BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

MY STRENGTH—I will sing of thy power. Unto thee, O my strength, will I sing: for God of death when these "dear dead days" are gone beyond recall.

Many of us will be tickled to death when these "dear dead days" are gone beyond recall.

They will be talking about the Hoover-Roosevelt campaign of 1928 one hundred years from now.

Will Rogers is sore at the political speakers because some of their remarks are funnier than his.

President Hoover must feel that he is in a bad way when he is willing to travel three thousand miles in order to vote for himself.

Ruth Nichols starts a flying campaign tour for Hoover and ends in a crack up. Judging from the Literary Digest that may be prophetic.

Optimists are predicting that no matter who's elected president we'll have light wines and beer within six months. They are overlooking the fact that the constitution of the state of Florida strictly prohibits such sales, and that all the people of Florida will have to vote on it in order to change it.

The Tampa Tribune quotes Mr. Hoover as saying that if elected he "will abide by the action of the Democratic primaries and appoint the Democratic nominees to the offices for which the primary nominated them," and then adds, "If he does, it will be the first time in the history of the country a Republican has appointed so many Democrats to office."

Jim Cox speaks of the waning confidence in politics and government. This campaign has done more to undermine confidence in government than anything that has happened in many years. If all the things which the Democrats have said about the Republicans are true, there won't be much left for Roosevelt after he is elected, and if all the things which the Republicans have said about the Democrats are true, there won't be much left of the country after Roosevelt gets in.

Taxation is a matter which vitally concerns every individual in the country, be he rich or poor. A large percentage of our population is not directly concerned with taxation, but everyone pays, don't forget that. The tax revenue is not as much a part of the costs of operation as the payroll, interest on indebtedness or rent, and doesn't ever get the idea that all these costs are not passed along to the ultimate consumer. Though you may pay no more taxes than a peon, you pay your part of every tax that is levied. In the groceries you buy, in the clothes you put on your back, in the electricity you burn, and in the rent you pay, when you vote, vote always to reduce taxation.

To most of us it is an amazing feature of this campaign that such a small number of speakers, especially those well informed speakers as Charles Chase will make vital speaking matters of vital interest in national affairs, and that they are so widely and consistently contradicted by other speakers, especially those well informed speakers like Ogden in some instances it is almost incredible. It is almost incredible that anyone, important in the life and honored and loved by literally millions of people, should so deliberately and consistently contradict the truth. It is almost incredible that they should do this. If they condemn it at all, they condemn it at the very thing they are doing. We don't think any one should be in a position to contradict the public.

Protect The State

Another winter is about to arrive and it won't be long before Florida's annual influx of tourists will begin to reach our state. Every facility for their comfort and enjoyment, every means of providing play and pleasure have been developed so that they can have such a memorable and enjoyable time that they will not forget to come back again. The tourist business is one of the state's chief industries and is one upon which many of our cities rely for their main sources of revenue. As such it must be fostered and safeguarded.

Naturally what appeals to those who have money to spend also appeals to those who are down and out and who haven't a coin to pay for the next meal. Unfortunately there are millions of persons in the United States just now who are jobless and who haven't a place to live. That many of them will turn their eyes, yea their feet, towards Florida where warm sunshine will at least obviate the pain of freezing weather, is a very reasonable supposition.

Everyone has a compassionate feeling for those who, for reasons over which they have no control, find themselves out of work, without funds, food, or shelter. We believe that no one will shrink his responsibility in seeing to it that suffering among the unemployed during the coming year is held at a minimum.

But to expect this state to become a heaven and responsible for the unemployed and down-and-outers of other states is expecting too much. This suggestion has actually been made by someone in the North who painted a pretty picture of unemployed hordes living this winter in the warmth of our sunshine, enjoying our beaches, and what he forgot to add was, eating at our expense and menacing our homes, our lives, and our tourist business.

Any great influx of jobless into this state during the coming winter will have much news value and as such the information will be broadcast throughout the country, obviously to the great detriment of our tourist traffic. Our winter visitors will not wish to spend their vacation days where menacing throngs of unemployed threaten the peace and quiet of an otherwise orderly existence.

The time to begin any action calculated to keep vagrants out of the state is before the influx begins. State officials should plan now to place a barrier across our borders which will protect our citizens and our visitors from the dangers of an uncontrolled and hungry horde which will probably descend upon us unless steps are taken to thwart it.

Southern Building

Reports of construction in the South as contained in the Manufacturers Record are optimistically received at this time when spirits of the people are at a general low ebb. Contracts let last month amounted to $55,091,000, being the highest monthly total since July of 1931.

The value of projects for which contracts have been awarded during the first ten months of the present year, not including hundreds of expenditures under $10,000, amounts to $357,721,000. The total sum of all construction is conservatively estimated at $475,000,000.

The disbursement of this huge amount of money at this particular time should be a considerable stimulus to southern business, especially when the fact is considered that much of these funds is coming from the federal government and is what might be called "new" money, that is, money which is not raised from the immediate section in which it will be spent.

The many projects under way and being contemplated include industrial plants, general building, highway work, and flood control and drainage projects. The Mississippi River flood control undertaking alone calls for the expenditure of $325,000,000.

Florida is coming in for a sizable share of government money with the Lake Okechobee project for controlling the waters of this large inland body of water of major proportions costing $9,000,000. Federal road aid, construction of postoffices and other public buildings, money for rivers and harbors will be of vast help in giving jobs and putting money into circulation in this state.

SANFORD, TWENTY YEARS AGO

Mrs. George B. Waldron was hostess at a delightful Halloween party at the Congregational parsonage Thursday evening complimentary to the young people of the Congregational Sunday School and a few other friends. The usual interesting games were played. The chief amusement, however, was afforded by the stunts and failures of everyone to pin a hick nut on a wicker broom while blindfolded. Success crowned the efforts of Dick Turcotte, who won the prize.

THE SUPREME COURT

Florida's supreme court will lose the services of three commissioners Nov. 1. A constitutional amendment submitted to the voters Nov. 8 will, if approved, immediately grant the court an additional justice, increasing the membership from six to seven but still diminishing the cost of the old system.

When the last legislature voted to abolish the supreme court commission and to submit this amendment there was little doubt that the electorate would approve of the seventh judgeship. Since then, however, there has been so general a demand for economy that a well-conceived plan for improvement of the state's final court of appeal may be wrecked by defeat of this amendment, which at first glance seems to mean increased expenditure.

The salaries of the three court commissioners aggregate $18,000 a year. The pay of one stenographer serving the commission raises the total to $19,200. This will be struck from the payroll in any event. If an additional justice is granted the court and a secretary is provided, there will still be a net saving of $9,000 a year in salaries.

Why not save the entire amount? Will a court of seven justices be worth $10,000 more than a court of six? The temptation is to answer "no" without further thought, but snap judgment is dangerous.

There has been a steady increase, year by year from 1925 through 1931, in the number of cases to be handled by this court. The justices have met this situation as best they could, disposing of a larger number of cases each year and making an excellent record in this respect, as compared with the highest courts of appeal in other states. They disposed of 1,172 cases in 1931, for example, while the docket was cleared of the following number of cases in other states: Mississippi, six justices, 486; Tennessee, five justices, 183; Colorado, New York, Ohio, Virginia, Michigan and Minnesota, each with seven justices (except Michigan, which has eight, from 124 to 550 cases).

Despite this good work, the Florida court began the current

VON PAPEN CALLS MONARCHY TALK PURELY POLITICS

Says Nation Too Busy To Give Any Attention To Propaganda

BERLIN, Nov. 4.—Germany is too busy with economic and social problems to give any attention to a possible return of the monarchy, Herr Franz von Papen declared recently. Stigmatizing as election propaganda talk of restoration, the Chancellor caucused his denial in terms which, however, leave the way completely open for monarchial reforms at a later date.

Speaking at a convention of masters of the Berlin and Brandenburg handicraft guilds, Herr von Papen declared the foreign press is spreading talk of a monarchy as an indication of the danger of new unrest in Europe. He added that this is being used to convince Europe that a tightening rather than loosening of the fetters of the Versailles Treaty is necessary.

"I do not want to leave the least doubt," he said, "that we do not acknowledge the right of anyone else to decide what form of government is best for Germany. Only the German people can determine that. . . I feel it is important to repeat with clarity that we are glad not to have to concern ourselves over the question of the form of government. This subject is not open for discussion."

In the same speech, however, Herr von Papen criticized the unpopularity of the Reichstag and renewed his government's pledge to reform the Constitution. He told the guilds that under the new system they would be made the basis of state representation rather than the existing system based upon parliamentary parties.

The government's economic program, the Chancellor declared, is seeking to strengthen all phases of national life through government renewed impetus to private enterprise. He declared 750,000,000 marks would be authorized for public works in the next few months.

The Chancellor said the last few weeks have seen marked betterment in world economic conditions. There are "many reasons to say confidence in an improved economic position is justified," he declared. He added that the government hopes to improve the credit position of small borrowers by further reduction in the discount rate.

SALES TAX SEEN AS SALVATION OF TRYING PROBLEM

System Is Suggested By Speaker At Tax Conference Session

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 3. Enactment of general sales taxes by the various states is the only solution for antiquated taxation systems, Mr. Miles P. O'Connell, secretary of the Tennessee Tax Commission, told delegates to the newly organized Southern Tax Conference and the Henry George Foundation, in joint session here.

"Tennessee has not a total sales volume than Virginia," he declared. "Virginia merchants pay $1,400,000 in taxes and Tennessee merchants pay only $1,100,000. Virginia today is regarded as a model state because its budget is balanced and its bonds are negotiable."

The speaker stated that reform in present taxation will come from small towns and rural sections. He was among principal speakers at the session at which many phases of taxation were discussed. A number of southern states are officially represented and recommendations were made to the respective state legislatures.

Mr. Emil O. Johnson, Chicago, delivered the keynote speech on the subject of the "Future of the Taxation of the South." He stated that on the basis of America's present economic conditions the single tax system would add $500 to the annual purchasing power of every family in the United States.

Courson Released Under Large Bond Pending Decision

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 3. (AP)—Capt. W. C. Courson, convicted recently in the Sweet's case, was liberated yesterday under bond of $100,000, pending decision on his appeal for a new trial.

J. G. Hechler, clerk of the circuit court, approved a bond for Courson in the amount of $100,000, which was furnished by Hamilton county where Courson lived before coming to Jacksonville.

Courson has been in jail since he was captured in the Sweet's case in 1929. The maximum allowed by law for such a case is 20 years.

ber hose and pistol butt. ### Rival Campaign Managers Have Hope Over Result

"Bill Howey will carry Florida by a majority of at least 50,000 votes," said Paul Shoemaker, active worker in the interests of the Lake county candidate for governor yesterday while discussing the general campaign with F. G. Zerrenner, president of the local Howey-For-Governor Club, and other persons.

This statement, concurred in by Mr. Zerrenner, was made after Mr. Shoemaker had discussed at length a complete report of Mr. Howey's recent tour into West Florida which is said to be swinging over rapidly to the Howey cause. "I am reliably informed that the Howey swing in that section is assuming almost that of a landslide", Mr. Shoemaker said.

At the same time, W. H. Schmidt, president of the local Howey-For-Governor Club, issued a statement declaring that the Howey campaign is gaining ground hourly and that the Daytona candidate will roll up an overwhelming majority. "Dave Shultz will be Florida's next governor by a vote that will surprise even his most ardent backers", he said, "a vote that will leave no doubt in anyone's mind as to how Florida stands back of its outstanding leaders."

Mr. Schmidt also expressed the opinion that Mr. Shultz never chose a wiser course than he did when he decided to tour Florida from end to end this summer and fall. "In this way," Mr. Schmidt said, "Mr. Shultz is already indicating that he is going to keep his pre-election promise of being the leader of Florida Democracy. He is re-organizing the party on a wide scale, and his enthusiasm and energy are being transmitted and accepted by Democrats the state over."

LEAGUE REPORT SHOWS SLAVERY ALMOST EXTINGUISHED

Abyssinia And Arabia Are Only Places In World Practicing It

By REX MILLER
GENEVA, Nov. 4.—Slavery and slave-trading in their most acute forms have been practically eliminated from the earth's surface except in Abyssinia, Arabia and adjacent territories, and these evils are being rapidly suppressed in their last strongholds, according to a report just submitted by a committee of experts to the League of Nations Council after one year's investigation.

In Abyssinia, the principal source of the slaves which are sold in Arabia, the Emperor himself is desirous of stamping out human servitude. With this in view, he has recently established a special Slavery Department in the Government, with an advisory council consisting of the principal nobles and under the presidency of the Emperor himself.

An Abyssinian Anti-Slavery Society is to be founded forthwith, into which the advisory council will be merged. But, as the Emperor recently explained to a foreign inquirer, "None of the nobles or other members of the advisory council will be permitted to become members of the Anti-Slavery Society until they have released all their own slaves."

Several thousand slaves belonging to leading noblemen are now being liberated and settled on the land. Abyssinia is the only Christian country which has not yet completely abolished slavery in law or in fact, but it has enacted successive measures intended to prevent the enslavement of persons who are now free and to expedite the liberation of those in bondage.

The persistence of slavery in the Ethiopian Kingdom is largely due to the fact that the country was for two centuries cut off from the outside world and its evolution correspondingly retarded. Ancient traditions prevent the Government from proceeding to eliminate it by other than gradual processes.

With the possible exception of Tibet and Central Asia, slavery has ceased to have a legal status in all countries except the Arabian states of Hejaz, Nejd, Yemen, Hadramuth, Oman and Koweit. Its legal existence has in recent years been abolished in Sierra Leone, Gambia, the Gold Coast, Ashanti, Nyasaland, Northern Rhodesia, British Somaliland, Afghanistan, Iraq, Bahrain, Nepal, Kelat, Transjordan, Persia and China. Some of these states lie in the general vicinity of the Red Sea and the Persian Gulf, and the legal abolition of slavery in these territories has placed a great obstacle in the way of the shipment of slaves into the Arab states where the institution of slavery is still legally recognized.

Pilgrimages to Mecca and the other "holy places" in Arabia provide the principal opportunities for the traffic in slaves. So many pilgrims failed to return to their homes as a result of being seized and sold into captivity that extensive measures have had to be taken to thwart the designs of those who preyed upon them. The Dutch, British, French and Italian Governments have established a careful supervision over the ships which carry pilgrims to Mecca and over the persons who arrange the pilgrimages. By requiring every pilgrim to be provided with absolute proof as to his identity, by placing responsibility for his safe return upon those who provide his transportation, and by maintaining a refuge under the observation of their agents at Jeddah, these governments have undoubtedly saved many of their Asiatic and African subjects from bondage. Since the international anti-slavery convention of 1926 was drawn up and signed, 159 slaves have been freed by the British legation at Jeddah.

RIVAL PARTIES MAKE CLAIMS AS TO VICTORY

Republican campaign will be in session where Governor Roosevelt had his say weeks ago. This afternoon Hoover makes his Illinois stand in Springfield, and at night in St. Louis will give Missourians his views.

Again addressing himself to agricultural and dairy interests on Saturday, he speaks in Madison, Wis., and St. Paul, Minn., while on the way to his Calif. campaign to vote.

Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, announced in Alabama last night he plans to vote for President Hoover "as the only way to defeat Roosevelt." A leader of the organized clergy, he was active in the anti-Smith campaign of 1928 in the south.

Whether the President will mention prohibition again has been a subject of conjecture. He first intimated in repudiating reports in New Jersey he had changed the subject expressed in his acceptance speech that the 18th Amendment should be revised.

Meanwhile, Republican campaigners in the East are contending the Democratic plank a step toward fulfillment, in view of the plan to be adopted by a majority.

Within a few hours, Georgia's two Democratic senators, George and Cohen, at party headquarters in New York said that if Roosevelt wins, they expect immediate modification of the prohibition during the session beginning next month.

At St. Louis continues to depict Hoover as the "leader of the party." He and others on the Democratic line through the north-eastern seaboard likewise, and time after time in the platform pledging immediate modification.

Predictions of what will happen accumulate as the time for election nears. Speakers, farmers, business men more and more here believe that he will go to vote after spending a quiet time in Washington, renewed his assertion of Democratic triumph impending.

Senator Cullen, Michigan Republican, said here yesterday that although it was "almost inconceivable that there could be a turnover which would give the state to Governor Roosevelt, I think it will be very close." He expects the Democrats to carry Detroit by 100,000 to 150,000.

The state has almost as solid a Republican record as Pennsylvania.

CANNON SAYS HE WILL VOTE FOR HERBERT HOOVER

Flays Smith Address Attacking Religious Creeds Of Others

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 4.—(AP) Bishop James Cannon, Jr., told the North Alabama conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, last night that he would vote for President Hoover as the only way to defeat Roosevelt.

The dry leader, who four years ago was active in the anti-Smith campaign in the South, said that in casting his vote for Hoover this time he wanted it understood that he "totally disagreed with some of the President's statements," and he felt he has not done all he could have done to make prohibition effective and considered his modification plan vague and "impractical."

Bishop Cannon, discussing the entry of Alfred E. Smith, Democratic nominee in 1928, said his New York speech "was a deliberate, carefully prepared, direct attack upon the prohibitionists." He said, however, Michigan gave its 15 electoral votes to the Bull Moose ticket of "Teddy" Roosevelt. It now has 19 electoral votes.

upon the moral and religious forces behind the 18th Amendment.

"In order to whip into line sulen, resentful, Smith idolaters, Smith deliberately injected the religious issue into the political campaign. . . . He denounced opposition to his candidacy in 1928 as 'bigotry and not prohibition and then openly denounced 'Methodists' and others as an 'aggregation of bigots.'" Bishop Cannon said.

The bishop said in his Boston speech Smith's statements regarding Methodists were "a malicious outburst of Smith spleen, put up for years, which demands a flat denial."

The first item of the element supporting Governor Roosevelt, Cannon said, added to his own objections and statements made him objectionable to the drys.

"I will not vote for Roosevelt with such an openly declared position against the 18th Amendment and with such an aggregation on the firing line in his campaign," said the bishop.

"Therefore, although I am not a Republican, I will vote for President Hoover as a means to defeat Roosevelt, but in voting for Hoover it is with a distinct clear-cut declaration that I totally disagree with certain statements in his acceptance speech. Without calling into question his sincerity, I cannot agree that he has done all that he could have done to make prohibition effective. At the very beginning of the administration, he should have called upon Congress to provide what it money and men might be necessary and Congress would undoubtedly have given him whatever he asked for.

"Moreover, what he proposes to take the place of the 18th Amendment removes the brand of the criminal from the liquor traffic and his proposition to prevent the return of the nation and to protect the dry state seems to me to be a vague generality which, I think will be found to be impractical in operation.

"Nevertheless, Mr. Hoover demonstrates clearly the evils of liquor traffic and has more understanding of conditions and more sympathy with the underlying purpose of prohibition than any other candidate who has a chance of election."

Bishop Cannon said the final lineup behind Roosevelt's candidacy included the able, shrewd, independent Smith with teaching, grafting, Tammany, Curley of Boston, Cermak and Igoe of Chicago, all representing the worst elements of metropolitan life, Reed of Missouri, Ritchie of Maryland and LaFollette, all notorious dumping wets; and the Hearst newspapers.

MARRIED WOMEN WORKERS IN U. S. HAVE INCREASED

Statistics Compiled Reveal Rapid Rise In Past 10 Years

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—An announcement from the Census Bureau today that the proportion of working women in the United States who are married has risen a great deal in the last 10 years is received with interest by both women's organizations and publicists because of the prevalent discussions as to whether the removal of married women from the factory and office would cure the unemployment situation.

The 1930 census figures, released today, show that 28.9 percent of the employed women in the country in that year were married, whereas only 13.9 percent in 1920 had husbands. Of all the married women in the United States in 1930 only 4.6 percent were fully employed. In 1920, 11.7 percent of them had jobs.

Out of 10,000,000 women employed in the United States in 1930, 3,000,000 were married. In 1920, 1,900,000 out of 10,000,000 were generally employed, or 19.0 percent out of 10,000,000, and in 1920, 1,100,000 out of 3,712,111 were so employed.

The statistics give concrete evidence that the married woman has become an important factor in the labor market. A number of industrial firms and even some members of the Federal Government have pointed out their married women as the best to go in case a reduction in force is necessary.

The women's bureau of the Department of Labor and a number of women's organizations are conducting the investigation of married women who will be removed from industry to fill the unemployment situation.

Investigation by the women's bureau disclosed that the majority of married men who are working are doing so because they are necessary for the support of their home and family. In a study of laundry workers nine out of every 10 married women reported that they were working to support a family.

In the study made in the four cities, almost four-fifths of the gainfully employed women who were or had been married were maintaining homes, and over nine-tenths of those with wage-earning husbands were caring for their households in addition to earning wage themselves.

YOUNG DELIVERS SPEECH BACKING F. D. ROOSEVELT

Says He Isn't Afraid Of Markets If Democrat Is Elected

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Owen D. Young, in calling last night for the election of the Roosevelt-Garner ticket, told a political rally that "I am not afraid of markets if Mr. Hoover is elected, and I am not afraid of markets and business if Mr. Roosevelt is elected."

He also declared "it is time liberal parties came into power to save conservatives from their own destruction, and to save the rest of us who are victims too."

The prominent industrialist spoke at the same program with the governor at a meeting arranged by the Republicans for the Roosevelt league.

He said there had been "some misrepresentation of my attitude in this campaign," and added he welcomed the opportunity of appearing with the governor "and saying what will not be news to him of the President of the United States—that I am supporting without qualification Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Garner."

He also said he was supporting Herbert H. Lehman for election as Governor and United States Senator Robert F. Wagner for reelection. Both are Democrats.

"Let that definite statement," he continued, "end any speculation as to where I stand."

"It is no time for tripping," he said a few moments later, "but the President of the United States and his supporters have not hesitated to predict what would happen to securities and business if he were not elected."

"Markets as well as men respond to human emotions," he said, "and as men can be inflamed to their own destruction, so threats can destroy business just as they can make barricades."

"Let no one be afraid—let no one be coerced directly by threats or indirectly by advice. We have not reached the place in this great democracy where there is room for either. He who uses them will reap what he sows."

"Let us be done with fear. Let us rest assured that voting as we feel will bring a result which we can look forward to with confidence and optimism the morning following the election."

Markets and men both will know that there has been a free expression by the voters of America, and I know of no more stabilizing influence for both."

"I am happy to say that Governor Roosevelt and the Democratic party have not held up the specter of what might happen by way of social disturbance if he, as the representative of the liberal party, were not elected," Young also said.

"Warnings have been given us," he said, "against substituting raw recruits for seasoned veterans."

When managers of any concern believe the concern will fail unless they be continued, it is time to take a look. . . I resent at any time or at any place the attitude that the safety of this country depends on any man holding his job."

"No man has achieved that strength and this country has not degenerated to that weakness."

Price Of Wheat Hits New Low In American Market

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Half dollar wheat disappeared from the American continent yesterday and virtually from all world markets as prices on most of the major grain exchanges dove to record low depths.

The Liverpool corn exchange was the only major market to sell wheat at 50 cents a bushel yesterday, and there only one deliv- erable above that figure. December future delivery contracts sold there for as low as 50 1-2 cents a bushel but closed at 50 5-8 cents.

All trading exchanges in the United States, Chicago, Minneapolis and Kansas City, saw wheat prices adding to hitherto unprecedented low levels, the December delivery at 47 1/2 of those markets being at the lowest price ever paid on this continent.

In Chicago, wheat for delivery next month sold down to 47 1/2 cents, a full cent under the previous record low established Tuesday.

In Kansas City in the heart of the bread wheat producing section of the nation, wheat for delivery in December sold at 47 1/2 cents a bushel.

In Minneapolis, center of the so-called "free delivery" wheat, the December delivery also sold at 47 1/2 cents a bushel.

Old Greek Houses Had Contracts On Walls In Carving

BALTIMORE, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Greek real estate dealers of 348 S. C. took no chances when they sold a house—the contract was carved on the wall.

Such a contract, worded much like modern bills of sale, has been discovered on the wall of a house in the ancient Greek city of Olynthus by Dr. David M. Robinson, archaeologist of Johns Hopkins University, recently returned from the excavations on the site.

The contract, still legible after 2000 years, states that Archidamus had bought the house from Esonion "with a year's grace for deliverance," and that the house was located between those of Pythian and Polyxenon.

Olynthus was destroyed in 348 B. C. by Philip of Macedon, father of Alexander the Great, and never rebuilt. Houses, streets, money, ornaments, implements of all kinds remain just as they were left when the 40,000 inhabitants were slain or sold into slavery.

In a cemetery near the city Dr. Robinson discovered that four cists instead of the usual one had been placed in the mouths of several skeletons to pay the fee of Charon, underworld god, of ferrying the dead across the river Styx.

Discoveries of mummies probably made before Alexander's birth and which Dr. Robinson says will alter some conceptions of Greek history previously held by archaeologists were made on the site.

The houses uncovered by Dr. Robinson were well built and well planned, and equipped with bath tubs and shower bath arrangements in many cases. There was usually an open court in the center, with a second-floor balcony looking down upon the court.

As a result of the discovery, Dr. Robinson says that "the statements that the Greek till the Hellenistic era lived in petty little towns and houses like many wasp's nest and had no important domestic architecture will have to be revised."

A bronze "pencil and eraser" was found in the ruins. It is in the form of a two-headed crocodile. From one mouth projects a sharp stylus for writing on wax, and from the other a flat piece of bronze or erasing mistakes.
