King Candidate For Lake Mary Board

Former Lake Mary city commissioner Ken King Tuesday announced his candidacy for seat five on the commission. The election is Sept. 3. Seat five is held by Burt Perin chief who announced last month he would not seek re-election. King, a 10-year resident of Lake Mary, has been involved in city politics for the last six years. He served on the Planning and Zoning Board in 1979 and 1980 and on the city commission from 1980 to 1984.

"I'm concerned about all the growth the city is facing," King said Tuesday. City Clerk Carol Edwards said King filed his papers and qualified for the seat at 3 p.m. Tuesday. At noon Tuesday, two other announced candidates, Buzz Petros and Charlie Webster, filed their papers and qualified for seats one and three. Under Florida law, candidates must open campaign accounts, fill out weekly expenditure reports and not

Sanford Hedges On Gasoline Tax

By Rick Brunson
Herald Staff Writer

The Sanford City Commission has agreed in part to an interlocal agreement with Seminole County on a 2-cent per gallon, 30-year gasoline tax. The commission endorsed the formula for distributing revenues from the tax, but refused to approve a paragraph calling for the 2-cent increase over the existing 4-cent tax. The commissioners refused to sign the agreement, saying the paragraph gives the impression the cities are asking the county to levy the 2-cent tax increase. The county itself should levy the tax, they said. Instead of signing the agreement, the city said it would send a letter to the county saying it approves the distribution of the revenues but not the paragraph asking the cities to endorse the tax increase. The city commission's action may or may not mean the agreement has been finalized or killed, according to Sanford and county officials. Deputy County Attorney Robert McMillan said today he had been assured by Sanford City Attorney William Colbert that the city's action was an actual approval of the agreement. But he was awaiting the letter from the city today. "I assume Sanford is going to tell us at some time," McMillan said. But Colbert said today it will be up to the state to determine if the city's partial approval of the agreement satisfies its requirements for the county to distribute revenues from the tax. He said the commission could not take official action Monday because it was in a workshop session. "I don't know how the state will look at that," he said. The commission initially approved the distribution formula at its June 24 meeting, but it's partial approval was unclear to county officials so it took up the matter again at its Monday workshop session.

McMillan told city commissioners their approval was needed that day, the deadline for the agreement or the county would refigure the distribution formula. The state Legislature set the July 1 deadline when it authorized counties to increase the gas tax 2 cents. By Monday, the county needed to have the approval of the cities representing 50 percent of the county's incorporated population. Altamonte Springs and Winter Springs have already approved the idea of raising the tax 2 cents but Sanford was needed to make the 50 percent requirement. Under the interlocal agreement, the county would get about 65 percent of the revenues and the cities 35 percent. The 2-cent gasoline tax goes into effect Oct. 1, if the county commission approves it at its Tuesday meeting. That approval is expected, according to county commissioners.

Ticking Again

Gwen Burke, Sanford library clerk, checks her watch against the newly installed clock at Magnolia Mall Tuesday. The clock is once again part of the Sanford scene after an absence of 24 years. The clock stood as a city landmark at the intersection of First Street and Park Avenue from 1930 to 1961. Albert Jack, owner of Certified Welding, Sanford, made a replica of the original casing utilizing its top ball and stand. The rest was rebuilt in copper. The clock will be turned off until its official dedication July 9.

Histrionics Led To Arrest Of Mass Killer

ORLANDO (UPI) — A bloody palm print and lousy acting led to the arrest of an auto mechanic on charges that he stabbed his ex-wife, 5-year-old daughter, mother-in-law, and sister-in-law with a kitchen knife, authorities say. Jerry Correll, 29, is being held without bond in the Orange County jail on four counts of first degree murder. He had a brief initial appearance today before an Orange County judge, but was not required to enter a plea to the charges. The victims were identified Tuesday as Mary Fisher Hines, 58, her two daughters, Marybeth Jones, 29, and Susan Correll, 25, and Correll's 5-year-old daughter. Police said the victims were found Monday at their blood splattered house. "It looks like somebody just went nuts," an investigator said of the crime scene. Sheriff's spokesman Randy Means said detectives had not determined a motive for the killings. Detectives said Correll appeared at the house Monday, about two hours after the crime was discovered, and demanded to be let inside. Deputies said he became upset when refused entrance. "He came to the scene and performed a lot of theatrics," Means said. Sheriff Lawson Lamar said detectives began to suspect Correll because he did not try hard enough to get into the house. "His emotions and moods were inappropriate for a man who had just discovered his wife and daughter had been killed," Lamar said. "He was a bad actor." Using a laser machine and special chemicals, investigators lifted a bloody palm print from a wall in the house and matched it with Correll's palm print. Means said. "We took his palm print yesterday and made the comparison this afternoon, brought him in, spoke to him and arrested him," Means said Tuesday. A neighbor and one of Hines' co-workers discovered the bodies Monday morning. All had been repeatedly stabbed with a kitchen knife, Means said. Each of the three bedrooms of the home — which is in a tree-lined, middle class family neighborhood — held a dead woman, Means said. The child was near one of the victims. "All the beds were unmade and all were wearing clothes that

On The Road... Team Tired, But 'Still In Race'

Two parades, one in Philadelphia tonight and a second in downtown Manhattan Thursday, await Sanford's vintage car road rally team as they close in on the last leg of their cross country trek while pampering a trouble-plagued steering system. Don and Jerry Gross had to stop twice on the road between Detroit and Pittsburgh because of breakdowns with their 1932 Model A's steering system, reported Patty Austin, Jerry Gross' secretary at his Sanford architectural firm. "When Jerry first called today, he said they were out of the race. I thought something terrible had happened to their car," she said. What he meant was they were probably not going to place high enough to bring home some cash. Ms. Austin said. "They're still in the race," she said.

The breakdowns, which the father and son team had to repair on the road, dropped them from 38th to 38th place but far from the bottom of the 78-car field. Ms. Austin reported time and miles are taking their toll, not only on the vintage vehicle — dubbed the 'Jenny Steamcleaner' — but the crew as well. "Everybody's on edge. They're tired and they want it to be over," she said. "I told him to keep a stiff

Andrew Doering, 14, grimaces in pain with a leg injury in photo at left as Sanford emergency medical technicians prepare him for a trip to the hospital following a truck bicycle collision Tuesday at about 2:30 p.m. at Second St. and Sanford Ave. In Sanford, Doering, of 1516 E. Second St., Sanford, was in satisfactory condition today at Central Florida Regional Hospital. According to Sanford police, the accident occurred when the bike ran a stop sign and was struck by the small pickup. No charge will be filed against the driver, George Shoopman, 41, of 2523 Highlawn Ave., Sanford, police said.

Israel Releases 300 Shiites

Free after 17 long and terrifying days as hostages in Lebanon, the Americans of TWA Flight 847 spoke with anger and bitterness against their Shiite Muslim captors. But along with the words of hate — one man suggested the hijackers be hunted down and killed — a few of the 39 former captives said the experience taught them a lesson. In Israel, 300 of the more than 700 mostly Shiite Muslim prisoners whose freedom was demanded by the hijackers of TWA Flight 847 were released and driven in a heavily guarded convoy to Lebanon. The men, held in a military prison at Atlit, were taken in nine buses to a checkpoint at Ras el Baiyada, 6 miles north of the international frontier between Lebanon and Israel, on the outer edge of the security zone maintained by an Israeli-backed militia. Defense Minister Yitzhak Rabin reiterated in a speech to the Israeli Red Cross that there was no link between the release of the prisoners and the freeing of the 39 American hostages from the hijacked TWA airliner. Simon Grosamayer, 57, the eucharist minister at St. Margaret Mary Roman Catholic Church in Algonquin, Ill., said he prays for the hijackers and, someday, will forgive them. Allyn Conwell, 39, the calm Texan who emerged as the spokesman during the crisis and was seen frequently in televised broadcasts from Beirut, Lebanon, said Tuesday he is aware of the controversy over some of his remarks praising the Amal militia. Arriving home in Houston Tuesday night, Conwell said there was no consensus among the hostages and he tried to explain their changing emotions during the ordeal. "Many times we were frustrated," Conwell said. "Many times we cursed Reagan. We cursed the people in Israel. We cursed our captives. We cursed ourselves. "Being Americans, we were not an homogenous group," he said. Psychiatrists familiar with hostage situations say it is not uncommon for captives to begin to identify with their captors. Peter Hill, 57, of Hoffman Estates, Ill., left little doubt that was not the case with him, saying he had "a sense of being raped by these animals." Asked what the United States should do, Hill said: "Hunt them down, arrest them, try them and kill them. It's just that simple — in a legal way." Richard Herzberg, 33, of Norfolk, Va., joined Hill in calling the hijackers "vile, disgusting animals." "I'm not a hero," Herzberg said before leaving West Germany. "I'm a vacationer on my honeymoon and I got on the wrong plane." The calls for vengeance often were spoken with memories of the beating and murder of Navy Petty Officer Robert Dean Stethem, 23, of Waldorf, Md. Many of the hostages said they heard his screams before the fatal shot was fired. Navy Petty Officer Tony Watson, 27, of Hickory, N.C., said his only grudge is against the two original hijackers who killed Stethem. "I feel that they have really violated the law," he said. "Justice should be served against the hijackers who are responsible for that kind of terror," said Dr. Arthur Toga, 33, of St. Louis, whose pregnant wife, Debra, was freed early in the hijacking. "I have no sympathy for terrorist activities no matter what the cause." Ralf Traugott, 32, Lunenburg, Mass., said he feels "very bad" about Stethem's death but has no hard feelings against his captors. "I gained a lot of knowledge and understanding," Traugott said. "I can't believe that so

Warning

Officials say 10,000 people — most of them children — will be hurt this Fourth of July by cherry bombs, firecrackers, bottle rockets, Roman candles and sparklers. That's about 1,500 more than were wounded during the entire eight-year Revolutionary War. The Consumer Product Safety Commission issued an urgent warning against fireworks Tuesday. ## IN BRIEF

Alleged Nazi War Criminal's Son Sues Government For $10 Million

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The son of an alleged Nazi war criminal says the Justice Department and government officials violated his father's constitutional rights in repeated deportation efforts, and he is suing for damages.

In papers filed in U.S. District Court in Washington, Radoslav Artukovic, son of Andrija Artukovic, charged Tuesday the U.S. government conspired with the government of Yugoslavia to deport his father from the United States.

"I believe my father is innocent. He's not a Nazi, a war criminal or a Nazi war criminal," said Artukovic, 37, a Los Angeles stockbroker, at a news conference.

The Justice Department had no comment on the suit seeking $10 million.

The government has maintained that Andrija Artukovic, 85, held top posts in the Nazi puppet government in Croatia from 1941 to 1945 and signed orders authorizing the execution and persecution of thousands of Jews, Serbs, Gypsies, Orthodox Christians and others.

A year ago, the government launched its third effort to deport Artukovic and arrested him in November when Yugoslavia requested his extradition.

Arson Blamed In Fatal Fire

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A hilltop neighborhood was turned into an inferno that killed two people, burned 52 houses to the ground and sent hundreds of people fleeing for their lives, and officials say the blaze was intentionally set.

It was the most destructive of a series of brush fires that ravaged Southern California Tuesday on a day of record-setting high temperatures, which combined with low humidity to create one of the most dangerous fire seasons in years.

The ridge line atop Baldwin Hills in the southwest area of the city looked more like Beirut after a bombing raid than a neighborhood of $150,000-$250,000 houses.

Searchers poked through the ruins far into the night, looking for more possible victims of the fire, which authorities said was caused by incendiary devices, possibly thrown from a car at two different locations.

Damage was estimated at $16 million in the worst fire in Los Angeles since flames destroyed nearly 500 homes in plush Bel Air in 1961.

Gov. George Deukmejian's office said he would tour the area today and sign the necessary papers to make residents eligible for aid.

The fire was the first to claim lives in the weeklong series of brush fires that have destroyed more than 60,000 acres — nearly 100 square miles — throughout Southern California.

Moon Moving To Halfway House

DANBURY, Conn. (UPI) — The Rev. Sun Myung Moon will finish his sentence for federal tax evasion in a New York City halfway house, which he will be able to leave in the daytime to resume his duties at the Unification Church, a prison official says.

Moon is scheduled to be transferred Thursday to the halfway house from the minimum-security camp at the Federal Correctional Institution in Danbury where he has served nearly a year of his 18-month sentence.

The Korean evangelist, founder of the Unification Church and spiritual leader of its nearly 3 million members, was convicted in 1982 of evading $150,000 in personal income taxes. He entered the Danbury prison camp on July 20, 1984.

IN BRIEF

Israel's Biggest Labor Union Pleased With Strike; Negotiating

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Israel's dominant labor organization, pleased with the success of a nationwide strike against new economic austerity measures, suspended further job action and moved to negotiate with the government.

To protest the measures, some 1.5 million workers reportedly took part in the daylong general strike that paralyzed the country Tuesday.

The austerity program calls for a nearly 19 percent devaluation of the Israeli shekel, a $750 million budget cut, the firing of 9,000 civil service and public sector workers, and a 45 percent to 100 percent increase in the prices of subsidized transportation services and various food products.

It also includes an immediate across-the-board 17 percent increase in the prices of most other goods, followed by a three-month wage and price freeze.

Communists Outraged Over Film

PARIS (UPI) — French television aired a controversial documentary about France's World War II Resistance that so angered the Communist Party it was banned just before the original broadcast date.

The program, titled "Retired Terrorists," accused the Communists of exploiting a group of immigrants, mostly Jews, and then "cynically handing them over to the Nazis" for execution.

The film originally was scheduled to be seen June 2, but the Communist Party managed to force a ban on its being aired, prompting a monthlong uproar that drew front-page headlines.

The ban, in turn, sparked an outcry over censorship and the state-funded Antenne Two network finally broadcast the film Tuesday night followed by a televised debate among historians and former resistance fighters, including former Prime Minister Jacques Chaban-Delmas.

'Low Expectations' Summit Set For November

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev, long-distant rivals in the nuclear-tipped competition of the superpowers, are on course for a fall summit to size up one another and galvanize arms talks.

With U.S. officials engaged in a game of semantics to lower expectations of the outcome, a simultaneous announcement of the Nov. 19-21 meeting in Geneva, Switzerland, was to come today in Washington and Moscow.

Reagan confirmed the deal had been struck with a nod and a wink as he returned to the White House Tuesday for a welcome-home ceremony for the last contingent of Americans held hostage in Lebanon.

State Department spokesman Bernard Kalb told reporters Reagan, "has exchanged views with Gorbachev," on issues dividing the two nuclear powers and "looks forward to meeting with him to continue this work."

Principal among those problems is the lack of progress in the arms talks under way since March 12 in Geneva where U.S.

Reagan

and Soviet negotiators are discussing strategic arms, medium-range nuclear missiles and weapons in space.

Secretary of State George Shultz is scheduled to hold a news conference today, presumably on the summit.

One administration official likened the summit's purpose and expected outcome to the September White House meeting between Reagan and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, "where they got to know each other."

Those talks helped lay the groundwork for the Geneva arms talks which ended a 15-month hiatus caused by five years of chilled relations and heated rhetoric between Washington and Moscow.

A senior State Department official, speaking on the condition of anonymity, later said calling the meeting a get-acquainted session, "sort of implies the conversation will be sort of semi-social, and I think that any meeting between heads of state — between heads of state of two such important countries — one would expect there to be genuine substantive exchanges."

"Certainly that's what we would want," the official said.

Word of the meeting coincided with a Kremlin shakeup that saw Gorbachev remove a rival for power from the Politburo, elevate Gromyko to the ceremonial post of president and install a fast-rising protégé as Gromyko's successor.

Gorbachev, who became general secretary of the Communist Party in March, broke with tradition by naming Gromyko, 75, president rather than taking the post himself.

Every Soviet leader since Nikita Khrushchev in 1958 has assumed the presidency to reinforce his role as undisputed leader of party and state.

Eduard Shevardnadze, 57, who only Monday was promoted to the 13-member Politburo, was given the post Gromyko has held for 28 years. Stripped of power in the reshuffling was Grigori Romanov, 62, once seen as Gorbachev's chief competitor for Kremlin leadership.

The summit, called down Monday by Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin and Shultz, advances a peace offensive Reagan kicked off almost 18 months ago after years of sharp anti-Soviet rhetoric.

The timing suits Reagan who was eager for a face-to-face meeting with his Soviet counterpart early in his second term, while the location is more a victory for Gorbachev, who was reluctant to accept an invitation to meet the president on American soil.

The invitation to meet in the United States was based on the fact that the last two summits hosted by one of the superpowers — meetings between Presidents Richard Nixon and Gerald Ford and Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev — were held in the Soviet Union.

The last summit was the 1979 meeting in Vienna where President Jimmy Carter and Brezhnev signed the SALT 2 arms limitation agreement.

Striped Uniforms At Heart Of Flareup

Prison Rioting Ends With Only 1 Death

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — More than 24 hours of violence involving 2,000 rioting convicts ended with one inmate clubbed to death and more than $1 million in damage at four Tennessee prisons.

Associate Warden Ken Aydelotte said guards at the Morgan County Regional Correctional Facility in Wartburg were trying to coax about 200 prisoners back into their cells Tuesday night when Sammy Vestal, 32, serving a life sentence for murder, was struck with a baseball bat by an unknown assailant. Aydelotte said Vestal died en route to a hospital.

Aydelotte said prisoners agreed to return to their cells about midnight after prison officials allowed them to meet with reporters to outline their grievances.

Earlier Tuesday, the 200 Morgan County inmates had piled new striped uniforms in the prison yard and set them on fire.

Rioting erupted at Turney Center in Only Monday night — the first day Tennessee prisoners were required to wear blue uniforms with an inch-wide white stripe on each leg of the pants.

Prisoners said they were upset about the uniforms and prison conditions, including poor food and overcrowding.

About 750 Turney convicts held other inmates as hostages and stationed themselves on rooftops and under buildings. Officials acknowledged the inmates had "control" of the 55-acre prison compound.

Officials said news of the Turney riot sparked uprisings Tuesday by 800 inmates at the main prison in Nashville, 300 at Southeastern Regional Correctional Facility at Pikeville and 200 in Morgan County.

Tactical units and dozens of state troopers armed with rifles and tear gas surrounded the Nashville prison where inmates held guards, threatening to kill them.

"A lot of them were talking that way about killing," said guard Frederick Gant, a hostage for several hours.

The inmates agreed to return to their cells late Tuesday afternoon when Corrections Commissioner Steve Norris granted their demand to meet with reporters inside the prison.

Three reporters chosen by a coin toss were taken into the prison to listen to grievances presented by 10 inmate representatives. Shortly after the press conference, the riot ended.

Pikeville prisoners also demanded a public airing of their complaints. Prison spokesman Wayne Measles said rioters ended the uprising after an interview with a television reporter.

Former Haig Aide Faces Embezzlement Trial

WEST PALM BEACH (UPI) — A retired Air Force general and former top aide to Alexander Haig is scheduled to stand trial Monday on charges of embezzling $19,000 that he says was used for covert CIA operations in Southeast Asia.

The case against retired Maj. Gen. Richard B. Collins has attracted much attention because of the possibility that evidence involving national security matters, including the use of secret intelligence funds, will be presented by his lawyers.

In a three-page order released Monday, U.S. District Court Judge James C. Paine refused to dismiss the charges. The judge said he found no evidence of misconduct by Justice Department lawyers who presented Collins' case to a second grand jury just two days after another panel refused to indict him.

The second grand jury indicted him on charges of diverting U.S. funds from a secret

Collins denies any wrongdoing, saying he took the money from secret U.S. government accounts in Switzerland and spent it in Southeast Asia and elsewhere for secret CIA operations.

Swiss bank account to his personal account in 1977 and keeping $19,000 in interest earned on the money. The six-count indictment was handed down just four days before the statute of limitations was to expire in 1983.

Collins, 55, claims he was the target of overzealous prosecutors.

Collins was a high-ranking officer in the U.S. European Command in West Germany and a top aide to former Secretary of State Haig, NATO commander at the time the alleged crimes were committed.

He denies any wrongdoing, saying he took the money from secret U.S. government accounts in Switzerland and spent it legitimately in Southeast Asia and elsewhere for secret CIA operations coordinated by his Air Force office.

Lawyers in the case traveled to Washington, D.C. Monday to take a deposition from Haig who said he knew nothing of the secret bank accounts.

According to Collins lawyer, Michael Burnbaum, Haig denied having ordered Collins to visit a nation identified only as "C" to persuade its president and joint chiefs of staff to cover up U.S. military flights over the foreign country.

Haig's testimony was taped because his schedule calls for him to be on the West Coast during the trial.

If convicted of the charges, Collins could face a maximum 60-year prison term.

Mengele: Dead But Not Forgotten

A macabre twist to the 4th anniversary observances of the end of World War II has been the discovery of the remains in Brazil of the "Angel of Death," Josef Mengele. He was the Nazi doctor who met Auschwitz-bound inmates at the railroad station and selected which were to die and which to suffer from sadistic medical experiments.

Brazilian authorities say that a drowning victim buried six years ago under the identity of an Austrian, Wolfgang Gerhard, is actually Mengele. And Mengele's son, Rolf, in Germany has said the corpse exhumed in Brazil is that of his father.

It would appear that this notorious Nazi has cheated justice, at least on this Earth.

Less questionable appears to have been the shameful willingness of the German emigre community in South America and officials in Argentina, Paraguay and Brazil to shelter Mengele and other war criminals. The pronouncements from the Mengele family back in Germany also lead one to wonder whether relatives and others there assisted Mengele's 35-year flight from justice.

Time is on the side of the Menges who escaped at the war's end 40 years ago and remain free. The few who have been forced out of the woodwork in recent years tend to be sickly old men soon to face the ultimate judgment.

They should not be forgotten, however. And it appears that they won't. One positive result of the intense world-wide fascination with the Mengele case — coming on the heels of the controversy at the Bitburg cemetery — has been a sobering reminder of a man's capacity for evil through the Holocaust. This concern with the Holocaust also has revived interest in other examples of genocide: the massacre of Armenians during the closing days of the Ottoman Turkish Empire, the Khmer Rouge's execution of millions of Cambodians and the all too many cases of Soviet atrocity.

In addition to never forgetting such holocausts, a challenge for us all is to be vigilant in preventing future ones.

FIST Sting

FIST is the Fugitive Investigative Service Team of the U.S. Marshals Service. In a sting-type operation over the last 11 years, it arrested 3,700 fugitives in Florida. The quarry was lured out of hiding by offers of free trips to the Bahamas, expensive dinners and other "prizes."

A similar scam netted 3,300 last year in eight Northeastern states.

Some fugitives were so convinced the trips and prizes were for real that they asked to "reschedule" their trips. One woman begged the arresting agents to wait a week so she could take her free trip first.

Defense attorneys will accuse the government of entrapment. But these were fugitives who were intent on dodging the law. They deserved entrapment.

Toot Sweet

The Defense Department audit agency punished a Pentagon whistle blower who revealed price improprieties at Pratt & Whitney Co.

The whistle blower, now retired, complained.

After an investigation, the civil service board fired the director of the audit agency.

Toot sweet for the whistle blower.

This Government Report Demands Reading

WASHINGTON — A little-noticed government report on what to do about declining reading achievement in our schools says that "dramatic improvements" can be made if basic reading-skill practices are implemented in the classroom.

The study has been virtually ignored by the national news media — which is unfortunate, since it contains much that should be required reading for every teacher, principal, school administrator and parent in the country.

The report, "Becoming a Nation of Readers," was funded under a contract from the Department of Education's research arm, the National Institute of Education.

Following the administration's landmark 1983 educational survey, "A Nation At Risk," this latest report provides us with further evidence that serious deficiencies exist in our public-school curricula. Among its disturbing findings:

- "The amount of time children spend reading (independently to themselves) in the average classroom is small." Silent reading time in a primary-school class was found to be only seven or eight minutes a day. By the middle grades, a mere 15 minutes a day was being spent on silent reading.

- Reading independently outside of school occurs even less. A study of a group of fifth-graders found that 50 percent of them read four minutes per day or less; 30 percent read two minutes or less a day; and 10 percent never read at all.

- However, these same fifth-graders averaged 130 minutes per day watching television, or almost one-third of the time between the end of school and bedtime.

Among the report's recommendations:

- Children should spend more time in independent reading, which means at least two hours a week by third grade.

- Parents should read to preschool children, take them to libraries, buy them more books and limit the amount of television they may watch.

- Children should spend less time completing workbooks and skill sheets, because these activities are not "related to reading achievement."

- Teachers should maintain classrooms that are both stimulating and disciplined. They should "create a literate classroom environment."

- Reading textbooks tends to be simplistic and dull. They should be interesting and comprehensive. The two are infrequent in most American elementary-school classrooms. Writing is a valuable tool in its own right, and it also "promotes ability in reading."

- Oral reading — which too many schools minimize or avoid altogether — should be emphasized early and used throughout the grades. "Frequent opportunities to read aloud make sense for the beginning reader," the study says.

- The amount of time children spend reading silently should be markedly increased.

- Children should write more. Tragically, says the study, "opportunities to write more than a sentence or two are infrequent in most American elementary-school classrooms." Writing is a valuable tool in its own right, and it also "promotes ability in reading."

- If (good reading) practices seen in the classrooms of the best teachers in the best schools could be introduced everywhere, the report says, "improvements in reading would be dramatic."

Hawking Tax Reform

Now that President Reagan has announced that his tax reform proposal is the start of a new American Revolution, it's worthwhile to consider the lifespan of such stalwart promises of economic progress — his, and others'. It seems so long ago since the Reagan administration's economists, in their first few months in office, trumpeted a growth rate of 3 percent for 1982. Instead, the economy declined 1.8 percent. Chastened, they scaled expectations back to 1.4 percent for 1983 — erring on the low side by more than 6 percent.

The President's men aren't alone — most private economists guessed that the nation's output would advance by 3 percent at best last year. They then had to swallow a full increase in GNP growth of 6.7 percent.

Now, hawking tax reform, Mr. Reagan and Treasury Secretary James Baker pledge that the President's plan would be an incentive to growth, and would bring in roughly the same amount in tax revenues as would be collected without reform. "Neutrality" is the new buzzword, suggesting that the tax package means neither a net increase in revenues nor a decline. For 1986, according to the administration, corporations would pay an additional $18.9 billion, more than offsetting revenue reductions from individuals of $17.9 billion. By 1987, the difference in the projection nearly evens out, with business anteing up $26.1 billion more, as individuals pay $26 billion less.

Certain other economists, such as Nartman Behravesch of Wharton Econometrics and even those on the staff of the pro-reform House Ways and Means Committee, seem to want to be pests however. They predict revenue losses in the neighborhood of $40-$60 billion.

With contrasts like these, someone is obviously very far off base.

The clue to the answer lies beyond the realm of econometrics — the "static analysis" the professional economists are so unfortunately addicted to. Instead, it emerges ominously from the political themes evoked by the language of tax reform — or, indeed, of any such vast "reform": that is, the assumption that tax policy can be made simple by ignoring a reality both mysterious and complex: the economic behavior of human beings. The Reagan plan proceeds as if a heavier tax burden on business enterprises will result in commensurately higher revenues, as if businessmen will not alter their investment planning, but will blunder on with it, like the lemmings over the cliff.

Creditors Waiting For Hart To Make Good

By Jack Anderson and Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — Sen. Gary Hart, D-Colo., isn't the first political candidate who has left his creditors high and dry. But the financial fallout from Hart's 1984 presidential bomb is a particularly sharp illustration of this precarious part of politics.

Campaign debts are a two-edged sword, cutting both the creditors and the candidates. Those who extended credit to Hart last year for goods and services in his unsuccessful bid for the Democratic presidential nomination have lived to regret it. And some small businesses are in bad financial shape as a result.

But there's danger in the situation for Hart, too. If he doesn't repay his 1984 creditors or settle with them, it could hurt his 1986 Senate re-election effort, to say nothing of any run for the White House in 1988.

Given a slick enough explanation, the voters might forgive a certified deadbeat; businessmen won't. Hart could find himself forced to pay cash on the barrelhead for everything from bumper stickers to telephones and transportation. That could be a serious drawback in a profession that traditionally operates on the cuff to take advantage of sudden breaks.

When Hart's presidential bubble burst last year, he wound up $5.1 million in the red. Of that, $1.4 million was in bank loans. The remaining $3.7 million is owed to businesses.

The small creditors — those least able to swallow the bad debts — seem to have gotten the short end of the stick when Hart made his repayment decisions. Custom Print of Washington, D.C., which provided material for direct-mail fund solicitations, is one that got shorted.

"Hart owes my client a principal amount of $38,000, and we were given an assurance in writing that we would be repaid in full," Custom Print's attorney, Howard Ross, told our reporter Mark Woolley. "They never had enough money to cover their finances, and when they failed to repay, we filed suit."

Custom Print finally agreed to take $4,000 plus 12 to 13 cents on the dollar for the remaining $34,000 owed. Bad as that was, it's better than the 5 cents on the dollar Bob Salta of Direct Mail Management, also of Washington, says he's been told he'll get on the $22,000 Hart owes him.

In addition to the $600,000 or more that Hart owes to direct-mail

Males Dominate High-Tech

By Lidia Wasowicz
UPI Science Writer

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI) — Computer-related occupations remain highly segregated by sex, with women earning lower wages and men dominating in the high-paying executive posts, a new study shows.

"High tech may produce integrated circuits, but it does not necessarily produce an integrated work force or eliminate earnings differences between men and women," said Myra Strober, director of the Institute for Research on Educational Finance and Governance at Stanford University.

Strober and Carolyn Arnold analyzed U.S. census data to conclude that "the computer field was sired by the fields of mathematics and engineering and the newly born prestigious and technical jobs quickly took on the gender designation of the parent fields."

Computer engineering and electronic technical work employ few women, while data entry, which quickly took on the characteristics of clerical work, became a virtually exclusive female preserve, said Arnold, a Ph.D. candidate in the School of Education.

"Production work, too, is predominantly female."

In the beginning, most computer programmers were female.

But very shortly after the computer was introduced, men began to fill the emerging jobs," Strober said. "Although women have increased their representation in the jobs of both computer programmer and analyst, women remain less than one-third of the incumbents of these occupations."

The researchers analyzed census data in three computer-related fields: computer scientists/systems analysts, computer programmers and computer operators.

The researchers found, "The higher the status and the pay, the more white men were over-represented compared to the labor force as a whole, and the more minority men and women of all racial and ethnic groups were under-represented."

"Women are still more likely than men to exclude themselves from advanced science and math training. Men who work in these intellectually challenging and highly lucrative sectors may develop a 'culture of engineering' in part to keep women out."

"Women need to be made more aware of the channeling that leads them into less prestigious, lower paying occupations or industries and be helped to develop strategies to counteract this channeling," she said.

JEFFREY HART

Liberal Jefferson

On the Fourth of July we celebrate the Declaration of Independence, one of our founding documents. It is worth reflecting upon the fact that though its author, Thomas Jefferson, might be called a liberal in 18th-century terms, the Declaration is at odds with present-day liberal feeling at every crucial point.

When I say that Jefferson was a liberal in 18th-century terms, I mean that he had a greater distrust of government than Hamilton or Washington, more sympathy with the French Revolution than most of the other founders, was more of a states-rights man than most of them, and had a fully developed theory of individual rights.

But the Declaration is an outrage to contemporary liberalism.

Not the least of its offenses is that it ends with a loyalty oath. The signers "pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor."

Now we know what present-day liberals think of loyalty oaths, pledges of allegiance and so on. Present-day liberals abominate them. For one thing, they smack of a superstitious attachment to what liberals sometimes call the "nation state" — to distinguish it, of course, from a particular entity named the United States of America. The "nation state" is understood to be a selfish entity, as over against some more nebulous "family of man," or perhaps even the United Nations.

There is also a residual embarrassment for liberals concerning loyalty oaths. The ostensible objection to them is that they are insulting, because the loyalty of the liberal should not be questioned. The real objection to them is that the liberal is not loyal. He has larger things in mind.

But the offensiveness of the Declaration goes far beyond its loyalty oath. That same sentence includes language about "a firm reliance on the protection of divine Providence." The embarrassing document talks about the "Creator." It talks about "Nature's God." We know what present-day liberals think about religious expression in public places.

There is worse to come. Jefferson states that among the unalienable rights of the new "nation state" (shhh, the United States) is the "full power to levy war." We know what present-day liberals would feel about that phrase.

I now deliver a final scandal. The Declaration is more often referred to than read, and it is certainly not read in its entirety very often. But among Jefferson's complaints against George III and his government is the charge that he has "endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers the merciless Indian savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions."

Well, there it is.

The Declaration goes against all contemporary liberal feeling. Thomas Jefferson, the most liberal of the 18th-century founders, would not feel at all at home at a present-day Democratic convention, or at a contemporary faculty meeting.

Racial Dispute Ends In Arrest Of Gun-Toting 'Disciple'

An Orlando man, a card carrying, lifetime member of the Satan's Disciples motorcycle gang, has been arrested following a racial disturbance in Casselberry, police reported.

But Casselberry Police Chief Fred McGowan said today there's no indication that this is a "motorcycle gang" dispute. He said it appears to be a group of neighbors who over the past few days have decided they can't get along.

Casselberry police officer Brady Myers, one of several called to 1122 Landmark Lane for a second time at about 11:30 p.m. Tuesday, arrested the suspect after he allegedly pointed a pistol at Myers.

When police arrived at the house on both occasions Tuesday they found the resident of that home, Stanley L. Tyler, and several friends in the street arguing with a black family, the Hamiltons of 1121 Landmark Lane, Myers reported.

McGowan said Rodney Hamilton, 19, of that address, was cited Monday evening for battery, meaning he wasn't arrested but the matter was turned over to the State Attorney's Office for determination whether to file criminal charges.

Police said the problems between the groups were apparently racially motivated. Those involved were ordered to separate, police reported, but members of the Hamilton family told police that once they left the others would resume harrasing them and the fight would begin again.

Police appeared to leave the scene, but some officers, including Myers, parked nearby and watched the area. Within a few minutes and on three occasions someone opened the door of Tyler's home, yelled "nigger" and closed the door, the report said.

Myers and another officer stationed themselves outside the house and at one point several persons, including who was one carrying a gun, the report said.

The gunman pointed it at Myers when he spotted the officer. Myers said he identified himself as a policeman, drew his revolver and ordered the man to "freeze."

The men then went back inside the house and police ordered them to come out without the weapon. They did and Myers said he saw the gun on the floor beside the door where the suspect reportedly said he had dropped it.

A police check showed the .38-caliber gun, which was loaded with three rounds, had been reported stolen in Orange County in February 1982, the report said.

Charles Michael Powell, 27, who Myers said had in his possession a card saying he is a lifetime member of Satan's Disciples, has been charged with aggravated assault with a firearm, use of a firearm in the commission of a felony, and grand theft. He was being held today in lieu of $8,000 bond. No other arrests were made.

BOARD BASH

A 33-year-old Sanford man has been charged with aggravated battery after allegedly hitting his 16-year-old stepson with a board during an argument.

The trouble reportedly started at about 5 a.m. Tuesday after the suspect told the boy and some friends, who were with him in his bedroom, to "shut up," a sheriff's report said.

The stepson, James Walter Nunley, reportedly brandished the board and the suspect allegedly took it from him and hit him twice in the face, the report said. In addition to facial injuries, the boy also cut his feet as he ran from the suspect, the report said.

George E. Maunary of 252 Hickman Drive was being held in lieu of $8,000 bond.

GENUINE UNITED STATES GOV'T. SILVER DOLLARS

U. S. COIN RESERVE

U. S. Coin Reserve, a division of Verret Enterprises Inc., a chartered distributor of Government Currency, has found over 15,000 Original Silver Dollars dating as far back as 1878. These treasured coins will be released to the American Public for one week only at a guaranteed price of $54.90 each...an incredible $25.00 less than a major national advertiser. Orders received later may not be honored due to volatile fluctuations in the precious metals market, and checks may be returned uncashed.

CONGRESS MELTS MORGAN SILVER

Created by the U. S. Mint over a century ago, more than 270 million Morgan Silver Dollars were melted down during World War I by the Federal government increasing the value of these coins dramatically. After only one more minting, Morgan Silver Dollars were never issued again. Their silver content then as today is almost one Troy ounce of .900 fine silver. Despite fluctuations in the price of silver, Morgan Silver Dollars have had an average annual appreciation of 26.4% in value over the last 10 years alone!

PRIVATE INDUSTRY MELTS U. S. SILVER DOLLARS

In January of 1980, silver hit a record breaking $50.00 per ounce, triggering a second massive melting of Silver Dollars. The combination of these two major meltings has resulted in Silver Dollars being more scarce than ever. We have been approached by the European Markets for these rare coins, but we feel they should be in the hands of the American Public. In consideration of the fewer number of these coins available, we guarantee an increase in value that could be over 60% yearly. Which means in five years they could be worth up to $575.66 apiece.

SILVER DOLLAR STOCKPILES FOUND

Our find of over 15,000 original Silver Dollars will be released from guarded vaults to the American public only through this notice! Most coins are up to 105 years old and guaranteed to be in brilliant uncirculated condition. Also, these coins are guaranteed to be genuine U. S. Gov't Issue and are accompanied by a numbered Certificate of Authenticity to that effect. We can only guarantee this price for one week due to the volatility of the precious metals market.

STRICT LIMIT

Since our price of $54.90 each is an incredible $25.00 less than a major national advertiser, we expect an avalanche of orders to come pouring in. Therefore, we advise you to get your order in early before the strictly limited supply at this price is sold. We offer a 10-day examination period for each order at which time they may be returned for a full refund. A limit of five hundred coins per order will be strictly adhered! Avoid disappointment. ## Drug Sideline Ends Work Release

A Seminole County jail inmate, while on work release, allegedly made a deal to deliver an ounce of cocaine to undercover Seminole County drug agents Tuesday. He has been charged with trafficking in cocaine.

Carl Lando DuBose, 25, of 1755 Magnolia Drive, Winter Park, who is serving a year in the county jail after a February conviction for violently resisting arrest by an Altamonte Springs policeman, was arrested on the drug charge at 12:45 p.m., a Seminole County sheriff's report said.

Seminole County Sheriff John Polk said today DuBose had been assigned to work at Courtney Construction Co. in Orlando, since June 5. Polk said he didn't know at this point where DuBose allegedly got the cocaine, but apparently he had not brought any cocaine into the jail.

DuBose's work release job has been canceled, Polk said.

The drug arrest came after Seminole County drug agents were tipped by state Drug Enforcement Agency agents that they had been in contact with the suspect and he could reportedly make delivery of one half ounce of cocaine, the report said.

County agents, wired with a listening device met with the suspect at McDonalds on state Road 434, Longwood at about 12:27 p.m. He got into their car told them he had an ounce of cocaine to sell for $1,750, the report said.

The man told the agents to drive to Miller Road in Altamonte Springs, where the agents parked on the roadside and signaled other agents to move in and make the arrest, the report said.

DuBose was being held in lieu of $10,000 bond in the drug case.

spend more than $1,000 on election materials.

King, 45, a teacher at Seminole Community College since 1970, is married, has three children and said he does not mind the late night meetings that caused Burt Perinichet, Harry Terry and Colin Keogh not to seek re-election.

"There are ways to streamline city commission meetings, but meetings have to be conducted until business is taken care of," King said Tuesday.

Friday, A.R. "Doc" Jore said he plans on running for the city commission. He is also running for seat five.

Jore said he will file his papers and quality today.

All four candidates said they will be at the Community Improvement Association's building on July 4 where the city is having its annual barbecue.

Prinos and Webster plan on officially kicking off their campaign at the gathering by handing out brochures. No campaign signs can be erected in the city until 45 days prior to the election, though.

Mrs. Edwards said candidates have until noon July 26 to file their papers.

During July 4th Celebrations

Fireworks Expected To Injure 10,000

United Press International

Fireworks injure more Americans each Independence Day than were wounded by British soldiers during the eight-year Revolutionary War, and officials predict this Fourth of July will be just as bloody.

The Consumer Product Safety Commission issued an urgent warning against fireworks Tuesday, citing the case of a Nebraska man who suffered burns, a broken neck and ruptured ear drums when a M-1000 firecracker exploded in his lap.

Officials say 10,000 people — most of them children — will be hurt this holiday by cherry bombs, firecrackers, bottle rockets, Roman candles and sparklers. That's about 1,500 more than were wounded during the entire Revolutionary War.

A recent medical survey showed a 10-year-old boy setting off bottle rockets is the most likely to be burned, blinded or disfigured.

"I cannot describe the tragic feeling when we have to remove eyes from children or adults and know the injury was preventable," said Dr. R. Sloan Wilson of the American Academy of Ophthalmology.

"We spend a lot of time and money teaching kids not to play with matches and fire and then we make available to them gunpowder devices that produce heat much higher than that of a burning match," said Dr. Lawrence Berger of the American Academy of Pediatrics.

Class B devices like cherry bombs and M-80s were banned nationwide in 1976, but Class C fireworks like Roman candles, missile-type rockets, sparklers and smoke devices are still allowed in 36 states.

The 1976 Bicentennial revived interest in fireworks and since then, over-the-counter explosives have injured between 8,000 and 11,000 Americans each Fourth of July, authorities said.

These 14 states ban personal use of fireworks: Arizona, Connecticut, Delaware, Georgia, Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Rhode Island, Vermont and West Virginia.

These 10 states — Colorado, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Maine, Maryland, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Utah and Wisconsin — only allow personal use of sparklers and snakes.

Man Receives In-House Arrest For Fondling 9-Year-Old Girl

A 28-year-old Lake Mary carpenter arrested on charges of sexual battery and performing a lewd act on a 9-year-old girl has been sentenced to 2 years community control in form of in-house arrest and 13 years probation.

Robin Dale Moore, 113 Dublin Drive, was also ordered by Seminole Circuit Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr. to complete 240 hours of community service, spend three weekends in the Seminole County jail and pay $400. Public Defender's Office from having any contact with the victim.

Moore pleaded guilty as charged in March and could have been sentenced to up to 15 years in prison according to prosecutor Bob Fisher.

According to court records, deputies arrested Moore at the sheriff's department after he was questioned following a state Health and Rehabilitative Services report to lawmen claiming the man had fondled the girl and had masturbated in front of her at least three times between November and January.

many people don't understand what's going on over there.

"I don't condone terrorism but people do what they have to do. They did what they had to do to get attention."

Grossmayer struggled with his feelings of bitterness and his Christian feelings of forgiveness.

"You'll forgive me if I say I still have a little anger," Grossmayer said. "I do pray for them, and I guess in a little while I'll forgive them."

Asked if he wanted to see his captors brought to justice, Grossmayer said, "I do not believe in capital punishment."

An Force Sgt. Claude Whitmoyer, 38, of Severn, Md., also did not criticize his captors.

"The message I'm bringing is that there are other countries out there that are not as well off as we are," he said. "They need our understanding and our help."

Philip Maresca Jr., 42, of Salt Lake City, copilot of the TWA jet, said the empathy he and other hostages began to feel for the Amal militiamen who held them following the hijacking reflects genuine human emotions.

"I think we felt some empathy for them and they for us. They were hoping that this thing would come to an end."

Lamar said evidence indicates two victims awoke and struggled briefly with their assailant before being killed. He did not say which two.

Hines, a worker, went to the house around 10 a.m., but could not get an answer at the door and called a neighbor for help. They broke into the house, discovered the bodies, and called police.

Neighbors told police they had heard no noise or commotion Sunday night.

Detectives believe Correll stayed in the house for eight hours after the murders, which probably happened around midnight Sunday, Lamar said. A witness reported seeing Correll leave the house Monday morning.

Susan and Jerry Correll were divorced August 1983. She got custody of their daughter, and he received visitation rights.

A neighbor, who did not want to be identified, said she had heard screaming at the house recently.

A couple of weeks ago, I heard people fighting and screaming," the neighbor said. "A man was shouting, 'Get out!' and a little girl ran out of the house crying for help."

Americans-Nationals Battle Tonight

Sam Cook
HERALD
SPORTS
EDITOR

Tonight's Big But Saturday May Be Bigger

Tonight's baseball for the three Sanford all-star teams is BIG — but Saturday may be BIGGER.

Tonight at 8 in Tavares, the Sanford Nationals and the Sanford Americans square off in the winners' bracket final of the Sub-District Florida Little Major (10-12 year olds) League tournament. The winner earns a spot in Saturday morning's 10 o'clock championship game. The loser can come back with a win Friday to earn another shot. Then it has to beat the winner twice Saturday for the title and a berth in the district.

"Close down the banks and the businesses," says Sanford National manager Al "Skip" Mitchell. "This is the biggest game around. We should have everybody in Sanford in Tavares."

With the 8 p.m. start, the banks might not have too much business to worry about but as a precautionary measure (and for Skip's peace of mind), we better close down the drive-through windows early.

If Tavares isn't on your road map tonight, you can catch a big game two hours earlier at 6 o'clock when the Sanford Juniors play either Holly Hill or New Smyrna Beach, which ever team won late Tuesday night.

Sanford, which clipped Port Orange, 6-2, Monday, needs a win tonight for a spot in Saturday's 10 a.m. title game. A victory for manager Jim Lucas' squad would put it in the same enviable position as the major winner. The losers' bracket survivor would need to beat it twice Saturday.

Whereas, the Nationals or Americans advance to the District 4 Tournament in Leesburg, a third victory Saturday would earn the Juniors a spot in the state tournament at Pensacola.

"We're in good shape," said Lucas Monday night. "We'll probably come back with Mike Merthie Wednesday and then, if we win, have Sugar Tex (Willie McCloud) ready for Saturday."

Lucas will also have Ronald Cox available, too, after tonight. Cox twirled a sparkling four-hitter Monday while striking out 13. Dwight Brinson supplied the magic bat with three singles.

Lucas, a sound baseball man, and coach Harry Chibberton Sr., have taken the Sanford talent and turned it into a good fundamental bunch. With shrewd Sammy Edwards running the show from behind the plate, the Juniors have a leader.

"These kids want to learn and they pick up things fast," said Lucas, who pled his trade at the Seminole Pony Baseball program before Sanford. "They just need the fundamentals. They sure have the talent."

TAVARES — After the first two days of the Florida Little Major League Sub-District 3 Tournament, it is pretty evident who the top two teams are. Much to the chagrin of Orlando, Leesburg and Tavares, they both happen to be from the city of Sanford.

Tonight at 8, at the Tavares complex, the Sanford National and Sanford American all-stars battle it out in the winner's bracket final with the winner advancing to Saturday's tournament final. The loser will have to come back through the loser's bracket, then win two more games for the Sub-District title.

Wolf Branch Road, a lightly traveled yet well-known shortcut from Highway 46 (near Sorrento) to Highway 441 may seem like another International Drive at rush hour tonight around 7. Between around 6:30 and 7:30, the thoroughfare with the Twilight Zone-like name will carry a caravan of Sanford baseball fans.

The Little Nationals, who romped past Orlando, 20-0 Tuesday, have proven themselves in two straight games. The Nationals, managed by Al "Skip" Mitchell, have not made an error in two games and their pitchers, Scott Sestak and David Dunn, have allowed a total of one run and seven hits.

On the other hand, the Americans, managed by Ethel Bootsie Jackson, won their opener on Monday then had Tuesday off to prepare for tonight's game.

After Tuesday's game between the Nationals and Orlando was over, the two teams were already anxious to go at it. Mitchell and Sanford American assistant Ronnie Sippio, each claiming his team was the best, joked, "Let's go at it right now."

It appears these two teams are ready to have it each other.

"We want to play the team that says they are the toughest," Mitchell said referring to the Americans. "Anybody can see that this team (Nationals) knows how to play baseball and we'll be ready for anything."

Mitchell said he had five pitchers to choose from for tonight's game with the only one not eligible being Dunn who pitched Tuesday. Monday's pitcher, Sestak, who hurled a five-hitter and gave up only one run, is one of the many available.

Jackson also has a number of pitchers to choose from but indicated Monday that she may be ready to go with Al Perkins who she said "is the closest thing we have to Detrick Taylor." Taylor was the team's top pitcher until it was learned he was 13 years old and not eligible to play all stars.

Nationals Destroy Orlando

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

TAVARES — David Dunn overpowered the opposing hitters and was backed by an 11 hit offensive attack Monday night as the Sanford Nationals dismantled Orlando-Orlando, 20-0 in Florida Little Major League Sub-District 3 action.

Sanford National and Sanford American meet tonight at 8 in the winner's bracket final with the victor advancing to Saturday's 10 a.m. tournament final.

Dunn had a no hitter going for three innings Monday but settled for a two-hit shutout. The big righthander, who pitched for Sunnland during the regular season, struck out nine and walked only two.

David (Dunn) never could perform in the regular season because he only really had three players behind him, said Sanford Nationals manager Al "Skip" Mitchell who was also the manager of Sunnland. "He didn't have the defense like we have now."

The Sanford defense played errorless ball for the second straight game, handling eight chances without a mistake. A bloop single to right in the fourth and an infield single in the sixth, both by Andrew Boatman, were the only hits for Orlando.

The Nationals jumped out to a 1-0 lead in the first inning as the first three batters rapped hits. Anthony Roberts led off the game with a single to right off Orlando starter Boatman and Mike Dillon followed with an infield single.

Al Dixon came up next and he popped up a pitch just off the third base line in foul territory. Jerry Thomas couldn't make the play though and Dixon was given another chance. Dixon promptly deposited Boatman's next pitch over the fence in centerfield for a 3-0 Sanford lead. It turned out to be all Dunn and the Nationals needed.

"I didn't know it was gone at first," Dixon said of his 10th homer of the season. "But I knew that it had."

Sanford pulled away with six runs on two hits in the top of the second. Darrell Canada led off with an infield single, moved up on two passed balls, and scored on a double off the bat of Roberts. Those were the only two hits in the inning but Sanford took advantage of five walks, an error and six stolen bases to score five more times for a 9-0 lead.

While the Nationals were counting up an early lead, Dunn had a perfect game going.

Fans Await Becker-Leconte Clash

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — For a moment, forget John McEnroe, Jimmy Connors, Martina Navratilova and Chris Evert Lloyd.

The Wimbledon spotlight Wednesday will center instead on the rich and contrasting talents of unseeded Boris Becker and Henri Leconte.

Between the 17-year-old West German with the booming serve and the 21-year-old Frenchman with the rapier thrust returns, they can master almost any shot in the grass court book.

The Becker-Leconte clash may not feature the guile, experience and consistency of the top seeds, but it is clearly the most eagerly awaited of Wednesday's quarterfinal matches.

"I think I have a 50-50 chance (of beating Leconte)," Becker said. With victory at the pre-Wimbledon Queen's Club tournament on grass two weeks ago already under his belt — his first Grand Prix win — the West German should be the favorite.

"Boris has a lot of confidence, he also gets better results on grass than me," Leconte said. "But it's going to be a very good match."

Becker and Leconte have never met before

Tennis

and their intriguing encounter is Wednesday's final match on Center Court.

Becker became the youngest player to reach the men's last eight since 1973 when Bjorn Borg was advanced, also at age 17. Becker did so by topping his second opponent of the tournament, American Tim Mayotte.

Left hander Leconte provided the Championships' major upset to earn his quarterfinal, showing superlative skills in a four set win over No. 2 seed Ivan Lendl of Czechoslovakia.

The winner will play either fifth seed Anders Jarryd of Sweden — the only seed left in the bottom half of the men's draw after the exits of Lendl and Mayotte — or Switzerland's Heinz Guenthardt, who are first to play on No. 1 Court.

All the men's and women's quarterfinals are scheduled Wednesday, with women's defending champion Martina Navratilova opening Center Court play against her doubles partner Pam Shriver.

Fifth seeded Shriver has not won in their last 10 meetings since the 1982 U.S. Open. "We've never played at Wimbledon before so I'm looking forward to that," Shriver said.

This is the first time I've made my seeding in a Grand Slam tournament for two and a half years," Shriver added.

Chris Evert Lloyd, jointly top seeded with Navratilova, has conceded only 11 games in four matches so far. Seeking a semifinal place here for the 13th time, she takes on unseeded fellow American Barbara Potter, who has never defeated Evert Lloyd.

In the other women's quarterfinals, seventh seed Helena Sukova of Czechoslovakia plays 16th seed American Kathy Rinaldi and No. 8 seed Zina Garrison faces unheralded fellow American Molly Van Nostrand.

Ranked 155th in the world and playing her first event for three months after injury, Van Nostrand provided Wednesday's only upset among the women when she ousted fourth seed Manuela Maleeva in straight sets.

Back in the men's court, top seed McEnroe and third seeded Connors have one more hurdle to negotiate before meeting in the semifinals as anticipated.

Elliott Is 4 MPH Slower But Still Captures Pole

DAYTONA BEACH (UPI) — Bill Elliott, who dominated the first half of the NASCAR season, looked just as strong Tuesday as he captured the pole position for the Firecracker 400 with a speed of 201.523 mph.

With Elliott's Coors-Melling Ford Thunderbird leading the way, Fords dominated the speedway, capturing the top three positions.

Cale Yarborough will start in the second position and Ricky Rudd will be in the third slot.

Twenty drivers qualified for Thursday's race and another qualifying session Wednesday will determine the rest of the 40-car field.

Elliott, who was the 45th driver of the day to attempt to qualify, edged Yarborough, who had posted a speed of 201.270 early in the day.

Elliott said that because he was driving at the end of the session, he thought he would not beat Yarborough's time.

"I honestly thought Cale had it," Elliott said. "I honestly didn't feel I could beat him."

The 400 will be the first race with the new NASCAR rule reducing the maximum carburetor throttle bore on all cars from 1 11/16 inches to 1 7/16 inches. Tuesday was the first test of the smaller carburetor opening designed to slow the cars down.

Elliott said the change slowed him down about 4 mph.

That appeared to be an accurate assessment, as he set a track qualifying record of 205.114 at the Daytona 500 in February.

Rudd, who ran 199.049, said he

The top 10 qualifiers also included Terry Labonte, Geoff Bodine, A.J. Foyt, Joe Ruttman, Richard Petty, Greg Sacks and Kyle Petty.

Drivers: Middle Of Season Not Time For Rule Change

DAYTONA BEACH (UPI) — Depending on who you talked to, the smaller carburetor opening ordered by NASCAR was either a big factor in the qualifying times at Daytona International Speedway Tuesday or no factor at all.

However, most drivers agreed that the middle of the season is not the time to change the rules.

Darrell Waltrip and Geoff Bodine both said the rule change hurt the Chevrolets more than the Fords. NASCAR has reduced the maximum carburetor throttle bore on all cars from 1 11/16th inches to 1 7/16th inches.

"If (the rule change) gives the Fords a bigger advantage," said Waltrip, who had a bad qualifying run and will start the race in the 19th position. "They're trying to choke the Chevrolet to death."

"I told you back in February this would be the year of the Ford."

NASCAR

Bodine agreed. "I think it's obvious the new carburetor rule has hurt the Chevys more than the Fords," he said.

Terry Labonte, who had the best qualifying time for a Chevy, said he didn't notice any difference on the track.

"The only difference I could tell was leaving the pits," he said. "You don't accelerate as fast, but once you get on the track, it's the same," said Labonte, who will start the race in the fourth position.

"It does seem like some of the guys are having more trouble than the others," he said.

Pole-sitter Bill Elliott said the rule change should not have been put into effect in mid-season.

IN BRIEF

Day Belongs To The Danish In 4th Stage Of Tour De France

PONT-AUDEMER, France (UPI) — Gerrit Solleveld of Holland nosed his way through a thick seven-man pack at the finish line Tuesday to win the fourth stage of the Tour de France cycle race.

Solleveld raised his fist in victory as he edged out Bruno Leali of Italy, Paul Hagheddoren of Belgium, and fellow countryman Gerard Veldscholten by a bicycle length.

But the day belonged to the Danish as Kim Andersen captured the overall lead from Eric Vanderaerden. The Belgian had laid claim to the leader's yellow jersey since the race's first stage on Saturday.

Andersen, who climbed into the top 10 overall standings Monday with eight of his La Vie Claire teammates, continued his rise Tuesday by taking fifth place.

When the leaders finished, the rest of the pack was nowhere in sight. They arrived in a tidal wave 46 seconds later.

Cycling through farm country into Normandy on a warm, cloudy day, the 178 riders travelled a basically flat course of 148.5 miles between Fougères and Pont Audemer.

It was the fifth day of the 2,485-mile, 22-stage race around France that finishes July 21 with a final sprint into Paris and up the Avenue des Champs Elysees.

Creighton Placed On Probation

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — The Missouri Valley Conference Tuesday placed Creighton University's basketball program on probation for one year. No sanctions were imposed.

The conference took the action as a result of two violations, reported by the university, that occurred during the past school year.

A Missouri Valley spokesman said a player was provided an extra benefit by a representative of Creighton's athletic interests and a prospective player took part in an informal practice session in violation of an NCAA rule.

The absence of sanctions means Creighton will be eligible to compete for the regular-season championship and post-season tournaments.

The probation covers the 1985-86 school year. Creighton will be subject to review by the conference during that period.

Redskins Nab USFL's Zendejas

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Veteran Mark Moseley could be in for a tough fight to keep his job as the Washington Redskins place-kicker.

The Redskins raided the USFL for competition for Moseley and came up with the Los Angeles Express' Tony Zendejas, who General Manager Bobby Beathard declared the best the spring league has to offer.

Zendejas Tuesday was signed to a series of 1-year contracts.

But Beathard emphasized that Moseley, the NFL's Most Valuable Player in 1982, is still the Redskins' starter, unless Zendejas unseats him in training camp.

"Mark is still the player who has to be beat out," said Beathard in a statement.

Osceola, O-Twins Victorious

VERO BEACH — Jim O'Dell banged out two hits and scored three runs Tuesday night as the Osceola Astros edged Vero Beach, 3-2, in Florida State League action.

Osceola maintains a four-game lead over Winter Haven in the Central Division. Winter Haven was rained out Tuesday.

Bob Parker, the Astros' leading hitter with a 280 average, was 2 for 4.

In Southern League play, Dan Hanggie's two-run homer in the ninth inning broke a 4-4 tie and lifted the Orlando Twins to an 8-4 victory over Knoxville Tuesday at Knoxville.

Sunshine Games Begin July 10

For the sixth consecutive summer, Florida amateur athletes will have the opportunity to participate in an Olympic-styled sports festival, the Sunshine State Games.

Patterned after the Olympics, the Sunshine State Games consists of 28 sporting events, 22 of which are individual sports, three-team tournaments and three events for the physically disabled. The majority of the statewide sports festival will be held July 10-21 in Tampa.

Regional festivals including men's basketball, men's and women's soccer and men's and women's softball will be held in four areas of the State on two consecutive weekends, June 22 and June 29. These festivals will qualify teams to advance to the State Games Finals.

Although each of the individual sports vary in age divisions and qualifying method, most require no qualifying in order to advance to the State Finals.

Nationals Thrive On Line Drives

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Last year's National League all-stars of the Altamonte Springs Little League sent pitching staffs running for cover with an awesome display of power at district, state and southern region tournaments.

Manager Jerrey Thurston's 12-year-olds hit home runs all over the state as they marched to a spot in the Little League World Series at Williamsport, Pa. They finished second to Seoul, South Korea.

One year later, another National League all-star team is preparing for District 14, Division 2 competition. It will meet West Volusia at DeLand on Tuesday, July 9. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Before any comparisons are made between this year and last, however, Altamonte skipper Duke Plecones would like to make one thing perfectly clear. "There is no way we have the power that the Nationals had last year. That was an awesome hitting team."

The Duke nevertheless, would like to point out there is more than one road to Williamsport. "We are going to be a real strong base-hitting team," he said. "We've got as good a line-drive hitters up and down the lineup as you'll see."

"There isn't a kid on this team I don't have confidence in. I think everyone of them can go up there and hit a line drive. I'm really excited about this team.

Plecones said he expects the first four hitters in his lineup to be the most consistent. Matt Albert, brother of last year's National first baseman Danny, will lead off and play second base. Chris Plecones, Duke's son, bats second and plays shortstop. Andy Spolski will pitch the first game and bat third. Neill James will patrol center field and bat fourth.

"We expect a lot of production out of those four hitters," said Plecones, who is assisted by Jim Barfield, Nate James, Frank Harner and Rudy Callahan. "All are good contact hitters and Neill and Andy can hit with power."

Plecones said several positions are still up for grabs. A pair of good sticks — Travis

Lloyd and Matt Ferguson — are battling for the first base job. Another strong hitter Billy Rippard is the leading choice at third. Pete Joseph and Ricky Johnson are going head to head for the catcher's job. Chris Barfield, an 11 year old, is filling the backup role for the middle infield.

Center field is set with either Spolski or James. When one is pitching, the other will handle center. "That's our 1-2 punch on the mound," said Plecones. "Both are big strong kids who can handle the workload. We'll go with them as long as they throw strikes."

Plecones said Spolski is overpowering when he's on and also has a good curveball. James, too, relies on the heat. "The fastball is Neill's out pitch," said Plecones. "He's got a little bit of a curveball, too."

The fiercest competition is for left field where Ferguson, Dave Robison and Scott Davidson are in a three-way battle for the starting job. Sean Spivey and Eric Vuolland are vying for the right field spot.

Plecones said his son and Spivey would be used as relief pitchers.

Along with the base-hitting attack, Plecones said his team will be strong defensively and swift on the basepaths. "Our defense should be A No. 1," he said. "Chris and Matt are looking real good as a double play combination and we have good speed in the outfield."

through two innings, striking out two in each frame.

After the Nationals failed to score in the top of the third, Dunn walked the first two Orlando hitters in the bottom of the inning. A wild pitch moved the runners to second and third but Dunn settled down and caught the next three hitters looking at third strikes to retire the side.

The Nats added three more runs in the top of the fourth on one hit, that being an RBI single by Roberts, his fourth consecutive hit of the game. Roberts was hitless in his last two at bats but went 4 for 6.

Orlando broke up Dunn's no-hit bid in the bottom of the fourth when Boatman looped a single to right to lead off. Dunn then set the next three men down in order.

Three more runs in the top of the fifth pushed Sanford's lead to 15-0. Dunn's RBI single was the only hit in the inning and Calvin Donaldson added an RBI groundout.

After Dunn set down Orlando in order in the bottom of the fifth, the Nats tacked on five more runs in the top of the sixth. Tommy Hampton and Donaldson smacked RBI singles in the inning. Alex Hayes drove in a run with a fielder's choice and Robert Redding also singled.

Dunn got the first two hitters in the bottom of the sixth then gave up an infield single to Boatman before retiring Chris Dawson on a grounder to short for the final out.

Tonight, the Nationals will be playing their third straight game while the Americans have had a day off.

The starting defensive alignment for the Nationals the first two games had Darrell Canada catching, Mike Dillon at first base, Roberts at second, Alonzo Brundidge at shortstop and Demetrius Presley at third. The outfield consisted of Grayson in left, Dixon in center and Shawn Washington in right.

Top reserves for the Nationals include Joe Wiggins, Tommy Hampton, Robert Redding, Calvin Donaldson and Alex Hayes, all of whom got a chance to play Tuesday.

Wimbledon's Grass Is Great Equalizer

Wimbledon? Still the greatest of them all. It doesn't really matter what tennis expert you ask or what professional player you ask almost all of them agree on one thing — Wimbledon is the one tournament that really counts. It's the most prestigious tennis tournament being played and to be crowned Wimbledon champion is the dream of most of the players.

There is just something about this tournament that puts it above the rest. None of the others, the French, the U.S. or the Australian Open can match Wimbledon for its class and the overall worth of this tournament to the professional tennis players. It's the equivalent to the World Series in baseball, the Stanley Cup in hockey, the Final Four in college basketball and the Super Bowl in football. It's quite simply the biggest event in tennis.

Of course Wimbledon is played on grass courts. It always will be. Wimbledon would shrink and pale as the king of tournaments if it ever went to another surface.

Larry Castle
HERALD TENNIS WRITER

Virtually all of the grass courts in the world have been torn up and replaced with other more easily managed surfaces. It's hard to keep a grass court in good shape, and required much money as well as time. There are very few of the pros that like to play on grass courts. Many in fact hate it. Yet they come to Wimbledon year after year and give it a try. They do it because Wimbledon is happening — a tennis happening. Even if they lose in the first or second round they stay the entire two weeks. It's the place to be. It's awesome, even for the seasoned professional.

Actually, grass is so much different from the other surfaces that it is a great equalizer and there are always many upsets and surprises along the way. Grass is a very slick, very fast surface and really favors the server and volley player, the net rusher, the very hard hitter. Most of the points played on grass are short and there are very few rallies over five or six shots.

For these reasons there are many of the men players who have a chance to win it all at Wimbledon. McEnroe, of course, is favored and I believe will win it but players like Stefan Edberg, Tim Mayotte, Connors, and Lendl, even lower ranked players like Paul Annacone and Henri Leconte have done well in the past and could do well again this year.

The slick fast conditions of a grass court tournament actually allows for anything to happen, and there are so many great players on the men's circuit now that on any given day in any given match anyone can win.

Of course Martina and Chris are seeded #1 for the women. This is the first time in history of Wimbledon that this has happened. Chris believes that it is unfair because at the time of the draw she was ranked #1 on the computer. It doesn't really matter because these two should once again meet in the finals with Martina having the edge because of the surface.

Only a few others even have a chance. Maleeva, Shriver and Helena Sukova have good power games and could pull some surprises but it's just really hard to bet against Martina on grass.

Anyway Wimbledon will again this year be the main event in the world of tennis. Even though early rounds were all washed out by the rains that come every year at this time in England, and it may take three weeks instead of two to play. Most players gladly put up with the bad bounces, the slick courts, the bad line calls and the rain.

Kosar: The Wait Ends

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Bernie Kosar officially became a member of the Cleveland Browns Tuesday and said he had agreed to a series of five-year contracts with the NFL team.

The Miami quarterback selected as the top pick overall by Cleveland in the supplemental draft, said he was glad the waiting was over.

"I've been a fan of the Browns ever since I was a kid," said the 21-year-old Kosar, a native of Boardman, Ohio. "Now's my chance to help my favorite team."

"I think I might have been the most patient guy in the world while this supplemental thing unfolded. I'm glad it's over."

Browns owner Art Modell welcomed Kosar at a news conference in a Cleveland Stadium restaurant.

Modell said Kosar officially will sign once some final details are worked out. Dr. John Geletka, a Youngstown dentist, is Kosar's financial adviser.

United Press International learned Kosar will receive $4 million for the duration of the agreement, which will include a $1 million signing bonus.

Neither Kosar, Geletka or Modell would discuss financial aspects of the contract.

"I'd say this is the agreement that is the most lucrative Browns contract (the $600,000 per year paid to linebacker Tom Cousineau) then it's close to it," said Modell.

I understand the Kosars never really got to talking strong money with Portland of the U.S. Football League. We met with his representatives for 11 hours this past weekend and worked things out.

Geletka said he was glad things have been settled, and praised Modell for his wonderful graciousness.

At this point, Bernie should put the blinders on and just concentrate on football," said Geletka, who added Kosar would report to the Browns' rookie camp at Lakeland Community College in Mentor on July 17.

Bernie already has his playbook and his uniform number (19). He's been studying the Browns' system and his learning.

It doesn't matter what Doug Flutie's making or whether Bernie can equal Dan Marino's rookie year. He has to just do his best, and that's what counts.

Kosar was accompanied by father Bernie Sr., mother Gert, brother Brian, and sister Beth. Also in attendance was Kosar's girlfriend Babette Ferris, a Miami student.

All of these people have watched out this process," said the younger Kosar. "I appreciate their support. Right now I have some conditioning to do. I'm up to about 210 pounds, and I'd like to get to 240 by the start of the season."

Cleveland coach Marty Schottenheimer, contacted in Fayetteville, N.C., where he is vacationing, said the Browns will not rush Bernie Kosar into anything.

"We want Bernie to develop at his own natural pace," said the coach. "Though we feel that will be done quickly, we'll be patient."

"Patience" appears to be the hallmark of the Kosar affair.

When we obtained the top supplemental pick from Buffalo in exchange for draft picks that included a first round selection in 1985, we anticipated legal opposition from some teams in the league," said Modell.

"I think Commissioner Pete Rozelle ruled correctly in allowing the trade to stand despite the objections of Houston and Minnesota."

"So, I'd like to thank (Browns vice presidents) Eric Accorsi and Jim Bailey for their long hours of work in this matter."

Cook Of The Week

Gailey: 'My Greatest Joy Is Doing Things For People'

By Dorothy Greene
Herald Correspondent

Retirement doesn't always mean getting out the old rocking chair, especially if one has led an active and fulfilling life. It just means having more time to do the things you love to do the most.

Our Cook of the Week is Cynthia Gailey, a Sanford "original" who is enjoying her husband's retirement, as well as her own. After a 37 1/2 year career with Southern Bell, Cynthia is an active member of the Telephone Pioneers of America and was involved in writing the Pioneer newsletter for several years.

Married on Christmas Day, 1941 to William Syd Gailey, former Sanford Fire Chief, Cynthia says, "I met him in church during some building activities. His brother-in-law was our pastor, and Syd came from Georgia for a visit. We met and after we were married he stayed here with me. He soon joined the Sanford Fire Department and has just retired after 33 years with the department."

Cynthia continues, "We are really enjoying retirement. Syd helps me with the cooking and housework too. We have always worked together at home because we both had jobs. At our family get-togethers, he has always helped me prepare things. The Gaileys are a large, loving family and enjoy coming together and eating together. Syd is quite helpful and always has been."

The Gaileys have one son, Bill, who, after serving as president of Tomlinson College in Cleveland, Tenn. for two years, is now associate vice president of Finance at Rollins College. Bill and his wife, Bernice, have given Cynthia and Syd two fine grandsons who are responsible for the pride in Cynthia's voice when she speaks of them. My oldest grandson, William, has just graduated with honors from Bradley High School in Cleveland, Tenn., says Cynthia, and will be attending Rollins College. Richard, who is 12 years old, is very active in baseball and swimming.

Cynthia and Syd are devoted members of the Church of God of Prophecy and their lives have always centered around the church family. "We have always been very active in the church," says Cynthia. "My mother and dad took me to church when I was 3 years old, so I've been involved all my life. Dad was active in building the church and parsonage. Cynthia is presently the church clerk and is the Sunday School public relations director. As Sister Ina, Watchling, of Sister La Lesterni, Cynthia performs a service to her church family by noting and honoring special occasions or just by being there to give care and comfort to those in need. Other than our family and our church life, we're just average people," says Cynthia.

"We've had several nice vacations attending fire chiefs' conventions, but most of our vacations have been in attending our church assemblies in Cleveland or family reunions in the Georgia mountains. We just enjoy being together."

Speaking of her 79-year-old mother, Mrs. Woodall, Cynthia says, "She is a beautiful person and is still active and works at Keith Elementary School. She lives just a half block from us and we like to spend a lot of time with her."

Recalling her son Bill's teenage years, Cynthia remembers his visits home from school with roommates and the enjoyment of having young people around. "We'd have a big sign up reading 'Welcome Home, Bill' and we'd barbecue chickens in the backyard. The house would be filled with teenagers. The Tomlinson college students he knew drop in now to visit and spend the night. We enjoy it; it keeps you young," says Cynthia.

To help keep her young and in good form, Cynthia likes to take long walks. However, learning to ride a bicycle is going to be the next step to good health because Syd has ordered one for her birthday and soon they'll be riding side by side.

A special collection of salt and pepper shakers that Cynthia has collected over the years has a prominent place in the Gailey home. Enclosed in a beautifully crafted showcase are perhaps more than 100 sets of the shakers, each having a special meaning or memory. A charming ceramic "fire chief" lamp in the living room reminds Cynthia of Syd when he was a handsome young fireman, and she lovingly refers to him as "my Rock Hudson."

"My greatest joy is doing things for people," says Cynthia. From one week to another, she keeps busy by putting programs together and uses her special knack for flower arranging to add a colorful theme to the occasion.

Whether cooking a family meal or preparing a special dish for a church function, Cynthia is very much at home in her bright kitchen. Many of her recipes below have memories attached, especially Syd's favorite Chocolate Cream Pie which his mother used to make, and several recipes from Cynthia's mother, who was affectionately nicknamed "Granny Perk."

CFRH Class Helps Parents Become Teachers At Home

The preschool years are the most important in a child's education. This message is the focus of a course in parenting to be offered Thursdays starting July 25 and continuing through Aug. 15 by Central Florida Regional Hospital.

Parenting is based on the Bowdoin Method, an award-winning educator's program that helps parents become teachers and children become readers. Over the course of four classes, to be held from 7-9 p.m. at the hospital, U.S. Highway 17/92 on Lake Monroe in Sanford, parents will learn techniques that will bring them closer to their children and will prepare children for school.

Interested persons may register for Parenting by calling 321-4500 or 668-4441 ext. 607.

Though the course is designed for parents of preschoolers, grandparents, day care workers or any adult with an interest in preschoolers is welcome to enroll. The fee is $10 per person or $15 per couple. Participants may elect to purchase a series of workbooks which are used throughout the course.

The Parent program is presented by CFRH and Hospital Corporation of America (HCA). HCA developed Parenting under the direction of noted Educator Ruth Bowdoin.

Mrs. Bowdoin, a classroom teacher of 35 years, developed her concept of parental training classes and tested her ideas in the Murfreesboro school system in Tennessee. She found remarkable results. Over a 5 year test period children from Bowdoin trained homes performed better in school, scored better on tests and had fewer discipline problems than children from homes without the training.

Bowdoin won an educational Pacesetter Award for her work. Her ideas and teaching methods have been adapted by HCA, which is based in Nashville, and made into the Parenting program.

The Parenting program has two major emphases. The first half is devoted to developing a child's intellectual capacity. The purpose of this study is to help parents create a home environment that stimulates learning and creativity.

The second focus is on psychological and emotional stability. This portion of the program helps parents interact with their children in ways that produce good behavior and positive self-image.

The course is taught by Reidun Lindquist, a CFRH Pediatric nurse who has been trained in Nashville to present Parenting.

"Many educators believe that over half of a child's intelligence is developed by age four, and 80 percent by age eight," says Lindquist. "I'm convinced that the Parenting program and the techniques developed by Mrs. Bowdoin are effective ways to help parents make the most of their children's formative years."

Salvation Army Traces Missing Around World

DEAR ABBY: Thanks for your information about the Salvation Army tracing long-lost relatives. I was able to find my brother whom I had not seen since 1947.

We are both so happy to be in touch with each other again, Abby. My brother lives in France, and I have been in America since 1947. I am planning to visit him next year. I am a very happy reader of your column in the Lansdale, Pa. Reporter.

M.R. IN LANSDALE, PA.
DEAR M.R.: Glad I was able to help.

Readers, the Salvation Army operates a Missing Persons Locator Service in 86 countries of the world. This is available to the public. Those interested in this service should be aware of the following basic guidelines:

1. The inquirer should be searching for a near relative.
2. The inquirer must be able to provide essential information about the missing person.
3. The Salvation Army reserves the right to accept or reject any request for services based upon considerations of reasonableness, feasibility or motive.
4. The inquirer is asked to pay a $5 non-refundable fee.
5. The inquirer may secure

Dear Abby

information and/or a missing persons inquiry form by contacting the nearest Salvation Army office in his area or by contacting the nearest Territorial Headquarters.
Addresses: 860 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill. 60610, 120 W. 14th St., New York, N.Y. 10011, 1424 Northeast Expressway, Atlanta, Ga. 30329, 30840 Hawthorne Blvd., Rancho Palos Verdes, Calif. 90274.

approach if I wanted to advance so I chose to parachute to downed aircrews where I rendered medical care. I soon earned a commission and became a medical administrator.

Male nurses have always been discriminated against. No one cares if a good samaritan is a male or female, but after the emergency is taken care of, we hear, "My God, do you mean a man took care of me?"

DALE GRISMORE,

(RETIRED)

DEAR ABBY: Hooray for "Tired of 'OK' in Arizona" who complained about the annoying habit so many people have of terminating every sentence with "OK" as though it were a question.

I am also tired of hearing "right" tacked onto every sentence when no question is asked. For example, John is telling Jane what happened the other day. "I picked up my kid sister, right?" Then she asked if I'd mind stopping for a few minutes at the library, right? So I stopped at the library, right?"

Abby, what is the point of ending every sentence with a "right"? Sign me.

Roll-Ups Can Be Centerpiece of Wonderful, Relaxing Picnic

Flaky Greek Roll-ups can be the centerpiece of a wonderful, relaxing picnic or they can be frozen and tucked away for a company entree, lunch or appetizer. Nobody needs to know how really easy these little roll-ups are. Stuffed with an intriguing filling of ground lamb, California ripe olives, garlic and allspice and rolled up in phyllo dough, they are flaky, delicious and a great conversation starter.

The trick to working with this thin, delicate phyllo dough found in your supermarket freezer, is to keep the surplus covered with a damp cloth so it won't dry out before you brush it with melted butter.

FLAKY GREEK ROLL-UPS
 1 pound ground lamb
 1 onion, chopped
 1 clove garlic, minced
 1 cup pitted ripe olives, chopped
 1 teaspoon allspice
 Salt and pepper
 1 egg, beaten
 10 phyllo dough sheets, cut in half

1/2 cup melted butter
 Brown lamb, onion, and garlic, drain off fat. Mix in olives, seasonings and egg, cool. Brush one sheet at a time with melted butter, spoon on 2 tablespoons filling. Roll up, folding edges in. Place on greased baking sheet, brush with melted butter. Bake at 400°F 15 minutes. Makes 20 rolls.

Note: Can be baked ahead and frozen. Thaw and reheat in 375°F oven 10 minutes.

CREAM OF BROCCOLI SOUP (For Microwave)
 6 tablespoons butter or margarine

1 tablespoon chopped onion
 5 tablespoons flour
 1 cup chicken broth
 2 cups milk
 1/4 tsp. salt
 Dash of pepper
 1 package frozen chopped broccoli

In a large glass bowl combine butter and onion. Cook on high power 1 1/2 minutes. Blend in flour. Gradually add broth, milk and other ingredients, stirring until smooth. Cook at medium power 7-9 minutes or until soup is thickened, stirring occasionally. Add broccoli to mixture and puree in blender. Return to bowl and reheat 3-4 minutes. Serves 4.

TOMATO QUICHE
 5 Florida eggs, beaten
 1 cup Florida milk
 1/2 cup onion
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
 2 Tablespoons flour
 4 medium Florida tomatoes, peeled and finely diced
 1/2 cup Parmesan cheese
 1 9" deep-dish pie shell

Beat eggs and combine with next six ingredients. Stir in tomatoes and cheese, reserving two tablespoons cheese. Pour into pie crust. Top with remaining cheese and bake at 375°F for 35-40 minutes. Allow 5 minutes standing time before serving. Serves 4-6.

HERBED CHEESE STUFFED SQUASH

4 medium (1 1/2 pounds) zucchini squash
 1/2 cup water
 1/2 teaspoon salt, divided
 2 tablespoons butter or margarine

1 tomato, peeled and diced
 1/2 cup soft bread crumbs
 1/2 cup cottage cheese
 1 egg, beaten
 1 tablespoon parsley flakes
 1 tablespoon onion powder
 1/2 teaspoon basil leaves, crumbled

1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
 1/16 teaspoon ground black pepper
 1/2 cup grated Cheddar cheese

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Cut zucchini in halves lengthwise. Scoop out pulp, leaving 1/4 inch thick shells. Chop pulp, set aside.

Place shells, cut side down, in a large skillet. Add water. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer covered until just tender, about 5 minutes. Drain. Arrange shells, cut side up, in a greased 12-by-8-by-2 inch baking pan.

Sprinkle with 1/4 teaspoon of the salt. In the same skillet melt butter. Add reserved zucchini pulp and tomato, saute for 5 minutes.

Remove from heat; stir in bread crumbs, cottage cheese, egg, parsley flakes, onion powder, basil leaves, garlic powder, black pepper and remaining 1/4 teaspoon salt. Spoon mixture into reserved shells.

Cover and bake for 20 minutes. Remove cover, sprinkle with Cheddar cheese. Return to oven and bake uncovered until cheese is melted, about 5 minutes. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 to 6 portions.

ORIENTAL NOODLES FRIT-TATA

Convenience foods equal creative cooking in this unique dish. Though a frittata is actually an Italian-style omelet, this one takes its cue from the Orient.

"Instant" noodles combined with packaged vegetables form a one-pan meal that's quick to fix and economical, too!

1 package (3 oz.) ramen-style oriental noodle mix, broken into chunks

1 package (10 oz.) frozen Chinese-style stir-fry vegetables
 1 1/4 cups water, divided
 1 tablespoon cornstarch

6 eggs
 Set noodle and vegetable seasoning packets aside. In 10-inch omelet pan or skillet with ovenproof handle*, combine noodles, vegetables and 1 cup of the water. Over high heat, cover and bring to boiling. Reduce heat to low and simmer, stirring once or twice, until noodles are soft, about 3 minutes.

Meanwhile, stir together cornstarch and noodle and vegetable seasoning packets. Stir in remaining 1/4 cup water. Add eggs and beat until blended. Set aside.

Uncover vegetable-noodle mixture and, continuing to cook, stir over medium heat until liquid evaporates, about 1 minute. Pour in reserved egg mixture.

Cook until eggs are almost set, about 10 to 12 minutes. Broil about 6 inches from heat until eggs are completely set, about 3 minutes. Cut into wedges and serve from pan or either slide from pan or invert onto serving platter.

*To make handle ovenproof, wrap completely with aluminum foil.

Five Sentenced In Drunk Driving Cases

The following persons have either pleaded or been found guilty of driving under the influence or having an unlawful blood alcohol level.

The first-time offenders have had their driver's license suspended for 6 months, been ordered to pay a $250 fine and court costs of $27.50, and complete 50 hours of community service. When a guilty or no contest plea is entered or if the defendant is found guilty of an alcohol-related charge, other charges are usually either not prosecuted or dismissed. Most of the first-time offenders are allowed to apply for business-only driving permits. In cases where the sentence differs, the actual sentence is reported.

—James Dawson, 31, of 741 Riverview Ave., Sanford, arrested Feb. 8 after his car was involved in a single-car accident on Orange Boulevard west of Sanford. The DUI charge was amended to willful and wanton reckless driving and Dawson was fined $250 and ordered to complete 50 hours of community service.

—Terry Cornell Green, 19, of 610 Sixth St., Chuluota, arrested April 10 on Lake Road about three blocks from the scene of an accident where his car reportedly hit a fence post at 322 Avenue E, Chuluota. He was fined $500 and his driver's license was suspended for 5 years.

—Sheila Matleuz Gresson, 35, of P.O. Box 298, Geneva, arrested March 8 on State Road 426, Oviado, after her speeding car ran off the road several times. The charge was amended to willful and wanton reckless driving and Ms. Gresson was fined $350 and ordered to complete 70 hours of community service. Her license was revoked and she can drive for business purposes only.

—Ronald Pratt, 31, of Martorie Boulevard, Longwood, arrested Jan. 9 after a motorist told police his vehicle was almost hit by a car traveling on state Road 436 toward Interstate 4. He was fined $500 and his driver license was suspended for 5 years.

—Craig Thomas Libby, 21, of 107 1/2 Garrison Drive, Sanford, arrested March 6 following a high-speed chase by a sheriff's deputy who clocked him traveling at speeds of 120 mph from Interstate 4 to 25th Street near Airport Boulevard in Sanford.

College Tuition Hike May Cut Enrollment

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A new rule that will make it harder for out-of-state students to pay cheaper, in-state tuition rates will "work a hardship" on an untold number of students at Florida universities, according to a Board of Regents official.

Vice Chancellor for Academic Programs Lucius Ellsworth said the rule — approved along with a 5 percent tuition hike by Gov. Bob Graham and the Cabinet on Tuesday — will mean tuition paid by many out-of-state students will more than double when classes begin this fall.

"This is going to work a hardship on some people," Ellsworth said. "There will probably be a chilling effect on those (out-of-state) students who don't get a scholarship or other forms of financial aid. Enrollment could drop."

Under orders from the Legislature, the Board of Regents approved the tuition rule changes during an emergency telephone conference last week. Graham said Tuesday that the concurring Cabinet votes were essentially technicalities.

Graham — who in February proposed a 12.7 percent tuition hike — criticized the 5 percent tuition increase. "It's not going to raise the amount of money we need to move us into the upper quartile," he said. "It's not going to establish a national policy for the state. It's another example of incremental decisions."

The tuition change means that next fall freshmen and sophomores will pay an average of $150 more per semester than the approximately $340 per semester they paid last year. Juniors and seniors will face a slightly higher increase.

Ellsworth said the regents expect the change to drive an undetermined number of out-of-state students out of Florida universities. He said 23 percent of new students enrolled at Florida State University and the University of Florida last year — and about 10 percent of the state's regional universities — were from other states.

Unwed Mom Gets $3.3 Million

ROCKFORD, Ill. (UPI) — A woman who claimed she became pregnant because she was raped and lost her teaching job because she was an unwed mother has been awarded $3.3 million in damages by a federal jury.

Jeanne Eckmann, 38, Tuesday was awarded $2 million in actual damages and $1.3 million in punitive damages. She had sought $6 million from the Hawthorne School District, claiming she was fired because she elected to keep her child.

Eckmann, a former novice nun who never took her final vows, claimed she was raped in 1980 in a Des Moines, Iowa motel room by a hitchhiker she picked up while returning from a Nebraska religious retreat. Eckmann never reported the rape to police. School officials and Eckmann's brother and sister have testified they did not believe Eckmann was raped.

Reruns Won't Dominate Summer TV Fare

By Joan Haneuer
UPI TV Reporter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Don't throw away your summer television schedules on the assumption there will be nothing listed but reruns — there may actually be some action on the networks during July and August.

The reason: competition. Cable proliferation and penetration has been gradually eroding the three networks' share of the television audience, which the industry considers inevitable.

"There is a continuing increase in the number of channels people can get," said David Poltrak, senior vice president, research, for the CBS Broadcast Group. "We're peddling harder to stand still — to maintain our position — and we're not getting any farther up the hill."

"We're going to have to give them a better product just to hold on to our share."

Poltrak said that could mean, among other things more original summer programming.

NBC has several summer projects.

"Our Time," a half-hour series to begin July 27 co-hosted by Karen Valentine, will feature comedy, music and nostalgia for the Baby Boom generation. Harry Anderson of "Night Court" will co-host two shows, and the series will include a special "Guess Who" caucus starring personalities from the past such as Noel Neill (TV's Lois Lane) and Jay North (Dennis the Menace).

The Motown Revue Starring Smokey Robinson" will be a series of five hour-long shows tentatively scheduled to begin in early August.

"OceanQuest" is another five-parter, exploring the world's six oceans with extensive underwater photography shot all over the world, but presented in action-adventure form. "OceanQuest" stars former Miss Universe (1980) Shawn Weatherly.

NBC also has announced a number of summer movies. Those already scheduled include "Stingray" with Nick Mancuso, the pilot for an action-adventure series that may well become a mid-season regular, to air on July 14, "The Ravagers," starring Richard Harris, Art Carney and Ernest Borgnine in a 1991 science fiction story about what is left of civilization, on July 15, and "A Change of Seasons," starring Shirley MacLaine, Bo Derek and Anthony Hopkins in a comedy to air July 29.

Among the other films on the movie schedule are "The Elephant Man," starring Anthony Hopkins, Ann Bancroft and John Hurt. "The Man with Bogart's Face," starring Robert Sacchi with Michelle Phillips, Franco Nero, Olive Hussey and George Raft. "Phobia," a whodunit directed by John Huston, and "Serial," with Martin Mull and Tuesday Weld.

NBC also will air a couple of sitcom pilots that didn't make series — "Slickers," about a tough New York City cop "banished to the boonies," on July 12 and "No Complaints," starring Diana Conova on July 17.

The CBS summer schedule involves moving its Tuesday movie back an hour to run from 8-10 p.m. to make way at 10 p.m. for the new hour-long prime time news magazine, "West 57th."

CBS will give its new series "Hometown" a headstart on the competition by premiering it on Aug. 22, giving it a five-week run in the Thursday, 10-11 p.m. slot before moving it to its regular new season time on Tuesdays, 8-9 p.m. on Sept. 19.

"Hometown" may need the edge — the show is considered by some as too adult and trendy for its time slot and "Advertising Age," the ad industry weekly, reports that CBS predicted to its advertisers that the show would receive only a 19 percent share of the audience.

Networks give advertisers honest predictions because advertisers buy the audience shares that networks predict. If the audience doesn't turn up, the networks have to repay their customers.

CBS also will be airing "I Had Three Wives," a one-hour pilot for a comedy-adventure series on Aug. 14.

ABC has already launched its summer experiment, "The Comedy Factory," a comedy anthology series of eight shows performed by a repertory company, with guest stars such as Max Gail and Jan Smithers. The series premiered June 21 and runs through Aug. 9.

For those who like their summer fun to rock, ABC offers "Rock 'n' Roll Summer Action," produced by Dick Clark, set on the beach at Malibu and premiering July 17.

Eight-Layer Salad a garden of delight.

Shape Up

Florida Bounty Offers Slimming Taste Sensations

Apple quiche a main dish for two.

Now is the time to get into shape to start the summer off right and enjoy every golden minute of it. Remember what the experts have been saying: proper nutrition combined with exercise makes you physically fit. And physical fitness is what gives that extra zest to enjoy life to the fullest.

Nutritionists advise that we should eat more complex carbohydrates and less protein and fat. Citrus fruits like Florida oranges and grapefruit answer all these requirements. They are also high in fiber, a good source of potassium and low in sodium as well as being rich in vitamin C. So plan your shape-up meals around a sturdy supply of Florida's bounty, and swing into summer.

Eight-Layer Salad is an eye-filling kaleidoscope of fruits and vegetables that will satisfy eight hungry athletes after a fast game of their favorite sport. Each layer retains its individual texture and flavor and contribute to make the salad a varied whole that's greater than its parts.

Crisp snow peas arranged with succulent grapefruit sections, sweet orange sections and snips of scallions contribute to make this an exciting eating adventure. Guests will undoubtedly add their favorite munchables when they duplicate the recipe.

Another out-of-the-ordinary diet dish is Seviche Silas Dent, as served in the Jacksonville, Florida, restaurant popular with the young, active trendsetters. The menu at Silas Dent is modern and features seafood fresh from the local waters. In his seviche, the owner uses scallops "cooked" in a fresh Florida citrus marinade of orange, grapefruit and lime juices. They create a taste sensation you will enjoy often, long after you've slimmed down to your perfect form.

Though quiche is usually beyond a calorie-watcher's limits, Swiss-Apple Quiche makes the grade. It's prepared without a crust and uses low-fat cottage cheese instead of cream. The distinctive flavor comes from slices of apple and apple juice, blended with Swiss cheese, eggs and a touch of spices.

For a great low-calorie combination, pair up lemon flavored sugar free iced tea mix and Swiss-Apple Quiche. So tasty that non-dieters will love it too!

Savory Veggies Add Excitement To Summer Backyard Barbecuing

Now is the time to cook up some excitement on the outdoor grill! If you're a backyard gardener or a fresh vegetable lover, new recipes for versatile vegetables are always welcome. Summer Vegetable Grill converts garden grown or grocery purchased vegetables to a grill top entree.

Yellow summer squash cooks well on the grill and complements the vegetable mixture which tops it. To ease preparation, combine cauliflowerettes, green beans, onion, carrot and seasonings and wrap in heavy duty aluminum foil. After grilling and right before serving, loosen the foil bundle, sprinkle the vegetable mixture with Colby cheese and spoon over grilled squash.

The heavy duty aluminum foil packet provides a convenient cooking container to steam the fresh vegetables and simplifies cleanup. There are no pans to wash and even the grill stays clean if lined with heavy duty aluminum foil.

For additional free recipes and barbecuing tips, write to: The Reynolds Wrap Kitchens, Barbecue Basics, P.O. Box 27003 Dept. FE41, Richmond, VA 22261.

SUMMER VEGETABLE GRILL

1 medium head cauliflower, cut in flowerettes

1/2 pound fresh green beans, cut in 2-inch pieces

1 medium onion, thinly sliced

4 carrots, cut in 1/2-inch slices

1 teaspoon basil leaves

1 1/2 teaspoons seasoned salt, divided

2 ice cubes

6 tablespoons butter or margarine, divided

1/2 teaspoon garlic powder

1 medium yellow squash, cut in half lengthwise

1 cup (3 oz.) shredded Colby cheese

Line the fire bowl of a covered grill with heavy duty aluminum foil. Combine cauliflowerettes, green beans, onion, carrots, basil and 1 teaspoon seasoned salt; divided mixture in half. Place each half of mixture, 1 ice cube and 2 tablespoons butter in center of a 14-inch square of heavy duty aluminum foil. Bring 4 corners of foil square up together in a pyramid shape. Fold the open edges together loosely in a series of locked folds allowing space for heat circulation and expansion. Grill in covered grill over medium-hot direct heat for 15-20 minutes. Combine remaining 2 tablespoons butter, 1/2 teaspoon seasoned salt and garlic powder; brush on squash. Place on grill cut side down. Grill in covered grill 15 to 20 minutes or until tender, brushing with seasoned butter throughout grilling time. Carefully open bundles; sprinkle each with half the cheese. Reseal until cheese melts. To serve, top grilled squash with vegetable mixture.

Makes 4 servings.

Molded loaf, a perfect summer entree, can be served warm or cooled.

Vegetable Loaf Delicious Combo Of Ingredients In Artistic Fashion

Cool, light and informal dining is a prerequisite when summer temperatures soar and Fresh Vegetable Loaf is the perfect entree for the warmer weather. The light and nutritious loaf, which can be served either the day it's made or later in the week, combines a variety of fresh ingredients in an artistic fashion.

Another favorite for this time of the year is Summertime Gazpacho, the cold vegetable soup which can be easily prepared in your food processor or blender. One of the most universally popular uncooked soups, gazpacho, which has a Spanish origin, features ripe and juicy red tomatoes now in peak supply. The refreshing soup also includes other fresh vegetables such as green pepper, cucumbers and onions.

Both recipes are perfect when searching for cool and nutritious menu ideas to serve after a hot day in the sun or the main feature for your brunch. Carefully packed, the loaf and gazpacho are portable, too, and can be enjoyed at your favorite picnic spot.

According to the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association, the produce section of your supermarket features an abundant variety of summer produce, such as sweet corn on the cob. When selecting corn look for fresh green husks. The kernels, which may be either yellow or white, should be bright and plump.

Fresh fruit, natural sources of essential vitamins, minerals and dietary fiber, are now in peak supply. The following are just a few of the beautiful selection from which to choose: berries—blueberries, raspberries and strawberries; melons—cantaloupe, honeydew and watermelons; citrus—oranges, grapefruit, lemons and limes; and apples, grapes, pineapples and peaches. So don't wait until the fall because you'll miss out on the advantages of convenient and naturally nutritious summer fresh fruits and vegetables.

Break Out The Eggs For Meals In Minutes

No time to cook is the cry heard in almost every household. There never seems to be enough time to fix nourishing, flavorful meals. What's the solution to this universal problem? Eggs!

Eggs are nature's original convenience food — prepackaged, portion controlled, ready to heat and eat. Egg main dishes take little more effort than opening a frozen dinner, yet their variety is downright incredible.

Omelets and frittatas are real flash in the pans. Just check your refrigerator or kitchen cabinets for filling ideas. And when it comes to a quick skillet supper, it's hard to beat scrambled eggs. Poached and fried eggs make great dash-off dinners, too. In fact, all of these top-of-the-range entrees cook so quickly that you'll want to have all the other dishes for the meal ready before the eggs go into the pan.

Hard-cooked eggs can also be the base for hurry-up suppers. It takes little more than 15 minutes to cook them from scratch, but if you cook them tonight while clearing the table and washing the dishes, they'll be waiting handily in the refrigerator for dinner tomorrow.

Baked dishes, such as quiches, can be time savers, too, since you can be off doing something else — setting the table, perhaps — during the baking time. Actual preparation time is next to nothing if you use a frozen deep-dish pie shell.

Yet another delightful feature of egg entrees is that they blend well with a vast variety of other foods. You can flavor egg dishes or serve them with almost any herb, spice, fruit, vegetable, cheese, bread, pasta — that suits your taste or your budget. Remember, too, that egg dishes are economical. They provide high-quality protein and a host of vitamins and minerals for merely pennies a serving.

Breaking out the eggs for meals in minutes can put time on your side. Look over the recipes here and try one out on your timetable tonight!

QUICK 'N' EASY EGGS FLORENTINE

Dash-off dinner in almost no time flat with this especially quick and easy recipe. Sprinkle-on salad toppings add a zesty touch to packaged creamed spinach and, when topped with pristine poached eggs, the end result is pretty as a picture.

1 package (9 oz.) frozen creamed spinach

3 tablespoons canned salad toppings

6 eggs

6 slices whole wheat bread, toasted OR 3 English muffins, split and toasted

Paprika, optional

Remove creamed spinach from cooking bag and place in medium saucepan. Cover and cook over medium heat about 2 minutes. Break apart with a fork and continue cooking, covered, until heated through, about 5 minutes. Stir in salad toppings. Keep warm while poaching eggs.

In 3-quart saucepan or 10- to 12-inch omelet pan or skillet, heat 2 to 3 inches of water to boiling. Reduce heat to keep water simmering. Break eggs into large bowl. Then, slip eggs into water, holding bowl close to water's surface. Cook 3 to 5 minutes, depending on desired doneness. With slotted spoon, lift out eggs. Drain in spoon or on paper towels and trim any rough edges, if desired.

Spoon about 2½ tablespoons hot spinach mixture over each toast slice. Top each slice with 1 poached egg. Sprinkle with paprika, if desired.

WARM SALAD MIMOSA

Cool, crisp greens with a warm dressing are the latest thing in cuisine. This pretty, tasty and hearty supper salad blends flavors, textures and temperatures. Simple add croissants or some crusty bread for a superb meal and top it all off with a selection of cheeses for dessert.

4 eggs

1 medium (about 6 inch) zucchini or summer squash, cut into julienne strips (about 1½ cups)

½ medium onion, thinly sliced (about ½ cup)

1 clove garlic, minced

2 tablespoons cooking oil

¼ cup red wine vinegar

1 tablespoon Dijon mustard

1 teaspoon Italian seasoning

½ teaspoon sugar

1 medium (about 5 oz.) tomato, wedged

4 cups (about 6 oz.) loosely packed, torn mixed greens

¼ cup (1 oz.) grated Parmesan cheese

In medium saucepan, put eggs in single layer. Add enough tap water to come at least 1 inch above eggs. Cover and quickly bring just to boiling. Turn off heat. If necessary, remove pan from burner to prevent further boiling. Let eggs stand, covered, in the hot water 15 to 17 minutes for Large eggs (Adjust time up or down by about 3 minutes for each size larger or smaller.) Immediately run cold water over eggs or put them in ice water until cool enough to handle, about 3 minutes. To remove shell, crackle it by tapping gently all over. Roll egg between hands to loosen shell, then peel, starting at large end. Hold egg under running cold water or dip in bowl of water to help ease off shell.

Meanwhile, in 10-inch omelet pan or skillet over medium heat, cook zucchini, onion and garlic in hot oil, stirring occasionally, until crisp-tender, about 3 to 4 minutes. Stir in vinegar, mustard, seasoning and sugar. Add tomato wedges and cook 1 minute more. Remove from heat. Arrange greens on 2 salad plates. Chop peeled eggs and arrange on greens. Pour hot vegetable mixture over eggs. Sprinkle with cheese. Serve immediately.

OMELETS QUESADILLA

This recipe is double zippy. It takes only about 40 seconds from the time the egg mixture hits the pan to turning each finished omelet out onto a plate. And, the cheese and chili filling (the quesadilla part) is bound to wake up tired taste buds!

8 eggs

½ cup water

¼ cup butter, divided

1 cup (4 oz.) shredded taco-seasoned cheese

1 can (4 oz.) chopped green chilies, drained

Mix eggs and water until blended. For each omelet, in 7- to 10-inch omelet pan or skillet over medium-high heat, heat 1 tablespoon of the butter until just hot enough to sizzle a drop of water. Pour in ½ cup of the egg mixture. (Mixture should set immediately at edges.) With an inverted pancake turner, carefully push cooked portions at edges toward center so uncooked portions can reach hot pan surface, tilting pan and moving cooked portions as necessary.

While top is still moist and creamy-looking*, fill with ¼ cup of the cheese and 2 tablespoons of the chilies. With pancake turner, fold omelet in half or roll, and invert onto plate with a quick flip of the wrist or slide from pan onto plate. Repeat for remaining omelets.

*It is better to fill omelet when it is slightly underdone. Heat retained in eggs completes the cooking.

SPANISH RICE 'N' EGG SKILLET SUPPER

This hearty entree is a fast and flavorful whole meal in itself. Serve with milk to include all four of the basic food groups. For a stronger Spanish accent, add chili powder (to taste) to the rice mixture before cooking.

1 can (15 oz.) tomato sauce special

½ cups quick-cooking rice

½ cup chopped green pepper

¼ cup water

¼ teaspoon salt

8 eggs

½ cup (2 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese

In 10-inch omelet pan or skillet, combine tomato sauce, rice, green pepper, water and salt. With a spoon, make 8 indentations, about 2 inches in diameter, in rice mixture. Break and slip an egg into each indentation. Cover and cook over medium heat until egg whites are almost set, about 7 to 9 minutes. Uncover and sprinkle with cheese. Re-cover, remove from heat and let stand until whites are set and cheese is melted, about 2 to 3 minutes.

Smart Hostess Selects Party Food That Can Be Prepared Day Before

Hosting a party can be fun and done with ease if a few minutes are spent for pre-planning. Organize your checklist and enlist a helper. Since you don't want to spend time in the kitchen while you guests are enjoying themselves, select party food that can be prepared the day before.

Two recipes that allow the hostess to enjoy the party are Fresh Vegetables In Phyllo and Avocado Salsa Dip. The phyllo dough is cut and wrapped in the shape of triangles around fresh ingredients, such as broccoli, ginger, peppers and sunchoke. This recipe can also be prepared a week before your party and frozen until the day of your affair.

Easy to prepare, Avocado Salsa Dip has as its base a delicious combination of avocado, onion and tomato. The dip can be served with a wide array of fresh vegetable dippers offering varying colors, textures and sizes, such as snow peas, yellow or red peppers, zucchini, cherry tomatoes and kohlrabi.

A variety of fresh summer fruit included on your cheese board is also an easy party idea. Or fresh pineapple chunks, apple wedges, honeydew melon and cantaloupe balls, strawberries and blueberries can be served in hollowed out pineapple shells.

According to the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association, fresh produce is an important source of vitamins and minerals. For example, avocados provide vitamins A, C and E in addition to important minerals such as potassium and magnesium. Avocados are ready for use when they yield to gentle pressure.

firm avocados will ripen at room temperature or, to hasten ripening, store in a brown paper bag.

For a party the hostess can enjoy remember the checklist and prepare as many foods ahead of time.

FRESH VEGETABLES IN PHYLLO

1 medium bunch broccoli, trimmed and coarsely chopped with stems included (about 4 cups)

1/2 cup water

1/2 cup soy sauce

1 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch

1 tablespoon vegetable oil

2 medium cloves garlic, minced

4 teaspoons finely chopped fresh ginger

1 large red pepper, seeded and finely chopped

2 cups pared fresh sunchoke (Jerusalem artichoke), finely chopped or 1 can (8 ounces) water chestnuts, drained and chopped

1 package (16 ounces) phyllo dough

1/2 cups butter or margarine, melted

Drop broccoli into boiling water for 1 minute. Remove, drain and reserve. In a small bowl or cup stir together 1/2 cup water, soy sauce and cornstarch. Heat oil in a large skillet, cook garlic and ginger 1 minute, add peppers and stir fry 1 minute longer. Add broccoli, sunchoke and soy sauce mixture and stir 1 minute. Remove from heat. Cut phyllo sheets into four lengthwise strips. Keep covered with a slightly damp towel while working with the dough. Remove 1 strip and brush with melted butter. Place another strip on top and brush with butter. Top with one more strip and brush with butter to make three layers. Place 1 tablespoon of vegetable filling at one end of strip. Fold corner over at an angle to form a triangle. Continue to fold (like a flag) until you reach the end of the strip. Repeat with remaining dough and filling. Arrange triangles seam side down on baking sheets. Bake in a 400°F oven 10 to 15 minutes or until golden brown.

To make appetizers ahead, arrange filled triangles on baking sheets, remove triangles, store in an airtight container or plastic bags. Freeze until firm. To bake, place triangles on baking sheets and bake in a 375°F oven 20 to 25 minutes or until heated through.

MAKES 48 appetizers.

AVOCADO SALSA DIP

1 medium size, ripe avocado, skin and pit removed

3 medium size, ripe tomatoes, finely chopped

1 medium onion, finely chopped

3 tablespoons chopped fresh coriander

1 medium serrano or other hot chili pepper, trimmed, seeded and finely chopped

2 tablespoons freshly squeezed lime juice

1 clove garlic, minced

1/2 teaspoon salt

In a medium bowl, mash avocado. Stir in tomatoes, onion, coriander, pepper, lime juice, garlic and salt. Cover. Chill until ready to serve. Serve with cut up fresh vegetables.

MAKES Approximately 3 1/2 cups dip.

Vegetables in phyllo and avocado dip are delicious summer party fare.

Tantalizing dessert and chilled soup add interest to summer menus.

Sensational Delights Are Pick Of The Crop

Strawberry shortcake, strawberry sundaes or just plain strawberries 'n' cream - these are just a few of the many delicious ways to enjoy this favorite summer fruit. And now that luscious, sun-ripened strawberries are back in season, it's a perfect time to add some delightful new recipes to your summer repertoire.

Chilled fruit soups are a popular new way to start off a light, refreshing dinner. Strawberry Schnapps Soup is an especially appealing dish that will lend a touch of elegance to your table. Quick and easy to whip up - who wants to linger over a hot stove on a July day? - this soup is created from fresh strawberries and DeKuyper Mountain Strawberry Schnapps, a brand new schnapps with the taste and fragrance of wild mountain strawberries. Top off your chilled soup with a dollop of sour cream for extra eye appeal. This lovely rose-colored creation can also serve double duty as a dessert; simply substitute whipped cream for the sour cream.

For another scrumptious strawberry treat, try a Strawberry Tart In A Coconut Nest. This eye-catching dessert consists of a creamy strawberry filling in individual coconut tart shells. DeKuyper Mountain Strawberry Schnapps lends extra flavor impact to this attractive dish.

These sensational strawberry treats are certain to become summer favorites.

STRAWBERRY SCHNAPPS SOUP

2 quarts fresh strawberries, hulled

1 cup water

1 1/2 cups strawberry schnapps, divided

1 1/2 cups lemon-lime soda or seltzer

1/2 cup sour cream

In large saucepan, bring strawberries, water and 1 cup strawberry schnapps to a simmer; cook 5 minutes. Puree mixture and strain; add remaining 1/2 cup schnapps. Cover. Chill soup completely, approximately 4 hours. Just before serving, stir in soda or seltzer. Top each serving with a dollop of sour cream.

STRAWBERRY TART IN A COCONUT NEST

2 packages (7 ounces each) flaked coconut, toasted, (about 5 1/2 cups)

1/2 cup sweet butter or margarine, melted

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin

1/2 cup sugar
2 egg yolks
1 cup milk
1 pint (2 cups) fresh strawberries, divided

1 cup strawberry schnapps

1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Line twelve 4-inch tart pans with aluminum foil. In medium bowl combine coconut and butter, mix well. Press coconut mixture into bottom and sides of prepared tart pans. Chill until firm. In a medium saucepan combine gelatin and sugar. Stir in milk and egg yolks; blend well. Let stand 1 minute. Stir over low heat until gelatin is completely dissolved and mixture thickens slightly, 5-7 minutes. Remove from heat; cool slightly. Meanwhile puree 1 1/2 cups strawberries in a blender or food processor. Set aside 1/2 cup berries for garnish. Stir puree and strawberry schnapps into gelatin mixture. Chill until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Fold in whipped cream. Spoon mixture into prepared tart shells. Chill several hours, until mixture is firm. To serve, remove tarts from pans and carefully peel away aluminum foil. Garnish with reserved strawberries and fresh mint leaves, if desired.

YIELD: 12 tarts.
