Oswald: "He then asks if you can be sure of your contract once you find there is no trump loser."
Jim: "The answer to that one is an unqualified affirmative. You simply drop the enemy's last trump, cash the high hearts and lead a diamond. The opponents take two diamonds and then must either lead a spade or give you a ruff and discard. If they lead a spade they finesse themselves."

This question is from Oregon. "I held six trumps to the ace-queen and dummy four to the jack 10. I led low from dummy. Should I have finessed after second hand played low?"
The answer is a decided "Yes." Without going into all the complicated mathematics involved we can assure you that the finesse will succeed about three times for every time you drop the singleton king.

Minimum Safety Repairs To Cost $120,000

County Given Two Years To Build New Jail

By MICK LOCHRIDGE
Herald Staff Writer

State officials Monday agreed on minimum fire safety requirements for reopening the Seminole County Jail — provided the county build a new jail within two years.

Seminole County Commission Chairman Sid Vihlen Jr. said he would recommend to the commission today to request bids for $120,000 for installation of the required safety equipment.

Vihlen said approval of the funding may come next week, pending a favorable reply on the safety plan from Louie Wainwright, director of the Department of Offender Rehabilitation (DOR) — formerly the Division of Corrections.

Once funding is approved and repairs made Vihlen said Sheriff John Polk will be authorized to reopen the jail. The minimum safety package is the same 14-point plan written by local fire and building officials a month ago when the county sought to install safety equipment in the damaged jail. "We're right back where we were," Polk said. Polk wrote a letter to Wainwright Monday outlining the 14 points and indicating the county plans to build a new jail within 18 to 24 months. He said he expected a reply next week. The requirements exclude the widening of the corridor doors on which Vihlen sought a waiver because the project would have been major construction.

Vihlen also failed Monday to find an agency with jurisdiction over the jail.

The state-approved list includes emergency lighting equipment as recommended by the grand jury, but excludes the jury recommendation for air conditioning.

The grand jury Friday released its report on the investigation of the fatal fire, finding fault with the County Commission, the City of Sanford, the Sanford Fire Department and the state Division of Corrections.

The minimum safety package is the same 14-point plan written by local fire and building officials a month ago when the county sought to install safety equipment in the damaged jail.

However, the state fire marshal's office, the City of Sanford, the county and DOR have told Vihlen they do not have such jurisdiction.

An opinion from Atty. Gen. Robert Shevin says legislative action may be needed to decide the question of jurisdiction.

The same group met at 1:30 p.m. in the commission board room where Polk presented to Vihlen the proposal for reopening the jail.

During the meeting Vihlen was persistent in securing a letter from the state agreeing to the repairs providing what Vihlen called "reasonable assurances" the board was acting within the guidelines of the state.

But, Vihlen said the County Commission must be "extremely cautious" in dealing with reopening the jail, to prevent a state agency from changing its mind about the state.

Vihlen has been seeking an agency with jurisdiction over the jail which could consider waiving state fire codes — primarily the 38 inch door provision — to allow prisoners to return to the jail without the county being held liable for lodging prisoners in an unsafe facility.

The budget, presented by Commissioner John Morris, who is a member of the Steering Committee, was for office rental and equipment, utilities, telephone service, furniture, printing travel expenses and public relations.

Jacobson Cites 'Moral Support' Of Commission

Downtown Committee Funding Request Gains Approval

By RICK PANTHIDGE
Herald Staff Writer

Downtown Redevelopment Steering Committee Executive Director Sara Jacobson today lauded last night's unanimous City Commission approval of a $3,833 committee funding request.

"I am very pleased," Jacobson said, "with the moral support of the commissioners. Since our major problem downtown has been apathy someone needs to be the pace-setter." "The $3,833 is not an operating budget," Jacobson said. "It is the bare minimum we need to get started. It only means that we can now get our office open."

The Steering Committee is a product of property owners and merchants. It is glad that the commission took so much interest in the question of how we plan to use the money we requested. It shows they are interested in what happens in the downtown area."

Before approving the three-month budget request, the commission engaged in a thorough discussion of downtown goals and indicated to the Steering Committee that the time has come to act.

Mayor Lee Moore today said the discussion of the budget request was "a message to the Steering Committee that this time it has got to work."

City Manager Warren E. "Pete" Knowles said the unanimous vote showed that "The commission is willing to spend the money needed for the project, but commissioners wanted to know just what they were spending the money for."

Downtown redevelopment, Knowles said, "will benefit the merchants and the property owner and in turn the city because redevelopment will make the base larger, and that means everyone in Sanford will benefit in the long run."

School Bus Drivers Lose In Bid For Certification To Bargain Collectively

By ED PRICKETT
Herald Staff Writer

A school bus drivers' organization in Seminole County has been denied permission from the state to bargain collectively with the school board, an official said today.

Harry Pelley, the board's chief negotiator, said he received a letter from the Public Employees Relations Commission (PERC) last Friday denying the county's 131 bus drivers' request for certification.

"The board cannot bargain as long as they're not certified," Pelley said. The association already had board recognition as a bargaining agent.

All that was lacking was PERC certification. Pelley said the reason given by PERC was that the bus drivers were "not a large enough unit."

Pelley also said he received notification today that Local 1010, AFL-CIO, is intervening in certification sought by the county's secretarial association.

Last month, the school board recognized bus drivers, secretaries and a third group of non-instructional personnel as bargaining agents.

At last meeting, a Local 1010 attorney voted to fight it out for the right to bargain with the board in Seminole.

"The board cannot bargain as long as they're (the bus drivers) not certified," Board Negotiator Harry Pelley recognized by the board. In a third development, Pelley said he has received permission to resume talks with the county's teacher organization, the Seminole Education Association (SEA).

However, Pelley said no formal decision to resume negotiations has been made.

He reiterated his former stance that all board proposals — including a $300 increase in salary for beginning teachers — remain the same.

If the two teams fail to resume talks, a special master, or arbitrator, is scheduled to arrive in Seminole County Aug. 18.

The special master assigned here by PERC is Jerome Greene of Miami. His fee, which is $200-a-day plus expenses, would be split by the board and SEA.

SRA's Steve Rosenthal said today he's "waiting to hear from Pelley" about getting back to the table.

Contacted at his office, Pelley said he was waiting to hear from Rosenthal.

Nationally renowned theatre consultant George Eisenhower of Yale University today met in Sanford with members of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce Bankers' Committee to discuss initiating a study to determine the feasibility of building a prestigious performing arts hall in this city.

"We've made the decision on hiring the man. He's obviously the expert in the field. All we need now is to finalize the financing of the study," commented Howard Hodges, chairman of the Bankers' Committee, at the conclusion of the meeting.

On May 19, Bankers' Committee Chairman Howard Hodges, member John Kridler, architect Carl Gutmann and engineer Cal Conklin visited the Van Wezel Performing Arts-Hall in Sarasota.

While there they learned from Managing Director Dr. Curtis Haug, that Eisenhower had conducted the feasibility study for the Van Wezel before any decisions were made to build the theatre.

Upon returning to Sanford, Bankers' Committee representatives decided their next step would be to meet with a professional consultant to be advised on the size, nature, cost and feasibility of constructing a theatre here.

NATION IN BRIEF

Would Have Been Doubted, Joan Little Tells Jurors

RALEIGH, N.C., (AP) — Joan Little has testified at her murder trial that she did not report a white jailer's sexual advances because she felt a black woman's word would not be taken over the word of a white.

In Washington, North Carolina, coming up as a black woman, it's difficult saying what you did and having your word go up against a white person's," Miss Little told Dist. Atty. William Griffin under cross-examination Monday.

The 21-year-old Miss Little is being tried for second-degree murder in the Aug. 27 slaying of Clarence Allgood, 62, at the Beaufort County Jail in Washington, N.C. The prosecution claims he was killed as part of an escape.

She testified Monday that Allgood forced her to perform oral sex on him before she stabbed him with an ice pick and fled the jail.

Ransom To Be Paid

YORKTOWN HEIGHTS, N.Y. (AP) — The family of missing Samuel Bronfman 2nd, an heir to the billion-dollar Seagram family fortune, has agreed to pay a "substantial" ransom demand even though the ransom letter gave no proof that its writers were holding the 21-year-old man.

Edward Bronfman, head of the Seagram Co., Ltd., received the letter Monday morning, two days after his eldest son telephoned him at his baronial upper Westchester estate to say that he had been kidnapped by three men.

At the guarded gate of the stone wall surrounding the estate, a spokesman said Monday that the family "is going on the presumption that the letter is genuine and that Sam is alive."

Import Fees Ruled Illegal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. government, collecting oil import fees illegally for the past three years, could owe every American about $5 plus a price reduction of about 4.3 cents per gallon on gasoline and other petroleum products.

But don't run out and spend that money just yet — you may never see a penny of it.

For one thing, President Ford is considering appealing Monday's U.S. Court of Appeals ruling that he does not have the authority to place fees on imported oil.

White House Press Secretary Ron Neesen said Ford would discuss the possible appeal with advisers today in Vail, Colo.

Lawyers Debate Prostitution

MONTREAL (AP) — American lawyers today discuss a proposal that would make hookers happy: rewriting the statute book so that prostitution is no longer a crime.

A resolution calling for decriminalization of prostitution in 12 of the 48 states that have such laws will be debated today by the American Bar Association's governing House of Delegates, and supporters of the move are hopeful of success.

Last year, the same governing body spurned the pleas of Margot St. James, a hooker from San Francisco and star attraction at the ABA's annual meeting even though it was held in the height of Watergate.

Viking Valve To Be Replaced

CAPE CANAVERAL (AP) — Technicians are repairing a sticky valve on a Titan 35 Centaur rocket that fired a three-day delay in the launch to Mars of America's twin Viking spacecraft.

The blastoff of the first spacecraft was postponed Monday by a last-minute test showed a valve about the size of a silver dollar was stuck in an open position. The launch was rescheduled for 5:48 p.m. EDT Thursday.

The valve is one of 24 which ring the inside of the rocket nozzle of each of two solid-fuel engines which serve as the first stage of the launch vehicle.

Manson Pushes For Appeal

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Former hippie cult leader Charles Manson is pushing for appeal of his mass murder conviction, but he says he has little hope of ever being a free man.

Manson says he has a hard time getting along with other inmates at San Quentin Prison but that he doesn't believe they are afraid of him.

"I don't think I'm basically a threat to anyone," said the man whose followers testified during a nine-month murder trial in Los Angeles in 1970-1971 that he was "perfection."

U.S. Seeks To Cut Backlog

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department is pushing U.S. attorneys to handle more tax prosecutions in an effort to reduce an 800-case backlog and free top officials to tackle corporations and big-time tax cheats.

As part of the drive, the department's tax division has trained about 120 U.S. attorneys and their assistants in the intricacies of tax prosecutions at three seminars this year and expects to continue the program next year.

"It was really an attempt to shift the trial burden out of Washington to the local offices," said Cono R. Namorato, chief of the division's criminal section.

Grape Harvest Near Record

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — California will be overflowing with grape juice again this year but it doesn't mean lower wine prices, industry experts say.

They say the price of grapes will probably drop in the near record harvest, except maybe for the prime varieties that go into the best dry wines. But they say the cost of grapes accounts for so little of the retail price of wine that a decrease cannot make up for inflationary pressures on other factors.

FBI Discounts Witness Claim

LAKE ORONTO, Mich. (AP) — Jimmy Hoffa's son claims a witness to his father's abduction offered substantial proof of the Hoffa mystery, but the FBI says it has no such witness and no promising leads.

Onie was arrested in connection with a burglary at Longwood Saw and Mower, U.S. 17-92, Longwood, and the theft of chainsaws.

Other defendants who pleaded innocent when arraigned, charges and dates set for trial are:

New Councilman: 'In Right Place At Right Time'

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
Herald Staff Writer

WINTER SPRINGS — The newest member of the Winter Springs City Council is Ernest H. Hendrix, 48, of 18 Gunter Court.

He was appointed to fill the Group 2 council seat left vacant in May after the resignation of Frank Durance, Jr., who was elected in December.

Hendrix moved to the city in May, 1974 and stepped down as chairman of the Planning and Zoning (P&Z) Board to accept the appointment. He was appointed to the P&Z in February.

Hendrix said when he became involved in the Jaycees he got interested in what was going on in the community, but had not thought about running for council.

"I guess I was just in the right place and the right time," he commented.

He has not yet decided to run for the council seat in December when municipal elections are held.

As for his decisions on the council, Hendrix says, "I try to do the best I can and do hope somewhere down the road it will be considered a good decision. I make up my own mind."

Since taking office, he said he had received a few calls from persons who felt an injustice was being done, but he said he would not call them in.

When he joined the council, he also assumed the duties of finance commissioner and was almost immediately involved in deliberations of a proposed city budget for the coming fiscal year.

"From what I've been told I feel this budgeting period is easy compared to those in the past and I would like to think I contributed to this," Hendrix said.

He says he is definitely against any raise in property tax millage or utility tax. In fact, he would like to see them lowered, he remarked.

Born in Pensacola, Jan. 10, 1944, to Charles and Lorene Hendrix, he married Victoria Elaine Wallace of Gulf Breeze Dec. 16, 1972.

Radio Equipment Taken From Two Businesses

Sheriff's detectives today were probing the nighttime thefts of radio equipment from two business locations in the county.

Deputy F.M. Stewart reported a $1,500 commercial two-way radio base station unit was taken by thieves who forced a door to enter a Houaille-Duval Wright Co. construction trailer at the new Osteen Bridge construction site on SR-415 at the St. Johns River east of Sanford.

Also reported taken from the interior of a vacant house on Willingham Road, Chulucota, early today.

Two 18-year-old Sanford women were jailed by Sanford police on $5,000 bond each on charges of breaking and entering with intent to commit a misdemeanor and petty larceny.

Detective Tom Bernosky said Rosa Lee Gainey and Mildred Elizabeth Smith, both of 1227 W. 13th St., were arrested Monday in connection with the Thursday theft of furnishings from an apartment at William Clark Court.

Bernosky said officers recovered a coffee table, end tables, shag rug, mattress, bedding and a stereo unit at the 1227 W. 13th St. address. He said the items have been identified as taken in the Thursday burglary.

Test Scores Studied

GAINESVILLE (AP) — Statistics show that male seniors in Florida's high schools are smarter than female seniors, but they're also dumber.

Dr. Jeanine Webb, who directs the statewide placement tests given to about 3,000 seniors each spring, says that boys outnumber girls by nearly four to one among this year's top 300 scorers.

But two-thirds of the 122 lowest scoring students were also boys, she said.

"When our Florida boys are good, they are very, very good," Dr. Webb said. "But when they're bad, they're horrid."

PSC Battling Again

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — After a year of public calm, the two Democrats and one Republican on the Public Service Commission are fighting again.

The Democrats, panel Chairman Billy Mayo and Commissioner Bill Bevis, issued a reply Monday to Republican Commissioner Paula Hawkins' dissent to a $46.6-million rate increase for General Telephone Co.

"We decided we could not let a dissent as fallacious as this one go unchallenged," Mayo told a news conference. The Democrats' statement was inserted in the official order on the increase, approved 2-1 last week.

Turner Attacks Government

TAMPA (AP) — Promoter Glenn W. Turner, defending himself against federal mail-fraud charges, says the government is trying "to stop free enterprise in America."

In opening arguments Monday, Turner claimed the case against him and five co-defendants "is an attack on American salesmanship and little people who want to be somebody."

All six defendants are charged with conspiring to cheat numerous persons by selling distributorships in two Turner-founded firms.

Rodman Ramp Approved

JACKSONVILLE (AP) — Controversy surrounds almost every phase of the Cross Florida Barge Canal issue, but not a proposed fishing ramp for the handicapped near Rodman Dam.

Responding to the proposal by U.S. Army engineers to build the ramp, the Environmental Defense Fund said Monday it won't object as long as the ramp is temporary and can be removed easily.

The Florida Canal Authority also gave the proposal its enthusiastic support.

Tobacco Imports Opposed

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Farmers of shade-grown tobacco say cheaper imports from Central America are forcing them out of business.

The farmers appealed Monday to the U.S. International Trade Commission for higher tariffs, saying they want to protect their industry from "slave labor" competition in Nicaragua and Honduras.

The farmers said at a hearing that the cheaper imports had forced them to cut back production of the thin-leaf tobacco that is grown under shade.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

FPL Says It Can Cut Charges If Taxes Don't Go Up

MIAMI (AP) — Florida's largest power company says it can lower customer bills next month by $2.59 per 1,000 kilowatt hours if local taxes or franchise charges don't increase.

Florida Power & Light Co. proposed a fuel adjustment charge of $1.23 per 1,000 kilowatt hours — the amount of electricity the company says is used monthly by the average Florida home.

The state Public Service Commission meets Friday in Tallahassee to consider September fuel adjustment charges — the charge for changes in fuel costs since the last electric rates were set.

Insurance Abuses Cited

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Legislators should toughen the procedure for filing insurance claims as a step toward reducing widespread abuses of the state's no-fault automobile insurance law, several insurance companies say.

The companies charging Monday that unethical doctors and lawyers were causing rate increases.

"The state is rife with abuse, and that means in some cases downright fraud and corruption," said Donald McHugh of Bloomington, Ill., general counsel for State Farm Insurance Co.

State Farm writes the biggest share of insurance for Florida drivers.

Cannonball Admirely Buried

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — "Walk tall, Cannonball, heaven will hear your sweet music now," the Rev. Jesse Jackson intoned at the funeral of jazz saxophonist Julian "Cannonball" Adderley.

Adderley was buried Monday in a small cemetery south of Tallahassee after an Episcopal Requiem Mass and Jackson's eulogy in the Florida A&M University auditorium. Adderley graduated from Florida A&M in 1944.

The 46-year-old musician died Friday in Gary, Ind., four weeks after suffering a stroke. Raised in this North Florida city, Adderley taught music in Fort Lauderdale and rose to fame in 1959 after forming his own quintet.

'LAKE' FORMS ON RIDGEWOOD

Homeowners on West Ridgewood Street in Rolling Hills, west of Longwood, are not happy over their lakefront lots, as the "lake" happens to be the street which has been transformed into a giant middle flooding yards and garages when it rains. Casselberry Buys Utility Firm

By ED PRICKETT

CASSELBERRY — General Waterworks Corporation's Seminole County operations are now owned by the City of Casselberry, acting city manager Mary Hawthorne said today.

The City Council Monday night authorized the withdrawal of funds from a St. Petersburg bank to finance the $2.2 million purchase of Greater Construction Corp.

At first Duerr refused Zacco permission to quote from a July 2 workshop meeting in which she made certain statements, but Zacco pressed on and finally read the statements.

According to Zacco, the council chairman was quoted as saying Council has a "moral obligation to plan and supply them (Greater Construction) services."

"This type of thinking brought forth the highest interest rates in the area," Zacco charged.

Duerr replied by saying the city has both a "moral and legal" obligation to supply utility services to its residents.

City Attorney Ken McIntosh said "on or before" the 18th of this month funds from the bond sale will replace money withdrawn from the South Florida bank.

McIntosh also said the city has received a commitment on its bond insurance.

For weeks city officials have been negotiating for purchase of the utility.

Contract Awarded

DELTONA — After more than two years delay, plans for the construction of a post office building in Deltona are on the drawing board, according to the U.S. Postal Service.

The contract has been awarded to Gutmann-Dragash Associates, architects of Sanford, to design the building.

The Deltona office will be a branch of the Orange City Post Office. Site for the building on the southwest corner of Deltona Boulevard and Balsam Street was donated by the Deltona Corp. in 1971.

Mobile Home Rezoning Heads Council Agenda

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — A public hearing on the controversial rezoning of an 80 acre parcel off Rinehart Road to permit construction of a mobile home park is scheduled for City Council's 7:30 p.m. meeting Wednesday.

The Planning and Zoning Commission turned down the request for the change in zoning from agriculture to mobile home park district, pointing to the tract's being a water recharge area and the prospective impact on traffic on both Rinehart Road and Lake Mary Boulevard.

Plans for the development include a water and sewer system within the park as well as recreation areas and facilities.

Other items on the agenda include a report from Councilman Lillian Griffin and Harry Terry on the proposed opening of streets into Crystal Lake requested by the fire department.

Officials To Seek Copies Of Proposed Utility Ordinance

CASSELBERRY — The City Council Monday night instructed the city attorney and Council Chairman Edith Duerr to appeal before the County Commission to find out why city officials have been unable to get copies of a proposed utility ordinance.

A public hearing on new utility regulations is scheduled for 7 p.m. today.

"We have not been able to receive that information which is subject of the public hearing," City Attorney Ken McIntosh told council members.

"Aren't they (county commissioners) required to publish those documents?" Councilman John Zacco asked. McIntosh said city officials plan to "vociferously announce we haven't had a chance to study the document."

McIntosh said in his opinion

"That ordinance is available in city hall for any and every body to see. Doesn't the county go by the same rules?" Mrs. Hawthorne asked.

County Commission Chairman Sid Vihlen Jr., told The Herald today that copies of the proposed ordinance were being typed up and would be forwarded as soon as possible to Duerr and McIntosh.

Vihlen said it was "the first I've heard of it" and said even county commissioners hadn't received copies of the ordinance.

As to the city's insistence that copies hadn't been made available, Vihlen said, "Nobody contacted me."

Vihlen said Bill Dale, the county's director of environmental services, informed him the changes were being typed up today and that no one had copies.

Duerr said she tried repeatedly, without success, last week to find out what changes are incorporated in the county's new rules and regulations regarding utilities.

Secondly, the ordinance says a transfer of certificate from a utility system to the city or county will include the sale of assets.

Casselberry and the county already are odds over the purchase of utility systems.

CASSELBERRY — General Waterworks Corporation's Seminole County operations are now owned by the City of Casselberry, acting city manager Mary Hawthorne said today.

The City Council Monday night authorized the withdrawal of funds from a St. Petersburg bank to finance the $2.2 million purchase of Greater Construction Corp.

At first Duerr refused Zacco permission to quote from a July 2 workshop meeting in which she made certain statements, but Zacco pressed on and finally read the statements.

According to Zacco, the council chairman was quoted as saying Council has a "moral obligation to plan and supply them (Greater Construction) services."

"This type of thinking brought forth the highest interest rates in the area," Zacco charged.

Duerr replied by saying the city has both a "moral and legal" obligation to supply utility services to its residents.

City Attorney Ken McIntosh said "on or before" the 18th of this month funds from the bond sale will replace money withdrawn from the South Florida bank.

McIntosh also said the city has received a commitment on its bond insurance.

For weeks city officials have been negotiating for purchase of the utility.

Contract Awarded

DELTONA — After more than two years delay, plans for the construction of a post office building in Deltona are on the drawing board, according to the U.S. Postal Service.

The contract has been awarded to Gutmann-Dragash Associates, architects of Sanford, to design the building.

The Deltona office will be a branch of the Orange City Post Office. Site for the building on the southwest corner of Deltona Boulevard and Balsam Street was donated by the Deltona Corp. in 1971.

Mobile Home Rezoning Heads Council Agenda

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — A public hearing on the controversial rezoning of an 80 acre parcel off Rinehart Road to permit construction of a mobile home park is scheduled for City Council's 7:30 p.m. meeting Wednesday.

The Planning and Zoning Commission turned down the request for the change in zoning from agriculture to mobile home park district, pointing to the tract's being a water recharge area and the prospective impact on traffic on both Rinehart Road and Lake Mary Boulevard.

World Puzzles Grow As Guidelines Shift

Pollsters who try to chart the ups and downs of President Ford's standing in the public eye have concluded that he gained some points by his firm response to the seizure of the Mayaguez, but then lost them when the Russian author Alexander Solzhenitsyn began touring America...

It is hard to make flat judgments about President Ford's performance in international affairs. He has been at the helm only one year and much of the basic structure of U.S. foreign policy today — and the problems which have overtaken it — are a legacy from his predecessors.

If that's the case, it reveals that Americans see their foreign policy as an important issue, which is all to the good. It may also explain why Secretary of State Henry Kissinger is challenging critics of détente to say if they would prefer the "constant crises" of the Cold War.

Ever since we concentrated our national purpose in the defeat of the Axis powers in World War II, it has been relatively easy to view our foreign policy in terms of supporting "good guys" against obvious "bad guys."

We have seen the need to balance our commitment to justice for the Jews in Israel with the claim for justice for displaced Palestinians and our other interests in the Middle East.

It was no secret that a major assault on Florida was in the making. The Georgia governor and council proclaimed it, inviting all citizens with a horse and gun to join in and share the plunder.

Slipping across the border secretly, the troopers drove unimpeded all the way to the Alabama River which they swam with their horses. They threaded through dense swamps to surprise the garrison at Fort Barrington.

The Americans were completely unprepared. Caught in a heavy fire from the Brown's men, they surrendered after two were killed and several wounded.

Mr. Ford can brace for some ups and downs if the opinion polls are going to reflect the public's perception of successes and failures in foreign affairs.

The IRS And Us

The Internal Revenue Service has admitted that it has conducted a program to collect and computerize undercover information on the sex lives and drinking habits of citizens.

That it happened once is enough. The IRS must be pulled up sharply and told to keep its computers out of capers such as "Operation Leprechaun."

BERRY'S WORLD

CIA chief William Colby has complained that the investigations into CIA activities are impairing U.S. intelligence efforts. This is disputed by our sources on the inside, who insist that the CIA hasn't been seriously hampered in gathering the intelligence that really counts.

Does our economic recovery really look that good or are you smokin' something 'tunny' there?

Metric Measuring Is On Its Way In

Rosemont, Ill. — "Ay, she's a fine figure of a woman, I'd say, with 90-60-90." That's metric talk for 34-34-36. That first set of figures is given in centimeters.

That fine figure of a woman may open a magazine at some future date looking for a recipe. Right now, a cup is a cup is a cup, with apologies to Gertrude Stein. At some tomorrow, a cup may be 200 milliliters if it's filled with a liquid such as milk.

Metric may be at first seen confusing since they're different from what's customary. However, they offer a simpler system than what is used in the U.S. In fact, most of the world operates on a metric system which is based on decimals and is considered more logical according to a United Dairy Industry Report.

Solzhenitsyn: Detente Comes Down To Earth

WASHINGTON — (LENS) — Without political ambition and diplomatic rivalry, many of the Soviet space travel would have had a time of it, and landings on the moon would still be in the future.

Thus it is significant in a way to pool-pool the Apollo-Soyuz flight as a political circus of relatively trivial scientific importance: what else was it ever meant to be? Mr. Nixon and Leonid Brezhnev found it diplomatically convenient in 1972 to agree that an American and a Soviet space ship would dock in orbit in 1975.

The joint effort went well and the docking was punctually accomplished last week. The crews visited each other's craft as Mr. Brezhnev and Mr. Nixon ceremoniously smiled and shook hands, and performed for the television camera the prearranged stage business with flags, medals and other symbolism. Had it gone wrong, everybody would have been sorry. Since it went well, there was not much left to be said.

Thus the importance of this quiet event belongs not to the exploration of space but to the pursuit of detente, a principle, similarly inherited from Mr. Nixon, that takes President Ford to Europe to sign the final act of the European security conference at the vast summit meeting in Helsinki. The administration has never much liked the European security conference and makes no claim to have gained much from it.

President Ford, who has abruptly changed the presidency so far as its moral tone and private conduct are concerned, has made no attempt to introduce any new principle into American foreign policy. Only the phrase "Nixon doctrine" has gone.

Mr. Ford's detente policy is that established by Mr. Nixon and by Secretary of State, Henry Kissinger, who is tireless in explaining it, most recently, at Minneapolis. "We must never lose sight of the fact that in the thermoclear age general war would be disastrous to mankind."

Essentially it is bilateral, the pursuit of mutual tolerance between the United States and the Soviet Union. Turning up in Helsinki and signing the European security declaration is a minor sacrifice necessary to the serious pursuit of bilateral detente, necessary to keep general war at bay; required, in fact, by the problem-solving approach.

This perfectly defensible position has always been under attack from the Republican right wing, men like Ronald Reagan, Sen. Jesse Helms of North Carolina, Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, Gov. Meldrim Thomson of New Hampshire, and the Buckley brothers, one a senator, one an accomplished political writer. Recent years have seen it

The old adage, "A stitch in time saves nine" and "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" may sound trite, but they are just as true today as when they were first coined. They are especially true concerning termite detection and extermination.

Termites work from within, and what looks like solid wood is often only a hollow shell. It is often only a hollow shell that is ready for occupancy once more. There is no danger, even to the neighbors, since the gas disperses harmlessly into the air once the tent is removed.

Art Brown takes care of the entire operation, and is the only Sanford based company doing fumigation.

Ken Keup is the general manager for Art Brown, and has been in the exterminating business for 5 years, being fully certified in all phases of pest control.

If you've ever rushed out some morning, late as usual, to find that your car wouldn't start, then you know what an expensive situation your car can put you in. To get towed into a garage, or have someone come out on a service call can cost you an arm and a leg.

B & D Automotive, located on Benson Junction Road in DeBary, after having been in DeBary for only six months they were forced to move into larger quarters to handle all the business coming their way. Their new location is still on Benson Junction Road but is 3 times the size of the old location plus has separate rooms for paint-work and ample storage for parts.

B & D Automotive has established a reputation for being experts in repairing and servicing American cars, but they are equally skilled when it comes to repairing foreign cars. If B & D doesn't have the part you need in stock, their suppliers will get it to them.

When South ruffs a diamond, East discards one club; when he ruffs the last diamond East discards his last club. South makes seven trumps and two diamonds, but the ace of clubs has been made into a loser.

Rand Yard Here Could Be Closed Seaboard Considers Freight Pullout

By ED PRICKETT
Herald Staff Writer

A study under consideration by Seaboard Coastline officials reroutes the bulk of Sanford's railroad freight traffic to the Wildwood station on Florida's west coast, The Herald learned today.

Seaboard officials in Jacksonville confirmed today the study, which contains a provision for phasing out Rand Yard in Sanford, was discussed Tuesday during a "top level" meeting.

A Seaboard official here said some of the estimated 200 workers in Sanford will be transferred — if the study is approved.

"There's nothing definite. It's purely in the study stage," said Don Martin, a Seaboard vice-president located in Jacksonville.

Martin confirmed the study "would affect freight service in Sanford."

At present, a total of six north and southbound trains pull in at Sanford for rerouting to destinations across the United States.

Sanford Train Master Milton Smith said the study would leave one south and one northbound train here. Two locals to Oviedo and Unalutilla would also remain at Sanford.

"There is a possibility the company will consolidate traffic and run it on the west coast through Wildwood," Smith said.

Both Smith and Martin stressed that the study is in the "formative stage" and no decision has been made. Martin said he didn't know when the study will be finalized, nor when a final decision can be expected.

Martin confirmed, however, that Seaboard officials at a "top level" meeting Tuesday discussed rerouting freight traffic out of Sanford.

Service provided local customers in Seminole County will remain the same, according to Smith. Sanford is the "intermediate" point between Tampa and Jacksonville.

So is Wildwood.

And Martin says any move to consolidate the two stations is due to the economy. He said Seaboard is "making studies all over the system."

Smith said about 200 workers are employed here. Plus, Sanford is a change point for freight train crews.

Also located here is a refurbishing shop, where trains are repaired. The number of personnel at that shop would be reduced if the study is adopted, Smith said.

About 15 train service employees and 10 clerks at Rand Yard would be given the opportunity to move to a different Seaboard location, according to Smith.

Jacksonville is Florida headquarters for the firm.

Trustees Cite Cost Spiral Hospital Hikes Room Rates

Plagued by what officials say are spiraling costs of running a hospital, Seminole Memorial Trustees voted Tuesday to raise room rates an average of $8-a-day.

Saying there "just isn't any other way," Hospital Administrator Bob Bessner said the new rates will go into effect within 60 days.

The vote was unanimous. "Somebody has to pay for increased costs, and it's the man who uses the bed," Board Chairman John Evans commented.

"There's not much we can do about it — just go along with it," Trustee Sophia Szemzaker added.

Bessner said he conducted a study of room rates at hospitals from Ocala to Cocoa. Seminole Memorial's increased rates in Sanford are still lower than rates at three-fourths of the hospitals included in the study, Bessner said.

The cost of daily room rates increase will be as follows: Private room — $45 to $63; deluxe private — $60 to $68; semi-private — $50 to $58; ward rates go up — that's not having any rooms," Evans noted.

Allan Keen was the only trustee who questioned the increased rates and Keen fired question after question at Bessner.

He wanted to know if additional money from higher rates would cover the $129,000 deficit the hospital is running this far this year.

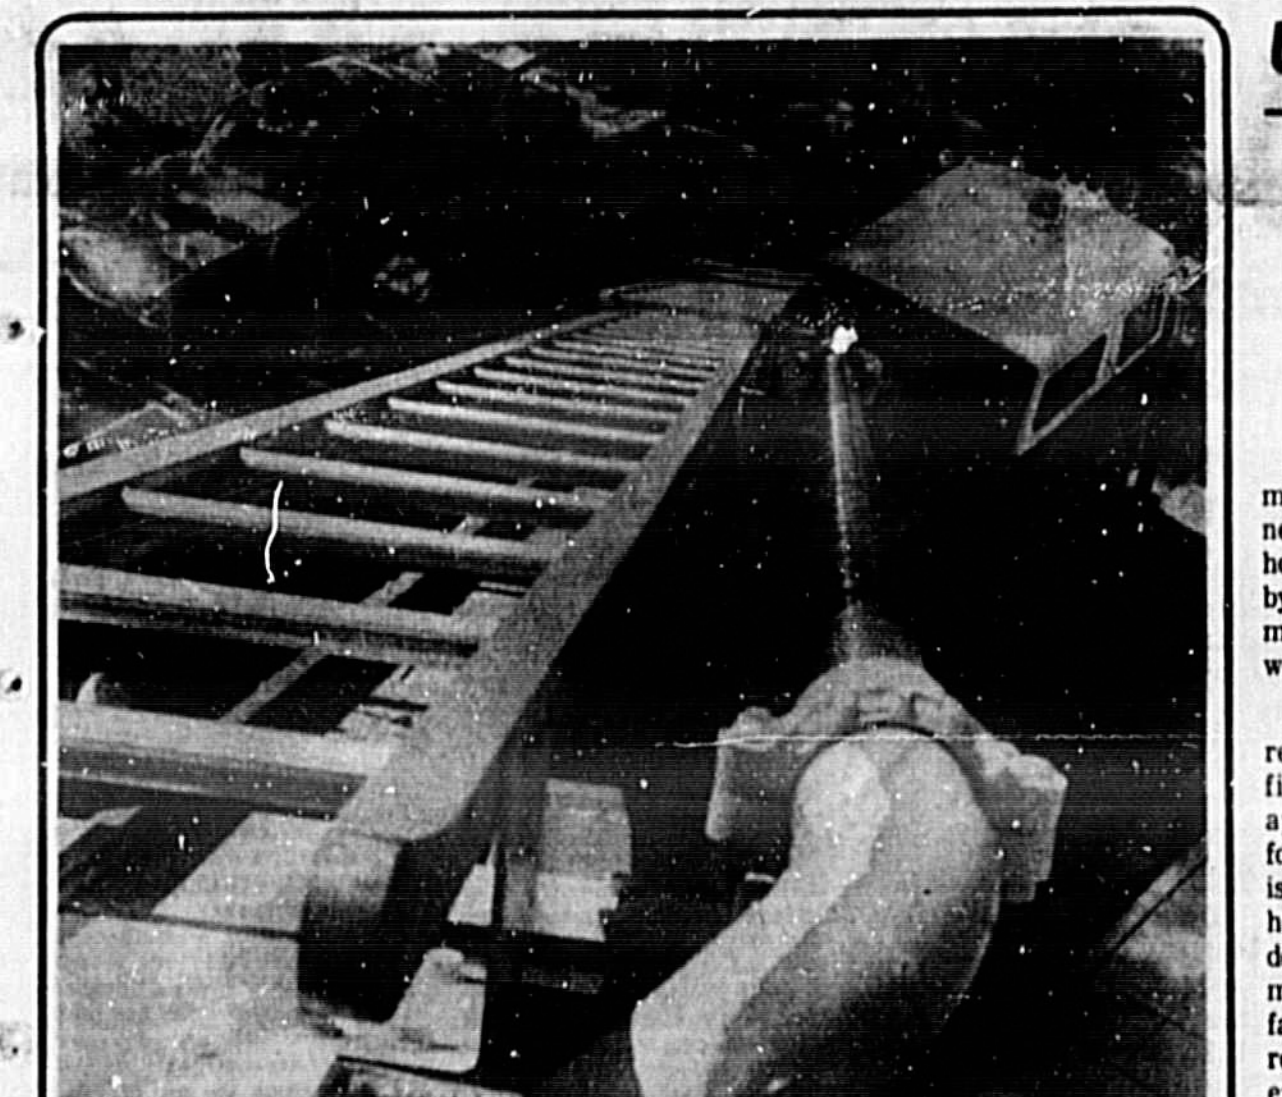

Bessner said the hikes will net an additional $150,000 through Sept. 1976. Payroll alone however, is up $130,000 this year, Bessner noted.

Bessner said reduced occupancy plays a large role in a hospital's need for higher rates, but he said inflation is the major factor in Seminole Memorial's need for additional money.

"Everything we buy keeps going up, up and up," Bessner said.

Higher rates will not hit hard on those persons on medicare or medical aid or those persons with adequate hospitalization insurance.

But higher rates will hit hardest those least able to afford them — the person with no insurance.

There's only one thing more expensive than having room rates go up — that's not having any rooms.

Contract Talks To Be Resumed

Utility Connection Fees Won't Be Reduced

City Rejects 'Forum' Proposal

By RICK PARTRIDGE
Herald Staff Writer

A Builders' Forum recommendation that utility connection fees for low-cost housing be reduced was denied by the Sanford City Commission Tuesday at a noon workshop meeting.

Another Builders' Forum request — that a permanent five-member committee be appointed to the commission on issues involving builders and home owners — was also denied. However, the commission indicated it would be in favor of adding building trades representatives to an already existing committee.

Acting on other recommendations, the commission okayed Miami curbs and/or swales in new developments with the approval of the city engineer, reduced the sidewalk width requirement from five feet to four, went on record in favor of uniform underground electric fees, approved lower square footage requirements for low-cost dwellings and agreed to discuss with the Public Service Commission (PSC) allowing overhead electric lines for low-cost homes.

The utility connection fee request drew the most heated discussion, with forum member J. Bradley Odham saying he thought "everything ought to be

"We follow this same procedure in our income tax," Stenstrom said. "The owner of a high-price home has a higher income and pays a higher tax."

"I don't see anything socialist about it," Stenstrom said, alluding to a recent statement by City Manager Warren E. "Pete" Knowles, when the connection fee reduction was first brought up by the Builders' Forum.

Stenstrom's claim that the current utility connection fee of $50 for the first unit, $25 for the second and $137.50 for the third was "an impact fee" was disputed by Commissioner A.A. McClanahan, who led the opposition to the move to cut the fee.

Commissioner Julian Stenstrom supported Odham.

"It's not an impact fee," McClanahan said. "I don't see why I should pay more to flush the commode than the guy next door just because he has a smaller house."

The reduction move failed on a 4-1 vote.

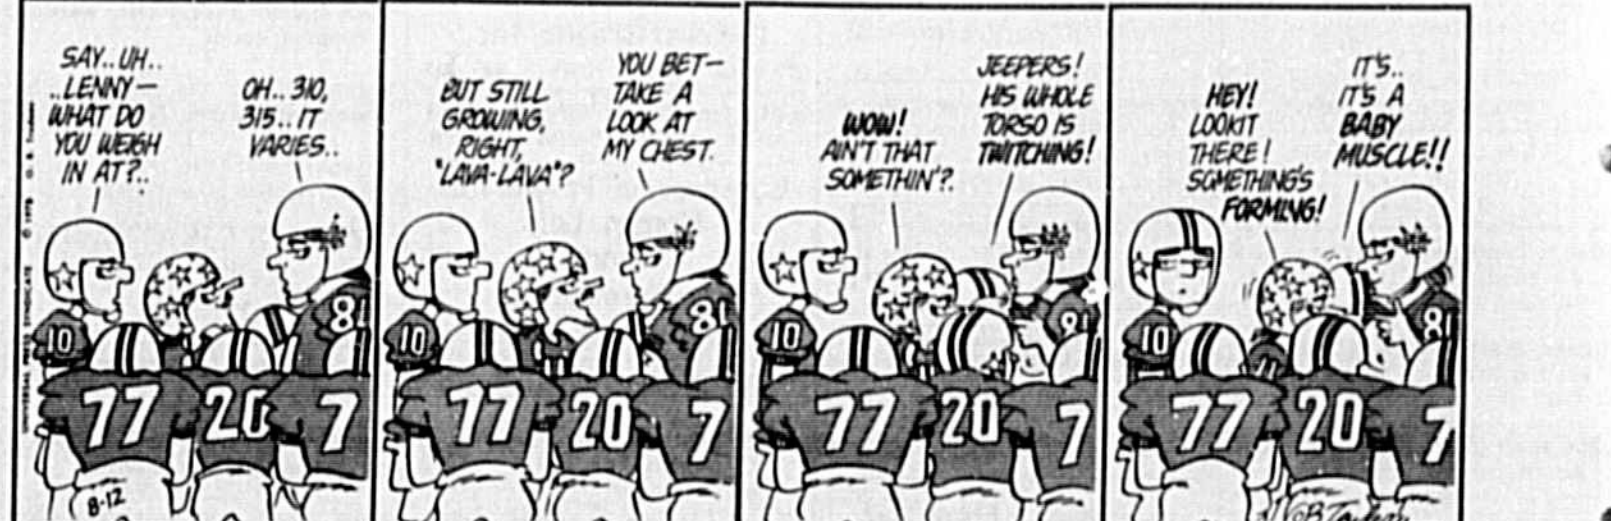

The square footage requirements approved call for 280 square feet for efficiency apartments, 600 square feet for one-bedroom apartments or homes, 600 square feet for two-bedroom apartments or homes and 70 square feet for three or more bedroom units.

All the proposals approved will be presented at a regular commission meeting for official action.

Contract Talks To Be Resumed

Deadlocked contract talks between the School Board and representatives of the county's 1,462 school teachers are scheduled to begin again Thursday, an official announced today.

Board spokesman Harry Pelley said he and the Seminole Education Association (SEA) have decided to hold off on impasse to try to resolve items which caused the two teams to halt talks Aug. 6.

But SEA says $8,600 just barely keeps up with spiraling inflation. SEA negotiators claim teachers have never had the spending power they did in 1963-69 because the school system has failed to keep up with the rising cost of living.

Pelley vows to "hold the line" and offer nothing more than the board's $300 "top" offer.

Concerning nine other tabled items, Pelley says the two teams have discussed each one "two or three" times already and he sees no reason to discuss them further.

If Pelley remains adamant at Thursday's session, SEA could only accept the board's existing offers — or hope for additional compensation from Greene.

However, Greene, as a special master, has no final say. His decision may be approved or disapproved by either team.

The School Board must approve the final contract, regardless of Greene's ruling.

Jail Repair Bids Sought

Bids for $120,000 to install surplus equipment needed to reopen the Seminole County Jail will be presented for County Commission consideration next Tuesday.

Commission authorized Chairman Sid Vihlen Jr. and Sheriff John Polk to obtain three competitive bids on each of the 14 required safety features agreed upon Monday by state officials.

Officials representing the Florida Department of Offender Rehabilitation (DOR) and the state fire marshal's office had no objections to reopening the jail once the 14 points are installed, but stipulated a new county jail must be built within two years.

Prior to next Tuesday's meeting, Vihlen expects to receive word from Louie Wainwright, director of offender rehabilitation, stating the safety equipment will provide a "reasonable degree" of safety and Wainwright will have no objections to reopening the jail. Vihlen told the commission.

The jail has been closed since a June 9 fire which killed 10 prisoners and one jailer. Prisoners have been housed in surrounding areas while $40,000 in renovations are being completed on the jail. State officials met with local County Commission next Tuesday.
