Bridges, Rights-Of-Way From Key West To Florida City Go On Block

Company Unable To Rebuild Line

Path Is Cleared For Construction Of Key's Highway

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26. (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission today authorized the Florida Overseas Railway to abandon its overseas line to Key West, clearing the way for the sale of the line and the completion of a highway across the Florida Keys.

The order, effective ten days from today, allows the receivers of the railway to sell bridges and rights-of-way to the overseas district of Havana County.

Receivers asked permission on the ground that they are without funds to repair the damage by the Labor Day hurricane of 1935. They said reconstruction would cost about $1,800,000.

The overseas line has not been operated since the hurricane. It extended 125 miles from Florida City to Key West.

The road and toll bridge district recently obtained a $2,600,000 loan from the government to build a highway over the coral reefs of the keys.

Vocational School Schedules Another Shorthand Class

A half-hour shorthand class between 8 A. M. and 8:30 A. M. for the convenience of persons unable to attend regular classes later in the day has been announced for Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays by Miss Rebecca Stevens, principal of the Sanford Vocational School.

Approximately 40 students are now enrolled in the institution which features courses in shorthand, typing, bookkeeping, business English and spelling. Miss Stevens said.

Registration rolls are open throughout the nine-months term of the school. Classes are taught five days each week. The institution is affiliated with the County school system.

Classrooms are located above the Hill Hardware Company building.

Chamber Project Committee Okes Three Proposals

Three proposed projects received the unqualified endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce Project Committee when the organization held its first meeting last night in the Chamber building.

Headlining the list was a proposal that recreational facilities for tourists be included in plans for beautifying the lakefront property between the Mayfair Hotel and Park Avenue.

Second to receive an endorsement was the plan to make all possible efforts toward the establishment of a tourist trailer camp here. The third project of approval was one to promote activities for creating a state park on the Big Tree territory.

Attending the committee session were Chamber President T. E. Simpson; Benjamin F. Haines, secretary; Fred E. Wilson, Fred C. Wilson, H. James Gut, H. H. Coleman and Ralph Bagwell, chamber secretary.

MEMBERS IN CONVENTION

MEMBERS of the Florida State Association and auxiliary gathered here Thursday for their annual convention. Entertainment followed afternoon sessions of both groups.

Mid-West Is Magnate For Campaigners

Republicans, Demos See Corn Belt Of Greatest Value In November Election

CHICAGO, Sept. 26. (AP) — An intensive campaign for presidential votes of middle America's farm states continued at a swift pace today with Governor Landon on the way to Oregon, Ill., to discuss agricultural problems with Frank O. Lowden, the Republican party's Cincinnati candidate.

Landon, considered a week's swing through the farm states of the Middle West.

Attrition has been focused anew on the fact that evidently both Republicans and Democrats believe corn belt votes will decide the election. All factions have sent their best orators into the Middle West.

President Roosevelt, Landon and Representative William Lemke, Union Party presidential candidate, have devoted more personal attention to the section than to any other. Both Landon and Roosevelt will make Chicago speeches. Landon will talk here Oct. 9, and Roosevelt about a week later.

Legionettes Plan For Drum, Bugle Corps Formation

First active work toward the organization of a Sons of the Legion drum and bugle corps will be undertaken next Friday night, Percy Mero, chairman of the American Legion Committee on Boy's Work, told the Legionettes last night.

An Armistice Day dance is scheduled in the new National Guard armory to produce sufficient money for the beginning.

Mr. Mero said that due to the removal of the National Guard into the new building, the Junior Legion rifle team will withhold practice for two or three weeks until a new firing range is built.

Last night Reginald Soderblom and Milton Adams tied for high point man with 18 each in the weekly target shoot. The youths were shooting for the first time from a sitting position.

CITY NEWS BRIEFS

Seminole County Council of Girl Scouts will assemble Monday night at 8 o'clock in the Sanford Girl Scout Little House for a regular meeting, it was announced today.

The weather: Partly cloudy tonight and Sunday, somewhat unsettled on East Coast. Extreme Northwest Florida—partly cloudy tonight and Sunday, probably showers in west portion.

A building permit for $375 was issued last night to the Bay-Realty Company for the construction of a one-story garage on Eighteenth Street between Oak and Elm avenues, according to City Hall records.

Mrs. Leonard Wins First Knock-Knock Contest At Theater

Mrs. J. M. Leonard last night was declared winner of the Ritz Theater's first knock-knock contest, a regular weekly feature of the playhouse. Prize was $5 in cash.

Mrs. L. P. Doss won second award, a two-weeks' Ritz pass for two, while Bill Schmidt came in third and won a one-week pass for a couple.

Mrs. Leonard's knock-knock riddle: "Who's there?" "Juliet." "Juliet who?" "Juliet a big meal and Romeo for it."

Mrs. Doss' riddle: "Gatchel." "I'll Gatchel when I get home." Mr. Schmidt's riddle: "Canary." "Canary one tell me where John was last night."

The knock-knocks were incorporated in a stage show featuring Birger Wester and his orchestra and Miss Eloise Winn.

Persons who wish to compete for prizes next week are urged to submit their knock-knocks to the Ritz box office before Thursday night.

Several knock-knocks, turned in this week too late for use in the stage show will be heard next week, according to Joseph L. Marentette, theater manager.

Taking Marsh Hens Prohibited Except Near Salt Marshes

Hunting and taking of marsh hens, or rails, are not permitted in this territory, C. Russell Mason, president of the Florida Audubon Society, pointed out here today.

The shooting of the fowl is restricted to salt water marshes alone, he said.

Further, Mr. Mason said, canvasback and redhead ducks, present in great numbers on Lake Jessup last season, are not protected at all times by a federal law.

Ducks may be taken in this state between Nov. 26 to Dec. 25 inclusively.

National Guard Starts Moving To New Armory

Sanford's three National Guard units today began the task of moving into their new $17,000 armory on Lakeshore Boulevard.

Capt. H. C. Washburn, acting commandant, said that rifles, instruments, uniforms, gas masks, electrical apparatus and other equipment to be moved is valued at approximately $100,000.

The units would be firmly installed in their new headquarters by Sunday night, pointing out the job was too large to be completed in a single day.

Capt. George W. McRory is custodian of the armory. Capt. Washburn announced. Persons or organizations desiring to rent the building for social or other purposes are advised to contact Capt. McRory.

The acting-commandant issued the statement that in the future guardsmen will drill only one night.

Cone And Andrews Will Appear Here On Campaign Tour

Fred P. Cone, Democratic nominee for governor of Florida, will appear here Wednesday for the first time since his nomination for the governorship last June.

His appearance is under the sponsorship of the Seminole County Democratic Committee. His address will be delivered through his own public address system, probably at the intersection of First Street and Magnolia Avenue.

Judge C. O. Andrews of Orlando, nominee for the United States Senate, is billed to appear with the gubernatorial nominee. The two are now in the middle of an initial eight-day tour of the Central Florida section in the first of a series of jaunts.

The County Democratic Committee is planning a number of local rallies with several other political meetings to be held throughout the County.

Elks Issue Appeal For Christmas Toys

An appeal for old toys for the Elk's Club Christmas Tree, held every Christmas, was issued today by Leading Knight George Thurston of the local chapter of B. P. O. E. L. A. L. citizens.

Thurston head of a movement to obtain the toys and have them repaired in time for the annual holiday event given for needy children, asked that persons having toys which they would donate either bring them by the Elk's Club or call for a representative of the club to come by after them.

This year an effort will be made to get enough toys for all needy children in the county, and for that reason, the committee in charge is beginning its drive earlier in the year.

Cleveland Emphasizes Importance Of Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 4-10

Fire Prevention Week will be observed throughout the nation between Oct. 4 and 10, Mack Cleveland, chief of the Sanford Fire Department, announced today.

In emphasizing the importance of the event, Chief Cleveland pointed out that more than 10,000 persons in the United States burn to death annually, and that nearly half a billion dollars worth of property goes up in smoke each year.

"Since this loss in lives and money is distributed over the years," the chief said, "and since fires causing it are scattered over the country, the average person is not as much impressed with the dangers of fire as he should be. Fire Prevention Week is observed to bring the real facts home to everyone."

Chief Cleveland said that he and

President Of Spain Seeks Protection Of Argentine Embassy In Toledo

By The Associated Press

Insurgent Spanish troops smashed at the gates of shell-riddled Toledo today as the wife of President Manuel Azana of Spain was reported taken under the protection of the Argentine embassy.

One report, still unconfirmed, said Rebels already had entered Toledo.

Insurgent commanders drove their troops hard to reach Toledo and release the men, women and children besieged in the famous Alcazar, raked by gunfire and dynamite, for weeks.

President Azana was reported authoritatively to have asked for a political asylum, if it should be necessary, aboard an Argentine warship. His wife and other members of families of the leftist cabinet members were said to have been taken aboard the boat already.

Rebel sources predicted the imminent downfall of Madrid but said they feared Government troops in Toledo were throwing poisoned food to men, women and children still living in the Alcazar.

Rebels sent ten planes to rain bombs on chaotic Bilbao, Bay of Biscay town, as anarchists sought to kill Rebel sympathizers held as hostages.

Extension School At University Is Open To Localites

First semester extension classes of the University of Florida will be organized Oct. 5 at the vocational school building in Orlando, according to an announcement received here today from Gainesville.

All Seminole County persons are eligible for enrollment in the institution which gives college credit for vocational or cultural improvement.

Those interested may obtain complete information by communicating with the General Extension Division of the University of Florida.

R. C. Riley is dean of the extension division. Other instructors are Prof. R. E. Harris, Spanish; Prof. B. R. Weld, sociology; Miss Viola Ludwig, public school care; G. M. Turner, field representative.

Teachers may secure extension of their certificates by taking six-semester hours of the school's work, it was announced.

Membership Drive Plans Made By Audubon Society

President Appoints Florida Committees To Carry On Activities In Population Centers

An intensive drive for an increased membership is planned for the Florida State Audubon Society, according to an announcement made today by C. Russell Mason of Sanford, president of the organization.

The movement already has begun. Mr. Mason said, insofar as committees have been appointed in various counties to direct activities in the various population centers of the state.

Seminole County's committee is composed of Henry A. Russell, chairman; H. James Gut, Walter S. Coleman, Herman J. Lehman, Douglas G. Scott, Mrs. John M. Quirk of Geneva, Mrs. E. B. Stowe and Dr. John B. Root. A junior section is formed by Richard S. Mason, W. W. Goetsch, Jr., W. LeRoy Cooper, Jr., Raymond P. Monsalvage, Jr., James Russell, Robert Peterson and Arthur Branan, Jr.

Mr. Mason said the Florida Audubon Society was established in 1900 for the preservation of Florida bird life. The organization advances its interests through the medium of an education program which reaches into the schools and

Night Baseball Prospects Loom Bright Locally

Possibilities that baseball fans of this city would be given the opportunity of watching the national pastime under lights next season loomed brighter today as officials of the Sanford Baseball Association were considering seriously a plan for equipping the local park with lights.

A conference with a representative of a large electric light manufacturing company is scheduled for President H. M. Watson and Secretary James A. Wright on the first of next month.

Should plans be formed for the equipment of the local park with the nocturnal system, it is an advanced fact that larger crowds will turn out to watch the Lookouts perform against other teams of the class "D" Florida State League.

President Watson declared today that he is expected to have the largest attendance at the local park for games next season, than had ever before witnessed seasonal baseball in this city.

The local club has an affiliation.

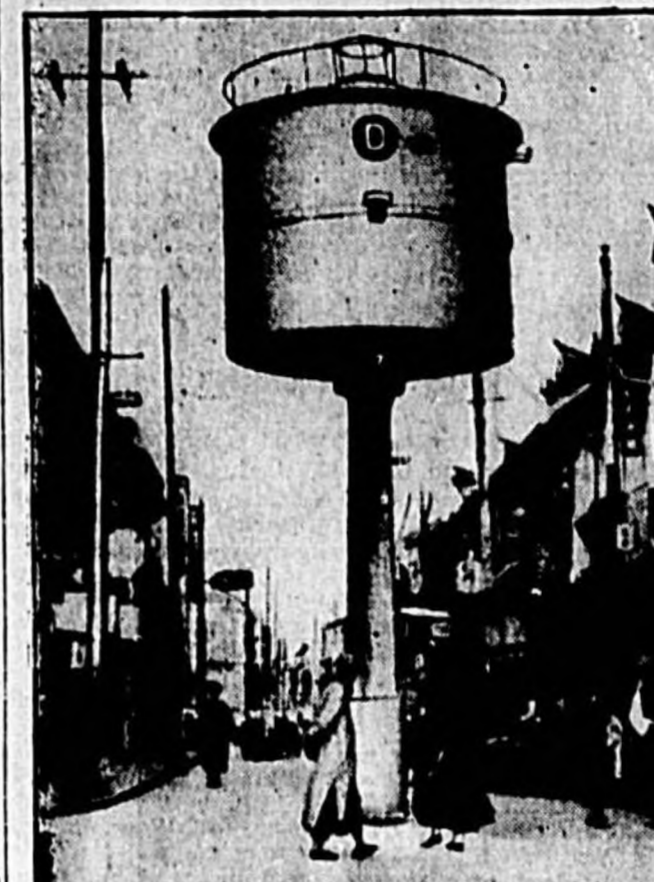

Commission Talks Routine Matters

A regular bi-monthly session of the City Commission is scheduled for 7:30 P. M. Monday, according to an announcement today from Frank S. Lamson, city clerk.

Considerable routine business has accumulated since the last assembly, Mr. Lamson said, although several meetings have been held for special purposes and ordinary matters deferred until a regular session.

Farm Credit Group Reports Excellent August Collections

While obligations in Florida totaling $27,227 fell due in August, the Farm Credit Administration collected $80,317, it was reported here today by S. E. Andrews, secretary and treasurer for the organization in this area.

Seminole County collections were equal, in percentage, to state collection, Mr. Andrews added.

Julius H. Scarborough, president of the Federal Land Bank of Columbia, S. C., where the loans are handled, announced through the local office that in some instances the excess payments collected during August were made on past due installments.

In other instances, it was reported, payments were made in advance of due installments. Mr. Andrews said this evidenced a desire on the part of farmers to free their farms from debt as soon as possible.

One Million English Pounds Purchased From Russian Market By Treasury

Secretary Morgenthau revealed in Washington that although foreign exchange dealings were virtually at a standstill, the Russian State Bank moved to depress the British pound by offering 100,000,000 pounds "at any price."

Morgenthau said he immediately bought the sterling but this was not until unofficial trading in New York found the pound dropped to $4.91 from yesterday's close of $5.02. Wall Street quarters said they did not know the reason for the Russian move.

The pound quickly rallied to around $4.96. Wall Street authorities said the United States is interested in keeping the British pound from dropping because it would directly affect the value of the dollar.

Morgenthau said he hoped France's effort to revalue her currency would lead to better world marketing conditions and peace.

Mandamus Served On City Seeking Payment Of $7,480

An alternative writ of mandamus, a routine affair, commanding the City to pay $7,480 in satisfaction of outstanding bonds, had been served today on City officials.

Litigation was brought by Nat T. Wagner, R. M. Winters, C. T. Diehl and Kenneth M. Keefe, L. Eugene Shands of Jacksonville represented the plaintiffs.

In the writ signed by Judge Millard B. Smith, the City is to pay the amount from revenue derived from the municipal water plant, or it must show sufficient reason for not complying with the court order.

The mandamus is regarded as a purely routine court measure generally followed by a majority of holders of municipal bonds-prior to any municipality making up a year's budget.

Two other routine mandamus have been served on the City within the past two weeks.

Townsendites Hear Orlando President

President Ritzky of the Orlando Townsend Club last night explained the function of the Townsend movement and its benefits to a group of about 100 persons who were present at a dinner at the Sanford Townsend club.

Mr. Ritzky expressed the opinion that the movement is a strong factor in shaping the destiny of the nation, pointing out that it is receiving new converts daily.

A covered dish supper preceded the address.

The Curtain Rises

Although there were scattered games throughout the country last Saturday, the 1938 gridiron season really gets started today with important inter-sectional and sectional football contests on tap. No other sport in American athletics has the distinctly thrilling flavor of this national pastime which is characterized not alone by the spectacular physical aspects of the game, but also by the brilliance of color and the ecstatic excitement of the football crowds.

As a contest, football offers the maximum enjoyment to those who love to see great physical effort between opposing forces skillfully functioning on the greensward. No other sport provides such bruising contact between players and at the same time possesses all the elements of speed and dash. No greater thrill can come to a fan than to see a hula-hipped halfback streak down the sidelines for a touchdown.

As regards the pomp and panoply which goes along with gridiron contests, no event can electrify a town to the extent that a big football game can, and no game ever draws out such a preponderant number of good-looking women, such displays of clothes and such quantities of flowers. There is something in the air when two ancient gridiron rivals are to meet to settle their annual score, something unbelievably nerve tingling, like a tonic, if you please, that would make Aunt Susie leave her sick bed to pitch for Brooklyn.

This is the football panorama which annually parades before the American public. It is a panorama that is entirely pleasing and it is a panorama we should all strive to keep "pleasing." There is, however, a hidden menace ever lurking to ruin any sport, especially a collegiate sport, and that is professionalism and its attendant evils. As long as college football players attend school with the idea of learning and along with this learning to play football, and play it as hard as they can, then the sport will be in no danger. But if the converse is true and athletes go to college merely to play on some team with no regard for the intellectual phases of the school, then football will become a business, and the sport will die.

Still Opportunities

It has been freely said in recent years that the opportunities of today are not what they used to be. This point of view is usually taken by those who have let some opportunity escape them and are looking around for a good deal. The Palm Beach Post expresses the opinion that a man has as good a chance now as he ever did to accumulate wealth. Writes the Post:

"In the old days, goes the cry, a man could roll up a fortune in no time at all. Take John Jacob Astor, for instance. He went out with practically not a piece of paper money in his pocket, sold a few furs, and built a bank account that reached from here to there.

"He wasn't the only one. There's Henry Ford, who uttered around with machinery until he awoke with millions and the Ford car. There's also John D. Diamond Jim Brady, Henry Flagler, and many others who started with little, ended up with more than much.

"Well, coming away from the influence of the wailing wall, we can see the same thing happening today. There's Jimmy Braddock, who had to go on the relief rolls for a while before he staged a fistic comeback and found himself in the money. There's a young man named Lord, who has an estate in Beverly Hills that is far from being a cottage small. There's a Walt Disney, whose Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck proved to be keys to big bank accounts. And these are only a few; the list will stand many additions.

"Perhaps, say those who refuse to leave the wailing wall, this is a matter of luck. These men received the breaks, they took advantage of strokes of fortune others may never get.

"Yes, but they had something the public wanted. They had ability to produce, to give or do something that could be made into a public demand.

"As the vaudeville expression goes, they clicked. And it takes more than a little good luck to click—on the stage or off."

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Telford have returned to the city and are living in their home on Magnolia Avenue. They have been spending the summer at Astor.

The many friends of Miss Florence Frank are glad to see her home after spending the summer at various points in New York state, part of the time in the Adirondack mountains and at the beach.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Brossard and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dickson of Orlando were in the city Saturday spending the day with friends and relatives.

Will Stringfellow and Reg Holy left last night for Jacksonville where they will spend the day at the Overland agency and bring two new cars back with them. One of them will be the new Overland Six which is said to be a beauty.

Kent Pendleton, superintendent of the Florida Anti-Saloon League, in a statement recently, claimed the submission of the prohibition question to the Florida voters in 1918 is assured.

Mrs. Samuel Puleston opened the fall social season on Friday afternoon with a beautiful tea and bridge party in honor of Mrs. D. L. Thrasher who leaves Sanford next week to make her home in Tampa, and Mrs. Charles Bell of Atlanta, the attractive guest of Mrs. G. D. Bishop. Mrs. Puleston was attired in white lace over silk taffeta; Mrs. Thrasher wore a charming dress of light green macramute and Mrs. Bell was lovely in a gown of white lace with white satin trimmings. Assisting with refreshments were: Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Margaret Wright, Gretchen Schultz, and Olga Schultz.

Asbury Park Judge Ousts Reporter From Court Room, Charges Ridicule

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Sept. 24.—(AP)—City Police Judge Eugene Capibianco ordered an Asbury Park press reporter from his courtroom Thursday and announced that any reporter from the newspaper "who comes into this courtroom will be dealt with severely."

The only time the Asbury Park Press puts my name in the paper is to ridicule and embarrass me," he said at the opening of court Thursday morning, addressing the reporter, James P. Nolan.

"The Asbury Park Press doesn't mean a thing to me and no Asbury Park Press reporter will be permitted to come into this courtroom and no Asbury Park Press reporter will be allowed to look at the docket of this court. Any Asbury Park Press reporter who comes into this office will be dealt with severely. It is my duty to tell you to leave the courtroom."

"If I find any police officer giving you any information as to any of these cases or concerning anything that goes on in this court, I'll deal with him also," he added.

"No man can say I've done anything that isn't proper. I'm not afraid of the press, Lyle Kinmonth (the publisher) or his mouth. I'm not going to permit the press, Lyle Kinmonth and his cohorts to bring me before the public in ridicule and embarrassment."

The press conferred with its counsel to determine its course of action.

CANDLELIGHT
 By NINA OLIVER DEAN

Candler, N. C. Driving through Georgia—paper and pen and the usual pen-and-ink in the cotton with chimney of rock and clay, also along the roadside—an art cart drawn by a patient black stevedore—wells all along the way, some with massive old oaken buckets and some with just plain tin-tubs and rows of peach trees and fields of sweet smoking hay—old Uncle Remus looking sharply with a plow and white mule passing an instant to look up overhead at a silver plane flashing by under the noon sun.

Macon—city of white columns—Southern colonial homes, classic, simple, gracious. Gainesville—destroyed by a tornado last April rebuilding—Phoenix-like rising from its own ashes—prosperous and busy. Just outside Gainesville, the Chipmoke textile mill—a model factory with its own community stores and charming a houses for its workers—wide stretches of green lawn—brick homes with shrubs and gardens—the atmosphere of a pleasant well kept college campus—reminiscent of the Shawheen model village of the American Woolen Company at Andover, Massachusetts.

And Atlanta—where the Old South of Margaret Mitchell's "Gone With the Wind" unites with the new progressive commercial South. New Orleans and Charleston both have the haunting wistful charm of a woman who—although she is still beautiful—remembers a great deal. There is nothing wistful about Atlanta. Her appeal is that of a young debutante with her eyes on a very busy future.

Atlanta—where 102 passenger trains, 24 air planes, and 112 buses come and go daily—where the opera and the dogwood both bloom in the Spring—where Bobby Jones and other famous golfers add glamour to sporting courses—where Knory is led by Dr. Cyrus W. Strickler, who have found success in Central Florida—where Georgia Tech studies its sciences and plays football host to the nation—where the federal prison stands, grim, stone-walled and watch-towered—where Fort McPherson, headquarters of the fourth corps area of the United States army, has regimental football teams—where the Piedmont Driving Club is the scene of horse shows staged by the combined efforts of such well known Georgia horsemen as John King Oglethorpe and other army officers from Fort Meade—where the "Wren's Nest" still stands to remind one of Joel Chandler Harris, the creator of Brer Rabbit—where Stone Mountain reaches toward the sky with the confederate memorial carved on its side—and where the Constitution is as much a party of the city as the transcript is of Boston.

"The Atlanta Constitution," now published by Clark Howell and formerly published by his father, Evan Howell, recalls the golden age of Southern journalism—the days when Joel Chandler Harris wrote editorials that showed the same good common sense and salty wit possessed by Uncle Remus—the days when Henry W. Grady of the Constitution staff made his famous speech on the New South at the New England dinner in Boston—the days when John Temple Graves, father of the brilliant young editor of the Birmingham Age-Herald, wrote his intensely human and well loved column, "Just from Georgia" in the "Constitution." I think the author of "Just from Georgia" would be very proud of the author of "This Morning!"

And now bringing Georgia journalism up to date—here in a cabin on a mountain-side in North Carolina—I just met the editor of the Savannah News and Press—Mr. Hershell Jenkins—the one who won fame during the Democratic convention for his widely quoted editorials.

Alabama College Professor Asserts Kidnap, Flogging

CLANTON, Ala., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Joseph S. Gelders, former University of Alabama physics instructor, charged from his cot in a Clanton hospital Thursday he was kidnaped and beaten by three men Wednesday night for his activities as secretary of the Committee for the Defense of Political Prisoners.

Dr. V. G. Gregg said Gelders was badly beaten about the face and body, with stripes across his back apparently from a leather strap.

State Highway Patrolman Wallace Whites said Gelders about 37, was badly hurt, that several teeth had been knocked out, but he was not in a critical condition.

"King Football" Enters Central Florida Circles

College Football Takes Limelight In South Today

Rice Meets L. S. U. In Leading THT Of American Gridiron

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—(AP)—College football will muscle into the fall September sports argument in a big way today.

Instead of yielding most of the athletic platform to current debates on international peace, baseball and politics, the undergraduate pugna chasers claim a substantial share of the floor with the best slate of games ever listed for this early stage.

The so-called "breather" contest still abounds, particularly in the East, but it isn't what it used to be in the boom days.

Today's football slate finds three of the championship teams of 1937 meeting in intersection opponents of outstanding calibre, while the conference races in two principal sectors, the South and the West, get under way with preliminary sparring.

Minnesota's Colling Gophers, co-champions of the Big Ten and claimants of national honors over a stretch of three unbeaten seasons, have against Washington's Huskies, touted by many as favorites to win the Pacific Coast Conference until this season.

Shifting to the Southern front, the two conference titlholders, Duke and Louisiana State, enter the formidable intersectional form in games that should attract mid-season attendance as well as a national interest.

Duke will be host to Colgate's Red Raiders in a match that figures to develop an unusually interesting pre-view of the football taught by two of the games outstanding strategists, Wallace Wade and Andy Kerr.

Louisiana State has a score to settle with Rice Institute and figures to do it, inasmuch as the Owls no longer have those touch-down twins, Bill Wallace and John McCawley. The Baton Rouge Tigers also are minus two headliners, Abe Mickel and Jess Fatherson, but they are better fortified with replacements. Last year L. S. U. went on to kick all remaining opposition and win the Southeastern Conference title after a 17-7 setback from Rice. It should be off-and-on today.

Stanford's defeat by Santa Clara is forecast in one of the West Coast's headliners but this hardly would be an upset, if it develops. The Palo Alto Indians lost 16 of last season's 23 lettermen, including All-American Bobby Grayson, Keith Topping, Monk Moserip and Bob Reynolds.

Southern California may be headed back for the Coast heights but its showing against Oregon State will shed more light on the subject. The Trojans get a long-range vote, along with Washington, State, which meets Montana in another conference match.

Yankees Reign As Favorites In Series Battle

But Hubbell Quoted As 4 To 3 Against Terrible Sluggers

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The New York Yankees are favorites to win the World Series but the prospective appearance of Carl Hubbell in the box has made the Giants the choice for the opening game in the Polo Grounds next Wednesday.

With Hubbell on the mound, Jack Doyle, Broadway leechmaker, yesterday quoted 5 to 3 against the Yankees and 5 to 3 against the Giants. For the series, however, Doyle quoted 11 to 20 against the Yankees and 13 to 10 against the Giants.

Midtown offices of the Giants and Yankees were deluged with ticket requests. Staffs of both clubs were working a 24-hour day.

A sellout of box seats was announced by both clubs. They are, however, that the supply of reserved seats is far from exhausted.

Maximum capacity will be 107 for the stadium and 11,330 for the Polo Grounds. Assuming capacity every day and a six-game series, a new world series record for attendance receipts will be assured. Total attendance in that case would be 370,860 compared with the current record of 228,011 set in 1925 by the Yankees and St. Louis Cardinals. The present record of $1,207,864 for receipts set in 1925 likewise would be eclipsed.

Giants officials would not reveal the roster of any box holders, but Ed Barrow, secretary of the Yankees, disclosed two names. President Roosevelt and George Herman Ruth.

"Sure, we put a box back for the Babe, and also ordered 50 or 60 pairs of reserved seats," Barrow said.

President Roosevelt will attend the third game Friday in the Yankee Stadium.

Though there was no definite information forthcoming from Manager Joe McCarthy, observers believe he will start either Vernon (Lefty) Gomez or Charlie Ruffing in the opener.

The Giants will play their final two games of the season against the Brooklyn Dodgers here Saturday and Sunday.

HAPES BROTHERS ALL SET FOR TULANE GREENIES

When the University of Mississippi goes up against the Tulane Green Wave in the outstanding Southeastern conference game September 25, the Hapes brothers will be in the thick of the fighting. "Old Miss" Clarence (left), 225-pound fullback, no doubt will be called upon to do the bulk of the punting. Brother Ray (right), better known as "Snake Haps," was the conference's leading scorer last season and big things are expected of him at left halfback this year. (Associated Press Photo)

Get Something There!

Not of the "I told you so" type, but in a way we are proud of our Georgia Tech jackets, who ran rampant over a supposedly strong Presbyterian College eleven last night for a 55 to 0 triumph.

That devastating victory by the Golden Tornado is merely a light display of their power, for they used their first 22 men, for only about half of the game, during which time, Scrappy Edwards, hip-sliding half-back from Macon, Ga., came through with two long runs for touchdowns.

The Gator boys brought out a passing attack aided by a display of laterals, triple and double, such as has never been seen before in southern football annals.

Coach Bill Alexander and his able backfield assistant, Bobby Dodd, former All-American at Tennessee, have certainly taught their proteges a few things about handling the ball, from all write-ups of the game, it would appear that the Techsters played a game of basketball instead of football.

As for this writer, we are very much in favor of the more widely open system of play, for it will cut down injuries and bring about a much more interesting game for the spectator. But, we would be willing to venture that many of the southern coaches and their players will wish they had never seen a lateral and a pass when Coach Alex's Yellow Jackets got through throwing them all over the place.

We picked before and wish to keep our pick, Georgia Tech as the 1938 Champions of the Southeastern Conference. Speed, to burn weight, plenty of it; brains, a group of smart technology students; and power, nothing like it since the '25 edition of the Golden Tornado, will place them far and above the best that Alabama, Kentucky and the L. S. U. have to offer in the gridiron.

Harold McGrath, a Britisher, probably knows nothing about baseball, but he once authored a book called "The Man On The Box"—and that fellow turned out to be quite a hero.

Some time soon there will be several fellows on two boxes and those slight rises in the terrain of the Polo Grounds and the Yankee Stadium—and that copy Speer Martin both have strained and ent chin is still in the process of healing, while his brother, Willard, has a bruised shoulder.

Coach Bradly Cowell, however, was pleased yesterday afternoon with the manner in which the Hapes brothers are rounding into shape.

Minor injuries are going to crop out if you scrimmage them, the vagaries of baseball that anything is possible in a short so they'll be able to take it in a series. The power hitters on the side are likely to be stopped cold by opponents who are supposed to be weaker at the plate, and they again they may make life miserable for any pitcher who takes the mound.

In answer to the Hubbell threat, the Yanks have two excellent moundmen in Monte Coaches Cowell and Freeman are Pearson, now enjoying his best season, and Charlie Ruffing, a 20-game winner whose consistency of work remains to be done on any all season has given McClelland a tremendous edge over the American League foes.

McClelland Stars In Stetson Drill With Long Gallop

Sanford Youth Also Shows Up Well In Passing Practice

DELAND, Sept. 24.—A small crop of injuries was appearing in the Hatter camp yesterday as Coach Bradly Cowell gave the Stetson squad its third scrimmage in a many days. Although none of them is serious, the hurts served to keep five men on the sidelines during the session.

Most of the injured are expected to be ready for stiff work again Monday, for practice today will have a chance to rest up over the weekend. Stewart Ryan is nursing a charley horse, Harris Lowery and Speer Martin both have strained abdominal muscles.

Bob Anderson's ent chin is still in the process of healing, while his brother, Willard, has a bruised shoulder.

Coach Bradly Cowell, however, was pleased yesterday afternoon with the manner in which the Hapes brothers are rounding into shape.

Minor injuries are going to crop out if you scrimmage them, the vagaries of baseball that anything is possible in a short so they'll be able to take it in a series.

National League partisan or hope is it true what they say about American league pitching. There's a belief, or maybe it's a hope, that inferior flinging has made those big Yankee bats more potent than they really are.

If this is true, and if the lesser half of the Giant staff returns to effectiveness, the senior loop entry will have an above-par chance to cop the series.

But, if the Yankees prove that they can go after any kind of pitching, the series is likely to break up in six games, which we believe it will.

However, the big play begins Wednesday, so don't take up word for it, see for yourself, or rather, hear for yourself.

LAKE CITY, Sept. 24.—Hopes for another great Columbia High School eleven were revived here yesterday when a much-improved Tiger football machine defeated Coach Frank Hancock's scrappy Jasper aggregation by a score of 14 to 0.

Exhibiting a polish and accurate execution of plays visibly lacking in their encounter with Newberry last week, Hobart Houser's eleven at times gained at will on the field. The first quarter saw an exchange of punts and line bucks by both Lake City and Jasper. However, early in the second quarter Cumbe, Tiger tack evading an opposition, skirted right end for 30 yards and on the next play carried the ball to the two-yard line where Littlefield bucked it over for a touchdown. Hill's place kick for extra point was good.

Again in the second frame Cumbe figured in the Lake City scoring by tossing two passes, one to Knox for 30 yards and the other to Littlefield for 20 yards. Cumbe in the next play scored standing up after a run of 18 yards. Cumbe's line plunge for extra points was good.

Coach McLewis' tribe will withhold their strength and speed for their forthcoming tilt with the fast Eustis eleven scheduled for the local field next Friday afternoon.

Many teams, headlined as favorites have failed to come through in their warm-up games and at now rests that Landon of Jacksonville and our own Celery Feds will be co-favorites to cop the Northeast Florida Conference championship, with the Jacksonville eleven given no better than an even chance against the heavy and speedy Seminoles.

The locals' opponent for next Friday did themselves up a fast 19 to 0 triumph over the Mt. Dora High School team last night, but it was an unexperienced and light squad that went on the field wearing the Mt. Dora colors.

Mayberry Injured As Gators End Week's Practice

Floridians Work On Defense For Citadel Game Next Week

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 24.—Once again an injury jinx settled down over the University of Florida football squad when a freshman tackle twisted Walter Mayberry's ankle and handed the varsity quarterback a seat on the bench until next Tuesday or Wednesday. The Gators continued yesterday with a light signal drill and skeleton defense against Citadel passes.

Trainer Smokey Harper stated that unless something else happens to the junior ball carrier, he will be back in the daily practices and taking everything the rest of the squad has to hand him before the Citadel eleven comes here on Oct. 3. However, the situation seemed far from encouraging yesterday afternoon with Mayberry barely able to hobble about on the injured ankle.

Head Coach Josh Cody lined up one skeleton seven and directed it against every kind of aerial attack that could possibly originate from single or double wingback formations or the short punt line-up that the Citadel uses. Displaying the same power the Gators saw in day before yesterday's running plays, the Citadel aerials once again took Cody's gridders by surprise. Time after time passes were completed over the Gator secondary.

While drilling his lads in a few of the laterals they will include among their plays, Cody told them about a change in rules concerning lateral passes. The change states that a ball carrier cannot lateral after his forward progress has been halted and he is in the clutch of a tackler. In other words, Gator pigskin toters will have to disregard last year's rule which allowed them to get rid of the ball after being tackled.

Only ends and backs were used as Cody brushed up on pass defense. The rest of the urge University of Florida squad rattled fresh gridders in a signal drill under the direction of Lewis Hardage and Dutch Stoney.

Stanley, Harlage and Proctor will not be with the rest of Florida's coaching staff when they put the Gators through a stiff scrimmage today that Cody has been promising them all week.

These three mentors are scheduled to take another scouting trip to look over what the Citadel and South Carolina have to offer in their games with Erkin and V. M. I. Harlage will go to The Citadel contest this week while Stanley and Proctor watch the University of South Carolina.

Carlisle Hughes, senior center, donned a blue uniform, joined the "A" squad and worked out among Cody's veterans yesterday. Hughes is new at the pivot post, having played guard since his freshman year.

Minor injuries kept three more varsity gridders out of the rougher part of the drill yesterday. Rusty Smitherman, fullback; John Westberg, end; and Luke Kalel, tackle, are still laid up with bruises.

LAKE CITY WINS
LAKE CITY, Sept. 24.—Hopes for another great Columbia High School eleven were revived here yesterday when a much-improved Tiger football machine defeated Coach Frank Hancock's scrappy Jasper aggregation by a score of 14 to 0.

Exhibiting a polish and accurate execution of plays visibly lacking in their encounter with Newberry last week, Hobart Houser's eleven at times gained at will on the field. The first quarter saw an exchange of punts and line bucks by both Lake City and Jasper. However, early in the second quarter Cumbe, Tiger tack evading an opposition, skirted right end for 30 yards and on the next play carried the ball to the two-yard line where Littlefield bucked it over for a touchdown. Hill's place kick for extra point was good.

Many Teams Open Year Last Night And Yesterday

Lake City, Orlando, Daytona Beach And DeLand Take Opening Tilt While Celery Feds Prepare For Eustis

By JIMMY CHAPMAN
"King Football" made an auspicious debut into the circle of Central Florida high schools yesterday afternoon and night, even though our own Celery Feds were not among the list of openers.

Coach McLewis' tribe will withhold their strength and speed for their forthcoming tilt with the fast Eustis eleven scheduled for the local field next Friday afternoon.

Many teams, headlined as favorites have failed to come through in their warm-up games and at now rests that Landon of Jacksonville and our own Celery Feds will be co-favorites to cop the Northeast Florida Conference championship, with the Jacksonville eleven given no better than an even chance against the heavy and speedy Seminoles.

The locals' opponent for next Friday did themselves up a fast 19 to 0 triumph over the Mt. Dora High School team last night, but it was an unexperienced and light squad that went on the field wearing the Mt. Dora colors.

Over in Orlando, a light but speedy group of Tiger gridders ran roughshod over the Apopka team for a 32 to 0 triumph, while a strong Leesburg eleven duplicated that score over Groveland.

Coach Bob Pittman's Bartow eleven suffered a 12 to 6 setback at the hands of the Ft. Meade High School team yesterday afternoon, while Lakeland's smooth running aggregation was walloping a slow group of Kissimmee Kowboys by a 65 to 0 score.

Simultaneously with the debut of the nation's favorite sport into high school annals of this section, an unheard debut was also made into the southern college gridiron, as a fast and steady group of Yellow Jackets from Georgia Tech traveled to a 55 to 0 triumph over Presbyterian College.

Kentucky Tigers also won their second straight by a 21 to 0 score over Xavier, while Temple defeated Centre, 50 to 7.

So, as the "sport of youth" came into our midst, preparations were being made to accommodate the howling crowd which will pack the stands as our own stars go into action next Friday against the Eustis seven, with the local machine ready to start rolling off a series of touchdowns which they hope will not be stopped this season, at least, not until they have conquered the Orlando Tigers in a decisive victory.
