

Trading Activity Not Reported At Minor Loop Meet

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 5. (AP)—There has been no trading activity as yet at the 44th Minor League Baseball Convention. And it's quite likely that no trades involving big league players will materialize.

Most of the delegates to the convention insist that they are interested only in selling ball players, and they are willing to talk only in terms of hard, cold cash.

As a result, nothing much is expected to happen in the way of trades until the major leagues gather in Chicago next week.

One question scheduled to come up at the minor league meeting, which opens tomorrow is an amendment which would make the head of the minor league, W. G. Frimham, the final ruler in all differences in the minor league, the head of the threshold.

The amendment also would take away from Commissioner Happy Chandler the right to buy out all restrictions which he considers detrimental to baseball.

Another problem involves the classification of various leagues. The Southern Association is scheduled to become a double-A league. The three class double-A loops, the International, Pacific Coast and American Association - want a new triple-A rating. In fact, the Pacific Coast league even is talking of major league status.

The minors may be willing to give the Pacific Coast loop such a rating. A third major league would mean another market on which the minor circuits could dispose of their ivory at fancy prices.

If the Pacific Coast League should get such recognition at the minor league meeting, the idea would come before the major league meeting in Chicago next week. Any opposition can be expected there, for the American and National leagues unquestionably will take a dim view of any attempt to cut in on their exclusive rights.

Marking 'Em Up

IN SPORTS
With JULIAN STENSTROM
HERALD SPORTS EDITOR

Many people have been wondering why this column is continually advocating recreational improvements in Sanford and why we are not satisfied with things the way they are now and have been during the past ten years.

It's a fair question, we will admit, but here's the reason and we make "no bones" about it. Today there are lots of young men coming home from the armed forces where they have been given recreational activity and facilities in the back. They have learned to participate in many various types of recreation as a daily habit. These men don't necessarily need recreation in order to live, but you must admit it helps them to keep in good physical condition.

Many of boys left Sanford from three to five years ago and have returned to find Sanford's recreational facilities about the same as when they left. Yet, the city's financial condition is much better than it was then. Meanwhile little has actually been done to provide the necessary facilities for recreational activity.

This city of ours has every possibility in the world of really amounting to something if we'll get out and push it along a little. Everyone has got to do his share, the old citizen, the middle-aged business man and the returning veteran. If this column didn't think it could be done and didn't think the final result would be worth fighting for at the present time, we would leave Sanford today.

All of us in Sanford have got to realize that if we don't take the offensive now and promote our city along recreational lines, the boys returning from all parts of the world will leave here and settle down elsewhere. We're not bragging through our hats either. If you care to investigate, you will find that some have already left.

Many of these boys were stationed in or near large cities and they found that they were progressing. They found that the older people were proud to show them around. The veteran saw the greener pastures. He discovered places where he would be welcomed and assisted in getting into a business of some sort. He found towns and cities where he would have a varied assortment of recreational facilities and above all he found cities and towns with adequate hospitalization.

We don't have those advantages here now but there's no reason why we can't. We're willing to fight for them and fight hard because we know they can be accomplished in some day we'll all be able to take pride in the work that has been done.

We believe that a definite recreational program will be forthcoming in the near future and that immediate steps should be taken to revive the fight for a local hospital. We further advocate that the local civic organizations enlarge their memberships with young, energetic men. Although we realize that the Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis have some young men in their clubs, we believe there should be more. We want the younger people to get right in there and work with the older people.

Yesterday we talked with one Sanford man who brought out a very important point. He said the biggest job we have here is to sell Sanford's people. We agree with him 100 percent. Once the citizens have been sold on Sanford, there would be no limit to the progress this city could make.

We have got to get away from the old feeling that has prevailed in Sanford these many years. Whenever something is brought up before the people, the old familiar cry begins "It won't work! It won't work!" Why certainly not! Did you ever see anything work by itself?

Weather Is Big Factor In Orange Bowl Game

MIAMI, Dec. 4.—One of the most important factors in any football game is the weather and for Orange Bowl teams it's a contributing factor.

Ideal weather conditions prevailed 11 straight years since the game's beginning and a check of the Miami weather bureau reveals that only one time since establishment of the bureau in 1912 has there been so much as a shower New Year's afternoon.

The finest offense in football becomes a mired-down, ineffective outfit on a wet and muddy field. Likewise, the nation's best passing attack isn't worth a Confed cent dollar when the rains are falling or the field is slippery. A fast field means runners can hold their feet, break more quickly and cut back when the occasion demands. Also, passers can toss the dry ball more accurately and receivers catching tasks are made much more simple.

This will mean much to the Orange Bowl game, which will be played on a wet and muddy field. Likewise, the nation's best passing attack isn't worth a Confed cent dollar when the rains are falling or the field is slippery. A fast field means runners can hold their feet, break more quickly and cut back when the occasion demands. Also, passers can toss the dry ball more accurately and receivers catching tasks are made much more simple.

Past statistics indicate that the ideal conditions to the utmost advantage. Georgia Tech's powerhouse eleven didn't defeat Tulsa in 1945, but established a new yardage passing record by traveling 319 yards via the air ways. Tulsa, the victor, 29-12 displayed a more balanced attack, gaining 199 on the ground and another 157 through passes.

In what, perhaps, was the greatest offensive spree in any bowl grid classic, Alabama and Boston College stormed up and down the Orange Bowl's green turf for a total of 634 net yards. The victors, 37-21, Alabama, poured to 277 yards more by ground and added 97 more by passes while Boston College got 249 on the turf and 147 through the ozone.

Georgia's great Orange Bowl team of 1942, however, holds the offensive record of 340 net yards gained. Frankie Sinkwich led his team to a 40-26 triumph over TCU. The Bulldogs enevolved 179 yards rushing and added 201 by Frankie's expert marksmanship.

U. S. Agrees To Aid Britain With Huge Sum

Loan Of $4,400,000,000 Would Be For Fifty Years At Less Than 2 Percent Interest

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6, (AP)—British and United States government representatives have placed their signatures on a loan agreement for financial aid to Great Britain. The amount and terms of the loan have not yet been disclosed in Washington, but the London press has stated that the amount is $4,400,000,000. Treasury Secretary Vinson signed the document for the United States, and the British ambassador, Lord Halifax, signed for Great Britain. Official announcement of the signing, however, has not yet been made and the State Department has declined to comment on it.

LONDON, Dec. 6, (AP)—The United States has agreed—subject to congressional approval—to lend Britain $4,400,000,000. Acceptance of the loan is subject to approval by the British Parliament.

No official announcement of the loan has been made yet, but British newspapers are filled today with details of the plan. An official announcement is expected today by the two governments.

According to the versions printed in the British papers, the United States plans to lend Britain the money for 50 years—the first five years being interest-free. The loan is to commence in 1946 and after five years the British will have to pay two percent interest annually—about $88,000,000. The loan has been hailed as a boon to world trade by the British press, although some of the newspapers have commented editorially on the plan. But the story implies that the plan has met with approval for the loan have been going on between American and British financial experts for 12 weeks and fears had been expressed only recently by the British that the loan talks had bogged down.

Henry W. Wollcott Assumes Duties As OPA Rent Official

Henry W. Wollcott of Detroit, Mich., recently arrived to assume the office of area rent representative of the OPA, at the Sanford Armory.

E. C. "Bud" Smith said today that he had been compelled to resign this position in order to be able to give full time to his furniture business.

"I wish to express my appreciation to landlords and tenants for the patriotic co-operation that they gave the office while I was in charge," Mr. Wollcott said today that he was fond of the Florida climate, as at one time, he and Mrs. Wollcott lived in Bradenton for three years. They have one son in the Army Air Force and another son who is with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and a married daughter who lives in Birmingham, Mich.

15th Navy Airplane Is Reported Overdue

FORT LAUDERDALE, Dec. 6, (AP)—A sixth airplane is reported overdue by the Navy as hundreds of air and surface craft scour the Atlantic coast in search of five Navy torpedo bombing planes missing from Fort Lauderdale since late yesterday.

The five planes were due back at their base but reported by radio yesterday that they had only enough fuel for about 75 minutes of additional flying.

The sixth plane reported missing last night officials have not said how many men were with the plane or how many were with the missing bombers—but each pilot and a radio-gunner.

At Jacksonville's Naval Air Station, Rear Admiral Ralph Davison has named a board of investigation to seek details of the missing craft.

A number of Sanford fishermen have notified their intention of holding the Orlando Marine Club Saturday, which will have a carnival that will include a street parade at 1:00 P. M., a barbecue dinner at 2:00 P. M., for the club and their families and a dance at the club.

Full Employment Local Youth Is Bill Suffers Big Reverse In House

Measure Is Revised To Make It Mere Shadow Of Former Self

What started out eleven months ago as the so-called "full employment" plan has dwindled to a mere shadow of its former self, as it rests now with the House committee in Congress.

President Roosevelt favored the plan in principle when Senator Murray of Montana offered it in the Senate almost a year ago. President Truman was for it, too. Shortly after the Murray bill, Representative Patman, Democrat from Texas, introduced an identical measure in the House.

Both these bills read: "All Americans able to work and seeking work have the right to useful, remunerative, regular, and full-time employment and it is the policy of the United States to assure the existence at all times of sufficient employment opportunities to enable all Americans who have finished school and who do not have full-time household responsibilities freely to exercise this right."

After kicking around in the Senate for months, the bill finally was passed in a greatly watered-down version, one which the phrase, "the right" to full employment. Now, the bill read, people were "entitled" to an "opportunity" for full-time employment.

But even so, the house expenditures considered the bill at bit too strong. This week they approved a version far less fulsome, even than the measure passed by the Senate.

In general the bill passed by the Senate and the one pending in the House would do this: provide federal jobs as a last resort to prevent wide unemployment. This could be done through a "If the House passes its version, House and Senate will have to get together and make their two bills like. But the House won't be doing anything about it now until next year.

MITCHEL FIELD, N. Y., Dec. 6, (AP)—The Deputy Chief of the Army Air Force, General Carl Spaatz, says that this country must recognize the political power held by 13,000,000 veterans and their families.

Spaatz told a conference of Army Air Force officials and representatives of civilian organizations yesterday that it must be remembered that ex-servicemen are young and susceptible. They will listen to those who promise them what they want, said the General, or to those who promise to remedy their real or imagined wrongs. Spaatz added that discontentment makes for trouble waters in which unscrupulous politicians like to fish.

FBI MAY INVESTIGATE
MIAMI, Dec. 6, (AP)—South Florida OPA Director Dr. James Thomas has requested FBI investigation of charges that the OPA in Miami had "called off" probes on matters "bordering on the criminal." In a letter to National OPA Administrator Chester Bowles, Dr. Thomas has suggested investigation by the administrator or any other government agency designated, such as the FBI.

High Ranking Japs Named As War Criminals

Prince Konoye And Marquis Kido Are Among Nine Under Arrest By Allies

TOKYO, Dec. 6, (AP)—General MacArthur reached up to high level today to tag two of Japan's most powerful political figures as war criminal suspects—Prince Fumimaro Konoye and Marquis Kido. Both men are being named by many Japanese themselves as top war criminals.

MacArthur directed that the Japanese government arrest both men and turn them over to Allied authorities. Other high-ranking Japanese also were ordered arrested by MacArthur.

The Japanese had hardly recovered from the shock of MacArthur's announcement when they received another. The Japanese Communist party announced it would release its own list of war criminals Saturday. This list includes Emperor Hirohito and his empress.

Konoye has been premier of Japan three times and was regarded as one of Nippon's most prized "front men" for the militarists. Kido was Hirohito's right hand man and was instrumental in naming many premiers, including General Hiroki Tojo who succeeded Konoye just before Japan attacked Pearl Harbor.

The others ordered by MacArthur are: Vice Admiral Takao Goto, unofficial Japanese envoy to Germany; Shigen Oishi, long time political economist; Taketora Ogata, a leading Japanese journalist and vice president of the Tokyo newspaper Asahi; Viscount Hasegawa Gohki, industrialist; Lieutenant General Hiroshi Oshima, former Japanese ambassador to Germany who just got back to Tokyo today from internment in the United States; Count Tetsu Maeda, member of the cabinet of Peers and Yakichiro Suma, a long time diplomat.

In the Japanese diet, meanwhile, Premier Baron Aijuro Shiyanara admitted that his government was in the Allied lists of war criminal suspects. And he said he had no information on how many persons the occupation authorities intended to indict or try.

Infantile Paralysis Tag Day Will Be Held Saturday

Under the sponsorship of the Pilot Club members of the Junior Class of Seminole High School will have charge of the "Tag Day" for the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, to be held on Saturday, Dec. 8.

The Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation is operated by a non-political, non-sectarian Board of Directors of national scope, consisting of public spirited business, medical, and professional men and women from many walks of life, giving freely of their time without compensation. The Foundation in Minneapolis, founded by Sister Elizabeth Kenny, who works many hours daily without compensation, is supported through public generosity only.

Fifty percent of the collection from the tags will be sent to the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation in Miami to further the work there and help in purchasing additional hospital beds, in the training of qualified registered nurses to become expert Kenny technicians, in defraying the cost of treating some child stricken with the disease by the advanced Kenny Method, or of moving him to the Institute from some distant state.

State Department Picketed By Communists

HOLDING PLACARDS, Communist pickets parade back and forth in front of the State Department Building in Washington. Santa Claus Scheduled To Arrive In Sanford Dec. 15

Santa Claus is coming to town! Not only is it reported that Santa will visit Sanford on Dec. 15, but he is also expected to bring a number of gifts to the children of the town.

The first hint that Santa would come to Sanford was received from John Evey, local shoe merchant, following a meeting of the Sanford Merchants' Association last Friday, in which it was planned to give Santa a hearty welcome when he arrives here on Dec. 15. Due to the fact that there has not been a good show in Florida since 1899 when Fred Wilson, local attorney, got in a snowfall fight in front of the court house in Bradenton, Santa will arrive by motor, rather than by sleigh.

Santa will enjoy seeing the colored lights in downtown Sanford and hearing music from a band and speaker unit operated by J. E. MacAlexander, and sponsored by the Merchants' Association.

From now until Christmas merchants have been urged by the Association to keep windows lit during evenings, according to Frank Shames, secretary.

In regard to the 1839 snowfall in Florida, Mr. Wilson recently said that not only was the snow several inches deep, but that it remained on the ground for about three days, during which time Florida boys took full advantage of it to have snowball fights.

Herman Goering's Mercedes Will Be Displayed Monday

The powerful Mercedes Benz that once belonged to the German Luftwaffe Chief, Marshal Hermann Goering, will be on display in Sanford next Monday afternoon, 3:30 o'clock at the corner of First Street and Magnolia Avenue.

The display is sponsored by the Florida War Finance Committee to encourage participation in the Victory Bond Drive by citizens of this state.

The car is a convertible sedan, bullet-proofed with armor plate and thick non-fracturing glass. It weighs 8,200 pounds and is powered by an eight cylinder, twin ignition, 160 horsepower motor and is capable of a speed of 125 miles an hour.

The car was captured at Laufen, Germany, by Sgt. Joe Azara of the 29th Armored Force Ordnance detachment.

Reginald Goodie and his Provincetown Players, Blat Goodie and Kennecott Pains, will repeat their performance of "Murder Without Crime," in their improvised little theater in the Pico Hotel lobby Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:30 P. M. and Saturday at 2:30 P. M.

Pearl Harbor Facts Given By Marshall

Chief Of Staff Saw Need For Greater Air Power In Hawaii Early In '41

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6, (AP)—Spokenmen for churches, labor unions and veterans' organizations, appeared before the House Military Committee today to oppose legislation for peacetime compulsory military training. They recommended that an attempt be made to outlaw universal military training throughout the world.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6, (AP)—General George C. Marshall told the Pearl Harbor Committee today how for many months before the Japanese attack he had tried to build up the defenses in Hawaii. The former Chief of Staff said that early in 1941 he decided to send almost all the P-36 fighter planes available in this country to the Pacific outpost. As early as February, 1941, he had forewarned at meetings of Army and Navy men that Hawaiian defenses were not all they should be.

Marion County Service Officer Addresses Group

A meeting of the Veterans Committee of Seminole County was held yesterday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of discussing methods to improve the type of service now rendered to returning veterans by the committee.

Chairman Ned Smith introduced Edmund H. Martin, Service Officer of Marion County. Mr. Martin related the experiences he has had since being connected with the OPA office and outlined the various types of service now being furnished veterans, returning to Marion County.

Mr. Martin recommended the employment of a full time service officer for Seminole County at a salary large enough to attract a capable man since assisting the veterans is a large task in the work to be taken seriously.

Mr. Martin answered numerous questions regarding the benefits and services available to the veterans.

Mr. Smith pointed out that though the service rendered to veterans of Seminole County has been handled by Senator Lloyd F. Boyle with no compensation, however, the County Commission did appropriate $2,000 for the salary of the service officer's secretary and other office expenses for a period of one year.

A discussion was held as to the extent of services that could be made available under the present part-time method.

The committee passed a motion to establish a sub-committee to study plans for a more extensive program of service to the veterans and submit recommendations at the next meeting. It was stated that only 38 checks in every million are forged. "If every merchant exerts the care he should in cashing checks for strangers, this figure could be brought even lower," said Chief Williams.

A recent Secret Service bulletin stated that 41 percent of apprehended forgers in 1941-45 were persons under 21.

GM And CIO Resume Negotiations Today

DETROIT, Dec. 6, (AP)—Officials of General Motors and the CIO United Auto Workers are resuming their negotiations this afternoon, and th outlook generally is optimistic. CIO President Philip Murray says that all points in dispute will be covered. A citizens committee that was invited by the union to look into the dispute issued a report today, saying that the full possibilities of collective bargaining had not been exhausted.

Renewing of negotiations follows announcement in Washington of a new government wage-price policy allowing manufacturers to apply for price increases to offset wage boosts.

Meanwhile, President Truman's strike-prevention legislation is before the House Labor Committee today. Public hearings likely will be held and approval is expected.

The greatest danger to peace of the world is not the fascists or communists or territorial ambitions or anything like that, but simply the fact that too many people in the war was the greatest benefit, the biggest holiday, the most wonderful thing that ever happened to them. All their lives they will be looking back, and perhaps longing for, the return of the good old days, the war time prosperity.

Congressman Hoffman of Michigan thinks he is smart. He is making the high cost of living simply by not buying anything. That may be good business and it may not. Let's get some of these things now, before they are gone. We say that without fear of successful contradiction.

Cost of War

A combat toll six times as great as in World War I and greater than that of the combined combat deaths in all previous wars the United States has ever fought is the cost in American lives in World War II, according to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. At the same time, it reports that our forces exacted a much heavier toll of the enemy.

In a review of America's combat losses in World War II, the Metropolitan estimates the total to be approximately 325,000. This includes an allowance for deaths among those wounded in action and for men still carried on the rolls as "missing in action," who will eventually have to be written off as killed in combat or died as a result of enemy action.

About four-fifths of our losses, or between 255,000 and 260,000 were suffered by the Army and the remaining 65,000 to 70,000 were incurred by the Navy, including the Marine Corps and the Coast Guard. Of the Navy's total, about 23,000 were in the Marine Corps and about 900 were in the Coast Guard.

Relative to their strength, however, the combat losses for the Army and Navy were more nearly equal," the company reports. "The Navy, including the Marines, had a combat toll appreciably greater than the total losses for all American armed forces in the first World War. This toll in the recent war was more than 20 times higher than Navy and Marine losses in the first World War, and the Navy alone since Pearl Harbor lost about 100 times more men than in the last war."

Army losses of 200,000, or about 80 per cent of its total, were suffered in the European theater, including Italy and North Africa. Approximately 9,000 of the Navy and Marine losses in World War II occurred in the war against Germany. The remainder of the losses, over 55,000, were suffered in actions against the Japanese and were about the same as those suffered by the Army in the Pacific sector. Practically all of the Marine losses occurred in this area.

In 1945 alone, American losses approximated 125,000. Army dead accounted for 100,000 of this toll, and Navy dead for 25,000. "No definitive figures are yet available on the comparative death losses in the various branches of the service," the Metropolitan continues. "The infantry, however, as in every previous war, bore the brunt of battle. Combat deaths in this branch of service were the highest and its rate was greater than for the Army as a whole. The rate of air force losses was the highest of all major branches of the Army, being more than 15 per cent of the Army total and in Europe nearly 20 per cent of the total.

Heavy as American losses have been in World War II, even higher losses were inflicted on the enemy. In his recent biennial report, General Marshall estimated that German and Italian dead in the Mediterranean area and on the Western front totaled nearly 375,000 in land operations, while Japanese battle deaths, some time before the fighting ended, were estimated at more than 1,200,000, figures well above the losses suffered by all the Allies on these fronts."

Pointing out that the United States was the only major belligerent to escape severe destruction of life or property in its territory, the company concludes that "the very size of our combat losses should spur our leaders in their every endeavor to develop with other nations a permanent world organization for peace."

Something Wrong Somewhere

The wise man shook his head and sighed. "It doesn't look good to me," he said.

"What doesn't?" "These plans," he said, "for giving everybody something for nothing. I see by the papers that the President wants everybody who works for wages to have a raise, without having prices go up. Then I see by the papers that the farmers are expecting a new kind of parity that will give them a bigger income. Then I see by the papers that the President wants all the federal job holders, and all the congressmen and senators, to have raises. And, finally, I see by the papers that they are going to cut my income tax by 8 per cent.

"I can understand how wage earners might get raises, farmers might get a more favorable parity, and jobholders might be given more pay, if I were made to pay through fingers crossed when I add it all up and find that everybody even including an ordinary taxpayer like me, is going to be getting something for nothing. There must be something wrong somewhere."—Baltimore Sun.

Local Red Cross Needs Coupons Or Sugar For Candy

Sugar or sugar coupons are wanted at Red Cross headquarters on the Lake front to complete a 50 pound quota necessary to make candy for soldiers in the Welch Hospital at Daytona Beach according to Mrs. O. P. Herndon, chairman of the Junior Red Cross. Thirteen more pounds of sugar are needed, she said, and added that they had not been able to secure ration stamps for the sugar from the local War Ration Board because all sugar records were called into the Jacksonville office on short notice. Even small amounts of sugar, such as a cup-

Newsprint Control

By Editor and Publisher

While government controls of raw materials and production volumes are being thrown out the window wholesale in every industrial field, the newspaper industry is practically the only one remaining to be so regulated through Newsprint Order 1-240.

Anyone who has read the articles in recent issues of Editor & Publisher concerning the newsprint picture here and abroad does not need a diagram to point out that the situation is discouraging. Not only are we unable to obtain satisfactory shipments of paper and pulp from Scandinavia to supplement our own production, but we are sending newspapers to Europe and our domestic newsprint mills are turning out a pretty dark supply picture for the newspapers of this country to face considering that 1-240 might automatically expire at the end of this year, if it is not terminated sooner.

If that event should take place, we will have the worst scramble in the newsprint market since 1920. There would undoubtedly be some "hogging" of paper by more favored users. Many papers would be caught short—probably retain any paper. The situation the smaller ones—unable to obtain border on chaos with the resulting clamor by some newspapers for further government control.

The situation in Canada is better. Production is increasing gradually but even the best of the reports state the total supply available from all sources in the last quarter of this year will approximate only 90% of the 1943 consumption figure. That is a pretty dark supply picture for the newspapers of this country to face considering that 1-240 might automatically expire at the end of this year, if it is not terminated sooner.

Mrs. C. R. Kirley, Sylvan Lake; Mrs. J. C. Hall, 203 East Tenth Street; Miss Lurla Ramey of Yowells; Mrs. Rebert Dennis, 305 Holly Avenue and Mrs. W. H. Husted, 304 West Fifth Street.

NO NEWSPRINT CHANGE MONTREAL, Dec. 5. (AP) Spokesmen for the Canadian newspaper industry said yesterday that removal of export controls on newsprint will make little change in allocations and that jobbers and publishers can expect forthcoming shipments to remain approximately the same as current ones.

FARM CROPS UP Commissioner of Agriculture Nathan Mayo released statistics today that reflect the increase of Florida's wartime output over its peacetime production. During 1944, Mayo says, Florida's fields, groves and forests yielded products worth $405,512,000 more than 1,000,000 above the value of 1944 harvest.

REV. MARK CARPENTER ADDRESSES WOMAN'S CLUB AT ANNUAL LUNCHEON

Rev. Mark Carpenter, rector of the Holy Cross Episcopal Church, in a Christmas message to the members of the Sanford Woman's Club yesterday at the annual luncheon, business meeting, said that reverence and humility are the two most needed qualities in life. He suggested that at Christmas time people are particularly drawn together in worship but day after day in living the year round they sometimes fail to give thanks. He added that God is patient and is always pointing the way. If people are good, they will have a good world, but if they are better people, they will have a better world.

Mrs. H. W. Rucker, president, opened the meeting with a Christmas message of cheer and read "The Night Before Christmas." The members voted to buy additional silver and it was announced that an election of officers could be held in February for the departments and in March for the club. Guests were introduced and letters of appreciation from Sup't. T. W. Lawton and Mrs. J. C. Mitchell were read concerning the teachers' dinner party which was given recently by the club members.

Reports were heard from Mrs. O. P. Herndon, Mrs. M. L. Cullum, Mrs. E. B. Clements, Mrs. Roy Tillis, Mrs. George McCall, Mrs. B. C. Moore, Mrs. C. H. Dawson, Mrs. A. M. Phillips, Mrs. C. L. Redding, and Mrs. J. W. Hall.

Margaret Dingfelder, president of the Les Soeurs Club, which is a junior club sponsored by the Women's Club, reported that the club had been organized and was at present aiding civic organizations with the sale of TB seals. She also welcomed requests for services of the Les Soeurs and reported that dances were scheduled for Dec. 14 and 25.

The officers of the newly organized club include Vice-President, Betty Jo Brock; Secretary, Evelyn Mathews; Treasurer, Lillian Boyle; Parliamentarian, Daphne Connelly; Chaplain, Jean Williams; House Committee Chairman, Nancy Williams and Press Chairman, Myra Southward. The advisors are Mrs. C. R. Dawson, Mrs. H. H. McCallin and Mrs. John Eick.

Mrs. J. B. Root read the scripture and Mrs. Francis E. Bolz, fine arts department sponsor of the program, spoke briefly concerning the universal joy of having the soldiers return from the war. Mrs. J. L. Ingley and Mrs. A. M. Phillips sang a duet, "There Were Shepherds" by Wilson accompanied at the Steinway by Mrs. Roy F. Smye after which the group sang Christmas carols.

The club house was beautifully decorated by the civic department with arrangements of poinsettias and holly. Individual tables were centered with red candles and arrangements of holly. A lighted Christmas tree on the stage with a shower of gifts for the Children's Home in Jacksonville under the leadership of Mrs. E. E. Bolz, and Mrs. J. N. Gillon.

Approximately 85 members and guests were served by the following hostesses and sponsors: Mrs. John Lee, Mrs. C. H. Winn, Mrs. Irving Feinberg, Mrs. A. L. Lyon, Mrs. J. H. Reipath, Mrs. J. E. Wathen, Mrs. Endor Curlett, Mrs. F. E. Bolz, Mrs. Basil C. Moore, Mrs. J. B. Root, Miss Irene Hinton and Mrs. C. L. Redding.

"Me... I'm staying in the Army!"

THERE ARE PLENTY OF REASONS... AND HERE THEY ARE!

ANNUARY 31, 1946
 AN IMPORTANT DATE FOR MEN IN THE ARMY

Men now in Army who reenlist before February 1 will be reclassified to present grade. Men who do not reenlist will be discharged on that date.

1. First, keep your present grade. 2. Reenlist for 3 years if you are in the Army, Air Force or Service Forces, and can go to any overseas station that you wish. 3. Let me understand you, even though I'm reenlisting. 4. My food, clothes, quarters, medical and dental care are all supplied to me. 5. I can learn any of 200 skills or trades in the Army schools. 6. All of us who are reenlisting are going to have from 20 to 60 days' furlough of home with full pay and our travel paid both ways. And we'll have 30 days' furlough every year with pay.

YOU MAY ENLIST AT ANY TIME FOR 2 OR 3 YEAR PERIODS. (One-year enlistment is made only in the Army with less than 6 months of service.)
