

Frank Sinatra, Juliet Prowse Set Engagement

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Frank Sinatra will play Romeo to dancer Juliet Prowse when they marry sometime "in the near future."

The thin singer announced Tuesday that he and the leggy dancer-actress became engaged last Monday.

Sinatra and the willow Miss Prowse met in 1959 during the filming of "Can Can" in which the singer costarred with Shirley MacLaine. Juliet had a supporting role.

Shortly after the picture was completed Sinatra and the dancer became steady dates. Last year the 44-year-old singer and Miss Prowse, 28, broke up. When the romance cooled Sinatra dated Marilyn Monroe and actress Dorothy Provine.

It was only in the past month that Sinatra and Juliet made up their differences. After announcing they were engaged the singer said he would let his fiancée name the wedding day.

The marriage will be his third. His first wife was Nancy Barbato, whom he married in 1939 when he was a $15-a-week singing waiter. They have three children, Nancy (who married Tommy Sands last year), Christina and Frank Jr.

In 1951, eight days after his divorce from Nancy, the singer married glamor girl Ave Gardner. It was a stormy union which ended in a 1957 divorce.

Miss Prowse was among the dancers on the set of "Can Can" who drew criticism from Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev during his September, 1959, visit here. While engaged in the can can, the chorus threw their skirts up over their derrieres, causing Khrushchev to observe that in Russia one looked at a girl's face instead of the back of her lap.

Several Train Wrecks Reported

By United Press International
Several wrecks and derailments hit the nation's railroads Tuesday killing at least two persons and injuring several more.

Aurelia, Iowa, had the worst of the accidents, in which one person died and two were injured seriously. At Agnew, Ill., a train crewman was killed when a fast freight plowed into a local freight.

Other accidents were reported at Bellwood, Ill., Delaware, Ohio, and Sylva, N. C. Trainmen theorized a broken rail or ice on a wheel flange may have caused a speeding Illinois Central passenger train to plunge off the tracks into a farm field near Aurelia, Iowa. Expressman John Nelson of Sioux City, Iowa, was killed. Two other crewmen were seriously hurt and eight other persons, including five passengers, were less seriously injured.

At Agnew, Ill., a Chicago and Northwestern Railway 2-car fast freight slammed into a local freight train halted at a grain elevator, killing Merle F. Flynn, Clinton, Iowa, the conductor of the local. His chest was pierced by a metal splinter as he sat in the caboose.

At Sylva in North Carolina's mountains, railroad employes speculated that icy tracks may have been responsible for derailment of 18 cars of a Southern Railway freight train. There were no injuries.

At Delaware, Ohio, two wheels fell off the third car from the end of a 60-car Chesapeake and Ohio freight train. There was no derailment but the car dropped to the rails, tearing up the ties. There were no injuries.

In Bellwood, Ill., trainmen blamed a frozen switch for the derailment of an Indiana Harbor Beltline locomotive, which jumped the track and crushed several cars of a freight train standing on a parallel track. There were no injuries.

The beluga, a sturgeon found in some European rivers and in the Caspian and Black Seas, is the world's largest freshwater fish.

Flu Outbreak Feared; May Close Schools

County Without Health Director

Seminole County, without the services of a full-time health director, was faced today with a serious flu or virus outbreak which had caused concern to doctors and school officials.

Sanitarian Val Robbins told the Herald that part-time health director W. N. Sisk was in town Tuesday and won't be back until Friday afternoon.

"If it gets any worse," Robbins said, "Dr. Sisk may be forced to conduct an investigation." Robbins also said that he checked with local doctors and they are "concerned with the problem."

The county has been without a full-time health director since the county commissioner fired Dr. Clyde D. Brothers more than two months ago.

Dr. Sisk had been utilized for part-time services. He is currently with the Orange County Medical Staff.

Supt. of Schools R. T. Milwee said today that although the flu outbreak has not reached epidemic proportions, "it is serious."

The flu virus which has hit Seminole County, causing heavy absenteeism at school and work is identified by US Health Dept. as Type B virus.

The disease here has all the earmarks of the Type B virus, local doctors report. It is characterized by dizziness, fainting, vomiting, diarrhea, ear ache, headache, sore and aching muscles, sore throats and fever.

"If you get the flu, stay home. Do not go back to school or work until all symptoms have been gone for at least two days," emphasized a local physician.

Tax Collector Gets 'Good' State Audit

The county tax collector's office received a "good" audit from the state today for the period from May of 1958 until May of 1961.

State auditors are currently working on the audit of the County Commission and will then audit the records of the clerk's office.

State Auditor Bryan Willis found that "all collection of records in John Galloway's office were properly remitted."

Collections of occupational licenses were "diligently made" and that commissions billed were "generally accurate."

The state found that the tax rolls were properly closed and that records and cash control were "good."

They also found that retirement contributions were promptly remitted to the retirement system.

Services Friday For Cdr. Gear

Memorial services for Cdr. Bud B. Gear will be held at 10 a.m. Friday in the Chapel at the Sanford Naval Air Station, according to an announcement by Cdr. Louis "B" Hoop, Jr., acting commanding officer of Heavy Attack Squadron Seven, of which Cdr. Gear was commander.

Cdr. Gear's AJJ Vigilante plunged over the side of the Carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt Tuesday night after the landing gear collapsed when his plane touched the carrier's deck.

The Naval Air Station will be open to all civilian friends of Cdr. Gear.

The search for Cdr. Gear was terminated late yesterday evening by the carrier and her escorts.

Kennedy Asks Income Tax And Tariff Cuts

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy asked Congress today for an array of new economic tools, including discretionary power to cut tariffs and reduce personal income taxes, to strengthen the free world against the Communist offensive.

In his State of the Union Message to the newly convened lawmakers, Kennedy said a cold war armistice "seems very far away."

He also requested federal financing of mass immunization against disease and a new concept of public welfare to shift federal emphasis from direct relief to rehabilitation.

Kennedy renewed in strong terms his request for federal aid to education for public school construction, teacher salaries, loans for new college buildings, federally financed college scholarships and a new nationwide attack on adult illiteracy.

He seemed assured of getting a college aid program but the public school plan apparently was dead, killed by last year's controversy over extending it to parochial or private schools.

Top item on Kennedy's foreign agenda was trade. He proposed a new five-year plan to replace the expiring Reciprocity Trade Act. It would gradually eliminate certain tariffs in return for similar concessions by the European Common Market.

Tariffs in other areas would be reduced by as much as 50 per cent.

Weather Raises Absentee Rates

Seminole County Schools may be forced to close in the next few days unless excessive absenteeism due to cold weather and sickness stops, Supt. of Schools R. T. Milwee said today.

Milwee said that the county is losing thousands and thousands of dollars per week because of the excessive absenteeism and that "if the situation worsens we will consult health officials about the possibility of closing the schools."

Milwee said that absenteeism in the schools has been more than 12 percent in the past 10 days.

Normally it runs about five percent, he added.

The county school system gets money from the state based on the average daily attendance and for every 180 pupils absent loses almost $200 per day.

A poll of schools around the county by the Herald finds the flu virus has hit the county and hit it hard.

School principals report absenteeism is running from 10 to 40 percent of enrollment, with as many as 10 to 15 children a day in some schools having to be sent home, with attacks of vomiting, headache, fainting, dizziness and other symptoms.

Seminole High School has been hard hit, with more than 200 students out every day this week, as well as several teachers. Sanford Junior High also has had as high as 20 percent of the enrollment out, according to Principal Hugh Carlton.

At Pinecrest School, Mrs. Margaret Reynolds, principal, reports that five full classrooms or 145 children are absent today, and she is busy taking more home. Besides the flu virus, children in Pinecrest have also been hit with chickenpox and measles.

At Southside School, there are 100 children out today. Enrollment there is 600, and absenteeism has increased steadily all week, Mrs. Velma Mitchell, principal says.

At the Westside Grammar School, Principal Freeman S. Ggett says absenteeism jumped from 89 yesterday to 115 today, and more going home from school, as upset stomachs, headaches and dizziness assail pupils.

At Lake Mary, Lake Monroe, Wilson, Hopper Academy, Crooms and Altamonte Springs Elementary the outbreak has been mild so far, with about five to 10 percent of the children out, which is not too high above the average daily attendance.

But the Jackson Heights Negro school in Oviedo today reported 160 pupils absent out of an enrollment of 400, or about 40 percent of the entire school out. This was a jump of 71 over yesterday's 95 out.

Longwood School principal John Angel also reported that his absenteeism is on the increase with the sick pupils up to about 15 percent and a steady stream of sick youngsters coming into the office to be taken home.

Oviedo school's score is also increasing daily with 92 yesterday and 115 today, putting them at about 20 percent absent.

School principals said that adjustments have had to be made on classwork and homework to try to ease the burden on make-up work. Seminole High has this week been taking the SCAT, Scholastic-College Aptitude Tests.

Fear 3000 Buried In Peru Landslide

HUARAZ, Peru (UPI)—A gigantic avalanche cascaded down the rain-soaked slopes of towering Mt. Huascaran late Wednesday, devastating half a dozen mountainside villages and possibly burying more than 3,000 persons.

Police and army officials who reached the scene said they feared all those caught in the slide had perished.

Col. Humberto Ampuero, chief of emergency services, said the villages were buried under a mountain of mud, ice and rocks, interlaced with uprooted trees. The mass was 40 feet high and half a mile wide.

"It's like a scene from Dante's Inferno," Ampuero said.

Darkness and heavy rain made rescue efforts impossible during the night, but relief planes stood by in Lima. The army was sending in an engineer battalion.

The villages had a total population of about 3,100 persons, almost all of whom are poor.

The death toll from the week-long weather onslaught reached at least 114.

The Southland's spring vegetable crop was all but ruined.

Kennedy Facing Casiro Decision

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy must decide soon whether the United States should try for sanctions against Fidel Castro's Communist regime at the Jan. 22 American foreign ministers' conference.

Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk have held the first of a projected series of conferences on the subject.

But just 12 days from the opening of the conference at Punta del Este, Uruguay, it appears that the United States has not decided whether it should risk its prestige in backing an unpopular call for sanctions, or accept a lesser measure that would draw wider support.

Sermons In Stone, But Not Sanford's Rock Garden

Federation's View: The Devil Take It

The executive board of the Sanford Federation of Garden Clubs met Wednesday and members officially agreed that they did not like the rock garden at the triangle at 25th St. and Park Ave.

Controversy flew thick and fast as the matter was aired concerning the club's feeling about the "beautification" of the area, which has long been an eye sore in the community by City Public Works Director Sid Richard.

It was the expressed opinion of some of the members of the board that the garden clubs had "passed up their opportunity to beautify the site to their own satisfaction when they failed to do anything about the spot before the city "fixed it up."

The controversy has raged around City Manager W. E. Knowles office since the huge rocks were first hauled to the site and "arranged" a few weeks ago. Plantings of cacti and other "dryland" shrubbery have also been added in strategic placement about the rock garden.

The resignation of one garden club official was tendered as a direct result of the quarrel between the city and members of the garden club, when sharp criticism was leveled at the city for its "lack of taste and its ignorance of the techniques of proper landscaping."

A poll of store managers and property owners around the business district shows that feelings are mixed on whether the big brown rocks are an improvement or an eyesore.

One shop manager said that most people have told him that they like it.

"Anything is an improvement over what was there before," was the usual comment.

Other remarks ranged from "It looks like hitching posts for camels," to "It looks like Arizona to me," to all kinds of complimentary remarks from shoppers in the area.

11 'Trapped' In Mine Blast

HERRIN, Ill. (UPI)—Rescue workers emerged from an explosion-shattered coal mine today and said there were no survivors among the 11 men trapped below.

William Orlandi, Illinois state director of mines and minerals, said most of the dead miners were found at the end of a 500-foot tunnel, huddled near an air vent 168 feet below ground.

The men of the second shift of the Blue Blaze Mine Co.'s No. 2 mine apparently never had a chance when the blast erupted with a roar Wednesday night.

Despite the obvious slim odds, a life-line of rescue workers burdened with oxygen tanks had risked death in searching for any possible survivors.

The explosion site was 2 1/2 miles northwest of Herrin and a mile from the smaller community of Cartersville. Herrin is 90 miles southeast of St. Louis.

The Blue Blaze mine had been called a blessing when it opened in the economically depressed Illinois region called "Little Egypt" six months ago. But shortly after 6 p. m. CST, Wednesday, a choking ball of hot, black smoke well-ed from the mine shaft.

Pieces of shredded timber and mangled steel fell from the smoke. The window of an auto 30 yards from the pit-head was shattered.

Death underground was no stranger to the people who waited above.

At West Frankfort, Ill., scarcely 20 miles away from the Blue Blaze mine, 119 men died when the New Orient Coal Mine blew up on Dec. 22, 1951. At nearby Centralia, Ill., 111 miners died in another coal mine explosion.

'Money Like Gossip,' Tucker Tells Students

"Money is like gossip," T. M. Tucker, president of the Florida State Bank told a class in Consumer Economics at the Vocational School Wednesday. "It has to be spread around to be effective."

Tucker said that when goods and services are in balance, economy is in balance and when they are out of balance, either inflation or deflation occurs.

He cited the example of inflation in instances where there is more money than goods, and lots of money buys very little.

In contrast is the deflation, where a little money buys a lot but even a little money is very hard to get.

Tucker said, however, that it is dangerous to oversimplify facts and then went on to bring the ever-widening scope of the travels of money from work to banks, to homes, to corporations, to government, savings institutions, lending institutions.

He also brought out the exchange of goods for services or for protection, or for other rewards.

Tucker said that some of the problems of balance were the freedom of choice of the consumer, natural disasters, wars, technical changes, and deficit financing.

He pictured the commercial banks of America as shock absorbers, helping to keep everything in adjustment and balance.

Air Rescue Unit Reactivation Set

ORLANDO (UPI)—The Air Force announced Tuesday reactivation of its 41st Air Rescue Squadron, to be equipped with three teams of parachute-skid divers that could drop into the ocean and help recover astronauts and their space vehicles.

Brig. Gen. Joseph A. Cunningham, head of the Air Rescue Service, announced from his headquarters here that the unit was being reactivated because of increased flying activity and increased use of the service in the U. S. Aerospace program.

The unit will be based at Hamilton Air Force Base, Calif.

Indian Dies On Way To Promising Career

WASHINGTON (UPI)—John B. Kellias was on his way up in a world that had offered him few breaks in a 38-year life.

His father was Hawaiian, his mother a Paiute Indian from Nevada. He was an orphan before he could read and many nights he went to bed with a stomach growling with hunger.

He was a proud youngster, proud particularly of his Indian heritage. He vowed to help his people if ever he could.

When World War II came, Kellias enlisted in the Air Force and there he learned the art of gunnery. After the war, he scrimped to put himself through the University of California at Berkeley.

In 1950 he signed on the Bureau of Indian Affairs, working mostly in Albuquerque and Gallup, N. M. Four years ago he took his wife and four small children into the cold New Mexico mountains to supervise 1,200 Jicarilla Apaches on a reservation near Dulce.

The Jicarillas were reticent people, so shy that some would hide in the bushes when a stranger approached. As their superintendent, Kellias directed a carefully planned tribal program. For one thing, he insisted on strict budgeting of each family's income.

Months ago, the Interior Department picked him as a finalist for the coveted Arthur S. Flemming Awards, given annually to the 10 most outstanding young men in government. His supervisors believe Kellias was the first Indian ever to be singled out for this recognition.

Last week he traveled to Washington for the Flemming interviews. On Sunday at his hotel he complained of heartburn. He bought some medicine at a pharmacy and when that did not help he walked to a nearby clinic. No doctor was there so he flagged a cab to the nearest hospital. A heart attack killed him on the way.

Mourning his loss, Indian Affairs Commission Philboe Nash said: "At 38, John Kellias was one of the most promising young men in the Bureau of Indian Affairs and clearly stood on the threshold of an outstanding career in government."

Kellias's wife, children and friends will bury him today in Santa Fe.

The organization hopes to salvage as much of the crop as possible in order to pay for the labor involved in hoeing and cleaning up the grove to get it in top shape for production.

manifest when latest innovations in the county telephone facilities will permit citizens of Geneva and Oviedo to place local calls to both communities and to Sanford.

Calls from Geneva or Oviedo to DeBary, however still will be long distance, according to Bob Shedd, Southern Bell manager for this area.

Western Electric and Southern Bell men and women are following a tight schedule in order to place the extended service in effect on time, Shedd said.

The completion date will follow by just a few days the delivery of Sanford's 1962 edition of the telephone directory, which will be a larger three column version instead of the familiar two column book now in current usage.

Shedd said that so far, everything has gone very smoothly and he expects no real problems in connection with the changes.

One price for progress, however, is that Oviedo and Geneva subscribers will be doing more dialing since all local calls can be completed only after utilizing all seven digits of the desired numbers.

Installation of officers will be conducted at today's 8 p.m. meeting of the Lake Mary Volunteer Fire Dept. Auxiliary at the Fire Hall. Members and guests are invited to attend.

Local Juvenile Council Makes Over $800 In Matinee Race At Kennel Club Last Week

Greyhound races at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club last week for the benefit of the Juvenile Council established a first for the track when two dogs finished in a dead heat for the trophy and prizes awarded by Manager Jack Ledoux.

The two dogs, Hello Charlie and Topeka Rose, hit the finish line exactly together according to the filmed finish and both owners will receive the trophies.

Attending from the Seminole County Juvenile Council were Judge Vernon Mize, Robert Johnson, D. E. McCord, John Angel and Bill Thomas, president of the council.

The proceeds of the race which amounted to over $800 will go to the support of the Juvenile Council and its work with dependent and delinquent children.

The Seminole County Juvenile Council was conceived and organized under the guidance of the late Judge Wilson Alexander. Chartered in December, 1959 as a non-profit organization, its purposes are directed to promoting the general welfare of needy juveniles and in developing a better understanding of juvenile problems by the public.

The Council encourages, and endeavors to organize and operate, such agencies as are deemed advisable for the correction, training, education and placement of needy juveniles of Seminole County.

Other functions include the assistance, financially and otherwise, of correcting and rehabilitating the needy juveniles where no other means of assistance is available.

The Council does not seek to control or assume the responsibility of other organizations having the same objectives, but it seeks to cooperate closely with, and invites the assistance of, other related and interested organizations.

During the past two years, the Council has rendered aid to the Juvenile Court and other agencies concerned with delinquent and dependent children.

Financial assistance through sale of memberships and the proceeds from one performance at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club was the support of the council.

This money is used in cases referred by the State and County Welfare Offices, the Juvenile Court, law enforcement officers, school principals, and county health authorities.

The financial assistance is used in emergency situations and is used only when no other agency is able to provide the necessary assistance.

Funds are used primarily for emergency shelter, care, clothing and transportation expenses to place dependent children with relatives or other persons outside Seminole County.

In addition to this financial assistance, the Council is rendering a great service through a group of working committees. These include the:

Detention Committee—whose primary purpose is in working to maintain desirable conditions for juveniles the court has found it necessary to hold in detention.

The Foster Home Committee—whose purpose is the arrangement of temporary housing for children the court feels should be separated from their own families or who are without families.

The Special Probation Committee—whose function is to assist in the procuring of special probation officers for juveniles with special problems.

The After-Care Committee—whose purpose is to help boys and girls adjust to the circumstances that might surround their return from the state correctional institutions.

There is a great need to carry on the activities defined above and to expand the activities in the county.

Even since the beginning of the Juvenile Council in 1959, the juvenile population in the county has increased about ten per cent per year.

This increase has added alarmingly to the already crowded docket of the Juvenile Court.

During 1961 approximately 468 cases of juvenile crime were recorded, including auto theft, breaking and entering, petty larceny, truancy, vandalism, criminal assault and breaking probation.

Unconcerned and unfit parents contributed a hundred other cases to the juvenile court, involving non-support, abandonment, neglect, home conditions injurious to morals and actual lack of physical care.

Chrysler-Plymouth Division, Chrysler Corporation, announced its total retail deliveries for the calendar year of 1961. C. E. Briggs, vice president, Chrysler Corporation, and general manager, Chrysler-Plymouth Division, said Chrysler passenger car retail deliveries of 98,076 for the year exceeded last year by 19 per cent and were the highest in the last four years.

Briggs said December, with 9,474 Chryslers delivered, was the best December in the last six years and marked the ninth month in a row in which Chrysler sales have exceeded the comparable month of the previous year.

TAMPA—Garth W. Lynn, a veteran of 29 years in the intercity bus industry, has been named president and director of Tamiami Trail Tours, Inc., according to Barron Collier Jr., board chairman.

For the past six years Mr. Lynn has been executive vice president of the Florida transportation company which operates intercity bus service as Tamiami Trailways and freight operations as Tamiami Freightways. The company is a member of the National Trailways Bus System, an association of independently operated bus companies.

Fair, Feb. 6-17, includes such outstanding entertainers as Minnie Pearl, Hank Snow, the Ginny Tiu, "China Doll," Family, the famous International Auto Daredevil, and gun fighters from the Great Smoky. But that's not all. Some Mountains, thing else has been added—Walt Arfons' Green Monster.

If you dig drag racing, dad, then, like, you've heard of the Green Monster. It's a pure jet automobile, and one of the fastest "cars" on four wheels. It has 7,000 horsepower.

According to Arfons, who built the car, it has been timed at 210 miles an hour. He drives the car in exhibitions only. Never has he considered taking off to the supermarket to pick up a loaf of bread.

The first reason, of course, is speed. Then too, the Green Monster is too long at 23 feet to find a convenient parking place. Even with the afterburner dismantled, it's still too long.

Speaking of the afterburner, that also makes every day driving an impossibility. Gobbling up diesel fuel at 20 gallons to the quarter mile, it belches a 20-foot flame. Two drag parachutes are used to stop.

Until last year, Arfons said, he raced against fuel-powered dragsters, cleaning up every time. Other drivers didn't like this. They complained to the National Hot Rod Association. The NHRA forced Arfons out of racing.

But grandstand crowds at the fair will see him unleash the enormous power of the world's first and only jet dragster. He will literally blast past the grandstand on an overturned volcano, release the eutes, hit the four-wheel aircraft brakes, and stop (he hopes) short of the half-mile trick turn.

Mrs. H. L. Johnson
Rain and cold weather or cold weather and rain, either way we have had it. Oh well, guess it will be spring one of these days. If the flowers and plants in your yards look like ours they look awful. Frost sure played havoc with them. . . . Lynn and Jim Giles have had Lynn's mother Mrs. Edith Wise visiting them from Miami. . . . Talking of Miami, the ten members of the High School Glee Club along with their director Miss Ollie Reese Whittle, Saidee Williams and I had a very wonderful weekend there last week. We stayed at the Miami Colonial Hotel overlooking Bayfront Park on Biscayne Bay. In the park is a giant lighted torch surrounded by a high half round wall that has the words "The Torch of Friendship" on it. This is beautiful at night. We took the group over on the beach and down the famous Lincoln Road and Collins Ave. The youngsters, especially the girls FLIPPED when they saw "Surf Side Six." The group came home with a lot of wonderful knowledge and is now looking forward to going to district this spring. . . . Happy Birthday Lloyd Freeman. You were really a surprised person at the birthday party July Lavender had for you. . . . Jessie Mae and Herbert Muses guests Tim and Ber. Stallings have returned to the big state of Texas. . . . Our sympathy goes out to Mrs. Wilson Coleman in the sudden passing of her father, Tuesday afternoon Alene went up to tell her father goodbye before she left on her bus run and found him. He had only been with them a few days. . . . The first class in Red Cross First Aid will start at the Monroe School Tuesday beginning at 7 p. m. and lasting until 9 p. m. This course will be one night a week for five weeks. . . . The Monroe Home Demonstration Club had a very interesting program last Thursday evening at the home of Louise Thompson. Local attorney Phillip Logan was the guest speaker. He spoke on Legal Matters. I am so sorry I missed it but I was told that everyone present enjoyed every minute of it. . . . The flu and virus bug is sure going around. The junior and senior high schools have large numbers out. More than 200 out at Junior High. 40 checked out Monday morning at Senior High. This kind of weather isn't helping it at all either. . . . The tornado that struck in Crestview last week was within a few miles of the home of Rena Hawkins parents. Rena had a call from her brother George Thursday evening saying her father is seriously ill again. So she is on call to go at anytime. . . . Forgot to mention that I talked to former postmaster Annie McArthur while in Miami. She was just getting over the flu. Said she spent Christmas in Mississippi. And to be sure to tell everyone in Monroe "Hi" and that she thought of us often. . . . I see that they are working on the road again. Maybe one of these days it will get paved. The Paola road is still messed up. Seems like it takes forever and a day to get it done. But when they do, IT will be a sign of Progress. . . . Called Sammie Lou Keel to see if our talk about this wonderful town softened Ma and Pa Kendrick's any toward moving down here but couldn't get an answer. . . . While in Miami I called my brother and his family and while talking to little Francine I asked her what she got for Christmas and she replied "I got a chord organ from Santa Claus and the rest of the things were presents." Isn't that cute. Our thoughts this week is about Florida which we hope by this one is right. It was written by a man named Beach and goes like this - - "Our Friends see the best in us and by that very fact calls forth the best from us."

Longwood Volunteer Firemen Install Two-Way Radio System

Longwood's Volunteer Fire Dept. has purchased and installed a two-way radio for the use of the city's fire and maintenance departments. According to a report from Chief Claude Lajo, license to operate has been received from the FCC and the base station and five mobile units now are in operation making Longwood the only city in South Seminole County which has immediate service available to residents in case of fire or other emergencies. Lajo explains that upon receiving a fire call, this speedy network can alert all personnel simultaneously thus saving much time in getting to the scene. Should another alarm be received before the equipment returns to headquarters, the men can be contacted and redispached to the new location. Also after the first firemen's arrival at the scene the extent of equipment needed can be put in immediately giving directions for the best approach. Should a grass or woods fire, the men and equipment become endangered by being surrounded by fire or through mechanical failures, bogging down etc., help can be immediately dispatched. The equipment has been installed in the number one fire truck which is equipped with a 500 gallon pumper, 1,000 feet of two-and-one-half inch hose, 600 feet of one-and-one-half inch hose and 500 feet of three-quarter inch booster hose plus chemical apparatus. Its uses are principally for house fires. The number two truck is equipped with an 800 gallon water tank, high pressure John Beam pump capable of sending out two lines of 800 pound pressure and is used primarily for woods or grass fires. This truck also has been equipped with two high pressure fog nozzles to be used on house or building fires. Chief Lajo's car is equipped with a unit as is Assistant Chief John Farina's and Fire Marshall James Reiter's plus the city's maintenance and water vehicles. Work already has begun on acquisition of monitors to be installed in each fireman's home which will operate on the frequency of the city's two-way radio network, the chief advised. When a phone call reporting a fire is received at the base station, the dispatcher keys a dial tone over the air which sounds through the monitors and is followed by the dispatcher's description of the fire and its location. It is estimated that this service will increase response by volunteer personnel movement to fires by 75 per cent and overall better fire protection will be experienced by the rapidly growing community, he reported. Ten years ago Longwood's population was 700 people . . . today it numbers more than 2,000 according to Lajo, who adds that it is through this population increase in the city and surrounding areas that the Volunteer Fire Dept. has grown and trained diligently to give efficient service in protecting homes and businesses.

Two Die, One Missing, 37 Hurt In St. Louis Blast

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — One man still was missing and 23 persons remained in critical condition today from an explosion-caused fire which demolished a feed mill and killed two men. A total of 37 persons suffered injuries in the fire-alarm fire. The blast was brought under control early today. Urgent appeals for blood came from City Hospital where two shifts of doctors and nurses tended the injured. The inferno was touched off by twin explosions Wednesday afternoon at the Ralston-Purina feed processing granary. Firemen, their clothes caked with ice, battled through the evening and night in sub-zero weather to bring the blaze under control. Shortly after midnight fire officials estimated that 200 firemen were on the scene fighting the blaze. The two men who died in the fire were identified as Fire Captain Roy Simpson and John Wood, an employee of the firm. Authorities said Simpson apparently died of a heart attack while fighting the blaze. A company spokesman said about 50 employees were in the granary section when the first blast occurred. Following the first blast an estimated 800 to 1,000 employees, most of them office workers, were evacuated from the five-story building. Fire trucks speeding to the scene were hampered by heavy rush-hour traffic. Tons of water were poured on the building from three sides. The area around the granary and the streets leading to it became solid sheets of ice. Some 35 fire trucks poured water onto the fire. After the blaze was brought under control full fire crews continued to pour water on the smouldering wreckage.

Officers Honored
By Eastern Star

Official visit of Worthy Grand Matron Emmalu Brown and Worthy Grand Patron John F. Nicholson of the Grand Chapter of Florida was the highlight of a recent meeting of Seminole Chapter 2, Order of Eastern Star.

The evening began with a banquet in their honor at the Civic Center at 6:30 p.m., which was attended by 65 members and guests. The head table and officers' tables were arranged in the shape of a broken column, the Worthy Grand Matron's emblem. The centerpiece was a large manzanita branch decorated with varying sizes and colors of butterfiles. Fern, dotted with crepe paper butterfiles, trailed the table centers.

Place cards for the Worthy Grand Matron and Patron were ceramic butterfiles made by Worthy Matron, Helen Leinhardt, and other place cards were gaily decorated paper butterfiles. Nut cups were white on triangles of red, blue, green or yellow and bore the Worthy Grand Matron's motto "Deeds not Words." Tommy McLain, Worthy Patron, was toastmaster. "The Lord's Prayer," and a song of welcome was presented by Mrs. Joe Corley.

At 8 p.m. over 100 members and visitors gathered at the chapter room in the Masonic Building where they were honored by a courtesy in which The Worthy Grand Matron was presented a large sum of money for her project of care for Eastern Star guests at the Masonic Home in St. Petersburg. The gift was presented on a huge mobile butterfly pulled by members of the chapter. She was also presented a personal gift of a ceramic tray made by Mrs. Leinhardt, and a lovely butterfly pin from the Past Matron's Club was presented to her by a life-time friend, Mrs. Alice Click, who now lives here.

The Worthy Grand Patron, of Ocala, was presented a ceramic horse, whose saddle was a gift of money, and saddle-roll an honorary membership into the local chapter.

Mrs. J. J. Nicholson Jr. was hostess at the close of the meeting for light refreshments of punch and triangles of cake. Mrs. L. Schnabel, in charge of dining room decorations, had a sleigh made of yellow mums holding a kewpie doll at one end of the table, and an arrangement of red roses at the other.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I was recently married. It was my third marriage and his second. I never really understood what this man did for a living, and I still don't. I work every day. He drives me to work and picks me up. I make all the payments on the bills, pay the rent and save a little. Once in a while he gets dressed up and goes to "work," but I don't know where or doing what. Twice he brought home a bankroll and was very liberal with it. When I tell him I think he should get a steady job he says, "Don't worry, honey, one day I will get into something big." I am confused and worried. Can you figure it out? CONFUSED

YOU for? DEAR ABBY: You missed the boat. The husband of "Weary Mother" was not as big a tease as you suspected. He was a little confused on his facts, however. Sir Winston Churchill's MOTHER was born in Brooklyn. She was Jenny Jerome, an American actress. Not only that, but Prime Minister Macmillan's mother was also an American. Born in Indiana. Truly yours, S. B. S.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is 17, and she is a well-behaved, sensible girl. We are proud of her. When a boy telephones here and she is not home, and he asks to have our daughter call him back, should she do so? Her father and I feel that is not proper for a girl to telephone a boy under any circumstances. Thank you. MRS. J. D. B.

DEAR MRS. J. D. B.: It is perfectly all right for a girl to "return" a boy's telephone call. Are things rugged? For a personal reply, write to Abby, Box 3865, Beverly Hills, Calif., and don't forget a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

DEAR ABBY: I have fallen in love with a girl who is three months pregnant. The father of the baby will not marry her. I told her I would marry her if she would give the baby up. She turned me down. Do you think she is being sensible? BIG RED

DEAR RED: Very. If she has to give up her baby, what does she need

TV Key Previews

7:30-8:30 p. m. CBS. Frontier Circus "The Balloon Girl." Very little excitement in this pedestrian piece, saved by a good performance by guest-star Stella Stevens as a spirited girl whose air travel in a balloon falls short of her hoped-for destination when the balloon plummets to earth right in the middle of Colonel Thompson's (Chill Wills) circus. She agrees to stay with the circus if they'll repair her balloon, but Ben (John Derek) has his hands full trying to keep her from welching on her part of the bargain. 8:30-9:30 p. m. NBC. Dr. Kildare. "The Administrator." There's more psychiatry than scalpel in this worth-while hour as Kildare (Richard Chamberlain) and Gillespie (Raymond Massey) cope with the puzzling neurotic behavior of a neurotic wife (Dorothy Malone) whose unpredictability might ruin the career of her husband (Joseph Cotton) as their hospital administrator. Though Cotton gives full sympathetic dimension to his role, it's Miss Malone's acting that grabs the top guest-star honors. And though Chamberlain sustains his appeal in this one, it's Massey who comes off the stronger of the regular stars. Good in a featured role as a hospital trustee is Edgar Buchanan. 9:30-10 p. m. CBS. Tell It To Groucho. (Premiere) Groucho is back and, if possible, he's better than ever. There is not much that makes this show different from his old quizzer, since both are built around the Marx talent for soft-stabbing his guests with his quick-witted ad libs. Guests tell Groucho about their problems and peculiar-

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

Legend has it that 10,000 men are walking the streets of London with no soles on their shoes because they failed to pull trumps. My guess is that at least twice that number are walking the streets of New York in the same dilapidated condition because they pulled trumps too soon. A trump opening by West and subsequent trump leads by East every time he got the lead would have defeated the four spade contract in spite of all South could do about it. But West opened the king of hearts (you can't really criticize that opening), and South should have made the hand by the simple expedient of winning the trick and playing the ace and another diamond immediately. After that start the defense would have had no way to keep South from ruffing his last two diamonds in dummy and five trump tricks, plus two ruffs, plus three side aces adds up to ten. Unfortunately from the North-South standpoint, South was one of those players who believed that trumps should be pulled immediately. He won the ace of hearts and promptly cashed the ace and king of spades. Then he looked around, saw that he would have to ruff two diamonds and went after that suit, but it was too late. East won the second diamond and led his last trump and since only one diamond ruff was possible, South was down one.

We The Women: By Ruth Millet

"Let's stop thinking about the aged citizens of our city as problems, and consider them simply as human beings who have their problems just like anybody else." That's what a retired minister recently told a men's service organization in his community. With that one comment he seems to have summed up exactly what is wrong with the current attitude toward the citizens of our aged, as expressed often by many of us. Everybody wants to make a problem out of them. Golden age clubs are formed to keep the elderly entertained. But those can be a form of isolation where the aged are shooed off by themselves as though their useful days were over. How much better it would be if they were sought out and welcomed into existing clubs where they could be given jobs and remain an active part of their communities. We are even building special housing for the aged—again isolating them—though to live happily, they should be integrated into existing communities where they have neighbors of all ages and young children around them. We have made "retirement" a big problem, too—scaring people with the tremendous adjustments retirement will bring, instead of making it a goal that men and women can look forward to without fear. For every article you read on the joys of retirement you read hundreds on the "problems" of retirement. A great many of our older citizens have much to offer their communities. A great
