Rev. Boepple Will

Church Sunday

The Rev. E. H. Boepple, formerly of Cleveland, O., will be the special speaker during the 7:30 p. m. evangelistic hour at the Church of the Nazarene this Sunday. The church is located on the corner of Second and Maple, just one block off French Ave.

The Rev. Boepple has studied at the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago and the Missionary Training Institute of Nyack, N. Y. He is an ordained minister at the hands of Dr. Ralph Neighbors and has preached for more than 30 years. Four years were spent in home missionary work with the mountaintop people of southern Kentucky and later as assistant superintendent of the Huntington City Mission of Huntington, W. Va.

The Rev. Boepple has been living with his wife and daughter at 611 Park Ave., in Sanford, but will be leaving immediately to begin other duties in Lakeland.

The Rev. R. H. Spear Jr., pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, invites the public to enjoy this 7:30 p. m. Sunday evangelistic hour, "A variety of special music, both instrumental and vocal, is planned for your enjoyment," he said.

Wright Is Named To Industry Group

Membership on the industry committee to explore ways of pushing sales of fresh Florida citrus fruit has been named and includes J. Dan Wright of Sanford, one of the representatives of the Florida Citrus Commission.

Representing Florida Citrus Mutual are John Arico and C. F. Fawcett, both of Orlando; John T. Lesley of Tampa; Jules W. Branga of Clearwater and Robert Rainey of Lake Hamilton.

Florida Citrus Commission representatives, other than Wright, are Chairman Horace H. Swartz of Avonida; Kay Scaler of Wainwright; Ross Blyson of Titusville and Frank Chase of Wintergreen.

Sheriff J. Luther Hobby has taken over the office of the Seminole County Sheriff following action by the Senate and the adjournment of the Legislature yesterday afternoon.

Senator Douglas Stenstrom, on his return to Sanford last night stated, "Sheriff Hobby's suspension was sent to the Senate along with all other suspension orders which Gov. Collins has made since the close of the last session of the Legislature."

Senator Stenstrom explained "The State Constitution requires the Governor to send these suspension orders to the Senate at the next regular or special session of the Legislature."

"The State Senate must then act on the question of whether or not the suspended official shall be removed from office. In other words, the Senate, by law, must determine whether or not the officer's suspension is to be made permanent by removing him from office," said the Senator.

Governor Collins suspended Sheriff Hobby last December in accordance with the policy he adopted at the beginning of his term as Governor that "he would suspend any public official who is indicted by the State of Federal governments."

"He is the first Governor to have adopted this policy," explained Senator Stenstrom. In the past, Governors have suspended officials after the trial and conviction upon the indictment.

If the Senate takes no action whatsoever on a suspension order of the Governor, the official is automatically reinstated upon the adjournment of the Legislature.

All of the Governor's suspension orders were sent to the Senate on Thursday, July 26, said Senator Stenstrom.

"Governor Collins had advised me just before the Senate went into session on that date that he had sent his orders concerning Sheriff Hobby to the Senate for whatever action the Senate desired to take," the Senator explained.

"On the Tuesday following, having conferred further with the Governor's office and the Attorney General's office on the legal aspects of the case, I advised Senate President Davis that I was prepared to make a recommendation to the Senate."

"Under the rules of the Senate, these matters must be considered in Executive session and President Davis suggested that I bring the matter before the Senate that morning, since it was commonly believed that the legislature would adjourn on Tuesday and if we adjourned without action, Sheriff Hobby would be automatically reinstated. I felt the Senate should be acquainted with all of the facts of the case," he said.

"My recommendation to the Senate was based upon the sole fact that I could not recommend that the official be removed from the term of office to which he had been elected in 1952 by the people of Seminole County, upon charges which had not been substantiated in court resulting in conviction," said Senator Stenstrom. "To have done so would have been a determination of guilt of the official even though he had not been found guilty by a jury and would have denied the official the fundamental principle of American law that a man is innocent until proven guilty," he added.

"For me to leave recommended the removal of a public official in the absence of proof of charges against him in a court of competent jurisdiction by a jury of his fellow citizens and in the face of a clear expression by the people who are in the final analysis the government gains its strength, would have been an unjustifiable violation of justice," Senator Stenstrom concluded.

Sheriff Luther Hobby took over the Sheriff's office this morning from Denver Cordell and at once retained James Singletary as office Deputy, Miss Ann Tyler as clerk, with Denton Prevatt and Morgan McClelland as deputies. John Bennett has been retained as jailor with Andy Evans serving as relief jailor.

"There will be some additions to my staff as soon as I can get suitable qualified deputies to serve the people," Hobby said this morning.

"The Sheriff's office will be in the hands of the people," Hobby stated, "and I will appreciate any information that will enable me to have better law enforcement."

Sheriff Hobby said "We will give the people the best law enforcement in the State."

Enterprise Church Opens Parish House For Inspection

By HELEN SNOODGRASS
ENTERPRISE — The village of Enterprise now has another valuable improvement. Last Sunday, the Rev. Leo Heston, rector of the All Saints Episcopal Church, announced the new building, to be called "The Parish House," would be open for inspection. Many of the congregation availed themselves of this opportunity and were pleased with what they saw.

The building was the Old Lyman place and stands in a corner lot at De Bary and Main Sts. The back of the lot joins the property of the church, so that the north side of De Bary Ave. from Clark to Main Sts., a distance of 400 feet, will be church property. The building has been entirely reconditioned, and the main room of hall is 25 x 34 feet.

Enterprise was first settled in 1841 and in 1854 became the County Seat of Volusia County. Jacob Brock, who was an early settler, built what was called the Brock House which became a famous hotel for many years. The Episcopal Society held its meetings in the Brock House for many years, beginning in the early 1870s. The land for the church was given by Lester Clark and the church was built in 1883 at a cost of $2,000.

The Parish House was formerly the County Jail and was built in 1888 and stood near the County Court House which is now the site of the present school building.

In 1888 Enterprise had a population of 90 people and in that year the County Seat was moved to DeLand.

The firm of Thayer and Sauls had a store in what is now the parish lot and moved the old jail to the rear of their store and used it for a storeroom.

It now becomes a Parish House and it is hoped it may be of use for many years. The land, 150 feet on Main St. and 200 feet on De Bary Ave., with the building, is a gift to the Diocese by Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Alling of Orange City for many years and is presently the chairman of the Board of the Florida Bank of DeLand.

Board Opens Bids

Bids for the construction of eight classrooms and a cafeteria at Lyman School were opened by the Seminole County Board of Public Instruction this morning at the Educational Building on Commercial Ave.

Four firms and contractors submitted bids for the Lyman School expansion and addition.

Apparent low bidder for the huge contract was Henry E. Stephens of Orlando who submitted a bid of $180,750 and an alternate bid which would increase the cost by $5,200. Contract time of the bid was 200 days.

Next low bidder for the school addition was the J. C. Harper Construction Co. of Orlando whose bid was $199,400 with an alternate bid adding $5,620 and building time set at 170 days.

The third low bidder was Carl W. Hoppes of Orlando. The Hoppes bid was for $202,739 with an alternate bid adding $4,961 and contract time of 170 days.

The highest bidder was the Carroll Daniel Construction Co. of Sanford whose bid was for $210,140 with an alternate bid adding $6,382 and the building time set at 210 days.

Bids were not awarded at this morning's meeting pending a study of the bids and specifications.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Rayburn T. Milwee said that bids would be awarded as soon as each bid was scrutinized and studied.

Raceway Prepared To Present Plans To Racing Commission

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Gov. Collins brought the 10-day-old special session of the Florida Legislature to an abrupt end yesterday with a history-making adjournment proclamation.

The action caught the startled House of Representatives in the midst of a red-hot battle over an interposition resolution which would have declared "all illegal encroachments on the rights of states null and void."

Collins advised both houses by message that he was using his constitutional powers to adjourn the Legislature when they were in disagreement on adjourning.

The Senate, which had sped the governor's segregation program and other emergency legislation to passage, had been trying for three days to go home. Adjournment had been blocked by House forces who thought stronger legislation was needed to head off race mixing.

The formal announcement came as no surprise in the Senate, where many members had been advised the action was in prospect. Most House members appeared so startled, they sat glued to their seats.

Gov. Collins said he had been considering his adjournment action a couple of days, but had hoped that the Legislature might wind up on its own. He acted when it appeared there was a definite deadlock.

The special session of the Florida Legislature, convened by Gov. Collins July 22 to deal with segregation problems and other emergency matters, passed the following:

A law authorizing county school boards to assign pupils to schools for which they are best fitted on the basis of intellectual ability, scholastic achievement and various sociological and psychological factors.

A law authorizing county school boards when faced with the necessity of dismissing teachers under continuing contracts or hiring new teachers to make their selections on sociological and psychological factors as well as teaching experience and educational qualifications.

A law giving extraordinary police powers for five years to the governor to cope with emergencies threatening the peace and tranquility of the state.

A law giving the governor for five years power to make rules and regulations for the use of public facilities.

A resolution condemning the U. S. Supreme Court for usurping the sovereign rights of the states and urging Congress to initiate an amendment to the U. S. Constitution clarifying the powers reserved to the state.

Youthful Retirees Pushing De Bary Growth

Even if a motorist obeys the speed limit (45 mph), he still can get away with one "Welcome to De Bary" sign in less than 10 minutes. Should he glance beyond the business strip on U. S. 17-92 he can see what looks like a typical Central Florida town of pastel-colored concrete-block houses with "jalousied" Florida rooms and carports, tucked amid pines, palm-trees and miral lakes.

Not so typical are the folks seen tending gardens, DeBary's chief pastime. For nearly nine of every ten of the town's 2,000 residents are Yankees who no longer work for a living, who are mostly 65 to 75 years old, and who since year ago had never heard of DeBary because it didn't exist.

Copies of today's edition of The Sanford Herald are being distributed to every resident in De Bary through the interest and cooperation of the Florida State Bank in Sanford.

DeBary is one of a growing number of communities devoted almost entirely to the nation's increasing number of folks over 65, who now represent one in every 13 Americans, compared to only one in 25 in 1930. Most of these people who pack up their belongings, break lifelong ties and head for towns like DeBary are lured by balmy climate, low-cost housing and tiny or non-existent property taxes.

Leaving Is Better
"Sure our town is different," explains a perplexed 69-year-old former New Jersey machinist edging his Bermuda grass. "Most folks live where they live because they were born there or found work there. DeBary is full of folks who want to escape things like cold winters and high taxes. And don't say I said it, but leaving feels a heap better when everyone around you is doing it too."

Despite frequent references to leaving, talks with DeBaryites indicate their retirement is anything but what Webster calls "a withdrawal into seclusion." One reason: "Unincorporated DeBary is ruled by absentee Volusia County commissioners and has no local government. So, "to get things done," retirees have formed a raft of organizations to tackle civic chores ranging from manning the volunteer fire department to designing a house-numbering scheme for homes now identified by name-plates and often by owners' old home-state license plates.

"Remember? Why I'm busier than a kitten on a marble counter," says Ed Healey, who retired

History-Making Action Closes Special Session Critical Shortage Of Librarians Told

Dr. Louis Shores said that nationwide the shortage has been estimated at 18,000 librarians and that more job openings are being created by the minute.

A newly approved Congressional bill, he said, provides millions of dollars of federal aid for rural library extension and Florida will get an estimated $133,200 a year. This is to be matched by state and local money.

"In Florida alone," said Dr. Shores, "28 counties have virtually no free library service and of the remaining 41 all plan or need extension of service to rural areas."

Job openings in public libraries are only a few among many job prospects for graduate librarians though. The armed forces need base librarians and research librarians for research, colleges need catalogers, classification specialists and science librarians, and elementary schools need more and more library people.

"Librarianship is not the kind of profession many people think it is," he said. "It is primarily concerned with the dissemination of ideas through all the media of communication—books, films, recordings, television, radio and other means."

There's always a job waiting for a good trained librarian, Dr. Shores said. Last June's graduates at FSU received an average of 12 offers apiece. All had jobs before they left school and the pay ranged anywhere from $3,000 to $5,000 with as high as $6,000 a year in one instance. These pay brackets were for inexperienced graduates and he said they could expect pay to go up with experience.

At FSU, which has the only accredited training center for librarians within a 500 mile radius of Central Florida—students start on their library studies in the junior year. A certificate can be obtained in two years but most students go on to a Master's degree and become fully certified librarians. Students entering the School with a Bachelor's degree can complete their library course and get a Master's in one year.

Ministers Disclose Objections

"We are now prepared and fully qualified to present our plans qualifications and reports to the State Racing Commission at their August meeting in Jacksonville," William R. Kemp, president of Seminole Park Raceway said this morning.

The Seminole County Ministerial Association took action at its meeting yesterday at the First Methodist Church opposing a proposed tract in Seminole County. The association issued a statement which said, "We do not believe that the best interests of the people of Seminole County will be served by a further expansion of gambling through the introduction of pari-mutuel betting on harness horse racing. We believe that a state which legalizes and taxes any form of gambling to support public education is tearing down with one hand and building up with the other."

This morning, Kemp stated that the teachers of Seminole County received a $200 salary increase "by revenues derived from racing."

"We plan to continue the development of the track," Kemp said, "bitting toward making it one of the greatest attractions of the east, adding 10 additional barns and additional facilities as well as beautifying."

"We sincerely believe that with the high type operation we propose and with the revenues that will be produced, this type facility, which you must know will give Seminole County 17 times more revenue per capita than DuDe County and 10 times more than Orange County," Kemp said.

The Seminole County Ministerial Association, in its statement, said "We believe that gambling, whether big-time or private, whether legal or illegal, is wrong. We believe that legalized betting on horse or dog racing belongs in the same moral classification with betting on card games or athletic contests, pitching pennies to the line, punch boards, slot machines, bolita, shooting dice, bingo, lotteries, or the numbers racket. We oppose to gambling, period."

Kemp, this morning, added to his statement that "We sincerely believe that harness horse racing, as we propose it at Seminole Park Raceway, will be a great stimulus toward attracting unusual and substantial wealth as well as to advance keen interest in the development of the county—in real estate purchases and other types of investments by the people of wealth which are attracted by the harness horse racing business."

"We have our plans ready to go ahead," said Kemp, "and we are gradually improving our harness training program which is attracting some of the wealthiest and best known owners, trainers and horses in the United States."

Kemp stated "We are establishing a booth at the Harrisburg, Pa., sale in November as well as attending the Lexington, Ky., trial runs in October. This publicity outlet naturally publicizes Seminole County as well as our track."

"As a slogan," Kemp said this morning, "I would use the Florida Statute as given in Section 330.018 which reads "It is the finding of the legislature of the State that the operation of horse racing tracks in the State is a substantial business compatible to the best interests of the State and the taxes derived therefrom constitute an integral part of the tax structure of the state and counties."

"It is the desire on our part," Kemp explained, "to be an asset rather than a liability to the county and we promise one of the finest tracks of its kind in the nation to the people of the county."

Legislature Close Stops Introduction Of Annexation Bill

Expected to come before the Special Session of the legislature this year was a bill for annexation to the City of Sanford by petition of the majority of the people in the area to be annexed.

However, a twist involving time prevented the bill from being presented at the special session which was adjourned yesterday afternoon.

Senator Douglas Stenstrom, in a statement this morning, explained the situation which existed and which prevented the bill from being presented according to plans.

He said "In order to present a local bill in the legislature—the kind which Representative Mack N. Cleveland Jr., and Gordon Frederick, and I intended to present at this session of the Legislature—notice of the intent to propose the bill must be published in the newspaper one time 30 days prior to its introduction."

"The notice," Senator Stenstrom said, "in this case, was published on July 3, just a few days after Gov. Collins stated that he had set the date of July 23 for the calling of the special session."

Explained Senator Stenstrom, "The 30 days would have expired today, Aug. 2, and the bill could not have been introduced today."

"This, of course, was made impossible by the Governor's adjournment of the special session yesterday afternoon," he said.

"As a consequence, any further legislative action must necessarily be postponed until the next regular session of the legislature in April, 1957," the Senator said.

Kids In Retirement Town Are Yearning For Youthful Fling

From the Wall Street Journal
DEBARY, Fla. — Older folks speak fondly of youth but some of the 106 youngsters living here, mostly children of merchants and Navy personnel stationed at nearby Sanford, aren't so sure they are overly welcome in this retirement town.

"We have to make our own fun here if we have any at all because most activities are for old folks," gripes a teen-age girl sipping a soft drink at the drug store fountain.

"Even riding up and down the street bothers the old boys," her crew-cut boy friend adds. "Someone says they got up a petition against us kids but I don't think they'd go that far."

Mrs. N. McCalley Succumbs At Home

Mrs. Nellie B. McCalley, 85, died yesterday at her home, 1115 Palmetto Ave., following a lingering illness of many years.

The widow of the late Herbert A. McCalley, she had lived in Sanford for 43 years. She was born Dec. 25, 1870 in Fredericksburg, Va., and was a member of the First Methodist Church of Sanford.

Mrs. McCalley is survived by two sons, H. W. McCalley, Sanford; and E. W. McCalley, Dracoco, Ark.; two grandsons, E. W. McCalley Jr., Greensboro, N. C.; and Wallace D. McCalley of Sanford; one granddaughter, Sylvia McCalley, Sanford; great grandsons, E. W. McCalley III, Greensboro, N. C.; one great-granddaughter, Susan Nadine McCalley of Greensboro, N. C.

Funeral services are at 4 p. m. tomorrow at Brisson Funeral Home with the Rev. Milton Wray officiating. Burial will be in Greenwood cemetery.

Weather

Generally fair today and Friday except for widely scattered afternoon (thundershowers) low tonight 64-74.

MAN STRUCK BY TRAIN

MIAMI — A Belina Carnovale, 3, started across a train track in nearby Hialeah yesterday. When he stopped to pick up groceries he had dropped, a train struck him, knocked him 25 feet and killed him.

VALDOSTA TO BUILD NEW NEWSPAPER PLANT

LAKELAND (AP)—A spy young newspaperman of 23 stopped off here to get some ideas about a new plant he is to build.

E. L. Turner, publisher of the Valdosta Times, looked over the Lakeland Ledger plant yesterday when left for Miami where he is a study newspaper there.

Turner explained plans for the new Valdosta newspaper plant are about jelled and a site selected, but no contract has been let.

Youthful

in us," says anti-skip Harold Lynch, a former Readers Digest editor. "In Pleasantville (N. Y.) everything was done for us. It's wonderful to do for ourselves now." Mr. Lynch was one of 300 DeBary residents who showed up at a hearing in the county seat to push through a local zoning code, the town's biggest civic hassle to date.

DeBary's do it ourselves spirit also built the civic association's community hall, which townspeople say is valued at $15,000 but cost only $3,500, thanks to donated labor and materials. When the group began meeting in 1948 members set on nail bags in a warehouse.

"Experts in Everything!" DeBary's size here's no dearth of talent to shepherd social and civic activities. "We have super in everything," says Abraham L. Lincoln, a former Lawtonville, N. J., English teacher and new president of DeBary's chamber of commerce. "Just off-hand I know of 13 retired doctors and dentists, a handful of colonels, a union man, and a lot of firemen, policemen, machinists and carpenter officials."

Mr. Lincoln explains that DeBary's chamber of commerce is not a chamber in the usual sense. "We're organized more to promote unity, sort of like the Kiwanis or Rotary." The chamber solicits no industry, taking its cue from a survey which showed three out of five residents wanted no factory in town.

Many of DeBary's 40-odd businesses, figuring the chamber office's response them adequately, mostly turned the tables on what they call "the retired folks group" by organizing a Lions club with membership restricted to active businessmen.

"The Lions club is our businessmen's organization," says Ed Redman, town's only, and very busy, barber. "A man might have been a Lion for 50 years but he can't join us unless he's in business."

Some DeBary businesses are run by folks who have "retired from retirement," but most mean others are younger people with children. "I'm still a lone wolf, but getting out of harness" at J. C. Horton, the 32-year-old proprietor of Horton's General Store, says it. As might be expected, there's occasional friction between the retirees and the retailers over what's best for DeBary. A Problem of Progress

"We can't have progress with some of these old folks wanting to make this a ghost town," remarks the owner of one of DeBary's three gas stations. "A lot of them are plumping to get higher" resented to by the town. Here it would make it quiet or safer but it would also hurt businessmen bad."

DeBary merchants have mixed feelings about the retiree market but most agree it is different. "Unless he's ready for a million headache business ought to stay away from retirement towns," means a DeBary grocer who naturally requests anonymity. "You get no big orders; every thing is in the pocket to 90-cent range. If I have all paper plates in a package they want me to break it open and sell them three."

Another grocer complains that although he might sell more dietetic foods than the average food store, his advantage is wiped out because the same customers often pass up his meat and eggs. Another worry: Since most DeBaryites are Northerners they often use unfamiliar Southern brands. A few recently got so riled at not finding their favorite peanut butter they wrote the manufacturer.

to gear their merchandise to an older population. George's 5-and-10 cent store reports garden supplies sell well in DeBary but aren't worth handling in the nearby DeLand store. Ellis Peterson, a "retired" California aviation mechanic and owner of a DeBary gift shop, found he was overstocked on birth announcements cards and short of golden wedding anniversary cards. "Our drug business is very, very good," asserts Mrs. Vincent Guruchari, who helps her husband run the town's only drug store. "We try to cater to the old folks. They're our bread and butter." Good sellers: Playing cards, magazines, paint-by-number kits, and distaste ice cream, salads and pastries which Mrs. Guruchari makes herself.

Mr. and Mrs. Guruchari, incidentally, think DeBary is a fine place to raise a family, and the opinion of this 36-year-old couple carries a good deal of weight—their nine children account for one out of every 13 kids in town.

Store owners here fret about losing sales to retailers in the larger cities of Sanford (7 miles away) and DeLand (10 miles). "Folks tend to shop where they bank and they can't bank here," explains a DeBary appliance store owner.

DeLand and Sanford merchants and bankers know they have a good thing in growing DeBary. Sanford stores now pay DeBaryites' fares from an outlying bus station to the shopping area. DeLand clothing stores plan to bring traveling fashion shows to DeBary women without cars.

Low Loans, More Deposits
"Those folks are the best kind of customers a bank can have," says enthusiastic T. E. Tucker, president of the Florida State Bank of Sanford. "They ask for few loans and mostly make deposits, which is important when money is so tight."

The Barnett National Bank in DeLand says it does a brisk business in safety deposit boxes with DeBaryites and "has a lot of active business in prospect in that area." Nearby investment offices also report DeBary retirees are a lucrative source of business.

"I go to DeBary about three times a week now to see clients and drum up business," says J. C. Bradley of A. M. Kidder & Co.'s DeLand office. "Mutual funds account for 75% of my business these days since they want diversification and an inflation hedge but haven't the time to keep up-to-the-minute on the market."

In DeBary, as in most small towns, the barbershop and the post office are mighty important meeting and talking spots. With some 700 customers a month, barber Redman is perhaps DeBary's busiest man. It's not unusual to find seven or eight waiting their turns in the shop. "Even though they all may be older than the next man who walks in, they will get up and sitte their chairs just to show their youth," notes Mr. Redman.

Biggest event in DeBary's daily routine is the distribution of mail into 803 boxes at the tiny post office. The three-day delivery—"One better than New York," beams Postmaster Walter Hanl—signals the busiest hours for retailers and creates main street's biggest traffic foul-ups.

Retired folks have more time, so they write more, explains Mr. Hanl. "And since they're away from children and old friends, everyone worries and writes them. Then from the first to the fourth each month we're deluged with enson and dividend checks. On top of that there are fat hometown newspapers coming in and boxes going out for grandkids and citrus gifts for friends."

When Mr. Hanl arrived eight years ago there were six other residents who picked up their mail from a card table in his grocery store. Since then the post office has moved up from fourth to second class. Mr. Hanl has become a full-time postmaster with three helpers and construction of a new post office has started.

A Clubhouse Mania
Like most retirement villages, DeBary was begun by real estate developers. A highway sign states that DeBary was "founded" by Plantation Estates, Inc., a firm that in 1948 began clearing brush and selling lots on 1,700 acres that 100 years earlier was the plantation of Count Frederic DeBary, a French nobleman who distributed champagne in this country. The Count's well preserved mansion now serves as a clubhouse for Plantation Estates residents.

A typical two-bedroom DeBary home sells for about $8,000, including the lot. With Florida's $5,000 homestead exemption and

Marine Thinks Corps Regrets Courtmartial

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP) — A crusty, bearded Marine hero, Lt. Gen. Lewis B. (Chesty) Puller, said today he thought the Marine Corps "regrets" the court martial of S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon.

In a voice like a fog horn, the general told the seven-man court-martial panel, "I think from the testimony of Gen. Pate yesterday that he agrees and regrets that the Marine Corps ever ordered that this man be tried."

The Marines' commandant Gen. Randolph McC. Pate, told the court yesterday he thought McKeon merited only a reduction in rank and a transfer.

The only Marine ever to hold five Navy Crosses and an Army Distinguished Service Cross, Puller spoke in his normal battlefield voice. For his testimony, the microphones were turned off.

Earlier, the high-domed hero was asked by Berman whether he thought the night march led by McKeon was good military practice, "apart from the results."

The general replied "In my opinion, the reason American soldiers made out so poorly in Korea was mostly due to lack of night training. If we are going to win the next war, in my opinion, 90 percent of the training time should be allotted to night training."

Berman asked, "Do I take it you consider the march good?" Said Puller, "good."

Retirement Age For Women Lowered
WASHINGTON, (AP) — Women between the ages of 62 and 65 and an estimated 340,000 disabled persons 50 and over were made eligible for new Social Security benefits yesterday.

President Eisenhower signed, with some expressed reservations, a bill to lower the retirement age for women and to set up for the first time a system of federal payments to workers totally and permanently disabled at age 60 and above.

The new benefits for women will be reflected in December checks. An estimated 300,000 widows will become eligible for full benefits at 62. Working women and wives of retired workers may elect to draw somewhat reduced benefits at 65 or wait for full benefits at 65. Officials have estimated that about 300,000 in each category will choose the lowered retirement age.

Melvin Douglas Favors Footlights
HOLLYWOOD, (AP) — Playgoers who pack the Huntington Hartford Theatre nightly are amazed when Melvin Douglas comes on for his curtain call after performing in "Inherit the Wind."

For two hours they have watched Douglas slouching around the stage, scratching himself and orating in a manner that seems a perfect re-creation of the great lawyer Clarence Darrow.

But when the play is over, the actor comes out for his bows erect and smiling. Suddenly the audience recognizes him as the gay, debonair performer who starred in the wonderfully sophisticated films of the '30s.

The role of Darrow in the dramatic version of the Scopes trial is perhaps the peak achievement of Douglas' career so far. Probably he never could have had the chance to do such a part in the movies, which rarely love type casting. That's one of the reasons he has favored the footlights over films in recent years.

"I would like to do pictures if they were put together with the same care as plays," he said candidly. "But they aren't. The old story about meeting your costar when you start filming the first scene is too true. You just don't have the rehearsal time that you get in the theater."

"I suppose that is because it is very expensive to have actors under salary and not be filming them. But I think the studios are short-sighted on this. If they did have rehearsals, they would get much better performances. And I think they would save money in shooting, because the actors would know what they were doing."

He cited the fact that many of the memorable and Oscar-winning performances in recent years have created their roles on the stage.

Princess Grace Expecting Baby In February

MONTE CARLO (AP) — Princess Grace of Monaco, is going to have a baby in February, the palace announced today.

The Princess, formerly actress Grace Kelly of Philadelphia, was married to Prince Rainier III of Monaco, in ceremonies here April 18 and 19.

By the terms of a treaty with France, this principality on the Mediterranean becomes subject to French taxes, and its member to the French draft, if Rainier dies without an heir.

As early as last January, months before the marriage ceremony took place, Lloyds of London offered odds of 20 to 1 that Princess Grace would have a baby. A month before the wedding, chatting with reporters in Paris, Prince Rainier said he hoped they would have several children.

Reports that the Princess was expecting have been current for weeks. An announcement from the palace last Sunday said the Prince and his bride were planning a two-month visit to the United States, beginning Sept. 30.

Story Of Spig Wead Is Being Filmed

HOLLYWOOD, (AP) — A decade or two ago, a familiar figure on the MGM lot was a crusty Navy...

He probably would have hooted at the notion of having his own life story told on the screen. Yet this week his own studio is starting to film "The Wings of Eagles"...

When MGM bought the story of the screen writer, it didn't take any convincing to sign John Ford to direct it. Ford was one of Wead's best friends. Likewise it was a cinch to sign John Wayne to play the leading role...

He was born Frank Wead, Schneer explained, but his Amish nickname was Spig and that stuck with him to the end of his days. Spig was one of the great naval names of World War I...

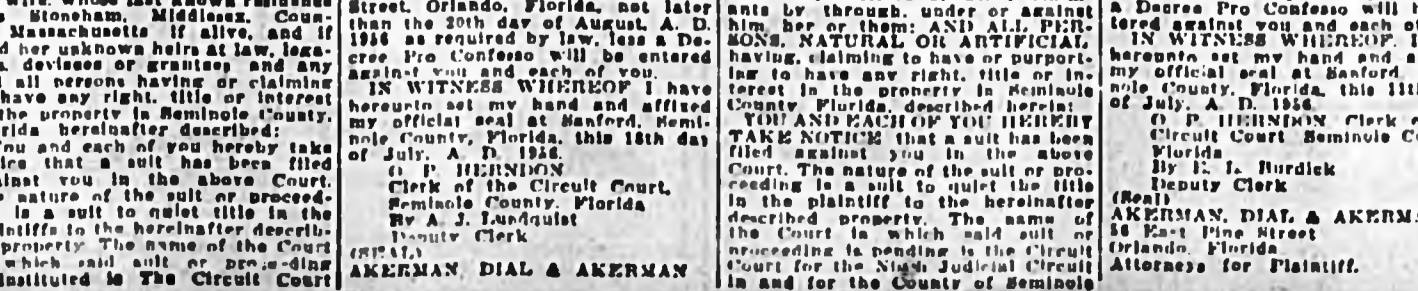

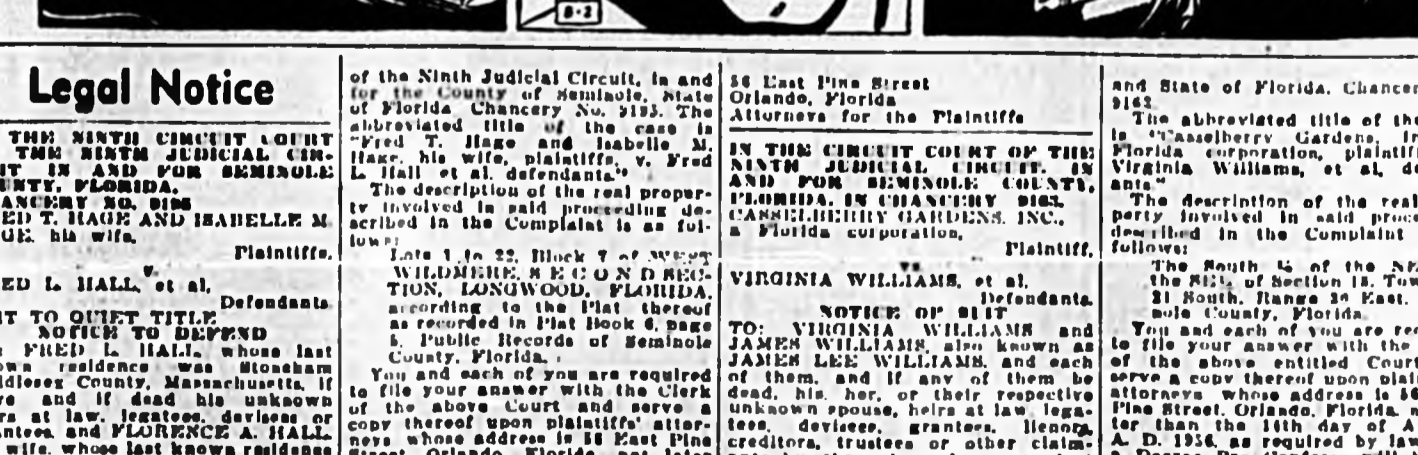

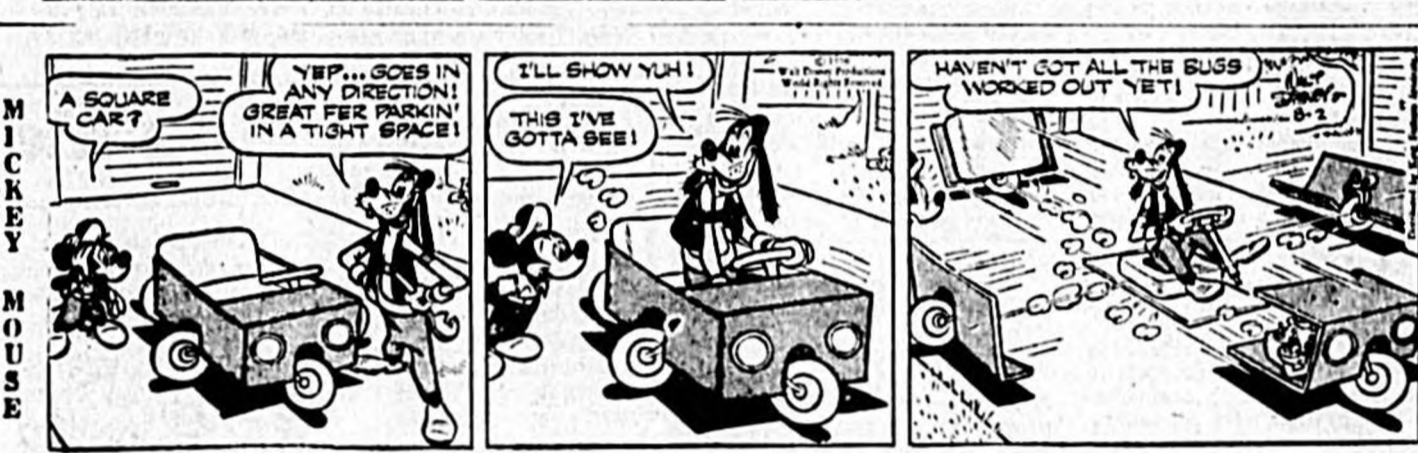

"He was living in a new house in San Diego," Schneer related. "He got up in the night to look at one of his daughters and was going back to bed when he slipped and fell downstairs..."

Wead broke his back. The doctors told him he would be forced to face the life of an invalid, but he refused to accept their decision...

His Navy career apparently doomed, he turned to writing, especially about flying, which he loved. He was associated with some of the memorable air pictures of the 30s and 40s...

It was natural that the dedicated Navy man would urgently desire to take an active part in World War II. His physical condition made that seem impossible...

"Wead's condition was that he be allowed to assume active duty. He did, and expended all his energy. His doctor, who is helping us with the picture, said he would have lived much longer if he hadn't gone on active duty," Schneer said.

Proposed Causeway Across Lake Monroe Will Serve Many People

There seems to be no opposition to the proposed causeway that is planned to span Lake Monroe and the St. Johns River. One of the most prominent features of the causeway-bridge is the fact that there will be no cost to the taxpayers of either county—Seminole or Volusia. All costs, including the $28-thousand necessary for the preliminary feasibility reports, will be paid from a bond issue which in turn is retired by minimum toll charges suggested at fifteen cents.

The purpose of a primary road, and the proposed causeway would be a part of Florida's vast primary road system, is to serve as many of Florida's motoring citizens as possible. And as described by the state's road code, the primary road system would connect county seats with cities of larger populations.

Sanford is certainly in favor of the causeway, and we are behind the proposal. For the simple reason that the new highway linking Highway 17-92 with the causeway would serve every community that is now being served by the inadequate route with the addition of another community.

Modern roads, not limited access highways, serve Florida communities better. For they give every motorist an opportunity to use the facilities. Safe transportation too, is provided in the new four-lane through-way.

We disagree with some that the highway would slow-up traffic through the present French Avenue Throughway—experience in the use of the Jacksonville Expressway and other toll facilities over the State give way to the fact that traffic moves fast without undue barriers.

Traffic has moved through Sanford over the French Avenue highway at a faster pace than ever before, with increased speed limits and the elimination of traffic lights that would tend to disrupt the smooth flow of the thousands of vehicles which pass through it daily.

There is no reason to burden the taxpayers of the State and the two counties with highways costs that would exceed, by many thousands of dollars, the costs of the proposed causeway. The causeway, now in its preliminary planning stage with the feasibility report on traffic underway, can be built for an estimated $4 1/2-million. Another route, necessitating the expenditure of funds for expensive right-of-ways, the building of a drawbridge, and the erection of a new rail bridge, would far exceed the present estimates on the proposed route and the building of a causeway.

Another feature proposed for the new causeway that many people are overlooking is the recreational facilities that will be provided. Two huge islands with access from both sides of the bridge will be thrown open to boating enthusiasts, fishermen, skiers, and picnickers. This feature alone is worthy of the highest consideration.

What we especially like about the causeway and the new route is the fact that Highway 17-92 will be in the immediate back yard of DeBary, eliminating the heavy truck and through traffic from DeBary's front yard. DeBary, being a retirement center, and one of Florida's most beautiful, would develop into a fabulous center and become the fastest growing community in the State with a new highway serving it.

Enterprise, DeBary's next door neighbor, would be given an opportunity to expand and develop into the community residents have dreamed of for years with the causeway and new route serving it as well as the other communities of Central Florida.

To be sure, Sanford doesn't want to be relegated to the unknown with its most important artery taken away from it. It would be foolish for Central Florida citizens to even think of such a proposal, even though there are some few who would felicitate such an idea.

The proposed causeway would serve DeLand, Orange City, DeBary, Enterprise, Sanford, Casselberry, and all other communities in the Central Florida system of highways and roads. It is another link toward completing a highway that would accommodate thousands of citizens and travelers who otherwise would have only a highway between so-called centers of population.

It is not selfishness on the part of Seminole County and Sanford citizens that the causeway is being boosted and promoted. It is a desire to make available to more and more people who, with their tax dollars, support their cities, counties, and state in an effort to better the enterprise of every individual, company, business, and corporation.

The realization of the causeway is just good business, good planning, and sound thinking on the part of those who know highways and the part they play in serving the people of every community.

There is no doubt that feasibility reports will sanction the causeway, the new route, and the building of a bridge and highway to better serve Florida as a whole. In so serving the state, the highway will also benefit the thousands of people even up to ten thousand or more, who use 17-92 either daily, frequently, once-in-awhile, or merely just once a year.

Highway 17-92 runs in both directions and will serve every person and every community in its path.

How Moscow Makes New Reds

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—The 17 teen-agers were excited and very happy at the Rome airport. They peeked at their passports, as do all new travelers, and giggled over the photos. The two girls were pedal pushers and wore very proud of them. Giuseppe sported a bonnie. Most of the other boys wore blue jeans, some faded and laches too short.

Their pinched faces and narrow chests were a tip-off to poverty and undernourishment. Back home I would have figured them as slum kids off for fresh air camp. Giuseppe, who sat beside me in the old two-engine Yugoslav plane, fumbled with his seat belt with growing embarrassment. I refused to help.

"Thank you," he said gratefully. "You see this is my first time in an airplane, although I am president of the Partisan Sons of Terzi."

"That's an important job," I said. "Are your friends from Terzi, too?"

"No, they are all presidents of local federations of Partisan children. We are going to Bulgaria as guests of the committee there. We are going to a big vacation camp on the Black Sea for six weeks."

Through coincidence, for the next four hours of chatting with Giuseppe and his friends in the intimacy of an airplane plane, I was to learn a partial answer to a question many Americans ask themselves:

"How are new Communists made in Western Europe by Moscow?"

Giuseppe was taken aback when I told him I was an American newspaperman. Then, as if to let me know he didn't think being an American was too bad, he said: "Rocky Marciano is an American-Italian-American."

"I asked if he liked sports."

"Oh, yes. Cycling, soccer and boxing. Skiing, too."

"You should have seen Tom Seaver win the downhill at the Cortina Olympics," I said.

Veterans Corner

Four suggestions to aid Florida survivors of deceased veterans in filing claims for death compensation and pension were offered today by Vernon S. Parker, manager of the Passa-Grille Veterans Administration Regional Office.

Parker said the Passa-Grille Regional Office now processes new claims for death benefits under a recent VA decentralization program. Formerly, these claims had to be sent to Philadelphia, Pa. for processing.

By following these four suggestions survivors will expedite the payment or rejection of claims, Parker said. The hints are:

1. If the veteran's death certificate does not contain a statement as to the cause of death, it should be accompanied by a certificate from the attending physician showing the dates of treatment and cause of death.

2. A widow filing a claim should furnish the record of her marriage to the veteran. If she or the veteran were previously married, she should furnish copies of death or divorce certificates to establish previous marriages were dissolved.

3. If minor children are among the survivors, birth or baptismal records are required, containing the names of both parents and date of birth. If the children were adopted, a copy of the court order of adoption is needed.

4. Parents filing a claim must establish their relationship to the veteran by furnishing VA with a certified copy of the veteran's birth or baptismal certificate containing the names of both parents and evidence of their dependency. Parker said this evidence is required by the laws governing compensation and pension payments.

Switch In Men, Parties Revealed

By JAMES MARLOW Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON (AP)—What a switch in men and parties!

Ten days ago, so far as is known, Harold E. Stassen and Sen. Estes Kefauver still yearned to move their furniture into the White House. Now Stassen says he has given up on the presidency permanently. Kefauver has given up on it this year, at least.

Nine days ago this month's political conventions looked like a picnic for the Republicans, a cat-and-dog fight for the Democrats. Now the opposite may be true, thanks to Stassen and Kefauver.

When the sun came up July 23 this was the picture:

1. Stassen, a presidential candidate in every election since 1924, wasn't running this year. He didn't have a chance anyway. President Eisenhower was running. There was no reason to think Stassen still didn't have the bug for 1960. Meanwhile, he seemed content with his job as Eisenhower's special assistant on disarmament.

2. The Republicans' professional politicians seemed to have everything neatly arranged that the delegates to the convention, opening Aug. 20, would have trouble finding something to do until the time came to rubber-stamp the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket again.

Before sundown July 23 Stassen began talking so loudly and long that the Republican convention may turn into a contest over the vice presidency.

Stassen said private polls showed Vice President Nixon would be a "burden" on the ticket—he says now Nixon would lose millions of votes—and should step aside in favor of Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts as Eisenhower's running mate.

Republican pros jumped him in a hurry, even suggested he resign. Instead, he talked more. Now Eisenhower has permitted him a month's leave to go out and stir up Republican delegates against Nixon.

Then on Sunday Stassen said he is not only not a candidate to be Eisenhower's running mate this year but has forever taken himself out of consideration for the presidency and vice presidency. Tuesday, before the sun came up, this was the Democratic picture:

1. A hot convention, opening Aug. 13, with Adlai Stevenson and Kefauver the front-running contenders for the presidential nomination and New York's Gov. Averell Harriman and others scrambling for it too.

Stevenson had a good edge in indicated strength but Kefauver, who practically exhausted himself in 1952 and again this year in pursuit of the Democratic nomination, still hoped, or so it seemed he'd be tapped.

Tuesday, Kefauver, suddenly and unexpectedly, announced he was quitting the race in favor of Stevenson and would give him his support. He said he realized he didn't have a chance.

Harriman says he's still running. So there may still be a fight at the convention. And a struggle over a civil rights plan, between Northern and Southern Democrats could bust the convention and the party wide open.

But at the moment things look calmer for the Democrats. Kefauver and Stevenson had nice things to say about each other. This was a switch from their bitterness in the primaries. Kefauver weeks ago had said he had been unpleasant about Stevenson only because "I got mad and lost my head."

Stevenson said private polls showed Vice President Nixon would be a "burden" on the ticket—he says now Nixon would lose millions of votes—and should step aside in favor of Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts as Eisenhower's running mate.

Tuesday, Kefauver, suddenly and unexpectedly, announced he was quitting the race in favor of Stevenson and would give him his support. He said he realized he didn't have a chance.

Harriman says he's still running. So there may still be a fight at the convention. And a struggle over a civil rights plan, between Northern and Southern Democrats could bust the convention and the party wide open.

But at the moment things look calmer for the Democrats. Kefauver and Stevenson had nice things to say about each other. This was a switch from their bitterness in the primaries. Kefauver weeks ago had said he had been unpleasant about Stevenson only because "I got mad and lost my head."

Stevenson said private polls showed Vice President Nixon would be a "burden" on the ticket—he says now Nixon would lose millions of votes—and should step aside in favor of Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts as Eisenhower's running mate.

Republican pros jumped him in a hurry, even suggested he resign. Instead, he talked more. Now Eisenhower has permitted him a month's leave to go out and stir up Republican delegates against Nixon.

Then on Sunday Stassen said he is not only not a candidate to be Eisenhower's running mate this year but has forever taken himself out of consideration for the presidency and vice presidency. Tuesday, before the sun came up, this was the Democratic picture:

1. A hot convention, opening Aug. 13, with Adlai Stevenson and Kefauver the front-running contenders for the presidential nomination and New York's Gov. Averell Harriman and others scrambling for it too.

Stevenson had a good edge in indicated strength but Kefauver, who practically exhausted himself in 1952 and again this year in pursuit of the Democratic nomination, still hoped, or so it seemed he'd be tapped.

Tuesday, Kefauver, suddenly and unexpectedly, announced he was quitting the race in favor of Stevenson and would give him his support. He said he realized he didn't have a chance.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CURT

HARRY KURNITZ told Caskie Sinnott about the day a writer invaded the two-by-four office of a struggling Hollywood agent with a small package in his arms. "What's in that package?" demanded the suspicious agent. "An inflatable lifeboat that will hold eight men," said the writer.

"One more wisecrack," decreed the agent, "and I no longer represent you. Now what's in that package?"

So the writer opened the package, pushed the button on the compressed air cylinder, and fled. The boat backed the agent so tightly into a corner it took the fire department to hack him out.

At the British Broadcasting Company, vows Paul Porter, they have a category for documents more sacred even than those classified as "top secret." These ultra-precious papers are stamped "B. B. C.", an abbreviation for "Burn Before Reading."

Signs That Indicate Emotional Instability

HOW emotionally stable are you? It's a fact that one out of every 10 Americans who graduate from high school this year will be under treatment for a sick mind sometime during his life.

In many cases, a mental check-up, especially if undertaken when signs of emotional illness first appear, may halt and prevent a complete mental breakdown.

What are some of these early signs of emotional illness? Dr. Samuel Lieberman, Chicago psychiatrist, says some of the warning signs which might mean the beginning of emotional problems are:

• Irritability, restlessness, rebelliousness, inability to concentrate, frequent feelings of gloom or despair.

• Distraction with one's lot in life, difficulty in getting along with associates or holding jobs, failure to make adjustments at home.

• Erratic eating or sleeping habits, overindulgence, excessive smoking, eating or drinking.

• Even repeated minor infractions of the law or flight from religion might indicate an emotional problem.

• Indications of more imminent danger of personality disintegration, Dr. Lieberman says, are the following signs:

- Chronic alcoholism, delusions or hallucinations, refusal to face reality, feelings of hopelessness, suicidal ideas or attempts at suicide, excessive or abnormal sexuality, habitual criminality and abusive and destructive behaviorisms.
- Preventive Measures
- What can you do to help prevent development of these symptoms? Dr. Lieberman lists these suggestions as guidelines:
- Love thy neighbor. Accept people as they are. Be tolerant of others and of your own shortcomings. Attend church regularly. Religion is soothing; it can act as a tranquilizer.
- Talk out your tensions. Learn to accept things you can't change. Control your anxieties, don't let them control you.
- Brass any doubt you might have through periodic check-ups. Unchecked and untreated mental stress, remember, can cause organic ailments such as ulcers, sores and high blood pressure. In addition, it can cause mental breakdowns.
- OVERCOME AND WIN
- T. O. C. is it possible, even having touched poison ivy, not to have reactions to it?
- Answer: Some persons can come in contact with ivy with perfect safety, while others are very likely to react even when the poison from it is carried to them indirectly.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

Oh that I were as in the days of my youth!—Job 8:12.

—We would like though to have the wisdom of old age—no one longs to be as foolish and inexperienced as he was as a callow youth. We would make the same mistakes, no doubt! It is fortunate that we can't live life over again.

Herlong Report

Someone said here the other 8 at night every day for the day that it might be a good idea to post week or so. If the last two weeks of Congress are abolished, the reason close you start wondering about for this is obvious. We move what has been accomplished during a small pace for several months, and then all of a sudden try to get everything particular sessions of our disarray in just a few days. It is true, I was the first other legislation slips through. We have been meeting from 10 exempt gasoline and on farm clock in the morning until 8 or from the Federal gasoline tax.

MAN IS SEEKING Lady Horseshoer

TAMPA (AP)—If you're a good stout girl and don't mind getting dirty or kicked now and then there's a pretty good job waiting for you—a lady horseshoer.

W. E. Combs, who is 78 and one of the few horseshoers left in Florida, wants to retire but can't find anyone to take over his work.

Combs figures that more women than men ride horses nowadays so "I'm thinking if some good stout girl got interested in it I'd learn her to fit shoes."

He remarked rather unhappily he thought he'd once had a good prospect "but she weighed only 80 pounds. Wouldn't do."

Footnotes to fashion

Gone are the days when the wedding guests spoke only of the beautiful bride. Now they're talking about the well-dressed groom, too.

So we queried the Men's Fashion Authority, an organization of 26 top manufacturer's of men's wear, on what the handsome American groom is wearing now.

The experts emphasized that correct attire is no longer synonymous with discomfort. Such old instruments of torture as the hot, heavy dress suit, the stiff, collar shirt and the throat-cutting collar are as dead as the dodo.

In lead, wedding clothes of the lightest fabrics — featherweight wools, tropical worsteds and silk shantung are the vogue. This gives the groom a chance to express a bit of individuality.

Some Deciding Factors Of course the bride and groom together decide on the degree of formality. This plus the time of day determines the type of wedding clothing to be worn.

The groom in his cut-away, ascot and striped trousers is still the correct formal picture for afternoon church weddings. The strictly formal evening wedding calls for a full dress suit—white tie and tails.

Less formal, but perhaps the most popular of all suits for evening weddings, is the tuxedo. And here's where the groom has an opportunity to make a smart investment in his future wardrobe.

The tuxedo may be black or midnight blue. The jacket may have a shawl collar or peaked lapels.

Comfortable new dress shirts have emancipated the groom from the hothouse department. Today it is perfectly proper to wear a turn-down collar not only with tuxedo but even with a full dress suit.

Some Shirts Are Blue Some of the shirts available today, might be considered quite revolutionary. A silky sheer broadcloth number features a boom-front of eyelid embroidered batista.

Others have half pleats and tiny stitched tucks. And still others are being made of pale blue fabrics.

In cummerbunds, however, the bridegroom should stick to the traditional black with black tuxedo and blue with midnight blue tuxedo.

The perfect shoes for full dress are pumps. Many men prefer an oxford and this is acceptable.

A full dress suit calls for a top hat but the man who wears a tur-

Dunn Home Is Scene For Party Feting L. Koontz

Mrs. John G. Dunn feted Miss Linda Koontz, bride-elect of August 18, with a bridal shower Wednesday evening at her home on oak Ave. at 8 p. m.

Summer guests decorated the living and dining rooms of the house, interspersed with natural greenery. A creation of flowers adorned the mantel in the living room accented by two brass candleholders bearing two white tapers.

During the course of events games were played with prizes going to Mrs. Ben Butler and the honoree. She then opened her many lovely gifts.

Punch, individual cup cakes decorated with pastel colored rosebuds, mints and nuts were served from a table overlaid with a lace cloth. An arrangement of flowers also decorated the center of the table flanked by four burning white tapers.

Those attending were the honoree, her mother, Mrs. R. L. Koontz, Mrs. Robert Berg, Mrs. George Dague, Mrs. Louise Love, Mrs. J. W. Egan, Mrs. John Lellan, Mrs. Clyde Robertson, Miss Sue Karraker and Mrs. Dunn.

500 Lbs. Lobster Being Flown In For SNAS Party

The Officers Wives Club of the SNAS is planning for Saturday night a "fabulous" Shipwreck Party with the main attraction being 500 pounds of Maine lobsters being flown in for the occasion.

A limit of 200 tickets has been set so those who are interested in attending are asked to get the reservations in to their unit representative. If you prefer chicken, which will be served to non lobster eaters, please tell the representative when making the reservations.

Time is 7 p. m. and the place is the BOQ on the base. For added entertainment, besides the eating of the lobsters, will be dancing to the music of the Station combo. Those coming are asked to climb into their most tattered and torn old clothes to enter the atmosphere of a shipwreck. A special invitation is extended to the wives of VAH-5.

This is going to be a grand "get-together" and everyone is urged to gather one and all for the big lobster feed. That's Saturday night on the base.

The Rainbow Girls are not being idle this summer for one moment. Marchetta Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Campbell invited a host of 14 or more to her home one day last week with the idea of forming a choir so that the girls will have music and songs during the initiations and so forth.

Songs were sung and practiced and the get-together was topped with the serving of homemade ice cream. This organization has built up during the past school year and the members and officers have hopes for its continued growth.

The Sanford chapter is proud to have a Grand officer and the fun and ideas the girls are getting spells better citizens.

The W. A. Adams are expecting a phone call from her mother, Mrs. R. A. Newman, any moment to say that she is back from Europe. Mrs. Newman left June 4 and has been on a "cooks tour" of Europe also spending two weeks in England. She visited her nephew, Professor Gower in Hert, England and a cousin, Miss Edith Lee at West-Cliff-On-Sea. They expect to hear from her Friday when she is due to land in Canada. Mrs. Adams also told me that Billy (W.C.) Hill is getting along "nicely" at John Hopkins where he underwent surgery recently. His wife and daughter Caroline are staying in a hotel near the hospital and plan to return with him.

FISHING HO—Mr. and Mrs. John Schirard and Brantley and Duke plus Meredith Scott left this morning on a fishing trip to Sanibel Island down "south of Naples out in the Gulf." On the way down they will leave Mrs. Schirard's mother, Mrs. Maude Henderson, who has been visiting in Tampa to visit a sister. The fishing party plans to be back Sunday (if a big one doesn't catch them.)

The GOLDEN WITCH by ZOLA ROSS

CHAPTER SIXTEEN AS CHRISTMAS neared, Meg grew hurried. There was so much to be done before her pregnancy made her unwieldy and useless in the shop. During the busy days, she could cross Kemp from her room; in the night, memory tormented her. Perhaps he was dead; perhaps he had tried to get back to Shanghai over the ice. Fantastic letters from his mother did not help. Homena was sure Kemp was dead.

hatched his horns, helped Meg out, and followed her to the porch, where the rainy darkness closed them into privacy. "Thank you, Jason. I'll take the boss now." He did not answer. The boss went down with a thump and then he had her in his arms. His mouth closed upon her; her body, her lips burned with involuntary response. Her whole being fused with his; resistance left her; she was stroked and lulled by passion. Then the moment was gone and Meg jerked free.

FBI Investigative Accomplishments Reach New High

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, stated that while the investigative efforts of the FBI toward preserving the national security of our Nation are measured by statistics, its accomplishments in the general investigation field are all-time highs in many instances. Summarizing the investigative activities of the FBI for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1956, in a report to Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., Hoover said:

"In comparing the 1955 fiscal year with the 1956 fiscal year just completed, our records indicate convictions in FBI cases increased from 19,967 in 1955 to 20,967; sentences resulting from these convictions increased from 29,386 in 1955 to 30,932 years, 26 months and 14 days; fines, wages and recoveries in FBI cases exceeded $12,000,000.

1956, an all-time high and more than double the 1955 figure. Additionally eight life sentences and three death sentences were imposed. Apprehensions of fugitives in FBI cases totaled 8,756 for the fiscal year 1956."

Hoover reported that convictions resulted against 96.4 per cent of the persons brought to trial in FBI cases during the 1956 fiscal year as compared with 96 per cent for the previous year. Of the 10,867 convictions, 93.7 per cent were on pleas of guilty, while 6.3 per cent were the result of trials.

The fiscal year 1956 witnessed the first decline in more than ten years in the number of violations of the Federal Bank Robbery Statutes with 470 violations reported as compared with the 508 of the previous year.

Investigations by the FBI in cases involving interstate crimes show a general increase for the 1956 fiscal year. Convictions for interstate transportation of stolen property violations totaled 856, an all-time high; theft from interstate shipment convictions rose from 772 in 1955 to 790 in 1956; and interstate transportation of stolen motor vehicle convictions totaled 4,736, and 14,636 cars were recovered in FBI cases, both figures representing all-time peaks. The activities of the confederate, check forgers, and confidence men, who engage in marriage, oil stock, horse race and other swindles, and whose illegal activities are of an interstate nature are of vital importance to the FBI. There were 886 convictions in these, and stolen property valued at more than $300,000 was recovered in cases involving theft from interstate shipments, the value of recovered property in cases investigated by the FBI for the third consecutive year exceeded one million dollars. The 558 convictions in fraud matters, which include fraud matters involving the Federal Housing Administration and Federal lending and insurance agencies, exceeded the total in this category in any prior year.

Hoover also stated that, as in previous years, cooperation with local, state and Federal law enforcement agencies continues to be an integral part of the FBI's operations. The volume of work received by the FBI Laboratory and Identification Divisions reflects an increase over the 1955 fiscal year. The Laboratory received 31,216 requests for assistance involving 142,627 scientific examinations of 124,096 specimens of evidence as compared with the 183,724 examinations conducted during the prior fiscal year.

The Identification Division during fiscal year 1956 received 5,284,327 fingerprint cards from 12,962 contributors, an average of more than 20,000 fingerprints each working day. Fugitives identified through fingerprint comparisons totaled 13,832. The Identification Division now has more than 140,000,000 fingerprints in its files, representing nearly 72,000,000 persons.

Hoover emphasized the value of confidential informants to effective police work and said that more than 3,500 persons were arrested in FBI cases as a result of information made available by confidential informants. In addition, information furnished by informants which concerned matters within the investigative jurisdiction of other law enforcement agencies resulted in the arrest by those agencies of more than

June Gasoline Tax Revenues Exceed $8 Million

TALLAHASSEE (P)— Gasoline tax revenues totaled $8,100,015 during the month of June, Comptroller Green reported Monday.

The revenue exceeded that of May by $370,298 and was $1,348,599 over the amount collected in June 1955.

June sales amounted to 117,442,965 gallons, an increase of 5,432,561 over that sold the previous month and an increase of 19,206,409 over the gallons sold in June 1955.

Green said the June sales were unexpectedly high. He said normally gasoline sales level off in May and there is little variation in the monthly figures until September when the winter visitors start rolling into the state.

"The high rate of gasoline consumption during June would appear to be evidence that the summer tourist season in Florida has greatly exceeded that of previous years," Green said.

City's Insurance Rating Revalued By Representative

A representative of the South-eastern Fire Underwriters visited Sanford recently to revalue the City of Sanford for insurance rating purposes.

While observing that the fire fighting potential of the City's Fire Department had not kept pace with the growth and expansion of the city, he commented on the record that the department had been able to maintain.

O. G. Carpenter particularly noted the changes and improvements that had taken place in the water distribution system under the recently completed water and sewer program.

While not committing himself on the results of his investigation, Carpenter did indicate that these water improvements would do much toward helping the City of Sanford maintain its present classification.

Carpenter expressed and showed a great deal of interest in some of the contemplated changes for the future at the water plant and the well field site.

The additions to the Fire Department, under the Capital Improvement program were discussed with Carpenter by city officials and he concurred on their need.

Among other points discussed with city officials, he pointed out that the recent policy to restrict the fire service to the city limits, except for a few cases, would help the residents of Sanford obtain a better report.

Carpenter requested that his office be notified when the changes and additions had been completed in the water and fire departments so that an engineer could come to Sanford to re-evaluate the city's facilities.

It is through such efforts that Sanford is able to assist its residents in regards to fire insurance premiums.

Carpenter maintains offices in Atlanta, Ga.

Game Forfeited To Burpee Team

The Hunt-McRobert team in the city-wide softball league, now playing its championship games, last night forfeited a game by assigning a pitcher for the game that had been disqualified because of the fact that he had pitched for one of the losing teams of the league, according to Howard Gordie, director of the softball league phase of the city-wide recreation program.

According to Gordie, City Manager Warren E. Knowles also declared that the game would be forfeited if a pitcher from one of the losing teams was assigned to last night's game.

The game was forfeited to the W. Atlee Burpee team which is playing in the five game championship playoffs.

The forfeited game brought the playoff standings to a tie, two games won by each team.

Don Merritt, the pitcher in question, who had pitched for the Robinson Sporting Goods team during league play, was notified by Umpire Harold Meckbach after the first pitched ball that the game was forfeited.

However, play continued under protest from Captain-Manager of the Hunt-McRobert team, Eugene Pennington.

The final game of the championship playoffs is expected to be played tonight on the Park Memorial Park diamond at 8 o'clock.

Officials To Review Bids For Dormitory

DeWitt, Furnell & Spicer, Inc., of St. Petersburg, was apparent low bidder yesterday on the construction of the New York Giants dormitory which will be located at the corner of Mellonville and Celery Aves.

The amounts of the bids were not released pending review of the five bids submitted and opened in the office of Sanford architect John Burton III.

Present for the opening of the bids yesterday afternoon was Carl Hubbell, director of the New York Giants Farm System. With Hubbell was City Commissioner John Krider.

More than a score of representatives of bidding contractors attended the opening of the bids.

Burton notified newsmen and construction of the New York Giants dormitory will not be awarded until the bids are reviewed and studied in New York by officials of the New York Giants.

It is expected, said Burton, that the contract will be awarded within the next week or ten days.

Other bids, in the order of their prices submitted were: J. C. Harper Construction Co., Orlando; Ken Smith Construction Co., Daytona Beach; H. J. High Construction Co., Orlando; and Carroll Daniel Construction Co., Sanford.

Contract times named in the bids, were 170 days for DeWitt, Furnell & Spicer, Inc.; 230 days for J. C. Harper Construction Co.; 180 days for Ken Smith Construction Co.; 120 days for H. J. High Construction Co.; and 180 days for Carroll Daniel Construction Co.

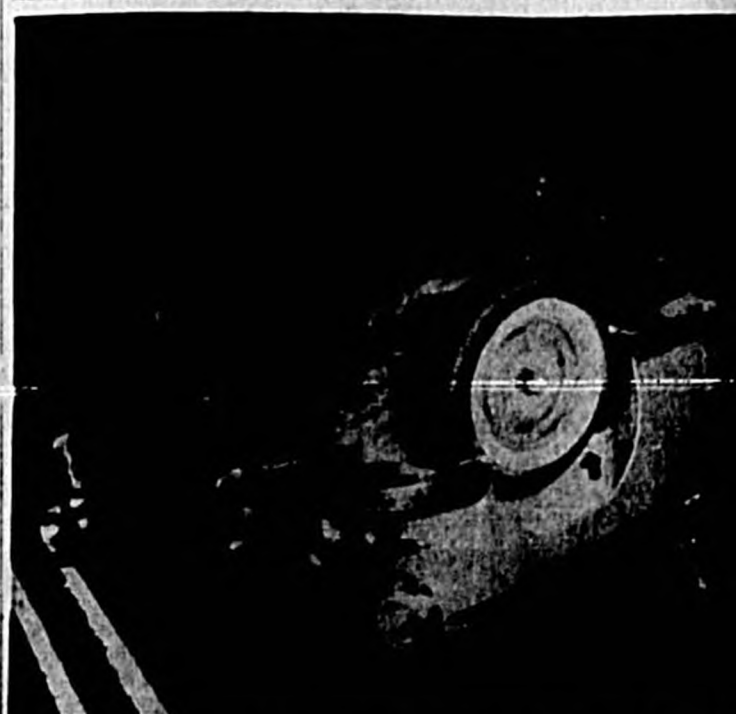

Burton stated that bidders were bonded for 21 days to allow time for the bids to be reviewed and considered before being awarded.

Alternate bids were submitted by three of the bidders for a change of material in the interior partitions.

A two per cent variation in bids between the lowest and highest bidders brought differences of costs for construction to a minimum. However, bids were within the estimated cost of construction.

Sanford To Get Car Rental Co.

Merle Warner, operator of Warner's Gulf Service Station, First St. at Sanford Ave., has signed and completed an exclusive franchise with the National Car Rental System, Inc., for Seminole County, and parts of Volusia and Orange Counties.

The new car rental company here will be known as Sanford National Car Rentals and will be located, temporarily, at Warner's Gulf Service Station.

Warner, in announcing the completion of the franchise, said "We will have 30 cars, pickups and moving vans for rental in the immediate future." He said, "all of these cars and motor trucks will be new current models that will be changed every year to provide the most up-to-date cars for our customers."

"A new location for Sanford National Car Rentals will be announced sometime in the near future," said Warner who explained that plans have not been completed at this time.

"At peak periods," Warner explained, "when cars come in from various sections of the state, we expect to have as many as 100 cars on hand for short periods of time."

"Sanford National Car Rentals will provide automobile service to any city in the State of Florida, either one way or roundtrip," he said.

"Our service also provides automobile service to winter visitors, the expected huge crowd attending the winter PGA tournament, visiting Navy personnel, industrialists, and family needs for a second car," said Warner.

Sanford National Car Rentals automobiles aren't marked or banneted so that their appearance will be that of a family, personal or business car, Warner explained, and they may be rented around the clock seven days a week. We will even have night phones for those who need cars in an emergency.

"Another feature of Sanford National Car Rentals will be that customers will be provided with courtesy cards which they may use here or at any office in the system," Warner explained.

The National Car Rental System is represented in all principal cities of the country as well as Canada and principal foreign countries.

The car was traveling east on the old Sanford-Longwood-Orlando road, toward Sanford. Damage was estimated at $450.

Florida Highway Patrolman, Carl Williams, investigated the accident. He said that the car was apparently being driven at a high rate of speed. Town Marshal Claude Lay assisted. Patrolman Williams at the scene.

Applying Pupil Assignment Law To Be 'Tremendous Job'

Woman Plows Car Into Florida Room Of Longwood Home

The 38-year-old wife of an Air Force man, apparently suffering from shock, ran from the emergency room of the Florida Sanatorium last night shortly after 7 o'clock, when taken there following an accident in which she plowed her automobile into the Florida room of a Longwood home.

Mrs. Diane Marie Norton, whose home address was given as Route 11, Box 94, Longwood, is said to have "blacked out", sideswiped a power pole, smashed into a fire hydrant, and then crashed into the Florida room of a home on Palmetto Ave. in Longwood, as she drove east on the city street.

Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Elgin were away from their home at the time of the accident. The car, a 1933 Pontiac Coach, tore out the entire front of the house and smashed a sofa where the Elgins' usually lounged. Jalousied windows, overhead beams, concrete block, and siding were torn away as the car came to a stop across the front room of the home.

Florida Highway Patrol Trooper T. Mark Mack and Patrolman Carl Williams estimated the damage to the home and furnishings at $1,500. Damage to the car, they said, would estimate about $500.

Mrs. Norton's husband is reported to be stationed at the Air Force's Homebased base near Miami.

Hospital Reserve Generator Is Used 1st Time Tuesday

The Seminole Memorial Hospital used its emergency generator for the first time since the hospital has been opened last Tuesday night during a temporary power failure.

Hospital Administrator Harry Weir said that the emergency generator used during the 30 minutes or more that commercial power was not available enabled the hospital to continue its services.

The operating room, nursery, oxygen systems, nursery, incubators and many of the necessary facilities of the hospital are dependent upon continuous electric power for their operation.

Weir said, "This is the first time we've had to use the emergency generator, but it has proved its necessity and value to the hospital during the temporary power failure."

WEAPONLESS BULLFIGHT SAN DIEGO, Calif., (AP) — A judge has refused to stop a weaponless bullfight, saying the definition of what would worry a bull was a "250,000 question."

Superior Judge William A. Glen has been asked by the Humane Society to stop the event scheduled for Aug. 18 in municipal Balboa Stadium on the ground that just worrying a bull for exhibition was against state law.

The event has been billed by promoters as a "bloodless" exhibition, with fighters and bulls coming from Mexico.

Boards Must Be Ready

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — State School Supt. Thomas D. Bailey says county school boards are faced with a "tremendous job" of administering Florida's new pupil assignment law.

With the fall school term opening next month, he said county boards must be prepared to implement the new law immediately.

The law was the key measure in the program enacted by the special legislative session to head off integration in the public schools.

Bailey offered the assistance of the Department of Education in working out administrative problems.

He plans to send each of the 67 county boards a copy of the new law and a letter outlining responsibilities of the school boards under its provisions. He also plans to call a meeting of county school superintendents to discuss the legislation.

The 2,000-word measure sets up criteria for assignment of pupils to schools for which they are best suited.

It provides that in determining where a pupil shall be assigned the county boards may conduct "uniform tests" to classify pupils according to "intellectual ability and scholastic proficiency."

Bailey said that as he interprets it, school boards will have to apply the provisions to every child seeking to enroll in a school he had not previously attended. This would include new first graders.

"Unless the law is applied to first graders some Negro children will be showing up in the white schools there," Bailey said.

The law also instructs county school boards in preparing tests and classifying pupils for assignment to various schools to take into account "such sociological, psychological and like intangible social scientific factors as will prevent, as nearly as practicable, any condition of socio-economic class consciousness among the pupils attending any given school."

Bailey said county boards undoubtedly would need assistance in developing these intangible factors and "it is obvious some pattern must be set up."

The school superintendent said that he was consulted only once by a member of the Fabianist Committee which recommended the legislation before the law was drafted and "apparently no one gave much thought to the administration of the law."

"It is certain that pupils no longer can be assigned to a particular school solely on racial grounds," he said.

"The county boards must have sound reasons other than race when they assign any pupil to a specific school. Otherwise, the whole program will fall at the first test of the courts."
