

Ellis Arnall To Decide Whether Price Violators To Get Publicity

By WILLIAM O. VARN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Ellis Arnall, the new price boss, soon will have to rule on a knotty public information policy for his agency.
It's this: Should the Office of Price Administration (OPA) publish the name of a violator when the agency decides the violation was not willful or the result of negligence?
OPA policy as it now stands says no. The name should not be published; the publicity would be unfair if the violation was of innocent nature.

Newspaper editors heading committees on freedom of information say yes. The name should be published; penalties should not be inflicted in secrecy, and the public is entitled to know who the violators are.

OPA policy clearly calls for publication of names when: (1) Any court action is taken against a firm or an individual for selling price violators; and (2) when the violator makes a settlement and pays damages exceeding the amount of the overcharge. OPA regards these in the nature of fines or penalties.

But, the name is withheld when the violator pays only the exact amount of the overcharge. Such repayments are made to the purchasers if they can be found; otherwise to the government.

OPA delegates to its Office of Enforcement the power to decide whether there was willfulness—in effect whether the name or names shall be published.

Both the OPA policy of non-publication and the delegation of authority to enforcement agents have drawn the fire of spokesmen for the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE) and the Associated Press Managing Editors Association (APME).

Urging OPA to change its policy and permit publication of the violator's names, these editors have voiced protests against:

1. Draping a cloak of secrecy around the violators as opposed to "the principle that citizens accused by the state must be openly and publicly tried."
2. Making enforcement agents "accusers, judge and jury" in deciding the degree of willfulness and whether the names shall be published.
3. Creating a precedent that "may infect other agencies of government under circumstances not equally safeguarded."

Speaking for the ASNE Committee on Freedom of Information, James Pope, executive editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal and Times, wrote OPA that its policy is "a bad and dangerous system."

He added: "We are convinced it is far afield from legitimate responsibility for a government agency to decide what news should be withheld. You are deciding what the people should know."

"The growing tendency in Washington to say to persons accused of violation that the quiet payment of their penalties will avoid unfortunate publicity... Even innocent businessmen are likely to prefer the payment of their fines to the publicity of a government trial."

Wiggins said it seems beneath the dignity of the government to "send out its delegated agents thus to indulge in a form of blackmail and extortion to persuade citizens not to defend themselves under due process."

He said "A community is entitled to know what merchants do not violate the regulations and the only way a community can discover this is by OPA informing of what businessmen did violate them."

He said the OPA policy "sets a precedent—however innocently—for secret accusation, secret trial and secret punishment in a pattern that totalitarian governments have so frequently pursued."

Max R. Hall, OPA's assistant director for public information, has told Wiggins that "the facts on this difficult question" will be submitted to Arnall for review soon.

Blues In The News

By BOB ANTHONY

The feats of our fishermen here on the Station are getting bigger and better. Earlier in the week I told you of how Chief Haynes came back with 23 nice size fish after an afternoon of fishing. The latest feat was that of FASHION 22's Chief Russell Beckley. Chief Beckley and his wife went fishing the other day in a little lake near their home in Longwood. After a fairly profitable hit of fishing they decided to call it a day and headed for the dock leaving their baited lines out trailing behind them.

After pulling up to the dock, Chief Beckley went to get his line and then it happened. He had a strike and when he finished reeling him in he found he had caught that certain fish that so many fishermen refer to by saying "you should have seen the one that got away." The prize catch was a 12 1/2 pound bass. Nice going Chief. I wonder if your fishing friend Chief Haynes will be able to top you this time.

Leonard North returned yesterday from a 26 day leave spent in Camberton, Mo., where he exchanged the wedding vows with a young lady from his home town on the Ninth of February. Leonard brought his wife Barbara back here with him and the Norths are now residing at the Kensington Apartments, New York Avenue, Deland.

James Hull seems to be the happiest man on the Station today. Jim is a member of the Naval Reserve and will be on his way to his home in Huntington, Ind. Chester Whitehurst will be leaving the station today to travel up to Memphis, Tenn. where he will attend the Navy's advanced Tradesman School. The school will last nine months and then Chester will be back aboard with us.

Jim Pilon returned aboard the station yesterday from Detroit, Mich. where he enjoyed a 14 day leave. While in Detroit he acted as best man at his cousin's wedding. George Enley is another NAAS man who has just returned from a leave in the north. George spent his time at home in Lansing, Pa. with his relatives and friends.

The Central Florida Exposition is now going into its last few days. It's quite a spectacle and most of the men here that have attended it have had a very enjoyable time. Ralph Elliott says he liked the "contests of skill" and from a look at the prizes he won a few. Ken Jones and Bill Brennan headed it was a little expensive but an awful lot of fun. Ken was lucky enough to win a panda bear almost as big as himself. Dottie Von Herling and I enjoyed everything although all I could manage to win for her was a state of a sailor.

Two NAAS men left the station this morning for vacations in the north. Earl McElhinis will be on his way to East Alton, Ill. while Chief Leo Yingling will be spending ten days at Norfolk, Va.

Senator Russell
Russell for several weeks to enter the campaign. A revolt against Mr. Truman has been brewing in the South since the States rights rebellion of 1948 striped 39 electoral votes from the total Mr. Truman normally could have expected as the Democratic nominee.

For the past five months, anti-Truman moves have been chattered under the leadership of Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia, Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina and Gov. Herman Tammadge of Georgia. But a big weakness in the planning was the lack of a candidate with the prestige to rally the South.

At this point, the strategy is based on their thinking that Harry Truman will accept the Democratic nomination and win it and that Sen. Taft of Ohio will be the Republican nominee.

In event Mr. Truman is renominated, there is talk that some Southern leaders will join a revolt and try to throw the South's electoral vote to their own candidate (in this case, Russell). Their hope is that without the South's votes, neither of the main candidates could win a majority of electoral votes.

Should this happen, the election would be thrown into the House of Representatives where each state would have only a single vote in naming the President. And some Southerners believe in this event Russell would stand a good chance of being elected in a compromise.

Whether such a plan could ever be carried out remains to be seen. Russell says he is in the race to stay regardless of what Mr. Truman decides to do... that he doesn't believe Mr. Truman will run.

But it may be significant that Russell refused to say he would not lead a revolt in event Mr. Truman wins the nomination. And there is the explosive element in the situation.

Mr. Cole has set up his headquarters in the Valdes Hotel. The Missions will stay at both the Valdes and Montseuma Hotels during their four weeks training period.

The infield and outfield are scheduled to arrive on Mar. 10 to complete the training roster.

The Mission trainer said he is quite impressed with the new Memorial Stadium and clean appearance of Sanford.

Ante-Red Law In New York Is Upheld

Act To Prohibit Subversive Persons In State School System Is Held Valid

WASHINGTON—The Supreme Court today upheld by a 6 to 3 vote New York's anti-Communist teacher law.

The act—widely known as the Feinberg Law—is designed to bar subversive persons from working for the state school system.

It was attacked by eight New York taxpayers who insisted the statute violated freedom of speech and assembly.

Justice Minton delivered the majority decision. Justices Douglas, Black and Frankfurter wrote dissenting opinions. That meant the majority was composed of Chief Justice Vinson and Justices Reed, Jackson, Burton and Clark as well as Minton.

The Feinberg Law was enacted in 1949 to help enforce a state civil service law passed ten years earlier. It was designed to prevent violent overthrow of government and to help appoint, or stay on, state jobs.

The Feinberg Law requires the State Board of Regents—the administrative body which heads the New York educational system—to list subversive organizations. The law makes membership in such listed organizations clear evidence of disqualification for any job in the school system. The law's preamble refers to the Communist Party as an advocate of violent overthrow of government.

However, pending the outcome of the case before the Supreme Court, the Board of Regents has not compiled a subversive list and no teacher has been fired under the Feinberg Law.

Lawyers for the eight taxpayers who carried their fight against the law to the highest court argued that the proposed listing would have a "chilling effect" on teachers and would create interference with freedom of expression.

But Minton said for the tribunal: "A teacher works in a sensitive area in a school room. There he shapes the attitudes of young minds towards the society in which they live. In this, the state has a vital interest. It is not surprising that it should have a right to screen the officials, teachers and employees in the schools as a part of its duty to protect the public interest."

Minton added that "one's association with a subversive group as well as one's conduct, may properly be considered in determining fitness and loyalty."

Chinese Accuse UN Command Of Lying, Stalling

Red Negotiators 'Admit Right To Reject Soviet Russia'

By ROBERT M. TUCKMAN

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—Communist leaders today accused the United Nations Command of lying and stalling today. But the Reds acknowledged that the U. N. had a legal right to reject Russia as a neutral inspector of an armistist.

North Korean Col. Chang Chun Sun conceded that the U. N. had the right to reject Russia, but insisted that the Allies give logical reasons.

"We had a thoroughly unproductive and most unpleasant session," Rear Adm. R. E. Laby told newsmen after an arduous session of the prisoner exchange subcommittee.

There was no indication whether the Communists were weakening in their insistence that Russia be named to a neutral supervisory commission or whether they were feeling out the Allied position.

Col. Don Barrow, who heads staff officers discussing truce supervision, and Laby both said they felt the Reds were playing a waiting game, hoping the U. N. will capitulate.

Barrow told Chang nothing could be said "until we could change the fact that the Soviet Union was unacceptable" to the U. N. as a neutral nation to inspect behind the lines during a truce.

Highly-placed Washington sources said there were indications Russia is determined to serve as a neutral inspector that it may work the truce talks.

Loe touched off the verbal exchange by asking the U. N. to refer to a promise to hand over information on about 44,000 prisoners the Reds claim are "military personnel of our side."

Red Cross Work In Korea Is Told To Rotary Club

Col. Runge Outlines Value Of Organization To Soldiers

The value of the American Red Cross to the soldiers in Korea was dramatically explained to Sanford Rotarians today at their regular luncheon today by Lt. Col. William F. Runge, of Sanford, who has served nearly two years in Korea. Col. Runge said that the lives of many American boys have been saved by blood supplied through the American Red Cross.

He branded as absolutely untrue rumors to the effect that the Red Cross charged the soldiers for blood supplied them in Army hospitals. And he added that this is typical of many of the rumors which have been circulated against the Red Cross.

Introduced by the Rev. H. L. Zimmerman as one who has lived in Sanford many years before entering the service, Col. Runge said he came here as a small boy in 1908, and that he was speaking not as an army officer, but as a civilian soldier, one whose entire army career had been spent either in the National Guard or in the organized reserves.

President Jack Ratigan welcomed into the club as new members William Bush, Jr., Lloyd Lawer, E. J. Moughton, Jr., and Charles Marston. Charles Morrison led the group in singing with the aid of Klugean Forest Brethren choir at the piano.

Col. Runge said that the American Red Cross is doing a great job which no other agency is equipped to do. Whenever there is trouble at home for the service man's family, the quickest relief is through the Red Cross.

Mr. Bryant, who will remain at the club for a few days, stated that he is very happy to have Mr. Williams in charge of the office, where he will be assisted by Mrs. E. Oechner of DeFuria, who has been serving there for the past month.

"I feel that Mr. Williams' complete knowledge of the county and real estate problems place him in position to be an excellent rent director," said Mr. Bryant.

Mr. Williams was born in Mt. Vernon, Ill., and came to Florida in 1910. His brother is Police Chief Roy G. Williams and his father is W. B. Williams, former mayor of Oviedo and also once served as a city manager of Sanford.

A graduate of Seminole High School, W. B. Williams, saw two years of active naval service in the Pacific area during World War II. He operated a citrus packing house prior to engaging in real estate work six years ago. He is married, has one child and lives at twentieth Street and Oak Avenue.

"My association with Mr. Bryant has been excellent," he stated today. "I feel that it has been a privilege to have been associated with him." With the deadline set for Mar. 9, in which to file registration statements, approximately 900 property owners have sent them in, Mr. Williams stated this morning.

2 Sanford Men Are Elected To Hall Of Fame

Paul Horton, Jr., editor of the Florida Alligator, is one of two Sanford students at the University of Florida who have achieved the high honor of being elected to the Hall of Fame, Roy Gilbert, another student from Sanford also achieved this honor.

The Hall of Fame, one of the highest honors attainable at the University, is sponsored by the Seminole, the University year book, which will feature the 27 students elected. Their pictures, together with Hall of Fame selections of past years will appear also in the Florida Times-Union.

The son of J. Paul Horton, former owner of the Herald printing department, Paul Horton, Jr., was born in Kingston, N. C., where he attended school and graduated from Wilmington (N. C.) High School. For one year, prior to entering the University, he served as a reporter on the Ft. Myers News Press.

His contributed sports news to The Florida Alligator during his first year in college and later became sports editor and manager of the student newspaper. A recent editorial "Many Problems Still Unsolved," written by him, and referred to the student honor system so much publicized recently in connection with alleged cases of cheating in examinations.

A member of the R.O.T.C., Horton has served as associate editor of his publication. As a second lieutenant, he will enter the Air Corps upon graduation. He is a member of the Blue Key and Delta Tau Delta societies.

Concerts Are Planned For Coming Fall

A series of five classical music concerts performed by the Municipal Concerts of New York will be presented in Sanford next fall, it was announced today by Miss Jean Beyer, president of the newly created Municipal Concerts of Sanford.

Negotiations were climaxed last Saturday when the New York booking agent and the local concert group signed a contract. The past calls for five monthly programs staged by 14 recognized artists beginning next November.

Concerts will be given at the proposed hall of 10 Florida citizens, which the New York concert group is attempting to book.

The Municipal Concerts of Sanford elected Miss Jean Beyer as president and a group at its meeting last Friday night in the City Hall. Other officers selected include Judge Douglas O. Starnstrom, vice-president; Mrs. F. E. Boudreau, secretary; Miss Nancy Williams, assistant secretary; Mrs. J. L. Ingley, treasurer, and Raymond Bell, business manager.

Spending Pace In Governor Race Is Raised

More Than $10,000 Spent Last Week; Dan McCarty Spends Nearly Half Of It

TALLAHASSEE—Florida's candidates for governor spent more than $10,000 last week carrying their campaigns for votes to the people.

Weekly financial statements filed with the Secretary of State's office today showed Dan McCarty spent $1,000.22. Alvin Adams had expenditures of $434.50 and Bradley Odham spent $1,032.16.

Contributions from supporters of the big three in the Democratic race amounted to nearly $11,000. McCarty's friends gave him a total of $6,950. Adams collected $2,745 and Odham $1,007.

In the statewide race from Ballroom and Public Utilities commissioner, Bradley Street reported spending $407.80 and making a personal deposit of $1,000 in his campaign fund. D. S. Damsby said he spent $132.82 and received no contributions. T. S. Ferguson reported expenditures of $608.90 and no contributions. The report of incumbent Richard A. Mack, who qualified for re-nomination last week, did not appear in the morning mail.

State School Superintendent Thomas D. Bailey's monthly report listed expenditures of $183.93 and contributions of $1,345. No report was available from his opponent, Ray Van Dusen.

Commissioner of Agriculture Nathan Mayo said he spent $201.27 and received money gifts of $300. There was no report from his opponent, John Kennedy.

Attorney General Richard Ervin, who is unopposed for re-election, filed a final report showing he has refunded $381 in campaign contributions to five donors.

Dale E. Spencer, an announced but as yet not qualified candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, said he spent $9 last week and collected nothing.

A Republican candidate for governor, Harvey S. Swan, listed $13.34 spent and nothing collected. There were no reports from Bert Acker and Elmore F. Kitzmiller, who also filed the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

William A. Gaston, who is running against Sen. Spessard L. Holland on the Democratic ticket, filed a report showing nothing collected.

Snyder Tries To Save Plan Changing IRB

Treasury Secretary Says Truman Proposal Will Not Bar Local Jury Trial

WASHINGTON—Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder, scrapping to save President Truman's proposed reorganization of the Internal Revenue Bureau from threatened Senate defeat, assured Senators today it would not wipe out taxpayers' rights to get local jury trials in disputed tax cases.

Snyder said the assurance in a letter read to the Senate Finance Committee by Internal Revenue Commissioner John H. Dunlop appeared before the group as a witness for the reorganization proposal. The committee is considering whether to disapprove it.

Mr. Truman's plan would, among other things, abolish the present 61 offices of collectors of internal revenue and replace them with some 25 district offices.

Some Senators have suggested that this change might mean a citizen could not bring a tax suit in his own federal district court but would have to go to Washington.

Snyder insisted that was not correct, and said his view was upheld by Attorney General J. Howard Hughes.

Before the Senate committee is a resolution of disapproval sponsored by Sen. George (D. Ga.) It has strong backing.

Mr. Truman's plan will become effective on Friday of next week unless the Senate meantime adopts the resolution.

Dunlop told the Senators that the reorganization plan presents the basic issue—whether Congress wants to "reject the President's recommendation that the tax collectors be taken out from under the political patronage system."

The plan would put all officials in the Bureau of Internal Revenue under Civil Service except for the top man, the commissioner.

Snyder said it is necessary that the public have full confidence in the fairness and impartiality of revenue officials, requires that revenue officials should be free from the control of local political clubs.

George has contended that it is not the system, but the type of collectors who have been chosen that has brought the tax collecting into disrepute in many places.

Conservative Is Named To Form French Cabinet

Antoine Pinay Seeks To Find Way Out Of Financial Impasse

PARIS—Antoine Pinay, 60-year-old Conservative, said today he would see if he could form a new cabinet to get France out of its political and financial jam.

Pinay announced his decision to newsmen after a half-hour talk with President Vincent Auriol.

"My first impulse was to refuse," he said, "but when the president insisted I consented to do so. I must try to make an effort."

He added that when he had done that, he would give Auriol a definite reply.

Pinay is expected to try and form another middle-of-the-road government similar to that of Edgar Faure, which collapsed early Friday morning. His chances are regarded as highly doubtful.

Pinay is a former premier, and he and Robert Schuman were the two main figures in the formation of the Independent Republican Party, a right-wing group.

Some said Pinay had little interest in succeeding. They figured that Auriol himself, a socialist, had called on him only to make clear the impossibility of enforcing a "keep to the right" policy on the middle of the roaders who have been holding the reins for the past five years in France. There have been 19 cabinets since the liberation.

France's financial and monetary crisis has stalled development of the 4th Infantry Division, composed of Florida and Georgia National Guard units, will take place at 8 p. m. today at a military review in the Duval County Armory.

Major Gen. Joseph C. Hutchison, lieutenant general, will effect the transfer of command of the division to Major Gen. Joseph H. France of Hinesville, Ga. Both will make brief addresses.

Jacksonville units of the 18th Infantry will take part in the review and change of command. Military music for the event will be provided by the 310th Army Band, Organized Reserve Corps, under direction of Warrant Officer Richard A. Fuller. Among military leaders to participate in the review are Major Gen. Mark W. Lance, Florida adjutant general who will represent the governor; Brig. Gen. Maxwell C. Snyder of Jacksonville, the new assistant division commander; and Col. Robert B. Harkness of Lake City, commanding officer of the 134th Infantry Regiment.

Big Fees And Profits Made In Korea Hit

Senator Johnson Appoints Special Investigators To Study War Shipments

WASHINGTON—Reports of big fees and $1,000-a-day profits on the shipping of war materials to Korea marked new moves today for wide-scale investigation of how the government's Merchant Marine is being handled.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) assigned investigators of his Senate preparedness subcommittee to look into reports of highly profitable ship charters, promising to make the story public at hearings later.

The Senate investigations subcommittee, meanwhile, sought to wind up this week one phase of its study of fat profits reaped by a group of public figures on the chartering and selling of war surplus ships in the late 1940's. Some members were demanding that it follow through with a much wider study of the ship disposal program.

Johnson's newly launched inquiry deals with the government's big fleet of merchant ships and how some of them have been chartered to private firms under negotiated contracts, and others turned over to shipping agents on a fixed-fee basis.

Spokesmen for the Maritime Board, which owns the vessels, said the chartering details were handled by the Military Sea Transport Service (MSTS). They said MSTS draws the vessels from the board's big fleet, primarily to haul munitions to Korea, Japan and other bases.

NEW YORK—Newbold Morris, President Truman's corruption cleanup man, doesn't think very much of two of Mr. Truman's appointments.

The two, William O'Dwyer, former mayor of New York, and ambassador to Mexico, and Mr. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, the President's military aide.

Morris said O'Dwyer, an NBC's "Meet the Press" guest, wouldn't have had either O'Dwyer or Vaughan around if he had his way.

O'Dwyer, who twice defeated Morris for mayor of New York City, figured prominently in the Senate crime investigation here last year. Vaughan was a key figure in a Senate probe into the Bremer kidnaping.

Here is a portion of the remarks Morris made in an interview with a newsman in an objective state. He wouldn't have appointed him at all.

Morris: "No."

Spencer: "Who was responsible for appointing him?"

Morris: "Obviously the President appointed him."

Marshall Badoglio Has Close Escape From Angry Mob

Italian General In Ethiopian Campaign Rescued By Police

ROME—With cries of "traitor" and "assassin" ringing in his ears, Marshal Pietro Badoglio today was rescued by police from an angry mob.

The one-time leader of the Italian campaign against Ethiopia had attempted to escape from the city of Addis Ababa, where he was held in a British prisoner of war camp 10 years ago.

Badoglio, dressed in civilian clothes, when he entered the church of St. Maria degli Angeli. He took a seat in the front pew.

As he stepped out of the church, a number of women, whose husbands or sons had died in the Ethiopian War and who had attended the memorial mass recognized Badoglio.

"Traitor!" yelled a woman.

"Assassin!" yelled another.

Badoglio, who had been in the crowd in front of the church began running around the church.

Several carabinieri broke into the human tide around Badoglio and drove him away in a small military truck.

Pinay is a slightly right of center member of the Independent Republican Party, a right-wing group.

Some said Pinay had little interest in succeeding. They figured that Auriol himself, a socialist, had called on him only to make clear the impossibility of enforcing a "keep to the right" policy on the middle of the roaders who have been holding the reins for the past five years in France. There have been 19 cabinets since the liberation.

Mr. Williams, who for the past three years has been serving as chairman of the county rent stabilization board, assumed charge of the rent control office, room 222 of the Melch Building, this morning.

Mr. Bryant, who will remain at the club for a few days, stated that he is very happy to have Mr. Williams in charge of the office, where he will be assisted by Mrs. E. Oechner of DeFuria, who has been serving there for the past month.

With the deadline set for Mar. 9, in which to file registration statements, approximately 900 property owners have sent them in, Mr. Williams stated this morning.

Citrus Receipts Are Increased By 740% Since 1924

GAINESVILLE (AP)—Although total Florida citrus receipts have soared 740 per cent, other fruits, nuts and field crops 216 per cent, and livestock 510 per cent since 1924—farmers are not making money hand over fist, a University of Florida economist says.

Each acre of the university's Agricultural Experiment Station, with inflation, higher labor, materials and equipment costs have sent the farmers' share of receipts and that large expenditures of money, time and labor were responsible for increased receipts.

Conference Given New Hope For Cure Of Cancer Patients

BY ALTON L. BLAKEHIRE Associated Press Science Reporter. CINCINNATI (AP)—An X-ray merry-go-round has knocked out cancers in dozens of apparently hopeless cancer patients, the second National Cancer Conference was told today.

Some 500 no signs of cancer two years later. But it's too soon to call any of them cured.

The merry-go-round is a revolving chair. The patient sits in it while a powerful two million volt X-ray beam is aimed at his hidden cancer. As the patient spins slowly, the beam concentrates on the cancer. The spinning means less damaging X-rays on his skin and healthy tissues, and thus a bigger dose hitting the cancer.

WEST PALM BEACH (AP)—The Florida Democratic Executive Committee is voting on a platform which contains a plank saying—in effect—that President Truman should not run for re-election.

The balloting is a left-over piece of business from the committee's meeting at St. Petersburg Jan. 5 when the platform was submitted.

Unable to reach a decision on whether to adopt it, the committee decided on the mail ballot. Chairman E. B. Donnell, West Palm Beach, said today an official mail ballot has gone out to the committee's 134 members and that they will be tabulated at the Florida Hotel, Tampa, at noon Saturday.

CHRYSLER POWER STEERING!

Now I feel sorry for women who don't have my Chrysler Power Steering! You'll never know what she means till you try Chrysler's Full-Time Power Steering yourself! Even other cars with so-called power steering don't offer as much new safety and ease as she offers! On every turn, hydraulic power does 4/5 of her work, her hand does only 1/5! On every turn, she turns her wheel 1/2 inch distance than other cars! At every instant, turning or not, her hands have 4 times her former power to hold and control her car's front wheels! She zooms into parking places you wouldn't even try. She slips through traffic with the precision of a watch. She breezes over bad roads with never a feel of wheel fight, far under control as never before! She can start in the morning and drive into the night with never a hint of shoulder strain... with the same wonderful "wheel feel" and safety in every mile! Come try this amazing new steering yourself. We promise you never felt anything like it!
