

Hugh Gant Sought For Robbery Of Haines City Bank

when he explained a time lock prevented him from opening.

The two bandits scooped up all money in sight, blindfolded Anis with a handkerchief and ordered the negro to carry the money to their car. One bandit sat in the rear seat with Anis, who was forced to keep his head between his knees. The other joined the driver in the front seat and the negro was told to stand on the running board.

Heading in the direction of Tampa, the bandit car sped out of town but halted at the outskirts to allow the negro to alight unharmed. Anis said he was not released during the 60 mile ride but had to keep his head down all the way. He said he was unable to see the three men and heard very little of their meager conversation. He said he was curried to learn where he was when they released him and he had to wait six miles into Clermont.

Officers said they received a "pretty good description" of the two bandits who entered the bank from the customers who were seated in the rear.

The bandit car was described as a 1932 model black sedan with a Florida tag but no one could give the license number.

Angle said the bank's loss was covered by insurance.

WEEK-END TO DELAY ACTION ON RELIEF ACT

ed that public reaction, expected by the Administration to develop sooner had begun to be felt. How great an effect it would have on the stand the 21 bolting Democrats took on the wage amendment was not fully disclosed, but some pointed to the proposal of a compromise amendment yesterday by Senator Reynolds (D. N. C.), one of those who left the Administration fold on the McCarran proposition.

Reynolds proposed the President be given authority to reduce the prevailing wage rate in sections where it was shown to be "detrimental" to private industry—that is where it was shown to be drawing employees from private employment to government jobs.

Interior Department appropriations.

With President Roosevelt taking a direct hand, and with signs of weakening apparent in the insurgent ranks, Senate Democratic leaders last night became more hopeful of a quick break in the $2,580,000,000 relief bill deadlock.

The Chief Executive and the Senate Democratic leader—Robinson of Tennessee, last, yesterday afternoon discussed ways and means of ending the snarl occasioned by Senate adoption of the McCarran prevailing wage amendment.

Tight lipped as he emerged after an hour and a half with Mr. Roosevelt, Robinson declined to comment on the strategy adopted other than to say that the situation was such that it could not be discussed at the present time.

Nevertheless, it was learned that Robinson planned to discuss the issue today with negotiators seeking a compromise on the McCarran proposal.

After the Roosevelt-Robinson conference was arranged, Administration Democrats displayed a noticeably more optimistic spirit over the situation, while Senator McCarran (D. Nev.) and some of his followers appeared less cheerful.

RFC Acts To Aid Guard Units Sent To Key West To Stop FERA Strike

WASHINGTON, Mar. 1.—(AP)—Agreeing to aid in disposition of one bankrupt railroad, the Reconstruction Corporation yesterday took under consideration a plan designed to keep another out of the bankruptcy court.

A plan whereby a third railroad might be taken out of trusteeship also was talked over by corporation officials.

The rail rehabilitation developments today were:

1. A decision to lend $7,200,000 to eight Western railroads to buy and operate the 1700 mile Minneapolis and St. Louis Railroad.
2. Consideration was given to a plan to keep the Denver and Rio Grande Western out of receivership.
3. The corporation studied a plan by which owners of the Missouri Pacific hoped to remove the road from trusteeship.

Guard Units Sent To Key West To Stop FERA Strike

KEY WEST, Mar. 1.—(AP)—Two National Guard units were Matcambe Island in the Florida Keys to prevent threatened disorders among striking former service men engaged in completing a FERA over-sea highway between the mainland and this city.

Workers at the camp, which contains 425 men sent here recently from Washington, called the strike largely because of a wage dispute and alleged inhuman conditions on the island, located 90 miles south of Miami.

Part of the wage argument subsequently was satisfactorily arbitrated and the remainder of the controversy, which flared up into shouts and near-disorders among the workers yesterday, is to be discussed further by strikers and camp officials today.

Meantime, as a precautionary measure, Adj. Gen. Vivian Collins ordered battery F of Key West and battery D of the 265th field artillery at Miami to proceed immediately to the scene. The Key West guards arrived early last night and the Miami unit shortly afterward.

In furtherance of their cause, the strikers laid yesterday a committee of four to represent them and dispatched a telegram to Louis M. Howe, executive secretary to President Roosevelt, signed by Herschel McMorris of San Pedro, Calif., as committee chairman. It read:

"In protest against deplorable conditions men refuse to work stop. Committee appointed were invited to V. K. C. (veterans' rehabilitation camp) headquarters for conference stop. Committee railroaded by authorities stop. Balance of men highly incensed and demand return of committee-men stop. We are now being intimidated by large armed force of deputies stop. Urge immediate investigation."

McMorris claimed the committee men referred to in his telegram had been selected at first by the strikers but had been coerced out of the county several days ago and have not been heard from since. He said the safe return to the camp of the original committee, numbering four, was another point in the strikers' demands.

The strikers, McMorris declared now principally are protesting against alleged inhuman conditions in the camp, and demanding equality of wages with civilians working alongside them. He contended there is only one water dipper in the camp to serve 425 men and that toilet facilities also are inadequate. One man recently died, and McMorris said an epidemic was feared.

A recreational center for men, attempted at the school, one of the largest projects ever construction at West Florida Teachers College.

Under the Minneapolis and St. Louis plan, the eight railroads serving five Mid-Western states will each take over a portion of the system assuming liability for $1,018,000 of equipment trust certificates and spending at least $3,000,000.

The Minneapolis and St. Louis has been in bankruptcy 13 years. Unable to obtain loans from the R. F. C., the federal court at St. Paul ordered the road sold again on Feb. 11.

Acting for the government, Jones, a key officer of the road serving the same territory—Illinois, Minnesota, South Dakota, Iowa, and Missouri—took up the situation.

Jones said the agreement was subject to approval of the court and the interstate commerce commission, but declined to go into details of the proposed dismemberment of the road, or how portions in the various states would be split up. Nor would others comment on this.

Much Of Middle West Still Grippled By Drought Danger

Dry Belt Is Actually Drier Now Than It Was 3 Months Before 1934 Spell Broke

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2.—(A.P.)—The dust storms which have raged in the western plains states are sinister reminders that drought still is a very real danger in many regions where it struck last year.

The dust clouds, swept up by winds from parched fields, emphasize the fact that the drought of 1934 actually never has been broken in a region roughly embracing the eastern part of the mountain states and the western portion of the great plains, says the Weather Bureau.

St. Johns Line Is Loser In Attempt To Reduce Rates

Local Concern Can't Use Low Rates In Tampa Territory

TALLAHASSEE, Mar. 2.—(A.P.)—An order of the State Railroad Commission providing for operation of a truck line between Sanford and Tampa by the St. Johns River Line Company, with rates 10 percent less than the established charges for other lines, was quashed yesterday by the supreme court.

The court held, however, the Railroad Commission had authority to re-open the case for further hearings not inconsistent with the court's decision.

Central Truck Lines, Inc., contested the commission's order on the ground that it allowed the truck line to use depressed rates in the Tampa territory, in competition with other highway and rail carriers.

The best line operated the truck service in connection with its bus service from Jacksonville to Sanford.

The Railroad Commission claimed users of the consolidated water and truck service of the St. Johns Line were entitled to lower rates because the service was slower.

Since the best line is operating a truck service, the supreme court said, "it becomes to all intents and purposes an auto transportation company" and is not entitled to reduced truck rates.

The certificate granted the St. Johns Line by the Railroad Commission was unlawful, the court said, because it included "prejudicial" rates.

Miami Beach Paper Files $250,000 Suit Against Mayor

MIAMI, Mar. 2.—(A.P.)—Another chapter in an open controversy between Mayor E. G. Sewell of this city and the Miami Beach Tribune, tabloid daily, was written yesterday.

A $250,000 slander suit, naming the mayor as defendant, was filed yesterday by attorneys for the Beach Publishing Company, operator of the newspaper.

M. Victor Miller and K. D. Harrison, attorneys who brought the action, said it was based on alleged derogatory remarks Mayor Sewell made against the newspaper both before the city commission and in criminal court.

Recently Mayor Sewell escaped the arrest of Walter Annenberg and Paul Jones publisher and editor, respectively of the Tribune, charging criminal libel. The newspapermen are scheduled to go on trial next Thursday.

Baby Bond Venture Is Termed Success

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2.—(A.P.)—President Roosevelt reported last night that the Treasury's newest financing venture—baby bonds—had not an enthusiastic and encouraging response from the public.

After one day's sales, many postoffice boxes had exhausted their original supply of the securities and the engraving bureau must work day and night turning out the certificates.

The chief executive earlier in the day had listened to a report from Secretary Morgenthau, head Postmaster General Farley III, received in each change and then formally initiated the project.

Foreign Policy Group Head Says Administration Is Faced With Many Failures

CHICAGO, Mar. 2.—(A.P.)—Raymond Leslie Buell, president of the Foreign Policy Association, today declared that war is closer to the United States than at any time since 1917.

The Roosevelt Administration, he said, despite its good intentions, is confronted with a series of impressive failures in its foreign policy.

Unless there is a change in policy, Buell told the Chicago Council of Foreign Relations, the "good neighbor" relations of the United States in Latin America will be seriously undermined and the situation in the Orient will become even more delicate than that which he sees at present.

Death Of Heiress Held Needing More Investigations

PINEHURST, N. C., Mar. 2.—Investigating the mysterious death of Mrs. Bradley Davidson, 22, pretty heiress of E. M. Staller, said today that he had developed information apparently at variance with the testimony at the inquest hearing.

Among other things, the collector said, a further investigation of the carbonic oxide death "was certainly necessary."

Found slumped in her automobile in a dead garage Wednesday morning after spending practically all the night at a charity ball and night club, Mrs. Davidson was first found by a servant.

Proett said today, however, he was reliably informed that fingerprints had started to set in when servants first discovered the young woman.

Also, he said instead of being in the driver's seat of her car, the body was in a kneeling position on the runway board, the lead lying across the arms on the front seats. The impression is that she had fallen.

Atlanta Cleric Barred From Georgia House

Minister Who Flayed Solons In Address 2 Years Ago Is Escorted From Floor

ATLANTA, Mar. 2.—(A.P.)—An Atlanta minister, Dr. Witherspoon Dodge, pastor of the Radio Church, was ushered off the floor of the House of Representatives yesterday by the sergeant-at-arms.

Dr. Dodge was barred from the House floor after a resolution had been adopted overwhelmingly citing him for flouting the House rules which the resolution alleged was made two years ago in a radio address by the minister.

He attempted to address the House but was denied this privilege by Speaker E. D. Rivers.

For a brief time it appeared that Dr. Dodge and Rep. H. B. "Dixie" Edwards would clash in physical combat, for Edwards left his seat and approached the minister.

"He ought to be put out right away and I'll put him if you'll let me," Edwards, an administration leader, said loudly.

The resolution referred to a news story quoting Dr. Dodge in which he referred to members of the Legislature as "hoodlums, thugs and barbarians."

In the corridor Dr. Dodge said yesterday's action confirmed "all that I said about some legislators of Georgia in my address two years ago."

Before he left the floor of the House Dr. Dodge said "I am a citizen of Georgia and an American citizen have the right to defend himself on the floor of the Georgia House."

An Edwards supporter today toward the minister on the floor, the chief doorkeeper, Fred McDuffie, and Walter Cook, assistant messenger, rushed into the chamber and each grabbed the minister by an arm and escorted him from the floor.

The resolution directing that Dr. Dodge be barred from the floor termed the minister's radio speech "derogatory and untrue" and said that the dignity of the Georgia assembly of two years ago was "very much embarrassed" over his remarks.

After he left the floor Dr. Dodge had this to say about his speech:

"At that time I simply voiced the sentiment of protest and disgust which the entire press of the state voiced over the unworthy (Continued On Page Four)

Missouri Judge Upholds PWA Part Of Recovery Act

KANSAS CITY, Mar. 2.—(A.P.)—Upholding fully the constitutionality of the FWA section of the National Recovery Act, Federal Judge Merrill E. Otis notified the city of Trenton, Mo., yesterday he would throw out of court a suit for injunction against its using FWA funds for construction of a power plant.

Judge Otis' decision was contained in a memorandum opinion now in which the court stated its views and indicated it might take the action necessary to conform its old statutes to the new act if they would enter a motion to throw the suit out of court he would sustain it.

Trenton, with a PWA grant of $65,000, sought to issue bonds for $250,000 to retire a loan from the government. The Missouri Public Service Company, owner of an electric light plant at Trenton, related on grounds the PWA was unconstitutional.

Campbell Does 208 In Tests With Bluebird

Sir Malcolm Plans To Try For Record On Beach Sunday, May Be Around Noon

DAYTONA BEACH, Mar. 2.—(A.P.)—Sir Malcolm Campbell, on a test run here today, averaged 208 miles an hour as he warmed his machine up for a record try of possibly 300 miles per hour tomorrow.

Campbell took the Bluebird onto the beach for the first time in two weeks for a "shakedown" run.

As he sped down the beach from the north, he was doing less than 200 miles an hour, but coming back, he kicked the speedometer to break his own record of 272 miles an hour.

A huge crowd which lined the beach for a distance of 15 miles witnessed the trial run which was made under near perfect weather conditions.

The Daytona Beach Chamber of Commerce announced late today that Sir Malcolm will try for the record tomorrow around noon. Low tide is at 11:30 o'clock, it reported.

U. S.-British Money Race Seems Certain

NEW YORK, Mar. 2.—(A.P.)—As abrupt decline in the pound sterling has revived discussions in Wall Street of the possibility of a new monetary authority.

The British pound yesterday reached the lowest level on record in terms of present day European gold currencies, and the lowest in relation to the American dollar in two years. Wall Street, in the main, was puzzled, but some reports expressed belief the American Treasury's stabilization fund had been caught off guard. Continued decline in the pound, it was pointed out, might have a deflationary effect upon American price levels.

IBLIE VERSE FOR TODAY

WENT ABOUT DOING GOOD:
And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people.—Matthew 4:23.

This much can be said for Hauptmann any day—he put Eliamington, N. J. on the map.

It's funny how much letter you can hear it jangle since it has become unsound money.

The price of eggs may go up but that won't make them any freasher.

Wheel Dragged Down by Corn at Day's Close—Headline. We've had that dragged down feeling too.

It has been several weeks since there was a revolution in Cuba.
Such governmental stability must be going painfully monotonous.

When in Rome you do as Romans do. When in Munich the other day the Prince of Wales, who must hate Nazi methods, returned a Nazi salute to King Sigel fashion.

With all the young Italian soldiers whom Mussolini has dispatched to Abyssinia, he will with interest that El Duce himself still remains in Rome Caesar used to lead his legions.

Government bonds are enjoying the strongest demand they have in years. All above percentage issues are actually selling for around 116. And the public debt at the highest peak in history! There would seem to be no limit to Uncle Sam's credit.

James M. Beck says that American business men today are like the Girondists in the French revolution "who protested mildly but awaited their turns at the guilotine." One of the strangest things about the French revolution was that thousands of people lost their heads who at first thought Louis and Marie Antoinette would be the only ones to go to the guillotine.

W. M. Kiplinger, Washington newspaperman, advertises a new book which he has just written.
It is called "Inflation Ahead!
What To Do About It" published by Simon and Schuster, Inc., New York, the book predicts the decline of inflation which this country is in for, tells how to beat inflation, how to profit from it, how to keep from getting burned.

Now that Judge Sherman has held that price fixing under the NRA is unconstitutional, Judge Gresh of Alabama has ruled that minimum wages and maximum hours are unconstitutional, Judge Hines of Washington, D. C., has ruled that the collective bargaining provisions of the NRA are unconstitutional, and the Supreme Court itself has held that the delegation of authority by Congress to the President for the purpose of making codes was also unconstitutional. It would seem that the old-line League couldn't have very many friends left.

J. P. Morgan is offering some more of his valuable collection for sale this time a million dollars worth of miniatures. This will make nearly three million dollars worth of paintings, landscapes, and other objects of art which he has collected over the years.

So what you might call "big game" is Mr. Morgan's collection. He claims that "big game" means
"big game" and "big game" means "big game." Should he be described from his hair would be considerable cash to pay interest taxes. However, there are other reasons why Mr. Morgan might be raising cash. He may figure that this is a good time for a fish man to keep his money dry, or it may be.

Free Distribution

Roaring communists and "parlor pinks" can find little comfort in the recent Soviet announcement that "only 6,000,000 Russians starved to death in 1933." Believers in Statism who think that government owned and operated industries and communistic systems of distribution produce the highest standard of living find it hard to explain why China alone of all the countries in the world suffers more from famine and destitution than Russia.

Most Russian deaths from starvation occur among the peasants and the kulaks, or farmers, who raise the nation's food supplies. But in Russia the farmers are not allowed to keep their products; they must turn them over at once to the government. Severe penalties are meted out for attempting to withhold anything. From the government storehouses, food goes first to the gigantic Red Army, more than a million men, who must be well fed. Then city and industrial workers have the next claim on food supplies. What is left, if there is any left, is returned to the farmer.

Let anyone be mistaken about conditions among the Russian peasants, Thomas Walker, newspaper cameraman, went to Russia and took pictures. Such pictures would not get beyond the first O. G. P. U. station house if found.
But Mr. Walker managed somehow not only to take his pictures but to conceal them from spies, censors, and all others who would confiscate them. Returning to this country he has given to certain newspapers for publication pictures which reveal a condition unbelievable to most Americans.

That famine has long stalked throughout Russia is well known to the Church of England, where, according to Time News-Magazine, "Evidence of famine conditions continues to reach the Church of England, the Roman Catholic Church and Jewish rabbis in Central Europe in a wealth of letters penned by underfed Russian peasants to relatives abroad. Of these letters Soviet censors catch perhaps eight or nine out of every ten; but stupid, lenient or secretly anti-Red censors pass enough to make chronic malnutrition in the Soviet farm belt an imposing fact."

Said the English Archbishop of Canterbury of the famous Ukraine district in Russia, "There was going on a famine of a degree of severity which has hardly ever before been known." Cameraman Walker showed death from starvation in a Soviet jail which he described as follows:
"Although he worked on a community farm, where food was plentiful, this peasant died of starvation. He had crawled into his little jail cell to rest from his forced labor and never woke up," and another "one of a starving child, 'This younger child crawled about the floor like a frog, and its poor little body was so deformed from lack of nourishment that it did not resemble a human being.
Its mother had died of starvation when it was one year old.' There were sixty-six such pictures of death."

"As every Moscowite knows," Time declares, "the 'success' of Comrade Stalin in dragging peasants into collective farms where they are at the mercy of the State Power has vastly increased the case of forced grain collections. That 'ample stocks for seed and food are in the hands of the authorities' neither the Aristocrats of Santebury nor anyone else denies. It is rather because they are in the State's hands that some 6,000,000 peasants starved in 1933, the State withholding tell-tale statistics until 1934 when they were no longer news."

Tax Revision

State headquarters for what is to be known as the Florida Tax Revision League have just opened in Jacksonville.
Buckner Chiplet, a product of West Florida but now a resident of Palm Beach, is president of the organization, and has recently sent out information dealing with the program which the organization hopes to put into effect.

Briefly the primary objective of the Florida Tax Revision League is to bring about a complete revision of the whole tax structure of the State of Florida. The plan would be to equitably distribute the tax burden upon all the people and to effectively reduce the cost of government.
It is said that the realization of this program will produce the necessary revenue for government without destroying values, effectively force economy in government, properly finance the schools and all necessary governmental functions on a cash basis, restore value to property, and encourage construction and development.

This is indeed a noble purpose, and if it will do what its sponsors say it will, there should be few dissenters.
They claim real estate will immediately assume some value and become active. Land now selling at one dollar an acre, if it can be sold at all, will immediately be worth five, ten or fifteen dollars per acre. Commercial activity will immediately pick up. Permanent residents will immediately flock to the State by the thousands. In the space of a few years our State will have a population of seven million one hundred thousand instead of our present one million seven hundred thousand. . . if tax revision will accomplish what its sponsors say it will.

There is no question about the present mal-distribution of the tax burden in Florida. There is no question about real estate owners bearing a disproportionate share of the cost of government. There is no question that gasoline taxes are too high and that automobile license tags should be further reduced. But there is some question about how these necessary adjustments can best be made. The Tax Revision League does not say who is to pay the taxes which some people would be relieved of.

Undoubtedly they have a sales tax in mind. And undoubtedly a sales tax will be levied. But a sales tax will not do everything. A three percent sales tax on 500 million dollars worth of sales (boom time figures) would raise only $15,000,000. At least ten million dollars in additional revenue will be needed for homestead exemption.
About ten million will be required from the state to match federal aid to unemployed and for other relief purposes.
The schools want 2 1/2 millions more. The Road Department is crying for more funds.

Now if you take the taxes off real estate (or reduce them), where is the money coming from?

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO

The members of the Book Club and a few other friends were delightfully entertained by Mrs.
Henry Wright yesterday afternoon.
Mrs. Wright is at all times an able hostess and her company is always enjoyed.

Three presents were Mrs. F. P.
Strong, Mrs. Mable Jones, Mrs.
D. L. Thrasher; Mrs. S. A. Newman, Mrs. J. W. Dickins, Mrs.
A. W. Ellis, and Mrs. George Spicer.

Mr. Deane Turner motored over to Daytona Sunday to bring Mrs.
Turner and Dr. J. C. back to Sanford after a week delightfully spent at the beach.

Who Owns The Holding Companies?

NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE

In defending the campaign against the public utility holding companies the Administration has sought on numerous occasions to belittle the argument that it was undermining the savings of persons of small means. It has made two major points: First, that the only securities in which "widows and orphans" were interested were the underlying securities of operating, as distinct from holding, companies; second, that such securities were selling at a higher level of prices today than they were in the boom year of 1929.

We pointed out recently the spe-ciousness of this latter point by showing that the price at which underlying bonds sell is determined almost entirely by conditions in the money market. Call money in Wall Street, it was pointed out, was quoted at 7 percent in the boom year of 1929; 12 percent six years ago and 16 percent commercial paper at 6 percent; commercial paper are bringing 1 percent and three quarters of 1 percent, respectively. This explains, of course, why the average yield on government bonds, which was 3.70 percent in 1929, is now 3 percent or under. Certainly, if it would be absurd to contend that the government's financial position created the current low yields on its obligations. Yet the Administration, by implication at least, would have us infer that because the underlying bonds of public utility corporations are selling at higher prices than they were in 1929 the future of the industry must be rosy now than it was then.

Teacher movement were honored

Mrs. Julia Holmes To Talk On Silver

The following account is taken from the South Florida Times regarding Mrs. Julia Holmes who will lecture on silver Tuesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at The Mayfair.

"The art of the antique dealer came without effort, or study, to one woman in South Bond who has the almost psychic powers necessary today when one deals in valued objects of art.

"For all her life Mrs. Julia Holmes has fringed her rare old pieces of silver, or furniture, or pottery about her parlor home, and later in her own home, years of familiarity with the genuine makes it almost impossible for her to err in favor of any modern counterpart.

"Thus, when in time it occurred to her to turn her knowledge of fine old and genuine into something tangible, Mrs. Holmes entered into the business of antique dealers who has gained an enviable high repute in and about South Bond."
