SANFORD IS FAVORABLY SITUATED

Allen Maul Gives His Impression of Our Development

Last week Allen Maul, general advertising and development agent of the Atlantic Coast Line who spent a day going over the Sanford section remarked to a representative of The Herald that "Sanford is one of the most favorably situated towns in the state. A magnificent climate, rich soil and rail and water transportation are the fundamentals upon which it must rest its hopes for the future. It has the nucleus of a splendid development and if it is to go forward cooperation among its business interests is absolutely necessary. Nature can do much, but man must do his share and that can only be accomplished through conscientious and intelligent cooperation. A long pull and a strong pull makes the boat go, and in communities where each individual thinks he is working alone, never gets anywhere. One of the greatest needs of Sanford is a thoroughly modern high class tourist hotel. There is not a city in the state can furnish superior natural attractions. The magnificent sweep of waterfront, with its outlet to the Atlantic ocean boating, fishing, good roads, attractive surroundings and general conditions are especially attractive to tourists, but they demand certain accommodations in this day and age which must be provided or they go elsewhere.

I was greatly impressed with the intensely cultivated fields of celery, lettuce and other "out of season" products, but regret that I did not see more evidence of diversification—more cattle, hogs, dairying and the general farm, to which truck can be so successfully subordinated. These things are the basis of agricultural wealth all over the world and are in line with the best accepted principles the world over, and if the agricultural functions of the Sanford section are to be perpetuated they must be predicated upon them.

The advantages of the Sanford section are splendid in their character, but no section of the world ever grew great and powerful that depended entirely upon the bounty of nature or upon one line of human effort.

Concluded Mr. Maul: "I hope upon my visit to Sanford on Jan. 12th, at the meeting of the Board of Trade that we can have a large representation of farmers, as well as business men."

REMEMBER LITTLE ONES CHRISTMAS

The Children's Home Society Should be Ably Assisted

There are many homes in Sanford that are not brightened by the presence of children and at this glad Christmas time when the children come in for their share of the holiday cheer and gifts those who are not blessed with children should especially remember the little orphan children. There are many of them in the Children's Home Society at Jacksonville and there are many homes in Seminole county that could take one of these bright little children and the home would be brighter for the presence of the child. If you cannot adopt one of them at least think of them and send something to the society for these little orphans. Marcus Fagg writes about them and makes such a strong appeal that he should have the cooperation of every one in the state.

And enclosed with his letter is an appeal, which is given here in the belief that many Herald readers will lose no time in sending something to the Society's headquarters—the Children's Home Society of Florida, 361 St. James Building, Jacksonville.

The letter asking for aid reads like this:

Jacksonville, Dec. 12, 1916.

"Don't you want to have just a little part in providing Christmas Cheer and Happiness for the dozens of homeless, orphan and helpless little ones, who now fill our Receiving Home to overflowing—and the hundreds of other little orphans and homeless youngsters coming under our care each year? Of course the biggest thing you could do would be to take one or two of these little ones into your home, as a permanent Christmas gift? We have three sets of twins, and just dozens of other little ones, boys and girls—all of whom are anxiously awaiting good homes and parents. Can't you possibly take one or more into your home?"

Well, if you cannot take a child—perhaps you can spare a little money—and oh, we are so greatly in need of funds just now—really—our financial condition is serious. Listen—a nickel will buy a new milk bottle for one of our babies—a dime will buy a quart of milk—a quarter will buy a good pair of stockings—a half dollar will buy new ribbons for a half dozen girls—a dollar will buy candy for our whole crowd of kiddies—two dollars will board a baby for a whole week—five dollars will provide a good home for some poor orphan child—ten dollars will provide a brace for some little cripple—twenty five dollars will provide a pension for some worthy little widow and four or five little kiddies—etc., etc.

You just cannot send too little or too much to be of real help.

"But if you cannot send any money—or want to send something besides the money—we should just love to have you send a package, or box or barrel, of children's clothes—hats, caps, stockings, handkerchiefs, underwear, shoes or canned goods, jellies, preserves, staple provisions, meats, vegetables, fruits or toys, dolls, etc. Perhaps you can get your Sunday school class or church, or club or lodge, or society to help you do some of these things for our little ones. Pleading earnestly for some help from you in behalf of these little orphans right here at your door, and wishing you a Merry Christmas, I am

"Your servant and co-worker, Marcus C. Fagg, State Supt.

Christmas Exercises at Monroe The Monroe public school will hold fitting exercises on next Friday night celebrating the Christmas times. Quite a program has been arranged by Miss Nellie King and Miss Nettie Malmes, teachers of the school and the pupils are very interested in the work, therefore it is safe to say that the evening will be one of much educational as well as enjoyable benefit.

ADAMSON MAY USE THE PADDLE

Says He Would Spank Railroads and Brotherhoods

Washington, Dec. 17.—Reports that railroad and brotherhood heads in peace conference have planned to propose the repeal of the Adamson act and the substitution of a working agreement of their own making for it, aroused Representative Adamson, author of the law, to declare today that congress would spank both sides to the controversy if necessary.

Mr. Adamson, the house representative of President Wilson in railway legislation matters is willing to cooperate in any plan employee and employers may evolve for the interpretation of his law as applied to working conditions, but will vigorously oppose repeal of it, as he thinks will the majorities of both houses.

"Congress will not agree to any repeal of the Adamson law," he said tonight. "The measure was passed in good faith and it is a constitutional enactment regulating hours of labor and not wages. Let the roads and their men settle their wage disputes.

"I hope that the negotiations between the railroads and their employees will result in an agreement which will not make further legislation necessary, but congress will see that the public gets a fair deal. If it becomes necessary to spank both sides, we'll spank them, though I hope that won't be necessary."

Representative Adamson looks with optimism upon the efforts of the railroads and brotherhood heads to get together, however. He says the result of the presidential election made the employers more eager for peace than they were last fall and that the growing belief that the President stands for a compulsory arbitration law has put the brotherhood leaders in a conciliatory frame of mind.

Neither labor nor congressional leaders here have official reports as to just what phase of the railway situation and conferences have taken up. Belief is current, however, in congressional circles that the foremost feature of the final agreement will be an interpretation of the Adamson law so satisfactory to both sides that the suit to test the act's constitutionality now before the supreme court may be withdrawn.

Repeal of the law, it is thought, hardly will be suggested. It is pointed out that many members of both houses having defended the law on the stump last fall will not be anxious to defend the repeal of it in the next campaign.

A plan for the investigation of threatened strikes also is expected to result from the deliberations. Labor is determined that no compulsory arbitration law shall go on the statute books, but realising that the President evidently is very serious in his determination to prevent strike crises without investigation, they will exert every effort to draft a compromise plan that will have his endorsement.

The conferences are proceeding, all parties to them maintain, without the official promise of Administration leaders that act on the President's railway legislation program will be held up pending an agreement. Nothing will be done by congress, however, to interfere with their progress for the present.

Mr. Adamson will make an attempt in the house tomorrow to get unanimous consent for action on his resolution designed to provide for a continuation of the life of the Newlands Commission investigating all phases of the transportation problem until January, 1918. This may provoke a storm of argument, as friends of the state regulation of railroads are expected to oppose the resolution but assurance of the President's desire to have the resolution adopted is expected to be sufficient to carry it through the house.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States announced tonight that a referendum vote of member organizations had been ordered on a report of its railroad committee recommending legislation to prevent strikes or lockouts pending investigation of disputes between railroads and their employees. The committee proposes that the interests of the public in such controversy be recognized as paramount, and that representatives of the board constitute the majority of any board of conciliation or arbitration.

Shot While Hunting

Elmer, the young son of Z. Haymans of Osteen was shot by a boy companion yesterday while hunting near Osteen. He was shot in the right hand and as soon as possible he was rushed to this city in an automobile where Dr. Neal rendered medical attention and it is thought the hand can be saved. Mrs. Osteen brought him to this city and the hurried run through the streets caused some excitement among the holiday shoppers. It was reported at first that his hand was shot off but later developed that he was wounded in the right hand and as he is strong and vigorous it is likely that he will recover in short order.

CHILDREN WILL GIVE TO ORPHANS

White Gift Christmas at the Presbyterian Church Tomorrow Night

The Presbyterian church following out their regular custom will have the White Christmas exercises on Wednesday evening at seven thirty in the church auditorium. The exercises will be most interesting from the fact that the children of the Presbyterian church give presents to the Thornevell Orphanage instead of having gifts for themselves as formerly.

The Thornevell Orphanage is the Presbyterian Orphanage located in South Carolina and supported by the Presbyterian churches of the south, and the gifts of the Sunday school here each year go a long way toward gladdening the hearts of the little children who have no parents to make Santa Claus possible for them.

The scholars of the Presbyterian Sunday school will have appropriate exercises and will lay their gifts in a huge pile at the front of the gift tree for the orphans and the ceremony of the White Gift Christmas is one of the most beautiful and never fails to attract a large crowd to the church. Miss Alice Whitner and her faithful assistants have labored under many disadvantages this year on account of the church building and the finishing of the Sunday school rooms giving but little time or place for the rehearsals but the children can be depended upon to give a good account of themselves and the public is cordially invited to attend the exercises next Wednesday night (tomorrow night) at seven thirty at the Presbyterian church.

Opening Longwood Hotel

Longwood Hotel will have the annual opening next Friday evening at eight o'clock. The hotel is under the management of Mine Host Kuchler who promises to give the guests the best there is in the line of eats and entertainment and in order to demonstrate that he can do this the public is cordially invited to attend the big opening on Friday night. In spite of the high cost of living the big banquet will only be one dollar a plate and the dancing and cards will be free. Good music will be furnished and every one is promised a good time at Longwood Hotel Friday night.

Mrs. W. C. Allen of Longwood was stopping in Sanford Saturday.

COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS IN PARK

Will Be Given For The Benefit of Those Who Have Not

Plans are going forward with systematic effort in behalf of the Community Christmas Tree that promises success. Mrs. W. E. Watson, chairman of the Welfare Department, Woman's Club, by which the movement is fostered is enthusiastic over the way in which the idea has been received and with the various committees now at work, she is very much encouraged. Mrs. J. W. Barnes, chairman of committee on arrangements reports excellent progress. It is especially gratifying that the Community Christmas Tree is being cordially supported by the men of Sanford. The various organizations are invited to cooperate, Elks, Masons, Woodmen and Eagles, Eastern Star, Woodmen's Auxiliary, Ladies of the Maccabees, to join hands with the Sunday schools and Woman's Club. The gift giving will be entirely for the poor. There is no compulsion to give but the greater the sacrifice the sweeter the gift. While we are planning our family reunions and big dinners, expensive gifts to home folks and friends can we not remember that poor are God's children too?

Mrs. W. W. Abernathy reports good results from the work of her committee. The carols that have been selected are being taught in the Sunday schools and public schools of the city.

The children will enter the park as follows: Presbyterian Sunday school at the corner of Oak avenue and Fourth streets; Baptist S. S., Oak avenue and Fifth street; Methodist S. S., Park avenue and Fifth street; Congregational S. S., Park avenue and Fourth street. Children coming in from butlying districts will march with the Congregational Sunday school. Should they wish to be designated they may carry their Sunday school banner. Children of the Catholic and Episcopal churches will fall in line with any of the Sunday schools mentioned they may desire. Father O'Riordan has cordially signified the willingness and pleasure of his people to cooperate in the splendid movement.

The children of the Episcopal Sunday school will come in as individuals and not collectively, but Rev. Arthur Peck too has promised his support. The children that are active in the movement as a Sunday school will meet at their respective Sunday schools at five o'clock on Christmas Day. Parents are earnestly requested to urge their little folks and young people to take part in the celebration. Gifts that are brought may be taken to the band stand at the time of the celebration where a committee of ladies will receive them. A complete program of the celebration will appear in the next issue of The Herald.

Will Race at Daytona Ellwood, the Boy Wonder is wondering just how he was beaten here last Friday night by Reginald Holly and is not satisfied that Holly is the champion, therefore he has challenged Holly to meet him at the Daytona rink on Tuesday, Dec. 26th in a mile race on roller skates. The challenge has been accepted by Holly and the boys will draw a large crowd from Sanford and neighboring cities on that night as the local boy has plenty of backers who think he is some better than Ellwood. The event will be pulled off at the Arcade rink in Daytona.

Ducked Deputy Sheriff

Winter Garden, Dec. 17.—Deputy Sheriff John Hodnot was yesterday thrown overboard in Lake Apopka, while attempting to arrest a number of fishermen for poising. Jeff Walton, whose employ the fishermen were in, refused to give up his nets to the deputy and in some altercation concerning same became angered and resisted arrest. It is alleged that the officer after being churned under several times, had to talk very nice to the fishermen before he was allowed to get back in the boat. Mr. Walton was this morning placed under $1,000 bond by Deputy Lawton of Orlando.

AMONG THE THEATRES

Chit-Chat of the Play Houses in Sanford

"Home"
Bessie Barriscale with Charles Ray and Louise Glaum in "Home." This theme strikes with ruthless force at one of the foibles of the great middle class Society. It tears away the cloak of ostentation and ludicrous pretensions of the newly rich and shows how they expose themselves to exploitation by those on the ragged edge of the Four Hundred. The story deals with the affairs of a family that had suddenly grown rich, which results in the usual thing—it becomes unduly extravagant and makes a vulgar display of its wealth. It takes the young daughter, who has good common sense, to bring them all to the senses and make this home really a home and not a stopping place.

Gay Old Coney Isle
A party of New Yorkers on a lark

at Coney Island not long ago were attracted by a crowd that surrounded a sideshow brilliantly heralded as the Turkish Dream. Before it there danced a beautiful girl in cheap, near oriental costume. Back of the crowd there stood a man shouting at her through a megaphone while a rough looking "harker" bawled at the mob before him.
"My dear, that's Irene Fenwick, as I live! What on earth can she be doing here!" gasped one of the party.
"Nonsense," declared another. "Irene Fenwick is one of the biggest stars on the stage today. Don't be silly. Wild horses could not drag her into such a place as that."
But it was Irene Fenwick and she is a bigger star than ever, for she was enacting a scene for "A Coney Island Princess" in which the Famous Players Film Company presents her with Owen Moore for the first time on the Paramount Program. To be shown at the Star tonight.

Lenore Ulrich at the Star Monday

"Pearl of the Army"
At the Lyric Theatre Thursday. Pearl White, the most popular serial star in the world will next be seen as an American Joan of Arc in Pathe's big military mystery serial, "Pearl of the Army," outwitting in interest and in popular appeal, "Neal of the Navy," the successful navy serial released by Pathe some time ago.

The true atmosphere of Uncle Sam's land forces is pictured with an exactness of detail that evidences the careful study made by Guy W. McConnell, the author. Mr. McConnell has spent much of his life studying army conditions from the viewpoint of the enlisted man, of the officer and also of the departmental man. In the preparation of his picture story he has had the active cooperation and advice of one of the country's greatest military experts.

"Pearl of the Army" is heralded as the serial that will mask the secret foes who menace our peace and prosperity. It will also bring home forcibly to the motion picture millions of dangers that many see ahead of us because of our unpreparedness.

The serial was produced by the Astra Film Corporation under the direction of Edward Jose, who produced the "Iron Claw" George B. Seitz, author of the "Iron Claw" and "The Shielding Shadow" has adapted the story.

In "Pearl of the Army" Miss White plays the role of Pearl Dare, a twentieth century Joan of Arc who awakens us to the dangers surrounding our country. Her millions of admirers who have followed her adventures in the "Perils of Pauline," "The Exploits of Elaine," and more recently the "Iron Claw" will welcome her return in this patriotic picture which gives her the greatest opportunity of her career. She is supported by an all star cast about which further announcement will be made.

An example of the possibilities for American scenario writers in the motion picture industry can be seen in the following statements made by Louis J. Gasnier, president of the Astra Film Company.

"We have constantly in mind the importance of good stories. In line with the policy of Pathe we are adding to the forces of the Astra Company the greatest directors and the best known actors in the country today. We are making every effort to meet the demand and we feel safe in saying that in the "Shielding Shadow" and "Pearl of the Army" we have produced two serials that demonstrate the worth of the ideal on which the Actra Film Corporation is built—that every official is capable of doing his share of the work."

George B. Seitz is the most successful writer of serials in this country today. His work on the "Exploits of Elaine" and "The Perils of Pauline" was largely responsible for their success. He was the sole author of the "Iron Claw" and "The Shielding Shadow."

"Pearl of the Army" has all the essentials of a successful serial. It has Pearl White supported by an all star cast, excellent production, and a story of romance, mystery and adventure with a compelling love interest.

Motion picture theatre managers are enthusiastic about this serial and the first run houses at which it can be seen will be announced in the near future. Lyric Theatre Thursday, Dec. 21st.

That Oriental Dance
Many types and kinds of Oriental dancing are performed by the native dancing women in Lenore Ulrich's new Moresco Paramount photoplay "The Road to Love."

The scenes of the Fantasia, which play so important and critical a part of this love story are truly Oriental. But more beautiful than any of the native beauties, Lenore Ulrich in the gauze and spangles of the celebrated and much sought Hafa, stages the premier dance of the evening, a performance that has a very potent influence on Hafa's adventurous career. It is a career, by the way, that is taken from life and makes a fascinating and highly romantic photoplay that is the attraction at the Star Monday.

Gowns, arms, rugs, costumes and all the paraphernalia of Algerian life were secured from a wealthy Algerian who takes part in this picture play. This native supplied the Algerian dancers, musicians, camel drivers and all the strange equipment of these people. The sight of these desert dwellers at their accustomed tasks creates an air of genuineness that adds an Oriental flavor to this strongly attractive love story of the Near East.

Where Wisdom Lies.
I say wisdom is gathered on foot, along country roads. Collect your ideas where you can: from alley, boulevard, office, lecture hall, theater, dinner table, library, wharf, picture gallery, street car, opera house, curbstone, or courtroom; but test them on the road. Confronted with the realities of soil and salt water and the character shaped by these, they will look vastly less momentous or vastly more so.—Seymour Denning in the Atlantic.

Couldn't Shoot Straight.

Little Ned had been a bad boy, appearing in the presence of the preacher. His mother had corrected him, telling him that the lightning would strike him if he was profane. Young America looked solemn, then his face brightened as he replied: "I say, mamma, I guess he meant that bolt for me which struck the church next door, but the angels can't shoot straight."

Origin of the Hurdy-gurdy.

The early type of hurdy-gurdy originated in Germany during the ninth century, and under the name of lauten-leier (psaltery's lyre) attained great popularity throughout Europe, falling into a decline only at the beginning of the last century. Even today a slightly modernized type of this instrument may be seen upon the streets of the smaller towns of Savoy.

GET RICH IN NAVY

POSSIBLE FOR ENLISTED MEN TO RETIRE WITH FORTUNE.

In Addition He Can Have Income of $104 a Month for Rest of His Life If He Has Served Thirty Years.

There are other advantages to being an American far than having a wife in every port, if we are to believe the conversation picked up around a recruiting station. And, strangely enough, it is the idea of growing rich, one of the thoughts furthest from the minds of the ordinary man entering the navy, which seems to be the greatest drawing card. At least that looms largest in the minds of the men who are doing the recruiting. There is a glamour to the tar's life, a romance to his adventures. Moreover, the chance to go about the globe and see something of foreign shores is alluring to many, even though it is sandwiched in between endless decks to wash and eternal brasses to polish. In the Harrisburg Telegraph a recruiting officer tells of the financial advantages of going into naval service. It ought to appeal greatly to the man who is without responsibility, and to whom the prospect of ever having stacked up $30,000 is classed along with owning a flying carpet and other such tales of the unreal. Our recruiting officer says:

"Do you want to retire at the age of fifty with $28,788.70, and have an income of at least $104 a month for the remainder of your life?"

"If you do, join the United States navy. The American sailors are the best paid in the world, and after thirty years of service the man-of-war'sman is retired on a pay of not less than $104 a month, and, in addition, should have saved $28,788.70 from his monthly pay. A young man enlisting at the age of eighteen as an apprentice seaman will be paid $17.00 a month during six months spent at training station and receive an increase to $20.00 a month when he boards a ship. By the end of his first enlistment, under ordinary course of advancement, he should be receiving $33 a month, and meanwhile he is outfitted with clothes and all necessities. If he re-enlists within four months after the expiration of his first enlistment, he will receive a seven-dollar monthly increase in pay, and a bonus of four months' pay in addition. If by the end of his second enlistment he should have received a good-conduct medal, (which adds 83 cents a month to his pay), he should be receiving $55 a month. After twelve years he should have reached chief petty officer's pay with a salary of $90.02 a month, and thereafter his pay is increased with each enlistment. Good-conduct and other medals for meritorious services also add to his pay. Under ordinary courses, according to the figures furnished by the navy department, a sailor usually saves one-half of his pay, which is deposited in the ship's bank, receiving 4 per cent interest. Thus, beginning at the lowest level in the navy and reaching the highest point in the service as an enlisted man, after the end of twelve years and continuing in this capacity for sixteen years, the average sailor retires after thirty years of service with a pension of $104 a month besides having the $28,000 or more in addition.

Grass in Paper-Making.

In England there is a large use of a Spanish grass called esparto as a diluent for rag paper stock in making fine white papers. As far back as 1786 thistles were made into paper in England. In 1788 autumn leaves were made into paper in France. In 1828 corn husks were made into paper in England, part of which furnished the title-page for "Corbett's Treatise on Corn." Corbett having grown the corn. In 1839-suspect tan bark was made into paper in England. In 1854 an English patent was issued to Alexander Brown, a Scotchman, for the making of paper from ferns. In 1862 stalks of maize and sorgham were made into paper.

A Wonderful Maze.

At Waltham, Mass., there is a maze which is a duplicate of the historic one in the gardens of Hampton Court palace, near London. It is a winding and confusing group of paths, bounded by high hedges; there are 1,000 trees which were planted in 1896. The total length of all the paths is about one-third of a mile, and the shortest path to the central pool is about one-fifth of a mile. It sometimes takes visitors more than an hour to find their way to the center; sometimes they give up and call for help in finding their way out.

The Acceptable Time.

Jack—Hang it! When I think of the foolish way I lost that $20 today, it makes me furious. I feel as if I would like to have somebody kick me.

Ethel—By the way, dear, don't you think you'd better speak to papa this evening?—Boston Transcript.

Literal One.

"I understand you got a treasure in your wife's hand." "Not exactly a treasure, but we bought a new car from her bridge winnings."

A Heroic Poem.

There is no life of a man, faithfully recorded, but is a heroic poem of its sort, rhymed or unrhymed.—Thomas Carlyle.

PECAN ONLY NOT CULTIVATED

But the Black Walnut Offers Wonderful Opportunities, Almost Anywhere in Northern States.

The pecan is about the only indigenous American nut that has been extensively cultivated; although the members of the Northern Nut Growers' association are studying the black walnut, the shagbark hickory, the butternut and the hazelnut with a view to promoting their cultivation. The common black walnut is an especially good example of a valuable tree badly neglected. Throughout the north and middle Atlantic states and well inland it grows with the greatest ease and bears heavy crops of nuts. The tree itself is also of the greatest value and of fairly rapid growth for a hardwood. An orchard of black walnut seedlings would begin to bear nuts in 10 or 12 years, and in time would become a very valuable bit of timber. There are few better trees to plant; yet they seldom are planted.

The black walnut itself is finely flavored, but the shell is very thick, and often after the nut is cracked open it is still almost impossible to extract the kernel. In this regard, however, the nuts from different trees vary greatly. The men who are trying to develop the black walnut as an orchard tree seek the wild trees that bear good, thin-shelled fruit, and graft cuttings from them so as to propagate the valuable seed. In this way, by a system of selective grafting, a thin-shelled black walnut may be produced in the course of time, just as the famous "paper-shelled" pecan has been developed in the South.

Had Proved It.

At an evening party the hostess had coaxed a protesting guest to sing. After the song she went up to him smiling. "Oh, Mr. Jenkins," she said, "you must never tell me again that you can't sing—I know now!"

TRAP SHOOTING IS POPULAR

With Very Few Exceptions Every State in Union Participated in Grand American.

With the exception of New Mexico, New Hampshire, Maine and Virginia, trap shooters from every state in the Union, and Canada too, participated in the recent grand American trap shooting tournament at St. Louis. There can be no question about the popularity of a sport that will attract 683 entrants from 44 states, the District of Columbia and Canada. Of this number Illinois supplied the greatest number, 225; Missouri was next with not quite half as many as Illinois, 112. Of Illinois' total, Chicago supplied 44, more than any other city in the country.

The best representation of any city in the country, however, was made by Hillsboro, Ill. This town of 7,000 population has a gun club of 40 members and of this number ten shot in the big handicap meet. The largest states do not always supply the greatest number of entrants in such a tournament as the grand American. Pennsylvania, for instance, contributed but six entrants, while Iowa had 41; Indiana had 45, Ohio had 30, Kansas had 21, Oklahoma 19, Wisconsin and Tennessee each, Michigan 12, Alabama 12 and Texas 11. These were the only states to get into double figures.

GOLF GAINS IN POPULARITY

Sport Has Taken Firm Grip Upon All Classes of People—Demands Best Brain and Muscle.

It is an indication of hopeless provincialism for anybody to deride the game of golf nowadays. This sport has taken such a firm hold upon all classes of people, it has become so universal and its popularity is so permanently founded that the jibes and wheezes of dull wits no longer have any force. Only the hopelessly ignorant now characterize it as "sissy." It is, in fact, a full-blooded, strong-bodied and absorbing sport that demands the best brain and muscle that can be put into it. Golf is really becoming a close competitor with baseball for the title of the national game.—Pacific Golf and Motor.

ITALIANS HAVE FASTEST WARSHIP

Tutt' All Travels at Speed Three Times That of Swiftest Liner.

OUTRUNS TORPEDO IN TRIAL

Noise of Turbines So Great That All Orders Are Given by Signal—Ship Shakes as Though in Earthquake.

Rome.—Tutt' All is the name of Italy's youngest battleship. The name means "All Wings," and it is not badly chosen, for this ship dashes through the ocean at the rate of the fastest train that speeds across America. The inventors are in the Italian navy, and she was built in Italian shipyards with Italian machinery and of Italian steel. The inventors' names, the ship's tonnage, its present whereabouts, are all a dead secret. But the fact remains that "All Wings" in her trial trip did 800 miles at three times the rate of the fastest transatlantic ship.

Outruns a Torpedo.

"During the trip," says an officer, "we were attacked by an enemy submarine. You would have laughed to see the torpedo fall several hundred yards clear of our stern, for we went so quick that no torpedo now being used could touch us. The torpedo catches which escorted us were left far behind. In a few minutes 'all we saw of them was a bit of smoke.' This ship has stood her trials so well that more are in the stocks. Tutt' All is said to have joined the Adriatic fleet.

As neither coal nor naphtha could be stored in large enough quantities to enable Tutt' All to travel at such a rate, the inventors had recourse to a combination of naphtha and compressed air. The naphtha passes through compressed air at such a terrific rate that it emerges in a state of pulverization; it is then propelled into so-called boilers by means of atmospheric pressure, thus producing heat of from 1,500 to 1,800 degrees centigrade. Tutt' All has three turbines, which propel with a force of 8,400 horse power each.

Terrific Speed.

The result is the terrific speed attained and the general effect of a phantom ship. The safety valves throw off showers of water and pulverized naphtha, which turn bright purple in the sun as they fly upward. The ship shakes as though it were in a perpetual earthquake. Even hardened seamen have to learn to walk on Tutt' All. The steel lining would break with the vibration but for a special system of joints. The noise of the turbines is so great that nobody's voice can be heard. All orders are given by signal, as in the midst of a heavy bombardment. The ship leaves a high mountain of sea behind her.

Those who were able to take the first trip of 800 miles said it was very stirring and an experience they would not have missed for anything in the world. But there is no comfort about it. For easy travelling they prefer the old-fashioned transatlantic liner.

CLOSER CHECK ON FILMS

British Home Secretary Holds Some Movie Pictures Encourage Boyish Misdeeds.

London.—Plans are being considered to combat the great increase in juvenile crime since the commencement of war. Home Secretary Samuelis thinks darkened streets have given facilities for wrongdoing and in the absence of so many fathers there has been a weakening of home control. It had been found that some moving pictures encouraged the spirit of lawlessness and he proposed to establish a central official censorship of all motion picture plays. He also thought much of the trouble arose from misdirected energy and will carefully consider suggestions by Sir R. Baden-Powell, organizer of the Boy Scout movement.

Trifles That Annoy. How true it is that it's the little things that make or mar one's happiness! We know one noble and high-minded woman, for instance, whose whole life seemed blighted during a recent 24-hour period because she got a little too much bluing in the water she washed the curtains in.—Ohio State Journal.

Everybody's Sentimental.

The truth is that we are all sentimental at heart, whatever our culture. Even though we appreciate Brahms, shall we not find some pleasure in the repertoire of the hand organ, and though we admire Botticelli, shall we utterly condemn Darby and Joan? There are moods in which Jean Ingle and Mrs. Hemans are not unawful. The thousands still weep over the death of Little Nell, though the critics sneer.—Robert M. Gay, in the Atlantic.

Facetious. "Whenever I have been sure I was right I have stuck to it," said the orator. "How did that plan work out when you had an argument with your wife?" asked a facetious member of the audience.

Interesting Data on Mineral Water

THIS should appeal to the public from a health standpoint. Quotations from the Fourteenth Annual Report of the Director of the United States Geological Survey proves interesting. Good Hope Mineral Water proven a factor in this city; being used extensively by leading hotels and medical institutions of the State and thousands of Jacksonville citizens with splendid results. Data dates back to the luxurious days of imperial Rome.

On page 54, we find in part: "Inasmuch as the history of our country reaches back only to a comparatively recent date the written history of its mineral springs must of necessity also be rather a short one. Although many of our best known mineral waters were known to the Indians from earliest times, and traditions of their virtues were transmitted to their white-successors, the time of the latter was too much occupied to allow of much attention being paid to them."

"The history of mineral springs in general, however, dates from the most remote periods, The Egyptians, Indians, Mohammedans, Greeks, Romans, and in fact all nations have used mineral waters for medicinal purposes from time immemorial. Hippocrates, Aristotle, Herodotus, and even Homer wrote of them; temples dedicated to Aesculapius, the god of medicine were erected near them; and they were made the sites of hospitals, medical schools, baths and resorts for the diversion of the sick."

"Pliny, in his Natural History, says of these waters: 'They spring wholesome from the earth on every side, and in a thousand lands, the cold, the hot, the hot and cold together, as at Tarbellum (Dax), in Aquitania, or in the Pyrennes, where they are separated only by a small interval, or yet the warm and tepid, announcing the relief to the sick, and flowing from the earth only for man of all living things.'"

"For five centuries mineral waters were almost the only medicine used in Rome. In their conquests of northern and western Europe, the Romans sought the springs of the countries and in the names Acqui, Aix or Aachen, Dax, etc., derived from the Latin aqua, we have testimony of the former celebrity of these towns as watering places. The reputation of many of them has descended to our own time. Among Romans warm bathing was indulged in to excess and at one time there were 800 thermae in Rome. Many traces of these ancient Roman baths remain. They were buildings of great architectural beauty, grand and magnificent, adorned with statuary and mosaics, and among them the baths of Diocletian and the baths of Caracalla were the most celebrated.

"In our practical day we have shown the springs of the superstitions of the ancients and the busy habits of modern times do not permit us to spend the time and elaboration upon the baths that was bestowed upon it in the luxurious days of imperial Rome. Although we no longer depend upon hearsay as to the efficacy of springs in the cures of disease, but have chemists analyze the waters, still the period of true scientific investigation of their properties reach back only a few years and the therapeutic study, especially in our own country will require many more years of patient labor."

"The first work upon the quality and use of water that was printed treats of it from a therapeutic standpoint. It is entitled, 'The Curiosities of Common Water, or the Advantages thereof in Curing Cholera, Intemperance and Other Maladies,' by John Smith, C. M. It was reprinted at Boston, Mass., from the London edition of 1712; for Joseph Edwards, at the corner shop of the north side of Town House in 1725. It calls especial attention to the excellency of water as a drink and enumerates its therapeutical attributes as follows: 'It cures gout and hypochondriac melancholy; it benefits gravel and stone in the bladder; it makes the child grow strong in the womb; and increases the mother's milk; it stays hunger; for there was a certain crack brained man, who, at Leyden, when Dr. Carr resided in that university, pretended he could fast as long as Christ did; and it was found that he held out the term of forty days without eating any food, only he drank water and smoked tobacco.' 'Water is also of great use to strengthen weak children; it prevents swelling from bruises, sickness of the stomach, shortness of breath and vomiting; it cures fluxes, consumption, flushes, colic, smallpox, etc.' Although written one hundred and eighty-one years ago this is not excelled by the pretentious claims of any modern mineral spring circular."

Now, we arrive at the present age where it has become an established fact that many of the mineral wells of this country have perfected many wonderful cures by drinking and bathing freely in the mineral water.

The recently discovered mineral wells at Riverview are daily becoming famous for the benefits derived by drinking this water, in stomach, kidney and bladder troubles, as well as rheumatic troubles in many cases.

Good Hope Mineral Water is destined to become one of the famous health waters in the United States, as it only takes time to thoroughly establish the fact that the water has wonderful curative values. There are hundreds of people in this city and state ready to vouch for the foregoing statements.

(Signed)

DR. E. H. ARMSTRONG.

A final word to our readers: Would we not be foolish to make such claims for Good Hope Mineral Water if we could not substantiate our statements. We do not care to publish the names of those who have been cured or benefitted by drinking Good Hope Mineral Water, but we have statements from a large number of our prominent citizens, stating they have been cured of long standing cases of stomach, kidney, bladder and numerous chronic troubles caused by a congested system. By drinking freely of Good Hope Mineral Water, their systems have been thoroughly flushed so that Nature could easily perform its natural functions, which produce perfect health. We shall be pleased to furnish free samples of Good Hope Mineral Water and have you on our list as one of those enjoying good health by its use.

A SPLENDID CHRISTMAS EDITION

The Star is in receipt of another good Christmas edition in the Sanford Herald and it shows the splendid way the business men of that city appreciate a good newspaper which protects them and stands by them.

WILSON FAVORS XMAS SEALS
'I am interested to learn of the success of the sale of the Red Cross Christmas seal,' says President Woodrow Wilson in a letter to the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, made public today.

'I note with genuine interest and satisfaction,' he says, 'the growth and increasing success of the work of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis and hope that the devotion and enthusiasm of its active members may be crowned with still greater success during the present year.'

'I am interested to learn of the success of the sale of the Red Cross Christmas Seals as a means for raising funds for the work, and I hope that the people of the country will avail themselves of that ready and easy means of showing their interest in a work which is of so universal importance.'

THERE ARE OTHERS

We just want to shake the hand of Bro. Scadeng for the following truth in the Hastings Herald:
'The secret of community success and advancement has often been stated to be "A long pull, a strong pull and a pull altogether." This is exactly what Hastings does not have, in spite of all our efforts to incite to it—Selfishness, fear, that others may get a share of the riches to be gleaned from the soil, and that further settlement and crop production will "bear" the market; these things have so become rooted in the minds of a few farmers, and these the wealthier part perhaps that they make it their business to discourage intending settlers and prospective buyers by stories of hard times, costly crops, frosts, etc.

The surprising thing about this is that such new comers do not see through the hollow subterfuge, and judge by what they see, rather than by what they hear. And meanwhile Hastings drags along like a lame dog, kicked and cuffed and damned. No new buildings, no fresh enterprises, and dilapidated eyesores in the heart of the business section. The Herald has boosted Hastings in spite of all narrow opposition, and will continue to do so, for the town is capable of growth and development equal to any town in the state, and better than most, while the adjacent territory is the finest agriculturally that there is from Georgia to the gulf and from Alabama to the Atlantic. If some live wire bunch of capitalists would start a real development plan, Hastings would soon be on every tongue, and quickly known all over the world. Little one horse burrs nearly buried in the sand, or drowned in the swamps, are reclaimed and boomed successfully by development companies; and even in neighboring territory optimistic plans are being successfully carried out, while Hastings, the natural farm bonanza and garden spot of the world, languishes for want of a little enterprise, capital and fearless initiative. How long must we wait?'

High School Notes

Ruth Whittle has joined the ranks of the Juniors at Sanford High School.

Editorial

The question now before High School sporting circles is whether we shall have a base ball or a basketball team. We are now inclined to pick up our pen and write an editorial in favor of basketball, with apologies to the Pingville Bugle. We have in the S. H. S. at present a dozen fellows who are or will be good basketball players. The only argument in favor of base ball is that more fellows are used and therefore the small boys gets a chance. By having a baseball team we are in a fix something like the football team. Hardly more than enough fellows came out to make a base ball team, and we can hardly expect a winner. By having two teams of basketball players, it is reasonable to suppose we will win once in awhile. Another argument in favor of basketball is that the practice is held at night, and so the fellows who work in the afternoons would have a chance to represent the S. H. S. on some team during the year. Also we have in High School three men of the fast Brotherhood of St. Andrews team who would be a big help to the local school team. Taking all points into consideration we think that it would be advisable to play basketball instead of base ball. Editorial from Senior Class Paper.

Note—How about it Sanford, which will you patronize best?

At last the laboratory apparatus has arrived. All the Seniors now expect to become noted chemists, and the Juniors noted physicists. Again we place a crown of laurels upon the heads of our girls. Friday's game with Umatilla was a good hard fought game. The teams were very well matched—except in age.

A report from Rural Editor of Senior Class paper:
This year the High School has about thirty pupils from rural districts. As usual in every crowd from the country there is always a green person. In this crowd there happens to be a Greene boy. Every one from the country is not always green, as the Belle of the High School is from this district. Out of these pupils there are three Little girls, and just think these Little girls are in the Junior and Senior classes. Workmen in the country are spoken of as hands, and at the present time they are very scarce, but it happens that three very industrious Hands can be spared to attend High School. In every community there is always a Smith; so it is with this district. The country around Sanford is neither stony or mountainous but there happens to be the Andes and one very precious Stone in the High School. Besides in this crowd Nellie is Long, Mary is Miles and Sherman is Moore.

The many friends of Gladys Morris and Maude Entzinger in this city would probably like to hear that both of these young ladies are playing on Tallahassee's basketball team.

Lucille Denton, Lillian Rhodes and Muriel Rhodes spent Thanksgiving and week end at St. Augustine.

The football season is over at last. Although the boys have no brightly colored feathers in their caps, yet we feel that next year Sanford can try for the championship of the state.

The Greatest Lake
In physical geography class:
Adele—What is the the greatest lake in Florida?
From Sam came the reply, "Why Forrest Lake."

The Boys' Debating Club held their meeting December 8, with all the girls present. The subject for debate was: Resolved, That Congress should place Embargo on all Necessary Foodstuffs. Affirmative—Spencer, Stewart, Negative—Kanner, Allen. The judges, Washburn, Greene and Smith decided debate in favor of affirmative.

Stetson accepted our challenge, and sent the following subject for debate, Resolved, That U. S. should adopt some form of general Compulsory Military Service. We have not yet decided which side the S. H. S. will take, but the public will be notified later.

A number of Red Cross seals for the tuberculosis fund were left this week by Miss Wheeler.

The demerit system has been changed slightly by the board. Fifteen demerits are the limits for one month and forty for one semester. If this number of demerits are received the pupils is liable to be expelled for a couple of weeks.

A New Geography
Miss E.—"Lillian, where is Manila?"
Lillian R.—"It is the capitol of Cuba."

An orchestra and chorus are busily rehearsing Christmas music.

The Boys' Debating Club and the Irving Literary Society will hold a joint debate on Stetson's subject: Resolved, That U. S. should adopt some form of General Compulsory Military service. The choice of side was left to the obys who chose the affirmative. The following will represent the societies:
Affirmative, Roby Laing, Harold Washburn, Virgil Lee Smith.
Negative—Marian Gove, Lucille Rines, Ruth Kanner.

All the friends and patrons of the school are invited to attend the debate at 1:30 p. m. Friday afternoon.

Music Department Program Postponed
The December program of the Music Department which was to have been given on next Monday has been postponed to the first Tuesday in January.

Local club members are interested in the busy little club in Oviedo of which Mrs. W. J. Lawton is president. The club has a membership of only nineteen but they are building a club house and doing wonderful things in the line of civic improvement. Through the courtesy of Mr. P. L. Meade, a specialist in plants and rare flowers the club has sent a collection of orchids to the State Royal Palm Park near Miami. The little club is also federated.

Save all of your old newspapers, magazines, wrapping paper, waste paper, circulars and papers of every description for the Woman's Club car load.

Echoes of the State Federation Meet
There are 133 clubs in the State Federation of Women's Clubs representing seven thousand women.

The largest number of delegates than at any previous convention were in attendance at the Miami meeting.

"Way Down Upon the Suwannee River" has been adopted as the state song of the Florida Federation.

Section Three has doubled her membership since the annual meeting of 1916.

Florida is one of only 17 states which had no resignations from the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the national organization.

The civic committee, Mrs. J. A. Hendley chairman reported more done for the state than in any previous year in the history of state.

Winter Haven club has earned six thousand dollars in a unique way, through a calendar on which the were sold from $5.00 to $250.00. They presented to Winter Haven a $500.00 fountain.

Lakeland allows no name to appear in the club year book, whose dues are unpaid.

The Homestead Club of only twenty-three members served a fine lunch to eight hundred people at Royal Palm Park when the park was dedicated during the convention.

Many of the clubs have beautified and keep up the school grounds and stations at their home town.

Sanford rejoices in having the best papers and Literature Department in the state.

Section Five, in which Sanford is included has a membership of 2482, a gain of eleven clubs and 380 members and has 36 department clubs.

Tampa is noted for its playground maintained by the Tampa Civic Association.

Section Five has three members that are state officers: Mrs. Moore, first vice president; Mrs. Edgar Lewis, fifth vice president and our own Mrs. J. W. Dickins who is recording secretary. In addition to these Mrs. Henry Wight is a member of the state literature committee and Mrs. W. W. Abernathy is on the state civic committee. Not only is the section but Sanford itself well represented in the state Federation.

Many of the clubs own their own club houses and many more are building, among the latter being Oviedo, Lutz, Palatka, Tallahassee and Vero.

Mrs. John Sherman, chairman of the Department of Conservation for the General Federation gave a splendid talk on that department and in conclusion said there were three stages of growth for the club woman: First, What can the club do for me? Second, What can I do for the club? and third, What can I do for the club do for humanity?—three questions every club woman should ask herself.

be presented by the Jesse L. Lasky Company as the Paramount attraction at the Star soon, with the charming Marie Doro as Oliver was first written by Charles Dickens for a small English monthly magazine, was practically unknown and sold the story for next to nothing. Prior to his writing "Oliver," the Pjckwick Papers had just been published and he had just completed "Nicholas Nickleby." After the contract to write "Oliver" had been signed, he found himself the most popular author of the day, and it was one of his greatest regrets that he never received what he was entitled to for "Oliver Twist." Dickens' irritation at having sold the story so cheaply breaks out as early as in the 14th chapter of the book itself, when Mr. Brownlow asks Oliver if he would like to be a book writer. Oliver replies that it would be much better to be a book seller, to which Brownlow remarks, "We won't make an author of you while there is an honest trade to be learned or brick making to turn to," this being a direct slam at his publisher.

To Identify Your Trunks.
I have proved the value in peace of mind and convenience of the following ideas: I mark my bag or trunk with a marker of red, be it a bit of ribbon or a cord tacked on, so that in identifying my baggage among dozens of others I can instantly point out to the baggage man "that one with the red marker."—New York Evening Sun.

It has been suggested that poinsettias would be a beautiful plant for the roadways and it is one of our finest tropical plants, but the cattle are also very fond of poinsettias and they would ruin them in a few weeks after they were planted.

The Herald is very much in favor of having the roadways beautified in every way and the idea of supplementing the brick roads with trees and plants. It is a move in that right direction.

The Extravagance of Buying Cheap Tires

Caution by Arthur Brisbane, Noted Editor

Mr. J. R. Stewart of the B. & O. Motor Co., in speaking recently on the subject of tire economy referred to a timely editorial by Arthur Brisbane that appeared last Sunday in all the Hearst newspapers.

Mr. Brisbane, who is probably the highest paid editorial writer in the world and who is himself an ardent motorist has strong convictions on the tire question, and his views are well worth reprinting for the information of others who are desirous of getting the most value possible when they buy tires. The Brisbane editorial says in part: "Automobile extravagance is based oftener on the buying of tires and tubes without character than on any other department of automobile."

The well made tire represents actual cash invested. It has its fixed value, and do not let anybody persuade you to the contrary.

Beware of a dealer who tells you he can sell you "this tire cheaper and just as good." It has no name on it that you ever heard of before. "But it is made by a big factory," says the dealer, "and they sell it to me cheaper."

Such talk is misrepresentation and cheating.

Study the tire question for yourself; act in the purchase of tires as you would in the purchase of materials for your business. Buy of reliable concerns that have millions of dollars, years of experience and a reputation more valuable than their invested capital back of their product.

To buy cheap tires, cheap tubes, wastes money and destroys pleasure.

This applies especially to the man who owns one of the lower priced cars and drives it himself. To him the bursting tire means money and hard work.

The man driving his own car knows that a well made tire is one-half the pleasure of automobiling. Fortunately the makers of the best tires devote especial attention to the light cars. There is nothing more extravagant than a cheap, poorly made tire on one of the lower priced automobiles.

Dollar for dollar the good tire will give more than double the mileage and five times the pleasure."

Mr. J. R. Stewart, who is the local Michelin dealer, says that his business this year has been better than ever before. He attributes a large measure to his success to the Michelin Universal Tread, which is a tire of the very highest quality, yet the price is extremely moderate. Mr. J. R. Stewart agrees with Mr. Brisbane, that a good tire represents so much invested cash, so much fixed value, so that it pays to buy the best, especially now that you can get a tire like the Michelin Universal Tread, a tire that has an international reputation for quality and that is sold at such a moderate price.

Bridge and Sewing Party
The Social Department of the Woman's Club entertained very delightfully with a bridge and sewing party Tuesday afternoon at the club house. There were five tables of players, while the others were busily engaged in fancy work and conversation. Mrs. Forrest Lake made high score and was presented with lovely block sugar tray and Mrs. C. M. Vorce cut for the consolation prize, a cut glass pie rest. Mrs. Fred Walsman was the charming hostess for the afternoon.

Basketball Friday
Captain Hawkins has called for practice of his men for the balance of the week. Friday night the fast Orlando quintette will be here to give the locals a battle. The locals have played only one game this season and defeated by one point. The boys are anxious to win this game, and from the way the boys feel about it now it seems as if Orange county will have to be the first team to meet defeat.

Sanford is considered very strongly at the present time by the state press as championship timber. They are already booked to play the Imps of Tampa during the Gasparilla Carnival. Manager Washburn has been having letters come in every day from down the state, all desiring games with the locals.

The locals will try and accommodate all those teams which desire games. Tampa will be in Sanford on January 9th and this game is looked forward to as the biggest game of the season. The Imps of Tampa have established themselves as world heaters, but they never get too big that they can't be handled.

Cynic's Mean Remark.
"You've heard the old saying that a woman's work is never done?" "Oh, yes," replied the cynical man, "and the curious thing about it is that it originated before women got the notion that they were called upon to run the earth."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

An Easy Mark.
Lessing, the celebrated German poet, was remarkable for a frequent absence of mind. Having missed money at different times, without being able to discover who took it, he determined to put the honesty of his servants to the test and left a handful of gold on the table. "Of course, you counted it," said one of his friends. "Counted it!" said Lessing, rather embarrassed; "no, I forgot that."

A Hero to His Wife.
"A man who is happily married has an enthusiastic audience of one, and that isn't so bad," says old Uncle Penwise.

DISCOVER $10,000 IN HOUSE

Public Administrator Finds Life Savings of Couple Who Never Used a Bank.

Moberly, Mo.—Ten thousand dollars saved by Mr. and Mrs. Johanna Radell during their lifetime was found here in the family residence recently by Public Administrator J. Frank Holman. Mr. Holman was called in to take charge of the estate of Mrs. Radell, an elderly woman who dropped dead. He summoned three assistants and with them made a search of the house.

Secreted in an old cabinet in a pin cushion the searchers found $2,000 and locked in an iron-bound trunk the men found $7,150 hidden in a flour sack. The administrator believes more money is about the premises.

The Radells never made a deposit at a bank. They paid their debts in currency. Mr. Radell owned a bakery here which Mrs. Radell was running at the time of her death. No children survive the couple and only distant relatives can be found.

TAKES DOGS ON RESCUE TRIP

Sir Ernest Shackleton recently sailed from San Francisco for the Antarctic region to attempt to rescue some of his men who were left behind when he returned from his trip to discover the south pole. He took with him a number of dogs from Alaska that had won honors for their speed in racing over the frozen northern country.

PAY FARES AFTER 20 YEARS

Charity Finally Took $1 That Ohio Railway Official Refused to Accept.

Findlay, O.—Philosophers for centuries have attempted to analyze the conscience of the human race and what prompts it, but have been unsuccessful. That such a thing does really exist, Charles F. Smith, general manager of the Toledo, Bowling Green & Southern railway, can now testify. Recently he was sitting in his office when two men walked in and each threw a 50-cent piece on his desk explaining that, 20 years ago, they had ridden from the North side to the Tangent depot without paying fare. That was because they were compelled to stand most of the way. During all this time their consciences, they said, had troubled them and they got no rest until they had returned the money, with interest.

Mr. Smith refused to take the money, but Dr. J. P. Baker, head of the Associated Charities, who happened in Smith's office at the time, confiscated the money for purposes of charity.

LOTS OF MONEY IN KANSAS

Hat Passed for $1,500 to Put New Church Out of Debt Brings Back $2,029.

Smith Center, Kan.—There is a lot of money in Kansas—enough to buy the minister a motor car merely by passing the hat in a crowd.

So comes the report from Harlan, Kan., where fancy-priced hogs, cattle, wheat and corn are the means of sustenance for farmers.

The other day, says J. W. Pattee of this town, a $5,000 church was being dedicated and the finance committee announced the fund to put the church out of debt lacked $1,500.

"Pass the hat," yelled someone. The hat contained $2,029 in cash and checks when it got back.

DRIVES 11 MILES FOR MAIL

Stubborn Kansas Farmer Will Not Allow Rural Carrier to Bring It.

Smith Centre, Kan.—Frank Nichols lives on Route No. 5 out of this city. For years Nichols has stubbornly refused to have his mail come by carrier, although a route runs right by his door.

Each Saturday he makes the 11-mile drive from home and gets his mail out of the post office here.

He insists the carrier system is an unnecessary expense to the government and that it is putting false and injurious notions into the rising generations on the farms.

Marvelous Skater

"Ellwood," known as the boy wonder on skates is now appearing at the Sanford skating rink and from exhibitions already dished out this boy is more than a marvel. Ellwood in his blindfolded "bottle act" is great. Making a row of bottles on the floor, he cuts the figure eight with all the ease and gracefulness that the best can display. Ellwood has played in a great many southern cities and from newspaper clippings which he has, the critics all call him the boy wonder. He is to appear tonight at the rink and all those desiring to see fancy and trick skating will be admitted to the rink for the regular admission price, which is ten cents.

Fire!
To start a fire in wet weather locate a sheltered spot. If that is not possible, find an old log, a flat stone or a decayed stump. Roll the log half over. This exposes the dry side. Build your fire against this or against a flat stone, propping up one edge and building the fire under it. Or gouge out a rotten stump and build the fire in the cavity.

South Florida Fair

Tampa, Fla., Dec. 14.—That the array of product exhibits shown at the South Florida Fair and Gasparilla Carnival, to be held in this city February 2 to 10, inclusive, will be the most varied ever seen at a southern fair is established by the fact that the counties which participated in the last fair are asking for increase of space in all exhibition buildings and twice as many new counties are falling in line. One additional building has been provided for and indications are that more will have to be erected.

The work of preparing entertainment features of the Gasparilla carnival is now under way and they will be even more brilliant than those of past years. Many novelties will be added, with Tampa's foreign born citizenship participating, and the social events, to which the visitors will be invited will be the most unique ever seen in this country.

Railroad officials say the fair and carnival will bring to south Florida twice as many homeseekers as took advantage of the low round trip rates offered last February.

Notice is hereby given that there will be a meeting of the Charles Electric Company, incorporated, in the offices of the corporation in Sanford, Florida, at 8:00 p. m. on January 4th, 1917.

Schelle Maines, Secy. 34-1tc

The regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the First Nations Bank of Sanford, Fla., will be held in the office of the bank on Tuesday, January 9th, 1917, at 10:00 a. m., being the second Tuesday in the month, for the election of a Board of Directors to serve for the ensuing year and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before it.

At the Rest Room

One can find at the Woman's Club Rest Room on Park avenue rest for the weary shopper, a cup of tea for the thirsty or a full meal for the hungry. Births

Red Cross Seals on Sale

The unusual demand for Red Cross seals this year is most gratifying and shows the development of increased interest in the nation wide fight that is being made in the anti-tuberculosis work. With the able assistance of Miss Jessie Wheeler who is the district health instructor appointed by the state, the Welfare Department is making a splendid campaign. Already the seals are on sale at L. R. Phillips, R. C. Bower, Roberts Grocery and the Rest Room and a large supply has been placed in the schools where there seems to be a ready sale for them, some of the teachers having asked for a second supply. Next week, Mrs. J. E. Pace, chairman of the health committee with her committee and the assistance of the Junior Civic League will make a personal campaign. Packages and letters leaving Sanford should carry upon them a Red Cross seal, for each seal represents one step forward in the anti-tuberculosis cause.

Lavendar Bags

The Junior Auxiliary of Holy Cross church are making a specialty of the pretty little lavender bags that will be placed on sale Saturday at the joint bazaar of St. Agnes Guild and the Junior Auxiliary. A card bearing the following appropriate little verse is attached to each bag:

"When the good housewife we read of
Files her linen closet nigh,
Mid the layers smooth and even
Lavendar she laid to dry.
Here is some, tho' dried already,
It perhaps may serve to show
That we don't forget the custom,
For 'tis English, 'don't you know.'"

Japanese maidens will serve tea and both societies will have on sale pretty and useful articles that make attractive Christmas gifts.

Bags for Everything

There are bags for everything this Christmas, with vanity bags and opera bags and shopping bags made of the richest brocades and ribbons and metallic laces.

A party bag and a shopping bag are shown above, and the party bag is made of plain and figured ribbon set together with corded seams. This bag is lined with silk. It is gathered near the top on a narrow satin ribbon run in a casing formed by two rows of stitching in the bag. There are bows of the narrow ribbon at each side, and the bag is suspended by it.

A handsome shopping bag is made of heavy purple satin ribbon brocaded with purple velvet and silver flowers. It opens with a "gate" fastening at the top, in silver, and is suspended by narrow purple satin ribbon. A handsome silver tassel finishes it.

SACRED MUSHROOM OF AZTEC

It Was a Powerful Narcotic, Producing the Most Fantastic Visions.

Mushrooms are dangerous enough in the United States, where those who gather them and eat them prize their flavor, and sometimes perish by reason of wrong diagnosis, for there are deadly toadstools that look as much like edible mushrooms as twins. In Mexico it would seem that the mushroom situation is worse than here, for while Americans hunt mushrooms for food, the Mexicans have reason to regard them as both meat and drink. Head the following statement of what happened after consuming the sacred mushroom of the Aztecs, remarks the Evening Wisconsin.

It is a powerful narcotic, producing the most fantastic visions, and is regarded by the Indians as a key which, with their ceremonial, opens to them all the glories of another and better world. A tincture made by simply chopping up the plant and allowing it to soak in diluted alcohol for a couple of weeks is a most serviceable remedy for nervousness, headaches and insomnia. When chewed (the Indians say) it stops the painful coughing of consumptives.

Botanists say that the "sacred mushroom" is not a mushroom at all, but a cactus. That, however, is merely a matter of bald detail. What is important is the action of the plant on the system. This is attributed to an alkaloid principle it contains known as anhalonin, which chemists say is separable in the form of white, needlelike crystals.

The plant resembles a radish in shape. It has a buttonlike top, which is all of it that appears above the ground, and this is why it has been taken for a mushroom. The top is covered with prickles.

The early missionaries disapproved of the "sacred mushroom." Because its use was part of the religious ceremonies of the native priests, the good missionaries called it "devil plant." Another name of it is "dream plant," because of the visions it produces. Besides the dream-producing alkaloid, it yields a deadly poison; so it would not do for people unfamiliar with the plant to experiment with its effects on their own persons. People who have had it administered to them by physicians declare it is a remedy for the headachy condition that follows immoderate use of alcohol.

That the announcement of this last property of the plant may not lead to the conviction that war with Mexico is absolutely necessary, it is added that anybody wanting to grow sacred mushrooms in the United States will find that it is easy to do so under glass.

PROPHET IN WOODEN HOUSE

Emerson Led a Life Devoid of Incident and Left but Little for His Biographer.

Emerson occupied in the natural course of things the pontifical chair at Concord, Mass., in the days of New England's literary ascendancy when his contemporaries were men like Longfellow, Whittier, Hawthorne, Holmes and Lowell.

His wooden house, homely and hospitable as simplicity and kindness could make it, had the dignities of philosophic supremacy.

Pilgrims of thought come and go in that household temple, they sit at the feet and circle round the hearth of the "radiant optimist," thinker and poet and teacher, whose one reproach, according to his English biographer, was "that with full knowledge that his history must be written, he thought fit to lead a life devoid of incident." "of early untroubled happiness and of absolute conformity to the moral law."

He Knew.

The teacher was trying to make his pupils understand that all good comes from one source. As an illustration, he told them of building a house and putting water pipes with taps in all the rooms, these pipes not being connected with the main in the street. "Suppose I turn on a tap and no water comes, what is the matter?" He naturally supposed that some of the boys would answer that the water was not turned on at the main, but they didn't. On the contrary, one boy at the foot of the class called out: "You didn't pay your water bill!"

A Word to the Wise.

Rector—Our collection today, my dear brethren, is for clothing for the poor. At the same time, may I earnestly impress upon you that, though the collection is for the clothing fund, it is not necessary to contribute buttons.

A Consumer.

"You must realize that you are the ultimate consumer."
"I do realize it," replied Mr. Chuggins, "every time I shove a gallon of gasoline into the tank."

Accuracy.

"Has the line been busy?" asked the man with a nickel poised between his thumb and forefinger.
"No," answered the precise operator. "The line wasn't busy. I was."

Skeptical.
We told one of the neighbor women the other day that there is some good in everyone, but it didn't seem to make much impression.

No Foundation.

A bold, unsubdued citizen went to a new boarding house, and as he had always met his obligations promptly, he had become notably outspoken. On his second day the hostess asked: "Why don't you say a blessing, Mr. Golden?" He looked over the table and said gloomily: "I'd like to know what for?"

Hindrances to Usefulness.

The great hindrance to usefulness in those who think they wish to be useful, yet have never really tried to be, are pusillanimousness and ambition. They are twin sisters. To put it otherwise, there is the fault of not thinking it worth while to do a little because it is little, and of not caring to do something because it may not lead to much.—Bishop Thorold.

CARRANZA KICKS OVER

Demand of Withdrawal of Troops Kills Proposal

Washington, Dec. 14.—Carranza's action on the protocol signed at Atlantic City by the Mexican American Joint Commission will be submitted to the American Commission by the Mexican meeting at a preliminary meeting to be held in Philadelphia, Dec. 18. Upon the nature of the report of Alberto J. Pani, who carried the protocol to Carranza for his signature will depend whether the conferences are to continue in an effort to adjust all questions of issue between the United States and the defacto government.

Arrangements for the next meeting were approved by President Wilson at today's cabinet meeting. Neither Secretary Lansing nor Secretary Lane, who heads the American commissioners could say definitely whether Carranza had signed the protocol. They had been informed by the Mexican members, who suggested the date of the Philadelphia meeting, only that the text of their "first chief's" comments on the protocol would be submitted then.

Officials here are inclined, however, to credit unofficial reports that instead of affixing his signature, Carranza had proposed changes in the agreement and it is feared that his attitude may nullify all of the work of the commission and cause many complications.

It was indicated clearly that a demand for material changes in the protocol, such as foreshadowed by the reported determination of Carranza to insist upon the retirement of American troops from Mexico would mean immediate abandonment of the conferences.

"Son, Buckeye Root-Stock's Older an' No Tellin' How Much Better!"

Yearly the Buckeye experts discard thousands of citrus seedlings that a nursery with less reputation at stake might bud. Only the very best-developed root-stock is good enough to bear the Buckeye name.

Again, all stock must be 12 to 18 months older than is customary, before we will bud it. Our trees have an uncommonly fine root-development and absorb more nourishment than others with buds of equal age.

The result shows in the grove. Writes a customer, "During 1913-14, we planted 2,941 trees—1,032 were from you. We were so pleased with your stock that we planted 5,405 Buckeye trees, since, and no others."

For the past 26 years Buckeye Gillett-grown trees have been undergoing a merciless selection. Only the finest can survive.

Our catalog tells about this, about our service, why Buckeye trees grow vigorous, fruitful, disease-resisting. Write for copy.

St. Agnes Guild

The business meeting of St. Agnes Guild was held on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Aspinwall with Mrs. Julius Takach, the hostess.

Reports were received from the play and final arrangements made for the fancy work and cooked food sale which will be held on Saturday (tomorrow) afternoon and evening. A delightful social hour at which refreshments were served followed the business period. Miss Ruth Mettinger is the newest addition to the genial little band of workers. Others present were Mrs. Albert Frye, Mrs. Aspinwall, Mrs. M. Minarik, Mrs. Archie Bette, Miss Gretchen Schultz, Miss Charlotte Hand and Rev. Arthur Searing Peck.

Attractive Dinner Dance

With the rooms prettily decorated with poinsettias and ferns and the table appointments very lovely, the dinner dance given by Dr. and Mrs. Oliver J. Miller on Friday night was a delightful event. After dinner dancing and music was enjoyed throughout the evening. "Possum and taters" with all the extras composed a menu that was much enjoyed, being quite different from the usual dinner menu. Mr. Kilgore pleads guilty to being the hunter that furnished the "possum." Enjoying the charming occasion were Dr. and Mrs. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Starling, Mrs. Junie Rounillat, Miss Adelaide Higgins, Miss Clarissa Starling, Dr. Ralph Stevens, Mr. Osborne Herndon and Mr. Kilgore.

Christmas Sewing Party

Mrs. J. G. Hurley was the gracious hostess at a very delightful Christmas sewing party on Tuesday afternoon, entertaining friends from the neighborhood from which she has recently moved with a number of her new neighbors. The cottage home was simply decorated with cut flowers and ferns, the colors suggesting the approaching season. Delicious nut salad, olives, sandwiches and cake was served with hot chocolate. Those invited were Mrs. Tom Williams, Mrs. H. H. Hill, Mrs. Fred Williams, Mrs. A. M. Phillips, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. W. D. Gillen, Mrs. Braddy, Mrs. Myers, Mrs. A. E. Hill, Mrs. Wesley Frye, Mrs. Holt, Mrs. Mason, Mrs. Mae Moyer, Mrs. R. L. Griffin, Mrs. T. L. O'Connor, Mrs. Jack Adams, Mrs. John Meisch, Mrs. D. G. Moore, Mrs. Richard Patten, Mrs. Ben Guthrie, Mrs. J. P. Hurley and Mrs. John Gillen. Mrs. Hurley was assisted by Mrs. J. P. Hurley and Mrs. John Thomas.

Children Take Notice

All the boys and girls in Sanford and vicinity who would like to take part in the singing for the Community Christmas Tree celebration on Christmas Day are invited to meet at the home of Mrs. W. W. Abernathy on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. Parents are urged to send their children and insist upon them having a part in this first community celebration in Sanford. Other cities are making the community Christmas tree the most prominent of the annual events. Why not Sanford? Surely we are alive to the significance of a community celebration. Let us all get out of our home circle and particular denomination and join in one big union celebration irrespective of creeds. Churches, men and women's Club, Board of Trade and City departments join hands and together disseminate the true spirit of Christmas. Mrs. W. W. Abernathy who is chairman of the committee for the children's singing will be assisted by Mr. Chas. Polk, who will lead the music, Mrs. Scoggan, Miss Claire Walker and Miss Lettie Caldwell, representing their respective churches.

In extent, the Spanish vocabulary is far inferior to the English, though in richness of tone or expression the Spanish is ahead of the English language. It is claimed that the pure Castilian is the most musical of languages, the Italian not excepted.

Progress in Southeast
Columbus, Ga., Dec. 13.—The Industrial Index says in its issue for this week:

"If ever before this section has had such magnificent business prospects as exist now, it was before the time of the business men of today.

The southeast is prosperous, and it is building a solid foundation for lasting prosperity. There is an unprecedented demand for the products of its fields, factories, forests and mines, and in the midst of this demand it is beginning to produce some things that it never produced before, with the result that it is beginning to keep at home for investment and upbuilding literally millions of dollars that it has been sending away.

"Although the holiday season is but a few days away, a great volume of construction continues steadily in the southeast. A notable feature of the construction news for the week is the awarding of a number of contracts of importance, work upon which can hardly be well under way until after the beginning of the New Year.

"A town to be built near Savannah, Ga., at an initial cost of about $250,000.

"Thirty-one corporations have been formed in the week with minimum capital stocks aggregating $948,500.

"Among the items of construction work to be done, as reported this week are:

"Apartment houses, Augusta, Ga.; bank building to be remodeled, Macon, Ga.; bridges, Pinellas and Volusia counties, Fla.; church building addition, Fitzgerald, Ga.; factory building, Prichard, Ala.; garage buildings, Miami, Fla.; hotel building additions, Decatur, Ala., Greenville, S. C., and Meridian, Miss.; library building, Winder, Ga.; paving, Fulton county, Ga.; school buildings, Alexandria, La., and Dania, Fla.; clubhouse, Valdosta, Ga.; tract improvement, Savannah, Ga. "Construction contracts have been awarded as follows:

"Apartment house, Atlanta, Ga., and Greenville, S. C.; bank building, Albany, Ga.; bridges, Colbert and Russell counties, Ala.; club houses, Tampa and St. Petersburg, Fla.; paving, Florence, S. C.; roads, Lee and Volusia counties, Fla.; drainage, DeSoto county, Fla.; levees, Alexandria, La.; school buildings, Angelus, S. C., and Scott, Ga.; underpass, Macon, Ga.; warehouse, Plant City, Fla. "Industrial plants will be established as follows:

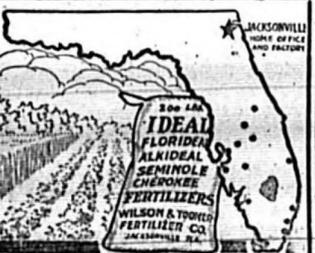

"Box factory, Charleston, Miss.; cotton compress to be improved, Columbia, S. C.; fertilizer factory, Rock Hill, S. C.; ice and electric light plants, Vero, Fla.; graphite mining and refining, Ashland and Talladega, Ala.; ginney, Lineville, Ala.; feed mill, Valdosta, Ga.; cross-tie plant, Apalachicola, Fla.; hosiery mill addition, Douglas, Ga."
