SWEATED ORANGES

To Take the Place of Artificially Ripened Fruit—How One Law May Be Evaded—Florida Products Restricted by Statute.

(Boston, Mass., Transcript, 11-20-11.)

A dispatch from Los Angeles warns the people of the East that their Thanksgiving tables will this year be without California oranges, owing to the order of the bureau of food and drug inspection that the shipment of artificially ripened fruit will be in violation of the law. But the loss will be slight, for much better oranges than those that by their fair exteriors lure to the purchase of fruit still green and bitter and that we have the word of the scientists for are distinctly poisonous to the digestive organs. Yet in spite of the dispatch there is the probability that seemingly ripe oranges will await an eager purchase, for there is nothing in the law to prevent the California shippers from sending East fruit in the green state, and nothing to prevent the dealers receiving them from subjecting them to the sweating process that gives them the golden appearance of the ripe orange. The states could here interpose their pure food regulations, if any such applied, but the national law can only operate in commerce between the states. Back of the ruling of the national pure food bureau that within the definition of adulterated food, as such food is mixed, colored, powdered, coated or stained in a manner where by damage or inferiority is concealed, are included oranges forced to an appearance of ripeness while the sugar and acid content is still that of green fruit, is the agitation of the whole subject by the Florida Citrus Exchange, as the association of shippers of oranges, grapefruit, plantain and bananas is called, which looks to the national government to help save the reputation of the Florida fruit. There is a gap in the orange market between the supply from California and from Florida, and grasping shippers have been in the habit, it is charged, of shipping green fruit or fruit artificially colored by sweating, to the serious damage of the good name of Florida oranges and the eventual falling off in the demand for it, for buyers of bitter oranges sold under the name of Floridas are quite likely to associate bitterness forever more with the brand and to leave it alone. To protect its reputation Florida enacted a law prohibiting the exportation of unripe fruit, and to make the law more effective the assistance of the Federal government has been invoked, in putting artificially ripened oranges under the adulterated food ban.

There may be some question as to what extent the government is justified in interfering with private business to protect the public welfare, but if it is justified, as intelligent public opinion is agreed, in helping to save the public from making the mistake of buying doctored canned goods and eggs too old to be fit for use, for instance, then it is equally justified in trying to keep out of the market oranges that while really unfit for food masquerade as fit. There is no need to argue that the people ought to be allowed to buy green fruit if they want to. They don't want to, and if they knew it was green they wouldn't buy it. Not being experts enough to know when it is "processed," processed oranges may fairly enough be kept out of the market as a health precaution.

HAPPENINGS DURING THE WEEK

Here the Readers Will Find a Brief Historical Spring Flowing For Hurried Readers

Secretary of War Stimson, acting upon an exhaustive report from the general staff, has decided that no less than six thousand and probably eighteen strong army units should at once be abandoned. "In order to put an end to the extravagance and inefficiency resulting from improper distribution of the mobile army."

A marked rise in temperature will overtake the Eastern states tomorrow, according to the weekly forecast issued tonight by the weather bureau and moderate temperature will prevail over the eastern half of the country during the greater part of the coming week.

Persons close to administration circles say today that it will be most unusual if nothing is heard of former President Roosevelt's intentions within the next forty-eight hours. In fact so confident are they that something will be forthcoming from Oyster Bay as a result of the visit of Gov. Glasscock, of West Virginia, and Senator Lodge and Congressman Longworth that they are almost willing to say that Mr. Roosevelt will issue a statement along the line of his conversation with the West Virginia governor—that is that while he is not a candidate he would not under certain circumstances refuse the nomination should it be offered him at the Chicago convention.

The Democratic steel bill probably will pass the house tomorrow. Majority leaders claim to have assurance that it will have the support of the Republican progressive in the senate. Informal conferences seem to have developed that the Democratic progressive Republican coalition, which sent the tariff revisions of the special session to President Taft for his veto, will again prevail.

The progressive Democratic League of Columbus, Ohio, has issued a statement declaring that Governor Harmon is out of harmony and calls upon Democrats to nominate a progressive for President.

The army appropriation bill, carrying $58,510,000 and the agriculture bill, $15,836,974, have been reported to the House. The pension bill, carrying about $150,000,000 will be reported.

House Democrats will caucus tonight to determine if an economy program shall be adhered to in the present Congress. The fight against the proposed $16,000,000 public building bill is expected to be the chief feature. Chairman Fitzgerald of the appropriations committee, Democratic Leader Underwood and others hope to defeat the plan in the caucus.

Clara Barton who has been ill of nervous exhaustion since November is much improved and physicians today declared she would soon be out.

Six Republican governors are enrolled on a self appointed committee to advocate the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt for the presidency, according to Gov. Stubbs of Kansas.

WILL OPEN CANNING FACTORY

Tomatoes and Beans Will be Canned in Sanford

Harry Ward will open his canning factory this season during the tomato season and expects to put up hundreds of cans of tomatoes and beans.

Mr. Ward expects to have twenty acres in tomatoes on his farm and will run all the surplus from other farmers.

Two years ago Mr. Ward operated his factory and put up considerable in the tomato and bean and other lines but could not dispose of it to the wholesale or retail growers. This season he will sell the entire output direct to the consumer and already has orders enough to keep the factory running full time during the season.

Killed By Printing Press

St. Augustine, Jan. 28.—A sad and deplorable accident occurred at the Record plant late Friday evening, which resulted in the instant death of Mr. Ernest Hubbard, one of the Record company's valued employees, engaged as night foreman.

While working at one of the large presses in the press room shortly before 11 o'clock Friday evening, Mr. Hubbard found need of an oil can which was under the press. Mr. Hubbard reached under the press for the can, but it was not in exactly the spot expected, and the second consumed in locating it was fatal.

The bed of the press making its trips back and forth struck Mr. Hubbard in the head a crushing blow, and inflicted a wound from which the unfortunate man died almost instantly. The skull being crushed.

His fellow workmen rushed instantly to his assistance and pulled him from his fatal position, partially under the press, and everything possible was done for the man, but all efforts were in vain, and he died within a few minutes after the accident occurred.

Vegetables Will Be High

The cold has wiped out the vegetables of Louisiana, Texas, and some parts of Southern California, and in consequence Florida vegetables will command high prices. The wet weather of Florida has injured the celery crop to some extent, but first shipments show good quality, selling at $2. Cauliflower is in the aristocratic class and bringing growers good returns.—Plant City Courier.

The Sanford Music Club will hold their regular meeting at Comfort Cottage, Saturday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. Mrs. D. L. Thrasher, leader.

FOR CHARITY'S SAKE

Sanford Will Hold A Grand Two Days' Fete

OUR HORSE SHOW AND FIELD DAY

Preparations Being Made For Many Fine Events—Athletics, Automobile Parade, Etc.

Come to Sanford on February 13 and 14th. There will not be a Madison Garden event this season, but the show will be an annual event each year and get better all the time.

Every committee is busy with preparations for taking care of each detail and they will fit into a complete machine when the day breaks.

W. T. Ejelds, that veteran who has arranged state fairs horse shows and every other event of like nature in many other states has charge of the horse show and the booths and field certainly is working wonders. He has a valuable corps of assistants, especially among the ladies, and the merchants are taking an active part in the celebration and giving their time and money to make it a grand success.

The entry blanks have been sent out and a generous response from the lovers of horsemanship in the county has been the result.

The latest idea is a grand automobile parade, and the Sanford people who take part in the Orlando event will keep their decorations intact and exhibit at Sanford's big fete.

The proceeds will go to sweet charity in the shape of the Sanford Hospital a most worthy cause and every cent expended will return a hundredfold to the donors.

Let everybody get out and hustle and make February 13th and 14th two red letter days in Sanford's history.

TO ADVERTISE FLORIDA

G. T. Spear of Lakeland Wants Photographs for Lantern Slides

G. T. Spear, of Lakeland, who has had much experience in the motion picture business, has sold his Star Theatre in that city and proposes to make a tour of the Northern and Eastern States, giving illustrated lectures about Florida. Mr. Spear is now collecting a series of typical views of interesting points in the state, which he will transfer to hand-colored slides and use in a thirty-minute lecture, to be delivered in some prominent place in each city and town he visits. He is depending upon the Boards of Trade of Florida towns to furnish him with photographs from these slides are to be made. He desires that these bodies send him photographs or postcard views, not more than ten from each town, and he will use them in his lecture, charging the nominal fee of $1 per view per month to cover the expense of making and exhibiting the slides. He especially desires views from Tampa, Jacksonville, Sanford, Orlando, Kissimmee, DeLand, Auburndale, Lakeland, Plant City, St. Petersburg, Ocala, Gainesville, Bartow, Arcadia, Fort Myers, Miami, Palm Beach and Sarasota.

Remittances may be made to the First National Bank of Lakeland, to be turned over to Mr. Spear when he exhibits proof of the slides. The advantage of Mr. Spear's plan is that it will bring views and advertisements of Florida directly before the people of sections whence the army of Florida homeseekers is being recruited. The views will show Florida as it is and the result cannot be other than to stimulate the interest in this state in every section visited.—Tampa Tribune.

Weather Report

Don't worry. Weather report says clouds tonight. Cooler and probably frost in north portion Wednesday. Fair and colder in south portion. Sanford celery looking better and so are the oranges.

SHORT CELERY CROP

Hold for Good Prices is the Advice of Celery Expert

Don't guess, but know. After a most searching investigation of the celery condition all over the country, we find the following facts: The amount of celery in cold storage is so limited that it will have no bearing whatever on the market, the California celery crop is short, and the recent cold has damaged that crop so considerably, that a large amount of it is badly frozen and may never be shipped.

Considering all these conditions, we know that from Feb. 15th to June 1st Florida celery is the only celery obtainable during this period; the celery crop of the state is away short of a normal crop, and the yield this season will not average 500 crates to the acre, therefore the cost of producing celery this season is not less than $1.20 per crate. THESE ARE COLD FACTS.

After carefully analyzing these conditions, you will agree with me that you are justified in holding out for a price. I am not in favor of a prohibitive price, but the celery grower is entitled to every dollar that he can get. It requires hard and honest labor to successfully raise a crop of celery, to say nothing about the innumerable hardships to contend with.

"While the price of celery this season will be out of reach of the average consumer the crop is so short that it is doubtful whether we can supply the trade which demands fancy celery and is willing to pay for it."

Interesting Gathering

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Baptist church met last night at the home of Mrs. N. J. Perkins. A large number of members were present, also several winter visitors and an enthusiastic meeting was held. An interesting sketch of the Woman's Missionary Union held during the State Baptist Association at Ocala last week was given by Mrs. J. W. Wildman, who had been a delegate to the convention. Plans for more effective work were also devised and discussed and committees appointed, at the close of which dainty refreshments were served and a social half-hour enjoyed by all.

Notice of Meeting

The West Side Improvement Society will meet at the Robbins' Nest Hotel Thursday, Feb. 1st at 3 p. m. A full attendance is desired, as there will be important business to bring before the society.

The General News of The Land of Flowers.

CULLED FROM THE STATE PRESS

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain.

W. S. Miller, a white man, who was placed in the jail in Palatka for safe keeping was found in his cell dead a few days ago. He had hanged himself with two handkerchiefs and a blanket.

The capitol grounds in Tallahassee are to be beautified, remodeled and improved. The necessary appropriation was made by the 1911 Legislature and landscape gardeners are at work on plans which will be submitted in a few days. As soon as the specifications are ready this work will begin.

When Hon. Henry M. Flagler reached Key West on the first train over the extension of the Florida East Coast Railroad and stepped from the car he was led up a path strewn with American Beauty roses to a grandstand, whereon one thousand children stood and sang national airs. As Mrs. Flagler passed each of the children showered him with a bouquet of American Beauty roses. This was a pretty honor to one who has done so much for Florida.

Realizing that one of the best advertisements a place can have is a good street lighting, plans are being made for a "white way" in Tampa. The electric light company and the gas company will compete for the installation of a new set of lights on Franklin street, to start from the Mallory docks and continue many blocks, and the competition will take the form of exhibits, to be made at court house square.

A park commission it is to be made up of representative citizens, not members of council, and great things are expected of it. In too many of the towns and cities little attention is given to making the public squares and grounds attractive.

The first train over the Ocala Northern ran to Palatka last Friday and a grand celebration was held in the Gem City in honor of the occasion.

Royal Arch Masons

At a regular convocation of Monroe Chapter No. 15 R. A. M., held on January 24th, 1912, the following officers were elected to serve for the year 1912:

- O. W. King, Excellent High Priest
- H. E. Tolar, King
- J. E. Terwilliger, Scribe
- T. J. Miller, Treasurer
- W. E. Housholder, Secretary

At the conclusion of the business of the Chapter all companions present served with refreshments and departed with pleasant anticipations of the work laid out for the Chapter during the present year.

There will be a special convocation of this Chapter on Wednesday evening, Jan. 31st, at 7 o'clock, at which meeting the degree of Mark Master will be conferred upon all entitled to receive same. Visiting companions cordially invited. Sanford Lodge, No. 62, F. & A. M.—A regular communication of Sanford Lodge No. 62 will be held at Masonic Hall, over Imperial Theatre on Thursday evening, Feb. 1st, 1912, at 7:30. The degree of Entered Apprentice will be conferred and candidates for advancement will be examined. M. W. Lovell, Secretary.

Union Meeting Sunday Night

Three of the congregations of the city, Baptist, Presbyterian and Congregational, will unite in a union service next Sunday night. The occasion is the opening in Sanford of the Men and Religious Forward Movement. The state committee, whose headquarters are in Jacksonville, are sending here Rev. Samuel J. White and Mr. Malcomb Lockhart. These men will explain the aims and work of the movement and tell about the Eight Day Campaign of Florida that is to be conducted in Jacksonville Feb. 18-25.

The union service for Sanford will be held in the Baptist church next Sunday evening, Feb. 4th, beginning at 7 o'clock. All are most cordially invited to be present.

In a few days the Horse Show will take place and many visitors will be here to witness the events. Now is the time to clean up the premises and get everything in good shape. The vacant lots in the business portion are especially dirty just now and the merchants should see to it that all the boxes, barrels and other rubbish is cleaned out this week. A dirty city will not impress the visitors favorably and a small amount of work on the part of the people now will work wonders.

Some time ago there was considerable talk about the lake front improvement and a grand boulevard but lately the matter has dropped and the tendency has been to go to sleep on the job. Now whether the present administration is against this movement or not remains to be seen and we will await future developments but we don't want to wait longer than fifty years to get results. This lake front for Sanford has been my hobby for the past twenty years and will be until I can arouse the people to the importance of this great step.

Sanford has the location for the best city in Florida and the only reason there are not twenty thousand people in our midst today is the general apathy of the Every other lake front improvements acquiring river front property where they are situated for the movement and Sanford could at least make a move to take over this property now even if the improvements had to wait Municipal ownership of docks and rivers front privileges is the finest proposition in the catalogue today and the time is coming when the people of Sanford will be unable to buy this property at any price and it will be too late. If the city is bottled up at the port of entry there is nothing doing for the the city.

Do you want to know why Sanford will never be a tourist town? You need a tourist hotel, a yacht club or country club and a bunch of live wires to get the people in here. Some time ago I pointed out the need of a good tourist hotel and a country club and some of my whom friends immediately climbed on the editor of the Herald and said that I was knocking the town and the Sanford House.

Well, that's just what I am going to do. I will knock the town and keep right on with the avial chorus because we have no large tourist hotel and we need one, worse than any city in the United States.

I am not going to say one word against the Sanford House or any other commercial hotel in Sanford.

I don't need to! Like the advertisement in the newspaper states the goods speak for themselves and it is unnecessary for me to mention any names.

I say that Sanford must have a good first class tourist hotel before you ever expect to get good firstclass tourists here. If you want the tin can brand—well, you don't need any improvements.

Regardless of who owns the Sanford House, I believe they will be willing to listen to a proposition for I don't believe any of them are stuck on the present one and desire to hold the property if the right man wishes to purchase.

I talk up the question of buying the Sanford House because that is the only real hotel site available now. The lake front could be bulk headed, the grounds beautified and the hotel built on the lake shore and I am safe in saying that no finer location exists in the state today for a fine tourist hotel than the lake front opposite the present Sanford House. The old structure could be torn down and the whole block used for business houses. The proposition is a good one and I hope this article will catch the eye of some party who is anxious to build a hotel in Florida where the trade would be brisk winter and summer.

I say this is all fairness to the present owners and managers. I admit that they are doing the best they can with the Clean up for the Horse Show events.

All ready for the Orange County Fair.

Has the lake front boulevard died an unnatural death?

Who is the man who will start a country club for Sanford?

Sanford people should attend the fair this week and see the Sanford booth. It will make you feel proud of your home city.

Heard a man say yesterday that nobody the name of whose calling began with the letter "P" was worth a darn. To prove his contention he enumerated printers, painters, plasterers and preachers. What say you all gentlemen?

New York man sued his wife for divorce last week because she had a wooden leg but the judge refused to grant on the grounds that you had to take chances when you married. Now it is up to the men to find out just what the judge meant by the decision.

Seldom do poets get their just deserts, but we take pleasure in chronicling one instance, at least, when a certain one did. It was a Missouri man who had a hog killed by a train. In attempting to collect for the hog he wrote "Dear Sir My razor back stalled down your track a week ago today. Our twenty-nine came down the line and snuffed his life away. You can't blame me, the hog was slipped through a cattle gate, so kindly pen a check for ten, the debt is liquidated." He received the following reply "Old twenty-nine came down the line and killed your hog, we know, but razor backs on railroad tracks quite often meet with woe. Therefore, my friend, we cannot send the check for which you pine. Just plant the dead, place o'er his head, Here lies a foolish swine."—Pensacola Journal.

A BRIGHT PROSPECT

Several very good celeries are reported on lettuce this week and the celery outlook was never better. All the situation needs is to be held steady and the world is ours. There was never a better prospect for celery and the crops will be short. The grower should find out how much his crop will cost him and sell it for as high as possible but be sure to get your profit from the crop. With a judicious handling of the celery crop there should be no such word as fail and now or never is the time to make a killing.

Your crop is shorter this season and has cost you extra money for fertilizer and it is up to you, Mr. Grower, to get the money.

It is coming to you!

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

One of the beauties of private ownership of public utilities is shown in a news item in the Gainesville Sun, which recites that Gainesville was left in total darkness one night recently because of some trifling dispute between the city and the company that furnishes lights. The amount in dispute was considerably less than $10, but for this trifling sum the company having the people in their power, shut off the current and subjected the citizens to the inconvenience of being left in total darkness. Such a condition cannot arise in Lakeland, where the people own their own light and water plant and are not at the mercy of a private corporation, that, through petulance or misunderstanding, can deprive the city of these necessities.—Lakeland Telegram.

BUILDING MOTOR RAILROADS

The News has long contended that a motor railway from the St. Johns to Daytona, via DeLand, would be a paying investment. In the past, several companies have undertaken to build a trolley line over this route—and the promoters have found themselves "up against the real thing" when an effort was made to interest moneyed people in the project. A trolley line, while affording a quicker and better service, would be too expensive to earn dividends for perhaps many years to come, and people who have line would doubtless pay from the start.—DeLand News.

If the capitalists of DeLand will join hands with the Sanford Traction Co. of this city this motor railway to the beach can be built and both cities receive the benefit.

How about it, Bro. Codrington?

OUR CELERY CROP

Within a week celery will begin to move in large quantities from the Manatee and Sanford districts, and scattered localities. The output will run over 1000 cars. The price will be strong throughout the season if no one market becomes glutted. The supply of celery in cold storage is small, the California and gulf state crops have been frosted, and the Florida crop has had too much water. These conditions cannot be disputed and the growers will exercise much care in distribution of their product so that good prices will be maintained.

An Old Map

M. W. Lovell, the City Clerk in raking over some old papers in his office the other day discovered an old map of Sanford made in 1874. The map is an interesting study to the people of this day and date. At the city dock is noted a steam ferry to Enterprise and it seemed to pay in the early days although no one is enterprising enough to start one now.

There were nine steamers daily between Jacksonville and Sanford and no railroad south of here.

Sanford was a small point on the map, not any larger than Melonville or Ft. Reade.

Many beautiful old homes and magnificent orange groves are marked on the map and the back country seemed to be in a most flourishing condition.

Mr. Lovell will keep the map as an interesting relic of an old long since.

Mabel Paige at Imperial

Mabel Paige and company will be at the Imperial Theatre next Friday and Saturday night and will present two good plays. This company needs no introduction to Sanford people and they are assured of full houses at both performances. Remember the dates, Friday and Saturday nights February 2 and 3rd.

All of the old favorites will be here and the opening piece of Brown's in Lower is guaranteed to make you forget your troubles.

Wekwa in Commission

The good ship Wekwa is in commission again and Capt. Haines, one of the most careful pilots on the river is in command. The boat has been thoroughly overhauled and will take pleasure parties on the lake for the present.

As soon as some sunken logs can be taken out of the Wekwa river the regular trips to the springs will be resumed which will be welcome news to the people of Sanford. The trip from Sanford to Wekwa Springs is one of the finest in Florida and is especially recommended to the tourists.

Celery Bleaching Paper

Our stock of resin sized bleaching paper has arrived. This is the best quality, weight 10 lbs to 500 square feet, price $12.50 per ton cash. This comes in rolls about 330 feet long and the paper is 10 inches wide. The paper is sold by weight. Only a limited supply left.

THE UTILIZATION OF WASTE

products to the very fullest extent is, of course, the aim of every industrialist, and the Wood Waste Distilleries Co., Wheeling, West Virginia, U. S. A., certainly makes this possible in the case of the waste material of wood working establishments. By means of their distilling apparatus, ranging from a capacity of 5 to 500 gals., the industrial alcohol and turpentine contained in sawdust are effectively extracted, while the resultant fiber is ready for paper manufacturers. This still will actually pay for itself over and over again every month, and Colonial and foreign fruit canning companies, chemical works, saw mills, varnish makers, oil refineries, sugar refineries, etc., cannot fail to find it a profitable acquisition.—R. G. Dun's International Review

ANNOUNCEMENT OF SAMUEL J. HILBURN

Candidate for Congress Second District of Florida.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF THE SECOND CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT OF FLORIDA:

It is usual and proper for the candidates seeking public office to formally make known their intentions in this regard. Conforming to this custom I take this method of letting you know that I am a candidate for Representative in Congress from the Second Congressional District of Florida. In this announcement I shall not take up all the public questions that will probably become issues in the approaching campaign; here I shall briefly express myself on only a few public questions, but later, on the stump and through the press, I shall make known and discuss my position on all important questions upon which the people may desire an expression. I adhere to the faith that the people are the rightful directors of the government. I do not believe that any well chosen set of representatives of the people have the right to dictate who shall be the arbiters of public affairs. Our government was organized by men who cared first for the people. They were the truest representatives of the people. The declaration made by them under stress of necessity and oppression have withstood the test of generations. They were the fathers of the Republic.

It is my earnest desire to see Florida represented in this nation's great legislative body by men who will remain true to the principles of the people's government.

It is my earnest desire to see Florida represented in this nation's great legislative body by men who will remain true to the principles of the people's government.

progressive to secure for the people their just rights. While the trusts and interests are protected by the high protective tariff and other national laws, no doubt their representatives would like for the lawmakers to be "EXTREMELY CONSERVATIVE" and "stand pat," but we must at least be progressive until we secure for the great masses of the people their just rights.

Unjust Discrimination in Freight Rates on Florida Products.
The transportation companies charge much more for the transportation of Florida products to Northern markets than they charge for the same class of products from the Northern markets to Florida.

This discrimination against Florida products is very hurtful to the farmers, fruit growers and truckers of Florida and can not be justified by the most adroit statesmen of the nation.

Congress can and should prevent this unjust discrimination. If elected I shall do all in my power to prevent it.

Interstate Commerce Commission.
I believe the Interstate Commerce Commission should be maintained and granted powers sufficient to make it effective; that it should have power to make physical valuations of railroad property to the end that just and reasonable rates for the transportation of passengers and freight may be made and that reliable information may be obtained by the purchasers of railroad stocks and bonds.

Economy.
One of the great principles of our great Democratic party is ECONOMY. In which I am a firm believer. When we look upon the extravagance of the Republican party and some Democrats who have a habit of adhering to Republican policies, we are impressed with the necessity of putting this principle into practice.

Federal Penalties.
I call attention to the Federal pension bill passed by the house of representatives of the United States Congress, increasing Federal pensions approximately SEVENTY MILLION dollars annually. I believe in liberal pensions, but I do not believe in this enormous and unprecedented increase of Federal pensions. If it becomes a law, we can not hope for a proper development of our rivers and harbors during its existence.

Rivers and Harbors.
Water facilities the cheapest means of transportation and the national government having the control of navigable waters should improve them to their fullest capacity. One of Florida's greatest assets is her navigable streams and waters, capable of being made navigable by the national government at comparatively small expense.

I cannot here point out the many necessities for river and harbor improvement in Florida, but I commit myself to every such feasible project and pledge to the people faithful and industrious efforts in this behalf.

National Highways.
I cannot think of anything that Florida needs more than good roads. Nothing would equal them in a development of the state.

Our government could not appropriate its funds to a better cause. The states need assistance and encouragement in road building. If elected, I shall do all in my power to have the United States government establish and maintain a system of national highways or to contribute to the construction and maintenance of public highways.

Florida Ship Canal.
It is not a new proposition. It is almost as old as the state. The fact is, it will always be a question of great importance unless congress takes action and cuts the canal across the state. The fact that it is an old question that will not "down" bears evidence of the merit of the proposition. The adverse report of the engineers can not "down" the project.

Several years ago Senator Fletcher advanced an excellent idea to the people and I approve it fully. The Panama canal will soon be completed in place of making junk of the Great dredges and other machinery used in the construction of this canal, transfer it to Florida and use it in cutting this canal across Florida.

The Tariff.
The Democratic party is pledged to a reduction of the tariff and this pledge can not be fulfilled too soon. Articles entering into competition with trust-controlled products should be placed upon the free list. Material reductions should be made as soon as possible in the tariff upon the necessities of life, especially upon articles competing with such American manufactures as are sold abroad more cheaply than at home. Raise the tariff on luxuries and lower it on the necessities of life and thus lessen the cost of living among the masses of our people.

The Tariff on Certain Products, Competing With Florida Products.
Egyptian or long staple cotton, pineapples, oranges are luxuries. The long staple cotton takes the place of silk and enters into a costly class of goods that are used principally by the wealthy, mostly by way of adornment. Pineapples and oranges are not such a class of food products as to be classed as the necessities of life. The Democratic party stands for a tariff for revenue, and there is no good reason why a Democrat can not consistently support a law placing a tariff on Egyptian or long staple cotton, pineapples and oranges imported from foreign countries competing with the Florida products of the same class.

I favor such a tariff, and, if elected, shall labor to that end.
Very truly yours,
SAMUEL J. HILBURN.

DOOLEY ON F. O. B.

(Florida Grower, Nov. 23, 1911)

"Why don't ye jine th' Exchange?" said Mr. Dooley to his friend Hennessey, one day as they met at the post-office. "Th' Exchange wix a gud thing fer the likes of ye. I raymlimber th' tolme that Mrs. Hennessey wuz goin' roun' dressed in burlap an' now she's warin' cochin china silks, an' I notice the girl's in warin' shoes. Th' Exchange made yure oranges worth three tolmes ez much as ye used to pay ye fer thim an' yet ye don't jine. Ye say that ye wish th' Exchange all the luck, an ye wouldn't loike to see thim bust, but of all the lads in the frute business wuz like ye, they'd be no Exchange, an' ye'd be back on the 25 cent a box basis, and burlap fer Mrs. Hennessey."

"I'll till ye a saycret," said Mr. Hennessey. "All me citrus frute oranges is folne brights, an' ef I go into th' Exchange I'll have to pule me frute wid thim fellers that think nawthin' ef pickin' there frute awf th' three wid clubs, an' thet heve the whitedy an' the bluefly an' the greenfly, scab, scale, rust, rheumatism, an' colery morbus. I don't want to mix my frute wid there frute, and there's thet Jew Potasher that I wudn't put me frute wid ef his wuz warin' dimenta."

"Is that so?" said Mr. Dooley. "Dis ye ever stop to think that thet frute all goes into the wan-grade an' thet of Potasher's frute ain't ez gud ez yures that it don't go wid yures? You didn't. Well, th' so, an' yure bright frute goes wid Potasher's bright frute, an' ef ye have more of the best kind of frute, ye get more of the price, fer ye get payed by the box fer the kind of frute ye took to the packin' house."

Well, said Mr. Hennessey, "may be yure rite, maybe I'll come in next year. I'll see how th' exchange comes out this year wid all there advertisin' an' boostin' by the Florida Grower. I think maybe fer the rest of me frute I won't thrust Skinnum to sell it. I'll let him pack et and sell meself f o b, whatever the heid that means. What do it mean, anyway?"

"F O B has puzzled mny a lad before ye," said Mr. Dooley. "F O B means free on board, an' many a time it meant that fer the lads an' th' other lads free on board to thim an' mnythin' comin' to ye. Ye see, th' like this. A lad that has credit wid the tillgrift company wuz ye an' he says, 'I'll give ye $4 fer yer citrus frute oranges. Shure it would be all the same ef he offered ye th' dollars, but et mite make ye suspicious. Four dollars, says he in hees tillgrift, inspection aloud. You think the price is gud. Ye git his number in Brad's street an' the number looks gud to ye and ye ship him the frute. First thing ye no ye git another tillgrift sayin' that the frute ain't ez represented. Th' too small of th' too large, th' 40 per cent rotten an' full of blow holes, says the lad at the other ind. I offer ye a dollar sixty fer it. Thet's F. O. B. fer ye. I want had a friend he the name of Brannigan. Brannigan raises citrus frute oranges et a place called Zolfo one mornin' in the fall a lad comes to him wid a tillgrift in hees han' an' he says, 'Eve here a wire from Takumlin & Co., says he et Kansas City, says he offerin' ye two twenty five F O B. Ye know what F O B means, don't ye. I do, says Brannigan. It means Fool Old Brannigan. But thet's better methods of doin' et, an' ye mite spild yure tolme thinkin' up some of thim."

"Thim ye don't think I'd bether sell me frute F. O. B.?" says Mr. Hennessey.

"I think," said Mr. Dooley, "I think yude bether stick to Skinnum." "Well, I think I'll try Trimmum fer wan car," said Mr. Hennessey. I tole him to pick wan car an' hees already got it out. Is hees credit gud?"

"You remind me of a friend I have in the old days up north," said Mr. Dooley. Hees name was Cassidy an' he run a barroom. Wan day Flarrity came in an' he has a drink an' he says to the bar tender, 'Charge et an' put et an the slate.' Cassidy was out in the other room, an' the bar tender hollers to him and he says, 'Is Flarrity good for a drink?' 'Has he had it?' says Cassidy. 'He has,' says the bar tender. 'He is,' says Cassidy."

POULTRY

IN recent issues we have given you a few figures comparing Florida with the very best Northern States in the production of corn and potatoes. It is not possible to compare Florida with all of the states on all kinds of crops, because certain crops in Florida pay so much money to farmers that they do not care to give attention to some other crops which are staple in the North. In looking over the statistics on any crop that is grown both in Florida and the Northern States, we find that Florida has a decided advantage.

Owing to our wonderful climate, we have advantages along other lines—in the raising of stock, for instance. It is not necessary to protect stock from the weather, and consequently all kinds of stock run at large the year 'round and require no attention and but little feed. This is one of the most inviting fields for the cattle business in the country. We may have more to say on this subject later on.

Just now we call your attention to the raising of Poultry.

Poultry raising as an industry has made wonderful strides forward in the past few years, yet the demand for poultry products is increasing much more rapidly than the supply, and prices are advancing slightly each year. This fact is due to several reasons. Almost everybody enjoys eating poultry products. The general high cost of living along other lines undoubtedly adds to the consumption of poultry products and tends to increase prices. Still another, and we think a greater reason than any other, is due to the rapid increase of population in our cities and the decrease in population of our country districts. The census of 1910 reveals some startling facts. The State of Illinois, for instance, lost 15,000 population in the rural districts in the past ten years, while the state as a whole, including the cities, gained over 800,000. What is true of Illinois is true of practically every other state in the union. As people flock to the cities they, of course, cease to be producers, but still continue to be consumers. That this condition of affairs will continue for years to come is a practically settled fact.

For one of limited means we do not know of any field so inviting as poultry raising, and certainly if one is going into the poultry business, no place in the world offers the advantages today that Florida does.

In the Year Book of the Department of Agriculture of the United States for 1910, pages 643 and 644, are two tables giving prices in each state of eggs per dozen and chickens per hundred pounds for every month during the past two years. We have selected six representative states out of this list and figured the average price for two years on both eggs and chickens. They are as follows:

STATE	EGGS PER DOZ.	CHICKENS PER 100 LBS.
South Dakota	$ .203	$ 9.04
Illinois	.216	11.26
Indiana	.220	11.48
Iowa	.203	10.20
Missouri	.194	10.80
Kansas	.195	10.37
Average for the six states	.203	10.37

Now compare Florida from the same table. Eggs 24c and chickens $13.34. This will show you that the price of eggs in Florida during the past two years has averaged 3½c higher than the six states above mentioned, and that the price of chickens has averaged $2.97 per 100 pounds higher than in the six states above. This difference of itself should be an attractive margin of profit.

In the vicinity of Sanford but few people pay any attention to poultry, probably because they are engaged in truck growing, from which they make enormous returns, and consequently do not care to fool with chickens.

Being near the great resorts of the country, and having such excellent transportation by both water and rail, the demand here is much greater than in other parts of the state and the prices at Sanford are consequently considerably above the average given.

We do not know of a better place or one more adapted to poultry raising than our Volusia Farms. This land is level, excellent quality of soil, well drained, has splendid transportation facilities by both water and rail and CAN BE BOUGHT AT FROM $30 TO $50 PER ACRE, depending upon location.

One of the finest poultry farms in this part of the state is located at Enterprise, only a short distance from our Volusia Farms. The owner of this farm, Mr. Throop, has a large number of hens, and in an article written for The Sanford Herald of recent date, this gentleman states that his hens average to pay him $2.00 per head each year above all expenses.

Mr. Throop buys all his feed and does not attempt to grow any of it, as his farm is located on a few town lots.

It is so easy to grow anything or everything in Florida that we should certainly advise one who intended trying the poultry business to buy sufficient land to grow all his own feed, especially so when our Volusia Farms can be bought at the present low price. There is no question about an advance in value later on, and besides being able to raise feed for one's poultry, one would get the benefit of the advance in value of the land itself.

Let us show you over this splendid tract of land. No matter what you want land for in Florida, you will be pleased with our Volusia Farms. Sold on easy terms with small payments.

One of the most beautiful and delightful social events of the season was the lovely card party given by Miss Mabel Hand Friday evening complimentary to Miss Leila Michael of Stroussburg, Pa., the charming guest of Mrs. H. R. Stevens.

The rooms of the handsome home were artistically decorated with green vines, interspersed with pink flowers and wide streamers of pink, extending from the chandeliers in the ceilings to the corners of the rooms. On the newel posts of the wide stairway, facing the entrance of the reception hall an arch was arranged with a similar arch at the first landing, surmounting only a few steps. The top and sides of these arches were connected by interwoven squares of pink paper ribbon. The arches were covered by garlands of glistening green vines and pink flowers, the whole presenting a very effective effect. Pink and green was the color motif. In a large bay window to the right of the reception hall, festooned also, from ceiling to floor with green vines and pink flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Hand, Miss Mabel Hand and Miss Michael stood to receive their guests.

GARDEN CITY OF GERMANY

Description of Hellerau, the Ideal Town Recently Built on the Outskirts of Dresden.

Just on the outskirts of Dresden there has sprung into existence during the last two years a garden city, the first of its kind in Germany. Berlin has made attempts in this direction, but they were more as a form of land speculation.

Hellerau is in a healthy location, two miles distant and about 200 feet higher than Dresden. The wooden parts are preserved as much as possible. The 315 acres are divided into one section for cottages, the other for villas. The streets are already laid out and all are to be provided with gas and water connections and with drains. Arrangements will also be made for a supply of electricity.

The cottage section is built by the Hellerau Building society and the houses are rented to members only. Membership is secured by taking a share equal to $47.60 and the liability of the members ends there. Interest up to 4 per cent is paid on these shares and any further profits are divided among the community. Tenure is fixed and the tenant may leave at a year's notice.

Cottages are built to rent at $82 to $150 annually. Each cottage has a garden, a large cellar, separate scullery with built-in boiler, pantry, water closet on the ground floor, easily accessible attic, gas for cooking, electric light and bells, water connection, and if needed accommodation for domestic animals. The smallest cottage consists of four rooms, kitchen and living room on the ground floor and two bedrooms on the upper floor, large enough for a family with two or three children. During last year 150 of these cottages were built and are now occupied. For 1911 an additional 150 are already planned.

In the villa quarter residences are to be had at a rent of $200 to $500 and over, with steam heat, warm water to the bedrooms and other conveniences. Construction is undertaken by the Garden City company according to the wishes of the intending tenant. The house and grounds are then let at a rent proportionate to the cost of building and the value of the land (5 1/2 per cent of the former and 6 per cent of the latter). The land is valued at 12.2 cents per square foot (in the cottage quarter at 9.3 cents per square foot). The tenant must provide four-tenths of the cost of building and 4 per cent interest is paid on this sum.

An artistic uniformity of building is guaranteed by a building commission, the sanction of which is required for all plans. Electric light is supplied from the power station of the German Institute of Technical Arts at a cost of 2.5 cents per kilowatt hour; gas costs 45.4 cents per 1,000 and water 30.8 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

Preparatory schools are provided for the younger children; there is an Institute of Technical Arts, and a small nursery which undertakes work in the gardens of new houses and a small school of gardening could easily be attached to this. There is an electric car service from the city out to Hellerau, the run taking about 20

WHAT LOCOMOTIVES EARN

Expert With an Appetite for Mathematics Produces Some Interesting Figures.

An engineering expert with a fine appetite for mathematics has been figuring out for the Railway and Engineering Review just how much railroad locomotives are worth per day to the railroads owning them. He took into consideration the locomotive's earning capacity, making all due allowance for financial loss caused by detention in the repair shop, the increased cost of fuel, water and men to run the locomotive.

The average daily earnings of locomotives on the Pennsylvania railroad was figured out at $131.84, which is slightly above the average for all the railroads of the country. In the east the average is $124.84; and on the western roads $130.84 per day. The locomotives of the Central of New Jersey head the list in the east, with an average of $147.06 earned by each locomotive per day, and the D. L. & W. comes next with $140.83. In the west the Santa Fe locomotives lead with $149.53 earned per day.

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain.

The case of the State versus Mollie Nobles, tried for the murder of her husband last March, was settled late Saturday afternoon at Milton when the jury sitting on the case returned a verdict of not guilty. The case proved one of the most interesting in the present session of the Circuit Court.

A little child was burned to death last week in Tampa, a young lady of Daytona succumbed to severe burns Saturday and Tuesday Mrs. Wiggins, of Fort Myers, was burned so terribly that death relieved her sufferings at an early hour Wednesday.

The vegetable growers of Galloway in Polk county have formed an association for the purpose of packing and marketing their products.

The folks down Fort Myers way are regaling themselves with green peas. The Press says that they will be ready for shipment in a few days.

Smart B. Harris, city ticket agent of the Seaboard Air Line in Ocala was arrested last night, charged with shortage in his accounts. The warrant was sworn out by W. A. McCran, an auditor of the road, who has been here several days going over Harris' accounts. The shortage is said to amount to several hundred dollars. Harris was placed in jail, but made bond of $1,000 today.

United States Judge James W. Locke has just rounded out forty years of continuous service as a Federal jurist in this state.

Palatka is to have a new industry which no doubt will prove to be a great thing for the town. The enterprise will be known as the Southern Portable House Company.

Many new buildings are being erected at fast and the influx of new settlers is said to be greater than usual.

After preaching and teaching schools in West Florida for over a quarter of a century and giving away most of his income in building school houses and churches, Rev. P. G. Woodruff of Crestview has been notified that he has been left a fortune by an uncle who died recently in Colorado.

John A. Newstead, contractor and builder, formerly of Chicago, now of Jacksonville, has secured the contract of building the several canning plants for the Florida Consolidated Canning Company, his bid being accepted over that of several others. These buildings will be mill constructed with concrete floors, corrugated iron sides and roofing, outside boiler rooms, receiving sheds and platforms. All the lumber and iron is cut, measured and matched when loaded on cars at Jacksonville to be shipped to the locations where plants are being built, and the buildings can then be set up like putting together a chair, without any loss of time.

Making the race for the house of representatives from the Second Florida Congressional district, S. J. Hilburn of Palatka has accepted Frank Clark's challenge and will meet the present congressman in joint debate to discuss the issues of the campaign whenever and wherever Mr. Clark designates.

Horse Show Will Be Great

The Field Day and Horse Show in Sanford on February 13th and 14th promises to be one of the great events of the winter season. The various committees report progress and many new entries are being filed every day.

The programs will be printed next week and distributed and will prove a drawing card for the affair.

In connection with the various events the booths will be attractive at the grounds and the ladies who intend to provide over this part of the show are bending every energy to make a grand carnival of show grounds.

Now let every lover of Sanford pull for these two great days and the hospital will be assured for our city.

Mabel Paige and her company of artists will delight the people of Sanford at the Imperial tonight and tomorrow night.

COMMISSIONER FALLS DEAD

Was Speaking At Elks' Club When The Summons Came

Commissioner of Agriculture McLin dropped dead in the Orlando Elks' Club at eleven o'clock Tuesday night.

Mr. McLin was making an address, and had been speaking five minutes, when he suddenly fell forward prone on his face. Dr. Christ was sitting within ten feet of him when he fell and rushed to his aid.

The hall at the time was crowded with Elks, gathered there for an annual picnic, the event being the meeting of the supreme court of the local lodge. Mr. McLin was in Orlando amongst a number of prominent politicians of the state. In attendance at the fair. In the hall Tuesday night, seated around the commissioner were Claude L'Engle, candidate for Congress, Col. George C. Martin, also a Congressional candidate, Hudson Burr, Chairman of the Railroad Commission of the State, and a number of prominent local men including Judge Warlow, Senator Massey, John C. Jones and others. Moses Overstreet was chairman of the meeting when Mr. McLin was called upon to speak. He followed Claude L'Engle. The Commissioner's speech was exceedingly happy. He spoke of the beauty of Orlando and congratulated the Elks upon their fine home.

When he had been speaking five minutes and the clock was on the eve of striking eleven—the solemn hour in Elks' parlors—it was noticed that he suddenly halted. Those seated around him as he stood in front of the court bench, saw his head fall forward, then his form collapsed and fell forward.

Instantly there was great commotion in the hall. Dr. Christ was first to reach his aide, but two other physicians, Dr. Edwards and McElroy, were also present and joined Dr. Christ in rendering aid to the stricken man. When the Commissioner was found to be dead, the body was removed to Undertaker Armstrong's undertaking parlors, and his family notified of the tragedy over the long distance telephone. The deceased was 62 years of age, and was born in Tennessee. He had been Commissioner of Agriculture in Florida for three terms, and was entering upon his twelfth year, and was a candidate for a fourth term. It was to him that the credit is due for transforming the Agricultural Department of the state into a useful and active adjunct of the local government, and that he no man stood higher in the estimation of the Florida people. It was universally said of him, even by those opposed to his policies, that he "lived to the line," which was a way of stating that with him honor and justice were ever the first considerations.

Fine Sanford Poultry

Sanford poultry carried off high honors at the county fair. C. H. Dungee on Barred Plymouth Rocks swept the boards and won first prize in every class. Harry Kent had the real thing in White Wyandottes.

Capt. Fatjo carried off blue ribbons on Rhode Island Reds and also on his pigeons and other fowls. W. J. Wilson won everything in the White Leghorn class.

J. A. Takach was winner again this year in the White Wyandotte class.

Sanford poultrymen made no mistake when they placed their fowls on exhibition at the county fair, as no better advertisement could have been given them. There are some fine chickens in the vicinity, although the business is yet in its infancy.

Mt. Dora Booming

Mt. Dora, that pretty little city that nestles among the lakes and hills of Lake county has proved a most desirable location for tourists and to stimulate building the Louisville Real Estate & Development Co., will put on a big Auction Sale of lots in Mt. Dora on Tuesday February 6th.

A big barbecue and music by the celebrated Sanford band will draw the crowd and the lots will sell themselves aided by the gentle of Col. Moore, the auctioneer.

Stockton Will Move

R. G. Stockton will begin in a short time to move his stock of groceries and meats from his old stand in the Garner-Woodruff Building to the storeroom now occupied by his bakery two doors east of the post-office.

Beginning next week he will follow the lead of the dry goods and clothing houses and put on a removal sale of everything in his large stock of groceries and meats at cost.

ORANGE COUNTY'S FAIR

The Great Show Draws crowds All The Week

AUTO PARADE WAS MAGNIFICENT

Displays Are Good, Races Are Good And The Fair Is A Great Success

Orange county again takes premium among the counties of Florida in the holding of one of the grandest fairs on record. There can never be a fair quite so good as Orange County Fair for, nowhere else can there be such a diversity of crops, such cattle, horses, dogs and chickens, such good school exhibits, such jams and jellies, such fancy work, such machinery and everything that goes to make a county fair a success.

Tuesday was opening day but Jupiter Playus though not invited came anyhow and everybody else left. The automobile parade was postponed until Wednesday and the other events were carried out, the opening speeches being made as usual.

The auto parade was the grandest pageant ever witnessed in Florida. More than one hundred cars were in line containing seven hundred participants. The winners were as follows:

First prize, Mr. James L. Giles. Second prize, Mrs. James Laughlin. Third prize, Mrs. Harry Beeman. Fourth, Mrs. Jennie Moody. The prizes ranged, $50, $25, $15, and $10. The winners of the special prizes:

E. M. F., Mr. Seth Woodruff Flinders, Mrs. H. A. Grant, Eudora, Mrs. E. Evans Mitchell, Mrs. Dr. Whitman Reo, Mrs. S. G. Dolive Ford, Mrs. T. P. Warlow Buck, Mr. Frank Smith of Altamonte Springs.

The following Sanford cars were in the parade and though not prize winners, the general opinion prevails that they should have been:

W. J. Thigpen, purple morning glories over star jessamine. Occupants of car were Mrs. W. D. Holden, Mrs. Forrest Lake, Mrs. H. P. Driver and Miss Laura Fish.

Mrs. Hester, white and yellow daisies, beautifully decorated car. Occupants, Miss Ellen Mahoney, Miss Nellie Evans, Mrs. D. H. Pellett and son and Mrs. Ernest Handle.

Miss Nell Whitner, green basket trimmed in pink chrysanthemums. Occupants, Messes. Mel, Alton, Lucy and Annie Whitner and Mabel Bowler.

Mrs. D. L. Thrasher, basket made of plaited lavender and yellow and decorated with yellow chrysanthemums over asparagus fern. Occupants, Mrs. Thrasher, Mrs. Puleston, Mrs. Newman and Mrs. Bell.

Sanford's handsomely decorated cars, assisted very largely in making the automobile parade a brilliant success. It was the generally expressed opinion of the Sanford visitors at the fair and auto parade that the beautiful Roman chariot was the most striking and original in design and execution. It was by far the handsomest car in the parade and should have had the second prize, with all due respect to the judges and their opinions.

Union services will be held at the Baptist Church next Sunday night, by the Baptist, Presbyterian and Congregational churches. Lloyd, General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and Mr. R. E. Stafford, an expert in men's work. These are not preachers, but laymen, and are recommended as fine speakers. A cordial invitation is extended to every one to be at the Baptist church that evening. Services begin at seven.

Root of Apsonia Conn., will occupy the Chancel of the Church of the Holy Cross, (Episcopal), Sunday morning, and will remain in Sanford for a month and will officiate at regular services during that time. ## THE IMPROVEMENT TRAIN

Will Be In Sanford Today Remaining For Three Hours

The Office of Public Roads of the U. S. Department of Agriculture is now cooperating with the Atlantic Coast Line in the operation of a road improvement train. The object of this project is to arouse interest on the subject of better roads, and to teach the farmers and local road officials, the fundamental principals of road construction and maintenance.

This train consists of four coaches as follows: Baggage, exhibit, lecture and private cars.

The baggage car contains a gasoline engine and dynamo, generating power for the operation of the mechanical models, and electric illustrated lectures.

The exhibit car contains models illustrating the proper methods of building earth, sand, gravel, macadam, brick and bituminous macadam roads, and reinforced concrete bridges and culverts. This car also contains miniature models of a crushing plant and steam roller in actual operation, and large photographs illustrating the advantages to be derived from improved roads.

The lecture car is provided with a stereopticon outfit and equipment for giving illustrated lectures at each place where the train stops. When the crowd cannot be accommodated in the car the lectures are given in moving picture theatres or other halls, provided necessary arrangements are made locally.

The officers' car is provided for the accommodation of the officials and assistants having charge of the train.

The road exhibits and equipment on this train are furnished by the Office of Public Roads of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, while the railroad equipment and transportation of the train are furnished by the Atlantic Coast Line.

Mr. H. C. Wells, superintendent of road construction, assisted by Mr. J. R. Shuler, represents the Office of Public Roads. These men deliver the lectures and demonstrate the exhibits. The train is also accompanied by Mr. Wilbur McCoy, Agricultural and Immigration Agent of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, and Mr. H. S. Fairbank, who represents the American Association for Highway Improvement.

The train will arrive in Sanford today at one o'clock.

The Wednesday Club

The club held their regular meeting at the residence of Mrs. S. O. Chase Wednesday afternoon. After the reading of the minutes the program for the afternoon was taken up.

Mrs. B. F. Whitner, Jr., entertained the club with the very interesting "Saga of Olaf the Holy," one of the most remarkable men who figured in Scandinavian history, and was as a king most popular and beloved.

"Miracles of King Olaf," a paper prepared by Mrs. Chase, but read for her by Mrs. B. F. Whitner, Jr., who also gave the "Saga of Magnus the Good." Miss Gertrude Speer prepared for the pleasure and instruction of the club as an aid to their Scandinavian studies "A Map Study of Ancient Norway," which was enjoyed very much by the club.

After the program the members had a short discussion as to how they should or could make Library Day memorable as one of the red letter days of the Wednesday Club. It was suggested that they have a book shower on that day for the benefit of the Library, and also that the Wednesday Club present the Library with a copy of the Youth's Companion. The president appointed Mrs. A. J. Key, Mrs. G. B. Waldron and Mrs. C. R. Walker a committee to arrange a program for Library Day in connection with the book shower.

The club is reminded that they are invited to make their club home with Mrs. J. N. Whitner for the month of February. The meeting next Wednesday will be held at the residence of Mrs. Whitner.

Further light was thrown on the use of the margin system in the dressed beef business in the packers' trial today. Herman Pitthof, the National Packing Company's margin clerk, testified that daily margin summaries played an important part in the purchase of cattle by the packers. With these margin summaries, the government declares, the packers are enabled to keep close check on the work of the buyers. Comparison of cost and profit on each lot of cattle purchased is made.

The Interstate Commerce Commission today began hearing the testimony incident to its inquiry into the rates, rules and practices of the express companies of this country. It is predicted by government officials that this investigation will result in a general reduction in express rates. The commission's experts have completed a report on the subject. The report includes a comprehensive statement as to the earnings of the various express companies, which seems to indicate that the returns are larger than is warranted by the amount of capital invested. The express companies will be called on to show why their rates should not be reduced.

The United States Machinery Company was denounced as an illegal conspiracy operating in restraint of trade and in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, in evidence given before the senate interstate commerce committee by Chas. H. Jones of Boston at this morning's session.

Men are divided into three classes. There are men who love their liquor, men who sell liquor and politicians who are on both sides of the question. Mrs. R. F. Irvin of Washington, Ga., made that statement to the house judiciary committee today, urging that a law forbidding interstate traffic in alcoholic liquors be enacted.

In defiance of the order of Mayor Henry T. Hunt, that the "hoboes" of the United States cannot assemble in Cincinnati for a four days' convention without being arrested and sent to the workhouse, James Howe of St. Louis, the "millionaire hobo," who is promoting the assembly of vagrants, declared today that the convention would begin today as scheduled and that a test would be made of the right of citizens to a peaceful assemblage.

Lieut. Gen. Sir Robert Baden-Powell, "hero of Mafeking," and founder of the Boy Scouts arrived in New York today from England via Panama and Jamaica.

Developments in the proposed conditional inquiries into the alleged "money trust," the "shipping combine" and other interests, have surrounded the fate of these investigations with uncertainty. Common report has it that the "money trust" probe would be halted until after the presidential election.
