Recent Showers Make Outlook Brighter For Food Yields

WASHINGTON, June 80-(A) -The Agriculture Department reported today that crop prospects nave improved in Europe as a result of recent rains. But it said total output is expected to fall a little below last year's.

Rains fell in widespread areas between mid-May and mid-June to relieve a very dry spring. That had threatened a sharp drop in this year's food preduction for a continent striving to recover from the war. The department said a survey indicates that a crop output as high or higher than last year may be harvested in northern and central Europe. The outlook in western, southern and southeastern Europe, on the other hand, was said to be worse.

In much of southern and southeastern Europe, the rains came too late to repair the damage caused by the prolonged dry speil of last winter and spring. In the Soviet Union, the department said, it appears that crop acreage is greater than last year but still below prewer. The criti-cal period for Boviet crops is not

Taft Looms As Top Strategist In U. S. Senate

Northern GOP's And South's Demos Line Up Behind Senator

By JACK BELL WASHINGTON, June 30-429 Robert A. Taft, Obio Republican looked like the Senate's best strategist today.

At least, he had the votes in the rdutch Tuesday when the Senate approved, 50 to 40, his proposal to let the government use injunctions and plant seizure to stop strikes which create a nation-
