). The elusive senior, though, is averaging 88 yards per game, second only to Hoskins' 98 yards per game.
Another Howell standout, Mark Wainwright, reclaimed the top spot among the passers.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Nobel Prize For Chemistry To Two Americans, Canadian

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI) — The 1986 Nobel Prize for Chemistry was awarded today to two Americans and a Canadian for research that provides a better understanding of how chemical reactions take place.

The 1986 Nobel Prize for Physics was jointly awarded today to a West German for his invention of the electron microscope in 1933 and to a West German and a Swiss national for building a revolutionary type of microscope that could help create smaller computer chips.

This year's chemistry prize was awarded to professors Dudley Herschbach of Harvard University, Yuan Lee of the University of California-Berkeley and John Polanyi of the University of Toronto.

"Their research has been of great importance for the development of a new field of research in chemistry — reaction dynamics — and has provided a much more detailed understanding of how chemical reactions take place," the academy said.

Politburo For Continuing Talks

MOSCOW (UPI) — In the clearest signal yet that Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev would continue talks with President Reagan despite the collapse of the Icelandic summit, the Politburo published a report today calling for "continuing contacts and talks."

The Tass news agency report of the meeting of the ruling body of the Communist Party to discuss the Reykjavik meetings came after Gorbachev addressed the Soviet people on national television Tuesday night.

The Kremlin leader painted a menacing picture of Reagan's Strategic Defense Initiative as the reason the talks failed. He presented the space weapons program as the main obstacle to disarmament but assured the people he was not losing heart.

to be built.

Meanwhile, Sanford leaders adopted a resolution Monday night asking the county to hold up plans for the boulevard alignment until the three governmental entities could collectively discuss the issue.

Webster said county officials have told him the alignment is still in the planning stages, and has yet to be finalized.

"We didn't expect any action from the county at this time, but hope they will consider our wishes in the future," Webster said. He added that he read the letter at the county commission meeting so it would officially be entered into the county records.

Sturm said the alignment which concerns Lake Mary commissioners is one of three alignments which have been proposed. He said one of the other alignments includes a curve to the north, and the third runs "down the middle" of the existing two-lane road.

The letter Webster read said, "We, the Lake Mary city commission, wish to formally protest the realignment of the proposed center line of Lake Mary Blvd., as it passes Groveview Villa Apartments. This realignment obviously favors a commercial project over the ecology of Big Lake Mary and its residential homeowners."

"When this (Groveview) project was built, ignoring the proposed setbacks that Lake Mary, Sanford, and Seminole County had agreed upon, we stated grave concerns that the widening would be forced on the south side by the project. We were told this would not be the case, that no one project or building would decide the alignment of Lake Mary Blvd. However, it is totally obvious from looking at the plans that our concerns were (not) well taken. As the (proposed) center line approaches Groveview Villas from C-15 (Country Club Rd.), it is obvious that the center line shifts abruptly south to accommodate this project and take further land from our citizens," Webster continued reading from the letter.

"We are also concerned about the ecology of Big Lake Mary, and again, it seems as though this has taken a back seat to Groveview Villas. We have been assured that every effort would be made to keep the widening project as far from the lake as possible, so as to afford the maximum protection for the ecology of the lake from runoff and pollutants, but, again, these concerns were put on a lower priority."

"In summation, we unambiguously protest this center line shift, which obviously favors Groveview Villas and has no consideration for the property values and damage to the ecology of our citizens. We urge that whatever steps are necessary be taken to correct this action and urge your support to help us see that justice is served," Webster concluded.

Webster said he hopes the proposed route of the boulevard is a "temporary alignment," and that in the end, it will be the wall, not the road, that will be moved.

United Way Plans Blitz

Forty United Way of Seminole County campaign workers will conduct a one-day sales blitz Thursday beginning at 8 a.m. in an effort to contact companies and organizations not usually participating in the annual drive.

Representing the 24 United Way agencies, they will don white painter's caps imprinted with the United Way insignia and contact smaller offices and industries in pre-assigned areas of the county.

"We know there are many more people willing to give than there are willing to ask," Campaign Chairman Al Stimac said. "We can't cover every business in the county, but we feel that we will be successful in contacting many new companies and businesses and collecting new dollars."

County residents who have not been contacted and wish to give, may mail their checks or money to the United Way office at 1250 Highway 17-92, Suite 140, Longwood 32750. To have a volunteer stop by to pick up a contribution call 834-3131.

something is being done," she said of the road widening to four lanes.

She made the motion to continue the requests to November, saying that eventhough the land use designation may eventually allow residential offices, those who desired could continue to use their homes as homes. She added that those who wish to request rezoning must file an application to do so. Those who have site plans in Nov. could be considered for zone change requests in November, she said.

One of the property owners, Mrs. T.E. Shue told commissioners that her home is now "unfit for residential use."

"We love our home, and we've been there for 30 years," she said, but would like to realize a return on her investment in the home. The only way to do that, is to get office use potential, she said.

Many of the other homeowners made similar comments.

But other residents near the homes requesting changes in usage argued that their properties may be adversely effected by offices abutting their residences.

"Residential office (designation) will bring even more traffic and the rezoning will devalue our properties," said Jim Hall, of the Okland Shores Civic Association. He said he represented 150-200 homeowners, and presented a petition with 125 signatures opposing the designation change.

He said offices would bring more noise and air pollution, and "undesireable characters" which would bring crime with them.

"Just because the road is being four laned doesn't mean it can't be a nice residential area," Hall said. "We want to maintain a residential way of life," he added.

In seconding Ms. Glenn's motion, Streetman said that office usage could "improve the situation in the area."

He said that offices or potential office use would encourage property owners to maintain their homes. He said now residents may be afraid to make financial investments in their homes for "fear they wouldn't get it back out."

Sturm's approval made the decision unanimous.

The 17 property owners whose requests for land use designation changes were given a tentative nod by commissioners include: Marie Figueiro, James Fisher/Michael Matthews, Jessie Hollingsworth, Don Hollingsworth, Thomas Brevig, Glenn Sparkman, T.E. Shue, Viola Howell, Michael Heas, Linda Williamson, Peggy Dunnavan, George Saunders, Loren Pennington, Jay Seltzer, Dorothy McCanna, Ernest Keuthler, Charles Demarco.

Springs and nearby areas.

College President Earl Weldon said need for the center was shown in a marketing survey conducted by the director of administration and records, Joe Roof. The survey showed a need to provide specific course offerings for the business and residential community of the south county.

"Needs identified have a commerce and arts orientation using innovative delivery systems and non-traditional scheduling of class times and dates," he said.

With some half-dozen classrooms and available conference space, the center will have a microcomputer lab with 20-25 work stations and will offer an array of management and Computer Institute courses. In addition, credit courses will be offered in salesmanship, marketing, management, accounting, economics, finance, banking, psychology, and foreign language. Many non-credit personal and professional courses and seminars will also be offered.

While the center will fill many of the needs for students in that area, it is not designed to take the place of the primary campus. Said Maggie Culp, dean of student services, "This will not replicate the main campus nor will it be an SCC clone. We have simply seen a really specific need in this part of the county that we think we can meet very effectively."

Keith Samuels, vice president for instruction, added that the new center may serve as a "carrot" to bring people to the main campus to finish a degree or program. And, he said, it can be used to offer seminars to the vast business community there "and improve our visibility."

"The board is very happy we're doing this," said White. "We're somewhat excited."

his draft, Carl Simpson, was a medal-winning runner.

It was no contest.

The fleet-foot romp was over in three blocks. Simpson told reporters he knew the longer the chase lasted the greater chance he had of catching the juvenile.

She said he was in control and not under any stress or pressure at the time of the incident. Other member's of his family thought he was just outside the house in the yard. She said she didn't know whether to think foul play was involved or not.

The accident is under investigation. Bobb's death is the 27 traffic fatality of the year in Seminole County.

Simpson, 34, won a silver medal last year in the state Police Olympics and is a 10-kilometer marathon runner.

The juvenile, a runaway from Altamonte Springs, is charged with reckless driving, willfully fleeing an officer, driving without a license, grand theft of the van, and leaving the scene of an accident.

He was jailed at the Juvenile Detention Center in Sanford.

To avert the fine, the code board said only that Mrs. Nestor Smith and Commissioner

Mercer's motion for the paving waiver was supported by Commissioners Dave Farr and Milton Smith and opposed by Mayor Bettye Smith and Commissioner

Bob Thomas.

When voting against the motion, Mayor Smith received a round of applause from several audience members when said she felt "people in the (hotel's) neighborhood have really put up with enough already and we should hold out for the paving."

Teacher's Cooking Smacks Of German Tradition

News Versus Entertainment?

Well into its second month on the air, the syndicated "Rock 'n' Roll Evening News" has yet to decide whether it's a program about entertainment — or an entertainment program.

How can one take seriously an informational broadcast with a studio audience? Gee whiz, these folks are applauding their favorite news items!

Still, the funniest part of "R'n'R Evening News" — aside from Eleanor Mondale trying to read her lines — is the behind-the-scenes manipulation that leaks out on-screen.

For instance: The program's first superstar coup was an interview with Lionel Richie, and that big name helped a lot of other stars fall in line.

Did anyone notice that the interview was conducted by show co-host Marianne Rogers, wife of Kenny — the man who hoisted Lionel Richie into the big leagues? Richie used to live in the Rogers' guest house, for goodness sake.

And was it a coincidence that another much-ballyhooed guest on the program was that great humanitarian Ken Kragen, manager of — you guessed it — Lionel Richie and Kenny Rogers.

(BU) Another new TV show with a rock music twist is "Throb," an all-too-formulaic sitcom starring Diana Canova ("Soap") as a record company employee. There are probably a dozen better shows that could have been based on the music industry, but the syndicated series does get high marks for a recent bit of ingenious casting.

Veteran club rocker Billy Vera proved a smooth and natural choice as a songwriter down on his luck, and added a much-needed dash of sincerity to the proceedings. MTV proves, 24 hours a day, that musicians can't act; Vera was a delightful exception to the rule.

Vera, for the millions who haven't heard of him, is frontman for the highly respected Billy and the Beaters. A favorite on the California club circuit, the band's hopes for a recording career were dashed when their label went out of business the day after shipping their debut disc.

Some of that material, though, has just been made available again via the kind offices of Rhino Records, who are distributing the Beaters' "By Request" LP.

(BU) On the cable side, Showtime will air "Be-fore," a half-hour documentary about the making of Huey Lewis and the News' "Fore" album. The program runs on various days throughout October.

(BU) Irreverent country crooner Kinky Friedman has launched a second career as a novelist. It appears that all those years of writing wacky lyrics are standing him in good stead. Publisher William Morrow & Co. is already into a fourth printing of the murder mystery "Greenwich Killing Time," and is waiting anxiously for Friedman's next effort, "A Case of Lone Star." The recurring detective in the series is — who else? — a former country-western singer named Kinky.

(BU) Before all the various "Aids," the big rock charity event of the season in Britain was always the Prince's Trust, an annual ball thrown by Prince Charles and featuring a stellar array of rock royalty. The 1985 concert is available for the first time from an American record company, Priority Records. It includes performances by Phil Collins, Robert Plant, Dire Straits, Eric Clapton, Duran Duran, Paul Young, Sade and Steve Winwood. Proceeds are still going to charity.

As the aroma of roast lamb drifts through her busy Lake Mary kitchen, Jean Carlson, our Cook Of The Week, explains that it is in preparation for a very special celebration — her mother's 90th birthday. For the occasion, Laura Singley was honored by having her family gather for a feast of her favorite dishes.

Remarking on her mother's active lifestyle, Mrs. Carlson says, "Mother lives alone in Daytona Beach and is very independent. She swims every day, still drives her own car and cooks her own meals. It's amazing."

Joining in the festivities were Mrs. Carlson's sisters, Joan Schrysen, who teaches school in Daytona Beach, and June Nyblade, a missionary in Tanzania, Africa, and other family members. The well wishers topped off the celebration with a specially decorated chocolate mint birthday cake and coffee ice cream.

"Mother is an excellent cook," says Mrs. Carlson. "It's not what you'd call fancy cooking, but the old German stand-bys and that's what I grew up with, pork and sauerkraut and that sort of thing. My sisters and I were all in the kitchen at one time or another. My father was a dentist and his hours were irregular, so we helped mother a lot at home. One funny thing I remember about home is that my mother used to cook the sauerkraut in the basement because she always thought it smelled up the house so much. We had a burner down there to heat up the water for washing, so the sauerkraut was always cooked in the basement!"

Mrs. Carlson is a native of Wilkesburg, Pa., a suburb of Pittsburgh, and recalls spending summers on Lake Erie. "We enjoyed playing tennis and swimming," says Mrs. Carlson, "and we took piano lessons." After receiving a degree in education from Allegheny College in Meadville, Pa., Mrs. Carlson devoted much of her life to teaching and has recently retired from Lake Mary Elementary School after 22 years of service. As a teacher of kindergarten and first graders, Mrs. Carlson says, "They're very challenging, but on the other hand, the experience is so rewarding because they're anxious to learn. At that age, they're really eager to please. I just loved teaching reading. That was my favorite subject." Mrs. Carlson can often be found with a favorite book in hand, also. "I read all the time," she says, "in between other things. I enjoy reading historical novels and even history; anything ancient I enjoy reading."

Before she married Robert Carlson in 1947, Jean laughs about an outing they had with some friends on the Allegheny River. "We were in a canoe on the river and it turned over," she exclaims. "There were four of us and the other three couldn't swim very well, so I was the last one they rescued! We always laugh about that. There was no danger, but along came a boat and they pulled in the other three and then they rescued me, because I could swim."

As an engineer for Westinghouse in Pittsburgh, Mrs. Carlson's husband always had a dream of having a poultry farm, "so we moved to Florida and started a poultry farm in Longwood," she says. "We were in the poultry business for about 20 years, raising hens for eggs and also for selling." After that venture, Bob Carlson returned to school for his Master's and is now head of the Adult Education Program at SCC. "He's a great help in the kitchen, too," says Mrs. Carlson. "Whenever we do a turkey, he does all the carving then puts the bones in the crock pot and makes a wonderful soup. He never cooked when the kids were little, but since they grew up he went into the kitchen. He likes to cook."

The "kids" in question are Ann, Lynn, John and Joan who all shared in healthy outdoor activities as they were growing up, says Mrs. Carlson. "The older ones, of course, were involved in the chicken business.

They had to help gather the eggs and they had to wash the dirty eggs," she says. "Then our son learned to drive the feed truck when he was quite young, so most of their experiences were outdoors. They weren't TV kids, which was great. We had animals of all sorts. We had horses, dogs and puppies, kittens and rabbits and squirrels.

Of course, the sick and the hurt ended up in the house at one time or another."

Nowadays, Mrs. Carlson enjoys visits from her grandchildren, some of whom live many, many miles from Grandma's house. Daughter Ann and her husband live in Texas with their children Rudy, Nathan and Cassie, while the Carlson's son John and his wife live in Jakarta, Indonesia with their two girls, Jandi and Julia. Lynn is a rehabilitation counselor in Maitland and has a daughter, Emily. Joan and her husband have no children as yet, but she is following in her mother's footsteps as an educator and teaches at Pinecrest Elementary in Sanford.

With her recent retirement still new at hand, Mrs. Carlson is looking forward to picking up on some of her many interests which have taken a back seat over the years. "I love teaching, but I love being at home, too," says our cook. "There are a lot of things I like to do. I like to garden, play tennis, and I'd like to do some painting." Mrs. Carlson is a fine scenic artist and works with watercolors. "I just do it," she explains. "I haven't had any formal education at all." Our talented cook has also made pictures and other objects d'art from colorful seashells she has collected. "We've spent some time down at Captiva, off Sanibel Island and it's just beautiful there; the scenery and the shells. So that's been an inspiration," she says. Sewing and needlepoint can be added to her list of things to catch up on," and," she says, "I love swimming and of course, I'm very fond of music." Mrs. Carlson is a member of the Community Chorus at SCC and enjoys her part in the programs.

As charter members of the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church in Sanford, the Carlsons are active in the church's functions. Mrs. Carlson is a member of the LCW (Lutheran Church Women) and often participates in cooking covered dish meals for special gatherings. "We have a new young Pastor, Daniel Coy, just graduated from the seminary, and he's excellent. He's doing a fine job with the young people," says Mrs. Carlson.

Reminded of her German background, Mrs. Carlson remarks that a lot of her cooking smacks of tradition. "The pork and sauerkraut recipe we always had on New Year's Day," she says. "It was one of the things you ate on New Year's Day for 'good luck' and I asked my mother about that once and she said that the reason we do it is that the hog roots forward and the chicken scratches backward, so you wouldn't have chicken because then you'd be looking back on the year. So, you'd want to look forward to the new year."

With that in mind, our Southern cooks may want to add that to their favorite black-eyed peas recipe for the coming holiday season. Listed below are some of Jean Carlson's very best heartwarming recipes:

PORK ROAST WITH SAUER KRAUT

1 pork loin roast (about 4 lbs.), Dredge with flour; season with salt, pepper and caraway seed, 1 teaspoon each. Brown on all sides in a little oil. Place in Dutch oven or large pot. Always serve with mashed potatoes and applesauce. Serves 4 to 6.

Fall Brings Delicious Treats To The Kitchen

Fall is once more here upon us and with it brings (hopefully) cooler temperatures and an abundance of fruit and vegetables. The fruits at their best now are pears and apples. Pears are one of the few fruits that are best harvested before they are fully ripe. They can be ripened at room temperature after they are purchased. The best apples for cooking are the tart varieties that are firm, crisp, juicy and bright colored.

These versatile fruits are great for out of hand eating or in wonderful salads, such as Waldorf, or for homey desserts. Make a pear crisp for dessert instead of the usual apple.

COCONUT CRUNCH PEARS
 5 cups peeled, sliced pears
 2 tablespoons flour
 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 1/4 cup butter
 1/4 cup packed brown sugar
 1/2 cup unsifted flour
 1/2 cup flaked coconut
 1/2 cup chopped nuts
 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon

Combine pears, flour and lemon juice in 8x9-inch round baking dish. Spread evenly in dish. Set aside. Microwave butter in glass mixing bowl 20-30 minutes or until softened. Mix in brown sugar, flour, coconut, nuts and cinnamon until crumbly. Spoon over pears. Microwave on 100% power 8-10 minutes or until pears are tender. Serves 5-6.

Apple or plum kuchen is a traditional German coffee cake that can be micro-baked. It has a yeast dough and a cream sauce topping. Good any time of the day.

APPLE KUCHEN

1/4 cup milk
 1 tablespoon butter
 1/4 cup warm water
 1 package of dry yeast
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
 1 egg
 1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
 2 medium cooking apples, peeled and sliced
 1 tablespoon butter
 1/4 cup sugar
 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/4 cup half and half cream
 1 egg yolk

Combine milk, 1 tablespoon sugar and 1 tablespoon butter in a 2-quart batter bowl. Microwave for 30-45 seconds. Set aside. Combine water and yeast. Let stand a few minutes to soften yeast. Add salt and nutmeg to warm milk, beat in egg. Stir in yeast and gradually add flour, beating well after each addition. Cover loosely with plastic wrap. Microwave on 10% power (warm) 2-3 minutes, or until dough feels warm, but not hot.

Let stand 15-25 minutes or until dough is doubled in size.

Grease bottom and sides of an 8-inch round glass dish. Coat bottom and sides of dish with cornflake crumbs. Spoon dough into dish to cover most of bottom. Arrange apples on dough, pressing as necessary to spread dough over bottom of dish. Microwave 1 tablespoon butter in small dish 15-20 seconds. Mix in 1/4 cup sugar and the cinnamon. Spoon over apples. Cover loosely with plastic wrap. Microwave on 10% power (warm) 1 1/2 minutes or until warm, but not hot. Let stand 15-25 minutes or until dough is doubled in size. Remove plastic wrap. Cover with paper towel. Microwave on 50% power 4-5 minutes or until bread is almost cooked.

Blend together cream and egg yolk. Pour evenly over coffee cake. Cover with waxed paper. Microwave on 50% power 1 1/2 minutes or until creamed mixture is just about set. Let stand 10 minutes before cutting into wedges. Makes 8-10 servings.

Fresh pears and a few other ingredients become a quick-to-prepare gourmet dessert.

PEARS MELBA

2 medium ripe pears (Bartlett are good)
 4 teaspoons raspberry preserves or raspberry sauce
 1 pint vanilla ice cream

Cut pears in half and core. Arrange in a spokes-of-a-wheel pattern with cut side down in a 9-inch shallow dish. Cover with wax paper. Microwave on 100% power 2-3 minutes or until almost tender (do not overcook). Transfer to individual serving dishes. Top each with a scoop of ice cream and teaspoon of raspberry sauce.

Use pretty glass dishes or sherbets to achieve a special effect for this very French, very simple dessert.

The following desserts are simple to prepare and calorie wise. Pears or apples can be used for both of these desserts, but I prefer a tart apple for high flavor.

SIMPLE APPLE DESSERT

4 medium tart cooking apples
 1/4 cup all-purpose flour
 2 tablespoons sugar
 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon

3 tablespoons butter or margarine

Peel, core and slice apples and place in a shallow 1-quart glass baking dish. Combine flour, sugar and cinnamon and sprinkle over apples. Cut butter into thin pieces. Place evenly over flour mixture. Microwave on 100% power 5-8 minutes or until apples are tender. Can be served warm or cold.

Makes 6 servings - 126 calories per serving.

SLIMLINE BAKED APPLES
 12 ounce can low calorie strawberry flavored soda
 4 medium baking apples
 Peel, core and quarter apples. Place in shallow baking dish. Pour soda over apples. Cover with wax paper. Microwave on 100% power 8-10 minutes or until apples are tender.

Solid Education Is Built On Rock Of Attendance

DEAR ABBY: It might interest you to know that a letter from your column was used as the basis for a feature story about an outstanding student at Roosevelt-Wilson High School in Nutter Fort, W. Va.

Buffie Blackshire, 18, excelled in several fields of endeavor both in and outside of school and had a perfect attendance record since kindergarten. The principal of that high school thought that letter was so effective that he included it in a newsletter he sent to parents. I have enclosed this letter, hoping you will run it again.

MARGARET WILSON

DEAR MARGARET: Here's the letter.

DEAR ABBY: Now that high school has resumed, as a high school teacher, may I make a few suggestions that would greatly improve our nation's educational system and cost the taxpayers nothing?

Make school attendance a top priority!

A message to students: Stop skipping school because you don't want to face a challenging day. Accept those challenges and do your best. Your whole life will be filled with challenges, so learn to deal with them now — one day at a time.

A message to parents: Stop letting your children skip school to go shopping, to go hunting, to sleep in, to go on a family vacation, to nurse a minor ache, or whatever. It's your responsibility to see that your children get eight hours of sleep each night, eat nutritious meals (especially breakfast) and get to school on time.

A message to business people: Stop hiring students to work during school hours. And please stop hiring teen-age students to work after 8 p.m. on evenings before a school day. They need time to study and get a good night's sleep for school the next day.

A message to doctors, dentists, counselors and social workers: Please stop pulling students out of classes for non-medical emergencies to accommodate your schedules. Most students are dismissed at 2:45 p.m., so please give them late-afternoon appointments. Their education is as important to them as the schedules of adult patients and clients are to professionals.

Abby, recent studies show that we're a nation at risk. In the last 10 to 15 years, the quality in our education has deteriorated dramatically. An appalling number of our high school students are certified illiterates and absenteeism is one of the main causes.

Students who do not attend classes cannot be taught.

SMALL-TOWN TEACHER

DEAR TEACHER: Bravo! Well stated. Students, parents, business people, doctors, dentists, counselors and social workers, please take note and make school attendance a top priority.

DEAR ABBY: Don't people know what a doorbell is anymore? I live in a small town in Massachusetts where no one seems to use a doorbell — people just sit in the car and lay on the horn to beckon someone from his house.

This inconsiderate practice knows no limits. Horns can be heard at 6 a.m. or 2 a.m. I don't live on a busy street — it's a neighborhood where houses are close together.

The man across the street is picked up precisely at 6:40 a.m. every workday. I know his ride is coming at that time. Why doesn't he?

What is wrong with people these days? How did such ignorant and inconsiderate behavior come to be acceptable?

FED UP IN EVERETT

DEAR FED UP: Ignorant and inconsiderate behavior has never come to be acceptable, but if it persists unchallenged, it will continue. You may have to get out of a warm bed and give the picker-upper what-for at 6:40 a.m. a time or two, but I'll wager the honking will stop. Try it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO M.J. IN OTTAWA, CANADA: Two can live as cheaply as one — if they both have good jobs.

DEAR ABBY: I wish to express my concern and dismay about two phrases that I hear and read more and more often in the media. I refer to the words used to inform the public about terrorist activity: "takes responsibility for," and even worse, "claims credit for." These phrases denote responsibility for despicable acts.

In my opinion, such phrases as these are changing our feelings and attitudes toward terrorism in a very subtle but frightening manner.

The Random House Dictionary defines terrorism as "the use of violence and threats to intimidate or coerce, especially for political purposes." To imply that the aforementioned is honorable, or something to be proud of, or claim credit for is, at best, ludicrous and, at worst, a form of insidious brainwashing.

It would be far more factual and accurate to state that a specific group or organization is "to blame" for acts for terrorism. One of the meanings of the verb "to blame" (Random House Dictionary, again) is "to censure or condemn."

This seems a more fitting description of terrorists and acts of terrorism. I would urge that people in the media give this serious thought, and make the appropriate changes when reporting terrorist activities to the public.

JUNEAL REITAN, EDINBURG, TEXAS

DEAR J.R.: Thank you for pointing this out. I immodestly accept full credit for passing this on to media reporters.

Put Surgeons On Hold Then See A Specialist

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — My son, 50, started suffering from what two doctors said was gall-bladder trouble. They did surgery, only to find that he had been born without a gall bladder. I don't understand why they did the surgery. Now they say his pancreas is the problem and that more surgery is needed. Where do we go from here?

DEAR READER — I think this is a classic case of doctors not looking before they leap.

To begin with, I've never heard of anybody being born without a gall bladder. I suppose that such an abnormality is possible, but it must be as rare as hens' teeth.

Second, good medical practice dictates that surgeons attempt, in any way possible, to define exactly what they propose to operate on. An ultrasound examination is now fairly standard practice as a way to outline the gall bladder (and gallstones, too) by using harmless soundwaves. If the ultrasound exam is inconclusive, the prudent physician would order a gall-bladder study, using special material that is swallowed, concentrated in the gall bladder and allows X-ray images to be made.

Third, a qualified surgeon ordinarily would explore the upper abdomen at the time of operation, particularly if the structure he was expecting to see wasn't there. It's usually technically feasible for the surgeon to examine the liver, the pancreas and part of the small intestine during uncomplicated gall-bladder surgery. I'm not sure why your son's surgeon did not choose an exploratory approach when it became obvious that his plans were upset by an anatomical variant.

Finally, your son's doctors seem to be intent on compounding their debacle by urging more surgery. Pancreatic operations are tricky and dangerous.

I advise your son to be examined by a gastroenterologist — a medical specialist who is trained to diagnose diseases of the digestive tract. I believe that there are other tests that could be performed, before another operation, to establish a diagnosis. Nonsurgical treatment might be preferable.

If a repeat operation is necessary, the gastroenterologist will be able to tell the surgeons what to look for and what to do. Until your son's abdominal problems become better understood, I'd put the surgeons on hold.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

Everyone knows that you can duck an ace a few times, thus severing communications for the defenders. You can do the same with smaller cards, even though it goes against the grain to refuse to win a cheap trick. Look what happens when you play low from dummy on today's opening lead and East puts up the nine. The casual declarer wins with the queen and plays a heart. Quickly the defenders take the heart ace and four spade tricks to set the contract.

The more adroit declarer assumes that West led from A-K-10-6-x of spades. Therefore, he allows the spade nine to win trick one. Regardless of how the defense continues, declarer will be able to dislodge the heart ace safely and make his contract.

The Jacoby bridge acronym ARCH can help on this deal. "A" stands for "Analyze the lead," "R" is for "Review the bidding," "C" is for "Count the hand," and "H" is "How do I make the contract?" For today's deal, you need only the first two letters.

When you review the bidding, you remember that West passed originally. He would hardly do that with A-K of spades plus the ace of hearts. And that's why it's right to let East win the spade nine. Since he does hold the ace of hearts, he can't set you if he is out of spades when he eventually takes that ace.

BRIDGE hand details including NORTH, SOUTH, WEST, EAST cards and a hand diagram.

YOUR BIRTHDAY OCTOBER 16, 1986

Happy social experiences are in your chart for the year ahead. You might even form warm relationships with a number of individuals you could barely tolerate last year.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) It's best to meet issues head-on today instead of seeking postponements. Delays aren't likely to improve your position. Matters that offer you profitable possibilities should not be put on the back burner. Opeditions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, PO Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You'll regret it this evening if you don't use the hours available to you today for productive pursuits. Plan an industrious schedule.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Try to break away from your usual routines today for some type of fun activity. All work and no play dulls life's edge.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If you haven't been spending too much time with your family lately, this is a good day to make amends. You'll enjoy being with them and they'll enjoy being with you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) There is a possibility that you will be a trifle more restless than usual today. When you arrange your itinerary, allow yourself freedom of mobility.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Matters that offer you profitable possibilities should not be put on the back burner. Opportunities that exist today might not exist tomorrow.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Affairs that are important to you personally should be given priority today. If you fail to give them adequate attention, don't expect to be covered by others.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You'll get more accomplished today if you can set your own pace and work in an environment that is free from outside interference. Seek a quiet nook.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) In your social involvements today, your friends will be vying for your attention. Make it a point to treat all your pals equally.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You'll respond well to challenging developments today. Don't deliberately seek out confrontations, but don't duck them, either.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Your overall outlook is likely to be bold and visionary today, but you could also be impulsive. In your eagerness to get things done, don't trip over your own shoestrings.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) What others will be able to offer you today might be limited, so don't rely more on their talents and resources than you do on your own.

Andrew Lloyd Webber Strikes Again

By Gregory Jensen

LONDON (UPI) — Andrew Lloyd Webber, the Midas of the musical, is touching gold again. His opera-like "The Phantom of the Opera" is another resounding success ready to follow "Evita" and "Cats" around the world.

"It is an evening that restores sex and romance to the modern musical, with a full quota of pulsating melodramatic tension," said one critic with complete accuracy.

Princess Diana saw it and cheered — and flinched a bit at its crashing chandelier. A first-night throng at the biggest event of London's theater year gave it a 10-minute standing, stamping ovation.

Some critics were somewhat less wild. But there is no doubt that Lloyd Webber, the richest alchemist in musical theater, has another hit to go with those which already have made him a multi-millionaire.

"Phantom" is also a vindication for the girl he married and for Broadway director Hal Prince. Both Sarah Brightman and director Prince, whose last few shows have been less than hits, are in top form.

Lloyd Webber, with "Starlight Express" and his surprise-hit Latin "Requiem" behind him, turned to Gaston Leroux's 1911 novel as an opportunity to write something closer to true opera — and to feature his second wife.

"I've been wanting to write big love songs for a long time, but I've never really had the plot to do it," he says. "Phantom" is that chance.

Its basic story must be familiar to everyone from two famous movies and a flock of other versions — the hideously deformed musical genius who lurks in the bowels of the Paris Opera hoick, including cutting loose a massive chandelier to rain death on an audience, to promote the career of the chorus girl he loves.

Lloyd Webber and co-author Richard Stilgoe went back to Leroux's novel — he wrote 63 of them — and cut out all the movie accretions like a plagiarized composer being scarred with acid. Their Phantom has been disfigured from birth.

They gallop through the story's basics, concentrating on big melodramatic moments. Lloyd Webber wraps these in music which is half gorgeous and lush, half clever opera pastiche. Maria Bjornson's designs are lavish, Prince's staging is full of intriguing magic, and the thrills and emotion run high.

Brightman's doe-eyed, clear-voiced performance ought to lower the collective raised eyebrows of the British press, which has been fairly nasty to her for months.

"It is hard to find anyone with a good word to say about pretty, frizzy-haired Sarah Brightman," one London newspaper wrote 18 months ago. A chorus girl in "Cats," once a dancer with a famously sexy dance group, Sarah has been depicted as a gold-digging home-wrecker who got where she is only because of her husband.

"Look, she is going to be a great star, and I don't think being married to me has helped her at all," Lloyd Webber said then. "On the contrary, it has probably knocked her back a couple of years."

They married on the first night of "Starlight Express." Lloyd Webber's roller-skate winner which opens on Broadway in February and recently whizzed through its 1,000th performance in London.

The range and purity of Brightman's voice in her husband's "Requiem" stilled some criticism, especially when its "Pie Jesu" became an astonishing pop-music-chart hit. But carping continued right up to "Phantom's" opening night.

It ought to end now. Brightman plays the phantom's beloved with verve and appeal. She has that star quality which attracts the eye at all times. Her cultured soprano moves easily between rock and operatic idioms and leaps without vocal gear changes to a bell-clear top B-flat.

Michael Crawford, best known for light comedy and lightweight musical roles, uncorks a voice of surprising power and range as the phantom. The lyrics, by total newcomer Charles Hart, 25, are apt and promising, and Gillian Lynne's musical staging and choreography show exemplary finesse.

"It's very intelligent material," says Prince, 58. "It's not a potboiler. We're not doing Count Dracula. It's a romance, and it's also pretty erotic."

Yet if "Phantom of the Opera" is less than a total, 1,000 success it may be because it tries to occupy two stools at once.

Lloyd Webber's score is neither entirely opera nor wholly popular but some of each. Prince's staging is neither gleaming hi-tech nor old-fashioned stagecraft, but blends both.

Yet as spectacle "Phantom" is admirable, as drama it is full of melodramatic thrills, and Lloyd Webber's sleekly intelligent, sumptuously orchestrated music rolls with irresistible power.

PBS Plans Series On Constitution

NEW YORK (UPI) — An historic series of five special television broadcasts, "The Presidency and the Constitution," will be produced for PBS and broadcast in the spring of 1987 during the bicentennial anniversary of the Constitution.

Presidents Ford and Carter will participate in several of the programs.

The program was announced by Fred W. Friendly, director of the Columbia University Seminars on Media and Society, and a former news honcho at CBS.

"Our intention is to commemorate the first two hundred years of the Constitution by creating a series of television programs that will invite some of the most distinguished Americans of our day to thoughtfully examine the effects of constitutional principles on presidential actions," Friendly said.

Hungary: 30 Years After The Revolt

Janos Kadar's Reign Began Behind The Strength Of Soviet Troops And Tanks

By Patricia Kosa
BUDAPEST (UPI) — In a weed-infested corner of a Budapest cemetery lie the unidentified remains of some 300 people executed for participating in the 1956 Hungarian uprising.

A bush in one corner is believed to cover the grave of Imre Nagy, prime minister and reluctant leader of the revolt, executed in 1958.

The graveyard is a symbol of the inability of the Hungarian government, despite the passage of 30 years, to come to terms with the nation's brief uprising against Soviet domination and its brutal defeat.

The events, which began Oct. 23, 1956, with mass demonstrations and heavy fighting, ended 12 days later when 200,000 Soviet troops, backed by 1,000 tanks, crushed the revolt and installed the regime of Janos Kadar, who has been at the helm ever since.

Five thousand people were killed. Another 2,000 were subsequently executed. 40,000 were imprisoned and some 15,000 were deported to Russia.

And 200,000 fled to the West, often with only the clothes on their backs across a once-in-a-lifetime wide-open border to Austria, before Soviet troops sealed off the Austrian and Yugoslavian frontiers. Some children were handed across the border by parents, the youngsters carrying labels: "This is my child. Care for him. We return to fight for freedom."

In Hungary today, 1986 is explained officially as a "counter-revolution" inspired by Western countries or by the mistakes of the preceding Stalinist regime. The United States government has been accused of inspiring the revolt through allegedly inflammatory broadcasts over Radio Free Europe.

In the past few years, however, Kadar, now 74, has simply referred to the events as "a national tragedy."

By 1956, Hungarians already had participated in a good deal of modern history in just four decades.

In 1914, the massive nation of Austria-Hungary was allied with Germany. After the Central Powers' defeat in World War I, the nation was broken into the separate countries of Austria, Hungary, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia. Partly in the hope of regaining large chunks of lost territories, Hungary again sided with Germany in World War II, only to lose again.

At the close of the war, the Russian army marched into Hungary and was regarded as both liberator (for chasing out the Nazis), and occupier (the Soviets wanted to be sure that if Germany attacked again the war would start farther from Russia's borders).

As occupier, the Soviets slowly installed their puppets so that by 1949 the country was communist-controlled. Matyas Rakosi led the government, but power rested in Moscow with Josef Stalin.

Just as Stalin had masterminded ruthless and brutal purges in his regime, similar bloodbaths were carried out with his blessing in subjected nations such as Hungary and Poland.

Stalin died in 1953. His successor, Nikita Khrushchev, was ultimately to denounce Stalin and began to dismantle his terror apparatus.

The anti-Stalin movement sent shivers through the leadership of the satellite nations. In both Poland and Hungary, cracks splintered the communist party organizations and threatened the stability of their governments.

Under Rakosi, nicknamed the "bald murderer," the hated Hungarian secret police carried out a reign of terror. Some 40,000 people were detained in concentration camps for transgressions such as being the sons and daughters of "bourgeois parents."

Khrushchev decided that Rakosi must go, and he was ousted from the premiership and the Communist Party in April 1955 — only to be replaced by an associate, Erno Gero. The following year, as a gesture to Khrushchev, Gero reinstated the one member of Rakosi's government who had shown reformist vision — Imre Nagy, who had been expelled by Rakosi.

By the summer of 1956, however, reforms were not coming quickly enough.

In Poland, students and workers were staging mass, peaceful demonstrations demanding changes. To disarm the potential powder keg, the Polish government acquiesced.

The success of that popular movement set the stage for the Hungarian uprising that would follow in October.

To help undo some of the Rakosi legacy, posthumous rehabilitation was arranged for Laszlo Rajk, a former interior minister who was executed in 1949 for "treason" after a show trial on trumped up charges. On Oct. 6, 1956, Rajk was exhumed and given a state funeral — a funeral that served as tinder for the cataclysmic events that would follow.

Demonstrations began in Debrecen in eastern Hungary, Pecs and Szeged in the south, in the industrial city of Miskolc near the Czechoslovak border. Communist red stars were torn from government buildings. The first "workers' councils" began to take over factories. A full-fledged revolt the night of Oct. 23, when secret police fired on a crowd trying to storm the Budapest radio station building, killing three persons.

The revolt spread quickly through the country. The popular Nagy, repeatedly called to address the demonstrators in the streets, at first refused to join them. Even when he did, he spoke only two minutes the night of Oct. 23 — urging them to stay calm and allow the government to handle its own problems.

By the next day, however, with the revolt clearly out of control and the army joining the demonstrators, the government was reorganized with Nagy at its head.

Soviet tanks rolled into the streets of Budapest with the intention of frightening the demonstrators. The mobs, however, stunned both the government and the Soviets by waging an effective counterattack with Molotov cocktails, hunting rifles, sticks and rocks.

Even teenagers participated in the pitched battles for the streets, daringly jumping on top of tanks, blinding them by smearing portholes with jam, and allowing snipers to pick off the crews as they tried to scramble out.

The tanks were forced from the city — if briefly.

Nagy, trying to keep abreast of popular demands, successively promised withdrawal of Soviet troops from Hungary, abolition of the one-party system and the establishment of a new government with the communists in the minority. On Oct. 31, he announced Hungary intended to withdraw from the Warsaw Pact.

Cruising, Sock Hop Highlight Festival

Classic autos and a sock hop will be featured during an all day "block party" in downtown Sanford on Saturday, Nov. 8. The event is being co-hosted by Sanford's downtown merchants association and radio station Z-14 to promote the city to out-of-towners and local residents.

The festival will include plenty of 1950's and '60's music throughout the day and a sock hop held at the First Street Christos Classic Restaurant.

Also featured will be classic cars lining Park Avenue, from Seminole Boulevard to First Street, from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. At 5 p.m., the cars will start their engines and "cruise" around the downtown area for approximately 40 minutes.

The autos' continuous loop will wind along East First Street, west to Myrtle Avenue, north to Seminole Boulevard, east to Mellonville Avenue, and then back around to First Street to start the route again. A panel of judges will be on hand to view the display and award prizes in several categories.

Sanford commissioners endorsed the open air festival and agreed to the road closings during their meeting Monday.

The event is part of stepped up efforts the merchants association plans to acquaint people to the downtown district's commercial offerings as well as its natural and historic attributes, said Liz McDonald, the group's publicity chairman. —Karen Talley

Fresh Crop Of Cookbooks Devoted To New World Of Exotic Produce

By JOHN DEMERS
UPI Food Editor

As though in reflection of the harvest season, America's publishers are hitting the shelves with a fresh crop of cookbooks devoted to defining, describing and ultimately demystifying a whole new world of exotic produce.

Many of these colorful fruits and vegetables were once found only in small ethnic markets or not at all.

Yet today, the average shopper in the average supermarket can pick at and prod things while barely knowing their names.

The vegetable counter is as likely as not to mix traditional carrots and potatoes with trendy items like radicchio for salads, chayote for stuffing and jicama for a host of Latin preparations.

The fruit section is stretching out its apples and oranges with a rainbow of tropical papayas, coconuts and carambola.

The options seem more numberless than the products that inspire them.

At least five new cookbooks supply the unfamiliar names of this new bounty, along with the history, lore, growing cycles and best uses. The books are generous as well in supplying innovative recipes, many nearly as bizarre as the products they seek to use.

One of the finest is "Uncommon Fruits and Vegetables: A Commonsense Guide" by Elizabeth Schneider (Harper and Row, $25), which more than lives up to its subtitle. In addition to a lively writing style, Schneider's prose is rich in original information and observation. And the recipes are quite innovative.

"The New Harvest" by Lou Seibert Pappas and Jane Horn (101 Productions, $9.95) is a clearly put-together guide, one that matches interesting factual background on each fruit or vegetable with a helpful line drawing. The volume features several color photographs as well.

To produce "The New American Vegetable Cookbook" (Aris Books, $14.94), writer Isaac Cronin called on the expertise of proprietors of a specialty seed company, Georgeanne Brennan and Charlotte Glenn. As this resource would imply, it is perhaps the best book of the bunch for sheer volume and variety of information.

Jack Mordich draws on 50 years as a greengrocer in "Buying Produce" (Morrow, $13.95). With no pretensions of being a chef, Mordich sidesteps the recipe temptation and concentrates on stripping as much nonsense as possible from his chosen field. This is a delightful dose of anti-chic.

"Judy Gorman's Vegetable Cookbook" (Yankee Books, $19.95) is a nice addition to the kitchen library, both for its information on vegetables plain and fancy and its often-interesting recipes.

Here are recipes for Enokidake Salad from "Uncommon Fruits and Vegetables" and for Curried Jicama and Carrot Souffle from "The New Harvest."

ENOKIDAKE SALAD

1 medium, thick, smooth-sided red bell pepper
1 medium Belgian endive
1 radicchio di Treviso (narrow spears)

2 packages (each 3.5 ounces) enokidake

3 Tbsp olive oil

2 ounces firm ham (see Note below), finely julienned

1 1/2-2 Tbsp lemon juice
Salt and pepper to taste

Note: For the ham, choose a Smithfield, Westphalian, Black Forest or prosciutto.

Place the pepper directly in a gas flame, or set in a broiler pan as close to the heat as possible. Turn until blacked all over. Let stand for 1 minute, then enclose in damp towel or plastic bag and leave for 10 minutes.

Halve the pepper, then remove the stem, seeds and ribs. Scrape off all the skin, rinse and dry. Cut in fine julienne strips, cover and refrigerate.

Rinse and dry the endive and the radicchio. Cut out core at base and slice into thin julienne strips. Cut off heavy base of enokidake and as much stem as necessary. Rinse for a second, then roll gently in toweling. Cover and refrigerate endive, radicchio and enokidake.

At serving time, combine the red pepper with the endive and radicchio in a large bowl. Heat 1 tablespoon of oil in a skillet, add the ham and toss over high heat to heat through. Add the ham to the bowl.

Heat the remaining oil and toss enokidake for 15 seconds over high heat, until it just begins to wilt. Add with the oil to the bowl. Toss with lemon juice and season to taste with salt and pepper. 4 servings.

CURRIED JICAMA AND CARROT SOUFFLE

1/2 cup grated carrots

1/2 cup grated jicama or golden zucchini, pressed of moisture

2 Tbsp butter

1/4 tsp salt

1/4 tsp ground cumin

2 Tbsp all-purpose flour

2/3 cup milk

3 eggs, separated

1/4 cup shredded Swiss cheese
Lemon or lime wedges

In a large skillet, saute the carrots and jicama in butter until glazed, about 5 minutes. Add the salt, cumin and flour, cooking for 2 minutes more. Add milk and cook until thickened, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat and mix in the egg yolks.

In a medium bowl, beat the egg whites until soft peaks form and fold into the vegetable mixture with cheese. Turn into a 1-quart souffle dish and bake in a 375-degree oven for 20 minutes, or until puffed and golden brown. Serve immediately with wedges of lemon or lime. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

GREEN ENCHILADAS

Green Sauce:
1 pound fresh or canned Mexican tomatoes, peeled

3 cups water

2 garlic cloves

1 cup cilantro leaves

1/2 cup sliced onion

2 Tbsp salad oil

1 1/2 tsp salt

1 tsp sugar

2 cups sour cream

1/4 cup milk

1 1/2 tsp mashed garlic

Salt to taste

1/4 cup salad oil

12 fresh or frozen corn tortillas, thawed

2 cups shredded cooked chicken

1/2 pound Monterey Jack cheese, sliced
2 Tbsp grated Parmesan cheese

In a large saucepan, combine the tomatoes and water. Cook until tender, about 5 minutes. Drain. In a food processor or blender, combine the tomatoes, garlic, cilantro and onion. Puree until smooth and creamy.

In a medium saucepan, heat the oil. Add the puree, salt and sugar, simmer for 5 minutes and set aside.

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees. In a small bowl, combine the sour cream, milk, garlic and salt to taste. In a small skillet, heat the oil. With tongs, carefully add the tortillas one at a time and soften for 5 seconds. Turn and soften other side for 2 seconds. Drain on paper towels.

Spread a thin layer of the Green Sauce in a 13-by-9 inch baking dish. Spread each tortilla with 1 tablespoon of the sauce, then top with the chicken and Monterey Jack. Roll up and place seam-side down in the prepared dish.

Top with the remaining sauce and drizzle with sour cream mixture. Sprinkle with Parmesan, then bake for 20 minutes or until heated through. Makes 6 servings.

Potpourri

Turkey Breast Makes Elegant Main Dish

By Allison Claire
NEA Food Editor

You no longer have to cook a whole turkey to make a variety of soups or main dishes with the gobbler.

There is a wide selection of turkey cuts in the supermarket. Use turkey breasts to make delicious rolls of turkey, ham and cheese served with a creamy rich mushroom sauce.

This dish calls for a dry white wine or, if you prefer, sparkling cider, and crusty French bread.

TURKEY AU FROMAGE

2 1/2 pounds raw turkey breast slices

Salt and pepper

6 slices smoked or boiled ham

2 cups (8 ounces) grated Cantal or Emmental cheese, divided

1 egg, well beaten

Flour

1/4 cup butter

1/4 cup Armagnac brandy (or 2 tablespoons cider)

1 cup (1/2 pint) heavy cream

1/4 cup drained sliced mushrooms

Pound turkey slices until 1/4 inch thick (it will be necessary to use 2 or 3 slices to make 6 large cutlets). Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Top with ham slices and 1 1/2 cups of cheese. Roll up tightly, turning in the ends of each roll. Roll each in beaten egg, then flour. Heat butter in skillet and brown rolls slowly on all sides until cooked, about 15 minutes. If you are using Armagnac, pour it over rolls and set aflame. Place turkey rolls on a heatproof serving platter. Stir cream (and cider, if not using brandy) into pan drippings, scraping to loosen all particles. Stir in mushrooms. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Pour sauce over rolls. Sprinkle with remaining cheese. Place under broiler and broil until cheese is melted and golden. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 servings. (C)1986, NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

TURKEY au fromage features rolls of turkey breast, ham and cheese served with a rich mushroom sauce.

VEGETABLE CHEESE TIMBALE

2 slices bacon, chopped

1 small zucchini, cut lengthwise into quarters, sliced thinly

2 Tbsp chopped red bell pepper

2 Tbsp thinly sliced onion

1 Tbsp chopped parsley

1 Tbsp butter

1 Tbsp flour

1/4 cup heavy cream

2 large eggs

2 slices low-salt Gouda cheese

Dash of Worcestershire

Freshly ground black pepper

In a medium saucepan, saute the bacon until fully cooked, then add the zucchini, red pepper, onion and parsley. Cover and cook just 1 to 2 minutes over medium heat. Remove from the heat.

In a separate smaller saucepan, melt the butter and whisk in the flour over low heat. Follow immediately with the cream, eggs, cheese (which has been broken into bits), Worcestershire and pepper.

Whisk constantly until the cheese melts and the mixture thickens. Add it to the vegetable mixture and stir. Fill ovenproof cups with approximately 1/2 cup in each.

Place the cups in a buttered baking dish and bake at 400 degrees for 15 minutes. Remove the timbales by sliding a sharp knife around the edge of the cup and tipping gently onto a plate. Source: Dorman's.

Reunion Chicken Just What Dieters Ordered

Every cook puts forth her best efforts for family reunion fare and diets are often forgotten by those sampling the feast.

But the National Broiler Council notes that those who bring chicken to these traditional culinary spreads will win favor with weight watchers as well as those who indulge in every tempting offer.

Of course no family reunion is complete without fried chicken. But herb-seasoned chicken, casseroles and other chicken dishes can be just as inviting with an even lower calorie count.

Lemon-Herb Chicken is one example of a low calorie dish that any cook can serve with pride. Easy to prepare and appealing to the eye, it has a bold, full-bodied flavor which also appeals to non-dieters. And it withstands the uncertain serving time of most family gatherings. Like all chicken dishes, however, it should be transported and kept in an insulated container until ready to enjoy.

Picnic Chicken Tomatoes is a colorful, refreshing way to take chilled chicken to a family reunion. It, too, is low in calories and is an interesting variation of the chicken salads which are often used to stuff tomatoes. Keep it cool in an ice chest until serving time.

Family reunions are a special time to serve your favorite chicken dish with pride. Anyone on a diet will thank you for helping them avoid any "day after" guilt.

LEMON-HERB REUNION CHICKEN
2 broiler-fryer chickens, cut in parts
1 1/4 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup chicken broth
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
1 tablespoon Italian seasoning
1 teaspoon marjoram
1/2 teaspoon thyme
2 cloves garlic, minced
2 strips lemon zest, 1 1/2 x 1 inch

2 tablespoons white wine
Sprinkle chicken with salt and pepper; arrange, skin down, in large shallow baking pan. In small saucepan, mix together chicken broth, Worcestershire sauce, lemon juice, Italian seasoning, marjoram, garlic and lemon zest. Bring to a boil; add wine and pour over chicken, spooning to cover each piece. Let stand about 20 minutes. Bake, uncovered in 325°F. oven for 30 minutes. Turn chicken, spoon sauce over chicken and bake 30 minutes more or until fork can be inserted in chicken with ease. Makes 6 servings.

PICNIC CHICKEN TOMATOES
2 broiler-fryer chickens, cooked and cut in 1/2-inch chunks
1/4 cup rich chicken broth
1/4 cup no-oil Italian dressing

2 tablespoons fresh chopped chives
16 small tomatoes
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese
1 teaspoon paprika
