HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Wednesday, October 20, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19) A successful day is in store for you. You'll gain the cooperation of coworkers through your pleasant manner.

Taurus (April 20-May 20) Lady Luck is on your side today. If you like to take a flyer on a long shot, this is the day to do it.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Helping others is second nature for you today. Even though you do it unselfishly, there could be some handsome rewards.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Working gives you pleasure and holds your interest today. In the evening you'll have a fine time with true friends.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Look for assistance from those in high places. You're held in great regard. Favors will be readily granted.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You have excellent foresight today. If you're on it, changes for the better can be brought about for you and your family.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Your mind is active today, but you're not that interested in being around others. Curl up with a good book.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 22) Cooperation is your forte today. Much can be gained by bringing about fruitful relationships.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You may be dealing for high stakes today, especially in career or work-related matters. It could be fortunate.

Tie Vote Keeps Apple Valley Site For Park

By ED PRICKETT Herald Staff Writer

The winds of protest blew through Seminole County Commission chambers Tuesday night as about 100 Apple Valley residents expressed disapproval of the commission's decision to uphold a previous vote to purchase a $255,000 park site near their Son's Seminole subdivision.

The winds stirred up emotions as homeowners pitted themselves against Democratic commissioners, and Republicans allied themselves against their Democratic counterparts.

And when the winds had died down, Apple Valley was stuck with a county park residents said they didn't want, and the county commission was deadlocked 2-2 on the controversial issue.

The deciding vote would have been cast by Commissioner Sid Vilhen Jr., but an absent Vilhen sent a letter to the meeting informing Panel Eyes Herndon As Ambulance Firm, Page 6A commissioners he didn't want to be a "villain" and locate a park where residents didn't want it so his vote was to build the park in Midway, a predominantly black neighborhood east of Sanford.

"A Vilhen special," Commission Chairman Mike Hattaway called wording in Vilhen's letter.

The letter, according to the chairman, said Vilhen was in accordance with a memorandum written by Commissioner John Kimbrough recommending Midway as the choice location for a park because residents wanted it.

Kimbrough said Vilhen in his "usual Phantom role" as county commissioner left out a lot of facts.

Then Commissioner Harry Kwiatkowski pounced on Kimbrough for the memorandum Kimbrough wrote advising commissioners to locate the park in Midway — if a South Seminole site cannot be found.

"The memo was tongue in cheek," Kwiatkowski chided.

TV Break Has Women Seeing Red

A television commercial for Communist Party presidential candidate Gus Hall has angered a group of Sanford women.

The women, neighbors on Sanford's eastside, are protesting to Channel 3, the station which broadcast the paid commercial, and to Congressman Richard Kelly.

A spokesman for the local affiliate of the American Broadcasting Corporation said that federal laws require both the network and the station to offer equal time to all candidates and that any complaints should be directed to Kelly.

"I'm furious," said Mrs. Marie Clem. "I can't see this being allowed when just a few years ago you could be arrested for saying anything about communism."

She said her voting-age child saw the advertisement, which was broadcast as a commercial break during "The $6-Million Man" Sunday night, and asked questions about what could happen to America under communism.

"I can't see letting children see kind of thing," Mrs. Clem said. "Kids don't know what they're seeing days and they might be influenced by this."

Neighbor Mary Jean Blouin said talk about the commercial was "all over the high school, so you see it did make an impact."

Mrs. Blouin — who recently returned from Italy, where the Communists made a strong showing in legislative elections — said she was "disgusted" by the commercials promoting a Communist government for the United States.

"They don't have a chance now..." Margie Mickley of WFTV's programming department said the station had received a few "kind of bizarre" calls complaining about the ad, which was sold by the network and not by Channel 9.

"I think most people understand the equal-time laws," she said. "If they didn't, we would have had calls flooding in."

But she speculated that perhaps some viewers were confused by the commercials. "As long as Carter and Ford are permitted to buy time, we have to offer it to everyone," she said. "We can't change that. ABC can't change it. And that's the way it is living here in the USA."

After Car Bombing Swofford Seeking Meeting With Askew

By DONNA ESTES & BOB LLOYD Herald Staff Writers

Several months ago perjury charges against Swofford stemming from a grand jury probe two years ago were dismissed.

Investigators said Swofford told them that the second time he layed the ignition on his car there was a puff of smoke and he jumped out of the car and raised the hood to find the device was fashioned from a piece of threaded pipe approximately six inches long and wired to the car's ignition.

Swofford said the bomb piece appeared to be copper and was wired to the car's coil, distributor and spark plugs.

"At this time we don't believe dynamite was involved," Hagood said. He said laboratory tests are expected to identify the explosive substance used in the bomb that caused little damage but a lot of smoke.

Swofford's auto is equipped with an inside hood latch but he said the hood can easily be opened from the outside.

Swofford said the car was parked in his driveway from dark Monday night until he attempted to start it at about 8 Tuesday morning. He had his grandson, Garland Huggins, in the car and was taking the five-as a gamble or did he really expect to make it? Finally, South came to the conclusion that West surely held a strong club suit for his bid and that his (South's) king of clubs was a sitting duck. South went to seven diamonds. North corrected to seven hearts and South was down three and a loss of 800 points.

At the other table East and West were allowed to play in six spades after a very different bidding sequence. South opened the king of hearts and shifted to a diamond, won by East's king. The ace of spades disclosed the trump break. West ruffed a heart, picked up trumps, led a club and had his slam when the king showed up in the right spot.

County Agrees On Attorney's Qualifications

Seminole County Commissioners Tuesday night agreed to hire a lawyer with at least five years' experience as the new county attorney.

Salary for the new in-house legal department staffer will be from $24,000 to $27,000. County commissioners agreed to advertise for the position at the urging of Exec. Asst. Roger Neiswender.

Neiswender urged commissioners to "shore up" the ties with County Atty. Tom Freeman, or hire the county's top legal officer. "We're hanging in the middle," Neiswender indicated.

The commission already voted to terminate Freeman's position and that of labor attorneys Alley, Alley & Blue of Tampa and create an in-house staff.

Handful Of Votes Key, Carter Says

By The Associated Press

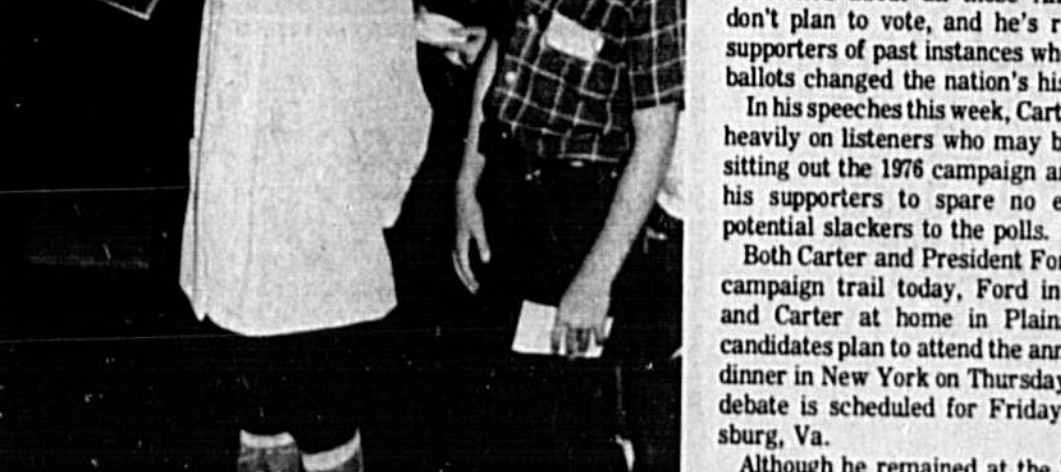

Jimmy Carter is growing increasingly concerned about all those Americans who don't plan to vote, and he's reminding his supporters of past instances when only a few ballots changed the nation's history.

In his speeches this week, Carter has leaned heavily on listeners who may be thinking of sitting out the 1976 campaign and has urged his supporters to spare no effort to get potential slackers to the polls.

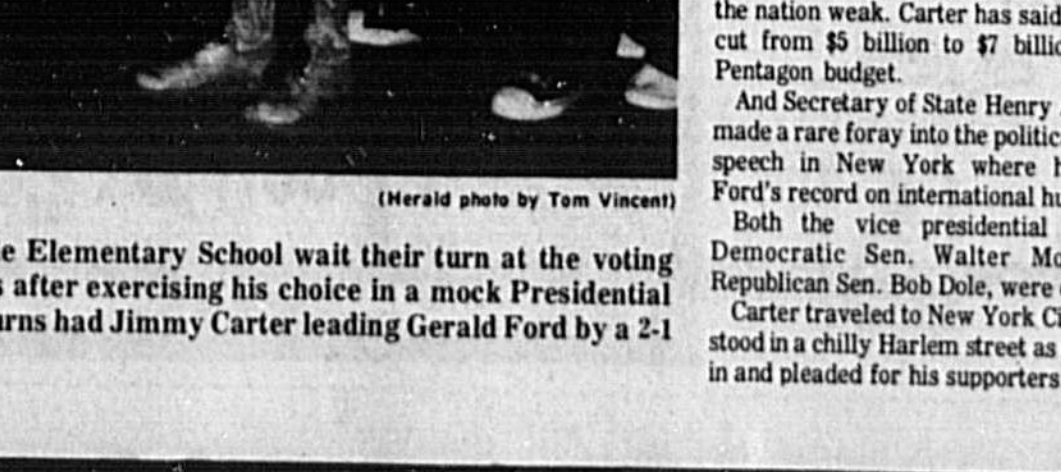

Both Carter and President Ford are off the campaign trail today, Ford in Washington and Carter at home in Plains, Ga. Both candidates plan to attend the annual Al Smith dinner in New York on Thursday. Their final debate is scheduled for Friday in Williamsburg, Va.

There are, he warned, past examples of elections that could have changed history if only a handful of voters who stayed at home had made it into the polling booth.

If John Kennedy had lost to Richard Nixon in 1960, Carter shouted into a cheering mostly black crowd that police estimated at 7,000 strong, "we would never have had the Voting Rights Act. None of you would have the freedom you now have."

Later, at a fund-raising dinner, Carter declared that "in the last eight years a lot of people had decided that it is not worth the effort to try to be involved in politics and vote and try to change this country."

He also recalled the 1968 election when Richard Nixon narrowly defeated Hubert Humphrey. "The election went the wrong way," he said.

Carter has for several days referred to polls that say more than half the eligible voters may not cast ballots. Analysts say many of those who have become discouraged with the election process would be Democratic voters casting ballots to change the faces in Washington if they bothered to vote.

And national polls now show Ford and Carter nearly neck-and-neck with the election only two weeks away.

Some analysts say the lower the voter turnout the better chance Ford has of winning the election. But independent candidate Eugene McCarthy says he thinks voter apathy could help his campaign.

More Indictments Seen In Bolles Murder Trial

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The chief prosecutor in the Don Bolles murder trial predicts that further indictments may be obtained soon in the bomb slaying of the investigative newspaper reporter.

With a jury expected to be seated by Friday, Maricopa County Attorney Donald Harris said he believes "five or six, maybe seven" more conspirators in Bolles assassination "are still at large."

"We're close. We're real close," Harris said Tuesday.

Will Carleton! Who?

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — This Thursday, all Michigan teachers are supposed to teach their students about Will Carleton.

Will who?

Under a 1975 state law, teachers throughout the state are required to observe the Oct. 21 birthday of Michigan's obscure "state poet," Carleton, who died in 1912, by reading his works in their classes or through "other proper and fitting observance."

But, says state school superintendent John Porter, there are no penalties in the law for failure to observe Will Carleton Day.

Though just a name today, at the turn of the century Carleton was a respected man of letters, known particularly for his homespun poems, such as "Overs the Hill to the Poorhouse," considered his most famous. "Overs the hill to the poorhouse I'm trudgin' my weary way — I, a woman of seventy, and only a trifle gray — I, who am smart and chipper, for all the years I've told. As many another woman that's only half as old."

Dogs Dig Up Human Bones

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP) — Vince Tumbarello was remodeling his house when a dog scampared into the basement and dug up some old bones — human ribbones, two human legbones, two human jawbones and assorted other skeletal remains.

Tumbarello called homicide detectives, who found that the bones had belonged to Karl Berry, a medical student who lived in the home in the 1920's. He used the skeletal parts in his homework, then disposed of them in the basement.

"You mean you found that old bag of bones?" asked 75-year-old Alpha Berry, Karl's widow. "Gee, I wish Mr. Berry was here so I could tell him there were two cops that are asking about them."

College Enrollments Down

CINCINNATI (AP) — College enrollments may have declined nationwide about 1 per cent this fall to an estimated 11,126,000, according to an expert who said his preliminary findings are a "surprise and a shock."

Dr. Garland Parker, executive director for Enrollment Policy and Educational Research at the University of Cincinnati, said the declines had not been expected before 1980.

Parker said predictions had called for an increase of 4.5 per cent this year following last year's increase of 9 per cent.

4 Dead, 50 Missing After Tanker Hits Ferry.

LULING, La. (AP) — A Norwegian tanker crushed a Louisiana ferry today, capsizing the river boat and throwing its passengers into the swirling water. Four people were reported killed and 50 missing.

"There were 70 to 80 people on the George Prince because there were lots of foot passengers," said Jerry Mayo, a worker on the rescue ferry Olie K. Wilds that had just completed a run between Destrehan and Luling, about 20 miles upriver from New Orleans. Officials said there was no precise count of the number of persons aboard.

"We saw the ship moving up the river, and the ship blew (its whistle) for the ferry four or five times, but the ferry just kept going," Wilds said. "The ship hit it, pushed it up river, flipped it over, and it started sinking. The ship kept going." "The ferry was reported to have a full load of approximately 20 cars with an unknown number of occupants and approximately 50 walk-on passengers, although the exact number of persons involved is unknown," said Jim Morrison, a U.S. Coast Guard spokesman. One reporter on the scene said four bodies had been located. A sister ferry rushed back to the sinking vessel and rescued several persons from about 100 yards out in the swirling water.

"I'm not going riding with Granddaddy anymore because someone plants home-made bombs in his car," young Garland said.

Swofford said after the bomb with a pen of water, he tore it free from the top of the car's air filter.

"I've never been so afraid in my whole life," Swofford said, admitting the incident "shook me up. When it was all over, I cried."

Swofford said he received many telephone threats during his 20-year political career in Seminole County, but never thought anyone hated him enough to really want to do him physical harm.

In January 1975, two shotgun blasts hit Swofford's pickup truck as he drove along Interstate 4 near Longwood. It was not determined at the time if the shots were deliberate.

Swofford served as mayor of Altamonte Springs for 20 years and as a county commissioner for eight years. He was defeated by Floyd in 1973 and again in 1975.

No Life On Mars

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Hopes that Viking 2's lander would find evidence of life in soil beneath a Martian rock have faded with the tiny robot lab's failure to detect organic molecules.

Dr. Klaus Biemann, head of the project's molecular analysis team, told reporters Tuesday that Viking's instruments failed to find even a trace of organic compounds in a scoop of Martian soil taken from under a rock.

"When the machine fails to find anything, keep the weather made good."

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Florida Cabinet Okays New Drivers' Licenses

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Drivers' licenses will be easier to read and have larger pictures starting in December, but the state will still save an estimated $1 million on them.

The Cabinet approved the new licenses Tuesday and also adopted rules cracking down on free lodging promotions which Atty. Gen. Robert Shevin says has cost consumers several million dollars.

The new licenses will be the same size as current ones but will have larger type to make them more legible, according to motor vehicle officials.

Asphalt Winfall Predicted

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Transportation Department officials say an appeal court ruling could cost Florida $7 million in windfall profits to road builders.

The 1st District Court of Appeal ruled unanimously that the state could not lower asphalt payments under a new law designed to correct overpayment problems discovered under a 1974 law.

Transportation Department officials said Tuesday they were still studying the ruling and had not decided whether to appeal to the state Supreme Court.

Labor Candidate Opposed

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — State officials, armed with affidavits from 62 county election supervisors, hoped to convince a federal judge today to reverse his ruling that put U.S. Labor Party candidate Lyndon LaRouche on Florida's presidential ballot.

In addition to the affidavits describing the lack of support LaRouche has in Florida, attorneys also had a deposition from LaRouche. They said it would show he has made little campaign effort in the state.

Appraisers Ruling Delayed

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — If legislators want property appraisers to submit detailed information to the Department of Revenue, they should have the guts to pay for it, says House Judiciary Chairman William Rish.

His arguments were persuasive Tuesday as the Cabinet deferred for four weeks a decision on proposed agency rules that would require appraisers to submit computerized information on their property assessments.

Lawyer Named To Panel

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — A Massachusetts lawyer has been named director of the Board of Business Regulation to replace A.L. Baker, who resigned under charges he was lax in cracking down on a land securities fraud.

The Board Tuesday appointed J. Jackson Walter, 35, of Northampton, Mass., who has a background in land sales and registration. He assumes the post Nov. 8.

Hialeah Park Sale Pending

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Coming right down to the wire, two rival groups say they have won agreements to buy famed Hialeah Park.

Representatives of the City of Hialeah and of Gulfstream Park, another South Florida horse track, told the Board of Business Regulation Tuesday that their respective groups have won purchase agreements from financially ailing Hialeah Park Inc.

Class Clowns Reviews Mixed

GAINESVILLE (AP) — The class clown may be a leader in the eyes of his peers, but teachers often consider him an underachiever who craves attention.

A University of Florida survey on class clowns indicates that students tend to regard the clowning pupil as a popular figure and often a leader.

Chiles, Grady Agree On Disagreements

ORLANDO (AP) — They agreed on almost nothing. But they supported many of the same goals.

Sen. Lawton Chiles, D-Fla., and his Republican opponent, Dr. John Grady, met in their first debate here Tuesday, bringing what had been a low-key senatorial campaign into homes across the state via live television.

In an atmosphere considerably less formal than the presidential debates of Gerald Ford and Jimmy Carter, Chiles and Grady argued for an hour over issues from big government and welfare spending to military might and political philosophy.

Each said he wanted the United States to be No. 1 in military defense. Each wanted reduced inflation and unemployment. Each reserved judgment on the cross-Florida barge canal. Neither wanted to lose the Panama Canal.

But similarities ended there. Chiles, the moderate Democrat from Lakeland, and Grady, the John Birch Society conservative from Belle Glade, differed radically on how to achieve those goals.

Grady called for a balanced budget and reduced government interference in the private sector. Chiles argued that Grady couldn't reduce spending and still pay the bills for military superiority and Social Security reform.

Chiles said Chiles talked a hard-line on military might, but voted consistently against key defense appropriations and for greater welfare spending. Chiles accused Grady of misrepresenting Chiles' position and voting record in those areas.

When it was over, they smiled, shook hands and declined to speculate who "won."

They made these specific points:

THE MILITARY
"I support a strong military posture, second to none," declared Chiles. "I think it has to be the first priority and unless you take care of that you can't take care of anything else."

He said, however, that he was working to see "that we get the most for our money" and noted that 80 per cent of military spending is for personnel pay and retirement benefits, which has limited the government's ability to spend for new weapons and research.

Grady countered, saying, "I'm astounded that Sen. Chiles, with his access to all the key information, has drawn the conclusion that we're superior in armed forces. Today, the Soviet Union has four million men under active arms and 3.7 million in active reserve, and we have two million. They outnumber us 3 to 1 in artillery, 2 to 1 in armored vehicles, 3 to 1 in tanks. They outnumber us on the sea, 3 to 2 in surface ships ... they outnumber us in submarines 4 to 1. The Soviet Union has us in air superiority, 6 to 1 in fighter planes, 3 to 1 in bombers, and they have an overwhelming nuclear superiority. ..."

"I think the Social Security Trust Fund is nearly bankrupt, and the people know that and it is a cruel uncertainty that they're facing," said Grady. "We have to refund that, we have to tighten up the management and the funding of Social Security."

He also advocated "the total removal of income-earning restrictions on Social Security recipients."

Said Chiles: "As I understand it, Dr. Grady said he would balance the budget by cutting across the board from every area except the military. To do that... you're going to have to cut $66 billion from Social Security, and I don't see how you're going to do anything for the people on Social Security if we're going to cut $66 billion a year off of Social Security." He said he has voted for increased Social Security payments while in Congress.

ABORTION
"My position is that of the Republican platform..." Grady said.

"I think the primary purpose of any government is to protect the citizens, and I think the unborn child, whether it be a day before it's born or a day after it's born, has a right to its own destiny."

"I'm against abortion on demand..." Chiles said. "I cannot, though, support a constitutional amendment that says you can only have an abortion (to protect) the life of the mother, and the reason is that I think you'll go right back to the butcher shops we had before." Chiles said he would favor abortions in cases such as rape or incest. "I would support a constitutional amendment that would allow the states to set the proper criteria for abortion..." he said.

On the cross-Florida barge canal, Chiles said "you shouldn't make up your mind until you get the facts." But he said "it looks like the economic benefits are very thin." Grady said he could support the canal if it was economically beneficial but if it would damage the environment, "I would not support it."

The two have a rematch Monday night in Miami. The format will be the same, with television coverage planned.

But Chiles indicated the first meeting left something to be desired.

"I've been trying for some time to bring him out on issues and to bring issues out in the open, and I guess this is the best way to do it," he said. "But I would still like some sort of head-to-head confrontation." He did not elaborate.

To make highways as safe as nuclear plants, you'd have to eliminate cars.

The danger of getting behind the wheel of an automobile is seldom given a second thought.

However, consider this: On a yearly basis, your chance of having a traffic fatality is 1 in 4000. 1 in 4000 is pretty good odds. But not nearly as good as that achieved by nuclear power plants.

To date, nuclear power plants have a zero fatality ratio. The odds: 1 in 5 billion. Because they're constructed as safe as is humanly and mechanically possible.

Commercial nuclear power plants have been operating for more than 320 reactor years without a single accident—let alone fatality. No new technology has ever been developed with as much concentration and expenditures on safety.

How safe are nuclear power plants when compared with non-nuclear risks? Dr. Norman Rasmussen, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, conducted a study for the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission. His findings are rather dramatic. (See chart.)

We realize, of course, that there's an element of risk to everything an individual does, from driving a car to taking a bath. However, any potential risks involved in the use of nuclear power for electric generation have been minimized by adopting and maintaining the highest standards of safety in design, engineering and construction. Such as requiring redundant protective equipment and systems.

The nuclear power industry has been built with the greatest concern for public safety, and this will continue to be a prime objective. No other industry can match nuclear power's safety record. A record we intend to keep.

Civil Defense No Yawning Matter

The United States has budgeted $104.3 billion in military spending for 1977 amid predictions that the figure will have to rise in succeeding years to keep our armed forces and their weaponry up to par. Yet a recent report from the Congressional Research Service of the Library of Congress suggests that even this investment neglects a key element of defense.

We will be spending $92.5 million in the coming year on civil defense — less than one-tenth of 1 percent of the military budget.

It figures, civil defense efforts to produce a yawn any time it's mentioned. After a flurry of interest in backyard bomb shelters and evacuation drills early in the atomic age, Americans have preferred not to dwell on the possibility of nuclear war and the prospects of surviving it. There is even a school of thought that a serious civil defense effort would undermine a nuclear deterrent strategy and efforts at arms control by suggesting that one side is willing to risk nuclear war while the other is not.

The Library of Congress study indicates that the Soviet Union is not following that precept. There is evidence the Russians are systematically reducing their vulnerability to nuclear war through dispersal of industry and urban population, planning for evacuation of major cities with the approach of a crisis, and otherwise hoping to maintain vital services and industrial production if their country takes a nuclear blow.

That Soviet leaders might regard the losses in a nuclear exchange as acceptable adds a troubling element to conjectures about their military strategy. And the fact the Russians may be more fearful of an attack from China than from the West does not change the picture.

Fortunately the U.S. government is not letting civil defense go entirely by the boards. In the past year the Federal Preparedness Agency has been upgraded as part of the General Services Administration, coordinating plans for civil defense, continuity of government in an emergency and all other non-military aspects of preparedness.

The investment we make in this aspect of defense may need to increase. Preparation of the kind are disquieting, but in the psychology of deterrence it is important for a nation to show that it has the will and the capability to survive under the worst of circumstances.

Don't Delay Justice

We don't make any assumptions about the current investigation into 1972 campaign finances.

What happened in 1972 with the Watergate investigation makes voters keenly sensitive to any hint of a cover-up, however. The Federal Bureau of Investigation and Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi may have been over backward to avoid the appearance of a cover-up.

All we know is that an unidentified informant brought information to the FBI which Atty. Gen. Levi referred to special prosecutor Charles F. Ruff in July. The informant involved an allegation of some violation of election laws in the handling of campaign funds in Grand Rapids, Mich., President Ford's home town. Records have been subpoenaed by a federal grand jury. President Ford has denied any wrongdoing.

Voters shouldn't jump to any conclusions. This matter should not be made a campaign issue. Ruff is correct to decline comment at this stage.

But it is imperative that some official report be made public before the Nov. 2 election. Otherwise the outcome of the presidential election could be affected by mere suspicion.

As the President said, in this case justice delayed could be justice denied.

BERRY'S WORLD

"You're sick of politics and politicians!"

The Clock

By NORM OSHRIN

Well, there might just be hope yet. Dr. John Nostalgia of Belle Glade, in Tuesday's debate, came across pretty well in Tuesday night's debate. That is, if you ignore some of the less-than-clear statements he made — to wit, government jobs could lead to more unemployment and cost a lot. He never did explain that fully.

But, all in all, a pleasant surprise. And more for his omissions than commissions.

For example, not once did he inject his expressed and consuming fear and/or paranoia, vis-a-vis the danger of the United States of America being taken over by subvertives — as he had done during a visit to the Herald not too long ago. It was right before he stormed out of the office when pressed on the matter.

Not once did he peek under his lecture to reassure himself that no little Red devil invaders were ready to pounce on him, Sen. Chiles, the panelists and audience at Orlando's Loch Haven Art Center.

The good doctor, in fact, came across quite rational Tuesday night — and that's scary. Like the fall before the storm.

DON OAKLEY Study Blames Criminals

What has been called a major new study of the causes of crime amounts almost to heresy by today's crazy standards.

"The Criminal Personality," by psychiatrist Samuel Yochelson and clinical psychologist Stanton E. Samenow, actually blames crime on criminals instead of society.

The authors in fact state flatly that the belief that mental illness, a poor home environment or other factors outside the control of the individual are responsible for criminal behavior are "simply excuses." What is needed to combat crime, they say, is not so much society's improvement or conventional therapy but an offender's "conversion" to an entirely new lifestyle, along with a rigorous moral education.

They reached their conclusions, which is the opposite of the one with which they began, on the basis of 15 years of investigation of criminal offenders at St. Elizabeth's, a government-run hospital in Washington.

The researchers at first used traditional psychiatric methods, but eventually realized that the criminals were making fools of them. They then abandoned permissiveness and "understanding" for a much more judgmental approach in intensive sessions of "moral inventory." Instead of trying to allay feelings of guilt, they attempted to bring out a criminal's latent disgust with himself, at the same time indicating a willingness to work with him.

In the process they discovered that there is no such thing as a "first offender."

"The criminal gets away with far more than is ever known by anyone else," they say. "By the time he is apprehended, he has more than likely committed hundreds, if not thousands, of offenses."

It is not clear how many St. Elizabeth patients were successfully converted from crime. Also, the question of how society is to accomplish the whole sale rehabilitation of the tens of thousands of offenders in its prisons, where they are in daily contact with fellow criminals, remains unanswered.

But it is encouraging to learn that some criminologists are beginning to realize that there is only so much society can do, and that the true rehabilitation of the criminal personality must proceed from the criminal himself.

JOHN CUNIFF Pension Funds Hurting?

NEW YORK (AP) — In doubt about the meaning of the "prudent man" standard of the 1974 retirement act, pension fund managers are investing cautiously and, it is claimed, starving small business.

This caution, investment sources say, has resulted in an even more pronounced funneling of funds into the very largest American corporations, accelerating a trend that may already have been under way.

As a result, top executives of corporations in the less-than-giant categories are complaining about difficulties in raising equity capital. Some pension consultants also are concerned about potential weakness of returns.

Involved in the issue are the country's ability to finance industry and keep the economy expanding. Important but lesser issues are the smooth functioning of stock markets and the rate of return on pension funds.

The prudent man standard, restated in the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, requires trustees to use the same diligence in choosing fund investments as they would in managing their own affairs.

Because of confusion about the precise responsibilities imposed by the standard, some portfolio managers have applied such a restrictive definition that it permits investments in only the largest, most stable corporations.

In that way, they feel, they will not be liable to personal charges of imprudence.

RAY CROMLEY Eastern Europeans Oppressed?

WASHINGTON — In the flurry of charges and countercharges over what President Ford said last week about Eastern Europe during the second televised debate with Jimmy Carter, we're losing sight of the point.

Certainly, Soviet troops move at will in Poland, Czechoslovakia, Rumania, Hungary and East Germany. Certainly, when the Soviet Union wants a man jailed, he is jailed. Certainly, the Soviet Union can issue oppressive laws and hammer at church going. And clobber free public speech.

But are the Poles, the Rumanians, the Czechs, the Hungarians and East Germans dominated by the Russians?

Most certainly in their hearts they are not. None of these great peoples acknowledged the right of Moscow to rule them. They may give outward obedience. Inside, it is clear they are their own men and women. They are not sub-serve.

That is a most important point. Leonid Brezhnev knows it, as Nikita Khrushchev knew it in his time. And the Russian military. The inside reports this country receives from the Soviet Union make it clear that Moscow places little trust in the reliability of Polish, Hungarian, Czech and East German troops in time of war. The Kremlin likewise places little trust in the political reliability of the bureaucrats, the businessmen, the farmers, students or professionals, of these remarkable nations. There is strong distrust too among the intelligible in the Soviet Union as to the reliability even of the native East European Communist chiefs.

The Russians find it necessary to make every effort to bolster those few men on which it has a stranglehold. Then, not even trusting these few sycophants, the Russians take repeated secret checks on their reliability.

In other words, the Soviet Union has learned there are limits it cannot cross without backfires. It is unwilling to face. Despite strong Soviet pressures against religion at one time or another, religious observances attract wide followings — openly in some instances, privately in others. Despite a heavy Soviet clampdown on economic associations with Western lands, the Rumanians have built those associations, slowly but surely, but persistently. Though the Soviet Union has time again clamped down harshly on those who listen to free world broadcasts, indications are that the listening audience is great.

Though free speech is banned, these courageous people find ways to communicate. The Berlin Wall is a monument to Soviet failure.

Both men were saying during the debate that he is in the United States hear them — though both said it poorly, especially Mr. Ford.

Both seemed at a loss as to what action to take. That question was never answered. Perhaps it cannot be answered by us.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Italy's Women Libbers Defend Mao's Widow

ROME (AP) — Mao Tseung's widow, Chiang Ching, is being defended by Italian feminists who claim that accusations against her stem from her sex relations with her ideology.

"The Chinese revolutionaries are demonstrating the same attitude on sexism as capitalist bourgeoisie," said a statement released Tuesday by the Women's Liberation Movement (WLM).

The WLM said harsh criticism is directed against her "not because she is a woman ... and for not being a sweet and silent companion of a great man."

Mao's widow is portrayed in parts of China as a member of an "anti-party" group of radicals, all now reportedly under detention, who attempted to prevent Hua kuo-feng from succeeding Mao.

Ex-King Takes Pill Overdose

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Chogyal Palden Thondup Namgyal, 53-year-old former king of Sikkim, has been hospitalized following an overdose of sleeping pills, according to India's national news agency.

The agency said the husband of one-time New York socialite Hope Cooke was flown to Calcutta for treatment on Tuesday.

Namgyal, who died 18 months ago when his Himalayan kingdom was merged with India, was found unconscious in his palace in Gangtok, the Sikkimese capital, where he has been under armed guard since an uprising against his rule in 1973.

Doctors treating him reported his condition had stabilized after several hours of emergency treatment but that he remained unconscious and his "prognosis is uncertain," the agency added.

Queen Hope and their two children live in the United States.

Cousteau Son Hurt In Crash

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Phillip Cousteau, son of French oceanographer Jacques Cousteau, broke a knee when his helicopter fell 90 feet and crashed on Easter Island.

Dr. Ramon Candell, who is on Easter Island with Cousteau, said Tuesday in a telephone interview with a Santiago radio station that Cousteau, 36, needs an operation "to put two pins in his knee and extract broken cartilage."

The doctor said Cousteau was put in a cast from the hip to the foot and would be flown to Los Angeles.

The helicopter was being used by Cousteau and a filming team to search the waters around the Pacific island for ruins. The team is producing a documentary film for American educational television.

Bellow Favored For Prize

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — American novelist Saul Bellow is reportedly favored to win the 1976 Nobel Prize in Literature.

If he is named Thursday, it will give Americans an unprecedented sweep of all five Nobel prizes this year.

Bellow, 61, was believed to be a close runner-up last year when the dean of Italian poets, Eugenio Montale, was given the prize.

Informed literary sources said Bellow is supported this year by an influential group in the 18-member Swedish Academy of Letters that will name the winner. Among his novels are "Henderson the Rain King," "Herzog," and "The Adventures of Augie March."

The last American to win the Nobel Prize for Literature was John Steinbeck in 1962.

Terrorist Plot Charged

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The Venezuelan police have established that the bombing of a former Chilean diplomat in Washington and the crash of a Cuban airliner off Barbados were part of a vast terrorist plot organized by rightists from Cuban and other Latin American countries, the newspaper El Nacional reports.

The influential independent newspaper said Venezuelan security agents had uncovered plans for a series of terrorist attacks in the United States, Venezuela, Trinidad-Tobago, Barbados, Guyana, Panama and Colombia.

Williams: 'Gurney Aide Gave Me The Green Light'

ORLANDO, (AP) — Fund-raiser Larry Williams says he began pressuring Florida builders for political contributions in the name of Sen. Edward J. Gurney only a few days after Gurney hired him in 1971.

But the glib and handsome Williams, testifying for the government in the perjury retrial of the 69-year-old former Republican senator, was not asked directly Tuesday whether Gurney knew of the fund raising activities.

"I was given the green light to go ahead," Williams said. "I had instructions from Mr. Gurney that we would not be splitting money with anyone... the FHA directors," Williams said.

FHA administrators in the state were to furnish lists of contractors with business pending in their offices so Gurney could ask them for contributions, Williams said.

The fund raiser said the money was used to pay his own expenses and those of other Gurney workers, including payment of a joint personal loan.

Williams testified in federal court in Orlando.

Critenden, who had just been deposed as Florida Republican party chairman, "gave me, like, on not reporting anything and not going," any contributors, Williams said.

"This was the inception of the fund-raising operation," Gurney is charged with lying to a grand jury when he said he didn't know that Williams was soliciting funds until June 1972 and that he didn't find out that the funds were being used for

Figueroa Tries To Halt Cincy

NEW YORK (AP) — "The designated hitter is still a joke to baseball for the right-center fielder."

So spoke Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson.

Johnny Bench followed with another infield single, this one off Chris Chambliss' glove at first. Cesar Geronimo's forecourt grounder scored Foster to make it 3-0. Then Geronimo pumped a one-bounce grounder double over the right-center field fence.

Anderson hates the DH, an American League innovation in which a batter hits for the pitcher each time the pitcher's turn comes up.

It had never been employed in a World Series until this year, when it was foisted upon this October classic by Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn.

Driessen, the first and thus far best DH in the National League, rannned a home run and two other hits Tuesday night in firing the Reds to a 6-2 victory over the New York Yankees. Cincinnati now has a seemingly unshakable 3-0 lead in this best-of-seven series.

The Reds can wrap it up tonight — unless Yankee right-hander Ed Figueroa or the weather can slow down the careening Big Red Machine. Gary Nolan, also a right-hander, will start for the Reds. McGee, not a quitter and my guys aren't have to beat us... But I must admit we're not in a very good position."

Beating the Yanks is all the Reds have been doing so far. They did all they had to do Tuesday night with a three-run burst in the second inning against Dock Ellis. And it was Driessen who started it all with an infield single off Ellis' glove. He stole second and came other reasons why Apple Valley doesn't want it.

"You don't have the right to see the property remain woods," Hattaway said. The chairman said the 40-acre park will serve about 40,000 residents, not just the 100 or so homeowners in Apple Valley.

"We've never heard from the silent majority," Kwiatkowski added. "They've been silent, and they're going to get screwed, again."

"The silent majority is not gonna get screwed," Kwiatkowski declared.

"Obviously, Kwiatkowski had his mind made up before the meeting. The speech he made was made up in advance," Harvey replied.

After an hour, the winds subsided, leaving homeowners threatening lawsuits, Kwiatkowski with the feeling the silent majority didn't "get screwed" and Williams saying "wherever it (the park) is going to be — it's gonna be great."

Raiders' Cage Beat Tuning Up For Nov. 16 Opener

By JIM HAYNES
Herald Sports Editor

The beat — er, make that the bounce — goes on at Seminole Community College.

Coach Joe Sterling today announced his 1978-79 schedule, and don't let anyone accuse the Raiders of playing a soft schedule.

The 28-tilt slate includes Division II encounters against usual toughies like Lake City, Florida JC of Jacksonville, Central Florida and St. Johns River. In addition are games against state powers Brevard, Edison and Polk.

"Every year it seems the other teams get better, and that makes it tougher to compete," says Sterling. "But we have some good freshmen talent, and certainly how well we progress is going to depend largely on that."

There are five returnees from last year's sophomore-laden squad — guards Victor Wilkerson and Ken Atkins, plus forwards Karl Krueger and Randy Reynolds plus center Sammy Williams.

The freshmen include guards Ken Lewis, Bob Zipko, Willie Williams, Giles Tarver, Joe Sterling. Frosh insideners include David Krazit, Jon Kaufman, Mike Boggs, Robert Lewis and Dan Gabriel.

Sammy Williams is the tallest player on the squad at 6-11. Krazit and Kaufman are

Even Joe DiMaggio Impressed By Reds

NEW YORK (AP) — Even the great Joe DiMaggio was impressed.

Then he settled back to watch the Big Red Machine grind up the proud men in pinstripes and spit them on the natural turf of the $100 million revamped ball park. All around him he heard the Reds acclaimed "one of the greatest of all-time."

Ralph Kiner, the former Pittsburgh home run slugger and a National League, had been quoted as saying, the present Cincinnati baseball juggernaut is superior to any of the great Yankee teams he had seen in his day, including those for whom DiMaggio played.

Joltin' Joe was not so quick to agree. But he didn't badmouth the Reds, either.

DEAR DR. LAMB - The enclosed advertisement appeared in our daily paper. Do you know anything about the "New Supercharged" vitamin E pill? Would it be worth one's time and money to invest in some or do you think it is a wild scheme to "bleed the public"?

Skepticism Best Vitamin E Bet
By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.
Dr. Lamb
The statement you underlined in the advertisement, "The general thinking today is that significantly interesting polyunsaturated fat level above the 10 per cent of the total calorie intake probably doesn't help at all, but you do need a small amount."

DEAR DR. LAMB - I think you have an obligation to comment on your statement in one of your columns about the ratio of unsaturated to saturated fats. You seem to say it doesn't really matter. That seems strange in view of the amount of space you devote to informing the reader about the nature of various fats in various foods. Is one to conclude that it makes no difference whether one consumes Olive, lard, safflower oil or olive oil?

HOROSCOPE

By HERNICE BEDE OOL
For Thursday, October 21, 1978
ARIES (March 21-April 19) Do what your instincts or hunches dictate today, especially in areas relating to romance. They won't lead you astray.
TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You have learned something through experience that you can now put to good use to bring in a healthy profit.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Serious matters should now be discussed with a partner. Your thoughts are sound and well-reasoned.
CANCER (June 21-July 22) Before judging anybody or something for the home today, use your imagination. Perhaps inventiveness can save you money.
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You could have a fortunate association today with one of the opposite sex who will assist you in some form of self-development.
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Follow an inspiration today to open both your heart and your purse to someone needy. Kind words won't be enough.
LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Any discussion of weighty matters with a friend today should be handled as tactfully as possible. Don't embarrass him.
SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Operate through others today, particularly in career or financial areas. Be prepared to prod them a bit.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Give a pal a boost today by telling him of a recent problem you solved. Your words will inspire him.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Your ambitions will be aided today through the good offices of others. Remember to share your gains with your helpmates.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Avoid judging anybody prematurely today. The motives of one you're closely associated with are purer than you think.
PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Business conditions appear very promising for you today, especially if you're dealing with a person of proven reliability.
Your BIRTHDAY (Oct. 21, 1978) Friends you've made in the past could be the instruments for creating unusual and beneficial happenings this year. One could involve business, the other travel.
one. Then he ruffed a low diamond and played out four rounds of trumps in order to pick up the four held by East. He discarded a diamond and club from dummy on the last two.
Then he cashed his ace of hearts just in case West had opened the bidding with a four-card heart suit. Next came a successful finesse of the queen of clubs followed by the play of the ace-king and the nine of diamonds. East was in with the jack. He was stuck and had to lead a club to give dummy the rest of the tricks.
Ask the Jacobys
An Illinois reader wants to know if there is any difference between a trick awarded because of a revoke and a trick taken normally. The answer is a decided "No."
As an example, let's take a four-spade contract. Declarer makes nine tricks, but an opponent has revoked. He is deemed to have made an over-trick at his four-spade contract. If declarer evoked, he is three down.
(Do you have a question for the experts? Write "Ask the Jacobys" care of this newspaper. The Jacobys will answer individual questions if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are enclosed. The most interesting questions will be used in this column and will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

Hungary Is Stage, But Prompters Are Located In Moscow

On Oct. 23, 1956, Hungarians rebelled against their Communist government. Soviet forces stationed in the country put down the revolt with bloody results. There is a look at the country today by a veteran correspondent who was in Budapest at the time of the revolution 20 years ago.

By ERIC WASH Associated Press Writer VIENNA (AP) — Twenty years after their abortive anti-Soviet revolution, Hungarians describe their country as a stage "where we can move freely, but where the prompter's box is in Moscow."

This paradox reflects the Hungarian way of life: to go as far as possible within the confines of the Soviet Bloc but never to twist the tail of the Russian bear.

While losing the Soviet foreign policy line and remaining a staunch member of the Warsaw Pact military alliance and Comcon, the Eastern equivalent of the European Common Market, the Hungarians enjoy perhaps the most liberal brand of capitalism within the Soviet Bloc. They even have experimented with a modified form of free market economy. Its consumer orientation has earned Hungarian communists the label of "Goulash communism."

But four Soviet divisions are believed to be still inside Hungary, comprising 50,000 troops, 1,200 tanks and 200 planes. To open opening old wounds, the Russians are kept in barracks or maneuver areas and have scant contact with local inhabitants.

Western observers agree that the Hungarians have, for the most part, overcome the trauma of 1956.

"The Hungarians feel no great love for the Russians, no particular respect, but no great hatred," said a Western diplomat in Budapest.

Tibor Dery, an 82-year-old Hungarian writer who was jailed after Soviet forces crushed the uprising, said in an Austrian television interview recently that he felt the revolution had a "happy end" after all.

"I do not believe that the many wounds and destruction we suffered are still felt today, not much, at any rate," he said. The two-week-long revolt broke out Oct. 23, 1956, and 2-700 Hungarians were killed, 20-300 were wounded and 200,000 fled the country after the Soviet army went into action. The U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service said 20,715 went to the United States.

Hundreds were arrested in the ensuing crackdown. Scores were executed, including Imre Nagy, the premier of the revolutionary government, and his defense minister, Gen. Pal Malter.

Of the refugees, 40,000 have since returned, the government says. Others who acquired foreign citizenship have come back as tourists. Today, every 10th tourist is Hungarian-born, officials claim.

Janos Kadar, who first sided with Nagy and then turned against the revolution, is still in power, leading the 18.5 million Hungarians on a political tight rope.

monthly salary of $146, but Hungary ranks second in the West. Last year $74,000 did buy in per capita ownership of private cars.

Hungarians own 2.5 million units of private property, such as small farms, garden plots, apartments and weekend cottages. Unlike their East Bloc neighbors, Hungarians have a relatively good chance to travel to the West. Last year 274,000 did. But such waves of the 150 per cent hike in the price of Soviet oil are still being felt. The 1976 foreign trade deficit is estimated at $1.04 billion, $608 million before the Hungarian uprising, the Communist dictator Matyas Rabin was forced helped spark the uprising in Poland on Oct. 19, 1956, and in Hungary four days later. But they were essentially revolts against Stalinism without Stalin; the Soviet dictator had died in 1953.

Shortly before the Hungarian uprising, the Communist dictator Matyas Rabin was forced the Roman Catholic priests who had been sentenced to life imprisonment by the Stalinist regime, was liberated.

Polk And Pal GRADY FOR U.S. SENATE

Sanford County Sheriff John Polk (left) corners Sen. Lawton Chiles during a fund-raising barbecue for Chiles at Mayfair Country Club. Among the estimated 125 persons attending the 2 1/2-hour affair Wednesday night were 3rd District State Rep. Robert Hattaway; Joe Knowles, candidate for State Rep., 34th District; State Sen. John Vogt; Sanford Mayor Lee Moore; Dave Gunter, Seminole County Commission candidate and Sanford city commission hopefuls James Melvin and Larry Blair; Jack Bridges, Chiles' county campaign coordinator and treasurer, said proceeds had not been counted yet but termed the barbecue "a success financially."

'Death Ship' Raised, 82 Die

LULING, La. (AP) — A giant floating crane today righted the Mississippi River ferry that capsized after a collision that left up to 82 river commuters dead, but the ferry remained partially submerged.

Knock! Knock?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The television lights switched on the camera focused on the door, the members of the press stood and the introduction was solemnly made: "Ladies and gentlemen, the President of the United States."

Gurney Loses Bid

ORLANDO (AP) — U.S. District Judge George C. Young today denied another defense motion to dismiss a perjury charge against former Sen. Edward R. Gurney.

Cities, County Near Sewer 'Engagement'

The thorny problem of how to mesh the gears of three very different governments is the next task facing the committee studying a proposed regional sewer system for north Seminole.

The interlocal agreement will have to shape an organization that can work until at least July 1, 1978, — the date local bills submitted to the 1978 Legislature can be expected to become law.

Consumer Prices Up .4 Of 1%

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer prices rose four-tenths of a percent in September as grocery costs declined for the first time in six months, helping offset increases for other goods and services.

He's Some Little Kid

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — A New Jersey woman recently released from prison on a drug conviction is trying to get back the son she sold in a motel for $1,200.

For More Judges, Cases 'Space' Panel Created

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Florida's unemployment rate fell slightly in September as the number of unemployed Floridians decreased by 2,100, officials said today.
