'Francelia' Heads To Guatemala

MIAMI (AP) — Fringe winds of Hurricane Francelia began striking coastal points along the Gulf of Honduras early today after the storm unexpectedly shifted to a southwesterly direction as it neared Central America.

The National Hurricane Center cautioned residents all along the Gulf of Honduras to prepare for 60 mile and hour winds, high tides and heavy rain later today.

Forecasters predicted that the storm would take it to shore somewhere between the seaside resort cities of Belize in British Honduras, and La Ceiba, on the northern coast of Honduras. In between is the northeastern tip of Guatemala.

Part of the hurricane's wind system covered the northern edge of Honduras early today as it moved west-southwest some 70 miles off the coast. Kraft said.

At 3 a.m., Francelia was centered at the entrance to the Gulf of Honduras, near Latitude 17 north, Longitude 85.5 west, and was moving at about 10 m.p.h. The eye, or center of the storm, was about 10 miles east-southwest of Belize and 130 miles northeast of La Ceiba.

Slain Girl's Family In Seclusion

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Debbie Nichols' parents, shunning newspapers and ignoring television, have sequestered in their unassuming one-story white home since the young girl was brutally shot to death early Saturday.

Sollicitous neighbors and victim relatives have thrown up a make-shift curtain of privacy for the couple as they try to cope with tragedy.

Debrah Carol, 17, and Dennis Anthony McKewen, 21, were out together for the first time early Saturday. A policeman on a routine patrol discovered their bullet-pocked bodies near South Florida Industrial Park.

They had been shot at close range with a small caliber weapon. Miss Nichols' body was dragged about 20 feet from the car. Their money was intact. A Hollywood policeman described the killings as "the work of a fanatic."

Monday, two days after the double murder, Debbie's aunt, Mrs. Ray Nichols, stood on the front porch of the girl's home and told a newsmen: "Pray for this family and pray that something will happen to cure this sick society."

Columnist Drew Pearson Expires

WASHINGTON (AP) — Columnist Drew Pearson was described in one of his own books as "either loved or hated; there is no middle ground."

His admirers were many readers of his column, "The Washington Merry-Go-Round," who looked on Pearson as the man who exposed skeletons in governmental closets during four decades.

But his reporting through newspapers and broadcasting brought him into frequent conflict with officials, including two presidents who called him a liar.

Pearson, 71, died Monday after suffering a heart attack at his Maryland farm. He had been hospitalized several weeks, returning home only last Friday.

Jack Anderson, co-author of the past 10 years, said he will continue the column which is carried in 425 daily and weekly newspapers.

Pearson's most recent major crusade in 1968-69 led to a Senate censure of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., after allegations he had used political funds for personal purposes.

It was Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman who denounced Pearson. Roosevelt called him a liar when the columnist reported Secretary of State Cordell Hull wanted to see Russia "bled white" during World War II.

Truman once referred to Pearson as an "a.b." after several columns which angered the President.

And the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R-Wis., resorted to physical violence during a long feud with Pearson in the 1950s. McCarthy admitted hitting Pearson with his hand at a fashionable club in Washington; the columnist said the senator kicked him in the groin.

Merchants Study Minibus Service

Sanford Downtown Merchants Association at this morning's breakfast meeting voted to encourage the Greater Sanford Businessmen's division of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce to investigate the feasibility of having a bus service established to run two days a week from Deltona, DelRay, Enterprise and Lake Monroe to Sanford and return.

The merchants group took this action after hearing Charles Collier, holder of a bus franchise for Sanford, say it would cost $70 a day to operate a minibus carrying capacity of 10-12 passengers over a deviated schedule to avoid state requirements governing transportation facilities.

The vehicle would, in effect, be a chartered service with a staggered route that might eventually include Lake Mary and Geneva, Collier added.

Alex Serres, merchant president, suggested that outfit license could be used as drivers and this would enable operation without having to hire a full time driver.

Collier said 12 months would be required to get an indication of how the service was being accepted.

In another action, the merchants shifted the annual Christmas Parade to the Saturday morning after Thanksgiving, and left it up to the Jaycees to come up with plans for the Sunday event.

All-Time Enrollment High Seen

20,000 School Roll Pictured

By BILL SCOTT

First day attendance at the 27 Seminole County schools yesterday totaled 18,947, according to Supt. John Angel, who disclosed that on the whole, the first day of school produced no major problems.

Angel, speaking to newspaper, television and radio reporters at his first weekly news conference, predicted total county enrollment might go as high as 20,000 students before the end of the year.

Angel disclosed Tuesday's enrollment did not include some children, mostly first graders, who were not enrolled because they were unable to obtain physical examinations before being allowed to enter school.

Angel said English Estates Elementary School was overcrowded with as many as 16 children in some of the school rooms.

The educator stated this would have to be adjusted to the facility's capacity by either assigning some children to other schools or adding portable rooms to accommodate the overflow.

Pool Plan Action Is Delayed

City of Casselberry is not in position to plan for the Summer Set Swim Club since the facility has not been dedicated to the municipality, the city council told representatives of subdivision residents at a work session last night.

The residents appeared seeking assurances that the pool would not be opened to the public at large. Current understanding is that the pool will be turned over to the city when construction has been completed in the development — estimated in about two years.

"Off the top of his head," as he described it, City Attorney Kenneth McIntosh gave the opinion that when the pool does come under control of the city, it will not be able to make it an exclusive facility to be used by a certain group of people.

The representatives reported that the swim association will have a meeting at 7:30 p. m. Thursday with officials of Greater Seminole County to discuss the pool. It is expected that at that time they will seek a lease arrangement for the facility.

In other business at the meeting, Council listened as McIntosh set forth requirements for individuals wishing to operate a tax in the city.

Mayor Curtis Blaw reported that Kathleen and Betty Bell, of Altamonte Springs, are seeking a city license to operate a taxi service.

Regular meeting of next Monday night will be canceled due to its falling so early in the month. It was decided.

Senior Citizens Park Is Eyed

Conversion of the city park between Park and Oak Avenues and Fourth and Fifth Streets into a "senior citizens park" was given preliminary study by the Sanford Senior Improvement Board this morning.

Preliminary drawing indicated the conversion would cost $22,000. Proposed park would include shuffleboard, croquet and horseshoe courts, circulating walkways, shelter, benches, tables, lights and a bus shelter (if needed at some future date).

No facilities for children are planned for this area, but it was pointed out that another area for future development is located only a few blocks away.

The Senior Improvement Board will meet Monday morning to further review the plan for the park.

A. B. Peterson Jr., board chairman, reported on the work of the city zoo relocation committee and explained that local opposition and possibility of site selected for zoo being used for an insurance building had stopped the zoo relocation for present time.

Peterson suggested that city should review existing zoning of the industrial park, the site recommended to the city for placing the animal attraction.

Peterson observed if action had been quickly taken the problems would have been overcome and the zoo relocated on the industrial property.

Oviedo's Election

Some 100 voters of the City of Oviedo voted to the polls yesterday, and cast ballots to re-elect unopposed Mayor C. D. Thompson and Councilman Ray Beasley and Edward Kasell.

Top vote-getter was Thompson with 102 while Beasley polled 100 and Kasell 99.

The turnout at nearly 23 per cent was far better than expected. Registered voters in the city total 474.

County Nixes Zone Exemption

By DONNA ESTES

Special exception to permit operation of a campground and golf course on agricultural-zoned lands fronting the Longwood-Markham Road was denied by American Family Recreation Centers by the Seminole County Board of Adjustment yesterday afternoon.

Declining applause from the standing-room-only audience of opponents to the plans greeted the decision made after three attempts by the board.

Two separate motions to approve and deny the exception were made and died for lack of seconds before a firm conclusion was reached.

Board member Walter Torres moved to disapprove due to the firm opposition of the adjoining property owners.

Owners of homes in the area veto later in their denunciation of the idea of "commercializing" the section.

Selective Service Board Audit Ordered

Draft Board Aide Held For Bribery

MIAMI (AP) — The draft-conscious son of an Army colonel has been charged with bribery for allegedly accepting a bribe to get the classification changed.

FBI agents said Donahue told them he had purchased deferment.

The audit was ordered after Mrs. Carolyn Copher, 26, executive secretary of Local Board 169, was arrested Sunday by the Federal Bureau of Investigation on charges of accepting a bribe.

Thomas Michael Donahue, 22, paid Mrs. Copher $500 in marked $50 bills after meeting her in the parking lot of a restaurant, FBI agents said.

Agents said Donahue notified them Thursday that he had talked with Mrs. Copher and agents said he indicated the woman would meet with him.

U. S. Commissioner Edward P. Swan Tuesday ordered Mrs. Copher bound over to the federal grand jury and continue her bond at $1,000. Maximum penalty upon conviction would be $20,000 fine or 15 years' imprisonment, or both.

Ft. Lauderdale Riots Continue

Scattered looting, rock-throwing and firebombing punctuated by the sporadic sniping, began in early evening as 100 Guardsmen joined police on patrol to back up an overnight curfew banning all but emergency personnel from streets in a 20-block area between 5 p.m. and 8 a.m.

Police said the disturbances were less violent than those on Sunday and Monday nights, when 11 persons were arrested in a wave of unrest that started after a Negro woman was shot and wounded as officers were breaking up an auto drag race.

An estimated 75 persons have been injured since the trouble began.

Fifty-seven persons were arrested Tuesday night, police said. About half of them were charged with violations of the curfew.

As the turmoil continued in Fort Lauderdale, police in nearby Pompano Beach reported a small outbreak of rock-throwing and burning in a predominantly black neighborhood.

The National Guard was called out Tuesday after Fort Lauderdale's City Council declared a state of emergency, citing "riot action and civil disorders."

All businesses, including taverns, were ordered closed during the curfew hours.

Three- and four-man patrols manned by Guardsmen and police combed the streets of the troubled northwest section Tuesday night.

New Shrine Unit Slated

In addition to the 56 Shriners present at this meeting, there are many potential members who are still on summer vacations.

One of the first orders of business of the meeting was the selection of a name for the organization. It was voted to accept the name of the All States Shrine Temple in Montpelier, Vt., and Dr. W. H. Washburn, past potentate of Riprap Temple in Madisonville, Ky. Also included in the membership are several past presidents of other Shrine Clubs.

A nominating committee was appointed consisting of Henry Longmark, chairman, assisted by Jack Gage and David Lang. The following officers were nominated and elected: William L. Jackson, president; Herbert S. Johnson, 1st vice president; W. L. Corbett, second vice president; Al Pollock, treasurer; and Omar Robertson, secretary. Nominated to the Board of Governors were Jack Gage,

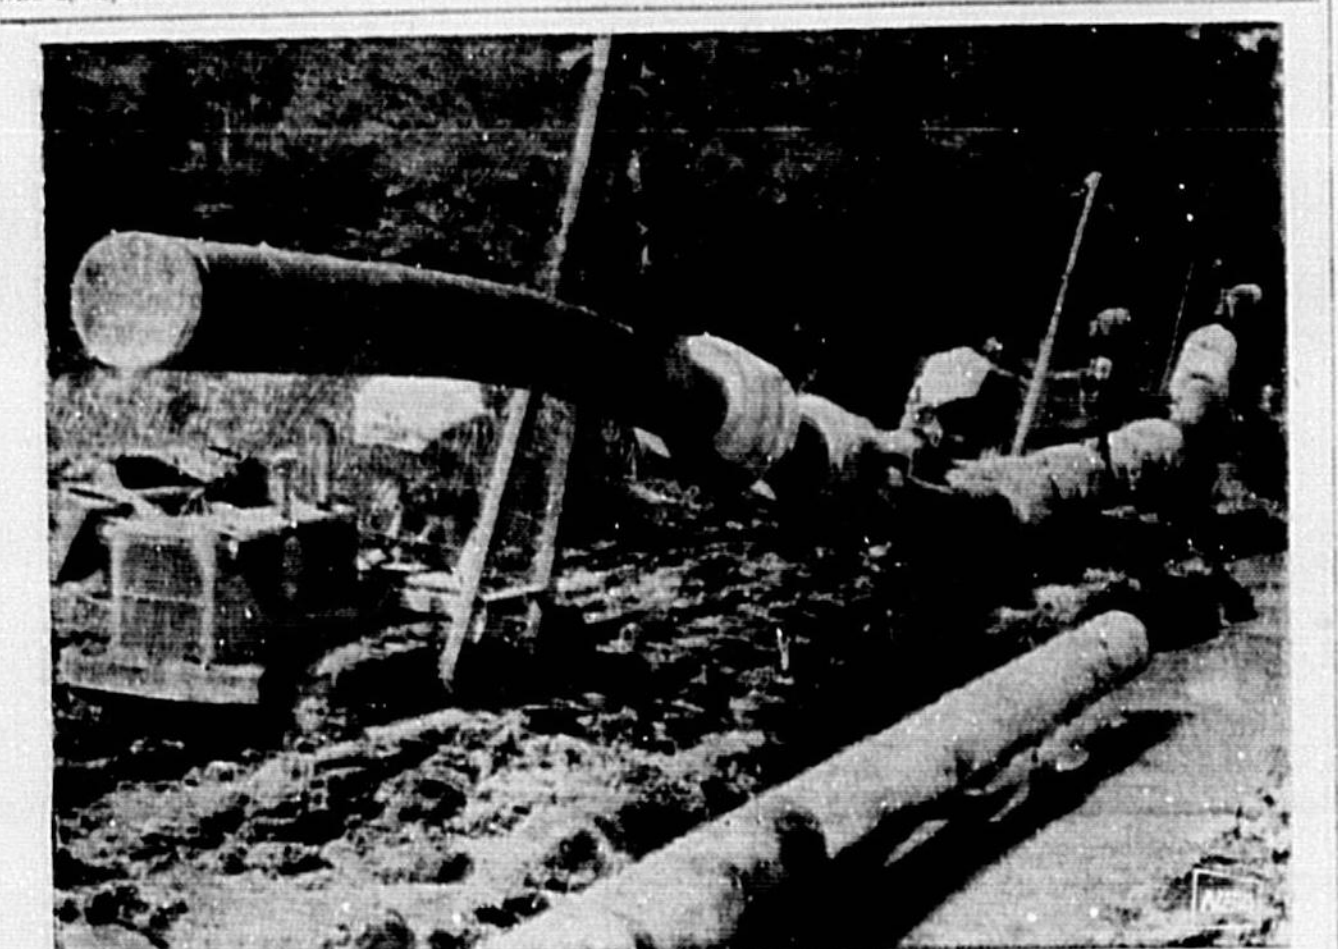

Insurance On Autos Is Probed

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—State Insurance Commissioner Broward Williams opened a round of hearings on large auto insurance rate hikes today by calling on Travelers Insurance Co. to justify a 16.8 per cent boost.

Williams said he will call all the major companies that have announced rate increases in the current insurance season.

He has the power to order companies to reduce rates and refund payments to policyholders if he determines the boosted rates are excessive, discriminatory or based on inadequate data.

Williams said his goal in holding the hearings is to halt a massive insurance rate hike by all companies in the state.

Spessard Keeps 'Em Guessing

WASHINGTON (AP)—White-haired Spessard Holland is 12 years over the mandatory retirement age for government employees, but he says he needs more time to decide whether he'll run again.

"When I get through with this session, I am going to let the doctors thumb me and look me all over and tell me what my prospects are for the future, and then make up my mind," said Florida's senior senator.

Holland said he has turned down offers from secret contributors who wanted to give money for pre-election year expenses. In the past, a special bank account was established for him by private donors in the year before an election.

Holland's decision means it will be January before his people can start planning a campaign, providing he decides to

School Openings In Seminole Pose Challenges

Opening of the school year in Seminole County is the opening of doors to a time when the very best of co-operation, the highest type of performance by all is not only to be desired but is essential.

Situations quite apart from the normal ones of educational ability on the part of the teachers and willingness to learn on the part of the pupils, exist and will exert their influence.

These must not be allowed to impair or distort the irreplaceable year which has now started for the 19,000 youngsters attending the public schools in our county.

Some of the issues which threaten an effective school year are well-known and as national as the federal-backed insistence on integration and the high-cost of school construction.

Others are as germane to Seminole as the attempt to get our school administration underway with a new corps of "coordinators." These are new positions and not new people in almost every instance.

Another is the predictable but still surprising increase in the number of children who are knocking on the school doors for admission and instruction.

Classes which are too large, if judged from the point of agreed-upon proper ratio of pupils to teacher, are in being and will continue according to every indication.

All of these situations could feed the fires of dissent, if allowed any forced draft. But any such false or inspired encouragement should be stamped out — not by any heavy-hand of official authority — but by the people who might be led into self-defeating actions.

Nor should the school authorities be booby-trapped along any trail which would falsely encourage a search for more dollars to be regarded as the end-all or the save-all of our school system.

Far from it. Extension of a bureaucracy is no remedy for ineffective administration. We say this with an apologetic bow towards the teaching fraternity but with the hope that this comment will be understood and given some weight.

We are encouraged by the message which John Angel, Superintendent of Schools, addressed to the pupils in which he pledged "... to devote our efforts to planning and developing programs that are most beneficial to your education and to assist you in every way possible to help you become a better person, a more intelligent and better prepared citizen."

No one can properly quarrel with these objectives. But such objectives need to be fleshed out with inspirational leadership, personal and persistent compassionate relationship with every student.

But Mr. Angel and the teachers, the Seminole County School Board (a hard-working group of individuals with varied talents and convictions), must not be expected to make this school year the success should be without the basic and essential support of the parents.

For these are, in hard fact, the ones who create the base by word and example which convince the pupils of the necessity of becoming educated—even if seeking learning at a time when the road is a little rocky.

Single-handedly the school administration, the teachers, the pupils or the parents cannot handle this challenging year. But together, a force should be mustered that can and will win!

Up With Kids!

What image comes to mind when you think about the younger generation? The drug scene ... riots ... hippies ... yuppies ... vandalism ... shoplifting ... psychedelic lighting and acid rock?

Before you write them off as a lost cause let's take another look across "Generation Gap" and examine the other side of the coin.

We do not have to look outside our own county for heartening evidences of the basic unselfishness and dedication found in many of today's young people.

Let us consider just a few of the recent instances where teenagers saw a need and with the built-in enthusiasm of youth pitched in to help. They did not volunteer so that they would gain publicity or a pat on the back so we did not hear of these cases from the youngsters themselves but from justifiably proud friends and adults.

A father deserted his wife and eight small children. The mother needed to work but had no one to stay with the children. A Sanford church youth group volunteered to take turns baby-sitting and gave a party for the kids as well.

An area nine-year-old boy was written off as hopelessly retarded and now through consistent tutoring four times a day his goal is to attend regular school on his grade level. Fifteen boys and girls from a Casselberry youth center were among the volunteers who made this possible. In addition to the tutoring sessions they also baby sit when the mother has to go out and entertain the other son so that he will not feel neglected.

Summer vacation was running out for two pretty South Seminole teenagers last week, but when they heard about the plight of the hurricane victims they organized over 60 other youths and several adults to collect and sort needed items and borrowed a truck trailer to haul them in.

When they learned that Altamonte Head Start was moving to new quarters and needed help teenagers from a Casselberry church borrowed a pickup truck and moved the equipment to the new facility.

Members of Christ Corps, they were among the 16 other youngsters from the group who worked with underprivileged boys and girls in the Migrant Ministry summer program and in Head Start.

Others are having car washes and bake sales to aid the Good Samaritan Home Building Fund. A group of teenagers from Casselberry went to the beach for a day of fun when they spotted a young woman drowning in the surf and her companion too exhausted to rescue her. One young man went to her rescue and pulled her ashore while others of the group went for help. Later they accompanied her to the hospital and when they returned home phoned to check on her condition.

The next time you start to "put down" all youth ask yourself "How long has it been since I have gone out of my way to help some one in need?"

So How Come It's Still Heavy?

Sex Education Controversy

that they shifted to radio and TV, for they were "ear-minded."

But ear-minded people are far more susceptible to mob action, radio, and the danger of leadership of demagogues.

People who READ are thus far more stable citizens. They are also more inclined to stampede or be regimented.

When a normal child is 2 or 4, s/he may say, "Mommy, where did I come from?"

And a smart mother will reply, "You came out of Mommy's tummy," which is not quite anatomically accurate but youngsters regard the whole abdomen as "tummy."

The child then is fully satisfied. He does not ask Question No. 2, which is: "How did I get out of your tummy?"

No; that query usually comes when he first enters school and thus gained a few years more mental age.

And a few years later he will ask the 3rd question in the normal sequence, namely, "How did I get into your tummy?"

But he still is not ripe for intimate detailed pre-marital counsel on how a husband can stimulate a wife properly, etc.

Yet many modern educators with a desire to sensationalize to "throw the book" at youngsters.

Such educators merely want immediate! They really try to shock parents by championing such so-called "new ideas."

In this column, adapted to the age and interests of children, but explained to them in a one sex, address, preference, a desire to sensationalize, is the discount as great as a score of demonstrators on TV can make it appear to be! Are the issues as explosive as an exploding press coverage can make them appear to be? Do these two types of "committed" journalists combine to fan the flames scattered embers of discontent which would otherwise die out?

Or, the committed journalists believe, is the American

Helen Fuller Says:

Nixon's Welfare Aid Reform

WASHINGTON — President Nixon has taken a popular step in proposing to reform the welfare aid system. Most taxpayers have personal experience of abuses in the present assistance program and most would favor action aimed at improving it.

Rising costs and the great increase in the number of those receiving welfare checks have raised doubts about the rules under which assistance is granted.

Belief rolls have risen almost 10 per cent a year since the mid-1960s until last December more than $4 million people were receiving state or federal aid, at a cost of about $8.5 billion.

There are many reasons why this relief program has swollen to such heights. One is the migration of the rural poor to the cities. On the farm these families could manage a hand-to-mouth existence. In the city they find they lack the skills for even the lowest-paid jobs. Without work at more than rock-bottom pay, and with the high cost of urban living, a great many wind up on the welfare rolls.

There is the added fact that as federal public assistance expenditures have increased state and local welfare agencies have grown more liberal in extending help to the needy, and have also increased the amount of their grants, thereby attracting more applicants for them. The per cent of those applying for aid last year and receiving it was 20 per cent greater than it was ten years ago.

Court decisions have also swelled the number of recipients of this demand, but it is surely a step in this direction. As a politician who sniffs the wind, he will probably take another step before long.

Interpretive Report:

"Those Rare Days Of August"

By RICHARD WILSON
WASHINGTON, D. C.—Now it has been proved that the government can be suspended for a while without doing any particular harm.

A month-long interregnum in the exercise of power is coming to an end. Congress and the President will be back in Washington and the daily clamor of political conflict will begin again.

This was a nostalgic August for those who can remember when it was normal for Congress to go home in late summer for the remainder of the year, the President relaxed and the country was perhaps better for it.

This year the mood of the country seemed to respond. There were relatively few riots. The trouble-making young people happily by the hundreds of thousands on a cloud of pot smoke above a sea of mud at the Woodstock rock festival.

Could it be that the constant Washington quietness down so does the country? Is there anything to be learned from this? Reality is now returning as the President shuts up the western White House, the senators return from their far-flung junkets, and the Supreme Court resumes its deliberation of our essential liberties.

There will be no lack of problems and controversies now. The Senate has got to face up to the problem of tax reform. Both houses of Congress must fight their way through welfare reform. The national crisis in housing cannot much longer be ignored. The lists are going back to college among the predictions of new disorders. Racial trouble rumbles here and there. President Nixon has got to make up his mind when to bring back from Vietnam another 50,000 troops. The Nixon managers must buckle down and work out their first federal budget without enough funds to do what they wish to do, and no hope for a big windfall when the Vietnam war tapers off.

Ab, for those rare days of August.

Support Builds For President

Nixon Unveils Domestic Policies

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBIAN SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Organizations representing the nation's cities are lining up behind the Nixon administration's welfare and revenue-sharing proposals in a new alliance that puts them at odds with governors of major industrial states.

The situation, becoming increasingly apparent as the municipal groups play an unprecedented part in this week's National Governors Conference, represents a dramatic change from the early days of the Nixon administration.

Then Vice President Spiro Agnew gave the mayors and their groups the impression that the new Republican administration would deal primarily with the states, and that cities would have to deal through states in contacts with the federal government.

But, according to Gov. Daniel Evans of Washington, one of the architects of the revenue sharing proposal to channel federal funds without strings to states and on to cities, it became apparent that the interest of the cities and the administration were very much alike.

Speakers from the municipal groups made clear during this week's sessions of the conference here and in reacting to President Nixon's address Monday night that they feel the principle of the revenue sharing and welfare proposals are far more important than any ineptities that might exist now in their specifics.

"If this were the final proposal," President Jack Malvestor of the U.S. Conference of Mayors said in an interview, "we might be strongly opposed."

But he promptly declined to go along with criticism by Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey, who charged the programs plus the House-passed tax reform bill constitute a significant opportunity to help the cities' desperate problems.

"It has to be a package," the San Leandro, Calif., executive, said. And he joined with Patrick Healy, executive director of the national League of Cities, in

Angel Salutes Pilot's Scholarship Selections

John Angel, Seminole County Superintendent of Schools, was guest speaker at the August meeting of the South Seminole Pilot Club. Angel complimented the club on its selection of Miss Judy Genton and Miss Gina Balabanski for scholarship awards, pointing out that both were fine, intelligent and deserving young ladies.

Angel gave Pilot Club members, in an informal manner, an insight into the workings and problems of the Seminole County school system.

In a progress report he noted that ten years ago the budget was four million dollars and that this year, 1968-1970, the budget is a little over twenty million dollars. In 1958 there were fewer than ten thousand students and this year the expected enrollment is almost nineteen thousand students. Ten years ago there were about one-half the employees now in the school system which now employs 1380 to 1400 people. New facilities have been built in ten years in Longwood, Spring Lake

President Ho Said Near Death; N. Viet Power Struggle Seen

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 TOKYO (AP) — Hanoi reported today President Ho Chi Minh in "somewhat grave" condition with a "developing" illness. Officials in Saigon believed the admission meant the 73-year-old father of Vietnamese communism was near death.

Ho's illness was announced in a communique which said: "Over the past few weeks, President Ho Chi Minh has not been well. A collective of professors and medical doctors has been attending him day and night."

Another communique, broadcast four hours later, said Ho's condition was "not stable" and that "his illness is developing and is somewhat grave."

"They would hardly issue such a bulletin unless Ho was already dead or in a coma of some kind," said one official in Saigon.

Hanoi did not disclose the nature of the illness, but Ho had a bad case of tuberculosis in the 1940s and reportedly had suffered from heart trouble and possible lung complications for more than two years.

A North Vietnamese official in Paris remarked: "All I can say is what is obvious—the president is an old man."

Experts in Saigon said Ho's death or incapacitation probably would result in an intensified power struggle in North Vietnam but no change in the goal of a unified Communist Vietnam. And they said even the jockeying for power might not be evident for some time.

"It will be a dictatorship by the party, not a dictatorship by one man," one expert said.

The Political Bureau and the Central Committee will be the important factors.

PWs Relate Red Horror

By BOB POOS
 Associated Press Writer
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Navy men have given harsh accounts of North Vietnamese prison camp life in a switch of U.S. government tactics to bring pressure on Hanoi concerning prisoner-of-war treatment.

Two if any details came with the release of other American prisoners, but Tuesday, Lt. Robert F. Frishman and seaman Douglas Brent Hegdahl told newsmen of torture, hunger and solitary confinement.

Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird followed this with a statement saying "North Vietnam has violated even the most fundamental standards of human decency."

Hanoi, Laird said, "consistently has claimed through propaganda statements that our men are being treated humanely." This has been clearly refuted, he said.

Frishman said his story was told because of "a strong obligation to those still back there to get the truth out."

The lieutenant said American prisoners have had their fingernails pulled out, been burned with glowing cigarette ends, beaten, suspended from beams, by ropes, and cast into tiny almost airtight cells for months on end.

"You rest so long," he said, "but it is only a matter of time before they can make you do anything they want you to do."

Frishman indicated his words may well cause further torture for the friends he left behind.

But, he said, several POWs got together before he left and it was the consensus that he should tell it like it is behind the barbed wire in Hanoi.

From this, Frishman said, he hopes that world opinion may force Hanoi to bring their treatment under the specifications of the Geneva Convention, which North Vietnam has signed.

B52s Aid Battered Viets

By GEORGE ESPEY
 Associated Press Writer
 SAIGON (AP) — Massive American B52 strikes today hit North Vietnamese battle lines, South Vietnamese forces near the provincial capital of Song Be for the fourth day.

South Vietnamese casualties were climbing, with at least 30 troops killed, 128 wounded and 17 missing, as well as four American Green Beret advisers wounded.

The enemy resistance was strong, that more than 1,000 troops from the Green Berets strike force of hired mercenaries have been forced into retreat. Only six enemy soldiers were known dead.

The battle is taking place in a jungle near the Cambodian border about 85 miles northeast of Saigon.

The fighting was touched off Sunday when a battalion of strike force troops uncovered an enemy base camp. The South Vietnamese were surrounded quickly, and from all sides and forced to retreat. They have been unable to move forward since.

American intelligence officers thought at first the camp was the headquarters of an enemy regiment. But now there is speculation it may be a division field headquarters.

During the night more than 20 B52s pounded the enemy camp with more than 500 tons of bombs. Some strikes were only three miles from the Cambodian border.

Southern Schools Face Total Unrest

ATLANTA (AP) — White boycotts, black picket lines and federal lawsuits face school systems in the South today as the new term's second day of classes began.

Angry protests against racial integration Tuesday included a firebombing and the padlocking of schools in one area.

White students staged large-scale to wholesale boycotts in some districts of Alabama, Florida, Louisiana and North Carolina.

Police reported no arrests in the demonstrations.

The Department of Justice, meanwhile, prepared lawsuits against several Georgia school districts. Robert H. Finch, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, said the districts had reneged on voluntary integration plans.

A five-man squad of civil rights division lawyers moved into the state to initiate court action. Suits were filed late Tuesday against three districts.

Other federal attorneys were at work in New Orleans on several Louisiana school cases. One of these involved Ascension Parish.

In East Tennessee, schools were padlocked at Gonzales and in other areas Monday night to prevent the opening of classes under court integration orders.

Senator Dirksen OK After Lung Operation

By JOHN CHADWICK
 Associated Press Writer
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, 73, was reported in satisfactory condition after surgeons removed a growth from his right lung, but there was no official word on whether the tumor was cancerous.

The upper lobe of Dirksen's right lung was removed Tuesday by Army doctors at Walter Reed Hospital.

Aides to the senator said there was no immediate report from the hospital on whether the growth was malignant.

A statement issued by Dirksen's office said "there was no evidence of spread of the tumor" and his condition after the operation was termed satisfactory.

A spokesman for the Illinois Republican, who suffers from emphysema, said Dirksen smokes "lots" of cigarettes. "I don't know how many, but lots," the aide said.

Dirksen, who fractured his right hip three years ago, has always tended to joke about his physical ailments.

And colleagues have been amazed by his recuperative powers and his capacity for hard work and long hours. After repair surgery on his hip in 1966, he hobbled around the Senate on crutches for weeks.

First elected to the Senate in 1950, after serving for eight terms in the House, Dirksen is a skilled practitioner of the art of compromise and a key figure in keeping the legislative wheels turning.

During the three-week recess that Congress started Aug. 13, Dirksen went to Walter Reed for tests several times. But this was not surprising since he was in the habit of getting periodic checkups.

Dorminey Eulogized

By DONNA ESTES
 Officials throughout Seminole County today mourned the death of S. O. (Oz) Dorminey, county tax assessor.

County Commission Chairman John Alexander stated: "I am deeply saddened by his death. Oz was a sincere and hardworking individual and his passing will be a great loss to county government."

Commissioner Greg Drummmond—"This man's quiet fortitude and dedication to the county while facing overwhelming personal adversity will serve as an inspiration to others. He was certainly an effective public servant and for his short tenure was of great service to the county."

Longwood City Clerk Omie R. Shonate—"He was such a fine person. He was so helpful when I visited the tax assessor's office while doing work on the city tax roll. I was so shocked, I can't get over it."

School Board Chairman John Evans—"It certainly is tragic for a young person like that."

Newlywed Ex-Bishop Missing In Desert

JERUSALEM (AP) — Holy Land to study the origins of Christianity and the Dead Sea Scrolls for a book he was writing. Pike told friends that he hoped to find documents or ancient records that would provide more information on Christ.

Army officials said Pike's belongings were found in a dry river bed or wash about a mile east of his abandoned car.

The officials said they expected to find Pike soon "dead or alive."

Pike, 36, and his 31-year-old third wife were motoring through the area when their car broke down Monday night. The couple set out on foot to look for help, but Pike collapsed after two hours walking in the heat and sent his wife on alone. She said she left him on a hillside.

After walking all night, Mrs. Pike met some highway guards early Tuesday and they took her to Bethlehem.

The police immediately began a search using helicopters and planes. Pike's car was found Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Pike was under a doctor's care at their hotel room in Jerusalem.

In Santa Barbara, Calif., Pike's mother, Mrs. Pearl Chambers, said her son and daughter-in-law went to the

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Shortly after my husband passed away, my sister (who is two years younger than I) expressed a desire to purchase the grave plot next to HIS for herself when her time comes. She went to pieces when he died. She says it will give her "peace of mind" to be buried next to him. She has a grave in another cemetery with our parents, but now she has changed her mind and wants to be buried next to MY husband. (HER husband was buried at sea.)

I have a plot next to my husband's for myself when my time comes, but the one on the other side is still for sale.

My sister and I have always gotten along very well, and she says she will not do anything against my wishes, but I cannot for the life of an understand why she needs to be buried on the other side of MY husband for HER "peace of mind."

Since that plot will not be available indefinitely, I must make a decision soon. If I say no, I'll be hurting my sister, and if I say yes, I'll be hurting myself. What should I do?

Jacoby On Bridge

Everything seems to happen to the unlucky even when he does nothing to bring it on. Today's hand is an example. Most players would open the hand with one spade but he elected to bid one no-trump. If he had opened one spade, the final contract would surely have been four spades. He arrived at the same spot after opening one no-trump. It seems that North decided to use the Stayman convention to find a major suit fit.

Stayman is a fine convention. We use it ourselves but would simply have gone to three no-trump with this particular North hand. We might add that Sam Stayman would also have left his convention alone this time and gone directly to three no-trump. You don't really need to look for a

DEAR POLLY: This is to help L.L.R. who is having trouble with curled edges in her quilting. I solved this by knitting the first two and the last two stitches of each row in a garter stitch. This is a straight, neat edge. When a sweater is sewed together, the seam looks quite nice.

Beauty after Forty

"We live way out in the country, and when we have both ache, what should we do? My husband and I both have upper arthritis." M. & Mrs. The well-known Dr. Daniel A. Collins who wrote the excellent book, "Treat," says about this use of self-medication: "Home remedies for relief of dental disease and its pain are to be discouraged. Disasters in the mouth severe enough to suggest self-medication plainly indicate the need for professional consultation, diagnosis and treatment."

In the United States most people live close enough to a dentist to be assured of professional care.

"I am too fat, no other word describes it. I do not want to reduce, can you help me? I have tried diets but fall off too soon." Mable.

"Stop thinking of yourself as overweight and start dieting and stick with it. At four age it is important to get rid of excess weight. You can and will feel better. No one can "help" you to stay on a diet. It is just a matter of caring enough about your health and your looks. If you will use it, my Figure Control diet can be of aid. Only you must follow it to get results. If you will use it, send me a long self-addressed, stamped envelope and enclose twenty-five cents in coin. But suggest self-medication plainly indicate the need for professional consultation, diagnosis and treatment."

Use cleansing cream and a good skin astringent, then use a foundation. Select one after consulting with the cosmetic saleswoman. The foundation can give a softer finish and smooth the skin.

Sen. Kennedy Lawyers Block Kopechne Inquest

BOSTON (AP) — An inquest which was to have begun today into the death of Mary Jo Kopechne in Sen. Edward J. Kennedy's car has been blocked by his lawyers, probably two weeks or more.

Justice Paul C. Reardon of the state Supreme Court ordered the postponement Tuesday.

day, about 18 hours before the inquest was to begin in Edgartown on Martha's Vineyard.

The justice also warned officials connected with the case against making public statements.

Reardon's order called for a hearing by the full seven-justice Supreme Court into constitutionality of the postponement.

at issues raised by Kennedy counsel. No date was set. Reardon said the court would first study the matter and then proceed when the parties to the case were ready to go ahead.

The full court normally convenes Oct. 1. Atty. Gen. Robert J. Quinn said it appeared unlikely that there would be any action for at least two weeks. A possible appeal from whatever ruling comes from the full high court could further delay the inquest.

at Dist. Judge James A. Boyle, scheduled to conduct the inquest ordered by Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinie.

The postponement was sought by Kennedy's attorneys because of rules for the inquest set down by Judge Boyle. The lawyers argued Kennedy's constitutional rights would be abridged by Boyle's refusal to permit cross-examination of witnesses.

Miss Kopechne, 26, a former aide to Robert F. Kennedy, was killed in an accident the night of July 16 in which Sen. Kennedy's car went off a bridge and into a tidal pool on Chappaquiddick Island adjacent to Martha's Vineyard.

A medical examiner said she drowned, Kennedy, 37, escaped from the vehicle, pleaded guilty to leaving the scene of the accident and was given a two-month suspended jail sentence.

The hearing before Justice Reardon Tuesday lasted about 45 minutes. Boston lawyer Edward B. Hanly argued for the postponement. Asst. Atty. Gen. Joseph J. Hurley represented Boyle.

Reardon ordered Judge Boyle to deliver to the Supreme Court documents dealing with the case and said an order would be issued "forthwith" enjoining him from proceeding until the high court heard arguments.

Choosing Your Career

By JOYCE LAIN

"When school opens, I will be a high school senior and I still don't know for sure what I want to do as a career. Some days I think one thing and on other times something else. So many of the careers you have written about have interested me a lot. I'll be going to college next year. My mother is getting very anxious about my indecision — and so am I."

A. — Don't panic. You don't have two heads. No one can legitimately accuse you of being a regular Book of Jello.

Vocational maturity, like physical and emotional maturity, comes at different ages to different people. However, since most of us do spend four or five times more of our lives on the job than we do in school — and by our career decisions, choose our future self — you've got a point. While you can certainly wait until later to make your specific selection, you should start having a general idea now. (Exceptions: For science, engineering or medicine, you should take required courses throughout high school.)

appealed to you. Have you done anything about it? ... do you follow up by writing for the material I mention? Counselors have career literature also — if you'll take the time to seriously study it. When you find a career area which particularly grabs you, spend some time at the library researching it further; go and talk with people in the field. Get for a part-time or summer job which is somehow related. If you don't know a good many of the alternatives and the correct facts about each, how can you be sure you shouldn't have "shop-around"?

Tomatoes Gain A New Stuffing

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Stuff tomatoes are always a handsome addition to a buffet. But what should the stuffing be? If meat or poultry or seafood is to make up the buffet's main dish, the tomato stuffing should add contrast.

Here's where the following recipe comes in. The stuffing for these tomatoes is made with cooked spinach, hard-cooked egg, raw carrot and celery. To bind the stuffing and flavor it, there's a suspicion of lemon juice and half a cup of real mayonnaise.

We came upon this spinach combination in a Brazilian cookbook where it was used as a sandwich filling. But we like it best as a stuffing for the tomatoes and we think you will, too.

COUNTRY-STYLE STUFFED TOMATOES

1 1/2 pound fresh spinach or 1 package, 10 ounces, frozen chopped spinach
1 large or 2 medium tomatoes
1 teaspoon lemon juice
2 hard-cooked eggs, mashed fine
1 cup finely grated carrot, lightly packed
1/4 cup finely diced celery
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 cup real mayonnaise

Wash the fresh spinach in cold water and cook it rapidly in the water that clings to the leaves, turning them as they wilt. Drain well and chop fairly coarsely and cool. Or cook the frozen spinach according to package directions, drain well and cool. There should be about a cup spinach.

Cut a thin slice from the stem end of each tomato. With a 1-3/4 cup Fill each tomato with 1-3/4 cups of the spinach mixture. Makes six servings.

Carrots Go Into Souffle

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Serve carrots in an unusual way! Put them into a souffle. Offer the carrot souffle as the vegetable accompaniment for meat, poultry or fish.

CARROT SOUFFLE
3/4 pound carrots, 5 medium
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons minced onion
3 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup milk
3 eggs, separated

With a vegetable brush, wash and scrub carrots; do not peel. Cut off a small slice from each top and cut carrots into 1/2-inch pieces. Cook carrots, covered, in boiling salted water until very tender—about 20 minutes. Drain. Strain through a food mill. There should be 3/4 cup strained carrot.

In a saucepan, melt butter. Add onion and cook gently until wilted but not browned. Stir in flour, salt, pepper and nutmeg. Remove from heat and gradually stir in milk, keeping smooth. Return to moderately low heat and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Stir in carrots. Set aside until cool to the touch.

Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon color. With a clean beater, beat egg whites until they hold straight stiff peaks when beater is slowly withdrawn. Stir beater yolks into cooled carrot mixture. Fold in beater whites. Turn into an ungreased 1-quart baking dish. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until golden-brown and mixture in center does not shake—35 to 40 minutes.

Makes four to six servings.

ABOUT CARROT COLOR
Vegetable specialists have some interesting things to say about the color of the nutritious carrot.

"The orange color is a measure of the carotene or vitamin A content of carrots—carrots of bright orange color probably furnish more vitamin A than carrots less bright in color. Carrot color is affected by the location of the growing area, the variety, storage conditions, age of the root and many other environmental factors. The orange color is not a true indication of sweetness and flavor. Larger, more mature carrots will likely be a brighter orange than small ones but they will not be so tender. They may be a good choice for stews and pot roasts. Young, tender carrots of smaller size and lighter color may be preferred for salads or relish trays.

Grilled Meats With 'Pizzazz'

Today we take for granted the fun and flavor of barbecued meats. They've become an integral part of America's leisurely living. So much so that modern homemakers, who serve a wide variety of grilled meats with "pizzazz," are all ways on the lookout for a new barbecue idea.

Here's variety for a popular grill classic. Serve plump beef-burgers with a parade of toppings, suggests meat expert Edna Steggs of the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Basic Beefburgers: Combine two pounds of ground beef with two teaspoons salt and one fourth teaspoon pepper. Shape into eight patties one-half to three-fourths inch thick. Place meat on grill or in oven broiler about three or four inches from heat. Broil six to eight minutes longer, to desired degree of doneness.

Top broiled burgers with any one of the following:

Tomato Topping: Combine one-fourth cup ketchup, one tablespoon prepared mustard and one teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.

Bubbly Blue Topping: Combine one-half cup dairy sour cream and one-fourth cup crumbled blue cheese.

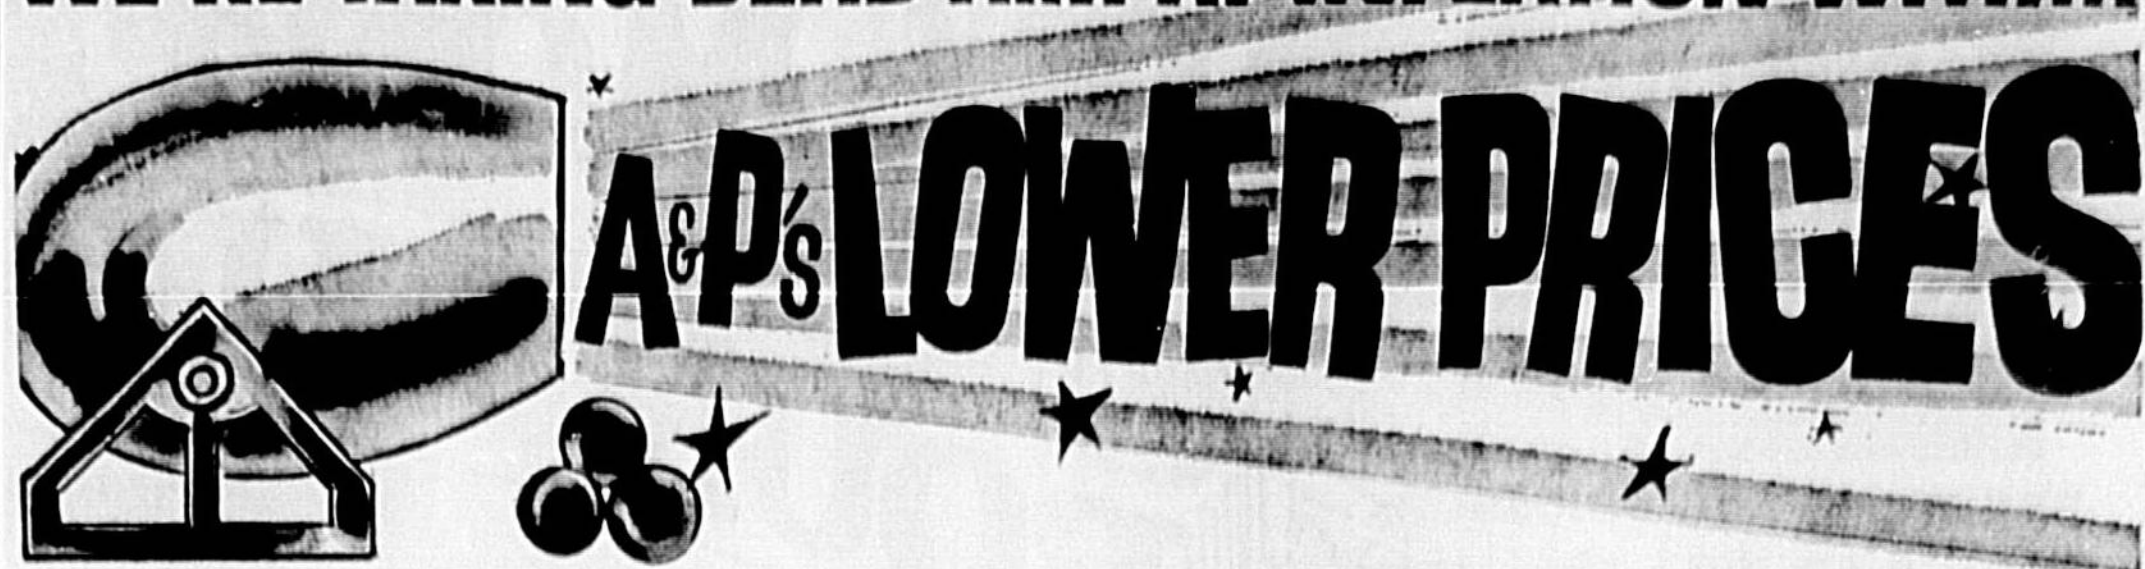

Corny Topping: Use jar (13 ounces) corn relish.

(Each topping recipe is sufficient for eight beefburgers.)

TAKE YOUR choice or try them all. Crown juicy broiled beefburgers with zippy tomato topping, bubbly blue cheese or corny relish.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Mimicking the famous is, and always has been, a favorite mode of humor. Prince or president, magnate of movie star, anyone in the public eye can expect to see his idiosyncrasies turned into fodder for laughs.

Some are pleased, perhaps on the theory that imitation is the sincerest form of flattery. But suppose the person mimicked is not pleased. Does he have a legal kick coming?

As a rule, the answer is no. Whatever anguish he feels is considered one of the penalties of fame. The law gives a kind of poetic license to the mimic to practice what he calls "a distinct variety of the histrionic art."

However, there are limits. Even the famous are entitled to be shielded against the imitator who goes too far.

For one thing, mimicry must not be used as a device for defamation of character.

"A person shall not be allowed," said a judge, "to murder another's reputation by jest."

For another thing, the mimic—even though telling no lies—must not violate the right of privacy. He must not expose those areas of the person's life that are not "fair game" for public dissection. Thus, revelation of a tycoon's personal peccadilloes, if totally unrelated to his business career, might well be an invasion of his privacy.

What if the mimic uses imitation not for humor at all, but rather to pass himself off as the real thing? In one case, an actor assumed a name and mannerisms similar to those of a famous entertainer, so as to trick audiences into coming to see him.

But a court finally halted him with an injunction, partly to protect the original entertainer, partly to protect the public. As one judge put it:

"First, a man who has a reputation for excellence is entitled to be protected in the reputation thus established; and second, the public should be protected against whomsoever places a counterfeit article on the market in the likeness of the genuine."

Water Diet Ups Sales

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The water diet, a new and recently popular means of losing weight, is giving the bottled water market its highest boost since pollution made the country try water conscious, according to the Mountain Valley Water Co.

Devised by a physician who has treated over 10,000 obese men and women, the diet is said to take off five to 10 per cent of the dieter's weight in six weeks.

The diet includes as much as the dieter wishes of these high-protein foods only—eggs, skim milk cottage cheese, chicken and turkey, lean meat and fish, sea food—and eight 16-ounce glasses of water daily.

The water is essential and stressed by the physician, says the company, because a great amount of body fat is burned up on this diet and the water is needed to wash out waste products and stores of burnt fat.

Bullets & Bows

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP) — Albert Rutland, who used to tie square knots and the like in the U.S. Navy, now ties neckties made of rope.

The 71-year-old retired boat-swain makes "facile" ties, which he gives away to friends. They are tied with eight-strand turksheds stopped off with a bottle knot. The rope eye from which the ties are made is doubled over and threaded through a turkshed. They are finished off with 20 colorful buttons from which Rutland saves the back and removes the powder. After filling them with epoxy glue, he then stuffs the ends of the rope into the disarmed bullets.

COMPANY DINNER
An American version of French recipe

Chicken in Wine Sauce
Potatoes Green Peas
Sautéed Onions Crusty Bread
Apple Tart Beverage
CHICKEN IN WINE SAUCE
packages (each 1 pound)
frozen chicken breasts
thawed
1/4 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 pound (1/4 stick) butter
1/4 cup brandy
2 cups red Burgundy or other dry red wine
1 bay leaf
1/2 teaspoon crushed thyme
2 tablespoons minced parsley
2 slices bacon, diced
1 package (20 ounces) frozen small whole onions
1 package (6 ounces) frozen whole mushrooms
Dredge chicken in mixture of flour, salt and pepper. Melt butter in a large skillet and add chicken and brown. Heat brandy in a small saucepan, then ignite and pour flaming over chicken, shaking skillet until flame dies. Transfer chicken and pan juices to casserole with tight-fitting lid. Add red wine, bay leaf, thyme and parsley. Cover lightly with foil to cook best steam. Then with lid, and cover in preheated 350-degree oven until chicken is tender—about 30 minutes.

About 15 minutes before chicken is done, cook bacon in skillet and add onions and mushrooms (not defrosted). Cover and cook over medium heat, stirring several times, until vegetables are thawed and tender. Remove cover and continue cooking until liquid has evaporated and vegetables are lightly browned. Add to chicken mixture. Makes six servings.

 Beef Sirloin
 Buckwheat Grits
 Green Peas
 Salad Bowl
 Joyce Thompson's Apple Dessert

Apple Dessert
 JOYCE THOMPSON'S
 APPLE DESSERT
 4 medium apples (1 1/2 to 1 3/4 pounds), peeled and cored and each cut into ribs
 1/2 cup light or dark rum
 1 cup sugar
 1/2 tablespoons butter
 Salt
 Pastry for a 9-inch pie shell
 Soak the apples in the rum for 30 to 35 minutes, turning them once or twice. (The apple-flavored rum can be used in a beverage.) In a metal 9-inch pie pan melt the sugar, remove from heat, add the butter and stir to melt and combine. Arrange apples prettily over sugar mixture; sprinkle lightly with salt. Roll out pastry to a 9-inch round; place over apples and flute edges leaving vents around edge; do not press pastry to rim of pan. Bake in a preheated 425-degree oven for 15 minutes; continue baking at 325 degrees until apples are tender—45 minutes longer. Let stand on wire rack for 10 minutes; turn out; cut side down. Serve warm with whipped cream. Makes 6 servings.

 Beverage
CHOCOLATE PEANUT CREAMS
 1/4 tablespoons butter or margarine
 3 (each 1 ounce) semi-sweet chocolate squares
 1/2 cup creamy or chunk-style peanut butter
 1/2 cup confectioners' sugar
 Place butter and chocolate in double boiler; top over hot, not boiling water. Stir occasionally until melted. Cool slightly. Meanwhile mix peanut butter and sugar until smooth; form into 1-inch balls. Using 2 spoons dip balls in melted chocolate mixture; coat completely. Place on waxed paper. Set in cool place until firm. Store covered in refrigerator. Makes about 1 1/2 dozen candies.

SOUTH SEA PANCAKES
 1 can (12 1/2 ounces) pineapple tidbits
 1 can (11 ounces) mandarin oranges
 1 tablespoon cornstarch
 1 teaspoon minced candied ginger
 Buckwheat pancakes, see below
 Malted Butter
 Toasted coconut
 Drain pineapple and oranges, reserving syrup. Add enough of the orange syrup to the pineapple syrup to make one cup. In a medium saucepan gradually stir together the cornstarch and one cup fruit syrup, keeping smooth, stirring constantly, bring to a boil. Add ginger. Simmer over medium heat for three minutes, stirring a few times. Add drained fruit and bread. Brush pancakes with melted butter and top each serving with the warm fruit topping and sprinkle with toasted coconut.

Sanford Court Put On Notice

By DONNA ESTES
 Attorney Robert G. Petree put Sanford Municipal Court on notice during a hearing yesterday afternoon that he will take the city into federal court if a speedy trial is denied to his clients.
 Petree was in the city court on behalf of a number of teenagers who had been charged with loitering.
 The attorney, pointing to a recent decision of the federal court for the Southern District of Florida declaring unconstitutional state statute similar in content to the city's ordinance on loitering, asked that the charges against his clients be dropped.
 At the same time, City Prosecutor Kenneth Lefter asked for a continuance of the case until the Supreme court gives decision on an appeal of the ruling of unconstitutionality.
 Municipal Judge Roger Berry continued the hearing as requested by Lefter and further denied Petree's request for payment to the court reporter for her fees and per diem charges. Petree said the prosecutor could have notified him in advance of his plan to continue the case. Berry further denied Petree's offer to serve as counsel free of charge to other youngsters arrested at the same time as his clients.

1-Grade Schools Answer To HEW

By BILL SCOTT
 The Orlando attorney expected to file an injunction against the freedom of choice school desegregation plan adopted by the Seminole County School Board for the 1969-70 school year said today that "some school officials had told me privately of their wishes to get the school system in court and the choice plan removed by the federal court."
 Speaking in an exclusive interview with The Herald, William D. Rowland, attorney for 611 plaintiffs in the recent conspiracy suit against two school board members, stated that local school officials privately had told him it is their desire to have the county integrated as quickly as possible and desired him (Rowland) to file a U. S. District Court suit against the school plan so the federal courts would order an acceptable plan imposed some time this year.
 Rowland, in Sanford to try a traffic case in Municipal Court, said he had been assured by unnamed school officials that administrative assignments of students to certain schools would be done in line with integrating more white and black students.
 Rowland said local officials are afraid to speak out and make themselves heard on the desegregation question but had indicated they are backing his court actions to force another integration plan.
 The attorney stated he would file an injunction against the plan "probably in a couple of weeks" and seek to supplant it with a plan of his own which he felt would be acceptable to U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW).
 Rowland said his plan consisted of a central type of school with everybody going to the same facility.
 An illustration of this would be all Sanford ninth graders go to Crooms! all students entering 10, 11 and 12 attending Seminole High.
 All Sanford eighth graders would be assigned to Sanford Junior High Lakeside Junior High would be reserved for seventh graders.
 Supt. John Arzel admitted to The Herald that he had talked with Rowland about school problems and added, "I don't mind admitting I don't think it's good for this school system to stay in a state of constant turmoil. I'm anxious to get something solved and get on with the business of education, not solving social problems."
 The superintendent acknowledged that administrative assignments were being made, which could increase the number of white students in formerly black schools.
 He informed that 29 whites were now at Jackson Heights Elementary and said the 13 whites at opening day classes at Crooms High had been increased.
 Arzel said an overcrowding problem at English Estates Elementary would have to be solved by either moving 65 students from Carrage Hill, Eastbrook and Altamonte areas to other schools or put in portable classrooms. "We hope to resolve this situation next week," Arzel said.
 Board of Trustees voted at monthly meeting last night to grant Scriber a one year sabbatical leave to work on his Doctorate Degree and accepted the recommendation of President Earl Weldon to hire Sample until Scriber returns July 1, 1970.
 Board included the hiring of Jeanette Warnock, a business teacher, as replacement for Clifford Herston, who resigned to accept an assistant professorship at Miami Dade Junior College. Mrs. Warnock taught the past year at Orange Junior College at Orlando.
 Board accepted 68 employees for part time work during next year. President Weldon said the part time workers would be used as needed.
 In other actions, the trustees: — Accepted lowest bid meeting specifications for electronic calculator to cost approximately $1,021.
 — Accepted 40 acres of adjacent land from the Seminole County School Board.
 — Heard Weldon advise that Jan. 6, 1970 would be Seminole Junior College night at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club and race track proceeds will be given to the college.

 TOP entertainment is provided in these parts by the Marching Moosemen. Audiences are in for a hilarious time when they are part of the program, as they were last Monday as a filly for the Labor Day Regatta beauty pageant. (EYL, their "mouths" in this photo really are their belly buttons.)

Altamonte Seeks More Sewer $$

Mayor W. Lawrence Swafford urged the Altamonte Springs City Council last night to press forward on applying for federal funds for planning for a sewer system for the northern section of the municipality.
 With money not yet in hand from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development for some $1.2 million already approved for construction of the sewerage disposal system to serve the southern portion of the city, the mayor started the "ball rolling" for completion of the utility.
 Only two weeks ago announcement was made that HUD had approved and funded the first portion.
 Swafford said last night that in addition to the $12 million from HUD another $300,000 in grants is expected from the State Department of Health for the system under the anti-pollution law.
 This would bring to total of $15,000 to be received in outright gift for the utility.
 The mayor urged Council to discuss with Gilco Engineering Company, city engineers, preparation of forms and preliminary report to ask the government for money to conduct a feasibility study for the sewer system in the northern section and those areas already served by city water.

Airport Deed On Way

Title to 1,600-acre former Sanford Naval Air Station will be hand delivered to the City of Sanford Tuesday at 3 p.m.
 City Manager W. E. Knowles said Charles M. Kinney, assistant to Atlanta General Services Administration Chief Warren Moody, will come to Sanford to personally deliver the long-sought document in a special presentation.
 The receipt of the base title by the city climaxed a week ago with the announcement from Sen. Edward Gurney that the deed to the property would be granted without the city having to spend $200,000 for the 140-acre cantonment or industrial area.
 Kinney made a special trip to Washington to see Hart T. Mankin, special counsel to GSA, and returned a month ago with the promise from Mankin that it would take a month before final disposition of the former military property was decided.
 Mankin, in the meantime, advised the city manager he would be trying to resolve the problem of changing the industrial designation of the property to income-producing and thus attempt to convey the title.
 GSA has in the past declined to release industrial designated government property to municipalities without charge.
 Basic problem faced by the city is having to operate an airport without the needed monetary return which the leasing of former Navy buildings in the industrial area would provide.
 At one time it appeared that city might even receive the disputed acreage was included gratis.
 Discussions were held among city commissioners over what steps should be taken to secure the property before it was finally decided to send Kinney to Washington to consult with governmental officials in an effort to end the threat to future city industrial growth, and the operation in the black of the newly designated Sanford Airport.

Sub Dean Named At SJC

Charles Sample, Dean of Indian River Junior College for nine years, will replace Dean R. A. Scriber at Seminole Junior College Dean of Personnel Services for one year while Scriber attends University of Southern Mississippi.
 SJC Board of Trustees voted at monthly meeting last night to grant Scriber a one year sabbatical leave to work on his Doctorate Degree and accepted the recommendation of President Earl Weldon to hire Sample until Scriber returns July 1, 1970.
 Board included the hiring of Jeanette Warnock, a business teacher, as replacement for Clifford Herston, who resigned to accept an assistant professorship at Miami Dade Junior College. Mrs. Warnock taught the past year at Orange Junior College at Orlando.

Double Slaying Related

The Police Department of Embury, Ill., confirmed today the fatal shooting of Charles L. Button, South Seminoles landowner, and his wife, Vienna, in that city two months ago. They were shot to death with a pistol while playing cards with friends by their mentally retarded son, Kenneth, who was then committed to the DuPage County Hospital, Wheaton, Ill.
 The owner of around 400 acres of land off Lake Drive in Casselberry area, Button, was shot in November. He is the son of the late Judge Leonard Button, who was largely responsible for the construction of Lake Drive originally and was a prominent local resident.
 His brother, John Button, lives at 720 Seminoles Blvd., Casselberry.
