Las Vegas police said Tuesday they have no record of such contact and they do not believe Charles resides in Las Vegas.

Sanford Police Chief Steve Harriett said he could not immediately confirm or deny that the family claiming to be Charles' relatives received that type assistance from his department, but the procedure they described was what police would do in such situations.

SHA Asked To Avoid Court Fight

The chairman of the Sanford Housing Authority Board of Commissioners has called for his colleagues to avoid a court battle with Central Florida Legal Services over recently banned legal clinics. He is also asking them to "publicly acknowledge and review" the possible affects that SHA Executive Director Elliott Smith's sight impediauthority.

The meeting will be held at the Castle Brewer Court community room, off W. 10th Street, at 7 p.m.

As a prelude to discussion of the lawsuit Central Florida Legal Services filed against the SHA, McClanahan sent a memo to his fellow commissioners on Monday, requesting they reverse their position barring the agency from conducting free legal clinics on housing property. Mc-Clanahan was the only board member to oppose the Oct. 24 decision that the service be discontinued. The agency filed suit in federal court Friday to renew the clinics.

In his memo, McClanahan termed the commission's decision "counter-productive" and requested "objective rethinking of the issue."

"Do not let personal feelings enter into a decision." Mc-Clanahan wrote.

He also pointed to the federal monies that fund both the SHA and legal ald agency and ment is having on the said in light of this, "a lawsuit that costs taxpayers

Money, Farm Bills Musts Before Adjournment

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Congress. anxious to quit for the year, still must approve two veto-proof bills - a multi-billion dollar spending measure and a five-year farm compromise before ending the first session of the 99th Congress. Long past making predictions, congressional leaders held out a slight hope for adjournment late tonight but left themselves enough maneuvering room to allow the session to spill over to Thursday. The key to adjournment is the money bill, required to provide funds to keep solvent five departments, the General Services Administration and the White House - none of which have received their fiscal 1986 appropriations. The Senate and House approved and sent to the White House Tuesday a 72-hour emergency extension to prevent the government from furloughing tens of thousands non-essential federal workers today. President Reagan late Tuesday signed the stop-gap measure, which expires at midnight Thursday.

The House, responding to urgings of President Reagan, also approved tax reform legislation Tuesday backed by Democrats and Reagan, in a surprising voice vote after shooting down a Republican counterproposal 295-133. Speaker Thomas O'Neill muttered, "1 can't believe it." and later said he was "awed" that there was no demand for a roll call vote on the historic tax bill which the Senate will begin considering

The bill, considered dead last week after Republicans blocked plans to call it up for action, was approved after Reagan came to Capitol Hill urging GOP House members to switch their votes. It was another display of his remarkable powers of persuasion. Senate-House negotiators planned to meet early today in another effort to fashion a compromise long-term money bill that would last through Oct. 1, the beginning of the next fiscal year.

As a failback, Congress might resort to a stripped down version, allowing spending at current levels, through March and tackle the issue again in the next session.

The stopgap money bill became necessary when the House Monday night rejected a carefully-crafted compromise $369.7 billion measure, charging it contained too much money for defense while dropping reforms in defense procurement. It also included a ban on future testing of anti-satellite weapons.

Congressional leaders were more optimistic that the Senate and House would pass the $51 billion farm bill. although it is $1 billion richer than the administration wanted and does not cut as deeply into crop subsidies as the White House demanded. Still, there have been no public threats of a veto.

The Senate Tuesday approved and sent to the House a measure to restore investor confidence in the Farm Credit System which Congress is expected to approve before adjournnment.

Tests Interrupt Water In Lake Mary

Switching from Sanford-supplied water to supplies from the new Lake Mary water plant resulted in low water pressure, and in some cases interrupted water service, in Lake Mary Tuesday.

The new plant is on-line for testing. according to Superintendent of Public Works Jim Orioles. Sanford supplied water will be in use again tonight. It is not anticipated there will be any water service disruptions during the switch, he said.

Mid Thompson, secretary to Lake Mary City Manager Kathy Rice, said the water problems Tuesday were city-wide, and lasted between four and five hours. During that time, city hall's water service was off and on for a half hour, she said.

The trouble developed when crews ran into an air lock in the water lines while flushing hydrants before noon Tuesday.

Reagan Keeps Free Trade Vow; Vetos import Tariff Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) - President Reagan. in a blow to the import-battered textile, shoe and copper industries, has backed up his tough talk on free trade with a veto expected to slow - if not halt - a march by Congress toward

Reagan, "deeply sympathetic" about job losses but adamantly opposed to protectionism, vetoed legislation Tuesday night that would have given relief to three major industries - each with powerful backers in Congress.

"It is my firm conviction that the economic and human costs of such a bill run far too high - costs in foreign retaliation against U.S. exports, lose of American jobs, losses to American businesses and damage to the world trading system upon which our prosperity depends," he said in his veto message.

Beating a midnight deadline for action by slightly more than one hour. Reagan sent Congress his strongest signal to date and asserted foreign competition must be fought through enforcement of the trade laws rather than protectionism.

No Roll Call Goof Awes O'Neill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A puzzled Speaker Thomas O'Neill, gazing at the crowded House chamber, paused once, paused twice and then banged his gavel.

"I don't believe it." O'Neill muttered as the House passed the historic tax reform bill on a voice vote with not one Republican or Democrat calling for a roll-call vote on one of the session's most important issues.

"The chair ... was awed that there was not a roll call," O'Neill told his colleagues.

Edwards' Jury Claims Impasse

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) - Jurors in the lengthy racketeering and fraud trial of Gov. Edwin Edwards have reached "an impasse" after six days of deliberations and await a ruling on whether they will be able to see grand jury testimony.

"Your honor ... we, the jury, have collectively decided that we have come to an impasse," the jury said in a note Tuesday to the judge. "We have all given our 100 percent effort, but the realization is that no progress is being made.'

U.S. District Judge Marcel Livaudais Jr. said he would issue a ruling today on the jury's request to review grand jury testimony of Edwards and co-defendant Ronald Falgout that had been introduced in the trial.

The possibility of a mistrial first became apparent Monday when the jury acquitted the governor's brother. Marion Edwards, of 41 counts of fraud but left nine other counts of racketeering and fraud unresolved.

HUD Grant Application 'On Schedule'

By Karea Talley Berald Staff Writer

Senford's effort to obtain a 9650,000 Housing and Urban Development small cities grant is proceeding "on schedule" toward its Dec. 23 application deadline, according to Kim Smith, the city's director of administrative services.

Once submitted, the city should know within 60 days whether approximately 61 of its residents will be able to revitalize their

The City Commission did its part Monday to further the effort by formally authorizing the grant application, appointing two new members to the grant's citizen advisory board and approving a $12,253 repayment to HUD for rental the city erroneously charged the Sanford Housing Authority when its offices were located at city hall. Because the city hall was built with federal funds the SHA, a federally funded agency. should not have been charged rent for the formation of a citizens advisory board to assist in preparation of the application. Katie Sandifer and the Rev. Richard Doctor were named on-Monday to join seven members appointed last month, when the city commission voted to seek the funds.

The two new appointees live in the area the city has designated for distribution of the grant. In accordance with another HUD atipulation, the city had to pinpoint a specific neighborhood for revitalisation. Selected were 25 blocks bordered by Hickory and Bay Avenues and 7th and 11th Streets. Economic profiles of every home-owner in this neighborhood had to be included in the application and were obtained by the Seminole High School football team, which went door-to-door for

Official Optimistic On Sanford Growth

By Karen Talley Herald Staff Writer

Sanford's rapid expansion is in the multi-millions in terms of construction dollars and in terms of sense, it "is great as long as it's handled the right way," according to John Morris. chairman of the planning and zoning commission.

Construction in the city, although continuing at a rapid pace, has dropped from the $53 million in development dollars that were expended in 1984. To date this year, builders have invested $27 million in their's and the city's future.

Morris attributed two related factors to the decline; there were "a lot of very ambitious" commercial and industrial projects in 1984 and at the end of that year, the city upped its development fees. The prospect of increased fees prompted many builders to buy their permits before the 1985 fee scale was instituted, he said.

Construction in the vicinity of Airport Boulevard had the most to do with last year's half-a-billion-dollar boom, according to Morris. In addition to construction of an industrial park off the boulevard and the new Wal-Mart shopping center on U.S. Highway 17-92, there was a lot of building at the airport itself, he said.

For residents, the economic benefits of burgeoning development range from securing a position at a newly built corporate headquarters to saving a few dollars in gas by not having to travel to the large shopping centers in Orlando and Altamonte Springs.

For the city, in addition to an increased tax base, new development enables the perpetuation of existing services. The $83,257 obtained through building permit fees this year went into the city's general fund for fire and police protection, recreation and street construction and rehabilitation, City Clerk Henry Tamm said.

Not all fees collected by the city are for construction of industrial and commercial projects, however. Before residents can rest and recreate at their private pool, they'll first have to dip into their wallets and come up with a permit fee that calls for $15 for the first $1,000 of construction cost and each additional $1,000 sunk into the project. .

Fees are also levied for additions to existing structures and although one man's idea of a dormer certainly differs from another's, commensurate fees are charged to residents and developers.

Fire Pact Considered

Officials from the Seminole County and Lake Mary will put their beads together in an attempt to improve fire services in the city and unincorporated would make recommendations

County Commission Chairman Bob Sturm has proposed the county and the city form a committee to "talk about mutual fire services." The proposal came during a joint meeting between the city commission and county commission in Lake Mary Monday.

Sturm said the committee will address the fire, rescue and emergency needs of the city and the county, specific issues such as first response, fire stations, which have first response equipment and fire impact fees.

He proposed the committee be composed of himself, County Public Safety Director Gary Kieser, Lake Mary Fire Chief Bob Stoddard and Lake Mary Mayor Dick Fess and/or another emergencies in the city and the member of the city commission.

Kidnappers Threaten Killings; Negotiator Waite Plans Return

BEIRUT. Lebanon (UPI) - The kidnappers of four Lebanese Jews warned they would kill their captives "very soon" unless an Israeli-backed militia freed some 300 Shitte Moslem prisoners from a camp in southern Lebanon.

The warning, published Tuesday, in the An Nahar newspaper, coincided with moves on other fronts to seek the release of victims of kidnappings by Moslem and Christian militiamen in Lebanon.

A spokesman for Church of England envoy Terry Waite said he would return to Belrut Friday to resume negotiations for the release of four kidnapped Americans. French mediators, meanwhile, arrived in Beirut to seek release of four kidnapped Frenchmen.

NBC Television said Tuesday a search was under way for two of its Lebanese employees who were missing. It was feared the two U.S. network employees were kidnapped Monday as they crossed Beirut's Green Line no man's land.

Noman Abducted From Work At Knife Point

Maitland woman told a deputy she was abducted at knife point by a man who forced her to walk to his home then bound and gagged her.

Linda Fritsch, 27, reported that a man met her at work Monday at 9:32 a.m. and told her he had something for her. When they met behind the Longwood business where she works, he accused her brother of "messing up my yard," and threatened her with a large charge of DUI: pocket knife. He told her she was going with him adding "give me 2854 Buccaneer Drive, Winter a reason to cut you."

She said he made her walk to his home in Longwood Hills, a trek that took about 11/2 hours. Once there, he hit her several times and tied her to a chair. She said she started to cry and man gagged her.

He said she was "bait" for her brother, according to reports.

She remained tied for about 45 minutes until the man set her free on the promise that she would go home, get her things, and move in with him.

When loose, however, she called the sheriff's department.

The incident is under investigation.

Immigration Bill Is Now Essential

Most reasonable Americans agree that comprehensive immigration reform is essential if this country is to regain control of its borders. But the prospects for such reform are clouded by numerous interest groups and studies that disagree about the problem's magnitude.

The 1980 U.S. Census estimates that approximately 1.5 million undocumented aliens enter the United States each year, adding to the estimated 6 million to 12 million already here. According to a recent University of Texas study, 66 Americans lose their jobs for every 100 alien workers hired.

Fortunately, there is an upside to the illegal-alien crisis. A report released recently by the Rand Corp., a Santa Monica, Calif.-based think tank, concludes that the flood of undocumented Mexican nationals to California has provided positive economic benefits to that state. Indeed, the report says that Mexican workers contribute more to California than they drain from public services.

The Rand findings are contradicted by the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service. which says that undocumented aliens are availing themselves of entitlement programs for which they are ineligible. INS estimates suggest, for example, that undocumented aliens may be receiving as much as $9 billion nationwide.

Even the Rand report concedes that the flood of undocumented and unskilled Mexican laborers poses serious problems for California's future. The study estimates that two-thirds of the 3 million new jobs created there during the next decade will be beyond the range of most of these immigrants and their children. This in turn could produce a permanent Hispanic underclass that will be a drain on California's economy. Although there is room for honest disagreement concerning the exact economic only for CBS. impact of its undocumented workers, it is indisputable that the absence of an effective immigration policy causes untold suffering for thousands of persons who come to this country each year in search of a better life.

All the more reason why Congress must enact a comprehensive immigration law during this session.

Three months ago, the Senate approved a proposal sponsored by Sen. Alan Simpson. R-Wyo., that would penalize employers who hire undocumented workers, while allowing growers a three-year grace period to bring in guest workers to harvest their crops. The measure would also grant amnesty to undocumented aliens three years after a presidential commission certifies that the employer sanctions are working.

The Simpson bill is presently stalled in the House Judiciary subcommittee where the guest-worker provision will probably be trimmed. Meanwhile, Rep. Peter Rodino, D-N.J., and Rep. Romano Mazzoli, D-Ky., have introduced a reform proposal that calls for tough employer sanctions. This would also provide amnesty to most undocumented aliens who have continuously resided in the United States since Jan. 1, 1982.

Clearly, the first order of business for Congress is to overhaul this nation's outdated immigration system, which rewards those who break the law while penalizing those who play by the rules. The Rand study estimates that the potential pool of Mexican immigrants will increase by nearly 50 percent during the next decade, and will have more than tripled by century's end.

Immigration is a national issue and it calls for an effective national policy. Any further delay in such a policy would be a disservice to the citizens of this country and to the countless number of undocumented workers who lack legal status and therefore are subject to exploitation by unscrupulous employers.

Slavery Abolished But Racism Runs Rampant

One argument the Reagan administration and the collection of conservatives who came to prominence with it - continue to make is: Economics has superseded race as the major reason why black Americans come up last on every list of who does best in the United States.

Of course, they admit, race had been a powerful determinant of longevity. health. income, education and class in the first 200 years of American history. But, apparently, some time after the celebration of the mation's bicentennial, all of that changed overnight.

Slavery followed by state-sanctioned negregation was the basis of an apartheid system in this country - two separate and unequal societies. one largely white and comfortable, one largely black and poverty stricken, moving farther and farther apart.

The current proponents of class-over-race make much of the disappearance of locally legalized segregation, largely confined to the South and Southwest by the middle 1960a.

But even after state support for racial classification was abolished, racial differences in life expectancy, median family income, employment, education and infant mortality based differences endure, not because of discrimination, but for lack of dollars. Economics alone, they say, accounts for the rising discrepancy between white and black infant deaths, for the years black men don't live beyond their 67th birthdays, and for an unemployment rate for blacks always twice that of whites.

The conservative apologists say these race-

Class, they say, not race, has become the great divider in American life, and if more blacks than whites fall into the lower class, those are the viciositudes of the market society. But not even Karl Marx believed the capitalist system he wanted to replace created racism. No one can witness the Soviet Union's struggle with its ethnic populations or the Sandinistas' stumbles with the Atlantic coast Indians and colored peoples and believe the profit motive creates apartheid, or that economic egalitarianism doesn't.

Racism's imperviousness to abolition by economic means ought to be a warning to 'oday's appraisers in Washington: Wishing uoesn't make it so.

And if race has vanished as a factor in American life, what motivated the mobs in Philadelphia? In case you've forgotten, or hadn't heard, here's what happened:

Charles Williams and Marietta Bloxom. an unmarried couple, and Gerald and Carol Fox, a married interracial couple, moved in mid-November to Philadelphia's Elmwood section. Each family discovered they weren't wanted almost as soon as they unpacked.

You've got to wonder how Attorney General Edwin Meese and the rest of the explainers would make Williams, Ms. Bloxom and the Foxes understand what happened to them. From here, it looked as if a white mob drove a black family out of a neighborhood. Of course. the mob members tried to cover their racism by saying they were simply concerned about property values. That implies, of course, that blacks don't value property.

How would the Reaganites explain the angry racial chants, the fearful sleepless nights, the realization of Charles Williams that his castle was not his home (and not much of a castle either)? No most separated him from a collection of cowards hidden by their numbers and the night. They made it plain they wanted to do him harm simply because he was there. 'He wasn't armed: he didn't park his car on their lawns; he didn't listen to loud music all night: he didn't beat his wife.

He was there. And he was black.

Now, where is the economics in that?

Almost a year ago, on Dec. 22, Goetz was riding on the New York I.R.T. subway when he was accosted by four young black thugs who asked him for "five dollars." Instead of being the easy mark they expected him to be, Goetz pulled out a gun and shot all four of them. Though none died, one, Darryl Cabey, remains paralyzed from the walst down.

Goetz became an instant hero to those who ride the New York subways and walk the New York streets. In both places fear is your constant companion, and the sort of thugs who menaced Goetz a constant nightmare. District Attorney Robert Morgenthau brought the case before a Grand Jury which indicted Goetz for illegal gun possession but refused to indict him for attempted murder.

Then the district attorney began behaving strangely, indeed self-destructively. Though he had done his duty by bringing the case before the first Grand Jury, he insisted on bringing it before a second one. claiming "new evidence." Just why he did so is anyone's guess. Mr. Morgenthau is a nice man, powerful in New York legal, political and social circles. He had run, unsuccessfully, for governor. He is a perfect representative of the liberal Democratic New York establish-

To add to the mixture, he had shot four blacks. The liberal press speculated about whether Goetz was a racist though never about whether the blacks might have been hostile to

In any case, the second Grand Jury indicted Goetz for attempted murder. It never occurred to Mr. Morgenthau to seek an indictment against the blacks, all of whom had police records, for attempted robbery. That would never occur to the liberal mentality.

Since then, it has been all downhill for the liberal D.A. One of Goetz' shooting victims. Barry Allen, has surrendered in a subsequent mugging case. Another, James Ramseur, has been charged with raping a girl in a particularly ugly rooftop episode in the Bronx.

Now Darryl Cabey, the paralyzed one, has told Jimmy Breslin of the New York Daily News that, yes, the intent was to rob Goetz on the subway. Cabey told Breslin that they picked out Goetz because "he looked like easy bait."

The four thugs can be excused for their misperception. Goetz is thin and gangly, has skimpy blond hair. and wears glasses. He also dresses well. "He looked," says Cabey, "like he had money." Painless Dentistry Available

UPI Science Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Technology is coming to the aid of those of us who avoid dental treatment for fear it will hurt.

Researchers have come up with two separate methods of treating dental problems that are painless to the patient. In one method tooth decay is removed with a laser and in the other, it is removed with a chemical solution. Dentists, who got previews of the two methods at an American Dental Association convention, said the treatments could help the estimated millions of Americans who are losing their teeth to decay because they are afraid to get their cavities

And the treatments may help the dentists as well. Surveys from the American Dental Association estimate 12 million Americans are dental phobics and 35 million will cancel dental appointments this year because they are afraid of pain.

"This is the most exciting time in dentistry," said Dr. Allen R. Helfer, a dentist who practices in Stamford, Conn. "We've made significant advancements that will probably change the profession completely."

Dentists hope the treatments, just emerging from the testing stage. will be reasonable alternatives to the painful and time-consuming process of drilling cavities.

When teeth decay, pockets of dead bacterial matter form inside the tooth to create cavities. To prevent the decay from spreading like rust, dentists have traditionally had to use a high speed drill to carve away the dead material away from the healthy portion of the

The decay, called caries, has the consistency of leather and is bonded to the healthy part of the tooth. To ensure they get all of it out, dentists sometimes have to cut into the nerve-filled healthy tissue. When it is all over, the cavity is filled.

He is also a researcher at the Leahy Clinic in Burlington, Mass. where studies are underway on the utilization of lasers in dentistry.

The lasers, which can vaporize material with an intensely concentrated beam of light, are already used by ophthalmologists in delicate eye surgery.

Iran Was Behind '84 Kuwaiti Hijacking By Jack Anderson And

two weeks ago today, U.S. intelligence intercepted a telephone conversation that established beyond any doubt Iran's behind-the-scenes control of Lebanese Shitte Moslem hijackers who subsequently murdered two Americans and brutally tortured

Yet, to this day, the tough-talking Reagan administration has taken no retaliatory action against the fanatically anti-American regime in Tehran that was responsible for the atrocity.

The "smoking gun" conversation took place shortly after noon. Tehran time, on Dec. 4, 1984, just a few hours after four armed terrorists had hijacked Kuwaiti Airways Flight 221 and forced it to land at Mehrabad airport in Tehran. The phone call was intercepted by the National Security Agency.

On one end of the line was Ayatollah Mohtashami, Iran's amlater learned that Mohtashami had ambassador clearly knew the hi-participated in the meeting in Lebanon at which the hijacking was planned.

On the other end was an unidentifled official of the Iranian foreign ministry. The hijacked plane was sitting on a runway at the Tehran

Part of the conversation was garbled, but the implications of the deciphered discussion between the two Iranian officials was clearly grasped in Washington.

The crucial statement came during a discussion of the airliner's possible move to Beirut. Mohtashami, in Syria, said: "Just as we told you in Telex 22206 of 2 December, America brought its Marines to Lebanon. They might intervene in this matter."

U.S. intelligence analysts immediately realized the significance of this remark. It meant that the warning about the Marines had been transmitted by Mohtashami more than a full day before the Kuwaiti plane was hijacked in the bassador to Syria. U.S. intelligence early hours of Dec. 4. The Iranian jacking was about to occur, and had warned officials in Tehran by cable not to overlook the possibility of Marine intervention if the plane was diverted to Beirut. Having repeated his warning about possible U.S. response,

Mohtashami proceeded to recommend in the phone conversation that the plane be flown to Beirut anyway. Pro-Iranian Shiite militia would be able to withstand any rescue attempt by the Marines, he explained. Under the protection of the Shitte militiamen, according to the transcript of the conversation, the hijackers could then "take revenge on the VIPs one by one at a specific time so that Kuwait might agree" to the hijackers' demands. The Lebanese hijackers wanted Kuwait to release 17 Shitte terrorists imprisoned for 1983 bombings there.

The identity of "the VIPs" soon became tragically clear. The plane stayed in Tehran, but two American officials of the Agency for International Development - Charles Hegna, 50, and William Stanford, 52 - were shot several times and thrown out the plane door to the tarmac 20 feet below. When they moved, the terrorists shot them to death as if they were holding target practice, according to a chilling account by Nathan Adams in Reader's Digest.

Two other Americans on board -AID employee Charles Kapar. 57. and businessman John Costa, 50 were savagely tortured. Hijackers jumped up and down on Costa's back, cracked three ribs by beating him, extinguished a cigarette in his ear, burned his face with another cigarette and set his hair aftre. Kapar was choked with a rope, pistol-whipped and beaten till two ribs were cracked, teeth were broken and his face was swollen; he was also burned on the face with a cigarette.

After six days of hell, Iranian police seized the plane. The U.S. government, though fully aware of iran's complicity, issued only a mild, grumbling protest complain-ing that Iran hadn't done all it could have to prevent the bloodshed.

Henderson's slam dunk with 27 seconds left cut the margin to two and Walker swatted away Seabreeze's last shot to keep it at two.

Seabreeze had a four-point lead, 42-38, early in the third quarter when Seminole put on a spectacular rally. Sophomore point guard Andre Whitney natled a jumper from long range to trim the lead to 42-40 and Whitney then fed Fossitt for a layup that tied it at 42-42.

The Seminoles didn't stop there, however, as Whitney range for a 44-42 lead and Wright then came up with a steal and raced downcourt for a short jumper and a 46-42 Seminole advantage.

Lady 'Noles Finally Find Hoop, 57-43

By Chris Fister

Herald Sports Writer DAYTONA BEACH - The layup is probably the most practiced and easiest shot to make in basketball. Seminole High's Lady Seminoles made It look like the layup was just introduced into the game of basketball Tuesday night.

What could have been a runaway turned into a struggle for the Lady Tribe as it missed a multitude of layups. Finally, Temika Alexander and Catherine "Kitty" Anderson showed how it was done down the stretch as Seminole claimed a 57-43 victory over Seabreeze's Lady Sand Crabs.

It was the third straight win for Seminole which now stands at 6.3 overall. The Lady 'Noles will take on Hempstead, N.Y., on Monday, Dec. 23 in a preliminary to the Central Florida Classic tournament.

'We could have won by 30 if we made our layups." Seminole coach Charles Steele said. "We made it look hard. I don't even want to know what our shooting percentage was."

Although the Lady Seminoles' shooting percentage was anemic, they benefitted from a big advantage on the boards. Many second or third shots off the a tremendous all-around effort. "'Kitty' (Anderson) missed a lot of layups but she kept fighting on the boards." Steele said. "She blocks out as well as anyone and seems to always be around the ball."

Behind Anderson, freshman guard Leticia Strickland popped in a season-high 14 points and she also grabbed eight rebounds and collected five steals. Alexander and Yolanda Robinson contributed nine points each. Alexander also handed out six assists while Robinson hauled down 12 rebounds.

Special to the Herald LAKE MARY - Cynthia Patterson, Terri Whyte and Tonya Lawson combined for 54 points while Karen DeShetler and Anquenette Whack sparked a tenacious defense as Lake Mary's Lady Rams shut down Evans Lady Trojans, 65-50, in prep basketball Tuesday night at Lake Mary High

"I think the best thing we did tonight was improve on our defense," Lake Mary coach Bill Moore said about his 7-2 Lady Rams. 'We stole the ball a lot, made them take bad shots and make bad passes."

While the DeShetler and Whack-led defense was forcing the mistakes. Patterson. Whyte and Lawson were converting at the other end. Each scored 18 points and contributed in other ways, too.

Whyte, a 6-4 sophomore, connected on 8 after the first quarter but of 9 field goal attempts and 2 of 2 free throw Seabreeze, behind Jennifer attempts. She also blocked three shots.

> "She (Whyte) hit the boards and was more aggressive than I've seen her," Moore said. "For a varsity player her stats are good, but for a sophomore they're excellent.'

DeShetler played tenacious defense and also handed out nine assists. Whack handed out five assists and made four steals. Patterson pulled down seven rebounds and collected four steals.

"We had to scrape for points in the first quarter, but we got on track," said Moore.

Lake Mary took a 14-13 lead in the first quarter as DeShetler poured in four points and then opened a big lead in the second quarter. With 5:50 to go in the second quarter, Lake Mary broke away from an 18-18 deadlock by outscoring Evans, 22-10. to take a 36-23 advantage into intermission.

In the third quarter, the intensity increased as Evans began to close the gap. holding the Rants to only nine points while scoring 14. A successful press by Lake Mary's DeShetler and Whack, however, trapped the Evans offense in the fourth quarter.

On one steal, DeShetler whipped a fastbreak pass to Patterson for the score and a 44-33 lead. Evans never closed the gap to less than 10 for the remainder of the game.

April Peterson, who went to Seminole last year, popped in 14 points to lead the Lady Trojans. She was followed by Elonda Elmore with 13 points.

Boone FTs Top Rams

By Chuck Burgess Special to the Herald

ORLANDO - Boone's Tom Beatty sank two crucial free throws in the final seconds to pace the Braves to a 43-41 victory over the visiting Lake Mary Rams in an afternoon prep basketball special in front of more than 800 fans.

Beatty was the man for the Braves as he hit a game-high 14 points with six of them coming in the fourth and final period. The two game-winning free throws were hit by Beatty with 20 seconds showing on the clock and Boone only leading by one point at 39-38.

The game itself was as unusual as the outcome. The fact that the game was played in the middle of the school day, 1:30 p.m., had a major factor in the course of the game.

With the score 42-39, Lake Mary's Oscar Merthie drove the ane, scored and was fouled by Beatty setting up the three-point play and a chance to tie the game at 42 all. However, with the crowd's noise level reaching maximum volume Merthic was pressured into missing the free throw when he hit nothing but

"We just didn't play intense ball today," Ram head coach Willie Richardson said about his team's lackluster effort against the Braves. "We just couldn't put it (the game) down when it counted."

The Rams jumped out to a 11-9 lead at the end of the first period when Matt Napoli poured in six of his eight points of the day. Matt Newby added a short jumper and Chris Jackson took a pass from Newby off of a fastbreak and slammed a dunk which rated a 10 on the Braves' fans scorecard.

The second period was just as tight as the first as Kelly McKinnon was dished a pass from Napoli and laid in two making the score 13.9 in favor of the Rams.

However, things turned around for the Braves and James Morton took control of the game scoring seven of his 11 points. Morton started his scoring with a short jumper from the left side with 2:36 remaining in the half and followed 15 seconds later by hitting both ends of a one and one giving the Braves a 16-15 lead.

The lead was short-lived. See RAMS, Page SA

The Return: A Series Of Supplementary Shots

One of the most important aspects of one's game is the return of serve. Even though it is vital it is often neglected (particularly among inexperienced players) not nearly enough emphasis is put into this most important part of your

The return of serve is really a series of supplementary shots. Your basic forehand, backhand and service will allow you to play the game but you must learn a series of service returns to ever really play the game well.

A description of the things involved in service returns follows. Work on them and your game will improve.

Though you may not regard your service returns as supplementary shots since they occur in every point in which you are the receiver, the technique for them often differs enough to warrant special consideration.

Consistency when returning serves is one measure of your playing ability. Work on your service returns as much as you practice other phases of your game.

A common quality among players who return serves effectively is quickness. They are quick to see the ball, quick to move their rackets, and quick to start in motion. In your practice, strive specifically for improvement in these

Your ability to move quickly depends partly on how well you prepare to move. In the ready position, bend your knees and shift your weight forward to get most of it off your heels. Make yourself feel light, bouncy, and springy. Be ready to spring into action the moment you determine the direction of your opponent's shot. As your opponent's racket goes up to meet the ball, hop up slightly, just barely leaving the ground and land in the ready posture. This is called the "ready-hop." As you make you ready-hop, watch the ball as your opponent tosses, and especially as the racket comes into contact with it. Do not look at the total figure of the server and then wait for the ball to come out of that background. Focus on the ball. Concentrate on it. Try to determine its direction as soon as you

Besides seeing the ball quickly and making a quick start, you should move your racket as quickly as possible. Here you may have a problem of grips - grips in the waiting position and grips during the swing. If you can manage a nochange grip, one that you can use for both forehands and backhands, this is well and good; you will not have to worry about having time to adjust your grip during the backswing.

But, if you feel you must hold the racket differently for forehands and backhands, experiment to see which change you make faster, (forehand to backhand or backhand to forehand). Use as your waiting grip the one from which you find easier to change.

For maximum quickness on the swing you may find it is best to change your backswing from what you normally use. If you normally make a loop swing. change here to a straight one. And it you normally pause at the end of your backswing, change that too. "Cannonball" serves don't allow much time for pausing.

Start your backswing with a quick turn of vour shoulders. Add a slight amount of arm action (on the backhand add even a little elbow action), but only as much as time allows. Reverse your arm action to start your forward swing. And if time allows, bring your shoulders around in reverse action too. Otherwise, simply block the ball with a short motion of your arm. Keep your wrist and grip

While in the ready stance, hold your cloows in at your sides, and bend your arms to bring your hands and racket closere to your body. With such a short-radius swing you will need less force to start the racket in motion, and as a result you'll have more force available for speed.

This adjustment in posture which shortens your swing may be just what you need to gain that extra quickness which lets you bring the racket around in time to meet the ball squarely.

Mat Mayhem: Rams Tackle Bishop Moore

LAKE MARY - Sure it's too early for the match to end all matches. But you'd have to look pretty far to find a dual match with more intensity than tonight's battle between Lake Mary's Rams and Bishop Moore's Hornets.

The junior varsity begins at 6:30 p.m. and the varsity at 6 p.m. at Lake Mary High School. Both Lake Mary coach Doug Peters and Bishop Moore mentor Randy Jessee see tonight's blockbuster as evenly paired. The records indicate the same. Each school is 4.0 with an bundance of unbeaten applers.

All of which means there won't be any breathers once the first whistle blows at 8 p.m. The difference will be a couple of points," Peters said Tuesday night. "Every match is going to be important. I don't know their guys that much down low but it's going to be some of the matches you don't know much about that will determine it."

Jessee echoes the same sentiments. "I feel we have an advantage in the upper weights because of experience," he said. "But Lake Mary is very good down low and the middle weights."

The coaches point to 107, 128, 134. 157. 169 and 222 as crucial divisions.

"Wayne Clayton's match at 107 (against Kevin O'Keefe) is really important," Peters said. "It's important for us to get off to a good start."

At 128, Lake Mary captain Matt Broberg opposes Mark Ogier. Both are 4-0. "Mark has qualified for state at a lower weight but he's a tough senior," Jessee said. "Broberg is physical and strong but he gasses out in the third period. Ogier in in better shape, which might make the difference."

Lyman Handles Apopka; Brantley, Howell Tumble

Special to the Herald

Tom Lawrence's streaking Lyman Greyhounds used the outside shooting of guard T.J. Scoletta and the inside punch of Ralph Philpott to overpower the Apopka Blue Darters, 64-61, in Tuesday night prep basketball action at Apopka before 300 fans.

The Greyhounds upped their record to 5-1, their only loss coming on an off night against the Bishop Moore Hornets. The improvement over last year has been a rapid one for the Greyhounds considering they lost 20 games in last season's "rebuilding"

Scaletta paced the Greyhounds with a team high 17 points while his teammate Philpott poured in 12. Sophomore Craig Radzak was another Greyhound scorer in double figures with his 10 points.

The pack of Greyhound sharp shooters were on target all night long as the team hit on 23 field goals, most of them coming from the outside, and connected on 18 of 27 free throws to muff any chances of a Blue Darter

Scaletta had a hot hand in the first half but the Greyhounds had to overcome the spectacular scoring performance of Franklin Pierce who amassed a game-high 27 points.

Despite Pierce's effort, the 'Hounds' scoring threesome was the key factor in the

"We've been having three or four players every game in double figures." Lawrence said. "I've been really happy with the way we've been playing so far this year. We've really come along very quickly.

Lyman held a 31-29 halftime lead. Even with the Blue Darters hitting 28 field goals on the night, five more than the Greyhounds, but their shooting at the line was atroclously off. The Blue Darters hit only five of 12 on the night while the Greyhounds went to the line over twice as many times and hit three times as many free throws.

The third and fourth periods remained the same for the Greyhounds and Blue Darters has the lead changed hands constantly throughout the course of the half. However, Pierce went cold in the third and Scaletta and Philpott got hot in the fourth to give the : Greyhounds the three-point victory .

"The game was tight all the way." Lawrence said of the Greyounds' night long battle against the Blue Darters.

The Greyhounds return to action this weekend at Seminole Community College in a Christmas tournament against Clearwater Countryside.

FEDOR SHOOTS DOWN PATRIOTS PORT ORANGE - Lake Brantley's Patriots used a patient first-half attack to hold Spruce Creek's Hawks in check for awhile Tuesday night. The Patriots led, 24-23, after 16 minutes of District 4A-9 basketball at Spruce Creek High School.

"I told the refs then, "Let's go home," Steve Jucker. Brantley's first-year coach. quipped. "I was afraid they would apply the pressure in the second half."

The Patriots, 4-2, stayed but the lead didn't. Big Jon Fedor and the quickstepping Hawks turned loose their running game midway through the third quarter and Spruce Creek ran away with a 62-45 victory.

"We got a little tired and we missed Steve Stark (wrist injury)," Jucker said. "They were just too big inside. We were too fired to Johnnie Bennett added nine. Spruce Creek opened the game with a 2-3 zone and Brantley exploited its lack of aggression to build an 8-4 first-quarter lead. Wade Wittig banged in two outside jumpers while sophomore Darren Leva and Brent Bell each accounted for a bucket.

We were very patient." Jucker said. "It was kind of boring but I liked it as long as we were ahead."

Spruce Creek's Fedor began to assert himself the second quarter as the Hawks outscored Brantley, 18-16, but the Patriots still held a 24-22 lead as sharpshooter Mark Moser dropped in six markers along with four each by Bell and Wittig.

Jucker's worst fears were realized in the third quarter when Spruce Creek came out with a pressing man-to-man defense. The Hawks outscored the Pats, 21-9, to take a 43-33 lead into the final eight minutes.

Witting led the Pats with 11 points. Bell and Moser had 10 apiece. Bell and Leva had five rebounds each while David Hardwick handed out three assists and came up with a

Speedway's 'Red Eye' Set Dec. 28

Sectial to the Morald NEW SMYRNA BEACH — The third annual Red Eye 100 Late Model Championship has been scheduled for Saturday night. Dec. 28 at 8 o'clock at the New Smyrna Speedway. The name Red Eye 100 came from the first version of the event which took place on New Year's Day (Sunday afternoon, Jan. 1, 1964) when many competitors' eyes looked more like the red lines on a road map.

That extremely competitive race was marked by seven lead changes among David Rogers. Daniel Keene and eventual winner Jack Cook.

The second annual Red Eve went to "Leapin" LeRoy Porter who moved up on the point for good on lap 36, after early leader Keene was sidelined by mechanical problems.

'All the above mentioned drivers, along with many more coming from all over Florida and several Southern states are expected to be at New Smyrna Speedway to compete in this year's event. The regular New Smyrna Speedway divisions including the thundercars, four-cylinders and roadrunners will also be seen in action that night. The front gate will open at 6:00 p.m. with time trials slated for 7 p.m.- and race time at 8 p.m. sharp. The pit gate will open at 8 a.m. for a full day of practice laps.

Cook Of The Week

Ruth Phillips Still Holds Pleasant Memories Of Youth

By Dorothy Greene Herald Correspondent

You can't take the "country" Cook of the week, Ruth Phillips in Cherryville, North Carolina.

a wonderful Mother and Daddy: ate. We did it the old-fashioned mule.

Living in a community of sharecroppers. Ruth recalls her meet many of our neighbors up father's genuine concern for families who were in need of help. "My father would always say to my mother. 'Mom.' gather up some eggs, flour, butter, milk and cornmeal,' and he'd take it over to a sharecropper to tide him over. He always helped the marshmallows. The thing that needy, especially when there were children in the family." says Ruth. Time hasn't changed things for Ruth, because she still enjoys giving of her time and talents whenever she can.

"We made our own fun when were were kids," says Ruth. "We even made our own toys. The older brothers would take some old wheels and make a wagon for us younger ones, or we'd get in a big, old tire and let them roll lus all over. We had a good time lat it, but I guess we didn't know any better.

By the time she was a young lady and met her husband-to-be. Ruth had learned the fine art of cooking wholesome family meals in her mother's country kitchen. Married to L.M. "Shorty" Phillips in 1940, Ruth says, "I met him in a grocery store in China Grove, North Carolina, He worked there and was dating a girlfriend of mine. Actually, 1 was engaged to another boy at the time, but that was broken off and then we got together and started dating." Forty five years later. Ruth and Shorty are still celebrating a happy marriage, and, says Ruth. "He's just a wonderful person. Shorty was inducted into the Army during World War II and was involved in the historical invasion of Normandy, and, as a result of his wounds, was awarded the Purple Heart.

After getting their 'feet in the sand' for two short years during the mid 1940's, Ruth and Shorty made Central Florida their permanent home in 1952, "We've never had a family of our own," says Ruth, "but I helped raise a iniece who is just like a daughter to me and her two boys are just like my grandchildren." Ruth proudly displays photographs of ther niece. Dalphine, and her handsome family. Ruth loves to travel and has been in every state except five.

money they spend abroad and spend it in our United States and out of a country girl, and our see the beauty that's in it," says Ruth. "My husband doesn't like of Sanford, still holds many to travel, so we just get a bunch pleasant memories of her youth of ladies together and we just go," she says. Of course, Ruth Ruth came from a family of 5 and Shorty do enjoy their own boys and 3 girls and says. "I had vacations together for several months each year. "We go to a very understanding. Just raised little town in North Carolina in the country. We lived on a right on the Blue Ridge Parkway. farm and we grew everything we and we have a ball," says Ruth. "We stay at a campground way, and even plowed with a called Racoon Holler and there are quite a few folks from Sanford who go there, too, so we there.

Ruth goes on to describe some of the happy times on their camping trips, saying. "We all get together at night and build a blg campfire, and we sit around it and roast weiners and tickles me the most is when we take a stick, round it off at the end, then wrap a canned biscuit around the end of the stick and bake it over the fire. When you pull it off the stick, there's a hole in it and put butter and jelly in the hole. They're called 'stick biscuits' and they are so good." Ruth says that sometimes there are as many as 30 people around the campfire enjoying each other's company and good fellowship.

Even though Ruth has enjoyed many years of travel, she has also managed to squeeze in a few years of work outside the home. She was a 15-year employee of Sanford Manufacturing "until it burned down," then after 11 years with Stromberg-Carlson, Ruth retired in 1982. Because a heart condition brought on a much earlier retirement for Shorty, he became a "good cook, too," says Ruth. Shorty says he never cooked a day in his life until he had to retire. "For 13 years, I cooked, washed dishes, washed clothes, and when Ruth retired I said, 'there are three things I'm going to give back to you: the kitchen, the dishes and the clothes washing," he says with a laugh. Ruth and Shorty are both members of the Elks Club and for many years Shorty helped prepare dinners for 200 people at a time. Ruth is a Lady Elk and Shorty was Exhalted Ruler in 1970. Both are looking forward to a visit to the Harry-Anna Crippled Children's Home in Umatilla this week to spread some Christmas cheer to the youngsters. "We are going in a caravan to take gifts to the children in the hospital. We're taking a Santa Claus, a clown and a band and we're going to give the children a Christmas Party," says Ruth. All year long. special events are all part of the Elks' organization's dedication to community service projects. "We have a Luau, a Thanksgiving dinner, a New Year's party. and all during the year we try to have something going on," says Ruth. "We all work together." she says.

Ruth enjoys staying physically active and is proud of a bowling trophy she was awarded for having a score of more than 250 In one game, "I used to be a pretty good bowler at one time." says Ruth, "but I haven't bowled now in years." Ruth also has an interest in Early American antiques and her home is dotted with many fine old pieces. Some of her loveliest items of furniture were found in remote places and restored to bring out their best qualities. Recalling how she acquired one of her favorites, an old fashioned wash stand, Ruth says when she was on vacation with a group of friends just outside Pueblo, Colorado, she discovered it in a small antique shop when they stopped to rest on a long stretch of road. Wanting to purchase the wash stand. Ruth had to figure a way to get it home. She says, "There were six of us women in the van. so I said, 'all right, girls, let's get out there and unload that van and reload it. - I'm going to buy that thing! And I hauled it all the way across the country." There is something to be said about Old World furnishings that add to the cozy atmosphere of a

'Home' also means the delightful aromas which drift out of a busy kitchen, especially during the holiday season. "I just like to cook." says Ruth. "I like to cook a little bit of everything." Ruth also likes to collect cook books. but still prefers her mother's style, "just plain old country cooking with meat, potatoes. gravy, cornbread and hot biscults.' Ruth says that a "hobby" of hers for many years was to take a small dish of everything she made at Christmas time to share with her neighbors. Many of her candles and baked goods were made ahead of time, then stored in the freezer. "I do a lot of my baking early and don't like to wait till the last minute," she says. "I make my Orange Slice Cake in November and freeze it. Then when you cut it, it's so good," says Ruth.

Recipes To Shatter The Breakfast Skipper's Alibis

What's your excuse? Despite the fact that most nutritionists tout breakfast as the most important meal of the day, most of us have our own individual reason for skipping breakfast or for consuming foods that are inadequate substitutes for a well-rounded meal. "I haven't got enough time to make it or eat it." "I can't afford the calories." "I don't like bland breakfast foods." "Breakfast is a boring routine." All these excuses and more have been used as our rationale for letting our bodies run on an insufficient fuel supply for the morning's activities. Honestly, though, all these justifications are simply a pretext for the truth-we haven't given breakfast priority over other things in our lives, such as wanting more sleep time or kidding ourselves into thinking that skipping breakfast is a sensible way to diet. Each of the single servings in toaster or recipes here is designed to shatter at least one breakfast skipper greased baking sheet and bake alibi. So, why not face the facts, in preheated 375-degree oven re-align your priorites and bring until hot, 8 to 10 minutes. the benefits of breakfast back into your life?

Now Is Great Time To Make Candy

If you have never tried making candy with the microwave oven, now is a great time to start. The advantage of using the microwave is that the candy will not scorch since there is no direct heat. The sugar must be dissolved slowly so a reduced power level is best. I find a setting of 70% to 50% best to prevent sugaring. Stir several times during the cooking to equalise heat. Use a large container that can withstand high temperatures. A microwave thermometer is most helpful to determine the various sugar sages for different candies. The cold water test found in most ook books are also accurate for inicrowave candles.

Creamy fudge is easy to make in the microwave.

"Right now, we have about 80 delivery units. If the decision's made to go with delivery, by the end of next year we would have approximately 800 delivery units in the Pizza Hut system. I'd say right now it looks pretty good for 1t."

Pizza Hut has set up Ritchens for its delivery service separate from its restaurants. It also is experimenting with a centralized telephone bank and a computerized customer listing so the company can keep track of who Orders pizza, when and whether they like sausage or anchovies.

"it's not only a nice touch but it allows us to get the delivery time d own faster and faster," Jenkins said.

Domino's is experimenting with a similar computerized Phone system.

Pizza Hut and Domino's officials believe there are enough pizza lovers to go around.

"This is definitely a Competitive industry." Pizza Hut's Jenkins said. "When one company enters an industry the other ones tend to benefit because it makes that much more awareness."

Said Domino's Hingst, "More and more people in this If all goes well in Country are discov-Atlanta, Pizza Hut fig. ering pizza. so our whole area has a long way to go. Maybe all of this will get more and more people thinking about pizza."

"We have used the store quite a bit." said one contented renter. who owns a Western-made VCR. He said he first read about the store in the newspaper Soviet Culture, which reported the opening Nov. 12.

"In a cozy building on the Old Arbat, the country's 10th Videoteka has received its first visitors. Lovers of the home movie theater who have video cassettes of dramatic films or variety programs." the newspaper cooed.

According to Soviet Culture. video rental stores have also opened in Voroneszh, Minsk, Vilnius, Rostov and Leningrad. The small town of Voroneszh. 250 miles south of Moscow, was a logical choice since Soviet VCR production began there early in 1984. So far the factory has produced only a few thousand machines for a population of 280 million, compared to 15 million machines in use in America by the end of 1984. Despite the shortage and the growing demand, the domestic VCR is largely ignored because of a $1,560 price tag and poor quality. In April, the Communist youth newspaper Komsomolskava Pravda said, "at first, about a quarter of the videos were sent straight from the conveyor belt to the repair workshop." The newspaper also complained that there was nothing to watch once a lucky Soviet got his hands on a machine. "Not one single film has been shot specially for video. Only 15 of the films that are available came out after 1980," Komsomolskaya Pravda said. The opening of rental stores attests to the number of Soviets with VCRs. Many brought them back after working in the West or resorted to paying between $3,900 to $9,100 for Western machines sold in "used" goods

There are many types of parties during the holidays, such as festive once-a-year meetings of the bridge, golf or professional club, and often there will be a bridal shower or engagement event. All these call for something special.

Highlight a party with a homemade California Cream Puff Plus. This combines the richness of cream, apricots and strawberries with a crusty puff ring. Make one or more rings ahead and freeze them until party time.

For Custard Filling: in small saucepan, heat milk until tiny bubbles form around the edge. In medium saucepan, combine sugar, cornstarch and salt: stir in egg yolks. Slowly stir in heated milk and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened and mixture begins to boil. Continue cooking over medium heat for 2 minutes, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat and stir in almonds and vanilla. Cover surface with waxed paper and refrigerate until chilled, about 2

To fill cream puff ring, reserve 6 apricot halves for garnish. Pat remaining apricots with paper towels to remove excess moisture.
