Good Friday Theme Revealed As 'Love Speaks From Cross'

Good Friday services of the Seminole County Ministerial Association will be held tomorrow at the First Presbyterian Church in Sanford beginning at 12 noon. The theme of the service will be "Love Speaks From the Cross," with Dr. W. P. Brooks Jr., the Rev. Milton H. Wyatt, the Rev. Lucian W. Scott, and the Rev. R. G. McInnis presiding.

The three-hour service embraces the seven last words from the cross as spoken by the Savior. Seven ministers of Seminole County churches will bring the meditation. The service has been divided into seven complete 25-minute periods in order that everyone may be able to attend at least one portion.

The program for the service is as follows: At 12 noon the theme of the 25-minute portion of the service will be a quartet with "Love Speaks From the Cross," text, "Father forgive them for they know not what they do," taken from Luke 23:34. Meditation will be spoken by the Rev. David S. Carnelie. The guest soloist will be Mrs. James Bozard.

At 12:35 p. m. the theme of the second 25-minute portion will be "Love Unconditional," with the text from Luke 23:34, "Verily I say unto thee, today shalt thou be with me in Paradise." Speaking the meditation will be the Rev. R. H. Spear. Guest soloists will be a quartet with "Love Speaks From the Cross," text, "Father forgive them for they know not what they do," taken from Luke 23:34. Meditation will be spoken by the Rev. David S. Carnelie. The guest soloist will be Mrs. James Bozard.

The third 25-minute portion of the service begins at 12:50 with the theme "Love's Responsibility." The text is taken from John 13:34-35, "I command thee, Simon, son of Jonah, that thou lovest me as I have loved thee." The meditation will be by the Rev. J. W. Parham, guest soloist will be Dick Aiken.

Themes of the fourth portion of the service, which begins at 1:15 p. m. will be "Love's Extremity," with the text from Mark 13:31 and Matthew 27:46, "My God, My God, why hast thou forsaken me." The Rev. P. L. Stone will deliver the meditation. Guest soloists are: Miss Caroline McInnis, Mrs. Roy Mann, Robert Crumley, and Clifford McKibben Jr.

The fifth and last of the 25-minute portions of the service will begin at 2:05 p. m. The theme of this portion will be "Love's Communion" and the text taken from John 13:30, "Jesus," said, "It is finished." The Rev. Fred W. Fisher will speak the meditation. Mrs. Ruby Sloan and George Douhy will be guest soloists.

The seventh and last of the 25-minute portions of the service will begin at 2:35 p. m. with the theme "Love's Surrender." The text "And when Jesus had cried with a loud voice, he said, Father, into Thy hands I commend my spirit," and having said thus, he gave up his ghost," is taken from Luke 23:46-48. The Rev. Lewis C. Hutch will speak the meditation. Guest soloist will be Miss Gene Nunnally.

Appropriate hymns, prayer, scripture reading and organ interludes will make each 25-minute portion a complete service in itself for the benefit of business people, housewives, and worshippers who cannot attend more than one portion of the three-hour Good Friday joint service.

The proposed route for 17-92 extending from French Ave. at Lake Monroe, across the lake and into Volusia County through Enterprise and DeBarry and to join the present route two miles south of Orange City, was shown to the Chamber of Commerce members attending the Coffee Club this morning.

John Krider, Sanford City Commissioner, who made the proposal to the Long Range Highway Planning Committee headed by J. Brasley Odham, to the group that "We have had favorable action from the Orange City Chamber of Commerce and the Mayor of Orange City. They tell me," said Krider, "that they will do anything they can to make the new route a reality."

We hope that within 60 days the State Road Department will authorize a center line to be located for the proposed route," Krider told the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce members.

"There is considerable pressure from the west side of Seminole County to stop the highway at Five Points," Krider said. "We've brought the highway to Sanford and now we must get it out again," Krider said.

The Sanford City Commissioner told the Chamber of Commerce members this morning that considerable interest is being shown from every side, especially from DeBarry, Orange City, Enterprise, and right here in Sanford.

"We must cooperate and push this project to its completion," he concluded.

Clara Jo Proudfoot, the 4 1/2 year old Miami Miss, chosen as the 1956 National Easter Seal girl, who recently charmed President Eisenhower at the White House, will be a guest of central Florida Society for Crippled Children at a special Good Friday luncheon to be held tomorrow at noon at the Langford Hotel in Winter Park.

The lunch luncheon is being held in Clara Jo's honor. With the young lady will be Bonnie Kerrigan, executive director of the Crippled Children's Society in Miami, and Clara Jo's mother.

Lewis Tells Kiwanians Of Agriculture Dept.

"The Department of Agriculture of the State of Florida is the only department of the State which finances itself," L. H. Lewis told the Sanford Kiwanis Club yesterday at its noon luncheon meeting.

"It receives no millage," said Lewis as he explained that out of the 16 divisions all except three or four pay their own way.

"We are concerned with a good merchantable program for the farmer," he said, "but we prefer private enterprise to handle them."

Lewis, director of all State Farmers Markets and Cattle Auction Markets, explained the organization of the Department of Agriculture, the location of the markets, and the various divisions and their purposes.

"We have strict instructions," Lewis said. "Not to make a profit. We are a service."

We could have had more cattle auction markets, the Farmers Market director said, "but we prefer private enterprise to handle them."

Seminole County Registrations Now Over 10 Thousand

'Rosy' Ryan Guest At C Of C Coffee Club This Morning

W. D. "Rosy" Ryan, General Manager of the Minneapolis Millers baseball organization, was guest of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Coffee Club this morning.

Speaking to one of the largest groups to attend the Coffee Club gathering, besides Ryan were Chamber of Commerce President George Touhy and City Commissioner John Krider.

Touhy, speaking on the progress of Sanford business men and women that "being conscious of the progress, we must gear ourselves up to the problems. The roads run this way as well as that."

Let's try to get this community and county right up to the top in the competition for shoppers and business," he said.

Ryan told the Chamber of Commerce that 31 newspaper men and TV newsmen were in Sanford yesterday for the American Association Spring meeting.

"It receives no millage," said Lewis as he explained that out of the 16 divisions all except three or four pay their own way.

"We are concerned with a good merchantable program for the farmer," he said, "but we prefer private enterprise to handle them."

April 7 Closing Date

Seminole County registrations have exceeded ten thousand, said Mrs. Camilla Bruce, Seminole County Supervisor of Registrations.

Mrs. Bruce said that 184 new registrations were made last night in Oviedo during the two hour period that the registration books were at the Oviedo City Hall.

This additional number of new registrations brings our total voters list to over ten thousand she said.

Mrs. Bruce emphasized that April 7 is the closing date for registration for those who are qualified to vote in the May 8 Democratic Primary.

The books will be taken tomorrow night to Fern Park, Mrs. Bruce said today, and they will be located at the Prairie Lake American Legion Hut, Next Wednesday night the registration books will be located at the Geneva Community House.

All locations, Mrs. Bruce said, where the books are taken to the various communities, will be open from 8 to 10 p. m. Also, she reminded, the local Supervisor of Registration office will be open next Tuesday night from 7 to 9 p. m.

The National Safety Council to long focused attention on the long upward climb with this statement: "February was the 12th month in a row to show more deaths than the same month of the preceding year."

"Deaths are now going up faster than the increase in travel, so the only conclusion is that people are driving more carelessly."

The council said motor vehicle fatalities in February equaled the all time high for a February. It reported 2,600 Americans were killed, the same number as in February in 1941 and 1952.

The toll in February of this year was 16 per cent higher than in February 1955. Some of the increase was attributed to the extra day in this leap year February.

But, the council said, it was the largest monthly percentage increase since June 1951.

Accidents Involve Following Too Close By Two Vehicles

Two accidents were reported by Florida Highway Patrolman Carl Williams this morning.

Both accidents involved "following too close" he said.

The first accident was at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon just south of Sanford at Flowing Well driven by Clarence Mickens, 45, when a 1949 Mack tractor trailer, of Jacksonville, and belonging to the Winn-Dixie Stores of Jacksonville pulled off to the side of the road and was struck by a 1955 White Semi tractor and trailer driven by Albert B. Clutz, 27, of Columbia, S. C.

The White truck struck the rear of the Mack with damage from the smashup amounting to about $300 to the rear of the Mack truck and about $1,000 to the White. The entire front was torn from the White truck in the accident.

Clutz was charged with "failure to have his vehicle under control."

At 7:30 last night, immediately north of Sanford about an eighth of a mile north of the city limits, an automobile and a GMG Van were involved in a collision.

According to Patrolman Carl Williams, a 1950 Pontiac Coupe, driven by Roosevelt Williams, of 1202 W. 18th St., Sanford, slowed down to make a right turn at the north city limits, was being followed too close and the truck driven by Leo Smith, 303, of Orlando, owned by Robinson Munk Co., tried to dodge him striking the Pontiac on the right rear fender.

Damage was estimated at $125 to the Pontiac and $18 to the truck.

Charges were being filed against Leo Smith, said Patrolman Williams.

Violent Wind, Snow Storms Continuing In Midwest Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Violent wind and snow storms, which struck crippling blows yesterday to northern sections of the Midwest, continued their assault today.

Many communities in four states—the DRS, Minnesota, and Wisconsin—were virtually paralyzed by the vigorous early spring storms.

The dust storms which smothered crops in the Great Plains abated. Strong winds which struck from northern Texas and eastern New Mexico to the Canadian border diminished from eastern Colorado and Kansas southwestward. Here, there was considerable dust in the air in western Texas and parts of Oklahoma and Kansas.

Stormy weather also hit eastern and southern sections of the country in the form of rain or hail and strong winds.

Blizzardlike conditions were reported early today in the Dakotas with blowing snow. Winds ranged from 25 to 30 m.p.h. and gusts to 40 m.p.h. Temperatures dropped to far below freezing.

Other northern midwest states were dealt similar crippling blows. Schools in many rural areas and cities were closed. Highway travel was slowed with many roads blocked by fallen trees and utility poles. Air travel was curtailed. Snowfalls measured up to a foot in some places.

Iceland Asks U. S. Forces To Quit Post

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP)—Iceland's Parliament has called on U.S. forces to quit this North Atlantic defense post. The move would leave the strategic island—a NATO member almost midway between Moscow and New York—with no military force.

The Communist-supported resolution was adopted 31-18 last night over Conservative opposition. It asked that all NATO forces be pulled out "in view of the altered situation" since 1951. At that time the United States and Iceland agreed on the stationing of U.S. Army, Navy and Air Force units here under NATO command.

The Defense Department in Washington said the United States has on the island a "small Army force of battalion size," an Air Force fighter interceptor squadron several "supporting units" and the joint Iceland defense force. It refused on security grounds to specify the number of men involved.

The resolution said the defense treaty should be revised so that Icelanders—who have no army or navy at present—would take over their own defenses.

Explosion Blasts Plant Into Rubble

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A devastating explosion blasted a four-story gray brick building last night and cut a 10-block swath of damage through Philadelphia's busy 30th and Market Street section.

At least three persons were missing and believed dead. Four others were on the critical list. Scores were treated for injuries, some of them late evening shoppers heading home at the time of the blast—8-10 p.m.

Not until the cold morning air cleared away the pall of black smoke was the extent of the destruction fully revealed. As far as the eye could see there were broken windows, smashed automobiles, scattered debris.

The scene of the explosion was a two-block west of the Schuylkill River that separates the downtown portion of the city from West Philadelphia.

Across the street from the blasted building—the milling plant of the Tidewater Mill and Elevator Co.—the new Philadelphia Bulletin four-story building took the full force of the blast.

Traffic Deaths Keep Going Up

CHICAGO (AP)—Traffic deaths are going up and up.

The National Safety Council to long focused attention on the long upward climb with this statement: "February was the 12th month in a row to show more deaths than the same month of the preceding year."

"Deaths are now going up faster than the increase in travel, so the only conclusion is that people are driving more carelessly."

County Schools Close Tomorrow Re-Open Tuesday

All of the Seminole County Schools will close this afternoon at the completion of the school day to return on Tuesday morning at the usual hour, Superintendent of Public Instruction Rayburn T. Milwee stated this morning.

The schools will be closed for Spring holidays, he said.

Seminole County schools will be closed tomorrow and Monday and will reopen again on Tuesday morning, Milwee said.

Grace Given Bridal Shower By Friends

NEW YORK (AP)—Grace Kelly, preparing for the pomp and ceremony of her marriage next month to Prince Rainier III of Monaco, was given an old-fashioned bridal shower yesterday by her girl friends.

The film star showed up at an upper East Side apartment with her mother, sister, sister-in-law and several other folks from Philadelphia.

Shower presents included quite a bit of lingerie, a beach hat, a fancy belt and a cake with tiny umbrellas.

The party was given by Mrs. John Richardson and Mrs. Malcolm Rexbold. They will be attendants at Miss Kelly's wedding April 18.

Formost Dairies Wins Dismissal

JACKSONVILLE (U.S.)—Foremost of the part of a Federal Trade Commission complaint that said Foremost used "unfair" practices in its growth by absorbing other firms. The firm still faces FTC charges that its acquisition of 39 dairy firms since 1931 lessens competition or creates a monopoly. Before the hearing resumes May 15 at a site to be designated the hearing examiner, Everett F. Haycraft, suggested attorneys for FTC and Foremost get together and agree on facts in the case. He also directed the trade commission attorneys to be more specific as to products and geography in their complaints. Renah F. Camiller, Washington attorney representing Foremost, said the record in the case will show it is the government position, not Foremost's, that would tend to create monopoly by building "a protective, impregnable wall ... around the larger nation- al distributors ... and protect them in perpetuity against any other new aggressive companies developing into adequate competition on a national scope and scale."

Armed Forces Day Plans Are Made

SAVANNAH, Ga. (U.S.)—Plans for the observance of Armed Forces Day May 19 were made at a luncheon here attended by military and civic leaders. The luncheon was held at Hunter Air Force Base, with Brig. Gen. Charles B. Dougher, commander of forces at Hunter, as host. There will be a parade and banquet on Saturday, May 19 and Hunter base and other military installations will display military weapons at open house on Sunday, May 20. There are 14 million hogs in West Germany.

No Existing Island In Biscayne Bay May Be Extended

TALLAHASSEE (U.S.)—The Florida Supreme Court has ruled that no existing island in Biscayne Bay may be extended to the channels. The court, however, ruled that the Cloughton interests hold bona fide title to all of Burlingame Island as it now exists. But the court said the island cannot be enlarged. The court said the Butler act of 1921 does not apply to Burlingame Island or other islands of a similar nature in Biscayne Bay. Burlingame Island lies just off the mouth of the Miami River in the downtown business section of Miami.

Bryant Will Push For More Colleges In State If Chosen

FARRIS BRYANT has pledged himself to push for more two-year and four-year colleges in Florida if elected governor. In a statement issued at Miami yesterday the Marion County legislator declared "one of the greatest Florida needs that must be met in the immediate future" is establishment of community colleges to serve all metropolitan areas. Bryant also called for more four-year colleges "in those areas where they can be established without destroying private institutions which are presently meeting needs of the area."

Freeman Files Habeas Corpus Against Sheriff

TAMPA (U.S.)—McKinley Freeman today resisted moves to return him to an Alabama prison for completion of a life term for murder. Freeman, who escaped from a Montgomery prison three years ago while working in the highway department shop at Kilby Prison, filed habeas corpus proceedings against Sheriff Ed Blackburn of Hillsborough County. Federal prisoners are kept in the county jail here. The escaped murderer was picked up by the FBI while he was getting a haircut in a Davenport, Fla., barber shop. Freeman, who said he lived a "clean life" during his three years of freedom from prison, is charged with unlawful flight to avoid confinement after conviction of murder.

3-YEAR-OLD DROWNS

PENSACOLA (U.S.)—Two-year-old Valerie Osgood apparently followed her pet dog into Perdido Bay and drowned yesterday, sheriff's deputies said. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Osgood, of nearby Paradise Beach. Mrs. Osgood, who was preparing to take the girl to a grocery when the mishap occurred, spotted the body floating in the water. There are about 325,000 pronghorn antelope in the United States.

Facts, Figures Show Caution Could Bring Accident Total Down

The recently issued tabulation of accidents in Florida has revealed some astounding figures.

It definitely puts the finger on man-made causes of accidents, which by a little caution, a little thoughtfulness, and a little common sense on the part of some drivers, could bring the accident total down within a reasonable figure.

What violation would you think caused the most accidents on Florida highways last year?

Most casual readers would immediately answer — speed.

However, according to the report made by the Florida Highway Patrol, following the closely was the leader in the wreck field, although speed caused the most accidents in which persons were killed.

There were 13,177 wrecks caused by following too closely but only 26 of those wrecks resulted in death. However, in the case of speed, there were 11,499 wrecks and out of that total came 356 death-dealing crashes, nearly one a day.

Then, failure to grant right of way was the third biggest reason for highway wrecks in 1955, but out of the 10,588 such wrecks, there were only 69 that proved fatal to driver or passengers.

The fourth biggest cause of crashes was drunk driving. But out of 5,392 wrecks in this category, only 30 of them were fatal.

And in summarizing the Florida Highway Patrol's report, one would immediately see that more folks had wrecks when they had nothing to obscure their vision and a straight road to drive on than at any other time.

For instance, there were over 76,000 wrecks in all, and 73,000 of those happened when vision was not obscured. Then, about straight road driving, 72,000 of all wrecks happened on a straight and level roadway.

And now, let's see how all of these figures affected the overall fatality picture. There were 841 fatal accidents last year. So, 795 of those fatalities were on roads when vision was not obstructed in any way and on straight roads there were 641 accidents which caused death.

Simple reasoning reveals that practically every one of these lives lost on Florida highways last year could have been avoided with some amount of caution and care on the part of automobile drivers.

Distance between cars is easy to maintain. Watching ahead on straight, level roads would have kept many of those useful citizens alive.

Justice Department Ready To Go

By JAMES MARLOW
 Associated Press News Analyst
 WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department, armed with a new weapon just handed it by the Supreme Court, will now go ahead with the job of trying to make reluctant witnesses unravel some of the conspiracies in the United States.

The court yesterday upheld the immunity law passed in 1954 by Congress to make unwilling witnesses—Communists or non-Communists—testify in court cases involving national security. Springfield, for instance.

This law says that if a witness before a federal grand jury or congressional committee investigating a case involving national security refuses to testify—on the grounds he might incriminate himself—he can be prosecuted. What if he still refuses? He can be cited for contempt and jailed.

But the court limited itself to saying this law could be used by the Justice Department in making grand jury investigations. It did not—and specifically said it did not—say it was all right for congressional committees to use it. The court may rule later in the committees' favor.

Grand juries and congressional committees have been hampered by their inquiries into communism by witnesses' use of the Fifth Amendment, which says a man cannot be forced to testify to anything which might incriminate him.

Once a man claims up behind the amendment neither a jury nor a committee can tell whether he really has anything to fear or is just refusing to talk to protect friends or acquaintances.

Yet, the amendment is intended

'Monkey Fishing'

"Monkey Fishing" has been attacked many times by ardent sportsmen, conservationists, and those interested in maintaining the sports fish of Florida for the fishermen and not for those who wish to haul every type of fish out of our streams and lakes by the ton.

The little known "fishing by electricity" method of taking fish from lakes and streams by stunning them seems to be gaining some headway in the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission of our State inasmuch as it has been proposed that this method, now outlawed, be given a test period in various areas where sportsmen like to fish.

On November 7, 1955, in a bulletin to all commercial fishermen and dealers in fresh water fish, it was stated that the commission went on record "opposing" monkey fishing and "instructed the Director to use every means available to bring it to a close."

Now, the Commission seems to have reversed itself in that it has given in and will consider a proposal to allow such type fishing on an experimental basis.

The bulletin issued in November, 1955 explained that monkey fishing, or fishing with electrical devices, "is universally considered to be far too dangerous to fresh water fish populations to legalize."

No State in the United States has ever legalized this method of fishing and sportsmen are up in arms over the possibilities that Florida might be the first to allow it.

Quoting the release from the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, "various electrical currents can disturb, molest, and agitate, if not seriously injure and kill fresh water fish and their young."

As explained by those who are interested in preserving game fish of the State for sportsmen and also explained in the bulletin to commercial fishermen and dealers in fresh water fish, the "monkey fishing" method could not be legalized because it is believed that restrictive regulations would be more difficult to enforce than total prohibition.

It was also believed that, what can be called uncouth method of taking fish, is too effective to legalize because to do so could very well result in over-harvesting of fish in many waters seriously damaging both commercial and sport fishing industries of the State.

Going so far as to state that the unregulated use of such equipment as used in monkey fishing could only be defined as dangerous to the biological and economical welfare of the State, the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission issued a very stern warning in the eliminating and removal of such illegal devices from the fresh waters of the State.

We believe that every effort should be maintained to conserve our fish and game. If such devices as those used for "monkey fishing" are dangerous they should be forbidden in the possession of anyone near our fishing streams.

Our tourist and sportsmen are too important to have taken away from them the natural game and fish rightfully theirs.

promise of immunity takes the place of the Fifth Amendment in protecting him from prosecution.

Having been offered immunity in exchange for his testimony, if he still won't talk he can be cited for contempt and jailed. This is what happened when a federal grand jury, making the first use of the 1954 law, questioned William Ludwig Ullmann about a wartime Washington spy ring.

He invoked the Fifth Amendment, was granted immunity, refused to talk, was sentenced to six months in jail, and appealed all the way up to the Supreme Court.

Now, with the court upholding the law, a Justice Department spokesman said it will go ahead with its investigations.

However, he is among those physicians who believe that, used in moderation, tobacco eases tension and promotes relaxation. He thinks the beneficial effects of this may outweigh any physical disadvantages.

This, of course, would be the ideal way to smoke. It seems to me that tobacco is one of the good things of life, one of the rare pleasures, and should be treated as such. A fine cigar, a cool pipe or a few cigarettes are the hallmarks of a civilized man. The trick is not to overdo.

I couldn't learn that trick. My daily average was two packs of cigarettes and, under pressure at the typewriter, it would go up to three. Out of pure nervous reflex, I often lit one cigarette, and put it down beside another already burning. Over-indulgence was my middle name.

So there was no alternative but to stop entirely.

Holy Week

THE ROAD TO THE CROSS—The soldiers having mocked Him, they removed the purple robe and restored His own raiment. "And as they led Him away, they laid hold upon one Simon, a Cyrenian, coming out of the country, and on him they laid the cross that he might bear it after Jesus. And there followed Him a great company of people, and of women, which also bewailed and lamented Him. But Jesus turning unto them said, Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children." Accompanying the procession were two thieves condemned, like Jesus, to be crucified on Calvary. Having reached Golgotha, the place of the skull, the soldiers "gave Him vinegar to drink mingled with gall; and when He had tasted thereof, He would not drink."

Should You Stop Smoking?

By BELMAN MORSE
 (For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—About this business of not smoking...

Nearly a year has elapsed since I lit my last cigarette. It still seems like a miracle, difficult to believe after 23 years of heavy puffing. I don't intend to start again.

However, the subject of this essay is not "How I Stopped Smoking."

It is, rather, that the benefits of not smoking may be greatly overrated.

As I understand it, each of us is a special little chemical works, different in some detail from every other. What is harmful to one person may have little or no effect on another. So doctors are by no means in agreement about the effects of tobacco.

My experience, for what it's worth, has been this—

I don't find that I work better now, have more energy nor sleep more soundly. My disposition hasn't improved. And writing a simple declarative English sentence is still likely to be an obstacle bigger than Mt. Everest.

In other words, I feel pretty much as I did when I was smoking.

Then why stop? Well, there was an illness... doctor's advice.

However, he is among those physicians who believe that, used in moderation, tobacco eases tension and promotes relaxation. He thinks the beneficial effects of this may outweigh any physical disadvantages.

This, of course, would be the ideal way to smoke. It seems to me that tobacco is one of the good things of life, one of the rare pleasures, and should be treated as such. A fine cigar, a cool pipe or a few cigarettes are the hallmarks of a civilized man. The trick is not to overdo.

I couldn't learn that trick. My daily average was two packs of cigarettes and, under pressure at the typewriter, it would go up to three. Out of pure nervous reflex, I often lit one cigarette, and put it down beside another already burning. Over-indulgence was my middle name.

So there was no alternative but to stop entirely.

It had a number of interesting results. For instance, it decomplified your life marvelously. Once, I wakened on a train in the early hours after midnight, found myself out of cigarettes, and couldn't rouse the porter. Sheer panic! That will never happen again.

How do you stop?

There are a thousand different methods.

Some people have had success with the "stretch-out" system. In this, you postpone your first cigarette five minutes each day; after a month, you will have delayed the day's smoking by two and one-half hours.

Another, and similar, plan is the "reward" idea. You don't tell yourself you are going to stop entirely, but you hold off as long as possible, then "reward" yourself with a smoke. Then hold off again.

Trouble with all these is that they focus your thoughts on tobacco, whereas the key is to forget it entirely. I believe it was Mark Twain who said something to the effect that smoking is not the kind of habit you can lead downstairs, one step at a time.

"You have to throw it out the window, bodily," he declared.

Chronic Arthritis Often Attacks After Age 50

By HERMAN R. BONDAGE, M.D.

FIFTY years of continuous operation will cause wear and tear on any machine. Your body is no exception.

Chronic arthritis is an example of what might occur after you reach the half century mark for this chronic arthritis involving multiple joints seems to develop with age. Wear and tear simply destroys the hyaline cartilage.

Age Factors Unless it's caused by an injury, osteoarthritis seldom attacks anyone under the age of 40. On the other hand, many over the age of 60 have it in some degree.

Obesity and the menopause may be contributing factors. Usually the symptoms begin gradually. While there is no muscular spasm, there may be pain; sometimes a lot of it. Generally, this pain is greatest after exercise. Fortunately, however, the ailment often causes little or no disability.

Not Progressive It's important that you understand that this is not a progressive type of arthritis. It will not cripple you. This reassurance alone frequently relieves nervous tension and gives pronounced relief.

It's also important that you get plenty of rest, especially if fatigue is a factor in your ailment. Make sure you get adequate sleep. And I suggest you take five minutes out of every hour just to sit and do absolutely nothing.

Use Ointment Often the doctor feels that it is a good idea to rub an ointment such as methyl salicylate into the skin over the affected joint before you go to bed. Applying moist heat by hot towels or poultices may be soothing.

Contrast Baths If these methods fail, diathermy sometimes works well. Use of an elastic bandage to support the painful joint will keep it inactive and ease the pain. Aspirin often brings relief. And injections of hydrocortisone usually are beneficial.

Campaign Train May Be On Way

NEW YORK (AP)—I am beginning to fear for one of the fine old features of the American political scene, the candidate's campaign train.

Like the brass band and the torchlight parade, it may be on the way out.

The airplane and television have been muscling into the picture on a bigger scale every presidential year. You can reach a lot of voters in a very little time with them. They are slick and modern.

But for the reporter, covering a presidential campaign, the train has special advantages.

It gets you to the whistle-stops and the earnest little towns, lets you listen to people talking, and gives you the "feel" of the debate, as nothing else can do. You practically live in the "work car" on the train.

This is a new room on wheels. The seats have been taken out, and long shelves for typewriters line both sides of the car. A public address system connects with the rear car platform where the candidate does the talking.

The train may stop 8 or 10 times a day. In 1952, both Gen. Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson were indefatigable campaigners who made a lot of stops, and then did a major speech at night.

You don't have much time, only a few minutes at each stop. Sometimes you know what the candidate is going to say. Sometimes, he catches you flat-footed.

One dark night in 1952, somewhere north of Seattle, Eisenhower unexpectedly broke out a brand new line of attack. It came toward the end of a back-platform talk in a small town. Typewriters began to smoke in the press car. The train started to move. We ripped the copy from the machines, yelled "Western Union," and to our horror, saw the agent roll all the stories into a single ball of paper, and hurl them out into darkness.

"Don't worry," he said, soothingly. "My guy will find that copy, and your files will get it." And by golly, they did.

It wasn't always like that, the heat wasn't always on.

Frequently, there was time to mingle with the crowd packed around the rear car. Then you got a voter's-eye view of the candidate. You could sense his strong and weak points, and how the people were reacting, and what they said and what attracted them.

For instance, it was worth a lot of votes to Eisenhower, four years ago, when, at the end of a talk, he would say, "And now, I would like to introduce my family."

The U. S. National Park Service was established in 1916.

On The BOOKSHELF

By S. DRIGGERS
A new book that should prove exciting is "Boy On A Dolphin" by David Divine. A story of three people who are searching for a piece of old Greek sculpture in the waters off a Greek island. Each one has a different motive for looking for it, and each schemes to find it in his own way. There is a love story woven in with the search and underwater scenes are breathtaking.

A new nurse story, "Enter Nurse Marian" and two mysteries "Murder Laughs Last" and "Few Die Well" have just come in.

Anyone interested in Civil War pictures should see "Mathew Brady, Historian With a Camera." It has over 500 illustrations. One of the great photographers of all time, Mathew Brady had a sense of history unequalled by any other cameraman. Until now, he has been most famous for his Civil war pictures. But, beginning almost with the invention of photography in 1839, Brady the farmboy from the frontier became America's photographer. After the war, for many years, a photograph by Brady was an American hallmark and the Brady studio was active in many kinds of picture projects. This collection of photographs exciting in themselves, serves to heighten the genuine drama of Brady's life story.

"Ten North Frederick" has reached the top of the National best sellers. "Marjorie Morningstar" and "Andersonville" are second and third. Anne Lindbergh's "Gift From The Sea" still leads the nonfiction. "Bridey Murphy" is second. Have you had your turn for Bridey?

Here are some new books on order: "Arthritis and Common Sense," by D. D. Alexander; "Grass Is Never Greener," by Robert Allen; "Half-Crown House," by Helen Ashron; "If This Be Virtue," by Paula Batchelor; "When God Slept," by Peter Fuorne; "Sabrina Kane," by Will Cook; "My Ship Is So Small," by Ann Davison; "Beloved," by Vina Delmar; "Frozen Jungle," by Lawrence Erl.

"Lute and The Glove" by Katherine Exter; "Bang The Drum Slowly" by Mark Harris; "Perfect Woman," by L. B. Hartley; "Island of The Pit," by Vincent James; "Saddlebag Parson," by Sara Jenkins; "Dorset" by Garson Kanin; "Keath Keeps A Secret," by Clarence B. Kelland; "Your Prayers Are Always Answered," by Alexander Lake; "Abigail," by Louise Mally; "Saw Screams At Midnight," by G. A. Mills; "Signorina," by Henry Myers; "Black and The Red," by Elliot Paul.

"Natural Childbirth Primer," by Dr. Read; "Clear Place In The Sky," by Mary Rosborough; "Spinner Of The Dream," by John Secondari; "Doctor For Blue Jay Cove," by Elizabeth Seifert; "Madam, Will You Talk," by Mary Stewart; "Naon Rainbow," by Charles Terrot; "Roll Back The Sky," by Ward Taylor. That's quite a list, but it seems everyone's wait till spring to publish a book. It's hard to find many good books to order until March.

Mrs. J. R. Bond, treasurer of the American Women's Club of Toronto, Canada was recognized as a visitor.

Coffee was served from a lace covered table centered with a lovely creation of purple iris in a crystal bowl. Silver appointments were used and other delicacies such as open face sandwiches and tiny cakes were also offered the guests.

The baskets on either side of the stage held blooming purple catars.

Hostesses for the event were Miss Adelaide Conte, Miss Alice Cooper and Mrs. Frank Evans. Mrs. Roy Tillis was sponsor.
