Winn, Lovett Co. Celebrates 36th Year In Business

H. L. AVERY
Vice-President in Charge
Jacksonville Division,
Winn & Lovett Grocery Co.

Lovett's, one of the 10 largest retail food service organizations in the country, began celebration of its 36th year in business yesterday.

The event is celebrated by special sale in the 73 super-markets in more than 30 cities in Florida and Georgia and was introduced with newspaper advertising announcing the occasion.

The present Company was founded 36 years ago, according to H. L. Avery, vice president in charge of the Jacksonville division. It was formed from the Tyler Grocery Company by W. R. Lovett, who headed the company until 1940. In that year it was taken over by the four Davis Brothers of Tampa and Miami, A. D. Davis, Jacksonville, is president; James E. Davis, Jacksonville, is vice president and chairman of the board; M. Austin Davis, Miami, is executive vice president and T. W. Davis, also vice president, lives in Louisville and heads operations of the Winn & Lovett Grocery Company in the Louisville, Ky., and Montgomery, Ala. areas.

Lovett's was among the first to sense the trend to super food markets, offering complete service, opening the first store of this type in 1919 at Eighth and Main streets in Jacksonville. The store was more than double the size of the traditional grocery store at that time and its success started the trend to the departmentalized super market of the modern era, according to Avery.

All of the stores in the chain are ready for the biggest anniversary celebration in the company's history and officials and sales personnel of the stores join in extending to the public an invitation to participate in the event.

TV HURTS WRITING?

DETROIT (AP) — Teacher of creative writing considers television a barrier to good writing, says Thomas Cauley head of the Denby High School English Department. "What we stress in writing is simplicity, and you don't learn anything about simplicity from television," he says.

"TV programs, he said, are complex and involved."

"We tell the students to write about their own experiences," Cauley said. "But very few of them think they have anything interesting to write about. So many are used to the tangled plots of television, the constant action on the screen and the frequent bursts of callous brutality. They fail to understand there is beauty in writing about a quiet day in the country."

Fond Memories Of Old Days Leave Oldtimers Misty Eyed

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—They play it sweet and they play it cute, but it's seldom now that they play the really hot note in this town of the "Twelfth Street Rag" — the one-time hotbed of swing.

Some of the cats who used to sit the hottest licks are delivering milk now or laying bricks just about all of them can get misty eyed thinking about the old days.

"This city used to be the jumpiest," says Chet Stamps, an artist's agent who has been around a long time.

"Today you have to read between the lines of fine print to find a joint that's selling jazz on a commercial basis."

He shook his head. "And yet, we really had it Benny Moten, The Great Count Basie, Hot Lips Page, Andy Kirk. That fine sax man Ben Webster."

"Webster, by the way, came back to Kansas City a while ago and almost starved to death looking for a job. All he could find here was some two-bit engagements."

Naturally, he beat it."

Herb Six, a professor at the Kansas City Conservatory and himself an accomplished jazz pianist, was as gloomy as Stamps.

"There's plenty of potential jazz material left in Kansas City," Six said, "but it doesn't find any outlet here. So the young musicians either lose interest and originality or move elsewhere."

Historians of local jazz generally date its decline from the downfall of the late Tom Pendergast, the colorful political boss who kept Kansas City wide open until the late 1930s.

Some deduce that political reform however, desirable in major respects, has proved no unmitigated blessing for jazz. "Things get too quiet, things get square," one ex-musician said.

Others contend that jazz and jazzmen have long since outgrown their gaudy origins.

The bookers put a major share of the blame on the 20 per cent entertainment tax and the early closing hours — 2 a.m. week nights and 12 midnight on Saturday.

"During the Pendergast days," said John Tamino, partner in Stamps' booking agency, "the joints stayed open all night. Oh, the midnight closing law's been on the books since 1933, but nobody used to enforce it. Club owners could afford more live entertainment. Where an operator used to hire a large band, he now uses a small combo, or maybe a single guy with a piano."

Similar thoughts came from Dave and Tom Reiser, a brother piano and guitar team featured at one of Kansas City's swankier establishments.

"There's the obvious economic angle," Dave said. "The operators don't make the profits they did in the old days and they don't like to take chances with new things. Add to this a general lack of showmanship. You've got to have some idea of presentation, to put your stuff across. That seems almost a lost art hereabouts."

"Maybe audiences don't really care much for individual expression any more. They want to see funny faces, they want the guy blowing the horn to do handsprings besides."

But some of the cats who had taken to masonry and letter carrying couldn't keep from their instruments indefinitely.

Three veterans — George Salisbury, piano; J. Jackson, tenor sax; bandleader and bassist Roy Johnson — plus Bob Hopkins, a young drummer, recently formed a band because, as Johnson explained, "we just couldn't stand not playing any more. We'd rather play than eat." They set up shop in a place called the Trocadero.

Johnson proclaimed his jazzman's cred for dark times. "Man, things may be dragging, but it only takes a little spark to set you going," he said. "And ain't nobody can say where the next spark will come from."

AN INDEPENDENT DAILY NEWSPAPER

SANFORD, FLORIDA, FRIDAY, MAR. 4, 1955

Associated Press Leased Wire

No. 139

Weather

Clear to partly cloudy and continued warm through Saturday, highest this afternoon 75-85, lowest tonight 60-70.

Location Cited For Project

The general area adjacent to the Goldsboro section, outside the City limits, was cited last night as the most suitable location for a Negro housing development.

In recommending the area, the City Zoning and Planning Commission also recommended that the City assist any builder to the limit of its financial ability in bringing water and sewer facilities to such a development.

The recommendations were proposed by A. W. Lee and seconded by Tom Vaughn.

Meeting with the board at City Hall were members of the city and county commissions, realtors, and Brailley Odham, whose bid to construct a Negro project across from the Memorial Stadium was rejected Feb. 18 by the Zoning Commission.

The board went on record as recognizing the definite need for a Negro housing development, but said there is apparently no tract of land of sufficient size and suitable location in the city.

Odham had proposed to build a subdivision on the vacant land at the corner of Celery and Melonville Aves., but his request was turned down following a storm of protest against putting a "colored section" in the center of the white section of Sanford.

The crowd that collected at last night's meeting was small indeed compared to the more than 100 persons who gathered two weeks ago to object to Odham's proposed project.

The effect of the Zoning Commission's action is to limit Negro expansion to the southwest side of the city.

Discussion of possible sites last night centered around a 100-acre tract belonging to American Fruit Growers, located at the end of west 13th St. across from Crooks Academy in Goldsboro district.

Mayor Denver Cordell and two city commissioners, F. D. Scott and Earl Higginbotham, were present at the meeting. Representing the county commission were John W. Melsch, chairman, and Fred Dyson. A number of realtors also attended.

City Zoning and Planning Commission also recommended that the City assist any builder to the limit of its financial ability in bringing water and sewer facilities to such a development.

The program for the service was announced today by Mrs. F. E. Scott, chairman for special events for the Girl Scout leaders' organization of Seminole County. Miss Frances Cobb is president of the organization.

A number of songs, including "America," "The Hymn of Scout," "The Golden Sun," and "When the Campfire's Flame Ascends," will highlight the event.

Mrs. J. B. St. John will be the speaker.

The invocation will be given by the Rev. Lucian Scott and the benediction by the Rev. David S. Carnell. The candlelight service will be conducted by Miss Cobb.

The color guard will be active in the ceremony.

Girl Scout Week will be observed March 6-12.

After deliberating slightly more than two hours, a Seminole County court jury last night awarded $22,500 to Carl Pynn, 32, Casselberry salesman, for injuries received in an automobile collision last year.

The verdict followed three days of trial.

Pynn claimed 50 per cent disability in bringing a $75,000 suit against Mrs. Pauline B. Marshall and Robert William Walker, both of Orlando.

Mrs. Marshall was the driver and Walker the owner of the car that collided with Pynn's at the intersection of State Roads 436 and 454 at Forest City on Feb. 8, 1954.

The defendants lost counter-claims against Pynn. Mrs. Marshall was suing for $50,000 and Walker for $5,000.

The law firm of Maguire, Voorhis and Wells, Orlando, represented Pynn. Parker McDonald, Orlando, and Volle Williams Jr., Sanford, were counsel for Mrs. Marshall and Walker.

The proposed General Sanford Library and Museum will come up for further discussion at an adjourned meeting of the City Commission tonight. The meeting will begin at 7:30.

Present will be members of the committee seeking construction of the memorial, which would house the library and effects of the late Gen. H. S. Sanford for whom the city was named.

A site in Ft. Mellon Park has been designated for the museum.

Missing Scientist At News Meeting

THE HANDLEY SILVER Cup Tournament started this morning at the Sanford Tourist and Shuffleboard Court. 13 towns were represented and 52 teams were registered. (Staff Photo)

Large Turnout Sees Shuffleboard Play

Excitement ran high as 52 shuffleboard teams began the Handley Silver Cup Tournament under a blazing Florida sun this morning at the Sanford Tourist and Shuffleboard Courts.

Joseph Murray, official and director of the tourney, stated that the event would probably run up until late evening with the winner to be crowned.

Thomas Murray, head referee, and Mrs. Ada Hedges, head scorer, are from Eustis while the teams themselves come from Winter Park, Feunby of Daytona, Sanford, Umatilla, Cornudas, New Smyrna, Deland, Clermont, Orlando, City Island of Daytona, Mt. Dora, Eustis, and Leesburg. Four teams are allowed from each town.

Benches were full to overflowing with spectators and those awaiting a turn at one of the 12 courts. Cold lunches were served by Mrs. Gattell in the main clubhouse to prevent too much interference with the players.

J. R. Ball, president of the Sanford Tourist and Shuffleboard club said that the organization had made a gain of 32 members since last year and is growing all the time. "In shuffleboard play, it's Sanford is 'way ahead' of the others. Whenever we go out of town to play we usually win," he said. Mrs. Crenshaw is vice-president of the club and will take Ball's place when he leaves in two months.

The winners will be announced tonight as well as the officials and referees.

Other members of the board of directors will make their nomination to the Cabinet Board of Education. The board will be held in the Chamber of Commerce, in Ft. Mellon Park. They will begin at 7 and continue until 10 p. m.

Crimm, formerly director of adult education for Stetson University and Florida Southern College, is the author of "How to Put Over Your Main Ideas in Speech" and a business and civic leadership training manual.

Anyone interested in attending the classes should contact Miss Betty Wolfman, telephone 9040.

The classes will be held at the recreation building, directly east of the Chamber of Commerce, in Ft. Mellon Park. They will begin at 7 and continue until 10 p. m.

Florida Symphony Brought To Sanford By Local Sponsors

A concert by the renowned Florida Symphony of Orlando, was given in the Seminole High School auditorium this afternoon for the high school students of the county who warmly welcomed the excellently played program presented under the baton of Frank Miller.

Program notes for the special educational concert were given by the manager of the orchestra, Bob Craig, and added much to the enjoyment and appreciation of the offerings.

For a majority of the audience it was an introduction to Mr. Miller who has had the capable music of New Smyrna, Deland, Clermont, Orlando, City Island of Daytona, Mt. Dora, Eustis, and Leesburg. Four teams are allowed from each town.

Benches were full to overflowing with spectators and those awaiting a turn at one of the 12 courts. Cold lunches were served by Mrs. Gattell in the main clubhouse to prevent too much interference with the players.

Soviets Surprise Outsiders

Pontecorvo Has
Center Of Stage

MOSCOW — Prof. Bruno Pontecorvo made the center of the stage for an hour and 40 minutes at a news conference today. He disclosed little except that he has been a Soviet citizen since 1952. He declared he is working only on peaceful atomic projects.

The scientist was born in Italy but fled the West in 1950. His whereabouts had been a mystery, but Pravda last weekend revealed his presence in the Soviet Union. What prompted Soviet officials to arrange today's news conference—a rare thing in this country—was not exactly clear.

Asked by a Western correspondent if he would change over to atomic military work in case of a direct threat to the Soviet Union, Pontecorvo answered:

"I am a Soviet citizen and together with all Soviet people I am ready to serve the people to the best of my ability."

This seemed to be an elaborate way of saying yes.

His voice broke and words came slowly as he sent greetings to the physicists with whom he had worked in England.

"I must say I have feelings of great friendship and respect for them, especially the director of the laboratory where I worked, Prof. Sir John D. Cockcroft."

Pontecorvo said that many of these physicists are "honest, capable people who are blinded by the yellow press. Only thus can I explain their opinion about the Soviet Union."

Pontecorvo, who was given British citizenship for his work in World War II, disappeared in 1950 while working at England's top secret Harwell Atomic Research Station. He is now about 45 years old.

The dark-haired scientist answered questions of 75 reporters from both the Communist and non-Communist world at the conference, arranged by the U. S. S. R. Academy of Science in its marble hall on the outskirts of Moscow.

He proclaimed firmly his belief that "Soviet science and Soviet physics hold the first place in the world."

He cited as proof the creation in the Soviet Union of what he called the world's first atomic powered electric station. But he added he was not connected with work on the station, which Russia said was established for industrial purposes.

Pontecorvo, speaking in Italian, said he had been in Russia four years.

"Today it is impossible to stand aside from life," he said. "The reactionary yellow press in capitalist countries tries to damper the brain of the common people, but there are things which are clear even to children."

For instance, how is it possible to believe that the Soviet Union threatens the United States while American bases are situated near the Soviet Union?

Pontecorvo remarks were translated from Italian into English, but he interrupted on occasion to correct the translator.

Florida Road Board Adopts '55 Schedule

Final Budget Approved By Group
Adds $1,587,000 To Tentative Plan

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—A final 1955 work schedule authorizing 106 million dollars in primary construction has been adopted by the State Road Board.

The final budget approved by the board yesterday added $1,587,000 to the tentative budget approved Jan. 28.

An additional 1/4 million dollars to permit the four-lane SR 800 from Tampa to Plant City was the most significant addition. The road is the main artery between Tampa and Lakeland and has the heaviest traffic count in the state.

The tentative budget carried 1/4 million dollars to four-lane SR 800 from SR 45 to a point 6 1/2 miles east. The final budget carries one million dollars to four-lane the road all the way into Plant City, an added distance of about seven miles.

Both tentative and final budgets include the four-lane SR 800 from Plant City to the Polk County line from the Hillsborough line to Lakeland.

When the program is completed the entire stretch between Tampa and Lakeland will be four-lane.

The final budget also provides $246,500 for paving at state institutions and $33,858,000 in bond projects. This makes total primary construction budget $141,109,100.

Under state law, the Road Department is not permitted to do any primary work during the year that is not included in the final budget.

The tentative secondary budget of $22,063,500 was approved with only a few minor changes in the project priorities.

While 106 million dollars in primary work has been budgeted, only about 66 million dollars will be available for spending. Of this 36 million dollars will go to pay for jobs which were put under construction last year and carried over into 1955.

That leaves about 30 million dollars for new primary construction but the board said this amount could be spent only by matching about 15 million dollars available in federal aid funds.

STOWAWAY FOUND
GENOA, Italy (AP)—Nine stowaways were aboard the Argentine ship Corrientes when it docked yesterday. They all said they boarded the ship at Rio de Janeiro.

ALIBI FAILS
AFTER GREETING
TRINIDAD, Colo. (AP)—The man told Peace Justice Tony Barron yesterday he was sorry but Police Santos charges launched by Monday night's bloody border fighting near Gaza.

The explosive tension resulting from the clashes—in which 30 Egyptians and eight Israelis were reported killed—was heightened by militant statements from the Egyptian and Israeli premiers and Egyptian progress toward a new Arab military lineup against Israel.

There was some expectation the council would postpone its discussion of the rival charges until after a report from the Egypt-Israel U. N. Mixed Armistices Commission in Palestine. The commission, which supervises the 1948 truce along the Egypt-Israel border, is expected to meet Sunday on the Gaza fighting.

Egypt Wednesday charged Israeli forces with "violent and premeditated aggression" in the 20-mile-long Gaza coastal strip occupied by the Egyptians.

Egypt charged Israel's troops with attacking a military camp near the ancient city of Gaza, two miles inside the territory, and with ambushing a truckload of reinforcements. Egypt termed this the "most brutal act of aggression" since the 1948 armistices.

Israel's counterclaim, filed yesterday, made no mention of the Gaza battle but accused Egypt of "continuous violations" of the armistice agreement and council resolutions. It charged:

(1) armed attacks on Israeli troops, (2) raids on Israeli citizens, (3) Egyptian failure to prevent such acts, (4) assertion of a state of war and execution of active belligerency against Israel, including a blockade, (5) "warlike propaganda and threats," and (6) refusal to negotiate a peace treaty to end the aggression.

Informal sources said all other Arab actions would be invited to join the new alliance, which is designed to replace the nonfunctioning Arab League collective defense treaty.

The complaint was in line with Israel's usual strategy of trying to shift such council debates from particular incidents to the general Arab-Israeli situation and the need for an over, long-term solution.

Earlier Israeli statements in Jerusalem on the Gaza fighting charged the Egyptians attacked first inside Israel and were chased back into Egypt.

In Damascus yesterday, Egypt and Syria announced they had signed a new defense pact which Syrian Prime Minister Sabri Bishara said resulted from the need for "practical and decisive measures to safeguard the Arab countries from repeated Israeli aggression."

Lt. A. E. Rozon Weds M. McMillan In Tennessee Rites

In a lovely double-ring candle-light ceremony performed by Capt. Charles A. Meeks, Miss Mary Lou McMillan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. McMillan, of Tennessee Ridge, Tenn., was wed to Lt. Alan Edward Rozon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Pickering Rozon of Indian Mound Village Feb. 27 at 3:30 p. m. in the Fort Campbell chapel.

The chapel was beautifully decorated with fern, white gladioli, white carnations and burning tapers. On each side of the altar were baskets of gladioli and fern and on the chancel rail behind the altar was a bank of white carnations and fern.

The organist, Corp. Robert W. Fure, rendered the nuptial music while vocalist, Jenny Greenhill, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Oh, Promise Me".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a full skirted nylon net gown overlaid with chantilly lace accented by long sleeves which came to points at the wrists and an Elizabeth collar. She wore a Juliet cap encrusted with pearls and a finger-ring veil. In her hands she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley topped with a white orchid wrapped in satin streamers.

Miss Edith Ann Stanfill, maid of honor, wore a dress of yellow net fashioned similar to the bride's as were the bridesmaids Fay Miller and Gail Smith. All carried bouquets of yellow and blue iris.

Victor Pickering Rozon, father of the groom, served as best man and ushers were Capt. William K. Morris, and Lt. Hubert S. Whitehead.

Lina Ann McMillan, niece of the bride, was flower girl, wearing a gown of white nylon net.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a yellow and blue printed suit with navy accessories. She wore a corsage of white carnations on her left shoulder.

Mrs. Rozon was dressed in a powder blue street length dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception was held in the home of Lawrence McMillan, the bride's brother. Red roses and fern were used as decorations and the attendants of the bride served as floating hostesses. The bride's table was overlaid with a white lace cloth and held a three-tiered wedding cake.

The bride chose for the wedding trip to the northern part of the state a navy blue suit trimmed with lighter shades of blue and navy accessories. She wore the orchid from her bouquet.

Returning home Sunday the couple will reside at 200 Meadow Circle Clarksville, Tenn.

Out of town guests included Curtis Davis, Paris, Tenn.; Billy Miller, Memphis, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Averette and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Boone from Erin, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mobley, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Mobley and Miss Fay Huff from Tennessee Ridge, Tenn.

The bride was born in Erin, Tenn. and attended school there. She is a junior in Austin Peay State College in Clarksville.

The groom attended grade school in Sanford and high school at Carlisle Military School in Sumner, South Carolina. He was enrolled in Clemson College before entering service. He graduated from Officers Candidate School Sept. 28, 1944.

Officers Wives Set Benefit Tea With Style Show

A benefit tea and fashion show sponsored by the Naval Auxiliary Air Station Officers Wives Club will be held Friday, March 11.

All profit from ticket sales will be given to the Forest Park School for Exceptional Children. This school is the only one of its kind in the Orlando area.

The tea and fashion show will be held at Sanford's Women's Club building and will commence promptly at 1:30 p. m. A full two hour schedule has been arranged and the public is invited to attend.

Gibbs Louis of Orlando will have an array of spring and summer fashions to display to those attending.

Members of the Officers Wives Club will model the season's fashions and others will pour the tea upon the conclusion of the fashion show.

Mrs. Walter Bailey will play selected tunes on the piano during the showing and Mrs. R. Fletcher will be the fashion commentator. Mrs. Fletcher has presided at several fashion shows in the Central Florida area and has given interesting and enjoyable commentary at these shows. She is a former Power's model and soon plans to open a charm school in Winter Park.

Mrs. Roberta Gatchel will be the caterer for the tea at the show's conclusion.

Models for the fashion show will be Mrs. C. E. Myers; Mrs. J. E. Dyer; Mrs. H. E. Rollins; Mrs. G. S. Blake; Mrs. H. M. Walker; Mrs. W. R. Edwards; Mrs. D. W. Lunkert; Mrs. A. E. Waller; Mrs. J. C. Vogel; Mrs. J. W. Olson; Mrs. R. G. Lyster; Mrs. H. Little; Mrs. F. F. Johnson and Mrs. F. A. Nash.

An attendance prize will be awarded and tickets may be obtained from several sources. Tickets will be $1 for the combined fashion show and tea.

Mrs. Harold A. Appleby, Appleby's Restaurant in Sanford, will have tickets available.

Mrs. Appleby is also a vice-president of the board of directors of the Forest Park School for Exceptional Children.

Navy wives from whom tickets may also be obtained are Mrs. T. O. Murray; Mrs. J. A. Goodwin; Mrs. H. A. Hall; Mrs. G. S. Blake and Mrs. J. E. Dyer.

USO Activities Many For Weekend

Saturday night there will be a "Welcome Home" dance at the USO for the fellows in V-C-6. Everyone who wishes to come on down and join the fun.

This dance is a surprise and it is rumored that there will be an extra special treat on hand. Miss Pat Casabe and Miss Barbara Gill are the junior hostesses for the evening and the women of the Christian Church will act as senior hostesses.

Sunday night is TV night with Miss Dot Teale and Miss Margaret Von Herbulle serving as Junior Hostesses. The ladies of the Congregational Beth Israel will be senior hostesses. Refreshments will be served.

Extra-rich mushroom sauce is quickly made if you add canned mushrooms to condensed cream of mushroom soup. Use about a quarter cup of the liquid from the mushrooms for diluting the soup and a little soy sauce for extra seasoning. One excellent way to use the sauce for a lunch or supper dish is to pour it over halves of hard-boiled eggs, sprinkle with buttered crumbs and paprika and bake in moderate oven until bubbly and topping is lightly browned.

Want to top that casserole dish with buttered bread crumbs. One way to prepare the crumbs is to soak about a third of a cup of butter or margarine in a skillet and then mix well with a cup of fine dry crumbs but-a touch less dry bread crumbs.

Dinner Will Honor Prof. S. P. Mizwa In Casselberry

A dinner honoring Professor Stephen P. Mizwa, president of the Kosciuszko Foundation of America, will be given by Madame Joanna Kupiszewski at her Azalea Lodge located in Casselberry Saturday evening starting at 6:30 o'clock.

Civic Department: chairman, Mrs. B. G. Moore; vice-chairman, Mrs. H. B. Crumley; finance, Mrs. W. C. Wiley; membership, Mrs. H. A. Mott; and program, Mrs. F. E. Breckenridge.

Social Department: chairman, Mrs. J. A. Young; vice-chairman, Mrs. J. E. Jones; secretary, Mrs. J. O. Huff; finance, Mrs. S. G. Harriman; membership, Mrs. S. D. Higleyman; and program, Mrs. W. R. Jennings.

Mrs. L. E. Lee, treasurer, Mrs. Corley were also elected as delegates to attend the State Federation Convention to be held in Tampa in April. Alternates were Mrs. Crumley, Mrs. Oiler, and Mrs. Laura P. Brown.

Mrs. Blanche Terhorst was introduced and welcomed into the club as a new member.

A market basket sale, sponsored by the American Home Department, rounded out the program, with Mrs. Watkins and Mrs. Lee serving as auctioneers to sell the baked goods, handsome articles, jams, and jellies to the approximately 40 members who were present.

The club was decorated with a profusion of spring flowers, with

Story League Has Beginning At Luncheon

The Sanford Story League was organized Oct. 23, 1947 at a luncheon held at the Mayfair Inn. Members from the Aladdin League of Tampa were present, and helped with the organization of the league.

The Sanford organization has from the beginning been a member of the Eastern District of the National Story League.

The local league is a service organization, dedicated to the love of the good, the true, and the beautiful, whose aim is to study the art of story interpretation, and to serve the community through the use of stories.

Members have for a number of years told stories in schools throughout the county, and for four years worked with the local broadcasting station and the public library by giving book reviews, thus stimulating good reading among children. Stories have been told at children's parties, Brownie meetings, Sunday schools, T. A. groups, civic and other organizations. The league sponsors Brownie Troop Number Five, and has given short courses in story-telling to Brownie troops. Story-telling courses and work shops have been held for story league members. The league has a representative on the Children's Committee of Seminole County.

An annual Christmas party is given for children, and a spring book review for the public.

Past presidents of the league are: Mrs. E. C. Williams, Mrs. Fred Robb, Mrs. S. J. Nix, Mrs. C. C. Welch, and Mrs. H. W. Tench. Mrs. W. L. Roche is now serving her second year as president of the Sanford Story League.

Membership is not limited. Anyone interested in the art of story-telling and working in this field of endeavor is invited to attend the meetings and to join. Meetings are held on the fourth Monday of each month at eight o'clock at the Yacht Club.

Future Events Told At Tourist Club

Tuesday evening a covered dish supper and meeting was held after which games were played. There were about 75 percent. The club was attractively decorated by Mrs. W. J. Jennings of one of the garden circles. With 20 guests present from out of town a special table was represented by Rushville, N. Y.

An announcement was made that on March 11, at 7:30 p. m. there will be entertainment with special emphasis on Jose Carlos of Stetson University speaking on "What Are Flying Saucers". Also on March 18 at 7:30 p. m. there will be a special game night while on March 25 there will be a one act play, "The Boor", by the Stetson Players.

branches of white plum blossoms and nauteriums in tall baskets flanking the stage. Arrangements of gladioli were used on the speakers' table and at vantage points about the room.

Hostesses were Mrs. L. P. Payton, chairman, Mrs. Joder Cameron, Mrs. Joe Corley, Mrs. John Lee and Mrs. Raymond Base.

Everyone is sorry to hear of Mr. Morris' and Mr. Ganas' illnesses, but are very happy to hear that Mr. Ganas is well on the road to recovery and that Mr. Morris will be back with us on Monday. Girls, let's don't forget to grab us a boy for the big Girl-Break dance Friday night at the Crater. We've all been hoping for a date with that certain one all year, and now's the chance, so don't miss it.

Some cheery news kids: six weeks tests start this week. I imagine there will be some pretty grim faces around for awhile. Now for some gossip: They say Larry Reel's bringing a really good-looking boy home with him from Tampa, so all you girls had better be keeping a keen look out for Larry over the week-end. SHS sends its heartfelt congratulations to Bill Jennings and Martha Jo Carr (Jennings), our newweds. We wish them the best of luck and happiness all through life. Minnie Lee Metts and Joe Hunt are becoming a couple seen more and more around school.

Patti Witte is still writing to Tommy Brown every day and Bonnie is still the school belle. What's happened to Sandra Monforton and Freddie Wilson? Sandra's been dating several other boys, and Freddie's dating Mary Ann Wright. Mary Rose Speer and Grady Johnson are still "a fashin' and a fumin'", but are an inseparable pair. Marty Cameron's long distance romance with the boy from Cocoa has gone "piff" and Marty is now back in circulation.

In case some of you girls can't decide on who to invite to the big girl break dance, here's a list of a few of the eligible bachelors. James McKee, Larry Burney, Floyd Dossey, Miles Hudson, Terry Smith, Ernie Morris, Larry Prodan, Eddie Barber, Larry Hates, Kenneth Ramsey, Al Stanley, and Billy Robinson.

Mary Ann Roston and Joe Davis are a cut couple now-a-days. If any girl can trap Howard Allred she'll be getting one of the best all around boys in SHS.

Couple of the week: Tom Norris and Shirley Wall. Congratulations you two.

That's all for now kids, be seeing ya!

Friends of Col. Paul Chesterton will be glad to learn that he is able to be out again.

It's easy to over-barbecue chicken. Just quarter the broiler or fryer and arrange it in a baking pan. Mix up your favorite barbecue sauce and drizzle some of it over the chicken. Bake in a moderate oven, adding more barbecue sauce at regular intervals, until chicken is browned and tender.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP) — For the first time since his knee buckled under him while he was racing for a fly ball in the 1951 World Series, Mickey Mantle is back in complete physical trim for the start of a big league campaign. It is an important item to keep in mind in assessing the Yankees' chances of returning to their accustomed spot overlooking the rest of the American League.

Although a cluster of years have sped past since the Oklahoma phenom broke in a smail a salvo of superlatives and he has four full seasons behind him, he still is only 23. There is yet time for Mickey to live up to his lurid billing as the new Joe DiMaggio, and if this is the year he does it the Cleveland Indians may find their reign cut short.

A Mantle hitting around .310, which was considered his potential in the midst of estimates a few years back, and coming up back to back with catcher Yogi Berra, would give the Bombers the most deadly attack in either league. Given that, Casey Stengel could largely forget about the retirement of pitcher Allie Reynolds and the slowing legs of shortstop Phil Rizzuto.

After undergoing two operations on his right knee, Mantle reported late last spring and got away to a slow and uncertain start. The fans at the Stadium rode him hard and Stengel grew extremely cool toward the boy. Mickey became even more silent and moody than usual under the lash of criticism.

By snapping out of his apparent lethargy past midseason and finishing strong, the speedy switch hitter managed to post a final mark of .300, with 27 home runs and 102 runs batted in. While these figures were commendable—would, in fact, be reached by most players—they were not what the Yankees had permitted themselves to expect from their wonder kid. Besides, Mickey struck out 107 times, leading both leagues in that specialty.

Graham And Vejar Slated To Meet In Fight Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — Two of the ring's real gentlemen, aging Billy Graham and eager young Chico Vejar, battle it out tonight in a bout regarded as a tossup at Madison Square Garden.

They are friends and respect each other but will prove once again in their 10-rounder that there is no place in the ring for sentiment. This is a big one for both. It could be the last for the 33-year-old Graham, who is desperately trying to get back in the running "for four or more fights." The veteran of 14 years and 124 bouts wants to pile up some extra cash to go into business.

"I guess this is the test," said the New Yorker. "I've never lost three in a row before and if I can't beat Vejar I might just as well pack it in. He has nothing to beat me with. He's easy to hit, has a push-button chin, and can't punch hard enough to bother me."

But Billy will be fighting Father time as well as an aggressive, ambitious 23-year-old. In losing his last two to Chris Christensen, a nothing fighter, and Ramon Fuentes, Graham showed how far he had slipped from the lofty days of several years ago. Then he was the No. 1 contender who had come within a shade of taking the welterweight crown from Kid Gavilan.

Of his 124 fights, Graham has won 102, lost 15 and tied 7. He never has been stopped. Vejar, a TV favorite before he went into the Army two years ago, is bursting with ambition to get back to the top. His record is 58-4-1.

NBC will broadcast and telecast tonight's fight at 10 p.m. (EST).

Managers Look For 'Sleepers' Among Rookies

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There isn't a major league manager who doesn't hope that a sleeper, such as Mickey Mantle, Bob Grim, Wally Moon, Willie Mays, turns up among the rookies striving to make baseball's big time.

That's the reason Manager Birdie Tebbetts of Cincinnati is taking a long and good look at Bob Thurman, Chuck Dressen of Washington thinks highly of Bob Kline and Walt Alston wouldn't be surprised if Bert Hamric made the Brooklyn varsity.

You'll recall that Mantle jumped all the way from Class C into the Yankees' center field, Grim had played only one year of organized baseball before compiling a 20-6 record for the Yankees and winning Rookie of the Year honors in 1954. Moon wasn't even on the Cardinals' roster until the opening day last year and Mays was so slightly regarded he wasn't in the Giants camp in 1951 — the year he made his debut.

Tebbetts, already blessed with plenty of long ball hitters, figures the Redlegs have another in Thurman, 32-year-old Negro outfielder who admits he has "just about given up on ever getting into the major leagues."

Thurman, signed as a free agent after Tebbetts watched him pound the ball in the Puerto Rican winter league, also can play first base and pitch, if necessary. He hit .323 and had a 5-0 pitching record in Puerto Rico.

The Senators' high command thinks "we may have landed a bargain" in Kline, who hit .319 as a Yankee farm hand with Birmingham last season. He is given a good chance of making the grade at shortstop.

Hamric hasn't much chance of breaking into the Dodgers' Sandy Amoros, Duke Snider-Carl Furillo outfield combine, but he figures to make a battle of it for one of the reserve spots. The Sandy Fork, Va., native, who hits from either side of the plate, has power as attested by a dozen homers in a half season at St. Paul last year. Before a fractured hand put him out of commission, he hit .350.

The news was good from a number of camps where holdouts had been causing concern.

Minnie Minoso, the No. 1 White Sox holdout who had asked for a 100 per cent boost, finally settled for a $7,500 increase. That raised his salary to a reported $32,500.

Baltimore ended its holdout troubles with the signing of pitcher Lou Kretlow for $10,000.

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press

A couple of rebels have popped up down in Dixie, where the Atlantic Coast and Southern conferences are picking their entries in the NCAA Basketball Tournament by the simple process of elimination.

Three of the ACC's top-seeded teams rolled through their first round games in the title tourney yesterday, but Virginia dumped third-ranked Maryland 68-67 in overtime.

There wasn't a genuine upset in the Southern get-together, but Washington and Lee's ambitious sophomores proved they were in the scrap to stay by humbling Furman and All America Darrell Floyd 97-67.

Virginia finished sixth during the regular ACC seasons race and lost two meetings with the Terps. But Bill Miller, a 5-9 sophomore guard, ended all that by sinking two foul shots with 17 seconds left in the extra period after tying the score at 39-39 in regulation time.

In other ACC games, which went as expected: Favored North Carolina State, fifth ranked in the Associated Press poll, set a tourney record with a 101-76 victory over Clemson. The Wolfpack called back their regulars to salt it away with 32 points in the final 10 minutes. Ron Shavlik, second team All America, scored 27 for the winners while Clemson's Bill Yarborough hit for 34.

If NCAA-ineligible NCS (on probation on a "tryout" charge) wins the tourney, incidentally, the runner-up will head for the NCAA play.

Second-seeded Duke had no trouble beating South Carolina 63-67 and lefty Davis and Dick Hemric carried Wake Forest past North Carolina 95-82. Davis, 6-2 and 152 pounds, slipped through the Tar Heels for 32 points, one less than totaled by second-team All American Hemric.

Tonight's semifinals pair Wake Forest-North Carolina State and Duke-Virginia.

In the Southern, Washington and Lee's youngsters stayed hot after a fast close in the regular season race and qualified as the title dark horse. The Generals clamped down on Floyd, the nation's top scorer for a lean final of 20 points while leaving the top offensive team in major college history far behind.

While Floyd hit on just six of 33 field attempts, W&L's Lee

Marshall and Dominic Flora gathered a total of 47 points. The Generals' total set a Southern Conference tourney record.

The other games: Rod Hundley scored 27 as West Virginia defeated VMI 73-66. George Washington defeated Davidson 74-36 after shaking off a first half freeze; and Warren Mills hit at crucial moments for 22 points in Richmond's 90-75 success over William and Mary.

In the semifinals tonight, West Virginia meets Washington and Lee and Richmond plays George Washington.

Elsewhere last night, Wichita greeted Oklahoma City University named earlier as an NCAA at-large entry, with a 69-59 defeat, and Dayton bopped Seton Hall 65-67 in a game between two NIT entries.

Longwood News

By MRS. BEHERLY EATON

The Longwood Chamber of Commerce will be able to contribute approximately $250.00 to the building fund from the proceeds received from their ham dinner that was held last Saturday evening. A portion of this amount was received from the auction held after the dinner and conducted by Larry Jones.

Co-chairman Lillian Cox and Ruth Rudolph were assisted by the following: Mrs. Katherine Carhart, Nan Dunning, B. R. Gray, Paul Coulter, Ruth Lajo, Cassie Maiera, Grace Raddin, Ralph Hammond, Lillian Sweeney, Gerri Hittman, John Dauter, Mary Mobley, Ralph Stevens, Louise Jones, Mary Reams, Florence

Johnson, and Marie Elgin. Also John Farina, Samuel Johnson, Claude Lajo, Don Hittman and D. J. Sweeney. Also two Girl Scouts, Dianna Farina and Susan French.

In charge of Finance was Chairman Maurice Rudolph and assistants, Linton Cox, Paul Coulter, Larry Jones and Russel Grant.

The Longwood Women's Civic League installed their officers for the coming year at their meeting last Tuesday afternoon at the library.

Mrs. George Otto, conducted the impressive installations, taking the officers were, Mrs. R. C. Carlson, re-elected, president; Mrs. L. Cox, re-elected, 1st vice-president; Mrs. A. C. Malera, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. B. R. Gray, recording secretary; Mrs. F. W.

Sistline, corresponding secretary; Mrs. S. R. Johnson, re-elected, treasurer; and House and Grounds Chairman, Mrs. Beuch. Also all trustees again took the oath to the League, Mrs. J. A. Sistline, Mrs. S. L. Tupper and Mrs. Hallie LaVigne.

Preceding the meeting Dr. T. Ford, Seminole County Health Officer, presented a very instructive movie on cancer to the group.

Refreshments were served by this month's hostess, Mrs. Ralph Stevens, assisted by Mrs. Don Hittman, Maurice Rudolph, George Gauger, Leroy Neuman, Edith Ayers, Flora Willis, Irving Towers, W. E. Shellig and Florence Sundelin.

There were about 40 members of the Longwood Tourist Club attending their regular monthly covered dish dinner at Sunshine Park on Wednesday afternoon.

After partaking of all the delicious foods the President, Mr. G. Lewis, called the meeting to order. A motion was made that new rules and requirements for the members be drawn up. Sect. J. Baker was named as chairman for the drawing of the new by-laws. Also on the committee will be Mrs. M. Warren and Mrs. Ellery Rudin.

The committee was instructed to go into the history of the Club and to compile all the data they could collect.

Mr. D. Merrill suggested that signs be erected on the shuffleboard courts stating, a request, that one should not walk on the courts. This was agreed to by the members and a committee was instructed to make the necessary arrangements.

There will be another covered dish dinner at the April meeting on the 6th to be held at 12:00 noon.

The group that is readying the antique and Curio Exhibition, to be held on Friday and Saturday, March 18 and 19 are proceeding rapidly with their plans. Mrs. Paul Hurmaster, chairman, and her committee met last Tuesday evening at the library and many exhibits were announced.

At the present time we have the following who will present their exhibits, Old World Collection, Dr. Topsick; Early American, Mrs. Updegraff; Swiss, Mrs. Hurmaster; White Elephant, Mrs. Ralph Hammond; Country Store, Mrs. J. Carhart; Early Longwood, Mrs. Bobbie Joe Hunt; Antiques and Music, Mr. V. Wheeler; Mrs. Pauline Stevens will be in charge of costumes.

The exhibit will be open from 2 p.m. thru 9 p.m. and refreshments will be served. Tickets are 25 cents and may be purchased from any of the committee or at the door during the exhibition.

Serving as guards during the show will be, Maurice Rudolph and Linton Cox.

Longwood's Little League Baseball Club, under the supervision of Sylvester Elgin, has been out going through the preliminary warm-ups for their season which will open on April 12. The boys are working very hard in effort to make first string team. Manager Elgin has been giving the boys a real work-out and the boys have come through so well that picking first-string will be quite a task. Longwood apparently has in the making some fine young ball-players.

William DeRosa will take up the duties of managing the Farm Club this year.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Longwood Fire Department will have their monthly meeting on March 7 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Lillian Sweeney on Grant Street.

The mothers of the Little League Baseball Club will hold a bake food sale on Saturday March 12 at the corner of Church and E. Lake Streets, Longwood.

Mrs. William Hudson is chairman of this event. The sale will get under way at 10 a.m. Anyone caring to donate to this sale may do so and the mothers will be grateful. The proceeds of this sale will go to buy necessary equipment for the Little League Ball Club.

Miss Carol Carpenter was honored with a shower on Wednesday given by Mrs. J. W. Hicks.

Among the guests present were, Misses Nina Harrington, Phyllis Creamer, Loretta Holly and Marion Carpenter. Also the Misses, Joia Howard, Kay Frey, Grace Boeck, Ann Trout and Florence Carpenter.

Miss Carpenter will be married to Alfred R. Stuckey early in March.

The Lyman P-T-A held a study group meeting on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Hallett.

On last Sunday afternoon a piano recital was presented at the home of Mrs. Ira Wilson by her students.

Those participating included, Sandra and Betty Sue Prosser, Tom Millwe, Donna Lou Barnes, Lucy and Kathleen Moon, Carol Schimming, Glenda Payne and Patricia DeRosa.

The Executive Board of the Lyman School P-T-A will meet on Tuesday evening, March 8 at 8 o'clock. This meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Lenard Wagner on Altamonte Springs Road.

We have received word that Mr. Dan Leighton has returned to his home after being a patient at the Winter Park Hospital. Mr. Leighton arrived home on Wednesday and is feeling greatly improved.

Donald Largent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Attoll Largent is now at home after serving over a year with the U.S. Army overseas. Don recently received his discharge from the Army.

Miss Grace Harbinger, who has been the guest of Mrs. Cassie Maiera at the home of Mrs. Selma Larcum on Wildmere Street, has gone to Sarasota for a few weeks, before returning to her home in Massachusetts.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. May, who have been spending the winter in town left this week for their home in White Plains, Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Moore of Granby, Connecticut, have been callers in town this week visiting many old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Otto Jr. moved the first of the week to a farm on the Elder Springs Road.

The Saturday Evening Pinochle Club attended the Chamber of Commerce in Sunnyside Park on Saturday, and then went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Godfrey at Pearl Heights. Those attending were, Mrs. Florence Sunderlin, Mrs. Maude Tupper, Mr. J. Holister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wales and Mrs. E. Ayers. The next meeting will be at the new home of Mr. Louie Knoll.

Facade La Femme

By Lu Murphy

Oh fiddle fiddle.

Why can't Mamie wear a lorgnette if she wants to?

All right—so technically one does not wear lorgnettes. Well—wear—swing—rap—whatever it is one does, I do not see why one can not do it even if one is the wife of the President of the United States.

Do I make myself clear, Omaha World Herald old friend?

Poor little Mamie. All day long open drives, shake hands, wave, smile, chit, chat, keep it gay, kid—and then—ah me, faux pas—one glance through a lorgnette and everything breaks loose.

All she was trying to do was follow the text of a speech her husband was making. A friendly gesture. But she made the mistake of utilizing the aid of a lorgnette. And hark the Herald angels burst forth into song.

It seems the Omaha World Herald was grieved because they felt Mamie was too "pleasant" and "unassuming" to use a lorgnette. What do you reckon they want her to do. Go blind?

I also do not know why they stopped with "pleasant" and "unassuming." Why didn't they just go ahead and call her an "old shoe" and be done with it.

Actually a lorgnette can be right handy. Especially if you do not have a literary evening planned—still you would like to read the fine print—but at the same time not mess up your hair.

However, in Omaha they seem to feel it is a Symbol. Hauteur—was the word they used. And there is no getting around it. Mamie is about as hauteurish as a rose bud.

Perhaps if the branched out in a monochrome there might be some cause for alarm. But until that comes to pass I think the masses should give the lass her choice of glasses.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THANKS TO YOU, TOO!

In reading your "Letters to the Editor" page in yesterday's (Feb. 13) All Florida Magazine— which I always read first to see if others enjoy your magazine as much as I do—I note the letter from Mrs. J. Roy Robbins of Deland, and your reply. Both of these remind me of my unanswerable neglect in thanking you for forwarding Mrs. Robbins' letter to me, and for the nice and much appreciated story written by our popular feature story writer of the Pensacola News-Journal, which appeared in a July issue of All Florida Magazine.

It is gratifying to a gal who will never see 60 again, that you and your staff recognize merit and ingenuity in creating works of art from Florida's raw materials as supplied by nature. Yes, even though there was no "chessboard" accompanying the story.

I answered Mrs. Robbins' letter immediately and she now has one of my own model Dixie looms. She has already started her weaving by correspondence instructions and is most enthusiastic. She advises me that she is planning to spend her vacation here and study a work with me.

I have had mail from many states regarding this story. Handweavers in Florida who have friends in other states send the story to them. One, a ballet teacher in a suburb of Baltimore, wrote me that she has the one of her 84 year old mother and she knows that before long she will have to give up teaching for a while and spend all of her time at home. So, she has taken up weaving and is having studio built in front of their home. Her mother is also learning to weave.

The most gratifying incident resulting from that story is a letter from Mrs. Elmore Duffel of the Veterans Administration in Miami, telling me that the story was read to some blind veterans who were most interested in weaving with something that did not have to be taught. She sent me the address of one, to whom I sent a package of four different sample mats and material to make them, along with instructions for setting up his loom and weaving.

With my permission, Mrs. Duffel has copied the instructions and distributed them to veterans interested in weaving, in 10 different counties in the Miami area. It is a pleasure to be of service to the boys who did so much for us and are spending their days down there in veterans hospitals.

One little thing gives us a chuckle. A handweaver in California received the magazine from a friend of hers. She wrote me for some long-leaf yellow pine needles. I sent her two pounds of assorted pine needles and she is happy weaving Florida pine needle mats.

Thanks again for everything—especially a wonderful magazine. We all enjoy it lots.

MRS. JORDAN, Pensacola.

(Editor's Note: Mrs. Robbins wrote us praising Mrs. Jordan's idea of weaving from native Florida materials and we published her letter. She later wrote to Mrs. Jordan in care of All Florida Magazine, inasmuch as she did not have her address. This, we forwarded to Mrs. Jordan.)

IT'S A GOOD QUESTION

In reading "All Florida Magazine" today I came across the two articles, which I am enclosing. In reading what Mr. John W. Cole had to say about Pensacola being the first settlement in Florida—and then reading what Helen Threlkeld has to say in Florida Fort—quite an interesting. If Dr. Lane was on his way to Florida in 1599—and his foot destroyed as he was heading for what is now Pensacola—and with what little was left of his foot headed back to Mexico in 1601—just when did he settle for these two years? Maybe if these two gentlemen would get together—they could get us straight on our Florida history.

MRS. J. A. SMITH, Ocala.

HOPE THEY LIKE IT, TOO

First, I'd like to say I enjoy your magazine so much. I never waste a copy. I mail them to friends and relatives.

Most of all I enjoy the feature and stories concerning Florida's history. As I like to learn as much as possible about this "our adopted state."

In your edition of Feb. 6, you were interested in beautiful homes. On the east coast, we too, have many unusual ones, but the most unique one, I believe is the home of Willard A. Van Nest, M.D., of New Smyrna Beach.

Again may I say, congratulations on a fine magazine.

PAT BERRY, New Smyrna Beach.

GOOD LUCK

May I reach out over our many wonderful states and come in for a visit?

Since I have returned to Everett, Wash., to make our home and living here, my sister in Pensacola, my hometown, sends me our All Florida Magazine to keep in touch.

Just seeing and reading makes me know how much Florida has to offer. Never let it be said that Florida doesn't travel—you can be sure that it does by way of your All Florida Magazine.

My friends and neighbors are having the pleasure of seeing Florida through this magazine, along with me.

Many thanks from an old friend. I'm looking for you next week.

MRS. DORIS McLANE, Everett, Wash.

CALLING MR. HADDERMAN

Mr. Hadderman, please. His article on the history of Florida was fascinating to your readers. I think you should make All Florida an All Historical magazine. Our visitors should know what a richly endowed state they are seeing.

MRS. LARSA F. HARRINGTON, West Palm Beach.

Looking Over All Florida

ANY WEEK. We have received a heartening number of responses to our recent appeal for information concerning Florida homes of unusual architecture. It may be, because of the great number of answers, we will be unable to include all of these homes in the planned series of articles on that subject. But we do appreciate the splendid response and we'll do our best to "cover the homefront."

Over the past year we have received weekly from the Florida State Chamber of Commerce a business bulletin. The statistics in these bulletins offer an amazing picture of our state's growth.

Although parts of many of these bulletins have been printed elsewhere from time to time, we feel that a "birdseye" view of the whole should be of real interest to our readers. Hence, we soon will publish a business story on our state which, we think should give each of us unbounded enthusiasm for Florida's future.

"This Is My Land"

Seminole's Bloody Fight
For Independence told
In Colorful Spectacle

By LILLIE MAY MARSHALL

"This is my story! This is my land! These are my people!"

A dramatic voice emanates from the jungle, to the accompaniment of weird, rhythmic music, as lights glowing through and above tall trees festooned with Spanish moss, illuminate a dark sky.

"Florida Affame," the colorful spectacle in dialogue, dance and music, telling the story of the tragic early struggles of the Seminoles to hold their homeland against invading whites, is unfolding.

From the prologue to the closing, rampant with color, spectacular in every scene, the presentation sets forth the injustices practised by the white man against the native Seminoles.

An order from Washington sending troops to force them into boats and on to Oklahoma, leaving Florida to the invaders, is the spark which definitely sets Florida affame as the Seminoles under their valiant chief, Osceola, struggle tragically and, seemingly, futilely to remain in Florida.

Making and breaking treaties with equal abandon, the soldiers drive the tribesmen with their sick, aged and hungry, farther and farther from their homes and crops, stalking sleepily into the swamp in search of haven.

CHIEF OSCEOLA listens to his warrior, Wildcat, who warns him against friendship with the whites. Other Seminole chiefs "lend an ear."

Osceola, with the innate honesty of the Indian and his undying belief in the Great Spirit, persuades his people, in spite of the repeated injustices perpetrated, that it is better for them to submit than to rebel.

But when the soldiers shoot down the chief's wife at a meeting under the white flag, he exclaims, slashing his knife through the proffered paper, "This is the only treaty the Seminoles will ever make now, with the white man."

There are two scenes in the production which are so strikingly beautiful and meaningful that no member of the audience should be able to forget them.

One is that in which the birth of the red man is narrated in resonant, dramatic tones by the chief, as the Great Spirit first surveys with pride the earth he has made, then descends, Indian fashion, to create the red man from a mound of dust, to rule over it.

Another is the colorful finale in which chiefs, tribesmen, pioneer whites, blue-coated soldiers and Negroes

FREEZING SEMINOLE Indians pledge vengeance over body of warrior slain by white soldiers during truce.

THE DEATH OF Chechotah, young wife of Osceola, whips the Seminoles into war frenzy. She was shot in the back by white officers.

Royalty Reigns over Florida

By GENE GORDON

"FLORIDA is a land of fabulous wonders." That is the opinion of Mohammed Reza Pahlavi. And, as the Shah of Iran, a land of wonders in its own right, Mohammed Reza Pahlavi should know whereof he speaks.

The Shah and his beautiful queen, Soraya, recently completed a tour of Florida, the first reigning royalty ever to visit the state.

Primary object for their visit to Florida, the Shah admitted, was to learn the art of water skiing. As the guest of Dick Pope at Cypress Gardens, the Shah and his queen did just that—but it was his tour of the state, which covered glittering Miami Beach, the lush West Coast and the colorful citrus belt, that brought forth the declaration "Florida is a land of fabulous wonders."

The only familiar sight witnessed by the royal couple was a polo game at Delray Beach. Polo, the Shah explained, originated in his own land and is one of his favorite sports.

The giant citrus packing plants, tourists attractions such as Cypress Gardens, Florida's mammoth cattle industry and the towering and ornate hotel "row" of Miami Beach left Queen Soraya and her handsome Shah "absolutely breathless."

Greeted by a mob of more than 3,000 cheering Miami-ans on their arrival in Florida, the Shah and his queen closed their visit to the shouts of more thousands who heard the royal couple declare that Florida weather is: "Fit for a king."

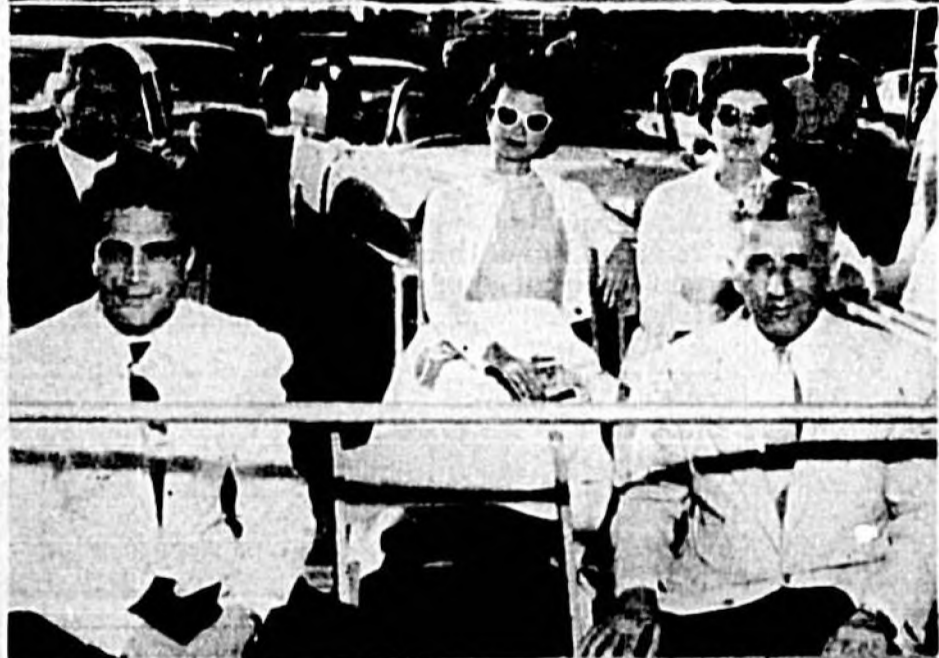

Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi of Iran and Queen Soraya are first reigning royalty ever to vacation in Florida; "We are both left breathless with your state's tropical splendors, friendly people, and all the things to see in Florida."

LIFE AND DEATH BOOKKEEPING

By JOHN TERRY

Not long ago a worker at the Florida State Board of Health opened a letter addressed to the Bureau of Vital Statistics, and read:

Dear Sir:
Please advise me immediately if I can change my first name from Gladys... to Jane. I feel my name does not suit my personality, and my son wants to name his daughter after me but he don't like the name Gladys...

There is no record of the reply sent this unhappy lady by Everett H. Williams, Jr., the Bureau's director, but it seems safe to say she was told to be guided by her conscience. Changing your name, except by marriage or adoption, is one of the few statistics not recorded in that division of the State Board of Health.

However, in what has been called—appropriately enough—"Life and Death Bookkeeping," many other facts about Floridians are carefully noted and filed. Births, deaths, marriages, divorces, adoptions, the occurrence of certain diseases —all are grist for the mills of vital statisticians. And, in Florida, all are part of the permanent records stored in a fireproof vault at the headquarters of the Board of Health in Jacksonville.

Although the average person knows little about the workings of the Bureau of Vital Statistics, the records—most of which are confidential—play an important part in his life literally from birth to death.

Birth certificates, for example, provide indisputable proof of citizenship, and are often needed when applying for employment. Probate courts frequently decide disputed will cases on the basis of birth records, and in Florida, proof of age in the form of a certified copy of the birth certificate is required before a child can be enrolled in a public school.

During most of the last century, the only records of births and deaths in Florida were those kept by one or two of the larger cities. In 1899, a law calling for statewide reports was passed, but little effort was made to enforce it. The present Bureau of Vital Statistics was born in 1915 with the enactment by the State Legislature of a "model vital statistics act." With this as a basis, a net-work has now been set up which collects data from the state's most isolated communities.

Vital statistics is a record of what happens to people, and includes more than births and deaths. The occurrence of disease, for example, and the guises in which death strikes. The number of babies who never drew breath, and the reasons why others didn't reach their first birthday... infant mortality, in the impersonal words of the records. Any of these—especially the diseases—could become a public health problem affecting thousands of the state's residents.

As a means of control, each of these diseases (there are about 50, but polio and V.D. are good examples) has been tagged "reportable" and the Board of Health is immediately notified when a case is found. Reports come from doctors and veterinarians, hospitals and health officers, and from the Board's own diagnostic laboratories in many Florida cities. By means of modern, electronic tabulating machines, each bit of information is fitted into its proper place. In the case of an infectious disease, its incidence is charted, and an effort made to predict where it will turn up next. Then the completed picture is turned over to epidemiologists at the Jacksonville headquarters and the state's health machinery swings into action to halt the ailment's spread. As the reports of new cases dwindle, the Bureau of Vital Statistics returns to the more prosaic task of recording births and deaths.

But the causes of death are important, too, for they may provide the only evidence of a health program's effectiveness. In Florida, as in other states, heart disease is the number one killer, with cancer running a close second. And there's a macabre compliment for the state's doctors and health officers in the notation that during the first six months of 1954, auto accidents were responsible for more deaths than any disease except the leading two!

The statistics offer a hope for the future, too. In that same period Florida had 27,283 more births than deaths, and 5,477 more marriages than divorces.

This collage shows various forms from the Florida Bureau of Vital Statistics. At the top left is a 'Certificate of Live Birth' with handwritten entries for a child named 'John'. To its right is a 'Certificate of Death'. In the center, a small black and white photograph of a baby is placed over the birth certificate. Below the forms, there is a section titled 'FOR MEDICAL AND HEALTH USE ONLY'.

THIS LITTLE fellow—and millions like him—is the "backbone" of the Bureau of Vital Statistics.

PLAY BALL!

By BOB CARMAN

"I'll tell ya one thing, Paul Richards better learn I'm the best pitcher on this team and get me off the bench."

"Now, ya hold the bat like this, see? The grip, see, that's what puts me an' ole Babe Ruth in the same class."

"Boy! That Gene Woodling sure can hit. Look at the ole ball go. I bet the Yankees wish they had him back."

"Aw, don't worry pal, we'll get in the next game. They ain't got a better battery than us Cunninghams."

It isn't every year that a city lures a major league ball team from Arizona to Florida—but Daytona Beach has accomplished that feat.

As a result, the entire town is out selling tickets for the Baltimore Orioles' spring training games with the Dodgers, Phillies, Pirates, Tigers, Redlegs, Nationals and Athletics.

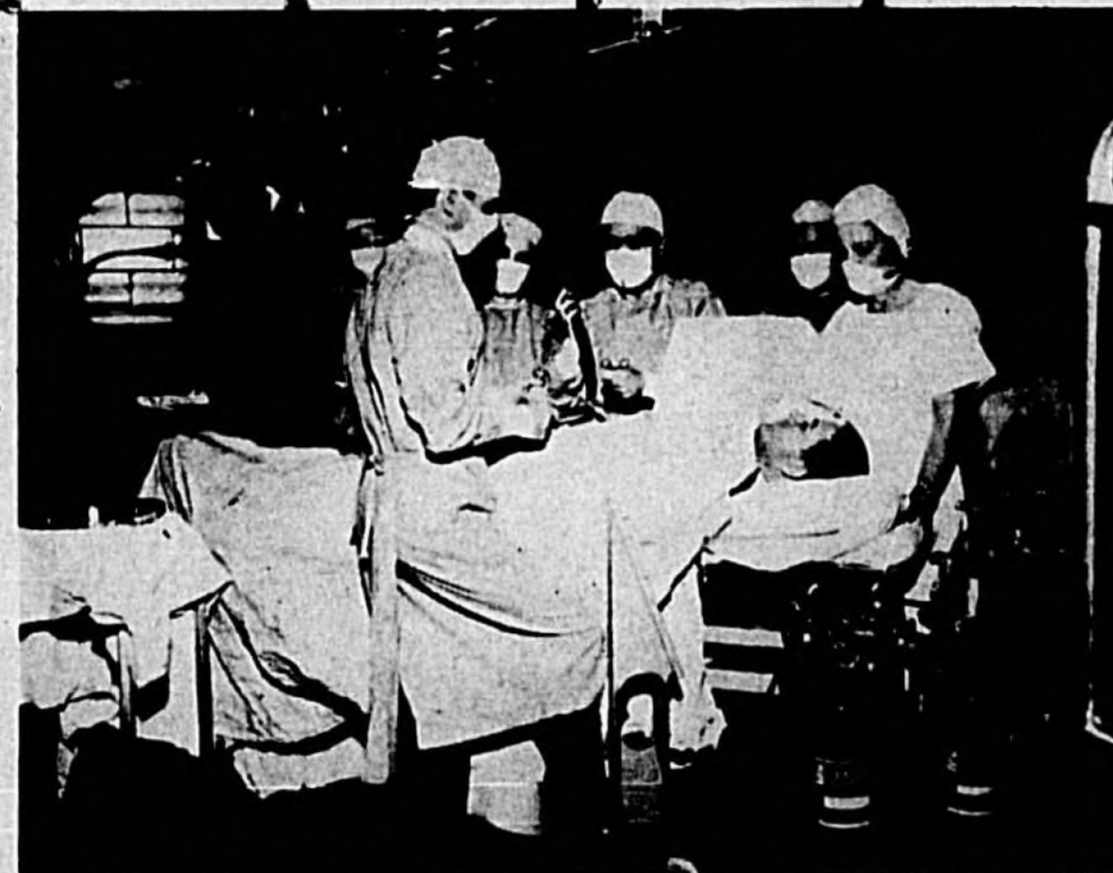

The Chamber of Commerce is busy publicizing Daytona Beach's new acquisition which brings to Florida for regular spring training 13 of the nation's 16 major league ball clubs.

Our bench warmers in the photographs on this page are Dan and Don Cunningham, or is it Don and Dan—anyway they are the twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Cunningham of Daytona Beach. The boys, with most of the other kids in Daytona Beach, plan to spend all their free time at the city's Island ball park where the Orioles will play most of their exhibition games.

What happens when you are told you have TB? These are pictures of a real patient who took the "cure" and now has returned to a normal and useful life. (1) Our anonymous patient is greeted in the lobby by nurse with wheel chair. (2) Staff immediately starts necessary checks and treatments. (3) X-rays are a "must." (4) Smile of victory when, after months of treatment, X-ray shows recovery. (5) And the happy "goodbye" to fellow patients. This girl spent many months less in the hospital than she would have 10 years ago, and her ultimate recovery was far more certain, thanks to modern drugs and the ultra-modern facilities of Florida's hospitals.

CONQUEST OF A KILLER

Science Has Killer "Down For The Count"; Ex-TB Victims Make Good Insurance Risks

By J. RANDALL STANLEY

Not so long ago you had a chest X-ray made by a State Board of Health mobile unit; and, now your health officer tells you you have tuberculosis.

Shocked by the thought of TB, you want to know, "What can I do?" "Take the 'cure' in a state TB hospital," the doctor advises, "and thank God you contracted tuberculosis in 1954 and not in '34."

Today, the doctor, who finds it necessary to tell his patient he is suffering from TB, does not feel his diagnosis is a death sentence, as it might well have been, say, a decade and a half ago.

Relatively few people die of tuberculosis today in Florida. With early diagnosis, and early hospitalization, they are more apt to become even better life insurance risks than their non-tubercular neighbors. (This is official).

What has brought about this amazing metamorphosis in TB destiny—a modern miracle? Possibly not a miracle, but a reasonably good substitute, whose component parts are:

Facilities: Since 1934, the State Tuberculosis Board of Florida has financed, constructed, equipped, staffed, and put in operation four great and modern TB hospitals (Orlando, 1936; Lantana, 1939; Tampa and Tallahassee, 1952) increasing the number of beds in state tuberculosis institutions from zero in 1937, to 1,800-plus in 1952.

Treatment: During the past 15 years there has been remarkable progress in the medical and surgical treatment of tuberculosis, and in case-finding, education, social services, rehabilitation, and in many other essential fields of TB control.

"Wonder" Drugs: Proven anti-tuberculosis drug (beginning with the discovery of streptomycin in 1944), revolutionary thoracic surgery techniques, administered in modern, well staffed state TB hospitals coordinated with an excellent mass X-ray program for finding the disease in its early stages, have resulted in an unbelievable decline in the TB death rate in Florida, something over 80 per cent during the past 16 years; or, transcribed in actual numbers, 987 deaths from TB in 1938 when Florida's population was less than two million, as compared with only 806 deaths reported in the state in 1953 with a population over three million.

STEAMBOATS IN THE HYACINTHS

BY
JOHN WILSON SOMERVILLE
AND
ELLA TEAGUE DE BERARD

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE: During a 30-year wild fling of early steamboating along the St. Johns River, excursion boats brought northern visitors up along the river course and three banks were organized. Jacksonville was established in 1822 as port of entry to Florida. By 1880, the St. Johns was carrying timber, naval stores and citrus fruit to market, resulting in founding of extensive industry supplying fuel for the wood burning vessels. Enterprise, DeLeon, DeLand and other towns were founded and extensive orange groves operated nearby.

CHAPTER IV

SHADED by a dense growth of trees, the quiet village of DeLeon enjoyed popularity only because of the spectacular springs which bubbled up from a subterranean stream at the rate of 94,000 gallons per minute. The excess water poured out of the natural pool into a spillway through a run and eventually into the St. Johns River.

In DeLand, before the opening of the steamboat era, there was but a single log cabin on the townsite, but as late as the close of the year 1882, there were a score of houses in the middle of its confines. Four years later a fire destroyed the few places of business as well as some of the light frame buildings. The residents thereupon began to rebuild with brick blocks instead of wood.

Close connections with all trains on the main line could be made to DeLand from a branch line which ran from Jacksonville, Tampa and Key West Railway. Being so fortuitously situated, DeLand began to progress. A few of its streets and several of its houses were lighted by electricity. The 2,000 inhabitants, who had come mainly from the northern states, settled down to make a cultural center of DeLand.

In the month of November 1887, the actual school attendance in Volusia County was 1746 pupils. In some of these schools the elements of Latin were taught, in addition to the common branches such as algebra and geometry.

In 1892, Mr. DeLand organized DeLand Academy, which held its first sessions in a rented building under the direction of the Rev. Mr. Griffith of Troy, N.Y. Within five years the school was moved into two large, well furnished buildings situated at the corner of Woodland Boulevard and Minnesota Avenue.

The following year, DeLand Academy was chartered as a university by the state Legislature and a faculty of nine teachers, guided by Prof. J. F. Forbes, taught courses in business, college preparatory subjects, music and art. Books were constantly added to the library for the use of the students of the university, as well as the townspeople.

The city of DeLand was founded in 1876 by Henry A. DeLand, who planted water oaks 50 feet apart along prospective streets. Spurred by this generous example, the citizens of DeLand set about to make their city notable for its shade trees. The council allowed property owners a 50 cents tax rebate for each tree two inches or more in diameter they planted along the streets. When bankruptcy threatened, the ordinance was repealed.

In 1886, a citrus culturist by the name of Lue Gim Gong introduced a new variety of orange, for which the U.S. Department of Agriculture awarded him a medal. He perfected the Gim Gong grapefruit, which could withstand 10 degrees greater cold than any other variety.

Lue Gim Gong also pollinated a currant with a grape, to create the cherry currant; perfected a peach for growth in greenhouses; and produced a salmon-colored raspberry.

Although lavish attention was given to trees by a baking powder manufacturer and a Chinese, it remained for a hat manufacturer to establish a university. Stetson University opened in DeLand in 1886 and became a co-educational institution, which was incorporated three years later. John B. Stetson, for whom the school was named, lived a part of each year in DeLand in a home which was once part of a French chateau. The house contained documents and relics of medieval Europe including the Shrine of the Bishops of Liege; the library of Louis XVIII of France and his cousin, Count d'Avary; rare books, furniture, tapestries, jeweled prayer book, and other objects.

Within two miles of DeLand, the St. Johns River widened into a sheet of water known as Lake Beresford, to which the open channel allowed the boats to anchor in the quiet, peaceful lake in the pine lands.

The town of Lake Beresford had a combination post office and general store. Lake Beresford was accessible at all times to all of the boats on the St. Johns River. A wharf, built by A. H. Alexander to avoid the long haul to and from DeLand landings, became the principal shipping point for the area. The Jacksonville, Tampa and Key West Railroad passed through the town only a few yards from the foot of the wharf. As the Alexander Company had a commodious depot which gave shippers of citrus fruit a choice of river or railway transportation, Lake Beresford was the only place from Buffalo Point to Sanford which offered such a choice.

The land at Beresford was fine for the growing of oranges, limes, shaddocks, bananas, pineapples and dates. The soil was also kindly to the maturing of peaches, plums, grapes, Japanese persimmons, pears, corn, oats, sugar-cane, arrowroot, cassava and all of the common garden vegetables.

This soil was particularly good for citrus, and in 1886, approximately 32,500 boxes of oranges and lemons were shipped from the groves in the precinct of Beresford.

Beresford and DeLand, because of their proximity, were bound by common interests. Whenever the larger town increased its various facilities, the people of Beresford benefited. But it was DeLand which finally developed into a winter resort.

The town sprawled out in comfortable stability on the high rolling pine land, about five miles east of the St. Johns River and 25 miles from the Atlantic Ocean. It was a prosperous community, with assessed value of real and personal property of almost $400,000. Most of this wealth was owned by northerners who chose the town for the efficacy of its climate. They thrived in the high, dry pine region which was kind to invalids. Many of the sickly tourists who settled in DeLand eventually became hale citizens.

The health of DeLand was so phenomenal that out of a population of 2,000 people, there were on the average less than three deaths a year.

The hotels served only temporary quarters for the visitors from the colder climates, for soon they exchanged the accommodating hostilities, where electric lights and hot and cold water both were provided, for the comfort of their own similarly equipped homes.

As connections were easily made with all trains on the main line from Jacksonville to Titusville, the number of tourists increased each year. Owners who had settled and bought groves became aware of the advantage of having freight shipped to and from DeLand without break of bulk.

DeLand was abundantly supplied with churches, representing the Baptists, Presbyterians, Catholics, Christians, Episcopalians, Universalists, and Congregationalists.

The exceptional beauty of the region six miles southeast of DeLand attracted Mr. DeLand. He named the place Lake Helen, for his only daughter. Obtaining the Prevatt estate, he built a town to suit himself. He erected a large hotel, cleared off all of the surrounding underbrush, and left only the tall pines standing. On the fringe of the pine stands, he had groves planted, and gardens where fruit, fresh vegetables and strawberries were grown for use at the hotel.

As the town grew in popularity as a winter resort, the seasonal visitors remained to build homes. Some of the residences cost as much as $7,000 each.

THIS IS St. John's Head, one of the picturesque scenic spots along the narrow of the river viewed by visitors on excursion trips from the North.

SIGNS OF SPRING

By BOB BAILE
All Florida Sports Editor

FLORIDA'S domination of the national baseball scene each spring has been increasing gradually ever since that day, in 1888, when a manager named Ted Sullivan led the Washington Senators southward to train in Jacksonville. The Senators, incidentally, had a young catcher at the time named Connie Mack.

The spring training era in the South, barring a few interruptions, has continued to gain in popularity. Today there are 16 major league clubs and 13 of them are training in Florida. Although March 1 is the official camp opening date, players on nearly all clubs arrive earlier to do private conditioning, and a number of the major leagues have adopted Florida as "home."

The Sunshine State is even hogging the news from one of the camps of the three clubs isolated in Arizona. Tampa's Al Lopez, who piloted the Cleveland Indians to the American League pennant last summer, is hoping for the same kind of success, and one of his chief hopes centers in Herb Score, a fireball southpaw from Lake Worth, where he was such a high school sensation that major league scouts fell over one another in the race to sign him as a $65,000 bonus player. Pitching for a Cleveland farm club at Indianapolis last summer, Score had a fabulous record to earn him the designation of the Outstanding Minor Leaguer of the Year, thus the No. 1 personality of this spring's preview of 1955.

This puts Lake Worth, a comparatively small city on the East Coast in Palm Beach County, in the available position of turning out two of baseball's most talked-of individuals, for it is also the home of Mayo Smith, the new manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, who train at Clearwater.

Smith grew up on Lake Worth sandlots, played his way to the majors briefly, then became a manager in the New York Yankee system. After two good seasons as pilot of Birmingham in the Southeastern Association he was picked for the Phillies' job in a move which surprised many baseball observers. But the Lake Worth fans who know him well weren't too surprised. They recently staged a big testimonial dinner in honor of Smith and Score, and they are optimistic enough to believe that by next October the World Series might find Herb Score on the mound for Cleveland against Mayo Smith's Phillies.

ANOTHER FLORIDIAN in the news is Lake Worth's Mayo Smith, new pilot of Philadelphia Phillies. His team trains at Clearwater.

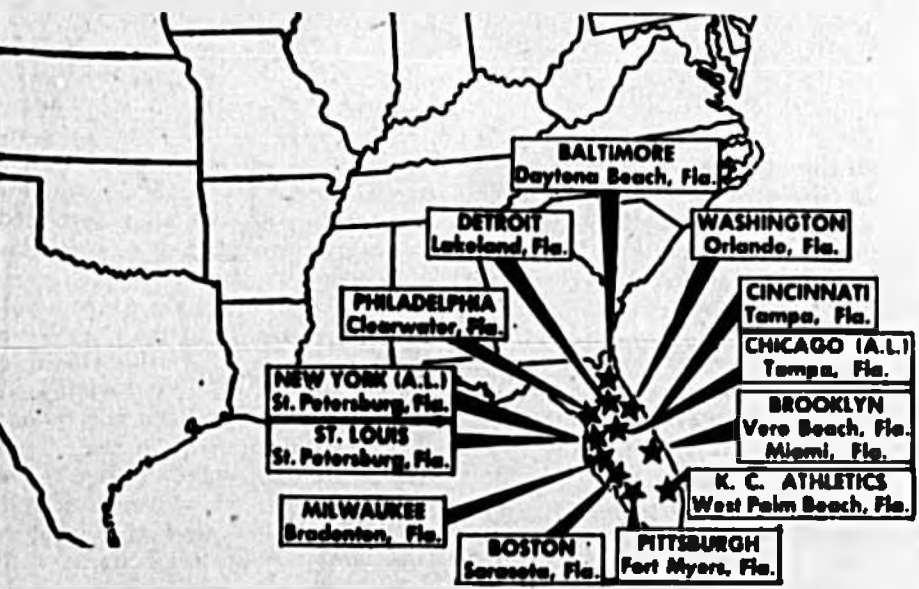

The greatest concentration of spring baseball is in the St. Petersburg-Tampa area, although the East Coast gained an addition this spring when the Baltimore Orioles went to Daytona Beach. The always news-worthy Brooklyn Dodgers do their early training at Vero Beach, then play exhibitions in Miami, and the East Coast has another "newsy" camp this year at West Palm Beach, where the Athletics trained for nine years as a Philadelphia club, and this year put on Kansas City uniforms.

First exhibition games are scheduled March 10, and the games, plus daily camp workouts, give Florida residents and visitors the chance to get simultaneous sun-tans and close-up looks at their baseball idols.

VERO BEACH is the site of one of Florida's baseball "factories" where the nation's top players and "Yankees" get their training. This is a group of Brooklyn's Dodgers who call Vero Beach "home" each season.

FLORIDA NOW has 13 of the 16 big league ball clubs training here each spring.

CYPRESS GARDENS

Bird of paradise, camellias, bouganvillea and other exotic, rare tropical plants in full bloom make Cypress Gardens, frequently shown in motion pictures, newscasts and on television programs, one of Nature's most beautiful outdoor color studios—and the photographer's heaven.

There are thrilling ski shows four times every day, featuring world-famous aqua-maids and ski champions, performing in astounding formations and figures, among them the famous five-man human pyramid.

A perfect finish to a beauty-packed, thrill-packed day at Cypress Gardens is a relaxing trip through the winding waterways, flower-banked canals and jungles on a quiet electric boat with an experienced and informed guide—a really thrilling adventure in sightseeing.

The TB sanatorium of years past, had one major value in the fight against tuberculosis—the isolation of the afflicted to dam the flow of infection and prevent the spread of the disease to members of their families, friends, and their respective communities. The modern TB hospital has a second primary objective—effecting the recovery of the patient through the use of every anti-tuberculosis drug and professional skill known to modern medical and surgical science.

During the sanatorium era, the treatment of tuberculosis was directed toward increasing the patient's natural resistance to the disease—bed rest, relaxation, diet, and a collapse of the lung by air or surgery. There were no known drugs which directly attacked the cause of the disease—the tubercle bacillus itself. Actually sanatorium treatment was effective in upward to 25 per cent of the cases; but, altogether too often, however, it was not enough, and a majority of the TB victims succumbed after a long struggle with the disease.

The discovery of streptomycin in 1944, the first of the "wonder" drugs; PAS in 1948, and the third member of the present chemotherapeutic family, Isoniazid, in 1952, revolutionized tuberculosis treatment and thoracic surgery almost overnight.

The old sanatorium now became a hospital in every sense of the word. The tuberculosis victims no longer spent long months and years in "cure" taking, but became medical and surgical patients, whose chances of recovery immeasurably improved, and whose period of hospitalization was greatly shortened, in many instances, as much as 50 per cent.

While there are many TB hospitals throughout the nation, they vary greatly, however, in the degree in which modern drugs, surgery and other treatment procedures and techniques are employed in effecting the patient's recovery.

The patients in Florida's four tuberculosis hospitals receive the maximum benefits from all the newly discovered anti-tuberculosis drugs, the very best in diet, and the advantages of the latest techniques in thoracic surgery, executed by the most able thoracic surgeons in Florida.

It is understandable that the medical and surgical care now given Florida tuberculosis patients is costing more per patient day than the simpler sanatoria treatment in years past. It is equally understandable that actually the cost is less, for the patient's recovery is not only far more certain but his stay in the hospital is considerably shorter.

It is obvious that serving more patients for shorter periods gives effectiveness from both the state's investment in hospitals and its investment in the professional staffs of the four institutions.

This more efficient use of our State Tuberculosis Hospitals is bringing closer the day when the state TB hospital system will be able to furnish a bed, without delay, to every active case of tuberculosis found in Florida, and the day when the further spread of this dreaded disease within the boundaries of the Sunshine State will be under control.

Over 2,000 new cases of TB will be found in Florida in 1955, but fewer cases will die—more will recover and live useful lives.

RECREATION is an important part of life in the state's TB hospitals

"THIS IS MY LAND"

who have escaped from the masters in Georgia to take refuge in Florida, mingle in striking pageantry across the Florida soil as the Seminole voice again speaks: "This is my story! This is my land! These are my people!"—adding "and the red man will always stand on the white sands of Florida!"

The music dies and the hillside amphitheatre is flooded with lights. The audience is brought back from the Florida of the 1800's again to Philippe Park, near Safety Harbor, facing the natural jungle of ancient trees, tall palms, swamp cabbage and shrubs which has served as a backdrop for the action of the play.

Here "Florida Aflame" is being shown nightly except on Mondays. It will continue through Apr. 17.
John W. Caldwell, author of "Florida Aflame," is a native Floridian. He first came in contact with the Seminoles when a small boy and his association with them fostered his determined interest and research which led to the eventual creation of the drama.

HOW MANY FEATHERS ON A ROOSTER?

Add up the figures and find out. Most anybody can add, but can you add correctly? The reason people like number puzzles is because they are fascinating. Fun right in your own home, and CASH REWARDS for the WINNERS. Try it yourself.

$6360.00 IN 75 CASH PRIZES

FIRST PRIZE $1500 plus $500 Bonus for Promptness (see rule 2)

Second Prize $1000.00
Third prize $500.00
Fourth Prize $350.00
5th to 8th Prize, each $200.00
9th to 13th Prize, each $100.00
14th to 18th Prize, each $50.00
19th to 44th Prize, each $25.00
45th to 75th Prize, each $10.00

— HERE ARE THE RULES —

1. This is entirely a contest of numbers, strictly a Game of Skill. Add together the numbers that make up the drawing of the Rooster and get the SUM TOTAL of the figures. The picture is made up of single numbers: 2, 3, 4, 5, 7 8 and 9. There are no sixes, no ones, no zeros. There are no double numbers like "21", etc. Just add 2 plus 3 plus 5, etc., and get the SUM TOTAL. There are no tricks to this puzzle, just a problem in addition. It is not so easy but if you are careful you may get it exactly right. Only persons sending a $5.00 contribution to our Scholarships Program are eligible for these Cash Prizes. No additional donation will be required at any time during the contest. Checks and Money Orders should be made payable to "SCHOLARSHIPS, INC." Send cash if you prefer. Write us for additional puzzle sheets if you need them.

2. If you send your contribution before the date printed on the entry blank you will qualify for the $500 Promptness Bonus, making the total First Prize $2000.00. The Promptness Bonus will be added to the first prize only.

3. You should check and recheck your solution carefully before mailing. Once it has been sent it may not be changed or withdrawn. A contestant may submit an additional entry in this contest with an improved score provided each such entry is accompanied by the required $5.00 contribution. We will acknowledge receipt of your entry and contribution promptly. Read the rules carefully. Please do not write for additional information concerning this contest since information that is not available to all other contestants cannot be given.

4. This contest is confined to persons within the continental limits of the United States. Persons directly connected with Scholarships, Inc. and members of their immediate families are ineligible. Due to the uncertainty of mail address entries are not recommended from persons in the Armed Forces. Entries will not be accepted from persons in Alaska, Canada, Hawaiian Islands and other locations outside of the United States proper.

5. Entries will be accepted from January 1 to April 11, 1955. Entries postmarked April 11 will be accepted.

6. In case of ties on this Rooster Puzzle the winners will be decided by a tie-breaker number puzzle consisting of drawing a path across a chart of numbers to arrive at a high total. The contestant's position in the winning list will be determined by the best scores submitted; the best answer will receive First Prize, the second best answer will receive Second Prize, etc. In case of ties on the tie-breaker puzzle, prizes will be reserved for the positions of tied contestants and their final order of finish determined by additional tiebreaker puzzles until a definite winner for each prize is chosen. Seven days will be allowed for working the first tiebreaker puzzle and three days for each subsequent tiebreaker. If ties remain after seven tiebreaker puzzles, duplicate prizes will be paid.

7. It is permissible for any contestant to receive help from their relatives or friends but ONLY ONE SOLUTION may be submitted to the tiebreaker puzzle by any group working together, and any solution known to have been submitted in violation of this rule will be rejected.

8. A complete report of this contest including the names of all winners will be mailed to every contestant just as soon as the winners have been decided. The sponsors of this contest reserve the right to decide any questions that may arise during the contest and persons who enter agree to accept these decisions as final.

C. L. KITTLE, Manager

Here is a contest soon over and soon paid off. The rules are simple and complete. It's entirely a contest of numbers, strictly a game of skill. We print the winning answer with the name and address of the winner, in fact we print the names and scores of all of the winners. A pencil is the only tool required and you start on an equal basis with everyone else. No pictures to identify, no statements to write. If you have never taken part in a number puzzle contest why not give it a try. Give yourself a fair chance to succeed. This may be the hobby you have been looking for. Operated by a non-for-profit corporation required by its charter to devote receipts in excess of prizes, advertising and legitimate operating expenses to charitable purposes.

Miss Lois Unger is one of ten nurses in training at Cincinnati Hospitals under our scholarships and writes, "Now in my second year of training I fully realize how fortunate I was to have been chosen for a scholarship to take nursing training. With sincere gratitude I wish to thank you for affording me this opportunity."

FLORIDA FACTS

By HELEN THORNDYKSON

(The Flamingo)

It is racing time at internationally known Hialeah Race Track again. To this beautiful spot come the famous racing horses from over the country as well as the famous people who come to see their favorites take part in these great track meets.

Equally important are the beautiful flamingos that were native to South Florida long before Ponce de Leon came to our shores. For many years these unusual birds were so great in numbers that when a boat made its way over the waters, they rose like great pink clouds.

The hunters played havoc with them, killing for the beautiful plumage so that large flocks are to be seen only at the Hialeah Race Track and the Singing Tower near Lake Wales, with a few flocks at the various bird farms, amusement parks and private estates.

Today the flock at the track numbers several hundred. More and more are to be seen at various places, and, now protected by law, they have lost the fear of the hunter and are again making their home in the Everglades.

CARS INVOLVED IN COLLISION—Ten persons were injured in a crash involving two cars Sunday on State Road 415, one-half mile east of Sanford. Drivers were Robert F. Williams, 29, Erie, Pa., and John H. Hogan, 30, Sanford.

10 Persons Injured In Traffic Accident

Pennsylvanians, Sanford Negroes Involved In Two-Car Collision

Four persons from Erie, Pa., and six Sanford Negroes were injured Sunday afternoon in a two-car crash on State Road 415, a half mile east of Sanford.

All were taken to Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital for treatment.

Drivers of the cars were Robert F. Williams, 29, Erie, Pa., who suffered fractured ribs and multiple lacerations, and John H. Hogan, 30, Sanford, head lacerations and abrasions of the arm.

In Williams' car were his wife, Mary, 28, Edmund Wojtkowski, 41, and Rose Orlando, 25, all of whom suffered lacerations, contusions, and abrasions.

Riding in Hogan's vehicle were Joyce M. Taylor, 15, multiple lacerations of the face; Mary Lou Harden, 16, fractured right leg; Sylvia Harden, 18, possible fracture of the right foot; Juneana Harden, five months, lacerated face, and Shirley Nelson, four, contusions of the right side.

Damage totaling $325 was reported in two traffic accidents Saturday, City Police said.

One driver, Leonard E. Haumshild, 19, attached to the Naval Air Station, was charged with careless and negligent driving, leaving the scene of an accident, and having no driver's license.

A 1948 Chevrolet sedan driven by Haumshild was involved in an accident at the intersection of 5th St. and Park Ave.

Patrolman Joe T. Hickson said Haumshild ran a stop sign in front of a 1953 Chevrolet sedan driven by Francis Cecil Fields, 32, Route 2, Sanford.

Damage to each car was estimated at $150.

In the other accident, Patrolman Arnold Williams reported a 1954 Ford truck backed into a parked 1951 Ford convertible on Sanford Ave., 45 feet north of 9th St. The car's right door sustained $25 damage.

Driver of the truck was Handberry Sims, 27, of 1118 1/2 Hickory Ave. The car was being driven by William Thomas Smathers, 24, of 649 Gateway Drive.

Williams said the truck was parked at a gas station when the car pulled in. The truck driver was unaware of the car parked behind his vehicle, the officer said.

Williams' car was his wife, Mary, 28, Edmund Wojtkowski, 41, and Rose Orlando, 25, all of whom suffered lacerations, contusions, and abrasions.

Riding in Hogan's vehicle were Joyce M. Taylor, 15, multiple lacerations of the face; Mary Lou Harden, 16, fractured right leg; Sylvia Harden, 18, possible fracture of the right foot; Juneana Harden, five months, lacerated face, and Shirley Nelson, four, contusions of the right side.

Judge M. Farmer To Address Group At P-TA Meeting

Judge Mattie Farmer, Juvenile Court Judge of Orange County, and a noted juvenile authority will address the Junior High School P-TA at its meeting 8 p. m. Tuesday in the school auditorium. She will speak on the "Adolescent: His Social Adjustments."

Judge Farmer was appointed to her present position in November of 1942, and prior to that time she had served for 22 1/2 years as a principal in Orange County schools. She was graduated from the University of Florida in 1932 where she majored in Child Welfare and Child Psychology.

A distinctive honor was bestowed on Judge Farmer, when in 1950 she was invited by the President of the United States to attend the White House Conference.

A past director of the National Council of Juvenile Court Judges, Judge Farmer is also a member of the Florida Probation and Parole Association; the Florida Children's Committee; the Florida Federation of Social Workers, and also holds honorary memberships in many Orlando and surrounding civic clubs.

Of local interest is the fact that Mrs. W. P. Brooks, wife of the First Baptist Church minister in Sanford, was a science teacher of Judge Farmer's when she attended high school in Georgia, where the Judge was born and raised. All parents and others interested in youth are cordially invited to hear this outstanding speaker.

Sanford Fire Dept. Answers 3 Calls

The Sanford Fire Department answered three calls during the weekend. The first one Saturday at 12:35 p. m. between 12th and 13th Streets on Lake Ave. where fire completely destroyed a two-room house occupied by Armistead Field and did considerable damage to another house adjacent to it. Both houses were owned by Violet Greby.

The second fire occurred at 3:20 p. m. Sunday between Fourth and Fifth Streets in the alley between Sanford and Cypress Aves. The house, occupied by James Campbell and owned by Liza Dubose, was destroyed as was its contents.

The third alarm came in Sunday night at 9:20 from 508 E. Fifth Street between Cypress and Pine Aves. The house owned by Frank Johnson and occupied by Frank Thomas, was damaged considerably.

Gen. Sanford Museum Step Closer

The General Sanford Library and Museum is one step nearer reality.

At an adjourned meeting Friday night, the City Commission voted to sign an agreement with the General's heirs "to put the machinery in motion to acquire the library and the entire General Sanford collection."

The action was taken on a motion by Commissioner Earl Higginbotham. Seconding the motion was Commissioner John Krider. A 150 by 150-foot space in Ft. Mellon Park, east of the Chamber of Commerce building, was designated for the museum and landscaping. The museum would face First St.

The memorial would house the library and effects of the late Gen. H. B. Sanford for whom the city was named.

Mrs. Fred Williams, a member of the museum committee, cited the library's importance for research purposes, and said the museum is the "greatest thing that has come to Sanford."

The great historical value of the General's papers, records and correspondence was emphasized by Randall Chase, who has been prominent in the drive for construction of the memorial.

Appropriations of $7,500 each toward the $30,000 museum have been made by the City and county. Part of the discussion Friday night centered around means of raising the remaining money.

The Carnegie Foundation and other foundations were mentioned as possible sources of help, but this was left open for exploration. State aid, the discussion revealed, has more or less been ruled out.

With regard to maintaining the memorial, Chase said a retired couple might be persuaded to live there and take care of it in exchange for living quarters and a small salary. He said that had been done at other memorials.

The Seminole County Historical Society and the General Sanford Memorial Library Association were also mentioned as sources

Zoning Meet Is Set

A public hearing on annexation and rezoning proposals will be held today by the City Commission. The hearing will begin at 8 p. m. at City Hall.

The annexation plan would extend the city limits south to take in the new 27th St. school and the Dreamworld subdivision. The annexation would require a special act of the legislature.

Under the proposal, the city limits would be moved from 26th St. at the A.C.L. Oviato tracks on the east, to one-quarter mile south of 27th St., on a line straight west about 16 blocks to a point in Lake Jennie.

The new line would turn north on Georgia Ave. to 20th St., widening the limits five blocks most of the way.

Another recommendation calls for the annexation of two and one-half blocks on the east side of the city from the lakefront of Lake Monroe on the north, south to 8th St. The present line is on Virginia Ave.

The City Zoning and Planning Commission has passed a recommendation onto the Commission that it instruct the legislative delegates to pass a local enabling act for large-scale annexation on three sides of the city.

Since the feeling of the planners became known, considerable opposition has become apparent from fringe area residents, the ones included in the annexation proposal.

Robert Brown, chairman of the Zoning Commission, feels that more knowledge of the subject would mean less alarm and so has made it plain that a legislative act is needed.

Angel's Eat Shack Safe Found Empty

A safe, stolen Thursday night from Angel's Eat Shack, 2501 Sanford Ave., was found Sunday near the old Naval Base Road, about two and one-half miles south of Sanford, City Police reported.

The safe, which had contained approximately $600 in cash and checks, was empty except for about 20 cents in change.

Discovery of the safe was reported to Police by Hiram Wesley Shannon, Route 2.

T. J. Angel, owner of the restaurant, said the 600-pound safe was loaded on a truck by thieves who entered the establishment through a window.

Many Long Hours Involved In Play At Tourist Club

After 18 hours of hard playing the Mandley Silver Cup Trophy was won by Mr. and Mrs. Riddle of Umatilla. Over 400 spectators and players gathered at the Sanford Tourist and Shuffleboard Court for this annual event.

Fifty-two teams from 13 towns were represented at the tourney which began at 8 o'clock Friday morning and ended at 12:30 that night. Second prize winners were Mr. and Mrs. Mather of Orange City and third place winners were Mr. Pine and Peg Frary of Winter Park. Fourth prize winners names were not available.

Consolation prize went to Mr. Lovejoy and Mr. Marchant of Orange City and second consolation went to Mr. and Mrs. Clyde of assistance.

The memorial cannot be kept open and run as it should be on a volunteer basis, Chase said in answer to a proposal that civic club members be used instead of salaried workers.

He said that in time he saw no reason why the public library could not be combined with the memorial library.

Commissioner Jack Ratigan, while admitting that the museum would be an asset to the city, said he would vote against appropriating any more money for construction of the building or for maintaining the memorial. He cited the city's financial condition as the reason for his stand.

"I feel we can spend the money on things more beneficial to the people immediately living in Sanford," he declared.

Other than Chase and Mrs. Williams, members of the museum committee present at Friday night's meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dawson and Fred

Convict Is Jailed After Gun Battle

ESCAPED CONVICT CAPTURED—Lying on a bunk in the Seminole County Jail is William Lewis, one of three Negro convicts who escaped from the State Road Camp at Oviedo Saturday night. Believed Assailant Of Grower Two Escapees Still At Large

The pickup truck stolen Sunday from Thomas Hollingsworth, Oviedo, was found about noon today parked 30 yards off State Road 119, approximately 1 mile from Wagner.

Oviedo Police Chief George A. Kelsey said the switch key was still in the ignition.

"Apparently we were rounding them too close," he said, referring to the escaped convicts.

An escaped convict, believed to be the one who attacked an elderly Oviedo man with an axe, was jailed here today after being captured in a gun battle with Florida Highway Patrolmen last night.

William Lewis, 20, one of three Negro convicts who fled the State Road Camp at Oviedo Saturday night, went down with a bullet in the leg in the exchange of fire near Pinech School in Oviedo.

Lewis fled at State Trooper Richard K. Doyle's patrol car with a shotgun, damaging the car. Doyle returned the fire and wounded him in the leg.

The gun battle occurred shortly before midnight.

Lewis was driving a 1947 Jeep at the time of his capture. The Jeep and two guns were stolen last night from a house near Longwood on the Longwood-Oviedo Rd.

The other two escapees, Marvin Merrill, 27, and John LeRoy (Continued on Page 8)

Israel Is Charged As Brutal Aggressor

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel has been charged by the U. N. Mixed Armistice Commission as a "brutal" aggressor who deliberately attacked Egyptian forces in the Gaza Strip a week ago.

The armistice group said the bloody assault in which 38 Egyptians and 8 Israelis died violated the 1949 Palestine truce agreement.

The commission's ruling yesterday heightened speculation at U. N. headquarters in New York that the Security Council would vote similar censure against Israel when it takes up the explosive issue again next week.

Maj. Gen. Edson L. M. Burns of Canada, U. N. Palestine truce chief, was expected to leave for New York in a few days to give the Security Council a personal report on the Gaza incident, which has strained relations in Palestine to the breaking point.

At yesterday's meeting on the Egyptian-Israeli border, the truce commission adopted an Egyptian resolution declaring the Gaza attack Feb. 28 "was committed by Israeli regular army forces against an Egyptian regular army force."

It was carried over Israeli objections by the vote of the Egyptian delegation and the U. N. chairman, Commandant Francois Gelcomaggi of France.

At the same time the commission brushed aside an Israeli counter complaint that an Egyptian unit had ambushed an Israeli patrol, starting a running fight that took the Israelis into Egyptian territory. This complaint was killed off when the Egyptian delegation voted against it and Gelcomaggi abstained.

Jaybees To Meet At Civic Center Tomorrow Night

The first organizational meeting of the Jaybees, an organization sponsored by the local Jaycees for young men between the ages of 14 and 20, was held last week at the Civic building in Fort Mellon Park. Temporary officers were elected by the 30 boys present.

The purpose of the Jaycees is to promote civic interest among the teenagers of our community; to train young men for active participation in Junior Chamber of Commerce work; to encourage and promote acquaintance-ship, good will, and fellowship among young men; to assist in developing community spirit; to encourage and assist young men to obtain better understanding of business principles; to encourage young men to cooperate with civic organizations and with each other at all times and to harness and mobilize the young man power of our community by so doing to assist in the bigger, better and greater place in which to live.

The by-laws of the club will be presented by a committee to be voted on at the next meeting which is tomorrow night. It was also decided that the weekly meeting will be held on Tuesday nights from 7:30 to 9 o'clock in the Civic building. Any boy interested is invited to attend. Thomas Stringer and Volie Williams are co-chairmen in charge.
