Nation Faces New Highs In Living Costs

Henderson Testifies Government Curb On Inflation To Be Tremendous Job

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Leon Henderson, head of the office of price administration today, told Congress the nation faces the "most serious and most pronounced increase in the cost of living" since the administration's price-control bill became law.

Testifying before the House Banking committee, Henderson asserted that even with the powers the bill would confer, the government would have a "tremendous job" in trying to prevent the country's economy from entering an inflationary stage.

The price structure had advanced generally about 20 percent since the outbreak of the war, he said.

The steepest tax bill in the nation's history, designed to raise about $3,200,000,000 to help finance the defense program, was passed by the House yesterday after an overwhelming majority after being stripped of a provision requiring married persons to file joint income tax returns.

The measure, which would triple the taxes of persons in the higher and middle income brackets, also would tap the nation's business firms for an additional $1,332,900,000 through surtaxes and more drastic excess profit taxes. It went through by a top-heavy roll-call vote of 330-30.

Elimination of the joint return provision lopped about $323,000,000 from the bill's originally estimated yield. (By filing separate returns, married couples sometimes pay lower taxes.)

The bill would raise the tax on last-minute changes, which would be especially true in the "community property" states, where a husband and wife can add up their incomes, split the sum in half and pay taxes on the half for income tax purposes.

President Roosevelt had appealed for modification of the joint return provision to exempt earned income from such returns. He also had asked two last-minute changes, which would have lowered the income tax excess profits tax plan, but the house was unable to consider these under the parliamentary procedure had adopted.

Members of the ways and means committee and other legislators warned the house that elimination of the joint return provision would inevitably mean higher individual income taxes to compensate for the loss.

On the other hand, opponents of the provision contended it was a blow at women's rights, that it was unconstitutional and unfair. Spokesmen for the community property states declared some of those states such as Texas and California had had community property laws ever since they were admitted to the union.

As it passed the house, the bill would raise about $329,000,000 from individuals through a drastic system of graduated surtaxes starting at the first dollar of taxable income. They would range from 5 percent to 75 percent, the latter rate applying to income over $5,000,000. The present normal tax rate of four percent was unchanged but under the new plan a married man with no dependents and earning $3,000 would pay a tax of $38.50 in contrast to his present tax of $11.

Chemical Warfare, Different Gases Discussed By Defense Force Group

Chemical warfare and the various kinds of gases used by modern armies were discussed last night by Lt. John L. Galloway at the regular meeting of the Seminole County Defense Force at the Armory.

Two men, John W. Ashley, and Richard Deas, enlisted in the Defense Force last night, Captain E. C. Harper reported, but there still is room for two or three other young men.

Following a schedule prescribed by the State Defense Council, the local unit studies a different subject each week in connection with troop formation or methods of warfare. In addition to the lecture, the Defense Force participated in close order drill with arms by squads and platoons. Some of the men took part in sub-caliber firing.

Explaining persistent and non-persistent gases, Lt. Galloway told members of the unit that a non-persistent gas is disseminated within 10 minutes after it is exposed to the air, while persistent gases hang in the air for a longer time.

Gas was used extensively during the first World War, Lt. Galloway said, and it was found that gas masks were effective against nearly all types of chemicals.

Little gas has been used in the current war, he explained, because it is a faster moving war and not one of position. It has been found impractical to use gas because of the danger of having troops advance into their own chemical, the lieutenant declared.

The opposing forces in this war have gas at their disposal, Lt. Galloway said, and he has used it in cities and towns, probably because of a fear of retaliation.

Other types of chemicals used in warfare discussed included smoke screens, incendiaries and flame throwers.

Sea Island Cotton To Be Offered As Silk Substitute

TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 5.—(Special)—Florida Sea Island cotton will be offered to the federal government as a substitute for silk, according to instructions issued today by Commissioner of Agriculture Nathan Mayo to William L. Wilson, director of the Sea Island Cotton Bureau.

Reports of a shortage of silk and of women ridding department stores all over the country for supplies of silk stockings and other wardrobe items prompted Commissioner Mayo to take immediate action. He instructed Director Wilson to get in touch with the proper federal authorities, advise them of the present Sea Island cotton crop in Florida and offer the government this crop as a substitute for silk wherever it is possible to use it.

Sometime ago the Sea Island Cotton Bureau experimented with making high grade stockings out of Sea Island cotton and has been introducing them through the facilities of State Farmers' Markets with splendid results. At the same time the experimental department of State Farmers' Markets has been introducing shirts and other fine fabrics manufactured from this sun-bleached textile material, which have excellent possibilities.

Forecasting that this condition might arise, Wilson has been corresponding with government officials in Washington and plans to make a trip to the nation's capital within a few days to further the possible use of Sea Island cotton during the emergency.

Florida is the principal source of supply of Sea Island cotton; and while a larger acreage was planted this year, unfavorable weather in the northern part of the state will help production to about the same as last year. However, advance prices offered for harvest this year are higher than last year.

The State Department of Agriculture, under the direction of "Old Timer" Superintendent Inspector, is making every effort to contact the quality of the sea island cotton in order to make it suitable for military use in stockings and other textile products.

Strong Bidding Aids Returns On Tobacco

By Associated Press

Strong bidding for high grade tobacco cheered growers of the bright leaf crop in the Georgia-Florida belt today with buyers frequently going above 30 cents a pound for baskets of top quality leaf.

Reports compiled by the Associated Press indicated the bulk of the tobacco went in the range between 25-35 cents.

Some bids were as low as a greenish color as high as 35 cents. The average is expected to be about 25-30 cents.

The crop of leaves after the harvest was late after the usual season and the quality was high.

Smolensk Cleanup In Final Stages Encirclement, Destruction Of Reds Near Kiev Claimed

German panzer forces have driven a new 70-mile deep salient into the heart of the Soviet defense positions—between Moscow and Leningrad—the Russians acknowledged today, and Berlin reported the 45-day-old conflict had developed into two last battles of annihilation.

Nazi military dispatches said the German panzer divisions of large Red Army forces south of Kiev, Ukraine capital, was well under way and indicated the cleanup in the bloody Smolensk sector, was in the final stages.

The German offensive into the Ukraine, paralleled the German drive on the peninsula of Kiev, appeared to be a direct strike at the city.

The German high command declared that vital Soviet rail communications in the Ukraine already had been cut by German and Hungarian armored troops operating about a 50-mile front which apparently was developing a plan of battle similar to that reported to long of the center in the vicinity of Leningrad.

These dramatic advances, most field informants in Berlin reported, were coming on the heels of the German drive to take the city of Leningrad.

This new offensive, it was reported, was the most serious yet in the Soviet defense against the German drive.

Old Fashioned Silk

American women cheerfully send their hushers of silk and rayon in order to contribute to the aluminum drive for national defense, but when it comes to less they join in a wild stampede to the silk stockings counters of the country's biggest department stores at the very first indication of a loss shortage.

There are not many of them who do not know that most of America's silk comes from Japan and that, besides stockings, parasiticide and gunpowder have also made out of silk. Fearing the worst, perhaps, that they would come off second best with the Priorities Board which although composed entirely of men might not appreciate the greater necessity of stockings to parachutes, the women are laying in reserve supplies.

New York store managers reported increased sales in silk stockings of from 200 to 500 percent following the Franklin Roosevelt's order freezing Japanese assets. At a number of stores they had to station a squad of husky plain clothsmen around the stocking counters to keep the women from rushing and snatching. One shop reported the sale of over 50,000 pairs of hosiery on Saturday and still another had to double its sales force.

We wonder how many of these silk stockings which have been bought for emergencies possibly arising a year or two from now will still be good at that time. Our experience has been that nothing quite deteriorates so rapidly as silk, especially silk socks, and this goes whether they are being worn or are lying idly in a dresser drawer waiting for their great day to come.

We wonder, too, when the supply of silk hosiery has been exhausted, or the market completely drying up, if the women and men who should suddenly become stylish to wear wool, what carefully good would these silk stockings be anyway?

And so we think these women who are laying in reserves are wasting their time and their money when they are preparing to make themselves conspicuous by wearing old-fashioned silk stockings.

Loyal Americans

We are glad to see the formation of a nation-wide organization of patriotic loyal Americans of German descent. There are some ten million Americans who like Wendell Willkie and Senator Robert F. Wagner who were either born in Germany or are the immediate direct lineal descendants of Germans, and who are as devoted to the United States and its political institutions and as vigorous in opposition to everything Hitlerian stands for as any American of British descent.

Commenting on the formation of this "militant pro-democracy, anti-Nazi organization," the New York Herald Tribune has this to say: "The German-American and Italian-American communities, while the Nazi-Fascist mind regards as major weaknesses in the American state, are actually among our greatest assets in this war for the preservation of the democratic form and the democratic civilization. They offer an incomparable base for a democratic fifth column reaching across the world. The vast majority of our citizens of foreign extraction are deeply loyal to the United States and they are among the bitterest individual opponents of everything that Nazi-Fascist stands for. Too often they have received from the country as a whole little more than suspicion, neglect and indifference to the pressures which the totalitarians have brought to bear upon them. But here is a real effort, originating from within the German-American community, to provide something better."

Such an effort must come, in the first instance, from within the community itself. The degradation which the totalitarian technique has brought to the accepted loyalties and decency of life has imposed a hard obligation on the communities of foreign extraction—justly, but none the less unavoidably—to stand up, declare themselves and be counted. But when, with positive organizations like this one just announced, they take the step and provide the means for doing so, the effort deserves the enthusiastic support of every other American of every national or linguistic background. Here is a real means not merely to expose these small minorities who have not a totalitarian allegiance before their loyalty to the American system but—far more important—to take "the high ground" out of our affairs and replace it with a sense of the real strength which our diverse and heterogeneous backgrounds give to our common democracy.

Dimaggio's Salary May Amount To $80,000 for '42 Baseball Season

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Joe Dimaggio will draw from the Yankees next year, but he can't tell when the government might want you for some treasury department job, and it is a good idea to get used to juggling figures, even if you have to start with fractions like 80/100. Dimaggio's 1941 salary is strictly a personal matter between Dimaggio and Ed Barrow, so it's only natural that several million fans should form in with their private opinions. They feel that he pay a sports figure receives is their business, inasmuch as they are the ones who pay the freight, but that is a peculiar type of reasoning as they have no particular desire to know what a grocery clerk gets simply because they happen to trade at that store. It has been reported that Dimaggio will ask for $80,000 for his 1942 efforts, and based on his value at the gate this year he probably is worth it. It's impossible to say just what his value is, but at a conservative estimate he probably has drawn $50,000 extra customers around the league, and on any one of several days at the Yankee stadium has paid his 1941 salary. What he will be worth next year is problematical. He might start the season with a slump and go along indefinitely on the same level. He might crack a finger, or develop blemishes on his knee, or galling indignation. There is no definite guarantee when the human element is involved. What Dimaggio really will be doing next year is collecting the money he earned this year. A ball player's salary always is based on past performance, although a club might put out real money for a young fellow on the basis of what it thinks he might do. Therefore, if Dimaggio were a total flop in 1942, he still wouldn't be robbing anybody. He brought in enough money for the club this year to pay any reasonable salary. There will be two different opinions as to a reasonable salary when contract time rolls around. One will be Barrow's, and the other Dimaggio's. Right now it would appear that DIMAG has most of the talking points on his side, and the Dick Wakefield incident provided another for him. If the untried Wakefield can get upwards of $45,000 merely for signing with the Tigers, shouldn't the well-tried Dimaggio be worth indefinitely more? As indicated before, it's strictly personal business, but it's fun to roll figures like $80,000 around

The Jaycees asked the two Florida senators to seek assistance in relieving the high water conditions which already have done considerable damage to farm lands and pastures in this section.

The telegrams received from Senator Andrews and Senator Pepper were read at the Jaycees meeting last night at the Palm and Pine dining room.

Senator Andrews said: "I have previously contacted Col. Weeks, district engineer, asking his assistance in relieving flood conditions in St. Johns River valley. This morning I discussed this problem with Maj. Gen. Schley, chief engineer. He has assured me that steps would be taken to investigate and provide relief from these flood waters. ## Hull Voices Concern At Jap Activity

Nipponese Move Into Thailand Seen As Menacing Security Of This Country

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Secretary of State Hull said today that Japanese intentions toward Thailand and the south-west Pacific area were matter of increasing concern to the United States government.

A Japanese move into Thailand, Hull said, would be considered a step menacing American security and endangering American territory in the Pacific.

The House yesterday approved a Senate bill giving President Roosevelt authority to requisition private property essential to national defense production. The vote was 241 to 138.

The measure, which goes back to the Senate for concurrence in minor amendments, would empower the President to requisition such property on "fair and reasonable terms" after other methods of acquisition had been exhausted.

Property subject to the order includes military and naval equipment, supplies or munitions and machinery used in their manufacture, serving and operating.

The bill is a modified version of one originally requested by the army which would have authorized seizure of any personal property without restriction.

Republican members denounced the revised measure as "sheer, unadulterated national socialism."

Representative Short (R., Mo.) said it was "filled with dynamite and will lead to tyrannical and bureaucratic control."

The legislation is designed to break "bottle-necks" which have been delaying mass production of essential armaments. Short said.

One amendment adopted provides that the owner of any property taken over who is dissatisfied with the price offered may be not in the "army" but in the "navy"—shall be paid 80 percent of the recommended price and he to sue for the remainder plus an amount he considers "fair."

Lodge and Sons grocery store was given the bid for supplying the needs of the County home.

The County will be publishing the session laws of the 1941 Legislature.

The plat of Perry Lake Park was filed but was held over until the next meeting, Mr. Herndon said.

Russian Field Army Fallen, German News Agency Claims

U. S. Unfreezes Russian Orders In This Nation

Flow Of Supplies To Red Army Already May Have Started

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(AP)—The United States, it was learned today, has unfrozen millions of dollars worth of Soviet orders in this country and presumably the flow of American supplies to the fighting Russians already has begun.

The amounts and details were undisclosed.

The capital buzzed with rumor and speculation yesterday that President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill of Great Britain, Prime Minister King of Canada, and Harry L. Hopkins, lease-lend administrator, were about to engage in a momentous conference, possibly in Canada or somewhere on the Atlantic ocean.

The reports that the four would get together to discuss problems arising from the war and American aid to nations battling the Axis, lacked any substantiation whatever, and their origin was dubious. The rumors persisted, however, despite the fact that high officials here and elsewhere disclaimed any knowledge of such a meeting.

The reports apparently sprang chiefly from the unusual secrecy surrounding President Roosevelt's cruise aboard the presidential yacht Potomac in northern waters. Linked with this was the announcement in the British House of Commons that Churchill would not participate in a forthcoming debate on the conduct of the war before Parliament recesses for the summer.

Clément Attlee, lord privy seal and British labor party leader, explained the prime minister was preoccupied "with urgent matters connected with the war."

Music, Singing Feature Meeting Of Kiwanis Club

A musical program, during which Harry Kudell played the piano and members joined in singing several songs, was presented at the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club at the Valdez Hotel today. Father J. J. Kellaghan acted as master of ceremonies, introduced the songs and led the group singing.

The club unanimously voted to buy a $100 deferred saving bond as its share in helping bear the cost of the preparedness program.

O. P. Herndon, president, named Walter Coleman, P. P. Campbell and G. D. Workman as a committee to purchase the bond and see bank officials for having it kept safely.

A letter was read from Charles E. Bradshaw, chairman of the USO drive, in which he thanked the Kiwanis Club for its share in helping Seminole County exceed its quota by a larger percentage than any other Florida county.

Karlisle Householder, who has volunteered for the Army and will leave Friday for Camp Blanton, was given a military membership by the club. Howard Long made the presentation, and declared that "we are sorry to lose you, but we know that you will give the best you have."

Householder responded by saying that he would miss his friends in the club, but that he hoped to return his active membership at a later date.

Among the songs which Mr. Kudell played for the Kiwanis members was "Alexander's Ragtime Band," which he was one of the first to play.

Before playing the popular old number, Mr. Kudell told how it was introduced in Chicago in 1911. Irving Berlin came to make publishing house where Mr. Kudell was working, and brought a copy of the song he had written.

Mr. Kudell was given the assignment of seeing that it was introduced, and he secured Sophie Tucker to sing it at one of the theaters in Chicago. It later became one of the most popular songs in musical history.

Other songs played by Mr. Kudell and sung by those at the luncheon included "Old Black Joe," "My Buddy," "When Day Is Done" and "The Two of Us."

Dr. George Putnam was welcomed back after having been ill in a Jacksonville hospital for several weeks.

Group Votes To Buy $100 In Defense Bonds To Aid U. S.

Gen. Walter Weaver, commander of the southeastern training area, has "assured us of every possible assistance in putting the Sanford municipal airport to use by the government," Edward Higgins, secretary of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, said today on his return from a trip to Montgomery, Ala.

Mr. Higgins reported that Gen. Weaver thought well of the general layout of the airport, which has just been allotted $218,000 by the Civil Aeronautics Administration for runways and other improvements.

Access roads leading to the airport were discussed by Mr. Higgins in an interview with Mr. Snead, who is a member of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads office in Montgomery. Mr. Snead advised Mr. Higgins that the veto of the defense highway bill by President Roosevelt "leaves this matter uncertain at the present time, but he gave instructions as to how to proceed with the project."

While in Montgomery, Mr. Higgins also conferred with the manager of the Farm Security Administration, who said he is making a check of the Sanford area with the idea of relieving farm labor housing conditions.

The FSA manager said that if federal funds are made available for a project of this kind he will advise officials here as soon as his investigation is completed.

Soviet Has Lost Over 4,000,000 Troops Before Onslaught, Officials Declare

Red Army Says It's Resisting

BERLIN, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Russia has lost close to 4,000,000 men and the Russian field army can be regarded now as having fallen before the Nazi onslaught, the official news agency asserted today.

The battle of Smolensk, it was said, ended in a German victory. It was added that the Russians have been beaten back in every major war zone and have suffered staggering losses of men and arms.

Adolf Hitler's field headquarters, picturing the Russian leadership as utterly baffled, reported today the capture of 205,000 Red Army prisoners and the destruction of capture of 13,745 armored cars and tanks, 10,388 guns and 9,082 planes.

The Russians, however, asserted they were resisting everywhere.

Hitler's headquarters detailed at length what it described as progress through the Soviet defense system at "three decisive points"—south of the Pripiat marshes, the Smolensk sector on the road to Moscow, and south of Lake Peipus below Leningrad.

"As apparent from numerous reports, Soviet leadership, no longer possesses a reliable picture of the situation on their own front," a Nazi communique said, adding that "successes have been achieved which surpassing the most optimistic expectations."

Despite the intensity of the attack on the Leningrad front, the Smolensk salient and twin thrusts into the Ukraine, the Russians said they were holding firm, and in some sectors counter-attacking.

Delayed dispatches from Ankara said Britain had asked the Turkish government that its right would not be trampled in any post-war settlement.

"The German command, apparently subordinating for the time being its long and costly effort to break the Red defenses on the Moscow approaches, appeared last night to have turned part of its main army of the center sharply southward to aid in the enormous pressure being put upon the Ukraine by the southern Nazi wing."

This suggested the development of the most grandiose maneuver for encirclement attempted since the beginning of the invasion, if not in history.

Too, it supported earlier indications that the Germans were preparing a surprise effort at whatever cost to conquer the Ukraine before the approach of bad weather.

Moscow's regular communique early this morning merely reported continuing fighting in the Ukraine—about Bel Tserkov to the southwest of Kiev and Korosten to the northeast—about Smolensk at the center—and in the Estonian sector. The implication was that Soviet positions had not materially changed.

News of the surprising deflection of the central German thrust came in the chain of the Nazi command that its forces had made a widening breakthrough to a point 62 miles southeast of Smolensk, the heart of the Soviet center, and in the process had "partly annihilated and partly encircled" a Russian body of untraced size.

This was accompanied by the claim that German shock troops advancing far to the south below Kiev had overrun strong Soviet field positions, taking 45 bunkers and at least 6000 prisoners and killing twice that many Red soldiers.

In this area, it was said in Berlin, the apparent assignment of the Nazis was to sweep through for an eventual encirclement to meet the eastern German forces of the center which now are moving southeast. The grand purpose would be only to isolate Kiev, which is the Ukraine's strategic Black Sea port.
