fach like last sesson's initial ing game, Daytona Beach and on Sanford startes Doew Shetrone for a run as Milin Smith led off the game with a triple for the Research with a triple for the Barracudas and scored on a grounder to about by Oviedo's Colin Irvine. But also like last year, Shetrone, who was named the ngue's Most Valuable Pitcher last season, settled down and retired six of the next eight batters he faced, including four by

The River Rate got to former Lake Mary standout Tim Thomas for a run in the second as another former Oviedo High star, Bridger Hunt, reached base with one out in the bottom of the second on a tough-hop that was ruled an error. Jimmy Miles followed with a perfect hit-and-run single to right, sending Hunt to third, from where he scored on a single to right by Travis Battle, evening the game at 1-1.

But that's when the game took on the air of a Spring Training contest as Sanford coach Ricky Plante started going to the bullpen, bringing on the second of the eight hurlers he would use on the

The game gave Plante, and local fans, the opportunity to see most of his pitchers work off the mound as Monday was the first time the River Rats had taken the field together. Most of the players on the squad had just got into town as several of their college seasons ended this past weekend in regional playoffs.

In fact, Plante is still waiting to see at least three of what should be his better players as their seasons did not wrap up until Sunday or Monday.

Still, the River Rats looked like they were in good shape as they took a 4-1 lead in the bottom of the third inning. After an out, former SCC and current UCF standout Courtney Probet singled and went all the way to third when fellow Golden Knight and Lake Mary grad Matt Horwath laid down a bunt single that was thrown away. Probst scored on a wild pitch and Horwath scored on a single by SCC's Kyle Patrick, last year's Tournament Most Valuable Player. Patrick advanced on a grounder by Chris Kemp and then scored on a booming double to left-center by Hunt off reliever D.J. Ackley, another ex-Ram, the second of six pitchers Daytona Beach would use in the game. But the Barracudas would tie the game in the fourth with the help of two errors and a hit betsman and the game would remain in the balance the rest of the way.

The River Rats took their final lead in the fifth inning. Probet drew a walk and stole second and third, scoring on the second steal when the throw from the catcher sailed into left.

Daytona Beach would take the lead for good in the sixth inning on a passed ball and an RBI single by Irvine, the second of his three RBI in the game, and then put the game out of reach with two more runs in the eighth.

Senford would out-hit the Barracudas, 8-7, in the game, but nine bases on balls, two hit batters, three errors, two wild pitches and two passed balls were more than the locals' offense could overcome.

Probet was 2-for-4 with a double, two runs scored and two stolen bases, while Miles also had two hits in four trips to the plate for the River Rats.

Also contributing offensively were Hunt (double, run, RBI), Patrick (single, run, RBI), Horwath (single, run) and Battle (single, RBI).

For Daytona Beach, Mike Smith led the way with a 3-for-5 outing that featured a triple, two runs scored and an RBI. Also hitting were Irvine (2for-5, run, three RBI), Sanford's Dominic Petracca (single, two runs), John Cooper (single, run), Steve Strausbaugh and Lake Mary's Austin Pride (RBI each) and Randall Vickroy and Sanford's Matt Fraysier (run each). The River Rats will be idle until Friday when they head to Winter Park High School to face the Winter Park Diamond Dawgs in a single game at 7 p.m. and a doubleheader on Seturday at 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. Senford will also play Daytona Beach in a rematch at Daytona Beach Community College next Tuesday at 7 p.m.

The team will return home next Wednesday (June 15th) to host the new league entry from Winter Haven, the Warthogs, at

STETSON MEN'S BASKETBALL SIGNS KRIS THOMAS

Stetson University men's basketball head coach Derek Waugh announced the signing Monday of Kris Thomas (Lithonia, Ga./Dunwoody HS) to a National Letter-of-Intent.

Thomas, a 6-3 guard, averaged 17 points and five rebounds per game and helped lead Dunwoody High School to a 27-5 record and the Georgia AAA State Championship this past year. A two-time Atlanta Journal Constitution All-State performer, Thomas earned DeKalb County Player of the Month honors three times during his career. In 2004 he was selected by the GACA for the All-Region and All-State teams, and was named the And 1 National High School Tournament Most Valuable Player.

"With three seniors at the guard spot next year, it was imperative that we sign good young guards in this year's class, and I think that Kris fits that bill," Waugh said. "He is an excellent athlete and defender, has a great pedigree and comes from a championship program at Dunwoody High School. I think that he will follow in the footsteps of Alexis McMillan, Anthony Register and Karl Hollingsworth and be our next big time contributor from the city of Atlanta."

Thomas rounds out Stetson's 2005-06 recruiting class which already includes Eric Diaz, Garfield Blair, and Ryan Hynes.

Home invaders tie up live in nanny

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS - The Seminole County Sheriff's Office is investigating a reported home invasion Thursday in the Robin Hill Subdivision near Altamonte Springs.

The incident was reported to the Seminole County Sheriff's Office, just after 3 p.m. Thursday, at 135 Meadowlark Drive. Deputies discovered a female bound inside the home. The female was identified as the live-in nanny.

Investigators said the live-in nanny reported that a black male knocked on the front door of the house around 12:30 p.m. When she answered, the man allegedly forced his way in. The live-in nanny was bound. The Sheriff's Office will not discuss how the woman was bound.

The namny told investigators the man was joined by a second, unidentified man. The subjects then stole an undisclosed amount of property and left the scene.

The victim alleges she was left bound for more than two hours until the homeowner called just before 3 p.m. The narmy was able to get to the phone and alerted the homeowner of trouble at the residence. The homeowner then contacted the Seminole County Sheriff's Office.

The nanny was extremely upset about the ordeal, but was not hurt.

The Seminole County Sheriff's Office asks that anybody with information about this case contact Crime Line at 1-800-423-TIPS, where one can remain anonymous, and may receive a cash reward for vital information related to this case.

A recent late night boating accident in Seminole County that left one dead and one injured this week, reminds citizens that it's summer again and boat safety tips should be refreshed.

The accident involved two boats and six people. Cheryl Ann Lepse, 45, of Casselberry was killed and David Scott Riley, 58, of Casselberry was injured when another boat apparently slammed into and ran over Riley's boat, a Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission news release said.

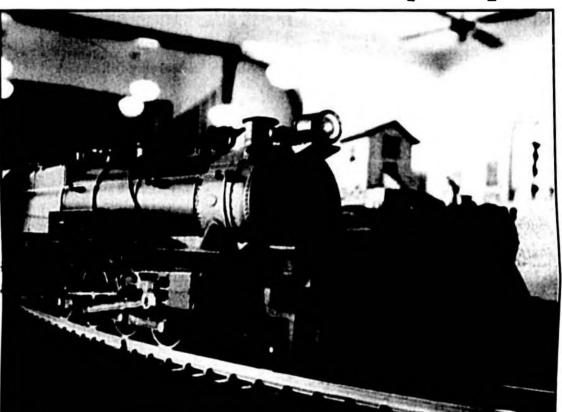

It happened on Lake Howell, and at the time Riley's boat was floating in the water approximately 400 yards from the

The other boat contained four occupants: Ashley Melissa Hacking, 21, of Oviedo; Gerald Andrew Fluker, 33, of Casselberry; Amanda Frances Farrell, 22, of Oviedo; and Christopher Jay Arnold, 33, of Casselberry.

After the accident, the four young people helped the injured boaters and took them to shore.

Cactus Bob's Cook knows how you like your wings

By Liane Edixon Herald Staff

SANFORD — The owners of Cactus Bob's Bar & Grill are losing their kitchen manager, Nancy Cook, to retirement, who will be sorely missed.

Cook has worked at Cactus Bob's restaurant for over eight years, and is currently the kitchen manager.

"Although, she refuses to take the title and prefers to work along side her colleagues as a part of the team," owner Georgina Watts said.

Cook has worked at the restaurant under three different owners and Watts said she has been instrumental in training each new owner and every new member of the team.

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

THE HERALD

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

HUD's dud?: Officials with the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) have hired a new executive director to manage the Sanford Housing Authority (SHA). He is Angel Tua, a 20-year HUD veteran who has worked with housing authorities in Pinellas County, Chicago, St. Petersburg, Indianapolis, Muncie, Ind. and Puerto Rico.

On paper, Tua appears to be a nice fit for Sanford. Like all things involving HUD, however, things are more convoluted than they appear.

Tua was the deputy executive director the second in command, so to speak - of the Pinellas County Housing Authority (PCHA).

by Dan Ping

The agency's 5-member board began an investigation in January 2004 that centered on misuse of funds and allegations that top PCHA officials had created a hostile work environment. The agency's executive director, Helen Piloneo, resigned when the board announced it's investigation. Tua and PCHA human resource director Charles Gibson, were suspended with pay during the investigation.

Tua was one of about a half dozen employees who were eventually fired by the board in April 2004. Officials with HUD aren't bothered by Tua's firing. Carmen Valenti, a HUD official who is acting as the SHA's board of directors, said HUD was aware of the situation in Pinellas County but believes "the charges were not appropriate."

"In fact, the director of the Miami field office, which oversees that particular authority, gave (Tua) a glowing report," Valenti said.

"We would have never hired Mr. Tua if we thought there were issues," Valenti added. "If there were problems, don't you think there would have been charges filed (against Tua)?"

Well, sure. But you could say the same thing about Timothy Hudson, the former SHA executive director whom HUD officials have portrayed as the poster child for ineptness and corruption. Federal agents raided Hudson's office and carted off boxes of records amid much fanfare in April 2001. It's been four years and Hudson has yet to be charged or taken to court. So were the allegations against Hudson also without merit? I guess so if you use Valenti's reasoning.

"We did our research," Valenti said referring to Tua's firing. "We're well aware of that investigation, and we could find no merit in the allegations. We checked with a large number of people."

How many people? "Six," Valenti said.

Well, heck, as long as you were that thorough, who am I to question the wisdom of the HUD brain trust?

Yes, I'm cynical when it comes to anything involving HUD. Time and again the feds have refused to acknowledge or take responsibility for the failures at the Sanford Housing Authority. They're quick to point the finger at the city of Sanford for all that is wrong.

Sanford shares some of the blame for the mess that the housing authority became. Previous City Commissions have appointed weak boards to oversee the local operations. Mayor Linda Kuhn should change that precedent when it comes time to appoint a new local board. But let's not forget that it is HUD money and HUD policies that dictate what happens on HUD property.

I'm just curious, but does anyone remember the glowing performance evaluations Hudson used to receive from HUD officials just prior to him becoming HUD's Public Enemy No. 1?

Does anyone remember Audris Billberry? She was the executive director after Hudson. Officials from HUD forced the SHA board to hire Billberry then fired her two years later.

Does anyone recall the Trouble Agency Recovery Center (TARC)? The TARC guys are suppose to be HUD's experts when it comes to turning around troubled housing authorities. Catherine Lamberg, the director of TARC, and her crack staff were so inept in fixing the SHA that former HUD Secretary Mel Martinez came to Sanford and made a big show about the federal government taking the housing authority away from the city of Sanford. Excuse me, but how can the federal government take back something it already controls, and how can TARC's failure be blamed on Sanford? Martinez, of course, wasn't about to blame his agency. It would have hurt his chances to become a U.S. Senator and the world's biggest SOB (Suck-up Of Bush).

Angel Tua may be a good man, and he may be just the man the Sanford Housing Authority needs. I suppose he deserves a chance. More importantly, the Sanford Housing Authority needs a chance. For better or worse Tua's our guy. I just pray it gets better and not worse. Flag Day

BOATER SAFETY TIPS (Source: United Safe Boating Institute)

• In Florida, the weather can be very unpredictable. Sudden wind shifts, lightning flashes and choppy water are clues that a storm is brewing. Bring a radio to check weather reports, and check reports before going out. Tell someone where you're going. Then check your boat, equipment, boat balance, engine and fuel. After fueling, open hatches, run blower, and most important, sniff for gas fumes in the engine before startup.

• Wear layers of light clothing; bring rainproof covering. Never wear hip waders in a small boat.

• Be ready for trouble when a powerboat passes you in a narrow channel. Stay on your side and maintain a steady speed so that an overtaking vessel can pass you

According to the lawsuit, Shields was handcuffed and held at the roadside for two hours. Shields explained to the officers that her license had previously been stolen.

"She vigorously protested that she was not the person sought by the warrant," the lawsuit recounts. Shields said she had never even been to Charlotte County.

The suit also says the warrant contained a warning not to arrest anyone based solely on its information. It lists a Florida Department of Corrections Web site and phone number to obtain a photo of the person wanted in the warrant.

The lawsuit said the Lake Mary police officer, instead of getting the photo to make a proper identification, chose to hold Shields in handcuffs at the roadside where a number of people who know her passed by, including fellow employees of the Lake Mary hair salon where she worked. The officer eventually transported Shields to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility, where she continued to protest her arrest. The Charlotte County warrant did not allow bond to be set, and Florida law allows people who cannot obtain bond to be strip searched.

The suit alleges that about an hour after Shields was strip searched, the photo of the person sought by the warrant arrived. It also alleges that although the jail personnel now knew she was not the person wanted by the warrant, Shields continued to be held.

The suit says she continued to be incarcerated despite the fact that Judge Carmine Bravo ordered her release at about 1:30 p.m., on April 25, 2002. After another three hours, Shields was released just after 5 p.m. about 26 hours after her arrest.

Sheriff's Office spokesman Olson said he could not comment on the civil suit, but that insurance attorneys are handling the case.

Lake Mary Chief Richard Beary could not be reached for comment.

I love it here

And there's plenty to do here if you get out and find it

I've been in Sanford and the surrounding area since 1952. I came here while in the U.S. Navy and upon discharge, I didn't return home to Michigan. I love it here.

Needless to say, Sanford has grown tremendously since 1952, yet some things haven't changed. People still say, (as some did in the Navy), that there is nothing to do here. If we ..... want entertainment we have to drive to Orlando or the beaches. Wrong! There is plenty to do, but we can't just sit at home watching TV and expect entertainment to come to us other than from that boob-tube

A regular feature in the Sanford Herald is 'Out and About". This is a running report of all activities coming up where folks are invit-ed. Most are free while there is admission to others. We consider this as a valuable column and if you scan past it, we urge you to take the time to read it. You may be amazed at the activities going on in Sanford and the surrounding area.

For example, there are the presentations at the Helen Stairs Theatre in downtown Sanford. While there are local presentations, there are often top-notch features that are designed for your entertainment and/or enlightenment. If you don't know what's coming up, take a look at the marquis when you drive past the theater.

A short time back, I attended a choral concert at Seminole Community College. There were a number of choral groups performing, with the support of some outstanding musicians. It was a performance worthy of praise; yet, the seats were only half full. Some of this I can blame on SCC itself, as there was hardly any advance publicity. Perhaps, on reading this, they will get back on the ball and let us know what is coming up. If you were one of those who were on hand, I know you thoroughly enjoyed yourself.

Now that the season is underway, we have the Sanford River Rats in the Florida Collegiate Summer League. They kicked off the season this past Monday at the Historic Sanford Memorial Stadium. As our Sports Editor Dean Smith reported, "the price to watch these future Major Leaguers play can't be beat, as there will be NO admission charged this season." During the various games coming up, there will be special presentations or entertainment, and often, door prizes and gifts. While they will be playing road-games for a brief time, they will be back at the Sanford stadium for a four-game session starting Wednesday, June 15, also playing on June 17, 18 and 19. Games start at 7 p.m., except Sundays when they begin at 5 p.m.

f you are a sports enthusiast, keep informed in the Sports section of the Herald, and you will see opportunities to be a spectator at practically every sport you could imagine.

Have you taken the family to the Sanford Zoo recently? Make it an outing and you will find the zoo is constantly upgrading and improving its exhibits. Generally, there are new arrivals in the form of animals that have been obtained, or offsprings of those already living at the zoo.

Both the City of Sanford and Seminole County have historical museums. Newcomers wishing to learn more about the area should definitely visit both of them. Long-timers should visit them to bring back fond memories of the past.

As for nightlife for adults, several local establishments have entertainment one, two, or more nights per week.

The way I see it - you have two choices. You can either take advantage of the many offerings of "things to do" here, or you can be a couch potato. The choice is yours.

Transportation field trip was a great success

To the Editor:

On Friday, May 13, the kindergarten class from Holy Cross Lutheran Academy went on their transportation/community helper field trip to Sanford.

We rode the city bus, toured the Delta Connection at the airport, walked through train cars at the Amtrak station, purchased a prepared lunch from the Divine Deli, at the delicious ice cream from Granny's on Magnolia Square, purchased plants and petted chicks at Horstmeyer's Farm and Garden, and toured the Federal Trust Bank.

Every place we visited the people were so kind, friendly, and giving. The children had a wonderful time, as did the adults. The city of Sanford was very well represented by these business people of Sanford. We would like to thank them for making our field trip a meaningful expe-

Airport will play critical role in Sanford future

(Editor's Note: Geof Longstaff was appointed to the Sanford Airport Authority six years ago and is a graduate of the Crummer Graduate School of Business at Rollins College. He is a principal at Small Bay Partners, LLC, one of the region's largest developers of warehouse and distribution space, NAI Realvest., one of the region's largest and most active commercial development firms, and chairman of Mercantile Commercial Capital, LLC, which helps provide financing for small business owners who want to acquire or develop their own facilities.)

To the Editor:

Orlando Sanford International Airport is poised to play a critical role in the future of air travel in Central Florida.

When I was appointed to the Sanford Airport Authority six years ago, Orlando Sanford International Airport only had an international terminal. Five years ago we built our current domestic terminal and between the two we served 1,800,000 domestic and international passengers in 2004.

Over the next 20 years, Orlando Sanford International Airport will grow to accommodate more than 5,000,000 passengers. This will mean an investment in airport facilities of over $1.6 billion. Two decades from now it is likely Central Florida will be home to two of the nation's top 20 airports.

Currently, more than 50 major capital improvement projects are under way at the airport and are funded at a projected cost of more than $93 million. These projects range from resurfacing runways, adding a new $10 million parking garage to improving roadway access to the airport.

In the past, international travelers have driven growth at Orlando Sanford International. Over the next three years, we anticipate substantial growth in domestic passengers as well.

Recently, one rental car representative told me that Orlando Sanford International Airport ranks as one of their company's most important locations. The reason: the large proportion of international visitors at Orlando Sanford International rent cars during their Florida stay. Average duration at Orlando Sanford International is among the highest anywhere in the United States.

Certainly, we have many storms yet to weather — from increasing fuel costs to airport security to changing demographic patterns as the baby boom generation retires.

Orlando Sanford International Airport is positioned to fulfill its role as Central Florida's best secondbusiest airport, and one of the best airports in the United County Jail. I am glad that you have shown an interest on jail conditions.

I must point out that a certain rule governing use of the Law Library should be changed. The Law Library is a very important tool in many accused inmates' cases. However, the Seminole County jail will not let inmate's use it unless you are PRO-SEI (representing yourself) or the judge orders it.

In all reality, when a person is guilty or not, you can forget to ask questions concerning jail rules. You do not have time to explain your problems to the judge, when there are 20 or more people in court at a hearing. The public defender's office cannot help get certain information to an inmate without costing the State of Florida more money. If an inmate could help acquire information pertaining to their said case, it might be cost-cutting to the state and the county.

Jail is a holding facility for the accused, and jail sentenced. Does this mean you cannot acquire information legal information that could make a difference in your life?

Right or wrong; bad or good; legal information should always be available to the incarcerated.

As I first stated this is a jail rule that hinders an inmate's self help. Thank you for your Sorry for the add on, but the food servings are not for a grown man either. The best suggestion overall to anyone is to stay out of jail.

The Way We Were:

Recognizing Class of 1921

While looking in the early 1920s Seminole High School Salmagundis, I found several people in those classes that I recognized and perhaps you will as well.

In the class of 1921 was Mina Howard, later Mrs. H.J. Bisbee, who also taught at SHS with Margaret Wright and Marie Stinecipher. She taught me Spanish, then subbed for me a few times when I taught at SHS. Her children. Hamilton (Bubba) and Bebe were in school with me. Bubba was in my class. While a student, Mina was sophomore class president and played girl's besketball.

Julia Laing, 1921 freshman class presi-dent and planist, later married Burke Steele and is the mother of Walter Steele and Joyce Sewyers. Zillah Welsh, 1922 class secretary Sally staff and in several plays, was my first grade teacher at Southside. Also in that class were Peggy Wright and Bubba Bisbee. She taught at Southside for almost 50 years.

The class of 1923 included Marian Appleby, Literary Guild, Drama club and Glee Club, who became Marian St. John. She taught at Westside Primary for many Rodman Lehman, 1923 class treasurer, Sally business manager and secretary of the Debate club was a brother to Genevieve Lehman Brumley (SHS 1924) and several other Lehmans. He also taught at SHS with his classmates mentioned previously. He and Marie Stinecipher sponsored the Class of 1934 for four years.

Leonard McLucas, 1923 was one of the best athletes SHS ever had. He was captain of the swimming, basketball, football, baseball and track teams. He came back to SHS and coached for many years.

Troy Ray, 1923, Overall Club and senior play, is the father of Troy Ray, Jr., former Seminole county Tax Collector. His wife, Carmena barber (5H5 1925) was also i teacher. She was teaching fourth grade at Southside when I was a student there.

Gertrude Runge, 1923, later Gertrude Gilbert, literary society and glee club, was secretary to T.W. Lawton and R.T. Milwee for many years. She was my mother's best friend, beginning in the third grade.

Lillie Ruth Spencer, 1923, Literary Society and basketball, had a beautiful voice. She married George Harden who owned Spencer Harden Dairy. Their son George was in the sixth grade class my mother taught in 1946-47.

Helen Vernay, 1923 transferred to SHS her senior year. Sally staff. She married Frank Chase of chase and Company. Before she married, she also taught at SHS, and before they settled in Windermere, their son, Whit was in my first and second grade classes at Southside.

Robert Williams, 1925, President of Gator Emporium and drama dub, married Thelma Dobbins (SHS 1928). He was in real estate and various businesses in Sanford. Their daughter, Nancy Williams Berry, taught in both Seminole and Orange Counties. Sam Byrd, 1925, drama club, debate team, orchestra and several sports, was known in Sanford as the author of "that book" - Small Town South. It is a novel set in thinly disguised Sanford with names of prominent people changed. He also starred in "Tobacco Road" on Broadway.

Harry Woodruff, 1925, Literary Society, baseball and in several plays, became a local dentist.

Andrew Caraway, 1925, Literary Society, choir, junior and senior plays, had an insurance office in Sanford. He was a major benefactor of the Sanford Historical Society and First Baptist church upon his death.

Walter Barber, 1925, class treasurer and several sports, was better known as "Red" Barber of major league baseball broadcasting fame. Carmetta Barber Ray was his sis-

John Musso, editor of the 1921 Salmagundi, wrote several items under this heading. Here are a few you may find interesting: The school now owns eight typewriters of the very best grade, which makes the equipment in the business class most complete. This class was intended for the seniors but many of the lower classmen have enrolled so the class this year was very large.

Many times when we have wanted a drink, we were ever thankful that the class of 1919 left us two drinking fountains, one for the boys, and one for the girls. We have also been thankful to the class of 1920 for the large number of fine books left to the school, making the library as complete as any of the schools this size in the state.

Soon after school started it was announced that a gold medal would be given by Mr. E.D. Mobley to the student who had the highest grade average in the school SANFORD — Rachel Merrick isn't the average rapper. She is a 14-year-old Florida girl dedicated to sharing the positive message of avoiding drugs and alcohol. She communicates her message through her stage persona — M.C. Cookie.

On May 23, M.C. Cookie brought that message to a group of fifth graders at Bentley Elementary's DARE (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) graduation.

The students completed a nine-week program designed to teach them about the importance of making good choices, having self-esteem and maintaining healthy relationships.

Rachel has committed to help the students have a real celebration — complete with a mini-concert.

"We are thrilled to have M.C. Cookie join us," said School Resource and DARE Officer Claudia Webber. "She is incredibly talented and she knows how important DARE can be for kids. We are really seeing tangible results from our programs. One example is a recently published study in the Journal of American Medical Association demonstrating that those students who completed the DARE program were five times less likely to start smoking compared to youngsters who did not participate in DARE."

Stetson's Corner

Muck removal 101 — not an easy study

By Karen McEnany-Phillips Herald Columnist

Welcome to Stetson's Corner, where weekly we hope to share a bit of what is good about the Village of Geneva. This column is dedicated to a man who did the same - Deputy Sheriff Gene "Stetson" Gregory, who was killed in the line of duty July 8, 1998 in the place he was sworn to protect, but which could not protect him. Geneva will never be the same because of Deputy Gregory ... it will be better.

Part 1 of 2: A special meeting of the Geneva Citizens' Association held May 16 asked a $16 million question: What is the impact on Geneva if muck from Lake Jesup is moved to Site 10? It was soon clear that this question and its answers are not simple.

Robert King from the Friends of Lake Jesup and Ed Hayes from the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission spoke to concerned Geneva residents explaining the background and current status of the Lake Jesup Aquatic Enhancement Project.

The immediate problem is the huge amount of muck in Lake Jesup. If you drive across the 417 bridge, when the lake is at its lowest level, it still appears to be shiny water. It is actually 10,000 acres of liquid mud. Removing this mud has been an overwhelming and controversial task for 10 to 15 years.

First, tremendous amounts of nutrients are already in the lake and must be removed. What is coming into the lake on a daily basis must be controlled to allow the lake to return to a healthy state. There is also a federal mandate that will set specific limits on the amount of nutrients and pollution that is allowed to enter the lake. This is forcing state and local governments to take action.

Second, Lake Jesup must be reconnected to the St Johns River. In 1950 a causeway was poured across the better part of the mouth of the lake. This sealed it off from the river leaving a small opening that doesn't exchange water very well. The Department of Transportation will replace the State Road 46 bridge over the mouth of Lake Jesup and will adapt its design to the reconnection. Over time the hydrology of the lake or with a fax to 407-349-2800. Thanks!

process. The construction is scheduled to begin in 2007 and is estimated to take three years. However, the actual reconnection to the river is a separate project and will be executed by the Army Corps of Engineers.

A few years ago after the initial research was completed and a decision was made where to relocate the muck, the Florida Department of Environmental Protection, Florida Fish and Game, and the St. Johns River Water Management District would not allow it to be placed on the selected location (not Site 10) because the area was below the 100year flood plain. The project stopped dead in its tracks, bickering continued, time ran out and the $16 million reverted back to the state. State Sen. Lee Constantine reinvigorated the project years later. Much had been learned from the initial process and after another six to eight months it was determined that Site 10 was the best location to build the mud drying containment cells. The biggest benefit was that this location sits above the 100-year flood plain and there is already measurable discharge from the site. Currently Site 10 is used to dispose of excess reclaimed water in Seminole County. Ironically there is a shortage of reclaimed water in the county but there is also a struggle to re-direct the water where it is needed. Will Sanford let the land be used for the Lake Jesup project and allow the reclaimed water to go elsewhere? Again, cost is a factor — an estimated $340,000 for engineering to redirect the reclaimed water.

Once the city of Sanford agrees to the project, other steps fall into place. The preliminary engineering moves forward, the governor should approve money for the project, and the decision to use Site 10, if all parties agree will be final.

Ed Hayes is a biologist and the project manager, in charge of muck removal from the lake. He presented the ABC's of the problems of Lake Jesup from his perspective.

What is the problem with the

For years Lake Jesup received sewage discharge and both stormwater and agricultural run off.

was altered and lake water was diverted for other uses. This resulted in too many nutrients in the lake known as hyper-eutrophication or explosive plant growth. Plants died, sank to the bottom and did not decompose. The result was organic build up on the lake bottom. Desirable vegetation was lost and the water was less clean resulting in lower quality habitat and frequent fish kills from loss of oxygen. Reduction in certain species and species diversity also occurred.

What are the solutions? Sewage discharge changed in the mid 1980s and has been essentially eliminated. Stormwater issues have been reduced and are monitored. Reconnecting the lake with the river flow will help restore its natural state and once the muck is reduced, habitat and water quality should improve for fish, wildlife, and humans.

From an economic and engineering standpoint dredging is the removal solution but how does it

First a hydraulic dredge is put in the lake. This is basically a big boat with a boom that sticks in the water with an auger head that turns up the mud. The mud is sucked through long floating hoses and sent to one of three containment facilities. Each facility acts as a holding cell surrounded by a dike or berm. It takes about three months for the mud to dry out in the first cell. It is then transferred to the second cell, then to the third. The containment cells will sit on 400 acres on the western half of Site 10. The leftover water is cleaned and returns to the lake. The dried out solids can be sprayed or spread across the land but its ultimate use is still in question.

Next week MUCK 101 continues with additional questions, answers, and feedback from the citizens of

appears the county, by its own admission in a review of its practices, has unlawfully conducted searches for some

"Seminole County in this report has pretty much acknowledged that this is a practice they were pursuing over the years," Berg said Friday.

Administrative Services Chief Penny Flemming said it had been a practice to strip search people who were remanded by the court. She said the strip search policy of the Seminole County Sheriff's Office has changed to mirror the state statute.

"Our detention deputies are security conscious," Flemming said. "They thought they were securing the facility." She added strip searching is a complicated issue that has to be decided on a case by case basis.

The Sheriff's Office conducted an internal review in April of what took place on Dec. 3, 2004. Judge John R. Sloop remanded 12 people into custody that day for failing to show up in his court on misdemeanor charges. The seven men and five women had been sent to the wrong courtroom, but Sloop was going on his lunch break and ordered them held.

On Dec. 20, 2004, attorney Hanks notified the Sheriff's Office on behalf of three of the women saying they had been illegally strip searched. Each faced a nonmoving traffic violation.

Sheriff's Office spokesman Steve Olson said Friday that officials at first did not think the searches could have happened because of the policy in place. After public and media inquiries about the incident, however, an investigation was deemed necessary, Olson said.

Detention deputies were interviewed by the professional standards officials following an order by Sheriff Don Eslinger.

The review found that the strip searches were done in violation of Florida law.

In December it was common practice at the John E. Polk Correctional Facility to strip search anyone remanded by the court regardless of the charge or the person's ability to pay bail, the review found

Florida law says no one shall be strip searched unless there is cause to believe the person is concealing a weapon, controlled substances or stolen property, or unless a judge has said the person cannot be released on bond.

TRANSMISSION

Each of the women in question has bond set at a few hundred dollars, according to Sheriff's Office reports.

Florida law also states that supervising officers on duty must authorize a strip search in writing.

The Sheriff's Office investigation, however, found that it was common practice for supervisors to sign authorization forms "well after the searches had been conducted."

"The Written Authorization for Strip Searches completed on Dec. 3, 2004, for the seven male RBC arrestees showed the forms were signed by a supervisor almost five hours after the searches had been conducted," the report found.

The report noted that the Sheriff's Office policy governing strip searches did not "mirror" state law.

"Although the statute states that 'probable cause' is the required standard before a strip search can be conducted ... the written directive requires the lesser standard of 'reasonable suspicion,'" the report said.

The investigation recommended that the Sheriff's Office policy be revised to reflect the language in Florida law. It also recommended that training take place with detention deputies and supervisors.

Flemming said the new policy is in place, although the formal wording has not yet been adopted. She said instruction with detention deputies took place April 25 and again April 27.

Asked whether Judge Sloop or anyone else shared blame, Flemming said: "Based on the policy in hand, [the 12 people] didn't meet the criteria for being strip searched. We're not shifting the blame to anyone."

Attorney Hanks said he was impressed by the Sheriff's Office report.

"What I read in the report, in so far as it involves the suit, it seemed to be straight-forward and honest," Hanks said. He suggested, however, that the Sheriff's Office address in its policy the growing problem of identity theft.

A case he filed Feb. 10 against Eslinger and the Lake Mary Police Department illustrates that point, he said. (See separate story, Page 1A.)

Baseball comes calling

Herald photos by Jim Wentz

Past and present stars from the Seminole Athletic Conference were among 13 players with local ties that were taken in Major League Basebali's 2005 First-Year Player Draft Tuesday and Wednesday. Former Winter Springs High, Seminole Community College and current UCF standout John-Michael Howell (left, tagging out an Orlando runner for the Sanford River Rats last summer) was selected by the Washington Nationals while recent Lake Brantley graduate Jemile Weeks (above) was given the opportunity to join his brother Rickie, a former First Round pick, in the Milwaukee Brewers Organization.

Baker's dozen tabbed in draft

By Dean Smith Herald Staff

SANFORD - Going to college has its advantages.

Only one Seminole County high school player was taken in this year's First-Year Player Draft by Major League Baseball, but 12 college athletes with local ties was tabbed in the 50-round draft that took place over Tuesday and Wednesday.

A total of 1,501 players were selected in the 50 rounds by the 30 teams.

The only county high school player selected was Lake Brantley's Jemile Weeks, who went with 235th pick in the Eighth Round by the Milwaukee Brewers, the same team that selected his older brother, Rickie, in the first round two years ago.

for District

Both the Minor League (9and 10-year olds) All-Stars and Major League (11- and 12-year olds) All-Stars began play in the District 8 Tournament on Thursday and the double-elimination event is scheduled to wrap up this weekend at the James Street Baseball Complex in South Daytona.

Among the other leagues eligible to play in District 8 are Longwood, Oviedo, Holly Hill, Altamonte Springs, South Daytona Beach, Winter Springs, Ormond Beach Youth Baseball and North Osceola (Kissimmee) Babe Ruth.

The Minor League All-Stars got an early feel for what tournament pressure is like and and picked up a win for the first time in several years for the 9-10 year olds. All told the team did well, placing third after many delays because of last week's rainy conditions.

The City of Sanford Recreation Department 2005 Cal Ripken Minor League All Stars are being managed by Rob Lefrancois, who guided the Producto Lure Company Astros to an undefeated record and the City Championship.

His coaches are Mike Skat, Lafrancois assistant with the Astros, and Bob Chandler, who coached the Seminole Produce Yankees to a runner-up finish in the City Championships.

Making up the team are, from the Producto Lure Company Astros: Amber Lefrancois, Dalton Skat, Matthew Dombroski, Jacob Downey and Jodice Woody, who was unable to participate do to a family church commitment in Canada; from the Seminole Produce Yankees: Collin Chandler, Robbie Myers and Zach Bussard; from the Metal Essence Diamondbacks: Jackson McMullan, Robert Dickerson, Christian Olivas

Pro wrestling TV show coming to Sanford Civic Center

Special to the Herald

SANFORD — The "Turning Up The Heat Worldwide!" TV Show, available on Sky-Life Satellite and Asia-Wide Satellite Systems, will be filming at the Sanford Civic Center on Friday, June 24th.

The TV Show is viewed in 49 countries around the world and features several Florida wrestlers. The TV Show's executive producer and wrestling personality Rick Love said that the dynamic action and showmanship of Florida wrestling is gaining popularity worldwide as the show continues to draw new fans.

Some of the stars of the show are professional male model, Xavier Night, who is the show's World Heavy Weight Champion, and the 7-foot-2 wrestler called, "Tower, the human skyscraper."

The show's producers and sponsors plan to return to Sanford several times each year and make it a regular venue on their world tour.

The Sanford Civic Center has long been the host of many exciting shows and fans can expect the best show ever with the TV talent from "Turning Up The Heat Worldwide!"

"We expect this show, called, 'Hurricane Havoc', to be the best wrestling show in Florida this year with wrestlers coming in from all over the world," said Love.

"We have Japanese superstars Flatline and Rina Maezawa on the show along with former WCW star Kid Romeo. German bodybuilding strong man and former world wrestling champion Stormy Granzig will be at the show, and so will the Canadian Football League All-Star, Tommy Marr. This is definitely the biggest show of the year to hit Florida."

The June 24th show will begin at 7 p.m., but the doors will open at 6 p.m. for an autograph signing party for the fans.

Local pastor nabs a big

Special to the Herald

What a great day on the

Jon Carnes joined me for a day of fishing last Friday and nabbed a big redfish. Jon is the pastor at the Sanford Church of the Nazerene and also one of the best softball pitching coaches in the area. He is also a pretty good angler.

Jon and I started the day in search of a big red and we managed to find a school of about 200 fish. We eased into the area before daylight and as the day broke the tails of redfish started rising above the water. We managed a few fish, but the highlight of the day was a 28 pound monster. The head and tail on this fish was massive as you can see in the picture.

Jon hooked up on the fish and it towed us around for about 20 minutes before we landed the fish. Jon had fished with me before, but the first trip we managed a red that weighed about 17 pounds. This day was so much better because the fish would stay right by the boat. The other trip the fish were real spooky. It is an awesome sight to look down beside the boat and see a ball of 200 redfish. The water looks like it is on fire. It reminds me of the classic movie, "The Ten Commandments" when the Nile River turned to blood.

After we snapped the photos we carefully released the fish so that another person could catch this magnificent creature I always enjoy the time I have on the water and it is always a bonus to have great people like Jon aboard.

The fishing continues to remain hot. I have been on the water everyday this week. I was joined on board by Andy Moss and his father-in-law, Herbert on Wednesday. The Tennessee boys had quite a day as we boated 27 redfish between 16 and 36 pounds, including four reds over 30

This week my charters have boated a total of 48 redfish. The trout bite has been good on plastics such as the Rip Tide 3 inch Mullet and the Rip Tide Flats Chub. we also landed a couple of reds on the Rip Tide 4 inch Crab. The pig fisherman have been doing very well in the Mosqutio Lagoon. Limits of trout are being caught daily.

SHOOTING EVENTS FOR ESPN GREAT OUTDOOR GAMES TO BE HELD AT CENTRAL FLORIDA'S TENOROC RANGE

Rifle and shotgun enthusiasts tuning in to the ESPN Great Outdoor Games presented by Dodge can expect to see worldclass facilities at this year's shooting sports venue, Tenoroc Shooting Sports and Training Range, near Lakeland. Shooting industry officials list Tenoroc as their first choice for firearms sporting events in central Florida because the facility regularly accommodates a variety of competitions.

The Games will be held July

7-10, and broadcast July 13-17, 2005, on ESPN, ESPN2 and ABC Sports. Last year, nearly 36 million people tuned in to watch the Games, a new high for the event.

"We're excited to again be part of the Great Outdoor Games, and we look forward to competing at Tenoroc," said Cyndi Dalena, director of shooting sports development for the National Shooting Sports Foundation (NSSFO), which spensors ESPN's rifle and shot in events. "Tenoroc has a give reputation among shooters, and that's important to NSSF. This is a first-class facility, and its staff is experienced in handling high-profile shooting events.

The rifle and shotgun competitions will be the only events not held at Disney's Wide World of Sports Complex, so Tenoroc's location, 30 miles southwest of Disney, is a bonus. The Tenoroc shooting complex covers 170 acres and has several shooting ranges to accommodate rifles, shotguns, handguns and archery shooting. It also features a fully stocked pro shop, an ample parking lot and a covered rifle range. The property is three miles northeast of Lakeland and is surrounded by the sprawling 7,300-acre Tenoroc Fish & Wildlife Management Area, which is owned by the Florida Fish & Wildlife Conservation Commission. The state of Florida leases the shooting-range property to Mark Smith, president of Tenoroc Shooting Sports and Training. Smith has operated the Tenoror complex for five years. He said between 15,000 and 20,000 shooters use the facilities each year. These events include charity and corporate shoots, monthly tournaments for the National Sporting Clays Association, and huntereducation shooting instruction for all classes from the surrounding five counties.

"We're looking forward to showcasing our facilities andmore importantly—helping increase the awareness among non-shooters of the fun they can have in shooting sports Smith said. "Everyone in the Lakeland area has been excited since first hearing ESPN chose Tenoror to host its Great Outdoor Games' shooting events."

Because of Tenoroc's diverse facilities, this will be the first time in the Great Outdoor Games' six-year history that it won't require the event's firearms ranges to be built from scratch to meet local safety concerns. "We'll hold both of the ESPN events on our 100-yard rifle range," Smith said. "ESPN will build bleachers and grandstands that don't exist right now to accommodate specta tors, but our ranges were built to ensure safe shooting."

Among those who consider Tenoroc a wise choice is Jack Robertson, special-events manager for NSSF. "When ESPN started looking around central Florida for a place to hold the firearms events, Tenoroc was my first choice, so I'm glad we're going there," Robertson said. "We also like the fact it's close to the Interstate and not far from Disney. But Tenoroc's main attraction is that it lends itself perfectly to our events, whether you're a shooter or spectator."

Another one of Tenoroc's fans is Kevin Howard, president of Howard Communications in Elsberry, Mo. Howard's company handles public relations for five home runs, nine doubles, 39 runs scored and 16 RBI this season for the Patriots. Weeks was the second Lake Brantley product taken in the draft as Geoff Strickland, who helped lead Florida Southern College to its ninth NCAA Division II National Championship last week, was taken in the Seventh Round with the 207th pick by the Colorado Rockies. Strickland, also a shortstop, hit .312 with 16 doubles, six triples, four home runs and 35 RBI while scoring 65 runs in 62 games, all starts, for Moccasins.

The final county high school product picked was former Winter Springs High, Seminole Community College and Sanford River Rats star John-Michael Howell.

The UCF junior right fielder / third baseman Howell was tabbed with the 264th pick in the ninth round by the Washington Nationals. John-Michael came in this year and provided all of the offensive punch we needed from the left side," commented UCF head coach flav

Bergman. "He has overcome so much in his life and we are excited to see him have the opportunity for a professional baseball career." Howell's roommate on UCF's road trips in 2005, outfielder Dee Brown, was also taken by the Nationals, going in the 10th round with the 294th selection. The two now have the chance to continue their careers as teammates on the professional level if Howell decides to forego his final season at UCF to join the Nationals organi-Howell made an immediate impact in his first season at UCF. After transferring to UCF after red-shirting at the University of Florida, Howell hit .348 with 15 home runs and 56 RBI in 59 games in 2005. Howell earned time at both third have and in right field for the Golden Knights. Howell led the team in butting average, hits (78), doubles (18), total bases (145) and shagging percentage (607). He teamed with Between to atem the top home run himing duo in simple season history at UCF with 33 home runs.

Brown closed out his four-year career in style. After playing both football and baseball for his first more years in Orlando, Scown focused soleby can be setted in MAS. A tree-very starter at fullback on the football team, Brown leaves UCF as the school's all-time leader in $30 (229) and hits (25%).
