Veterans Day

Newcomers Join Celebration

By United Press International

Veterans Day celebrations departed from tradition this year paying tribute not only to those who served in the U.S. armed forces, but to women who held related accidents. down the homefront and to the South Vietnamese who fought with U.S. troops.

A Vietnam veteran near Scattle began the 27th day of a fast calling attention to U.S. servicemen still missing in Vietnam. Gino Casanova, 34, has vowed to go without food for 61 days, while living in a 7 foot by 7 foot "tiger cage.'

Veterans Day parades were to be held across the nation from the San Francisco Bay area to New York's Fifth Avenue.

Some 400 Air Force ROTC units around the world were to participate in a simultaneous U.S. flag-raising ceremony.

In Washington, Virginia Gov. charles Robb was to be the keynote speaker at ceremonies at the Vietnam Veterans Memorial. where the names of 58,022 servicemen who died in battle soon will be joined by the names of 96 servicemen killed in battle-

President Reagan was scheduled to lay a wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery near Washington.

Prince Charles and Princess Diana were to lay wreaths at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier and at a memorial to Sir John Dill, who headed the British Joint Staff Mission in the United States during World War II.

In Marion, Ohio, a granite monument honoring the role of women in America's war efforts was to be unveiled at Veterans Memorial Park. The memorial is believed to be the first of its kind, the Veterans Memorial Park Committee said.

Special Recognition For Women

By Susan Loden Herald Staff Writer

DeBary's Helene Edmondson is one in 1.1 million. That's the number of women armed services veterans who are set for special recognition during this. National Women Veterans Recognition Week.

That special recognition, according to Veterans Administration Services Officer Bill Bryant, comes in the form of expanded outreach efforts to inform women veterans that they are entitled to the same benefits as men.

Mrs. Edmondson, who started her military career as a U.S. Coast Guard SPAR and served almost two years before being mustered out at the end of World War II. kept informed on benefits and sald. "I've not missed out on much myself."

After a post-war stint as a civilian worker for the U.S. Air Force and Army Mrs. Edmondson sald she joined the U.S. Navv Reserves in 1953 as a chief petty officer and was the first Wave to be assigned to a SeaBee division. She went on to active duty and retired In 1973 as a Sr. Chief Yeoman.

"I've maintained an active role in the Fleet Reserve Association. which is an active duty and reserve fraternal organization with a lobbyist in Washington, D.C.," she said.

Early in her career, Mrs. Edmondson said one of her proudest moments was when she was named "Head Captain." She wrote her friends telling them of the honor, but that was before she realized "head"meant restroom in military lingo.

She had been assigned to clean toilets, but lessened her chore, she said, by putting "out of order" signs on all but one of the 10 tollets she was responsible for.

Throughout her career Mrs. Edmondson's main weapon was her typewriter. Over the years her duties included court reporting. news writing, public relations and recruiting.

"I'm not going to get out and shoot a gun," she said. "I can do more with a typewriter, I can make 'em or break 'em with a typewrit-

Mrs. Edmondson said she believes women have a place in the ndlitary, but it isn't in combat or aboard ship.

Her husband of 30 years, Glenn, a retired U.S. Army man who served as a foot soldier in World War II has, she said, told her he wouldn't have wanted her or any other woman alongside on the battlefield.

"The conditions are too gross." Mrs. Edmondson said. "Combatand ship life are not for women. Men have their place - let them keep it. I don't believe women are emotionally geared for it. Some men may not be. I have great respect for males"

Bryant said American women have had a role in the military since settlers frist set foot in the New World.

"From defending their villages during Indian attacks to donning disguises and fighting alongside their husbands during the Revolutionary War, women were as familiar with the weapons of war as they were with cooking utensils and farm equipment," he said.

Water Fees Set Tonight

By Karen Talley Herald Staff Writer

Final adoption is expected tonight of the substantial water and sewer rate Increases Sanford residents and businei ses can expect to pay as of Dec. 1.

The city is also expected to award a lease for development of the lakefront property located east of Holiday Inn and behind Beta Marine. Ambitious projects have been proposed by Holiday Inn owner Ed Welch and Beta Marine operator John Smith.

In upping water rates, the city commission, as well as Sanford's utility account holders, will provide solveney for the $15-million bond issue that will fund

The 11th Annual Golden Age Games came to a rather wet conclusion Saturday after a week of sunny, cool weather. Games Chairman Jim Jernigan said 95 percent of the track and field events were completed when it began to rain. The officials ran the one-mile run in spite of the rain at the request of the participants,

Jernigan said everything went smoothly except for the sailing event on Monday when the strong winds and choppy waters that repeatedly upturned the small craft, forced cancellation of the Jernigan said there was one injury Saturday during the track and field events at the Seminole High School stadium. Marian Wilson of Sanford fell on the asphalt in the 50-yard dash and received cuts on her chin and around her eye. Undaunted Mrs. Wilson after recelving treatment came back to run in the 220 yard dash sporting a "shiner."

Jernigan said the quality of the track runs was better than ever before.

"The people came prepared," he said. "The shuffleboard tournament was down to the last two when it got rained out so the finalists flipped for the winner. Horsehoes and croquet were also played Saturday."

"It was the best by far," declared Jack Horner, president of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, co-sponsor of the annual event. "There were very few glitches."

Horner said there were 3,500 entries with some of the competitors entering more than one event. The golf tournament drew 437 entries this year and the bowling 340. The number running in the six-mile mini-marathon went from 14 last year to 23 this year and Jernigan expects the number to increase considerably next year if the distance is dropped to 4 miles as he anticipates.

One of the most unusual happenings was when the oldest participant in the men's rotation billiards, Louis Ambrose, 81, won his first match by running the table on his first try and his opponent not getting to shoot once. Officials said this has never happened before in the Golden Age Games and it is a very rare occurrence. In spite of this Ambrose was

City Manager Frank Falson said today the bond's validation on Friday was for $25-million, with the additional funds to be held in escrow for Sanford's second phase of work. The rate hikes, which range from 55 to 98 percent for residents and 40 to 300 percent for commercial bond, Faison sald.

Solveney for the additional $10-million may necessitate another rate hike two or three years from now, according to Bill Simmons, director of engineering and planning.

The next increase may be pared by phase one of the city's wastewater revenues generated from the new impact fees the commission is also expected to adopt tonight, Simmons said. Developers pay these charges to hook into Sanford's water and sewer system.

Phase one work includes purchasing a site for effluent disposal and constructing a spray irrigation system there. The city has targeted the 2.867-acre Yankee Lake users, will be applied to the phase one property as its most viable location and has begun condemnation proceedings in efforts to obtain it. The legal action is against Jeno Paulucci, owner of the property, who agreed to sell the site to Seminole County last week for its own waste management program.

He said another advantage of Sanford's senior Games is they make allowance for the non-athletes.

"The competition is just as keen in the knitting contest as in the 100-yard dash," he said.

Horner said he was pleased with the number of entries -52 - in the long-drive golf competition held for the

Five Dead as Planes Collide Over New Jersey City Sunday

CLIPFSIDE PARK, N.J. (UPI) - Rescuers searched the smoldering rubble of an apartment building today for more victims of a midair collision between two small planes that killed at least five people and rained flery debris on two suburban towns.

The corporate Falcon 50 jet and the private Piper Cherokee propeller plane collided at 5:25 p.m. EST Sunday, authorities said.

The jet crashed into an apartment complex in Cliffside Park, burning five brick buildings - one completely - and forcing 90 families to flee. The plane crashed into a house in nearby Fairview. A small fire broke out, but all the occupants escapeti unharmed.

It was not known whether the fifth body recovered was a passenger on the Cherokee or a pedestrian.

The Falcon 50 was bound for Teterboro Airport from Morristown, officials said. The Piper Cherokee left Essex County Airport in Caldwell, N.J.

Chaos In Congress Looms

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The expiration of the federal debt limit, a stopgap money bill, a cigarette tax and numerous other laws may turn this week's busy session in Congress into a chaotic one.

Treasury Secretary James Baker has warned of "swift and severe repercussions," including higher interest rates. if the United States defaults on its obligations after Thursday because Congress has failed to raise the national borrowing limit to $2 trillion.

Congress, going down to the wire on balanced budget negotiations, has not even scheduled a House-Senate meeting until Tuesday, due to the Veterans' Day holiday today. By the time the conferees meet, they will have just two days until Thursday midnight - labeled "drop dead day" in Capitol Hill vernacular.

Thursday, the interim funding bill that has been keeping many agencies running in lieu of approval of regular appropriation bills expires. Congressional leaders had hoped to pass another uncomplicated extension, through Dec. 5. But the balanced budget debate is making that idea impossible.

Would-Be Defector Going Home

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) - A Soviet grain ship loaded with corn and a young Ukrainian seaman who twice jumped into the Mississippi River to seek political asylum headed through the Gulf of Mexico today to its home port.

The fate of the sailor, Marislav Medvid, who U.S. officials believed was drugged when he was told interviewers that he wanted to return to his ship, may never be known.

A Ukrainian dissident who spent 30 years in Soviet prisons said Medvid will be confined to a psychiatric hospital or jail. A Soviet Embassy official told reporters there would be no retaliation against Medvid.

Grand Jury To Review Killing Of Unarmed Suspect By Officer

POMPANO BEACH (UPI) - A Broward County grand jury is expected to review today a weekend shooting in which an unarmed drug suspect considered dangerous by police was shot in the back by a SWAT officer.

The jury is expected to determine whether the shooting was justified. Herbert Harris, 46, was killed Friday night while fleeing from his Pompano Beach home. His son Scott. 21, was at the house during the shooting and said police never announced they were serving a search warrant.

Broward County sheriff's spokesman George Crolius said SWAT officer Joe Hoffman identified himself immediately after jumping over a fence around the back yard and ordered Harris to stop running. He didn't stop and Hoffman shot him with a 12-guage shot gun. Crolius said.

Escaped Convicts Elude Capture

RAIFORD (UPI) - A murderer, a rapist and an armed robber who cut through razor-ribbon barbed wire and dodged a tower guard's bullet to escape from Union Correctional Institution may have had outside help. officials said today.

Joseph Santos, 27, Paul Smith, 31, and Donald Wilson, 34, eluded a multi-county manhunt through the weekend.

"They're still at large," said Sgt. Les Bublitz, control room supervisor at the North Florida prison. Bublitz said the men may have had someone waiting to pick them up outside the prison.

Searchers had tracked the escapees to the woods that surround the rural prison and then lost the tracks.

The three escapees, who lived in the same housing area at the rural prison, escaped by cutting through razorribbon barbed wire and 10-foot fences.

Couple Sues In Baby Mix-Up

MIAMI (UPI) - Jackson Memorial Hospital is investigating an alleged baby mixup which has spawned a lawsuit against the hospital, said George Hill, Jackson's risk management administrator.

Acela Merzius and her husband Merilien are suing the hospital for sending them home with the wrong baby three years ago, it was reported Sunday.

"Somebody on the planet got her baby and still has it." said Merziuses' lawyer George Hachwalter. "The bottom line is she has zero baby, and we don't know where in hell's bells the right baby is."

Remember The Forgotten Vets

On June 25, 1955, the armies of North Korea launched an invasion across the 38th parallel into South Korea. Supported by Soviet and Chinese equipment and personnel, they quickly pushed the surprised and outmanned South Koreans into retreat.

Within a very few days, President Truman mobilized American forces and rushed them to the aid of the South Koreans. They comprised the bulk of a multi-national force under the unified command of Gen. Douglas MacArthur. For the next three years, bloody fighting raged up and down the peninsula. Names such as Inchon, the Iron Triangle. Pork Chop Hill and Chosin Reservoir came to symbolize the courage and tenacity of those who served there and the hardship and suffering they endured.

But in the past 30 years, those symbols and memories have slipped away from us. Sandwiched between the global conflict of World War II and the national angst of Vietnam, the war in Korea has become our forgotten war. So too have the 5.7 million Americans who served in the Armed Forces during that period become our forgotten veterans.

There is a movement now to remedy our forgetfulness, to help us remember that 54,236 of our countrymen gave their lives to stop totalitarian aggression, that 103,248 of their comrades were wounded, and 5,178 captured or missing in action.

A great boost to this effort has been provided by Rep. Stan Parris of Virginia. It is very doubtful that Rep. Parris ever forgot about Korea for he served as a fighter pilot there and was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross.

On May 22, 1985, Parris introduced a bill in the House of Representatives (H.R. 2588) which would authorize the design* and construction of a memorial in Washington, D.C. in honor of the veterans of the Korean

"I can still hear the voices I heard on more than one occasion." Parriss said, referring to fellow pilots who died in action. "I can close my eyes and see things I would prefer to forget."

The House has now passed the Korean Memorial bill unanimously, and sent it on to the Senate. The House also unanimously passed bills authorizing memorials for two other forgotten groups of veterans: women and blacks who fought in the Revolutionary War.

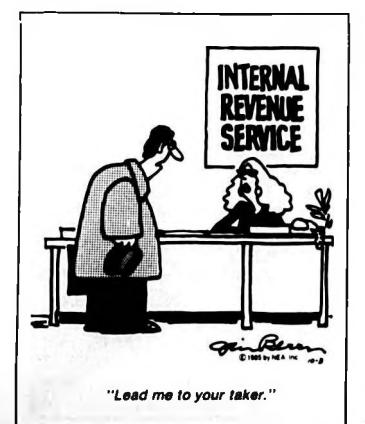

The memorial for black Revolutionary War veterans would be built on the Mall, between the Lincoln Memorial and the Washington Monument in an area called Constitution Gardens. No sites for the others were specified in their respective bills.

The money to build each of the monuments must be raised privately and two government commissions must approve the memorials.

The Korean Memorial bill was co-sponsored by 170 members of the House. Sen. William Armstrong of Colorado has introduced a companion bill in the Senate and about half of the members of that body are co-sponsors. It is hoped that the memorial can be built with a combination of private and federal funds and that construction can be completed in 1988 to coincide with the Summer Olypics to be held in South Korea.

In presenting the Korean veteran's bill to his colleagues in Congress, Rep. Parris stated, "This brave group of Americans has been leapfrogged by time, and it is up to thee of us serving in Congress to rectify the situation. The rest of us can do our part too. First, by adding our voices and letters to Congress to the growing support for this memorial, and by adding to our rememberances this November 11 a group of veterans who, when totalitarianism was on the march in Korea, answered their country's call and served the cause of freedom bravely and with distinction

Wait 'Til May For Queuing And Mudbugging

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The first 1986 calendar to come to my attention appears in an "uncorrected proof" of "The Daily Planet Vacation Almanac." If you don't care what happens during January, February, March and April, you may want to acquire your own copy.

It's true the Almanac won't be published until next spring, but that is a small matter. What is important are the events listed for the month of May, when the calendar begins.

For example, the weekend of May 30-31 has been set aside for the celebration of "Mudbug Madness" in Shreveport, La.

Now that you know, you can plan your vacation accordingly.

All roads lead to Shreveport in May, unless, of course, you are too worn out from participating in the "Rogue River Boatnik" at Grants Pass.

That May 22-26 event will be physically taxing. The boatnik is described as a "major whitewater competition." If your boat overturns, you could even get wet.

Capsizing wouldn't necessarily qualify you for the "Bath Festival" May 23 to June 9, however. To celebrate "the arts amidst the splendor of the English countryside," you need to be in Bath, England. Being in an Oregon river wouldn't do.

As a potential visitor to the United Kingdom later next summer. I was more interested in other travel tips provided by the Almanac authors. Kim Long and Terry Reim.

Where else but in a section captioned "How to Offend the Natives" could I have learned that "queing up has become a British tradition?"

Since that segment alludes to standing in line. I assume the Almanac was referring to the word "queue," the gerund of which is "queuing." I trust the editors will make it conform when they correct the proof.

There probably is no quicker way of offending the natives of Britain than by misspelling one of their traditions.

Sadly, not all tourists attending the Bath
Festival will be accorded that opportunity.

however. You may have to wing it a bit.

I recommend elbowing your way to the head of the line. That ought to give the natives due offense all right, especially if they have been queued up all night.

If not, maybe you will have enough time and money to go on the France and give some of the natives chrysanthemums.

According to the Almanac. 'mums "are associated with funerals and mourning" and "should not be given as a gift."

' As to how the natives of Britian might react if some tourist gave a nosegay of white asters to old mum while she stood in a queue, the Almanac doesn't say. But it might be worth a

Chairman Optimistic In Virginia

By Arnold Sawislak UPI Senior Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — When the Virginia returns came in last week. GOP national chairman Frank Fahrenkopf demonstrated President Reagan's favorite story about the incurably optimistic youngster who happily shovels out a stable full of manure because "there must be a pony in here somewhere."

The Democrats won everything in Virginia except the furniture in the state Republican headquarters. Not only did they sweep the three top state offices, but they did it with a ticket that many neutral observers thought more closely resembled a suicide pact than a winning team.

In a state that replied to the judicial and legislative civil rights advances of the 1960s with the doctrine of "massive resistance" — a typically genteel Virginia-like way of saying. "Surrender, hell!" — the Democrats elected a black man lieutenant governor.

Not even during the carpetbag days of the Reconstruction, when states like Missisippi, Lousiana. South Carolina and North Carolina sent blacks to Congress, was a black elected to statewide office in Virginia.

Yet Virginia elected Douglas Wilder, a black and a liberal activist to boot, lieutenant governor.

Just as remarkable was the election of Mary Sue Terry, an unmarried woman, as state attorney general. All she did was lead the ticket with 61 per cent of the vote, a certified landslide.

It is no big thing when some Southern states elect female senators. House members, state legislators or even, in the case of Alabama, a governor, but no one can remember when Virginia gave any major state or congressional office to a woman. In 1984, the Democrats there nominated a woman for the Senate, but then all but abandoned her as a lost cause before the campaign even started.

So what did Fahrenkopf say when the Virginia GOP ticket of three white men was beaten?

"The Virginia results are not as positive as New Jersey. However, they too give a clear indication of the continuing philosophical realignment taking place in this nation," the GOP chief said. "Led by Gov. Robb. the Virginia ticket out-Republicaned" our GOP candidates by adopting as their own conservative Republican princi-

High Tech At Summit

By Ben Wattenberg

When nations lock borns about dividing up power — which is what will be happening at the Geneva summit — It is a process that deals with more than mere military force and hardware. Competing cultures are on the table. Accordingly, there may be hidden players to watch for.

Thus: At the center of the Geneva negotiations will be the Strategle Defense Initiative, alias SDI, "Star Wars' - the projected super-high-tech missile-defense system. In Washington, needless to say. Star Wars is seen as a grand governmental, military and political thrust: It's Ronald Reagan's proposal, it's being run out of the Department of Defense, it's funded by Congress. There is some validity to this, of course. But one of the key reasons SDI has become so important - and why the mere idea of II has driven the Soviets batty - is that so much of it came not from our government, but from our

Here is the history: In the later 1960s and early 1970s, particularly after the Anti-Ballistic-Missile Treaty was signed, the government took only a low-key interest in defensive technology. There was the Ballistic Defense Command at Huntsville, Ala. There was some exploration of high-energy lasers and charged-particle beams. Military research into micro-electronics continued. But it was all mostly on the back hurner. And for good reason: The technology for a comprehensive defensive system simply wasn't available.

At about that time, however, the private sector was going ape in high tech — first in places like Silicon Valley in California and on Route 128 near Boston.

Americans, with dollar signs in their eyes, were working on some trivial aspects of computerization. Young entrepreneurs, anxious to make a killing, were inventing video games. (One of the early ones was called Missile Command.) Using new basic theory of surface physics, a new infra-red sensor technology was developed. One commercial use: activating the automatic doors in hotels.

At the same time, the aircraft and automobile industries needed new materials that were strong and light—to provide transport that was fuel-efficient.

Products came to market. Ideas were exchanged. Young high-tech hotshots jumped from job to Job: many of them started new firms. Their former bosses got angry, but their jumping around cross-pollinated the new technologies.

So, for a decade, American entrepreneurs and scientists fiddled around with the products, processes and ideas that were to become the building blocks of Star Wars: miniaturization, speed, sensors, space travel, light-weight materials, mass production. By 1981, former Secretary of the Air Force (and now chancellor of the University of Texas) Hans Mark was able to note in a speech that there had been a "Private Technological Revolution." Dr. Mark, a physicist, does not use the word "revolution" lightly.

Is it any wonder the Soviets are so afraid of Star Wars? They know we have the whip hand. They can't match it. When they try, they have to do it all via a ponderous communist government in a tight-lipped society that doesn't think much about video games, automatic hotel doors or light-weight car bumpers.

Satellite Premiums Rocketing

By Al Rossiter, Jr UPI Science Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — NASA and its European competitor are trying to help satellite owners facing skyrocketing premiums and reduced launch insurance availability because of major losses during the past 21 months.

The world's space insurance is

The world's space insurance industry has paid out $633 million in claims and has recorded a net loss of $350 million since early 1984 from the loss or partial losses of nine communications satellites.

As a result, insurance premiums are expected to climb to as high as 30 percent of the cost of the satellite and launch services.

In addition, underwriters expect total insurance coverage for each flight of a space shuttle or a European Ariane rocket to be limited to $100 million — not enough to cover the cost of the two or three commercial satellites that go up on each launch.

Frederic d'Allest, chairman of the Arianespace, told a Senate subcommittee the situation "is simply unacceptable for most of the satellite operators and is actually jeopardizing the further development of the commercial space industry."

He said Arianespace has several customers who are holding off on committing to satellite construction or launchings because of the cost of insurance.

To help ease the problem.

To help ease the problem. Arianespace has developed a plan where it will offer its own insurance for the amount that cannot be supplied by the commercial insurance market.

Arianespace will cover the cost of the launch and satellite through the portion of the flight it controls. D'Allest said the company will charge a premium ranging from 11 percent to 13 percent of the value of the satellite and launch.

He said the company arrived at this rate by pooling its risk over 15 flights. The company figures its rocket will have a failure once every 15 flights, and Arianespace will assume that risk, which amounts to about 7 percent per flight.

As an alternative plan, according to NASA general counsel John O'Brien, NASA will offer a re-flight at a 50 percent discount for any failure that affects the satellite up to the first 90 days.

Insurance experts said the industry got into its present predicament by charging two years ago what in hindsight were unrealistic premiums of about 5 percent for satellite launchings from either the shuttle or Ariane.

McFarlane Thinks POWs Still Being Held

By Jack Anderson And Dele Van Atta

WASHINGTON — Veterans Day is an appropriate occasion to remind Americans once again that nearly 2.500 U.S. military men remain unaccounted for in Southeast Asia 10 years after the war ended. Some of them are almost certainly alive — on the authority of no less than the president's national security adviser.

Yet for all its bold talk, the Reagan regime has done little more than previous administrations to help these men in their unimaginable agony. The Defense Intelligence Agency, while professing great concern about reported sightings of live American prisoners in Vietnam and Laos, has systematically tried either to squelch the reports or discredit them.

According to our sources, the reported, the military simply Pentagon has received more than 400 reports since 1981 of live evidence, demanding proof or cor-

American prisoners. The Delense Intelligence Agency has been unable to discredit more than 100 of these eyewitness reports, even counting some pre-1981 sightings. Supposedly, they are still under investigation.

Granted, this administration, like its predecessors, is in a frustrating position. The Vietnamese flatly deny that they have American prisoners-of-war. Faced with this official obstinacy, the White House's only option seems to be a Rambostyle raid to liberate the POWs. But the Intelligence information isn't up-to-date enough to guarantee a fair chance of success, even if the administration were willing to risk such an operation.

Rather than acknowledge its impotence, the Pentagon resorts to a shameful game of semantics over the word "evidence." Unable to deny that sightings have been reported, the military simply challenges the reliability of the evidence, demanding proof or corroboration that is impossible to get.

There's a double standard at work. We made a careful study of the live-sighting reports: then compared them with the top-secret reports that give evidence of Soviet arms-control violations.

The sources of information are similar in both cases: "humint" or human intelligence from refugees and other eyewitnesses. supplemented by spy satellite data. No one has come up with an official Vietnamese document acknowledging the existence of American POWs; but then, no one has come up with an official Soviet document admitting arms treaty violations, either. But the comparison makes clear that the White House has accepted far flimster evidence on armscontrol breaches - sometimes even called "strong evidence" in the reports - than it is willing to accept on live POWs.

Indeed, National Security Adviser

Robert McFarlane made a startling admission last month in remarks that he thought were off the record. A former congressman (and a staunch conservative at that) taped the remarks and released them to friends in the media.

"I think there have to be live Americans there," said McFarlane, stressing that this was only his personal opinion. He paid obelsance to the official line that the evidence wasn't conclusive, but then said: "There is quite a lot of evidence given by people who have no ulterior motives and no reason to lie, and they're telling things that they have seen."

Finally, McFarlane admitted that the administration hasn't done enough to gather intelligence on the missing Americans. "And that's bad." he said. "That's a failure."

If admission of error is the first step toward correcting it, maybe the government is finally making some progress.

Seminole High found out what a difference one runner can make on both ends Saturday morning in the 4A-5 District Championships at Trinity Prep.

The girls team qualified for regionals largely due to Viola Posley, who ran just her second race of the season. Her addition reduced Seminole's score by some 30 points.

On the other hand, the boys team fell three points shy of qualifying with number three County standouts met. Rohr runner Alan Seward failing to show up for the race.

Meanwhile, senior standout Billy Penick won the Individual title going away as he sailed to an excellent time of 15:02.5.

Penick, qualifying as an individual, and the Seminole girls will compete in the 4A-3 Reglonal Meet this Saturday at Lake Mary High.

In the early going, Penick stayed behind Lake Mary's Ken Rohr but, when Rohr's pace slowed down. Penick went to the front and took control of the

In what is without a doubt the strongest district in the state. Winter Park's Lady Wildcats turned in a spectacular performance to win the 4A-5 District title on a warm, overcast Saturday morning at Trinity Prep.

The top-ranked (4A) Lady Wildcats, led by the 1.2 finish of Kim Bovis and Amy Gamber, finished with a team score of 29. compared to 60 for secondranked Lake Howell. Tenthranked Lyman was third at 105. Also qualifying for regionals were Lake Brantley (128). Seminole (142) and Boone (164).

While the 4A-5 boys district may not be the best in the state. it is definitely one of the most competitive. Saturday morning. Winter Park completed a sweep of the district team titles as it finished with a team score of 59 compared to 97 for Colonial and 111 for Lake Howell. Also qualifying for regionals were Lake teammate Amy Gamber, a se-Mary (133), Lyman (135) and Boone (157).

The 4A-3 Region Meet will be held Saturday morning at Lake five were Beth Gamber (sixth at Mary High. District 6 12:05). Kerry Rizza (eighth at (Melbourne, Lake Worth area) 12:29.7) and Missy Glasgow will join District 5 with the top (12th at 12:37.2).

"There's no question this is the strongest district in the state." Lyman coach Joe Laughlin said. "We were third Saturday, but there are a lot of districts we could have won. Looking at other regions, the teams that wind up fifth or sixth in our region really deserve to go to state but won't go.

Since the DeLand Invitational. Winter Park has been in the strongest team in what is the top district in the state. The key for the Lady Wildcats Saturday was getting seven runners in ahead of Lake Howell's fifth.

Leading the way was Bovis, a junior, who won the individual title with a time of 11:12.7. She was followed by Lady Wildcat nior, who took second at

Bucs Finally Win One For Bennett

TAMPA (UPI) - In one balmy afternoon of solid football, the Tampa Bay Buccaneers removed their season-long zero and placed it squarely upon the shoulder pads of the St. Louis Cardinals Taunted with profanities and pelted with debris at the conclusion of their previous home games, the Buccaneers walked off the field saluted as heroes Sunday following a 16-0 triumph over St. Louis. Tampa Bay parlayed three tong field goals by rookie Donald lewebuike and a grudging pass defense for first-year coach Leeman Bennett's first victory in 10 games at the Buccancer helm.

"It's been a long time coming and the football team had battled every Sunday and really have deserved to win some other games," said Bennett. who received a game ball from the 1-9 team. "I'm very proud of those guys that fought all year. Under the circumstances I am very, very happy and I'm going to enjoy this at least for a little while."

Aided by several injuries to key Cardinal offensive weapons, the Buccancers posted their first shutout since a 3-0 blanking of Kansas City in 1979 - a decision that earned them the NFC Central Division title. The Cardinals. 4.6. were coming off Monday night's emotional 21-10 victory against Dallas. but the offense was listless without All-Pro wide receiver Roy Green and star running back Ottis Anderson. both nursing injuries.

"After this, we're going to roll down like a snowball and knock them all out." said jubilant Tampa Bay tackle Ron Heller. "We stuck to our guns and went after them."

The Cardinals, a pre-season pick to win the NFC East, will now have to Football rally just to earn a wild card playoff berth. Neil Lomax completed 21-of-33 passes for just 197 yards as he was forced to dump off passes to his running backs. Stump Mitchell provided most of the St. Louis offense with 64 yards rushing and five catches for 38 vards but Jess tkinson missed field goals of 42 and 45 yards.

"Tampa Bay had nothing to lose and everything to gain," said Lomax, whose longest completion went for 22 yards. "We came in tight from the Monday night win, but I won't take anything away from the Bucs. They played well and they definitely will not let you throw long. It's the little mistakes that kill us ... a holding penalty here, a dropped pass there."

Anderson played sparingly and his first carry of the game resulted in a fumble at the Tampa Bay 10 with 6:08 left, ending the Cardinals' chances. Starting tackle Tootle Robbins also missed most of the game for the Cardinals, who were blanked for the first time since a 28-0 setback at Washington in the final game of the '82 regular scason.

Igwebuike's 47-yard field goal and Steve Deperg a 1-yard acorning pass of Adger Armstrong forged a 10.0 halftime lead for Tampa Bay and Igwebuike added fourth-quarter kicks of 46 and 50 yards. Jimmie Giles continued his standout play for the Buccaneers as the rejuvenated tight end caught six passes for a career-high 134 yards and James Wilder ran for 120 yards before a disbelieving crowd of 34.736. There were 10,380 no-shows despite glorious weather as Tampa Bay won for just the ninth time in its last 42 games. DeBerg hit on 11-of-27 for 196 yards.

Tampa Bay's defense came into the contest allowing 30 points per game. but the maligned Buccancer secondary took away the big play from Lomax. The Cardinals, who began thirdquarter series at midfield and the Tampa Bay 35, were limited to just 279 yards in total offense.

"I like to get the fans interested." said hard-hitting Tampa Bay safety Ivory Sully. "I like to be the instigator. It takes coaches, players and the 12th man, the fans, to be successful. We saw the goose egg up on the board and we wanted to get it for ourselves. At halftime, in the back of our minds, we thought about shutting them out.

Georgia Halts Gators' Dream

United Press International

The Florida Gators' dream of an unbeaten season came to a crashing halt at the hands of while No. 7 Miami kept its dream of a major bowl berth alive by topping Maryland 29-22.

Florida, which lost for the first time in 18 games, was stung by three long scoring runs by the Bulldogs, including dashes of 32 and 76 yards by Keith Henderson. Georgia also got an 89-yard run by Tim Worley and a 32-yard field goal by Steve Crumley.

The Gators only could muster a 36-yard field goal by Jeff Dawson.

"Georgia played one of its greatest games ever today." said Gators' Coach Galen Hall, who lost for the first time since taking over at Florida. "We really couldn't do anything right. Georgia rushed our passing game very well and stopped our running attack. I thought Georgia's big-play capabilities. combined with the mistakes that we committed, were the overwhelming factor."

the drive. UCF is idle Saturday before hosting Savannah State on Nov.

At Baltimore, the Hurricanes overcame four first-half turnovers and rallied to beat the Terrapins.

Melvin Bratton scored two touchdowns for the Hurricanes. 8-1, and Vinny Testaverde threw for 298 yards and a touchdown. Miami also got a touchdown on a 74-yard punt return by Brett Perriman and a 20-yard field goal by Greg Cox.

Maryland, 6-3, also has lost to No. 1 Penn State and ninthranked Michigan.

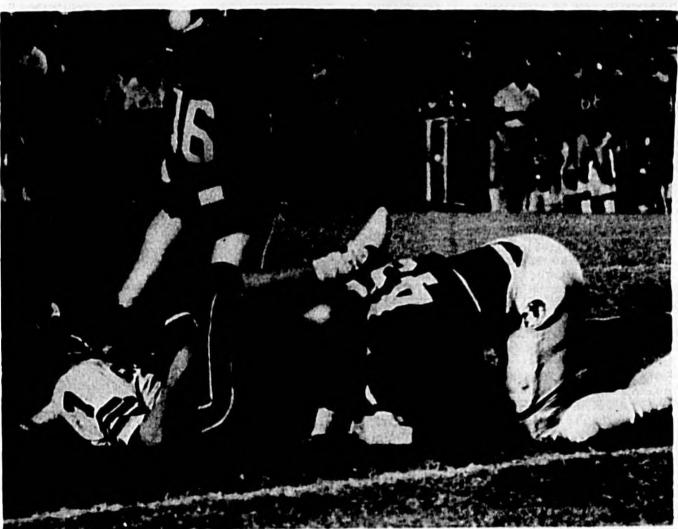

Miami Coach Jimmy Johnson said his team deserved to play in a bowl game Jan. 1.

"You're damned right we deserve to be in a Jan. 1 bowl game," said Johnson, who says his Miami team is underrated in the polls. "We'd be one of the best teams playing. We might be the best team playing."

At Tallahassee, Florida State raced out to a 35.0 lead and never looked back in raising its record to 7.2. Victor Floyd rushed for 212 yards and a touchdown and Keith Ross ran for 163 yards and two touchdowns to lead the Seminoles.

"I thought the offensive line had another great night." said FSU Coach Bobby Bowden. "We knew we had to run the ball on them, and we were able to do it. and that really was the dif-

Raiders Look For Third Win At Home Against Polk

By Sam Cook Herald Sports Editor

A 2.0 start to the 1985-86 basketball season is enough to excite any coach. But when that 2-0 beginning comes on the road, there is more reason for optimism - especially when that road runs through the state of Florida and involves junior college basketball where it is notoriously tough to win on the opponents' floor.

That's why Bill Payne, Seminole Community College's fourth-year cage coach, is wearing the ear-to-ear happy face today. His Raiders pulled off a big win Saturday when they traveled to Madison and came away with a convincing 84-75 victory over North Florida.

'We're really happy to come home 2-0," Payne said about is Raiders, who make their home debut against Polk Community College Tuesday at 7:30 at the SCC Health Center. "That's a great

However, SCC found out Saturday that, no matter how tough the defense plays, it is not enough if the offense is flat.

The Lady Raiders, minus allstater Tammy Johnson (personal problems) and center Kim Lemon (injury), shot less that 30 percent from the floor Saturday and wound up dropping a 57-44 decision to defending state champion Pensacola at Seminole Community College's Health Center.

Of the five SCC players who took five or more shots from the floor Saturday, only Alleen Patterson shot better than 50 percent. Patterson, a Lake Mary High graduate, hit 4 of 5 shots and finished with eight points.

Elizabeth Dietrich and Fatima Lafond scored 10 points each. but Dietrich made just 4 of 10 shots while Lafond was a frigid 3 of 13. Carol King added nine points but hit just 2 of 6 from the floor and 5 of 10 from the free throw line. Lisa Starks also had an off day as she made only 2 of 19 shots and finished with five points.

For the game, SCC made just 16 of 54 shots for 29 percent. On the other hand, Pensacola. which improved to 3-0, hit 27 of 49 shots from the floor for 55 percent.

Duper's Still Super — Cowboys Choke 'Skins

United Press International

The Miami Dolphins and Washington Redskins, among the elite in the NFL the last three years, were two struggling teams entering Sunday's contests.

Miami rediscovered its life blood the long pass - to keep alive postseason aspirations. The Redskins had their major artery - the run choked off and may need resuscitation to reach the playoffs.

"I'm not giving up on the playoffs." Redskins quarterback Joe Theismann said after Dallas beat Washington 13-7. "Somehow, some way, we've got to make it happen. We've got six football games to do something.

The first thing they'll have to do is get their ground game going. The Cowboys held the NFL's No. 1 running team to 124 yards rushing. Theismann continued to struggle. He threw three interceptions and was sacked six times for 52 yards — five by Jim Jeffcoat.

Dallas and the Giants lead the NFC East at 7-3. The Redskins are tied for second with the Eagles at 5-5 and are 1-4 in their division.

Washington and Miami have had the best regular-season records from 1982-84 at 33-8.

The Dolphins, like the Redskins.

have won their division the last two years. However, following the lead of the 49ers in last season's Super Bowl. teams have stopped blitzing Dan Marino, conceding short passes to prevent long strikes.

That strategy plus the seven-week absence of wide receiver Mark Duper sent Miami to a slow start. Duper, who Saturday came off injured reserve. made a splendid return with a 50-yard touchdown pass from Marino with 41 seconds left to lift the Dolphins over the New York Jets 21-17.

After the Jets took a 17-14 lead on Ken O'Brien's 20-yard scoring toss to Rocky Klever with 1:07 left. Miami needed just two plays to get back into the division race.

Lorenzo Hampton returned the ensuing kickoff to Miami's 44. Marino hit Mark Clayton for 6 yards before finding Duper for the winner. Duper, who also caught a 60-yard scoring pass, had eight receptions for 217 yards.

The Dolphins, who had lost three of four, raised their record to 6-4. The Jets fell to 7.3 and into a first-place tie with New England.

"We felt this had to be a turnaround day for us and it was." Miami coach Don Shula said. "We needed something good to happen and it happened tonight. This would have been a real tough one for us to lose."

The Patriots moved into the firstplace tie with their fifth straight victory, a 34-15 rout of Indianapolis at Foxboro, Mass. Irving Fryar scored on a 77-yard punt return and a 5-yard reception to help New England improve to 5-0 in the AFC East. The Colts dropped to 3-7.

Like Miami and Washington, Scattle was a playoff team of the past two seasons fallen on tough times. But the Scahawks, 4-4 two weeks ago, have outscored their last two opponents 60-6 to move back into the AFC West race. Seattle defeated the Saints 27-3 and is now half a game behind Denver. which plays San Francisco tonight.

The Raiders fell into a tie with the Scahawks when Lionel James raced 17 yards 3:44 into overtime to give the Chargers a 40-34 victory at San Diego. James, at 5-foot-6 one of the league's two shortest players, collected 345 total yards - second best to Billy Cannon's 373 - to enable the Chargers, 5.5, to beat the Raiders for the first time in their last eight tries. Another compact player, 5.7 Joe Morris, helped the Giants keep pace with the Cowbovs.

At East Rutherford. N.J., Morris rushed for two second-half touchdowns to rally New York to a 24-19 victory over the NFC Westleading Rams, 8-2. The Glants are 7-3 for the first time since 1968 and have won four straight for the first time since 1979.

At Philadelphia, Ron Jaworski hit Mike Quick with a 99-yard TD pass 1:49 into overtime to lift the Eagles. 5.5. over Atlanta, 1.9. On second down, Jaworski found Quick between two defenders at his own 30 and Quick raced untouched to mark the sixth time in NFL history there has been a 99-yard hookup.

Browns 27, Bengals 10 At Cincinnati, Boomer Esiason threw for 262 yards and a TD and Cleveland rookie quarterback Bernie Kosar made three critical second-half mistakes, to allow the Bengals, 5.5, to stay tied with Pittsburgh atop the AFC Central. The Browns, 4-6, lost their fourth

Schnitker Covets 1,000; Defensive Trio Rejoices

By Chuck Burgess Special to the Herald

While the Lake Howell Silver Hawks were rolling over the Lyman Greyhounds, Mark Schnitker, Craig Derington and Mark Wainwright were piling up the points in the Hawks' 21-13

Schnitker, a 5-11, 187-pound senior running back, rushed 11 times for 62 yards and a touchdown in the first half of the Lake Howell victory.

"I was juking a lot tonight and missed a few holes," Schnitker said. "I was slipping a lot on the rough parts of the field."

One run which Schnitker didn't slip on was a five-yard crushing romp up the middle for a score which put the Hawks on top of the Greyhounds.

"I just got the ball, put my head down and blasted forward," Schnitker said. "It felt real good to score after going so long without even a field goal."

Ending the night with 101 yards on 21 carries. Schnitker was happy to get the ball so many times in the win. "I love it (getting the ball). I want the ball more, more, more," Schnitker said grinning. "If I get the ball 20 or more times next week. I'll definitely get a 100 yards or more.

Even though Schnitker was one of the few Silver Hawks who was having an exceptional first half, he still felt the disappointment of the team being down, 13-7, at halftime.

"We were disappointed the first half," Schnitker said. "They were running all over us. Our offense couldn't get going and our defense was having problems stopping them (Lyman)."

Schnitker ran his season totals to 748 yards on 142 carries with four touchdowns. "My goal is a 1.000 yards," Schnitker said with a gleam in his eye. "That's all I've wanted all season.'

Though Schnitker gets his yards the tough way, he doesn't forget the men up front who put the bread on the table for him. "The offensive line was blowing their men away," Schnitker said respectfully. "They deserve all the credit."

Derington, meanwhile, said he appreciated Wainwright's playing-calling acumen. "He (Wainwright) is a very smart quarterback," Derington said. "He can definitely throw the ball. He did a great job tonight. He called some audibles that led to big gains.

Derington, who is 5-11, admitted that he and the Silver Hawks came out the second half a little on the optimistic side. "We didn't know what to think." Derington said. "We were down, but we knew we could beat them."

49ers' Lott Enjoys Cold

DENVER (UPI) — The winter weather means it must be time for Monday night football at Mile High Stadium.

Much to the chagrin of the Denver Chamber of Commerce, the Mile High City will once again be displayed to the nation with low temperatures and possible snowfall as a background.

Last year in the seventh Monday night game of the season. Denver scored on two fumble recoveries in the first 37 seconds and held on to beat Green Bay, 17-14, in a snowstorm that became known as the Bronco Blizzard.

Earlier this season, the Miami Dolphins came to Denver for a game televised to much of the country and found snow all over the place.

Now the San Francisco 49ers come to town with weather again expected to be a factor in a game that means a lot to both

"Football is meant to be played in cold weather." said 49ers defensive back Ronnie Lott, an unlikely choice for such a statement since he played collegiately at the University of Southern California.

"Cold weather, snow, I enjoy it. You just find some rubber gloves and some longiohns and get out there and play. If you have to play in the street, you play in the street."

San Francisco is trying to stay in the playoff chase after a woeful start and the Broncos are battling for their second consecutive AFC West title.

"This game is important because we need to win every week." said Lott. "We can't really afford to lose any more. If we do, things will get pretty tough.

San Francisco has regained a role in the playoff chase with two straight victories.

all-around game." Along with his 12 points and 13 caroms. Johnson blocked four shots, handed out two assists and made one steal. Gallagher led the Raiders with six assists and Roberts added four. Gallagher and Landell each had four steals and Roberts added two.

"It's tough to win up there and we were glad to have a 10-point lead in the closing minutes." Smith said. "That was supposed to be the best team North Florida's ever had, so we were really happy to get out of there with a win."

Vance Hall, SCC's 6-9 freshman, was bothered by fouls. The big frosh did hit 5 of 6 free throws. though, to go along with one bucket for seven points. Claude Jackson chipped in eight points off the bench and Carl Poelinitz added five while Darris Gallagher had the Raiders' two points.

Smith said Efrem Brooks, a sharpshooter from Lake Howell, couldn't play because of an attack of the hives and Jeff Day was sidelined by tonsilitis. Smith also said Sanford's Calvin "Kiki" Bryant is not eligible until January because he was short of credit hours last semester.

Sullivan Grabs Indy Challenge; Unser Sr. Nips Unser Jr. By One

MIAMI (UPI) - The only thing missing from Danny Sullivan's fine performance Saturday was an opportunity to win the CART 1985 Indy car championship.

Sullivan, 35, won the race by 18 seconds and brought his season earnings to a record $950,432 by pocketing the Beatrice Indy Challenge first prize money of $57,634. Sullivan's victory, his first since capturing the Indianapolis 500 last May, was overshadowed by the Unser family battle for the CART title, which Al Unser Sr. won by a point over his son Al Jr., 151-150. The order of finish in the 112-lap race was Sullivan.

Bobby Rahal, Unser Jr. and Unser Sr. Unser Jr. entered the race trailing his dad by two points and needed a margin of two placings to beat his father. Sullivan and Rahal were engaged in a race within a race as they completely dominated the 28-car field. Rahal led for 70 of the first 73 laps, but lost his edge because of rear tire wear that slowed him down. "My last pit stop was quick and smooth, the crew operated that way all year." said Sullivan of his easy victory. "I suspected Bobby was having tire trouble, but with him, you can never back off."

Sullivan averaged 95.915 mph on the 1.8 mile, 8-turn

Two first lap accidents that eliminated six drivers -Mario and Michael Andretti, Emerson Fittipaldi, Kevin Cogan, Robert Guerrero and Raul Boeselo - eroded some of Sullivan's top competition.

USA Captures World Golf Title

KAPALUA, Hawaii (UPI) - The United States had something to prove in world team golf competition and Raymond Floyd made sure his squad did not lose sight of

After being trounced in the Ryder, Dunhill and Uchida Yoko Cup competitions this year, the Americans' reputation as a major golfing power was at stake.

As team captain, Floyd reminded the five other members on the U.S. team how important the Nissan Cup World Championship of Golf, a 72-hole event which brought together the leading money winners from the four PGA Tour capitals of the world, was to the country's prestige.

It wasn't difficult to get the message across. "We all felt how important this was and it wasn't chin music," Floyd said Saturday after the U.S. routed previously unbeaten Europe. "It wasn't the fact of saying it was important. We had lost in three international cup competitions this year and we certainly didn't want to lose another one." And for final emphasis, he added, "I'm pleased we won it convincingly, 5-1.

Soviets' Success Stays Secret

MONTREAL (UPI) - There is a secret to building the kind of gymnastics powerhouse that dominates international competitions year after year the way the Soviet Union has, and apparently it's going to remain a secret.

"The answer is very simple," Soviet women's coach

Andre Rodioneko said Sunday. But although Rodioneko responded to the question. posed after the Soviets swept the World Gymnastics Championships by winning 11 gold, three silver and two

The key to the Soviets' dominance, Rodioneko said through an interpreter, is "our system of work."

And what exactly is that system?

bronze medals, he never really answered it.

"That is a very professional question, one not meant for reporters to take to the public...If the American public wants to learn about our system, then you should take home some of the Soviet training manuals and let the public read them," Rodioneko responded tersely.

Lindbergh: No Chance To Live

STRATFORD, N.J. (UPI) — Pelle Lindbergh, star goalie of the Philadelphia Flyers, is brain dead following a car crash and has virtually no chance to live.

He was being kept alive today on life support systems at a Stratford, N.J., hospital after suffering severe head injuries in the crash early Sunday.

Police said the 26-year-old Swede was driving at high speeds when he smashed his sports car into a school in Somerdale, N.J., about 10 miles east of Philadelphia.

Lantis Is Ecstatic Over 'W'

By Chris Fister Herald Sports Writer

Although her feet took a beating, and her name was announced wrong on television. Julie Lantis was ecstatic over her victory Saturday in the Light Up Orlando 10K road race through downtown Orlando.

Lantis, who won the women's division with a time of 36:40. moved farther in front in the Track Shack Grand Prix points standings with her third win in four races. Lantis, announced as Julie "Atlantis" on a TV newscast, outran the second place finisher. Rence Whitney by more than a minute.

"My feet were like hamburger from running on all those bricks." said Lantis, the assistant girls cross county coach at Lake Brantley High. "But I was excited that I ran that well."

Also in the women's division. Lake Mary's Jill Buddenhagen was second in the 16-18 age group with a time of 41:38.

In the men's division. Charlie Duggan won his fourth straight Grand Prix race with a time of 30:08.

Lake Mary High graduates Matt Palumbo (15th overall at 32:41) and Harold Pitts (31st overall at 35:06) went 1-2 in the 16-18 age group. The next Track Shack Grand Prix event will be the Citrus Bowl Half Marathon (13 miles) on Dec. 7.

Lyman's top five Saturday included Julie Greenberg (10th at 12:33.9), Jennifer Hitzges (22nd at 12:49.5). Tracy Fisher 24th at 12:50.4). Gomezperalta (30th at 13:01.6) and Tara Braheny (31st at 13:01.9).

"Jennifer (Hitzges) ran her best race of the year by far," Laughlin said. "She did a real good job. She knew she was ready for It."

Lake Brantley is looking to move closer to Lyman by next week so it will have a shot at a berth in the state meet. Coach Mary Littlebrant said the Lady Patriots would have finished day but Kristin Longmire was knocked down at the start.

With Winter Park and Colonial looking to have locks on state meet berths, four teams will be battling for the other two spots. The include Lake Howell, Lake Mary and Lyman from District 5

"It's going to be close." Lake Mary coach Mark McGee said. "Unless one of the other teams has a bad race, it looks like maybe only one of us (Lake Mary, Lyman, Lake Howell) will go to state. But I don't know whether Palm Bay has improved from where they were earlier in the season."

Of the three county teams battling for a bid. Lake Howell is the currently the strongest. Saturday, the Silver Hawks started out a little slow but, as they did in capturing the conference title. they moved up considerably as the race progressed.

The Silver Hawks' top five Saturday included Anthony Howe (ninth at 16:04.2), Jeff Van Buskirk (17th at 16:12.4). John Davis (20th at 16:17.3). Chuck Buster (30th at 16:39) and Dylan Rowe (41st at 16:56.3}.

McGee said his top two. Ken Rohr and Eric Petersen, did not do as well as he expected Saturday but the third, fourth and fifth runners all ran personal "Ken (Rohr) and Eric (Petersen) were really the only ones that had bad races," McGee said. "But I think the other guys can still run better. They need to do better and move up a little ·more if we're going to beat Lake Howell at region.' Rohr finished fourth Saturday at 15:30.2, while Petersen fell considerably off his usual pace as he was 22nd at 16:25.1. Completing the top five for the Rams were Marc Eskin (35th at 16:49.1). Anthony Surles (40th at 16:54.7) and Jeff Hale (37th at Lyman is also looking to make up some ground next week. Saturday, the Greyhounds' had a strong showing from their top two as Robin Rogers finished seventh at 15:53.2 and Nick Radkewich was 18th at 16:15.2). Rogers was the top sophomore finisher while Radkewich was the number one freshman.

Following Radkewich in the top five were Mike Mohler (19th at 16:16), Kevin Quinn (49th at 17:20.6) and Wade Jacobson (53rd at 17:27.2).

Lake Brantley, which fell short of qualifying, was led by David Payne who finished 25th at 16:32.6. The Patriots finished eighth with a team score of 186.

Another big reason Seminole qualified was the 1-2 punch of sophomores Shownda Martin and Dorchelle Webster. Martin took fifth place, holding off Winter Park's Beth Gamber at the finish, with a time of 12:03.7 while Webster was seventh at 12:11.5.

Shultz Answers Hostages' Plea: U.S. Doing Everything It Can

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Secretary of State George Shultz answered a plea "for action" from the American hostages in Lebanon with assurances that the United States is doing "everything we can think of" to secure their release.

In an interview Sunday on the CBS News program "Face the Nation." Shultz indicated Syria, Iran, Algeria and Lebanon are among the countries the United States has secretly turned to for help to win the release of the

But Shultz also signaled no change in the U.S. policy of "quiet diplomacy." despite a letter published two days earlier in which four of the hostages told President Reagan. "We are appealing to you for action."

Vowing to stand tough against terrorism. Reagan has refused to negotiate for the release of the Americans, who were kidnapped in separate incidents over a period of 15 months by pro-Iranian Islamic fundamentalists.

Protesters Begin Hunger Strike

JOHANNESBURG. South Africa (UPI) - Two white clergymen and about 30 black women detained in Cape Town began a hunger strike to demand the release of 450 anti-apartheid activists jailed without charge under emergency powers.

In another development, President Pieter Botha planned a meeting with top educators today to discuss widespread student boycotts called in protest of segregated schooling.

Education officials said Sunday Botha would meet a delegation led by white University of Cape Town rector Stuart Saunders and mixed-race University of the Western Cape rector Richard van der Ross.

They said the rectors would seek concessions to black students refusing to take year-end examinations until the government agrees to abolish segregated schools and universities and recognize elected student councils.

Ugandan Airliner Hijacked

KAMPALA, Uganda (UPI) - Government officials today awaited ransom demands from the suspected rebel hijackers of a Ugandan Airlines plane seized during a domestic flight with 49 people on board.

The plane, hijacked Sunday on a flight between the capital and a northwestern town, is believed to be under guard at an airstrip in the southwestern town of Kasese. which is under the control of National Resistance Army

The government said it had received no demands for the release of the 49 passengers and crew or word of their fate. The number of hijackers was not known.

Opponents Want Marcos Out

MANILA. Philippines (UPI) - Parliament faced two controversial items on its return from recess today - a bill to conduct early presidential elections in January and President Ferdinand Marcos' resignation.

Marcos' resignation letter says the vacancy in office will come when the winner of the proposed Jan. 17 election is proclaimed, but opposition leaders and constitutional experts say the vacancy should precede the elections.

The protesters cite a constitutional amendment that says the office must be vacant - by death, impeachment, resignation or permanent disability - if elections are to be called before the end of Marcos' six-year term in 1987.

The president announced a week ago his plan to seek a new mandate amid criticism in the United States and at home over his handling of a growing communist insurgency and a severe economic crisis.

In Nashville, Tenn., a monument for Vietnam veterans was dedicated Sunday at the Legislative Plaza, and Bronze Medals were given to the families of 44 Tennesseans still missing in Vietnam.

Veterans Day was first celebrated as Armistice Day in 1919. when President Woodrow Wilson proclaimed a holiday to remember the end of World War I on Nov. 11, 1918. It was made a federal holiday in 1938.

Congress changed the name of the holiday to Veterans Day in 1954 to pay tribute to all U.S. veterans. The holiday was moved to the fourth Monday in October 1971. Congress voted to move it back to Nov. 11 in 1975.

Missionaries Tell Of Kidnap Ordeal

From Staff And Wire Reports

Four members of the Sanford-based New Tribes Mission who were held hostage by Colombian rebels said Sunday they were glad to be back in the United States but may return to Colombia.

"It feels great to be back." Tim Cain, 35, of Keokuk, Iowa, said. "I would like to go back, but not immediately. We haven't finished our job down there."

About 100 members of the mission greeted Estelle. Cain. and the other two missionaries. Cain's wife, Bonnie, 33, and Paul Dve. 45, at Orlando Airport.

"Losing my liberty was the worst part." said Dye. whose father was among five missionaries killed by Bolivian Indians in the early 1940s. "It is something you take for granted until it is taken away, especially by force.'

Dye escaped four days after the missionaries were captured five weeks ago. The other three were released Wednesday.

Earlier Saturday, Cain told reporters at Miami Airport, "The

The missionaries, who were under constant armed guard. said they were not physically mistreated and ate regular meals of rice, beans, spaghetti and meat. But they said they were psychologically shaken. Cain said the guerrillas accused the missionaries of being CIA agents and repeatedly interrogated them. "We were terrified. They kept saying we were CIA spies," said Bonnie Cain, of Front Royal, Va.

Wyma said he believed the rebels released the missionaries without a ransom payment because, "they knew there was nothing to be gained."

He said the former captives probably will stay at the mission headquarters, the former Mayfair Hotel on Lake Monroe, for five to seven days.

"We'll spend some time with them and go over what's taken place, what their responses have been and what we can learn by it." Wyma said.

In the War Between the States, Bryant said, women took roles of spies, saboteurs, scouts and couriers. Their work was so impressive, he said, it led to establishment of the Nurse Corps as a permanent auxiliary of the Army in 1901.

In World War II Mrs. Edmondson served along with 400,000 other U.S. service women, although most of the time, she said, at her duty stations, all within the United States, there were few women. "I was a loner," she said.

In those days Mrs. Edmondson said, .civilians regarded military women as "whores." and some. she said, continue to a degree to hold that opinion today.

"I don't know why they think all of this hanky panky goes on. Some of these men are very tough on the women," she said.

Husband's Reading Problem More Than Just 'Tired Eyes'

DEAR ABBY: After four years f marriage. I found out that my usband can neither read nor rite; he can only sign his name. le admitted this after he lost his ob and I had to help him fill out ome job applications.

During our courting days, his nability to read or write never ame up. I was a widow with two hildren. He was divorced. He makes a very good appearance. but has always had trouble holding down a job. Now I know why. He is very good at fooling people. He would ask me to read everything from menus to instructions to him - saying his eyes were "tired."

His mother and members of that he was illiterate, but they kept it from me. He has many good qualities, but I am angry because I didn't get a husband. I wrong to be mad at his family for covering up for him?

FOUND OUT TOO LATE DEAR FOUND OUT: Don't

Millions of American adults are functionally illiterate - unable to read a help-wanted ad or directions on a bottle of aspirin. and cannot address an envelope. Somehow they manage to bluff their way through, as your husband did.

However, if he really wants to learn, there are adult basic education classes available through your local public schools. And many public libraries provide one-on-one tutoring for adults. Al started dating a young woman I'll call Bonnte. Our family had known Bonnie and her family for years. She's divorced, childless and a very fine person. Al and Bonnie seem happy together. Now the problem. Jill disapproves of the relationship between her father and Bonnie. She thinks Bonnie is too young for her father. (She and Jill are the same age, 36.) Jill told her father that if he continues dating Bonnie, she will not allow him to see his granddaughter.

Abby, my sister was a loving, generous person, and she would not have wanted Al to stop living because she died. Al is a healthy, active man, and deserves some happiness after all he's been through.

We don't want Al to quit dating Bonnie, which he would probably do rather than give up seeing his grandchild. How do you see this situation?

WANTS TO HELP DEAR WANTS: By explaining to Al that if he submits to his daughter's blackmail, this scenario will only be repeated with the next woman he dates. and the next, and the next, Jill could use professional counseling to help her understand why she resents her father's need for female companionship now that her mother is dead, and also why she's using the grandchild as a hostage to ensure that golfed for years and never had problems with sunburning until the last two years. If I don't keep my arms covered, I break out with a terribly uncomfortable itchy rash. I use suntan lotions, but they don't seem to help anymore. Is there anything I could use to prevent the rash other than wearing long alceves.?

DEAR READER - Your sensitive skin is crying out for protection from the burning rays of the ultraviolet spectrum. Sometimes sun allergy is caused by medicine, especially tetracyline, so if you are taking medicine of any type, ask your, doctor if the drug could be reacting with sunshine to cause a rash.

Wearing long alceves for protection can be a bore. Clothing may not prevent the sun from reaching your hands, neck and face. I think the simplest and most obvious solution to your problem is to use sunscreen preparations. Pick and choose according to your needs: high ratings for prolonged summer exposure, low-ratings for offseason or misty days.

DEAR DR. GOTT - For a while I thought it was arthritis. but now I'm not sure. The pain seems to be in the bone between my knee and ankle and between joints in my middle finger. I'm 78. What is your diagnosis?

DEAR READER - Bone pain of the type you describe can have a variety of causes. I cannot give you a specific answer. I would suggest, however, that you pay your local physician a visit. Let him examine you thoroughly and order any additional tests he may feel are necessary.

DEAR DR. GOTT - My problem is an itching and tingling on the bottom of both of my feet so bad it wakes me up at night. There isn't anything like a rash or blisters to be seen. I've tried creams and sprays. I don't think it could be a reaction to any medicine I take (Lanoxin. Lopressor. Zanac and Vallum). Do you have any suggestions?

DEAR READER - Fungus infections can affect the soles of

DEAR DR. GOTT - I have the feet without causing more than some scaling or peeling. However, I would be more concerned that one (or more) of the medicines you are taking may be the culprit, despite the fact that you are not suspicious of them. Lopressor, Zantac and Valtum are all associated with skin problems of varying periousness.

Ask your doctor to embark on a
