Offices To Aid In Pay Study

Three of the four fee offices in the courthouse have agreed to submit a comprehensive job classification list to the County Commission next Tuesday.

Commissioner J. H. Van Hoy said today that Tax Assessor Mary Earle Walker, Circuit Clerk Arthur Beckwith Jr. and County Judge Vernon Mize have agreed to submit a job salary range list. Van Hoy said Tax Collector John Galloway has refused to submit a list. "I spoke to him for about two hours and nothing came out of it," Van Hoy said.

All four fee offices went before the board Tuesday in a joint session. The board is conducting an inspection of all records concerning payrolls. However, the commissioners said they were not satisfied and authorized Van Hoy to try again to get lists from the offices.

The fee office heads had cited that Florida Statute 125.06 not only permits, but requires inspection of their records by the county board. The statute reads: "The county commissioners shall, at least once every three months, inspect the offices and records of the county judge, sheriff and clerk of the circuit court and other officers of their respective counties, and see that the laws prescribing and regulating the duties of said officers are being fully complied with; and they shall report to the governor of the state any failure on the part of such officers to perform their duties."

Van Hoy said today that he believed that the fee officers are willing to cooperate but had misunderstood what the board wanted.

"I believe that's the only reason we haven't gotten the cooperation before," he said. "Now the fee officers know what we want and the three have agreed in full cooperation," he said.

Van Hoy explained that the only reason for asking the fee officer's help in the survey is so that the board can get a better picture of the employment status in the courthouse.

"With budget talks coming up soon, we need some sort of guide on what to pay employees working under the board jurisdiction," he said.

"These offices include zoning, road department and the agricultural office."

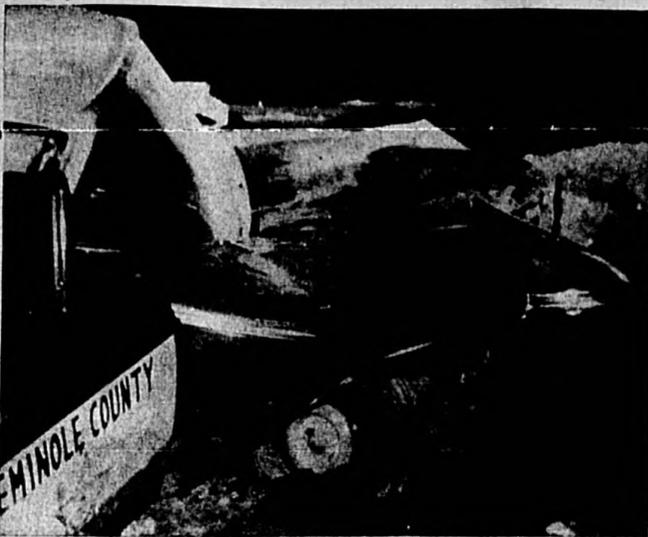

Van Hoy said he has inspected the payroll records of the assessor, county judge and clerk but declined to comment on them until his study is completed.

"We are not trying to persecute anyone in the courthouse and we certainly are not trying to bring personalities into the study. We just want to bring our employees, a more equitable wage scale," he added.

Deputy Injured Chasing Down Speeding Auto

A Seminole County deputy escaped serious injury when his car slammed into a sand dune off Hwy. 17-92 while chasing a speeding car Tuesday night.

Deputy Charles Fagan was treated for a broken nose and lacerations at Orange Memorial Hospital.

The Sheriff's office said that Fagan left the Kayo Gasoline Station on Hwy. 17-92 at approximately 10:30 p. m. and went about 100 yards when a car passed by him traveling at a high rate of speed.

Fagan started chasing the car but clipped another vehicle that had pulled out between Fagan's vehicle and the speeding car.

Fagan's car swerved off the road, hit the two sand dunes. The speeding car got away, Deputy said.

Fagan's car was called a total wreck by deputies.

Rains Flood Area Across SR 436

Hard rains Tuesday afternoon flooded SR 436 between Forest City and Altamonte Springs and traffic still was being rerouted around the area this morning.

The road was under water up to three feet deep and at least one vehicle fell victim to the high water. The engine of a county truck was drowned out in the deep water and had to be pulled out by a crane.

New streets being graded by home builders in the area also were under water as heavy rains formed a small lake several blocks in diameter.

NAS Ceremonies Set For Tamny

Tornadoes, Hail Damage Midwest

By United Press International

A killer storm system struck the Middle West Tuesday night with tornadoes, winds up to 115 miles an hour and hailstones twice as big as ice cubes.

At least one person died and several were injured. Damage was widespread.

Mrs. Charles Gnuse, 70, was killed when the roof of her apartment building in Quincy, Ill., was blown off by 95 mile an hour winds. Her body was found under four tons of rubble.

The wind knocked out all power in Mississippi River City. Hospitals and police used emergency generators but otherwise the community was in darkness.

In Rockford, Illinois' second largest city, police said the hail broke nearly 100 windows, including almost every pane in the three-story senior high school.

The stones were so big they bruised 48 golfers caught on the links—met 49 miles an hour—and dug up huge divots on Rockford's course.

Kentucky state police said two tornadoes hit the Blue Grass State, one at Henderson and another at Schree, but no damage was reported.

Missouri state police said violent winds uprooted trees and ripped down utility wires in Louisiana and Clarksville. A power company said it would be at least two days before service was restored.

Climax burst lashed Manitowish, Wis., sending water over curbs, collapsing basements and stranding hundreds of office workers. More than a third of an inch of rain fell in Milwaukee in a few minutes.

The storm was so severe in Iowa that cornfields were riddled by hail which weighed a quarter pound.

The storm saved its most damaging winds for Ottumwa, Iowa. Hurricane force winds of 115 miles and hour uprooted 100-year-old trees, damaged buildings and left Ottumwa's streets littered with debris.

A Punam County farmer reported Tuesday night he heard crash and saw billowing smoke from the other plane. The Navy began an aerial search at dawn and spotted the wreckage near Lake George.

A search continued for the missing pilot. He was attached to Attack Sq. 36 at Cecil Field Naval Air Station, Jacksonville.

45 Perish In Mine Blast

SIX BELLS, Wales (UPI)—The first blast of the siren sent shudders through the wives and mother of Six Bells and made their babies cry.

"Bless those that are trapped and comfort their loved ones," the Rev. Decroft Jones was saying.

It was about noon. The men had

Greyhounds Get New Manager

Lloyd Andrew Brown, born at Beville, Tex., on Christmas Day in 1904 and now a veteran of 37 years of close association with baseball, is the new manager of the Sanford Greyhounds.

His selection to succeed Robbie Robertson, now on route via ear and trailer to a new assignment at Vivalta in the Class C California State League, was announced here today by acting manager Jack Sanford, Kansas City's southeastern state scout who was assigned here Monday to take charge of the Athletics' hustling farm club.

Brown was scheduled to arrive from his home in Miami shortly after noon today, and he will meet not only his players but also Greyhound officers and directors at a barbecue supper at the home of club President Harold Kastner late today.

A veteran of 15 years of play in the majors—1925 through 1940—Brown has been scouting for the Philadelphia Phillies, and last season was a coach with the Miami Marlins, a Philly farm club.

He and Sanford have been friends for years, Sanford having been with the Philly organization as a manager prior to his connection with Kansas City about four years ago.

"It's going to do a great job for us and Sanford," Sanford told club general manager Peter Schaal. "He'll have the boys hustling just as Robbie did, and you can tell the fans here that we'll be in contention starting Thursday when we open the second half here against Leesburg."

Brown, a left-hander, was as good as a sandlotter that he was signed by the Phillies when he was only 16 years old. He made his first major league appearance with Brooklyn in 1925, pitching in 17 games.

been away two hours earning their keep at the big Arral Griffin Colliery. Bankers' hours, is what the men on the other shifts called it.

"It's like a battlefield," a rescue worker was saying. "They couldn't have known what hit them."

One by one, female heads poked hesitantly from the windows of the tiny Welsh cottages that dotted the hills above the pithead. Then they came running out, babies strapped to their backs, Welsh style.

The last time the siren blew off schedule at Six Bells was 60 years ago. The babies, many of them to grow up without fathers, were carried the same way.

Seven hundred men were in the pit working 1,000 feet below ground when a gas pocket exploded Tuesday. All but 45 came out almost immediately.

The cheapest way to test for lethal gas in a cut off mine pocket is to thrust canaries into the hole. None of the canaries came back alive.

The first body brought out after five hours was that of Dennis Lane, not yet 20.

"Tom, Tom," shouted one worker.

Hearing Scheduled On Alley Closing

A hearing has been scheduled July 16 on a request by the Florida State Bank that the city abandon a portion of the east-west alley which runs from Oak Ave. behind the Herald and Burpee Seed Co. buildings.

The bank said that work on the new building on the Oak Ave. First St. corner will be delayed until after a decision on the alley. The two businesses already abutting the alley had advised the city that they were concerned over the possibility that the location of the new bank across the alley would hamper the access route to the rear of their buildings.

The bank has offered to provide a reasonable amount of room on the west side of its property as access to the other two buildings.

man. "WIM, you're alive," sobbed another.

By early today, rescue workers had brought out a total of 30 bodies of the 45 known dead. Among the victims, were three father and son teams.

Mrs. Valerie Morgan went home to a long-cold supper, thinking of how she could explain later to her two-month-old son that he no longer had a father or a grandfather. Her husband Collin was 22; his father, Roy, 44.

Two young miners made the unlikely mistake of oversleeping past their 10 a. m. showups Tuesday. They were among the mourning townsfolk of Six Bells today.

Congress Agrees To Early Recess

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congressional leaders today abandoned efforts to complete their work before the political convention. They decided to recess Congress this week and return Aug. 8.

The decision was announced to newsmen by Speaker Sam Rayburn and in the Senate by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, who disclosed the Aug. 8 date for reconvening.

Johnson told the Senate that Congress will do all it can this week, concentrating on appropriations bills and the expected presidential veto of a federal pay increase. Then, he said, Congress will recess late Friday or Saturday.

The leaders had hoped for final adjournment of the 86th Congress no later than next week-end. The Democratic convention opens in Los Angeles the following Monday.

Courthouse Plan Payment Okayed

The County Commission Tuesday authorized payment of $4,500 to Walter Park architect James Gamble Rogers for drawing up plans and specifications for remodeling the courthouse.

Chairman John Krider said that the plans will be kept on file in the office of the Clerk of the court in the event the new commission taking over in January wants to make use of them.

The Southeastern Chamber of Commerce will meet Thursday night at 8 p. m. at the City Hall Memorial Bldg., presiding is Ernest Weating, secretary.

British Call Reds 'Unfair'

LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan told Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in a sternly-worded letter today that Russia's breakout of the Geneva disarmament negotiations is "incomprehensible."

He added that Soviet charges against the West as a result are "most unfair."

Macmillan called on Khrushchev to reconsider his decision "so that negotiations on disarmament can be restarted as soon as possible."

The British Prime Minister warned Russia that the disarmament conference cannot properly be broken off by any one group, while pledging Britain's willingness to reach an agreement on disarmament, Macmillan told Khrushchev that "until agreement on disarmament is reached, we intend to maintain our collective defense arrangements."

Stricken Boat Sinks In Atlantic

CHARLESTON, S. C. (UPI)—A battle against the sea in the ancient maritime tradition ended early today when a low roped snapped and the stricken tanker SS George MacDonald sank stern first about 60 miles from shore.

The youthful skipper and two crewmen of the ill-fated Sinclair Oil Co. tanker had appeared until the last moment to be winning their fight to save the ship and her valuable cargo of oil.

The MacDonald had been proceeding slowly toward shore under tow by a sister tanker, the J. E. Dyer, when the MacDonald "at 1:40 a. m. broke its tow in a light rain and 20 minutes later sank," as the Dyer's radio message told the story.

Eldridge Burnhorn, 33-year-old master of the MacDonald, sadly watched from the Dyer as his ship slipped toward the bottom.

The 488-foot boat sank in a vertical position in 436 feet of water so about 30 feet of her bow remained above water today. The hull constituted a menace to navigation but Merrill, Chapman and Scott, a New York salvage firm, was hired by the owners to see whether the ship could be saved.

A Sinclair spokesman said the tanker carried about 100,000 barrels of heavy fuel oil, worth $2.10 to $2.25 a barrel.

Burnhorn ordered 10 crewmen to abandon ship Monday night and early Tuesday when a massive rupture in the cooling system flooded the engine room and the ship appeared doomed. Burnhorn, his mate and one crewman stayed aboard to prevent the ship being named Adelreik, available for salvage.

Whitney Gets Death Sentence

MIAMI (UPI)—Dennis Whitney, 17, facing the death penalty for one of seven killings he admitted, will be the youngest white man to go to the electric chair in Florida if the sentence is carried out before he is 20.

Longwood's population count of 1,800 as released by the census bureau recently was disputed Tuesday by the town's mayor, A. R. Lormann.

"Longwood has a population of at least 2,800, which is far more than the census count has given us credit for," Lormann said.

The mayor said he believed the mistake came in the census takers' "not knowing the town's actual boundary lines." Lormann explained that his information is based on the total number of water meter users.

"Approximately 700 customers use the town's water facilities and figuring at four persons per family, results in a more accurate count," the mayor said.

Longwood's population 10 years ago was listed at 700 persons.

The American Contract Bridge League has selected the National Association for Mental Health as the beneficiary of its 1960-61 charity program.

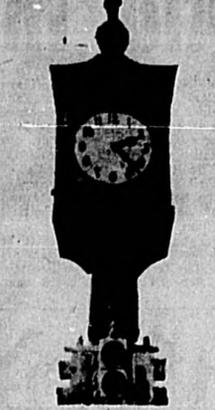

Around The Clock

The regular quarterly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors will be held at 7:30 p. m. July 12.

The winners of the Kustom Angels car club promotion drive were announced Tuesday. The first prize, fifty gallons of gasoline, went to Mrs. R. H. Beckham of Magnolia Avenue. Second prize, lubrication and an oil change, went to Bob Cushing of 1804 Maderia Ave.

Members of the Hibiscus Circle of the Sanford Garden Club and their husbands will meet Wednesday at 6 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Joe Mahey in Lake Mary. A covered dish supper will be served followed by a social get-together.

The new openings for July have been received by the local Army recruiter for enlistment in the regular army. Volunteers may enlist in the clerical, construction and construction equipment operations fields, automobile and aircraft mechanics, medical corps and combat arms. Young men interested in immediate enlistment can contact Sgt. Ken Hill at the National Guard Armory on Monday from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m.

The Duplicate Bridge Club will meet at 7:45 p. m. Thursday at the Tourist Center. All Bridge players are welcomed to attend.

Railroads Plunge Into All-Out War For B&O Control

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Central Railroad today plunged into an all-out battle for control of the Baltimore & Ohio line in a power bid that may lead to the biggest struggle in the industry's history.

The Central, threatened by the Pennsylvania Railroad's merger plans that would upset the rail power balance in the East, Tuesday proposed a merger offer to B&O stockholders in a direct challenge to the Chesapeake & Ohio.

The C&O just two weeks ago made a similar merger offer to the B&O.

The Central move opens the way for a titanic struggle in the industry reminiscent of the brass knuckle fight for control of the old Erie Railroad by Cornelius Vanderbilt and Jay Gould. It would even overshadow the late financier Robert R. Young's successful tilt with the underbid interests for control of the Central in 1954.

The Pennsylvania now owns a one-third interest in the Norfolk & Western Railway. A proposed merger agreement between the N&W and the Nickel Plate Railroad thus would give the Pennsy a formidable competitive advantage over the Central.

Cold-shouldered by the C&O in efforts to participate in the proposed merger of the C&O and the B&O the Central now is seeking to forestall the two-way consolidation by offering to acquire 60.8 per cent of the B&O stock through a stock exchange and cash. At the current market price for Central stock the offer totaled approximately $66,262,500.

Sketch Of New Church Of Christ Building Work To Begin On New Church Of Christ In Sanford

Plans were announced today for the construction of new house of worship by the Sanford Church of Christ, with work to begin immediately.

The minister, George M. Yates, said the church has approved the building committee's plans for this new house of worship, which is expected to cost not less than $55,000. This building will provide an auditorium, seating 400, a church office, study, two nurseries and 12 class rooms with central heating and air-conditioning.

In financing these new facilities the Sanford Church of Christ is using the Broadway Plan, insuring $50,000 in 6 per cent interest bearing bonds which will mature over a period of 14 years. The church is also using the Broadway Plan first meeting of the canvass organization scheduled for July 5 at 7:30 p. m. at the church. Anyone interested is invited to contact any of the canvass team members.

Quotable Quotes

By United Press International
WASHINGTON — A State Department spokesman on the Soviet walkout of the Geneva disarmament talks:
"It certainly smacks of hypocrisy."

CHARLESTON, S. C. — Third engineer L. R. Gaskin Jr., after the tanker George Macdonald sank:
"The water just started coming in, and we decided it was time to get out of there."

CUMBERLAND, Pa. — Dr. Barbara Moore, refusing to predict when she would complete her cross-country walk:
"I'm leaving my arrival in New York in the hands of fate."

PHILADELPHIA — The last will and testament of millionaire sportsman John B. Kelly, father of Princess Grace of Monaco.
"I have written this will in a lighter vein because I have always felt that wills were so dreary that they might have been written by the author of 'Inner Sanctum.'"

September Draft Call At 8,000

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army has issued a call for 8,000 draftees in September.

The quota is 1,000 larger than in August and is the largest monthly call since last December. The Army requested 9,000 draftees then.

The new call will bring to 2,847,930 the number of men called up under the draft since the start of the Korean War in 1960.

Holidays Pay Off For DeBary Church

The magic of holidays paid off for members of the First Presbyterian Church in DeBary.

The group started their fund drive for the construction of their new church on Mother's Day and hit their goal on Father's Day.

J. Earl Seiler, general chairman of the drive, said the contributions moved past the $103,000 mark, which is $13,000 more than the goal set by the committee.

Plans for the congregation's victory dinner were discussed at a special meeting Monday and it was decided to hold the affair July 30 in the Student Union building at Stetson University.

Seiler, who will also head the victory dinner, added that final reports and the official results of the drive will be revealed at the dinner.

Rayburn Criticizes Party 'Nonsense'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Speaker Sam Rayburn said Tuesday that Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson is still in the race for president and will be the Democratic nominee "if the convention is 'blissed'" on the first or second ballot.

Rayburn, unofficial manager of Johnson's still un-announced campaign, denounced as "utter nonsense" a report he said he heard on a television newscast that Johnson's name might not be presented to the convention.

He also rejected a "propaganda" with no semblance of truth a report aired about Johnson by Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, as Democratic leader of the Senate, had threatened to kill a pending bill for medical care for the aged if Williams—who backs the bill—threw his support to Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Williams has endorsed Kennedy, front runner in the Democratic presidential contest.

This report already has been denied all around and Williams himself said he didn't in any way vouch for its accuracy.

Happiness Through Health Headache Is A Symptom: Cause Lies Deeper!

(By DR. F. LEO KERWIN)

Just a few centuries ago it was believed headaches were caused by little devils prodding the brain with forks, and the treatment consisted of driving them out. In this generation there has been a great deal of theory substituted for the devils, and the pain-killing drugs have lessened the effect of their work.

Yet very little factual evidence has been submitted as to the cause of headaches. Through Chiropractic adjustments the cause of headaches is found and removed resulting in complete recovery in most cases, even to the supposedly incurable migraine type. Have your Chiropractor help you!

One of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of scientific Chiropractic, written by Dr. F. Leo Kerwin whose office is located at 201 S. French Ave. and his telephone number is FAirfax 2-7462.

Potato Products Featured In Many Forms

Every year new potato products are featured in markets and people welcome them. For example, the instant mashed potatoes have been very well accepted. This product eliminates peeling and pre-cooking, and most people are satisfied with the flavor.

Frozen French fries have been selling well, too. These are a money-saver. If you consider the cost of the fat you would use to fry your own, plus the time needed to do a good job. Most people wouldn't bother French frying potatoes at home, so this gives men variety with little work for the cook.

Newer in the frozen potato line are stuffed, baked potatoes, ready for the oven. Diced potatoes, potato patties and potato soup are other recent frozen potato products.

Potato chips are by far the most popular of all the process potato foods. "De-starched" or "low calorie" potato chips DO have calories because of the fat used in frying the chips. Fat contributes more calories than the starch does any way — a point to remember when you add that extra pat of butter to your baked potato.

MISS SHERLENE SHEPARD

Honor Conferred On Sanford Girl

Miss Sherlene Shepard, past worthy advisor of the Sanford Assembly 25, Order of Rainbow for Girls, was selected for one of the five top state honors at the Grand Assembly, held in Tampa, recently.

She was named, by the grand executive committee, as "Grand Faith State of Florida" to serve for the next year. Sherlene is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Shepard of Sanford and her mother is the Worthy Matron of Seminole Chapter No. 3, Order of Eastern Star.

Miss Shepard served as Grand Representative to Arkansas during 1959-60. Miss Barbara Wimberly served as Grand Page and Miss Jeanne Markham was a member of the Grand Chorus.

tending the assembly in Tampa were Dorothy McAlexander, Lynn McCord, Linda Williams, Darlene Arvett, Carol Ann Schimming, Sandi Wright and Caroline Baggart. They were accompanied on the trip by Mother Advisor, Mrs. Kathleen Reynolds, who served as chaperone.

BARBARA

Barbara Honored With Party On Fifth Birthday

Barbara Taft celebrated her fifth birthday with a party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Taft, 903 Catalina Dr. The party rooms were decorated in a color scheme of pink and blue, featuring balloons and Happy Birthday signs. Each guest received a balloon, horn, party hat and a miniature ballerina doll as favors.

The children enjoyed an hour of games and refreshments of ice cream, punch and a big two tiered birthday cake, gaily decorated with candles, "Happy Birthday" on the icing and topped with a ballerina doll.

Mrs. Howard Swearingen assisted Mrs. Taft with the entertaining and serving. Guests attending were Charlie Swearingen, Boppe Faulkner, Debbie and Vickie Hall, Charlene Klaw, Kathy Piercy, Sharon Stenstrom, Diane and Elm Roberts and Mary Martin.

Shoulder Strap Bag Traveler's Friend

One of the most convenient items a woman can carry on her vacation is an over-sized handbag with a shoulder strap. Any seasoned air traveler will tell you that she generally makes her free baggage weight limit thanks to her large handbag. Items carried onto the plane are not weighed.

But no matter how you travel, you'll be glad you had your roomy container. Put camera, maps, everything you need inside to leave your hands free for taking pictures, shopping etc.

A bath before dinner often washes away school day tensions.

Color Illusions Help To Conceal Room Problems

Home Demonstration Agent The skillful use of color creates illusions that minimize architectural problems in rooms.

Here's why: Dark tones and warm colors advance or move out. Light tones and cool colors recede or fade away.

When colors move out, they can make a room appear smaller and may cause a closed-in feeling. Fade-away or receding colors can create an illusion of openness, especially when there is little contrast between the furnishings and walls.

Color can lower or heighten ceilings. For example, a darker color on the ceiling than on the walls lowers the ceiling. A lighter color on the ceiling than the walls heightens the ceiling.

Color placement is also important in altering the appearance of a room. For example, bringing the ceiling color down about a foot on the walls seems to make a ceiling lower. Or using an interesting rug draws attention away from a high ceiling by calling attention to the floor.

Color can tie together a room that is badly cut up by windows and doors. When the same color is used on woodwork and walls, they seem to flow together.

Go Floridian With Pineapple

Home Demonstration Agent Hawaii has long been hailed as pineapple land. Florida also produces some of this delicious fruit. Whether you buy fresh native, Puerto Rican, Cuban or Hawaiian pineapple there are many interesting things you can do with this fruit, and the colorful unguled peel which surrounds it.

When buying fresh pineapple look for these things:

1—Feels heavy for its size when you pick it up.
2—Fruit that is almost as big at top as bottom. There's more pineapple in this kind.
3—Examine skin for soft or discolored spots.

4—A fragrant smell and color showing.

A pineapple that is ready for eating is yellow gold in color from bottom to top. The "spines" at top will pull out easily when ripe," says Miss Alice Cromartie, Extension Nutritionist.

A beautiful way of serving it is to cut pineapple in half lengthwise. Start at bottom and cut upward right through the "crowns" or leaves at top. The sharper and bigger your knife the better the success! Now with a small paring knife or curved grapefruit knife cut around each half, leaving about 1/4 inch edge. Scoop or cut out the pineapple and dice into bowl. Add fresh strawberries, melon balls, sliced bananas or citrus sections, and mix.

Pile back into shells and garnish with fresh mint. Serve as a dessert, letting your guests serve themselves from the "pineapple shell".

Calorie counters will be pleased to note a 1/4 cup serving has only 37 calories.

Milk Beverages Good For Parties

One way to get the teenagers in your family to drink the milk they need is to show them quick, easy and attractive ways they can make milk beverages. That young people need such information is indicated by a recent study by the Pennsylvania Experiment Station in cooperation with the dairy industry—and by earlier reports from other states.

Interviews with teenagers and young adults in one Pennsylvania city showed that they generally considered milk the beverage that contributes most to growth, strength and vigor but did not consider it a social drink, the report says.

Milk was thought of as an appropriate drink with the family—at meals or at bedtime. But soft drinks are considered more appropriate when teenagers get together—at dates, eating out or parties. In fact, teenagers and adults unanimously thought of milk as out of place at parties.

Women on the Go

JEANNE WARNKE
AMERICANS MUST BE meeting each other coming n' going in Europe this season! To visualize how many are there one has only to recall the number of Sanfordites who are on the scene now or else making preparations to go.

GLOBE TROTTERS next are Mrs. George Harden Sr. and Mrs. Grace Blount who will leave around July 7 from Tampa on the freighter, "The Terrier". They will make a world tour and have no definite plans or time of return as it is a leisure trip stopping where they find the greatest interest. Mrs. Harden is hoping they get to Athens, Greece, so she can visit her niece, Margaret Spencer, with the American Embassy there.

MISS McMAHON

MARY McMAHON is making preparations for her fourth trip to Europe. Two times she went as a nurse, once as a hairdresser to attend a convention and this time she will go with her church. She will be in the diocese of St. Augustine pilgrimage sponsored by Archbishop Joseph P. Hurley and under the direction of Father Gross of Gainesville. Around 50 members of Catholic Churches throughout Central Florida will form the pilgrimage.

They will attend the "Passion Play" in Oberammergau, Germany, visit the Shrine of Lourdes in France, and the highlight of the entire trip will be an audience with the Pope on August 18.

Miss McMahon, who will leave on the steamship, Hansalia, and return Sept. 2 on the Queen Frederica, has owned and operated the Sanford Beauty Shop since 1922.

MRS. LOIS BROOKE, Osteen postmaster, is shown with her birthday cake at the party given in her honor by a group of community friends. Mrs. Robert Williams is in the background.

Osteen Personals

Mrs. Frank George and Ed Marshall were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edmonds in Orange City.

Mrs. Amanda Kath, Chicago, Ill., visited Mr. and Mrs. Norman Miller, recently.

Mrs. Charles Brown, New Smyrna Beach and formerly of Osteen is visiting friends and relatives in Osteen. She is staying with Mrs. Lois Brooke.

A family dinner was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Stowell. Those attending were Mrs. Lois Brooke, Mrs. Charles Brown, Donna, Maxine, Corky and Vince Stowell, Danny Neal and the host and hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Tart and family had as their guests recently, his mother, Mrs. S. A. Tart, his sister and brother in law, Mr.

FOUR GENERATIONS were represented at the family reunion that took place Saturday night at Mrs. Appleby's restaurant. Host and hostess of the buffet supper for 44 members of their family were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Appleby and in the place of honor was her 86 year old mother, Mrs. Bertha David.

After a delicious supper of turkey and ham with "all the trimmings", pictures were taken of the group. Coming here for the occasion were Mrs. Claude Hendrick Jr. (the former Nancy Appleby) and her daughter, Mary Ann, of Atlanta, Ga. Also Mr. and Mrs. Tom Foster and children from Mississippi (she will be remembered as Donna Witte); Mrs. Charles Webb and two daughters of Phoenix, Ariz. (she is the former Virginia Dann) and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Lippincott of Baltimore, Md., parents of Robert Lippincott of Sanford. The only guest present not a member of the family was Mrs. Lois Housholder.

PURPLE, PINK AND WHITE flowers flanked by pink tapers in silver candelabra made a lovely table setting Saturday night when Mr. and Mrs. Si Johnston entertained with a dinner party. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Ivey, Capt. and Mrs. F. G. Edwards, Cdr. and Mrs. George Koen and Cdr. and Mrs. Buddy Yates.

THEY ARE STILL TALKING about the elegant luncheon given last week for Rita (Mrs. R. L.) Bauer at the home of Clono (Mrs. F. G.) Edwards. The hostess, who probably learned the artistry of French Cuisine while living in Paris, served Coquille St. Jacques (steak and oysters in a champagne sauce) and many more epicurean dishes.

All silver appointments were used with the exception of an antique cut-glass bowl on the dining room table which held an arrangement of anthurium flowers in from Hawaii. The red, wax flowers, native of Hawaii, were sent by Ty Ramage who is now enroute to California. Beautiful Gloriosa lilies, at vantage points throughout the home, were given by Mary (Mrs. A. B. Sr.) Peterson.

A CHAMPAGNE PARTY given by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Vaughan (he is formerly of Sanford) at their home in Orlando, Saturday night, was attended by Ruth and Harry Lee, Sylvia and Mason Wharton, Camille and Herbert Moreland, Ken Laffler, and Ann and Lee Moore.

BARBARA (Mrs. Jack) MORRISON is having fun keeping up with the Lake Mary Little League teams—and she is chairman of the big barbecue to be held Saturday at five o'clock following a game between the Giants and Reds. She called to tell me to remind everyone of the barbecue which will feature chicken—lots of it—and the cost is only $1.25 for adults, .75 for children.

Ground meat should be placed loosely wrapped, in the coldest part of the refrigerator. If it is not used within 24 hours, it should be wrapped and frozen for storage.

MRS. W. A. KRATZERT, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Park, Sr. and their grand daughter, Sidney, Mrs. Homer Osborne and Mrs. Horace Berryhill are back from Ridgecrest, N. C., where they accompanied a youthful group of the Baptist YWA convention. The girls attending were Marilyn McDaniel, Faye Garner, Jane Osborne, Betty Ann Long, Marty Stemper, Jackie and Freddie Berryhill, Linda McLellan, Genelia McClain and Evie and Rose Kratzert.

FRANCES AND RAUL VALENZUELA, going back to civilian life, will tour Mexico this summer before he enters New Mexico State University in Las Cruces. They will leave Sanford on Friday.

EMILY AND JOHN SNIPES, now living in New Smyrna Beach, were in town Monday to get inoculations since they are going to Lima, Peru, for their vacation. While he was stationed with the Navy a few years back she was a school teacher here.

CHRISTINE (Mrs. Jimmy) WRIGHT and husband have been entertaining guests at their home on Osceola Drive. Her sister, Mrs. Preston Blum, Sr. and son, have been visiting here from Ft. Bragg, N. C., where Major Blum is stationed with the Army. Another sister and her husband, Dr. and Mrs. Woodrow Suggs, were here this past weekend enroute to the Kiwanis convention in Miami. They live in Gastonia, N. C.

Christine said she also had a nice visit, recently with Mrs. Bob Baker, a former Sanfordite, now living in College Park.

NELL (Mrs. O. W.) TOUCHTON and her husband spent the weekend in Pelham, Ga., where they attended a reunion of her high school class of '35. They made several stops enroute home to visit with friends and relatives.

Roman mythology held that the goddess of women, Juno, had a hand in all events during her month—June. The popularity of June for weddings dates from that time. The idea was that a girl marrying that month would receive blessings from Juno—and a life of happiness.

Interior Decor Can Achieve Spacious Feeling

Home Demonstration Agent Interior decorating can overcome the cramped feeling of a small house. The secret is to create an illusion of spaciousness. Here are some tricks with furnishings that help to create this illusion:

To avoid a crowded look, limit the number of pieces of furniture in a room. In arranging the furniture, leave as much free floor and wall space as possible. Use informal balance in room arrangements to give a sense of free-flowing movement which contributes to spaciousness.

Use small-scale furniture for correspondingly small-sized rooms. This is especially helpful in areas that give the most oppressive feeling.

Take advantage of furniture with slender supports instead of heavy overstuffed furniture. Avoid overly ornamented furniture.

Use small-scale patterns in slipcovers, draperies, rugs and wallpaper. Large splashy patterns stand out.

Select smooth-textured fabrics with little or no sheen for large pieces of furniture and draperies. Rough textures and shiny surfaces call attention to themselves.

Keep the same wall color in adjoining rooms to create a feeling of one large area.

To achieve a spacious feeling, stick to one decorating style throughout a small house. Do not jump from Early American to modern to traditional.

Billimers Return From Extensive Northern Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Billimer have returned from a trip to New York City, Long Island, New Jersey and Virginia.

While in New York they saw their daughter, Betty, sail on the Greek liner, Queen Frederica, for a tour of Southern Europe. They also visited friends in Westbury, L. I., that they had not seen for 20 years.

In Maplewood, N. J. they attended the wedding and reception of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kasiner. She has visited the Billimers many times in the past.

While in Falls Church, Va., they visited Mr. Billimer's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Billimer. Their son, Bobby and his wife were also visiting there at this time.

Church Honors New Minister

Rev. John T. Adams Jr., new minister of the First Methodist Church and his family were honored at a reception in McKinley Hall, sponsored by members of the Women's Society of Christian Service.

Mrs. Howard Montleth, local church activities chairman and her committee were in charge of refreshments. Assisting her were Mrs. L. T. Doss and Mrs. W. B. Kirby.

The refreshment table was covered with an imported linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow gladioli in a glass container, flanked by yellow tapers in brass candelabra.

Watermelon Rind Pickle Recipes

Select rind from a small, firm, not overripe melon (or 1/2 rind from large melon.) Trim off the green skin and pink flesh. Cut in inch cubes and soak for 2 1/2 hours in lime water, made of 2 tablespoons lime and 2 quarts cold water. Drain and cover with cold water in freshen. Drain again, cover with fresh water and cook for 1 1/2 hours. Bring to the boiling point, 2 quarts white vinegar, 1 pint of water, 8 cups sugar, and 2 tablespoons whole cloves and 4 sticks cinnamon tied loosely in cheesecloth. Add the drained watermelon, and boil gently for 2 hours.

WATERMELON RIND PICKLE
 2 lbs. watermelon rind, lime water made from 1 qt. water and 1 T. lime, 1 quart cider vinegar, 1 cup water, 5 cups sugar (2 1/2 lbs. sugar), 1 tablespoon allspice, 1 tablespoon cloves, 6 small pieces stick cinnamon, 1 lb. dried, 1 oz. green ginger root may be added). Pare and remove all green and pink portions from watermelon rind. Cut it in the desired shape or size, and soak for 2 or 3 hours in the lime water. Drain the watermelon. Cover with a weak vinegar (1 cup in 2 cups water) and allow to stand overnight.

Discard the liquid next morning and make a syrup of the 3 cups of vinegar, 1/2 cup water, sugar and spices. Heat the syrup to 180° F. Cover and let stand 1 hour. Add the drained watermelon and cook gently for 2 hours or until the syrup is fairly thick. Process in water-bath canner for 15 minutes.

Pack the watermelon pickle in sterilized glass jars, cover with hot syrup, seal air-tight and store in cool place. Note: The lime (calcium oxide) may be bought at the drug store. This makes a wonderful pickle to serve with meats or on a relish tray. Start using these rinds now for good eating later on.

AIR-LAYERING TIME

Now is the time to try your hand at air-layering shrubs and trees, says Dr. T. J. Sheehan, ornamental horticulturist with the Florida Agricultural Extension Service.

Some of the Florida plants commonly propagated by air-layering are rubber plants, crotons, hibiscus, oleander and camellias. The operation is simple. Remove a half-inch ring of bark near the base of a twig, tie a handful of damp sphagnum moss around the ringed area. Next, wrap the moss covered section with a piece of plastic. The plants that are layering now and in early summer will be ready to transplant during the fall and winter.

Osteen Boy Honored Before Leaving For Birmingham

Mrs. Jack Boone entertained a group of neighborhood children at her home in Osteen recently in honor of her son, Hamilton, who was celebrating his 13th birthday. Games were played in the yard and refreshments served to Bobby, Connie, Brenda and Cheryl Palmer; Mike, Donnie and Ronnie Skinner; Chuck, Debbie and Delane Carpenter; Mrs. Emerson Skinner and the hostess.

Last week end Hamilton left with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Seagraves and traveled as far as Atlanta, Ga., with them. He then went on to Birmingham, Ala., where he will spend the summer with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hamilton.

The day before he left Mrs. James Palmer entertained the same group of children at a winner roast and farewell party for Hamilton.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a 37-year-old married man who goes out in the garage or down in the basement to sneak a smoke when his parents are visiting? His father disapproves of tobacco and doesn't know that his son has been smoking ever since we were married, 12 years ago. I keep telling my husband I think it's the silliest thing I have ever heard of.

Don't you think if a grown man wants to smoke he should be man enough to smoke in front of his father?

SMOKERS WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Your husband's behavior is childish. But it's HIS father and HIS decision. A 37-year-old man who has to sneak his smokes has plenty of problems without a wife heckling him. Lay off.

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend of whom I think a great deal. But she has a nasty little habit which I'd like to tell her about, but can't. When playing cards, she will lick her fingers before every card she plays, and also before dealing. Consequently, the cards become unpleasant to handle. How can I ask her to discontinue this fault which is unhygienic and disgusting for her fellow players?

REVOLTED

DEAR REVOLTED: Call a spade a spade before she has a chance to get her hands on the deck. Tell her, "The cards are slick, so please don't lick."

DEAR ABBY: Every Sunday, just as I'm ready to go to church, my neighbor sends her two children over to ride along with me. This neighbor and her husband belong to the same church, but they never go.

I don't mind taking the children, but I feel that by taking them perhaps I am making it too easy for my neighbors to stay away from church. Also, if these children had no other way to get to church, I could feel really good about driving them there.

Please tell me, Abby, should I refuse to take these children, or should I continue to take them, and burn silently?

DO GOODER

DEAR DO GOODER: Continue to take the children, but there's no sense in "burning." The kind of parents who would consistently send their children to church with the neighbors are not likely to go to church themselves just to get their children there.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BUZZ: Your friends sound like blisters. They show up after all the work has been done. There must be others who are worthier of your friendship. Look around.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Machine Language Taking Over On What Used To Be English

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If you overheard a couple of grown men talking about a "nixie light," the chances are you would get sick right on the sidewalk.

But if someone explained that they were merely talking in machine language, otherwise known as "computerese," you likely would have a different reaction.

Then you might step back a few paces, genuflect in the direction of the nearest unabridged dictionary and join me in asking "whither English?"

A "nixie light," I have just learned, is a device used on an electronic brain. To me, it is symbolic of the darkness that is falling over the English language.

For a long time, I have had the feeling that our old democracy was developing a class system based not on social orders but on lingual disorders that are dividing us into uncommunicative camps.

Already we have seen the civil and military branches of our government break away from the central language and move into the suburbs of babel. More recently, our teenagers have been staging semantical street riots designed to overthrow the mother tongue.

Now I note that verbal gangrene has begun to infect the business world. I noted this in a booklet just published by the Minneapolis - Honeywell Regulator Co., which seems to be having trouble conversing with some of its customers.

In days past, the company explained, instrument lingo was comparatively simple, composed of such terms as "proportional

THEY NEVER CHANGE

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Producers as a rule need not live in fear of winning beauty contests. Witness Joe Pasternak, Jerry Wald and Sam Goldwyn.

It comes as a blockbusting shock, therefore, to meet Tinseltown's newest movie producer, Stella Stevens. A baby-faced blonde with a non-stop set of curves, Stella has one outstanding fault.

She's smart!

When the writers and actors went on strike most actresses in town pooled around their swimming pools. Not Stella.

"I don't have a pool," she said, "and I can't stand inactivity. So I decided to make a motion picture of my own. I formed a company, Mercator Productions, with Rudolph Gummner, who put up most of the money.

"I'm president of the firm, and I'm sole producer of 'A Day in Beverly Hills.' It's a documentary of a typical day in Beverly Hills." The picture, which will run some 70 minutes on the screen, was completed this week. The budget is small, but movie-goers will see the famed city in widescreen and color.

"The city is the star of the picture," Stella continued, "we have no professional actors in the cast."

Why didn't Stella brighten the picture with an appearance of her own?

"I'm under contract to Paramount Studios, and they wouldn't give me permission to do it. Besides, my production company couldn't afford the salary I demand, so I just forgot about acting."

New Producer Not Only A Beauty But Knows The Film Industry

Dear Edyth:

"My work takes me all over the city. I walk a lot but my feet hurt all the time. Are there some home treatments I might try? I wear what I think are comfortable shoes but my feet hurt as much as those as in high-heeled shoes—Mamie G."

Do, please, go to a shoe store and have your feet properly fitted in shoes which are made of leather and are leather lined. Insist upon this. Leather has an affinity for the human foot and leather is porous. Synthetic linings can do much damage to your feet. It may be, also, that the higher heels would give you more comfort. Be fitted and find out. For the home treatments which will help so much, send for a copy of "How to Step Lively After Forty." The leaflet gives full instructions. Send me a long, self-addressed, FOUR-CENT stamped envelope and ten cents in coin. I think supportive stockings also would be of great comfort when walking so much in your work.

Be Sure Your Shoes Fit You

"My problem is a widening waistline. I eat less, I think, than I ever have, but I do no work now. Do you suggest a starvation diet? I might be able to do it—Mrs. Charles."

Teenage Oriented TV Special Fizzled Instead Of Sparkled

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — The teenage oriented special, "Coke Time," on ABC-TV Monday night, lacked effectiveness. It fizzled when it should have sizzled.

Presided over by Pat Boone, noted authority on teenage garb and grooves, the hour was supposed to enlighten squares like myself about the pony-tail-top set.

For this, it lined up the pecking order of teenage idols and idealines such as Frankie Avalon, Paul Anka, two youngsters who, incidentally, now sport matching profiles—Edd Byrnes (Wheel), Bobby Darin (Yee!), Annette Funicello (Wool!), Bob Denver, (Candy), and Anita Bryant (Cooch!).

All this led me to expect a rousing, joyous, humor-packed, swinging and, yes, youthful production.

Instead, it was generally slow-moving and curiously stilted. It was a weak imitation of a Frank Sinatra-Bing Crosby gig. As a salute to teenagers, it was more of a salute to their parents, the Lawrence Welk set, musically speaking.

I didn't dwell on the singing, since I feel we can all agree at this late date that the teenage stars are not essentially singers. They're tailored personalities, triumphs for grownups who can spot a need, fill it by exploiting intangibles, and make it pay for everyone. Wise, as adults like to say, I didn't expect much from Anka, Avalon, Byrnes, Annette, Darin and Denver. They're not my cup of Pepsi, but I'm just a growing boy.

The real surprise was hearing the old pro, Pat Boone, sing the lovely ballad, "Somethin' Comin'," at the end of the hour. He smiled through it all.

Darin's admirers tell me the boy is great in night clubs. From what I see of him on TV, though, he's just copying Gary Crosby's act.

There were a few youthful, swinging bits during the hour. A "Madison Time" dance was filled with fun and spirit. A montage of top-selling records, with all hands taking part, breathed another spot that displayed humor, a commodity that was surprisingly scarce, involved a dance built into transistor radio-listening.

Perhaps the trouble is that the performers all are used to working into echo chambers and tape splicers, using material that is built upon the life-filled rock 'n'

Lana's Boyfriend Throws Punch

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — At a post premiere party early today at Romanoff's Restaurant, Lana Turner's date, sportsman Fred May, threw a punch at Hollywood gossip columnist as he walked.

By all means, wear the shoulder pads. Go to your local dressmaking supply store and you will find shoulder pads of every kind, shape and color. A slight lift at the shoulder is good.

$5 Million Asked For Aadland Girl

NEW YORK (UPI) — The late Erroll Flynn lured teenage Beverly Aadland into "moral debauchery and sex orgies, and taught her a lewd, wanton and wayward way of life," it was charged yesterday in a $5 million suit against his estate.

The suit charged the swash-buckling star overpowered the 15-year-old girl with his charm and worldly experience and "roused within her deep, unripened passions and unnatural desires inimical to the interests, welfare and fulfillment of her normal youth."

The action was brought in State Supreme Court by the new 17-year-old Beverly's court-appointed guardian Howard F. Trussell of New York. It named as defendants Flynn's estranged wife, Patricia Wynmore, and Justin M. Goldenbock and Louis Grossman, temporary administrators of Flynn's estate.

Second Half FSL Starts Here Thursday--Go Cheer The Greyhounds!

FSL All-Stars Topple League Leaders, 5-3

LAKELAND (UPI) — The Florida State League All-Stars got shutout pitching from two out of their three pitchers to defeat Lakeland 5-3 in the All-Star game Tuesday night.

Tampa's Marcelino Lopez blanked the first half champions on two hits for the first three innings and Leesburg's Jim Dunlap goose-egged the Indians on one hit for the middle three.

Pirates Refuse To Play 2nd Tilt Of Doubleheader

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates today waited for a ruling from National League President Warren Giles on whether they would have to play the second game of a doubleheader in Philadelphia July 10.

Pirates pitcher Bob Friend, the club's representative, said Tuesday night that the team decided against playing the contest because it would be "too strenuous."

Friend pointed out that the team is slated to play a night game July 9. The contest in question was re-scheduled because of rained-out games earlier this season.

"We feel that this doubleheader is coming at an important time of the season when we are making a run for the pennant," Friend stated.

He said his teammates unanimously agreed in a vote Tuesday not to take the field for the nightcap.

"Even the owners and the ball players had agreed that a doubleheader should not be played after a night game," he said.

"We feel the game can be played at another date."

The July 10th game originally was scheduled as a single contest. But the Pirates were rained out in Philadelphia April 24 and June 4 and the game was scheduled as one of the makeup games.

Pirate General Manager Joe L. Brown complained to Giles following the June 4 game which the Phils called off after a show-up before rain.

"I called Giles and said he was not living up to the league's agreement with the players," Brown said.

"He told me that John Quinn, the general manager of the Phils, said there was no other suitable date for the game and I informed him that late in the year we make a trip to Philadelphia to play one game."

"There isn't a darn thing we can do about it if Giles ignores the players' agreement in permitting the Phils to schedule the game as a doubleheader after the night game," Brown added.

Basilio Hopes To Regain Title In Bout Tonight

BASILIO 128 PFTS MARIE... SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (UPI) —Carmen Basilio, grand little battler of the 1950's, tries to recapture the National Boxing Association's version of the world middleweight crown tonight from bul-shouldered Gene Fullmer, the only man who ever stopped him.

This return 16-rounder between 33-year old Basilio of Chittenden, N. Y., and 28-year old Fullmer of nearby West Jordan, Utah, will be televised nationally by ABC at 9 p. m.

However, because of the time-zone differences they'll square off at sundown here at Derks Field, where fair and continued warm weather has been promised. A crowd of 13,000 and a gate of $125,000 are expected at Salt Lake City's first world title fight.

Fullmer is favored at 13-5 to beat Carmen again. The West Jordan mauler is favored because he stopped Basilio, former welterweight and middleweight champion, in the 14th round of their fight for the vacant NBA crown at San Francisco last Aug. 28. The NBA had vacated Sugar Ray Robinson's title for his failure to defend.

In that San Francisco fight, which reached a thrilling competitive peak in the sixth round, left-hooper Basilio was so exhausted in the 14th that his handlers asked the referee to stop the bout. In the dressing room, victorious Fullmer's face showed bruises and cuts in several places.

Basilio hasn't fought since. He took a long rest and then went into serious training. He wound up his conditioning campaign for tonight's fight at the Industrial School in Ogden, Utah — 35 miles away. There he sparred in secret, lest Fullmer learn what weapons he was sharpening.

Palmer Scores Bookmakers

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (UPI) —Arnold Palmer's first practice round over the famed St. Andrews golf course wasn't too encouraging.

In fact, it was almost enough to scare the bookmakers out of the bookies who have installed the Englishman, Pa. shooter as the favorite for next week's British Open championship.

Buffeted by a strong northerly wind, Palmer shot an 82-11 over par — on the old course Tuesday.

"I don't think I have ever played in a wind just like that but I was not hitting the ball well," the United States Open said.

brought to a vote and three points of the archer's four point proposal was approved. Certification of equipment, the same hunt period as last year and an archer's choice — either two bucks or one doe. A total kill limit would be set, the commission said. Still hunts will be held in Ocala and Inverness — the same dates as last year. The 5th district sportsmen also voted for a gun hunt to control deer population in Inverness-Withlacoochee area. The turkey and quail seasons will be the same as last year and there will be no early season on squirrel. Tags were to be eliminated from hunting licenses, the Commission said, and dates that would be punched out would replace them. The Commission also said that the hunting license would be smaller this year so that it would fit into a "decent wallet."

Tempers really began to fray when the old controversy over a split doe season began to show itself. The issue was finally pounded down to a vote. The result was 63-35 opposed to the split doe season. It is unlikely that any change will be made though.

Seminole county had 15 men at the meeting.

Yanks Listen To Casey For Once And Stop Daley

United Press International Casey Stengel almost talked himself blue in the face but finally got that red-letter performance he was after from his first-place New York Yankees.

"I told my players once, I told 'em a thousand times not to try to kill those knuckleball pitchers," Stengel said. "It simply can't be done. You gotta just meet the ball, that's all."

Casey told the Yankees again Tuesday night and for once, they listened.

Coming up as a pinch-hitter in the eighth inning, Bob Cerv remembered Stengel's advice and merely slapped at one of knuckleballer Bud Daley's offerings. The half-swing did the trick. Cerv was credited with a bloop double that broke a 2-2 tie, touched off a three-run rally and led the Yankees to a 5-2 victory over the Athletics.

Mickey Mantle, who swings from his heels no matter what Stengel says, caught hold of one of Daley's third inning pitches and rammed it into the seats for his 17th homer.

Cerv's double, which came in a pinch-hitting role for winning pitcher Bob Turley, paced the Yankees to their ninth victory in the last 12 games and enabled them to solidify their lead over the second-place Baltimore Orioles.

Cleveland beat Baltimore, 3-2, in 11 innings, Washington edged Chicago, 2-1, in 14 innings and Detroit defeated Boston, 10-1.

Milwaukee climbed to within 2 1/2 games of the National League lead with a 5-3 victory over Chicago. Pittsburgh and San Francisco battled to a 7-7 tie in a game called at the end of nine innings because of curfew. Philadelphia blanked Los Angeles, 2-0, and Cincinnati beat St. Louis, 10-4. Johnny Temple's 11th inning homer off reliever Gordon Jones gave the Indians their victory after Al Plarek tied the score at 2-2 for the Orioles.

Julio Becquer's sacrifice fly with the bases loaded produced Washington's winning run in the 14th against Chicago. Becquer hit the game-winning liner off Gerry Staley although it was Turk Lown who filled the bases with three walks and was charged with the loss. Reliever Chuck Stobbs pitched one inning and it was enough to gain his fifth triumph.

The Tigers broke out of their slump with a 15-hit attack that sunk the Red Sox. Norm Cash began a four-run rally in the second inning with a homer off Ike Delock and the Tigers turned the game into a runaway with five more runs in the eighth. Southpaw Don Mossi gave up nine hits in bringing his record to 8-4.

Wes Covington provided the key blow for the Braves in their victory over the Cubs. His third-inning double helped the Braves rally for three runs and tie the score at 3-3 and his homer off loser Glen Hobbie in the sixth broke the tie. Warren Spahn went the distance for Milwaukee, yielded eight hits, and scored his sixth victory.

Roberto Clemente singled home the Pirates' tying run in the ninth in their game with the Giants. Pittsburgh missed a chance to win with the bases loaded when Don Hoak filed out. Dick Schofield was thrown out at the plate and Hal Smith struck out. The game, delayed four times by rain, will be played over in its entirety.

The Reds rocked Ronnie Kline for five runs in the first inning and then breezed to victory over the Cardinals. By winning, Cincinnati moved into fourth place and dropped St. Louis into fifth.

MISS CHERYL CHANDLER, JUDGE VERNON MIZE

'Miss Crusade' Gets Society's Thanks

Judge Vernon Mize, president of the Seminole County Chapter of the American Cancer Society, today expressed the appreciation of the chapter to Miss Cheryl Chandler of 1960 for her work in publicizing the Cancer Crusade. Miss Cheryl Chandler of Loch Arbor, made many public appearances before civic and social organizations during the month of April, distributing educational literature on the subject of cancer.

Mize also announced that the Crusade goal of $4,000, the highest ever set for Seminole County, had been reached and topped by $500. The Crusade, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Homer Walker, was extended throughout the county, and the cooperation of all was responsible for the outstanding success of the drive, he said.

Of this $4,500, 45 per cent remains in the county to continue the service program of aid to cancer patients through its Loan Closet and Dressing program; to aid the Orange County Tumor Clinic which handles Seminole County cancer patients; to further the educational program through films and literature.

Orlando Girl Electrocutted

ORLANDO (UPI)—A guy wire on a pole holding high tension power lines snapped Tuesday night and the wire, carrying 7,200 volts, electrocuted Kristine Hahn, 6, and burned three-year-old Keith Clouston.

Officer B. L. Tinscher, called to the scene, threw a rope around the boy and pulled him away from the thrashing, sputtering wire.

"When I saw those children there the only thing I could think about was my two," said Tinscher.

Successful Shot

WGLN AIR FORCE BASE (UPI)—The Air Force fired a Nike-Ap research rocket 110 miles and a Gam 77 Hounddog missile several hundred miles in two successful shots Tuesday.

Sanford's biggest fourth ever was the word going out from all chairmen as final preparations were set for this city's celebration Monday.

The celebration, sponsored by the Sanford Recreation and Parks Dept. is for expansion of local Little League activities.

Festivities will be kicked off at 2:30 p. m. with field events featuring foot races, sack races, standing broad jump, throwing softball for distance and several other events for all children; divided in groups according to age. Activities will be climaxed Monday evening with the City's largest fireworks display to be put on over Lake Monroe, beginning at approximately 9 p. m.

In between time during the day all in attendance will be sure to find entertainment to wet their appetite for the chicken barbecue to be served from 5 until 7 p. m. At 4 p. m. activities will center around a father-son ball game involving little leaguers and their fathers.

The evenings activities will feature a baseball game between league leaders, Standard Oil and an All Star Team made up of members of the other seven Little League Teams.

The menu announced for the barbecue will feature chicken, potato salad, baked beans and iced tea. In charge of barbecuing the chickens is Cotton Brown. Father Gives Life For Son APALACHICOLA (UPI)—When Jimmy Turner's trawler caught fire in the Gulf Tuesday Turner tossed the only life jacket to his 12-year-old son Gene and told the boy to jump.

Gene did as his father said. He saw Turner, badly burned, jump overboard and grab a wooden keg. Another shipper rescued Gene. Turner's body was recovered several hours later. Deputies said he had drowned.

Children of broad-chested parents mature earlier than those of narrow chested parents, the American Association of Physical Anthropologists was told recently.

Policy Speech Makes It Easy To Be Soft On Kennedy

By Holmes Alexander
 WASHINGTON—It's easy to be soft-on-Kennedy after listening to the Massachusetts senator make one of his good speeches. Unfortunately, we are living in a soft-currency period of language, when the cliché circulates too freely. The inflationary influence has debased the value of good words to near-nothingness.

I was sorry, after Kennedy finished his foreign policy speech last week, to hear Acting Majority Leader Mansfield get up and congratulate the speaker on "maturity... courage... honesty." It doesn't take any particular exercise of these noble qualities to read a prepared Senate floor speech which never departed from a single norm of the two-party foreign policy of the past 15 years.

But it was a thoughtful, well-prepared and well-delivered address. The soft-on-Kennedy reaction was evident in the press gallery. Even those who are not other Democrat or any Republican as our next president will be reconciled if Jack Kennedy makes the White House. Before the nomination and election fights get any rougher, let us put it on record that Kennedy is no sawdust candidate, no "boy" and no political accident. Maybe we could get a better man for the 1961-65 back—he'll do.

His foreign policy speech of June 14 can be picked apart for details of originality and absence of hard remedies for what ails us, but the faults are those of our time. Rather than those of the senator. After nearly 200 years of American freedom, 34 presidential campaigns of sorts, 42 years of internationalism and 15 years of cold war against communism, how do you stay conformist as Kennedy certainly is, and still offer new things to say or new proposals for old problems. Unless you are willing to agree with Barry Goldwater that we must win, not merely endure, the cold war, there is nothing new to be said. Yearly everything that can be said against Kennedy's foreign policy statement can be used as an indictment of the administrations of Presidents Truman and Eisenhower. For example, the Kennedy speech was: "Against such clichés as: 'standing up to Khrushchev,' 'soft on communism,' 'party of war and party of appeasement.'"

For such clichés as: "to build positions of strength," "the real issue," "a strong America" and a "free world."

For "share the wealth" when it comes to sending millions of dollars, as well as "food banks" and technical aid to Asia, Africa, the Middle East, Latin America and especially to India, where they have a five-year plan of socialization, and also to Poland, which is inside the Soviet orbit.

For "keep America strong" when it comes to a "nuclear power accord in none, 'ultimate missiles that can close the gap' much more 'conventional forces' for the Army and Marines and a 'viable and consolidated military force, capable of deterring any kind of attack' in NATO.

Against the Republican policy which the late Secretary Dulles called "liberation," and which we preached but didn't practice when Hungary, East Germany and Poland tried to revolt.

For a Democratic policy for a "free Berlin which, along with West Europe, would be emancipated by 'seeds of liberty.'"

Against the Republican China policy, "which has steadily failed... to prevent a steady growth in Communist strength."

For a Democratic China policy which would include "a reduction of tension in the Formosa Strait" and unnamed methods "to improve our communications with mainland China," as well as "to restore our historical friendship with the Chinese people."

There is nothing, I think, in the Kennedy foreign policy which could not—and probably will not—show up in the Nixon (or Rockefeller) foreign policy with only a change of party label.

But this fault belongs, to repeat, as much to our time as to our candidates. It is a day to arm and disarm, and to be adamant and yet reasonable, to be "second to none" and yet to build up past enemies into future rivals.

If you should need oxygen (says the flying lady) the mask will drop automatically into your lap. "Place over your nose"—she demonstrates—"and breathe normally."

I am glad this has never happened to me. I have just discovered I do not breathe normally.

WORRY CLINIC by Dr. G. W. Crane

A pair of youngsters of your own are worth a college diploma. For they extort your attention to the problems of the world today, instead of letting you live in your dreams. They force you to read an encyclopedia so you can answer their questions, and they make you more religious.

CASE F-403: Timmy T., aged five, is a bright youngster but timid.

Dr. Crane, he has always sucked his thumb. Timmy's mother protested unhappily.

"I have tried putting bitter medicine on the thumb and have wrapped it up so that it seemed too cumbersome to be attractive, but he involuntarily gets it into his mouth."

"Now that he is going to start kindergarten next term, I am afraid his classmates will ridicule him and call him a baby or a sissy."

"So how can we stop Timmy's habit of thumb sucking?"

This habit often starts during the early months of life when a baby isn't getting enough milk. Maybe the mother's supply is inadequate but they fool along, hoping it will increase.

It is common for hungry babies to suck their hands around. Ultimately, they reach the mouth, and soon the infants are sucking on their fist or fingers, though the thumb seems the preferred object.

After the habit becomes entrenched, even though the child may then be getting a richer milk supply, as from an evaporated milk formula, the youngster may still carry on with the thumb.

Many of these nuisance habits thus originate in a situation where the action was once logical or helpful. But the original need may then disappear, yet the habit will persist of its own momentum.

It is best to try to prevent the origin of such a habit by increasing the food to your baby until he sleeps soundly between feedings.

If the habit has already developed, as is Timmy's case, then it is wise to try several measures until you obtain desired results.

The thumb-in-mouth situation has had pleasure linked with it for several years. So we try to link displeasure therewith, as by painting the thumb with some bitter substance. His mother has tried this.

Secondly, we might place the arm under tension while the thumb is in the mouth, thus injecting fatigue and muscle pain.

To do this, cut out a thin strip of rubber from an old inner tube, as boys do when making sling shots.

Pin one end of the strip to the wristband of the child's pajamas or nightgown, but fasten the other to his waistband or the mattress.

When he lifts his hand to insert his thumb in his mouth, the rubber will be stretched. This will exert a continuous pull on his hand and quickly fatigue the muscles of the arm. Soon the hand will slip out of his mouth.

A combination of the rubber band, plus the bitter medicine on his thumb, will more quickly build up an association of pain or displeasure with the thumb-in-mouth situation.

The above methods demonstrate an attempt to substitute an unpleasant EFFECT for a former pleasant one.

It is also possible to substitute one stimulus for another in a confirmed habit like this, as by replacing the thumb during the daytime with chewing gum.

At night, the hand can be occupied with a woolly lamb or toy monkey or other attractive tactile stimulus.

If the child holds one of these toys with the hand in question, he is less likely to slip the thumb in his mouth.

Also, give him a tricycle and a puppy so he can romp himself into a state of physical fatigue before retiring.

He'll then drift off to sleep more quickly, thus tending to check this habit as well as others like self sex practices.

Send for my bulletin "Common Behavior Problems of Children," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

KNOCKING THE L OUT OF IT!

POSTCARDS

The latest thing on jet airplanes is the oxygen mask. It is tucked in a little compartment over your head—at least the stewardess SAYS it is in this compartment. I never peeked. May be it is stuffed with kleenex.

If you should need oxygen (says the flying lady) the mask will drop automatically into your lap. "Place over your nose"—she demonstrates—"and breathe normally."

I am glad this has never happened to me. I have just discovered I do not breathe normally.

We'll be diving deeper than 30 fathoms this time."

As a matter of fact, we submerged first in the shallow end—no using these things, I submerged and took a big suck on the snorkel. I got an awful lot of water.

I came up and looked at the snorkel. There was a hole in the bottom. I got out the directions. "Place valve over bottom hole." I found the blasted valve in the box and put it on.

I submerged again. This time I got air. Do you know it is impossible to breathe normally through those things? Absolutely true. I breathed abnormally, since there was nothing else to do.

After awhile I came up and sat on the edge of the pool and panted.

Our son, oddly enough, can breathe quite normally. I think he breathes water. He uses the snorkel only for show. It looks good hanging on his mask. He doesn't put the end in his mouth.

He just takes a big, deep breath and goes under water.

And he stays and stays and stays and STAYS—until you think, good grief, COME ON UP! And when you leap in—the water colder than hilly—comes up with hardly a gasp.

We both spit on our masks, rubbed and rinsed. Skin diving is an excellent sport with the right equipment. We couldn't really get along without it.

WASHINGTON

by Ed Koterba

(Ed Koterba today concludes his story of the strange new enterprise that gets underway this week on the ocean floor off Florida's West Coast.)

ST. PETERSBURG BEACH—In the last several days I have asked dozens of people this question: "Where would you go in case of atomic attack?"

They all replied they'd either head for the basement or "just stay put—what else could we do?"

Well, this resort community—a thin strip across the Boca Ciega Bay from the city of St. Petersburg—may have an answer to dispel this defeatism. Sunk into the bay just east of here is the forerunner to what may some day be underwater human bomb shelters.

Dr. Harold Quase (pronounced Kwazy), head of Underwater Storage, Inc., in Washington, has anchored in the floor of the bay two big atomic-bombproof rubber tanks for storing fuel. This pilot project, he says, will eventually grow into vast numbers of shelters for vital supplies—and people.

"We have calculated," he said, "what with the air contaminated with radiation, humans can live in shelters under water for 90 days."

Five feet of water shields a person against harm from radiation. By filtering contaminated air through a certain depth of water, fresh air is obtainable. It works on the principal of an air-conditioning system, Quase said.

One big problem will be getting people to the underwater shelters. "We will use elevators encased in rubber tubes," he said. "Or, in some cases, we can tunnel in from the water's edge."

Dr. Quase, a native of Philadelphia, parlayed his investments, while practicing as a physician in Detroit, into a comfortable sum, enabling him to retire as a doctor at 34. He has put much of his capital into his new firm, convinced his destiny lies in Davy Jones' locker.

Several days ago he staked a claim in Washington to all underwater rights—thousands of square miles—not now under the jurisdiction of any nation.

From his files in Washington, he produced more than 100 letters from civil defense people, military and agricultural officials and members of Congress expressing curiosity in his project.

The Agriculture Department is concerned about our billions of dollars of surplus farm products. Quase said: "Radiation from a single bomb could ruin all our surplus stores of grain in the Midwest." Radiation couldn't get to them underwater.

Too, one bomb could spread contamination among the above-ground fuel tanks in, say, a congested area like Chester, Pa., in underground tanks, fire can't spread.

"Now take purified water," the former physician said. "In case Washington were attacked, what would our hospitals do for fresh water?" He said storage tanks of purified water on the bottom of the Potomac could supply the city for weeks.

In areas where there are no rivers, lakes, bays or oceans, Quase said, man-made lakes deep enough to give protection could be built.

"It is inevitable," he said, "that some day we will be going under water for our survival."

If nothing else, the plan of Dr. Quase is fascinating food for thought.

Mr. Billopp

Selling is the opposite of buying. In buying money is paid out. In selling money is taken in.

Persons who spend most of their time buying occasionally feel it would be nice to become sellers for a change. No doubt they have possessions for which they have no further use and which are cluttering up the place. If they could sell them they would receive money in return which could be added to their supply of cash. This they could use to buy something they need or to store away for a rainy day.

Persons who wish to become sellers will be encouraged by friends who have sold things. The friends will have been surprised at what they got for possessions they did not want. They will tell of children they have sent to college on the proceeds, or trips to distant places they have made, or luxuries they have been able to afford.

Or they may have invested the money taken in on securities that have increased greatly in value and brought them in welcome income.

This will be cheering news to persons who wish to become sellers. It is pleasant to think of having money coming in rather than money going out. They will picture their satisfaction at being able to afford luxuries, and take trips and to indulge themselves in countless activities without having to ask how much they cost.

So they will gather together the possessions they do not need and shine them up so that they look fresh, with the hope that they will command a better price. Then they will offer them for sale.

What a disappointment it is when potential buyers take a look shake their heads, call attention to defects and offer at best a couple of dollars, pointing out that the possessions offered are hardly worth carrying away.

—Christopher Billopp

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CROW

A business man read an enormous announcement of his own death in the morning paper and called up his wife in a frenzy. "Did you read that story about me in the obit page?" he demanded. "I certainly did," answered his wife. "Where are you calling from?"

"One of the great things about living in a democracy," boasts Bob Hope. "is that we have complete control over how we pay our taxes—cash, check, or money order."

Hope says that the girl ahead of him in the line at the tax office really set the internal revenue men back on their heels, however. "I'm a nurse," she told them. "It'll all right for me to take off my uniform and underwear!"

They tell about the starlet who flunked her driver's examination because she thought the white line in the middle of the highway was for bicycles!

You Can See Wonders Of Everglades

On Audubon Society Summer Tours

The curtain went up on Florida's fabulous summer nature show June 25 when the first in a series of National Audubon Society's summer wildlife tours was made to tiny Duck Rock, 10 miles away from Everglades to the Ten Thousand Islands. The tours continue until Sept. 4.

This summer's schedule provides for one-day tours to Duck Rock each Wednesday and Saturday, and for a two-day trip to Duck Rock and to the Corkscrew Swamp Sanctuary each Saturday. In addition special trips on other days can be arranged for parties of six or more. The trips are made via Audubon station wagons from Miami and by Audubon in-board cruisers from Everglades to Duck Rock.

The Duck Rock tour offers you an opportunity to witness the nightly roosting of 30,000 to 80,000 birds—mainly white ibis and some roseate spoonbills on a tiny, three-acre islet. Shoving off from the Everglades Rod and Gun Club docks, the Audubon boats cruise down the Barron river, across Chokoloskee bay and into the narrow, mangrove channels where once smugglers, plume hunters and rum runners played hide-and-seek with the law. You arrive off Duck Rock shortly before 3:30 p.m. and almost to the minute you see the first birds appear over the mainland en route to their nightly roost.

While you're anchored off the island, a family-style picnic supper is held to the accompaniment of muted wing beats of the returning birds. At sundown, your boats retrace their way through the now darkening mangrove channels to Everglades, and you return to Miami about 11 p.m.

The fee is $15 per person, including transportation and box lunch.

The two-day Duck Rock-Corkscrew trip duplicates the one-day trip to the night roosting islet, and on the second day visits the Corkscrew Swamp Sanctuary. You overnight in Everglades. Cost of the overnight accommodations and meals—except the picnic supper float—is not included in the tour price of $25 per person.

For those who prefer to drive their own autos, or who are not joining the party at Miami, arrangements can be made to join the tours at Everglades. All reservations, however, must be made through the Audubon Society's office, 143 N. E. 3d Ave., Miami.

Ike Vetoes Federal Pay Raise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower today vetoed as "indefensible" a bill to raise the pay of federal workers by $750 million a year.

Eisenhower said the election-year pay measure, granting increases ranging from 7.5 to 8.6 percent, could not be defended "by any right," including the rise in the cost of living.

The chief executive, in a special message to the House, said the present federal pay system was badly antiquated and the pay bill would make the situation worse.

He assailed what he called "pressure tactics" by some postal workers to get Congress to pass the measure—and to override the expected veto.

The disputed pay bill, if the veto is overridden, would go into effect this Friday. It would provide across the board pay raises of 7.5 percent for 1,464,000 white collar workers in the three branches of government — executive, legislative, and judicial.

The Texas seizure came after the three big oil firms refused an order to reduce Soviet crude oil which Cuba is importing in exchange for sugar.
