Television's Greatest Family: 'Father Knows Best'

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Television's favorite married couple, Robert Young and Jane Wyatt, while not wed to one another, have amazingly like husband and wife off-screen.
The stars of "Father Knows Best" spend more time working together than they do with their own spouses and the result is one of video's most devoted mutual admiration societies.
During lunch together this week Jane and Bob admitted their double life has its complications.
"I'm often called Mrs. Young," Jane laughed.
"And when I talk about my wife, I have to say Betty, or people will think I'm talking about Jane," Young said.
"When we were scheduled to appear in the rose parade in Pasadena it was decided we should spend the night there to avoid the early morning traffic jam," Jane added. "I was never so embarrassed in my life to discover the Army had rented a single apartment for both of us."
Recall Recollections
"Jane spent the night there, and I came out the next day," Young said.
"Once, when we were flying in New York, the seat reservations on the plane were made out to Mr. and Mrs. Young," Jane put in.
Both Jane and Bob speak of their TV youngsters in the same parental manner in which they discuss their own children — Bob is the father of four girls, Jane the mother of two sons.

"It's funny how we've come to think of ourselves as a family," Bob observed. "We're starting our fifth year on TV Sept. 22 and you wouldn't believe the changes and growth we've seen with the kids on the show."
"I ran the original plot the other night and I couldn't believe how much they've blossomed."
Bob was interrupted when Jane spotted his necktie. It bore the symbol of the Emmy Award with "Father Knows Best" written in fancy scroll. She roared with laughter.
Grow Serious
The actor reacted indignantly, denying he had worn the tie purposely. But Jane continued to howl.
"She'll never let me hear the last of this," he mourned.
They both grew serious when Young explained how their long standing TV relationship has added to the believability of the family program.
"I've always felt awkward and shy showing affection during my career. But with Jane I behave the way I would around my own wife. It's the same way with the kids. My genuine affection for them makes playing warm, intimate scenes much easier."
"Same here," Jane piped up. "I never feel self-conscious or uncomfortable when the script calls for tender sequences."
"We've been fortunate in having no cast problems whatever," Young concluded. "The Jim Anderson family on TV is just a happy a unit off-camera as we are when we're doing a scene."

Florida U. Admits Negro; Faubus Closes All Schools

George Starke Jr., Sanford Doctor's Son, Is Enrolled

GAINESVILLE (UPI)—The first Negro to enter an all-white Florida school registered today at the University of Florida Law School.

George Henry Starke Jr. of Orlando, a 27-year-old Air Force veteran and graduate of Morehouse College, Atlanta, was one of about 120 freshmen to register at the law school.

His father, Dr. George H. Starke, is a physician in Sanford. Starke came in under a federal court order which directed the university to admit qualified Negroes at the graduate level. Starke will begin attending classes next Monday.

The husky Negro entered a side door of the law school building and joined white students in the auditorium without a disturbance. Two college officers dressed in plain clothes stood by, but they were not needed.

He sat on a front row of the auditorium until registration forms were handed out. Then he completed his forms and took his place at the rear of a long line of students waiting to turn over registration material and pay their fees.

While in line, several students cordially chatted with Starke. Later Starke was taken to Law School Dean Henry A. Fenn's office for an interview with some 25 newsmen and photographers.

He answered all questions calmly and readily. He remarked, however, that he was a "little tense at first."

In answer to a question, Starke said he was a member of the NAACP but he said "it has nothing to do with my being here."

"I'm here of my own accord and with the financial help of my parents," he said.

Starke said he would not live in a college dormitory here but would make arrangements for his own living quarters off the campus.

Mrs. McDaniel Dies In Hospital

Mrs. Ruby McDaniel, 51, Sanford, died in a local hospital at 10:15 last night after a short illness.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. tomorrow at Brinson Funeral Home, the Rev. Ira Hindman Jr. officiating. Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. Leroy Barker and Mrs. James Lee Sanford, Mrs. Hubert Whitworth, Port Landerside, and Mrs. Julian Brantley, Clenden S. C.; three sons, J. T. McDaniel, Sanford; W. E. McDaniel, Jacksonville; and T. M. McDaniel, S. Marine Corps; her father, W. A. Cain, Daytona Beach, and 13 grandchildren.

Mrs. McDaniel was a native of Rome, Ga., and a resident of Sanford for 14 years. She formerly was employed by the Little Theatre.

ON MERCY FLIGHT—Mrs. Wayne R. Hutchinson holds three-month-old Kathy as she and her husband prepare to board a plane at Sanford NAS. The Navy today flew the baby, with parents, to Chicago for an operation.

Small Child Is Flown On Mercy Trip By Navy

Three-month-old Kathy Jo Hutchinson, daughter of aviation stockpeter second class and Mrs. Wayne R. Hutchinson, was flown today by Navy pilots to Chicago, Ill. for a delicate chest operation. She suffers a cystic growth on the neck that affects the passage of air to her lungs, causing difficulty in breathing.

Kathy was brought direct from Orange Memorial Hospital, Orlando, to the Sanford Naval Air Station where she and her parents went aboard a Fleet Airfield Service Squadron 31 (FASRON 31) R4D transport plane, for the trip to Chicago.

Capt. R. E. Stutsman, Senior medical officer at the NASR, accompanied Kathy in case it becomes necessary to administer oxygen. Doctors forbid the transfer of Kathy by any means other than air transportation. At Chicago, Kathy will be taken to St. Luke's Hospital, where she will be under the care of Dr. John Dunham, plastic surgeon, and Dr. Paul Greeley, pediatrician.

The pilots of the Navy transport were Lt. Cmdr. J. E. Andrews and Lt. W. J. Helay. Kathy's father is a member of FASRON 31.

Kathy's parents accompanied her to NAS Glenview, Ill., where the aircraft will land. Chicago is the hometown of aviation stockpeter and Mrs. Hutchinson.

Hutchinson has received orders and will be home sometime in October to the carrier USS Intrepid.

Baptists Choose Church Officers

R. F. Cooper was elected superintendent of Sunday School during a recent business meeting of the First Baptist Church.

Other officers chosen were W. L. Harvey Jr., director of training; Mrs. Helen Carter, president of the W. M. U.; and W. D. Tanner, president of the Brotherhood.

Reports revealed that the church has more than regained the loss of 163 members to Pinecrest and Elder Springs churches, organized during the past two years.

U. S. Doesn't Plan Immediate Action Against Governor

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—All four of Little Rock's high schools closed today on orders of Gov. Orval F. Faubus, who said they may stay closed until after a special Oct. 1 integration election.

Faubus disclosed that state police are on "tentative alert," and he has agreed to rush them in to help city police put down any disorder that may arise. But they are not to help with any integration.

The situation was an quiet about the schools and in Little Rock today that talk about state police helping city police put down disorder sounded out of place.

Faubus said the state police may even help 150 U.S. marshals sent in by the Justice Department to protect "someone else or themselves." But he repeated that they will not help marshals integrate Central High or any other school.

Court Action Delayed
The federal government said it had no plan for seeking court action to make Faubus reopen the schools at "least this morning." The NAACP said it was going to leave any action to the Justice Department.

Faubus declined to say in a news conference what he had in mind. If anything, he said, he had a special session of the Legislature three weeks ago, Faubus said he had a plan under which the education of Little Rock students would continue if he closed the schools.

Asked today whether he still had a plan, he said, "That question will be answered in due course."

"I am just as concerned about the education of the children in Little Rock as anyone. But if they only have an education of seven or eight months in peace and quiet, rather than in an atmosphere like last year, it will be much better."

Bids To Be Opened For Reassessment

Bids will be opened tomorrow for reassessment of all Seminole County property.

Qualified appraisal companies may enter bids when the County Commissioners meet at 9:30 a. m. The county budget recently was amended with the addition of 8 mills to cover reassessment costs, Chairman John Kridler said this morning.

Two appeals also will be reviewed by the board. The building of an asphalt plant in the western section of Seminole County is being opposed by county residents in that area. Residents in the area of Sanford Ave. and 26th St. also are appealing the building of a commercial building. The permit already has been granted by the zoning board.

Sheriff Announces 'Confidence Man' Has Been Nabbed

Intensive investigation by the Seminole County Sheriff's office has resulted in the arrest of a Traffic man on charges of obtaining money under false pretense.

Sheriff J. L. Hobby said Clarence Miller was arrested on charges of operating a "confidence game" which netted him amounts up to $100 from gullible victims. Miller also was charged with reckless driving after attempting to flee, Hobby said.

Miller was arrested after an automobile chase by Deputy L. J. Kriz in the Upsala 29th Street area. Hobby said Miller attempted to flee after Kriz attempted to place him under arrest.

Miller will be arraigned tomorrow before Judge Wilson Alexander.

Sanford Boy Killed, 3 Hurt In Traffic

Weekend traffic claimed the life of a four-year-old Sanford boy, visiting in Mt. Dora, and injured at least two others, authorities reported today.

Dead is Kevin Lynn Mohler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mohler, Shirley Avenue. The youth died enroute to an Orlando hospital yesterday.

Investigating officers said the child darted in front of a car driven by Nell Stothoff, Mt. Dora. The Mohler family was in Mt. Dora visiting the Rev. and Mrs. Philip Schlemmer, former Sanford residents.

A collision early today hospitalized a Sanford produce salesman, Henry C. Mills, and resulted in the arrest of Dukey Lockard, Altamonte Springs, Fla., on charges of improper passing at an intersection.

Sgt. Ben Butler and Leo Rock said Mills was attempting a left turn at Orlando Drive and Elm Avenue. The officers said Mill's truck was struck by a car driven by Lockard. Mills was admitted to Seminole Memorial Hospital, suffering possible internal injuries.

Two drivers suffered minor injuries in a car-truck collision yesterday at the intersection of Seminole Boulevard and French Ave. They were Leland Carl Beckstrom, Sanford, and Sidney Floyd Still, Cocoa poultryman.

Both were taken to Seminole Memorial, treated and dismissed. Beckstrom was charged with drunken driving and failure to yield the right of way.

In addition to the parents, the Mohler child is survived by a brother, Keith; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rinehart, Hagerstown, Md.; and paternal grandmother, Mrs. Howard Mohler, Lebanon, Pa.

Funeral services will be held at 4:30 p. m. Wednesday at Brinson Funeral Home, the Rev. Philip Schlemmer, pastor of the First Lutheran Church, officiating. Burial will be in Oak Lawn Cemetery.

Bedrooms Receive Cold Shoulder

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bedrooms get a lot of attention from navvies, but they're practically ignored when families go on a home-improvement binge. More than half of the 80,000 home-owning families who entered the recent "show your home" contest, sponsored by the Home Improvement Council, feasted up to that fact. Council experts say the bedroom-lionizing stems from the fact that the living areas are a "front" enjoyed by the entire family and visitors.

Bedrooms Receive Cold Shoulder

The bedroom? Well, it's just a private sanctuaries and, therefore, lower in the family's decorating priority schedule. When they get around to it, many of the content entrants wish to carpet their bedrooms, add furniture, closet equipment and electric blankets. Many fondly wish for air conditioning.

Sanford Has Problems Of Revenue, Expenses

The City of Sanford is having financial difficulties. The problem appears to be one of balancing the budget.

Estimated expenditures, based on requests of the various departments, for the next fiscal year call for some $80,000 more than the city expects to collect from its various revenue sources. The Commission has asked City Manager Warren Knowles to balance the budget.

Mr. Knowles now has a difficult task. He must make recommendations for decreasing budget requests for the various departments. The only alternative is a tax increase, which the Commission rejected Thursday night. Tax increases are highly unpopular. Most elected officials shy away from tapping the taxpayers' pocketbooks further, if this can be avoided.

Having financial problems, in a way, is a credit to Sanford. This indicates increased demands for services. It indicates growth of a community. Nobody favors a deficit. Should Sanford "go in the red," however, it would not be in a unique class.

Most cities, large and small, in America today are experiencing problems in municipal financing. This is not too difficult to understand after taking a look at tax structures. In many cases, the U. S. State and County also tax the same sources that cities depend upon for their money. The tax money is taken in that order, usually, leaving very little for municipalities to tax.

It would seem that the tax system which has put municipalities, Sanford included, into the present situation soon must be corrected. This can be done in one of two ways. The U. S. and State can give more aid to cities, or leave taxation from certain sources exclusively to cities. Failure to do this will result in further stringent economy measures, many of which will not be economical over the long haul.

City Commissioners plan to wrestle with this problem again tonight. With a deficit looming, these officials can get some consolation by looking at the budget of the U. S. The deficit for this fiscal year is expected to be more than $12 billion. "Making ends meet" never is easy for government; but, neither is it easy for the taxpayer.

Maine Significant

Gov. Edmund S. Muskie, son of a Polish immigrant, is the first Democrat ever to be popularly elected to the United States Senate from the state of Maine. The last Democratic senator from Maine was chosen by the legislature in 1911 before the time of popular senatorial elections.

The significance of Muskie's triumph over the incumbent, Sen. Frederick G. Payne, has not been lost on the Republicans. The wisest of them freely acknowledge that the outcome in Maine—not only Payne's defeat, but the failure to regain the governorship after four years of Muskie administration—was a bad GOP setback.

Whether the way Maine went is any indication as to how the nation will go in November is another matter. Muskie had attacked Payne on the basis of President Eisenhower's foreign and domestic policies. The heavy Democratic victory undoubtedly reflects some displeasure with the administration in Washington. How much of this feeling springs from the usual mid-term disillusionment, and how much of it indicates serious dissatisfaction, is a moot point. But the Maine results tend to support those who have been saying for months that there is a national swing toward the Democrats.

Muskie's personal fortunes also are evidently on the rise. His victory assures him a higher place in the councils of those young and victorious governors and legislators who will probably be the men of power in the Democratic party of 1960. He will go to Washington wearing the mantle of conspicuous political triumph.

When sponge divers were discovered in the Gulf of Mexico at the turn of the century a small group of hardy Greeks whose ancestors had been sponge fishermen in the Aegean Sea since before the time of Christ, journeyed from their homeland to establish this industry in the New World.

They settled near the mouth of the Anclote River at Tarpon Springs. Sponge diving is an ancient art that only the hardy and experienced may engage in. From generation to generation the art has been handed down from father to son and it is practiced today much the same as it was two thousand years ago.

Greek boat builders followed the divers and the Tarpon Springs Greek Colony grew and prospered. The present fleet is a large one and when in port is worth going many miles to see.

Each year thousands of tourists visit Tarpon Springs to see the sponge boats, browse through the quaint curio shops that line the waterfront, dine at the Greek restaurants and watch sponge diving exhibitions from the deck of typical boats which cater to tourists.

I have visited this quaint Florida attraction many times and it is a most interesting itinerary item when taking our visiting friends and relatives on a tour of this section of Florida.

While Tarpon Springs has not been publicized to the extent of some of our famed attractions such as Silver Springs or Cypress Gardens, it nevertheless has much to offer the visitor and I was delighted to learn that the October issue of the Reader's Digest will feature a story entitled, "The Sponge Divers of Tarpon Springs," written by Ben Loosen Burman, who joined the crew of a sponge boat for a fishing trip in the Gulf to gather first hand material.

It is a splendidly written article that vividly describes the life and activity of the sponge diver who seeks his fortune in the deep waters of the Gulf of Mexico where life is full of drama and danger no different from that experienced in half so that it will dissipate and fall harmlessly into the water. (Call it nonsense or superstition if you wish but old timers will tell you it works and their faith is absolute which probably accounts for the miraculous results they attain.)

Read the Digest story in the October issue. I'm sure you will enjoy it.

The Greek fishermen is religious. Many carry icons, and a cross as well as pictures of Saints are to be found aboard most ships. A waterspout frequently develops on the Gulf. It is the counterpart of a tornado on land, a whirling pillar of water reaching from the clouds to the surface that can wreak tremendous damage on anything it strikes.

St. Nicholas, the patron saint of the sponge fisherman, guides the fleet to the best fishing grounds and guards it if the members of its crew maintain their faith. They tell you that when a waterspout appears if you will take a knife that has never cut onions, and dive it fearfully into the center of a wooden cross as you quote certain passages from the Bible, St. Nicholas will break the spout.

Conning The News

By Virginia Cunn, Herald Staff Writer

Summer is a time when nerves are on edge and tempers flare easily. Many small things that normally would not aggravate us take on huge proportions. The gardener who has tilled in the blistering sun is particularly susceptible to tantrums when dogs scamper through his newly planted beds or defoul his carefully tended lawn. (This is known as non-nuclear fall-out.)

Many of us have screamed without malice, "Fill shoot that darn dog!" Threats are frequent and varied, especially if the gardener has no dog or the offender isn't his.

Every once in a while, though, dog hates really mean what they say. And the easiest way for them to quietly eradicate the annoyance is to use poison.

There is a rat poison on the market that causes internal bleeding and death. The poison is placed around the house or farm buildings for several weeks, until all rats have perished. The same poison is equally effective on dogs. This is, of course, against the law.

Where dogs go, so do children. And children are poisoned as easily as dogs. The dog-eater might find himself in the position of a murderer, the most venomous of all.

In Sanford today we mourned Jan Wallace. Jan was the mother of three lovely children, a devoted wife; a quiet, kind and thoughtful person with many friends.

Jan's sudden and untimely death was caused by polio. She did not have the protection of the Salk vaccine. Jan was possibly like so many who felt the disease could not strike us. Healthy, well-nourished and rested, we assume we are coated with an invisible shield of immunity.

There are the very people that polio seems to strike. In Florida where the number of cases is rising, all who have not had the Salk vaccine should do so immediately. The bug-a-boo associated with the bad batch of vaccine should now be forgotten. Just as the smallpox vaccine has become required of school children, so the Salk vaccine should be used to irradiate the crippling disease and prevent needless death.

Nothing is completely fool-proof. But after discussion with several authorities it seems that a vaccine that is 90% effective is more reliable than many of our wonder drugs or routine operations.

We will not forget Jan Wallace. But as she would wish it, let us protect ourselves in her memory to prevent similar tragedy.

Cadillac

Even More Wonderful in Fact than Fame!

If you number just one Cadillac owner among your acquaintances, then we would wager that you've heard the wonderful Cadillac story for 1958.

In all probability you've been told of its brilliant performance . . . and of its marvelous Fleetwood luxury . . . and of its great practicality.

And perhaps you've wondered if any motor car could embody so many virtues—in such abundant measure—in a single year.

Well, what an eloquent answer the magnificent new Cadillac could give to that conjecture!

In fact, a single hour at its wheel would tell you, beyond any doubt, that this "car of cars" is even more wonderful in fact than in fame!

Surely, there is no adequate way to describe the way a new Cadillac rides and handles—so smooth and quiet and effortless that even the longest journey is an occasion for rest and relaxation.

And certainly, only the experience itself can reveal the pleasure of commanding a motor car that is so respected by the world's motorists.

Those discoveries are reserved for the man who takes the wheel for himself. And if you have not already done so, then you should delay no longer.

Your Cadillac dealer will be happy to acquaint you with all the facts about the many Cadillac models, including the distinguished Eldorado Brougham.

Army, Navy, Penn State 'Up' Again

EDITORS: This is the first of eight dispatches on college football prospects.

By STEVE SWIDER
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — Army, Navy and Penn State — not necessarily in that order — are favored to win the East in college football this fall.

Army has the backs, Navy has the depth and Penn State has a little bit of everything needed to go all the way with one slight reservation. The only rap the expert can pin on Penn State this early is "lack of team speed" and that may or may not be significant.

Princeton is the choice over Dartmouth in the Ivy League. Rutgers, which employs an exact scale model of Princeton's single wing system, looks like the class of the Middle Atlantic Conference. William is the power in the Little Three, Rhode Island and Connecticut in the Yankee Conference.

But among the major independents, where the true strength of the area lies, the two service academies and Penn State have the stuff to catch the eye of early season forecasters over Syracuse, Holy Cross, Pittsburgh and Boston College.

Issues In Line

It's highly possible the colorful Army-Navy game at Philadelphia on Nov. 22 will carry with it the championship of the East, though both had graduation losses that hurt.

Navy, last year's Eastern champion, lost a sizeable chunk of its "hitterbugging" line and all first string backs except crashing Ray Wellborn. But the Middles, while protesting this is a "rebuilding year," have a tough nucleus as well as reserves.

Army again is thin in reserves, particularly in the line, but also has the finest one — two punch anywhere in All-America Bob Anderson, up for his second season, and senior halfback Pete Dawkins. Coach Red Blaik will go with untried quarterback Joe Caldwell, a gamble but not exactly a new thing up at West Point.

Despite line losses, Navy is expected to put up a sturdy forward wall led by All-America tackle Bob Reiffnyder as the major question lies in the back field.

Play of Q Backs

Tom Fortesta, a dandy passer, is among the missing, which puts young Joe Tranchesi on the spot at quarterback. But Joe did well against Army and against Rice in the Cotton Bowl. For ball-toters, Eddie Erdelatz had Dick Dagampat, Roland Brandquist and Dick Zembruski along with Weill torn.

Penn State, with a re-shuffled but experienced line, puts its high hope on the best group of quarterbacks on any squad in the East. Coach Rip Edge has not one, two or three but four able signal callers and that's real dream stuff. His veterans are Al Jacki, Richie Lucas and Bob Herbs. Add to them sophomore Dick Hook and there's depth aplenty for any emergency.

At Syracuse, veteran quarterback Chuck Zimmerman is the go man in an outfit well-fixed with returning starters among 18 lettermen — everywhere but at the ends.

May Be Tough

Holy Cross, with perhaps the East's stoutest T-quarterback in Tom Greene, is handicapped by lack of spring practice but Greene will operate behind a fine line led by guard Jim Healey. The Crusaders figure to be rough to handle.

Pittsburgh has a pair of fine quarterbacks in Bill Kaldeen and

Steelworkers Blast Anti-Labor Move

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI) — The United Steelworkers of America opened its convention today with a call to arms from its officers who warned anti-labor forces are out to destroy the union by turning its own members against it.

The biting tone of the report reflected the growing tension between the union and the steel industry which must reach an agreement on a new contract in about eight months.

The report suggested the 1,250,000-member union may be squaring off for a bitter battle with the steel industry next year when its current three-year contract expires.

In a report presented at the opening session of the five-day gathering, the officers said the future of the union was "seriously menaced" by an all-out attack on labor and a reversion which may have been "man-made" to strike a blow at unionism.

The report also defended the increase in dues two years ago which lunched off a revolt that for a time threatened the leadership of president David J. McDonald.

The emphasis on unity also suggested concern about some of the buckering that has plagued the higher echelon of the giant steel union.

"In two short years since the last convention in Los Angeles, horizons have darkened to a point where our very future is seriously menaced," the report said.

It charged the labor movement was the target of an all-out drive designed to force unions to accept sub-standard contracts in future negotiations.

It cited particularly what it termed "one old foe of unionism" — the National Association of Manufacturers and the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Ivan Tomak but, with a back-breaking schedule, may be a year away from big things.

In the Ivy League, Princeton had losses in the line and at quarterback where three-year starter John Sepock left a big hole. However, the Tigers apparently have found an able quarterback replacement in Dean Lock and an inspirational tailback in Danny Sachs to push the wing advances. Also returning is fullback Fred Tyle to provide that vitally needed up-the-middle power.

This Is Talent

Bill Guody replaces Dartmouth's graduated passer, Dave Bradley. He did well on occasion last season and if coach Bob Blackman can repair his reserve strength the Big Green rates close to Princeton.

Yale is pressing a search for a quarterback to replace the graduated Dick Winerbauer and the prospects aren't bright enough to make Yale a major contender — so far. Pennsylvania has the experience it lacked in recent years and could go if Steve Sebn finds a passer. Brown, Harvard and Columbia are believed to be in this in first-class talent but Cornell, with a good line coming up, has hopes of starting the climb back toward the top.

21 Victims Found In Sunken Train; Toll Yet Unknown

BAYONNE, N. J. (UPI) — The head car of the Jersey Central Railroad train that plunged through an open drawbridge Monday was raised from the bottom of Newark Bay at 11:28 a. m. today, bearing on its badly smashed roof the body of a man.

its adjacent islands be besieged without taking effective methods for their reinforcement," Chen said.

The National Assembly adopted a resolution Monday requesting the United States and Nationalist armed forces to "take immediate and effective measures of bombing the mainland coastal areas and thoroughly destroy the Communist gun positions."

Demands Increase For Outlawing Of Communist Party

PARIS (UPI) — The French government was under strong pressure today to outlaw the Communist Party.

Interior Minister Emile Pelletier hinted at a move to ban the latest Red party in Western Europe after the unsuccessful attempt on the life of Information Minister Jacques Soustelle by Algerian terrorists Monday.

Pelletier accused the Communists of aiding the Algerian nationalist movement and charged the Communist newspaper, L'Humanite, with the guilty of "collusion" with the nationalists who want independence from France.

Rightwing political leaders prepared to renew demands the party, which won one-fourth of the votes in the last parliamentary election in 1956, be outlawed.

The attack on Soustelle and new coalition will permit the government to outlaw the party.

Soustelle, an advocate of stiff repressive measures against the Algerian rebels when he was governor - general, was cut on the face by flying glass when Algerian gunmen opened fire on his limousine.

Two of the attackers were killed after one of them shot and killed a passerby. One of the Algerians and four passerby were wounded in the gunplay.

Russia Starts Campaign To Seat Red China Again

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — The Soviet Union launched a determined campaign today to seat Communist China in the 13th U. N. General Assembly session opening this afternoon. It hinted strongly it would bring up the Quemoy crisis as well.

The official Communist Party organ Pravda and the Soviet government organ Izvestia today printed twin demands the United Nations "expel the political corpse" of Nationalist China and seat Red China, Moscow dispatches reported.

Goldfine Facing U. S. Prosecution

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration expects to begin prosecution of Boston millionaire Bernard Goldfine for contempt of Congress in the next few weeks, it was disclosed today.

A spokesman for the U. S. attorney's office here told United Press International he expects the contempt citation voted by the House to be turned over to a grand jury "within a matter of several weeks."

The grand jury would then decide whether to indict Goldfine, gift-giving friend of Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams. An indictment would be followed by a trial. If convicted, Goldfine is liable to a year in jail and a $1,000 fine.

Goldfine was cited for contempt of Congress for refusing to answer 22 questions about his financial dealings posted by the House Intelligence - Investigating subcommittee.

Integration At-A-Glance

Officials today pondered the problem of educating hundreds of southern public school students now on an enforced vacation because of the integration crisis.

The Charlottesville, Va., school board today files petitions in the U. S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals for a delay in the integration of two schools whose opening has been postponed until next Monday.

In Little Rock, Ark., a total of 129 pupils have been sent home from four high schools, ordered closed by Gov. Orval Faubus. Delayed opening of a high school and an elementary school at Charlottesville has turned a total of 1,650 students out of class.

Florida Expecting No Trouble Due To Negro's Admission

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — The first Negro to enter an all-white Florida school began his second day of registration without incident today, and University of Florida officials predicted his presence would be accepted "with common sense and good taste."

George Henry Starke Jr. of Orlando, a 27-year-old Air Force veteran, signed up as a freshman law student Monday. Most white students paid little attention to him.

School state officials and Negro leaders watched closely, however, for any hint of racial disturbance. Apparently the case was none.

Dr. J. Wayne Britt, university president, said he was convinced that Starke is a "serious minded student interested in obtaining a legal education."

"We are sure the student body and faculty will handle the matter with common sense and good taste. We are not expecting any outward incidents, our students are mature and understand their responsibilities."

State officials accused Starke's registration calmly. Negro leaders hailed it as a sign that Florida can bypass the turmoil and strife that integration has encountered in other Southern states.

Even one of the state's most outspoken segregationists, Ku Klux Klan leader Bill Hendrix of Odessa, said integration at the college level is not as bad as integration in public schools.

The event is scheduled to get underway at 8 o'clock Jim Pizott will introduce the variety squad to the public for the first time, then he will read his charges through various drills. The first and second units will play a 15-minute scrimmage game. This will give the public the first look at football this season.

The band, pep club and cheerleaders will be on hand to lead the student body in cheers in honor of the Seminoles.

Class Cancelled

The ceramics class scheduled tonight at the recreation center has been cancelled. Classes will be held Wednesday and Thursday of this week only from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m.

Budget Gets Ax; Service To Be Curtailed Sharply

The City Commission last night voted a two-mill tax increase on Sanford residents in an attempt to balance the budget for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1.

The vote was unanimous and came after a four-hour fund-cutting session which curtailed activities of every city department for the next 12 months. Commission action raised general government revenues from nine to 11 mills.

Commissioners expressed reluctance to make any changes in the present tax structure, but after slashing some $32,000 from the revised budget, "absolutely essential" expenditures were about $60,000 more than anticipated revenue.

Based on revenue for this fiscal year, the city expects a drop of some $35,000 in money for next year. Warren E. (Pete) Knowles, city manager, said this is a "leveling off" period for municipal revenues, which hit a peak about two years ago.

Impasse Continues At Little Rock As Judge Leaves Town

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — The Justice Department failed today to make any move to break the integration impasse and a U. S. district judge said the prospects for immediate federal action are so dim he is leaving Little Rock.

"There is no emergency down here," Judge John E. Miller said. "We will just have to let nature take its course."

"I think haste sometimes creates more trouble than it remedies. That's just my own country idea."

Judge Miller, who handed down the original Little Rock desegregation order three years ago, said he is leaving shortly for his home at Fort Smith.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who ordered Little Rock's four schools closed Monday, apparently had nothing immediate in mind, either.

The schools entered their second day of gubernatorial closure with complete order today.

There were even fewer students around than Monday, because the school board banned all extracurricular activities, such as football, hand practice and pep squad meetings, until the closure problem is solved.

Two white boys ordered Johnny Gray, 15, and his sister Mary, 13, who are Negroes, to get off the sidewalk near Central High School today. Johnny chased the white boys off with his fist.

The Gray children were on their way to a junior high school. The white boys said they were from a junior high.

City Services Uncertain After Budget Reductions

Despite the two-mill tax increase voted last night by the Sanford City Commission, the budget for the next fiscal year is so low that we can't say specifically what the city can do," City Manager Warren (Pete) Knowles said.

In pleading against elimination of many projects, Knowles said, "Improvements can't stop. If the people don't want to pay, we can't give them what they want. We can give them what they need with the money we have available. A dollar will stretch just as far."

He said that Sanford businessmen "are carrying the load while homeowners are getting a free ride. The 'free ride' as he termed it, was explained by a $10,000 home in Sanford, taxed $800 under the municipal property tax law. The city receives only $110 of this tax, but provides police and fire protection, streets, recreation, parks, street lights, a zoo, library and many other city services.

Knowles blamed the Florida tax structure which allows a $5,000 homestead exemption. He said, "This isn't a thing Sanford can do about it."

He said that the City of Sanford is the only governmental agency that has been holding the tax line for the past several years.

U.S., China See 'Peace' Proposals

WARSAW (UPI) — The United States and Communist China today considered each other's "substantive" proposals for peace in the Formosa Strait.

U. S. Ambassador Jacob Beam and Red Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping-nan met Monday for nearly three hours to trade terms for silencing guns on the Communist mainland and on Nationalist-held Quemoy.

Although it was their first meeting, the ambassadors got down to "substantive" proposals, a high Western source said. They will meet again Thursday.

Their task was not to achieve a final solution to the problem of the two Chinas but to spike the guns which threatened to set the entire Far East ablaze.

Both Wang — who attended 23 previous meetings in Geneva — and Beam appeared calm and slightly cheerful when they left the conference table. Neither was willing to give out any details.

Deposited In Jail

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (UPI) — A few minutes after Mrs. Mabel Hajek of the Middletown Savings Bank finished reading a notice to be on the lookout for John Olson, an actual bank-check artist, in walked Olson asking to open an account.

Mrs. Hajek had another work or call police, who arrested him.
